Regulation S / 144A Program for the Issuance of Notes, Series A and B, Warrants and Certificates

Under the Regulation S / 144A Program for the Issuance of Notes, Series A and B, Warrants and Certificates (the "Program") described in this Offering Circular (the "Offering Circular"), Morgan Stanley ("Morgan Stanley"), Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc ("MSI plc" or "MSIP"), Morgan Stanley B.V. ("MSBV"), Morgan Stanley Finance LLC ("MSFL"), Morgan Stanley Finance II Ltd ("MSFII") and Morgan Stanley Europe SE ("MSESE") or any of Morgan Stanley's subsidiaries that accedes to the Program (each, an "Additional Issuer" and, together with Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII and MSESE, the "Issuers" and each, an "Issuer") may offer from time to time Series A Notes and Series B Notes (together, the "Notes") and (with the exception of MSFL and MSFII), Warrants (the "Warrants") and Certificates (the "Certificates"). MSFL may offer from time to time Notes which are cash settled exchangeable notes ("Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes"). The Notes, Warrants and Certificates which are being offered under this Offering Circular (including, in the case of English Law Notes and Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, as issued under the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement and, in the case of Warrants and Certificates, as issued under the Securities Agency Agreement (in each case, as defined below)) shall be referred to collectively as "Program Securities" in this Offering Circular.

References herein to "this Offering Circular" shall, where applicable, be deemed to be references to this Offering Circular as supplemented from time to time. The specific terms of any Program Securities will be as set forth in this Offering Circular and (i) completed by the applicable Pricing Supplement prepared in relation to the Program Securities, (ii) supplemented, amended and/or replaced to the extent described in the relevant drawdown Listing Particulars (as defined in the rules of the Global Exchange Market of Euronext Dublin, as revised from time to time), or (iii) supplemented, amended and/or replaced to the extent described in the relevant drawdown Admission Particulars (as defined in the rules of the International Securities Market of London Stock Exchange, as revised from time to time), as the case may be.

The payment of all amounts due in respect of Program Securities issued by MSBV, MSFL, MSFII or an Additional Issuer will, unless specified otherwise in the appropriate Pricing Supplement or, in the case of an Additional Issuer, in the accession agreement pursuant to which such Additional Issuer accedes to the Program, be unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed by Morgan Stanley (in such capacity, the "Guarantor") pursuant to a guarantee dated as of 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time). Payment of amounts due in respect of Notes, Warrants and Certificates issued by MSI plc or MSESE is not guaranteed by Morgan Stanley.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Program Securities are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to "retail clients" in the European Economic Area (the "EEA") as defined in the rules set out in the Markets in Financial Instruments Directive 2014/65/EU, as amended ("MiFID II") or in the United Kingdom (the "UK") as defined in the rules set out in Regulation (EU) No 2017/565 as it forms part of the laws of the United Kingdom. Prospective investors are referred to the sections headed "PRIIPs / IMPORTANT – EEA RETAIL INVESTORS" and "UK CCI REGIME / UK IMPORTANT – UK RETAIL INVESTORS" beginning on page ix of this Offering Circular for further information.

As further described below, Program Securities may be sold to a person that is not a U.S. person (within the meaning of Regulation S ("Regulation S") under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act")), in an "offshore transaction" within the meaning of Regulation S ("Regulation S Securities"). Regulation S Securities will be represented by interests in a permanent global registered security (each, a "Regulation S Registered Global Instrument"), without coupons, which will be registered in the name of a nominee for, and shall be deposited on its issue date with a common depository on behalf of, Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V. ("Euroclear") and Clearstream Banking, société anonyme ("Clearstream, Luxembourg"). In addition, Program Securities may be sold in reliance on Rule 144A under the Securities Act ("Rule 144A"), in addition to Regulation S ("Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities"). Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities will be offered and sold only to "qualified institutional buyers" ("QIBs") within the meaning of Rule 144A or to a person that is not a U.S. person in an offshore transaction. However, any Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities issued by MSBV may only be sold to QIBs that are also qualified purchasers ("QPs") as defined in Section 2(a)(51) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "Investment Company Act"), and the rules thereunder (such person, a "QIB/QP") or to a person that is not a U.S. person in an offshore transaction. Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities will be represented by (i) one or more global registered securities (each, a "Regulation S/Rule 144A Registered Global Instrument" and, together with any Regulation S Registered Global Instrument, the "Registered Global Instruments"), without coupons, which will be deposited with (1) a custodian for, and registered in the name of Cede & Co. as nominee for, The Depository Trust Company ("DTC") or (2) a common depository acting on behalf of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or any other relevant clearing system on its issue date or (ii) individual registered securities ("Individual Registered Securities") as identified in the relevant Pricing Supplement. Beneficial interests in Registered Global Instruments will be shown on, and transfers thereof will be effected only through, records maintained by DTC, Clearstream, Luxembourg and Euroclear and their participants. Individual Registered Securities will not be eligible for trading on the facilities of DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg. The provisions governing the exchange of interests in Registered Global Instruments for Individual Registered Securities are described in the "Form of Securities" section of this Offering Circular.

MSBV, MSFL and MSIP may offer and sell Regulation S Securities and/or Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities. All Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities offered and sold by MSFL and MSIP will be offered and sold only to QIBs and/or non-U.S. persons in offshore transactions. All Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities offered and sold by MSBV will be offered and sold only to QIB/QPs and/or to a person that is not a U.S. person in an offshore transaction. Morgan Stanley, MSFII and MSESE will only offer and sell Regulation S Securities

These Program Securities are subject to restrictions on transferability and resale and may not be transferred or resold except as permitted herein. Investors should be aware that they may be required to bear the financial risks of this investment for an indefinite period of time.

In addition to the restrictions described above, transfers and resales of Program Securities issued by MSBV are subject to further conditions and restrictions. As a condition to its acquisition of any such Program Securities, each purchaser of such Program Securities may be required to execute and deliver to MSBV a purchaser certificate pursuant to which it will be required to make certain acknowledgements, representations, warranties and agreements, including, without limitation that (i) such purchaser is a non-U.S. person or, solely in the case of Regulation S/Rule 144A Program Securities, a QIB/QP (an "MSBV Permitted Transferee") and (ii) it understands and agrees to comply with the conditions and restrictions set forth in the following paragraph.

A holder of Program Securities issued by MSBV may offer, sell or otherwise transfer such Program Securities only to (i) MSBV, a Distribution Agent or any of their affiliates or (ii) an MSBV Permitted Transferee. MSBV has the right to refuse to honour the transfer or pledge of any Program Securities that do not meet the transfer restrictions and other restrictions and conditions described herein. Each purchaser of such Program Securities will be deemed to represent and warrant that it agrees to comply with the transfer restrictions and other restrictions and conditions set forth in this Offering Circular or the Pricing Supplement. Any purported transfer or pledge of such Program Securities that is in breach, at the time made, of any transfer restrictions or other restrictions or conditions set forth in this Offering Circular or the Pricing Supplement may be void ab initio. If, at any time, MSBV determines in good faith that (i) a holder of such Program Securities is in breach, at the time given, of any of the transfer restrictions or other restrictions or conditions set forth in this Offering Circular or the Pricing Supplement, (ii) a transfer or attempted or purported transfer of any such Program Securities was consummated in reliance on an incorrect purchaser certificate from the transferee or purported transferee, (iii) a transferee failed to deliver to MSBV a purchaser certificate satisfactory in form to it, (iv) the holder of such Program Securities was in breach of any representation, warranty or agreement contained in the purchaser certificate or (v) the holder of such Program Securities pledges or attempts or purports to pledge such Program Securities, MSBV may, in its discretion, consider the acquisition by such person or such pledge void and of no force and effect, and such acquisition or pledge will not, at the discretion of MSBV, operate to transfer any rights to the transferee notwithstanding any instructions to the contrary to MSBV or any other intermediary. In addition, MSBV may require such acquirer or beneficial owner to sell the Program Securities to a non-U.S. person or QIB/QP. In connection with the foregoing, MSBV may receive a list of participants holding positions in the Program Securities from one or more book-entry depositaries. For the purposes of the foregoing, references to holders and purchasers of Program Securities include beneficial owners and purchasers of beneficial interests in such Program Securities.

The International Securities Market (the "ISM") is a market designated for qualified investors (as prescribed in Regulation 16 of the Public Offers and Admissions to Trading Regulations 2024 (SI 2024/105) ("POATR")). The London Stock Exchange, as a Recognised Investment Exchange does not make assessments of investor eligibility. Given that under Regulation 16 of POATR, only qualified investors are permitted to trade on ISM and no qualified investor is permitted to trade on behalf of persons who are not themselves qualified investors, financial intermediaries acting for investors are responsible for ensuring that only investors who are qualified investors as prescribed by Regulation 16 of POATR are permitted to trade on ISM. Program Securities which are designated in the relevant Pricing Supplement as being admitted to trading on the ISM are not admitted to the Official List of the United Kingdom Financial Conduct Authority. The London Stock Exchange has not approved or verified the contents of this Offering Circular. Program Securities linked to the performance of cryptocurrencies will not be admitted to the ISM.

Morgan Stanley Finance II Ltd, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Morgan Stanley, ("MSFII") has not filed an application with the London Stock Exchange for its Program Securities to be admitted to the ISM, and therefore, any references to "Morgan Stanley Finance II Ltd" or "MSFII" in this Offering Circular should be disregarded for the purposes of the ISM.

This Offering Circular was approved as an offering circular on 25 June 2026 in Switzerland by SIX Exchange Regulation AG ("SIX Exchange Regulation") in its capacity as Swiss Prospectus Office. The Program Securities consist of derivative components and do not qualify as units of a collective investment scheme according to the relevant provisions of the Swiss Federal Act on Collective Investment Schemes of 23 June 2006 ("CISA"), as amended, and are not registered thereunder. Therefore, the Program Securities are neither governed by the CISA nor supervised by the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority ("FINMA"). Accordingly, investors do not have the benefit of the specific investor protection provided under the CISA.

This Offering Circular is valid for 12 months as of 25 June 2026 and may be supplemented from time to time.

Important Notices

Warning

This Offering Circular does not constitute a "prospectus" for the purposes of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 (as amended, the "Prospectus Regulation"), and has been prepared on the basis that no prospectus shall be required under the Prospectus Regulation for any Program Securities to be offered and sold under it. This Offering Circular has not been approved or reviewed by any regulator which is a competent authority under the Prospectus Regulation in the EEA or in any other jurisdiction.

Any person making or intending to make an offer of Securities in the United Kingdom may only do so pursuant to an exception from the public offer prohibition contained in the Public Offers and Admissions to Trading Regulations 2024 and in circumstances in which no obligation arises for the Issuer or any Distribution Agent to publish or supplement a prospectus pursuant to the Prospectus Rules: Admission to Trading on a Regulated Market sourcebook. Neither the Issuer nor any Distribution Agent has authorised, nor do they authorise, the making of any offer of Securities in any other circumstances.

Approvals

This Offering Circular has been approved by:

- (i) The Irish Stock Exchange plc trading as Euronext Dublin ("Euronext Dublin") as Base Listing Particulars pursuant to the listing and admission to trading rules of Euronext Dublin for the purpose of providing information with regard to the issue of Program Securities hereunder, to be admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market during the twelve month period following the date hereof. The Global Exchange Market is the exchange regulated market of Euronext Dublin and is not a regulated market for the purposes of MiFID II;
- (ii) the Luxembourg Stock Exchange pursuant to the appendices to the Rules and Regulations of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, to be admitted to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF market and to the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange. The Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF market is not a regulated market for the purposes of MiFID II or Article 2(1)(13A) of Regulation (EU) 600/2014 as it forms part of the laws of the United Kingdom. Pursuant to Part 2 / Chapter 2 / point 206 of the Rules and Regulations of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, every significant new factor relating to the information contained in this Offering Circular, which is capable of affecting the assessment of the Program Securities and arises after the date hereof, shall be covered by a supplement to this Offering Circular. This Offering Circular constitutes a prospectus for the purpose of Part IV of the Luxembourg law on prospectuses for securities dated 16 July 2019; and
- (iii) the SIX Exchange Regulation in its capacity as Swiss Prospectus Office within the meaning of the Swiss Federal Act on Financial Services of 15 June 2018 ("FinSA").

Listing

Applications have been made for the Series A Notes, the Warrants and the Certificates to be:

- (i) admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market. As noted above, the Global Exchange Market is the exchange regulated market of Euronext Dublin and is not a regulated market for the purposes of MiFID II;
- (ii) admitted to the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF market;
- (iii) (other than Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes) admitted to trading on the International Securities Market of the London Stock Exchange; and
- (iv) (other than Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes) admitted to listing and trading on the SIX Swiss Exchange, in each case during the period from and including the date hereof up to but excluding 25 June 2026.

The applicable Pricing Supplement will specify where the Series A Notes will be listed.

The Series B Notes will not be admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation by any listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system.

The applicable Pricing Supplement will specify whether and where the Warrants or the Certificates (as applicable) will be listed.

The distribution of this Offering Circular and any Pricing Supplement and the offering, sale and delivery of the Program Securities in certain jurisdictions may be restricted by law. None of the Issuers is making an offer of the Program Securities in any state or other jurisdiction where the offer is not permitted. Persons into whose possession the Offering Circular or any Pricing Supplement comes are required by each Issuer and the Distribution Agents to inform themselves about and to observe any of those restrictions.

Neither this Offering Circular nor any Pricing Supplement may be used for the purpose of an offer or solicitation by anyone in any jurisdiction in which that offer or solicitation is not authorized or to any person to whom it is unlawful to make such an offer or solicitation.

None of the Issuers, the Guarantor or Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC or MSIP as Distribution Agents for the Program Securities has or will take any action in any country or jurisdiction that would permit a public offering of the Program Securities or possession or distribution of any offering material in relation to a public offering in any country or jurisdiction where action for that purpose is required. Each investor must comply with all applicable laws and regulations in each country or jurisdiction in or from which the investor purchases, offers, sells or delivers the Program Securities or has in the investor's possession or distributes this Offering Circular or any accompanying Pricing Supplement.

No action has been or will be taken by any of the Issuers, the Guarantor, the Distribution Agents or any dealer that would permit a public offering of the Program Securities or possession or distribution of this Offering Circular or any accompanying Pricing Supplement in any jurisdiction where action for that purpose is required.

Neither the Offering Circular nor any Pricing Supplement constitutes a recommendation by any Issuer, the Guarantor, the Distribution Agents or any of them that any recipient of the Offering Circular or any Pricing Supplement should subscribe for or purchase any Program Securities. Each recipient of the Offering Circular or any Pricing Supplement will be taken to have made its own investigation and appraisal of the condition (financial or otherwise) of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor, if applicable, and of the particular terms of any offered Program Securities.

You should rely only on the information contained or incorporated by reference or provided in this Offering Circular or the relevant Pricing Supplement. None of the Issuers nor the Guarantor has authorized anyone else to provide you with different or additional information. You should not assume that the information in this Offering Circular or the relevant Pricing Supplement is accurate as of any date subsequent to the date hereof or the date upon which this Offering Circular has been most recently amended or supplemented.

Subject to applicable securities laws, effective from the date of commencement of discussions concerning the offering, you and each of your employees, representatives, or other agents may disclose to any and all persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of the offering and all materials of any kind, including opinions or other tax analyses, that the relevant Issuer has provided to you relating to such tax treatment and tax structure. However, the foregoing does not constitute an authorization to disclose the identity of any of the Issuers or the Guarantor, or their affiliates, agents or advisors, or, except to the extent relating to such tax structure or tax treatment, any specific pricing terms or commercial or financial information.

For a description of certain restrictions on offers, sales and deliveries of Program Securities and on the distribution of the Offering Circular or any Pricing Supplement and other offering material relating to the Program Securities, see "Subscription and Sale."

The Offering Circular should be read and construed with any amendment or supplement thereto and with any other documents incorporated by reference and, in relation to any offering of Program Securities, should be read and construed together with the relevant Pricing Supplement.

None of the Issuers, the Guarantor, the Distribution Agents or any of their respective representatives is making any representation to any offeree or purchaser of the Program Securities regarding the legality of an investment by such offeree or purchaser under appropriate legal investment or similar laws. Each investor should consult with his own advisers as to the legal, tax, business, financial and related aspects of a purchase of the Program Securities.

THE PROGRAM SECURITIES, ANY INTEREST THEREIN AND ANY GUARANTEE IN RESPECT THEREOF, AND THE SECURITIES TO BE DELIVERED ON EXERCISE OR REDEMPTION OF THE PROGRAM SECURITIES (IF ANY), MAY NOT BE OFFERED, SOLD, PLEDGED, ASSIGNED, DELIVERED OR OTHERWISE TRANSFERRED, EXERCISED OR REDEEMED AT ANY TIME, DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY, WITHIN THE UNITED STATES OR TO, OR FOR THE ACCOUNT OR BENEFIT OF, ANY U.S. PERSON (AS DEFINED IN REGULATION S UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT) EXCEPT AS SET FORTH IN THE FOLLOWING SENTENCE. BY ITS ACQUISITION HEREOF, THE HOLDER REPRESENTS THAT (A) IN THE CASE OF REGULATION S SECURITIES, IT IS ACQUIRING THIS NOTE IN AN OFFSHORE TRANSACTION IN COMPLIANCE WITH REGULATION S OR (B) IN THE CASE OF REGULATION S/RULE 144A SECURITIES, IT IS A QIB (AND, IN THE CASE OF PROGRAM SECURITIES ISSUED BY MSBV, A QIB/QP OR IT IS ACQUIRING THIS NOTE IN AN OFFSHORE TRANSACTION IN COMPLIANCE WITH REGULATION S).

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the relevant Issuer and the Guarantor, if applicable, and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These Program Securities have not been recommended by any United States federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, the foregoing authorities have not confirmed the accuracy or determined the adequacy of this document. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

Each person receiving this Offering Circular acknowledges that (i) such person has been afforded an opportunity to request from the relevant Issuer and to review all additional information it considers to be necessary to verify the accuracy of, or to supplement, the information contained in this Offering Circular and the relevant Pricing Supplement, (ii) such person has not relied on the Distribution Agents or any person affiliated with the Distribution Agents in connection with its investigation of the accuracy of such information or its investment decision, and (iii) no person has been authorized to give any information or to make any representation concerning any Issuer, the Guarantor or the Program Securities other than as contained in this Offering Circular or the relevant Pricing Supplement and, if given or made, any such other information or representation should not be relied upon as having been authorized by any Issuer, the Guarantor or the Distribution Agents.

MiFID II product governance / target market

The Pricing Supplement in respect of any Program Securities may include a legend entitled "MiFID II Product Governance" which will outline the target market assessment in respect of the Program Securities and which channels for distribution of the Program Securities are appropriate. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Program Securities (a "distributor") should take into consideration the target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Program Securities (by either adopting or refining the target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

A determination will be made in relation to each issue about whether, for the purpose of the MiFID Product Governance rules under EU Delegated Directive 2017/593 (the "MiFID Product Governance Rules"), any dealer subscribing for any Program Securities is a manufacturer in respect of such Program Securities, but otherwise neither the dealer(s) nor any of its respective affiliates will be a manufacturer for the purpose of the MiFID Product Governance Rules.

UK MiFIR product governance / target market

The Pricing Supplement in respect of any Program Securities may include a legend entitled "UK MiFIR Product Governance" which will outline the target market assessment in respect of the Program Securities and which channels for distribution of the Program Securities are appropriate. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Program Securities (a "distributor") should take into consideration the target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to the FCA Handbook Product Intervention and Product Governance Sourcebook (the "UK MiFIR Product Governance Rules") is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Program Securities (by either adopting or refining the target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

A determination will be made in relation to each issue about whether, for the purpose of the UK MiFIR Product Governance Rules, any dealer subscribing for any Program Securities is a manufacturer in respect of such Program Securities, but otherwise neither dealer(s) nor any of its respective affiliates will be a manufacturer for the purpose of the UK MiFIR Product Governance Rules.

Notification under Section 309B(1)(c) of the Securities and Futures Act 2001 of Singapore, as amended or modified from time to time (the "SFA") – Unless otherwise stated in the Pricing Supplement in respect of any Program Securities, all Program Securities issued or to be issued under the Program shall be capital markets products other than prescribed capital markets products (as defined in the Securities and Futures (Capital Markets Products) Regulations 2018 of Singapore) and Specified Investment Products (as defined in MAS Notice SFA 04-N12: Notice on the Sale of Investment Products and MAS Notice FAA-N16: Notice on Recommendations on Investment Products).

Benchmarks Regulation

Interest and/or other amounts payable under the Program Securities may be calculated by reference to certain reference rates. A reference rate may constitute a benchmark in scope of Regulation (EU) 2016/1011 of the European Parliament and of the Council on indices used as benchmarks in financial instruments and financial contracts or to measure the performance of investment funds (as amended) (the "EU Benchmark Regulation") and/or the EU Benchmark Regulation as it forms part of the laws of the United Kingdom (as amended) (the "UK Benchmark Regulation"). Other reference rates may fall outside the mandatory scope of the EU Benchmark Regulation and/or the UK Benchmark Regulation, or if in scope of the UK Benchmark Regulation but the transitional provisions may apply, such that the administrator may nonetheless not need to be included in the register of administrators maintained by the European Securities and Markets Authority or the United Kingdom Financial Conduct Authority, as applicable, as at the date of the applicable Pricing Supplement. In relation to mandatory scope, note that from 1 January 2026 only benchmarks perceived to have the greatest economic relevance for the EU market (based on quantitative or qualitative criteria) are in mandatory scope of the core provisions of the EU Benchmark Regulation. It is also likely that the scope of the UK Benchmark Regulation will be significantly reduced to cover only systemically important benchmarks, however proposals are currently at consultation stage.

Responsibility statements

Each of the Responsible Persons accepts responsibility for the information contained in this Offering Circular and the Registration Document dated 14 November 2025 (as supplemented from time to time, the "Registration Document") and any supplements thereto, and to the best of the knowledge of the Responsible Persons (each having taken all reasonable care to ensure that such is the case), the information contained in this Offering Circular is in accordance with the facts and does not omit anything likely to affect the import of such information.

Important notice in relation to the Program Securities offered in the Kingdom of Bahrain

In relation to investors in the Kingdom of Bahrain, Program Securities issued in connection with this Offering Circular together with any Pricing Supplement and related offering documents must be in registered form and must only be marketed to existing account holders and Accredited Investors as defined by the Central Bank of Bahrain ("CBB") in the Kingdom of Bahrain where such investors make a minimum investment of at least US$ 100,000, or any equivalent amount in other currency or such other amount as the CBB may determine.

This offer does not constitute an offer of securities in the Kingdom of Bahrain in terms of Article 81 of the Central Bank and Financial Institutions Law 2006 (Decree Law No. 64 of 2006). This Offering Circular, together with any Pricing Supplement and related offering documents have not been and will not be registered as a prospectus with the CBB. Accordingly, no Program Securities may be offered, sold or made the subject of an invitation for subscription or purchase nor will this Offering Circular, together with any Pricing Supplement or any other related document or material be used in connection with any offer, sale or invitation to subscribe or purchase Program Securities, whether directly or indirectly, to persons in the Kingdom of Bahrain, other than as marketing to Accredited Investors for an offer outside Bahrain.

The CBB has not reviewed, approved or registered the Offering Circular, together with any Pricing Supplement or related offering documents and it has not in any way considered the merits of the Program Securities to be marketed for investment, whether in or outside the Kingdom of Bahrain. Therefore, the CBB assumes no responsibility for the accuracy and completeness of the statements and information contained in this document and expressly disclaims any liability whatsoever for any loss howsoever arising from reliance upon the whole or any part of the content of this document.

No offer of Program Securities will be made to the public in the Kingdom of Bahrain and this Offering Circular, together with any Pricing Supplement or related offering documents must be read by the addressee only and must not be issued, passed to, or made available to the public generally.

The term 'Accredited Investors' used in this section of the Offering Circular refers to investors meeting the following criteria:

- (i) Individuals who have a minimum net worth (or joint net worth with their spouse) of USD 1,000,000, excluding that person's principal place of residence;
- (ii) Companies, partnerships, trusts or other commercial undertakings, which have financial assets available for investment of not less than USD 1,000,000; or

- (iii) Governments, supranational organisations, central banks or other national monetary authorities, and state organisations whose main activity is to invest in financial instruments (such as state pension funds).

Individuals and commercial undertakings may elect in writing to be treated as accredited investors subject to meeting at least two of the following conditions:

- (i) The investor has carried out trading/investing transactions, in significant size (i.e. value of transactions aggregating USD 200,000) over the last 12-month period;
- (ii) The size of the investor's financial assets portfolio including cash deposits and financial instruments is USD 500,000 or more; and/or
- (iii) The investor works or has worked in the financial sector for at least one year in a professional position, which requires knowledge of the transactions or services envisaged (i.e. the position was professional in nature and held in a field that allowed the client to acquire knowledge of transactions or services that have comparable features and a comparable level of complexity to the transactions or services envisaged).

Offering restrictions in Switzerland

This Offering Circular has been approved in Switzerland by SIX Exchange Regulation in its capacity as Swiss Prospectus Office within the meaning of FinSA. If and to the extent the Program Securities will be publicly offered, directly or indirectly, in Switzerland within the meaning of the FinSA or if the Program Securities shall be admitted to trading on a Swiss trading venue within the meaning of the Swiss Federal Financial Market Infrastructure Act of 19 June 2015 ("FMIA"), e.g. SIX Swiss Exchange AG (the "SIX Swiss Exchange"), a prospectus pursuant to the requirements of article 40 et seq. FinSA is required (the Program Securities not falling into the scope of the requirement to be issued under a prospectus in the sense of the FinSA are hereinafter referred to as the "FinSA Exempt Program Securities"). Such requirement will be met by an issuance under (i) a Pricing Supplement prepared on the basis of the pro forma Pricing Supplement in this Offering Circular that does not specify the Program Securities as FinSA Exempt Program Securities and (ii) depositing the relevant Pricing Supplement as soon as it is in final form and, in any case, prior to any public offering in Switzerland or admission to trading in Switzerland of such Program Securities with a Swiss Prospectus Office in accordance with the requirements of FinSA. The Program Securities other than FinSA Exempt Program Securities may be publicly offered on the basis of this Offering Circular and the Pricing Supplement pertaining to the Program Securities in Switzerland in accordance with the requirements of the FinSA.

As regards FinSA Exempt Program Securities, neither this Offering Circular nor any other offering or marketing material relating to the Securities constitutes a prospectus pursuant to the FinSA, and neither this Offering Circular nor any other offering or marketing material relating to the Program Securities may be publicly distributed or otherwise made publicly available in Switzerland, unless the requirements of FinSA for such public distribution are complied with. FinSA Exempt Program Securities may only be offered, sold or advertised, directly or indirectly, in Switzerland if the Program Securities (a) are placed solely with investors classified as Professional or Institutional Clients; (b) are placed with fewer than 500 Retail Clients; (c) are placed to investors acquiring securities to the value of at least CHF 100,000; (d) have a minimum denomination per unit of CHF 100,000; or (e) do not exceed a total value of CHF 8 million over a 12-month period. All clients other than professional clients (professionelle Kunden) and institutional clients (institutionelle Kunden), as defined in Article 4 para. 3, 4 and 5 and Article 5 para. 1 and 2 FinSA ("Professional or Institutional Clients"), are retail clients ("Retail Clients"). Professional or Institutional Clients include: (a) financial intermediaries regulated pursuant to the Swiss Federal Banking Act of 8 November 1934, the Swiss Federal Financial Institutions Act of 15 June 2018 ("FinIA") or the CISA; (b) regulated insurance undertakings pursuant to the Swiss Federal Insurance Supervision Act of 17 December 2004; (c) foreign financial intermediaries or insurance undertakings subject to a similar prudential supervision as the financial intermediaries or insurance undertakings pursuant to (a) and (b); (d) central banks; (e) public entities with professional treasury operations; (f) pension funds and occupational pension schemes with professional treasury operations; (g) undertakings with professional treasury operations; (h) large companies that exceed two of the following thresholds: (i) a balance sheet total of CHF 20 million, (ii) turnover of CHF 40 million, and/or (iii) own capital of CHF 2 million; (i) private investment structures for high-net worth individuals with professional treasury operations; and (j) Opting-out Clients.

An "Opting-out Client" (vermögende Privatkundinnen und -kunden) is a Retail Client who confirms (i) that, based on the education/professional experience or based on comparable experience in the financial sector, he/she/it has the necessary knowledge to understand the risks resulting from an investment in the Notes and who owns, directly or indirectly, eligible financial assets of at least CHF 500,000, or (ii) that he/she/it owns, directly or indirectly, eligible financial assets of at least CHF 2 million.

The Program Securities are only intended to be publicly offered, directly or indirectly, in Switzerland within the meaning of FinSA or admitted to trading in Switzerland in accordance with FinSA if the relevant Pricing Supplement pertaining to the Program Securities is registered with SIX Exchange Regulation in its capacity as Swiss Prospectus Office pursuant to FinSA as soon as in final form and in any case prior to any public offering in Switzerland or admission to trading in Switzerland of such Securities in accordance with the requirements of FinSA. Furthermore, the Program Securities may only be offered to Retail Clients in Switzerland if a key investor document (Basisinformationsblatt) in the sense of Article 58 et seq. of FinSA relating to the Securities (a "FinSA-KID") or a key information document pursuant to the PRIIPs Regulation has been prepared and provided to the relevant Retail Client.

Offering restrictions in the EEA and in the UK

This Offering Circular has been prepared on the basis that any offer of Program Securities in any Member State of the EEA (each, a "Relevant State") will be made pursuant to an exemption under the Prospectus Regulation from the requirement to publish a prospectus for offers of Program Securities. Accordingly, any person making or intending to make an offer in that Relevant State of Program Securities which are the subject of an offering contemplated in this Offering Circular as completed by a Pricing Supplement in relation to the offer of those Program Securities may only do so in circumstances in which no obligation arises for the relevant Issuer or MSI plc, which may act in whole or in part through an affiliate thereof, and Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC as distribution agents (the "Distribution Agents") to publish or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 23 of the Prospectus Regulation in relation to such offer. None of the Issuers, the Guarantor or the Distribution Agents has authorised, nor do they authorise, the making of any offer of Program Securities in circumstances in which an obligation arises for the Issuer to publish a prospectus in the EEA, in the UK or in any other jurisdiction.

No consent given or responsibility taken for any public offerings in the EEA or in the UK

None of the Issuers, the Guarantor or the Distribution Agents consents to the use of this Offering Circular (or any supplement thereto or any Pricing Supplement) by any financial intermediary or any other person for the purpose of making a public offering of the Program Securities in the EEA or in the UK, and none of the Issuers, the Guarantor or the Distribution Agents accepts any responsibility for the content of this Offering Circular to any person with respect to the making of a public offering of the Program Securities by any financial intermediary or other person or for the actions of such financial intermediary or other person making such offer. The Issuers, the Guarantor and the Distribution Agents agree and acknowledge that this Offering Circular may only be used for the purposes for which it has been published, as described further herein.

Prohibition of sales to consumers in Belgium

Unless the Pricing Supplement in respect of any English Law Notes or Warrants and Certificates specifies the "Prohibition of Sales to Consumers in Belgium" as "Not Applicable", such English Law Notes or Warrants and Certificates are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available, and will not be offered, sold or otherwise made available, in Belgium to "consumers" (consumenten/consommateurs) within the meaning of the Belgian Code of Economic Law (Wetboek van economisch recht/Code de droit économique), as amended from time to time, and each Distribution Agent has represented and agreed, and each further Distribution Agent appointed under the Program will be required to represent and agree, that it has not offered, sold or otherwise made available, and will not offer, sell or otherwise make available, such English Law Notes or Warrants and Certificates in Belgium to "consumers" (consumenten/consommateurs) within the meaning of the Belgian Code of Economic Law (Wetboek van economisch recht/Code de droit économique), as amended from time to time.

The New York Law Notes and the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available, and will not be offered, sold or otherwise made available, in Belgium to "consumers" (consumenten/consommateurs) within the meaning of the Belgian Code of Economic Law (Wetboek van economisch recht/Code de droit économique), as amended from time to time, and each Distribution Agent has represented and agreed, and each further Distribution Agent appointed under the Program will be required to represent and agree, that it has not offered, sold or otherwise made available, and will not offer, sell or otherwise make available, such New York Law Notes (or Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, as applicable) in Belgium to "consumers" (consumenten/consommateurs) within the meaning of the Belgian Code of Economic Law (Wetboek van economisch recht/Code de droit économique), as amended from time to time.

Rating

Program Securities may or may not be rated. Any credit rating applied for in relation to a tranche of Program Securities will be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Information Covenant

To permit compliance with Rule 144A in connection with any resales or other transfers of Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities, each relevant Issuer and, if applicable, the Guarantor, has undertaken to furnish, upon the request of a holder or beneficial owner of such Program Securities, to such holder, beneficial owner or to a prospective purchaser designated by holder or beneficial owner, the information required to be delivered under Rule 144A(d)(4) under the Securities Act if, at the time of the request, the relevant Issuer is neither a reporting company under Section 13 or 15(d) of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), nor exempt from reporting pursuant to Rule 12g3-2(b) thereunder.

Jersey Notices

The Jersey Financial Services Commission (the "Commission") has given, and has not withdrawn, or will have given prior to the issue of Notes by MSFII and not withdrawn, its consent under Article 4 of the Control of Borrowing (Jersey) Order 1958 to the issue of Notes by MSFII. The Commission is protected by the Control of Borrowing (Jersey) Law 1947, as amended, against liability arising from the discharge of its functions under that law. It must be distinctly understood that, in giving this consent, neither the registrar of companies in Jersey (the "Jersey Registrar") nor the Commission takes any responsibility for the financial soundness of MSFII or for the correctness of any statements made, or opinions expressed, with regard to it. If you are in any doubt about the contents of this document you should consult your stockbroker, bank manager, solicitor, accountant or other financial adviser.

The investments described in this document do not constitute a collective investment fund for the purpose of the Collective Investment Funds (Jersey) Law 1988, as amended, on the basis that they are investment products designed for financially sophisticated investors with specialist knowledge of, and experience of investing in, such investments, who are capable of fully evaluating the risks involved in making such investments and who have an asset base sufficiently substantial as to enable them to sustain any loss that they might suffer as a result of making such investments. These investments are not regarded by the Commission as suitable investments for any other type of investor.

It should be remembered that the price of securities and the income from them can go down as well as up. Any individual intending to invest in any investment described in this document should consult his or her professional adviser and ensure that he or she fully understands all the risks associated with making such an investment and has sufficient financial resources to sustain any loss that may arise from it.

Neither the investments described in this document nor the activities of any functionary with regard to such investments are subject to all the provisions of the Financial Services (Jersey) Law 1998.

Authorizations

The Program Securities were authorised by Morgan Stanley pursuant to resolutions (the "Authorizing Resolutions") adopted at a meeting of the Board of Directors of Morgan Stanley held on 25 September 1998, as amended and updated pursuant to resolutions adopted at meetings of the Board of Directors of Morgan Stanley held on 17 June 2003, 14 December 2004, 20 September 2005, 12 December 2006, 19 June 2007, 17 September 2007, 16 June 2008, 18 October 2023 and 2 May 2025.

Governing law

The governing law of the Program Securities will be as follows:

- (i) The Notes (other than Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes) will be governed by either the laws of the State of New York ("New York Law Notes") or the laws of England and Wales ("English Law Notes"), as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII, MSESE and each Additional Issuer may issue English Law Notes, but shall not issue New York Law Notes.

- (ii) The Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes will be governed by the laws of England and Wales. MSFL may issue Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes.
- (iii) The Warrants and Certificates will be governed by the laws of England and Wales. Morgan Stanley may issue Certificates only and MSI plc, MSBV and, MSFL and MSESE may issue both Warrants and Certificates. MSFII may not issue Warrants or Certificates.

Risk warning

The Program Securities may not be a suitable investment for all investors

An investment in the Program Securities entails certain risks, which vary depending on the specification and type or structure of the Program Securities.

Each potential investor should determine whether an investment in the Program Securities is appropriate in its particular circumstances. An investment in the Program Securities requires a thorough understanding of the nature of the relevant transaction. Potential investors should be experienced with respect to an investment in the Program Securities and be aware of the related risks.

An investment in the Program Securities is only suitable for potential investors who:

- (i) have the requisite knowledge and experience in financial and business matters to evaluate the merits and risks of an investment in the Program Securities and the information contained or incorporated by reference into this document;
- (ii) have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate such merits and risks in the context of the potential investor's particular financial situation and to evaluate the impact the Program Securities will have on their overall investment portfolio;
- (iii) understand thoroughly the terms of the Program Securities and are familiar with the behaviour of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor as applicable and financial markets;
- (iv) are capable of bearing the economic risk of an investment in the Program Securities until the maturity date of the Notes or exercise date of the Warrants or Certificates;
- (v) recognise that it may not be possible to dispose of the Program Securities for a substantial period of time, if at all before the maturity date in respect of the English Law Notes, the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and/or the New York Notes or the specified expiration date in respect of the Warrants and Certificates; and
- (vi) are familiar with the behaviour of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor, as applicable and relevant financial markets and be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial and legal advisor) possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect its investment and its ability to bear the applicable risks.

The Program Securities are complex financial instruments. Sophisticated institutional investors generally do not purchase complex financial instruments as standalone investments. They purchase complex financial instruments as a way to reduce risk or enhance yield with an understood, measured, appropriate addition of risk to their overall portfolios. A potential investor should not invest in the Program Securities unless it has the expertise (either alone or with a financial and legal advisor) to evaluate how the Program Securities will perform under changing conditions, the resulting effects on the value of the Program Securities and the impact this investment will have on the potential investor's overall investment portfolio. Each Issuer, and the Distribution Agents, disclaim any responsibility to advise prospective investors of any matters arising under the law of the country in which they reside that may affect the purchase of, or holding of, or the receipt of payments or deliveries on the Program Securities.

Secured Overnight Financing Rate

As further described under "Risk Factors relating to the Program Securities" below, the interest rate on the Notes may be SOFR.

SOFR is published by the New York Federal Reserve and is intended to be a broad measure of the cost of borrowing cash overnight collateralized by U.S. Treasury securities. The New York Federal Reserve reports that SOFR includes all trades in the Broad General Collateral Rate and bilateral Treasury repurchase agreement (repo) transactions cleared through the delivery-versus-payment service offered by the Fixed Income Clearing Corporation (the "FICC"), a subsidiary of the Depository Trust and Clearing Corporation ("DTCC"), and SOFR is filtered by the New York Federal Reserve to remove some (but not all) of the foregoing transactions considered to be "specials". According to the New York Federal Reserve, "specials" are repos for specific-issue collateral, which take place at cash-lending rates below those for general collateral repos because cash providers are willing to accept a lesser return on their cash in order to obtain a particular security.

The New York Federal Reserve reports that SOFR is calculated as a volume-weighted median of transaction-level triparty repo data collected from The Bank of New York Mellon as well as General Collateral Finance Repo transaction data and data on bilateral Treasury repo transactions cleared through the FICC's delivery-versus-payment service. The New York Federal Reserve also notes that it obtains information from DTCC Solutions LLC, an affiliate of DTCC.

If data for a given market segment were unavailable for any day, then the most recently available data for that segment would be utilized, with the rates on each transaction from that day adjusted to account for any change in the level of market rates in that segment over the intervening period. SOFR would be calculated from this adjusted prior day's data for segments where current data were unavailable, and unadjusted data for any segments where data were available. To determine the change in the level of market rates over the intervening period for the missing market segment, the New York Federal Reserve would use information collected through a daily survey conducted by its Trading Desk of primary dealers' repo borrowing activity. Such daily survey would include information reported by Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of Morgan Stanley, as a primary dealer.

The New York Federal Reserve notes on its publication page for SOFR that use of SOFR is subject to important limitations, indemnification obligations and disclaimers, including that the New York Federal Reserve may alter the methods of calculation, publication schedule, rate revision practices or availability of SOFR at any time without notice.

Each U.S. government securities business day, the New York Federal Reserve publishes SOFR on its website at approximately 8:00 a.m., New York City time. If errors are discovered in the transaction data provided by The Bank of New York Mellon or DTCC Solutions LLC, or in the calculation process, subsequent to the initial publication of SOFR but on that same day, SOFR and the accompanying summary statistics may be republished at approximately 2:30 p.m., New York City time. Additionally, if transaction data from The Bank of New York Mellon or DTCC Solutions LLC had previously not been available in time for publication, but became available later in the day, the affected rate or rates may be republished at around this time. Rate revisions will only be effected on the same day as initial publication and will only be republished if the change in the rate exceeds one basis point. Any time a rate is revised, a footnote to the New York Federal Reserve's publication would indicate the revision. This revision threshold will be reviewed periodically by the New York Federal Reserve and may be changed based on market conditions.

Because SOFR is published by the New York Federal Reserve based on data received from other sources, none of the Issuers nor the Guarantor have any control over its determination, calculation or publication. See "Risk Factors relating to the Program Securities" below.

The information contained in this section "Secured Overnight Financing Rate" is based upon the New York Federal Reserve's Website and other U.S. government sources.

Investing in the Program Securities involves risks. See "Risk Factors relating to the Program Securities" beginning on page 15 of this Offering Circular.

Important U.S. notices

THE PROGRAM SECURITIES AND ANY GUARANTEE IN RESPECT THEREOF, AND THE SECURITIES TO BE DELIVERED ON EXERCISE OR REDEMPTION OF THE PROGRAM

SECURITIES (IF ANY), HAVE NOT BEEN AND WILL NOT BE REGISTERED UNDER THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED, (THE "SECURITIES ACT"), OR THE SECURITIES LAWS OF ANY STATE OR OTHER JURISDICTION OF THE UNITED STATES. NONE OF THE ISSUERS OR THE GUARANTOR ARE REGISTERED, OR WILL REGISTER, UNDER THE U.S. INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT OF 1940, AS AMENDED. TRADING IN THE PROGRAM SECURITIES HAS NOT BEEN APPROVED BY THE U.S. COMMODITY FUTURES TRADING COMMISSION UNDER THE U.S. COMMODITY EXCHANGE ACT OF 1936, AS AMENDED (THE "CEA").

THE PROGRAM SECURITIES, ANY INTEREST THEREIN AND ANY GUARANTEE IN RESPECT THEREOF, AND THE SECURITIES TO BE DELIVERED ON EXERCISE OR REDEMPTION OF THE PROGRAM SECURITIES (IF ANY), MAY NOT BE OFFERED, SOLD, PLEDGED, ASSIGNED, DELIVERED OR OTHERWISE TRANSFERRED, EXERCISED OR REDEEMED AT ANY TIME, DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY, WITHIN THE UNITED STATES OR TO, OR FOR THE ACCOUNT OR BENEFIT OF, ANY U.S. PERSON (AS DEFINED IN REGULATION S UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT) EXCEPT AS SET FORTH IN THE FOLLOWING SENTENCE. BY ITS ACQUISITION HEREOF, THE HOLDER REPRESENTS THAT (A) IN THE CASE OF REGULATION S SECURITIES, IT IS ACQUIRING THIS NOTE IN AN OFFSHORE TRANSACTION IN COMPLIANCE WITH REGULATION S OR (B) IN THE CASE OF REGULATION S/RULE 144A SECURITIES, IT IS A QIB (AND, IN THE CASE OF PROGRAM SECURITIES ISSUED BY MSBV, A QIB/QP OR IT IS ACQUIRING THIS NOTE IN AN OFFSHORE TRANSACTION IN COMPLIANCE WITH REGULATION S). HEDGING TRANSACTIONS INVOLVING ANY "EQUITY SECURITIES" OF "DOMESTIC ISSUERS" (AS SUCH TERMS ARE DEFINED IN THE SECURITIES ACT AND REGULATIONS THEREUNDER) MAY ONLY BE CONDUCTED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE SECURITIES ACT. SEE "SUBSCRIPTION AND Sale" AND "TRANSFER RESTRICTIONS".

IN MAKING AN INVESTMENT DECISION, INVESTORS MUST RELY ON THEIR OWN EXAMINATION OF THE RELEVANT ISSUER AND, WHERE APPLICABLE, THE GUARANTOR AND THE TERMS OF THE OFFERING, INCLUDING THE MERITS AND RISKS INVOLVED. THE PROGRAM SECURITIES HAVE NOT BEEN APPROVED OR DISAPPROVED BY THE U.S. SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION OR ANY STATE SECURITIES COMMISSION OR ANY OTHER REGULATORY AUTHORITY IN THE UNITED STATES NOR HAVE ANY OF THE FOREGOING AUTHORITIES PASSED UPON OR ENDORSED THE MERITS OF THE OFFERING OF ANY PROGRAM SECURITIES OR THE ACCURACY OR THE ADEQUACY OF THIS DOCUMENT. ANY REPRESENTATION TO THE CONTRARY IS A CRIMINAL OFFENCE IN THE UNITED STATES.

United States Withholding Tax

Payments in respect of a Program Security by Morgan Stanley, MSFL or MSFII may be subject to U.S. withholding tax if the beneficial owner of the Program Security does not meet the criteria for being exempt from this withholding tax. These criteria include the requirement that a beneficial owner that is not a United States person for U.S. federal income tax purposes (or a financial institution holding the Program Security on behalf of the beneficial owner) complies with certain tax identification and certification rules, generally by furnishing the appropriate U.S. Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E on which the beneficial owner certifies under penalties of perjury (i) that it is not a U.S. person, (ii) in the case of an entity, that it is exempt from FATCA withholding, and (iii) in the case of certain Program Securities, that it is eligible for a certain exemption under an applicable tax treaty, as described below under "United States Federal Taxation". U.S. withholding may also apply with respect to certain Program Securities issued by any Issuer that are linked to U.S. equities or certain indices that include U.S. equities. In addition, U.S. backup withholding may apply to payments generally unless certain certification requirements are satisfied or an exemption is otherwise established. If withholding is so required, unless specified otherwise in an applicable Pricing Supplement none of the Issuers or any intermediary will be required to pay any additional amounts with respect to the amounts so withheld.

Program Securities are not deposits and are not covered by any deposit protection scheme.

THE PROGRAM SECURITIES ARE NOT DEPOSITS OR SAVINGS ACCOUNTS AND ARE NOT INSURED BY THE U.S. FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION OR ANY OTHER GOVERNMENTAL AGENCY OR INSTRUMENTALITY OR DEPOSIT PROTECTION SCHEME ANYWHERE, NOR ARE THEY OBLIGATIONS OF, OR GUARANTEED BY, A BANK.

No other person is authorised to give information on the Program Securities beyond what is in this Offering Circular and related Pricing Supplement

No person has been authorised by any of Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII or MSESE to give any information or to make any representation not contained or incorporated by reference in this Offering Circular, and, if given or made, that information or representation should not be relied upon as having been authorised by Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII or MSESE.

PRIIPs / IMPORTANT – EEA RETAIL INVESTORS – If the Pricing Supplement in respect of any Program Securities includes a legend entitled "Prohibition of Sales to EEA Retail Investors", the Program Securities are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the EEA. For these purposes, a retail investor in the EEA means a person who is one (or more) of:

- (A) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II;
- (B) a customer within the meaning of Directive (EU) 2016/97, where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or
- (C) not a qualified investor as defined in the Prospectus Regulation.

Consequently, if the Pricing Supplement in respect of any Program Securities includes a legend entitled "Prohibition of Sales to EEA Retail Investors", no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014, as amended (as amended, the "PRIIPs Regulation") for offering or selling the Program Securities or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been or will be prepared and therefore offering or selling the Program Securities or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the PRIIPs Regulation.

UK CCI REGIME / UK IMPORTANT – UK RETAIL INVESTORS – If the Pricing Supplement in respect of any Program Securities includes a legend entitled "Prohibition of Sales to UK Retail Investors", the Program Securities are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the United Kingdom ("UK"). For these purposes, a retail investor in the UK means a person who is one (or more) of:

- (A) a retail client as defined in point (8) of Article 2 of Regulation (EU) No 2017/565 as it forms part of the laws of the United Kingdom; or
- (B) a customer within the meaning of the provisions of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 ("FSMA") and any rules or regulations made under the FSMA to implement Directive (EU) 2016/97, where that customer would not qualify as a professional client, as defined in point (8) of Article 2(1) of Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 as it forms part of the laws of the United Kingdom; or
- (C) not a qualified investor as defined in Article 2 of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 as it forms part of the laws of the United Kingdom.

Consequently, if the Pricing Supplement in respect of any Program Securities includes a legend entitled "Prohibition of Sales to UK Retail Investors", no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 as it forms part of the laws of the United Kingdom (the "UK PRIIPs Regulation") for offering or selling the Program Securities or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the UK has been or will be prepared and therefore offering or selling the Program Securities or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the UK may be unlawful under the UK PRIIPs Regulation.

The information in this Offering Circular (including any supplement) is subject to change.

Neither the delivery of this Offering Circular nor the offering, sale or delivery of any Program Securities will, in any circumstances, create any implication that the information contained in this Offering Circular is true subsequent to the date hereof or the date upon which this Offering Circular has been most recently amended or supplemented or that there has been no adverse change in the financial situation of any of Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII or MSESE since the date hereof or, as the case may be, the date upon which this Offering Circular has been most recently amended or supplemented or the balance sheet date of the most recent financial statements which have been incorporated into this Offering Circular by way of a supplement to this Offering Circular, or that any other information supplied from time to time is correct at any time subsequent to the date on which it is supplied or, if different, the date indicated in the document containing the same. Investors should review, inter alia, the most recent financial statements of Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII and/or MSESE (as applicable) when evaluating any Program Securities or an investment therein (such financial statements shall not form a part of this Offering Circular unless they have been expressly incorporated herein, including by way of a supplement to this Offering Circular).

Distribution

Each Issuer is offering the Program Securities on a continuing basis through the Distribution Agents, who have agreed to use reasonable efforts to solicit offers to purchase the Program Securities. Each Issuer may also sell Program Securities to the Distribution Agents as principal for their own accounts at a price to be agreed upon at the time of sale. The Distribution Agents may resell any Program Securities they purchase as principal at prevailing market prices, or at other prices, as they determine. Each Issuer or the Distribution Agents may reject any offer to purchase Program Securities, in whole or in part. See "Subscription and Sale" and "Transfer Restrictions" beginning on pages 1267 and 1287, respectively.

Compliance with all applicable laws

Each investor must comply with all applicable laws and regulations in each country or jurisdiction in or from which the investor purchases, offers, sells or delivers the Program Securities or has in the investor's possession or distributes this Offering Circular or any accompanying Pricing Supplement.

General restriction on distribution of this Offering Circular

The distribution of this Offering Circular and the offering, sale and delivery of Program Securities in certain jurisdictions may be restricted by law. Persons into whose possession this Offering Circular comes are required by Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII and MSESE to inform themselves about and to observe those restrictions.

No post-issuance information

Subject to the applicable Pricing Supplement, none of the Issuers, the Guarantor or the Distribution Agents intends to provide post-issuance information in respect of the Program Securities unless required to do so by applicable laws and regulations.

Read and construe with each supplement and document incorporated by reference

This Offering Circular does not constitute an offer of or an invitation to subscribe for or purchase any Program Securities and should not be considered as a recommendation by any of Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII or MSESE that any recipient of this Offering Circular should subscribe for or purchase any Program Securities. Each recipient of this Offering Circular will be taken to have made its own investigation and appraisal of the condition (financial or otherwise) of Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII or MSESE (as applicable) and of the particular terms of any offered Program Securities.

General offer restriction

Neither this Offering Circular nor any Pricing Supplement may be used for the purpose of an offer or solicitation by anyone in any jurisdiction in which that offer or solicitation is not authorised or to any person to whom it is unlawful to make such an offer or solicitation.

Important Swiss notice

The Program Securities do not qualify as units of a collective investment scheme according to the relevant provisions of the Swiss Federal Act on Collective Investments Scheme ("CISA"), as amended, and are not registered thereunder. Therefore, the Program Securities are neither governed by the CISA nor supervised by the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority. Accordingly, investors do not have the benefit of the specific investor protection provided under the CISA. Investors should be aware that they are exposed to the credit risk of the relevant Issuer and, if applicable, of the Guarantor.

Language

The language of this Offering Circular is English. Certain legislative references and technical terms have been cited in their original language in order that the correct technical meaning may be ascribed to them under applicable law.

Defined terms

CNY Program Securities

In this Offering Circular, references to "CNY Program Securities" are to Program Securities denominated in CNY or Renminbi deliverable in Hong Kong, or such other CNY Center as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Stabilising legend

In connection with the issue of any tranche of Program Securities under the Program, any Distribution Agent or any other agent specified for that purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the stabilising manager (or any person acting for the stabilising manager) may over allot Program Securities or effect transactions with a view to supporting the market price of any of the Program Securities at a level higher than that which might otherwise prevail for a limited period. However, there is no assurance that the stabilising manager (or any agent of the stabilising manager) will undertake stabilising action. Any stabilising action may begin on or after the date on which adequate public disclosure of the terms of the offer of the relevant tranche of Program Securities is made and, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time, but must be brought to an end no later than the earlier of 30 days after the issue date of the relevant tranche of Program Securities and 60 days after the date of the allotment of the relevant tranche of Program Securities. Any stabilising action or over allotment must be conducted by the stabilising manager (or any person acting for the stabilising manager) in accordance with all applicable laws and rules.

OVERVIEW

This overview must be read as an introduction to the Offering Circular relating to the Program Securities. Any decision to invest in any Program Securities should be based on a consideration of the Offering Circular as a whole, including the documents incorporated by reference.

For SIX Exchange Regulation purposes: This overview does not purport to be complete and is taken from, and is qualified in its entirety by, the remainder of this Offering Circular and, in relation to the terms and conditions of any Program Securities, the relevant Pricing Supplement. Investors are required to base their investment decision on the information in this Offering Circular in its entirety and not on this overview. Liability for this overview is limited to cases where the information contained herein is misleading, inaccurate or inconsistent when read together with the other parts of this Offering Circular.

Words and expressions defined in the "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes" (and, in the case of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, in the "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes") below or elsewhere in this Offering Circular have the same meanings in this overview.

THE ISSUERS AND THE GUARANTOR

Legal name and commercial name of the Issuers:

Morgan Stanley ("Morgan Stanley")

SIX Exchange Regulation Ltd.:

This Offering Circular has been approved on 25 June 2026 as an offering circular by SIX Exchange Regulation Ltd in its capacity as the Swiss review body on the date mentioned.

The key information relating to the Program Securities and specific terms and conditions of the Program Securities as well as information regarding the public offer and admission to trading of the Program Securities are set out in the Pricing Supplement in relation to the applicable Program Securities which supplements the information comprised in this Offering Circular.

The Pricing Supplement must be published and filed with the Swiss review body as soon as possible after the final information is available; in the case of an admission to trading, this shall be by no later than the time that the Program Securities in question are admitted to trading, published and filed with the Swiss review body.

Risks

The following is a summary only and must be read in conjunction with the section entitled "Risk Factors" in the Registration Document dated 14 November 2025 (as supplemented) which is incorporated by reference into this Offering Circular.

Key Risks Specific to the Issuers and the Guarantor:

The following key risks affect Morgan Stanley and, since Morgan Stanley is the ultimate holding company of MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII and MSESE, also impact MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII and MSESE:

Market Risk: Morgan Stanley's results of operations may be materially affected by market fluctuations and by global financial market and economic conditions and other factors. Holding large and concentrated positions may expose Morgan Stanley to losses. These factors may result in losses for a position or portfolio.

Credit Risk: Morgan Stanley is exposed to the risk that third-parties that are indebted to it will not perform their obligations, as well as that a default by a large financial institution could adversely affect financial markets. Such factors give rise to the risk of loss arising when a borrower, counterparty or issuer does not meet its financial obligations to Morgan Stanley.

Operational Risk: Morgan Stanley is subject to the risk of loss, or of damage to its reputation, resulting from inadequate or failed processes or systems, from human factors (e.g. inappropriate or unlawful conduct) or from external events (e.g. cyber attacks or third party vulnerabilities) that may manifest as, for example, loss of information, business disruption, theft and fraud, legal, regulatory and compliance risks, or damage to physical assets. Morgan Stanley may incur operational risk events across the full scope of its business activities, including revenue-generating activities and support and control groups (e.g. information technology and trade processing). A cyber-attack, information or security breach or a technology failure of Morgan Stanley or a third party could adversely affect Morgan Stanley's ability to conduct its business or manage its exposure to risk, or result in disclosure or misuse of personal, confidential or proprietary information and otherwise adversely impact its results of operations, liquidity and financial condition, as well as cause reputational harm.

Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is essential to Morgan Stanley's businesses and Morgan Stanley relies on external sources to finance a significant portion of its operations. Morgan Stanley's borrowing costs and access to the debt capital markets depend on its credit ratings. Morgan Stanley is a holding company, has no business operations and depends on dividends, distributions, loans and other payments from its subsidiaries to fund dividend payments and to fund all payments on its obligations, including debt obligations. Further, Morgan Stanley's liquidity and financial condition have in the past been, and could in the future be, adversely affected by U.S. and international markets and economic conditions. As a result of the foregoing, there is a risk that Morgan Stanley will be unable to finance its operations due to a loss of access to the capital markets or difficulty in liquidating its assets. Additionally, liquidity risk encompasses Morgan Stanley's ability (or perceived ability) to meet its financial obligations without experiencing significant business disruption or reputational damage that may threaten its viability as a going concern, as well as the associated funding risks triggered by the market or idiosyncratic stress events that may negatively affect its liquidity or may impact its ability to raise new funding.

Legal, Regulatory and Compliance Risk: Morgan Stanley is subject to the risk of legal or regulatory sanctions; material financial loss including fines, penalties, judgments, damages and/or settlements, limitations on its business or loss to reputation it may suffer as a result of its failure to comply with laws, regulations, rules, related self-regulatory organization standards and codes of conduct applicable to its business activities. Morgan Stanley is also subject to contractual and commercial risk, such as the risk that a counterparty's performance obligations will be unenforceable. Additionally, Morgan Stanley is subject to anti-money laundering, terrorist financing and anti-corruption rules and regulations.

Risk Management: Morgan Stanley's risk management strategies, models and processes may not be fully effective in mitigating its risk exposures in all market environments or against all types of risk, which could result in unexpected losses.

Competitive Environment: Morgan Stanley faces strong competition from financial services firms and others, which could lead to pricing pressures that could materially adversely affect its revenues and profitability. Automated trading markets and the introduction and application of new technologies may adversely affect Morgan Stanley's business and may increase competition. Morgan Stanley's ability to retain and attract qualified employees is critical to the success of its business and the failure to do so may materially adversely affect its performance.

Other Risks: Morgan Stanley is subject to numerous political, economic, legal, compliance, tax, operational, franchise and other risks as a result of its international operations that could adversely impact its businesses in many ways, including risks of possible nationalization, expropriation, price controls, capital controls, exchange controls, increased taxes, levies and tariffs, cybersecurity, data transfer, and outsourcing restrictions, regulatory scrutiny regarding the use of new technologies, prohibitions on certain types of foreign and capital market activities, limitations on cross-border listings and other restrictive governmental actions, or political and governmental instability, including tensions between the U.S. and its significant trading partners, such as China, as well as the outbreak or escalation of hostilities or terrorist activity around the world, and the potential associated impacts on global and local economies and its operations.

Climate related risks could result in increased costs and risks and adversely affect our operations, businesses and clients.

Morgan Stanley may be unable to fully capture the expected value from acquisitions, divestitures, joint ventures, partnerships, minority stakes or strategic alliances, and certain acquisitions may subject our business to new or increased risk.

Risk Relating to the Exercise of Resolution Measures Powers: The application of regulatory requirements and strategies in the U.S. or other jurisdictions to facilitate the orderly resolution of large financial institutions may pose a greater risk of loss for Morgan Stanley's security holders, and subject Morgan Stanley to other restrictions.

All material assets of MSBV are obligations of (or securities issued by) one or more Morgan Stanley Group companies. If any of these Morgan Stanley Group companies incurs losses with respect to any of its activities (irrespective of whether those activities relate to MSBV or not) the ability of such company to fulfil its obligations to MSBV could be impaired, thereby exposing holders of securities issued by MSBV to a risk of loss.

MSFL has no independent operations beyond the issuance and administration of its securities and is expected to have no independent assets available for distributions to holders of MSFL Program Securities if they make claims in respect of the Program Securities in a bankruptcy, resolution or similar proceeding. Accordingly, any recoveries by such holders will be limited to those available under the related Guarantee by Morgan Stanley and that Guarantee will rank pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of Morgan Stanley present and future, but, in the event of insolvency, only to the extent permitted by laws affecting creditors' rights. Holders will have recourse only to a single claim against Morgan Stanley and its assets under the Guarantee. Holders of Program Securities issued by MSFL should accordingly assume that in any such proceedings they would not have any priority over and should be treated pari passu with the claims of other unsecured, unsubordinated creditors of Morgan Stanley, including holders of Morgan Stanley issued securities.

The existence of substantial inter-relationships (including the provision of funding, capital, services and logistical support to or by MSI plc, as well as common or shared business or operational platforms or systems, including employees) between MSI plc and other Morgan Stanley Group companies exposes MSI plc to the risk that, factors which could affect the business and condition of Morgan Stanley or other companies in the Morgan Stanley Group may also affect the business and condition of MSI plc. Further, Notes issued by MSI plc will not be guaranteed by Morgan Stanley. The application of regulatory requirements and strategies in the United Kingdom to facilitate the orderly resolution of large financial institutions may pose a greater risk of loss for the holders of securities issued by MSI plc.

MSFII has no independent operations beyond the issuance and administration of its securities and is expected to have no independent assets available for distributions to holders of MSFII Program Securities if they make claims in respect of the Program Securities in a bankruptcy, resolution or similar proceeding. Accordingly, any recoveries by such holders will be limited to those available under the related Guarantee by Morgan Stanley and that Guarantee will rank pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of Morgan Stanley present and future, but, in the event of insolvency, only to the extent permitted by laws affecting creditors' rights. Holders will have recourse only to a single claim against Morgan Stanley and its assets under the Guarantee. Holders of Program Securities issued by MSFII should accordingly assume that in any such proceedings they would not have any priority over and should be treated pari passu with the claims of other unsecured, unsubordinated creditors of Morgan Stanley, including holders of Morgan Stanley issued securities.

MSESE is subject to European regulatory requirements and strategies to facilitate the orderly resolution of large financial institutions (as transposed into German law). These provisions may severely affect the rights of the holders of Program Securities issued by MSESE in the event that the conditions for resolution of MSESE are met. This may result in the loss of their entire investment and could, before the conditions for resolution are met (and resolution is initiated), adversely affect the market price of the relevant Program Securities.

PROGRAM SECURITIES

Type: MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL and MSESE may offer from time to time Program Securities in the form of Notes, Warrants and Certificates. Morgan Stanley may offer from time to time Program Securities in the form of Notes and Certificates only. MSFL may offer from time to time Program Securities in the form of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes. MSFII may offer from time to time Registered Notes governed by English Law only.

Listing: Applications have been made for Program Securities (other than Series B Notes which will not be listed) to be admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market; and to be admitted to the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and trading on its Euro MTF Market. Program Securities may also be unlisted or listed on another exchange, all as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

No registration: The Program Securities, any interest therein and any Guarantee in respect thereof, and the securities to be delivered on exercise or redemption of the Program Securities (if any), have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act or the securities laws of any state or other jurisdiction of the United States and may not be offered, sold, pledged, assigned, delivered or otherwise transferred, exercised or redeemed at any time, directly or indirectly, within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. Persons (as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act), unless they are sold in reliance on Rule 144A under the Securities Act, in addition to Regulation S, as further described herein. See "Program Securities in Global Form". Hedging transactions involving any "equity securities" of "domestic issuers" (as such terms are defined in the Securities Act and regulations thereunder) may only be conducted in accordance with the Securities Act. The Program Securities are subject to transfer restrictions. See "Subscription and Sale" and "Transfer Restrictions".

Structural subordination; Morgan Stanley's access to assets held by subsidiaries may be restricted: The securities issued by Morgan Stanley, including the guarantees of the MSBV, MSFL and MSFII Program Securities, are Morgan Stanley's unsecured senior obligations, but Morgan Stanley's assets consist primarily of equity in, and receivables from, its subsidiaries. As a result, Morgan Stanley's ability (i) to make payments on its Notes and Certificates, (ii) to make payments with respect to its guarantee of Program Securities issued by MSBV, MSFL and MSFII and (iii) to pay dividends on its preferred stock and common stock, in each case depends upon its receipt of dividends, loan payments and other funds from its subsidiaries. In addition, the direct creditors of any subsidiary will have a prior claim on the subsidiary's assets, if any, and Morgan Stanley's rights and the rights of its creditors, including your rights as an owner of Morgan Stanley's Notes and Certificates or your rights under its guarantees of MSBV, MSFL and MSFII Program Securities, will be subject to that prior claim, except to the extent that any claims Morgan Stanley may have as a creditor of that subsidiary are paid. This subordination of parent company creditors to prior claims of creditors of subsidiaries over the subsidiaries' assets is referred to as structural subordination.

In addition, various statutes and regulations restrict some of Morgan Stanley's subsidiaries from paying dividends or making loans or advances to Morgan Stanley. These restrictions could prevent those subsidiaries from paying the cash to Morgan Stanley that it needs in order to pay you. These restrictions include:

- the net capital requirements under the Exchange Act, and the rules of some exchanges and other regulatory bodies, which apply to some of Morgan Stanley's principal subsidiaries, such as Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC, MSI plc and MSESE, and
- banking regulations, which apply to Morgan Stanley Bank, N.A., a national bank, Morgan Stanley Private Bank, National Association (formerly Morgan Stanley Trust FSB), a national bank, and other bank subsidiaries of Morgan Stanley.

Total loss-absorbing capacity of New York Law Notes: Morgan Stanley intends that the New York Law Notes will, when issued, constitute "loss-absorbing capacity" within the meaning of the final rules issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and, accordingly, will have only those provisions described in this Offering Circular that will permit compliance thereof at such time of issuance. In this respect, Morgan Stanley is a parent holding company and has no operations and depends on dividends, distributions and other payments from its subsidiaries to fund its debt obligations (including New York Law Notes). Under a support agreement that Morgan Stanley has entered with its material subsidiaries, upon the occurrence of a resolution scenario, including a single-point-of-entry resolution strategy as contemplated in its resolution plan, Morgan Stanley would be obligated to contribute or loan on a subordinated basis all of its material assets, other than shares in its subsidiaries and certain intercompany payables, to provide capital and liquidity, as applicable, to its material subsidiaries. That obligation will be secured, in accordance with an amended and restated secured support agreement, on a senior basis by Morgan Stanley's assets (other than shares in its subsidiaries). As a result, claims of Morgan Stanley's material subsidiaries against its assets (other than shares in its subsidiaries) will be effectively senior to its unsecured obligations, including New York Notes which would be at risk of absorbing Morgan Stanley's and its subsidiaries' losses.

Status of the MSI plc Program Securities; relationship with Morgan Stanley securities: The Program Securities issued by MSI plc are its unsecured obligations and holders of these Program Securities are direct creditors of MSI plc.

Status of the MSBV Program Securities; relationship with Morgan Stanley securities: The Program Securities issued by MSBV are its unsecured obligations and holders of these Program Securities are direct creditors of MSBV, as well as direct creditors of Morgan Stanley under the related guarantee. The Morgan Stanley guarantee will rank pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of Morgan Stanley, present and future, but, in the event of insolvency, only to the extent permitted by laws affecting creditors' rights.

Status of the MSFL Program Securities; relationship with Morgan Stanley securities: The Program Securities issued by MSFL are its unsecured obligations and holders of these Program Securities are direct creditors of MSFL, as well as direct creditors of Morgan Stanley under the related guarantee. As a finance subsidiary, MSFL has no independent operations beyond the issuance and administration of its securities and is expected to have no independent assets available for distributions to holders of MSFL Program Securities if they make claims in respect of the securities in a bankruptcy, resolution or similar proceeding. Accordingly, any recoveries by such holders will be limited to those available under the related guarantee by Morgan Stanley and that guarantee will rank pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of Morgan Stanley, present and future, but, in the event of insolvency, only to the extent permitted by laws affecting creditors' rights. Holders of Program Securities issued by MSFL should accordingly assume that in any such proceedings they would not have any priority over and should be treated pari passu with the claims of other unsecured, unsubordinated creditors of Morgan Stanley, including holders of Morgan Stanley-issued securities.

Status of the MSFII Notes; relationship with Morgan Stanley securities: The Notes issued by MSFII are its unsecured obligations and holders of these Notes are direct creditors of MSFII, as well as direct creditors of Morgan Stanley under the related guarantee. MSFII has no independent operations beyond the issuance and administration of its securities and is expected to have no independent assets available for distributions to holders of MSFII Notes if they make claims in respect of the securities in a bankruptcy, resolution or similar proceeding. Accordingly, any recoveries by such holders will be limited to those available under the related guarantee by Morgan Stanley and that guarantee will rank pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of Morgan Stanley, present and future, but, in the event of insolvency, only to the extent permitted by laws affecting creditors' rights. Holders of Notes issued by MSFII should accordingly assume that in any such proceedings they would not have any priority over and should be treated pari passu with the claims of other unsecured, unsubordinated creditors of Morgan Stanley, including holders of Morgan Stanley-issued securities.

Status of the MSESE Program Securities; relationship with Morgan Stanley securities: The Program Securities issued by MSESE are its senior unsecured obligations and holders of these Program Securities are direct creditors of MSESE.

Guarantee: Payment of all amounts due in respect of Program Securities issued by MSBV will, unless specified otherwise in the applicable Pricing Supplement, be guaranteed by Morgan Stanley. Payment of all amounts in respect of Program Securities issued by MSFL will be guaranteed by Morgan Stanley. Payment of all amounts due in respect of Program Securities issued by MSFII will be guaranteed by Morgan Stanley. Payment of all amounts due in respect of Program Securities issued by MSI plc and MSESE will not be guaranteed by Morgan Stanley, or by any other guarantor.

Distribution: Each Issuer is offering Program Securities on a continuing basis through the Distribution Agents, who have agreed to use reasonable efforts to solicit offers to purchase the same. Each Issuer may also sell Program Securities to the Distribution Agents as principal for their own accounts at prices agreed upon at the time of sale. The Distribution Agents may resell Program Securities purchased as principal. Each Issuer or the Distribution Agents may reject any offer to purchase Program Securities.

Form: Each Issuer may issue Program Securities in registered form. Program Securities in registered form may be in either global registered form or individual registered form. MSBV, MSI plc and MSESE may also issue Finnish Notes or Swedish Notes or Finnish Securities or Swedish Securities and MSBV or MSI plc may also issue Norwegian Notes or Norwegian Securities or Danish Notes or Danish Securities in each case in dematerialised form.

U.S. withholding requirement: In order to avoid certain U.S. withholding taxes on interest payments by Morgan Stanley, MSFL or MSFII on a Program Security, a non-U.S. beneficial owner is required to comply with certain tax identification and certification rules, generally by furnishing the appropriate IRS Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E certifying (i) that it is not a U.S. person, (ii) in the case of an entity, that it is exempt from FATCA withholding, and (iii) in the case of certain Program Securities, that it is eligible for a certain exemption under an applicable tax treaty as described below under "United States Federal Taxation". U.S. withholding may also apply with respect to certain Program Securities issued by any Issuer that are linked to U.S. equities or certain indices. U.S. backup withholding may apply to payments generally unless an appropriate IRS Form W-8 or W-9, as applicable, is furnished or an exemption is otherwise established. Unless specified otherwise in an applicable Pricing Supplement, none of the Issuers or any intermediary will be required to pay additional amounts with respect to any amount withheld.

Denomination of Notes: Notes may be denominated or payable in any currency, be issued at any price and have any maturity, in each case subject to all applicable consents being obtained and compliance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

Redemption of Notes: Notes may be redeemed at par or at such other redemption amount (detailed in a formula or otherwise) or (other than Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes) by delivery of securities of an issuer not affiliated with Morgan Stanley, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Early redemption: Early redemption or termination will be permitted for taxation reasons, or in certain circumstances following the occurrence of an Administrator/Benchmark Event or relevant adjustment events applicable to the Program Securities, but will otherwise be permitted only to the extent specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and the relevant Belgian Supplemental Conditions (Notes) or Belgian Supplemental Conditions (Securities) (as applicable) as being applicable in respect of a series of Program Securities in the applicable Pricing Supplement or as may be required in the event of a default by the Issuer. In the case of certain Notes, if such Notes are redeemed early for any reason, the amount payable by the Issuer may be less than the amount that would have been paid had the Notes been redeemed at maturity. In the event of default by the Issuer, the investor would have an unsecured claim against the Issuer or, if applicable, the Guarantor.

Interest on Notes: Notes may be interest bearing or non-interest bearing. Interest (if any) may be payable at a fixed rate or a floating rate, or a rate which varies during the lifetime of the relevant Series.

Exchange Right: Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes may be redeemed at their cash amount following the exercise by each Noteholder of their exchange right in accordance with the provisions set out in "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Exchangeable Notes" and as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Exercise of Warrants and Certificates: Upon exercise, Warrants and Certificates may entitle the holder to receive from the relevant Issuer a Cash Settlement Amount, or may entitle the holder to receive delivery of or to deliver an amount of securities (each as specified or calculated in accordance with the applicable Pricing Supplement), and may be American, European or Bermudan Style Securities, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Governing law: Notes may be governed by New York law or English law, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. Warrants and Certificates will be governed by English law.

Use of proceeds:

The net proceeds of each issue of Notes will be used by the relevant Issuer either (i) for general corporate purposes and/or, in connection with hedging its obligations under the Notes, or (ii) for any other particular identified use of proceeds, all as stated in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

In respect of each issue of Notes by MSBV, at least 95% of the proceeds will be invested (uitzetten) within the group of which it forms part. MSBV will not issue Sustainable Bonds under this Offering Circular.

MSFL intends to lend the net proceeds from its issuances of the Notes to Morgan Stanley. Morgan Stanley intends to use the proceeds from such loans (i) for general corporate purposes, or (ii) if the Notes constitute Sustainable Bonds, to finance or refinance, in whole or in part, Eligible Projects.

If the Notes constitute Sustainable Bonds, an amount equal to the gross proceeds raised by way of Sustainable Bonds issued pursuant to the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework will be allocated to the financing or refinancing, in whole or in part, of Eligible Projects, that Morgan Stanley or any of its wholly owned subsidiaries, considers consistent with the eligibility criteria in the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework. Under this Offering Circular, Sustainable Bonds may only be issued by Morgan Stanley or by MSFL.

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Notes are "Green Bonds", an amount equal to the gross proceeds raised will be allocated to Green Eligible Projects.

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Notes are "Social Bonds", an amount equal to the gross proceeds raised will be allocated to Social Eligible Projects.

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Notes are "Sustainability Bonds", an amount equal to the gross proceeds raised will be allocated to Green Eligible Projects and Social Eligible Projects.

All as defined in the "Use of Proceeds" section of this Offering Circular.

Debt or derivative securities: Program Securities may not be ordinary debt securities and the return and/or interest and/or principal may be linked to the performance of, amongst other things, one or more of an index or formula, changes in the prices of securities, funds, exchange-traded notes, commodities or futures contracts, movements in currency exchange rates or benchmark rates and to the credit of one or more entities not affiliated with the Issuers (such items are referred to in this Offering Circular in relation to Notes as the "Relevant Underlying" and in relation to Certificates and Warrants, as the "Relevant Factor"). The return on such Program Securities may be influenced by unpredictable factors, including the value of the underlying or factor which may in turn be linked to the creditworthiness of an underlying entity, market prices of underlying, market volatility, interest rates, currency exchange rates, inflation, the length of time until maturity and other economic, financial, environmental, legal, regulatory, social and political influences which may not be within the Issuers' control. Where Program Securities are linked to emerging market countries or currencies, the impact of the factors outlined previously are magnified. These factors may cause a partial or total loss of an investor's investment in Program Securities and may involve the investor receiving a return that they might not have anticipated when purchasing Program Securities.

Credit risk: An investment in the Program Securities bears the risk that the relevant Issuer is not able to fulfil its obligations in respect of such Program Securities.

No rights in the underlying: Investment in Program Securities may carry similar risks to a direct investment in the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor; however investors will not have legal or beneficial ownership in such underlying.

Illiquid secondary market: Investment in Program Securities may be illiquid and investors should be prepared to hold Program Securities to maturity or expiration as there may be no secondary market therefor.

Conflicts of interest: Investors should be aware of potential conflicts of interest with the Determination Agent. For further information, see "Conflicts of Interest" beginning on page 74.

Stamp duty and tax generally: There may be stamp duty implications for investors in the Warrants or Certificates. Investors should seek professional tax advice in relation to the tax implications to them of an investment in Program Securities.

Consult professional advisors: Prospective investors should consult with their own professional advisors if they consider it necessary before purchasing any Program Securities.

Where to obtain documents: Certain documents relating to the Program Securities will be available at The Bank of New York Mellon, One Canada Square, London E14 5AL and also at the principal executive offices of Morgan Stanley and MSFL and the registered offices of MSIP, MSFII, MSBV and MSESE.

Description of the Program Securities that may be publicly offered in Switzerland:

General: Where they are offered to the public in Switzerland, the Program Securities comprise the following categories as defined in the SSPA Swiss Derivatives Map 2026 issued by the Swiss Structured Products Association (the "SSPA") (the "SSPA Swiss Derivatives Map") (see: <https://sspa.ch/en>) depending on the features of the relevant Program Securities.

The key information relating to the Program Securities and specific terms and conditions of the Program Securities as well as information regarding the public offer and admission to trading of the Program Securities are set out in the Pricing Supplement in relation to the applicable Program Securities, which supplements the information comprised in this Offering Circular.

Capital Protection Products (SSPA Category 11): Capital Protection Products provide for a specific minimal redemption amount. The level of the minimal redemption amount representing the level of capital protection indicates the percentage of the nominal or par value of the Capital Protection Product that the investor will be entitled to receive on the Maturity Date. The minimum redemption amount will be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. The applicable Pricing Supplement may specify that the minimum redemption amount is less than 100 per cent. of the nominal or par value of the Program Securities (partial capital protection). Capital protection therefore does not mean that the investor is entitled to an amount on redemption equal to the full nominal or par value of the Program Securities. The potential loss is limited by the minimum redemption amount, subject to the credit risk of the Issuer and, if applicable, the Guarantor.

The product category Capital Protection Products includes the following product types:

- Capital Protection Note with Participation (SSPA Category 1100)
- Barrier Capital Protection Note with Barrier (SSPA Category 1130)
- Capital Protection Note with Twin Win (SSPA Category 1135)
- Capital Protection Note with Coupon (SSPA Category 1140)

Yield Enhancement Products (SSPA Category 12): Yield Enhancement Products provide for a redemption amount that is limited to a maximum amount (a cap) and may provide for (fixed or variable) periodic coupon payments during the term.

Yield Enhancement Products that are linked to a basket of Relevant Underlyings may offer a larger discount or 5 coupon than Yield Enhancement Products linked to a single Relevant Underlying.

The product category Yield Enhancement Products includes the following product types:

- Discount Certificate (SSPA Category 1200)
- Barrier Discount Certificate (SSPA Category 1210)
- Reverse Convertible (SSPA Category 1220)
- Barrier Reverse Convertible (SSPA Category 1230)
- Reverse Convertible with Conditional Coupon (SSPA Category 1255)
- Barrier Reverse Convertible with Conditional Coupon (SSPA Category 1260)

Participation Products (SSPA Category 13): Participation Products generally track the performance of the Relevant Underlying(s) and enable investors to participate in the performance of the Relevant Underlying(s). Depending on the structure of the Participation Product, investors participate proportionately or disproportionately in the performance of the Relevant Underlying(s). The return an investor may receive by investing in a Participation Product is theoretically unlimited, (unless there is a cap) but there is the risk of a total loss (unless there is partial capital protection).

The product category Participation Products includes the following product types:

- Tracker Certificate (SSPA Category 1300)
- Outperformance Certificate (SSPA Category 1310)
- Bonus Certificate (SSPA Category 1320)
- Bonus Outperformance Certificate (SSPA Category 1330)
- Twin Win Certificate (SSPA Category 1340)

Investment Products with Additional Credit Risk (SSPA Category 14): Investment Products with Additional Credit Risk have the relevant features that are described in respect of Capital Protection Products, Yield Enhancement Products or Participation Products, depending on the type of product. In addition, the performance of Investment Products with Additional Credit Risk will be affected by the occurrence of a defined credit event in respect of a reference entity or reference obligation, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If a credit event occurs in respect of a reference entity or obligation during the term of the Investment Products with Additional Credit Risk, they will be redeemed at a value which may be significantly lower than their initial value and may be as low as zero, in which case, investors will bear a partial or total loss.

If no credit event occurs, Investment Products with Additional Credit Risk work in the same manner as a Capital Protection Product, Yield Enhancement Product 6 or Participation Product, as the case may be, as described above.

The product category Investment Products with Additional Credit Risk includes the following product types:

- Credit Linked Notes (SSPA Category 1400)
- Certificates with Conditional Capital Protection and Additional Credit Risk (SSPA Category 1410)
- Yield Enhancement Certificate with Additional Credit Risk (SSPA Category 1420)
- Participation Certificate with Additional Credit Risk (SSPA Category 1430)

Leverage Products (SSPA Category 20): Leverage Products are subject to a leverage effect both in the direction of profits and losses (i.e. changes in the value of the Relevant Underlying(s) have a disproportionate effect on the value of Leveraged Products compared to a direct investment in the Relevant Underlying(s)). The leverage effect permits investors to use less capital compared to investing directly in the Relevant Underlying(s).

The product category Leverage Products includes the following product types:

- Warrant (SSPA Category 2100)

- Spread Warrant (SSPA Category 2110)
- Warrant with Knock-Out (SSPA Category 2200)
- Mini-Future (SSPA Category 2210)
- Constant Leverage Certificate (SSPA Category 2300)

RISK FACTORS RELATING TO THE PROGRAM SECURITIES

Prospective investors should read the entire Offering Circular (and where appropriate, any applicable Pricing Supplement). Words and expressions defined elsewhere in this Offering Circular have the same meanings in this section.

Prospective investors should consider the section entitled "Risk Factors" at pages 1 to 21 in the Registration Document dated 14 November 2025 (as supplemented from time to time), in respect of Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL and MSESE referred to in the section entitled "Incorporation by Reference" in this Offering Circular and the factors described below and consult with their own professional advisors if they consider it necessary. Prospective investors should note that the risks described below are not the only risks the Issuers and/or the Guarantor face. Each of the Issuers and the Guarantor believe that such factors represent the principal risks inherent in investing in Program Securities issued under the Program but the inability of an Issuer and/or the Guarantor, if applicable, to pay interest, principal or other amounts on or in connection with any Program Securities may occur for other reasons, which may not be considered significant risks by such Issuer based on information currently available to it or which it may not currently be able to anticipate.

This section describes generally the most significant risks of investing in Program Securities linked to securities, indices or funds, to futures contracts, to commodity prices, to currency prices, to benchmark rates, to the credit of one or more entities not affiliated with the Issuers or to other assets. Each investor should carefully consider whether the Program Securities, as described herein and in the applicable Pricing Supplement, are suited to its particular circumstances before deciding to purchase any Program Securities.

Risk Factors relating to the Issuers and Guarantor

Credit risk

Holders of Program Securities issued by Morgan Stanley, MSI plc or MSESE bear the credit risk of the relevant Issuer, that is the risk that the relevant Issuer is not able to meet its obligations under such Program Securities, irrespective of how any principal, interest or other payments under such Program Securities are to be calculated. Holders of Program Securities issued by MSBV, MSFL or MSFII bear the credit risk of the relevant Issuer and/or the Guarantor, that is the risk that the relevant Issuer and/or the Guarantor is not able to meet its obligations under such Program Securities, irrespective of how any principal, interest or other payments under such Program Securities are to be calculated. If the Issuer and/or the Guarantor is not able to meet its obligations under the Program Securities, then that would have a significant negative impact on the investor's return on the Program Securities and an investor may lose up to its entire investment.

The Issuer or the Guarantor may be substituted without the consent of the holders of Program Securities and substitution may result in adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences to investors

The Issuer or the Guarantor (as applicable) may, without the consent of the holders of Program Securities and provided certain conditions are satisfied, agree (i) to substitute Morgan Stanley (in the case of MSBV Program Securities, MSFL Program Securities, MSI plc Program Securities, MSFII Program Securities and MSESE Program Securities only) or a subsidiary of Morgan Stanley in place of the Issuer, or (ii) if "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes" or "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Securities (as applicable)" is specified as not applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, substitute a non-Morgan Stanley Group entity in place of the Issuer or the Guarantor (if applicable) (provided that such non-Morgan Stanley Group entity is of at least the equivalent creditworthiness to the Issuer or Guarantor, as applicable, and provided further, in the case of Notes, that Condition 43.2 (Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement). Any such substitution may result in a reduction in the value of the Program Securities. Additionally, if the Issuer substitutes an entity in place of the Issuer, the tax consequences (including the withholding tax consequences) of holding the Program Securities may change. Except as provided in "Description of the New York Law Notes – Payment of Additional Amounts" or Condition 30.1 (Additional Amounts) of the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes or Condition 12.1 (Additional Amounts) of the Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, as applicable, if withholding is required on the Program Securities, no additional amounts will be required to be paid. A substitution of the Issuer may result in a deemed taxable exchange of the Program Securities for U.S. federal income tax purposes, in which event gain or loss may be required to be recognized (and in the case of Program Securities treated as debt for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the Program Securities may be subject to different interest accrual requirements after the substitution, depending on the facts at the time of substitution). Investors should consult their tax advisors regarding the U.S. tax consequences of any substitution.

As a finance subsidiary, MSFL has no independent operations and is expected to have no independent assets

The principal risks with respect to Morgan Stanley will also represent the principal risks with respect to MSFL, either as an individual entity or as part of the Morgan Stanley Group. MSFL has no independent operations beyond the issuance and administration of its securities and is expected to have no independent assets available for distributions to holders of MSFL securities if they make claims in respect of the securities in a bankruptcy, resolution or similar proceeding. Accordingly, any recoveries by such holders will be limited to those available under the related guarantee by Morgan Stanley and that guarantee will rank pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of Morgan Stanley present and future, but, in the event of insolvency, only to the extent permitted by laws affecting creditors' rights. Holders will have recourse only to a single claim against Morgan Stanley and its assets under the guarantee. Holders of securities issued by MSFL should accordingly assume that in any such proceedings they would not have any priority over and should be treated pari passu with the claims of other unsecured, unsubordinated creditors of Morgan Stanley, including holders of Morgan Stanley-issued securities.

MSFII has no independent operations and is expected to have no independent assets

The principal risks with respect to Morgan Stanley will also represent the principal risks with respect to MSFII, either as an individual entity or as part of the Morgan Stanley Group.

MSFII has no independent operations beyond the issuance and administration of its securities and is expected to have no independent assets available for distributions to holders of MSFII securities if they make claims in respect of the securities in a bankruptcy, resolution or similar proceeding. Accordingly, any recoveries by such holders will be limited to those available under the related guarantee by Morgan Stanley and that guarantee will rank pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of Morgan Stanley present and future, but, in the event of insolvency, only to the extent permitted by laws affecting creditors' rights. Holders will have recourse only to a single claim against Morgan Stanley and its assets under the guarantee. Holders of MSFII securities should accordingly assume that in any such proceedings they would not have any priority over and should be treated pari passu with the claims of other unsecured, unsubordinated creditors of Morgan Stanley, including holders of Morgan Stanley-issued securities.

Risks in relation to the exercise of potential resolution powers under UK law

MSI plc, as an investment firm for the purposes of the Banking Act 2009 (the "Banking Act"), is subject to provisions of that Act which give wide powers in respect of UK banks and investment firms (such as MSI plc) to HM Treasury, the Bank of England, the Prudential Regulation Authority and the United Kingdom Financial Conduct Authority ("FCA") (each a "relevant UK Regulatory Authority") in circumstances where the relevant UK bank or investment firm (a "relevant financial institution") is failing or is likely to fail. The Banking Act implemented the provisions of Directive 2014/59/EU (the "Bank Recovery and Resolution Directive" or "BRRD").

These powers include powers to: (a) transfer all or some of the liability in respect of the securities issued by a relevant financial institution, or all or some of the property, rights and liabilities of a relevant financial institution (which could include instruments issued by MSI plc), to a commercial purchaser or, in the case of securities, to HM Treasury or an HM Treasury nominee, or, in the case of property, rights or liabilities, to an entity owned by the Bank of England; (b) override any default provisions in contracts or other agreements, including provisions that would otherwise allow a party to terminate a contract or accelerate the payment of an obligation; (c) commence certain insolvency procedures in relation to a relevant financial institution; and (d) override, vary or impose contractual obligations, for reasonable consideration, between a relevant financial institution and its parent, in order to enable any transferee or successor of the relevant financial institution to operate effectively. The Banking Act also gives power to HM Treasury to make further amendments to the law for the purpose of enabling it to use the special resolution regime powers effectively, potentially with retrospective effect.

By reason of its group relationship with certain other Morgan Stanley Group companies (including companies incorporated outside the UK) which are banks, investment firms or third-country institutions for the purposes of the Banking Act, MSI plc is a banking group company within the meaning of the Banking Act. Accordingly, the relevant UK Regulatory Authority can exercise substantially similar special resolution powers in respect of MSI plc in its capacity as a banking group company where the Prudential Regulation Authority or third country authority having jurisdiction over the relevant Morgan Stanley Group company is satisfied that such Morgan Stanley Group company meets the relevant conditions for resolution action (including that it is failing or likely to fail, that it is not reasonably likely that other measures would prevent its failure, and that it is in the public interest to exercise those powers) or that it satisfies an equivalent test in the relevant jurisdiction (irrespective of whether at that time MSI plc is failing or likely to fail). Additionally, where a relevant third country Morgan Stanley Group company becomes subject to resolution or similar measures, the relevant UK Regulatory Authority may recognise the application of some of those measures to MSI plc (irrespective of whether at that time MSI plc is failing or likely to fail).

The powers granted to the relevant UK Regulatory Authority include (but are not limited to) a "bail-in" power.

The "bail-in" power gives the relevant UK Regulatory Authority the power, in relation to a failing relevant financial institution or a banking group company in respect of a bank, investment firm or third-country institution (whether or not incorporated in the UK) which is failing or likely to fail, to cancel all or a portion of certain of its unsecured liabilities and/or to convert certain of its liabilities into another security, including ordinary shares of the surviving entity, if any. Under the Banking Act, such power could be utilised in relation to MSI plc were it to be failing or likely to fail, or were a bank, investment firm or third-country institution (whether or not incorporated in the UK) in respect of which MSI plc is a banking group company to be failing or likely to fail. Were such power to be utilised in relation to MSI plc, it could be utilised in relation to securities issued by MSI plc.

The Banking Act requires the relevant UK Regulatory Authority to apply the "bail-in" power in accordance with a specified preference order which differs from the ordinary insolvency order. In particular, the relevant UK Regulatory Authority must write-down or convert debts in the following order: (i) additional tier 1, (ii) tier 2, (iii) other subordinated claims and (iv) eligible senior claims.

Although the exercise of the bail-in power under the Banking Act is subject to certain pre-conditions, there remains uncertainty regarding the specific factors (including, but not limited to, factors outside the control of MSI plc or not directly related to MSI plc) which the relevant UK Regulatory Authority would consider in deciding whether to exercise such power with respect to MSI plc and its securities or other liabilities. Moreover, as the relevant UK Regulatory Authority may have considerable discretion in relation to how and when it may exercise such power, holders of securities issued by MSI plc may not be able to refer to publicly available criteria in order to anticipate a potential exercise of such power and consequently its potential effect on MSI plc and securities issued by MSI plc.

As well as a "bail-in" power, the powers of the relevant UK Regulatory Authority under the Banking Act include broad powers to (i) direct the sale of the relevant financial institution or the whole or part of its business on commercial terms without requiring the consent of the shareholders or complying with the procedural requirements that would otherwise apply, (ii) transfer all or part of the business of the relevant financial institution to a "bridge institution" (an entity created for such purpose that is wholly or partially in public control) and (iii) separate assets by transferring impaired or problem assets to one or more publicly owned asset management vehicles to allow them to be managed with a view to maximising their value through eventual sale or orderly wind-down (this can be used together with another resolution tool only). The Bank of England has broad powers to make one or more share transfer instruments (in the case of a transfer to a private sector purchaser described in (i) or a transfer to a "bridge institution" in the case of (ii)) or one or more property transfer instruments (in all three cases). A transfer pursuant to a share transfer instrument or a property transfer instrument will take effect despite any restriction arising by virtue of contract or legislation or in any other way.

In addition, the Banking Act gives the relevant UK Regulatory Authority power to amend the maturity date and/or any interest payment date of debt instruments or other eligible liabilities of the relevant financial institution and/or impose a temporary suspension of payments and/or discontinue the listing and admission to trading of debt instruments.

The Banking Act provides that HM Treasury must, in making regulations about compensation arrangements in the case of the exercise of a bail-in power, have regard to the "no creditor worse off" principle, and HM Treasury has made regulations governing compensation arrangements upon the exercise of a bail-in power. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the exercise by the relevant UK Regulatory Authority of any of the above powers under the Banking Act (including especially the bail-in power) could lead to the holders of securities issued by MSI plc losing some or all of their investment. Moreover, trading behaviour in relation to the securities issued by MSI plc, including market prices and volatility, may be affected by the use or any suggestion of the use of these powers and accordingly, in such circumstances, such securities are not necessarily expected to follow the trading behaviour associated with other types of securities. There can be no assurance that the taking of any actions under the Banking Act by the relevant UK Regulatory Authority or the manner in which its powers under the Banking Act are exercised will not materially adversely affect the rights of holders of securities issued by MSI plc, the market value of an investment in such securities and/or MSI plc's ability to satisfy its obligations under such securities.

Risks in relation to the exercise of potential resolution powers under German/EU Law

MSESE is subject to the European Union recovery and resolution framework as set out in Regulation (EU) No 806/2014 establishing uniform rules and a uniform procedure for the resolution of credit institutions and certain investment firms in the framework of a single resolution mechanism ("SSM") and a single resolution fund (the "SRM Regulation") and Directive 2014/59/EU establishing a framework for the recovery and resolution of credit institutions and investment firms, as amended (the "Bank Recovery and Resolution Directive" or "BRRD", and as amended by Directive (EU) 2019/879, "BRRD II"). BRRD was transposed into national German law by the German Recovery and Resolution Act (Sanierungs- und Abwicklungsgesetz, "SAG"). In November 2020 the Risk Reduction Act (Risikoreduzierungs-gesetz) has been adopted to implement BRRD II in Germany, which led to, inter alia, amendments to the SAG.

BRRD (as transposed into national law) and the SRM Regulation give wide powers in respect of German banks and investment firms (such as MSESE) to the Single Resolution Board, the European Central Bank ("ECB") and the German Federal Financial Supervisory Authority (Bundesanstalt für Finanzdienstleistungsaufsicht, "BaFin"), as applicable, (each a "relevant Regulatory Authority") in circumstances where the relevant German bank or investment firm (a "relevant financial institution") is likely to fail.

These powers include, but are not limited to powers to: (a) transfer all or some of the liability in respect of the securities issued by a relevant financial institution, or all or some of the property, rights and liabilities of a relevant financial institution (which could include instruments issued by MSESE), to another entity; (b) override any default provisions in contracts or other agreements, including provisions that would otherwise allow a party to terminate a contract or accelerate the payment of an obligation; (c) commence certain insolvency procedures in relation to a relevant financial institution; and (d) override, vary or impose contractual obligations, for reasonable consideration, between a relevant financial institution and its parent, in order to enable any transferee or successor of the relevant financial institution to operate effectively.

By reason of its group relationship with certain other Morgan Stanley Group companies (including companies incorporated outside of Germany) which are banks, investment firms or third-country institutions, MSESE is a banking group company (gruppenangehöriges Unternehmen) within the meaning of the SAG. Accordingly, the relevant Regulatory Authority can exercise substantially similar special resolution powers in respect of MSESE in its capacity as a banking group company where the BaFin or third country authority having jurisdiction over the relevant Morgan Stanley Group company is satisfied that such Morgan Stanley Group company meets the relevant conditions for resolution action (including that it is failing or likely to fail, that it is not reasonably likely that other measures would prevent its failure, and that it is in the public interest to exercise those powers) or that it satisfies an equivalent test in the relevant jurisdiction (irrespective of whether at that time MSESE is failing or likely to fail). Additionally, where a relevant third country Morgan Stanley Group company becomes subject to resolution or similar measures, the relevant Regulatory Authority may recognise the application of some of those measures to MSESE (irrespective of whether at that time MSESE is failing or likely to fail).

The powers granted to the relevant Regulatory Authority include (but are not limited to) a "bail-in" power.

The "bail-in" power gives the relevant Regulatory Authority the power, in relation to a relevant financial institution or a banking group company in respect of a bank, investment firm or third-country institution (whether or not incorporated in Germany) which is failing or likely to fail, of (a) cancellation of all or a portion of certain of its unsecured liabilities, (b) permanent reduction of claims for payment of principal, interest or other amounts under the Notes, including to zero, (c) conversion of certain of its liabilities into another security of the surviving entity, if any. Such power could be utilised in relation to MSESE were it to be failing or likely to fail, or were a bank, investment firm or third-country institution (whether or not incorporated in Germany) in respect of which MSESE is a banking group company to be failing or likely to fail. Were such power to be utilised in relation to MSESE, it could be utilised in relation to securities issued by MSESE.

The SRM and the provisions of the SAG, respectively, require the relevant Regulatory Authority to apply the "bail-in" power in accordance with a specified preference order which differs from the ordinary insolvency order. In particular, the relevant Regulatory Authority must write-down or convert debts in the following order: (i) additional tier 1, (ii) tier 2, (iii) other subordinated claims and (iv) eligible senior claims. Generally, no creditor should incur a greater loss than it would have incurred if the institution had been wound up under regular insolvency proceedings (so called "no creditor worse-off" principle).

Although the exercise of the bail-in power under the SRM Regulation, the SAG and other applicable rules and regulations is subject to certain pre-conditions, there remains uncertainty regarding the specific factors (including, but not limited to, factors outside the control of MSESE or not directly related to MSESE) which the relevant Regulatory Authority would consider in deciding whether to exercise such power with respect to MSESE and its securities or other liabilities. Moreover, as the relevant Regulatory Authority may have considerable discretion in relation to how and when it may exercise such power, holders of securities issued by MSESE may not be able to refer to publicly available criteria in order to anticipate a potential exercise of such power and consequently its potential effect on MSESE and securities issued by MSESE.

The holders of securities are bound by any resolution measure taken by the relevant Regulatory Authority. Holders would have no claim or any other right against the MSESE, arising out of any resolution measure against MSESE, to make payments under the Notes. This would occur if MSESE becomes, or is deemed by the competent authority to have become, failing or likely to fail (in particular if its continued existence is at risk (Bestandsgefährdung)) and certain other conditions are met (as set forth in the SRM Regulation, the SAG and other applicable rules and regulations).

As well as a "bail-in" power, the powers of the relevant Regulatory Authority include broad powers to (i) direct the sale of the relevant financial institution or the whole or part of its business on commercial terms without requiring the consent of the shareholders or complying with the procedural requirements that would otherwise apply, (ii) transfer all or part of the business of the relevant financial institution to a "bridge institution" ((Brückeninstitut) an entity created for such purpose that is wholly or partially in public control) and (iii) separate assets by transferring impaired or problem assets to one or more publicly owned asset management vehicles ((Vermögensverwaltungsgesellschaft)) to allow them to be managed with a view to maximising their value through eventual sale or orderly wind-down (this can be used together with another resolution tool only).

In addition, the SAG gives the relevant Regulatory Authority power to amend the maturity date and/or any interest payment date of debt instruments or other eligible liabilities of the relevant financial institution and/or impose a temporary suspension of payments and/or discontinue the listing and admission to trading of debt instruments.

The SAG provides that BaFin must, in making regulations about compensation arrangements in the case of the exercise of a bail-in power, have regard to the "no creditor worse off" principle, and BaFin has made regulations governing compensation arrangements upon the exercise of a bail-in power. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the exercise by the relevant Regulatory Authority of any of the above powers under the SRM and the provisions of the SAG respectively (including especially the bail-in power) could lead to the holders of securities issued by MSESE losing some or all of their investment. Moreover, trading behaviour in relation to the securities issued by MSESE, including market prices and volatility, may be affected by the use or any suggestion of the use of these powers and accordingly, in such circumstances, such securities are not necessarily expected to follow the trading behaviour associated with other types of securities. There can be no assurance that the taking of any actions under the SRM Regulation, the SAG or other applicable laws and regulations by the relevant Regulatory Authority or the manner in which its powers under these laws are exercised will not materially adversely affect the rights of holders of securities issued by MSESE, the market value of an investment in such securities and/or MSESE's ability to satisfy its obligations under such securities.

U.S. Special Resolution Regime

In the event that MSFL, MSBV, MSI plc, MSFII, MSESE or Morgan Stanley becomes subject to any proceedings under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act or Title II of the Dodd Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (together the "U.S. Special Resolution Regime"), the relevant regulators have various tools to deal with the entity. The U.S. requirements for the orderly resolution of MSFL, MSBV, MSI plc, MSFII, MSESE or Morgan Stanley could require MSFL, MSBV, MSI plc, MSFII, MSESE or Morgan Stanley to reorganise its business. This may involve the transfer of Program Securities issued or guaranteed by MSFL, MSBV, MSI plc, MSFII, MSESE or Morgan Stanley to another entity or vary the default provisions of such Program Securities. Prospective investors should therefore consider the relevant risk factors contained in the Registration Document and the Morgan Stanley Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended 31 December 2025 for further information on the U.S. Special Resolution Regime. In particular and in respect of any Program Securities which are Warrants (and the Securities Agency Agreement under which such Warrants are to be issued), such Warrants may be subject to specific provisions of the U.S. Special Resolution Regime which may involve the transfer of the obligations of the issuer and guarantor in respect of Warrants, the Securities Agency Agreement and the Guarantee under the terms of such U.S. Special Resolution Regime. Notwithstanding that such Warrants and the Securities Agency Agreement are governed by English law, Warrantholders in purchasing the Warrants should be aware that such transfer pursuant to the U.S. Special Resolution Regime may take effect as if the Warrants of the Securities Agency Agreement were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States.

Furthermore, in the event that MSFL, MSBV, MSI plc, MSESE or Morgan Stanley or any of their respective affiliates becomes subject to a U.S. Special Resolution Regime, Warrantholders should be aware that the rights of the Warrantholders under the terms and conditions of the Warrants and under the Securities Agency Agreement (including in respect of an event of default) may be overridden by and only be exercised to the extent that such rights could be exercised under the U.S. Special Resolution Regime as if the Warrants and Securities Agency Agreement were governed by the laws of the United States or any state of the United States.

Recent U.S. Outbound Investment Restrictions

On 28 October 2024, the U.S. Department of the Treasury issued final regulations ("OIR Final Rule") implementing Executive Order 14105, "Addressing United States Investments in Certain National Security Technologies and Products in Countries of Concern" ("OIR Executive Order"). The OIR Final Rule became effective on 2 January 2025 and prohibits or requires notification for certain transactions between U.S. Persons and certain non-US Persons that have a qualifying nexus to certain countries of concern as set out in the OIR Executive Order and deal in specified technologies. The OIR Final Rule is currently being reviewed by the President Donald J. Trump administration and the set of industries and technologies covered by the OIR Final Rule may be further expanded. The U.S. Department of the Treasury has published responses to Frequently Asked Questions related to the OIR Executive Order on its website at <https://home.treasury.gov/policy-issues/international/outbound-investment-program/frequently-asked-questions>.

The OIR Executive Order applies to the Morgan Stanley Group. The Issuers believe that the OIR Executive Order does not presently restrict its ability to issue the relevant Program Securities or comply with its obligations in relation to the relevant Program Securities. In the event of any amendments to the OIR Final Rule, the OIR Executive Order, revised guidance from the U.S. Department of the Treasury, or the issuance of additional U.S. legislation, this view may be revised. The Issuers will monitor the developments with respect to the OIR Final Rule and will publish further announcements to inform investors if their obligations under the Program Securities become restricted pursuant to the OIR Final Rule.

The Chinese Military Industrial Complex Company Sanctions Program

The President of the United States issued Executive Order 13959 on 12 November 2020 and amended it by Executive Order 13974 of 13 January 2021; Executive Order 14032 of 3 June 2021 then revoked Executive Order 13974 and further amended Executive Order 13959 (collectively, the "CMIC Executive Orders"). The CMIC Executive Orders created what is currently known as the Chinese Military Industrial Complex Company sanctions program, which is primarily administered by the U.S. Department of the Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC"). OFAC has published certain General Licenses and responses to Frequently Asked Questions related to the Executive Orders on its website at <https://home.treasury.gov/policy-issues/financial-sanctions/sanctions-programs-and-country-information/chinese-military-companies-sanctions>.

The CMIC Executive Orders apply to the Morgan Stanley Group. The Issuers believe that the CMIC Executive Orders and relevant guidance from OFAC do not presently restrict their ability to issue the Program Securities or comply with their obligations in relation to the Program Securities. In the event of any amendments to the CMIC Executive Orders, revised guidance from OFAC, or the issuance of additional economic sanctions by the U.S. government, this view may be revised. The Issuers will monitor the developments with respect to the CMIC Executive Orders and will publish further announcements to inform investors if their obligations under the Program Securities become restricted pursuant to the CMIC Executive Orders.

Conflicts of interest

The Issuer, the Guarantor and their affiliates may act in a number of capacities in connection with the Program Securities, including, without limitation, as Determination Agent or Calculation Agent, and need not take into account the specific interests of any individual holder of such Program Securities. Such a party may also enter into business dealings relating to the Program Securities or the Relevant Underlying or any asset to which the Program Securities or Relevant Underlying are exposed, from which such party may derive revenues and profits in addition to any fees stated in the various documents, without any duty to account therefor, or act in a way that is adverse to the interests of the holders of the Program Securities generally.

For further information, see "Conflicts of Interest" beginning on page 74.

Risk Factors relating to the Program Securities

Program Securities linked to one or more securities, indices, funds, futures contracts, exchange-traded notes, commodities, currencies, benchmark rates and/or underlying credits.

The Issuers may issue (i) Notes with principal and/or interest determined by reference to a single security, index, futures contract, exchange traded fund ("ETF") or other funds, to baskets of securities, indices, futures contracts, ETFs or other funds, to currency prices, exchange-traded notes, commodity prices, benchmark rates, to the credit of one or more entities not affiliated with the Issuers, or other assets or instruments (each, a "Relevant Underlying") and (ii) Warrants and Certificates with a return determined by reference to an index or formula, to changes in the prices of securities, indices, ETFs, funds, futures contracts or commodities, to movements in currency exchange rates or benchmark rates, to the credit of one or more entities not affiliated with the Issuers, or other factors (each a "Relevant Factor"). In addition, the Issuers may issue Notes with principal or interest payable in one or more currencies which may be different from the currency in which the Notes are denominated. Potential investors should be aware that:

- (a) they may lose all or a substantial portion of their principal or investment, depending on the performance of each Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor, as applicable;
- (b) the market price of such Program Securities may be very volatile;
- (c) Warrants and Certificates, unless specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, do not pay interest and investors in Notes may receive no interest;
- (d) payment or payment of principal or interest, if applicable, may occur at a different time or in a different currency than expected;
- (e) a Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor, as applicable may be subject to significant fluctuations that may not correlate with changes in interest rates, currencies or other indices, or prices of futures contracts;
- (f) if a Relevant Underlying is applied to Notes or a Relevant Factor is applied to Warrants and Certificates in conjunction with a multiplier greater than one or such Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor contains some other leverage factor, the effect of changes in the value of the Relevant Underlying on principal or interest payable on such Notes or Relevant Factor, on such Warrants or Certificates, is likely to be magnified; and
- (g) the timing of changes in a Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor, as applicable may affect the actual yield to investors, even if the average level is consistent with their expectations. In general, the earlier the change in the value of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor, the greater the effect on yield.

The Program Securities are not ordinary debt securities

The terms of certain Notes and of the Warrants and Certificates differ from those of ordinary debt securities because the Notes may not pay interest, the Warrants and Certificates do not pay interest and, at maturity or upon redemption, exercise or cancellation (as applicable), depending on the performance of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor, as applicable, may return less than the amount invested or nothing, or may return assets or securities of an issuer that is not affiliated with the Issuer, the value of which is less than the amount invested. Prospective investors who consider purchasing the Program Securities should reach an investment decision only after carefully considering the suitability of the Program Securities in light of their particular circumstances. The price of the Program Securities may fall in value as rapidly as it may rise, and investors in the Program Securities may potentially lose all of their investment. Investors in Warrants or Certificates will sustain a total loss of their investment if the Warrants or Certificates expire out of the money.

Issuer call option risk

The Issuer may have the right to call for the termination of the Program Securities at any time or at the time as specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement. Following the exercise by the Issuer of such Issuer call option, the investors will be entitled to receive a pre-determined amount which may be less than the amount that the investors would have been entitled to receive under the terms of the Program Securities if such option had not been exercised.

In addition, investors in such Program Securities will no longer be able to realise his or her expectation for a gain in the value of such Program Securities and, if applicable, will no longer participate in the performance of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor, as applicable.

An optional termination feature of the Program Securities is likely to limit their market value. During any period when the Issuer may elect to terminate the Program Securities, the market value of those Program Securities generally will not rise substantially above the price at which they can be terminated.

The Issuer may be expected to terminate the Program Securities when its cost of borrowing is lower than the interest rate on the Program Securities. At those times, an investor generally would not be able to reinvest the termination proceeds at an effective interest rate as high as the interest rate on the Program Securities being terminated and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate. Investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at the time.

The determination to terminate the Program Securities shall be made by the Issuer at its discretion (unless Condition 26.6 (Redemption at the Non-Discretionary Option of the Issuer) or Condition 26.7 (Model-based Redemption), in the case of Notes, or Condition 7.2 (Issuer Call Option – Non-discretionary Call Option) or Condition 7.3 (Model-based Redemption), in the case of Warrants or Certificates apply), taking into account a number of factors, including the current level of the reference asset and the likelihood that such levels will be maintained, or will increase or decrease, in the future. In making such determination, the Issuer will consider whether the expected performance of the reference asset could imply that a higher amount could be payable in the future under the Program Securities than the Optional Redemption Amount (Call) (in the case of Notes (other than Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes)) or the Optional Settlement Amount (in the case of Warrants or Certificates). As a result, it is likely that the Issuer will exercise the call option at a time in which the termination of the Program Securities is least favourable for the investors. The Issuer shall make such determination without taking into account the interest of the investors. Any non-discretionary exercise of the call option shall be determined by reference to a proprietary valuation model of Morgan Stanley which, similarly, shall not take into account the interest of the investors. Accordingly, the call option whether or not discretionary can limit the possibility for investors to realise in full the expected returns.

Issuer Model-based Redemption risk

In accordance with Condition 26.7 (Model-based Redemption), in the case of the Notes (other than Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes), or Condition 7.3 (Model-based Redemption), in the case of the Warrants or Certificates, if Model-based Redemption is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as being applicable, the Issuer must redeem the relevant Program Securities (other than Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes) in whole on any Model-based Redemption Date (Call) at the relevant Model-based Redemption Amount (Call) if the output of a proprietary valuation model indicates, on a Model-based Redemption Determination Date (Call), that redeeming the Program Securities at the relevant Model-based Redemption Date (Call) is economically more rational for the Issuer than not so redeeming the Program Securities. The valuation model is a Morgan Stanley Group proprietary valuation model. It takes into account market data as relevant for the definition of the amount payable by the Issuer under the terms of the Program Securities, in particular (i) reference market levels and volatilities for the relevant underlying assets, including forward looking predictions of their curves; (ii) valuations of the correlation of the underlying assets; (iii) any relevant currency exchange rate and (iv) the Issuer's (and the Guarantor's, if applicable) credit spreads at the Trade Date. The output of such valuation model is not public and therefore it may be difficult for investors to anticipate whether or not the Program Securities will be redeemed at the relevant Model-based Redemption Date (Call).

Following the redemption of the Program Securities in accordance with Condition 26.7 (Model-based Redemption), in the case of the Notes (other than Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes), or Condition 7.3 (Model-based Redemption), in the case of the Warrants or Certificates, the investors will be entitled to receive a pre-determined amount which may be less than the amount that the investors would have been entitled to receive under the terms of the Program Securities if such Model-based Redemption had not taken place. In any case, such amount shall be not less than Par, unless otherwise specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

It is likely that the Program Securities will be redeemed based on a Model-based Redemption condition at a time in which the termination of the Program Securities is least favourable for the investors. Any such determination shall be made without taking into account the interests of the investors. The occurrence of a Model-based Redemption therefore can limit the possibility for investors to realise in full the returns expected from the Program Securities if they had continued until their scheduled Maturity Date.

The Determination Agent maintains discretion, which shall be exercised in good faith, in the interpretation of the outputs of the Valuation Model and on the date on and time at which such outputs are observed, provided that such date and time shall be no earlier than three (3) Business Days before and no later than a Model-based Redemption Determination Cut-off Date (Call), and therefore with respect to the final decision to redeem the Program Securities (other than Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes).

If the Program Securities (other than Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes) are early redeemed following a Model-based Redemption, investors will no longer be able to participate in the performance of the reference asset.

If the Program Securities (other than Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes) are early redeemed following a Model-based Redemption, investors generally might not be able to reinvest the redemption amount of the Program Securities in the same market environment as was available at the time in which they invested in the Program Securities and they might be unable to reinvest at a comparable rate of return. Investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at the time of their investment decision.

Program Securities issued by MSBV, MSFL and MSFII will not have the benefit of any cross-default or cross-acceleration with other indebtedness of MSBV, MSFL, MSFII or Morgan Stanley; A Morgan Stanley covenant default or bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganization event does not constitute an Event of Default with respect to MSBV, MSFL or MSFII Program Securities

Unless otherwise stated in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Program Securities issued by MSBV, MSFL and MSFII will not have the benefit of any cross-default or cross-acceleration with other indebtedness of MSBV, MSFL, MSFII or Morgan Stanley (as applicable). In addition, a covenant default by Morgan Stanley, as guarantor, or an event of bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganization of Morgan Stanley, as guarantor, does not constitute an event of default with respect to any Program Securities issued by MSBV, MSFL or MSFII. Holders of the Program Securities should be aware that they will not have the right to request the Issuer to redeem the Program Securities following a default by MSBV, MSFL, MSFII or Morgan Stanley (as applicable) under its other indebtedness or following such covenant default or event of bankruptcy or insolvency or reorganisation of Morgan Stanley, as Guarantor.

The value of the Program Securities (other than Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes) linked to the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor, as applicable may be influenced by unpredictable factors

The value of the Program Securities may be influenced by several factors beyond the Issuer's, and/or its Affiliates' and, where applicable, the Guarantor's control including:

- i. Valuation of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor. The market price or value of a Program Security at any time is expected to be affected primarily by changes in the price or level of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor to which the Program Securities are linked. It is impossible to predict how the price or level of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor will vary over time. The historical performance value (if any) of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor does not indicate the future performance of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor. Factors which may have an effect on the value of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor include the rate of return of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor and, where relevant, the financial position and prospects of the issuer of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor, the specified entity or index with respect to credit linked notes ("Credit Linked Notes") or credit linked warrants or certificates ("Credit Linked Securities" and, together, "Credit Linked Program Securities"), or the market price or value of the applicable underlying security, index, ETF, fund, futures contract or basket of securities, indices, ETFs, funds or futures contracts. In addition, the level of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor may depend on a number of inter-related factors, including global, national and regional economic, financial, geopolitical, political, regulatory and judicial events and their effect on the capital markets generally and relevant stock exchanges. Potential investors should also note that whilst the market value of the Program Securities is linked to the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor and will be influenced (positively or negatively) by the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor, any change may not be comparable and may be disproportionate. It is possible that while the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor is increasing in value, the value of the Program Securities may fall. Further, the Conditions of the Program Securities will allow the Determination Agent to make adjustments or take any other appropriate action if circumstances occur where the Program Securities or any exchanges or price sources are affected by market disruption, adjustment events or circumstances affecting normal activities;
- ii. Volatility. The term "volatility" refers to the actual and anticipated frequency and magnitude of changes of the market price with respect to a Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor. Volatility is affected by a number of factors such as macroeconomic factors (i.e. those economic factors which have broad economic effects), speculative trading and supply and demand in the options, futures and other derivatives markets. Volatility of a Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor will move up and down over time (sometimes more sharply than at other times) and different Relevant Underlyings or Relevant Factors will most likely have separate volatilities at any particular time;

- iii. Dividend Rates and other Distributions. The value of certain Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Notes, Fund-Linked Notes and Futures Contract-Linked Notes and of the Warrants and Certificates could, in certain circumstances, be affected by fluctuations in the actual or anticipated rates of dividend (if any) or other distributions on a Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor;
- iv. Interest Rates. Investments in the Notes may involve interest rate risk. The interest rate level may fluctuate on a daily basis and cause the value of the Notes to change on a daily basis. The interest rate risk is a result of the uncertainty with respect to future changes of the market interest rate level. In general, the effects of this risk increase as the market interest rates increase;
- v. Remaining Term. Generally, the effect of pricing factors over the term of the Program Securities will decrease as the maturity date approaches. However, this reduction in the effect of pricing factors will not necessarily develop consistently up until the maturity date, but may undergo temporary acceleration and/or deceleration. Even if the price of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor rises or falls there may a reduction or increase, as the case may be, in the value of the Program Securities due to the other value determining factors. Given that the term of the Program Securities is limited, investors cannot rely on the price of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor or the value of the Program Securities recovering again prior to maturity;
- vi. Creditworthiness. Any prospective investor who purchases the Program Securities is relying upon the creditworthiness of the Issuer and/or the Guarantor, if applicable, and has no rights against any other person. If the Issuer and/ or the Guarantor, if applicable, becomes insolvent, investors may suffer potential loss of their entire investment irrespective of any favourable development of the other value determining factors, such as a Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor; and
- vii. Exchange Rates. Even where payments in respect of the Program Securities are not expressly linked to a rate or rates of exchange between currencies, the value of the Program Securities could, in certain circumstances, be affected by such factors as fluctuations in the rates of exchange between any currency in which any payment in respect of the Program Securities is to be made and any currency in which a Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor is traded, appreciation or depreciation of any such currencies and any existing or future or governmental or other restrictions on the exchangeability of such currencies. There can be no assurance that rates of exchange between any relevant currencies which are current rates at the date of issue of the Program Securities will be representative of the relevant rates of exchange used in computing the value of the Program Securities at any time thereafter. Where Notes are described as being "quantoed", the value of the Relevant Underlying will be converted from one currency (the "Relevant Underlying Currency") into a new currency (the "Settlement Currency") on the date and in the manner specified in, or implied by, the Conditions using a fixed exchange rate. The cost to the Issuer of maintaining such a fixing between the Relevant Underlying Currency and the Settlement Currency will have an implication on the value of the Notes. The implication will vary during the term of the Notes. No assurance can be given as to whether or not, taking into account relative exchange rate and interest rate fluctuations between the Relevant Underlying Currency and the Settlement Currency, a quanto feature in a Note would at any time enhance the return on the Note over a level of a similar security issued without such a quanto feature, and a quanto feature may worsen the return.

Some or all of the above factors will influence the price investors will receive if an investor sells its Program Securities prior to maturity, which is usually referred to as "secondary market practice". For example, investors may have to sell certain Program Securities at a substantial discount from the principal amount or investment amount if the market price or value of the applicable Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor is at, below, or not sufficiently above the initial market price or value or if market interest rates rise. The secondary market price may be lower than the market value of the issued Program Securities as at the Issue Date to take into account, amongst other things, amounts paid to distributors and other intermediaries relating to the issue and sale of the Program Securities and amounts relating to the hedging of the Issuer's obligations. As a result of all of these factors, any investor that sells the Program Securities before the stated expiration or maturity date, may receive an amount in the secondary market which may be less than the then intrinsic market value of the Program Securities and which may also be less than the amount the investor would have received had the investor held the Program Securities through to maturity.

Risks and possible U.S. tax reporting where the Program Securities are linked to an "actively managed" basket of Relevant Underlyings

Program Securities may be linked to a basket of Relevant Underlyings which is "actively managed", where a third party allocator (the "Allocator") is solely responsible for determining from time to time the Relevant Underlyings comprising the basket. An "actively managed" basket follows a notional strategy and is rules-based and the value of such basket may go down as well as up, depending on the performance of Relevant Underlyings comprising such basket. There can be no assurance as to the future performance of any such basket, and the value of such basket on any day may not reflect either its past performance or its future performance. The strategy that an "actively managed" basket has been developed to reflect may not be successful in achieving the investment objectives of any potential investor. Any past performance of an "actively managed" basket (actual or simulated) is not an indication of its future performance.

The success or failure of an "actively managed" basket or any Relevant Underlying comprising such basket to achieve any investment or hedging objective or any particular performance is solely affected by the abilities of, and determinations made by, the relevant Allocator and certain key individuals employed by the relevant Allocator. There can be no assurance that the relevant Allocator will be successful in its decision or the rebalancing of an "actively managed" basket or generating positive performance, and any such decision or rebalancing by the relevant Allocator may cause such basket to perform in a worse manner than if such decision or rebalancing had not been made. Furthermore, the loss of one of more such key individuals at the relevant Allocator may have a material adverse impact on the performance and value of the relevant "actively managed" basket. Any of the foregoing may have a negative impact on the value of, and return under, the Program Securities linked to an "actively managed" basket.

Under Notice 2015-74 issued by the IRS, certain transactions that reference a basket of underlying assets were identified as "transactions of interest" subject to reporting requirements pursuant to the "reportable transactions" rules set forth in Section 6011 of the Code. Proposed Treasury regulations issued in 2024 would, if finalised as drafted, identify substantively the same transactions as reportable "listed transactions". Very generally, the IRS notice addressed, and the proposed regulations would apply to, an instrument that makes payments based on the performance of a basket of referenced assets (such as securities, commodities or foreign currency) and the investor or its designee has the discretion to change the assets that comprise the basket, or change the trading algorithm that determines the assets. The IRS notice and the proposed regulations are not intended to apply where the investor is a non-U.S. person whose income or gain from the investment is not effectively connected with the investor's U.S. trade or business. However, the relevant Issuer is not expected to be able to reliably associate investments in the Program Securities linked to an "actively managed" basket with valid documentation from an investor (such as an IRS Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E) that would establish the investor's non-U.S. status for U.S. tax purposes. Therefore, although the circumstances that require disclosure pursuant to the proposed regulations are not always clear, if the proposed regulations are finalised as drafted, an Issuer that issues Program Securities linked to an "actively managed" basket may be required to report the issuance to the IRS. Once the proposed regulations are finalised, reporting may be required even with respect to certain Program Securities issued prior to the date of finalisation.

Moreover, changes to an "actively managed" basket of Relevant Underlyings may result in a taxable deemed disposition of certain Program Securities. The IRS has indicated it may, under certain circumstances, seek to treat certain contracts that reference a basket of underlying assets, where the underlying assets are changed during the term of the contract, as having had a taxable deemed disposition under Section 1001 of the Code. It is thus possible that the IRS may seek to assert that certain Program Securities linked to an "actively managed" basket of Relevant Underlyings are subject to a taxable deemed distribution, in which case holders may be subject to adverse tax consequences.

Notes where denominations involve integral multiples

In relation to any issue of Notes which have denominations consisting of a minimum Specified Denomination plus one or more higher integral multiples of another smaller amount, it is possible that such Notes may be traded in amounts in excess of the minimum Specified Denomination that are not integral multiples of such minimum Specified Denomination. In such a case a holder who, as a result of trading such amounts, holds an amount which is less than the minimum Specified Denomination in his account with the relevant clearing system would not be able to sell the remainder of such holding without first purchasing a principal amount of Notes at or in excess of the minimum Specified Denomination such that its holding amounts to a Specified Denomination. Further, a holder who, as a result of trading such amounts, holds an amount which is less than the minimum Specified Denomination in his account with the relevant clearing system at the relevant time may not receive a definitive

Note in respect of such holding (should definitive Notes be printed) and would need to purchase a principal amount of Notes at or in excess of the minimum Specified Denomination such that its holding amounts to a Specified Denomination.

Certain considerations regarding the use of the Program Securities as hedging instruments

Any person intending to use the Program Securities as a hedge instrument should recognise the "correlation risk" of doing this. Correlation risk is the potential differences in exposure for a potential investor that may arise from the ownership of more than one financial instrument. The Program Securities may not hedge exactly a Relevant Underlying, Relevant Factor or portfolio of which a Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor forms a part. In addition, it may not be possible to liquidate the Program Securities at a level which directly reflects the price of the Relevant Underlying, Relevant Factor or portfolio of which the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor forms a part. Potential investors should not rely on the ability to conclude transactions during the term of the Program Securities to offset or limit the relevant risks. This depends on the market situation and the specific Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor conditions. It is possible that such transactions will only be concluded at an unfavourable market price, resulting in a corresponding loss for the Noteholder or the Securityholder.

The Issuer may use a portion of the total proceeds from the sale of the Program Securities for transactions to hedge the risks of the Issuer relating to the Program Securities, including by trading in instruments related to the Relevant Underlying(s). In such case, the Issuer or any of its Affiliates may conclude transactions that correspond to the obligations of the Issuer under the Program Securities. As a rule, such transactions are concluded prior to or on the Issue Date, but it is also possible to conclude such transactions after issue of the Program Securities. On or before a valuation date the Issuer or any of its Affiliates may take the steps necessary for closing out any hedging transactions. As a result, these entities may be winding or adjusting hedge positions during the term of the Program Securities, and the hedging strategy may involve greater and more frequent dynamic adjustments to the hedge as a valuation date approaches. It cannot, however, be ruled out that the price of a Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor will be influenced by such transactions. Entering into or closing out these hedging transactions may influence the probability of occurrence or non-occurrence of determining events in the case of Program Securities with a value based on the occurrence of a certain event in relation to a Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor. Also, as noted above, these hedging activities could affect the price, rate, level or other value of the Relevant Underlying(s). In addition, the Issuer and/or its Affiliates may also trade financial instruments related to the Relevant Underlying(s) as part of their general broker-dealer and other businesses. Accordingly, the hedging activities of the Issuer and its affiliates could have a significant negative (or positive) impact on the investor's return on the Program Securities.

Financial Transaction Tax Risk

If "Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be applicable to a Series, then if, on or after the Trade Date, due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any law or regulation implementing a system of financial transaction tax in any jurisdiction, including the European Union, relating to any tax payable in respect of the transfer of, or issue or modification or redemption of, any financial instruments), the Issuer determines that it (directly or through an Affiliate) would incur or has incurred a materially increased amount of tax, transfer tax, duty, stamp duty, stamp duty reserve tax, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) in relation to its obligations under such Series or its related hedge positions ("Additional Tax"), the Issuer may adjust the Conditions of such Series to reduce the amount otherwise payable under such Series to holders of such Program Securities in order to pass on to the holders of such Program Securities the full amount of such Additional Tax imposed on the Issuer.

The Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities will not be listed on any U.S. securities exchange and secondary trading may be limited; transfer restrictions apply.

The Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities will not be listed on any U.S. securities exchange. Therefore, there may be little or no secondary market for the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities. The Distribution Agents may, but are not obligated to, make a market in the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities and, if one or both of the Distribution Agents chooses to make a market, may cease doing so at any time. When a Distribution Agent does make a market, it will generally do so for transactions of routine secondary market size at prices based on its estimate of the current value of the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities, taking into account its bid/offer spread, the relevant Issuer's credit spreads, market volatility, the notional size of the proposed sale, the cost of unwinding any related hedging positions, the time remaining to maturity and the likelihood that it will be able to resell the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities. Even if there is a secondary market, it may not provide enough liquidity to allow you to trade or sell the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities easily. Since other broker-dealers may not participate significantly in the secondary market for the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities, the price at which you may be able to trade your Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities is likely to depend on the price, if any, at which a Distribution Agent is willing to transact. If, at any time, the Distribution Agents were to cease making a market in the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities, it is likely that there would be no secondary market for the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities. Accordingly, you should be willing to hold your Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities to maturity. Transfers of the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities are subject to the requirements of Regulation S or Rule 144A under the Securities Act, as applicable.

Secondary trading of the Program Securities may be limited

Potential investors should be willing to hold the Program Securities until maturity. The nature and extent of any secondary market in the Program Securities cannot be predicted and there may be little or no secondary market in the Program Securities. As a consequence any person intending to hold the Program Securities should consider liquidity in the Program Securities as a risk. Where the Program Securities are listed or quoted on an exchange or quotation system, this does not imply greater or lesser liquidity than if equivalent Program Securities were not so listed or quoted and the Issuer cannot guarantee that the listing or quotation will be permanently maintained. Where the Program Securities are not listed or quoted, it becomes more difficult to purchase and sell such Program Securities and there may also be a lack of transparency with regard to pricing information.

Further, although an Issuer may apply to have certain issuances of Program Securities admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market, admitted to listing on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to trading on the Luxembourg Stock exchange's Euro MTF market, or admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation by any other listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system, approval for any listing is subject to meeting the relevant listing requirements. Even if there is a secondary market, it may not provide enough liquidity to allow the investor to sell or trade the Program Securities easily. MSI plc and other affiliates of Morgan Stanley may from time to time, make a market in the Program Securities, but they are not required to do so. If at any time MSI plc and other affiliates of the Issuers were to cease making a market in the Program Securities, it is likely that there would be little or no secondary market for the Program Securities. This may impact the ability of the investor of such Program Securities to sell the Program Securities at any time.

Investors have no shareholder rights

As an owner of Program Securities, investors should be aware that they will not have voting rights or rights to receive dividends, interest or other distributions, as applicable, or any other rights with respect to any underlying security, ETF, other fund, index or futures contract. An investment in the Program Securities is not the same as an investment in the Relevant Underlying. A holder should be aware that the amount(s) it receives in respect of its Program Securities linked to a Relevant Underlying may be less than a direct investment in the Relevant Underlying.

Modification and waiver

The Conditions of the English Law Notes, the Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and the Conditions of the Warrants and Certificates contain provisions for calling meetings of Noteholders and Securityholders (as applicable) to consider matters affecting their interests generally, or to pass resolutions in writing or through the use of electronic consents. These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all holders of the relevant Program Securities, including holders who did not attend and vote at the relevant meeting or, as the case may be, did not sign the written resolution or give their consent electronically and including those holders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority.

The Conditions of the New York Law Notes contain provisions for Noteholder votes to consider matters affecting their interests generally. These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all Noteholders including Noteholders who did not vote and Noteholders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority.

Holders of the Program Securities should be aware that if they are not part of the defined majority, including if such holder did not attend the relevant meeting, they will be bound by the decision of the defined majority on matters which may negatively affect the interests of such holder.

Restricted secondary trading if the electronic trading system is unavailable

Trading in the Program Securities may be conducted via one or more electronic trading systems so that "buy" and "sell" prices can be quoted for exchange and off exchange trading. If an electronic trading system used by the Issuer and/or its Affiliates were to become partially or completely unavailable, such a development would have a corresponding effect on the ability of investors to trade the Program Securities.

Settlement risk

If (with respect to any Program Securities (other than Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes) that are physically settled) prior to the delivery of any specified asset(s), the Determination Agent for the Notes determines that a settlement disruption event (as defined, (in respect of the English Law Notes) in Condition 29.3 (Settlement Disruption of Physical Settlement) and in Condition 20.1(c) (Settlement Disruption) (in respect of the Warrants and Certificates), a "Settlement Disruption Event") is subsisting, then the Issuer may determine (a) to satisfy its obligations to deliver such specified asset(s) by payment of a disrupted cash settlement price or (b) that the obligation to deliver such asset(s) shall be postponed to the first following business day on which no Settlement Disruption Event is subsisting, subject to a cut-off date. If a Settlement Disruption Event is still subsisting at such cut-off date, the Issuer may determine to satisfy its obligations to deliver the relevant specified asset(s) by payment of a disrupted cash settlement price, that delivery will be made by any other commercially reasonable manner, or if that is not possible, that delivery will be postponed until such time as delivery can be effected as originally intended or by any other commercially reasonable manner. Prospective investors should note that any such determination may affect the value of the Program Securities and/or may delay settlement in respect of the Program Securities.

Prospective investors should also note that (with respect to any Program Securities (other than Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes) that are physically settled) if the Determination Agent determines that the Issuer has not or is unable to deliver any specified asset(s) due to a delivery disruption event (as defined, (in respect of the English law Notes) in Condition 29.4 (Delivery Disruption of Physical Settlement) and in Condition 20.2 (Delivery Disruption) (in respect of the Warrants and Certificates)), then the relevant Issuer may satisfy its obligations to deliver such specified asset(s) by payment of a disrupted cash settlement price.

Prospective investors should note that any disrupted cash settlement price will be an amount the Determination Agent considers is appropriate in the circumstances by way of compensation for the non-delivery of the relevant specified asset(s), in the case of the English Law Notes, or determines in its reasonable discretion which seeks to preserve for the relevant holders the economic equivalent of the delivery of the relevant specified asset(s), in the case of the Warrants and Certificates, and that any such determination may adversely affect the value of the Program Securities.

Risks relating to regulatory reform

It is possible that government regulation of various types of financial instruments, including the Program Securities and the Relevant Underlyings, may affect the ability of an Issuer to offer or sell such Program Securities in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons. In addition, regulatory reform could ultimately affect the performance of the Relevant Underlyings and hence the performance of the Program Securities. In particular, some legislative and regulatory proposals, such as those in the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the "Dodd-Frank Act"), will, upon implementation, impose limits on the maximum position that could be held by a single trader in certain Relevant Underlyings and may subject certain Relevant Underlyings (and therefore any Program Securities linked to those Relevant Underlyings) to new forms of regulation that could create barriers to some types of investment activity, including investments via the Program Securities. Other provisions may require certain of the Notes to be cleared and traded on an exchange, expand entity registration requirements and impose business conduct requirements on persons active in the swaps market. While certain provisions of the Dodd-Frank Act have already come into effect or are the subject of final rules that by their terms will come into effect at specified dates in the future, other provisions must be implemented through future rulemaking. While any such regulatory or legislative activity may not necessarily have a direct or indirect, immediate effect upon an Issuer or the Program Securities, it is possible that, upon implementation of these measures or any future measures, such regulatory reform could potentially limit or completely restrict the ability of an Issuer to offer Program Securities, increase the costs of offering the Program Securities or make them less effective, which could then affect the performance of the Program Securities.

Withholding or deduction of tax on payments under CMU Notes issued by MSFL

Payments on CMU Notes issued by MSFL may be subject to United States withholding tax in the same manner as securities issued by a United States corporation.

For so long as a Tranche of CMU Notes issued by MSFL is represented by a Global Registered Note and lodged with a sub-custodian for or registered with the CMU, the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent will obtain from the CMU a list of person(s) shown in the records of the CMU for whose account(s) interest(s) in such CMU Notes are credited on the date falling 15 calendar days prior to a payment date of principal or interest of the CMU Notes ("Record Date List").

Each holder of such CMU Note or an interest therein, by acceptance of such CMU Note or such interest in such CMU Note, will be deemed to have agreed to provide the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent and the Withholding Tax Administration Agent with the Holder Tax Identification Information and Holder FATCA Information. In addition, each holder of a CMU Note will be required or deemed to understand and acknowledge that the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent has the right, under the CMU Note Conditions, to withhold interest payable with respect to such CMU Note (without any corresponding gross-up) with respect to any beneficial owner of an interest in such CMU Note that fails to comply with the foregoing requirements, at the highest rate applicable to such payment regardless of any exemption from, or reduction in, such withholding otherwise available under relevant laws. Neither MSFL nor the Guarantor shall have any obligation to pay any additional amounts to compensate any Noteholder for such withholding or deduction.

Payments for CMU Notes issued by MSFL

Investors should note that, in respect of CMU Notes issued by MSFL, for so long as a Tranche of CMU Notes is represented by a Global Registered Note and lodged with a sub-custodian for or registered with the CMU, payments will be made to the person(s) shown on the Record Date List rather than based on the records of the CMU on the Clearing System Business Day immediately prior to that date for payment. For these purposes, a notification from the CMU shall be conclusive evidence of the records of the CMU (save in the case of manifest error). None of MSFL, the Guarantor, any Agent or any other person shall have any obligation to verify or confirm whether there is any change to such list of person(s) shown in the records of the CMU following that date falling 15 calendar days prior to the Relevant Payment Date.

Risk of non-receipt of payments for late transferees

Potential investors should be aware that, in respect of CMU Notes issued by MSFL, for so long as a Tranche of CMU Notes is represented by a Global Registered Note and lodged with a sub-custodian for or registered with the CMU, any transferee acquiring such CMU Notes issued by MSFL after the date falling 15 calendar days prior to the payment date of principal or interest of the CMU Notes may not receive the relevant payment due on such date, as payments are made based on the Record Date List on 15 calendar days prior to such payment date. Late transferees may not be recognized to receive their principal or interest payment on the due date, thereby facing a risk of non-receipt of payment. Investors should be conscious of this timing restriction to prevent potential loss of expected redemption or interest payments.

Potential U.S. Withholding Tax under FATCA and on U.S. Dividend Equivalent Amounts

As discussed in "United States Federal Taxation" below, sections 1471 through 1474 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, (of the "Code") and any regulations thereunder or official guidance in connection therewith, an agreement entered into with the IRS pursuant to such sections of the Code, an intergovernmental agreement (an "IGA") between the United States and another jurisdiction in furtherance of such sections of the Code, or any non-U.S. laws or rules implementing an IGA (collectively referred to as "FATCA") may impose a withholding tax of 30 per cent. on payments made on the Program Securities (including payments made by financial intermediaries to non-U.S. persons), unless various U.S. information reporting and due diligence requirements have been satisfied.

Furthermore, Section 871(m) of the Code and the regulations thereunder require withholding (under current law up to 30 per cent. depending on whether an income tax treaty applies) on payments or deemed payments made to non-U.S. persons on certain financial instruments to the extent that such payments are treated, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, as being U.S.-source dividend equivalent amounts.

If withholding is so required, none of the Issuers nor any intermediary will be required to pay any additional amounts with respect to the amounts so withheld. Either of the foregoing rules may affect the amounts paid to an investor on the Program Securities.

U.S. Federal Withholding Tax on Interest and Other Coupons

Payments to non-U.S. persons in respect of a Note issued by Morgan Stanley, MSFL or MSFII that are treated as interest for U.S. tax purposes may be subject to U.S. withholding tax of 30 per cent. if the beneficial owner of the Notes does not meet the criteria for being exempt from this withholding tax. These criteria include the requirement that the non-U.S. beneficial owner (or a financial institution holding the Notes on behalf of the beneficial owner) comply with certain tax identification and certification rules, generally by furnishing the appropriate IRS Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E on which the beneficial owner certifies under penalties of perjury that it is not a United States person. Other U.S. withholding taxes may apply in respect of a Note as described below under "United States Federal Taxation".

In addition, in the case of certain coupon-paying Notes, a non-U.S. investor may be required to establish an exemption under the "other income" provision of a Qualifying Treaty (as defined below) in order to receive payments from Morgan Stanley, MSFL or MSFII without U.S. withholding tax of 30 per cent. An income tax treaty between a non-U.S. jurisdiction and the United States is a "Qualifying Treaty" if it provides for a 0 per cent. rate of tax on "other income" earned by a resident of the non-U.S. jurisdiction from sources within the United States. Because most income tax treaties contain complex eligibility rules and limitations, a non-U.S. investor should consult its tax advisor about its eligibility for this exemption.

If withholding is so required, and unless specified otherwise in an applicable Pricing Supplement, none of Morgan Stanley, MSFL, MSFII or any intermediary will be required to pay any additional amounts with respect to the amounts so withheld.

See "United States Federal Taxation" for further discussion regarding the potential U.S. withholding taxes that could apply to payments with respect to the Notes.

Because MSFII is a Disregarded Entity for U.S. Federal Income Tax Purposes, Payments it Makes Could be Subject to U.S. Withholding Tax

For U.S. federal income tax purposes, MSFII is disregarded as an entity separate from Morgan Stanley. Therefore, a Note issued by MSFII will be treated as if it were issued by Morgan Stanley solely for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Consequently, even though MSFII was not organized under U.S. law, payments of interest or certain coupons made in respect of a Note issued by MSFII will be treated as U.S.-source income, and could be subject to U.S. federal withholding tax unless an applicable exemption from withholding is established, as discussed under "United States Federal Taxation".

Total loss-absorbing capacity of New York Law Notes

Morgan Stanley intends that the New York Law Notes will, when issued, constitute "loss-absorbing capacity" within the meaning of the final rules issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and, accordingly, will have only those provisions described in this Offering Circular that will permit compliance thereof at such time of issuance. In this respect, Morgan Stanley is a parent holding company and has no operations and depends on dividends, distributions and other payments from its subsidiaries to fund its debt obligations (including New York Law Notes). Under a support agreement that Morgan Stanley has entered with its material subsidiaries, upon the occurrence of a resolution scenario, including a single-point-of-entry resolution strategy as contemplated in its resolution plan, Morgan Stanley would be obligated to contribute or loan on a subordinated basis all of its material assets, other than shares in its subsidiaries and certain intercompany payables, to provide capital and liquidity, as applicable, to its material subsidiaries. That obligation will be secured, in accordance with an amended and restated secured support agreement, on a senior basis by Morgan Stanley's assets (other than shares in its subsidiaries). As a result, claims of Morgan Stanley's material subsidiaries against its assets (other than shares in its subsidiaries) will be effectively senior to its unsecured obligations, including New York Notes which would be at risk of absorbing Morgan Stanley's and its subsidiaries' losses.

The Program Securities may be redeemed or terminated (as applicable) prior to maturity

Unless in the case of any particular Tranche of Notes or series of Securities the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies otherwise, in the event that the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor (if applicable) would be obliged to increase the amounts payable in respect of any Program Securities due to any withholding or deduction for or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatever nature imposed, levied, collected, withheld or assessed by or on behalf of any relevant jurisdiction, or in certain circumstances following the occurrence of an Administrator/Benchmark Event or relevant adjustment events applicable to the Program Securities, the relevant Issuer may redeem or settle (as applicable) all outstanding Program Securities in accordance with, if "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes" or "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Securities" is specified as not applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Conditions, at the redemption or settlement price (as applicable) specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or, if "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes" or "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Securities" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Belgian Supplemental Conditions (Notes) or the Belgian Supplemental Conditions (Securities) respectively, at the redemption or settlement amounts specified in the risk factor "The Program Securities may be redeemed or settled prior to maturity (where the Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes or the Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Securities apply)" below.

In addition, if in the case of any particular Tranche of Notes the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Notes are redeemable at the relevant Issuer's option in certain other circumstances the relevant Issuer may choose to redeem the Notes at times when prevailing interest rates may be relatively low. In such circumstances an investor may not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds in a comparable security at an effective interest rate as high as that of the relevant Notes.

In addition, an optional redemption feature or optional termination feature in any particular Tranche of Notes or series of Securities is likely to limit their market value. During any period when the relevant Issuer may elect to redeem or terminate Program Securities, the market value of those Program Securities generally will not rise substantially above the price at which they can be redeemed or settled. This also may be true prior to any redemption or settlement period.

In the case of certain Program Securities, if such Program Securities are redeemed or terminated early for any reason, the amount payable by the Issuer may be less than the amount that would have been paid had the Program Securities been redeemed or settled at maturity or the expiration date.

In addition, in the circumstance of an event of default by the relevant Issuer and acceleration of the Program Securities, the investor would have an unsecured claim against the Issuer or, if applicable, the Guarantor for the amount due on the early redemption or early termination of the Program Securities.

The Program Securities may be redeemed or settled prior to maturity (where the Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes or the Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Securities apply)

If "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes" or "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Securities" (as applicable) is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement and any outstanding Program Securities may be redeemed or settled by the Issuer following the occurrence of certain events that significantly alter the economics of the relevant Program Securities that existed on the relevant Trade Date, the amount payable by the Issuer will depend on whether such event is an event that definitively prevents the performance of the Issuer's or the Determination Agent's obligations under the Program Securities and for which the Issuer or the Determination Agent is not accountable (a "Force Majeure Event").

If the relevant event is a Force Majeure Event, the Issuer will (if and to the extent permitted by applicable law and regulation) pay an amount on the relevant early redemption date which will be equal to the fair market value of the Program Securities.

If the relevant event is not a Force Majeure Event, then:

- (a) if Minimum Redemption Amount or Minimum Settlement Amount (as applicable) is specified as not applicable in the relevant Issue Terms, the Issuer will pay an amount on the relevant early redemption or settlement date which will be equal to the fair market value of the Program Securities (plus a pro-rata reimbursement of the costs of the Issuer paid by the original Noteholder or Securityholder as part of the Issue Price of the Program Securities, as adjusted to take into account the time remaining until maturity or the expiration date); or
- (b) if Minimum Redemption Amount or Early Settlement Amount is specified as applicable in the relevant Issue Terms, the Issuer will pay an amount on the Maturity Date or the Expiration Date (as applicable) of the Program Securities equal to the minimum level of the final redemption amount or cash settlement amount payable on the Maturity Date or the Expiration Date respectively, plus the sum of the value of the derivative component of such Program Security, plus a sum representing the reimbursement of costs initially charged to investors by the Issuer for issuing the Program Security (as adjusted to take into account the time remaining to maturity), compounded at a rate of interest for comparable debt instruments issued by the Issuer (or, in the case of any Program Securities guaranteed by the Guarantor, the Guarantor) for the remaining term of the Program Securities. However, the holder of a Program Security may instead choose to receive payment prior to the Maturity Date or the Expiration Date by electing to receive an amount equal to the fair market value of the Program Securities (plus a pro-rata reimbursement of the costs of the Issuer paid by the original Noteholder or Securityholder as part of the Issue Price of the Program Securities, as adjusted to take into account the time remaining until maturity) on the relevant early redemption date or early settlement date (as applicable).

The Issuer's obligations under the Program Securities shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amounts.

The amount payable by the Issuer in the circumstances set out above may be less than the amount that would have been paid had the Program Securities been redeemed at maturity or exercised on the Expiration Date (as applicable).

Prospective investors should review the Conditions as amended by the Belgian Supplemental Conditions (Notes) or the Belgian Supplemental Conditions (Securities) (as applicable) to ascertain how such provisions apply to the Program Securities and what may constitute an early redemption event or an early settlement event or a force majeure event.

Fixed/Floating Rate Notes

Fixed/Floating Rate Notes may bear interest at a rate that the relevant Issuer may elect to convert from a fixed rate to a floating rate, or from a floating rate to a fixed rate. The relevant Issuer's ability to convert the interest rate will affect the secondary market and the market value of the Notes since the relevant Issuer may be expected to convert the rate when it is likely to produce a lower overall cost of borrowing. If the relevant Issuer converts from a fixed rate to a floating rate, the spread on the Fixed/Floating Rate Notes may be less favourable than then prevailing spreads on comparable Floating Rate Notes tied to the same reference rate. In addition, the new floating rate at any time may be lower than the rates on other Notes. If the relevant Issuer converts from a floating rate to a fixed rate, the fixed rate may be lower than then prevailing rates on its Notes.

Notes issued at a substantial discount or premium

The market values of securities issued at a substantial discount or premium from their principal amount tend to fluctuate more in relation to general changes in interest rates than do prices for conventional interest bearing securities. Generally, the longer the remaining term of the securities, the greater the price volatility as compared to conventional interest bearing securities with comparable maturities.

Program Securities linked to the credit of one or more specified entities entail significant risks not associated with similar investments in conventional debt securities

Risks in relation to Credit Linked Notes where Supplementary Provisions for Credit Linked Notes applies

For Credit Linked Notes where "Supplementary Provisions for Credit Linked Notes" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement see the credit linked risk factors under the Annex to the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes entitled "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes: Supplementary Provisions for Credit Linked Notes".

Risks in relation to other Credit Linked Program Securities

Because the payment of principal and, where applicable, interest, on Credit Linked Program Securities is contingent on the credit of one or more specified entities and such specified entities' satisfaction of their present and future financial obligations, investors will take credit risk with respect to such specified entities in addition to credit risk with respect to the relevant Issuer and/or the Guarantor, if applicable. If one or more of such specified entities becomes bankrupt or subject to other insolvency procedures or fails to make payments on, repudiates or restructures any of the debt or other obligations described in the applicable Pricing Supplement, a credit event may occur.

If a credit event occurs, the maturity or termination (as applicable) of the Credit Linked Program Securities will be accelerated. Upon acceleration of the Credit Linked Program Securities, the investor will receive the deliverable obligations, or a cash amount calculated by reference to the value of certain obligations, each as described in the applicable Pricing Supplement instead of the principal amount of the Credit Linked Program Securities and, in the case of Credit Linked Notes, interest payments on the Credit Linked Notes will cease if so provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement. The market value of those deliverable obligations following a credit event will probably be significantly less than the principal amount of the Credit Linked Program Securities. Such obligations may even be worthless. Thus, if a credit event occurs, the investor may lose all of its investment in the Credit Linked Program Securities.

Several factors, many of which are beyond the relevant Issuer's and, where applicable, the Guarantor's control will influence the value of the Credit Linked Program Securities and the possibility of early acceleration, including: (i) the creditworthiness of the specified entity or entities underlying the Credit Linked Program Securities, (ii) the creditworthiness of the relevant Issuer and/or the Guarantor, if applicable, and (iii) economic, financial and political events that affect the markets in which such specified entity or entities and the relevant Issuer and, where applicable, the Guarantor do business and the markets for the debt or other obligations of such specified entity or entities and of the relevant Issuer and, where applicable, the Guarantor.

An Issuer may amend the terms and conditions of the Program Securities, the Guarantee and the applicable Deeds of Covenant without Noteholder or Securityholder consent if, in its reasonable opinion, such amendments are not materially prejudicial to Noteholders or Securityholders.

Condition 36.2 (Modification) of the terms and conditions of the English Law Notes, Condition 18.2 (Modification) of the terms and conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and Condition 33.3 (Modification) of the terms and conditions of the Warrants and Certificates allows an Issuer to amend the terms and conditions of the Program Securities, the Guarantee, the Deeds of Covenant, the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement, the SEB Issuing and Paying Agent Agreement, the MSESE SEB Issuing and Paying Agent Agreement, the Euroclear Agreement and the Securities Agency Agreement, as applicable, without the consent of the holders if, in that Issuer's opinion, the amendment is: to correct a manifest error or to effect a modification which is of a formal, minor or technical nature; to cure any ambiguity or correct or supplement any defective provisions; to correct an error or omission such that, in the absence of such correction, the relevant terms proposed to be corrected would not otherwise represent the intended terms on which the relevant Program Securities were sold and have since traded; or not materially prejudicial to the holders. When considering if a modification is materially prejudicial to a holder, the Issuer need not have regard to any particular circumstances of any such holder. Prospective investors should be aware that an Issuer is not required to consult with any other party, including the Noteholders or the Securityholders, prior to making such amendment. An Issuer is entitled to exercise its discretion in making these determinations and Noteholders and Securityholders will be bound by any such amendments made pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Program Securities, notwithstanding that the Noteholders' or Securityholders' consent may not be required for such amendments.

United Kingdom stamp duty and stamp duty reserve tax

Potential purchasers of Warrants or Certificates should note that each Warrant or Certificate may constitute an instrument which is subject to United Kingdom stamp duty on issue by reference to the amount of the consideration given for the Warrants or Certificates so represented. If stamp duty is payable on the Warrants or Certificates, interest will be payable (in addition to the stamp duty) in respect of the period from 30 days after the date of execution of the Warrants or Certificates to the date of payment. Penalties may also be payable if the Warrants or Certificates are not stamped within 30 days of the date of execution of the Warrants or Certificates. If a Warrant or Certificate is subject to United Kingdom stamp duty, it would be inadmissible in evidence in an English court unless duly stamped. Potential purchasers should note that UK stamp duty reserve tax may become payable upon the issue of the Warrants or Certificates depending on the nature of the underlying securities and the precise terms of the Warrants or Certificates. Furthermore, potential purchasers should also note that UK stamp duty or stamp duty reserve tax may be payable on the transfer and / or exercise of the Warrants or Certificates depending on the nature of the Relevant Factor and the precise terms of the Warrants or Certificates.

Holders must exercise Warrants and Certificates or risk loss of investment

Where the terms and conditions of the Warrants and Certificates provide that the Warrants and Certificates must be exercised in order for the purchasers of the Warrants and Certificates to receive their settlement amount in respect of such Warrants and Certificates, and the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies "Deemed Exercise" to be not applicable, you must exercise your rights to receive payment in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Warrants and Certificates and the requirements of relevant clearing system or the relevant Agent, as applicable; otherwise you may lose your initial investment.

Risks relating to the occurrence of a Regulatory Event

Noteholders of Notes issued by MSBV should note that if Condition 32 (Illegality and Regulatory Event) of the "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes" below is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Issuer shall have the right to redeem the Notes early (at the amount specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement) if the Issuer has determined that a Regulatory Event has occurred.

Noteholders should note in this regard the circumstances in which a Regulatory Event may be deemed by the Issuer to have occurred pursuant to the definition of "Regulatory Event" under Condition 2.1 (Definitions) of the "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes" below. There can be no assurance that a Regulatory Event will not occur and Noteholders should be aware that, should a Regulatory Event occur, it may lead to an early redemption of the Notes.

Risks relating to Green Bonds, Social Bonds and Sustainability Bonds

The applicable Pricing Supplement relating to any specific Series of Notes may provide that the Issuer will issue Green Bonds, Social Bonds and Sustainability Bonds (see section "Use of Proceeds" of this Offering Circular). While each Issuer of such bonds has the intention and procedures in place to allocate an amount equal to the gross proceeds of the Green Bonds, Social Bonds and Sustainability Bonds in accordance with the rules set out by the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework, such gross proceeds may not be capable of being fully allocated to Eligible Projects (as defined in section "Use of Proceeds" of this Offering Circular and specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement) during the life of the Green Bonds, Social Bonds and Sustainability Bonds. Any such event or failure will not constitute an Event of Default under the Notes or a default of the Issuer for any purpose. Depending on the level of non-allocated gross proceeds, the external verifier (the "External Verifier") may reduce the level of assurance given as regards the effective allocation of the gross proceeds towards Eligible Projects. If the Second Party Opinion is withdrawn or the External Verifier reduces the level of assurance given, it is possible that Green Bonds, Social Bonds and/or Sustainability Bonds may no longer satisfy investors' original investment criteria or objectives. Furthermore, the market value of Green Bonds, Social Bonds and/or Sustainability Bonds may also be affected and investors could lose part of their initial investment in the event of sale before the Maturity Date.

Regulation (EU) No. 2020/852 on the establishment of a framework to facilitate sustainable investment, as amended, supplemented or completed (the "EU Taxonomy Regulation"), establishes a single EU-wide classification system, or "taxonomy", which provides companies and investors with a common language for determining which economic activities can be considered environmentally sustainable and technical screening criteria for determining the conditions under which an economic activity qualifies as contributing substantially to one of the 6 environmental objectives of the EU Taxonomy Regulation without that economic activity causing significant harm to any of the other environmental objectives. The eligibility criteria that a green project must meet to qualify for the Eligible Portfolio as an Eligible Project, as defined in the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework, differs from the notion of eligible activity as defined in the EU Taxonomy Regulation. The eligibility of a green project as an Eligible Project does not prejudice the alignment of such project with the eligible activities defined by the EU Taxonomy Regulation and consequently its alignment with the EU Taxonomy Regulation. For the avoidance of doubt, the Issuers do not undertake to align the Green Bonds issued pursuant to the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework with the EU Taxonomy Regulation. As a result, the Green Bonds may not meet present or future legislative, regulatory or market standards or expectations for "green" projects, which could affect the perception and valuation of the Green Bonds by investors and the market.

Any Green Bonds will not be compliant with Regulation (EU) 2023/2631 (the "EuGB Regulation") and are only intended to comply with the requirements and processes in the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework. It is not clear if the establishment under the EuGB Regulation of the "European Green Bond" or "EuGB" label and the optional disclosures regime for bonds issued as "environmentally sustainable" could have an impact on investor demand for, and pricing of, green use of proceeds bonds that do not comply with the requirements of the "EuGB" label or the optional disclosures regime, such as the Green Bonds. It could result in reduced liquidity or lower demand or could otherwise affect the market price of any Green Bonds that do not comply with those standards proposed under the EuGB Regulation.

Finally, perception by investors of the suitability of the Sustainable Bonds as "green", "social" or "sustainability" bonds could be negatively affected by controversies involving the environmental or sustainability impact of any Eligible Projects or of the Issuers business or industry, evolving standards or market consensus as to what constitutes a "green", "social" or "sustainability" bond or the desirability of investing in "green", "social" or "sustainability" bonds. The trading prices of the Sustainable Bonds may be also negatively affected to the extent investors are required or choose to sell their holdings due to deterioration in the perception by the investors or the market in general as to the suitability of these Sustainable Bonds as "green", "social" or "sustainability" bonds.

Risks relating to the provision of notices

Pursuant to the Conditions, the Issuer, the Determination Agent or the Calculation Agent, as applicable, in certain circumstances have obligations to provide Noteholders with notice of the occurrence of particular events with respect to the Notes including, without limitation, (i) notice of the occurrence of an event which the Issuer has determined shall lead to the early redemption of the Notes, or (ii) notice of a determination by the Determination Agent that certain adjustments are to be made to the terms of the Notes following the occurrence of a particular event in respect of which the Issuer has determined that the Notes shall continue. Holders of the Program Securities should be aware that, notwithstanding any such obligation to provide notice, in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices) of the "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes" and Condition 18.2 (Notices) of the "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" below, any failure by the Issuer, the Calculation Agent, the Determination Agent or any other party to provide Noteholders with any notice due to be given to Noteholders in accordance with the Conditions shall not of itself affect the validity of the determination, adjustment, event or any other occurrence to which such notice relates.

Currency exchange conversions may affect payments on some Warrants and Certificates

The applicable Pricing Supplement may provide for (i) payments on a non-U.S. Dollar denominated Warrant or Certificate to be made in U.S. Dollars or (ii) payments in respect of Warrants or Certificates to be made in a currency other than U.S. Dollars. In these cases, Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc, in its capacity as Exchange Rate Agent (the "Exchange Rate Agent"), or such other exchange rate agent identified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, will convert the applicable currency into U.S. Dollars or U.S. Dollars into the applicable currency. The investor will bear the costs of the conversion through deductions from those payments.

Emerging markets currencies

Where the Program Securities are denominated in an emerging market currency or linked to one or more emerging market currencies, such emerging market currencies can be significantly more volatile than currencies of more developed markets. Emerging markets currencies are highly exposed to the risk of a currency crisis happening in the future and this could trigger the need for the Determination Agent (Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc or other specified entity) to make adjustments to the terms and conditions of the Program Securities. Such adjustments may have an adverse effect on the value or return of the Program Securities.

Exchange rates and exchange controls may affect the value or return of the Program Securities

General Exchange Rate and Exchange Control Risks. An investment in a Program Security denominated in, or the payment of which is linked to the value of, currencies other than the investor's home currency entails significant risks. These risks include the possibility of significant changes in rates of exchange between its home currency and the other relevant currencies and the possibility of the imposition or modification of exchange controls by the relevant governmental authorities. These risks generally depend on economic and political events over which the Issuers have no control. Such risks may impact the payments due under the Program Securities and therefore the value or return of the Program Securities.

Exchange Rates Will Affect the Investor's Investment. In recent years, rates of exchange between some currencies have been highly volatile and this volatility may continue in the future. Fluctuations in any particular exchange rate that have occurred in the past are not necessarily indicative, however, of fluctuations that may occur during the term of any Program Security. Depreciation against the investor's home currency or the currency in which a Program Security is payable would result in a decrease in the effective yield of the Program Security (in the case of a Note) below its coupon rate and could result in an overall loss to an investor on the basis of the investor's home currency. In addition, depending on the specific terms of a Currency-Linked Note or Warrant or Certificate, changes in exchange rates relating to any of the relevant currencies could result in a decrease in its effective yield and in the investor's loss of all or a substantial portion of the value of that Program Security.

Neither the Issuers nor the Guarantor Has Any Control Over Exchange Rates. Currency exchange rates can either float or be fixed. Exchange rates of most economically developed nations are permitted to fluctuate in value relative to each other. However, from time to time governments may use a variety of techniques, such as intervention by a country's central bank, the imposition of regulatory controls or taxes, or changes in interest rate to influence the exchange rates of their currencies. Governments may also issue a new currency to replace an existing currency or alter the exchange rate or relative exchange characteristics by a devaluation or revaluation of a currency. These governmental actions could change or interfere with currency valuations and currency fluctuations that would otherwise occur in response to economic forces, as well as in response to the movement of currencies across borders.

As a consequence, these government actions could adversely affect yields or payouts in the investor's home currency for (i) Program Securities denominated or payable in currencies other than U.S. Dollars and (ii) Currency-Linked Notes or Currency Program Securities.

Subject to the Terms and Conditions of the relevant Program Securities, the Issuers will not make any adjustment or change in the terms of the Program Securities in the event that exchange rates should become fixed, or in the event of any devaluation or revaluation or imposition of exchange or other regulatory controls or taxes, or in the event of other developments affecting any currency. Therefore the investor will bear those risks, which may adversely impact the return on and value of the Program Securities.

Some Currencies May Become Unavailable. Governments have imposed from time to time, and may in the future impose, exchange controls that could also affect the availability of a Specified Currency (as defined herein). Even if there are no actual exchange controls, it is possible that the applicable currency for any security would not be available when payments on that security are due. Prospective investors in Currency-Linked Notes or Currency Program Securities should be aware that the Determination Agent may determine that a Currency Disruption Event has occurred or exists on a relevant date of valuation, and any consequential determination of the Settlement Rate by the Determination Agent in accordance with the Currency Disruption Fallbacks may have an adverse effect on the return on and value of the Program Securities.

Alternative Payment Method Used If Payment Currency Becomes Unavailable. If a payment currency is unavailable in respect of New York Law Notes, English Law Notes or Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, Morgan Stanley would make required payments in U.S. Dollars on the basis of the Market Exchange Rate (as defined below under "Description of the New York Law Notes — General" or Condition 2.1 (Definitions) of the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes or Condition 2.1 (Definitions) of the Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, as applicable). However, if the applicable currency for any such Note is not available because the euro has been substituted for that currency, the relevant Issuer would make the payments in euro. Some Notes may specify a different form of payment if a non U.S. payment currency is unavailable to the relevant Issuer.

Currency Exchange Information may be provided in the Pricing Supplement. The applicable Pricing Supplement or offering circular supplement, where relevant, may include information with respect to any relevant exchange controls and any relevant historic exchange rate information for any Program Security. An investor in Currency-Linked Notes or Currency Program Securities should not assume that any historic information concerning currency exchange rates will be representative of the range of, or trends in, fluctuations in currency exchange rates that may occur in the future. Future fluctuations in currency exchange rates, the range of such fluctuation or trends in such fluctuations may adversely impact the return on and value of the Program Securities.

Exchange rates may affect the value of a judgment

The English Law Notes, the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and the Warrants and Certificates and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with them shall be governed by English law. Although an English court has the power to grant judgment in the currency in which a Program Security is denominated, it may decline to do so in its discretion. If judgment were granted in a currency other than that in which a Program Security is denominated, the investor will bear the relevant currency risk.

The New York Law Notes will be governed by the laws of the State of New York. If a New York court were to enter a judgment in an action on any securities denominated in a foreign currency, such court would either enter a judgment in U.S. Dollars based on the prevailing rate of exchange between the foreign currency and U.S. Dollars on the date such judgment is entered or enter judgment in the foreign currency and convert the judgment or decree into U.S. Dollars at the prevailing rate of exchange on the date such judgment or decree is entered.

Risks relating to inflation

Inflation is the general increase in prices and fall in the purchasing value of money over time. Due to the impact of inflation, the same amount of money will buy fewer goods and services over time.

The real return (or yield) on an investment in the Program Securities will be reduced by inflation. Consequently, the higher the rate of inflation, the lower the real yield on a Program Security will be. If the inflation rate is equal to or greater than the yield under a Program Security, the real yield a holder of such Program Security will achieve will be zero or even negative. Accordingly, inflation may have a negative effect on the value of and return on the Program Securities, and you should consider the potential impact of inflation (including if the rate of inflation is anticipated to rise over the term of the Program Securities) before purchasing Program Securities.

Risk Factors relating to the Relevant Underlying

Program Securities linked to a single emerging market security, a single emerging market ETF or other fund, or a basket of securities or a basket of indices composed, in part or in whole, of emerging market securities or a basket of ETFs or other funds composed, in part or in whole, of emerging market ETFs or funds or futures contracts linked to any of the foregoing Fluctuations in the trading prices of the underlying emerging market equity will affect the value of Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Notes, Fund-Linked Notes or Futures Contract-Linked Notes where the underlying asset is such a share or comprised of any such shares and of Warrant and Certificates linked to emerging market securities, futures contracts and/or ETFs or other funds. Changes may result over time from the interaction of many factors directly or indirectly affecting economic and political conditions in the related countries or member nations, including economic and political developments in other countries. Of particular importance to potential risks are (i) rates of inflation; (ii) interest rate levels; (iii) balance of payments; and (iv) the extent of governmental surpluses or deficits in the relevant country. All of these factors are, in turn, sensitive to the monetary, fiscal and trade policies pursued by the related countries, the governments of the related countries and member nations (if any), and other countries important to international trade and finance. Government intervention could materially and adversely affect the value of such Program Securities. Governments use a variety of techniques, such as intervention by their central bank or imposition of regulatory controls or taxes to affect the trading of the underlying equity. Thus, a special risk in purchasing such Program Securities is that their trading value and amount payable at maturity could be affected by the actions of governments, fluctuations in response to other market forces and the movement of currencies across borders. Emerging markets stocks may be more volatile than the stocks in more developed markets.

Risk Factors relating to Program Securities linked to securities (including ChiNext Shares and STAR Shares) listed on PRC Stock Exchanges

The Program Securities may be linked to Shares which are eligible to be traded through the China Connect Service. The Issuer or its affiliates or others (each a "Hedge Provider") may obtain exposure to the Shares through the Qualified Foreign Institutional Investor ("QFII") regime.

A Hedge Provider may obtain exposure to the Shares through the China Connect Service. The China Connect Service is a securities trading and clearing programme under which the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited provides order-routing and related services for certain securities and ETFs traded on the Shanghai Stock Exchange and/or Shenzhen Stock Exchange (as the case may be), and the China Securities Depository and Clearing Company Limited and Hong Kong Securities Clearing Company Limited providing clearing, settlement, depository and related services in relation to such securities. Unlike an Investment through the QFII regime, a Hedge Provider need not be approved as a QFII. Nonetheless, trading through the China Connect Service is expected to be subject to a number of restrictions including pre-trade checking requirements, shareholding limits and aggregate and daily Renminbi quotas that apply to the market in general. The China Connect Service may also be disrupted or terminated. In addition, the China Connect Service is in its initial stages and accordingly further developments are likely. There are also further regulatory uncertainties that apply in each case, including the taxes to which trades are subject.

Investors should also note that any investments in Program Securities linked to Shares traded through the China Connect Service and/or QFII regime involves a high investment risk. In particular, profitability and other financial requirements for listing of shares on the ChiNext Board of the Shenzhen Stock Exchange (the "ChiNext Board") and the STAR Board of the Shanghai Stock Exchange (the "STAR Board") are less stringent than the Main Board of the Shenzhen Stock Exchange and the Shanghai Stock Exchange, respectively. Companies listed on the ChiNext Board or the STAR Board may include enterprises in the innovation and technology sector as well as other start-up and/or growth enterprises with a smaller operating scale and share capital. Stock prices may also be more susceptible to manipulation due to fewer circulating shares. Accordingly, the ChiNext Shares and/or STAR Shares may be very volatile and illiquid. It may be more common and easier for companies listed on the ChiNext Board or the STAR Board to be delisted. The ChiNext Shares and/or STAR Shares may become very illiquid after delisting. Any of these factors could affect the value of Program Securities linked to ChiNext Shares and/or STAR Shares. In addition, current information on such companies may be limited and may not be widely available.

In light of the above, investments in Program Securities linked to ChiNext Shares and/or STAR Shares through the China Connect Service and/or QFII regime may involve a more significant risk of loss compared to investments in Program Securities linked to other PRC underlying assets.

There are also further regulatory uncertainties that apply, including the taxes to which trades are subject. The above factors may affect Program Securities with one or more PRC underlying assets.

Program Securities linked to ADRs

An investment in Program Securities linked to American Depositary Receipts ("ADRs") entails significant risks in addition to those associated with Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Notes and Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Securities and with investments in a conventional debt security. There are important differences between the rights of holders of ADRs and the rights of holders of the equity issuer represented by such ADRs. An ADR is a security that represents capital stock of the relevant underlying equity issuer. The relevant deposit agreement for the ADR sets forth the rights and responsibilities of the depositary (being the issuer of the ADR), the underlying equity issuer and holders of the ADRs which may be different from the rights of holders of the underlying equities. The legal owner of the underlying equities is the custodian bank which at the same time is the issuing agent of the ADR. Depending on the jurisdiction under which the ADRs have been issued and the jurisdiction to which the custodian agreement is subject, it is possible that the corresponding jurisdiction would not recognise the purchaser of the ADR as the actual beneficial owner of the underlying equities. Particularly in the event that the custodian bank becomes insolvent or that enforcement measures are taken against the custodian bank, it is possible that an order restricting free disposition could be issued with respect to the underlying equities or that such shares are realised within the framework of an enforcement measure against the custodian bank. If this is the case, the holder of the ADR loses their rights under the underlying equities and the relevant Program Securities would become worthless. Adjustment to the terms and conditions or replacement of the underlying equities following certain corporate events in relation to the underlying equities may materially and adversely affect the value of the Program Securities linked to ADRs.

Risks relating to Program Securities linked to Shares

Factors affecting the performance of Shares may adversely affect the value of Program Securities linked to Shares

The performance of Shares is dependent upon macroeconomic factors, such as interest and price levels on the capital markets, currency developments, political factors and company-specific factors such as earnings position, market position, risk situation, shareholder structure and distribution policy. These factors are not within the relevant Issuer, Morgan Stanley or any of Morgan Stanley's affiliates' control and may result in a decline in the value of the Program Securities.

Holders have no claim against the Share Issuer(s) or recourse to the Shares

Program Securities linked to Shares do not represent a claim against or an investment in any Share Issuer(s) and investors will not have any right of recourse under such Program Securities to any such company or the Shares. Program Securities linked to Shares are not in any way sponsored, endorsed or promoted by any Share Issuer(s) and such companies have no obligation to take into account the consequences of their actions for any holders. Accordingly, the Share Issuer(s) may take any actions in respect of such Share without regard to the interests of the investors in such Program Securities, and any of these actions could adversely affect the market value of Program Securities linked to Shares.

Determinations made by the Issuer and the Determination Agent in respect of Potential Adjustment Events, Merger Events, Tender Offers, Delisting, Nationalisations, Insolvencies and Additional Disruption Events may have an adverse effect on the value of Program Securities linked to Shares

Upon the determination by the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, that a Potential Adjustment Event, Merger Event, Tender Offer, Delisting, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Additional Disruption Event has occurred in relation to an underlying Share or Share Company, the Issuer (in the case of a Merger Event, Tender Offer, Delisting, Nationalisation, Insolvency or an Additional Disruption Event) will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether the relevant Program Securities shall continue or shall be redeemed early, any of which determinations may have an adverse effect on the value of such Program Securities and, in the case of a Potential Adjustment Event, the Determination Agent may, in its reasonable discretion, make certain determinations to account for the occurrence of the relevant event, including to make adjustments to the terms of the Program Securities. In particular, in the event that the Program Securities are early settled/redeemed, the amount payable to holders may be significantly less than the investor's initial investment, and may be as low as zero. If the Issuer determines that the relevant Program Securities shall be redeemed early, the Issuer shall provide notice of such early redemption to holders a prescribed number of days prior to the date fixed for redemption.

If the Issuer determines that the relevant Program Securities shall continue following the occurrence of such an event, the Determination Agent may, in its reasonable discretion, make certain determinations to account for the occurrence of the relevant event, including to make adjustments to the terms of the Program Securities.

Potential Adjustment Events include (a) a sub-division, consolidation or re-classification of the Shares, (b) a distribution, issue or dividend to existing holders of the Shares, (c) an extraordinary dividend, (d) a call of the Shares that are not fully paid, (e) a repurchase by the Share Issuer, or one of its subsidiaries, of the Shares, (f) a separation of rights from the Shares or (g) any event having a dilutive or concentrative effect on the value of the Shares. Additional Disruption Events can include, if "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes" or "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Securities" (as applicable) is specified as not applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, (1) a change in applicable law since the Trade Date that makes it illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of the Shares or more expensive for the relevant Issuer to hedge its obligations under the relevant Program Securities, (2) Increased Cost of Hedging and (3) Hedging Disruption, or if "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes" or "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Securities" (as applicable) is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, (1) a change in applicable law since the Trade Date that makes it illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of the Shares, (2) an insolvency filing by or on behalf of any issuer of the relevant Share(s).

General Risks relating to regulatory actions, such as sanctions

Governmental regulatory actions, including, without limitation, sanctions-related actions by the U.S. or a foreign government, could prohibit or otherwise restrict persons from holding Program Securities or the Relevant Underlying(s), or engaging in transactions in them, and any such action could adversely affect the value of the Relevant Underlying(s). These regulatory actions could result in restrictions on Program Securities and could result in the loss of a significant portion or all of your initial investment in Program Securities, including if you are forced to divest the Program Securities due to the government mandates, especially if such divestment must be made at a time when the value of Program Securities has declined.

General Risks relating to Notes linked to preference shares

The Issuers may issue Notes with principal determined by reference to the changes in the value of preference shares ("Preference Shares"), which may fluctuate up or down depending on the performance of the relevant underlying asset(s) or basis of reference to which Preference Shares are linked (the "Preference Share Underlying") as set out in the terms and conditions of the Preference Shares (the "Terms of the Preference Shares"). If, as a result of the performance of the Preference Share Underlying, the performance of the Preference Shares is negative the value of the Preference Share-Linked Notes will be adversely affected. Purchasers of Preference Share-Linked Notes risk losing all or a part of their investment if the value of the Preference Shares falls.

An investment in Preference Share-Linked Notes will entail significant risks not associated with a conventional debt or equity security. Purchasers of Preference Share-Linked Notes should conduct their own investigations and, in deciding whether or not to purchase the Preference Share-Linked Notes, prospective purchasers should form their own views of the merits of an investment related to the Preference Shares based upon such investigations and not in reliance on any information given in this document.

As set out below, Preference Share-Linked Notes will be subject to early redemption if an Extraordinary Event or, if applicable, an Additional Disruption Event occurs or if an Early Redemption Event occurs. In these circumstances the Issuer may redeem the Notes at the Early Redemption Amount or the Early Share Redemption Note Amount, as applicable. The Early Redemption Amount or Early Preference Share Redemption Note Amount may be less (and in certain circumstances, significantly less) than investors' initial investment.

Exposure to the Preference Share Underlying

The Preference Share Underlying may be a specified index or basket of indices, a specified equity or basket of equities, a specified currency or basket of currencies, a specified fund share or unit or basket of fund shares or units or such other underlying instruments, bases of reference or factors as may be determined by the issuer of the relevant Preference Shares (the "Preference Share Issuer") and specified in the terms and conditions of the relevant series of Preference Shares. Consequently potential investors should also consider the risk factors set out on pages 15-66 in respect of the risks involved in investing in Notes (in this case the Preference Shares) linked to certain Relevant Underlying(s).

The Terms of the Preference Shares provide that the Preference Shares will be redeemable on their final redemption date (or otherwise in accordance with the Terms of the Preference Shares). On redemption, the Preference Shares will carry preferred rights to receive an amount calculated by reference to the Preference Share Underlying.

Investors should review the Terms of the Preference Shares and consult with their own professional advisors if they consider it necessary.

Credit and Fraud Risk of Preference Share Issuer

Preference Share-Linked Notes are linked to the performance of the relevant Preference Shares. Investors bear the risk of an investment in the Preference Share Issuer. The value of the Preference Share-Linked Notes is dependent on the value of the Preference Shares, which will depend in part on the creditworthiness of the Preference Share Issuer, which may vary over the term of the Preference Share-Linked Notes. The Preference Share Issuer is not an operating company. Its sole business activity is the issue of redeemable preference shares. The Preference Share Issuer does not have any trading assets and does not generate any significant net income. As its funds are limited any misappropriation of funds or other fraudulent action by the Preference Share Issuer or a person acting on its behalf would have a significant adverse effect on the value of the Preference Shares and will adversely affect the value of the Preference Share-Linked Notes.

Determination of Extraordinary Events and Additional Disruption Events

The Determination Agent may determine the occurrence of a Merger Event, Tender Offer, Insolvency or Additional Disruption Event in relation to the Preference Share-Linked Notes. Upon such determination, the relevant Issuer may, at its option redeem the Preference Share-Linked Notes in whole at the Early Redemption Amount which may be less than the amount invested in the Preference Share-Linked Notes. Noteholders will not benefit from any appreciation of the Preference Shares that may occur following such redemption.

No ownership rights

An investment in Preference Share-Linked Notes is not the same as an investment in the Preference Shares and does not confer any legal or beneficial interest in the Preference Shares or any Preference Share Underlying or any voting rights, right to receive dividends or other rights that a holder of the Preference Shares or any Preference Share Underlying may have. The Preference Share-Linked Notes are unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of the relevant Issuer.

Hedging activities of the Issuer and affiliates

The relevant Issuer or its affiliates may carry out hedging activities related to the Preference Share-Linked Notes, including purchasing the Preference Shares and/or the Preference Share Underlying, but will not be obliged to do so. Certain of the Issuer's affiliates may also purchase and sell the Preference Shares and/or purchase and sell the Preference Share Underlying on a regular basis as part of their securities businesses. Any of these activities could potentially affect the value of the Preference Share Underlying and, accordingly, the value of the Preference Shares and the Preference Share-Linked Notes.

Program Securities linked to commodities

Commodity markets are influenced by, among other things, changing supply and demand relationships, weather, governmental, agricultural, commercial and trade programs and policies designed to influence commodity prices, world political and economic events, changes in interest rates and factors affecting the exchange(s) or quotation system(s) on which any such commodities may be traded.

Where a Program Security linked to a commodity references a futures contract, this reference should be taken as if the futures contract had the specified commodity as the underlying commodity. Investments in futures and options contracts involve additional risks including, without limitation, leverage (margin is usually a percentage of the face value of the contract and exposure can be nearly unlimited).

A holder of a futures position may find such positions become illiquid because certain commodity exchanges limit fluctuations in certain futures contract prices during a single day by regulations referred to as "daily price fluctuation limits" or "daily limits". Under such daily limits during a single trading day no trades may be executed at prices beyond the daily limits. Once the price of a contract for a particular future has increased or decreased by an amount equal to the daily limit, positions in the future can neither be taken nor liquidated unless traders are willing to effect trades at or within the limit. This could prevent a holder from promptly liquidating unfavourable positions and subject it to substantial losses. Futures contract prices in various commodities occasionally have exceeded the daily limit for several consecutive days with little or no trading. Similar occurrences could prevent the liquidation of unfavourable positions and subject an investor in a Program Security linked to such contract prices to substantial losses.

Commodity future prices reflect the expectations of the market players as to the future value of the commodity and may not be consistent with the current prices of the relevant commodity.

Risks related to CNY Program Securities

Renminbi is not a freely convertible currency at present.

The PRC government continues to regulate conversion between Renminbi and foreign currencies. The People's Bank of China ("PBOC") has established Renminbi clearing and settlement systems for certain locations pursuant to settlement agreements relating to the clearing of Renminbi business between PBOC and certain clearing banks. However, the current size of Renminbi and Renminbi denominated financial assets outside the PRC remains limited, and its growth is subject to many constraints which are directly affected by PRC laws and regulations on foreign exchange and may adversely affect the liquidity of CNY Program Securities.

There is no assurance that the PRC government will continue to gradually liberalise control over cross-border remittance of Renminbi in the future or that new regulations in the PRC will not be promulgated in the future which have the effect of restricting or eliminating the remittance of Renminbi into or outside the PRC. In the event that funds cannot be repatriated outside the PRC in Renminbi, this may affect the overall availability of Renminbi outside the PRC and the ability of the Issuer to source Renminbi to finance its obligations under the CNY Program Securities.

The limited availability of Renminbi outside the PRC may affect the liquidity of the CNY Program Securities and the Issuer's ability to source Renminbi on satisfactory terms to make payments in respect of the CNY Program Securities.

Investment in CNY Program Securities is subject to exchange rate risks

The value of Renminbi against the Hong Kong Dollar and other foreign currencies fluctuates and is affected by developments in or affecting the PRC, PBOC currency exchange policy, international political and economic conditions and many other factors. All payments with respect to the CNY Program Securities will be made in CNY, except in the case of CNY Inconvertibility, CNY Non-Transferability or CNY Illiquidity (as defined in Condition 25 (CNY Disruption Events) of the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes (in respect of English Law Notes) and Condition 23 (CNY Disruption Events) of the Terms and Conditions of the Warrants and Certificates (in respect of Warrants and Certificates)), in which case all payments and settlement in CNY will be made in accordance with the provisions of Condition 25 (CNY Disruption Events) of the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes (in respect of English Law Notes) and Condition 23 (CNY Disruption Events) of the Terms and Conditions of the Warrants and Certificates (in respect of Warrants and Certificates). As a result, the value of CNY payments may vary with the prevailing exchange rates in the marketplace. If the value of CNY depreciates against the relevant currency, the value of the investment in relevant currency will have declined. In the case of CNY Inconvertibility, CNY Non-Transferability or CNY Illiquidity (as defined in Condition 25 (CNY Disruption Events) (in respect of the English Law Notes) and Condition 23 (CNY Disruption Events) (in respect of Warrants and Certificates)), such a decline may be very substantial.

Payments for the CNY Program Securities will only be made to investors in the manner specified in the CNY Program Securities

All payments to investors in respect of the Program Securities will be made solely (i) for so long as the CNY Program Securities are represented by a Registered Global Instrument held with the common depositary for Clearstream Banking société anonyme and Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V. or any alternative clearing system by transfer to a CNY bank account maintained outside the PRC, or (ii) for so long as the CNY Program Securities are in definitive form, by transfer to a CNY bank account maintained outside the PRC, in each case in accordance with prevailing rules and regulations. The Issuer cannot be required to make payment by any other means (including in any other currency or by transfer to a bank account in the PRC). In addition, there can be no assurance that access to Renminbi for the purposes of making payments under the CNY Program Securities or generally may remain or will not become restricted. If it becomes impossible to convert Renminbi from/to another freely convertible currency, or transfer Renminbi between accounts in the relevant offshore CNY center(s), or the general Renminbi exchange market in the relevant offshore CNY center(s) becomes illiquid, any payment of Renminbi under the CNY Program Securities may be delayed or all payments and settlement will be made in accordance with the Disruption Fallbacks described in Condition 25 (CNY Disruption Events) (in respect of the English Law Notes) or Condition 23 (CNY Disruption Events) (in respect of Warrants and Certificates).

Effect of the liquidity of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor on Program Security pricing

An Issuer's and/or its Affiliates' hedging costs tend to be higher the less liquidity the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor has or the greater the difference between the "buy" and "sell" prices for the Relevant Underlying, Relevant Factor or derivatives contracts referenced to the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor. When quoting prices for the Program Securities, the Issuer and/or its Affiliates will factor in such hedging costs and will pass them on to the Noteholders and Securityholders by incorporating them into the "buy" and "sell" prices. Thus, Noteholders and Securityholders selling their Program Securities on an exchange or on the over-the-counter market may be doing so at a price that is substantially lower than the actual value of the Program Securities at the time of sale.

Fluctuations in value of a component of the Relevant Underlying Fluctuations in the value of any one component of the Relevant Underlying may, where applicable, be offset or intensified by fluctuations in the value of other components, which could adversely affect the value of the Program Securities, the return on the Program Securities and the price at which the holder of such Program Securities can sell such Program Securities.

Historical value of the Relevant Underlying

The historical value (if any) of the Relevant Underlying or the components of the Relevant Underlying does not indicate their future performance. Holders of the Program Securities should be aware that the Relevant Underlying or the components of the Relevant Underlying may perform differently than they have historically, which could adversely affect the value of the Program Securities, the return on the Program Securities and the price at which the holder of such Program Securities can sell such Program Securities.

Exchange rate risk on the components

Where the value of the components is determined in a different currency to the value of the Relevant Underlying, investors may be exposed to exchange rate risk. In the event that exchange rates should become fixed, or in the event of any devaluation or revaluation or imposition of exchange or other regulatory controls or taxes, or in the event of other developments affecting any currency in connection with the components of the Relevant Underlying, the investor will bear those risks, which may adversely impact the return on and value of the Program Securities.

Risks relating to Program Securities linked to an index or indices

The Issuers may issue Notes with principal and/or interest, or Warrants and Certificates whose return is, determined by reference to an index or indices.

Factors affecting the performance of indices may adversely affect the value of such Program Securities

Indices are comprised of a synthetic portfolio of shares, bonds, currency exchange rates, commodities, property or other assets, and as such, the performance of an index is dependent upon the performance of components of such index, which may include interest rates, currency developments, political factors, market factors such as the general trends in capital markets or broad based indices and (in the case of shares) company-specific factors such as earnings position, market position, risk situation, shareholder structure and distribution policy, as well as governmental regulatory actions, including, but not limited to, sanctions-related actions by the U.S. or foreign governments. If an index does not perform as expected, this will materially and adversely affect the value of Program Securities that reference indices.

Returns on such Program Securities do not reflect a direct investment in underlying shares or other assets comprising the index

The return payable on Program Securities that reference indices may not reflect the return a potential investor would realise if it actually owned the relevant assets comprising the components of the index or owned a different form of interest in the relevant index. For example, if the components of the indices are shares, holders will not receive any dividends paid or distributions made on those shares and will not participate in the return on those dividends or distributions unless the relevant index takes such dividends into account for purposes of calculating the relevant level. Similarly, holders will not have any voting rights in the underlying shares or any other assets which may comprise the components of the relevant index. Accordingly, holders of Program Securities that reference indices as Relevant Underlying may receive a lower payment upon redemption/settlement of such Program Securities than such holder would have received if it had invested in the components of the index directly or other comparable instruments linked to the index.

A change in the composition or discontinuance of an index could adversely affect the market value of the Program Securities

The sponsor of any index can add, delete or substitute the components of such index or make other methodological changes that could change the level of one or more components. The changing of components of any index may affect the level of such index as a newly added component may perform significantly worse or better than the component it replaces, which in turn may affect the payments made by the relevant Issuer to the holders of Program Securities that reference indices. The sponsor of any such index may also alter, discontinue or suspend calculation or dissemination of such index. Except where an index is a proprietary index, the sponsor of an index will have no involvement in the offer and sale of the Program Securities that reference that index and will have no obligation to any holder of such Program Securities. Accordingly, the sponsor of an index may take any actions in respect of such index without regard to the interests of the holder of the Program Securities, and any of these actions could adversely affect the market value of Program Securities that reference indices.

Exposure to Index Modification, Index Cancellation, Index Disruption, Administrator/ Benchmark Event and correction of index levels

The Determination Agent may in its reasonable discretion make certain determinations and adjustments, to replace the original Relevant Underlying with another and/or to cause early redemption/settlement of the Program Securities, any of which may be adverse to holders in connection with Index Modification, Index Cancellation, Index Disruption and Administrator/Benchmark Event. The Determination Agent may determine that the consequence of any such event is to make adjustments to the amounts payable by the Issuer under the Program Securities, to make adjustments to the other terms and conditions of the Program Securities, or to replace such index with another or to cause early redemption/settlement of the Program Securities. The Determination Agent may (subject to the terms and conditions of the relevant Program Securities) also amend the relevant index level due to corrections in the level reported by the index sponsor. The consequences of such amendments could adversely affect the market value of Program Securities that reference indices.

Specific risks associated with Decrement Indices

Where the Relevant Underlying is an index with a decrement feature, it is an equity index and the return on such index will be calculated by reinvesting dividends by its components and by periodically subtracting a pre-defined dividend (also known as a "Synthetic Dividend"), which applies a constant markdown to the index level. The amount of such Synthetic Dividend may be expressed as a percentage of the prevailing index level or as a fixed number of index points (a fixed deduction amount that does not change with the index level).

A decrement index (after deduction of the predetermined Synthetic Dividend) will underperform the corresponding total return index (i.e. where realised dividends have been reinvested and without any deduction of a Synthetic Dividend). A decrement feature may also act as a drain on the performance of the Index, and the index level will not reflect the aggregate performance of the underlying total return index but a lesser amount. As a result, the return on the Program Securities may be lower than the return on an investment linked to a "total return" index.

A decrement index (after the deduction of the pre-determined Synthetic Dividend) may perform differently in comparison to the corresponding price return index (i.e. where the realised dividends are not reinvested, and without deduction to a Synthetic Dividend). If the Synthetic Dividend is larger than the relevant realised level of dividends, the decrement index will underperform the corresponding price return index. As a result, the return on the Program Securities may be lower than the return on an investment linked to a traditional price return index. If the Synthetic Dividend is smaller than the relevant realised level of dividends, the decrement index will outperform an otherwise equivalent price return index.

Where a decrement index tracks the performance of a single component security, such decrement index (after deduction of the pre-determined Synthetic Dividend) will underperform a direct investment in such component security (i.e. because such direct investment would benefit from dividends paid by the component security without any deduction of a Synthetic Dividend).

In respect of decrement indices where the synthetic dividend is expressed as a number of index points (a fixed deduction amount that does not change with the index level), the Synthetic Dividend yield (defined as the ratio of the fixed index point decrement to the relevant decrement index level) will increase in a negative market scenario as this is a fixed amount and not a percentage of the index level. As such, a decrement index is likely to underperform a corresponding price return index when the index is decreasing and such underperformance will accelerate as the level of the decrement index decreases. Further, since the amount of decrement expressed in index points will not vary with the level of the decrement index, such index level may become negative. This could adversely affect the value of and return on the Program Securities, which could result in a Securityholder suffering some or all of its initial investment in the Program Securities.

Program Securities linked to property indices

The Issuers may issue Notes with principal and/or interest, or Warrants and Certificates whose return is, determined by reference to a residential or commercial property index or indices ("Property Indices"). Property Indices may only be a reference guide to a certain property market and may not be representative of the relevant property market as a whole. The relevant Property Index may only measure the capital growth component of property only and may not include any income return component. A Property Index may be based on valuation data only and, as such, a Property Index may not necessarily reflect actual market prices and may rely on the ability of the index provider to gather property valuations and conduct continuous, close monitoring of such property valuations.

Property markets are illiquid and complex. The impact of price fluctuations in the property market may not immediately be reflected in the relevant Property Index (if at all). Properties may only be valued on an annual basis for the purposes of calculating the relevant Property Index and, as such, the level at which the Property Index stands may not be representative of actual market prices or transactions in the relevant property market. The provider of a Property Index may reserve the right to change the constituents of the relevant Property Index and the methodology used in its calculation. The publication of the Property Index may be delayed and/or subject to correction. Any of the foregoing may affect the return of the Program Securities.

Program Securities linked to proprietary indices

The Issuers may issue Notes with principal and/or interest, or Warrants and Certificates whose return is, determined by reference to a "proprietary index", where Morgan Stanley or a Morgan Stanley affiliate is the owner and sponsor such an index.

A proprietary index is a notional, rules-based index comprising its component(s) and the level of such index may go down as well as up, depending on the performance of the components and their effect on the strategy that the proprietary index has been developed to reflect. There can be no assurance as to the future performance of any such index, and the index level on any day may not reflect either its past performance or its future performance. The strategy that any such index has been developed to reflect may not be successful in achieving the investment objectives of any potential investor, and other strategies using the components and alternative indices and benchmarks may perform better than such index. Any past performance of a proprietary index (actual or simulated) is not an indication of its future performance.

Prospective investors in any Program Securities linked to a proprietary index should be familiar with investments in the global financial and commodity markets, financial instruments and indices generally.

An investor in Program Securities linked to a proprietary index will have no rights in respect of the proprietary index or any components of such proprietary index

The investment exposure provided by any proprietary index is notional or synthetic. Investors in Program Securities will (1) have no legal or beneficial ownership interest in any proprietary index or any component comprising a proprietary index (or components thereof) and therefore have no recourse to any such component;

(2) have no right to take delivery of any such component; (3) have no rights generally with respect to any such component (where in relation to voting or otherwise); and (4) have no right to receive dividends, distributions or other payments with respect to any such component.

A proprietary index may have a limited operating history and may perform in unanticipated ways

A proprietary index may be a relatively new strategy. Where limited historical performance data exists with respect to the components referenced by such index and/or the index itself, any investment in respect of which returns are linked to the performance of such an index or its components may involve greater risk than an investment linked to returns generated by an investment strategy with a proven track record. While a longer history of actual performance could provide more reliable information on which to assess the validity of a strategy that a proprietary index is intended to reflect and on which to base an investment decision, the fact that such an index and/or the relevant components are relatively new would not allow this. There can be no guarantee or assurance that a proprietary index or its components will operate in a manner consistent with the data available.

Where Morgan Stanley or an affiliate of Morgan Stanley is the sponsor of the proprietary index, the sponsor hedging activity may affect the level of such index

By executing products linked to a proprietary index where Morgan Stanley or a Morgan Stanley affiliate is the sponsor of such index, Morgan Stanley and/or its affiliates will have an exposure to such index and its components. Morgan Stanley will take risk positions to hedge this exposure in its sole discretion and in a principal capacity. Investors in any Program Securities linked to such an index will not have any rights in respect of any Morgan Stanley hedge positions, including without limitation, any shares, futures, options, commodities or currencies. Morgan Stanley may execute its hedging activity by trading in the components of any index at any time and this may have an adverse impact on the performance of a Proprietary Index. Morgan Stanley's hedging activity, and hence the size of such impact, may be linked to the amount of new and outstanding products (including any Program Securities) linked to the relevant index at the relevant time.

Additionally, Morgan Stanley may generate revenues if it executes its hedging activity at different levels from those used to determine the value of a proprietary index. Such hedging activity could generate significant returns to Morgan Stanley that will not be passed on to investors in Program Securities linked to any such proprietary index.

Where a proprietary index is "actively managed", the actions of the relevant index allocator may adversely affect the performance and level of such index

Program Securities may be linked an "actively managed" proprietary index, where a third party "index allocator" is solely responsible for determining from time to time the selected constituents of such proprietary index. The success or failure of an "actively managed" proprietary index or any constituent of such index to achieve any investment or hedging objective or any particular performance is solely affected by the abilities of, and determinations made by, the relevant index allocator and certain key individuals employed by the relevant index allocator. There can be no assurance that the relevant index allocator will be successful in its decision or the rebalancing of an "actively managed" proprietary index or generating positive returns, and any such decision or rebalancing by the index allocator may cause such index to perform in a worse manner than if such decision or rebalancing had not been made. Furthermore, the loss of one of more such key individuals at the relevant index allocator may have a material adverse impact on the performance and level of the relevant "actively managed" proprietary index. Any of the foregoing may have a negative impact on the value of, and return under, the Program Securities linked to an "actively managed" proprietary index.

Risk associated with estimating the price of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor if its domestic market is closed while secondary trading in the Program Securities is open

If the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor is traded on its domestic market during the opening hours for secondary trading in the Program Securities by the Issuers or their Affiliates or any stock exchange on which the Program Securities are listed, the price of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor is incorporated into the price calculation for the Program Securities. In certain cases, however, the price of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor may need to be estimated if the Program Securities are traded at a time when the market for the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor is closed. In general, this problem could apply to the Program Securities irrespective of the time at which they are traded because the Issuers and/or their Affiliates currently offer off exchange trading in the Program Securities at times when the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor is not traded on the local markets or stock exchanges. This problem applies in particular to a Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor that is traded in time zones different from European time zones. The same problem arises if the Program Securities are traded on days on which the domestic market for the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor is closed because of a public holiday. If the Issuers and/or any of their Affiliates estimates the price of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor when the domestic market is closed, its estimate may prove to be accurate, too high or too low within just a few hours of the domestic market re-opening for trade in the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor. Correspondingly, the prices used by the Issuers and/or any of their Affiliates for the Program Securities prior to the opening of business on the domestic market may subsequently prove to be too high or too low. Holders of the Program Securities should be aware that where the estimated price of the Relevant Underlying is too low, the secondary trading price of the Program Securities may be less than if the price of the Relevant Underlying had not been estimated.

Market Disruption Event, Disrupted Day, Adjustments and Early Redemption or termination of Program Securities

The Determination Agent may determine that a Market Disruption Event or a failure to open of an Exchange or Related Exchange has occurred or exists on a relevant date of valuation, and any consequential postponement of such date of valuation may have an adverse effect on the value of the Program Securities.

In addition the Determination Agent may make adjustments to the Program Securities to account for relevant adjustments or events in relation to the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor including, but not limited to, determining a successor to the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor or its sponsor (in the case of an Index), or determining a successor or substitute futures contract (in the case of a Futures Contract). In addition, in certain circumstances, the relevant Issuer may redeem or terminate the Program Securities early following any such event. In this case, in relation to each Note, the relevant Issuer will pay an amount, if any, determined as provided in the Conditions.

Prospective investors should review the Conditions to ascertain whether and how such provisions apply to the Program Securities and what constitutes a Market Disruption Event or relevant adjustment event.

In making these determinations and adjustments, the Determination Agent is entitled to exercise substantial discretion and may be subject to conflicts of interest. The Determination Agent is not required but has the discretion to make adjustments (or to early redeem the Program Securities) with respect to each and every corporate action.

Program Securities linked to the performance of funds

The Issuers may issue Program Securities where the redemption amount or, if applicable, the interest amount in relation to Fund-Linked Notes or the return, in relation to Fund-Linked Securities (together with the Fund-Linked Notes, "Fund-Linked Program Securities") is linked to the performance of a unit, share or other interest in a fund (each, a "Fund Interest") or a basket of Fund Interests. Such funds may include mutual funds or any other types of fund in any jurisdiction, or any combination of the foregoing. Investments offering direct or indirect exposure to the performance of funds are generally considered to be particularly risky and may bear similar risks, including but not limited to, market risks in relation to a direct investment in funds.

Prospective investors should note that payments on redemption or termination of Fund-Linked Program Securities at maturity, expiration, early redemption or early termination may be postponed, in accordance with the Conditions, up to any specified long stop date. If the specified long stop date is reached, for the purposes of determining the Redemption Amount or any other such payment or settlement amounts, as applicable, the affected fund interests may be deemed to have a zero value. Prospective investors should also be aware that if one or more events occurs in relation to the Fund or any Fund Service Provider, including insolvency of the Fund or Fund Service Provider, then where "Fund Event Unscheduled Redemption" or "Fund Event Unscheduled Termination" (as applicable) is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the relevant Issuer may, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether the Fund-Linked Program Securities will continue or whether they will be redeemed or terminated on a date other than the scheduled Maturity Date or Expiration Date (as applicable). If the relevant Issuer determines that the Fund-Linked Program Securities will continue, this may result in the substitution of the affected Fund Interest with other Fund Interests with similar characteristics or adjustments to the Conditions of the Program Securities to account for the occurrence of the relevant event. These actions may have an adverse effect on the return and risk profile of the relevant Fund-Linked Program Securities, and consequently, the value of such Fund-Linked Program Securities and if the Fund-Linked Program Securities are redeemed or terminated early the amount investors receive may be considerably less than their original investment and may even be zero.

Neither the Issuer nor the Determination Agent has any obligation to monitor and/or determine if a Fund Event has occurred at any time or to take any action in respect thereof. In certain circumstances, it may be the case that if action were taken by the Issuer or the Determination Agent at a different time or at all, amounts due to holders or the terms of any other adjustment made to the Program Securities would have resulted in a higher return to investors.

The risks associated with investing in Fund-Linked Program Securities are similar to the risks attached to a direct investment in the underlying fund or funds. There are substantial risks in directly or indirectly investing in funds including, without limitation, the risks set out below. Prospective investors should note that references to funds below can refer both to the funds referenced in any Fund-Linked Program Securities and also to any funds in which any of those funds invests its assets from time to time:

Investments risks that prospective investors should be aware of include the following:

- i. different types of funds are subject to differing levels of regulatory supervision.
- ii. funds may have varying restrictions on leverage. Leverage presents the potential for a higher rate of return but also increases the volatility of the fund and increases the risk of a total loss of the amount invested.
- iii. funds may have differing investment restrictions and some funds may invest in assets which are illiquid or difficult to transfer. This may have an effect on the realisation of such assets and in turn, the value and performance of the fund. In addition, a fund's assets or investments may be concentrated in a few markets, countries, industries, commodities, sectors of an economy or issuers. If so, adverse movements in a particular market, country, industry, commodity, economy or industry or in the value of the securities of a particular issuer could have a severely negative effect on the value of such a fund. In addition, a fund may use a single advisor or employ a single strategy, which could mean a lack of diversification and higher risk.
- iv. substantial redemptions by holders of Fund Interests in a fund within a short period of time could require the fund's investment manager(s) and/or advisor(s) to liquidate positions more rapidly than would otherwise be desirable, which could adversely affect the value of the fund's assets.
- v. the performance of a fund will be heavily dependent on the performance of investments selected by its advisors or investment managers and the skill and expertise of such fund service providers in making successful and profitable investment decisions. Such skill and expertise may be concentrated in a number of the advisor's or investment manager's key personnel. Should these key personnel leave or become no longer associated with the fund's advisor or investment manager, the value or profitability of the fund's investments may be adversely affected as a result.

Program Securities linked to the performance of futures contracts

The Issuers may issue Notes, Warrants or Certificates, where the redemption amount or, if applicable, the interest amount is linked to the performance of a futures contract (a "Futures Contract") or a basket of Futures Contracts (respectively "Single Futures Contract Notes", "Futures Contract Basket Notes" (and together with Single Futures Contract Notes, "Futures Contract-Linked Notes"), "Single Futures Contract Securities" and "Futures Contract Basket Securities" (and together with Single Futures Contract Securities, "Futures Contract-Linked Securities")). The underlying of such Futures Contracts may include equity indices (including equity indices giving exposure to dividends paid by the constituent companies or the volatility of those constituent companies), single stocks, foreign exchange rates, bonds, cryptocurrencies or other types of underlying asset(s), contracts or property. It is important that an investor in Program Securities linked to the performance of futures contracts understands the contract specification of the relevant Futures Contract(s), including the applicable underlying(s) and term for which exposure is given.

The risks associated with investing in Futures Contract-Linked Notes or Futures Contract Linked-Securities are similar to the risks attached to a direct investment in the relevant futures contract(s). There are substantial risks in directly or indirectly investing in futures contracts including, without limitation, the risks set out below.

Investment risks that prospective investors should be aware of include the following:

- (a) The value of the Futures Contract(s) underlying the Program Securities may vary over time and may increase or decrease by reference to a variety of factors which include the factors affecting any underlying of the Futures Contract(s) such as:

- the expectations of performance and the actual performance in relation to the underlying of the Futures Contract or the constituent assets of any index or indices underlying the Futures Contract from time to time;
- in the case of an index underlying the Futures Contract, any changes in the constituents of that index;
- market interest and yield rates;
- economic, political, structural supply and demand and macro-economic factors;
- changes in applicable law and regulation; and
- in the case of Program Securities linked to dividend Futures Contracts (the value of which typically tracks dividends paid by the constituent companies of the underlying equity index during a specified time period), the dividend policy of the relevant constituent companies of the related underlying index and the terms as to which dividends are relevant realised dividends (which often exclude special or extraordinary dividends). Investors should be aware that such constituent companies may pay reduced relevant dividends or no such dividends in respect of the relevant contract period or dividends that may bear no relation to dividends paid during a prior contract period.

In addition, the value of Future Contract(s) also depends on factors relating to the relevant Futures Contract itself, such as the time remaining to the final settlement date or expiration date (as the case may be), and the liquidity of such Futures Contract(s), the contract specification (including, without limitation, where the underlying of such Future Contract is cryptocurrency(ies), how the Future Contract deals with a hard-fork in respect of a cryptocurrency) and the terms of the relevant underlying(s).

Prior to purchasing Futures Contract-Linked Notes or Futures Contract Linked-Securities, prospective investors should ensure they are familiar with investments in global capital markets and with derivatives generally, and carefully consider such factors, as the value of the Futures Contract(s) will affect the return on the Program Securities.

- (b) The Program Securities give rise to obligations of the Issuer and will not give rise to any obligations or rights in respect of the Futures Contract(s) or any underlying(s) of the Futures Contract(s). The return on investment may have been higher if made in the Futures Contract(s) or underlying(s) of the Futures Contract(s) rather than by purchasing the Program Securities.
- (c) The performance of a similar futures contract or its underlying(s) over a prior contract period will not necessarily be indicative of the performance of the relevant Futures Contract(s) to which the Program Securities relate.

Risk Factors relating to cryptocurrency linked ETF-Linked and Futures Contracts-Linked Notes and Securities

The Issuers may issue Program Securities linked to the performance of either (1) an ETF or basket of ETFs or (2) a Futures Contract or a basket of Futures Contracts, where the relevant ETF(s) or Futures Contract(s) (as the case may be) are linked to cryptocurrencies (such Program Securities, "Crypto-Linked Program Securities").

A cryptocurrency is a digital asset whose origin is derived from a blockchain, including digital currencies. Bitcoin and Ethereum are among the most widely used cryptocurrencies.

Bitcoin is a decentralised, non-regulated virtual currency, and a worldwide payment system without a central bank or any other central (state) authority. The Bitcoin currency network was released as an open-source software in 2009 to secure payment transactions via the internet from user to user over a peer-to-peer network without any intermediaries. Transactions will be documented in a publicly managed account book labelled "blockchain".

Ethereum is a cryptocurrency based on an open-source, blockchain-based, decentralised software platform (also called Ethereum).

- (i) Cryptocurrencies are a relatively new technological innovation with a limited operating history

Cryptocurrencies have a relatively limited history of existence and operations compared to traditional commodities. There is a limited established performance record for the price of cryptocurrencies and, in turn, a limited basis for evaluating an investment in them. Although past performance is not necessarily indicative of future results, if cryptocurrencies had a more established history, such history might (or might not) provide investors with more information on which to evaluate an investment in the Crypto-Linked Securities.

(ii) The price of cryptocurrencies is highly volatile and subject to fluctuations due to a number of factors

The value of both cryptocurrency linked ETF(s) and cryptocurrency linked Futures Contract(s) (each being a "Crypto Linked Underlying") are linked to the value of the underlying cryptocurrency and therefore fluctuations in the price of such cryptocurrency could adversely affect the value of any such ETF or Futures Contract. The price of cryptocurrencies is highly volatile, and subject to a number of factors, which individually or together could impact their price, including (without limitation):

- (a) an increase in the global supply or a decrease in the global demand of the relevant cryptocurrency;
- (b) market conditions of, and overall sentiment towards, the digital assets and blockchain technology industry;
- (c) trading activity on digital assets exchanges, which, in many cases, are largely unregulated or may be subject to manipulation;
- (d) forks in the Bitcoin or relevant cryptocurrency network;
- (e) investors' expectations with respect to interest rates, the rates of inflation of fiat currencies or the relevant cryptocurrency and digital asset exchange rates;
- (f) consumer preferences and perceptions of the relevant cryptocurrency specifically and digital assets generally;
- (g) negative events including business failures and bankruptcies, publicity and social media coverage relating to the relevant cryptocurrency and blockchain technology industry;
- (h) fiat currency withdrawal and deposit policies on digital asset exchanges;
- (i) monetary policies of governments, legislation or regulations, trade restrictions and regulatory measures or enforcement actions, if any, that restrict the use of cryptocurrencies as a form of payment or the purchase of cryptocurrencies;
- (j) global or regional political, economic or financial conditions, events and situations, such as the Covid-19 outbreak;
- (k) financial strength of market participants;
- (l) availability of funding and cost of capital; and
- (m) interruptions in service from or closures or failures of major digital asset exchanges or their banking partners, or outages or system failures affecting a cryptocurrency network.

Due to the extremely high volatility of cryptocurrencies, the value of Crypto Linked Underlying(s) may change significantly on a frequent basis, and even multiple times within the same trading day. In addition, there is no assurance that cryptocurrencies will maintain their value in the long, intermediate or short term. A decline in the price of the relevant cryptocurrency may negatively impact the value of the Crypto Linked Underlying(s), which may adversely affect, the value of the Crypto-Linked Securities.

Holders of the Crypto-Linked Securities should be able to actively monitor and manage the performance of cryptocurrencies in order to manage the performance of the Crypto-Linked Securities that they hold. Holders who are not able to do so or who do not have sufficient time to do so may not be able to react quickly enough in the event of an unfavourable performance, which could result in them losing all or a significant portion of their investment.

(iii) The trading price of cryptocurrencies has experienced extreme volatility in recent periods

The trading prices of many digital assets, including cryptocurrencies, have experienced extreme volatility in recent periods and may continue to do so. Digital asset prices, including cryptocurrencies, continued to experience significant and sudden changes throughout 2021 followed by steep decreases in the fourth quarter of 2021, and throughout 2022. In particular, digital asset prices experienced extreme volatility from November 2022 when FTX Trading Ltd. ("FTX"), a digital asset trading platform, halted customer withdrawals and subsequently filed for insolvency. The price of cryptocurrencies, along with other digital assets, has continued to fluctuate to date.

Extreme volatility in the future, including further declines in the trading prices of cryptocurrencies, could have a material adverse effect on the value of Crypto Linked Underlyings. Furthermore, a lack of regulatory clarity may reduce confidence in the digital asset economy and may result in greater volatility (and potential depreciation) in the price of cryptocurrencies. Each of the foregoing may adversely affect the value of the Crypto-Linked Securities.

- (iv) Cryptocurrencies may have concentrated ownership and large sales or distributions could have an adverse effect their market price

The largest cryptocurrency wallets are believed to hold, in aggregate, a significant percentage of certain cryptocurrencies in circulation. As a result of this concentration of ownership, large sales or distributions by such holders could have an adverse effect on the price of cryptocurrencies and, therefore, the performance of Crypto Linked Underlying(s), this in turn may adversely affect the value of Crypto-Linked Securities.

- (v) The price of cryptocurrencies may be adversely affected by their fundamental investment characteristics and the underlying blockchain technology

The fundamental investment characteristics of cryptocurrencies and their underlying technology such may negatively impact its price, including (without limitation):

- (a) digital asset networks are dependent upon the internet. A disruption of the internet or a cryptocurrency network would affect the ability to transfer such cryptocurrency and consequently its price;
- (b) a cryptocurrency network's protocol may be informally managed by a group of core developers that propose amendments to the network's source code. To the extent that a significant majority of users and miners adopt amendments to the cryptocurrency network, the network will be subject to new protocols that may adversely affect the price of such cryptocurrency;
- (c) the cryptography underlying a cryptocurrency could prove to be flawed or ineffective, or developments in mathematics and/or technology, including advances in digital computing, algebraic geometry and quantum computing, could result in such cryptography becoming ineffective. The functionality of a cryptocurrency network may be negatively affected such that it is no longer attractive to users, thereby dampening demand for the cryptocurrency and reducing its price;
- (d) a cryptocurrency network may face significant scaling challenges and may periodically be upgraded with various features designed to increase the speed and throughput of cryptocurrency transactions. These attempts to increase the volume of transactions may not be effective, and such upgrades may fail, resulting in potentially irreparable damage to the cryptocurrency network and to the price of the cryptocurrency; and
- (e) the market price of cryptocurrencies is not based on any kind of claim or physical asset, and depends on the expectation of being usable in future transactions and continued interest from investors, which may be affected by the development of cryptocurrency capabilities and blockchain technology generally.

A decline in the price of cryptocurrencies as a result of any of the above factors may impact the value of Crypto Linked Underlying(s), which may adversely affect a holders return under Crypto-Linked Securities.

- (vi) Competition from the emergence or growth of other digital assets or methods of investing in digital assets could have a negative impact on the price of competing cryptocurrencies

Competition from the emergence or growth of alternative digital assets and smart contracts platforms could have a negative impact on the demand for, and price of, existing cryptocurrencies and thereby adversely affect the value of Crypto Linked Underlying(s), which may adversely affect the value of Crypto-Linked Securities.

In addition, central banks in various countries have introduced digital forms of legal tender ("CBDCs"). Whether or not they incorporate blockchain or similar technology, CBDCs, as legal tender in the issuing jurisdiction, could have an advantage in competing with, or replacing, cryptocurrencies as a medium of exchange or store of value. As a result of this increased competition, the demand for cryptocurrencies could decrease which could adversely affect their market price and, therefore, the value of Crypto Linked Underlying(s), which in turn may adversely affect the value of Crypto-Linked Securities.

- (vii) If the profit margins of a cryptocurrency's mining operations are not sufficiently high, this could negatively impact the price of such cryptocurrency

Over the past decade, cryptocurrency mining operations have evolved from individual users mining with computer processors, graphics processing units and first-generation application specific integrated circuit machines to "professionalised" mining operations using proprietary hardware or sophisticated machines. If the profit margins of cryptocurrency mining operations are not sufficiently high, including due to an increase in electricity costs or a decline in the market price of such cryptocurrency, or if cryptocurrency mining operations are unable to arrange alternative sources of financing (e.g., if lenders refuse to make loans to such miners), such cryptocurrency miners may be more likely to immediately sell their cryptocurrency holding, resulting in an increase in liquid supply of cryptocurrency. This may lead to a decline in the market price of cryptocurrencies, which in turn could negatively impact the value of Crypto Linked Underlying(s). This may adversely affect the value of Crypto-Linked Securities, which may result in a reduced return for holders under Crypto-Linked Securities.

- (viii) If a malicious actor or botnet obtains control of over a cryptocurrency network through its processing power, influence over core developers or otherwise, such actor or botnet could manipulate the cryptocurrency blockchain

If a malicious actor or botnet (a volunteer or hacked collection of computers controlled by networked software coordinating the actions of the computers) obtains a majority of the processing power dedicated to mining on a cryptocurrency network, it may be able to alter the relevant blockchain on which transactions in such cryptocurrency rely by constructing fraudulent blocks or preventing certain transactions from completing in a timely manner, or at all. For example, in August 2020, the Ethereum Classic Network was the target of attacks by an unknown actor or actors that gained more than 50% of the processing power of the Ethereum Classic network that allowed the attacker or attackers to reverse previously recorded transactions in excess of $5.0 million and $1.0 million.

Attacks on cryptocurrency networks could negatively impact the market price of cryptocurrencies and, in turn, the value of Crypto Linked Underlying(s). This may adversely affect the value of Crypto-Linked Securities.

The regulation and reform of "benchmarks" may adversely affect the value of and return on Program Securities linked to or referencing such "benchmarks"

Regulation (EU) 2016/1011 on indices used as benchmarks in financial instruments and financial contracts or to measure the performance of investment funds (as amended) (the "EU Benchmark Regulation") was published in the Official Journal of the EU on 29 June 2016 and most provisions have applied, subject to certain transitional provisions, since 1 January 2018. The EU Benchmark Regulation has been amended several times, most recently by Regulation (EU) 2025/914 which applied as of 1 January, 2026. Whilst the core obligations of the amended regime remain broadly aligned to the former regime (and the UK Benchmarks Regulation (as defined below)), one of the key changes to the regime is that only benchmarks perceived to have the greatest economic relevance for the EU market (based on quantitative or qualitative criteria) will be in mandatory scope of the core provisions of the new regime. Such benchmarks will be those defined as critical (such as EURIBOR, STIBOR, WIBOR and NIBOR) or significant (determined based on quantitative or qualitative criteria), EU Climate Transition Benchmarks, EU Paris-aligned Benchmarks and certain commodity benchmarks each of which will remain in scope of the mandatory application of the core provisions of the revised EU Benchmark Regulation. An exemption will apply for certain FX benchmarks. Other benchmarks have fallen out of mandatory EU Benchmarks Regulation scope (other than certain limited provisions including in relation to statutory replacement of a benchmark, connected with cessation and/or non-representativeness). EU administrators of benchmarks that do not exceed the quantitative thresholds for significance may however request voluntary application of the rules (opt-in) subject to certain conditions, including an EUR 20 billion eligibility threshold.

Following the end of the Brexit transitional period at 11.00 p.m. (London time) on 31 December 2020 the EU Benchmark Regulation in its then current form was saved into UK domestic law subject to a number of modifications and subsequent amendments (the "UK Benchmark Regulation" and, together with the EU Benchmark Regulation, the "Benchmark Regulations"). Like the EU Benchmark Regulation, among other things it (i) requires UK benchmark administrators to be authorised or registered (or, if non-UK based, benefit from equivalence, recognition or endorsement) and to comply with extensive requirements in relation to the administration of benchmarks and (subject to certain transitional provisions) (ii) prohibits the use by UK supervised entities of benchmarks of administrators that are not authorised by the UK Financial Conduct Authority (the "FCA") or registered on the FCA register (or, if non-UK based, do not benefit from equivalence, recognition or endorsement).

The scope of the UK Benchmark Regulation is wide and, in addition to so-called "critical benchmark" indices, such as WMR Closing Spot Rate and ICE Swap Rate® applies to many interest rates, foreign exchange rates and indices (including equity, commodity and "proprietary" indices or strategies) where used to determine the amount payable under or the value or performance of certain financial instruments traded on a trading venue (UK regulated market, UK multilateral trading facility ("MTF") or UK organised trading facility ("OTF")) or via a systematic internaliser, certain financial contracts and certain investment funds. The requirements of the UK Benchmark Regulation are intended to take into account the systemic significance, perceived risk profile and certain other relevant characteristics of different types of benchmarks.

The Benchmark Regulations could have a material impact on any Program Securities linked to or referencing a "benchmark" in scope of a Benchmark Regulation. For example:

- a rate or index which is a "benchmark" in scope of a Benchmark Regulation may not be used in certain ways by a supervised entity if (subject to applicable transitional provisions) its administrator does not obtain or maintain authorisation or registration (or, if a non-EU or non-UK (as the case may be) entity, its administrator/the benchmark does not satisfy the "equivalence" conditions, and is not "recognised" or endorsed pending an equivalence decision). If the benchmark administrator does not obtain or maintain (as applicable) such authorisation or registration or, if a non-EU entity, "equivalence" is not available and it is not recognised and the benchmark is not endorsed, then the Program Securities may be redeemed prior to maturity; and
- the methodology or other terms of an in-scope "benchmark" could be changed in order to comply with the requirements of the relevant Benchmark Regulation, and such changes could reduce or increase the rate or level or affect the volatility of the published rate or level, and (depending on the terms of the particular Program Securities) could lead to adjustments to the terms of the Program Securities as the Determination Agent deems necessary or appropriate.

Investors should note that benchmarks that fell out of scope of the revised EU Benchmarks Regulation regime (which have not been opted-in) are no longer regulated in the same way from 1 January 2026. This means that previously mandatory requirements, for example, regulating governance, conflicts of interest, oversight functions, input data requirements, methodology and transparency of the methodology, requirements for contributors and in relation to input data, have fallen away. Among other things, there is a risk that this could mean that the methodology of such benchmarks may become less robust, resilient or transparent (potentially being capable of being materially amended without consultation). This may reduce or increase or affect the volatility of the level of such benchmarks, or if the methodology is materially amended, trigger the applicable fallbacks that are contained in Conditions 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) to 7.20 (General Fallback Arrangements) and/or Conditions 21.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) to 21.11 (General Fallback Arrangements) of the terms and conditions of the English law Notes, or Conditions 18.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) to 18.11 (General Fallback Arrangements) of the terms and conditions of the Warrants and Certificates (as applicable) having the consequences and risks described below.

Investors should also note that under the EU Benchmark Regulation the transitional provisions applicable to third-country benchmarks expired on 31 December 2025, although (in summary) if ESMA received an application for recognition or endorsement of a third country administrator providing an EU Paris-aligned Benchmark, an EU Climate Transition Benchmark, or an in-scope commodity benchmark by such date, the benchmark concerned can be used in any in-scope existing and new financial instruments and financial contracts, unless and until the administrator's application is refused. In the case of a significant third country benchmark, such benchmark can be used by in scope supervised entities in existing and new financial instruments unless and until a public notice has been issued by ESMA in respect of such benchmark under the EU Benchmarks Regulation. This means that, in the same way that EU administrators require authorisation or registration, third country administrators will need to benefit from recognition, endorsement or equivalence for supervised entities to add a new reference to an EU

Paris-aligned, EU Climate Transition or in-scope commodity benchmarks in any in-scope instruments. Third country administrators of in-scope significant benchmarks will also need to benefit from recognition, endorsement or equivalence, to avoid publication of a public notice meaning that supervised entities cannot add new references to such significant benchmarks in any in-scope instrument and triggering certain restrictions in relation to ongoing use of such benchmarks in existing in-scope instruments.

The UK Benchmark Regulation is also expected to be repealed and reformed in the near future. HM Treasury launched a consultation on a new regime for benchmarks and benchmark administrators in December 2025 (the proposed Specified Authorised Benchmarks Regime ("SABR")). It is likely that SABR will replace the UK Benchmark Regulation in due course and that the scope of the UK regime will be significantly reduced to cover only systemically important benchmarks. However, these proposals are still at consultation stage and it remains to be seen what the final rules will be and the impact any such changes may have on the Program Securities.

Any of the international or national reforms, or the general increased regulatory scrutiny of "benchmarks", could increase the costs and risks of administering or otherwise participating in the setting of a "benchmark" and complying with any such regulations or requirements. Such factors may have the following effects on certain "benchmarks": (i) discourage market participants from continuing to administer or contribute to the "benchmark"; (ii) trigger changes in the rules or methodologies used in the "benchmark" and/or (iii) lead to the disappearance of the "benchmark". Any of the above changes or any other consequential changes as a result of international or national reforms or other initiatives or investigations, could have a material adverse effect on the value of and return on any Program Securities linked to or referencing a "benchmark" and the Determination Agent may be entitled to make corresponding adjustments to the conditions of the Program Securities.

Reform of EURIBOR and Other Interest Rate Index and Equity, Commodity and Foreign Exchange Rate Index "Benchmarks"

The Euro Interbank Offered Rate ("EURIBOR") and other indices which are deemed "benchmarks" have been the subject of national, international and other regulatory guidance and reform aimed at enhancing the governance, accountability, quality, integrity and transparency of benchmark design, determination and methodologies and supporting the transition to robust benchmarks. Many reforms have now reached their planned conclusion (including the transition away from London interbank offered rates ("LIBOR"), and "benchmarks" remain subject to ongoing monitoring. These reforms may cause such "benchmarks" to perform differently than in the past, or to disappear entirely, or have other consequences which cannot be predicted. Any such consequence could have a material adverse effect on any Program Securities linked to a "benchmark".

Swap Rates may be materially amended or discontinued

Publication of many IBOR-based swap rates (such as the USD LIBOR ICE Swap Rate, the GBP LIBOR ICE Swap Rate and the JPY LIBOR Tokyo Swap Rate) have ceased and been replaced with new swap rates based on risk free rates, such as USD SOFR ICE Swap Rate, and GBP SONIA ICE Swap Rate. Whilst there is also a EUR-€STR Swap Rate, EURIBOR is still used as the floating leg in the calculation of the EUR EURIBOR Swap Rate and other IBORs that are still in existence may still be used in other swap rates (collectively, the "Swap Rates", and each a "Swap Rate") and these may be used as CMS Reference Rates, Underlying CMS Reference Rates, other Relevant Rates Benchmarks or other Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmarks, in respect of the Program Securities (as applicable). Consequently, if EURIBOR and/or other relevant "IBORs" are discontinued, it may not be possible to calculate the relevant Swap Rate(s), and the Swap Rate may be discontinued. The occurrence of these events may trigger the applicable fallbacks that are contained in Conditions 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) to 7.20 (General Fallback Arrangements) and/or Conditions 21.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) to 21.11 (General Fallback Arrangements) of the terms and conditions of the English law Notes, or Conditions 18.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) to 18.11 (General Fallback Arrangements) of the terms and conditions of the Warrants and Certificates (as applicable) having the consequences and risks described below.

EURIBOR, CMS Reference Rates, SOFR, SONIA, €STR, SARON, TONA and other benchmark rate discontinuance or prohibition on use may lead to adjustments to the terms of the Program Securities or an early redemption or termination of the Program Securities

Fallback arrangements under (1) English Law Notes (A) where (i) the Relevant Rates Benchmark is other than SOFR or a CMS Reference Rate, and (ii) the provisions of Condition 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) are applicable or (B) where (i) the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark is other than SOFR or a CMS Underlying Reference Rate, and (ii) the provisions of Condition 21.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) are applicable; or (2) Warrants or Certificates where (i) the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark is other than SOFR or a CMS Underlying Reference Rate, and (ii) the provisions of Condition 18.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) are applicable

Where any variable by reference to which interest (in the case of Notes only) or amounts payable on redemption or settlement is payable under the Program Securities is an index, benchmark, rate or price source which is specified in the Conditions as a "Relevant Rates Benchmark" or "Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark", the administrator or sponsor (or the Relevant Rates Benchmark or Relevant Underlying Rate Benchmark, as the case may be) may be required to be authorised, registered, recognised, endorsed or otherwise included in an official register in order for the Issuer, the Determination Agent or the Calculation Agent to be permitted to use the Relevant Rates Benchmark or Relevant Underlying Rate Benchmark (as applicable) in certain ways and potentially to perform their respective obligations under the Notes. If the Determination Agent determines that such a requirement applies to the administrator or sponsor (or the Relevant Rates Benchmark) but it has not been satisfied, and if the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the provisions of Condition 7.18 or Condition 21.9 of the terms and conditions of the English law Notes, or Condition 18.9 of the terms and conditions of the Warrants and Certificates (each such Condition headed Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) are applicable, then an "Administrator/Benchmark Event" will occur.

In order to address the risk of an Administrator/Benchmark Event occurring and the risk of discontinuance of reference rates, the Conditions include certain fallback provisions. These provisions apply to "Relevant Rates Benchmarks" and "Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmarks" (which will include EURIBOR, SONIA, €STR, SARON and TONA and other similar interbank rates). Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Rate of Interest or other applicable rate is to be determined, the fallbacks described below will only apply after application of any ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks specified in the relevant Floating Rate Option to apply and the application of such ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks fails to provide a means of determining the relevant Floating Rate.

The fallback provisions will be triggered if the Determination Agent determines that (i) the administrator or regulatory supervisor (or other applicable regulatory body) in connection with such Relevant Rates Benchmark or Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmarks (as applicable) announces that the administrator has ceased or will cease permanently or indefinitely to provide such Relevant Rates Benchmark or Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmarks, as the case may be, and there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Relevant Rates Benchmark or Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmarks or (ii) unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an Administrator/Benchmark Event occurs in relation to such Relevant Rates Benchmark or Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmarks, as the case may be.

Following the occurrence of any of these events the Determination Agent may replace the Relevant Rates Benchmark or Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmarks with any "Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate" which has been specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or if no Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, with an alternative rate that is consistent with accepted market practice (the Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate or any such other alternative rate, the "Alternative Rate"). If an Alternative Rate is used then the Determination Agent may also make other adjustments to the Notes, including to the new Alternative Rate and to the Margin, which are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such Alternative Rate for debt obligations such as the Notes. If the Determination Agent is unable to identify an Alternative Rate and determine the necessary adjustments to the terms of the Notes then the Issuer may redeem the Notes. The replacement of the Relevant Rates Benchmark or Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmarks, as the case may be, by an Alternative Rate and the making of other adjustments to the relevant Program Securities and other determinations, decisions or elections that may be made under the terms of such Program Securities in connection with the replacement of a Relevant Rates Benchmark or Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmarks (as applicable) could adversely affect the value of the relevant Program Securities, the return on such Program Securities and the price at which the holder can sell such Program Securities. Any early redemption or termination of the relevant Program Securities will result in the holder losing any future return on such Program Securities and may result in the holder incurring a loss on its investment in the relevant Program Securities.

Any determination or decision of the Determination Agent described above will be made in the Determination Agent's discretion (in some cases after consultation with the Issuer).

Potential investors in any Program Securities that reference a Relevant Rates Benchmark or Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmarks (other than SOFR for the purposes of this risk factor) should be aware that (i) the composition and characteristics of the Alternative Rate will not be the same as those of the Relevant Rates Benchmark or Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark which it replaces, the Alternative Rate will not be the economic equivalent of the Relevant Rates Benchmark or Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark that it replaces, there can be no assurance that the Alternative Rate will perform in the same way as the Relevant Rates Benchmark or Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark that it replaces would have at any time and there is no guarantee that the Alternative Rate will be a comparable substitute for the Relevant Rates Benchmark or Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark which it replaces, (each of which means that the replacement of the Relevant Rates Benchmark or Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark, as the case may be, by the Alternative Rate could adversely affect the value of the relevant Program Securities, the return on such Program Securities and the price at which the holder can sell such Program Securities), (ii) any failure of the Alternative Rate to gain market acceptance could adversely affect the relevant Program Securities, (iii) the Alternative Rate may have a very limited history and the future performance of the Alternative Rate cannot be predicted based on historical performance, (iv) the secondary trading market for Program Securities linked to the Alternative Rate may be limited and (v) the administrator of the Alternative Rate may make changes that could change the value of the Alternative Rate or discontinue the Alternative Rate and has no obligation to consider the holder's interests in doing so.

Fallback arrangements under (a) English Law Notes (b) Warrants or Certificates and (c) New York Law Notes where the Relevant Rates Benchmark, Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark or the Base Rate (as applicable) is SOFR: If SOFR is discontinued, any Program Securities referencing SOFR will bear interest or otherwise pay amounts determined by reference to a different base rate, which could adversely affect the value of the relevant Program Securities, the return on such Program Securities and the price at which the holder can sell such Program Securities; there is no guarantee that any Benchmark Replacement will be a comparable substitute for SOFR.

If the Issuer or its designee determines that a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred in respect of SOFR (in the case of Program Securities referencing SOFR) or the Base Rate (with the applicable Index Maturity) (as applicable), then the relevant rate under the Program Securities will no longer be determined by reference to SOFR, but instead will be determined by reference to a different base rate, which will be a different benchmark than SOFR, plus a spread adjustment, which is referred to as a "Benchmark Replacement", as further described in the relevant terms and conditions.

If a particular Benchmark Replacement or Benchmark Replacement Adjustment cannot be determined, then the next available Benchmark Replacement or Benchmark Replacement Adjustment will apply. These replacement rates and adjustments may be selected, recommended or formulated by (i) the Relevant Governmental Body, (ii) ISDA or (iii) in certain circumstances, the Issuer or its designee. In addition, the terms of the relevant Program Securities expressly authorize the Issuer or its designee to make Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes with respect to, among other things, changes to the definition of "interest period" or "reference period" (as applicable), timing and frequency of determining rates and making payments of interest and/or principal, and other administrative matters. The determination of a Benchmark Replacement, the calculation of amounts payable under the Program Securities by reference to a Benchmark Replacement (including the application of a Benchmark Replacement Adjustment), any implementation of Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes and any other determinations, decisions or elections that may be made under the terms of the relevant Program Securities in connection with a Benchmark Transition Event could adversely affect the value of such Program Securities, the return on such Program Securities and the price at which the holder can sell such Program Securities.

Any determination, decision or election described above will be made in the Issuer's or its designee's sole discretion.

Potential investors in any Program Securities that reference SOFR should be aware that (i) the composition and characteristics of the Benchmark Replacement will not be the same as those of SOFR, the Benchmark Replacement will not be the economic equivalent of SOFR, there can be no assurance that the Benchmark Replacement will perform in the same way as SOFR would have at any time and there is no guarantee that the Benchmark Replacement will be a comparable substitute for SOFR (each of which means that a Benchmark Transition Event could adversely affect the value of the relevant Program Securities, the return on such Program Securities and the price at which the holder can sell such Program Securities), (ii) any failure of the Benchmark Replacement to gain market acceptance could adversely affect the relevant Program Securities, (iii) the Benchmark Replacement may have a very limited history and the future performance of the Benchmark Replacement cannot be predicted based on historical performance, (iv) the secondary trading market for Program Securities linked to the Benchmark Replacement may be limited and (v) the administrator of the Benchmark Replacement may make changes that could change the value of the Benchmark Replacement or discontinue the Benchmark Replacement and has no obligation to consider the holder's interests in doing so.

See also "Risk Factors relating to the Program Securities—Reform of EURIBOR and Other Interest Rate Index and Equity, Commodity and Foreign Exchange Rate Index "Benchmarks" and "—EURIBOR, SONIA, €STR, SARON, TONA and other interest rate benchmark discontinuance or prohibition on use may lead to adjustments to the terms of the Program Securities or an early redemption or termination of the Program Securities" above.

Fallback arrangements under English Law Notes, or Warrants or Certificates, where the Relevant Rates Benchmark is a CMS Reference Rate or where the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark is a CMS Underlying Reference Rate (as applicable): If the CMS Reference Rate or CMS Underlying Reference Rate is discontinued, any Program Securities referencing that CMS Reference Rate or CMS Underlying Reference Rate (as applicable) will bear interest (in the case of Notes only) or otherwise pay amounts, determined by reference to a different base rate, which could adversely affect the value of the relevant Program Securities, the return on the Program Securities and the price at which the holder can sell such Program Securities; there is no guarantee that any Benchmark Replacement will be a comparable substitute for the current CMS Reference Rate or CMS Underlying Reference Rate (as applicable)

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the provisions of (a) Condition 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) of the terms and conditions of the English law Notes or (b) Condition 21.9 of the terms and conditions of the English law Notes or Condition 18.9 of the terms and conditions of the Warrants and Certificates (each such Condition headed "Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use") are applicable to the relevant Program Securities and an Index Cessation Event and its related Index Cessation Effective Date (as each term is defined in Condition 7.19 (CMS Reference Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event) of the terms and conditions of the English law Notes, Condition 21.10 of the terms and conditions of the English law Notes and Condition 18.10 of the terms and conditions of the Warrants and Certificates (each such Condition headed "CMS Underlying Reference Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event") have occurred with respect to the applicable tenor of the CMS Reference Rate or CMS Underlying Reference Rate (as applicable), then the relevant rate on the Notes will no longer be determined by reference to the CMS Reference Rate. Instead the rate will be determined by reference to a different base rate, which will be a different benchmark than the initial or then current CMS Reference Rate or CMS Underlying Reference Rate (as applicable), which is referred to as a "Benchmark Replacement," plus any adjustment spread (which may be positive, negative or zero), all as further described in Condition 7.19 (CMS Reference Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event) of the terms and conditions of the English law Notes, Condition 21.10 of the terms and conditions of the English law Notes and Condition 18.10 of the terms and conditions of the Warrants and Certificates (each such Condition headed "CMS Underlying Reference Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event"), as applicable). In such a case, in the first instance, the rate will be determined based on any alternative reference rate, index or benchmark that is specified for such purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement (an "Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate"). In the absence of an Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate, the rate will be determined based on (1) the alternate rate that has been selected or recommended by the relevant governmental body or agency with jurisdiction over the then current CMS Reference Rate for the applicable index maturity, or (2) if no such rate of interest has been selected or recommended by such a governmental body or agency, the alternate rate of interest that has been selected by the Determination Agent as the replacement for the then-current CMS Reference Rate for the applicable index maturity giving due consideration to any industry-accepted rate of interest as a replacement for the then-current CMS Reference Rate or CMS Underlying Reference Rate (as applicable) denominated in the Index Currency at such time, including any alternate rate recommended by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. or any successor thereto. There can be no assurance that an alternative rate to the CMS Reference Rate or CMS Underlying Reference Rate (as applicable) will be selected or recommended by a governmental body or agency with the consequence that the replacement rate will be selected by the Determination Agent.

In addition, the relevant terms of the Program Securities expressly authorise the Determination Agent or its designee to make Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes with respect to, among other things, changes to the definition of "interest period" or "reference period" (as applicable), timing and frequency of determining rates and making payments of interest and/or principal, and other administrative matters. The determination of a Benchmark Replacement, the calculation of amounts payable under the Program Securities by reference to a Benchmark Replacement (including the determination by the Determination Agent of any "adjustment spread" that will be added or subtracted from the Benchmark Replacement), any implementation of Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes and any other determinations, decisions, selections or elections that may be made under the terms of the relevant Program Securities in connection with a Benchmark Transition Event could adversely affect the value of such Program Securities, the return on such Program Securities and the price at which the holder can sell such Program Securities.

Potential investors in any Program Securities that reference one or more CMS Reference Rates or CMS Underlying Reference Rates (as applicable) should be aware that (i) the composition and characteristics of the Benchmark Replacement will not be the same as those of the initial or then current CMS Reference Rate, the Benchmark Replacement will not be the economic equivalent of the initial or then current CMS Reference Rate or CMS Underlying Reference Rate (as applicable), there can be no assurance that the Benchmark Replacement will perform in the same way as such initial or then current CMS Reference Rate or CMS Underlying Reference Rate would have at any time and there is no guarantee that the Benchmark Replacement will be a comparable substitute for such initial or then current CMS Reference Rate or CMS Underlying Reference Rate (each of which means that an Index Cessation Event could adversely affect the value of the relevant Program Securities, the return on such Program Securities and the price at which the holder can sell such Program Securities), (ii) any failure of the Benchmark Replacement to gain market acceptance could adversely affect the relevant Program Securities, (iii) the Benchmark Replacement may have a very limited history and the future performance of the Benchmark Replacement cannot be predicted based on historical performance, (iv) the secondary trading market for Program Securities linked to the Benchmark Replacement may be limited and (v) the administrator of the Benchmark Replacement may make changes that could change the value of the Benchmark Replacement or discontinue the Benchmark Replacement and has no obligation to consider the holder's interests in doing so. If the implementation of any Benchmark Replacement or Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes results in a calculation of the CMS Reference Rate or CMS Underlying Reference Rate (as applicable) that is not consistent with market practice as determined by the Determination Agent, the Issuer may, in its reasonable discretion, redeem or terminate the Program Securities as of any later date.

Any determination, decision, selection or election described above that may be made by the Issuer, the Determination Agent or their respective designees will be made in such person's sole discretion.

Fallback arrangements - general

The application of any of these fallbacks may adversely affect the value of the holder's investment in the relevant Program Securities.

If (a) none of the fallbacks described above in "Fallback arrangements under (1) English Law Notes where (A) (i) the Relevant Rates Benchmark is other than SOFR or a CMS Reference Rate, (ii) the provisions of Condition 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) are applicable" or (B) where (i) the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark is other than SOFR or a CMS Underlying Reference Rate, and (ii) the provisions of Condition 21.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) are applicable; or (2) Warrants or Certificates where (i) the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark is other than SOFR or a CMS Underlying Reference Rate, and (ii) the provisions of Condition 18.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) are applicable, "Fallback arrangements under (a) English Law Notes (b) Warrants or Certificates and (c) New York Law Notes where the Relevant Rates Benchmark, Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark or the Base Rate (as applicable) is SOFR: If SOFR is discontinued, any Program Securities referencing SOFR will bear interest or otherwise pay amounts determined by reference to a different base rate, which could adversely affect the value of the relevant Program Securities, the return on such Program Securities and the price at which the holder can sell such Program Securities; there is no guarantee that any Benchmark Replacement will be a comparable substitute for SOFR" or "Fallback arrangements under English Law Notes, or Warrants or Certificates, where the Relevant Rates Benchmark is a CMS Reference Rate or where the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark is a CMS Underlying Reference Rate (as applicable): If the CMS Reference Rate or CMS Underlying Reference Rate is discontinued, any Program Securities referencing that CMS Reference Rate or CMS Underlying Reference Rate (as applicable) will bear interest (in the case of Notes only) or otherwise pay amounts, determined by reference to a different base rate, which could adversely affect the value of the relevant Program Securities, the return on the Program Securities and the price at which the holder can sell such Program Securities; there is no guarantee that any Benchmark Replacement will be a comparable substitute for the current CMS Reference Rate or CMS Underlying Reference Rate (as applicable)" applies; and (b) EURIBOR, SONIA, €STR, SARON or TONA has been permanently discontinued, the Determination Agent will use, as a substitute for EURIBOR, SONIA, €STR, SARON or TONA (as the case may be), and for each future Interest Determination Date or Underlying Rate Determination Date (as applicable), the alternative reference rate selected by the central bank, reserve bank, monetary authority or any similar institution (including any committee or working group thereof) in the jurisdiction of the applicable index currency that is consistent with accepted market practice. The Determination Agent will also make other adjustments to the Program Securities, including to the new rate and to the Margin or Spread, which are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such alternative rate for instruments such as the Program Securities. However, in the case of EURIBOR only, if the Determination Agent determines that no such alternative rate exists on the relevant date, it will make a determination of an alternative rate as a substitute for EURIBOR, for instruments such as the Program Securities, as well as other adjustments to the Program Securities, including to the new rate and to the Margin or Spread, that is consistent with accepted market practice.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Rate of Interest or the Underlying Rate (as applicable) is to be determined, the fallbacks described above will only apply after application of any ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks specified in the relevant Floating Rate Option to apply and the application of such ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks fails to provide a means of determining the relevant Floating Rate.

The replacement of EURIBOR, SONIA, €STR, SARON or TONA by an alternative rate and the making of other adjustments to the Notes and other determinations, decisions or elections that may be made under the terms of the relevant Program Securities in connection with the replacement of EURIBOR, SONIA, €STR, SARON or TONA could adversely affect the value of the such Program Securities, the return on such Program Securities and the price at which the holder can sell such Program Securities.

Any determination or decision described above will be made in the Determination Agent's discretion (after consultation with the Issuer).

Potential investors in any Program Securities that reference EURIBOR, SONIA, €STR, SARON or TONA should be aware that (i) the composition and characteristics of the alternative rate will not be the same as those of the Relevant Rates Benchmark, Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark or Base Rate (as applicable) which it replaces, the alternative rate will not be the economic equivalent of the Relevant Rates Benchmark, Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark or Base Rate (as applicable) that it replaces, there can be no assurance that the alternative rate will perform in the same way as the Relevant Rates Benchmark, Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark or Base Rate (as applicable) that it replaces would have at any time and there is no guarantee that the alternative rate will be a comparable substitute for the Relevant Rates Benchmark, Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark or Base Rate (as applicable) which it replaces, (each of which means that the replacement of the Relevant Rates Benchmark, Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark or Base Rate (as applicable) by the alternative rate could adversely affect the value of the relevant Program Securities, the return on such Program Securities and the price at which the holder can sell such Program Securities), (ii) any failure of the alternative rate to gain market acceptance could adversely affect such Program Securities, (iii) the alternative rate may have a very limited history and the future performance of the alternative rate cannot be predicted based on historical performance, (iv) the secondary trading market for Program Securities linked to the alternative rate may be limited and (v) the administrator of the alternative rate may make changes that could change the value of the alternative rate or discontinue the alternative rate and has no obligation to consider the holder's interests in doing so.

ISDA Determination and Fallbacks

In the case where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Rate of Interest or the Underlying Rate (as applicable) is to be determined, and the application of any ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks specified in the relevant Floating Rate Option results in a replacement of, modification to, or change in the method of calculating, the Floating Rate (or the index, benchmark or other price source that is referred to in the Floating Rate Option), the Determination Agent may, after consultation with the Issuer, determine any adjustments to the Floating Rate and the Margin (including any adjustment spread) as well as the applicable Business Day Convention, Interest Determination Dates (or any other rate fixing dates) and related provisions and definitions of the relevant Program Securities, in each case that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such replacement or modified Floating Rate for instruments such as the Program Securities. The making of such adjustments to the relevant Program Securities and other determinations could adversely affect the value of such Program Securities, the return on such Program Securities and the price at which the holder can sell such Program Securities.

Furthermore, if, at any time, the relevant ISDA Rate is specified as being the 10-year constant maturity French treasury rate (commonly referred to as CNO TEC10) published by the Bank of France and it ceases to represent the actual yield to maturity of a notional Obligation assimilable du Trésor ("OAT") with a maturity of exactly 10 years, the ISDA Rate will not be calculated in accordance with the standard ISDA Determination. Instead, for the purposes of the Conditions and in respect of the relevant Interest Period, the ISDA Rate shall be deemed to be the yield to maturity of a notional OAT with a maturity of exactly 10 years, as determined by the Determination Agent. Such determination may differ from the results that would be obtained under an ISDA Determination or from determinations made in the market under similar circumstances.

Specific risks relating to Program Securities referencing SOFR, SONIA, €STR, SARON or TONA

The following sets out a number of additional risks specific to Program Securities that reference SOFR, SONIA, €STR, SARON or TONA (each of which is referred to as a (nearly) risk free rate or an "RFR").

Certain RFRs have limited histories; the future performance of SOFR or SONIA cannot be predicted based on historical performance.

The publication of €STR began on 2 October 2019 and publication of SOFR began on 3 April 2018, and these RFRs therefore have limited histories. The publication of SONIA on the basis of its present methodology began on 24 April 2018. The publication of SARON began on 25 August 2009. In addition, the future performance of RFRs cannot be predicted based on the limited historical performance. The level of an RFR during the term of the Program Securities may bear little or no relation to its historical level. Prior observed patterns, if any, in the behaviour of market variables and their relation to an RFR, such as correlations, may change in the future. The future performance of an RFR is impossible to predict and therefore no future performance of an RFR or the Program Securities may be inferred from any of the historical performance or historical simulations. Hypothetical or historical performance data are not indicative of, and have no bearing on, the potential performance of an RFR or the Program Securities. Changes in the levels of the relevant RFR referenced by the Program Securities will affect the return on the Program Securities and the trading price of such Program Securities, but it is impossible to predict whether such levels will rise or fall. There can be no assurance that the relevant RFR referenced by the Program Securities will be positive.

The composition and characteristics of an RFR are not the same as those of historic LIBOR and there is no guarantee that an RFR is a comparable substitute for historic LIBOR.

In December 2016 the Japanese Study Group on Risk-Free Reference Rates announced TONA as its preferred risk free rate for Japanese yen. In April 2017 the Working Group on Sterling Risk-Free Reference Rates announced SONIA as its preferred risk-free rate for sterling. In June 2017, the ARRC announced SOFR as its recommended alternative to U.S. Dollar LIBOR. In October 2017 the Swiss National Working Group on Swiss Franc Reference Rates recommended SARON as the alternative to historic Swiss franc LIBOR. In September 2018 the Working Group on euro risk free rates recommended €STR as the euro risk free rate. However, the composition and characteristics of each of these RFRs are not the same as those of historic LIBOR.

SOFR is a broad Treasury repo financing rate that represents overnight secured funding transactions. SARON represents the overnight interest rate of the secured money market for Swiss francs. This means that each of SOFR and SARON is fundamentally different from LIBOR for two key reasons. First, each of SOFR and SARON is a secured rate, while historic LIBOR was an unsecured rate. Second, each of SOFR and SARON is an overnight rate, while historic LIBOR represented interbank funding over different maturities.

SONIA is a measure of the rate at which interest is paid on sterling short-term wholesale funds in circumstances where credit, liquidity and other risks are minimal. €STR is a rate which reflects the wholesale euro unsecured overnight borrowing costs of euro area banks. TONA represents the weighted average of call rates for uncollateralized overnight transactions in Japanese yen. While SONIA, €STR, TONA and LIBOR are all unsecured rates, SONIA, €STR and TONA are overnight rates unlike historic LIBOR which represented interbank funding over different maturities.

Whilst term versions of some RFRs have developed (for example, term SOFR and term SONIA rates), these are separate rates to the overnight RFRs and are not typically used in instruments such as the Program Securities which use the daily compounded RFR or the specified ISDA Rate (see "The rate under the Program Securities is based on a daily compounded RFR, which is relatively new in the marketplace; different conventions exist for calculation of amounts of interest and/or principal under RFR-linked Program Securities" below).

As a result, there can be no assurance that an RFR will perform in the same way as historic LIBOR would have at any time, including, without limitation, as a result of changes in interest and yield rates in the market, market volatility or global, national or regional economic, financial, political, regulatory, judicial or other events. For example, since publication of SOFR began on 3 April 2018, daily changes in SOFR have, on occasion, been more volatile than daily changes in comparable benchmark or other market rates. For additional information regarding SOFR, see "Secured Overnight Financing Rate" above.

The secondary trading market for Program Securities linked to an RFR may be limited.

Since some of the RFRs are relatively new market rates or have only recently been adopted as a benchmark rate for bonds, the trading market in instruments such as the Program Securities may not be very liquid. Market terms for instruments linked to an RFR (such as the Program Securities) may evolve over time and, as a result, trading prices of the Program Securities may be lower than those of later-issued instruments that are linked to the same RFR. Similarly, if an RFR does not prove to be widely used in instruments similar to the Program Securities, the trading price of the Program Securities may be lower than that of instruments linked to rates that are more widely used. Investors in the Program Securities may not be able to sell such Program Securities at all or may not be able to sell such Program Securities at prices that will provide them with a yield comparable to similar investments that have a developed secondary market. Further, investors wishing to sell the Program Securities in the secondary market will have to make assumptions as to the future performance of the relevant RFR. As a result, investors may suffer from increased pricing volatility and market risk.

The administrator of the relevant RFR may make changes that could change the value of the benchmark or discontinue the benchmark and has no obligation to consider holders' interests in doing so.

The New York Federal Reserve (or a successor), as administrator of SOFR, the Bank of England (or a successor), as administrator of SONIA, the European Central Bank (or a successor) as administrator of €STR, SIX Swiss Exchange AG (or a successor) as administrator of SARON or the Bank of Japan (or a successor) as administrator of TONA may make methodological or other changes that could change the value of the relevant RFR, including changes related to the method by which the relevant rate is calculated, eligibility criteria applicable to the transactions used to calculate the relevant rate, or timing related to the publication of the relevant rate. In addition, the administrator may alter, discontinue or suspend calculation or dissemination of the relevant RFR (in which case a fallback method of determining the relevant rate under the relevant Program Securities will apply). The administrator has no obligation to consider holders' interests in calculating, adjusting, converting, revising or discontinuing the relevant rate and any such calculations, adjustments, conversion, revision or discontinuation could adversely affect the return on the relevant Program Securities, the value of such Program Securities and the price at which the holder can sell such Program Securities.

The rate under the Program Securities is based on a daily compounded RFR, which is relatively new in the marketplace; different conventions exist for calculation of amounts of interest and/or principal under RFR-linked Program Securities

For each Interest Period or Reference Period (as applicable) for Program Securities linked to an RFR, the relevant rate under the Program Securities is based on a daily compounded RFR calculated using the specific formula specified in the applicable Conditions and the applicable Pricing Supplement, or the specified ISDA Rate not the RFR published on or in respect of a particular date during each such Interest Period or Reference Period (as applicable), or an average of the relevant RFRs during such period. For this and other reasons, the relevant rate under the Program Securities during any Interest Period or Reference Period (as applicable) will not be the same as the interest or other rate on other investments linked to the same RFR that use an alternative basis to determine the applicable rate. Further, unless in the case of an ISDA Rate "Daily Floored Rate" is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement and the Daily Floored Rate is zero or above, if the relevant RFR in respect of a particular date during an Interest Period or Reference Period (as applicable) is negative, the portion of the accrued compounded interest compounding factor specifically attributable to such date will be less than one, resulting in a reduction to the accrued interest compounding factor used to calculate the relevant amount payable under the Program Securities on the payment date for in respect of the relevant period.

Limited market precedent exists for securities that use SOFR and certain other RFRs as the interest or other rate and, in addition, for each RFR, different market conventions exist for calculating interest and other amounts on instruments such as the Program Securities. Accordingly, the specific formula for the daily compounded RFR used in the relevant Program Securities may not be widely adopted by other market participants, if at all. If the market adopts a different convention for calculating interest and/or any other amount payable, that would likely adversely affect the market value of such Program Securities.

The amount of interest payable under the Notes with respect to each Interest Period will be determined near the end of the Interest Period.

The amount of interest payable with respect to such Interest Period will be determined on a date near the end of such Interest Period, Noteholders will not know the amount of interest payable with respect to each such Interest

Period until shortly prior to the related Interest Payment Date and it may be difficult for Noteholders to reliably estimate the amount of interest that will be payable on each such Interest Payment Date.

The Issuer, its subsidiaries or affiliates may publish research that could affect the market value of the Program Securities. They also may hedge the Issuer's obligations under such Program Securities.

The Issuer or one or more of its affiliates may, at present or in the future, publish research reports with respect to movements in interest rates generally, or any of the RFRs specifically. This research is modified from time to time without notice and may express opinions or provide recommendations that are inconsistent with purchasing or holding the Program Securities. Any of these activities may affect the market value of such Program Securities. In addition, the issuer's subsidiaries may hedge the Issuer's obligations under the Program Securities and they may realize a profit from that hedging activity even if investors do not receive a favourable investment return under the terms of such Program Securities or in any secondary market transaction.

Reliance on third parties

Each RFR is published and calculated by third parties based on data received from other sources and none of the Issuer, the Determination Agent or the Calculation Agent has any control over the determinations, calculations or publications of any such third parties.

Market Adoption

The market or a significant part thereof may adopt an application of the relevant RFR (one using a different convention to calculating interest including using an RFR screen based rate) that differs significantly from that set out in the Conditions and used in relation to Program Securities that reference a risk-free rate issued under this Offering Circular and this may adversely affect the value of the Program Securities.

Potential investors in the Program Securities should carefully consider how any mismatch between the adoption of such reference rates in the bond, loan and derivatives markets may impact any hedging or other financial arrangements which they may put in place in connection with any acquisition, holding or disposal of any Program Securities.

Where "Payment Delay" applies, in determining the compounded RFR for the final Interest Period or Reference Period (as applicable), the level of the relevant RFR for any day from and including the relevant SOFR/SONIA/€STR/SARON/TONA Rate Cut-Off Date to but excluding the Maturity Date, redemption date or Expiration date, as applicable, will be the level of the relevant RFR in respect of such Rate Cut-off Date.

Where "Payment Delay" applies, for the final Interest Period or Reference Period, because the level of the relevant RFR for any day from and including the SOFR/SONIA/€STR/SARON/TONA Rate Cut-off Date to but excluding the Maturity Date, redemption date or Expiration Date, as applicable, will be the level of the relevant RFR in respect of such Rate Cut-Off Date, holders will not receive the benefit of any increase in the level in respect of the relevant RFR beyond the level for such date in connection with the determination of the amount payable with respect to such Interest Period or Reference Period (as applicable), which could adversely impact the amount payable with respect to the relevant period.

Prospective investors should review the relevant Conditions to ascertain whether and how such provisions apply to the Program Securities and what constitutes an Administrator/Benchmark Event.

Administrator/Benchmark Events

Where the Relevant Underlying or otherwise any variable by reference to which interest, principal or other amounts payable under the Program Securities is a "Relevant Benchmark" for the purposes of the relevant Conditions, the administrator or sponsor (or the Relevant Benchmark) may be required to be authorised, registered, recognised, endorsed or otherwise included in an official register or, in the case of a benchmark in scope of the amended EU Benchmark Regulation, not be the object of a public notice of non-compliance with such regulation, in order for the Issuer, the Determination Agent or the Calculation Agent to be permitted to use the Relevant Benchmark in certain ways and potentially to perform their respective obligations under the Program Securities. If the Determination Agent determines that such a requirement applies to the administrator or sponsor (or the Relevant Benchmark) but it has not been satisfied then an "Administrator/Benchmark Event" will occur and the Determination Agent or the Issuer may then apply certain fallbacks. For the avoidance of doubt, Administrator/Benchmark Events shall not apply where the Relevant Rates Benchmark, Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark or Base Rate (as applicable) is SOFR.

In the case where the Program Securities reference a Relevant Equity Index Benchmark, a Relevant Commodity Benchmark that is a Commodity Index or a Relevant Property Index Benchmark, these fallbacks may include one or more of the Determination Agent replacing the Relevant Equity Index Benchmark, the Relevant Commodity Benchmark or the Relevant Property Index Benchmark with any "Alternative Pre-nominated Index" which has been specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, making adjustments to the amounts payable by the Issuer under the Program Securities, adjusting the other terms and conditions of the Program Securities or the Issuer redeeming the Program Securities.

In the case where the Program Securities reference a Relevant Commodity Benchmark (other than a Commodity Index) the fallbacks may include the Determination Agent making a determination of the Relevant Underlying Value by reference to a fallback reference price, postponing the Pricing Date, determining the Relevant Underlying Value on the basis of quotations provided to the Determination Agent by each of the Reference Dealers, the Determination Agent otherwise determining, in its reasonable discretion, the Relevant Underlying Value (or a method for determining the Relevant Underlying Value), taking into consideration the latest available quotation for the relevant Commodity Reference Price and any other information that it deems relevant, or the Issuer redeeming the Program Securities.

In the case where the Program Securities reference a Relevant FX Benchmark the fallbacks may include the Determination Agent making a determination of the Settlement Rate or using a fallback reference price to determine the Settlement Rate, or the Issuer redeeming the Program Securities.

In the case where Program Securities reference a Relevant Rates Benchmark, Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark or Base Rate (as applicable), the fallbacks summarised in the risk factor entitled "EURIBOR, SONIA, €STR, SARON, TONA and other benchmark rate discontinuance or prohibition on use may lead to adjustments to the terms of the Program Securities or an early redemption or termination of the Program Securities" above will apply. Holders of the Program Securities should be aware that such adjustments to the terms of the Program Securities or early redemption or termination of the Program Securities may adversely impact the return on and value of the Program Securities.

Risk Factors relating to Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes

The Company to which the Shares relate will not have involvement in the offering of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and will not have participated in the preparation of the Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes

The Company will not have participated in the preparation of the applicable Pricing Supplement or in establishing the terms of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, and none of the Issuer or the Guarantor will make any investigation or enquiry in connection with such offering with respect to any information concerning the Company contained in the applicable Pricing Supplement or in the documents from which such information was extracted. Neither the Issuer nor the Guarantor controls the Company and neither is responsible for any disclosure made by the Company. Consequently, there can be no assurance that all events occurring prior to the relevant issue date (including events that would affect the adequacy, accuracy or completeness of the publicly available information described in this paragraph or in the applicable Pricing Supplement) that would affect the trading price of the relevant Share(s) will have been publicly disclosed. Subsequent disclosure of any such events or the disclosure of or failure to disclose material future events concerning the Company could affect the trading price of the Shares and therefore the trading price of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes or amounts payable thereunder. Investors should make their own independent investigation of the merits of investing in the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and the Company.

Investors will have no rights against the Company as the issuer of the Shares

Investors will have no rights against the Company as the issuer of the Shares, even though the amount investors receive at maturity, if any, will depend on the volume weighted average price of the Shares during certain times (subject to earlier redemption or extraordinary events in relation to the Company). By investing in the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes investors will not thereby acquire any Shares and investors will not receive any dividends or other distributions, if any, with respect to the Shares. The Company as issuer of the Shares is not in any way involved in this offering and has no obligations relating to the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes or to the holders of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes.

Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes may be redeemed prior to their Final Maturity Date If "Early Redemption" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, upon the occurrence of any of (i) a Nationalisation, a Delisting or a Change in Law (each as defined in the Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes) or if (ii) option contracts in respect of the Shares are traded on an exchange and certain events occur as a result of which such option contracts are settled in accordance with the rules and procedures of such exchange, for example following the occurrence of a significant corporate action by the Company, the Issuer shall or, following the occurrence of a Change in Law, the Issuer may elect to, redeem the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes prior to their scheduled maturity.

In such case, the Early Redemption Amount payable shall be an amount equal to the then fair value of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes determined by the Calculation Agent in good faith taking into account, inter alia, the Share Price on the relevant date, the settlement amount(s) in respect of any termination of any relevant hedge transaction(s), the yield to maturity of any senior unsecured notes of, or guaranteed by, the Issuer with a similar final maturity date to the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, the credit spreads of the Issuer and/or the Guarantor and any other market parameter(s) the Calculation Agent deems in good faith to be relevant for the valuation of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes on the relevant date. In certain circumstances, such amount may be less than the original purchase price paid by investors for the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and, as a result, investors may suffer a loss on their investment in the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes.

If specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Issuer may also elect to redeem the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes prior to their scheduled maturity if (i) its performance (or, if applicable, the Guarantor's performance of its obligation under the Guarantee) shall have become or will be unlawful in whole or in part as a result of compliance in good faith by the Issuer (or, if applicable, the Guarantor) with any applicable law or (ii) for tax reasons, in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes. In such case, the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed at their principal amount. In such circumstances, an investor may not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds at an effective interest rate comparable to the rate on the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate. In addition, an investor who purchased the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes at a price above their principal amount may receive less than the price paid, resulting in a loss of some or all of their investment.

Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at that time.

Upon the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event, the amount payable on the Final Maturity Date will not reflect, and the Noteholders will not participate in, any appreciation in the price of the Share(s)

If "Extraordinary Event Payment Feature" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, upon the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event the Extraordinary Event Amount payable by the Issuer at maturity will not be based on the performance of the relevant Share(s). Accordingly, such amount will not reflect, and the Noteholders will not participate in, any appreciation in the price of the relevant Share(s). The Extraordinary Event Amount is determined by reference to the performance of the relevant Share(s), and that determination is likely to be made at a time when the price of the relevant Share(s) has significantly depreciated. In addition, there is no minimum Extraordinary Event Amount. Accordingly, such amount may be substantially less than the amount you would have received in the absence of an Extraordinary Event, and may be as low as zero.

There are risks attached to the exercise of the Exchange Right

Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes that may be redeemed at the option of the Noteholder during certain times at the Cash Amount bear additional risks. The value of the Cash Amount (as defined in the Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes) will vary depending on the performance during certain specified periods of the underlying Shares, over which the Issuer has no control, and therefore the Cash Amount may be less than and possibly substantially less than the value of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes when they were initially purchased or when the Exchange Rights were exercised.

There is a limited period during which the Noteholders may exercise Exchange Rights

A Noteholder will have the right to require their Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes to be redeemed by the Issuer in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes. Upon the due exercise of such right, the Issuer will procure that the exchanging Noteholder receives a Cash Amount, which amount will be based on the volume weighted average price of the Shares during a specified period following the relevant Exchange Date. The Exchange Right may only be exercised by a Noteholder during limited periods and subject to the satisfaction of the requirements set out in Exchangeable Note Condition 6 (Exchange of the Exchangeable Notes) or the Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes. If the Exchange Rights are not exercised by Noteholders during an applicable Exchange Period and/or the requirements of Exchangeable Note Condition 6 (Exchange of the Exchangeable Notes) of the Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes are not satisfied, the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed at their principal amount on the Final Maturity Date (unless previously redeemed by the Issuer under the Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and subject to the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event).

Noteholders have limited anti-dilution protection

The Exchange Price at which the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes will be exchanged for a Cash Amount will be adjusted if there is a payment of a dividend which affects such Shares, but only in the circumstances and to the extent provided under the Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes.

There is no requirement that there should be an adjustment for every other corporate or other event that may affect the value of the Shares. Events in respect of which no adjustment is made may adversely affect the value of the Shares and, therefore, adversely affect the value of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes.

Where "Relevant Options Exchange Determination" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and to the extent specified as applicable in respect of any series of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, as long as there are option contracts in respect of the Shares traded on an exchange and there is an adjustment made by the operator of such exchange to the options contracts, there will be an adjustment of the Exchange Price and/or the Shares (as applicable) to reflect the adjustments made by the exchange operator following a corporate action, other than an Ordinary Cash Dividend, Nationalisation, Delisting or a Change in Law.

Where "Calculation Agent Determination" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, regardless of whether there are option contracts in respect of the Shares traded on an exchange, the Calculation Agent (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) will determine which adjustment(s), if any, should be made to the Exchange Price and/or the Shares following a corporate action, other than an Ordinary Cash Dividend, Nationalisation, Delisting or a Change in Law.

To the extent that an adjustment (or no adjustment as the case may be) is made to the Exchange Price upon the occurrence of any corporate action in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of the relevant series of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, either where "Relevant Options Exchange Determination" or "Calculation Agent Determination" is specified as applicable, such adjustment (or lack of adjustment as the case may be) may have a material adverse impact on the price or value of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and may materially adversely impact the level of any applicable Cash Amount payable.

Noteholders bear the risk of fluctuation in the price of the Shares

The market price of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes is expected to be affected by fluctuations in the market price of the Shares and it is impossible to predict whether the price of the Shares will rise or fall. The share price of listed companies can be highly volatile and their shares may have limited liquidity at certain times. In addition, equity market conditions may affect the price and market liquidity of Shares regardless of the performance of the Company. Equity market conditions are affected by many factors, such as interest and price levels on the capital markets, currency developments, the political factors and company-specific factors such as earnings position, market position, risk situation, shareholder structure and distribution policy, changes in investor sentiment towards particular market sectors and the demand for and supply of capital. Trading in the Shares by other investors, such as large purchases or sales of the Shares, may also affect the Share Price. Accordingly, the market price of Shares (and therefore, the Cash Amount receivable on any exercise of the Exchange Rights) may not reflect the underlying value of the Company's investments. The Company's results and prospects from time to time may be below the expectations of market analysts and investors. Any decline in the market price of the underlying Shares at any time may accordingly have an adverse effect on the market price of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and may have a corresponding negative impact on any Cash Amount payable in respect of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes. These factors are not within the Issuer's or the Guarantor's control and may result in a decline in the value of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes.

In addition, for the purposes of calculating the Cash Amount payable on any exercise of Exchange Rights, the Exchange Date by reference to which the relevant Cash Amount is calculated will be the trading day immediately following the last day of the Exchange Period in which the Exchange Right was exercised. If so, Noteholders will be exposed to any decline in the market price of the Shares between the Exchange Notice Delivery Date and the Exchange Date, which decline may have a corresponding negative impact on the Cash Amount payable in respect of such Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes.

Noteholders will not receive physical Shares and will have no shareholder rights

Noteholders upon exercise of their Exchange Rights will not receive any Shares and will not have any voting rights, nor any right to receive dividends or other distributions or any other rights with respect to such Shares. Neither the Issuer nor the Guarantor is required under the Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes to deliver any Shares at any point.

The Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes do not represent a claim against or an investment in the Company and investors will not have any right of recourse under the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes to the Company or the Shares. The Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes are not in any way sponsored, endorsed or promoted by the Company and the Company has no obligation to take into account the consequences of its actions for any Noteholders. Accordingly, the Company may take any actions in respect of such Shares without regard to the interests of the investors in the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, and any of these actions could adversely affect the market value of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and may adversely impact the value of any Cash Amount payable in respect of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes.

Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes are not short-term trading instruments and investors may not be able to sell Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes if an active trading market for the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes does not develop

The Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes are not intended to be short-term trading instruments, and investors should be prepared to hold their Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes until the Final Maturity Date.

The Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes are not registered under the Securities Act, will not be listed on any U.S. securities exchange and are subject to the resale and transfer restrictions discussed below and elsewhere in the Terms and Conditions of any series of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes. The secondary market in relation to the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, if any, may not be liquid and may not continue for the term of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes. If the secondary market for the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes is limited, there may be few buyers should investors choose to sell Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes prior to maturity and this may reduce the price investors receive. Because neither the Issuer nor the Guarantor expect that other broker-dealers will participate in the secondary market for the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, the price at which investors may be able to trade Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes is likely to depend on the price, if any, at which the dealer and/or any sole bookrunner is willing to transact, if at all. If, at any time, the dealer and/or any sole bookrunner were not to make a market in the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes it is likely that there would be no secondary market for the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes. Accordingly, investors should be willing to hold their Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes to maturity.

Transfers of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes are subject to the requirements of Regulation S or, in the case of Regulation S/Rule 144A Exchangeable Notes, Regulation S or Rule 144A under the Securities Act, as applicable. The Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act or the securities laws of any state or other jurisdiction of the United States and may not be offered, sold, pledged, assigned, delivered or otherwise transferred, exercised or redeemed at any time, directly or indirectly, except in accordance with (i) Regulation S to a person that is not a "U.S. person" in an "offshore transaction" in compliance with Regulation S, and (ii) in the case of Regulation S/Rule 144A Exchangeable Notes, Rule 144A to a person that it, and any person acting on its behalf, reasonably believes is a QIB (as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act) purchasing for its own account or for the account of one or more QIBs, in accordance with any applicable securities laws of any state of the United States. The Issuer shall have the right to refuse to honour the transfer of any Regulation S Exchangeable Notes to a person who is a U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S) or is in the United States. The Issuer shall have the right to refuse to honour the transfer of any Regulation S/Rule 144A Exchangeable Note to a person that is not a QIB. Investors are required to notify any purchaser of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes of the resale and transfer restrictions on the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes.

Additional Tranches of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes may not be fungible with previously issued Tranches for U.S. federal income tax purposes

MSFL may issue additional Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes that form part of an existing Series of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes. If the original or additional Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes are issued pursuant to Rule 144A, U.S. investors would be required to accrue income for U.S. federal income tax purposes based on a "projected payment schedule," which may be different for each Tranche. However, if the Tranches are issued under the same CUSIP, ISIN or other identifying number, U.S. purchasers of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes after the date of the further issue will not be able to differentiate between them. This may affect the trading price

(if any) of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes for the entire Series.

Risk factors relating to conflicts of interest in respect of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes

See "CONFLICTS OF INTEREST – 5. Conflicts of interest in respect of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes"

DISCLAIMERS

The Issuers and the Distribution Agents disclaim any responsibility to advise prospective purchasers of any matters arising under the laws of the country in which such prospective investors reside that may affect the purchase of, or holding of, or the receipt of payments on the Program Securities. These persons should consult their own legal and financial advisors concerning these matters.

1. General Disclaimers

1.1 Issuers' credit ratings may not reflect all risks

One or more independent credit rating agencies may assign credit ratings to the Issuers. The ratings may not reflect the potential impact of all risks related to structure, market, additional factors discussed above, and other factors that may affect the value of the Program Securities. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold Program Securities and may be revised or withdrawn by the rating agency at any time.

1.2 Change of law

The Conditions of the Program Securities are based on English law or New York law (as applicable) in effect as at the date of this Offering Circular. No assurance can be given as to the impact of any possible judicial decision or change to English law, New York law or administrative practice in England or the State of New York after the date of this Offering Circular.

1.3 Independent review and advice

Investors should consult their financial and legal advisors as to any specific risks entailed by an investment in Program Securities that are denominated or payable in, or the payment of which is linked to the value of, a currency other than the currency of the country in which such investor resides or in which such investor conducts its business, which is referred to as their home currency. Such Program Securities are not appropriate investments for investors who are not sophisticated in foreign currency transactions.

Each prospective investor must determine, based on its own independent review and such professional advice as it deems appropriate under the circumstances, that its acquisition of the Program Securities is (i) fully consistent with its (or if it is acquiring the Program Securities in a fiduciary capacity, the beneficiary's) financial needs, objectives and condition, (ii) complies and is fully consistent with all investment policies, guidelines and restrictions applicable to it (whether acquiring the Program Securities as principal or in a fiduciary capacity) and (iii) is a fit, proper and suitable investment for it (or if it is acquiring the Program Securities in a fiduciary capacity, for the beneficiary), notwithstanding the clear and substantial risks inherent in investing in or holding the Program Securities. Each Issuer disclaims any responsibility to advise prospective investors of any matters arising under the law of the country in which such prospective investors reside that may affect the purchase of, or holding of, or the receipt of payments or deliveries on the Program Securities.

1.4 Selling Agent remuneration

Each Issuer may enter into distribution agreements with various financial institutions and other intermediaries as determined by the applicable Issuer (each, a "Selling Agent"). Each Selling Agent will agree, subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions, to subscribe for the Program Securities at a price equivalent to or below the Issue Price. Any difference between the price at which the Selling Agent subscribes the Program Securities and the price at which the Selling Agent sells the Program Securities to investors will be a remuneration of the Selling Agent. In addition, a periodic fee may also be payable to the Selling Agents in respect of all outstanding Program Securities up to and including the maturity date at a rate determined by the applicable Issuer and which may vary from time to time. Any remuneration received by the Selling Agent including any periodic payments may influence the Selling Agent's recommendation of the Program Securities to potential investors and may also increase the purchase price to be paid by the investor. Each Selling Agent will agree to comply with the selling restrictions set out in the document as amended and supplemented by the additional selling restrictions set out in the relevant distribution agreements.

1.5 Program Securities in Global Form

Reliance on Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg and DTC. Because the Registered Global Instruments (as defined below) may be held by or on behalf of Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V. ("Euroclear") and Clearstream Banking, société anonyme ("Clearstream, Luxembourg") and/or any other clearing system as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement (such system or systems hereinafter referred to as the "Relevant Clearing System"), investors will have to rely on their procedures for transfer, payment and communication with the relevant Issuer.

Program Securities issued in registered form which are sold pursuant to Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") will be represented by interests in a permanent global registered instrument (each a "Regulation S Registered Global Instrument"). Such Regulation S Registered Global Instruments will be registered in the name of a nominee for, and deposited with a common depository on behalf of, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg.

Morgan Stanley, MSFII and MSESE will only offer and sell Regulation S Securities. MSIP, MSFL and MSBV may also issue Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities. All Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities issued by MSFL and MSIP will be offered and sold only to QIBs and/or non-U.S. persons in offshore transactions. All Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities offered and sold by MSBV will be offered and sold only to QIB/QPs and/or to a person that is not a U.S. person in an offshore transaction. Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities issued by MSIP, MSFL and MSBV in reliance on Rule 144A will be represented by (i) one or more global registered securities (each a "Regulation S/Rule 144A Registered Global Instrument") and together with any Regulation S Registered Global Instruments, the ("Registered Global Instruments"). Such Regulation S/Rule 144A Registered Global Instrument will be deposited with a custodian for, and registered in the name of, Cede & Co. as nominee for, DTC or a common depository acting on behalf of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or any other relevant clearing system.

Interests in the Registered Global Instruments will be shown on, and transfers thereof will be effected only through, records maintained by Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg or DTC and its direct and indirect participants, including depositories for Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be. Individual Registered Securities evidencing holdings of Program Securities will only be available in certain limited circumstances.

While the Program Securities are represented by one or more Registered Global Instruments, the Issuer will discharge its payment obligations under the Program Securities by making payments through the Relevant Clearing System for distribution to their account holders. A holder of an interest in a Registered Global Instrument must rely on the procedures of the Relevant Clearing System to receive payments under the relevant Program Securities. Neither the relevant Issuer nor the Guarantor has responsibility or liability for the records relating to, or payments made in respect of, beneficial interests in the Registered Global Instruments.

Holders of beneficial interests in the Registered Global Instruments will not have a direct right to vote in respect of the relevant Program Securities. Instead, such holders will be permitted to act only to the extent that they are enabled by the Relevant Clearing System to appoint appropriate proxies.

1.6 Legal investment considerations may restrict certain investments

The investment activities of certain investors are subject to legal investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisors to determine whether and to what extent (i) Program Securities are legal investments for it, (ii) Program Securities can be used as collateral for various types of borrowing and (iii) other restrictions apply to its purchase or pledge of any Program Securities. Financial institutions should consult their legal advisors or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of Program Securities under any applicable risk based capital or similar rules.

1.7 Discretionary determinations

The Issuer and the Determination Agent have certain discretions under the terms of the Program Securities following events or circumstances occurring in relation to a Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor, including to defer valuations, make adjustments to the terms and conditions of such Program

Securities and/or to redeem or cancel such Program Securities other than on the originally designated date of redemption or cancellation. Such discretion is necessary as such events and circumstances may not be foreseen at the Trade Date of the relevant Program Securities but impact the economic or other terms of the Program Securities. For example, it may not be reasonably practicable or appropriate for certain valuations to be carried out in relation to the Program Securities without the exercise of the discretion. Furthermore, such events and circumstances may not be reflected in the pricing of the Program Securities and/or any arrangements entered into by the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates to hedge obligations under Program Securities and, accordingly, without such discretion to adjust the terms of the Program Securities the Issuer may not have been able to issue the Program Securities on the terms applicable on the Issue Date or at all.

2. Disclaimers linked with the Relevant Underlying

2.1 No affiliation with underlying companies

The underlying share issuer for any single security or basket security, ETF or other fund or any Fund Advisor, the publisher of an underlying index, the sponsor of a futures contract, or any specified entity or index with respect to Credit Linked Program Securities, will not be an affiliate of Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII or MSESE unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. Morgan Stanley or its subsidiaries may presently or from time to time engage in business with any underlying company, fund or any specified entity, including entering into loans with, or making equity investments in, the underlying company, fund or specified entity, or its affiliates or subsidiaries or providing investment advisory services to the underlying company, fund or specified entity, including merger and acquisition advisory services. Moreover, no Issuer has the ability to control or predict the actions of the underlying company, fund, index publisher, futures contract sponsor or specified entity, including any actions, or reconstitution of index components, of the type that would require the Determination Agent to adjust the payout to the investor at maturity. No underlying company, fund or Fund Advisor, index publisher, futures contract sponsor or specified entity, for any issuance of Program Securities is involved in the offering of the Program Securities in any way or has any obligation to consider the investor's interest as an owner of the Program Securities in taking any corporate actions that might affect the value of the Program Securities. None of the money an investor pays for the Program Securities will go to the underlying company, fund or Fund Advisor or specified entity, for such Program Securities.

2.2 Provision of information

None of the Issuers or any of their Affiliates makes any representation as to the issuer for any single security or basket security, fund or Fund Service Provider, the publisher of an underlying index, the sponsor of any futures contract, or any specified entity or index with respect to Credit Linked Program Securities. Any of such persons may have acquired, or during the term of the Program Securities may acquire, non-public information with respect to any such issuer, publisher, sponsor or specified entity, their respective affiliates or any guarantors that is or may be material in the context of the Program Securities. The issue of Program Securities will not create any obligation on the part of any such persons to disclose to the Noteholders and Securityholders or any other party such information (whether or not confidential).

2.3 Disclosure

None of the issuer of any single security or basket security, an ETF, other fund or underlying asset, any Fund Service Provider, the publisher of an underlying index (including, without limitation, Morgan Stanley or any of its affiliates where such Morgan Stanley entity is the sponsor of any proprietary index), the sponsor of any futures contract, nor any specified entity or index with respect to Credit Linked Program Securities has participated in the preparation of this document or in establishing the Conditions of the Program Securities and none of the Issuers nor any of their Affiliates will make any investigation or enquiry in connection with such offering with respect to any information concerning any such issuer, ETF, other fund, underlying asset, Fund Service Provider, publisher, sponsor or specified entity contained in this document or in the documents from which such information was extracted. Consequently, there can be no assurance that all events occurring prior to the issue date (including events that would affect the accuracy or completeness of any publicly available information described in this document) that would affect the trading price and/or level of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor will have been publicly disclosed. Subsequent disclosure of any such events or the disclosure of or failure to disclose material future events concerning such an issuer, ETF, other fund, underlying asset, Fund Service Provider, publisher, sponsor or specified entity could affect the trading price and/or level of the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor and therefore the trading price of the Program Securities.

2.4 Program Securities are not sold or promoted by an index or the sponsor of such index

Except where an index is a proprietary index, Program Securities linked to an index are not sponsored, endorsed, sold, or promoted by such index or the sponsor of such index. The sponsor of an index makes no representation whatsoever, whether express or implied, either as to the results to be obtained from the use of such index or the levels at which such index stands at any particular time on any particular date. Neither an index nor sponsor of such index shall be liable (whether in negligence or otherwise) to any person for any error in such index. A sponsor of an index is under no obligation to advise any person of any error in such index. A sponsor of an index does not make any representation whatsoever, whether express or implied, as to the advisability of investing or assuming any risk in connection with the Program Securities linked to such index.

2.5 The relevant Issuer, Morgan Stanley or any of Morgan Stanley's affiliates are not liable for the actions or omissions of the sponsor of an index, any information concerning an index, the performance of such index or use thereof in connection with the Program Securities

The relevant Issuer, Morgan Stanley or any of Morgan Stanley's affiliates are not liable to the holders of Program Securities for any act or failure to act by a sponsor of an index in connection with the calculation, adjustment, or maintenance of such index. Although the Determination Agent, as applicable, will obtain information concerning an index from publicly available sources it believes reliable, it will not independently verify this information. Accordingly, no representation, warranty, or undertaking (express or implied) is made and no responsibility is accepted by the relevant Issuer, Morgan Stanley or any of Morgan Stanley's affiliates, or the Determination Agent as to the accuracy, completeness, and timeliness of information concerning such index. In addition, the relevant Issuer, Morgan Stanley or any of Morgan Stanley's affiliates, or the Determination Agent makes no representation whatsoever, whether express or implied, as to the performance of any index which is linked to the Program Securities, any data included in, or omitted from, such index, or the use of such index in connection with such Program Securities.

3. Representations and acknowledgments by Noteholders and Securityholders

3.1 Representations and acknowledgments by Noteholders and Securityholders.

Each Noteholder and Securityholder shall be deemed to represent and acknowledge to the relevant Issuer on acquiring any Program Security that:

- (a) none of the Issuers, any of their Affiliates nor any of their agents is acting as a fiduciary for it or provides investment, tax, accounting, legal or other advice in respect of the Program Securities and that such holder and its advisors are not relying on any communication (written or oral and including, without limitation, opinions of third party advisors) of the Issuers or any of their Affiliates as (a) legal, regulatory, tax, business, investment, financial, accounting or other advice, (b) a recommendation to invest in any Program Securities or (c) an assurance or guarantee as to the expected results of an investment in the Program Securities (it being understood that information and explanations related to the terms and conditions of the Program Securities shall not be considered to be any such advice, recommendation, assurance or guarantee and should be independently confirmed by the recipient and its advisors prior to making any such investment);
- (b) such Program Security holder (a) has consulted with its own legal, regulatory, tax, business, investments, financial and accounting advisors to the extent that it has deemed necessary, and has made its own investment, hedging, and trading decisions based upon its own judgment and upon any advice from such advisors as it has deemed necessary and not upon any view expressed by the Issuers or any of their Affiliates or any of their agents and (b) is acquiring Program Securities with an understanding of the terms, conditions and risks thereof and it is capable of and willing to assume those risks; and
- (c) the Issuers and/or any of their Affiliates may have banking or other commercial relationships with issuers of any securities to which the Program Securities relate and may engage in proprietary trading in any equity securities, indices or other property to which the Program Securities relate or options, futures, derivatives or other instruments relating thereto (including such trading as the Issuers and/or any of their Affiliates deem appropriate in their reasonable discretion to hedge the market risk on the Program Securities and other transactions between the Issuers and/or any of their Affiliates and any third parties), and that such trading (a) may affect the price or level thereof and consequently the amounts payable under the Program Securities and (b) may be effected at any time.

3.2 Representations and acknowledgments by Noteholders and Securityholders in respect of Program Securities linked to Shares which are eligible to be traded through the China Connect Service.

Each Noteholder and Securityholder shall be deemed to represent, acknowledge and undertake to the relevant Issuer on acquiring any Program Security that:

- (a) without prejudice to the generality of any applicable law, the Noteholder or Securityholder (as applicable) expressly consents to the disclosure by the Issuer or its Affiliates to the relevant authorities in the jurisdiction of the incorporation or organisation of the issuer of the relevant shares (a "Relevant Jurisdiction"), the jurisdiction in which the Exchange is located (the "Local Jurisdiction"), a jurisdiction in which the SEHK is located (a "CCS Jurisdiction") or any jurisdiction of tax residence of the issuer of the Shares (a "Tax Residence Jurisdiction"), information relating to these Program Securities, including the name of the Noteholder or Securityholder (as applicable) in order for the Issuer or any of its Affiliates to comply with laws and regulations of the Relevant Jurisdiction, the Local Jurisdiction, the CCS Jurisdiction or Tax Residence Jurisdiction that are applicable to the Issuer or its Affiliate in connection with their dealings in the underlying;
- (b) the Noteholder or Securityholder (as applicable) represents that, (A) in the case of an individual, either (x) it is not a person who is a citizen of or resident or domiciled in the PRC, or (y) it is a citizen of the PRC who is a resident of or is domiciled in a jurisdiction outside the PRC, or (B) in the case of an entity, either (x) it is not incorporated or registered under the laws of PRC or (y) it will purchase and hold the Program Securities pursuant to any program approved by, or approval of or registration with, any competent PRC regulator, or in such other manner as may be permitted in accordance with the laws and regulations of the PRC; and
- (c) the Noteholder or Securityholder (as applicable) will use funds lawfully owned by it and located outside PRC to purchase the Program Securities unless it will purchase the Program Securities pursuant to any program approved by, or approval of or registration with, any competent PRC regulator.

3.3 Representations and acknowledgments by Noteholders and Securityholders in respect of Program Securities in respect of which "QFII" is specified by the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement

Each Noteholder and Securityholder shall be deemed to represent, acknowledge and undertake to the relevant Issuer on acquiring any Program Security that:

- (a) it understands that Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc or its Affiliates may be requested from time to time to report or otherwise disclose to applicable regulatory authorities, including without limitation the China Securities Regulatory Commission (CSRC) and other regulatory bodies in the PRC, details of the relevant Program Securities and any other information (including, without limitation, the beneficial owner of the relevant Program Securities) as may be required by law or under any applicable rules or regulations of such regulatory authorities, including without limitation, any ad hoc or periodic reporting obligations (each a "Regulatory Request" within the meaning of the terms and conditions of the relevant Program Securities), and the Noteholder or Securityholder (as applicable) consents to any such disclosure;
- (b) the beneficial owner of the Program Securities is not (1) a PRC Citizen resident in the PRC (excluding Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan), (2) a PRC Citizen resident outside the PRC who is not a permanent resident of another country or permanent resident of Hong Kong, Macau or Taiwan, unless otherwise permitted by the laws, administrative regulations and rules of the PRC, or (3) a Legal Person Registered in the PRC (as defined below) (except a Legal Person Registered in the PRC whose purchase of the Program Securities has been conducted pursuant to (i) a program approved by any competent PRC regulator; or (ii) any approval of a registration with any competent PRC regulator, or in such other manner as may be permitted in accordance with the laws and regulations of the PRC), (each a "Domestic Investor");

- (c) in the case where the beneficial owner of the Program Securities is a trustee for a trust, interests in the trust are not majority-owned by, and the management decision over the trust is not controlled by, one or more Domestic Investor(s). For the avoidance of doubt, in the case only where a trust's investments are being managed on a discretionary basis by an investment manager, such investment manager shall not be deemed to control such entity for the purposes of this representation by reason only of it being able to control the decision-making in relation to the entity's financial, investment and/or operating policies, provided that the foregoing representation does not apply to trusts or companies organized as investment schemes for public offering;
- (d) to the best of its knowledge, all amounts paid or to be paid by the beneficial owner of the Program Securities under the Program Securities did not and will not involve moneys financed by or sourced from any Domestic Investor in contravention of the laws and regulations of the PRC; and
- (e) the beneficial owner of the Program Securities is investing in such Program Securities as principal and not as agent of any person or entity.

Where:

"Legal Person Registered in the PRC" means an entity incorporated or organized in the PRC (excluding Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan).

"PRC" means, for the purpose of the Offering Circular, People's Republic of China (excluding Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan).

"PRC Citizen" means any person holding a resident identification card of the PRC (excluding Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan).

"trust" includes a trust fund or any similar arrangement where the legal title to the trust assets are held by a trustee or legal representative but the beneficial interests in the trust assets are held by beneficiaries; and "trustee" shall be construed accordingly.

4. Important notice relating to Green Bonds, Social Bonds and/or Sustainability Bonds

Prior to making any investment in Green Bonds, Social Bonds and/or Sustainability Bonds, prospective investors should have regard to the information set out in the "Use of Proceeds" section of this Offering Circular and in the "Use Of Proceeds, Estimated Net Proceeds And Total Expenses" item of the relevant Pricing Supplement and must determine for themselves the relevance of such information together with any other investigation such investor deems necessary. In particular, the use of an amount equal to such proceeds for any Eligible Projects may not satisfy, whether in whole or in part, any present or future investor expectations or requirements as regards any investment criteria or guidelines with which such investor or its investments are required to comply, whether by any present or future applicable law or regulations or by its own by-laws or other governing rules or investment portfolio mandates, in particular with regard to any direct or indirect environmental, sustainability or social impact of any projects or uses, the subject of or related to, any Eligible Projects.

No representation is made as to the suitability of any issuance of Green Bonds, Social Bonds and/or Sustainability Bonds to fulfill environmental and sustainability criteria required by prospective investors nor as to the satisfaction by the Eligible Projects to any requisite criteria determined under the EU Taxonomy Regulation. Each potential purchaser should determine for itself the relevance of the information contained or referred to in the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework and the applicable Pricing Supplement regarding the use of proceeds and its purchase should be based upon such investigation as it deems necessary.

The Second Party Opinion in respect of the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework or any opinion or external assurance of any third party (whether or not solicited by the Issuer) which may be made available in connection with the issue of any Sustainable Bonds and in particular with any Eligible Projects to fulfil any environmental, sustainability, social and/or other criteria may not be suitable for Noteholders' purposes. Currently, the providers of such opinions and external assurance are not subject to any specific regulatory or other regime or oversight. Any such opinion or external assurance is only current as of the date that opinion or external assurance was initially issued. The Issuer does not guarantee that the information presented in any such opinion or external assurance is complete, accurate, or up to date. In addition, any such provider, to the extent engaged by the Issuer or one of its affiliates, will receive compensation from the Issuer or its affiliates in connection with the issuance of any such opinion or external assurance, which could give rise to a potential conflict of interest for such provider.

Furthermore, investors are advised that as of the issue date and at any time until the maturity of the relevant Green Bonds, Social Bonds and/or Sustainability Bonds, they may not have, despite the annual report set up by the Issuer (see the section "Use of Proceeds" of this Offering Circular), a comprehensive knowledge of all the Eligible Projects that would have been financed or refinanced by the gross proceeds of the issue. Moreover, the number or the type of Eligible Projects for a given issue may vary significantly, and it is possible that for practical and/or confidentiality reasons, the list of Eligible Projects may not be exhaustively mentioned in the annual report and that the Issuer may only provide a summary of the Eligible Projects.

In the event that any such Sustainable Bonds are listed or admitted to trading on any dedicated "green", "environmental", "social", "sustainable" or other equivalently-labelled segment of any stock exchange or securities market (whether or not regulated), the criteria for any such listings or admission to trading may vary from one stock exchange or securities market to another. Any such listing or admission to trading may not be obtained in respect of any such Sustainable Bonds or, if obtained, any such listing or admission to trading may not be maintained during the life of the Sustainable Bonds.

Payment of principal and interest on any Sustainable Bond will be made from Morgan Stanley's general funds and will not be directly linked to the performance of any Eligible Project.

Finally, prior to an investment in Green Bonds, Social Bonds and/or Sustainability Bonds, potential investors must (i) read, (ii) form their own opinion on the relevance or reliability, for any purpose whatsoever, and (iii) conduct any other analysis they deem necessary, in relation to the Second Party Opinion on the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework or any opinion or external assurance that may be provided in the context of the issue of the Green Bonds, Social Bonds and/or Sustainability Bonds and in particular on the fact that an Eligible Project meets environmental, social, sustainable development and/or other criteria.

For the avoidance of doubt, neither the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework, Second Party Opinion, nor any such other opinion or external assurance is, or shall be deemed to be, incorporated in and/or form part of this Offering Circular.

1. Potential conflicts of interest between the investor and the Determination Agent

Potential conflicts of interest may exist between the investor and the Determination Agent, which may be an affiliate of the Issuer and the Guarantor, if applicable. Certain determinations made by the Determination Agent may require it to exercise discretion and make subjective judgments. As Determination Agent for Program Securities linked to a single security, index, futures contract, ETF or other fund or a basket of securities, indices, futures contracts, ETFs or other funds, Credit Linked Program Securities, or Program Securities linked to commodities or other underlying instruments, assets or obligations, Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc (unless otherwise specified) will determine the payout to the investor at maturity, redemption, exercise or cancellation (as applicable). Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc and other affiliates may also carry out hedging activities related to any Program Securities linked to a single security, index, futures contract, ETF or other fund or a basket of securities, indices, futures contracts, ETFs, other funds, Credit Linked Program Securities, or Program Securities linked to commodities or to other instruments, assets or obligations including trading in the underlying securities, indices, futures contracts, ETFs or commodities as well as in other instruments related to the underlying securities, indices, futures contracts, ETFs or commodities. Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc and some of Morgan Stanley's other subsidiaries may also trade the applicable underlying securities, indices, futures contracts or commodities and other financial instruments related to the underlying securities, indices, futures contracts or commodities on a regular basis as part of their general broker dealer and other businesses. Any of these activities could influence the Determination Agent's potentially subjective determination of adjustments made to any Program Securities linked to a single security, index, futures contract, ETF or other fund or a basket of securities, indices, futures contracts, ETFs or other funds, Credit Linked Program Securities, or Program Securities linked to commodities or other underlying instruments, assets or obligations and any such trading activity could potentially affect the price of the underlying securities, indices, futures contracts, ETFs, other funds, commodities or other underlying instruments, assets or obligations and, accordingly, could affect the investor's payout on any Program Securities.

2. Actions taken by the Determination Agent may affect the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor

The Determination Agent may make such adjustments as it considers appropriate as a consequence of certain corporate actions affecting the Relevant Underlying or Relevant Factor. In making these adjustments the Determination Agent is entitled to exercise substantial discretion and may be subject to conflicts of interest, including the conflicts of interest highlighted above, in exercising this discretion. The Determination Agent is not required but has the discretion to make adjustments with respect to each and every corporate action. These potentially subjective determinations may adversely affect the amount payable to the investor.

3. Where Morgan Stanley or an affiliate of Morgan Stanley is the sponsor or calculation agent in respect of a proprietary index, Morgan Stanley has the authority to make determinations that could materially affect such an index and create conflicts of interest

Where Morgan Stanley or an affiliate of Morgan Stanley is the sponsor of the proprietary index and/or, if applicable, the calculation agent of such an index, Morgan Stanley does not generally exercise any discretion in relation to the operation of the index. Morgan Stanley owes no fiduciary duties in respect of such index. Morgan Stanley may, however, exercise discretion in certain limited situations including, but not limited to, those situations described in any description of the relevant index. Determinations made by Morgan Stanley as the sponsor and, if applicable, calculation agent of such a proprietary index could adversely affect the level of such index and the exercise by Morgan Stanley of its discretion could present it with a conflict of interest. Subject as provided in the Index Rules in respect of a Proprietary Index, in making those determinations, the sponsor and/or the calculation agent, as applicable, of such index will not be required to, and will not, take the interests of any investor of any product that references such index into account or consider the effect its determinations will have on the value of such a product. All determinations made by relevant sponsor and/or the calculation agent shall be (including, without limitation, any Program Securities) conclusive for all purposes and will bind all holders of any products linked to such an index. The index sponsor and/or the calculation agent shall not have any liability for such determinations.

4. Potential Conflicts of Interest in respect of Preference Shares

The calculation agent in respect of the Preference Shares (the "Preference Share Calculation Agent") is a member of the Morgan Stanley Group. As a result, potential conflicts of interest may arise in acting in its capacity as Preference Share Calculation Agent and other capacities in which it acts under the Preference Share-Linked Notes. Subject to any relevant regulatory obligations, the Preference Share Calculation Agent owes no duty or responsibility to any Noteholder to avoid any conflict or to act in the interests of any Noteholder. The Preference Share Issuer may also rely on members of Morgan Stanley (including the Preference Share Calculation Agent) or other service providers to perform its operational requirements. In the event any relevant Morgan Stanley entities or other service providers fail to perform any obligations, this may adversely affect the value of the Preference Shares and potentially the amounts payable under the Preference Share-Linked Notes. In addition to providing calculation agency services to the Preference Share Issuer, Morgan Stanley or any of its affiliates may perform further or alternative roles relating to the Preference Share Issuer and any series of the Preference Shares including, but not limited to, for example, being involved in arrangements relating to any of the underlying reference assets (for example as a calculation agent). Further, Morgan Stanley or any of its affiliates may contract with the Preference Share Issuer and/or enter into transactions, including hedging transactions, which relate to the Preference Share Issuer or the Preference Shares and as a result Morgan Stanley may face a conflict between its obligations as Preference Share Calculation Agent and its and/or its affiliates' interests in other capacities.

5. Conflicts of interest in respect of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes

The Issuer and/or the Guarantor and/or their Affiliates may engage in business with or involving the Company without regard to investors' interests

The Issuer and/or the Guarantor and/or their Affiliates may presently or from time to time engage in business with the Company without regard to investors' interests, including extending loans to, or making equity investments in, the Company or providing advisory services to the Company, such as merger and acquisition advisory services. In the course of ordinary business, the Issuer and/or the Guarantor and/or their Affiliates may acquire non-public information about the Company. None of the Issuer, the Guarantor or any of their Affiliates undertakes to disclose any such information to investors.

The amount investors receive on the Final Maturity Date may be reduced because the anti-dilution adjustments the Calculation Agent is required to make do not cover every corporate event that could affect the common stock of the Company

The amount investors receive on redemption of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes will be subject to adjustment for a number of events arising from share splits and combinations, share dividends or other distributions, a number of other actions of the Company that modify its capital structure and a number of other transactions involving the Company, as well as for the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Company. However, the Calculation Agent is not required to make an adjustment for every corporate event that can affect the Company. For example, the Calculation Agent is not required to make any adjustments if the Company or anyone else makes a partial tender offer or a partial exchange offer for that Company. If an event occurs that does not require the Calculation Agent to make an adjustment, the value of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes may be materially and adversely affected. In addition, all determinations and calculations concerning any such adjustment will be made by the Calculation Agent. Investors should refer to Exchangeable Note Condition 7 (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares) and Exchangeable Note Condition 14 (Events of Default) of the Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes. The amount investors receive on redemption of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes may not be adjusted for other events that may adversely affect the price of the Shares, such as offerings of common stock for cash or in connection with acquisitions. Because of the relationship of the amount investors receive on the Final Maturity Date to the price of the Shares, these other events may reduce the amount investors receive on the redemption of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes.

Additionally, the market price of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes may be materially and adversely affected.

The value of and redemption amount payable on the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes may be affected by purchases and sales of the Shares or related derivative instruments by the Issuer and/or the Guarantor and/or their Affiliates, including hedge transactions

The Issuer and/or the Guarantor and/or their affiliates may from time to time buy or sell Shares or derivative instruments relating to the Shares for their own accounts in connection with their normal business practices, including, but not limited to, hedge transactions. These transactions could adversely affect the volume weighted average price of the Shares and thus, the market value of, and return on, and redemption amount payable on the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes.

The Issuer and/or the Guarantor and/or their Affiliates' hedging activity could result in a conflict of interest

In anticipation of the sale of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, the Issuer and the Guarantor expect one or more of their Affiliates to enter into hedge transactions. This hedging activity will likely involve trading in the Shares or in instruments, such as options, swaps or futures, based upon the Shares. This hedging activity may present a conflict between investors' interest in the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and the interests Affiliates have in executing, maintaining and adjusting their hedge transactions because it could affect the price at which Affiliates may be willing to purchase investors' Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes in the secondary market. Since hedging the obligations under the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes involves risk and may be influenced by a number of factors, it is possible that Affiliates may profit from the hedging activity, even if the market value of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes declines. Additionally, due to the inclusion of commissions and projected profit from hedging in the offering price of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes may trade at prices below their initial issue price.

The Calculation Agent, which is an affiliate of each of the Issuer and the Guarantor, will make discretionary determinations and calculations with respect to the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes

If certain events occur, such as market disruption events or other events affecting the Company, its Shares or its listed options, the Calculation Agent will be required to make certain determinations that could significantly and adversely affect investors' payment on redemption of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and potentially lead to early redemption of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes. These determinations may, in turn, depend on the Calculation Agent's determination as to whether the relevant event has materially interfered with the Issuer's or the Guarantor's ability or the ability of a relevant affiliate to maintain or unwind any hedge transactions. Because these determinations by the Calculation Agent may affect the amount payable on the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, the Calculation Agent may have a conflict of interest if it needs to make any such decision and the Calculation Agent's interests as an affiliate of the Issuer and Guarantor could be adverse to investors' interests as a holder of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes.

Affiliates of the Issuer and/or the Guarantor may publish research that could affect the market value of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes

Affiliates of the Issuer and/or the Guarantor may publish research reports or otherwise express opinions or provide recommendations from time to time regarding the issuer of the Shares or other matters that may influence the price of the Shares and, therefore, the value of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes. Any research, opinion or recommendation expressed by any Affiliate of the Issuer and/or the Guarantor may not be consistent with purchasing, holding or selling the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes. Any of these activities may affect the market value of and redemption amount payable on the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes. Investors should make their own independent investigation into the merits of investing in the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and the Company.

KEY FEATURES OF THE NEW YORK LAW NOTES

The following summary describes the key features of the New York Law Notes that Morgan Stanley is offering under the Program in general terms only. Investors should read the summary together with the more detailed information that is contained in this Offering Circular and in the applicable Pricing Supplement

Issuer:	Morgan Stanley.
Distribution Agents:	Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc, which may act in whole or in part through an affiliate thereof, and Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC.
Trustee:	The Bank of New York Mellon.
Principal Paying Agent:	The Bank of New York Mellon.
General Terms of the Notes:	(i) Pricing Supplement will be produced in relation to each Tranche of Notes issued by Morgan Stanley (each, a "Pricing Supplement"). (ii) The Notes will bear interest at either a fixed rate or a floating rate, which, in either case, may be zero, or at a rate which varies during the lifetime of the relevant Notes, which will be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. (iii) The Notes will mature on the date specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. (iv) The Notes may be either callable by Morgan Stanley or puttable by the holder of the Notes (the "Noteholder"). (v) The Notes may be optionally or mandatorily exchangeable for securities of an issuer that is not affiliated with Morgan Stanley, for a basket or index of those securities or for the cash value of those securities ("Exchangeable Notes"). (vi) Payments of principal, interest and/or supplemental amounts on the Notes may be linked to single securities, a single index, baskets of securities or indices ("Equity-and Proprietary Index Linked Notes"), to commodity prices ("Commodity-Linked Notes"), to currency prices ("Currency-Linked Notes"), to one or more inflation indices ("Inflation-Linked Notes"), to one or more property indices ("Property-Linked Notes"), to interests in a fund or basket of funds ("Fund-Linked Notes"), to single futures contracts or baskets of futures contracts ("Futures Contract-Linked Notes"), to one or more underlying securities ("Bond-Linked Notes"), to one or more exchange-traded notes ("ETN-Linked Notes"), or to the credit of one or more specified entities not affiliated with Morgan Stanley ("Credit Linked Notes"). (vii) Morgan Stanley may from time to time, without the consent of Noteholders, create and issue additional Notes having the same terms as Notes previously issued so that they may be combined with the earlier issuance. (viii) All of the New York Law Notes issued under the Program will constitute a single series for purposes of certain votes required under the Indenture. (ix) Morgan Stanley may issue Amortising Notes (as defined herein) that pay a level amount in respect of both interest and principal amortised over the life of the Notes.

Form of Notes:	Morgan Stanley may issue Notes in registered form (the "Registered Notes"), which may be in global registered form or individual registered form. Registered Notes will be in the form of either global registered notes or, individual note certificates, in each case as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. Each global registered note will be registered in the name of a common depositary for Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or any other relevant clearing system as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement (such system or systems hereinafter referred to as the "Relevant Clearing System") and the relevant global registered note will be deposited on or about the issue date with the common depositary or a custodian for the nominee.
Specified Currency:	Notes may be denominated or payable in any currency, as set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, subject to all applicable consents being obtained and compliance with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements.
Status:	Notes will be direct and general obligations of Morgan Stanley. Morgan Stanley intends that the Notes will, when issued, constitute "loss-absorbing capacity" within the meaning of the final rules issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and, accordingly, will have only those provisions described in this Offering Circular that will permit compliance thereof at such time of issuance. In this respect, Morgan Stanley is a parent holding company and has no operations and depends on dividends, distributions and other payments from its subsidiaries to fund its debt obligations (including Notes). Under a support agreement that Morgan Stanley has entered with its material subsidiaries, upon the occurrence of a resolution scenario, including a single-point-of-entry resolution strategy as contemplated in its resolution plan, Morgan Stanley would be obligated to contribute or loan on a subordinated basis all of its material assets, other than shares in its subsidiaries and certain intercompany payables, to provide capital and liquidity, as applicable, to its material subsidiaries. That obligation will be secured, in accordance with an amended and restated secured support agreement, on a senior basis by Morgan Stanley's assets (other than shares in its subsidiaries). As a result, claims of Morgan Stanley's material subsidiaries against its assets (other than shares in its subsidiaries) will be effectively senior to its unsecured obligations, including Notes which would be at risk of absorbing Morgan Stanley's and its subsidiaries' losses.
Issue Price:	Notes may be issued at any price as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
Maturities:	Notes will have maturities as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, subject to compliance with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements. Where Notes have a maturity of less than one year and either (a) the issue proceeds are received by Morgan Stanley in the United Kingdom or (b) the activity of issuing the Notes is carried on from an establishment maintained by Morgan Stanley in the United Kingdom, such Notes must: (i) have a minimum redemption value of £100,000 (or its equivalent in other currencies) and be issued only to persons whose ordinary activities involve them in acquiring, holding, managing or disposing of investments (as principal or agent) for the purposes of their businesses or who it is reasonable to expect will acquire, hold, manage or dispose of investments (as principal or agent) for the purposes of their businesses; or (ii) be issued in other circumstances which do not constitute a contravention of section 19 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 ("FSMA") by Morgan Stanley.

Redemption:

Notes may be redeemed at par or at such other redemption amount (detailed in a formula or otherwise) or by the delivery of securities of an issuer that is not affiliated with Morgan Stanley, as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Early Redemption:

Early redemption will be permitted for taxation reasons as described in "Description of the New York Law Notes—Tax Redemption", in certain circumstances if an Administrator/Benchmark Event or relevant adjustment events applicable to the Notes has occurred, or if an event of default has occurred in accordance with Condition 31 (Events of Default) in each case, of "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes" but will otherwise be permitted only to the extent specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Denominations:

Notes will be issued in such denominations as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, subject to compliance with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

Taxation:

Payments in respect of the Notes will be made without withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future Taxes (as defined herein) imposed or levied by or on behalf of the United States or any respective political subdivision thereof or any authority or agency therein or thereof having power to tax, unless the withholding or deduction of those Taxes is required by law. In the case of payments by Morgan Stanley in respect of a Note, a beneficial owner of a Note that is not a U.S. person (or a financial institution holding a Note on behalf of the beneficial owner that is not a U.S. person) is required under current applicable law to furnish the appropriate IRS Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E on which a beneficial owner certifies under penalties of perjury that it is not a U.S. person and, for certain types of Notes, that it is eligible for the benefits of a Qualifying Treaty (as defined under "United States Federal Taxation"). Other U.S. withholding taxes may apply in respect of a Note as described below under "United States Federal Taxation". U.S. investors may be required to furnish an IRS Form W-9 to avoid backup withholding. In the event that withholding or deduction of Taxes imposed or levied by or on behalf of the United States or any respective political subdivision thereof or any authority or agency therein or thereof having power to tax is required by law on payments in respect of the Notes, Morgan Stanley will (only if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and subject to customary exceptions) pay those Additional Amounts (as defined herein) as will result in the Noteholders who are U.S. Aliens receiving those amounts as they would have received in respect of the Notes had no withholding or deduction been required.

Benefit Plan Investors:

The Notes may not be acquired or held by, or acquired with the assets of, any employee benefit plan subject to Title I of the United States Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), any individual retirement account or plan subject to section 4975 of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, or any entity whose underlying assets include "plan assets" within the meaning of section 3(42) of ERISA by reason of any such employee benefit plans, account's or plan's investment therein.

Use of Proceeds:

The net proceeds from the sale of Notes offered by this Offering Circular will be used by Morgan Stanley for general corporate purposes, in connection with hedging its obligations under the Notes, or both.

Listing:	The applicable Pricing Supplement will specify whether an issue of Series A Notes will be: (i) admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market; (ii) admitted to the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF market; (iii) admitted to listing and trading on the SIX Swiss Exchange; or (iv) admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation by any other listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system, as Morgan Stanley and any Distribution Agent may agree. The Series B Notes will not be admitted to listing, trading, and/or quotation by any listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system.
Clearing Systems:	Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg, and/or any other clearing system as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
Governing Law:	The Notes will be governed by the laws of the State of New York.
Selling Restrictions:	The Notes may not be offered, sold or delivered at any time, directly or indirectly, within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. Persons (as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act). For a description of certain restrictions on offers, sales and deliveries of the Notes and on the distribution of offering material in the United States and in certain other countries, see "Subscription and Sale" and "Transfer Restrictions".

KEY FEATURES OF THE ENGLISH LAW NOTES (EXCLUDING CMU NOTES)

The following summary describes the key features of the English Law Notes (excluding CMU Notes) that each Issuer is offering under the Program in general terms only. Investors should read the summary together with the more detailed information that is contained in this Offering Circular and in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Issuers:	Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII, MSESE and any Additional Issuer.
Guarantor:	In the case of Notes issued by MSBV or an Additional Issuer, unless specified otherwise in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, in the case of an Additional Issuer, the accession agreement pursuant to which such Additional Issuer accedes to the Program, Morgan Stanley. In the case of Notes issued by MSFL, Morgan Stanley. In the case of Notes issued by MSFII, Morgan Stanley.
Distribution Agents:	Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc, which may act in whole or in part through an affiliate thereof, and Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC.
Fiscal Agent:	The Bank of New York Mellon.
Registrar and Transfer Agent:	The Bank of New York Mellon S.A./N.V., Luxembourg Branch.
Euroclear Registrar:	Computershare Investor Services (Guernsey) Limited.
Issuance in Series:	Notes will be issued in series (each, a " Series "). Each Series may comprise one or more tranches (" Tranches " and each, a " Tranche ") issued on different issue dates. The Notes of each Series will all be subject to identical terms, except that the issue date and the amount of the first payment of interest may be different in respect of different Tranches and each Series may comprise Notes of different denominations. The Notes of each Tranche will all be subject to identical terms in all respects save that a Tranche may comprise Notes of different denominations.
Form of Notes:	Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII and MSESE may issue Notes in registered form ("Registered Notes"). In addition MSBV, MSI plc and MSESE may issue Notes designated as "Finnish Notes" or "Swedish Notes" and MSBV and MSI plc may issue Notes designated as "Norwegian Notes" or "Danish Notes" in each case in dematerialised and uncertificated book-entry form with a Nordic central securities depository ("Nordic Notes"). MSBV, MSI plc and MSESE may also issue Notes in uncertificated registered form in accordance with the Uncertificated Securities Regulations 2001 (as amended, modified or re-enacted) and such other regulations made under sections 783, 784(3), 785 and 788 of the UK Companies Act 2006 as are applicable to the Euroclear Registrar ("Uncertificated Notes"). (i) Registered Notes Registered Notes will be in the form of either individual note certificates or global registered notes, in each case as specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement. Each global note certificate will either be: (a) in the case of Registered Notes which are not to be held under the New Safekeeping Structure (as defined below), registered in the name of a nominee of a common depository for the Relevant Clearing System and the relevant global note certificate will be deposited on or about the issue date with the common depository; or (b) in the case of Registered Notes which are to be held under the new safekeeping structure ("New Safekeeping Structure" or "NSS"), registered in the name of a nominee of a common safekeeper for the Relevant Clearing System and the relevant global note certificate will be deposited on or about the issue date with the common safekeeper for the Relevant Clearing System.

(ii) Uncertificated Notes

Uncertificated Notes will be held in uncertificated form in accordance with the Uncertificated Securities Regulations 2001, including any modification or re-enactment thereof for the time being in force (the "Regulations"). The Uncertificated Registered Notes are participating securities for the purposes of the Regulations. Title to the Uncertificated Notes is recorded on the relevant Operator register of eligible debt securities (as defined in the Regulations) and the relevant "Operator" (as such term is used in the Regulations) in Euroclear UK & International Limited or any additional or alternative operator from time to time approved by the Issuer and the Euroclear Registrar and in accordance with the Regulations. Notes in definitive registered form will not be issued (either upon issue or in exchange for Uncertificated Notes).

The Euroclear Registrar will make all payments in respect of Uncertificated Notes.

Terms and Conditions:

A Pricing Supplement will be prepared in respect of each Tranche of Notes (each, a "Pricing Supplement"). The terms and conditions applicable to each Tranche will be those set out herein under the heading "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes", as supplemented, modified or replaced, in each case, by the applicable Pricing Supplement. The applicable Pricing Supplement will also specify, if "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, which provisions set out in the Annex to the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes entitled "Annex to the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes: Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes" (the "Belgian Supplemental Conditions (Notes)") are applicable in respect of a particular series of Notes.

If an Additional Issuer accedes to the Program, a supplement to the Offering Circular containing a full description of the Additional Issuer shall be prepared. The terms and conditions applicable to each Tranche issued by an Additional Issuer will be those set out in the relevant supplemental Offering Circular, as supplemented, modified or replaced by the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Any Issuer may issue Notes that are Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Notes, Commodity-Linked Notes, Currency-Linked Notes, Inflation-Linked Notes, Bond-Linked Notes, ETN-Linked Notes, Credit Linked Notes, Property-Linked Notes, Fund-Linked Notes, Rate-Linked Notes and Futures Contract-Linked Notes and / or any combination thereof (each as defined in Condition 10 (Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Property-Linked, Fund-Linked, Futures-Contract Linked, Credit Linked, Bond-Linked, ETN-Linked and Rate-Linked Notes) of "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes").

Specified Currency:

Notes may be denominated or payable in any currency as set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, subject to all applicable consents being obtained and compliance with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

Status:

Notes will be direct and general obligations of the relevant Issuer.

Guarantee:

The payment of all amounts due in respect of (i) Notes issued by MSBV, unless specified otherwise in the applicable Pricing Supplement, (ii) MSFL or MSFIL, or (iii) an Additional Issuer, unless specified otherwise in the accession agreement pursuant to which such Additional Issuer accedes to the Program, will be unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed by Morgan Stanley pursuant to a guarantee dated as of 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time). Payment of amounts due in respect of MSI plc Notes and MSESE Notes are not guaranteed by Morgan Stanley.

Issue Price:

Notes may be issued at any price, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, subject to compliance with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

Maturities:

Notes will have maturities as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, subject to compliance with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

Where Notes have a maturity of less than one year and either (i) the issue proceeds are received by the relevant Issuer in the United Kingdom or (ii) the activity of issuing the Notes is carried on from an establishment maintained by the relevant Issuer in the United Kingdom, such Notes must: (a) have a minimum redemption value of £100,000 (or its equivalent in other currencies) and be issued only to persons whose ordinary activities involve them in acquiring, holding, managing or disposing of investments (as principal or agent) for the purposes of their businesses or who it is reasonable to expect will acquire, hold, manage or dispose of investments (as principal or agent) for the purposes of their businesses; or (b) be issued in other circumstances which do not constitute a contravention of section 19 of the FSMA by the relevant Issuer.

Redemption:

Notes may be redeemed at par or at such other redemption amount (detailed in a formula or otherwise) or by delivery of securities of an issuer that is not affiliated with Morgan Stanley, as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, subject to the Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes, where Belgian Supplemental Conditions (Notes) is specified as being applicable in respect of a Series of Notes in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Early Redemption:

Early redemption will be permitted: (i) for taxation reasons as mentioned in Condition 26 (Redemption and Purchase) of "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes" hereof, and (ii) following the occurrence of an Event of Default, if the requisite number of Noteholders declare the Notes to be due and payable following the occurrence of such Event of Default in accordance with Condition 31 (Events of Default) of "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes" hereof, but will otherwise be permitted only to the extent specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Interest:

Notes may be interest bearing or non-interest bearing. Interest (if any) may be payable at a fixed rate, which may be zero, or floating rate, or at a rate which varies during the lifetime of the relevant Series.

Denominations:

Notes will be issued in such denominations as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, subject to compliance with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

Taxation:

Payments made by the Issuer, or if applicable, the Guarantor, in respect of any Notes will be made without withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future tax, assessment or governmental charge ("Taxes") imposed or levied by or on behalf of the United States or (i) the United Kingdom, in the case of payment by MSI plc in respect of Notes issued by MSI plc, (ii) the Netherlands, in the case of payments by MSBV in respect of Notes issued by MSBV, or (iii) Germany, in the case of payments by MSESE in respect of Notes issued by MSESE, or any representative political subdivision thereof or any authority or agency therein or thereof having power to tax, unless the withholding or deduction of those Taxes is required by law. In the case of payments by Morgan Stanley, MSFL or MSFII in respect of a Note, a beneficial owner of a Note that is not a U.S. person (or a financial institution holding a Note on behalf of the beneficial owner that is not a U.S. person) is required under current applicable law to furnish the appropriate IRS Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E on which a beneficial owner certifies under penalties of perjury that it is not a U.S. person and, for certain types of Notes, that it is eligible for the benefits of a Qualifying Treaty (as defined under "United States Federal Taxation"). Other U.S. withholding taxes may apply in respect of a Note issued by any Issuer as described below under "United States Federal Taxation". In the event that any Issuer or the Guarantor determines that withholding or deduction of taxes is required by the United States, or any representative political subdivision thereof or any authority or agency therein having power to tax, on any payment on any Notes, such Issuer or Guarantor will (only if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and subject to customary exceptions) pay those Additional Amounts (as defined herein) as will result in those Noteholders who are U.S. Aliens (as defined herein) receiving such amounts as they would have received in respect of the Notes had no withholding or deduction been required.

Benefit Plan Investors:

The Notes may not be acquired or held by, or acquired with the assets of, any employee benefit plan subject to Title I of the United States Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), any individual retirement account or plan subject to section 4975 of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, or any entity whose underlying assets include "plan assets" within the meaning of section 3(42) of ERISA by reason of any such employee benefit plan's, account's or plan's investment therein.

Use of Proceeds:

The net proceeds of each issue of Notes will be used by the relevant Issuer either (i) for general corporate purposes and/or, in connection with hedging its obligations under the Notes, or (ii) for any other particular identified use of proceeds, all as stated in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

In respect of each issue of Notes by MSBV, at least 95% of the proceeds will be invested (uitzetten) within the group of which it forms part. MSBV will not issue Sustainable Bonds under this Offering Circular.

MSFL intends to lend the net proceeds from its issuances of the Notes to Morgan Stanley. Morgan Stanley intends to use the proceeds from such loans (i) for general corporate purposes, or (ii) if the Notes constitute Sustainable Bonds, to finance or refinance, in whole or in part, Eligible Projects.

If the Notes constitute Sustainable Bonds, an amount equal to the gross proceeds raised by way of Sustainable Bonds issued pursuant to the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework will be allocated to the financing or refinancing, in whole or in part, of Eligible Projects, that Morgan Stanley or any of its wholly owned subsidiaries, considers consistent with the eligibility criteria in the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework. Under this Offering Circular, Sustainable Bonds may only be issued by Morgan Stanley or by MSFL.

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Notes are "Green Bonds", an amount equal to the gross proceeds raised will be allocated to Green Eligible Projects.

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Notes are "Social Bonds", an amount equal to the gross proceeds raised will be allocated to Social Eligible Projects.

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Notes are "Sustainability Bonds", an amount equal to the gross proceeds raised will be allocated to Green Eligible Projects and Social Eligible Projects

Listing:

The applicable Pricing Supplement will specify whether an issue of Series A Notes will be:

- (i) admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market;
- (ii) admitted to the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF market;
- (iii) admitted to listing and trading on SIX Swiss Exchange;
- (iv) admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation by any other listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system; or
- (v) unlisted,

as the relevant Issuer and any Distribution Agent may agree.

The Series B Notes will not be admitted to listing, trading, and/or quotation by any listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system.

Clearing Systems:

Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg, and/or any other clearing system as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Governing Law:

The Notes and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with them shall be governed by English law.

Enforcement of Notes in Global Form:

In the case of:

- (i) English Law Notes issued by Morgan Stanley in global form, individual holders' rights will be governed by a deed of covenant entered into by Morgan Stanley dated 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time, the "Morgan Stanley Deed of Covenant");
- (ii) Notes issued by MSI plc in (i) global form and (ii) dematerialised form, individual holders' rights will be governed by a deed of covenant entered into by MSI plc dated 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time, the "MSI plc Deed of Covenant");
- (iii) Notes issued by MSBV in (i) global form, and (ii) dematerialised form, individual holders' rights will be governed by a deed of covenant entered into by MSBV dated 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time, the "MSBV Deed of Covenant");

- (iv) English Law Notes issued by MSFL in global form, individual holders' rights will be governed by a deed of covenant entered into by MSFL dated 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time, the "MSFL Deed of Covenant");
- (v) English Law Notes issued by MSFII in global form, individual holders' rights will be governed by a deed of covenant entered into by MSFII dated 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time, the "MSFII Deed of Covenant"); and
- (vi) English Law Notes issued by MSESE in global form, individual holders' rights will be governed by a deed of covenant entered into by MSESE dated 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time, the "MSESE Deed of Covenant"), copies of which, in each case, will be available for inspection at the specified office of the Fiscal Agent.

In the case of Notes issued by an Additional Issuer in global form, individual holders' rights will be governed by a deed of covenant to be executed by such Additional Issuer on or around the date on which such Additional Issuer accedes to the Program, a copy of which will be available for inspection at the specified office of the Fiscal Agent.

Selling Restrictions:

The Notes may not be offered or sold except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act. Accordingly, the Program Securities are being offered and sold only (1) outside the United States to non-U.S. Persons in "offshore transactions" in compliance with Regulation S, and (2) if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in addition to Program Securities being offered in compliance with Regulation S, to QIBs (or, in the case of Program Securities issued by MSBV, QIB/QPs), in compliance with Rule 144A under the Securities Act. As used in this Section, the terms "United States" and "U.S. Person" have the respective meanings given to those terms in Regulation S. For a description of certain restrictions on offers, sales and deliveries of the Notes and on the distribution of offering material in the United States and in certain other countries, see "Subscription and Sale" and "Transfer Restrictions".

KEY FEATURES OF THE CASH SETTLED EXCHANGEABLE NOTES

The following summary describes the key features of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes that MSFL is offering under the Program in general terms only. Investors should read the summary together with the more detailed information that is contained in this Offering Circular and in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Issuer:	Morgan Stanley Finance LLC.
Guarantor:	Morgan Stanley.
Distribution Agents:	Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc, which may act in whole or in part through an affiliate thereof, and Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC.
Fiscal Agent:	The Bank of New York Mellon.
Registrar and Transfer Agent:	The Bank of New York Mellon S.A./N.V., Luxembourg Branch.
Exchange Agent:	The Bank of New York Mellon.
Issuance in Series:	Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes will be issued in series (each, a " Series "). Each Series may comprise one or more tranches (" Tranches " and each, a " Tranche ") issued on different issue dates. The Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes of each Series will all be subject to identical terms, except that the issue date and the amount of the first payment of interest (if any) may be different in respect of different Tranches and each Series may comprise Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes of different denominations. The Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes of each Tranche will all be subject to identical terms in all respects save that a Tranche may comprise Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes of different denominations.
Form of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes:	Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes will be issued by MSFL in registered form ("Registered Notes"). Registered Notes will be in the form of either individual note certificates or global registered notes, in each case as specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement. Each global note certificate will either be: (a) in the case of Registered Notes which are not to be held under the New Safekeeping Structure (as defined below), registered in the name of a nominee of a common depositary for the Relevant Clearing System and the relevant global note certificate will be deposited on or about the issue date with the common depositary; or (b) in the case of Registered Notes which are to be held under the new safekeeping structure ("New Safekeeping Structure" or "NSS"), registered in the name of a nominee of a common safekeeper for the Relevant Clearing System and the relevant global note certificate will be deposited on or about the issue date with the common safekeeper for the Relevant Clearing System.
Terms and Conditions:	A Pricing Supplement will be prepared in respect of each Tranche of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes (each, a " Pricing Supplement "). The terms and conditions applicable to each Tranche will be those set out herein under the heading " Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes ", as supplemented, modified or replaced, in each case, by the applicable Pricing Supplement.
Specified Currency:	Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes may be denominated or payable in any currency as set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, subject to all applicable consents being obtained and compliance with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

Status:	Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes will be direct and general obligations of the Issuer.
Guarantee:	The payment of all amounts due in respect of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes issued by MSFL will be unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed by Morgan Stanley pursuant to a guarantee dated as of 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time).
Issue Price:	Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes may be issued at any price, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, subject to compliance with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements.
Maturities:	Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes will have maturities as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, subject to compliance with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements. Where Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes have a maturity of less than one year and either (i) the issue proceeds are received by the Issuer in the United Kingdom or (ii) the activity of issuing the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes is carried on from an establishment maintained by the Issuer in the United Kingdom, such Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes must: (a) have a minimum redemption value of £100,000 (or its equivalent in other currencies) and be issued only to persons whose ordinary activities involve them in acquiring, holding, managing or disposing of investments (as principal or agent) for the purposes of their businesses or who it is reasonable to expect will acquire, hold, manage or dispose of investments (as principal or agent) for the purposes of their businesses; or (b) be issued in other circumstances which do not constitute a contravention of section 19 of the FSMA by the Issuer.
Exchange Right:	Each Noteholder has the right exercisable at any time during the Exchange Period (subject, if applicable, to any Exchange Condition having been satisfied as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement) to require the Exchangeable Note(s) held by it to be redeemed in accordance with the provisions of Exchangeable Note Condition 6.2 (Procedure for Exercise of Exchange Rights) of "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" hereof. Upon the due exercise of such right, the Issuer will procure that the exchanging Noteholder receives a Cash Amount, which amount will be based on the volume weighted average price of the Shares during a specified period following the relevant Exchange Date.
Adjustment of the Exchange Price and Share:	The Exchange Price at which the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes will be exchanged for a Cash Amount will be adjusted if there is a payment of a dividend which affects such Shares, but only in the situations and only to the extent provided under the "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes". To the extent specified as applicable in respect of any series of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes: (i) Where "Relevant Options Exchange Determination" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and (A) as long as there are option contracts in respect of the Shares traded on a Relevant Options Exchange and/or under the Relevant Options Exchange Corporate Actions Procedures and there is an adjustment made by the Relevant Options Exchange to such options contracts, the Calculation Agent shall adjust (i) the Exchange Price, in circumstances where the exercise price of options contract in respect of the Share are adjusted by the Relevant Options Exchange and/or (ii) the Share, in circumstances where any securities or package of securities are being substituted for the Shares as the securities underlying options contracts in respect of the Shares, as applicable, in each case, to reflect the adjustments effected by the Relevant Options Exchange following a corporate action, other than an Ordinary Cash Dividend, Nationalisation, Delisting or a Change in Law or (B) if option contracts in respect of the Shares are not traded on a Relevant Options Exchange but are traded on an Alternative Options Exchange, the Calculation Agent will adjust the Exchange Price and/or the Share to reflect any adjustment effected in respect of any options contracts by such alternative options exchange following a corporate action, other than an Ordinary Cash Dividend, Delisting or Nationalisation or a Change in Law; or (C) if no option contracts in respect of the Shares are traded on a Relevant Options Exchange or an Alternative Options Exchange, the Calculation Agent will determine which adjustment, if any, should be made to the Exchange Price and/or the Share following a corporate action, other than an Ordinary Cash Dividend, Delisting or Nationalisation or a Change in Law; or

- (ii) Where "Calculation Agent Determination" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and regardless of whether there are option contracts in respect of the Shares traded on a Relevant Options Exchange or Alternative Options Exchanges or there are no options contracts, the Calculation Agent (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) will determine which adjustment, if any, should be made to the Exchange Price and/or the Share following a corporate action, other than an Ordinary Cash Dividend, Delisting or Nationalisation or a Change in Law.

Redemption:

Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed at not less than par (save in the circumstances set out in "Early Redemption" below).

Early Redemption:

If "Early Redemption" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, early redemption will be permitted: (i) if options contracts in respect of the Shares are traded on the Related Exchange, and any event occurs as a result of which all such relevant options contracts are settled as mentioned in Exchangeable Note Condition 10.2 (Settlement of options contracts) of "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" hereof and (ii) following the occurrence of Nationalisation, a Delisting and/or a Change in Law as mentioned in Exchangeable Note Condition 9 (Nationalisation, Change in Law and/or Delisting) and Exchangeable Note Condition 10.3 (Nationalisation, Delisting and/or Change in Law) of "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" hereof. The Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes may also be redeemed early (i) if specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, for taxation reasons as mentioned in Exchangeable Note Condition 10.4 (Tax Redemption) of "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" hereof, (ii) following the occurrence of an Event of Default, if the requisite number of Noteholders declare the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes to be due and payable following the occurrence of such Event of Default in accordance with Exchangeable Note Condition 14 (Events of Default) of "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" hereof, and (iii) if specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Issuer determines that its performance or, if applicable, the Guarantor's performance of its obligation under the Guarantee, shall have become or will be unlawful in whole or in part as a result of compliance in good faith by the Issuer, or, if applicable, the Guarantor, with any "applicable law" as mentioned in Exchangeable Note Condition 15 (Illegality) of "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" hereof, but will otherwise be permitted only to the extent specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Extraordinary Event Payment Feature:

If the "Extraordinary Event Payment Feature" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, upon the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event, the Issuer shall (i) pay on the Extraordinary Event Amount Payment Date, in respect of each Specified Denomination of the Exchangeable Notes an amount in cash equal to the Extraordinary Event Amount; (ii) notwithstanding Condition 10.1 (Final Redemption), pay on the Final Maturity Date in respect of each Specified Denomination of the Exchangeable Notes an amount in cash equal to the principal amount of the Exchangeable Notes (and, for the avoidance of doubt, no Noteholder will be entitled to any Cash Amount); and (iii) continue to pay interest (if any) on the Exchangeable Notes on each Interest Payment Date up to (and including) the Final Maturity Date.

Interest:

Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes may be interest bearing or non-interest bearing. Interest (if any) may be payable at a fixed rate.

Denominations:

Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes will be issued in such denominations as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, subject to compliance with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

Taxation:

Payments made by the Issuer, or if applicable, the Guarantor, in respect of any Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes will be made without withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future tax, assessment or governmental charge ("Taxes") imposed or levied by or on behalf of the United States or any representative political subdivision thereof or any authority or agency therein or thereof having power to tax, unless the withholding or deduction of those Taxes is required by law. In the case of payments by MSFL or the Guarantor in respect of a Cash Settled Exchangeable Note, a beneficial owner of a Cash Settled Exchangeable Note that is not a U.S. person (or a financial institution holding a Cash Settled Exchangeable Note on behalf of the beneficial owner that is not a U.S. person) is required under current applicable law to furnish the appropriate IRS Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E on which a beneficial owner certifies under penalties of perjury that it is not a U.S. person. Other U.S. withholding taxes may apply in respect of a Cash Settled Exchangeable Note as described below under "United States Federal Taxation". In the event that MSFL or the Guarantor determines that withholding or deduction of taxes is required by the United States, or any representative political subdivision thereof or any authority or agency therein having power to tax, on any payment on any Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, no Additional Amounts (as defined herein) will be payable with respect to such withholding unless specified otherwise in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Benefit Plan Investors:

The Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes may not be acquired or held by, or acquired with the assets of, any employee benefit plan subject to Title I of the United States Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), any individual retirement account or plan subject to section 4975 of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, or any entity whose underlying assets include "plan assets" within the meaning of section 3(42) of ERISA by reason of any such employee benefit plan's, account's or plan's investment therein.

Use of Proceeds:	The net proceeds of each issue of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes will be used by the Issuer either (i) for general corporate purposes and/or, in connection with hedging its obligations under the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, or (ii) for any other particular identified use of proceeds, all as stated in the applicable Pricing Supplement. MSFL intends to lend the net proceeds from its issuances of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes to Morgan Stanley. Morgan Stanley intends to use the proceeds from such loans for general corporate purposes.
Listing:	The applicable Pricing Supplement will specify whether an issue of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes will be: (i) admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market; (ii) admitted to the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF market; or (iii) unlisted, as the Issuer and any Distribution Agent may agree.
Clearing Systems:	Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg, and/or any other clearing system as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
Governing Law:	The Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with them shall be governed by English law.
Enforcement of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes in Global Form:	In respect of Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes issued by MSFL in global form, individual holders' rights will be governed by a deed of covenant entered into by MSFL dated on or about 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time, the "MSFL Deed of Covenant"), copies of which, in each case, will be available for inspection at the specified office of the Fiscal Agent.
Selling Restrictions:	The Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes may not be offered or sold except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act. Accordingly, the Program Securities are being offered and sold only (1) outside the United States to non-U.S. Persons in "offshore transactions" in compliance with Regulation S, and (2) if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in addition to Program Securities being offered in compliance with Regulation S, to QIBs, in compliance with Rule 144A under the Securities Act. As used in this Section, the terms "United States" and "U.S. Person" have the respective meanings given to those terms in Regulation S. For a description of certain restrictions on offers, sales and deliveries of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes and on the distribution of offering material in the United States and in certain other countries, see "Subscription and Sale" and "Transfer Restrictions".

Status:	The Warrants and Certificates will be direct and general obligations of the relevant Issuer.
Guarantee:	The payment of all amounts due in respect of Warrants and Certificates issued by (i) MSBV, unless specified otherwise in the applicable Pricing Supplement, (ii) MSFL or (iii) an Additional Issuer, unless specified otherwise in the accession agreement pursuant to which such Additional Issuer accedes to the Program, will be unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed by Morgan Stanley pursuant to a guarantee dated as of 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time). Payment of amounts due in respect of Certificates issued by MSI plc and MSESE is not guaranteed by Morgan Stanley.
Taxation:	The Securityholders shall be liable for any applicable taxes, duties and other charges due in relation to, inter alia , the issue, transfer, transmission and/or settlement of the Warrants and Certificates. In the case of Cash Settlement Securities, the relevant Issuer shall be entitled to withhold or deduct from any amounts otherwise payable to the Securityholders such amount as is necessary for the payment of such taxes, duties and other charges. In the case of Physical Settlement Securities, the relevant Issuer's obligation to deliver an amount of securities shall be subject to payment by the relevant Securityholders, or shall be reduced by such amount to take account, of an amount in respect of such taxes, duties and other charges.

Benefit Plan Investors:	The Warrants and Certificates may not be acquired or held by, or acquired with the assets of, any employee benefit plan subject to Title I of the United States Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (" ERISA "), any individual retirement account or plan subject to section 4975 of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, or any entity whose underlying assets include "plan assets" within the meaning of section 3(42) of ERISA by reason of any such employee benefit plan's, account's or plan's investment therein.
Listing:	The applicable Pricing Supplement will specify whether an issue of Warrants or Certificates will be: (i) admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market; (ii) admitted to the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF market; (iii) admitted to listing and trading on SIX Swiss Exchange; (iv) admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation by any other listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system; or (v) unlisted, as the relevant Issuer and any Distribution Agent may agree.
Clearing Systems:	Euroclear, Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or any other clearing systems as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
Governing Law:	The Warrants and Certificates and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with them shall be governed by English law.
Enforcement of Warrants and Certificates in Global Form:	In the case of Certificates issued by Morgan Stanley in global form, individual holders' rights will be governed by a deed of covenant entered into by Morgan Stanley dated 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time, the "Morgan Stanley Deed of Covenant"). In the case of Warrants and Certificates issued by: (i) MSI plc in (a) global form, and (b) dematerialised form, individual holders' rights will be governed by a deed of covenant entered into by MSI plc dated 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time, the "MSI plc Deed of Covenant"); (ii) MSBV in (a) global form, and (b) dematerialised form, individual holders' rights will be governed by a deed of covenant entered into by MSBV dated 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time, the "MSBV Deed of Covenant"); (iii) MSFL in global form, individual holders' rights will be governed by a deed of covenant entered into by MSFL dated 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time, the "MSFL Deed of Covenant"); (iv) MSESE in global form, individual holders' rights will be governed by a deed of covenant entered into by MSESE dated

25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time, the "MSESE Deed of Covenant"), copies of which, in each case, will be available for inspection at the specified office of the Principal Securities Agent.

In the case of Warrants and Certificates issued by an Additional Issuer in global form, individual holders' rights will be governed by a deed of covenant to be executed by such Additional Issuer on or around the date on which such Additional Issuer accedes to the Program, a copy of which will be available for inspection at the specified office of the Principal Securities Agent.

Selling Restrictions:

The Warrants and Certificates may not be offered or sold except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act. Accordingly, the Warrants and Certificates are being offered and sold only (1) outside the United States to non-U.S. Persons in "offshore transactions" in compliance with Regulation S, and (2) if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in addition to Program Securities being offered in compliance with Regulation S, to QIBs (or, in the case of Program Securities issued by MSBV, QIB/QPs) in compliance with Rule 144A under the Securities Act. As used in this Section, the terms "United States" and "U.S. Person" have the respective meanings given to those terms in Regulation S. For a description of certain restrictions on offers, sales and deliveries of the Warrants and Certificates and on the distribution of offering material in the United States and in certain other countries, see "Subscription and Sale" and "Transfer Restrictions".

DESCRIPTION OF THE NEW YORK LAW NOTES

The particular terms of any Notes offered herein will be set forth in the applicable Pricing Supplement (which will, in the case of Notes that are to be admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market, when appropriate, be comprised in a supplement to the Offering Circular). The terms and conditions set forth in this "Description of the New York Law Notes" will apply to each New York Law Note as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and in that Note. The Notes will be offered on a continuing basis.

If any Note is not to be denominated in U.S. Dollars, the applicable Pricing Supplement will specify the currency or currencies in which the principal, premium, if any, interest, if any, and supplemental amounts, if any, with respect to that Note are to be paid, along with any other terms relating to the non U.S. Dollar denomination, including for certain issuances historical exchange rates for each relevant foreign currency as against the U.S. Dollar and any exchange controls affecting any relevant foreign currency. See "— Interest and Principal Payments".

General

Notes governed by New York law will be issued under a senior debt Indenture dated as of 15 November 2000 between Morgan Stanley and The Bank of New York Mellon as Trustee (the "Trustee") (as supplemented from time to time, the "Indenture"). The Notes issued under the Indenture will constitute a single series under that Indenture.

The following summaries of certain provisions of the Indenture and the Notes, and the summaries of additional provisions of the Indenture described under the heading "— Indenture" do not purport to be complete, and those summaries are subject to the detailed provisions of the Indenture. The Notes offered by this Offering Circular and the accompanying Pricing Supplement are sometimes referred to herein as the "Offered Notes".

The Indenture does not limit the amount of additional indebtedness that Morgan Stanley or any of its subsidiaries may incur, nor does it include a negative pledge provision that would require Morgan Stanley to secure the Notes if it were to secure other senior indebtedness. The Indenture allows Morgan Stanley to "reopen" a previous issue of Notes and issue additional Notes of that issue. The Notes will be direct and general obligations of Morgan Stanley. Most of the assets of Morgan Stanley are owned by its subsidiaries. Therefore, Morgan Stanley's rights and the rights of its creditors, including holders of Notes, to participate in the assets of any subsidiary upon that subsidiary's liquidation or recapitalisation will be subject to the prior claims of that subsidiary's creditors, except to the extent that Morgan Stanley may itself be a creditor with recognised claims against the subsidiary. In addition, dividends, loans and advances from certain subsidiaries to Morgan Stanley are restricted by legal requirements, including (in the case of Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC ("MS & Co.")) net capital requirements under the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and under rules of certain exchanges and other regulatory bodies and (in the case of Morgan Stanley Bank, N.A., an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of Morgan Stanley, and other bank subsidiaries) by banking regulations.

The Indenture provides that Notes may be issued from time to time in one or more series and may be denominated and payable in currencies other than U.S. Dollars.

The applicable Pricing Supplement (which will, in the case of Notes that are to be admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market, when appropriate, be comprised in a supplement to the Offering Circular) will contain, where applicable, the following terms of, and information relating to, any Offered Notes:

- (i) the currency in which the Offered Notes are denominated and/or in which principal, and any premium, interest and/or supplemental amounts, will or may be payable (the "Specified Currency"), along with any other terms relating to the non U.S. Dollar denomination, including, if applicable, exchange rates for the Specified Currency as against the U.S. Dollar at selected times during previous years, and any exchange controls affecting that Specified Currency;
- (ii) the stated maturity date and any terms related to any extension of the maturity date;
- (iii) whether the Offered Notes are Notes bearing interest at a fixed rate ("Fixed Rate Notes"), Notes bearing interest at a floating rate ("Floating Rate Notes"), Notes with original issue discount and/or Amortising Notes;

- (iv) whether Morgan Stanley will pay Additional Amounts to the Noteholders who are U.S. Aliens;
- (v) for Fixed Rate Notes, the rate per year at which the Notes will bear interest, if any, or the method of calculating that rate and the dates on which interest will be payable;
- (vi) for Floating Rate Notes, the Base Rate, the Index Maturity, the Index Currency, the Spread, the Spread Multiplier, the Initial Interest Rate, the Interest Reset Periods, the Interest Reset Date, the Interest Payment Dates, the Maximum Interest Rate, the Minimum Interest Rate, the Interest Determination Date, the Benchmark Trigger Provisions, the Relevant Rates Benchmark, and the Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate (each as defined below) and any other terms relating to the particular method of calculating the interest rate for the Notes;
- (vii) if the Offered Notes are Amortising Notes, the amortisation schedule;
- (viii) whether the Offered Notes may be redeemed, in whole or in part, at the option of Morgan Stanley or repaid at the option of the investor, prior to the stated maturity date, and the terms of any redemption or repayment;
- (ix) whether the Offered Notes are Currency-Linked Notes, Futures Contract-Linked Notes, Bond-Linked Notes, ETN-Linked Notes, Credit Linked Notes and/or Notes linked to commodity prices, securities of entities not affiliated with Morgan Stanley, baskets of those securities or indices;
- (x) the terms on which holders of the Offered Notes may convert or exchange them into or for stock or other securities of entities not affiliated with Morgan Stanley (as well as, in the case of Series B Notes, for securities of an entity that is affiliated with Morgan Stanley), or for the cash value of these securities or for any other property, any specific terms relating to the adjustment of the conversion or exchange feature and the period during which the holders may effect the conversion or exchange;
- (xi) whether the Offered Notes will be issued in individually certificated registered form or in global registered form;
- (xii) whether the Offered Notes will be admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market, admitted to listing on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF market, or admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation by any other listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system;
- (xiii) the place or places for payment of the principal of and any premium, interest and/or supplemental amounts on the Offered Notes;
- (xiv) any repayment, redemption, prepayment or sinking fund provisions;
- (xv) information as to the methods for determining the amount of principal, interest and/or supplemental amounts payable on any date and/or the currencies, securities, futures contracts or baskets of securities, futures contracts, commodities or indices to which the amount payable on that date is linked;
- (xvi) any applicable, material U.S. federal income tax consequences other than those set forth herein;
- (xvii) if applicable, any United Kingdom withholding tax consequences; and
- (xviii) any other specific terms of the Offered Notes, including any additional events of default or covenants, and any terms required by or advisable under applicable laws or regulations.

Holders may present the Notes for exchange or transfer, in the manner, at the places and subject to the restrictions described under the caption "Subscription and Sale" and "Transfer Restrictions" in the Notes and in the applicable Pricing Supplement. These services will be provided without charge except for any tax or other governmental charge payable in connection with these services and subject to any limitations provided in the Indenture.

The Notes will be Fixed Rate Notes or Floating Rate Notes or may pay interest at a rate which varies or may pay no interest. The Notes, including Notes bearing no interest or interest at a rate that at the time of issuance is below the prevailing market rate, may be sold at a discount below their stated principal amount.

The Notes will be issued in such denominations as set forth in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

As used herein, the following terms have the meanings set forth below:

"Amortising Note" means a Fixed Rate Note (as defined below) that pays a level amount in respect of both interest and principal amortised over the life of the Note;

"Business Day" means any day, other than a Saturday or Sunday that, for Notes denominated in:

- (i) a Specified Currency other than euro, is neither a legal holiday nor a day on which banking institutions are authorised or required by law or regulation to close in the principal financial centre of the country of the Specified Currency and in each (if any) Additional Business Centre (and if the Additional Business Centre is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be or to include TARGET, then a Business Day shall also be a TARGET Settlement Day); and
- (ii) euro, that is also a TARGET Settlement Day and a day that is neither a legal holiday nor a day on which banking institutions are authorised or required by law or regulation to close in each (if any) Additional Business Centre;

"Euro", "euro", "€" and "EUR" are to the lawful single currency of the member states of the European Union that have adopted and continue to retain a common single currency through monetary union in accordance with European Union treaty law (as amended from time to time);

"Interest Payment Date" means for any Note a date on which, under the terms of that Note, regularly scheduled interest is payable;

"Interest Payment Period" means for any Note, the period specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Interest Payment Period End-Date" means for any Note, the date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Japanese Yen" and "¥" are to the lawful currency of Japan;

"London Banking Day" or "LBD" means any day on which commercial banks are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in London;

"Market Exchange Rate" means the noon U.S. Dollar buying rate in The City of New York for cable transfers of a Specified Currency published by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York;

"Original Issue Discount Note" means any Note that provides for an amount less than the principal amount thereof to be due and payable upon a declaration of acceleration of the maturity thereof pursuant to the relevant Indenture;

"Person" means any individual, company, corporation, firm, partnership, joint venture, association, organisation, state or agency of a state or other entity, whether or not having separate legal personality;

"Relevant Screen Page" means the page, section or other part of a particular information service (including, without limitation, Reuters) specified as the Relevant Screen Page in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or such other page, section or other part as may replace it on that information service or such other information service, in each case, as may be nominated by the Person providing or sponsoring the information appearing there for the purpose of displaying rates or prices comparable to the Reference Rate;

"Renminbi", "RMB" and "CNY" are to the lawful currency of the People's Republic of China ("PRC") which, for the purpose of these Conditions, shall exclude the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China, the Macau Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China and Taiwan;

"Sterling" and "£" are to the lawful currency of the United Kingdom;

"T2" means the real time gross settlement system operated by the Eurosystem, or any successor system;

"TARGET Settlement Day" means any day on which T2 is open for the settlement of payments in euro; and

"U.S. Dollars", "U.S.$" and "$" are to the lawful currency of the United States of America.

Form and Title

The Notes will be issued in registered form, without coupons attached. For a more complete description of the form of Notes and of the consequences of holding an interest in a global registered form, see "Form of Notes" below.

The investor may transfer the Notes and present them for payment and exchange in the manner set forth below.

Status

The Notes constitute direct and general obligations of Morgan Stanley which rank pari passu among themselves.

Interest and Principal Payments

Global Registered Notes. The Principal Paying Agent or any other paying agent will pay the principal, premium, if any, interest and/or supplemental amounts, if any, on the global registered note through the common depositary therefor to the Relevant Clearing System with respect to that portion of any global registered note held for its account.

At maturity, redemption or repayment or on an Interest Payment Date, the Relevant Clearing System will credit the principal, premium, if any, interest and/or supplemental amounts, if any, received to the respective accounts of the beneficial owners of the global registered note who are recorded on the book of the clearing systems at the close of business on the Clearing System Business Day before the due date of such payment ("Clearing System Business Day" means a day on which each clearing system for this the global registered note is being held is open for business). Payment of principal, premium, if any, interest and/or supplemental amounts, if any, made on any global registered note will be made to the Relevant Clearing System in immediately available funds, subject to any applicable laws and regulations.

Individually Certificated Registered Notes. The Principal Paying Agent or any other paying agent will pay principal, premium, if any, interest and/or supplemental amounts, if any, on an individually certificated registered note at maturity, upon redemption or repayment only if such note is presented. U.S. Dollar payments of interest, other than interest due at maturity or on any date of redemption or repayment, will be made by U.S. Dollar check mailed to the holder's address, as it appears in the note register on the record date. A holder of U.S.$10,000,000 or more in aggregate principal amount of Notes having the same Interest Payment Date will be entitled to receive payments of interest, other than interest due at maturity or on any date of redemption or repayment, by wire transfer of immediately available funds if appropriate wire transfer instructions have been received by the Principal Paying Agent in writing not less than 15 calendar days prior to the applicable Interest Payment Date. If an individually certificated registered note is denominated in a currency other than U.S. Dollars, payments of interest thereon will be made by wire transfer of immediately available funds to an account maintained by the holder of such note with a bank located outside the United States, and in the case the denominated currency is euro, in a country for which the euro is the lawful currency, if appropriate wire transfer instructions have been received by the Principal Paying Agent in writing on or prior to the fifth business day after the applicable record date. If such wire transfer instructions are not so received, such interest payments will be made by check payable in such currency mailed to the holder's address, as it appears in the note register on the record date.

Unavailability of Currency. The relevant Specified Currency may not be available to Morgan Stanley for making payments of principal of, and premium, interest and/or supplemental amounts, if any, on any Note. This could occur due to the imposition of exchange controls or other circumstances beyond the control of Morgan Stanley or if the Specified Currency is no longer used by the government of the country issuing that currency or by public institutions within the international banking community for the settlement of transactions. If the Specified Currency is unavailable, Morgan Stanley may satisfy its obligations to Noteholders by making those payments on the date of payment in U.S. Dollars on the basis of the Market Exchange Rate on the date of the payment or of the most recent practicable date, or if that rate of exchange is not then available or is not published for that particular payment currency, the Market Exchange Rate will be based on the highest bid quotation in The City of New York received by the Exchange Rate Agent at approximately 11:00 a.m., New York City time, on the second Business Day preceding the applicable payment date from three recognised foreign exchange dealers for the purchase by the quoting dealer:

- (i) of the Specified Currency for U.S. Dollars for settlement on the payment date;
- (ii) in the aggregate amount of the Specified Currency payable to those holders or beneficial owners of Notes; and

- (iii) at which the applicable dealer commits to execute a contract.

If those bid quotations are not available, the Exchange Rate Agent will determine the Market Exchange Rate at its sole discretion. All determinations by the Exchange Rate Agent will, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive for all purposes and binding on Morgan Stanley and the Noteholders. The Exchange Rate Agent will be Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc, an affiliate of Morgan Stanley, unless otherwise noted in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If the Exchange Rate Agent is not an affiliate of Morgan Stanley, it may be one of the dealers providing quotations.

For the avoidance of doubt, any payment made in U.S. Dollars on the basis of the Market Exchange Rate where the required payment is in an unavailable Specified Currency will not constitute an Event of Default under the Indenture.

These provisions do not apply if a Specified Currency is unavailable because it has been replaced by the euro. If the euro has been substituted for a Specified Currency, we may at our option (or will, if required by applicable law) without the consent of the holders of the affected Notes, pay the principal of, premium, if any, or interest, if any, on any Note denominated in the Specified Currency in euro instead of the Specified Currency, in conformity with legally applicable measures taken pursuant to, or by virtue of, the Treaty, subject to and in accordance with the terms described in Redenomination below. Any payment made in U.S. Dollars or in euro, as described above where the required payment is in an unavailable Specified Currency, will not constitute an Event of Default under the Indenture.

Unclaimed Payments. If Morgan Stanley has made, and the Trustee or the Principal Paying Agent or any other paying agent has held, any payment of the principal of, or any premium, interest and/or supplemental amounts on, any Notes that remains unclaimed at the end of two years after that payment has become due and payable (whether at maturity or upon call for redemption or otherwise):

- (i) the Trustee or such paying agent will notify the holders of such Notes that moneys will be repaid to Morgan Stanley, and any person claiming such moneys will thereafter look only to Morgan Stanley for payment thereof; and
- (ii) those moneys will be so repaid to Morgan Stanley.

Upon that repayment all liability of the Trustee or such paying agent with respect to those moneys will thereupon cease, without, however, limiting in any way any obligation that Morgan Stanley may have to pay the principal of, or any premium, interest and/or supplemental amounts on, the Notes as the same will become due.

Original Issue Par Notes. Certain Notes may be Original Issue Par Notes. Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the principal of any Note that is considered to be issued with original issue discount is declared to be due and payable immediately as described under "Events of Default" below, is surrendered for optional repayment or is redeemed as described under "Tax Redemption" below, the amount of principal due and payable on that Note will be limited to:

- (i) the aggregate principal amount of the Note multiplied by
- (ii) the sum of its issue price, expressed as a percentage of the aggregate principal amount, plus
- (iii) the original issue discount accrued from the date of issue to the date of declaration, expressed as a percentage of the aggregate principal amount, with the amount of original issue discount accrued being calculated using a constant yield method.

The constant yield shall be calculated using a 30-day month, 360-day year convention, a compounding period that, except for the initial period (as defined below), corresponds to the shortest period between Interest Payment Dates (with rateable accruals within a compounding period), and an assumption that the maturity will not be accelerated. If the period from the original issue date to the first Interest Payment Date, (the "initial period") is shorter than the compounding period for such Note, a proportionate amount of the yield for an entire compounding period will be accrued. If the initial period is longer than the compounding period, then the period will be divided into a regular compounding period and short compounding period with the short period being treated as provided in the preceding sentence. See the applicable Pricing Supplement for any special considerations applicable to these Notes.

Transfers and Exchanges

Global Registered Notes. Global registered notes are held by a depositary or a common depositary for Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or any other relevant clearing system. Global registered notes name the depositary or its nominee as the holder. The clearing system maintains a computerised system that will reflect each investor's beneficial ownership of such notes through an account maintained by the investor with its broker/dealer, bank, trust company or other representative. The procedures for transfer of interests in global registered notes depend upon the procedures of the clearing system.

Individually Certificated Registered Notes. Holders of individually certificated registered notes may present such notes to register the transfer thereof at the offices of the Principal Paying Agent in London or at the office of any agent that Morgan Stanley designates for that purpose. No service charge will be made for any registration of transfer of the notes, but Morgan Stanley may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge in connection therewith. The terms of, and procedures established under, the Indenture govern any registration of transfer of such notes.

For a description of certain restrictions on offers, sales and deliveries of the Notes and on the distribution of offering material in the United States and in certain other countries, see "Subscription and Sale" and "Transfer Restrictions".

Paying Agent for the Notes. Morgan Stanley has designated The Bank of New York Mellon as its Principal Paying Agent for the Notes. Morgan Stanley may at any time appoint additional paying agents for the Notes outside the United States. Any initial designation by Morgan Stanley of an agent may be rescinded at any time, except that, so long as any Notes remain outstanding, Morgan Stanley will maintain a paying agent having a specified office in (i) Dublin, so long as any Notes are admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market and Euronext Dublin requires it, and (ii) Luxembourg, so long as any Notes are admitted to listing on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF market and the Luxembourg Stock Exchange requires it.

Fixed Rate Notes. Each Fixed Rate Note will bear interest from the date of issuance at the annual rate stated on its face until the principal is paid or made available for payment.

How Interest Is Calculated. Interest on Fixed Rate Notes will be computed on the basis of a 360 day year of twelve 30 day months.

How Interest Accrues. Interest on Fixed Rate Notes will accrue from and including the most recent Interest Payment Date to which interest has been paid or duly provided for, or, if no interest has been paid or duly provided for, from and including the issue date or any other date specified in a Pricing Supplement on which interest begins to accrue. Interest will accrue to but excluding the next Interest Payment Date or, if earlier, excluding the date on which the principal has been paid or duly made available for payment (except as described below under "If a Payment Date Is Not a Business Day").

When Interest Is Paid. Payments of interest on Fixed Rate Notes will be made on the Interest Payment Dates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If the Original Issue Date of a registered note is between a record date and the next succeeding Interest Payment Date, interest payments will commence on the second succeeding Interest Payment Date and will be payable to the holder as of the record date next preceding such Interest Payment Date.

Amount of Interest Payable. Interest payments for Fixed Rate Notes will include accrued interest from and including the date of issue or from and including the last date in respect of which interest has been paid, as the case may be, to but excluding the relevant interest payment date or date of maturity or earlier redemption or repayment, as the case may be.

If a Payment Date Is Not a Business Day. If any scheduled Interest Payment Date is not a Business Day, Morgan Stanley will pay interest on the next Business Day, but interest on that payment will not accrue during the period from and after the Interest Payment Date. If the scheduled maturity date or date of redemption or repayment is not a Business Day, Morgan Stanley may pay principal, premium, interest and/or supplemental amounts, if any, on the next succeeding Business Day, but interest on that payment will not accrue during the period from and after the maturity date or date of redemption or repayment.

Amortising Notes. A Fixed Rate Note may pay a level amount in respect of both interest and principal amortised over the life of the Note. Payments of principal and interest on Amortising Notes will be made on the Interest Payment Dates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, and at maturity or upon any earlier date of redemption or repayment. Payments on Amortising Notes will be applied first to interest due and payable and then to the reduction of the unpaid principal amount. Morgan Stanley will provide to the original purchaser, and will furnish to subsequent holders upon request to Morgan Stanley, a table setting forth repayment information for each Amortising Note.

Floating Rate Notes

Each Floating Rate Note will mature on the date specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Each Floating Rate Note will bear interest at a floating rate determined by reference to an interest rate or interest rate formula (the "Base Rate"). The Base Rate may be one or more of the following:

- (i) the CD Rate;
- (ii) the Commercial Paper Rate;
- (iii) EURIBOR;
- (iv) the Federal Funds Rate;
- (v) the Federal Funds (Open) Rate;
- (vi) SOFR;
- (vii) SONIA;
- (viii) the Prime Rate;
- (ix) the Treasury Rate;
- (x) the CMT Rate; or
- (xi) any other rate or interest rate formula specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and in the Floating Rate Note.

Formula for Interest Rates. Subject as provided below in respect of SOFR Notes and SONIA Notes, the interest rate on each Floating Rate Note will be calculated by reference to:

- (i) the specified Base Rate based on the Index Maturity;
- (ii) plus or minus the Spread, if any; and/or
- (iii) multiplied by the Spread Multiplier, if any.

The interest rate on each Floating Rate Note may, during all or any part of the period that it is outstanding, be set at zero.

"Index Maturity" means, for any Floating Rate Note, the period of maturity of the instrument or obligation from which the Base Rate is calculated and will be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. The "Spread" is the number of basis points (one hundredth of a percentage point) specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be added to or subtracted from the Base Rate for a Floating Rate Note. The "Spread Multiplier" is the percentage specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be applied to the Base Rate for a Floating Rate Note. The interest rate on any inverse Floating Rate Note will also be calculated by reference to a fixed rate.

Formula for Interest Rates – SOFR Notes. Notwithstanding the terms set forth above, in the case of SOFR Notes the "Spread" is the number of basis points (one one-hundredth of a percentage point) specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, to be added to or subtracted from, as the case may be, the relevant SOFR Benchmark for an Interest Payment Period.

The amount of interest accrued and payable on the Notes for each Interest Payment Period will be equal to the outstanding principal amount of the Notes multiplied by the product of:

- (a) the sum of the relevant SOFR Benchmark plus or minus (as indicated in the applicable Pricing Supplement) the Spread for the relevant Interest Payment Period, multiplied by -

- (b) the quotient obtained by dividing the actual number of calendar days in such Interest Payment Period by 360.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, in no event will the interest rate payable for any Interest Payment Period be less than zero per cent.

Formula for Interest Rates – SONIA Notes. Notwithstanding the terms set forth above, in the case of SONIA Notes the "Spread" is the number of basis points (one one-hundredth of a percentage point) specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, to be added to or subtracted from, as the case may be, the SONIA Benchmark for an Interest Payment Period.

The amount of interest accrued and payable on the Notes for each Interest Payment Period will be equal to the outstanding principal amount of the Notes multiplied by the product of:

- (a) the sum of the SONIA Benchmark plus or minus (as indicated in the applicable Pricing Supplement) the Spread for the relevant Interest Payment Period,

multiplied by -

- (b) the quotient obtained by dividing the actual number of calendar days in such Interest Payment Period by 365.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, in no event will the interest rate payable for any Interest Payment Period be less than zero per cent.

Limitations on Interest Rate. A Floating Rate Note may also have either or both of the following limitations on the interest rate:

- (i) a maximum limitation, or ceiling, on the rate of interest which may accrue during any interest period ("Maximum Interest Rate"); and/or
- (ii) a minimum limitation, or floor, on the rate of interest that may accrue during any interest period ("Minimum Interest Rate").

Any applicable Maximum Interest Rate or Minimum Interest Rate will be set forth in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

In addition, the interest rate on a Floating Rate Note may not be higher than the maximum rate permitted by New York law, as that rate may be modified by United States federal law of general application. Under current New York law, the maximum rate of interest, subject to some exceptions, for any loan in an amount less than U.S.$250,000 is 16 per cent. and for any loan in the amount of U.S.$250,000 or more but less than U.S.$2,500,000 is 25 per cent. per annum on a simple interest basis. These limits do not apply to loans of U.S.$2,500,000 or more.

How Floating Interest Rates Are Reset. The following provisions apply to Notes other than SOFR Notes or SONIA Notes.

The interest rate in effect from the date of issue to the first Interest Reset Date for a Floating Rate Note will be the initial interest rate specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. This rate is the "Initial Interest Rate". The interest rate on each Floating Rate Note may be reset daily, weekly, monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annually. This period is the "Interest Reset Period" and the first day of each Interest Reset Period is the "Interest Reset Date". The "Interest Determination Date" pertaining to any Interest Reset Date is the day the Calculation Agent (which will be specified for any issue of Floating Rate Notes in the applicable Pricing Supplement) will refer to when determining the new interest rate at which a Floating Rate Note will reset, and is applicable as follows:

- (i) for Federal Funds Rate Notes, Federal Funds (Open) Rate Notes, and Prime Rate Notes, the Interest Determination Date will be on the Business Day prior to the Interest Rate Reset Date;

- (ii) for CD Rate Notes, Commercial Paper Rate Notes and CMT Rate Notes, the Interest Determination Date will be the second Business Day prior to the Interest Reset Date;
- (iii) for EURIBOR Notes, the Interest Determination Date will be the second TARGET Settlement Day (as defined under "General") prior to the Interest Reset Date;
- (iv) for Treasury Rate Notes, the Interest Determination Date will be the day of the week in which the Interest Reset Date falls on which Treasury bills would normally be auctioned; and
- (v) for Notes with two or more Base Rates, the Interest Determination Date will be the latest Business Day that is at least two Business Days before the Interest Reset Date for the applicable Note on which each Base Rate is determinable.

Treasury bills are normally sold at auction on Monday of each week, unless that day is a legal holiday, in which case the auction is normally held on the following Tuesday, except that the auction may be held on the preceding Friday; provided, however, that if an auction is held on the Friday of the week preceding the Interest Reset Date, the Interest Determination Date will be that preceding Friday. If an auction falls on a day that is an Interest Reset Date, that Interest Reset Date will be the next succeeding Business Day.

The Interest Reset Dates will be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If an Interest Reset Date for any Floating Rate Note falls on a day that is not a Business Day, it will be postponed to the following Business Day, except that, in the case of a EURIBOR Note, if that Business Day is in the next calendar month, the Interest Reset Date will be the immediately preceding Business Day. With respect to the EURIBOR Notes, for the purpose of determining the Initial Interest Rate, the term "Interest Reset Date" refers to the issue date.

The interest rate in effect for the ten calendar days immediately prior to maturity, redemption or repayment will be the one in effect on the tenth calendar day preceding the maturity, redemption or repayment date.

In the detailed descriptions of the various Base Rates which follow, the "Calculation Date" pertaining to an Interest Determination Date, including the Interest Determination Date as of which the Initial Interest Rate is determined, means the earlier of (i) the tenth calendar day after the Interest Determination Date, or, if that day is not a Business Day, the next succeeding Business Day, and (ii) the Business Day immediately preceding the applicable Interest Payment Date or maturity date or, for any principal amount to be redeemed or repaid, any redemption or repayment date.

How Interest is Calculated. Interest on Floating Rate Notes (other than SOFR Notes and SONIA Notes) will accrue from and include the most recent Interest Payment Date to which interest has been paid or duly provided for, or, if no interest has been paid or duly provided for, from and including the issue date or any other date specified in a Pricing Supplement on which interest begins to accrue. Interest will accrue to but exclude the next Interest Payment Date, or, if earlier, the date on which the principal has been paid or duly made available for payment (except as described under "— If a Payment Date Is Not a Business Day" below).

The applicable Pricing Supplement will specify a calculation agent for any issue of Floating Rate Notes (the "Calculation Agent"). Upon the request of the holder of any Floating Rate Note, the Calculation Agent will provide the interest rate then in effect and, if determined, the interest rate that will become effective on the next Interest Reset Date for that Floating Rate Note. As long as any Floating Rate Notes have been admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market and the rules of Euronext Dublin require it, the Calculation Agent will, no later than the first day of the applicable Interest Reset Period, notify Euronext Dublin as to the interest rate in effect for such Interest Reset Period and will also publish notice of the relevant interest rate and the applicable Interest Reset Period in the manner described below under "— Notices" or make such information available to holders at the offices of the Principal Paying Agent.

For a Floating Rate Note, accrued interest will be calculated by multiplying the principal amount of the Floating Rate Note by an accrued interest factor. This accrued interest factor will be computed by adding the interest factors calculated for each day in the period for which interest is being paid. The interest factor for each day is computed by dividing the interest rate applicable to that day:

- (i) by 360, in the case of CD Rate Notes, Commercial Paper Rate Notes, EURIBOR Notes, Federal Funds Rate Notes, Federal Funds (Open) Rate Notes and Prime Rate Notes; or
- (ii) by the actual number of days in the year, in the case of Treasury Rate Notes and CMT Rate Notes.

For these calculations, the interest rate in effect on any Interest Reset Date will be the applicable rate as reset on that date. The interest rate applicable to any other day is the interest rate from the immediately preceding Interest Reset Date (or, if none, the Initial Interest Rate).

All percentages used in or resulting from any calculation of the rate of interest on a Floating Rate Note will be rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 per cent. rounded up to 0.00001 per cent., and all U.S. Dollar amounts used in or resulting from these calculations on Floating Rate Notes will be rounded to the nearest cent, with one half cent rounded upward. All Japanese Yen amounts used in or resulting from such calculations will be rounded downward to the next lower whole Japanese Yen amount. All amounts denominated in any other currency used in or resulting from such calculations will be rounded to the nearest two decimal places in such currency, with 0.005 rounded up to 0.01.

How Interest is Calculated for SOFR Notes: On each Interest Payment Date, accrued interest will be paid for the most recently completed Interest Payment Period. Interest on the Notes will accrue from and including the most recent Interest Payment Period End-Date to which interest has been paid or duly provided for, or, in the case of the first Interest Payment Period, from and including the interest commencement date. Interest will accrue to but excluding the next Interest Payment Period End-Date.

The Calculation Agent will notify the Principal Paying Agent of each determination of the interest rate applicable to the Notes promptly after the determination is made.

With respect to any Interest Payment Period, the "SOFR Benchmark" will be determined based on SOFR Compound with Lookback, SOFR Compound with Observation Period Shift, SOFR Compound with Payment Delay or SOFR Index Average, as follows:

- (1) if SOFR Compound with Lookback ("SOFR Compound with Lookback") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SOFR Benchmark for each Interest Payment Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SOFR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Payment Period;

"d₀", for any Interest Payment Period, means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days in the relevant Interest Payment Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant U.S. Government Securities Business Days in chronological order from, and including, the first U.S. Government Securities Business Day in the relevant Interest Payment Period;

"Lookback Days" means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"n_i" for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Interest Payment Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following U.S. Government Securities Business Day ("i+1");

"SOFR_i", for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Interest Payment Period, is equal to SOFR in respect of that day; and

"SOFR_{i-xUSBD}", for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Interest Payment Period, is equal to SOFR in respect of the U.S. Government Securities Business Days falling a number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days prior to that day "i" equal to the number of Lookback Days;

- (2) if SOFR Compound with Observation Period Shift "SOFR Compound with Observation Period Shift") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SOFR Benchmark for each Interest Payment Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SOFR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Observation Period;

"d₀", for any Observation Period, means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days in the relevant Observation Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant U.S. Government Securities Business Days in chronological order from, and including, the first U.S. Government Securities Business Day in the relevant Observation Period;

"n_i" for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following U.S. Government Securities Business Day ("i+1");

"Observation Period" means, in respect of each Interest Payment Period, the period from, and including, the date falling a number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the first day of such Interest Payment Period to, but excluding, the date falling a number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the Interest Payment Period End-Date for such Interest Payment Period;

"Observation Shift Days" means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; and

"SOFR_i", for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, is equal to SOFR in respect of that day;

- (3) if SOFR Compound with Payment Delay ("SOFR Compound with Payment Delay") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SOFR Benchmark for each Interest Payment Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SOFR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Payment Period.

"d₀", for any Interest Payment Period, means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days in the relevant Interest Payment Period.

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant U.S. Government Securities Business Days in chronological order from, and including, the first U.S. Government Securities Business Day in the relevant Interest Payment Period.

"n_i" for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Interest Payment Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following U.S. Government Securities Business Day ("i+1"); and

"SOFR_i", for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Interest Payment Period, is equal to SOFR in respect of that day.

Where "SOFR Compound with Payment Delay" applies, for the purposes of calculating the SOFR Benchmark with respect to the final Interest Payment Period, the level of SOFR for each U.S. Government Securities Business Day in the period from (and including) the SOFR Rate Cut-Off Date to (but excluding) the Maturity Date or the redemption date, as applicable, shall be the level of SOFR in respect of such SOFR Rate Cut-Off Date.

Where:

"SOFR Rate Cut-Off Date" means the date that is the second U.S. Government Securities Business Day prior to the Maturity Date or the redemption date, as applicable;

- (4) if SOFR Index Average ("SOFR Index Average") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SOFR Benchmark for each Interest Payment Period shall be equal to the rate of return of the SOFR Index calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\frac{SOFR\ Index_{End}}{SOFR\ Index_{Start}} - 1 \right) \times \left(\frac{360}{d_c} \right)$$

where:

"d_c" means the number of calendar days from, and including, the SOFR Index_{Start} to, but excluding, the SOFR Index_{End};

"SOFR Index Determination Time" means approximately 8:00 a.m. (New York City time);

"SOFR Index" means, in respect of any U.S. Government Securities Business Day, the SOFR Index value as published by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York in relation to such U.S. Government Securities Business Day, as such value appears at the SOFR Index Determination Time on such U.S. Government Securities Business Day on the Federal Reserve Bank of New York's Website, and appearing on the Relevant Screen Page;

"SOFR Index_{End}" means the SOFR Index value on the date that is the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement preceding the Interest Payment Period End-Date relating to such Interest Payment Period (or in the final Interest Payment Period, the Maturity Date or redemption date); and

"SOFR Index_{Start}" means the SOFR Index value on the date that is the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement preceding the first date of the relevant Interest Payment Period;

If the values for SOFR Index_{Start} or SOFR Index_{End} are not published on or by the relevant Interest Payment Period End-Date and a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have not occurred, the "SOFR Index Average" shall be calculated on such Interest Payment Period End-Date with respect to the relevant Interest Payment Period, in accordance with the formula set out in sub-paragraph (2) above and for such purpose, "Observation Shift Days" shall be the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified for such purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If a Benchmark Transition Event and its related SOFR Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred, the provisions set forth in "SOFR Notes" below shall apply.

How Interest is Calculated for SONIA Notes: On each Interest Payment Date, accrued interest will be paid for the most recently completed Interest Payment Period. Interest on the Notes will accrue from and including the most recent Interest Payment Period End-Date to which interest has been paid or duly provided for, or, in the case of the first Interest Payment Period, from and including the interest commencement date. Interest will accrue to but excluding the next Interest Payment Period End-Date.

The Calculation Agent will notify the Principal Paying Agent of each determination of the interest rate applicable to the Notes promptly after the determination is made.

With respect to any Interest Payment Period, the "SONIA Benchmark" will be determined based on SONIA Compound with Lookback, SONIA Compound with Observation Period Shift, SONIA Compound with Payment Delay or SONIA Index Average, as follows:

- (1) If SONIA Compound with Lookback ("SONIA Compound with Lookback") is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the SONIA Benchmark for each Interest Payment Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SONIA Interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Payment Period;

"d₀" for any Interest Payment Period, means the number of London Banking Days in the relevant Interest Payment Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant London Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first London Banking Day in the relevant Interest Payment Period;

"Lookback Days" means the number of London Banking Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"n_i" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Payment Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following London Banking Day ("i+1"); and

"SONIA_{i-pLBD}" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Payment Period, is equal to the SONIA in respect of the London Banking Day falling a number of London Banking Days prior to that day "i" equal to the number of Lookback Days.

- (2) If SONIA Compound with Observation Period Shift ("SONIA Compound with Observation Period Shift") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SONIA Benchmark for each Interest Payment Period shall be equal to the value of the SONIA rates for each day during the relevant Observation Period, compounded daily in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Observation Period;

"d₀" for any Observation Period, means the number of London Banking Days in the relevant Observation Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant London Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first London Banking Day in the relevant Observation Period;

"n_i" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following London Banking Day ("i+1");

"Observation Period" means, in respect of each Interest Payment Period, the period from, and including, the date falling a number of London Banking Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the first day of the such Interest Payment Period to, but excluding, the date falling a number of London Banking Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the Interest Payment Period End-Date for such Interest Payment Period;

"Observation Shift Days" means the number of London Banking Days specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement; and

"SONIA_i" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, is equal to SONIA in respect of that day "i".

- (3) if SONIA Compound with Payment Delay ("SONIA Compound with Payment Delay") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SONIA Benchmark for each Interest Payment Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SONIA Interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Payment Period;

"d₀" for any Interest Payment Period, means the number of London Banking Days in the relevant Interest Payment Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant London Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first London Banking Day in the relevant Interest Payment Period;

"n_i" or any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Payment Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following London Banking Day ("i+1"); and

"SONIA_i" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Payment Period, is equal to SONIA in respect of that day "i".

Where "SONIA Compound with Payment Delay" applies, for the purposes of calculating the SONIA Benchmark with respect to the final Interest Payment Period, the level of SONIA for each London Banking Day in the period from (and including) the SONIA Rate Cut-Off Date to (but excluding) the Maturity Date or the redemption date, as applicable, shall be the level of SONIA in respect of such SONIA Rate Cut-Off Date.

Where:

"SONIA Rate Cut-Off Date" means the date that is the number of London Banking Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or if none are specified, the second London Banking Day) prior to the Maturity Date or the redemption date, as applicable;

- (4) if SONIA Index Average ("SONIA Index Average") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SONIA Benchmark for each Interest Payment Period shall be equal to the rate of return of the SONIA Index calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\frac{\text{SONIA Index}_{\text{End}}}{\text{SONIA Index}_{\text{Start}}} - 1 \right) \times \left(\frac{365}{d} \right)$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days from, and including, the SONIA Index_{Start} to, but excluding, the SONIA Index_{End};

"Relevant Number" means the number specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if no such number is specified, five);

"SONIA Index" means in respect of any London Banking Day, the SONIA Compounded Index in relation to such London Banking Day as provided by the Bank of England (or any successor) to authorised distributors and as then published on the Relevant Screen Page, or if the Relevant Screen Page is unavailable, as otherwise published by such authorised distributors, in each case on such London Banking Day;

If the value of either or both of SONIA Index_{Start} or SONIA Index_{End} is not published or displayed on the Relevant Screen Page by the administrator of the SONIA Index or other information service by 5.00 p.m. (London time) (or, if later, by the time falling one hour after the customary or scheduled time for publication thereof in accordance with the then-prevailing operational procedures of the administrator of the SONIA Index or of such other information service, as the case may be) on the relevant Interest Determination Date, the SONIA Benchmark for the applicable Interest Payment Period for which the SONIA Index is not available shall be determined as set out under sub-paragraph (2) above as if SONIA Compound with Observation Period Shift were specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, and for these purposes: the Observation Shift Days in respect of the applicable Interest Payment Period for which the SONIA Index is not available shall be deemed to be equal to the Relevant Number of London Banking Days plus one (or such other number of London Banking Days as is specified for this purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement), as if such alternative elections had been made in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"SONIA Index_{End}" means, in respect of an Interest Payment Period, the SONIA Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of London Banking Days preceding (a) the Interest Payment Date relating to such Interest Payment Period or (b) such other date on which the relevant payment of interest falls due (but which by its definition or the operation of the relevant provisions is excluded from such Interest Payment Period); and

"SONIA Index_{Start}" means, in respect of an Interest Payment Period, the SONIA Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of London Banking Days preceding the first date of the relevant Interest Payment Period.

For the purposes of this section (How Interest is Calculated for SONIA Notes), if SONIA in respect of any London Banking Day (the "Relevant London Banking Day") is not published on the Relevant Screen Page or by an authorised distributor, and is not otherwise provided by the administrator of SONIA, by either (A) the immediately following London Banking Day (or any amended publication day for SONIA as specified by the administrator of SONIA in the SONIA benchmark methodology) or (B) such other date and time on which SONIA for the Relevant London Banking Day is required for the purpose of any determination pursuant to the Conditions and, in either case, none of the events triggering the fallbacks specified in the section "Fallback arrangements other than where the Base Rate is SOFR and the Index Currency is U.S. Dollars" below have occurred, SONIA for the Relevant London Banking Day shall be deemed to be the rate equal to SONIA for the most recent London Banking Day in respect of which SONIA was so published or provided.

When Interest Is Paid. Morgan Stanley will pay interest on Floating Rate Notes on the Interest Payment Dates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If the Original Issue Date of a registered note is between a record date and the next succeeding Interest Payment Date, interest payments will commence on the second succeeding Interest Payment Date and will be payable to the holder as of the record date next preceding such Interest Payment Date.

If a Payment Date Is Not a Business Day. The following provisions apply to Notes other than SOFR Notes and SONIA Notes.

If any scheduled Interest Payment Date, other than the maturity date or any earlier redemption or repayment date, for any Floating Rate Note falls on a day that is not a Business Day, it will be postponed to the following Business Day, except that, in the case of a EURIBOR Note, if that Business Day would fall in the next calendar month, the Interest Payment Date will be the immediately preceding Business Day. If the scheduled maturity date or any earlier redemption or repayment date of a Floating Rate Note falls on a day that is not a Business Day, the payment of principal, premium, if any, and interest and/or supplemental amounts, if any, will be made on the next succeeding Business Day, but interest on that payment will not accrue during the period from and after the maturity, redemption or repayment date.

Alternative Interest Accrual Calculation in Case of an Event of Default. In case an event of default with respect to each specified denomination principal amount of the Notes shall have occurred and be continuing, the amount declared due and payable for the Notes (the "Stated Principal Amount") upon any acceleration of the notes shall be determined by the Calculation Agent and shall be an amount in cash equal to the Stated Principal Amount plus unpaid interest accrued thereon up to the date of such acceleration calculated as if the date of such acceleration were the Maturity Date, final Interest Payment Period End-Date (if applicable) and final Interest Payment Date.

Base Rates

CD Rate Notes

CD Rate Notes will bear interest at the interest rates specified in the CD Rate Notes and in the applicable Pricing Supplement. Those interest rates will be based on the CD Rate and any spread and/or spread multiplier and will be subject to the Minimum Interest Rate and the Maximum Interest Rate, if any.

The "CD Rate" means, for any Interest Determination Date, the rate on that date for negotiable U.S. Dollar certificates of deposit having the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as published by the U.S. Federal Reserve System (the "Fed") in "Statistical Release H.15(519), Selected Interest Rates", or any successor publication of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System ("H.15(519)") under the heading "CDs (Secondary Market)".

The following procedures will be followed if the CD Rate cannot be determined as described above:

- (i) If the above rate is not published in H.15(519) by 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Calculation Date, the CD Rate will be the rate on that Interest Determination Date set forth in the daily update of H.15(519), available through the world wide website of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System at <https://www.federalreserve.gov/releases/h15/> or any successor site or publication ("H.15 Daily Update") for the Interest Determination Date for certificates of deposit having the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement under the caption "CDs (Secondary Market)".
- (ii) If the above rate is not yet published in either H.15(519) or the H.15 Daily Update by 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Calculation Date, the Calculation Agent will determine the CD Rate to be the arithmetic mean of the secondary market offered rates as of 10:00 a.m., New York City time, on that Interest Determination Date of three leading nonbank dealers in negotiable U.S. Dollar certificates of deposit in The City of New York, which may include the Distribution Agents or their affiliates, selected by the Calculation Agent, after consultation with Morgan Stanley, for negotiable U.S. Dollar certificates of deposit of major U.S. money center banks of the highest credit standing in the market for negotiable certificates of deposit with a remaining maturity closest to the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in an amount that is representative for a single transaction in that market at that time.
- (iii) If the dealers selected by the Calculation Agent are not quoting as set forth above, the CD Rate for that Interest Determination Date will remain the CD Rate for the immediately preceding Interest Reset Period, or, if there was no Interest Reset Period, the rate of interest payable will be the Initial Interest Rate.

Commercial Paper Rate Notes

Commercial Paper Rate Notes will bear interest at the interest rates specified in the Commercial Paper Rate Notes and in the applicable Pricing Supplement. Those interest rates will be based on the Commercial Paper Rate and any Spread and/or Spread Multiplier and will be subject to the Minimum Interest Rate and the Maximum Interest Rate, if any.

The "Commercial Paper Rate" means, for any Interest Determination Date, the Money Market Yield, calculated as described below, computed using the rate on that date for U.S. Dollar commercial paper having the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, as that rate is published in H.15(519), under the heading "Commercial Paper — Nonfinancial".

The following procedures will be followed if the Commercial Paper Rate cannot be determined as described above:

- (i) If the above rate is not published by 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Calculation Date, then the Commercial Paper Rate will be the Money Market Yield computed using the rate on that Interest Determination Date for commercial paper of the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as published in the H.15 Daily Update, or other recognised electronic source used for the purpose of displaying the applicable rate, under the heading "Commercial Paper — Nonfinancial".
- (ii) If by 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on that Calculation Date the rate is not yet published in either H.15(519) or the H.15 Daily Update, or other recognised electronic source used for the purpose of displaying the applicable rate, then the Calculation Agent will determine the Commercial Paper Rate to be the Money Market Yield computed using the arithmetic mean of the offered rates as of 11:00 a.m., New York City time, on that Interest Determination Date of three leading dealers of U.S. Dollar commercial paper in The City of New York, which may include the Distribution Agents or their affiliates, selected by the Calculation Agent, after consultation with Morgan Stanley, for commercial paper of the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, placed for an industrial issuer whose bond rating is "Aa" or the equivalent, from a nationally recognised statistical rating agency.
- (iii) If the dealers selected by the Calculation Agent are not quoting as set forth above, the Commercial Paper Rate for that Interest Determination Date will remain the Commercial Paper Rate for the immediately preceding Interest Reset Period, or, if there was no Interest Reset Period, the rate of interest payable will be the Initial Interest Rate.

The "Money Market Yield" will be a yield calculated in accordance with the following formula:

Where "D" refers to the applicable per year rate for commercial paper quoted on a bank discount basis and expressed as a decimal and "M" refers to the actual number of days in the interest period for which interest is being calculated.

EURIBOR Notes

EURIBOR Notes will bear interest at the interest rates specified in the EURIBOR Notes and in the applicable Pricing Supplement. That interest rate will be based on EURIBOR and any Spread and/or Spread Multiplier and will be subject to the Minimum Interest Rate and the Maximum Interest Rate, if any.

"EURIBOR" means, for any Interest Determination Date, the rate for deposits in euros as sponsored, calculated and published by the European Money Markets Institute ("EMMI"), or any company established by EMMI for purposes of compiling and publishing those rates, for the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as that rate appears on the display on Reuters 3000 Xtra Service ("Reuters"), or any successor service, on page EURIBOR01 or any other page as may replace page EURIBOR01 on that service ("Reuters Page EURIBOR01") as of 11:00 a.m., Brussels time.

The following procedures will be followed if the rate cannot be determined as described above:

- (i) If the above rate does not appear, the Calculation Agent will request the principal Euro-zone office of each of four major banks in the Euro-zone interbank market, as selected by the Calculation Agent, after consultation with Morgan Stanley, to provide the Calculation Agent with its offered rate for deposits in euros, at approximately 11:00 a.m., Brussels time, on the Interest Determination Date, to prime banks in the Euro-zone interbank market for the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement commencing on the applicable Interest Reset Date, and in a principal amount not less than the equivalent of U.S.$1 million in euro that is representative of a single transaction in euro, in that market at that time. If at least two quotations are provided, EURIBOR will be the arithmetic mean of those quotations.
- (ii) If fewer than two quotations are provided, EURIBOR will be the arithmetic mean of the rates quoted by four major banks in the Euro-zone interbank market, as selected by the Calculation Agent, after consultation with Morgan Stanley, at approximately 11:00 a.m., Brussels time, on the applicable Interest Reset Date for loans in euro to leading European banks for a period of time equivalent to the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement commencing on that Interest Reset Date in a principal amount not less than the equivalent of U.S.$1 million in euro.

- (iii) If the banks selected by the Calculation Agent are not quoting as set forth above, EURIBOR for that Interest Determination Date will remain EURIBOR for the immediately preceding Interest Reset Period, or, if there was no Interest Reset Period, the rate of interest payable will be the Initial Interest Rate.

"Euro-zone" means the region comprising Member States of the European Union that have adopted the single currency in accordance with the Treaty.

Federal Funds Rate Notes

Federal Funds Rate Notes will bear interest at the interest rates specified in the Federal Funds Rate Notes and in the applicable Pricing Supplement. Those interest rates will be based on the Federal Funds Rate and any Spread and/or Spread Multiplier and will be subject to the Minimum Interest Rate and the Maximum Interest Rate, if any.

The "Federal Funds Rate" means, for any Interest Determination Date, the rate on that date for U.S. Dollar Federal Funds as published in H.15(519) under the heading "Federal Funds (Effective)" as displayed on Reuters, or any successor service, on page FEDFUNDS1 or any other page as may replace the applicable page on that service, which is commonly referred to as "Reuters Page FEDFUNDS1".

The following procedures will be followed if the Federal Funds Rate cannot be determined as described above:

- (i) If the above rate is not published by 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Calculation Date, the Federal Funds Rate will be the rate on that Interest Determination Date as published in the H.15 Daily Update, or other recognised electronic source used for the purpose of displaying the applicable rate, under the heading "Federal Funds (Effective)".
- (ii) If the above rate is not yet published in either H.15(519) or the H.15 Daily Update, or other recognised electronic source used for the purpose of displaying the applicable rate, by 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Calculation Date, the Calculation Agent will determine the Federal Funds Rate to be the arithmetic mean of the rates for the last transaction in overnight U.S. Dollar federal funds prior to 9:00 a.m., New York City time, on that Interest Determination Date by each of three leading brokers of U.S. Dollar Federal Funds transactions in The City of New York, which may include the Distribution Agents or their affiliates, selected by the Calculation Agent, after consultation with Morgan Stanley.
- (iii) If the brokers selected by the Calculation Agent are not quoting as set forth above, the Federal Funds Rate for that Interest Determination Date will remain the Federal Funds Rate for the immediately preceding Interest Reset Period, or, if there was no Interest Reset Period, the rate of interest payable will be the Initial Interest Rate.

Federal Funds (Open) Rate Notes

Federal Funds (Open) Rate Notes will bear interest at the interest rates specified in the Federal Funds (Open) Rate Notes and in the Pricing Supplement. Those interest rates will be based on the Federal Funds (Open) Rate and any Spread and/or Spread Multiplier and will be subject to the Minimum Interest Rate and the Maximum Interest Rate, if any.

The "Federal Funds (Open) Rate" means, for any Interest Determination Date, the rate on that date for U.S. Dollar Federal Funds as published in H.15(519) under the heading "Federal Funds (Open)" as displayed by Reuters or any successor service, on page 5 or any other page as may replace the applicable page on that service ("Reuters page 5").

The following procedures will be followed if the Federal Funds (Open) Rate cannot be determined as described above:

- (i) If the above rate is not published by 3.00 p.m., New York City time, on the Calculation Date, the Federal Funds (Open) Rate will be the rate on that Interest Determination Date as published in the H.15 Daily Update, or other recognised electronic source used for the purpose of displaying the applicable rate, under the heading "Federal Funds (Open)".

- (ii) If the above rate is not yet published in either H.15(519) or the H.15 Daily Update, or other recognised electronic source used for the purpose of displaying the applicable rate, by 3.00 p.m., New York City time, on the Calculation Date, the Calculation Agent will determine the Federal Funds (Open) Rate to be the arithmetic mean of the rates for the last transaction in overnight U.S. Dollar Federal Funds, based on the Federal Funds (Open) Rate prior to 9.00 a.m., New York City time, on that Interest Determination Date, by each of three leading brokers of U.S. Dollar Federal Funds transactions in The City of New York, which may include the Distribution Agent or their affiliates, selected by the Calculation Agent, after consultation with Morgan Stanley.
- (iii) If the brokers selected by the Calculation Agent are not quoting as set forth above, the Federal Funds (Open) Rate for that Interest Determination Date will remain the Federal Funds (Open) Rate for the immediately preceding Interest Reset Period, or, if there was no Interest Reset Period, the rate of interest payable will be the Initial Interest Rate.

SOFR Notes

SOFR Notes will bear interest at the interest rates specified in the SOFR Notes and in the applicable Pricing Supplement. Those interest rates will be based on SOFR and any Spread and/or Spread Multiplier and will be subject to the Minimum Interest Rate and the Maximum Interest Rate, if any.

"SOFR" means, with respect to any U.S. Government Securities Business Day:

- (1) the Secured Overnight Financing Rate in respect of such U.S. Government Securities Business Day as provided by the New York Federal Reserve, as the administrator of such rate (or a successor administrator) on the New York Federal Reserve's Website on or about 8:00 a.m. (New York time) on the U.S. Government Securities Business Day immediately following such U.S. Government Securities Business Day; or
- (2) if the Secured Overnight Financing Rate in respect of such U.S. Government Securities Business Day does not appear as specified in paragraph (1), unless both a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred, the Secured Overnight Financing Rate in respect of the last U.S. Government Securities Business Day for which such rate was published on the New York Federal Reserve's Website; or
- (3) if a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred:
 - (A) the sum of: (a) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected or recommended by the Relevant Governmental Body as the replacement for the then-current Benchmark for the applicable Corresponding Tenor and (b) the Benchmark Replacement Adjustment; or
 - (B) the sum of (a) the ISDA Fallback Rate and (b) the Benchmark Replacement Adjustment; or
 - (C) the sum of (a) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected by the Issuer or its designee as the replacement for the then-current Benchmark for the applicable Corresponding Tenor giving due consideration to any industry-accepted rate of interest as a replacement for the then-current Benchmark for U.S. dollar-denominated floating rate notes at such time and (b) the Benchmark Replacement Adjustment.

Where:

"Benchmark" means the Secured Overnight Financing Rate with the applicable period of maturity (which shall be daily); provided that if a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the Secured Overnight Financing Rate with the applicable period of maturity (which shall be daily) or the then-current Benchmark, then "Benchmark" means the applicable Benchmark Replacement;

"Benchmark Replacement" means the first alternative set forth in the order below that can be determined by the Issuer or its designee as of the Benchmark Replacement Date:

- (a) the sum of: (i) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected or recommended by the Relevant Governmental Body as the replacement for the then-current Benchmark for the applicable Corresponding Tenor and (ii) the Benchmark Replacement Adjustment;

- (b) the sum of: (i) the ISDA Fallback Rate and (ii) the Benchmark Replacement Adjustment;
- (c) the sum of: (i) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected by the Issuer or its designee as the replacement for the then-current Benchmark for the applicable Corresponding Tenor giving due consideration to any industry-accepted rate of interest as a replacement for the then-current Benchmark for U.S. Dollar-denominated floating rate notes at such time and (ii) the Benchmark Replacement Adjustment.

In connection with the implementation of a Benchmark Replacement, the Issuer or its designee will have the right to make Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes from time to time;

"Benchmark Replacement Adjustment" means the first alternative set forth in the order below that can be determined by the Issuer or its designee as of the Benchmark Replacement Date:

- (a) the spread adjustment, or method for calculating or determining such spread adjustment, (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that has been selected or recommended by the Relevant Governmental Body for the applicable Unadjusted Benchmark Replacement;
- (b) if the applicable Unadjusted Benchmark Replacement is equivalent to the ISDA Fallback Rate, then the ISDA Fallback Adjustment;
- (c) the spread adjustment (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that has been selected by the Issuer or its designee giving due consideration to any industry-accepted spread adjustment, or method for calculating or determining such spread adjustment, for the replacement of the then-current Benchmark with the applicable Unadjusted Benchmark Replacement for U.S. Dollar-denominated floating rate notes at such time;

"Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes" means, with respect to any Benchmark Replacement, any technical, administrative or operational changes (including changes to the "Interest Payment Period", timing and frequency of determining rates and making payments of interest, changes to the definition of "Corresponding Tenor" solely when such tenor is longer than the Interest Payment Period, and other administrative matters) that the Issuer or its designee decides may be appropriate to reflect the adoption of such Benchmark Replacement in a manner substantially consistent with market practice (or, if the Issuer or its designee decides that adoption of any portion of such market practice is not administratively feasible or if the Issuer or its designee determines that no market practice for use of the Benchmark Replacement exists, in such other manner as the Issuer or its designee determines is reasonably necessary);

"Benchmark Replacement Date" means the earliest to occur of the following events with respect to the then-current Benchmark:

- (a) in the case of limb (a) or (b) of the definition of "Benchmark Transition Event" below, the later of (i) the date of the public statement or publication of information referenced therein and (ii) the date on which the administrator of the Benchmark permanently or indefinitely ceases to provide the Benchmark; or
- (b) in the case of limb (c) of the definition of "Benchmark Transition Event" below, the date of the public statement or publication of information referenced therein.

For the avoidance of doubt, if the event giving rise to the Benchmark Replacement Date occurs on the same day as, but earlier than, the Reference Time in respect of any determination, the Benchmark Replacement Date will be deemed to have occurred prior to the Reference Time for such determination;

"Benchmark Transition Event" means the occurrence of one or more of the following events with respect to the then-current Benchmark:

- (a) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator of the Benchmark announcing that such administrator has ceased or will cease to provide the Benchmark, permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Benchmark;

- (b) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of the Benchmark, the central bank for the currency of the Benchmark, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator for the Benchmark, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator for the Benchmark or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator for the Benchmark, which states that the administrator of the Benchmark has ceased or will cease to provide the Benchmark permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Benchmark; or
- (c) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of the Benchmark announcing that the Benchmark is no longer representative;

"Business Day" means any day, other than a Saturday or Sunday, that is neither a legal holiday nor a day on which banking institutions are authorized or required by law or regulation to close in The City of New York

"Corresponding Tenor" means, with respect to a Benchmark Replacement, a tenor (including overnight) having approximately the same length (disregarding business day adjustment) as the applicable tenor for the then-current Benchmark;

"Federal Reserve Bank of New York's Website" means the website of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York currently at <http://www.newyorkfed.org>, or any successor source;

"ISDA Definitions" means the latest version of the 2021 ISDA Interest Rate Derivatives Definitions, including any Matrices referred to therein, as at the date of issue of the first Tranche of Notes of the relevant Series as published by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc.;

"ISDA Fallback Adjustment" means the spread adjustment, (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that would apply for derivatives transactions referencing the ISDA Definitions to be determined upon the occurrence of an index cessation event with respect to the Benchmark for the applicable tenor;

"ISDA Fallback Rate" means the rate that would apply for derivatives transactions referencing the ISDA Definitions to be effective upon the occurrence of an index cessation date with respect to the Benchmark for the applicable tenor excluding the applicable ISDA Fallback Adjustment;

"New York Federal Reserve" means the Federal Reserve Bank of New York;

"Reference Time" means, with respect to any determination of the Benchmark, the time determined by the Issuer or its designee in accordance with the Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes;

"Relevant Governmental Body" means the Federal Reserve Board and/or the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, or a committee officially endorsed or convened by the Federal Reserve Board and/or the Federal Reserve Bank of New York or any successor thereto;

"U.S. Government Securities Business Day" means any day except for a Saturday, Sunday or a day on which the Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association recommends that the fixed income departments of its members be closed for the entire day for purposes of trading in U.S. government securities; and

"Unadjusted Benchmark Replacement" means the Benchmark Replacement excluding the Benchmark Replacement Adjustment.

If a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred, any determination, decision or election that may be made by the Issuer or its designee pursuant to this section "Determination of SOFR," including any determination with respect to a tenor, rate or adjustment or of the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event, circumstance or date and any decision to take or refrain from taking any action or any selection:

- (a) will be conclusive and binding absent manifest error;
- (b) will be made in the Issuer's or its designee's sole discretion; or

- (c) notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the documentation relating to the Notes, shall become effective without consent from the holders of the Notes or any other party.

SONIA Notes

SONIA Notes will bear interest at the interest rates specified in the SONIA Notes and in the applicable Pricing Supplement. Those interest rates will be based on SOFR and any Spread and/or Spread Multiplier and will be subject to the Minimum Interest Rate and the Maximum Interest Rate, if any.

"SONIA", in respect of any London Banking Day, is a reference rate equal to the daily Sterling Overnight Index Average rate for such London Banking Day as provided by the administrator of SONIA to authorised distributors and as then published on the Relevant Screen Page or, if the Relevant Screen Page is unavailable, as otherwise published by such authorised distributors, in each case on the London Banking Day immediately following such London Banking Day.

Fallback arrangements other than where the Base Rate is SOFR

Except as provided above, if EURIBOR or SONIA, as applicable, has been permanently discontinued, the Calculation Agent will use, as a substitute for such EURIBOR or SONIA (as the case may be) and for each future Interest Determination Date, the alternative reference rate selected by the central bank, reserve bank, monetary authority or any similar institution (including any committee or working group thereof) in the jurisdiction of the applicable index currency that is consistent with accepted market practice (the "Alternative Rate"). The Calculation Agent will, after consultation with the Issuer, make such adjustments to the Alternative Rate or the Spread, as well as the applicable business day convention, Interest Determination Dates and related provisions and definitions of the Notes, in each case that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such Alternative Rate for debt obligations such as the Notes. However, in the case of EURIBOR only, if the Calculation Agent determines, after consultation with the Issuer, that no such Alternative Rate exists on the relevant date, it shall make a determination, after consultation with the Issuer, of an alternative rate as a substitute for EURIBOR, for debt obligations such as the Notes, as well as the Spread, the business day convention and the Interest Determination Dates in respect of the Notes, that is consistent with accepted market practice.

Prime Rate Notes

Prime Rate Notes will bear interest at the interest rates specified in the Prime Rate Notes and in the applicable Pricing Supplement. That interest rate will be based on the Prime Rate and any Spread and/or Spread Multiplier, and will be subject to the Minimum Interest Rate and the Maximum Interest Rate, if any.

The "Prime Rate" means, for any Interest Determination Date, the rate on that date as published in H.15(519) under the heading "Bank Prime Loan".

The following procedures will be followed if the Prime Rate cannot be determined as described above:

- (i) If the above rate is not published prior to 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Calculation Date, the Prime Rate will be the rate on that Interest Determination Date as published in H.15 Daily Update under the heading "Bank Prime Loan".
- (ii) If the above rate is not published in either H.15(519) or the H.15 Daily Update by 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Calculation Date, the Calculation Agent will determine the Prime Rate to be the arithmetic mean of the rates of interest publicly announced by each bank that appears on the Reuters Page US PRIME 1, as defined below, as that bank's Prime Rate or base lending rate as in effect for that Interest Determination Date.
- (iii) If fewer than four rates for that Interest Determination Date appear on the Reuters Page US PRIME 1 by 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Calculation Date, the Calculation Agent will determine the Prime Rate to be the arithmetic mean of the Prime Rates quoted on the basis of the actual number of days in the year divided by 360 as of the close of business on that Interest Determination Date by at least three major banks in The City of New York, which may include the Distribution Agents or their affiliates, selected by the Calculation Agent, after consultation with Morgan Stanley.
- (iv) If the banks selected by the Calculation Agent are not quoting as set forth above, the Prime Rate for that Interest Determination Date will remain the Prime Rate for the immediately preceding Interest Reset

Period, or, if there was no Interest Reset Period, the rate of interest payable will be the Initial Interest Rate.

"Reuters Page US PRIME 1" means the display designated as page "US PRIME 1" on Reuters, or any successor service, or any other page as may replace the US PRIME 1 page on that service for the purpose of displaying Prime Rates or base lending rates of major U.S. banks.

Treasury Rate Notes

Treasury Rate Notes will bear interest at the interest rates specified in the Treasury Rate Notes and in the applicable Pricing Supplement. That interest rate will be based on the Treasury Rate and any Spread and/or Spread Multiplier and will be subject to the Minimum Interest Rate and the Maximum Interest Rate, if any.

The "Treasury Rate" means:

- (i) the rate from the auction held on the applicable Interest Determination Date (the "Auction") of direct obligations of the United States ("Treasury Bills") having the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as that rate appears under the caption "INVESTMENT RATE" on the display on Reuters Page USAUCTION 10 or on Reuters Page USAUCTION11 or such other page or pages as may replace Reuters Page USAUCTION10 or Reuters Page USAUCTION11 on that service, or any successor service, for the purpose of displaying such information; or
- (ii) if the rate described in the first bullet point is not published by 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Calculation Date, the bond equivalent yield of the auction rate for the applicable Treasury Bills as published in the H.15 Daily Update, or other recognised electronic source used for the purpose of displaying the applicable rate, under the caption "U.S. Government Securities/Treasury Bills/Auction High"; or
- (iii) if the rate described in the second bullet point is not published by 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the related Calculation Date, the bond equivalent yield of the auction rate of the applicable Treasury Bills, announced by the United States Department of the Treasury; or
- (iv) if the rate referred to in the third bullet point is not announced by the United States Department of the Treasury, or if the Auction is not held, the bond equivalent yield of the auction rate on the applicable Interest Determination Date of Treasury Bills having the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement published in H.15(519) under the caption "U.S. Government Securities/Treasury Bills/Secondary Market"; or
- (v) if the rate referred to in the fourth bullet point is not published by 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the related Calculation Date, the rate on the applicable Interest Determination Date of the applicable Treasury Bills as published in H.15 Daily Update, or other recognised electronic source used for the purpose of displaying the applicable rate, under the caption "U.S. Government Securities/Treasury Bills/Secondary Market"; or
- (vi) if the rate referred to in the fifth bullet point is not published by 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the related Calculation Date, the rate on the applicable Interest Determination Date calculated by the Calculation Agent as the bond equivalent yield of the arithmetic mean of the secondary market bid rates, as of approximately 3:30 p.m., New York City time, on the applicable Interest Determination Date, of three primary U.S. government securities dealers, which may include the Distribution Agents or their affiliates, selected by the Calculation Agent (after consultation with Morgan Stanley), for the issue of Treasury Bills with a remaining maturity closest to the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; or
- (vii) if the dealers selected by the Calculation Agent are not quoting as set forth above, the Treasury Rate for the immediately preceding Interest Reset Period, or, if there was no Interest Reset Period, the rate of interest payable will be the Initial Interest Rate.
- (viii) The "bond equivalent yield" means a yield calculated in accordance with the following formula and expressed as a percentage:

$$\text{Money Market Yield} = \frac{D \times N}{360 - (D \times M)} \times 100$$ where "D" refers to the applicable per annum rate for Treasury Bills quoted on a bank discount basis, "N" refers to 365 or 366, as the case may be, and "M" refers to the actual number of days in the interest period for which interest is being calculated.

CMT Rate Notes

CMT Rate Notes will bear interest at the interest rates specified in the CMT Rate Notes and in the applicable Pricing Supplement. That interest rate will be based on the CMT Rate and any Spread and/or Spread Multiplier and will be subject to the Minimum Interest Rate and the Maximum Interest Rate, if any.

The "CMT Rate" means, for any Interest Determination Date, any of the following rates displayed on the Designated CMT Reuters Page, as defined below, under the caption ". Treasury Constant Maturities. Federal Reserve Board Release H.15. Mondays Approximately 3:45 p.m.", under the column for the Designated CMT Maturity Index, as defined below, for:

- (1) the rate on that Interest Determination Date, if the Designated CMT Reuters Page is the Reuters Page FRBCMT; and
- (2) the week or the month, as applicable, ended immediately preceding the week in which the related Interest Determination Date occurs, if the Designated CMT Reuters Page is the Reuters Page FEDCMT.

The following procedures will be followed if the CMT Rate cannot be determined as described above:

- (i) If the above rate is no longer displayed on the relevant page, or if not displayed by 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Calculation Date, then the CMT Rate will be the Treasury Constant Maturities rate for the Designated CMT Maturity Index as published in the relevant H.15(519).
- (ii) If the above rate described in the first bullet point is no longer published, or if not published by 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the related Calculation Date, then the CMT Rate will be the Treasury Constant Maturities Rate for the Designated CMT Maturity Index or other U.S. Treasury rate for the Designated CMT Maturity Index, on the Interest Determination Date for the related Interest Reset Date as may then be published by either the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System or the United States Department of the Treasury that the Calculation Agent determines to be comparable to the rate formerly displayed on the Designated CMT Reuters Page and published in the relevant H.15(519).
- (iii) If the information set forth above is not provided by 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the related Calculation Date, then the Calculation Agent will determine the CMT Rate to be a yield to maturity, based on the arithmetic mean of the secondary market closing offer side prices as of approximately 3:30 p.m., New York City time, on the Interest Determination Date reported, according to their written records, by three leading primary U.S. government securities dealers (the "Reference Dealers") in The City of New York, which may include the Distribution Agents or their affiliates, selected by the Calculation Agent as described in the following sentence. The Calculation Agent will select five Reference Dealers, after consultation with Morgan Stanley, and will eliminate the highest quotation or, in the event of equality, one of the highest, and the lowest quotation or, in the event of equality, one of the lowest, for the most recently issued direct noncallable fixed rate obligations of the United States ("Treasury Notes") with an original maturity of approximately the Designated CMT Maturity Index, a remaining term to maturity of no more than 1 year shorter than the Designated CMT Maturity Index and in a principal amount that is representative for a single transaction in the securities in that market at that time. If two Treasury Notes with an original maturity as described above have remaining terms to maturity equally close to the Designated CMT Maturity Index, the quotes for the Treasury Note with the shorter remaining term to maturity will be used.
- (iv) If the Calculation Agent cannot obtain three Treasury Notes quotations as described in the immediately preceding paragraph, the Calculation Agent will determine the CMT Rate to be a yield to maturity based on the arithmetic mean of the secondary market offer side prices as of approximately 3:30 p.m., New York City time, on the Interest Determination Date of three Reference Dealers in The City of New York, selected using the same method described in the immediately preceding paragraph, for Treasury Notes with an original maturity equal to the number of years closest to but not less than the Designated CMT Maturity Index and a remaining term to maturity closest to the Designated CMT Maturity Index and in a principal amount that is representative for a single transaction in the securities in that market at that time.

- (v) If three or four, and not five, of the Reference Dealers are quoting as described above, then the CMT Rate for that Interest Determination Date will be based on the arithmetic mean of the offer prices obtained and neither the highest nor the lowest of those quotes will be eliminated.
- (vi) If fewer than three Reference Dealers selected by the Calculation Agent are quoting as described above, the CMT Rate for that Interest Determination Date will remain the CMT Rate for the immediately preceding Interest Reset Period, or, if there was no Interest Reset Period, the rate of interest payable will be the Initial Interest Rate.

"Designated CMT Reuters Page" means the display on the Reuters page, or any successor service, specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or any other page as may replace that page on that service for the purpose of displaying Treasury Constant Maturities as reported in H.15(519). If no Reuters page is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Designated CMT Reuters Page will be the Reuters Page FEDCMT, for the most recent week.

"Designated CMT Maturity Index" means the original period to maturity of the U.S. Treasury Securities, which is either 1, 2, 3, 5, 7, 10, 20 or 30 years, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, for which the CMT Rate will be calculated. If no maturity is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Designated CMT Maturity Index will be two years.

Exchangeable Notes

Morgan Stanley may issue Notes that are optionally or mandatorily exchangeable (the "Exchangeable Notes") into:

- (i) the securities of an entity not affiliated with Morgan Stanley;
- (ii) a basket of those securities;
- (iii) an index or indices of those securities; or
- (iv) any combination of the above.

The Exchangeable Notes may or may not bear interest or be issued with original issue discount or at a premium. The general terms of the Exchangeable Notes are as described below. The particular terms of any Exchangeable Notes, including the procedures for exercising any exchange right and for calculating and delivering any securities to be delivered upon exchange, will be set forth in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Optionally Exchangeable Notes. The holder of an optionally Exchangeable Note (the "Optionally Exchangeable Notes") may, during a period, or at specific times, exchange the Notes for the underlying property at a specified rate of exchange. If specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, Morgan Stanley will have the option to redeem the Optionally Exchangeable Note prior to maturity. If the holder of an Optionally Exchangeable Note does not elect to exchange the Note prior to maturity or any applicable redemption date, the holder will receive the principal amount of the Note plus any accrued interest at maturity or upon redemption.

Credit Linked Notes. Morgan Stanley may issue Credit Linked Notes. The terms of Credit Linked Notes will be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Bond-Linked Notes. Morgan Stanley may issue Bond-Linked Notes. The terms of Bond-Linked Notes will be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

ETN-Linked Notes. Morgan Stanley may issue ETN-Linked Notes. The terms of ETN-Linked Notes will be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Mandatorily Exchangeable Notes. At maturity, the holder of a mandatorily Exchangeable Note (the "Mandatorily Exchangeable Notes") must exchange the Note for the underlying property at a specified rate of exchange, and, therefore, depending upon the value of the underlying property at maturity, the holder of a Mandatorily Exchangeable Note may receive less than the principal amount of the Note at maturity. If so indicated in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the specified rate at which a Mandatorily Exchangeable Note may be exchanged may vary depending on the value of the underlying property so that, upon exchange, the holder participates in a percentage, which may be less than, equal to, or greater than 100 per cent. of the change in value of the underlying property. Mandatorily Exchangeable Notes may include Notes where Morgan Stanley has the right, but not the obligation, to require holders of Notes to exchange the Notes for the underlying property.

Payments upon Exchange. The applicable Pricing Supplement will specify if upon exchange, at maturity or otherwise, the holder of an Exchangeable Note may receive, at the specified exchange rate, either the underlying property or the cash value of the underlying property. The underlying property may be the securities of either U.S. or foreign entities or both. The Exchangeable Notes may or may not provide for protection against fluctuations in the exchange rate between the currency in which that Note is denominated and the currency or currencies in which the market prices of the underlying security or securities are quoted. Exchangeable Notes may have other terms, which will be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. Exchangeable Notes for which a holder may receive the underlying property will not be admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market unless a supplement to the Offering Circular about the underlying property has been approved by Euronext Dublin.

Special Requirements for Exchange of Global Registered Notes. If an Optionally Exchangeable Note is represented by a global registered note that remain on deposit with a common depositary or specified depositary, as the case may be, for the Relevant Clearing System, the beneficial owner must exercise the right to exchange through the Relevant Clearing System. In order to ensure that the Relevant Clearing System will timely exercise a right to exchange a particular Optionally Exchangeable Note or any portion of a particular Optionally Exchangeable Note, the beneficial owner of the Optionally Exchangeable Note must instruct the broker or other direct or indirect participant through which it holds an interest in that Optionally Exchangeable Note to notify the Relevant Clearing System of its desire to exchange in accordance with the then applicable operating procedures of the Relevant Clearing System. Different firms have different deadlines for accepting instructions from their customers. Each beneficial owner should consult the broker or other participant through which it holds an interest in an Optionally Exchangeable Note in order to ascertain the deadline for ensuring that timely notice will be delivered to the Relevant Clearing System.

Payments upon Acceleration of Maturity or upon Tax Redemption. If the principal amount payable at maturity of any Exchangeable Note is declared due and payable prior to maturity as a result of an acceleration or tax redemption, the amount payable will be determined as set forth in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Credit Linked Notes, Bond-Linked Notes, ETN-Linked Notes, Commodity-Linked Notes, Futures Contract-Linked Notes and Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Notes

Morgan Stanley may issue Notes with the principal amount payable on any principal payment date and/or the amount of interest payable on any Interest Payment Date to be determined by reference to the credit of one or more specified entities not affiliated with Morgan Stanley, to one or more underlying securities, to one or more ETNs, to one or more commodity prices, to futures contracts, securities of entities not affiliated with Morgan Stanley (as well as, in the case of Series B Notes, securities of an entity that is affiliated with Morgan Stanley), baskets of those securities or futures contracts or indices of those securities or other indices. These Notes may include other terms, which will be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or a drawdown prospectus, if required.

Currency-Linked Notes

Morgan Stanley may issue Notes with the principal amount payable on any principal payment date, and/or the amount of interest payable on any interest payment date to be determined by reference to the value of one or more currencies as compared to the value of one or more other currencies. The applicable Pricing Supplement will specify the following:

- (i) information as to the one or more currencies to which the principal amount payable on any principal payment date or the amount of interest payable on any interest payment date is linked or indexed;
- (ii) the currency in which the face amount of the Currency-Linked Note is denominated (the "Denominated Currency");
- (iii) the currency in which principal on the Currency-Linked Note will be paid (the "Payment Currency");
- (iv) the interest rate per annum and the dates on which Morgan Stanley will make interest payments;
- (v) specific historic exchange rate information and any currency risks relating to the specific currencies selected; and

- (vi) additional U.S. federal income tax considerations, if any.

The Denominated Currency and the Payment Currency may be the same currency or different currencies. Interest on Currency-Linked Notes will be paid in the Denominated Currency.

Redemption and Repurchase of Notes

Optional Redemption by Morgan Stanley. The applicable Pricing Supplement will indicate either that the Notes cannot be redeemed prior to maturity, other than as provided under "— Tax Redemption" below or in certain circumstances following the occurrence of an Administrator/Benchmark Event or relevant adjustment events applicable to the Program Securities, or will indicate the terms of Morgan Stanley's option to redeem the Notes subject always to compliance with all applicable laws and regulations and the requirements of each listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system (if any) by which the relevant Notes have been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation. Morgan Stanley will give notice of redemption as described below. The Notes, except for Amortising Notes, will not be subject to any sinking fund.

Notice of Redemption. Notice of redemption shall be given to holders of registered notes designated for redemption in the manner described under "Notices" below, and such notice will be given either not less than 30 nor more than 60 calendar days prior to the date fixed for redemption or within the redemption notice period specified in the Pricing Supplement.

Repayment at Option of Holder. If applicable, the applicable Pricing Supplement will indicate that the holder has the option to have Morgan Stanley repay the Notes on a date or dates specified prior to their maturity date. The repayment price will be equal to 100 per cent. of the principal amount of the Notes, together with accrued but unpaid interest to the date of repayment. For Notes issued with original issue discount, the applicable Pricing Supplement will specify the amount payable upon a repayment.

For Morgan Stanley to repay a Note, the applicable paying agent must receive at least 15 days but not more than 30 days prior to the repayment date, or within the repayment notice period designated in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Note with the form entitled "Option to Elect Repayment" on the reverse of the Note duly completed, together with any unmatured coupons.

Exercise of the repayment option by the holder of a Note will be irrevocable. The holder may exercise the repayment option for less than the entire principal amount of the Note but, in that event, the principal amount of the Note remaining outstanding after repayment must be an authorised denomination.

Special Requirements for Optional Repayment of Global Registered Notes. If a Note is represented by a global registered note that remains on deposit with a common depositary, or specified depositary, as the case may be, for the Relevant Clearing System, the beneficial owner must exercise the right to have Morgan Stanley repay that Note through the Relevant Clearing System. In order to ensure that the Relevant Clearing System will timely exercise a right to have Morgan Stanley repay a particular Note or any portion of a particular Note, the beneficial owner of the Note must instruct the broker or other direct or indirect participant through which it holds an interest in that Note to notify the Relevant Clearing System of its desire to have Morgan Stanley repay such Note or any portion of such Note in accordance with the then applicable operating procedures of the Relevant Clearing System. Different firms have different deadlines for accepting instructions from their customers. Each beneficial owner should consult the broker or other participant through which it holds an interest in a Note in order to ascertain the deadline for ensuring that timely notice will be delivered to the Relevant Clearing System.

Open Market Purchases by Morgan Stanley. Morgan Stanley may purchase Notes at any price in the open market or otherwise. Notes so purchased by Morgan Stanley may, at the discretion of Morgan Stanley, be held or resold or surrendered to the Trustee for cancellation.

Redenomination

Application. The following is applicable to the Notes only if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

Notice of redenomination. If the country of the Specified Currency becomes or, announces its intention to become, a Member State of the European Union which adopts the euro as its lawful currency in accordance with the Treaty (a "Participating Member State"), Morgan Stanley may, without the consent of the Noteholders, on giving at least 30 days' prior notice to the Noteholders and the paying agents, designate a date (the "Redenomination Date"), being an Interest Payment Date under the Notes falling on or after the date on which such country becomes a Participating Member State.

Redenomination. From the Redenomination Date:

- (i) the Notes shall be deemed to be redenominated into euro in the denomination of euro 0.01 with a principal amount for each Note equal to the principal amount of that Note in the specified currency, converted into euro at the rate for conversion of such currency into euro established by the Council of the European Union pursuant to the Treaty (including compliance with rules relating to rounding in accordance with European Union regulations); provided, however, that, if Morgan Stanley determines that the then market practice in respect of the redenomination into euro 0.01 of internationally offered securities is different from that specified above, such provisions shall be deemed to be amended so as to comply with such market practice and Morgan Stanley shall promptly notify the Noteholders, each listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system (if any) by which the Notes have been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation and the paying agents of such deemed amendments; and
- (ii) all payments in respect of the Notes (other than, unless the redenomination date is on or after such date as the Specified Currency ceases to be a sub division of the euro, payments of interest in respect of periods commencing before the Redenomination Date) will be made solely in euro by check drawn on, or by credit or transfer to a euro account (or any other account to which euro may be credited or transferred) maintained by the payee with, a bank in the principal financial center of any Member State of the European Union.

Redenomination: Following redenomination of the Notes, where Notes have been issued in definitive form, the amount of interest due in respect of such Notes will be calculated by reference to the aggregate principal amount of the Notes presented for payment by the relevant holder

Interest Determination Date. If the Note is a Floating Rate Note, with effect from the redenomination date the Interest Determination Date shall be deemed to be the second TARGET Settlement Day before the first day of the relevant Interest Payment Period.

Tax Redemption

All Notes. Notes may be redeemed as a whole (but not in part), at the option of Morgan Stanley at any time prior to maturity, upon the giving of a notice of redemption as described below if Morgan Stanley determines that, as a result of:

- (i) any change in or amendment to the laws, (including a holding, judgment or order by a court of competent jurisdiction), or any regulations or rulings promulgated under the laws, of the United States or of any political subdivision or taxing authority of or in the United States affecting taxation, or
- (ii) any change in official position regarding the application or interpretation of the laws, regulations or rulings referred to above, which change or amendment becomes effective on or after the date of the applicable Pricing Supplement in connection with the issuance of the Notes or any other date specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, Morgan Stanley is or will become obligated to pay Additional Amounts with respect to the Notes, as described below under " — Payment of Additional Amounts". The redemption price will be equal to 100 per cent. of the principal amount of the Notes, except as otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or unless the Note is an Original Issue Discount Note or an Exchangeable Note, together with accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption. See "Description of the New York Law Notes — Interest and Principal Payments—Original Issue Par Notes" and "Exchangeable Notes—Payments upon Acceleration of Maturity or upon Tax Redemption" above for information on Original Issue Par Notes and Exchangeable Notes. Morgan Stanley will give notice of any tax redemption.

Prior to giving notice of tax redemption, Morgan Stanley will deliver to the Trustee, with a copy to the Principal Paying Agent:

- (i) a certificate stating that Morgan Stanley is entitled to effect the redemption and setting forth a statement of facts showing that the conditions precedent to the right of Morgan Stanley to so redeem have occurred (the date on which that certificate is delivered to the Trustee is the "Redemption Determination Date"); and

- (ii) an opinion of independent legal counsel of recognised standing to that effect based on the statement of facts.

Notice of redemption will be given not less than 30 nor more than 60 days prior to the date fixed for redemption. The date and the applicable redemption price will be specified in the notice, which will be given in accordance with " — Notices" below.

Payment of Additional Amounts

Additional Amounts. If specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, Morgan Stanley will, subject to certain exceptions and limitations set forth below, pay those additional amounts (the "Additional Amounts") to Noteholders who are U.S. Aliens as may be necessary in order that every net payment of the principal of and interest on the Note and any other amounts payable by or on behalf of the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor on the Note after withholding for or on account of any tax, assessment or governmental charge imposed upon or as a result of that payment by the United States or any political subdivision or taxing authority thereof or therein, will not be less than the amount provided for in the Note to be then due and payable under the Notes. For the avoidance of doubt, if not so provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement, Additional Amounts as provided in this section (Additional Amounts) shall not be payable.

Morgan Stanley will not, however, be required to make any payment of Additional Amounts to any Noteholder for or on account of:

- (i) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge that would not have been so imposed but for:
 - (a) the existence of any present or former connection between the holder or beneficial owner, or between a fiduciary, settlor, beneficiary, member or shareholder of the holder or beneficial owner, if the holder or beneficial owner is an estate, a trust, a partnership or a corporation, and the United States and its possessions, including, without limitation, the holder or beneficial owner, or such fiduciary, settlor, beneficiary, member or shareholder, being or having been a citizen or resident of the United States or being or having been engaged in the conduct of a trade or business or present in the United States or having, or having had, a permanent establishment in the United States; or
 - (b) the presentation by the Noteholder for payment on a date more than 15 days after the date on which payment became due and payable or the date on which payment thereof is duly provided for, whichever occurs later;
- (ii) any estate, inheritance, gift, sales, transfer, capital gains, corporation, income or personal property tax or any similar tax, assessment or governmental charge;
- (iii) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed by reason of the holder's or beneficial owner's past or present status as a personal holding company or controlled foreign corporation or passive foreign investment company with respect to the United States or as a corporation that accumulates earnings to avoid U.S. federal income tax or as a private foundation or other tax exempt organisation;
- (iv) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge that is payable otherwise than by withholding from payments on or in respect of any Note;
- (v) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge that would not have been imposed but for the failure to comply with certification, information or other reporting requirements concerning the nationality, residence or identity of the holder or beneficial owner of that Note, if compliance is required by statute or by regulation of the United States or of any political subdivision or taxing authority thereof or therein as a precondition to relief or exemption from the tax, assessment or other governmental charge;
- (vi) any withholding tax imposed under sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code or any agreement with the IRS pursuant to these Code sections, any applicable U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder or published administrative guidance implementing such sections and any analogous provisions of non-U.S. laws (including withholding resulting from any inter-governmental agreement or an individual agreement with a taxing authority in connection with such sections of the Code, regulations, guidance or laws);

- (vii) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed by reason of Section 871(m) of the Code, and any applicable U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder or published administrative guidance implementing such section;
- (viii) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed by reason of the holder's or beneficial owner's past or present status as the actual or constructive owner of 10 per cent. or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote of Morgan Stanley or as a direct or indirect subsidiary of Morgan Stanley;
- (ix) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed by reason of the holder of any Note and/or Coupon or beneficial owner not qualifying for the portfolio interest exemption or for an exemption with respect to coupon payments under the "other income" provision of a Qualifying Treaty; or
- (x) any combination of the items listed above.

In addition, Morgan Stanley will not be required to make any payment of Additional Amounts with respect to any Note presented for payment by or on behalf of a holder or beneficial owner who would have been able to avoid such withholding or deduction by presenting the relevant Note to another paying agent in a Member State of the European Union.

Nor will Additional Amounts be paid with respect to any payment on a Note to a U.S. Alien who is a fiduciary or partnership or other than the sole beneficial owner of that payment to the extent that payment would be required by the laws of the United States (or any political subdivision thereof) to be included in the income, for tax purposes, of a beneficiary or settlor with respect to the fiduciary or a member of that partnership or a beneficial owner who would not have been entitled to the Additional Amounts had that beneficiary, settlor, member or beneficial owner been the Noteholder.

The term "U.S. Alien" means any person who, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, is a foreign corporation, a nonresident alien individual, a nonresident alien fiduciary of a foreign estate or trust, or a foreign partnership one or more of the members of which is a foreign corporation, a nonresident alien individual or a nonresident alien fiduciary of a foreign estate or trust.

The term "Qualifying Treaty" means an income tax treaty between a non-U.S. jurisdiction and the United States of America that provides for a zero per cent. rate of tax on "other income" earned by a resident of the non-U.S. jurisdiction from sources within the United States of America.

Replacement of Notes

Any Notes that become mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen or are apparently destroyed, lost or stolen will be replaced by Morgan Stanley at the expense of the holder upon delivery of those Notes or satisfactory evidence of the destruction, loss or theft thereof to Morgan Stanley, the Principal Paying Agent or any other paying agent and the Trustee. In each case, an indemnity satisfactory to Morgan Stanley, the Principal Paying Agent or any other paying agent and the Trustee may be required at the expense of the holder of that Note before a replacement Note will be issued.

Notices

Except as provided in the next sentence, Morgan Stanley will send notices to the holders of the registered notes at each such holder's address as that address appears in the register for the notes by first class mail, postage prepaid. Morgan Stanley may give notice to the beneficial owners of registered notes held only in global form through the customary notice procedures of the Relevant Clearing System in which case Morgan Stanley will not mail the notice. Those notices will be deemed to have been given on the date of such mailing (or other transmission as applicable).

Governing Law

The New York Law Notes and the Indenture will be governed by the laws of the State of New York.

Indenture

References in parentheses below are to sections in the Indenture. Wherever particular sections or defined terms of the Indenture are referred to, those sections or defined terms of the Indenture that are incorporated herein by reference as part of the statement made, and the statement is qualified in its entirety by such reference.

Covenants Restricting Mergers and Other Significant Actions

Merger, Consolidation, Sale, Lease or Conveyance. The Indenture provides that Morgan Stanley will not merge or consolidate with any other person and will not sell, lease or convey all or substantially all of its assets to any person (other than the sale, lease or conveyance of all or substantially all of Morgan Stanley's assets to one or more of Morgan Stanley's Subsidiaries, as defined below), unless:

- (i) Morgan Stanley will be the continuing corporation; or
- (ii) the successor corporation or person that acquires by sale, lease or conveyance all or substantially all of its assets:
 - (a) if a successor to Morgan Stanley, will be a corporation organised under the laws of the United States, a state of the United States or the District of Columbia;
 - (b) will expressly assume all of the obligations of Morgan Stanley under the Indenture and the Notes issued under the Indenture; and
 - (c) immediately after the merger, consolidation, sale, lease or conveyance, Morgan Stanley, that person or that successor corporation will not be in default in the performance of the covenants and conditions of the Indenture applicable to Morgan Stanley. (section 9.01)

A "Subsidiary" means any corporation, partnership or other entity of which at the time of determination Morgan Stanley owns or controls directly or indirectly more than 50% of the shares of voting stock or equivalent interest.

For the avoidance of doubt, the sale, lease or conveyance of all or substantially all of Morgan Stanley's assets to one or more of Morgan Stanley's Subsidiaries is not subject to any restrictions under the Indenture.

Absence of Protections Against All Potential Actions of Morgan Stanley. There are no covenants or other provisions in the Indenture that would afford Noteholders additional protection in the event of a recapitalisation transaction, a change of control of Morgan Stanley or a highly leveraged transaction. The merger covenant described above would only apply if the recapitalisation transaction, change of control or highly leveraged transaction were structured to include a merger or consolidation of Morgan Stanley or a sale, lease or conveyance of all or substantially all of the assets of Morgan Stanley. However, Morgan Stanley may provide specific protections, such as a put right or increased interest, for particular Notes, which Morgan Stanley would describe in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Events of Default

The Indenture provides Noteholders with certain remedies if Morgan Stanley fails to perform specific obligations, such as making payments on the Notes or other indebtedness, or if Morgan Stanley becomes bankrupt. Holders should review these provisions and understand which of Morgan Stanley's actions trigger an Event of Default and which actions do not. The Indenture provisions permit the issuance of Notes in one or more series, and, in many cases, whether an Event of Default has occurred is determined on a series by series basis.

An Event of Default is defined under the Indenture, with respect to any series of Notes issued under the Indenture, as being:

- (i) default in payment for thirty days of any principal, premium of the Notes of that series, either at maturity or upon any redemption, by declaration or otherwise;
- (ii) default for thirty days in payment of any interest and/or supplemental amount payable in accordance with the terms of the Notes of that series;

- (iii) any other Event of Default provided in the supplemental indenture under which that series of Notes is issued (section 5.01); and
- (iv) events of bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganisation.

In the case of a default in payment of any principal or any interest with respect to the Notes issued under the Indenture, there will only be an Event of Default, and therefore a right of acceleration, if such default continues for a period of thirty days.

Acceleration of Notes upon Event of Default. The Indenture provides that:

- (i) if an Event of Default due to the default in payment of principal of, or any premium or interest on or supplemental amount due with respect to, any series of Notes issued under the Indenture occurs and is continuing, then and in each and every such case, except for any series of Notes the principal of which shall have already become due and payable, either the Trustee or the holders of not less than 25 per cent. in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Notes of each affected series issued under the Indenture (voting as a single class) by notice in writing to Morgan Stanley (and to the Trustee if given by the holders of the Notes) may declare the entire principal of all Notes of each affected series and interest accrued thereon to be due and payable immediately; and
- (ii) if an Event of Default due to certain events of bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganisation of Morgan Stanley will have occurred and be continuing, then and in each and every such case, unless the principal of all the Securities shall have already become due and payable, either the Trustee or the holders of not less than 25 per cent. in aggregate principal amount of all outstanding Notes issued under the Indenture (treated as one class) by notice in writing to Morgan Stanley (and to the Trustee if given by the holders of the Notes) may declare the principal of all those Notes and interest accrued thereon to be due and payable immediately. (section 5.01)

Unless otherwise stated in the applicable pricing supplement, Notes issued under the Indenture will have the benefit of these acceleration provisions.

There will be no Event of Default, and therefore no right of acceleration, in the case of a default in the performance of any covenant or obligation with respect to the Notes issued under the Indenture (other than a covenant or warranty which is specifically dealt with above). If any such default occurs and is continuing, the Trustee may pursue legal action to enforce the performance of any provision in the Indenture to protect the rights of the Trustee and the holders of the Notes issued under the Indenture. (section 5.04)

Annulment of Acceleration and Waiver of Defaults. In some circumstances, if any and all Events of Default under the Indenture, other than the non-payment of the principal of the Notes that has become due as a result of an acceleration, have been cured, waived or otherwise remedied, then the holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of all series of outstanding Notes affected, voting as one class, may waive past defaults and rescind and annul past declarations of acceleration of the Notes. (section 5.01)

Prior to the acceleration of any Notes, the holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of all series of outstanding Notes with respect to which an event of default or a covenant breach has occurred and is continuing, voting as one class, may waive any past default or event of default or any past covenant breach, other than a default in respect of a covenant or provision in the Indenture that cannot be modified or amended without the consent of the holder of each Note affected. (section 5.10)

Indemnification of Trustee for Certain Actions. The Indenture contains a provision entitling the Trustee, subject to the duty of the Trustee during a default to act with the required standard of care, to be indemnified by the Noteholders issued under the Indenture before proceeding to exercise any right or power under the Indenture at the request of such holders. (section 6.02) Subject to these provisions and some other limitations, the holders of a majority in principal amount of each series of outstanding Notes of affected series, voting as one class, issued under the Indenture may direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for any remedy available to the Trustee, or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Trustee. (section 5.09)

In connection with the exercise of its powers, trusts, authorities or discretions, the Trustee shall have regard to the interests of the holders of the relevant series of Notes affected or of all outstanding Notes affected, as the case may be, as a class. In particular, but without limitation, the Trustee shall not have regard to the consequences of such exercise for individual holders of the relevant series of Notes affected or of all outstanding Notes affected, as the case may be, resulting from such individual holders being for any purpose domiciled or resident in, or otherwise connected with, or subject to the jurisdiction of, any particular territory. The Trustee shall not be entitled to require, nor shall any holder of the relevant series of Notes affected or of all outstanding Notes affected (as the case may be) be entitled to claim, from Morgan Stanley any indemnification or payment in respect of any tax consequence of any such exercise upon individual holders of the relevant series of Notes affected or of all outstanding Notes affected, as the case may be. (sections 5.06 and 5.09)

Limitation on Actions by an Individual Holder. The Indenture provides that no individual holder of Notes issued under the Indenture may institute any action against Morgan Stanley under the Indenture, except actions for payment of overdue principal and interest, unless each of the following actions have occurred:

- (i) the holder must have previously given written notice to the Trustee of the continuing default;
- (ii) the holders of not less than 25 per cent. in aggregate principal amount of each affected series of the outstanding Notes treated as one class, must have (i) requested the Trustee to institute that action and (ii) offered the Trustee reasonable indemnity;
- (iii) the Trustee must have failed to institute that action within 60 days of the request referred to above; and
- (iv) the holders of a majority in principal amount of the outstanding Notes of each affected series, treated as one class, must not have given directions to the Trustee inconsistent with those of the holders referred to above. (sections 5.06 and 5.09)

Annual Certification. The Indenture contains a covenant that Morgan Stanley will file annually with the Trustee a certificate of no default or a certificate specifying any default that exists. (section 3.05)

Total Loss-Absorbing Capacity

Morgan Stanley intends that the Notes will, when issued, constitute "loss-absorbing capacity" within the meaning of the final rules issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and, accordingly, will have only those provisions described in this Offering Circular that will permit compliance thereof at such time of issuance. In this respect, Morgan Stanley is a parent holding company and has no operations and depends on dividends, distributions and other payments from its subsidiaries to fund its debt obligations (including Notes). Under a support agreement that Morgan Stanley has entered with its material subsidiaries, upon the occurrence of a resolution scenario, including a single-point-of-entry resolution strategy as contemplated in its resolution plan, Morgan Stanley would be obligated to contribute or loan on a subordinated basis all of its material assets, other than shares in its subsidiaries and certain intercompany payables, to provide capital and liquidity, as applicable, to its material subsidiaries. That obligation will be secured, in accordance with an amended and restated secured support agreement, on a senior basis by Morgan Stanley's assets (other than shares in its subsidiaries). As a result, claims of Morgan Stanley's material subsidiaries against its assets (other than shares in its subsidiaries) will be effectively senior to its unsecured obligations, including Notes which would be at risk of absorbing Morgan Stanley's and its subsidiaries' losses.

Discharge, Defeasance and Covenant Defeasance

Morgan Stanley has the ability to eliminate most or all of its obligations on any series of Notes prior to maturity if it complies with the following provisions. (section 10.01)

Discharge of Indenture. Morgan Stanley may discharge all of the obligations, other than as to transfers and exchanges, in the Indenture after Morgan Stanley has:

- (i) paid or caused to be paid the principal and interest on all of the outstanding Notes in accordance with their terms;
- (ii) delivered to the Trustee for cancellation all of the outstanding Notes; or
- (iii) irrevocably deposited with the Trustee cash or U.S. government obligations in trust for the benefit of the holders of any series of Notes issued under the Indenture that have either become due and payable, or are by their terms due and payable, or are scheduled for redemption, within one year, in an amount certified to be sufficient to pay on each date that they become due and payable, the principal of and interest on, and any mandatory sinking fund payments for, those Notes, except that the deposit of cash or U.S. government obligations for the benefit of holders of a series of Notes that are due and payable, or are scheduled for redemption, within one year will discharge obligations under the Indenture relating only to that series of Notes.

Defeasance of Notes at Any Time. Morgan Stanley may also discharge all obligations, other than as to transfers and exchanges, under any series of Notes at any time ("defeasance"). However, Morgan Stanley may not, by defeasance, avoid any duty to register the transfer or exchange that series of Notes, to replace any mutilated, defaced, destroyed, lost, or stolen Notes of that series or to maintain an office or agency in respect of that series of Notes.

Morgan Stanley may be released with respect to any outstanding series of Notes from the obligations imposed by sections 3.06 and 9.01, which sections contain the covenants described above limiting liens and consolidations, mergers, asset sales and leases, and elect not to comply with those sections without creating an Event of Default. Discharge under those procedures is called "covenant defeasance".

Defeasance or covenant defeasance may be effected only if, among other things, Morgan Stanley irrevocably deposits with the Trustee cash or, in the case of Notes payable only in U.S. Dollars, U.S. government obligations, as trust funds in an amount certified to be sufficient to pay on each date that they become due and payable, the principal of and interest on, and any mandatory sinking fund payments for, all outstanding Notes of the series being defeased.

Substitution for Morgan Stanley

Subject to such amendment of the Indenture and such other conditions as Morgan Stanley may agree with the Trustee, but without the consent of the Noteholders or any series or the holders of the coupons appertaining thereto (if any), Morgan Stanley may, subject to such Notes being unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed by Morgan Stanley, substitute a subsidiary of Morgan Stanley in place of Morgan Stanley as principal debtor under such Notes and the Indenture. (sections 8.01 and 13.01)

Any Notes issued by a substitute issuer will be fully and unconditionally guaranteed pursuant to a guarantee of Morgan Stanley as to the payment of principal of, premium, interest and supplemental amounts, if any, and any Additional Amounts (as defined above) on those Notes when and as the same will become due and payable, whether at maturity or otherwise. Under the terms of the guarantee, Noteholders will not be required to exercise their remedies against the substitute issuer prior to proceeding directly against Morgan Stanley. (section 13.01)

If Morgan Stanley substitutes a non-U.S. entity in place of Morgan Stanley as principal debtor under the Notes the tax consequences (including the withholding tax consequences) of holding the Notes may change. Except as provided in " – Payment of Additional Amounts" above, if withholding is required on the Notes, no additional amounts will be required to be paid.

Modification of the Indenture

Modification Without Consent of Holders. Morgan Stanley and the Trustee may enter into supplemental indentures without the consent of the Noteholders to:

- (i) secure any Notes;
- (ii) evidence the assumption by a successor corporation of the obligations of Morgan Stanley;
- (iii) evidence the assumption of a substitute issuer, in accordance with the provision described under "— Substitution for Morgan Stanley" above;
- (iv) add covenants for the protection of the Noteholders;
- (v) cure any ambiguity or correct any inconsistency;
- (vi) establish the forms or terms of Notes of any series; and
- (vii) evidence the acceptance of appointment by a successor Trustee. (section 8.01)

Modification with Consent of Holders. Morgan Stanley and the Trustee may, with the consent of the holders of not less than a majority in aggregate principal amount of each affected series of outstanding Notes (voting as one class), add any provisions to, or change in any manner or eliminate any of the provisions of, the Indenture or modify in any manner the rights of the holders of those Notes. However, none of the following changes may be made to any outstanding Note without the consent of each holder that would be affected by such change:

- (i) extend the final maturity of the principal;
- (ii) reduce the principal amount;
- (iii) reduce the rate or extend the time of payment of interest;
- (iv) reduce any amount payable on redemption;
- (v) change the currency in which the principal, including any amount of original issue discount, premium, or interest thereon is payable;
- (vi) modify or amend the provisions for conversion of any currency into another currency;
- (vii) reduce the amount of any original issue discount security payable upon acceleration or provable in bankruptcy;
- (viii) alter the terms on which Noteholders may convert or exchange Notes for stock or other securities of Morgan Stanley or of other entities or for other property or the cash value of the property, other than in accordance with the antidilution provisions or other similar adjustment provisions included in the terms of the Notes;
- (ix) alter the terms by which any supplemental amounts are determined, other than in accordance with the antidilution provisions or other similar adjustment provisions included in the terms of the Notes;
- (x) impair the right to institute suit for the enforcement of any payment on any debt security when due; or
- (xi) reduce the percentage of Notes the consent of whose owners is required for modification of the Indenture.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE ENGLISH LAW NOTES

The following is the text of the terms and conditions which, as supplemented, modified and/or replaced by the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if "Supplementary Provisions for Credit Linked Notes" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the supplemental terms and conditions set out in the Annex hereto entitled "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes: Supplementary Provisions for Credit Linked Notes" and, if "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the supplemental terms and conditions set out in the Annex hereto entitled "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes: Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes", which, as completed by the applicable Pricing Supplement, will be endorsed on each Note issued in individual registered form issued under the Program specified as being governed by English law. The terms and conditions applicable to any Note issued in the registered form will differ from those terms and conditions which would apply to the Note were it in individual registered form to the extent described under "Summary of Provisions relating to the English Law Notes (Excluding CMU Notes) while in Global Form" or "Summary of Provisions relating to the English Law Notes (CMU Notes) while in Global Form", as applicable, below.

1. Introduction

1.1 Program

Morgan Stanley ("Morgan Stanley"), Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc ("MSI plc"), Morgan Stanley B.V. ("MSBV"), Morgan Stanley Finance LLC ("MSFL") and Morgan Stanley Finance II Ltd ("MSFII") and Morgan Stanley Europe SE ("MSESE") have established a Program (the "Program") for the issuance, inter alia, of notes which are expressed to be governed by English law (the "Notes" or the "English Law Notes"). References to the "Issuer" in these terms and conditions shall mean (i) if the Notes to which these terms and conditions apply are issued by Morgan Stanley, Morgan Stanley, (ii) if the Notes to which these terms and conditions apply are issued by MSI plc, MSI plc, (iii) if the Notes to which these terms and conditions apply are issued by MSBV, MSBV, (iv) if the Notes to which these terms and conditions apply are issued by MSFL, MSFL or (v) if the Notes to which these terms and conditions apply are issued by MSFII, MSFII or (vi) if the Notes to which these terms and conditions apply are issued by MSESE, MSESE. The payment obligations of MSBV, MSFL and MSFII in respect of Notes issued by each of MSBV, MSFL and MSFII (respectively) under the Program and which are issued under the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement (as defined below) are (unless, in respect of MSBV only, otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement) guaranteed by Morgan Stanley (in its capacity as Guarantor (the "Guarantor")) under the terms of a guarantee dated as of 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time the "Guarantee").

1.2 Pricing Supplement

Notes issued under the Program which are Relevant Securities are issued in series (each a "Series") and each Series may comprise one or more tranches (each a "Tranche") of Notes. Each Tranche is the subject of a Pricing Supplement (each, a "Pricing Supplement") which supplement, modify and/or replace these terms and conditions (the "Conditions") and specifies, among other matters whether the supplemental terms and conditions set out in the Annex hereto entitled "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes: Supplementary Provisions for Credit Linked Notes" or the Annex hereto entitled "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes: Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes" are applicable. The terms and conditions applicable to any particular Tranche of Notes are these Conditions as supplemented by the applicable Pricing Supplement. In the event of any inconsistency between these Conditions and the applicable Pricing Supplement, the applicable Pricing Supplement shall prevail.

1.3 Issue and Paying Agency Agreement:

The Notes are the subject of an issue and paying agency agreement dated on or about 25 June 2026 and as from time to time modified and/or restated and/or replaced, the "Issue and Paying Agency Agreement" between Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII, MSESE, The Bank of New York Mellon S.A./N.V., Luxembourg Branch as registrar (the "Registrar", which expression includes any successor registrar appointed from time to time in connection with the Notes), the transfer agents named therein (together with the Registrar, the "Transfer Agents", which expression includes any successor or additional transfer agents appointed from time to time in connection with the Notes) and The Bank of New York Mellon (as successor to JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., London Branch) as fiscal agent (the "Fiscal Agent", which expression includes any successor fiscal agent appointed from time to time in connection with the Notes and together with any additional paying agents appointed pursuant thereto, the "Paying Agents", which expression includes any successor paying agents appointed from time to time in connection with the Notes). The Fiscal Agent is also appointed as initial calculation agent. In these Conditions references to the "Agents" are to the Paying Agents and the Transfer Agents and any reference to an "Agent" is to any one of them.

In respect of CMU Notes only, Morgan Stanley & Co. International Plc and The Bank of New York Mellon, Hong Kong Branch as CMU lodging and paying agent (the "CMU Lodging and Paying Agent", which expression shall include any successor or substitute agent appointed in accordance with the provisions thereunder) has entered into a supplemental agency agreement to the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement dated 27 September 2022 (the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement so supplemented, the "CMU Agency Agreement", which expression shall include any amendments or supplements thereto or replacements thereof under the Program from time to time). For the purposes of these terms and conditions and with respect to a Series of CMU Notes issued by MSI plc, all references to the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement shall be construed as references to the CMU Agency Agreement, all references to the Fiscal Agent, the Paying Agent, the Registrar, the Transfer Agent or the Agent are to the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent. Noteholders (as defined in Condition 1.8 (Summaries)) are deemed to have notice of all the provisions of the CMU Agency Agreement.

In respect of CMU Notes only, Morgan Stanley Finance LLC, The Bank of New York Mellon, Hong Kong Branch as CMU lodging and paying agent (the "CMU Lodging and Paying Agent", which expression shall include any successor or substitute agent appointed in accordance with the provisions thereunder) and The Bank of New York Mellon as withholding tax administration agent (the "Withholding Tax Administration Agent", which expression shall include any successor or substitute agent appointed in accordance with the provisions thereunder) and other agents named therein have entered into a supplemental agency agreement to the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement dated 20 August 2024 (the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement so supplemented, the "MSFL CMU Agency Agreement", which expression shall include any amendments or supplements thereto or replacements thereof under the Program from time to time). For the purposes of these terms and conditions and with respect to a Series of CMU Notes issued by MSFL, all references to the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement shall be construed as references to the MSFL CMU Agency Agreement, all references to the Fiscal Agent, the Paying Agent, the Registrar, the Transfer Agent or the Agent are to the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent. Noteholders (as defined in Condition 1.8 (Summaries)) are deemed to have notice of all the provisions of the MSFL CMU Agency Agreement.

1.4 SEB Issuing and Paying Agent Agreement and MSESE SEB Issuing and Paying Agent Agreement:

The Nordic Notes issued by MSI plc or MSBV are the subject of an issuing and paying agent agreement (the "SEB Issuing and Paying Agent Agreement") dated 11 April 2016 (such agreement as amended on 12 March 2026 and as further amended, supplemented and/or restated from time to time) between MSI plc, MSBV and Skandinaviska Enskilda Banken AB (publ) as Swedish agent and Finnish agent.

The Nordic Notes issued by MSESE shall be the subject of such issuing and paying agent agreement (the "MSESE SEB Issuing and Paying Agent Agreement") as may be entered into in relation thereto between MSESE and Skandinaviska Enskilda Banken AB (publ) as Swedish agent and Finnish agent as amended from time to time.

1.5 Euroclear Agreement

In relation to issues of Uncertificated Notes (as defined below), MSBV, MSI plc, MSESE and the Guarantor have entered into an agreement dated on or about 25 June 2026 and as from time to time amended and/or supplemented and/or restated and/or replaced, the "Euroclear Agreement" with Computershare Investor Services (Guernsey) Limited as registrar in respect of Uncertificated Notes (the "Euroclear Registrar", which expression shall include any successor or additional Euroclear registrar appointed in respect of Uncertificated Notes).

1.6 Deeds of Covenant

English Law Notes issued by Morgan Stanley in global form are constituted by a deed of covenant entered into by Morgan Stanley dated on or about 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time the "Morgan Stanley Deed of Covenant"). Notes issued by MSI plc in (i) global form and (ii) dematerialised form are constituted by a deed of covenant entered into by MSI plc dated on or about 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time the "MSI plc Deed of Covenant"). Notes issued by MSBV in (i) global form and (ii) dematerialised form are constituted by a deed of covenant entered into by MSBV dated on or about 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time the "MSBV Deed of Covenant"). English Law Notes issued by MSFL in global form are constituted by a deed of covenant entered into by MSFL dated on or about 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to them, the "MSFL Deed of Covenant"). English Law Notes issued by MSFII in global form are constituted by a deed of covenant entered into by MSFII dated on or about 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or replaced from time to time, the "MSFII Deed of Covenant"). English Law Notes issued by MSESE in global form are constituted by a deed of covenant entered into by MSESE dated on or about 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time, the "MSESE Deed of Covenant", together with the Morgan Stanley Deed of Covenant, the MSI plc Deed of Covenant, the MSBV Deed of Covenant, the MSFL Deed of Covenant and the MSFII Deed of Covenant, the "Deeds of Covenant").

1.7 The Notes

All subsequent references in these Conditions to "Notes" are to the Notes which are the subject of the applicable Pricing Supplement. Copies of the applicable Pricing Supplement are available for inspection by Noteholders during normal business hours at the Specified Office of the relevant Fiscal Agent, the initial Specified Office of which is set out below

1.8 Summaries

Certain provisions of these Conditions are summaries of the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement, the Euroclear Agreement and the Guarantee and are subject to their detailed provisions. The holders of the Notes (the "Noteholders") are bound by, and are deemed to have notice of, all the provisions of each of the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement, the Euroclear Agreement and the Guarantee as are applicable to them. Copies of the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement, the Euroclear Agreement and the Guarantee are available for inspection by Noteholders during normal business hours at the Specified Offices of each of the Paying Agents, the initial Specified Offices of which are set out below.

2. Interpretation

2.1 Definitions:

"Accrual Yield" has the meaning given in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Additional Business Centre(s)" means the city or cities specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Additional Financial Centre(s)" means the city or cities specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Administrator/Benchmark Event" means, in respect of any Notes, a determination made by the Determination Agent that:

- (a) any authorisation, registration, recognition, endorsement, equivalence decision, approval or inclusion in any official register in respect of the Relevant Benchmark or the administrator or sponsor of the Relevant Benchmark has not been, or will not be, obtained or has been, or will be, rejected, refused, suspended or withdrawn by the relevant competent authority or other relevant official body, in each case with the effect that any of the Issuer, the Determination Agent or the Calculation Agent is not, or will not be, permitted under any applicable law or regulation to use the Relevant Benchmark to perform its or their respective obligations in respect of the Notes or any related hedging arrangements; or
- (b) any relevant competent authority or other relevant official body issues a public notice with respect to the Relevant Benchmark pursuant to the EU Benchmark Regulation (Regulation (EU) 2016/1011), as amended from time to time with the effect that any of the Issuer, the Determination Agent or the Calculation Agent is not, or may not be, permitted under any applicable law or regulation to use the Relevant Benchmark to perform its or their respective obligations in respect of the Notes or any related hedging arrangements, provided that if in the determination of the Determination Agent any event may be an Administrator/Benchmark Event pursuant to both paragraph (a) and paragraph (b) above, the applicable Administrator/Benchmark Event for the purposes of the Notes shall occur pursuant to whichever paragraph the Determination Agent determines is first satisfied.

For the avoidance of doubt, Administrator/Benchmark Events shall not apply where the Notes are denominated in U.S. Dollars and the Relevant Rates Benchmark is SOFR (see Condition 7.6 (Provisions specific to SOFR as Reference Rate) and Condition 21.4 (Provisions specific to SOFR as Underlying Rate) below);

"Administrator/Benchmark Event Date" means, in respect of any Notes and an Administrator/Benchmark Event, the date on which:

- (a) the authorisation, registration, recognition, endorsement, equivalence decision, approval or inclusion in any official register is (as applicable):
 - (i) required under any applicable law or regulation; or
 - (ii) rejected, refused, suspended or withdrawn, if the applicable law or regulation provides that the Relevant Benchmark is not permitted to be used under the Notes following rejection, refusal, suspension or withdrawal; or
- (b) the public notice is issued, or, in each case, if such date occurs before the Issue Date, the Issue Date;

"Affiliate" means any entity which is (a) an entity controlled, directly or indirectly, by the Issuer, (b) an entity that controls, directly or indirectly, the Issuer or (c) an entity directly or indirectly under common control with the Issuer;

"Alternative Pre-nominated Index" means, in respect of a Relevant Benchmark, the first of the indices, benchmarks or other price sources specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as an "Alternative Pre-nominated Index" that is not subject to an Administrator/Benchmark Event or (in the case of Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Notes) an Index Cancellation or an Index Modification or (in the case of Commodity-Linked Notes which reference a Commodity Index) a Commodity Index Cancellation or a Commodity Index Modification or (in the case of Property-Linked Notes) a Property Index Adjustment Event;

"Autocallable Early Redemption Event" has the meaning given in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Benchmark" means the Secured Overnight Financing Rate with the applicable period of maturity (which shall be daily); provided that if a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the Secured Overnight Financing Rate with the applicable period of maturity (which shall be daily), or the then-current Benchmark, then "Benchmark" means the applicable Benchmark Replacement;

"Benchmark Replacement" means the first alternative set forth in the order below that can be determined by the Issuer or its designee as of the Benchmark Replacement Date:

- (a) the sum of: (i) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected or recommended by the Relevant Governmental Body as the replacement for the then-current Benchmark for the applicable Corresponding Tenor and (ii) the Benchmark Replacement Adjustment;
- (b) the sum of: (i) the ISDA Fallback Rate and (ii) the Benchmark Replacement Adjustment;
- (c) the sum of: (i) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected by the Issuer or its designee as the replacement for the then-current Benchmark for the applicable Corresponding Tenor giving due consideration to any industry-accepted rate of interest as a replacement for the then-current

Benchmark for U.S. dollar-denominated floating rate notes at such time and (ii) the Benchmark Replacement Adjustment;

"Benchmark Replacement Adjustment" means the first alternative set forth in the order below that can be determined by the Issuer or its designee as of the Benchmark Replacement Date:

- (a) the spread adjustment, or method for calculating or determining such spread adjustment, (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that has been selected or recommended by the Relevant Governmental Body for the applicable Unadjusted Benchmark Replacement;
- (b) if the applicable Unadjusted Benchmark Replacement is equivalent to the ISDA Fallback Rate, then the ISDA Fallback Adjustment;
- (c) the spread adjustment (which may be a positive or negative value or zero) that has been selected by the Issuer or its designee giving due consideration to any industry-accepted spread adjustment, or method for calculating or determining such spread adjustment, for the replacement of the then-current Benchmark with the applicable Unadjusted Benchmark Replacement for U.S. Dollar-denominated floating rate notes at such time;

"Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes" means, with respect to any Benchmark Replacement, any technical, administrative or operational changes (including changes to the definition of "Interest Period", timing and frequency of determining rates and making payments of interest, changes to the definition of "Corresponding Tenor" solely when such tenor is longer than the Interest Period, and other administrative matters) that the Issuer or its designee decides may be appropriate to reflect the adoption of such Benchmark Replacement in a manner substantially consistent with market practice (or, if the Issuer or its designee decides that adoption of any portion of such market practice is not administratively feasible or if the Issuer or its designee determines that no market practice for use of the Benchmark Replacement exists, in such other manner as the Issuer or its designee determines is reasonably necessary);

"Benchmark Replacement Date" means the earliest to occur of the following events with respect to the then-current Benchmark:

- (a) in the case of limb (a) or (b) of the definition of "Benchmark Transition Event", the later of (i) the date of the public statement or publication of information referenced therein and (ii) the date on which the administrator of the Benchmark permanently or indefinitely ceases to provide the Benchmark; or
- (b) in the case of limb (c) of the definition of "Benchmark Transition Event", the date of the public statement or publication of information referenced therein

For the avoidance of doubt, if the event giving rise to the Benchmark Replacement Date occurs on the same day as, but earlier than, the Reference Time in respect of any determination, the Benchmark Replacement Date will be deemed to have occurred prior to the Reference Time for such determination;

"Benchmark Transition Event" means the occurrence of one or more of the following events with respect to the then-current Benchmark:

- (a) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator of the Benchmark announcing that such administrator has ceased or will cease to provide the Benchmark, permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Benchmark;
- (b) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of the Benchmark, the central bank for the currency of the Benchmark, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator for the Benchmark, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator for the Benchmark or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator for the Benchmark, which states that the administrator of the Benchmark has ceased or will cease to provide the Benchmark permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Benchmark; or

- (c) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of the Benchmark announcing that the Benchmark is no longer representative;

"Broken Amount" means each amount specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Business Day" means any day, other than a Saturday or Sunday that, for Notes denominated in:

- (a) a Specified Currency other than euro, is neither a legal holiday nor a day on which banking institutions are authorised or required by law or regulation to close (i) for Norwegian Notes, in Oslo and a day on which the Norwegian CSD and the relevant system in which the Norwegian Notes are registered are open for business in accordance with the rules of the Norwegian CSD, (ii) for Danish Notes, in Copenhagen and a day on which the Danish CSD and the relevant system in which the Danish Notes are registered are open for business in accordance with the rules of the Danish CSD, (iii) for Notes (excluding Norwegian Notes and Danish Notes) in the principal financial centre of the country of the Specified Currency and (iv) in each (if any) Additional Business Centre (and if the Additional Business Centre is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be or to include TARGET, then a Business Day shall also be a TARGET Settlement Day); and
- (b) euro, is also a TARGET Settlement Day and a day that is neither a legal holiday nor a day on which banking institutions are authorised or required by law or regulation to close in each (if any) Additional Business Centre;

"Business Day Convention", in relation to any particular date, has the meaning given in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, may have different meanings in relation to different dates and, in this context, the following expressions shall have the following meanings:

- (a) "Following Business Day Convention" means that the relevant date shall be postponed to the first following day that is a Business Day or (in the case of Rate-Linked Notes) an Underlying Rate Business Day (as applicable);
- (b) "Modified Following Business Day Convention" or "Modified Business Day Convention" means that the relevant date shall be postponed to the first following day that is a Business Day or (in the case of Rate-Linked Notes) an Underlying Rate Business Day (as applicable) unless that day falls in the next calendar month in which case that date will be the first preceding day that is a Business Day or (in the case of Rate-Linked Notes) an Underlying Rate Business Day (as applicable);
- (c) "Preceding Business Day Convention" means that the relevant date shall be brought forward to the first preceding day that is a Business Day or (in the case of Rate-Linked Notes) an Underlying Rate Business Day (as applicable);
- (d) "FRN Convention", "Floating Rate Convention" or "Eurodollar Convention" means that each relevant date shall be the date which numerically corresponds to the preceding such date in the calendar month which is the number of months specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the Specified Period after the calendar month in which the preceding such date occurred provided, however, that:
 - (i) if there is no such numerically corresponding day in the calendar month in which any such date should occur, then such date will be the last day which is a Business Day or (in the case of Rate-Linked Notes) an Underlying Rate Business Day (as applicable) in that calendar month;
 - (ii) if any such date would otherwise fall on a day which is not a Business Day or (in the case of Rate-Linked Notes) an Underlying Rate Business Day (as applicable), then such date will be the first following day which is a Business Day or (in the case of Rate-Linked Notes) an Underlying Rate Business Day (as applicable) unless that day falls in the next calendar month, in which case it will be the first preceding day which is a Business Day or (in the case of Rate-Linked Notes) an Underlying Rate Business Day (as applicable); and

- (iii) if the preceding such date occurred on the last day in a calendar month which was a Business Day or (in the case of Rate-Linked Notes) an Underlying Rate Business Day (as applicable), then all subsequent such dates will be the last day which is a Business Day or (in the case of Rate-Linked Notes) an Underlying Rate Business Day (as applicable) in the calendar month which is the specified number of months after the calendar month in which the preceding such date occurred; and
- (e) "No Adjustment" means that the relevant date shall not be adjusted in accordance with any Business Day Convention, provided that if "ISDA Determination" and "Unscheduled Holidays" are applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then in the case where Modified Following Business Day Convention, Modified Business Day Convention, Preceding Business Day Convention, FRN Convention, Floating Rate Convention or Eurodollar Convention apply to a particular date and that date would otherwise fall on a day that is not a Business Day or (in the case of Rate-Linked Notes) an Underlying Rate Business Day (as applicable) as a result of an Unscheduled Holiday (as defined in the 2021 ISDA Definitions but disregarding references to Valuation Business Day and Exercise Business Day and construing references to the Confirmation to mean the applicable Pricing Supplement) notwithstanding the provisions of (b) to (d) above, such day will instead fall on the first following day that is a Business Day or (in the case of Rate-Linked Notes) an Underlying Rate Business Day (as applicable);

"Calculation Agent" means, in respect of any Notes, the Fiscal Agent or such other Person specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the party responsible for calculating the Rate(s) of Interest and Interest Amount(s), subject as otherwise provided in these Conditions (including, without limitation, as provided in Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions)), and/or, such other amount(s) as may be specified as being calculated by the Calculation Agent in the Conditions or the applicable Pricing Supplement;

3. Form, Denomination and Title

3.1 Form

Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII and MSESE may issue Notes in registered form only ("Registered Notes"). In addition MSBV, MSI plc and MSESE may issue Notes designated as "Finnish Notes" or "Swedish Notes" and MSBV and MSI plc may issue Notes designated as "Norwegian Notes" or "Danish Notes", in each case in dematerialised and uncertificated book-entry form with a Nordic central securities depository ("Nordic Notes"). MSBV, MSI plc and MSESE may also issue Notes in uncertificated registered form in accordance with the Uncertificated Securities Regulations 2001 (as amended, modified or re-enacted) and such other regulations made under sections 783, 784(3), 785 and 788 of the UK Companies Act 2006 as are applicable to the Euroclear Registrar ("Uncertificated Notes").

MSI plc and MSFL may issue Registered Notes represented by a Global Registered Note and deposited with the CMU in accordance with all applicable Hong Kong laws, regulations and rules ("CMU Notes").

3.2 Registered Notes

- (a) Form: Registered Notes may be in either global registered form or in individual registered form. Registered Notes are in the Specified Denomination(s), which may include a minimum denomination specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and higher integral multiples of a smaller amount specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
- (b) Title: Title to the Registered Notes passes by registration in the Register which is kept by the Registrar in accordance with the provisions of the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement. A certificate (each, an "Individual Note Certificate") will be issued to each holder of Registered Notes in respect of its registered holding. Each Individual Note Certificate will be numbered serially with an identifying number which will be recorded in the Register. A "holder" means, in the case of Registered Notes, the person in whose name such Registered Note is for the time being registered in the Register (or, in the case of a joint holding, the first named thereof) and "Noteholder" shall be construed accordingly.
- (c) CMU Notes: For so long as a Global Registered Note is lodged with a sub-custodian for or registered with the CMU, the person(s) for whose account(s) interests in such Global Registered Note are credited as being held in the CMU in accordance with the CMU Rules at the close of business on the applicable Record Date shall be the only person(s) directed or deemed by the CMU as entitled to receive payments in respect of CMU Notes represented by such Global Registered Note and the Issuer will be discharged by payment to, or to the order of, such person(s) for whose account(s) interests in such Global Registered Note are credited as being held in the CMU at the close of business on the applicable Record Date in respect of each amount so paid. Each of the persons shown in the records of the CMU, as the beneficial holder of a particular nominal amount of CMU Notes represented by such Global Registered Note must look solely to the CMU for his share of each payment so made by the Issuer in respect of such Global Registered Note. CMU Notes which are represented by a Global Registered Note will be transferred only in accordance with the CMU Rules.

For the purposes of CMU Notes:

"Clearing System Business Day" means, for the purposes of the "Record Date" definition below, a day on which the CMU is operating and open for business;

"Record Date" means, for so long as a Global Registered Note is lodged with a sub-custodian for or registered with the CMU, (i) in respect of CMU Notes issued by MSFL, the date falling 15 calendar days prior to the Relevant Payment Date; and (ii) in respect of CMU Notes issued by MSI plc, the Clearing System Business Day immediately prior to the Relevant Payment Date; and

"Relevant Payment Date" means any relevant payment date of principal or interest in respect of a CMU Note.

- (d) Ownership: The holder of any Registered Note shall (except as otherwise required by law) be treated as its absolute owner for all purposes (whether or not it is overdue and regardless of any notice of ownership, trust or any other interest therein, any writing thereon or on the Individual Note Certificate relating thereto (other than the endorsed form of transfer) or any notice of any previous loss or theft thereof) and no Person shall be liable for so treating such holder.
- (e) Transfers: Subject to Conditions 3.2(i) (Closed Periods) and 3.2(j) (Regulations concerning transfers and registration) below, a Registered Note may be transferred upon surrender of the relevant Individual Note Certificate, with the endorsed form of transfer duly completed, at the Specified Office of the Registrar or any Transfer Agent, together with such evidence as the Registrar or (as the case may be) such Transfer Agent may reasonably require to prove the title of the transferor and the authority of the individuals who have executed the form of transfer; provided, however, that a Registered Note may not be transferred unless the principal amount of Registered Note transferred and (where not all of the Registered Notes held by a holder are being transferred) the principal amount of the balance of Registered Notes not transferred are Specified Denominations. Where not all the Registered Notes represented by the surrendered Individual Note Certificate are the subject of the transfer, a new Individual Note Certificate in respect of the balance of the Registered Notes will be issued to the transferor. In respect of Notes for which "(China Connect – ChiNext Shares)" and/or "(China Connect – STAR Shares)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, any transfer of such Notes shall only be to owners and beneficial owners who each are an Eligible Investor. The Issuer shall have the right to refuse to honour the transfer of any Regulation S/Rule 144A Note to a person who is not a QIB, or, in the case of Notes issued by MSBV, to a person who is not a QIB/QP. The Issuer shall have the right to refuse to honour the transfer of any Regulation S Notes to a person who is a U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S) or is in the United States. So far as permitted by applicable law, regulations and any stock exchange requirements by which the Issuer is bound, the Issuer has covenanted and agreed in the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement to give to the Fiscal Agent such information as it requires for the performance of its functions and, without prejudice to the foregoing, for so long as any Securities remain outstanding has covenanted and agreed that it shall, during any period in which it is not subject to the reporting requirements of Section 13 or 15(d) under the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, nor exempt from reporting pursuant to Rule 12g3-2(b) thereunder, furnish, upon request, to any Noteholder and any beneficial owner of such Regulation S/Rule 144A Notes, and to any prospective purchaser of such Regulation S/Rule 144A Notes designated by such Noteholder or beneficial owner in connection with resale of a beneficial interest in such Notes, the information specified in, and meeting the requirements of, Rule 144A(d)(4) under the Securities Act.
- (f) Transfers of MSBV Notes: In addition to the restrictions described above, transfers and resales of Notes issued by MSBV are subject to further conditions and restrictions. As a condition to its acquisition of any such Notes, each purchaser of such Notes may be required to execute and deliver to MSBV a purchaser certificate pursuant to which it will be required to make certain acknowledgements, representations, warranties and agreements, including, without limitation that (i) such purchaser is a non-U.S. person or, solely in the case of Regulation S/Rule 144A Notes, a QIB/QP (an "MSBV Permitted Transferee") and (ii) it understands and agrees to comply with the conditions and restrictions set forth in the following paragraph.

A holder of Notes issued by MSBV may offer, sell or otherwise transfer such Notes only to (i) MSBV, a Distribution Agent or any of their affiliates or (ii) an MSBV Permitted Transferee. MSBV has the right to refuse to honour the transfer or pledge of any Notes that do not meet the transfer restrictions and other restrictions and conditions described herein. Each purchaser of such Notes will be deemed to represent and warrant that it agrees to comply with the transfer restrictions and other restrictions and conditions set forth in this Offering Circular or the Pricing Supplement. Any purported transfer or pledge of such Notes that is in breach, at the time made, of any transfer restrictions or other restrictions or conditions set forth in this Offering Circular or the Pricing Supplement may be void ab initio. If, at any time, MSBV determines in good faith that (i) a holder of such Notes is in breach, at the time given, of any of the transfer restrictions or other restrictions or conditions set forth in this Offering Circular or the Pricing Supplement, (ii) a transfer or attempted or purported transfer of any such Notes was consummated in reliance on an incorrect purchaser certificate from the transferee or purported transferee, (iii) a transferee failed to deliver to MSBV a purchaser certificate satisfactory in form to it, (iv) the holder of such Notes was in breach of any representation, warranty or agreement contained in the purchaser certificate or (v) the holder of such Notes pledges or attempts or purports to pledge such Notes, MSBV may, in its discretion, consider the acquisition by such person or such pledge void and of no force and effect, and such acquisition or pledge will not, at the discretion of MSBV, operate to transfer any rights to the transferee notwithstanding any instructions to the contrary to MSBV or any other intermediary. In addition, MSBV may require such acquirer or beneficial owner to sell the Notes to a non-U.S. person or QIB/QP. In connection with the foregoing, MSBV may receive a list of participants holding positions in the Notes from one or more book-entry depositaries. For the purposes of the foregoing, references to holders and purchasers of Notes include beneficial owners and purchasers of beneficial interests in such Notes.

- (g) Registration and Delivery: Within five business days of the surrender of an Individual Note Certificate in accordance with Condition 3.2(e) (Transfers) above, the Registrar will register the transfer in question and deliver a new Individual Note Certificate of a like principal amount to the Registered Notes transferred to each relevant holder at its Specified Office or (as the case may be) the Specified Office of any Transfer Agent or (at the request and risk of any such relevant holder) by uninsured first class mail (airmail if overseas) to the address specified for the purpose by such relevant holder. In this Condition 3.2(g) (Registration and Delivery), "business day" means a day on which commercial banks are open for general business (including dealings in foreign currencies) in the city where the Registrar or (as the case may be) the relevant Transfer Agent has its Specified Office.
- (h) No charge: The transfer of a Registered Note will be effected without charge by or on behalf of the Issuer or the Registrar or any Transfer Agent but against such indemnity as the Registrar or (as the case may be) such Transfer Agent may require in respect of any tax or other duty of whatsoever nature which may be levied or imposed in connection with such transfer.
- (i) Closed Periods: Holders of Registered Notes may not require transfers to be registered during the period of 15 days ending on the due date for any payment of principal or interest in respect of the Registered Notes.
- (j) Regulations concerning transfers and registration: All transfers of Registered Notes and entries on the Register are subject to the detailed regulations concerning the transfer of Registered Notes scheduled to the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement. The regulations may be changed by the Issuer with the prior written approval of the Registrar. A copy of the current regulations will be mailed (free of charge) by the Registrar to any holder of Registered Notes who requests in writing a copy of such regulations. The relevant Issuer shall have the right to refuse to honour the transfer of any Notes to a person who is a U.S. Person (as defined in Regulation S) or is in the United States unless such Notes were issued to, in the case of MSFL or MSIP Notes, a QIB, or, in the case of MSBV Notes, a QIP/QP, pursuant to the exemption from registration pursuant to Rule 144A, as detailed herein.

3.3 Nordic Notes

Notes designated as "Finnish Notes", "Norwegian Notes", "Danish Notes" or "Swedish Notes" or "Nordic Notes" in the applicable Pricing Supplement will be issued in uncertificated and dematerialised book entry form in accordance with the NCSD Rules. In respect of Nordic Notes, "Noteholder" and "holder" means the person in whose name a Nordic Note is registered in the NCSD Register and the reference to a person in whose name a Nordic Note is registered shall include also any person duly authorised to act as a nominee and so registered for the Nordic Note. Title to Nordic Notes shall pass by registration in the NCSD Register. Except as ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction or as required by law, the holder (as defined above) of any Nordic Note shall be deemed to be and may be treated as its absolute owner for all purposes, whether or not it is overdue and regardless of any notice of ownership, trust or an interest in it and no person shall be liable for so treating the holder. The Issuer shall be entitled to obtain information from the NCSD Register in accordance with the NCSD Rules. As the Nordic Notes will be in uncertificated and dematerialised book-entry form, the Conditions as so amended shall be deemed to be incorporated by reference in, and to form part of, the MSBV Deed of Covenant, the MSI plc Deed of Covenant or the MSESE Deed of Covenant (as the case may be) by which the Nordic Notes are constituted. No physical global or definitive notes or certificates will be issued in respect of Nordic Notes.

3.4 Uncertificated Notes

- (a) Form and Title: Uncertificated Notes shall be issued in uncertificated registered form in accordance with the Uncertificated Securities Regulations 2001, including any modification or re-enactment thereof for the time being in force (the "Regulations") and such other regulations made under sections 783, 784(3), 785 and 788 of the UK Companies Act 2006 as are applicable to the Euroclear Registrar. Uncertificated

Notes are participating securities for the purposes of the Regulations. Title to the Uncertificated Notes is recorded on the relevant Operator register of eligible debt securities. The Euroclear Registrar on behalf of the Issuer shall maintain a record of uncertificated eligible debt securities (the "Record") in relation to the Uncertificated Notes and shall procure that the Record is regularly updated to reflect the Operator register of eligible debt securities in accordance with the rules of the Operator. Subject to this requirement, (i) each person who is for the time being shown in the Record as the holder of a particular number of Uncertificated Notes shall be treated by the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Euroclear Registrar and any other Person as the holder of such number of Uncertificated Notes for all purposes (and the expressions "Noteholder" and "holder of Notes" and "holder" and related expressions in the context of Uncertificated Notes shall be construed accordingly), and (ii) none of the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Euroclear Registrar and any other Person shall be liable in respect of any act or thing done or omitted to be done by it or on its behalf in reliance upon the assumption that the particulars entered in the Record which the Euroclear Registrar maintains are in accordance with particulars entered in the Operator register of eligible debt securities relating to the Uncertificated Notes.

No provisions of these Conditions as completed by the applicable Pricing Supplement shall (notwithstanding anything contained therein) apply or have effect to the extent that it is in any respect inconsistent with (I) the holding of title to Uncertificated Notes in uncertificated form, (II) the transfer of title to Uncertificated Notes by means of a relevant system or (III) the Regulations. Without prejudice to the generality of the preceding sentence and notwithstanding anything contained in these Conditions or the applicable Pricing Supplement, so long as the Uncertificated Notes are participating securities, (A) the "Operator" register of eligible debt securities relating to the Uncertificated Notes shall be maintained at all times outside the United Kingdom, (B) the Uncertificated Notes may be issued in uncertificated form in accordance with and subject as provided in the Regulations, and (C) for the avoidance of doubt, the Conditions and the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to any Uncertificated Note shall remain applicable notwithstanding that they are not endorsed on any certificate for such Uncertificated Note.

As used herein each of "Operator register of eligible debt securities", "participating securities" and "relevant system" is as defined in the Regulations and the relevant "Operator" (as such term is used in the Regulations) is Euroclear UK & International Limited or any additional or alternative operator from time to time approved by the Issuer and the Euroclear Registrar in relation to the Uncertificated Notes and in accordance with the Regulations. Any reference herein to the "Operator" shall, whenever the context so permits, be deemed to include a reference to any such additional or alternative Operator from time to time and notified to the Uncertificated Noteholders in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices).

Notes in definitive registered form will not be issued, either initially or in exchange for an Uncertificated Note.

- (b) Title Transfer: Title to Uncertificated Notes will pass upon registration of the transfer in the Operator register. All transactions in relation to Uncertificated Notes (including transfers of Uncertificated Notes) in the open market or otherwise must be effected through an account at the Operator subject to and in accordance with the rules and procedures for the time being of the Operator.

4. Status

4.1 Status of the Notes

The Notes constitute direct and general obligations of the Issuer which rank pari passu among themselves.

4.2 Status of Guarantee

The Guarantor's obligations in respect of the Notes issued by MSBV (other than Notes the Pricing Supplement relating to which specifies that such Notes are not guaranteed by Morgan Stanley), MSFL and MSFII constitute direct, unconditional and unsecured obligations of the Guarantor which rank without preference among themselves and pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Guarantor, present and future, but, in the event of insolvency, only to the extent permitted by laws affecting creditors' rights.

5. Fixed Rate Note Provisions

5.1 Application

This Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) is applicable to the Notes only if the Fixed Rate Note Provisions are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable and in each case, if applicable, in respect of an Interest Period and/or Interest Payment Date(s).

5.2 Fixed Interest Rate

The Rate of Interest in respect of each Interest Period and/or Interest Payment Date which is subject to the Fixed Rate Note Provisions will be the Fixed Interest Rate. A different Fixed Interest Rate may apply in respect of different Interest Periods and/or Interest Payment Dates, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If a Rate of Interest for any period or any relevant day is specified in the Conditions or in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be a "Fixed Interest Rate", the relevant Rate of Interest will be determined in accordance with the provisions set out in this Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions).

5.3 Accrual of Interest

The Notes bear interest from the Interest Commencement Date at the Rate of Interest payable in arrear on each Interest Payment Date, subject as provided in Condition 27 (Payments – Registered Notes) and Condition 28 (Payments – Uncertificated Notes). Each Note will cease to bear interest from the due date for final redemption unless, upon such due date, payment of the Redemption Amount is improperly withheld or refused, in which case it will continue to bear interest in accordance with this Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) (as well after as before judgment) until whichever is the earlier of (i) the day on which all sums due in respect of such Note up to that day are received by or on behalf of the relevant Noteholder and (ii) the day which is 7 Business Days after the Fiscal Agent has notified the Noteholders that it has received all sums due in respect of the Notes up to such seventh Business Day (except to the extent that there is any subsequent default in payment).

5.4 Fixed Coupon Amount

If "Fixed Coupon Amount" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the amount of interest payable in respect of each Note on each Interest Payment Date in respect of the relevant Interest Period shall be the relevant Fixed Coupon Amount and, if the Notes are in more than one Specified Denomination, shall be the relevant Fixed Coupon Amount in respect of the relevant Specified Denomination, provided that, if a Broken Amount is specified in the Pricing Supplement as applicable in respect of an Interest Payment Date in respect of each Calculation Amount, the Interest Amount payable on such Interest Payment Date in respect of such Note per Calculation Amount shall be the Broken Amount.

Different Fixed Coupon Amounts may apply in respect of different Interest Periods and/or Interest Payment Dates, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

5.5 Calculation of Interest

If "Fixed Coupon Amount" is specified as not applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the amount of interest payable in respect of each Note in respect of any period (for the avoidance of doubt including an Interest Period) shall be an amount per Calculation Amount calculated by applying the Rate of Interest to the Calculation Amount, multiplying the product by the applicable Day Count Fraction and rounding the resulting figure to the nearest sub-unit of the Specified Currency (half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards). For this purpose, a "sub-unit" means, in the case of any currency other than euro, the lowest amount of such currency that is available as legal tender in the country of such currency and, in the case of euro, means one cent.

5.6 Interest on Swedish Notes

For the purposes of calculation of any amount of interest on Swedish Notes, the provisions of this Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) shall be amended so that all periods shall consist of the period from (but excluding) the first day of the relevant period up to (and including) the last day of the relevant period.

6. Regular Coupon Note Provisions

6.1 Application

This Condition 6 (Regular Coupon Note Provisions) is applicable to the Notes only if the "Regular Coupon Note Provisions" are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

6.2 Regular Coupon

On each Interest Payment Date, the Issuer shall pay interest on the Notes of the relevant Series in an amount per Calculation Amount determined by the Determination Agent in accordance with the following formula:

$$\text{Coupon Rate} \times \text{Calculation Amount}$$

7. Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions

7.1 Application

This Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions) is applicable to the Notes only if one or more of the Floating Rate Note Provisions, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked or Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

7.2 Accrual of Interest

The Floating Rate Notes bear interest from the Interest Commencement Date at the Rate of Interest payable in arrear on each Interest Payment Date, subject as provided in Condition 27 (Payments – Registered Notes) and Condition 28 (Payments – Uncertificated Notes). Each Note will cease to bear interest from the due date for final redemption unless, upon such due date, payment of the Redemption Amount is improperly withheld or refused, in which case it will continue to bear interest in accordance with this Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions) (as well after as before judgment) until whichever is the earlier of (i) the day on which all sums due in respect of such Note up to that day are received by or on behalf of the relevant Noteholder and (ii) the day which is 7 Business Days after the Fiscal Agent has notified the Noteholders that it has received all sums due in respect of the Notes up to such seventh Business Day (except to the extent that there is any subsequent default in payment). The Rate of Interest in respect of all or any Interest Periods shall, if so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, be zero.

7.3 Screen Rate Determination

Subject to the provisions of Condition 7.5 (CMS Rate Determination), (Condition 7.6 (Provisions specific to SOFR as Reference Rate), Condition 7.7 (Provisions specific to SONIA as Reference Rate), Condition 7.8 (Provisions specific to €STR as Reference Rate), Condition 7.9 (Provisions specific to SARON as Reference Rate), Condition 7.10 (Provisions specific to TONA as Reference Rate), Condition 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use), where such provisions are specified to apply in the applicable Pricing Supplement, Condition 7.19 (CMS Reference Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event) or Condition 7.20 (General Fallback Arrangements), if Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Rate(s) of Interest is/are to be determined, the Rate of Interest applicable to the Notes for each Interest Period will be determined by the Determination Agent on the following basis:

- (a) if the Reference Rate is a composite quotation or customarily supplied by one entity, the Determination Agent will determine the Reference Rate which appears on the Relevant Screen Page as of the Relevant Time on the relevant Interest Determination Date;

- (b) in any other case, the Determination Agent will determine the arithmetic mean of the Reference Rates which appear on the Relevant Screen Page as of the Relevant Time on the relevant Interest Determination Date;
- (c) if, in the case of Condition 7.3(a) above, such rate does not appear on that page or, in the case of Condition 7.3(b) above, fewer than two such rates appear on that page or if, in either case, the Relevant Screen Page is unavailable, the Determination Agent will:
 - (i) request the principal Relevant Financial Centre office of each of the Reference Banks to provide a quotation of the Reference Rate at approximately the Relevant Time on the Interest Determination Date to prime banks in the Relevant Financial Centre interbank market in an amount that is representative for a single transaction in that market at that time; and
 - (ii) determine the arithmetic mean of such quotations; and
- (d) if fewer than two such quotations are provided as requested, the Determination Agent will determine the arithmetic mean of the rates (being the nearest to the Reference Rate, as determined by the Determination Agent) quoted by major banks in the Principal Financial Centre of the Specified Currency, selected by the Determination Agent, at approximately 11.00 a.m. (local time in the Principal Financial Centre of the Specified Currency) on the first day of the relevant Interest Period for loans in the Specified Currency to leading European banks for a period equal to the relevant Interest Period and in an amount that is representative for a single transaction in that market at that time, and the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period shall be the sum of the Margin and the rate or (as the case may be) the arithmetic mean so determined, provided, however, that if the Determination Agent is unable to determine a rate or (as the case may be) an arithmetic mean in accordance with the above provisions in relation to any Interest Period, the Rate of Interest applicable to the Notes during such Interest Period will be the sum of the Margin and the rate or (as the case may be) the arithmetic mean last determined in relation to the Notes in respect of a preceding Interest Period.

7.4 ISDA Determination

Subject as provided below and to the provisions of Condition 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use), where such provisions are specified to apply in the applicable Pricing Supplement, Condition 7.19 (CMS Reference Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event) or Condition 7.20 (General Fallback Arrangements), if ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Rate(s) of Interest is/are to be determined, the Rate of Interest applicable to the Notes for each Interest Period will be the sum of the Margin and the relevant ISDA Rate where "ISDA Rate" in relation to any Interest Period means a rate equal to the Floating Rate (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) that would be determined by the Determination Agent under an interest rate swap transaction if the Determination Agent were acting as Calculation Agent for that interest rate swap transaction under the terms of an agreement incorporating the ISDA Definitions and under which:

- (i) the Floating Rate Option (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (ii) except in the case of Overnight Floating Rate Options (as defined in the ISDA Definitions), the Designated Maturity (as defined in the ISDA Definitions), if applicable, is a period specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (iii) the relevant Fixing Day (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is the date as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (iv) the relevant Fixing Time (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is the time as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (v) the relevant Reset Date (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (vi) if an Overnight Floating Rate Option (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement and:

- (A) an Overnight Rate Compounding Method (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
- (1) OIS Compounding is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, Daily Capped Rate and/or Daily Floored Rate are applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, the Daily Capped Rate and the Daily Floored Rate are the rates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; or
 - (2) Compounding with Lookback is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, (a) Lookback is the number of Applicable Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions and (b) Daily Capped Rate and/or Daily Floored Rate are applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, the Daily Capped Rate and the Daily Floored Rate are the rates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
 - (3) Compounding with Observation Period Shift is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, Set-in-Advance is applicable if specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, (a) Set-in-Advance is applicable if specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, (b) Observation Period Shift is the number of Observation Period Shift Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions, (c) Observation Period Shift Additional Business Days are the days, if any, specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement and (d) Daily Capped Rate and/or Daily Floored Rate are applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, the Daily Capped Rate and the Daily Floored Rate are the rates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
 - (4) Compounding with Lockout is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, (a) Lockout is the number of Lockout Period Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions, (b) Lockout Period Business Days are the days specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions and (c) Daily Capped Rate and/or Daily Floored Rate are applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, the Daily Capped Rate and the Daily Floored Rate are the rates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; or
 - (5) unless an Overnight Rate Compounding Method in sub-paragraphs (1) to (4) above is applicable, in respect of an Overnight Floating Rate Option in the Floating Rate Matrix (as defined in the ISDA Definitions), any other method of compounding an overnight rate that is set out in the column entitled "Category/Style" in the Floating Rate Matrix is applicable; or
- (B) an Overnight Rate Averaging Method (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
- (1) Overnight Averaging is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, Daily Capped Rate and/or Daily Floored Rate are applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, the Daily Capped Rate and the Daily Floored Rate are the rates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
 - (2) Averaging with Lookback is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, (a) Lookback is the number of Applicable Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions and (b) Daily Capped Rate and/or Daily Floored Rate are applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, the Daily Capped Rate and the Daily Floored Rate are the rates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

- (3) Averaging with Observation Period Shift is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, Set-in-Advance is applicable if specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, (a) Set-in-Advance is applicable if specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, (b) Observation Period Shift is the number of Observation Period Shift Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions, (c) Observation Period Shift Additional Business Days are the days, if any, specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement and (d) Daily Capped Rate and/or Daily Floored Rate are applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, the Daily Capped Rate and the Daily Floored Rate are the rates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
 - (4) Averaging with Lockout is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, (a) Lockout is the number of Lockout Period Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions, (b) Lockout Period Business Days are the days specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions and (c) Daily Capped Rate and/or Daily Floored Rate are applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, the Daily Capped Rate and the Daily Floored Rate are the rates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
 - (5) unless an Overnight Rate Averaging Method in sub-paragraphs (1) to (4) above is applicable, in respect of an Overnight Floating Rate Option in the Floating Rate Matrix, any other method of averaging an overnight rate that is set out in the column entitled "Category/Style" in the Floating Rate Matrix is applicable; and
- (vii) if an Index Floating Rate Option (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement and an Index Method is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
- (A) Standard Index Method is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
 - (B) Compounded Index Method is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; or
 - (C) Compounded Index Method with Observation Period Shift is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, (a) Set-in-Advance is applicable if specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, (b) Observation Period Shift is the number of Observation Period Shift Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions and (c) Observation Period Shift Additional Business Days are the days, if any, specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (viii) in connection with the Index Method, references in the ISDA Definitions to: (1) numbers, financial centers or other items specified in the Confirmation shall be deemed to be references to the numbers, financial centers or other items specified for such purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement; (2) "Business Day in the financial centres, if any, specified for such purpose in the Confirmation" shall be deemed to be references to Business Day; (3) "Calculation Period" shall be deemed to be references to the relevant Interest Period; (4) "Floating Rate Day Count Fraction" shall be deemed to be references to Day Count Fraction; (5) "Period End Date" shall be deemed to be references to the relevant Interest Period End Date; (6) "Termination

Date" shall be deemed to be references to the final Interest Period End Date; and (7) "Effective Date" shall be deemed to be references to the Interest Commencement Date; or

- (ix) Delayed Payment is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and the relevant delay is the number of Business Days specified in respect of Delayed Payment in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (x) Period End Date/ Termination Date adjustment for Unscheduled Holiday will apply if specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement to be applicable;
- (xi) Non-Representative (as defined in the 2021 ISDA Definitions) will apply if specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement to be applicable;
- (xii) Successor Benchmark and Successor Benchmark Effective Date (as defined in the 2021 ISDA Definitions) will be as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (xiii) if any fallbacks would otherwise be required to be determined in accordance with Section 8.6 (Generic Fallback Provisions) of the ISDA Definitions, such fallbacks shall not be so determined, but shall instead be determined in accordance with Condition 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use), where such provision is specified to apply in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or Condition 7.20 (General Fallback Arrangements) and the ISDA Definitions shall be construed accordingly;
- (xiv) Sections 1.2.2 (Calculation Agent Standard) and 1.2.4 (Determinations by Calculation Agent) of the ISDA Definitions are deemed to be deleted;
- (xv) Section 6.10 (Linear Interpolation) of the ISDA Definitions is deemed to be deleted unless "2021 ISDA Definitions Linear Interpolation" is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement; and
- (xvi) in any circumstance where the ISDA Definitions provide for anything to be determined by agreement between the parties or a discretion is given thereunder to the Calculation Agent to make any determination, the Determination Agent will make such determination or exercise such discretion.

Notwithstanding any other Conditions where the Floating Rate Option is "EUR-CNO TEC10", and unless "TEC10 Adjustment" is specified as "Not Applicable" in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if in respect of any Interest Period the Determination Agent determines that the 10-year constant maturity French treasury rate (known as CNO TEC10) published by the Bank of France no longer represents the actual yield to maturity of a notional Obligations assimilables du Trésor ("OAT") with a maturity of exactly 10 years (based on executable prices available to the Determination Agent for OATs with a maturity most closely matching a 10-year maturity) (which event may occur in connection with or following any default or potential default of the Republic of France or unexpected volatility or illiquidity in markets in trading of OATs), then the ISDA Rate in respect of such Interest Period for the purposes of the Conditions shall be deemed to be the yield to maturity of a notional OAT with a maturity of exactly 10 years, as determined by the Determination Agent acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner by reference to bid prices for OATs with a maturity most closely matching a 10-year maturity and having regard to such pricing sources, methods and models (which may include, without limitation, any available firm or indicative prices for such OATs or internal valuation or recovery models) as the Determination Agent considers appropriate.

7.5 CMS Rate Determination: Subject to the provisions of Condition 7.19 (CMS Reference Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event), if CMS Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Rate(s) of Interest is/are to be determined, the Rate(s) of Interest applicable to the Notes for each Interest Period will be the relevant CMS Interest Rate determined in accordance with paragraphs (a) or (b) below, as applicable.

(a) Single CMS Rate

If the CMS Interest Rate is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be "Single CMS Rate", the CMS Interest Rate in respect of an Interest Period or any relevant day will be equal to the CMS Reference Rate for such Interest Period or such relevant day, plus or minus (as indicated in the applicable Pricing Supplement) the Margin (if any is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to such CMS Reference Rate), and multiplied by the Interest Participation Rate (if any is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to such CMS Reference Rate).

(b) Spread CMS Rate

If the CMS Interest Rate is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be "Spread CMS Rate", the CMS Interest Rate in respect of an Interest Period or any relevant day will be equal to the difference between (1) CMS Reference Rate 1 for such Interest Period or such relevant day, plus or minus (as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement) Margin 1 (if any is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to such CMS Reference Rate 1), and multiplied by Interest Participation Rate 1 (if any is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to such CMS Reference Rate 1), minus (2) CMS Reference Rate 2 for such Interest Period or such relevant day, plus or minus (as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement) Margin 2 (if any is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to such CMS Reference Rate 2), and multiplied by Interest Participation Rate 2 (if any is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to such CMS Reference Rate 2).

(c) Determination of CMS Reference Rate

The CMS Reference Rate in respect of an Interest Period or any relevant day (as applicable) will be the Specified Swap Rate for swap transactions in the Reference Currency with a maturity of the Designated Maturity (expressed as a percentage rate per annum) (the "Relevant Swap Rate") which appears on the Relevant Screen Page as at the Relevant Time on the Interest Determination Date in respect of such Interest Period or such relevant day, all as determined by the Determination Agent. If the Relevant Swap Rate does not appear on the Relevant Screen Page at the Relevant Time, the CMS Reference Rate in respect of an Interest Period or a relevant day (as applicable) will be determined by the Determination Agent in accordance with the first applicable Fallback Rate Determination that provides a CMS Reference Rate, and if the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies:

- (i) "Fallback Screen Page" to be applicable, the Determination Agent will, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determine an alternative or successor page or publication to the Relevant Screen Page for the Relevant Swap Rate;
- (ii) "Mid-Market Quotations" to be applicable, the Determination Agent will determine the CMS Reference Rate on the basis of the arithmetic mean of the Mid-Market Quotations provided by the Reference Banks at approximately the Relevant Time on the Interest Determination Date in respect of such Interest Period or such day by requesting the principal Relevant Financial Centre office of each of the Reference Banks to provide Mid-Market Quotations. If at least five Mid-Market Quotations are provided, the Determination Agent will determine the arithmetic mean of such Mid-Market Quotations provided by discarding the highest of such Mid-Market Quotations (or in event of equality, one of the highest) and lowest of such Mid-Market Quotations (or in event of equality, one of the lowest). If four Mid-Market Quotations are provided, the Determination Agent will determine the arithmetic mean of such Mid-Market Quotations provided. If less than four Mid-Market Quotations are provided, the next Fallback Rate Determination specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement will apply, or if none is specified, Determination Agent Fallback will apply. All calculations of the arithmetic mean of the relevant number of Mid-Market Quotations provided pursuant to this paragraph will be rounded to the nearest one thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.0005 being rounded upwards; and
- (iii) "Determination Agent Fallback" to be applicable, the Determination Agent will, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determine the CMS Reference Rate by using available and relevant public information and having regard to comparable benchmarks available.

If any Fallback Rate Determination(s) are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then only that or those (as the case may be) Fallback Rate Determinations shall apply and if two or more Fallback Rate Determinations are specified, those Fallback Rate Determinations shall apply in the order as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, such that if the Determination Agent determines that the CMS Reference Rate cannot be determined by applying a Fallback Rate Determination, then the next Fallback Rate Determination specified shall apply.

7.6 Provisions specific to SOFR as Reference Rate

- (i) If Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Rate(s) of Interest is/are to be determined and SOFR is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as the Reference Rate, the Rate(s) of Interest for an Interest Period will be the relevant SOFR Benchmark plus or minus (as indicated in the applicable Pricing Supplement) the Margin (as specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement), subject to a minimum of zero per cent.
- (ii) The "SOFR Benchmark" will be determined based on SOFR Compound with Lookback, SOFR Compound with Observation Period Shift, SOFR Compound with Payment Delay or SOFR Index Average, as follows:
 - (1) if SOFR Compound with Lookback ("SOFR Compound with Lookback") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SOFR Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SOFR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left[\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{SR_{i-xUSBD} \times n_i}{360} \right) - 1 \right] \times \frac{360}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Period;

"d₀", for any Interest Period, means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days in the relevant Interest Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant U.S. Government Securities Business Days in chronological order from, and including, the first U.S. Government Securities Business Day in the relevant Interest Period;

"Lookback Days" means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"n_i" for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following U.S. Government Securities Business Day ("i+1");

"SOFR_i", for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, is equal to SOFR in respect of that day; and

"SOFR_{i-xUSBD}", for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, is equal to SOFR in respect of the U.S. Government Securities Business Days falling a number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days prior to that day "i" equal to the number of Lookback Days;

- (2) if SOFR Compound with Observation Period Shift ("SOFR Compound with Observation Period Shift") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SOFR Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SOFR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Observation Period;

"d₀", for any Observation Period, means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days in the relevant Observation Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant U.S. Government Securities Business Days in chronological order from, and including, the first U.S. Government Securities Business Day in the relevant Observation Period;

"n_i" for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following U.S. Government Securities Business Day ("i+1");

"Observation Period" means, in respect of each Interest Period, the period from, and including, the date falling a number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the first day of such Interest Period to, but excluding, the date falling a number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the Interest Period End Date for such Interest Period;

"Observation Shift Days" means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; and

"SOFR_i", for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, is equal to SOFR in respect of that day;

- (3) if SOFR Compound with Payment Delay ("SOFR Compound with Payment Delay") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SOFR Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SOFR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Period;

"d₀", for any Interest Period, means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days in the relevant Interest Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant U.S. Government Securities Business Days in chronological order from, and including, the first U.S. Government Securities Business Day in the relevant Interest Period;

"n_i" for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following U.S. Government Securities Business Day ("i+1"); and

"SOFR_i", for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, is equal to SOFR in respect of that day.

Where "SOFR Compound with Payment Delay" applies, for the purposes of calculating the SOFR Benchmark with respect to the final Interest Period, the level of SOFR for each U.S. Government Securities Business Day in the period from (and including) the SOFR Rate Cut-Off Date to (but excluding) the Maturity Date or the redemption date, as applicable, shall be the level of SOFR in respect of such SOFR Rate Cut-Off Date;

- (4) if SOFR Index Average ("SOFR Index Average") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SOFR Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of the SOFR Index calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d_c" means the number of calendar days from, and including, the SOFR Index_{Start} to, but excluding, the SOFR Index_{End};

"SOFR Index Determination Time" means approximately 8:00 a.m. (New York City time);

"SOFR Index" means, in respect of any U.S. Government Securities Business Day, the SOFR Index value as published by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York in relation to such U.S. Government Securities Business Day, as such value appears at the SOFR Index Determination Time on such U.S. Government Securities Business Day on the Federal Reserve Bank of New York's Website, and appearing on the Relevant Screen Page;

"SOFR Index_{End}" means the SOFR Index value on the date that is the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement preceding the Interest Period End Date relating to such Interest Period (or in the final Interest Period, the Maturity Date or redemption date); and

"SOFR Index_{Start}" means the SOFR Index value on the date that is the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement preceding the first date of the relevant Interest Period;

If the values for SOFR Index_{Start} or SOFR Index_{End} are not published on or by the relevant Interest Determination Date and a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have not occurred, the "SOFR Index Average" shall be calculated on such Interest Determination Date with respect to the relevant Interest Period, in accordance with the formula set out in sub-paragraph (2) above of this Condition 7.6(ii) (Provisions specific to SOFR as Reference Rate) and for such purpose, "Observation Shift Days" shall be the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified for such purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If a Benchmark Transition Event and its related SOFR Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred, the provisions set forth in paragraph (iii) below shall apply.

- (iii) Effect of Benchmark Transition Event

- (A) Benchmark Replacement. If the Issuer or its designee determines that a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred in respect of any determination of the Benchmark on any date, the Benchmark Replacement will replace the then-current Benchmark for all purposes relating to the Notes in respect of such determination on such date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

- (B) Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes. In connection with the implementation of a Benchmark Replacement, the Issuer or its designee will have the right to make Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes from time to time.
- (C) Decisions and Determinations. Any determination, decision or election that may be made by the Issuer or its designee pursuant to this Condition 7.6(iii) (Effect of Benchmark Transition Event), including any determination with respect to a tenor, rate or adjustment or of the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event, circumstance or date and any decision to take or refrain from taking any action or any selection, will be conclusive and binding absent manifest error, will be made in the Issuer's or its designee's sole discretion, and, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the documentation relating to the Notes, shall become effective without consent from the holders of the Notes or any other party.

For the avoidance of doubt, capitalised terms used in this Condition 7.6(iii) (Effect of Benchmark Transition Event) shall have the meanings given to them in Condition 2.1 (Definitions).

7.7 Provisions specific to SONIA as Reference Rate

- (i) If Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Interest Rate(s) is/are to be determined and SONIA is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as the Reference Rate, the Rate(s) of Interest for an Interest Period will be the relevant SONIA Benchmark plus or minus (as indicated in the applicable Pricing Supplement) the Margin (if any) (as specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement), subject to a minimum of zero per cent.
- (ii) The "SONIA Benchmark" will be determined based on SONIA Compound with Lookback, SONIA Compound with Observation Period Shift, SONIA Compound with Payment Delay or SONIA Index Average, as follows:
- (1) if SONIA Compound with Lookback ("SONIA Compound with Lookback") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SONIA Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SONIA Interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{SONIA}_{i-\text{PLBD}} \times n_i}{365} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{365}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Period;

"d₀" for any Interest Period, means the number of London Banking Days in the relevant Interest Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant London Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first London Banking Day in the relevant Interest Period;

"Lookback Days" means the number of London Banking Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"n_i" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following London Banking Day ("i+1"); and

"SONIA_{i-pLBD}" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, is equal to SONIA in respect of the London Banking Day falling a number of London Banking Days prior to that day "i" equal to the number of Lookback Days;

- (2) if SONIA Compound with Observation Period Shift ("SONIA Compound with Observation Period Shift") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SONIA Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SONIA Interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Observation Period;

"d₀" for any Observation Period, means the number of London Banking Days in the relevant Observation Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant London Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first London Banking Day in the relevant Observation Period;

"n_i" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following London Banking Day ("i+1");

"Observation Period" means, in respect of each Interest Period, the period from, and including, the date falling a number of London Banking Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the first day of the Interest Period to, but excluding, the date falling a number of London Banking Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the Interest Period End Date for such Interest Period;

"Observation Shift Days" means the number of London Banking Days specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement; and

"SONIA_i" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, is equal to SONIA in respect of that day "i";

- (3) if SONIA Compound with Payment Delay ("SONIA Compound with Payment Delay") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SONIA Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SONIA Interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Period;

"d₀" for any Interest Period, means the number of London Banking Days in the relevant Interest Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d_0 , each representing the relevant London Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first London Banking Day in the relevant Interest Period;

"n_i" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following London Banking Day ("i+1"); and

"SONIA_i" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, is equal to SONIA in respect of that day "i".

Where "SONIA Compound with Payment Delay" applies, for the purposes of calculating the SONIA Benchmark with respect to the final Interest Period, the level of SONIA for each London Banking Day in the period from (and including) the SONIA Rate Cut-Off Date to (but excluding) the Maturity Date or the redemption date, as applicable, shall be the level of SONIA in respect of such SONIA Rate Cut-Off Date;

- (4) if SONIA Index Average ("SONIA Index Average") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SONIA Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of the SONIA Index calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\frac{SONIA Index_{End}}{SONIA Index_{Start}} - 1 \right) \times \left(\frac{365}{d} \right)$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days from, and including, the SONIA Index_{Start} to, but excluding, the SONIA Index_{End};

"Relevant Number" means the number specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if no such number is specified, five);

"SONIA Index" means in respect of any London Banking Day, the SONIA Compounded Index in relation to such London Banking Day as provided by the Bank of England (or any successor) to authorised distributors and as then published on the Relevant Screen Page, or if the Relevant Screen Page is unavailable, as otherwise published by such authorised distributors, in each case on such London Banking Day;

If the value of either or both of SONIA Index_{Start} or SONIA Index_{End} is not published or displayed on the Relevant Screen Page by the administrator of the SONIA Index or other information service by 5.00 p.m. (London time) (or, if later, by the time falling one hour after the customary or scheduled time for publication thereof in accordance with the then-prevailing operational procedures of the administrator of the SONIA Index or of such other information service, as the case may be) on the relevant Interest Determination Date, the SONIA Benchmark for the applicable Interest Period for which the SONIA Index is not available shall be determined as set out under subparagraph (2) above of this Condition 7.7(ii) (Provisions specific to SONIA as Reference Rate) as if SONIA Compound with Observation Period Shift were specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, and for these purposes: the Observation Shift Days in respect of the applicable Interest Period for which the SONIA Index is not available shall be deemed to be equal to the Relevant Number of London Banking Days plus one (or such other number of London Banking Days as is specified for this purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement, as if such alternative elections had been made in the applicable Pricing Supplement);

"SONIA Index_{End}" means, in respect of an Interest Period, the SONIA Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of London Banking Days preceding (a) the Interest Payment Date relating to such Interest Period or (b) such other date on which the relevant payment of interest falls due (but which by its definition or the operation of the relevant provisions is excluded from such Interest Period); and

"SONIA Index_{Start}" means, in respect of an Interest Period, the SONIA Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of London Banking Days preceding the first date of the relevant Interest Period.

For the purposes of this Condition 7.7 (Provisions specific to SONIA as Reference Rate), if SONIA in respect of any London Banking Day (the "Relevant London Banking Day") is not published on the Relevant Screen Page or by an authorised distributor, and is not otherwise provided by the administrator of SONIA, by either (A) the immediately following London Banking Day (or any amended publication day for SONIA as specified by the administrator of SONIA in the SONIA benchmark methodology) or (B) such other date and time on which SONIA for the Relevant London Banking Day is required for the purpose of any determination pursuant to the Conditions and, in either case, none of the events triggering the fallbacks specified in Condition 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) or 7.20 (General Fallback Arrangements) (as applicable) have occurred, SONIA for the Relevant London Banking Day shall be deemed to be the rate equal to SONIA for the most recent London Banking Day in respect of which SONIA was so published or provided.

7.8 Provisions specific to €STR as Reference Rate

- (i) If Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which a Rate of Interest is to be determined and €STR is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as the Reference Rate, the Rate of Interest for an Interest Period will be the relevant €STR Benchmark plus or minus (as indicated in the applicable Pricing Supplement) the Margin (if any) (as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement), subject to a minimum of zero per cent.
- (ii) The "€STR Benchmark" will be determined based on €STR Compound with Lookback, €STR Compound with Observation Period Shift, €STR Compound with Payment Delay or €STR Index Average, as follows:
 - (1) if €STR Compound with Lookback ("€STR Compound with Lookback") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the €STR Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound €STR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{€STR}_{i-\text{pTBD}} \times n_i}{360} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{360}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Period;

"d₀" for any Interest Period, means the number of TARGET Settlement Days in the relevant Interest Period;

"€STR_{i-pTBD}" for any TARGET Settlement Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, is equal to €STR in respect of the TARGET Settlement Day falling a number of TARGET Settlement Days prior to that day "i" equal to the number of Lookback Days;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant TARGET Settlement Day in chronological order from, and including, the first TARGET Settlement Day in the relevant Interest Period;

"Lookback Days" means the number of TARGET Settlement Days specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement; and

"n_i" for any TARGET Settlement Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following TARGET Settlement Day ("i+1");

- (2) if €STR Compound with Observation Period Shift ("€STR Compound with Observation Period Shift") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the €STR Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound €STR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{€STR}_i \times n_i}{360} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{360}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Observation Period;

"d₀" for any Observation Period, means the number of TARGET Settlement Days in the relevant Observation Period;

"€STR_i" for any TARGET Settlement Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, is equal to €STR in respect of that day "i";

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant TARGET Settlement Day in chronological order from, and including, the first TARGET Settlement Day in the relevant Observation Period;

"n_i" for any TARGET Settlement Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following TARGET Settlement Day ("i+1");

"Observation Period" means, in respect of each Interest Period, the period from, and including, the date falling a number of TARGET Settlement Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the first day of such Interest Period to, but excluding, the date falling a number of TARGET Settlement Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the Interest Period End Date for such Interest Period; and

"Observation Shift Days" means the number of TARGET Settlement Days specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement;

- (3) if €STR Compound with Payment Delay ("€STR Compound with Payment Delay") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the €STR Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound €STR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{€STR}_i \times n_i}{360} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{360}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Period;

"d₀" for any Interest Period, means the number of TARGET Settlement Days in the relevant Interest Period;

"€STR_i" for any TARGET Settlement Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, is equal to €STR in respect of that day "i";

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant TARGET Settlement Day in chronological order from, and including, the first TARGET Settlement Day in the relevant Interest Period;

"n_i" for any TARGET Settlement Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following TARGET Settlement Day ("i+1"); and

Where "€STR Compound with Payment Delay" applies, for the purposes of calculating €STR with respect to the final Interest Period, the level of €STR for each TARGET Settlement Day in the period from (and including) the €STR Rate Cut-Off Date to (but excluding) the Maturity Date or the redemption date, as applicable, shall be the level of €STR in respect of such €STR Rate Cut-Off Date;

- (4) if €STR Index Average ("€STR Index Average") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the €STR Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of the €STR Index calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

"d" means the number of calendar days from, and including, the €STR Index_{Start} to, but excluding, the €STR Index_{End}.

"€STR Index" means, in respect of any TARGET Settlement Day, the Compounded €STR Index in relation to such TARGET Settlement Day as published by the ECB on the ECB's Website on such TARGET Settlement Day and appearing on the Relevant Screen Page.

If the value of either or both of €STR Index_{Start} or €STR Index_{End} is not published or displayed on the ECB's Website or the Relevant Screen Page by the administrator of the €STR Index or other information service by 5.00 p.m. (Central European Time) (or, if later, by the time falling one hour after the customary or scheduled time for publication thereof in accordance with the then-prevailing operational procedures of the administrator of €STR Index or of such other information service, as the case may be) on the relevant Interest Determination Date, the €STR Benchmark for the applicable Interest Period for which the €STR Index is not available shall be determined as set out under sub-paragraph (2) of this Condition 7.8(ii) (Provisions specific to €STR as Reference Rate) above as if €STR Compound with Observation Period Shift were specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, and for these purposes: the Observation Shift Days in respect of the applicable Interest Period for which the €STR Index is not available shall be deemed to be equal to the Relevant Number of TARGET Settlement Days plus one (or such other number of TARGET Settlement Days as is specified for this purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement, as if such alternative elections had been made in the applicable Pricing Supplement).

"€STR Index_{End}" means, in respect of an Interest Period, the €STR Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of TARGET Settlement Days specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement preceding (a) the Interest Payment Date relating to such Interest Period or (b) such other date on which the relevant payment of interest falls due (but which by its definition or the operation of the relevant provisions is excluded from such Interest Period).

"€STR Index_{Start}" means, in respect of an Interest Period, the €STR Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of TARGET Settlement Days preceding the first date of the relevant Interest Period.

"Relevant Number" means the number specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if no such number is specified, five).

For the purposes of this Condition 7.8 (Provisions specific to €STR as Reference Rate), if €STR in respect of any TARGET Settlement Day (the "Relevant TARGET Settlement Day") is not published on the Relevant Screen Page or by an authorised distributor, and is not otherwise provided by the administrator of €STR, by either (A) the immediately following TARGET Settlement Day (or any amended publication day for €STR as specified by the administrator of €STR in the €STR benchmark methodology) or (B) such other date and time on which €STR for the Relevant TARGET Settlement Day is required for the purpose of any determination pursuant to the Conditions and, in either case, none of the events triggering the fallbacks specified in Condition 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) or 7.20 (General Fallback Arrangements) (as applicable) have occurred, €STR for the Relevant TARGET Settlement Day shall be deemed to be the rate equal to €STR for the most recent TARGET Settlement Day in respect of which €STR was so published or provided.

7.9 Provisions specific to SARON as Reference Rate

- (i) If Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which a Rate of Interest is to be determined and SARON is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as the Reference Rate, the Rate of Interest for an Interest Period will be the relevant SARON Benchmark plus or minus (as indicated in the applicable Pricing Supplement) the Margin (if any) (as specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement), subject to a minimum of zero per cent.
- (ii) The "SARON Benchmark" will be determined based on SARON Compound with Lookback, SARON Compound with Observation Period Shift, SARON Compound with Payment Delay or SAION Index Average, as follows:
 - (1) if SARON Compound with Lookback ("SARON Compound with Lookback") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SARON Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SARON interest investment in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{SARON}_{i-\text{xZBD}} \times n_i}{360} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{360}{d}$$

Where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Period;

"d₀" for any Interest Period, means the number of Zurich Banking Days in the relevant Interest Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant Zurich Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first Zurich Banking Day in the relevant Interest Period;

"Lookback Days" means the number of Zurich Banking Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

" n_i " for any Zurich Banking Day " i " in the relevant Interest Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day " i " up to, but excluding, the following Zurich Banking Day (" $i+1$ "); and

" $SARON_{i-xZBD}$ " for any Zurich Banking Day " i " in the relevant Interest Period, is equal to SARON in respect of the Zurich Banking Day falling a number of Zurich Banking Days prior to that day " i " equal to the number of Lookback Days;

- (2) if SARON Compound with Observation Period Shift ("SARON Compound with Observation Period Shift") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SARON Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SARON interest investment in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{SARON_i \times n_i}{360} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{360}{d}$$

where:

" d " means the number of calendar days in the relevant Observation Period;

" d_0 " for any Observation Period, means the number of Zurich Banking Days in the relevant Observation Period;

" i " is a series of whole numbers from one to d_0 , each representing the relevant Zurich Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first Zurich Banking Day in the relevant Observation Period;

" n_i " for any Zurich Banking Day " i " in the relevant Observation Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day " i " up to, but excluding, the following Zurich Banking Day (" $i+1$ ");

"Observation Period" means, in respect of each Interest Period, the period from, and including, the date falling a number of Zurich Banking Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the first day of such Interest Period to, but excluding, the date falling a number of Zurich Banking Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the Interest Period End Date for such Interest Period;

"Observation Shift Days" means the number of Zurich Banking Days specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement; and

" $SARON_i$ " for any Zurich Banking Day " i " in the relevant Observation Period, is equal to SARON in respect of that day " i ";

- (3) if SARON Compound with Payment Delay ("SARON Compound with Payment Delay") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SARON Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SARON interest investment in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{SARON_i \times n_i}{360} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{360}{d}$$

where:

" d " means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Period;

"d₀" for any Interest Period, means the number of Zurich Banking Days in the relevant Interest Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant Zurich Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first Zurich Banking Day in the relevant Interest Period;

"n_i" for any Zurich Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following Zurich Banking Day ("i+1"); and

"SARON_i" for any Zurich Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, is equal to SARON in respect of that day "i".

Where "SARON Compound with Payment Delay" applies, for the purposes of calculating SARON with respect to the final Interest Period, the level of SARON for each Zurich Banking Day in the period from (and including) the SARON Rate Cut-Off Date to (but excluding) the Maturity Date or the redemption date, as applicable, shall be the level of SARON in respect of such SARON Rate Cut-Off Date;

- (4) if SAION Index Average ("SAION Index Average") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SARON Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of the SAION Index calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days from, and including, the SAION Index_{Start} to, but excluding, the SAION Index_{End};

"Relevant Number" means the number specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if no such number is specified, five);

"SAION Index" means, in respect of any Zurich Banking Day, the SAION Index in relation to such Zurich Banking Day as provided by SIX Swiss Exchange AG (or any successor administrator) to authorised distributors and as then published on the Relevant Screen Page, or if the Relevant Screen Page is unavailable, as otherwise published by such administrator or authorised distributors, in each case on such Zurich Banking Day.

If the value of either or both of SAION Index_{Start} or SAION Index_{End} is not published or displayed by the administrator of the SARON or other information service by 6.00 p.m. (Zurich time) (or, if later, by the time falling one hour after the customary or scheduled time for publication thereof in accordance with the then-prevailing operational procedures of the administrator of the SAION Index or of such other information service, as the case may be) on the relevant Interest Determination Date, the SARON Benchmark for the applicable Interest Period for which the SAION Index is not available shall be determined as set out under sub-paragraph (2) of this Condition 7.9(ii) (Provisions specific to SARON as Reference Rate) as if SARON Compound with Observation Period Shift were specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, and for these purposes the Observation Shift Days in respect of the applicable Interest Period for which the SAION Index is not available shall be deemed to be equal to the Relevant Number of Zurich Banking Days plus one (or such other number of Zurich Business Days specified for this purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement), as if such alternative elections had been made in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"SAION Index_{End}" means, with respect to an Interest Period, the SAION Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of Zurich Banking Days preceding (a) the Interest Payment Date relating to such Interest Period or (b) such other date on which the relevant payment of interest falls due (but which by its definition or the operation of the relevant provisions is excluded from such Interest Period); and

"SAION Index_{Start}" means, with respect to an Interest Period, the SAION Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of Zurich Banking Days preceding the first date of the relevant Interest Period.

For the purposes of this Condition 7.9 (Provisions specific to SARON as Reference Rate), if SARON in respect of any Zurich Banking Day (the "Relevant Zurich Banking Day") is not published on the Relevant Screen Page or by an authorised distributor, and is not otherwise provided by the administrator of SARON, by either (A) that Zurich Banking Day (or any amended publication day for SARON as specified by the administrator of SARON in the SARON benchmark methodology) or (B) such other date and time on which SARON for the Relevant Zurich Banking Day is required for the purpose of any determination pursuant to the Conditions and, in either case, none of the events triggering the fallbacks specified in Condition 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) or 7.20 (General Fallback Arrangements) (as applicable) have occurred, SARON for the Relevant Zurich Banking Day shall be deemed to be the rate equal to SARON for the most recent Zurich Banking Day in respect of which SARON was so published or provided.

7.10 Provisions specific to TONA as Reference Rate

- (i) If Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which a Rate of Interest is to be determined and TONA is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the Reference Rate, the Rate of Interest for an Interest Period will be the relevant TONA Benchmark plus or minus (as indicated in the applicable Pricing Supplement) the Margin (if any) (as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement), subject to a minimum of zero per cent.
- (ii) The "TONA Benchmark" will be determined based on TONA Compound with Lookback, TONA Compound with Observation Period Shift, TONA Compound with Payment Delay or TONA Index Average, as follows:
 - (1) if TONA Compound with Lookback ("TONA Compound with Lookback") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the TONA Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound TONA Interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{TONA}_{i-\text{pTBD}} \times n_i}{365} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{365}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Period;

"d₀" for any Interest Period, means the number of Tokyo Banking Days in the relevant Interest Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant Tokyo Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first Tokyo Banking Day in the relevant Interest Period;

"Lookback Days" means the number of Tokyo Banking Days specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement;

" n_i " for any Tokyo Banking Day " i " in the relevant Interest Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day " i " up to, but excluding, the following Tokyo Banking Day (" $i+1$ "); and

" $TONA_{i-PTBD}$ " for any Tokyo Banking Day " i " in the relevant Interest Period, is equal to TONA in respect of the Tokyo Banking Day falling a number of Tokyo Banking Days prior to that day " i " equal to the number of Lookback Days;

- (2) if TONA Compound with Observation Period Shift ("TONA Compound with Observation Period Shift") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the TONA Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound TONA Interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

" d " means the number of calendar days in the relevant Observation Period;

" d_0 " for any Observation Period, means the number of Tokyo Banking Days in the relevant Observation Period;

" i " is a series of whole numbers from one to d_0 , each representing the relevant Tokyo Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first Tokyo Banking Day in the relevant Observation Period;

" n_i " for any Tokyo Banking Day " i " in the relevant Observation Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day " i " up to, but excluding, the following Tokyo Banking Day (" $i+1$ ");

"Observation Period" means, in respect of each Interest Period, the period from, and including, the date falling a number of Tokyo Banking Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the first day of such Interest Period to, but excluding, the date falling a number of Tokyo Banking Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the Interest Period End Date for such Interest Period;

"Observation Shift Days" means the number of Tokyo Banking Days specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement; and

" $TONA_i$ " for any Tokyo Banking Day " i " in the relevant Observation Period, is equal to TONA in respect of that day " i ";

- (3) if TONA Compound with Payment Delay ("TONA Compound with Payment Delay") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the TONA Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound TONA Interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{TONA_i \times n_i}{365} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{365}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Period;

"d₀" for any Interest Period, means the number of Tokyo Banking Days in the relevant Interest Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant Tokyo Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first Tokyo Banking Day in the relevant Interest Period;

"n_i" for any Tokyo Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following Tokyo Banking Day ("i+1"); and

"TONA_i" for any Tokyo Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Period, is equal to TONA in respect of that day "i".

Where "TONA Compound with Payment Delay" applies, for the purposes of calculating TONA with respect to the final Interest Period, the level of TONA for each Tokyo Banking Day in the period from (and including) the TONA Rate Cut-Off Date to (but excluding) the Maturity Date or the redemption date, as applicable, shall be the level of TONA in respect of such TONA Rate Cut-Off Date;

- (4) if TONA Index Average ("TONA Index Average") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the TONA Benchmark for each Interest Period shall be equal to the rate of return of the TONA Index calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days from, and including, the TONA Index_{Start} to, but excluding, the TONA Index_{End};

"Relevant Number" means the number specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if no such number is specified, five);

"TONA Index" means, in respect of any Tokyo Banking Day, the TONA Index in relation to such Tokyo Banking Day as provided by QUICK Corp (or any successor administrator) and published on the Relevant Screen Page, or if the Relevant Screen Page is unavailable, as otherwise published by QUICK Corp. (or successor administrator), in each case on such Tokyo Banking Day;

If the value of either or both of TONA Index_{Start} or TONA Index_{End} is not published or displayed on the Relevant Screen Page by the administrator of the TONA Index or other information service by 5.00 p.m. (Tokyo time) (or, if later, by the time falling one hour after the customary or scheduled time for publication thereof in accordance with the then-prevailing operational procedures of the administrator of the TONA Index or of such other information service, as the case may be) on the relevant Interest Determination Date, the TONA Benchmark for the applicable Interest Period for which the TONA Index is not available shall be determined as set out under sub-paragraph (2) of this Condition 7.10(ii) (Provisions specific to TONA as Reference Rate) as if TONA Compound with Observation Period Shift were specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, and for these purposes: the Observation Shift Days in respect of the applicable Interest Period for which the TONA Index is not available shall be deemed to be equal to the Relevant Number of Tokyo Banking Days plus one (or such other number of Tokyo Banking Days as is specified for this purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement, as if such alternative elections had been made in the applicable Pricing Supplement);

"TONA Index_{End}" means, with respect to an Interest Period, the TONA Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of Tokyo Banking Days preceding (a) the Interest Payment Date relating to such Interest Period or (b) such other date on which the relevant payment of interest falls due (but which by its definition or the operation of the relevant provisions is excluded from such Interest Period); and

"TONA Index_{Start}" means, with respect to an Interest Period, the TONA Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of Tokyo Banking Days preceding the first date of the relevant Interest Period.

For the purposes of this Condition 7.10 (Provisions specific to TONA as Reference Rate), if TONA in respect of any Tokyo Banking Day (the "Relevant Tokyo Banking Day") is not published on the Relevant Screen Page or by an authorised distributor, and is not otherwise provided by the administrator of TONA, by either (A) the immediately following Tokyo Banking Day (or any amended publication day for TONA as specified by the administrator of TONA in the TONA benchmark methodology) or (B) such other date and time on which TONA for the Relevant Tokyo Banking Day is required for the purpose of any determination pursuant to the Conditions and, in either case, none of the events triggering the fallbacks specified in Condition 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) or 7.20 (General Fallback Arrangements) (as applicable) have occurred, TONA for the Relevant Tokyo Banking Day shall be deemed to be the rate equal to TONA for the most recent Tokyo Banking Day in respect of which TONA was so published or provided.

7.11 Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions

If one or more of the Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Rate-Linked or Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable, the interest payable in respect of the Notes for each Interest Period will be determined in the manner specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

7.12 Maximum or Minimum Rate of Interest

If any Maximum Rate of Interest or Minimum Rate of Interest is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then the Rate of Interest shall in no event be greater than the maximum or be less than the minimum so specified.

7.13 Calculation of Interest Amount and Corrections

In respect of Floating Rate Notes and (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement) in respect of Notes for which one or more of the Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Fund-Linked, Rate-Linked Interest Note Provisions are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable ("Other Underlying Interest Linked Notes"), the Determination Agent will, as soon as practicable after the time at which the Rate of Interest is to be determined in relation to each Interest Period and subject as provided below, calculate the Interest Amount payable in respect of each Floating Rate Note or, as the case may be, Other Underlying Interest Linked Note for such Interest Period. The Interest Amount will be calculated by applying the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period to the Calculation Amount, multiplying the product by the relevant Day Count Fraction, rounding the resulting figure to the nearest sub-unit of the Specified Currency (half a sub-unit being rounded upwards) and multiplying such rounded figure by a fraction equal to the Specified Denomination of the relevant Note divided by the Calculation Amount. For this purpose a "sub-unit" means, in the case of any currency other than euro, the lowest amount of such currency that is available as legal tender in the country of such currency and, in the case of euro, means one cent.

Other than where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the event that any rate (a "Relevant Rate") used to calculate a Rate of Interest in respect of the Floating Rate Notes is subsequently corrected by the administrator or (if none) provider of such rate (the "Administrator"), and the correction (the "Corrected Rate") is published after the original publication but no later than (a) the Correction Cut-off Time specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if none, (b) the longer of

(i) one hour after such original publication and (ii) any other period for corrections specified by the Administrator in its methodology for the Relevant Rate, then PROVIDED THAT such Corrected Rate is published on or prior to the date falling two Business Days prior to the date on which a related payment is scheduled to be made under the Notes (the "Relevant Scheduled Payment Date"), then such Corrected Rate shall be deemed to be the relevant Relevant Rate and the Determination Agent shall use such Corrected Rate in determining any relevant amount payable in respect of the Notes. Any corrections published after the second Business Day prior to the Relevant Scheduled Payment Date shall be disregarded for the purposes of determining the relevant Relevant Rate.

7.14 Calculation of other amounts

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that any other amount is to be calculated by the Determination Agent, the Determination Agent will, as soon as practicable after the time or times at which any such amount is to be determined, calculate the relevant amount. The relevant amount will be calculated by the Determination Agent in the manner specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

7.15 Publication

The Determination Agent will cause each Rate of Interest and Interest Amount determined by it, together with the relevant Interest Payment Date, and any other amount(s) required to be determined by it together with any relevant payment date(s) to be notified to the Paying Agents and each listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system (if any) by which the Notes have been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation as soon as practicable after such determination and in any event not later than 15 Business Days after such determination. Notice thereof shall also be given to the Noteholders as soon as practicable after such determination and in any event not later than 15 Business Days after such determination. The Determination Agent will be entitled to recalculate any Interest Amount (on the basis of the foregoing provisions) in the event of an extension or shortening of the relevant Interest Period and shall be required to notify the Noteholders, the Paying Agents and each listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system (if any) by which the Notes have been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation as soon as practicable after such recalculation.

7.16 Notifications etc

All notifications, opinions, determinations, certificates, calculations, quotations and decisions given, expressed, made or obtained for the purposes of this Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions) by the Determination Agent will (in the absence of manifest error) be binding on the Issuer, the Paying Agents, the Noteholders and (subject as aforesaid) no liability to any such Person will attach to the Determination Agent in connection with the exercise or non-exercise by it of its powers, duties and discretions for such purposes.

7.17 Interest on Swedish Notes

For the purposes of calculation of any amount of interest on Swedish Notes, the provisions of this Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions) shall be amended so that all periods shall consist of the period from (but excluding) the first day of the relevant period up to (and including) the last day of the relevant period.

7.18 Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use

If (i) Condition 7.19 (CMS Reference Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event) does not apply, (ii) the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the provisions of this Condition 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) are applicable and (iii) unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, after application of any ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks specified in the relevant Floating Rate Option (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) to apply following the occurrence of any of the following events and the application of such ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks fails to provide a means of determining the relevant Floating Rate (as defined in the ISDA Definitions), then, notwithstanding the terms set forth elsewhere in these Conditions, if the Determination Agent determines that any of the following events has occurred:

- (a) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator of the Relevant Rates Benchmark announcing that it has ceased or will cease to provide the Relevant Rates Benchmark permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Relevant Rates Benchmark; or
- (b) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of the Relevant Rates Benchmark, the central bank for the currency of the Relevant Rates Benchmark, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator of the Relevant Rates Benchmark, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator of the Relevant Rates Benchmark or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator of the Relevant Rates Benchmark, which states that the administrator of the Relevant Rates Benchmark has ceased or will cease to provide the Relevant Rates Benchmark permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Relevant Rates Benchmark; or
- (c) unless otherwise specified in the Pricing Supplement, an Administrator/Benchmark Event occurs in relation to a Relevant Rates Benchmark, then the Determination Agent may use, as a substitute for the Relevant Rates Benchmark, and for each future Interest Determination Date (or other rate fixing date), the alternative rates benchmark determined in accordance with the following provisions:

- (i) if an alternative reference rate, index or benchmark is specified in the Pricing Supplement for this purpose (an "Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate"), such Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate; or
- (ii) if an Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate is not specified in the Pricing Supplement, the alternative reference rate, index or benchmark selected by the central bank, reserve bank, monetary authority or any similar institution (including any committee or working group thereof) in the jurisdiction of the applicable index currency that is consistent with accepted market practice (the rate determined under sub-paragraph (i) above or this sub-paragraph (ii), the "Alternative Rate").

The Determination Agent may, after consultation with the Issuer, determine any adjustments to the Alternative Rate or the Margin (which may include the addition of an adjustment spread, which may be positive or negative, in order to reduce or eliminate, to the extent reasonably practicable, any transfer of economic value to or from the Issuer as a result of the replacement of the Relevant Rates Benchmark with the Alternative Rate), as well as the applicable Business Day Convention, Interest Determination Dates (or any other rate fixing dates) and related provisions and definitions of the Notes, in each case that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such Alternative Rate for debt obligations such as the Notes.

If the Determination Agent determines, after consultation with the Issuer, that no such Alternative Rate exists on the relevant date, it may, after consultation with the Issuer, determine an alternative rate to be used as a substitute for the Relevant Rates Benchmark (which shall be the "Alternative Rate" for the purposes of these provisions), as well as any adjustments to the Margin (including any adjustment spread), the Business Day Convention, the Interest Determination Dates (or any other rate fixing dates) and related provisions and definitions in respect of the Notes, in each case, that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such Alternative Rate for debt obligations such as the Notes.

The Issuer will then provide a notice, in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices), to Noteholders to inform them of the occurrence of any of the events listed in Conditions 7.18(a) to 7.18(c) (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) above, the Alternative Rate and any adjustment determinations which will apply to the Notes. The notice shall also confirm the effective date of the Alternative Rate and any adjustments.

Notwithstanding anything else in this Condition 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use), if the Determination Agent determines that the selection of a particular index, benchmark or other price as an "Alternative Rate" (taking into account any necessary adjustments that would need to be made in accordance with this Condition 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use)) (1) is or would be unlawful under any applicable law or regulation; or (2) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements; or (3) would result in the Determination Agent, the Issuer or the Calculation Agent being considered to be administering a benchmark, index or other price source whose production, publication, methodology or governance would subject the Determination Agent, the Issuer or the Calculation Agent to material additional regulatory obligations which it is unwilling to undertake, then the Determination Agent shall not select such index, benchmark or price source as the Alternative Rate.

If the Determination Agent is unable to identify an Alternative Rate and determine the necessary adjustments to the terms of the Notes, then the Issuer may, in its reasonable discretion, determine that the Notes shall be redeemed as of any later date. If the Issuer so determines that the Notes shall be redeemed, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the Noteholders to redeem the Notes and upon redemption the Issuer will pay in respect of each Note an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount.

The Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

In the case where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, and the application of any ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks specified in the relevant Floating Rate Option results in a replacement of, modification to, or change in the method of calculating, the Floating Rate (or the index, benchmark or other price source that is referred to in the Floating Rate Option), the Determination Agent may, after consultation with the Issuer, determine any adjustments to the Floating Rate and the Margin (including any adjustment spread) as well as the applicable Business Day Convention, Interest Determination Dates (or any other rate fixing dates) and related provisions and definitions of the Notes, in each case that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such replacement or modified Floating Rate for debt obligations such as the Notes. The Issuer will provide a notice, in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices), to Noteholders to inform them of any adjustment determinations which will apply to the Notes. The notice shall also confirm the effective date of any adjustments.

7.19 CMS Reference Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event

This Condition 7.19 (CMS Reference Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event) applies where (i) the Relevant Rates Benchmark is a CMS Reference Rate and (ii) the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the provisions of this Condition 7.19 (CMS Reference Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event) are applicable.

- (a) Index Cessation. If, as of an Interest Determination Date or any other relevant day on which a CMS Reference Rate is to be determined, an Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to the applicable tenor of the then-current CMS Reference Rate has occurred, then the CMS Reference Rate in respect of such Interest Determination Date or other relevant day (as applicable) and each subsequent Interest Determination Date or other relevant day (as applicable) shall be the sum of (i) the Benchmark Replacement; and (ii) any adjustment spread (which may be a positive or negative value or zero), in each case determined on that Interest Determination Date or other relevant day (as applicable) by the Determination Agent acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Following the occurrence of an Index Cessation Effective Date in respect of one or more Index Cessation Events, the determination of the Benchmark Replacement and any adjustment spread will be a one-time process and will apply to each following Interest Determination Date or other relevant day (as applicable).
- (b) Early Redemption. If the implementation of any Benchmark Replacement or Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes results in a calculation of the CMS Reference Rate that is not consistent with market practice as determined by the Determination Agent, the Issuer may, in its reasonable discretion, determine that the Notes shall be redeemed as of any later date. If the Issuer so determines that the Notes shall be redeemed, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the Noteholders to redeem the Notes and upon redemption the Issuer will pay in respect of each Note an amount equal to:

- (i) if "Early Redemption Amount (CMS Reference Rate) – Fixed Redemption" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an amount per Calculation Amount (expressed as a percentage) as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (ii) if "Early Redemption Amount (CMS Reference Rate) – Fixed Redemption Less Costs" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an amount per Calculation Amount (expressed as a percentage) as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement less the reasonable cost to and/or the loss realised by, the Issuer and/or any Affiliate on unwinding any related hedging arrangements, in each case as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion;
- (iii) if "Early Redemption Amount (CMS Reference Rate) – Fair Market Value Less Costs" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an amount equal to the fair market value of such Note, on such day as is selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion (provided that such day is not more than 15 days before the date fixed for redemption of the Note), less the proportion attributable to that Note of the reasonable cost to the Issuer and/or any Affiliate of, or the loss realised by the Issuer and/or any Affiliate on unwinding any related hedging arrangements, in each case as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion; or
- (iv) if "Early Redemption Amount (CMS Reference Rate) - Fair Market Value" is specified in the Pricing Supplement, the fair market value of such Note, on such day as is selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion (provided that such day is not more than 15 days before the date fixed for redemption of the Note), as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion.

The Issuer's obligation under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

- (c) Decisions and Determinations. Any determination, decision, selection or election that may be made by the Issuer, the Determination Agent or their respective designees, pursuant to this Condition 7.19 (CMS Reference Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event), including any determination with respect to a tenor, rate, spread or adjustment or of the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event, circumstance or date and any decision to take or refrain from taking any action or any determination, decision, selection or election:
 - (i) will be conclusive and binding absent manifest error;
 - (ii) will be made in such person's sole discretion; and
 - (iii) notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the documentation relating to the Notes, shall become effective without consent from the holders of the Notes or any other party.
- (d) For the purposes of this Condition 7.19 (CMS Reference Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event), the following terms shall bear the following meanings:

"Benchmark Replacement" means the first alternative benchmark set forth in the order below that can be determined by the Determination Agent as of the Interest Determination Date or other relevant day on which a CMS Reference Rate is to be determined, in each case next succeeding the relevant Index Cessation Effective Date (or, if the Index Cessation Effective Date occurs on the Interest Determination Date or other relevant day, that Interest Determination Date or other relevant day (as applicable)):

- (i) if an alternative reference rate, index or benchmark is specified in the Pricing Supplement for this purpose (an "Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate"), such Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate;
- (ii) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected or recommended by the relevant governmental body or agency with jurisdiction over the then-current CMS Reference Rate or the administrator thereof as the replacement for the then-current CMS Reference Rate for the applicable index maturity; or

- (iii) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected by the Determination Agent as the replacement for the then-current CMS Reference Rate for the applicable index maturity giving due consideration to any industry-accepted rate of interest as a replacement for the then-current CMS Reference Rate for floating rate notes denominated in the Index Currency at such time, including any alternate rate of interest recommended by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. or any successor thereto.

In connection with the implementation of a Benchmark Replacement, the Determination Agent or its designee will have the right to make Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes from time to time.

"Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes" means, with respect to any Benchmark Replacement, any changes (including changes to the definition of "Interest Period", the timing and frequency of determining rates and making payments of interest, and other administrative matters) that the Determination Agent or its designee determines may be appropriate to reflect the adoption of such Benchmark Replacement in a manner substantially consistent with market practice (or, if the Determination Agent or its designee determines that adoption of any portion of such market practice is not administratively feasible or if the Determination Agent or its designee determines that no market practice for use of the Benchmark Replacement exists, in such other manner as the Determination Agent or its designee determines is reasonably necessary).

"CMS Reference Rate" means, initially, the CMS Reference Rate specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; provided that if an Index Cessation Effective Date has occurred with respect to such rate or the then-current CMS Reference Rate, then "CMS Reference Rate" means the applicable Benchmark Replacement. For the avoidance of doubt, such Benchmark Replacement will replace the then-current CMS Reference Rate for all purposes relating to the Notes.

"Index Cessation Effective Date" means, in respect of the then-current CMS Reference Rate and one or more Index Cessation Events, the first date on which the CMS Reference Rate would ordinarily have been published or provided and is no longer published or provided. If the CMS Reference Rate ceases to be provided on an Interest Determination Date or other relevant day, but it was provided at the time at which it is to be observed pursuant to these Conditions, then the Index Cessation Effective Date will be the next day on which the rate would ordinarily have been published or provided.

"Index Cessation Event" means, in respect of the then-current CMS Reference Rate:

- (i) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator of the CMS Reference Rate announcing that it has ceased or will cease to provide the CMS Reference Rate permanently or indefinitely; provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator or provider, as applicable, that will continue to provide the CMS Reference Rate;
- (ii) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of the CMS Reference Rate, the central bank for the currency of the CMS Reference Rate, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator for the CMS Reference Rate, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator for the CMS Reference Rate or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator for the CMS Reference Rate, which states that the administrator of the CMS Reference Rate has ceased or will cease to provide the CMS Reference Rate permanently or indefinitely; provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator or provider that will continue to provide the CMS Reference Rate; or
- (iii) unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an Administrator/Benchmark Event (as defined in Condition 2 (Interpretation)) occurs with respect to the CMS Reference Rate (with the CMS Reference Rate being the Relevant Rates Benchmark for the purpose of the definition of "Administrator/Benchmark Event").

"Index Currency" means the currency in respect of which the relevant CMS Reference Rate is calculated or expressed, as determined by the Determination Agent.

- (e) Application to multiple CMS Reference Rates: If either:
 - (i) the CMS Interest Rate is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be "Spread CMS Rate"; or
 - (ii) the Notes otherwise reference more than one CMS Reference Rate, the foregoing provisions of this Condition 7.19 (CMS Reference Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event) shall apply separately for each CMS Reference Rate so referenced (including each of CMS Reference Rate 1 and CMS Reference Rate 2 in the case where the CMS Interest Rate is a "Spread CMS Rate") and for the purpose of construing such provisions, each of CMS Reference Rate 1 and CMS Reference Rate 2 shall be the "CMS Reference Rate". However, if an Index Cessation Effective Date has occurred in respect of one or more CMS Reference Rate(s) (the "Impacted CMS Reference Rate(s)") but not all of the CMS Reference Rate(s) referenced by the Notes (the "Non-Impacted CMS Reference Rate(s)"), the Issuer or its designee may elect to treat each of the Non-Impacted CMS Reference Rate(s) as if an Index Cessation Effective Date had occurred in respect of such Non-Impacted CMS Reference Rate and apply the foregoing provisions accordingly.

7.20 General Fallback Arrangements

- (A) The following provisions of this Condition 7.20 (General Fallback Arrangements) shall apply where:
 - (1) the Relevant Rates Benchmark is EURIBOR, SONIA, €STR, SARON or TONA;
 - (2) such Relevant Rates Benchmark has been permanently discontinued;
 - (3) the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the provisions of Condition 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) do not apply; and
 - (4) unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, application of any ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks specified in the relevant Floating Rate Option (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) following the permanent discontinuation of the Relevant Rates Benchmark fails to provide a means of determining the relevant Floating Rate (as defined in the ISDA Definitions).
- (B) If this Condition 7.20 (General Fallback Arrangements) applies then notwithstanding the terms set forth elsewhere in these Conditions, the Determination Agent will use, as a substitute for such Relevant Rates Benchmark and for each future Interest Determination Date, the alternative reference rate or index selected by the central bank, reserve bank, monetary authority or any similar institution (including any committee or working group thereof) in the jurisdiction of the applicable index currency that is consistent with accepted market practice (the "Alternative Rate"). The Determination Agent will, after consultation with the Issuer, make such adjustments to the Alternative Rate or the Margin, as well as the applicable Business Day Convention, Interest Determination Dates and related provisions and definitions of the Notes, in each case that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such Alternative Rate for debt obligations such as the Notes. However, in the case of EURIBOR only, if the Determination Agent determines, after consultation with the Issuer, that no such Alternative Rate exists on the relevant date, it shall make a determination, after consultation with the Issuer, of an alternative rate as a substitute for EURIBOR, for debt obligations such as the Notes, as well as the Margin, the Business Day Convention and the Interest Determination Dates in respect of the Notes, that is consistent with accepted market practice.

- (C) In the case where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, and the application of any ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks specified in the relevant Floating Rate Option results in a replacement of, modification to, or change in the method of calculating, the Floating Rate (or the index, benchmark or other price source that is referred to in the Floating Rate Option), the Determination Agent may, after consultation with the Issuer, determine any adjustments to the Floating Rate and the Margin (including any adjustment spread) as well as the applicable Business Day Convention, Interest Determination Dates (or any other rate fixing dates) and related provisions and definitions of the Notes, in each case that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such replacement or modified Floating Rate for debt obligations such as the Notes. The Issuer will provide a notice, in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices), to Noteholders to inform them of any adjustment determinations which will apply to the Notes. The notice shall also confirm the effective date of any adjustments.

8. Zero Coupon Note Provisions

8.1 Application

This Condition 8 (Zero Coupon Note Provisions) is applicable to the Notes only if the "Zero Coupon Note Provisions" are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

8.2 Late payment on Zero Coupon Notes

If the Redemption Amount payable in respect of any Zero Coupon Note is improperly withheld or refused, the Redemption Amount in respect of each Note shall thereafter be an amount equal to the product of (a) the Calculation Amount of such Note and (b) the percentage produced by:

- (a) if Compounded Zero Coupon is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the following formula:

$$\text{Reference Price} \times (1 + \text{Accrual Yield})^n$$

- (b) if Linear Zero Coupon is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the following formula:

$$\text{Reference Price} + \text{Reference Price} \times n \times \text{Accrual Yield}$$

Where "n" means the number of years from (and including) the Issue Date (or such other date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the "Accrued Value Commencement Date"), to (but excluding) whichever is the earlier of (i) the day on which all sums due in respect of such Note up to that day are received by or on behalf of the relevant Noteholder and (ii) the day which is 15 Business Days after the Fiscal Agent has notified the Noteholders that it has received all sums due in respect of the Notes up to such 15th Business Day (except to the extent that there is any subsequent default in payment) and the calculation shall be made on the basis of such Day Count Fraction as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if none is so specified, a Day Count Fraction of 30/360.

8.3 Amount that is overdue due to late payment on Swedish Notes

For the purposes of calculation of any amount that is overdue due to late payment on Swedish Notes, the provisions of this Condition 8 (Zero Coupon Note Provisions) shall be amended so that the relevant period shall consist of the period from (but excluding) the Issue Date up to (and including) the earlier of the dates specified in Conditions 8.2(i) and 8.2(ii).

9. Dual Currency-Linked Note Provisions

9.1 Application

This Condition 9 (Dual Currency-Linked Note Provisions) is applicable to the Notes only if the "Dual Currency Redemption Provisions" and/or "Dual Currency-Linked Note Interest Provisions" are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

9.2 Rate of Interest

If the rate or amount of interest falls to be determined by reference to an exchange rate, the rate or amount of interest payable shall be determined in the manner specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

10. Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Property-Linked, Fund-Linked, Futures-Contract Linked, Credit Linked, Bond-Linked, ETN-Linked and Rate-Linked Notes

10.1 Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII or MSESE may issue Notes

- (a) the payment of principal of which and/or interest on which are linked to the shares of an entity or a basket of shares of entities not affiliated with the Issuer and/or to a single index of shares or indices of shares, a single proprietary index or proprietary indices, and/or interests in a single exchange traded fund or basket of exchange traded funds and/or any combination of two or more of the foregoing types of underlying (being shares, indices and/or interests in exchange traded funds) (respectively, "Single Share Notes", "Share Basket Notes", "Single Index Notes" (which shall include Notes linked to a single proprietary index), "Index Basket Notes" (which shall include Notes linked to a basket of proprietary indices), "Single ETF Notes", "ETF Basket Notes" and "Hybrid Equity Basket Notes", and together, "Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Notes");
- (b) the payment of principal of which and/or interest on which are to be determined by reference to one or more commodity prices ("Commodity-Linked Notes");
- (c) the payment of principal of which and/or interest on which are to be determined by reference to one or more currencies as compared to the value of one or more other currencies ("Currency-Linked Notes");
- (d) the payment of principal of which and/or interest on which are linked to one or more inflation indices ("Inflation-Linked Notes");
- (e) the payment of principal of which and/or interest on which are linked to a single futures contract or a basket of futures contracts (respectively "Single Futures Contract-Linked Notes" and "Futures Contract Basket-Linked Notes" and together, "Futures Contract-Linked Notes");
- (f) the payment of principal of which and/or interest on which are linked to the credit of one or more specified entities ("Credit Linked Notes");
- (g) the payment of principal of which and/or interest on which are linked to one or more underlying securities ("Bond-Linked Notes");
- (h) the payment of principal of which and/or interest on which are linked to one or more ETNs ("ETN-Linked Notes");
- (i) the payment of principal of which and/or interest on which are linked to one or more property indices ("Property-Linked Notes");
- (j) the payment of principal of which and/or interest on which are linked to interests in a fund or basket of funds (respectively "Single Fund Notes" and "Fund Basket Notes", together "Fund-Linked Notes");
- (k) the payment of principal of which and/or interest on which are linked to one or more benchmark rates ("Rate-Linked Notes"); or
- (l) on any other terms and conditions, in each case, in accordance with the Conditions herein which are specified as applicable to Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Notes, Commodity-Linked Notes, Currency-Linked Notes, Inflation-Linked Notes, Futures Contract-Linked Notes, Credit Linked Notes, Bond-Linked Notes, ETN-Linked Notes, Property-Linked Notes, Fund-Linked Notes or Rate-Linked Notes, as the case may be, and the detailed terms and conditions set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

11. Provisions relating to Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Notes

This Condition 11 (Provisions relating to Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Notes) is applicable only in relation to Notes specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being Single Share Notes, Share Basket Notes, Single Index Notes, Index Basket Notes, Single ETF Notes, ETF Basket Notes or Hybrid Equity Basket Notes ("Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Notes").

11.1 Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption

- (a) If a Reference Date is not a Scheduled Trading Day, the relevant Reference Date shall be the next succeeding Scheduled Trading Day or, if either "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" or "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the next succeeding Common Scheduled Trading Day.
- (b) If any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day, then:
 - (i) in the case of a Single Index Note, Single Share Note or Single ETF Note, the relevant Reference Date shall be the earlier of (i) the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not in the determination of the Determination Agent a Disrupted Day and (ii) the Reference Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding that such Scheduled Trading Day is a Disrupted Day).
 - (ii) in the case of an Index Basket Note, a Share Basket Note, an ETF Basket Note or a Hybrid Equity Basket Note (as the case may be):
 - (A) where "Individual Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then:
 - (1) the Reference Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Reference Date for such Basket Component; and
 - (2) the Reference Date for any Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day (each an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (A) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the relevant Scheduled Reference Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component; and (B) the Reference Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component (notwithstanding that such day may not be a Scheduled Trading Day).
 - (B) where "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then the Reference Date for each Basket Component shall be the earlier of (i) the first Common Scheduled Trading Day following the relevant Scheduled Reference Date that is not a Disrupted Day with respect to any Basket Component; and (ii) the Reference Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding that such day may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day).
 - (C) where "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then:
 - (1) the Reference Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Reference Date for such Basket Component; and
 - (2) the Reference Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day (each an "Affected Basket") shall be the earlier of (A) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the relevant Scheduled Reference Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component; and (B) the Reference Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component (notwithstanding that such day may not be a Scheduled Trading Day).

Component") shall be the earlier of (A) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the relevant Scheduled Reference Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component; and (B) the Reference Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component (notwithstanding that such day may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day or a Scheduled Trading Day).

- (iii) in the case of any Single Index Note, Single Share Note, Single ETF Note, Index Basket Note, Share Basket Note, ETF Basket Note or Hybrid Equity Basket Note (as the case may be), where a Reference Date falls on the relevant Reference Cut-Off Date pursuant to Condition 11.1(b)(ii), then:
 - (A) if such Reference Cut-Off Date is not a Disrupted Day for the relevant Index, Share or ETF Interest (as the case may be), the Determination Agent shall determine the level of such Index or the value of such Share or ETF Interest (as the case may be) as at the Determination Time on such Reference Cut-Off Date; or
 - (B) if such Reference Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day:
 - (1) in respect of the relevant Index, the Determination Agent shall determine, in its reasonable discretion, the level of such Index as of the Determination Time on the Reference Cut-Off Date in accordance with the formula for and method of calculating such Index last in effect prior to the occurrence of the first Disrupted Day using (x) except in respect of a Proprietary Index, the Exchange traded or quoted price as of the Determination Time on such Reference Cut-Off Date of each security (or other property) comprised in that Index (or, if an event giving rise to a Disrupted Day has occurred in respect of the relevant security on such Reference Cut-Off Date, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant security as of the Determination Time on such Reference Cut-Off Date) and (y) in respect of a Proprietary Index, such levels or values as the Determination Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Determination Time on or in respect of such Reference Cut-off Date of each Component comprised in such Proprietary Index in respect of such Reference Cut-off Date; and
 - (2) in respect of the relevant Share or ETF Interest (as the case may be), the Determination Agent shall determine, in its reasonable discretion, its good faith estimate of the value for such Underlying Share or ETF Interest (as the case may be) as of the Determination Time on such Reference Cut-Off Date.
- (c) If Averaging Dates are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable, then, notwithstanding any other provisions of these Conditions, the following provisions will apply to the valuation of the relevant Index, Underlying Share, ETF Interest, Basket of Indices, Basket of Shares or Basket of ETF Interests (or any combination of the foregoing as the case may be) in relation to the relevant Reference Date:
 - (i) For purposes of determining the Settlement Price in relation to a Reference Date, the Settlement Price will be:
 - (A) in respect of a Single Index Note, a Single Share Note, a Single ETF Note, the arithmetic mean of the Relevant Prices of the Index, the Shares or the ETF Interest (as the case may be) on each Averaging Date;
 - (B) in respect of an Index Basket Note, the arithmetic mean of the amounts for the Basket of Indices determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion as provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement as of the relevant Determination Time(s) on each Averaging Date or, if no means for determining the Settlement Price are so provided, the arithmetic mean of the amounts for the Basket calculated on each Averaging Date as the sum of the Relevant Prices of each Index comprised in the Basket (weighted or adjusted in relation to each Index as provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement);

- (C) in respect of a Share Basket Note, the arithmetic mean of the amounts for the Basket of Shares determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion as provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement as of the relevant Determination Time(s) on each Averaging Date or, if no means for determining the Settlement Price are so provided, the arithmetic mean of the amounts for the Basket calculated on each Averaging Date as the sum of the values calculated for the Shares of each Share Issuer as the product of (1) the Relevant Price of such Share and (2) the number of such Shares comprised in the Basket; and
 - (D) in respect of an ETF Basket Note, the arithmetic mean of the amounts for the Basket of ETF Interests determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion as provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement as of the relevant Determination Times(s) on each Averaging Date or, if no means for determining the Settlement Price is provided, the arithmetic mean of the amounts for the Basket calculated on each Averaging Date as the sum of the values calculated for the ETF Interests as the product of (1) the Relevant Price of such ETF Interest and (2) the number of such ETF Interests comprised in the Basket.
 - (E) in respect of a Hybrid Equity Basket Note, the arithmetic mean of the amounts for the Basket determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion as provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement as of the relevant Determination Time(s) on each Averaging Date or, if no means for determining the Settlement Price are so provided, the arithmetic mean of the amounts for the Basket calculated on each Averaging Date as the sum of the values calculated for each Basket Component as the product of (1) the Relevant Price of such Basket Component and (2) the weighting, number or proportion of such Basket Component comprised in the Basket, in each case as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement
- (ii) If, in respect of a Single Index Note, a Single Share Note or a Single ETF Note, a Scheduled Averaging Date is determined by the Determination Agent to be a Disrupted Day, then if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is:
- (A) "Omission", then such date will be deemed not to be a relevant Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date for the purposes of determining the relevant Settlement Price provided that, if through the operation of this provision no Averaging Date would occur with respect to the relevant Reference Date, then Condition 11.1(b) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) above will apply for purposes of determining the relevant level, price or amount on the final Averaging Date in respect of that Reference Date as if such final Averaging Date were a Reference Date that was a Disrupted Day;
 - (B) "Postponement", then Condition 11.1(b) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) above will apply for the purposes of determining the relevant level, price or amount on that date as if such date were a Reference Date that was a Disrupted Day irrespective of whether, pursuant to such determination, that deferred Averaging Date would fall on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date for the relevant Notes; or
 - (C) "Modified Postponement", then the Averaging Date shall be the earlier of (I) the first Valid Date following the Scheduled Averaging Date and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date.
- (iii) If, in respect of an Index Basket Note, a Share Basket Note, an ETF Basket Note or a Hybrid Equity Basket Note, a Scheduled Averaging Date in respect of a Reference Date is determined by the Determination Agent to be a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then:
- (A) where "Individual Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement:

- (1) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Omission":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) such date shall not be an Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date for any Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component"), provided that if through the operation of this provision there would not be any Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date for the Affected Basket Component, then the sole Averaging Date for such Affected Basket Component shall be the earlier of (I) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the final Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component;
 - (2) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Postponement":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (I) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component. Any day (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the Averaging Cut-Off Date) determined to be an Averaging Date as a result of the operation of this Condition 11.1(c)(iii)(A)(2)(b) shall be an Averaging Date, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date; or
 - (3) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Modified Postponement":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (I) the first Valid Date following the Scheduled Averaging Date in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date;
- (B) where "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
 - (1) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Omission", such date will be deemed not to be a relevant Averaging Date in respect of any Basket Component for the purposes of determining the relevant Settlement Price provided that, if through the operation of this provision there would be no Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date, then the sole Averaging Date for each Basket Component shall be the earlier of (A) the first Common Scheduled Trading Day following the Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day for any Basket Component and (B) the Averaging Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding the fact that such Averaging Cut-Off Date may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day);

- (2) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Postponement", then the Averaging Date for each Basket Component shall be the earlier of (A) the first Common Scheduled Trading Day following the Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component and (B) the Averaging Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding the fact that such Averaging Cut-Off Date may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day). Any day (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the Averaging Cut-Off Date) determined to be an Averaging Date as a result of the operation of this Condition 11.1(c)(iii)(B)(2) shall be an Averaging Date, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date; or
 - (3) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Modified Postponement", then the Averaging Date for each Basket Component shall be the earlier of (I) the first Common Valid Date following the Scheduled Averaging Date and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding the fact that such Averaging Cut-Off Date may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day), irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date;
- (C) where "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
 - (1) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Omission":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) such date shall not be an Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date for any Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component"), provided that if through the operation of this provision there would not be any Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date for the Affected Basket Component, then the sole Averaging Date for such Affected Basket Component shall be the earlier of (I) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the final Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component (notwithstanding the fact that such day may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day);
 - (2) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Postponement":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and

- (b) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (I) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component (notwithstanding the fact that such day not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day). Any day (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the Averaging Cut-Off Date) determined to be an Averaging Date as a result of the operation of this Condition 11.1(c)(iii)(C)(2)(b) shall be an Averaging Date, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date; or
- (3) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Modified Postponement":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (I) the first Valid Date (that is a Scheduled Trading Day) following the Scheduled Averaging Date in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date;
- (iv) If, in respect of any Single Index Note, Single Share Note, Single ETF Note, Index Basket Note, Share Basket Note, ETF Basket Note or Hybrid Equity Basket Note (as the case may be), an Averaging Date falls on the relevant Averaging Cut-Off Date pursuant to Condition 11.1(c)(iii):
 - (A) if such Averaging Cut-Off Date is not a Disrupted Day for the relevant Index, Share or ETF Interest (as the case may be), the Determination Agent shall determine the level of such Index or the value of such Share or ETF Interest (as the case may be) as at the Determination Time on such Averaging Cut-Off Date; or
 - (B) if such Averaging Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day:
 - (1) in respect of the relevant Index, the Determination Agent shall determine, in its reasonable discretion, the level of such Index as of the Determination Time on such date in accordance with the formula for and method of calculating such Index last in effect prior to the occurrence of the first Disrupted Day using (x) except in respect of a Proprietary Index, the Exchange traded or quoted price as of the Determination Time on such Averaging Cut-Off Date of each security comprised in that Index (or, if an event giving rise to a Disrupted Day has occurred in respect of the relevant security on such Averaging Cut-Off Date, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant security as of the Determination Time on such Averaging Cut-Off Date) and (y) in respect of a Proprietary Index, such levels or values as the Determination Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Determination Time on or in respect of such Averaging Cut-Off Date of each Proprietary Index Component comprised in such Proprietary Index in respect of such Averaging Cut-off Date; and
 - (2) in respect of the relevant Share or ETF Interest (as the case may be), the Determination Agent shall determine, in its reasonable discretion, its good faith estimate of the value for such Share or ETF Interest (as the case may be) as of the Determination Time on such Averaging Cut-Off Date.

- (v) If any Averaging Dates in relation to a Reference Date occur after that Reference Date as a result of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day, then (i) the relevant Maturity Date or, as the case may be, the relevant Physical Settlement Date or (ii) the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event, an Extraordinary ETF Event, an Index Adjustment Event, a Potential Adjustment Event or an Additional Disruption Event shall be determined by reference to the last such Averaging Date as though it were that Reference Date.

11.2 Adjustments to Indices and Additional Disruption Events

This Condition 11.2 (Adjustments to Indices and Additional Disruption Events) is applicable only in relation to Notes specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being Single Index Notes or Index Basket Notes or as being Hybrid Equity Basket Notes where one or more of the Basket Components is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be an Index.

(a) Successor Index:

If a relevant Index is (i) not calculated and announced by the Index Sponsor, but is calculated and announced by a successor sponsor acceptable to the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion or (ii) replaced by a Successor Index using, in the determination of the Determination Agent (such determination to be at the Determination Agent's reasonable discretion), the same or a substantially similar formula for and method of calculation as used in the calculation of that Index, then in each case that index (the "Successor Index") will be deemed to be the Index.

(b) Index Cancellation or Administrator/Benchmark Event Date:

If on or prior to any Reference Date or Averaging Date either (1) the Index Sponsor permanently cancels the Index and no Successor Index exists (an "Index Cancellation") or (2) the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and an Administrator/Benchmark Event and an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occur in respect of such Index, then:

- (i) If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and if an Alternative Pre-nominated Index has been specified in relation to such Index in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then:

- (A) the Determination Agent shall attempt to determine an Adjustment Payment;

- (B) if the Determination Agent determines an Adjustment Payment,

- (1) it shall notify the Issuer of the Adjustment Payment and if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Noteholder would (but for Condition 11.2(b)(i)(B)(3)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Note, request the Issuer to notify the Determination Agent whether it intends to redeem the Notes pursuant to Condition 11.2(d) (Redemption for Index Adjustment Event). If the Issuer does not intend to redeem the Notes pursuant to Condition 11.2(d) (Redemption for Index Adjustment Event) then the following provisions of this Condition 11.2(b)(i) (Index Cancellation or Administrator/Benchmark Event Date) shall apply;

- (2) the terms of the Notes shall be amended so that references to the Index are replaced by references to the Alternative Pre-nominated Index;

- (3) the Conditions shall be adjusted to implement the Adjustment Payment as follows:

- (a) if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Issuer is required to pay in respect of each Note, the Determination Agent shall adjust the Conditions to provide for the payment of the Adjustment Payment on the immediately succeeding Interest Payment Date or if there is no such immediately succeeding Interest Payment Date, on the Maturity Date or other date when the Notes are redeemed in full; or

- (b) if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Noteholder would (but for this Condition 11.2(b)(i)(B)(3)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Note, the Determination Agent shall adjust the Conditions to provide for the reduction of the amounts due by the Issuer until the aggregate amount of such reductions is equal to the Adjustment Payment, (subject, in the determination of the Determination Agent, to any minimum redemption amount of the Notes which the Determination Agent determines is required pursuant to any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law) and the rules of each listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system by which the Notes have then been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation);
 - (4) the Determination Agent shall make such other adjustments to the Conditions as it determines necessary or appropriate in order to account for the effect of the replacement of the Index with the Alternative Pre-nominated Index and/or to preserve as nearly as practicable the economic equivalence of the Notes before and after the replacement of the Index with the Alternative Pre-nominated Index; and
 - (5) the Determination Agent shall notify the Issuer, the Fiscal Agent and the Noteholders of any replacement of the Index by the Alternative Pre-nominated Index, the Adjustment Payment and any other adjustments to the Conditions, giving summary details of the adjustment(s), provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.
- (C) If the Determination Agent is unable to determine an Adjustment Payment, then Condition 11.2(d) (Redemption for Index Adjustment Event) shall apply.
- (ii) If the applicable Pricing Supplement does not specify that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable or, if the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable but does not specify an Alternative Pre-nominated Index in relation to the Relevant Equity Index Benchmark, then Condition 11.2(d) (Redemption for Index Adjustment Event) shall apply.
- (c) Index Modification and Index Disruption:

If (i) on or prior to any Reference Date or Averaging Date, a relevant Index Sponsor announces that it will make a material change in the formula for or the method of calculating that Index or in any other way materially modifies that Index (other than a modification prescribed in that formula or method to maintain that Index in the event of changes in constituents and capitalisation and other routine events) (an "Index Modification") or (ii) on any Reference Date or Averaging Date, the Index Sponsor fails to calculate and announce a relevant Index (provided that the Determination Agent may, in its reasonable discretion, determine that, in respect of a Multi-Exchange Index or a Proprietary Index, such failure to calculate and announce such Index shall instead be a Disrupted Day in respect of such Index) (an "Index Disruption") then the Determination Agent shall determine if such Index Modification or Index Disruption has a material effect on the Notes and, if so, subject to Condition 11.2(d) (Redemption for Index Adjustment Event), shall calculate in its reasonable discretion the relevant Settlement Price or Relevant Price, as the case may be, using, in lieu of a published level for that Index, the level for that Index as at that Reference Date or, as the case may be, that Averaging Date as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion in accordance with the formula for and method of calculating that Index last in effect prior to that change, failure or cancellation, but using only those securities that comprised that Index immediately prior to that Index Adjustment Event.
- (d) Redemption for Index Adjustment Event:

If:

 - (i) an Index Cancellation occurs and the Pricing Supplement does not specify that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable;

- (ii) an Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable but does not specify an Alternative Pre-nominated Index;
- (iii) an Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and specifies an Alternative Pre-nominated Index but the Determination Agent is unable to determine the Adjustment Payment;
- (iv) an Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and specifies an Alternative Pre-nominated Index and the Determination Agent determines that the Adjustment Payment would be an amount that the Noteholder would (but for Condition 11.2(b)(i)(B)(3)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Note; or
- (v) an Index Modification or an Index Disruption occurs and it (a) would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (b) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, in each case for the Determination Agent to calculate the relevant Settlement Price or Relevant Price, as the case may be, in accordance with Condition 11.2(c) (Index Modification and Index Disruption), then the Issuer may, at any time thereafter and in its reasonable discretion, determine that the Notes shall be redeemed as of any later date. If the Issuer so determines that the Notes shall be redeemed, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the Noteholders to redeem the Notes and upon redemption the Issuer will pay an amount in respect of each Note equal to the Early Redemption Amount.

The Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to the formula for determining the Final Redemption Amount or the Settlement Price or the Relevant Price set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement and any other variable relevant to the settlement or payment terms of the Notes, which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such change or adjustment in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.

(e) Correction of Index Levels:

If the level of an Index published by the Index Sponsor and which is utilised by the Determination Agent for any calculation or determination (the "Original Determination") under the Notes is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Value") is published by the Index Sponsor by such time as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if none is so specified, within one Settlement Cycle after the original publication and prior to the relevant payment date), then the Determination Agent will notify the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent of the Corrected Value as soon as reasonably practicable and shall determine the relevant value (the "Replacement Determination") using the Corrected Value. If the result of the Replacement Determination is different from the result of the Original Determination, to the extent that it determines to be necessary and practicable, the Determination Agent may, acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, adjust any relevant terms of the Notes accordingly. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such change or adjustment in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.

(f) Additional Disruption Events:

If Additional Disruption Events are specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then, if an Additional Disruption Event occurs in respect of an Index or Indices:

- (i) the Determination Agent will determine, in its reasonable discretion the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any one or more of the Conditions relating to the calculation of Interest,

Final Redemption Amount and/or any other amounts applicable to the Notes set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement and/or remove and/or substitute the affected Index, to account for the Additional Disruption Event and determine the effective date of that adjustment; or

- (ii) by giving notice to Noteholders in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices), the Issuer, in its reasonable discretion, may redeem all, but not some only, of the Notes, each Note being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount.

Upon the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer shall give notice, as soon as practicable, to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices) stating the occurrence of the Additional Disruption Event, as the case may be, giving details thereof and the action to be taken.

- (g) Notice:

Upon the occurrence of an Index Adjustment Event, the Determination Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices) giving details of the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto.

11.3 Adjustments affecting Shares and ETF Interests

This Condition 11.3 (Adjustments affecting Shares and ETF Interests) is applicable only in relation to Single Share Notes, Single ETF Notes, Share Basket Notes and ETF Basket Notes and Hybrid Equity Basket Notes where one or more of the Basket Components is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be a Share or an ETF Interest.

- (a) Adjustments for Potential Adjustment Events: Following the declaration by the Share Issuer, the relevant ETF or an ETF Service Provider of the terms of a Potential Adjustment Event, the Determination Agent will determine whether such Potential Adjustment Event has a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Shares or ETF Interests and, if so, will (i) make such adjustment as it in its reasonable discretion considers appropriate, if any, to the formula for the Final Redemption Amount and/or the Settlement Price set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the number of Shares or ETF Interests to which each Note relates, the number of Shares or ETF Interests comprised in a Basket, the amount, the number of or type of shares, fund interests or other securities which may be delivered in respect of such Notes and/or any other adjustment and, in any case, any other variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, payment or other terms of the relevant Notes as the Determination Agent determines, in its reasonable discretion, to be appropriate to account for that diluting or concentrative effect (provided that no adjustments will be made to account solely for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate, or liquidity relative to such Shares or ETF Interests) and (ii) determine, in its reasonable discretion, the effective date(s) of such adjustment(s). The Determination Agent may (but need not) determine the appropriate adjustment(s) by reference to the adjustment(s) in respect of such Potential Adjustment Event made by an options exchange or futures exchange to options or futures on the relevant Shares or ETF Interests, as the case may be, traded on such options exchange or futures exchange. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such change or adjustment in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.
- (b) Correction of Share and ETF Interest Prices: If any price published on the Exchange and which is utilised by the Determination Agent for any calculation or determination (the "Original Determination") under the Notes is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Value") is published by the Exchange by such time as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if none is so specified, within one Settlement Cycle after the original publication and prior to the Expiration Date), then the Determination Agent will notify the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent of the Corrected Value as soon as reasonably practicable and shall determine the relevant value (the "Replacement Determination") using the Corrected Value. If the result of the Replacement Determination is different from the result of the Original Determination, to the extent that it determines to be necessary and practicable, the Determination Agent may, acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, adjust any relevant terms accordingly. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such change or adjustment in accordance with Condition 38.9 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.

11.4 Extraordinary Events

This Condition 11.4 (Extraordinary Events) is applicable only in relation to Notes specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being Single Share Notes, Single ETF Notes, Share Basket Notes or ETF Basket Notes or as being Hybrid Equity Basket Notes where one or more of the Basket Components is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be a Share or an ETF Interest.

(a) Merger Event or Tender Offer:

- (i) Following the occurrence of any Merger Event or Tender Offer, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether the relevant Notes shall continue or shall be redeemed early.
- (ii) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may:
 - (A) substitute any Affected Share/ETF Interest with the Successor Share/ETF Interest relating to such Affected Share/ETF Interest, provided that if no Successor Share/ETF Interest has been identified within 10 Business Days of the Extraordinary Event Notice Date (as defined below), then sub-paragraph (B) below shall apply; and/or
 - (B) make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to the formula for the Final Redemption Amount and/or the Settlement Price set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the number of Shares or ETF Interests to which each Note relates, the number of Shares or ETF Interests comprised in a Basket, the amount, the number of or type of shares or other securities which may be delivered under such Notes and, in any case, any other variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Notes and/or any other adjustment (including, without limitation, in relation to Share Basket Notes, ETF Basket Notes or Hybrid Equity Basket Notes, the cancellation of terms applicable in respect of the Shares or ETF Interests affected by the relevant Merger Event or Tender Offer), which may, but need not, be determined by reference to the adjustment(s) made in respect of such Merger Event or Tender Offer by an options exchange or futures exchange to options or futures on the relevant Shares or ETF Interests, as the case may be, traded on such options exchange or futures exchange, which adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine. The relevant adjustments may include, without limitation, adjustments to account for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relevant to the Shares or ETF Interests or to the Notes.

The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of (a) any Successor Share/ETF Interest identified in accordance with sub-paragraph (A) above and (b) any change or adjustment made in accordance with sub-paragraph (B) above, in each case in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, if applicable, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.

- (iii) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall be redeemed early, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the Noteholders to redeem the Notes and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of an amount in respect of each Note equal to the Early Redemption Amount as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

- (iv) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Fiscal Agent of the Determination Agent's determination of the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event that is a Merger Event or Tender Offer (the date of such notice, the "Extraordinary Event Notice Date").

- (v) For the purposes hereof:

"Affected Share/ETF Interest" means, at any time, any Share or ETF Interest, as applicable, in respect of which the Determination Agent has determined that a Merger Event or Tender Offer has occurred.

"Merger Date" means the closing date of a Merger Event or, where a closing date cannot be determined under the local law applicable to such Merger Event, such other date as determined by the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion;

"Merger Event" means, in respect of any relevant Shares or ETF Interests, as determined by the Determination Agent, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, any: (i) reclassification or change of such Shares or ETF Interests that results in a transfer of or an irrevocable commitment to transfer all of such Shares or ETF Interests outstanding to another entity or person, (ii) consolidation, amalgamation, merger or binding share exchange of the Share Issuer or ETF with or into another entity or person (other than a consolidation, amalgamation, merger or binding share exchange in which such Share Issuer or ETF is the continuing entity and which does not result in a reclassification or change of all such Shares or ETF Interests outstanding), (iii) takeover offer, tender offer, exchange offer, solicitation, proposal or other event by any entity or person to purchase or otherwise obtain 100 per cent. of the outstanding Shares or ETF Interests of the Share Issuer or ETF that results in a transfer of or an irrevocable commitment to transfer all such Shares or ETF Interests (other than such Shares or ETF owned or controlled by such other entity or person), or (iv) consolidation, amalgamation, merger or binding share exchange of the Share Issuer or its subsidiaries or ETF or its sub-funds with or into another entity in which the Share Issuer or ETF is the continuing entity and which does not result in a reclassification or change of all such Shares or ETF Interests outstanding but results in the outstanding Shares or ETF Interests (other than Shares or ETF Interests owned or controlled by such other entity) immediately prior to such event collectively representing less than 50 per cent. of the outstanding Shares or ETF Interests immediately following such event (a "Reverse Merger"), in each case if the Merger Date is on or before, (A) in respect of Physical Settlement Notes, the later to occur of the Maturity Date and the Physical Settlement Date or, (B) in any other case, the final Reference Date.

"Successor Share/ETF Interest" means, in respect of an Affected Share/ETF Interest, (1) if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, any Eligible Share or Eligible ETF Interest, as applicable; (2) if no Eligible Share or Eligible ETF Interest, as applicable, is specified, the successor Share or ETF Interest, as applicable, as determined by the Determination Agent, using commercially reasonable efforts, taking into account any factors which the Determination Agent determines to be relevant, including (but not limited to) the existence of any other Share or ETF Interest, as applicable, that is linked to or is a constituent of the same underlying index or asset as the Affected Share/ETF Interest, liquidity of the proposed successor Share or ETF Interest, as applicable, the prevailing market conditions at the time the Determination Agent makes its determination, the circumstances of the relevant Notes; or (3) if the Determination Agent determines that it is unable to determine a suitable successor Share or ETF Interest, as applicable, the Determination Agent may determine that, where the Affected Share/ETF Interest is linked to the relevant underlying index (the "Related Underlying Index"), such Related Underlying Index (to the extent relevant) shall be the Successor Share/ETF Interest and the provisions applicable to Index-Linked Notes will apply to the relevant Notes with such adjustments as the Determination Agent determines to be appropriate.

"Tender Offer" means, in respect of any Shares or ETF Interests, as determined by the Determination Agent, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, a takeover offer, tender offer, exchange offer, solicitation, proposal or other event by any entity or person that results in such entity or person purchasing, or otherwise obtaining or having the right to obtain, by conversion or other means, greater than 10 per cent. and less than 100 per cent. of the outstanding voting shares of the Share Issuer or ETF, as determined by the Determination Agent, based upon the making of filings with governmental or self-regulatory agencies or such other information as the Determination Agent deems relevant.

"Tender Offer Date" means, in respect of a Tender Offer, the date on which voting shares in the amount of the applicable percentage threshold are actually purchased or otherwise obtained, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion.

(b) Nationalisation, Insolvency and Delisting:

(i) If in the determination of the Determination Agent, acting in a commercially reasonable manner:

- (A) all the Shares or ETF Interests or all or substantially all the assets of a Share Issuer, ETF or ETF Service Provider are nationalised, expropriated or are otherwise required to be transferred to any governmental agency, authority, entity or instrumentality thereof ("Nationalisation"); or
- (B) by reason of the voluntary or involuntary liquidation, bankruptcy, insolvency, dissolution or winding up of, or any analogous proceeding affecting, a Share Issuer, ETF or ETF Service Provider, (1) all the Shares or ETF Interests of that Share Issuer, ETF or ETF Service Provider are required to be transferred to a trustee, liquidator or other similar official or (2) holders of the Shares or ETF Interests of that Share Issuer, ETF or ETF Service Provider become legally prohibited from transferring them ("Insolvency"); or
- (C) the Exchange announces that pursuant to the rules of such Exchange, the Shares or ETF Interests cease (or will cease) to be listed, traded or publicly quoted on the Exchange for any reason (other than a Merger Event or Tender Offer) and are not immediately re listed, re traded or re quoted on an exchange or quotation system located in the same country as the Exchange (or, where the Exchange is within the European Union, in any Member State of the European Union) ("Delisting"), then the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the Notes shall continue.

(ii) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may:

- (A) substitute any Affected Share/ETF Interest with the Successor Share/ETF Interest relating to such Affected Share/ETF Interest, provided that if no Successor Share/ETF Interest has been identified within 10 Business Days of the Extraordinary Event Notice Date, then sub-paragraph (B) below shall apply; and/or
- (B) make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to the formula for the Final Redemption Amount and/or the Settlement Price set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the number of Shares or ETF Interests to which each Note relates, the number of Shares or ETF Interests comprised in a Basket, the amount, the number of or type of shares or other securities which may be delivered under such Notes and, in any case, any other variable relevant to the settlement or payment terms of the relevant Notes and/or any other adjustment (including, without limitation, in relation to Share Basket Notes, ETF Basket Notes or Hybrid Equity Basket Notes, the removal from the Basket of the Shares or ETF Interests affected by the relevant Nationalisation, Insolvency or Delisting with effect from the day selected by the Determination Agent, and the adjustment of the such terms of the Notes as the Determination Agent considers to be appropriate as a result of such removal), which may, but need not, be determined by reference to the adjustment(s) made in respect of such Nationalisation, Insolvency or Delisting by an options exchange or futures exchange to options or futures on the relevant Shares or ETF Interests, as the case may be, traded on such options exchange or futures exchange, which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine. The relevant adjustments may include, without limitation, adjustments to account for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relevant to the Shares or ETF Interests or to the Notes.

The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of (a) any Successor Share/ETF Interest identified in accordance with sub-paragraph (A) above and (b) any adjustment made in accordance with sub-paragraph (B) above, in each case in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the adjustment, if applicable, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such adjustment.

- (iii) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Fiscal Agent of the Determination Agent's determination of the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event.
- (iv) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall be redeemed early, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to redeem the Notes. The Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of an amount in respect of each Note equal to the Early Redemption Amount as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
- (v) For the purposes hereof:

"Affected Share/ETF Interest" means, at any time, any Share or ETF Interest, as applicable, in respect of which the Determination Agent has determined that a Nationalisation, Insolvency or Delisting has occurred.

"Successor Share/ETF Interest" has the meaning given to it in Condition 11.4(a)(v).

11.5 Extraordinary ETF Events

This Condition 11.5 (Extraordinary ETF Events) is applicable only in relation to Single ETF Notes or ETF Basket Notes or Hybrid Equity Basket Notes where one or more of the Basket Components is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be an ETF Interest.

- (a) Following the occurrence of any Extraordinary ETF Event, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether the relevant Notes shall continue or shall be redeemed early. The Determination Agent shall not have any obligation to monitor the occurrence of an Extraordinary ETF Event nor shall it have any obligation to make a determination that an Extraordinary ETF Event has occurred and is continuing.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may:
 - (i) substitute any Affected ETF Interest with the Successor ETF Interest relating to such Affected ETF interest, provided that if no Successor ETF Interest has been identified in the manner set forth below within 10 Business Days of the Extraordinary ETF Event Notice Date (as defined below), then sub-paragraph (ii) below shall apply; and/or
 - (ii) make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to the formula for the Final Redemption Amount and/or the Settlement Price set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the number of ETF Interests to which each Note relates, the number of ETF Interests comprised in a Basket, the amount, the number of or type of shares or other securities which may be delivered under such Notes and, in any case, any other variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Notes and/or any other adjustment (including, without limitation, in relation to ETF Basket Notes or Hybrid Equity Basket Notes (as the case may be), the cancellation of terms applicable in respect of ETF Interests affected by the relevant Extraordinary ETF Event) (including, without limitation, in relation to ETF Basket Notes or Hybrid Equity Basket Notes, the removal from the Basket of ETF Interests affected by the relevant Extraordinary ETF Event with effect from the day selected by the Determination Agent) to account for the economic effect on the Notes of such Extraordinary ETF Event (including adjustments to account for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relevant to the ETF Interests or to the Notes), which may, but need not, be determined by reference to the adjustments(s) made in respect of such Extraordinary ETF Event by an options exchange or futures exchange to options or futures on the relevant ETF Interest traded on such options exchange or futures exchange, which adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine.

The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of (a) any Successor ETF Interest identified in accordance with sub-paragraph (i) above, as soon as reasonably practicable after the date on which such Successor ETF Interest is identified, if applicable, and (b) any adjustment made in accordance with sub-paragraph (ii) above, in each case in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the adjustment, if applicable, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such adjustment.

- (c) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall be redeemed early, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the Noteholders to redeem the Notes and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of an amount in respect of each Note equal to the Early Redemption Amount as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
- (d) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Fiscal Agent of the Determination Agent's determination of the occurrence of an Extraordinary ETF Event (the date of such notice, the "Extraordinary ETF Event Notice Date").
- (e) For the purposes hereof:

"Extraordinary ETF Event" shall mean, with respect to an ETF or ETF Service Provider (as the case may be), the occurrence of any of the following events, as determined by the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion:

- (i) there exists any litigation against the ETF or an ETF Service Provider which in the reasonable discretion of the Determination Agent could materially affect the value of the ETF Interests or on the rights or remedies of any investor therein;
- (ii) (A) an allegation of criminal or fraudulent activity is made in respect of the ETF, or any ETF Service Provider, or any employee of any such entity, or the Determination Agent reasonably determines that any such criminal or fraudulent activity has occurred, or (B) any investigative, judicial, administrative or other civil or criminal proceedings is commenced or is threatened against the ETF, any ETF Service Provider or any key personnel of such entities if such allegation, determination, suspicion or proceedings could, in the reasonable discretion of the Determination Agent, materially affect the value of the ETF Interests or the rights or remedies of any investor in such ETF Interests;
- (iii) (A) an ETF Service Provider ceases to act in such capacity in relation to the ETF (including by way of Merger Event or Tender Offer) and is not immediately replaced in such capacity by a successor acceptable to the Determination Agent; and/or (B) any event occurs which causes, or will with the passage of time (in the opinion of the Determination Agent) cause, the failure of the ETF and/or any ETF Service Provider to meet or maintain any obligation or undertaking under the ETF Documents which failure is reasonably likely to have an adverse impact on the value of the ETF Interests or on the rights or remedies of any investor therein;
- (iv) a material modification of or deviation from any of the investment objectives, investment restrictions, investment process or investment guidelines of the ETF (howsoever described, including the underlying type of assets in which the ETF invests), from those set out in the ETF Documents, or any announcement regarding a potential modification or deviation, except where such modification or deviation is of a formal, minor or technical nature;

- (v) a material modification, cancellation or disappearance (howsoever described), or any announcement regarding a potential future material modification, cancellation or disappearance (howsoever described), of the type of assets (A) in which the ETF invests, (B) the ETF purports to track, or (C) the ETF accepts/provides for purposes of creation/redemption baskets;
- (vi) a material modification occurs, or any announcement regarding a potential future material modification is made, in respect of the ETF (including but not limited to a material modification of the ETF Documents or to the ETF's liquidity terms) other than a modification or event which does not affect the ETF Interests or the ETF or any portfolio of assets to which the ETF Interest relates (either alone or in common with other ETF Interests issued by the ETF);
- (vii) the ETF ceases to be an undertaking for collective investment under the legislation of its relevant jurisdiction, provided that on the relevant Issue Date, the ETF was such an undertaking and any such cessation would, in the reasonable discretion of the Determination Agent, have a material adverse effect on any investor in such ETF Interests;
- (viii) (A) any relevant activities of or in relation to the ETF or any ETF Service Provider are or become unlawful, illegal or otherwise prohibited in whole or in part as a result of compliance with any present or future law, regulation, judgment, order or directive of any governmental, administrative, legislative or judicial authority or power, or in the interpretation thereof, in any applicable jurisdiction (including, but not limited to, any cancellation, suspension or revocation of the registration or approval of the ETF by any governmental, legal or regulatory entity with authority over the ETF), (B) a relevant authorisation or licence is revoked, lapses or is under review by a competent authority in respect of the ETF or the ETF Service Provider or new conditions are imposed, or existing conditions varied, with respect to any such authorisation or licence, (C) the ETF is required by a competent authority to redeem any ETF Interests, (D) any hedge provider is required by a competent authority or any other relevant entity to dispose of or compulsorily redeem any ETF Interests held in connection with any hedging arrangements relating to the Notes and/or (E) any change in the legal, tax, accounting or regulatory treatment of the ETF or any ETF Service Provider that is reasonably likely to have an adverse impact on the value of the ETF Interests or other activities or undertakings of the ETF or on the rights or remedies of any investor therein;
- (ix) the value of any ETF Interest held by the Issuer and its Affiliates is greater than 10 per cent. of the aggregate net asset value of the relevant ETF (whether or not all of such holding results from hedging transactions entered into in connection with the Notes) and including, where the excess holding results from a reduction in the aggregate net asset value of the relevant ETF; or
- (x) any event specified as an Additional Extraordinary ETF Event in respect of the Notes in the applicable Pricing Supplement occurs; and

"Successor ETF Interest" means, in respect of an Affected ETF Interest, (1) if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, any Eligible ETF Interest; (2) if no Eligible ETF Interest is specified, the successor ETF Interest as determined by the Determination Agent, using commercially reasonable efforts, taking into account any factors which the Determination Agent determines to be relevant, including (but not limited to) the existence of other ETFs that are linked to the same underlying index or asset as the Affected ETF Interest, liquidity of the proposed successor ETF Interest, the prevailing market conditions at the time the Determination Agent makes its determination and the Issuer's hedging arrangements in respect of the relevant Notes; or (3) if the Determination Agent determines that it is unable to determine a suitable successor ETF Interest, the Determination Agent may determine that the relevant Notes, where the Affected ETF Interest will be linked to the relevant underlying index (the "Related Underlying Index") and such Related Underlying Index shall be the Successor ETF Interest and the provisions applicable to Single Index Notes or Index Basket Notes (as the case may be) will apply to the relevant Notes with such adjustments as the Determination Agent determines to be appropriate.

11.6 Additional Disruption Events

- (a) Following the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the relevant Notes (which, if the Additional Disruption Event is a ChiNext and STAR Event, shall include only the Ineligible Notes) shall continue or be redeemed early.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to the formula for the Final Redemption Amount and/or the Settlement Price set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the number of Shares or ETF Interests to which each Note relates, the number of Shares or ETF Interest comprised in a Basket, the amount, the number of or type of shares, fund interests or other securities or assets which may be delivered under such Notes and, in any case, any other variable relevant to the redemption, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Notes and/or any other adjustment (including without limitation, in relation to Share Basket Notes, Index Basket Notes, ETF Basket Notes or Hybrid Equity Basket Notes, the removal of any Shares, Index or ETF Interest, as the case may be, affected by the relevant Additional Disruption Event, and the adjustment of such terms of the Notes to account for the economic effect on the Notes of such Additional Disruption Event (including adjustments to account for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relevant to the Shares or to the Notes) as the Determination Agent considers to be appropriate as a result of such removal) which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such adjustment in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such adjustment.
- (c) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall be redeemed early, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to redeem the Notes and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of an amount in respect of each Note equal to the Early Redemption Amount as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
- (d) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Fiscal Agent and the Determination Agent of the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event.
- (e) For the purposes hereof:

"Additional Disruption Event" means with respect to any Series of Notes (i) any or all of (A) Change in Law, (B) Hedging Disruption, (C) Increased Cost of Hedging, (D) Increased Regulatory Capital, (E) Insolvency Filing and (F) (other than in relation to Single Index Notes or Index Basket Notes), Loss of Stock Borrow (in each case, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement), (ii) if "(China Connect)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, each of China Connect Service Termination and China Connect Share Disqualification (in each case, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement), (iii) if "(China Connect – ChiNext Shares)" and/or "(China Connect – STAR Shares)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, each of China Connect Service Termination, China Connect Share Disqualification and ChiNext and STAR Event (in each case, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement), (iv) if "QFII" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, each of Change in QFII Status and Regulatory Request ADE (in each case, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement), and (v) any further event or events as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as an Additional Disruption Event with respect to such Notes.

11.7 Partial Lookthrough Depositary Receipt Provisions

- (a) Where the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the "Partial Lookthrough Depositary Receipt Provisions" shall apply to a Share, then the provisions set out in this Condition 11.7 (Partial Lookthrough Depositary Receipt Provisions) shall apply, and, in relation to such Share, the other provisions of this Condition 11.7 (Partial Lookthrough Depositary Receipt Provisions) shall be deemed to be amended and modified as set out in this Condition 11.7 (Partial Lookthrough Depositary Receipt Provisions).

- (b) The definition of "Potential Adjustment Event" shall be amended so that it reads as follows:

"Potential Adjustment Event" means any of the following:

- (i) a subdivision, consolidation or reclassification of relevant Shares and/or Underlying Shares (unless resulting in a Merger Event), or a free distribution or dividend of any such Shares and/or Underlying Shares to existing holders by way of bonus, capitalisation or similar issue;
- (ii) a distribution, issue or dividend to existing holders of the relevant Shares and/or Underlying Shares specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement of (A) such Shares and/or Underlying Shares, (B) other share capital or securities granting the right to payment of dividends and/or the proceeds of liquidation of a Share Issuer or Underlying Share Issuer, as appropriate, equally or proportionately with such payments to holders of such Shares and/or Underlying Shares, (C) share capital or other securities of another issuer acquired or owned (directly or indirectly) by the Share Issuer or Underlying Share Issuer, as appropriate, as a result of a spin-off or other similar transaction or (D) any other type of securities, rights or warrants or other assets, in any case for payment (cash or other consideration) at less than the prevailing market price as determined by the Determination Agent;
- (iii) an Extraordinary Dividend;
- (iv) a call by a Share Issuer or Underlying Share Issuer, as appropriate, in respect of relevant Shares and/or Underlying Shares that are not fully paid;
- (v) a repurchase by a Share Issuer or Underlying Share Issuer, as appropriate, or any of its subsidiaries of relevant Shares and/or Underlying Shares whether out of profits or capital and whether the consideration for such repurchase is cash, securities or otherwise;
- (vi) in respect of a Share Issuer or Underlying Share Issuer, as appropriate, an event that results in any shareholder rights being distributed or becoming separated from shares of common stock or other shares of the capital stock of such Share Issuer or Underlying Share Issuer, as appropriate, pursuant to a shareholder rights plan or arrangement directed against hostile takeovers that provides upon the occurrence of certain events for a distribution of preferred stock, warrants, debt instruments or stock rights at a price below their market value as determined by the Determination Agent, provided that any adjustment effected as a result of such an event shall be readjusted upon any redemption of such rights;
- (vii) any other event having, in the opinion of the Determination Agent, a diluting, concentrative or other effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Shares and/or Underlying Shares; and
- (viii) the making of any amendment or supplement to the terms of the Deposit Agreement, provided that an event under (i) to (vii) (inclusive) above in respect of Underlying Shares shall not constitute a Potential Adjustment Event unless, in the opinion of the Determination Agent, such event has a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the Shares.

- (c) If the Determination Agent determines that:

- (i) an event under (i) to (vii) (inclusive) of the definition of "Potential Adjustment Event" has occurred in respect of any Underlying Shares; or
- (ii) an event under (viii) of the definition of "Potential Adjustment Event" has occurred, the Determination Agent will determine whether such Potential Adjustment Event has an economic effect on the Notes, and, in each case, the Determination Agent will make the corresponding adjustment(s), if any, to one or more of any variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, payment or other terms of these Conditions and/or the applicable Pricing Supplement as the Determination Agent determines appropriate acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, to account for (A) in respect of an event under (i) to (vii) (inclusive) of the definition of "Potential Adjustment Event", the diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the Shares, and (B) in respect of an event under (viii) of the definition of "Potential Adjustment Event", such economic effect on the Notes, as the case may be (provided that no adjustments will be made to account solely for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relative to the relevant Share), following the Potential Adjustment Event. The Determination Agent may (among other factors) have reference to any adjustment made by the Depositary under the Deposit Agreement. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such adjustment in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such adjustment.

If the Determination Agent determines that no adjustment that it could make will produce a commercially reasonable result, it shall notify the Issuer and the Noteholders that the relevant consequence shall be the early redemption of the Notes, in which case, on such date as selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, the Issuer shall redeem the Notes upon not less than five Business Days' prior notice to the Noteholders, and the Issuer will cause to be paid to each Noteholder in respect of each Note held by it an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

- (d) If the Determination Agent determines that a Merger Event or Tender Offer has occurred in respect of any Underlying Share, then, where the Determination Agent makes an adjustment to these Conditions and/or the applicable Pricing Supplement in connection with a Merger Event or Tender Offer, the Determination Agent may (among other factors) have reference to any adjustment made by the Depositary under the Deposit Agreement.
- (e) The definitions of "Nationalisation", "Insolvency" and "Delisting" shall be amended in accordance with the DR Amendment.
- (f) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the definition of "Delisting", a Delisting shall not occur in respect of any Underlying Share if such Underlying Shares are immediately relisted, re-traded or re-quoted on an exchange or quotation system regardless of the location of such exchange or quotation system.
- (g) If the Determination Agent determines that a Nationalisation or Insolvency has occurred in respect of a Share or the Depositary, then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the Determination Agent may determine that the affected Share be substituted with Replacement DRs and may make any appropriate adjustments to the terms of these Conditions and/or the applicable Pricing Supplement. In such case, the Issuer shall not redeem the Notes early and, following such replacement, references to Shares herein shall be replaced by references to such Replacement DRs, and the Determination Agent will determine the effective date of any adjustments.
- (h) If the Determination Agent determines that a Delisting of Shares has occurred or if the Depositary announces that the Deposit Agreement is (or will be) terminated, then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the Determination Agent may determine that the affected Share be substituted with Replacement DRs or the Underlying Shares and may make any appropriate adjustments to the terms of these Conditions and/or the applicable Pricing Supplement. In such case, the Issuer shall not redeem the Notes early and, following such replacement, references to Shares herein shall be replaced by references to such Replacement DRs or the Underlying Shares, as applicable, and the Determination Agent will determine the effective date of any adjustments.
- (i) The definition of "Insolvency Filing" shall be amended in accordance with the DR Amendment.
- (j) The definition of "Change in Law" shall be amended in accordance with the DR Amendment.

For the avoidance of doubt, where a provision is amended pursuant to this Condition 11.7 (Partial Lookthrough Depositary Receipt Provisions) in accordance with the DR Amendment, if the event described in such provision occurs in respect of the Underlying Share or the Underlying Share Issuer, then the consequence of such event shall be interpreted consistently with the DR Amendment and such event.

11.8 Full Lookthrough Depositary Receipt Provisions

- (a) Where the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the "Full Lookthrough Depositary Receipt Provisions" shall apply to a Share, then the provisions set out in this Condition 11.8 (Full Lookthrough Depositary Receipt Provisions) shall apply, and, in relation to such Share, the other provisions of this Condition 11 (Provisions relating to Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Notes) shall be deemed to be amended and modified as set out in this Condition 11.8 (Full Lookthrough Depositary Receipt Provisions).

- (b) The definition of "Potential Adjustment Event" shall be amended so that it reads as follows:

"Potential Adjustment Event" means any of the following:

- (i) a subdivision, consolidation or reclassification of relevant Shares and/or Underlying Shares (unless resulting in a Merger Event), or a free distribution or dividend of any such Shares and/or Underlying Shares to existing holders by way of bonus, capitalisation or similar issue;
- (ii) a distribution, issue or dividend to existing holders of the relevant Shares and/or Underlying Shares specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement of (A) such Shares and/or Underlying Shares, (B) other share capital or securities granting the right to payment of dividends and/or the proceeds of liquidation of a Share Issuer or Underlying Share Issuer, as appropriate, equally or proportionately with such payments to holders of such Shares and/or Underlying Shares, (C) share capital or other securities of another issuer acquired or owned (directly or indirectly) by the Share Issuer or Underlying Share Issuer, as appropriate, as a result of a spin-off or other similar transaction or (D) any other type of securities, rights or warrants or other assets, in any case for payment (cash or other consideration) at less than the prevailing market price as determined by the Determination Agent;
- (iii) an Extraordinary Dividend;
- (iv) a call by a Share Issuer or Underlying Share Issuer, as appropriate, in respect of relevant Shares and/or Underlying Shares that are not fully paid;
- (v) a repurchase by a Share Issuer or Underlying Share Issuer, as appropriate, or any of its subsidiaries of relevant Shares and/or Underlying Shares whether out of profits or capital and whether the consideration for such repurchase is cash, securities or otherwise;
- (vi) in respect of a Share Issuer or Underlying Share Issuer, as appropriate, an event that results in any shareholder rights being distributed or becoming separated from shares of common stock or other shares of the capital stock of such Share Issuer or Underlying Share Issuer, as appropriate, pursuant to a shareholder rights plan or arrangement directed against hostile takeovers that provides upon the occurrence of certain events for a distribution of preferred stock, warrants, debt instruments or stock rights at a price below their market value as determined by the Determination Agent, provided that any adjustment effected as a result of such an event shall be readjusted upon any redemption of such rights;
- (vii) any other event having, in the opinion of the Determination Agent, a diluting, concentrative or other effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Shares and/or Underlying Shares; and
- (viii) the making of any amendment or supplement to the terms of the Deposit Agreement, provided that an event under (i) to (vii) (inclusive) above in respect of Underlying Shares shall not constitute a Potential Adjustment Event unless, in the opinion of the Determination Agent, such event has a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the Shares.

- (c) If the Determination Agent determines that:

- (i) an event under (i) to (vii) (inclusive) of the definition of "Potential Adjustment Event" has occurred in respect of any Underlying Shares; or
- (ii) an event under (viii) of the definition of "Potential Adjustment Event" has occurred, the Determination Agent will determine whether such Potential Adjustment Event has an economic effect on the Notes,

and, in each case, the Determination Agent will make the corresponding adjustment(s), if any, to one or more of any variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, payment or other terms of these Conditions and/or the applicable Pricing Supplement as the Determination Agent determines appropriate acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner to account for (A) in respect of an event under (i) to

(vii) (inclusive) of the definition of "Potential Adjustment Event", the diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the Shares, and (B) in respect of an event under (viii) of the definition of "Potential Adjustment Event", such economic effect on the Notes, as the case may be (provided that no adjustments will be made to account solely for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relative to the relevant Share), following the Potential Adjustment Event. The Determination Agent may (among other factors) have reference to any adjustment made by the Depositary under the Deposit Agreement. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such adjustment in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such adjustment.

If the Determination Agent determines that no adjustment that it could make will produce a commercially reasonable result, it shall notify the Issuer and the Noteholders that the relevant consequence shall be the early redemption of the Notes, in which case, on such date as selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, the Issuer shall redeem the Notes upon prior notice made to the Noteholders, and the Issuer will cause to be paid to each Noteholder in respect of each Note held by it an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount.

- (d) The definitions of "Merger Event" and "Tender Offer" shall be amended in accordance with the DR Amendment.
- (e) If the Determination Agent determines that a Merger Event or Tender Offer has occurred in respect of an Underlying Share, then, where the Determination Agent makes an adjustment to these Conditions and/or the applicable Pricing Supplement in connection with a Merger Event or Tender Offer, the Determination Agent may (among other factors) have reference to any adjustment made by the Depositary under the Deposit Agreement.
- (f) The definitions of "Nationalisation", "Insolvency" and "Delisting" shall be amended in accordance with the DR Amendment.
- (g) If the Determination Agent determines that a Nationalisation or Insolvency has occurred in respect of a Share or the Depositary, then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the Determination Agent may determine that the affected Share be substituted with Replacement DRs and may make any appropriate adjustments to the terms of these Conditions and/or the applicable Pricing Supplement. In such case, the Issuer shall not redeem the Notes early and, following such replacement, references to Shares herein shall be replaced by references to such Replacement DRs, and the Determination Agent will determine the effective date of any adjustments.
- (h) If the Determination Agent determines that a Delisting of Shares has occurred or if the Depositary announces that the Deposit Agreement is (or will be) terminated, then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the Determination Agent may determine that the affected Share be substituted with Replacement DRs or the Underlying Shares and may make any appropriate adjustments to the terms of these Conditions and/or the applicable Pricing Supplement. In such case, the Issuer shall not redeem the Notes early and, following such replacement, references to Shares herein shall be replaced by references to such Replacement DRs or the Underlying Shares, as applicable, and the Determination Agent will determine the effective date of any adjustments.
- (i) The definition of any Additional Disruption Event specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement shall be amended in accordance with the DR Amendment.
- (j) The definitions of "Exchange Business Day", "Scheduled Closing Time", "Scheduled Trading Day", "Trading Disruption", "Exchange Disruption", "Early Closure" and "Disrupted Day" which relate to the Exchange shall be deemed to include a reference to the primary exchange on which the Underlying Shares are traded, as determined by the Determination Agent.
- (k) The definitions of "Exchange Disruption", "Market Disruption Event" and "Trading Disruption" shall be amended in accordance with the DR Amendment.

For the avoidance of doubt, where a provision is amended pursuant to this Condition 11.8 (Full Lookthrough Depositary Receipt Provisions) in accordance with the DR Amendment, if the event described in such provision occurs in respect of the Underlying Share or the Underlying Share Issuer, then the consequence of such event shall be interpreted consistently with the DR Amendment and such event.

11.9 Definitions applicable to Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Notes

In relation to Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Notes, the following expressions have the meanings set out below:

"Adjustment Payment" means, in respect of any Note, the payment (if any) determined by the Determination Agent as is required in order to reduce or eliminate, to the extent reasonably practicable, any transfer of economic value to or from the Issuer as a result of the replacement of the Index by the Alternative Pre-nominated Index. The Determination Agent may determine that the Adjustment Payment is zero;

"Affected ETF Interest" means, at any time, any ETF Interest in respect of which the Determination Agent has determined that an Extraordinary ETF Event has occurred;

"Averaging Cut-Off Date" means, in the case where Notes relate to an Index, Share or ETF Interest or a Basket and in respect of a Scheduled Averaging Date for the purposes of Condition 11.1(c) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption):

- (a) if "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" in respect of a Basket is specified to be applicable in the Pricing Supplement, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day following such Scheduled Averaging Date; or
- (b) in any other case, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day following such Scheduled Averaging Date;

"Averaging Date" means, in respect of each Reference Date, either:

- (a) in the case of (i) a Single Index Note, a Single Share Note or a Single ETF Note (as the case may be); or (ii) an Index Basket Note, a Share Basket Note, an ETF Basket Note or a Hybrid Equity Basket Note (as the case may be) where the applicable Pricing Supplement provides that "Individual Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, each date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or, if such date is not a Scheduled Trading Day, the next following Scheduled Trading Day for such (or the relevant) Index, Share or ETF Interest or Basket Component (as the case may be); or
- (b) in the case of an Index Basket Note, a Share Basket Note, an ETF Basket Note or a Hybrid Equity Basket Note, where the applicable Pricing Supplement provides that either "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" or "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, each date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or if any such date is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, the next following Common Scheduled Trading Day for such Basket, provided that if any such day is a Disrupted Day, the Averaging Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Condition 11.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption);

"Basket" means in relation to any Share Basket Notes, the Shares specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as comprising the Basket, in relation to Index Basket Notes, the Indices specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as comprising the Basket, in relation to any ETF Basket Notes, the ETF Interests specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as comprising the Basket and in relation to any Hybrid Equity Basket Notes, the Shares, Indices and/or ETF Interests specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as comprising the Basket, in each case in the relative proportions or numbers specified in such Pricing Supplement;

"Basket Component" means, in relation to a particular Series of Index Basket Notes, Share Basket Notes or ETF Basket Notes (as applicable), each Index, Share or ETF Interest (as applicable) comprised in the relevant Basket of Indices, Basket of Shares or Basket of ETF Interests (as applicable), and in relation to a particular Series of Hybrid Equity Basket Notes, each Index, Share or ETF Interest specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as comprising the relevant Basket;

"Basket of ETF Interests" means, in relation to a particular Series, a basket comprising the ETF Interests specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in the relative proportions or number of ETF Interests specified in such Pricing Supplement;

"Basket of Indices" means, in relation to a particular Series, a basket comprising the Indices specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in the relative proportions specified in such Pricing Supplement;

"Basket of Shares" means, in relation to a particular Series, a basket comprising Shares of each Share Issuer specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in the relative proportions or number of Shares of each Share Issuer specified in such Pricing Supplement;

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (A) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (B) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Issuer determines that (x), in the case of Single Share Notes, Single Index Notes, Single ETF Notes, Share Basket Notes, Index Basket Notes, ETF Basket Notes or Hybrid Equity Basket Notes, it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of any relevant Shares or ETF Interests or of any financial instrument or contract providing exposure to the Shares or ETF Interests or Index or Indices (as the case may be), or (y) it will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations with respect to the Notes (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position), provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, where "QFII" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the "Administrative Measures on Domestic Securities Investment by Qualified Foreign Institutional Investors and RMB Qualified Foreign Institutional Investors (Decree No. 176)" issued by the China Securities Regulatory Commission ("CSRC"), the People's Bank of China ("PBOC") and the State Administration of Foreign Exchange ("SAFE") and the associated rules, regulations and interpretations issued from time to time by the CSRC, PBOC, SAFE, the Shanghai Stock Exchange, the Shenzhen Stock Exchange, the Beijing Stock Exchange and the CSDCC and any other relevant regulatory body or government authority shall be deemed to be an applicable law, rule or regulation for the purpose of determining if a Change in Law has occurred;

"Change in QFII Status" means that, on or after the Trade Date, due to any change in Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc's status or investment scope as a Qualified Foreign Institutional Investor ("QFII") under PRC law, the Issuer determines, in its sole and absolute discretion that (i) it has or will become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of any relevant Share, Underlying Share or Component comprised in a relevant Index which is a share (as applicable) or of any financial instrument or contract providing exposure to any such Share, Underlying Share or Component (as applicable), (ii) it will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations with respect to the Notes, or (iii) it becomes unlawful for it to perform its obligations with respect to the Notes;

"Hedging Disruption" means that the Issuer is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to (A) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations under the Notes, or (B) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transactions or asset(s);

"HKSCC" means the Hong Kong Securities Clearing Company Limited;

"Increased Cost of Hedging" means that the Issuer would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (A) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations with respect to the Notes or (B) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s) provided that any such materially increased amount that is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Issuer shall not be deemed an Increased Cost of Hedging;

"Increased Regulatory Capital" means there would be a material increase (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) in the amount or cost of regulatory capital that would have to be maintained by the Issuer any/or any Affiliate in relation to the Notes and/or any related hedging arrangements, as determined by the Determination Agent;

"Index" means any index specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, subject to Condition 11.2 (Adjustments to Indices and Additional Disruption Events);

"Index Adjustment Event" means, in respect of an Index, an Administrator/Benchmark Event, an Index Cancellation, an Index Disruption or an Index Modification;

"Index Sponsor" means, in respect of an Index, the corporation or other entity that (a) is responsible for setting and reviewing the rules and procedures and methods of calculation and adjustments, if any, related to the relevant Index (the "Index Rules" in respect of such Index) and (b) announces (directly or through an agent) the level of the relevant Index on a regular basis during each Scheduled Trading Day;

"Insolvency Filing" means that the Share Issuer or Underlying Share Issuer, as applicable, institutes or has instituted against it by a regulator, supervisor or any similar official with primary insolvency, rehabilitative or regulatory jurisdiction over it in the jurisdiction of its incorporation or organisation or the jurisdiction of its head or home office, or it consents to a proceeding seeking a judgment of insolvency or bankruptcy or any other relief under any bankruptcy or insolvency law or other similar law affecting creditors' rights, or a petition is presented for its winding up or liquidation by it or such regulator, supervisor or similar official or it consents to such a petition, provided that proceedings instituted or petitions presented by creditors and not consented to by the Share Issuer or Underlying Share Issuer, as applicable, shall not be deemed an Insolvency Filing.

"Loss of Stock Borrow" means that the Issuer is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to borrow (or maintain a borrowing of) the Shares or ETF Interests or of any financial instrument or contract providing exposure to the Shares or ETF Interests or Index or Indices with respect to the Notes in an amount which the Issuer deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations with respect to the Notes (not to exceed the number of the Shares, ETF Interests or financial instruments or contracts underlying the Notes) at a rate determined by the Issuer;

"Market Disruption Event" means:

- (a) in respect of (1) a Share, (2) an Index other than a Multi-Exchange Index or Proprietary Index or (3) an ETF Interest, the occurrence or existence of (i) a Trading Disruption, (ii) an Exchange Disruption, (iii) if "(China Connect)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, a China Connect Disruption, which in each case the Determination Agent determines is material, at any time during the one hour period that ends at the relevant Determination Time, (iv) an Early Closure or (v) if "(China Connect)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, a China Connect Early Closure. For the purpose of determining whether a Market Disruption Event exists in respect of an Index at any time, if a Market Disruption Event occurs in respect of a security included in the Index at any time, then the relevant percentage contribution of that security to the level of the Index shall be based on a comparison of (x) the portion of the level of the Index attributable to that security and (y) the overall level of the Index, in each case immediately before the Market Disruption Event occurred;
- (b) with respect to any Multi-Exchange Index either (i)(A) the occurrence or existence, in respect of any Component, of (1) a Trading Disruption, (2) an Exchange Disruption, (3) if "(China Connect)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, a China Connect Disruption, which in each case the Determination Agent determines is material, at any time during the one hour period that ends at the relevant Determination Time in respect of the Exchange on which such Component is principally traded, or (4) an Early Closure or (5) if "(China Connect)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, a China Connect Early Closure; AND (B) the aggregate of all Components in respect of which a Trading Disruption, an Exchange Disruption, a China Connect Disruption (if applicable), an Early Closure or a China Connect Early Closure (if applicable) occurs or exists comprises 20 per cent. or more of the level of the Index; OR (ii) the occurrence or existence, in respect of futures or options contracts relating to the Index, of: (A) a Trading Disruption, (B) an Exchange Disruption, (C) if "(China Connect)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, a China Connect Disruption, which in each case the Determination Agent determines is material, at any time during the one hour period that ends at the relevant Determination Time in respect of the Related Exchange; (D) an Early Closure or (E) if "(China Connect)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, a China Connect Early Closure.

For the purposes of determining whether a Market Disruption Event exists in respect of a Component at any time, if a Market Disruption Event occurs in respect of such Component at that time, then the relevant percentage contribution of that Component to the level of the Index shall be based on a comparison of (x) the portion of the level of the Index attributable to that Component to (y) the overall level of the Index, in each case using the official opening weightings as published by the Index Sponsor as part of the market "opening data"; and

- (c) with respect to a Proprietary Index, either (i) the failure by the Index Sponsor to calculate and publish the level of the Index for any Scheduled Trading Day or in respect of such Scheduled Trading Day within the scheduled or usual timeframe for publication or (ii) the occurrence of any other event specified as a Proprietary Index Additional Market Disruption Event in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Multi-Exchange Index" means any Index specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Observation Date" means each date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that if any such date is (i) not a Scheduled Trading Day and/or (ii) a Disrupted Day, the relevant Observation Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Condition 11.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption);

"Observation Period" has the meaning given in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Potential Adjustment Event" means, in respect of Single Share Notes, Single ETF Note, Share Basket Notes, ETF Basket Notes or Hybrid Equity Basket Notes (as the case may be):

- (a) a subdivision, consolidation or reclassification of a Share or ETF Interest (unless resulting in a Merger Event), or a free distribution or dividend of Shares or ETF Interests to existing holders by way of bonus, capitalisation or similar issue;
- (b) a distribution, issue or dividend to existing holders of relevant Shares or ETF Interests of (A) such Shares or ETF Interests, or (B) other share capital or securities granting the right to payment of dividends and/or the proceeds of liquidation of the Share Issuer or ETF equally or proportionately with such payments to holders of such a Share or ETF Interest, or (C) share capital or other securities of another issuer acquired or owned (directly or indirectly) by the Share Issuer or ETF as a result of a spin off or other similar transaction, or (D) any other type of securities, rights or warrants or other assets, in any case for payment (cash or other consideration) at less than the prevailing market price as determined by the Determination Agent;
- (c) an Extraordinary Dividend;
- (d) a call by the Share Issuer in respect of relevant Shares that are not fully paid;
- (e) a repurchase by a Share Issuer or ETF (as the case may be) or any of its subsidiaries of Shares or ETF Interests, whether out of profits or capital and whether the consideration for such repurchase is cash, securities or otherwise;
- (f) in respect of a Share Issuer, an event that results in any shareholder rights being distributed or becoming separated from shares of common stock or other shares of the capital stock of the Share Issuer pursuant to a shareholder rights plan or arrangement directed against hostile takeovers that provides, upon the occurrence of certain events, for a distribution of preferred stock, warrants, debt instruments or stock rights at a price below their market value, as determined by the Determination Agent, provided that any adjustment effected as a result of such an event shall be readjusted upon any redemption of such rights; or
- (g) any other event having, in the opinion of the Determination Agent, a diluting, concentrative or other effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Shares or ETF Interests.

"Proprietary Index" means any Index specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Proprietary Index Components" means, in relation to a Proprietary Index, the shares, securities, commodities, rates, indices, futures contracts, options contracts, foreign exchange rates or other components which comprise such Index (each a "Proprietary Index Component" for such Proprietary Index)

"Reference Cut-Off Date" means, in the case where Notes relate to an Index, Share or ETF Interest or a Basket and in respect of a Scheduled Reference Date for the purposes of Condition 11.1(b) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption):

- (a) if "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" in respect of a Basket is specified to be applicable in the Pricing Supplement, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day following such Scheduled Reference Date; or

- (b) in any other case, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day, or, in respect of a Basket, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day for the Affected Basket Component, following such Scheduled Reference Date;

"Reference Date" means, for the purposes of Condition 11.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption), each Valuation Date, Observation Date, Strike Date or Determination Date (as applicable) specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or otherwise, any date construed to be a Reference Date in accordance with the Conditions;

"Regulatory Request" means, in respect of Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc or its Affiliates any request from time to time to report or otherwise disclose to applicable regulatory authorities, including without limitation the CSRC and other regulatory bodies in the PRC, details of the relevant Notes and any other information (including, without limitation, the beneficial owner of the relevant Notes) as may be required by law or under any applicable rules or regulations of such regulatory authorities, including without limitation, any ad hoc or periodic reporting obligations;

A "Regulatory Request ADE" shall occur if the Issuer determines in its sole and absolute discretion that, after using reasonable efforts to contact the Noteholders (or, in the case of an investment fund, its investment manager) to obtain information to respond to a Regulatory Request, it is unable to, or does not have sufficient information, to respond to a Regulatory Request;

"Related Exchange", in respect of an Index relating to Single Index Notes or Index Basket Notes or Hybrid Equity Basket Notes, a Share relating to Single Share Notes or Share Basket Notes or Hybrid Equity Basket Notes or an ETF Interest relating to Single ETF Notes or ETF Basket Notes or Hybrid Equity Basket Notes, means the exchange specified as the Related Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, any successor to such exchange or quotation system or any substitute exchange or quotation system to which trading in futures and options contracts relating to such Index, Share or ETF Interest has temporarily relocated (provided that the Determination Agent has determined that there is comparable liquidity relative to the futures or options contracts relating to such Index, Share or ETF Interests on such temporary substitute exchange or quotation system as on the original Related Exchange) or, if none or if "All Exchanges" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, each exchange or quotation system where trading has a material effect (as determined by the Determination Agent) on the overall market for futures or options contracts relating to such Index, Share or ETF Interests, as the case may be;

"Relevant Equity Index Benchmark" means the Index;

"Relevant Price" on any day means:

- (a) in respect of a Share to which a Single Share Note, a Share Basket Note or a Hybrid Equity Basket Note, relates, the price per Share determined by the Determination Agent in the manner provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement as of the Determination Time on the relevant day, or, if no means for determining the Relevant Price are so provided: (i) in respect of any Share for which the Exchange is an auction or "open outcry" exchange that has a price as of the Determination Time at which any trade can be submitted for execution, the Relevant Price shall be the price per Share as of the Determination Time on the relevant day, as reported in the official real time price dissemination mechanism for such Exchange; and (ii) in respect of any Share for which the Exchange is a dealer exchange or dealer quotation system, the Relevant Price shall be the mid-point of the highest bid and lowest ask prices quoted as of the Determination Time on the relevant day (or the last such prices quoted immediately before the Determination Time) without regard to quotations that "lock" or "cross" the dealer exchange or dealer quotation system;
- (b) in respect of an Index to which a Single Index Note, an Index Basket Note or a Hybrid Equity Basket Note, relates, the level of such Index determined by the Determination Agent as provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement as of the Determination Time on the relevant day or, if no method for determining the Relevant Price is so provided, the level of the Index as of the Determination Time on the relevant day; and
- (c) in respect of an ETF Interest to which a Single ETF Note, an ETF Basket Note or a Hybrid Equity Basket Note, relates, the price per ETF Interest determined by the Determination Agent in the manner provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement as of the Determination Time on the relevant day, or, if no means for determining the Relevant Price are so provided: (a) in respect of any ETF Interest for which the Exchange is an auction or "open outcry" exchange that has a price as of the Determination Time at which any trade can be submitted for execution, the Relevant Price shall be the price per ETF Interest as of the Determination Time on the relevant day, as reported in the official real time price dissemination mechanism for such Exchange; and (b) in respect of any ETF Interest for which the Exchange is a dealer exchange or dealer quotation system, the Relevant Price shall be the mid-point of the highest bid and lowest ask prices quoted as of the Determination Time on the relevant day (or the last such prices quoted immediately before the Determination Time) without regard to quotations that "lock" or "cross" the dealer exchange or dealer quotation system;

"Replacement DRs" means depositary receipts other than the Shares over the same Underlying Shares;

"Scheduled Averaging Date" means an original date (following any adjustment (if applicable) pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) in the definition of "Averaging Date") that, but for such day being a Disrupted Day, would have been an Averaging Date;

"Scheduled Closing Time" means, in respect of an Exchange, Related Exchange or, if "(China Connect)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the China Connect Service, and a Scheduled Trading Day, the scheduled weekday closing time of such Exchange, Related Exchange or the China Connect Service (as the case may be) on such Scheduled Trading Day, without regard (in the case of any Exchange or Related Exchange) to after hours or any other trading outside of regular trading session hours or (in the case of the China Connect Service) to any after hours or any other order-routing outside of the regular order-routing session hours;

"Scheduled Reference Date" means, for the purposes of Condition 11.1(b) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption), any original date that, but for the occurrence of an event causing a Disrupted Day, would have been a Reference Date;

"Scheduled Trading Day" means (a) except with respect to a Multi-Exchange Index or a Proprietary Index, any day on which (i) each Exchange and each Related Exchange are scheduled to be open for trading for their respective regular trading session and (ii) if "(China Connect)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the China Connect Service is scheduled to be open for order-routing for its regular order-routing sessions, (b) with respect to any Multi-Exchange Index, any day on which (i) the Index Sponsor is scheduled to publish the level of the Index and (ii) the Related Exchange is scheduled to be open for trading for its regular trading session and (iii) if "(China Connect)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the China Connect Service is scheduled to be open for order-routing for its regular order-routing sessions, and (c) with respect to a Proprietary Index, any day on which (i) the Index Sponsor is scheduled to publish the level of such Index and (ii) if "(China Connect)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the China Connect Service is scheduled to be open for order-routing for its regular order-routing sessions;

"SEHK" means The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited;

"Settlement Cycle" means, in respect of a Share, Index or ETF Interest, the period of Settlement Cycle Days following a trade in such Share, the securities underlying such Index or ETF Interest, as the case may be, on the Exchange in which settlement will customarily occur according to the rules of such exchange (or, in respect of any Multi-Exchange Index, the longest such period) and for this purpose "Settlement Cycle Day" means, in relation to a clearing system any day on which such clearing system is (or but for the occurrence of a Settlement Disruption Event would have been) open for acceptance and executions of settlement instructions;

"Settlement Price" means, in respect of a Single Share Note, a Share Basket Note, an Index Note, an Index Basket Note, a Single ETF Note, an ETF Basket Note or a Hybrid Equity Basket Note, the price, level or amount as determined by the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, in accordance with the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Share" means, in relation to a particular Series of Notes, a share specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or, in the case of a Share Basket Note or a Hybrid Equity Basket Note (as the case may be), a share forming part of a Basket to which such Note relates;

"Share Issuer" means the entity that is the issuer of the Share specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"STAR Shares" means securities listed and traded on the STAR Board of the Shanghai Stock Exchange which may be traded by Hong Kong and overseas investors under the China Connect Service;

"Strike Date" means each date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that if any such date is (i) not a Scheduled Trading Day and/or (ii) a Disrupted Day, the relevant Strike Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Condition 11.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption);

"Trading Disruption" means (a) except with respect to a Multi-Exchange Index, any suspension of or limitation imposed on trading by the Exchange or Related Exchange or otherwise and whether by reason of movements in price exceeding limits permitted by the Exchange, Related Exchange or otherwise (i) relating to the Share or ETF Interest on the Exchange, or, in the case of a Single Index Note, Index Basket Note or Hybrid Equity Basket Note (as the case may be), on any relevant Exchange(s) relating to securities that comprise 20 per cent. or more of the level of the relevant Index or (ii) in futures or options contracts relating to the Share, the relevant Index or Indices or the ETF Interest on any relevant Related Exchange, and (b) with respect to any Multi-Exchange Index, any suspension of or limitation imposed on trading by the Exchange or Related Exchange or otherwise and whether by reason of movements in price exceeding limits permitted by the Exchange or Related Exchange or otherwise (i) relating to any Component on the Exchange in respect of such Component; or (ii) in futures or options contracts relating to the Index on the Related Exchange;

"Underlying Share Issuer" means the entity that is the issuer of the Underlying Share specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; and

"Underlying Share" means, the share or other security which is the subject of the Deposit Agreement.

"Valid Date" means a Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day and on which another Averaging Date in respect of the Reference Date does not, or is not deemed to, occur; and

"Valuation Date" means each date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that if any such date is (i) not a Scheduled Trading Day and/or (ii) a Disrupted Day, the relevant Valuation Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Condition 11.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption).

12. Provisions relating to Commodity-Linked Notes

This Condition 12 (Provisions relating to Commodity-Linked Notes) is applicable in respect of any Series of Notes ("Commodity-Linked Notes") where "Commodity-Linked Interest Note Provisions" and/or "Commodity-Linked Redemption Provisions" are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

12.1 Corrections to Published Prices

For the purposes of determining the Relevant Price for any Pricing Date, if applicable, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement for the purposes of calculating the Interest Amount or Final Redemption Amount or any other amount in respect of a Commodity-Linked Note, if the price published or announced on a given day and used or to be used by the Determination Agent to determine such Relevant Price is subsequently corrected and the correction is published or announced by the person responsible for that publication or announcement by such time as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if none is so specified, within thirty calendar days after the original publication or announcement) and in any event prior to the Maturity Date or the Interest Payment Date for the relevant Notes the Determination Agent shall, acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner determine (in its reasonable discretion) the adjustment to the Relevant Price so calculated and will adjust the terms of the relevant Notes to account for such correction to the extent that it determines to be necessary and practicable. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such adjustment in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such adjustment.

12.2 Commodity Disruption Events

- (a) If so specified in the Pricing Supplement relating to any Series of Commodity-Linked Notes, the following shall constitute "Commodity Disruption Events" for the purposes of such Series:
- (i) "Price Source Disruption", which means (A) the failure of the Price Source to announce or publish the Specified Price (or the information necessary for determining the Specified Price) for the relevant Commodity Reference Price, (B) the temporary or permanent discontinuance or unavailability of the Price Source, (C) if the Commodity Reference Price is "Commodity Reference Dealers" the failure to obtain at least three quotations from the relevant Reference Dealers or (D) if Price Materiality Percentage is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Specified Price for the relevant Commodity Reference Price differs from the Specified Price determined in accordance with the Commodity Reference Price "Commodity Reference Dealers" by such Price Materiality Percentage;
 - (ii) "Trading Disruption", which means the material suspension of, or the material limitation imposed on, trading in the Futures Contract or the Commodity on the Exchange or in any additional futures contract, options contract or commodity on any Exchange as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. The determination of whether a suspension of or limitation on trading is material shall be made by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion;
 - (iii) "Disappearance of Commodity Reference Price", which means (A) the permanent discontinuation of trading in the relevant Futures Contract on the relevant Exchange, (B) the disappearance of, or of trading in, the relevant Commodity, or (C) the disappearance or permanent discontinuance or unavailability of a Commodity Reference Price, notwithstanding the availability of the related Price Source or the status of trading in the relevant Futures Contract or the relevant Commodity;
 - (iv) "Material Change in Content", which means the occurrence since the Trade Date of a material change in the content, composition or constitution of the relevant Commodity or relevant Futures Contract;
 - (v) "Material Change in Formula", which means the occurrence since the Trade Date of a material change in the formula for or method of calculating the relevant Commodity Reference Price;
 - (vi) "Tax Disruption", which means the imposition of, change in or removal of an excise, severance, sales, use, value added, transfer, stamp, documentary, recording or similar tax on, or measured by reference to, the relevant Commodity (other than a tax on, or measured by reference to, overall gross or net income) by any government or taxation authority after the Trade Date, if the direct effect of such imposition, change or removal is to raise or lower the Relevant Price on the day that would otherwise be a Pricing Date from what it would have been without that imposition, change or removal; and
 - (vii) any other (if any) Commodity Disruption Event specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
- (b) If the applicable Pricing Supplement for a Series of Commodity-Linked Notes specifies that any Commodity Disruption Event shall be applicable to such Series, then, where the Determination Agent determines, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, that such Commodity Disruption Event has occurred and is continuing in respect of such Series on the Pricing Date in respect of such Series (or, if different, the day on which prices for that Pricing Date would, in the ordinary course, be published or announced by the Price Source), or on any other day as may be specified for this purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then the Relevant Price will be determined in accordance with the terms of the Commodity Disruption Fallback applicable pursuant to Condition 12.3 (Commodity Disruption Fallbacks).

12.3 Commodity Disruption Fallbacks

Where one or more Commodity Disruption Event occurs or exists, then, unless the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that any other Commodity Disruption Fallback shall apply in respect of any such Commodity Disruption Event, "Determination Agent Determination" shall apply.

"Determination Agent Determination" means that the Determination Agent will determine, in its reasonable discretion, the Relevant Price (or a method for determining the Relevant Price), taking into consideration the latest available quotation for the relevant Commodity Reference Price and any other information that it deems relevant.

12.4 Administrator/Benchmark Events

If the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable and an Administrator/Benchmark Event and an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of any Relevant Commodity Benchmark (other than a Commodity Index):

- (a) the Commodity Disruption Fallbacks specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to apply with respect to an Administrator/Benchmark Event will apply, or if none is so specified, Determination Agent Determination (as such term is defined in Condition 12.3 (Commodity Disruption Fallbacks)) shall be deemed to apply;
- (b) if it (i) is or would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (ii) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, in each case for the Issuer, the Determination Agent or the Calculation Agent to perform the actions prescribed in an applicable Commodity Disruption Fallback (or it would be unlawful or would contravene those licensing requirements were a determination to be made at such time), the next applicable Commodity Disruption Fallback will apply;
- (c) if the Determination Agent determines that the last applicable Commodity Disruption Fallback does not provide the Relevant Underlying Value (including due to the applicability of paragraph (b) above in relation to the last applicable Commodity Disruption Fallback), then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to redeem the Notes and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment in respect of each Note of an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount; and
- (d) the Determination Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Issuer, the Fiscal Agent and the Noteholders of the occurrence of an Administrator/Benchmark Event and an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date and of any action taken as a consequence, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.

12.5 Common Pricing

With respect to Notes relating to a Basket, if "Common Pricing" has been selected in the applicable Pricing Supplement as:

- (a) "Applicable", then no date will be a Pricing Date unless such date is a day on which all referenced Commodity Reference Prices (for which such date would otherwise be a Pricing Date) are scheduled to be published or announced, as determined as of the time of issue of the Notes.
- (b) "Not Applicable", then if the Determination Agent determines that a Commodity Disruption Event has occurred or exists on the Pricing Date in respect of any Commodity in the Basket (the "Affected Commodity"), the Relevant Price of each Commodity within the basket which is not affected by the occurrence of a Commodity Disruption Event shall be determined on its scheduled Pricing Date and the Relevant Price for the Affected Commodity shall be determined in accordance with the first applicable Commodity Disruption Fallback that provides a Commodity Reference Price.

12.6 Commodity Index Disruption Events

- (a) The following shall constitute "Commodity Index Disruption Events" for the purposes of any Series of Notes with respect to a Commodity Index:
 - (i) a temporary or permanent failure by the applicable exchange or other price source to announce or publish the final settlement price for the relevant Commodity Index; or

- (ii) the occurrence in respect of any Component of the relevant Commodity Index of a Commodity Disruption Event (as defined in Condition 12.2(a) (Commodity Disruption Events)).
- (b) Where the Determination Agent determines, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, that a Commodity Index Disruption Event has occurred and is continuing in respect of a Series on the Pricing Date in respect of such Series (or, if different, the day on which prices for that Pricing Date would, in the ordinary course, be published or announced by the Price Source), or on any other day as may be specified for this purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then (unless Condition 12.6(c) (Physical Hedging Fallback) applies) the following provisions shall apply the ("Commodity Index Disruption Fallback"):
 - (i) with respect to each Component which is not affected by the Commodity Index Disruption Event, the Relevant Price will be determined by the Determination Agent based on the closing prices of each such Component on the applicable Pricing Date;
 - (ii) with respect to each Component which is affected by the Commodity Index Disruption Event, the Relevant Price will be determined by the Determination Agent (in the case of any Dow Jones UBS Commodity Index) as set out in the DJ UBSCI Manual or (in the case of any S&P Commodity Index) as set out in the Index Methodology, and in respect of any other Commodity Index as set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in each case based on the closing prices of each such Component on the first day following the applicable Pricing Date on which no Commodity Index Disruption Event occurs with respect to such Component;
 - (iii) subject to (iv) below, the Determination Agent shall determine the Relevant Price by reference to the closing prices determined in (i) and (ii) above using the then current method for calculating the relevant Commodity Index; and
 - (iv) where a Commodity Index Disruption Event with respect to one or more Components continues to exist (measured from and including the first day following the applicable determination date) for five consecutive Trading Days, the Determination Agent shall determine the Relevant Price acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. In calculating the Relevant Price as set out in this paragraph (iv), the Determination Agent shall use the formula for calculating the relevant Commodity Index last in effect prior to the Commodity Index Disruption Event. For the purposes of this paragraph (iv), "Trading Day" shall mean a day when the exchanges for all Components included in the relevant Commodity Index are scheduled to be open for trading.
- (c) Physical Hedging Fallback. Where the Determination Agent determines that a Commodity Index Disruption Event has occurred and is continuing in respect of a Series on the Pricing Date in respect of such Series and "Physical Hedging Fallback" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then the following provisions shall apply;
 - (i) with respect to each Component included in the Commodity Index which is not affected by the Commodity Index Disruption Event, the Relevant Price will be based on the closing prices of each such Component on the applicable determination date;
 - (ii) with respect to each Component included in the Commodity Index which is affected by the Commodity Index Disruption Event, the Relevant Price will be based on the closing price of each such Component on the first day following the applicable determination date on which no Commodity Index Disruption Event occurs with respect to such Component;
 - (iii) subject to (iv) below, the Determination Agent shall determine the Relevant Price by reference to the closing prices determined in (a) and (b) above using the then current method for calculating the Relevant Price; and
 - (iv) where a Commodity Index Disruption Event with respect to one or more Components included in the Commodity Index continues to exist (measured from and including the first day following the applicable determination date) for five consecutive Trading Days, the Determination Agent shall determine the Relevant Price in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. For the purposes of this paragraph (iv), "Trading Day" shall mean a day when the exchanges for all Components included in the relevant Commodity Index are scheduled to be open for trading with respect to each Component included in the Commodity Index which is not affected by the Commodity Index Disruption Event, the Relevant Price will be based on the closing prices of each such Component on the applicable determination date.

- (d) If it (a) is or would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (b) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, for the Determination Agent to perform the actions prescribed in either Condition 12.6(b) (Commodity Index Disruption Events) or (c) (Physical Hedging Fallback) (as applicable) then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to redeem the Notes and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment in respect of each Note of an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount.
- (e) The Determination Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Issuer, the Fiscal Agent and the Noteholders of the occurrence of a Commodity Index Disruption Event and of any action taken as a consequence, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.

12.7 Adjustments to Commodity Index

- (a) If a Commodity Index with respect to a Commodity Reference Price is permanently cancelled or is not calculated and announced by the sponsor of such Commodity Index or any of its affiliates (together the "Sponsor") but (i) is calculated and announced by a successor sponsor (the "Successor Sponsor") acceptable to the Determination Agent, or (ii) replaced by a Successor Index (the "Successor Index") using, in the determination of the Determination Agent, the same or a substantially similar formula for and method of calculation as used in the calculation of such Commodity Index, then the Commodity Reference Price will be determined by reference to the Index so calculated and announced by that Successor Sponsor or that Successor Index, as the case may be.
- (b) Commodity Index Cancellation or Administrator/Benchmark Event Date: If, for a Commodity Index with respect to a Commodity Reference Price, on or prior to the Maturity Date or any early redemption date of the Commodity-Linked Notes, either (i) the Sponsor permanently cancels the Commodity Index and no Successor Index exists (a "Commodity Index Cancellation") or (ii) the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and an Administrator/Benchmark Event and an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of such Commodity Index, then:
 - (i) If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and if an Alternative Pre-nominated Index has been specified in relation to such Commodity Index in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then:
 - (A) the Determination Agent shall attempt to determine an Adjustment Payment;
 - (B) if the Determination Agent determines an Adjustment Payment,
 - (aa) it shall notify the Issuer of the Adjustment Payment and if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Noteholder would (but for Condition 12.7(b)(i)(B)(cc)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Note, request the Issuer to notify the Determination Agent whether it intends to redeem the Notes pursuant to Condition 12.7(d) (Redemption for Commodity Index Adjustment Event). If the Issuer does not intend to redeem the Notes pursuant to Condition 12.7(d) (Redemption for Commodity Index Adjustment Event) then the following provisions of this Condition 12.7(b)(i) (Commodity Index Cancellation or Administrator/Benchmark Event Date) shall apply;
 - (bb) the terms of the Notes shall be amended so that references to the Commodity Index are replaced by references to the Alternative Pre-nominated Index;
 - (cc) the Conditions shall be adjusted to implement the Adjustment Payment as follows:
 - (a) if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Issuer is required to pay in respect of each Note, the Determination Agent shall adjust the Conditions to provide for the payment of the Adjustment

Payment on the immediately succeeding Interest Payment Date or if there is no such immediately succeeding Interest Payment Date, on the Maturity Date or other date when the Notes are redeemed in full; or

- (b) if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Noteholder would (but for this Condition 12.7(b)(i)(B)(cc)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Note, the Determination Agent shall adjust the Conditions to provide for the reduction of the amounts due by the Issuer until the aggregate amount of such reductions is equal to the Adjustment Payment, (subject, in the determination of the Determination Agent, to any minimum redemption amount of the Notes which the Determination Agent determines is required pursuant to any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law) and the rules of each listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system by which the Notes have then been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation);
 - (dd) the Determination Agent shall make such other adjustments to the Conditions as it determines necessary or appropriate in order to account for the effect of the replacement of the Commodity Index with the Alternative Pre-nominated Index and/or to preserve as nearly as practicable the economic equivalence of the Notes before and after the replacement of the Commodity Index with the Alternative Pre-nominated Index; and
 - (ee) the Determination Agent shall notify the Issuer, the Fiscal Agent and the Noteholders of any replacement of the Commodity Index by the Alternative Pre-nominated Index, the Adjustment Payment and any other adjustments to the Conditions, giving summary details of the adjustment(s), provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.
- (C) If the Determination Agent is unable to determine an Adjustment Payment, then Condition 12.7(d) (Redemption for Commodity Index Adjustment Event) shall apply.
- (ii) If the applicable Pricing Supplement does not specify that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable or, if the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable but does not specify an Alternative Pre-nominated Index in relation to the Relevant Commodity Benchmark, then Condition 12.7(d) (Redemption for Commodity Index Adjustment Event) shall apply.
- (c) Commodity Index Modification and Commodity Index Disruption: If, for a Commodity Index with respect to a Commodity Reference Price, on or prior to the Maturity Date or any early redemption date, (i) the Sponsor makes a material change in the formula for or the method of calculating such Commodity Index or in any other way materially modifies such Commodity Index (other than a modification prescribed in that formula or method to maintain the Commodity Index in the event of changes in constituent commodities and weightings and other routine events) (a "Commodity Index Modification") or, (ii) the Sponsor fails to calculate and announce the Commodity Index for a continuous period of three Trading Days and the Determination Agent determines that there is no Successor Sponsor or Successor Index (a "Commodity Index Disruption"), then the Determination Agent may at its option (in the case of (i)) and shall (in the case of (ii)) calculate the Relevant Price using in lieu of the published level for that Commodity Index (if any), the level for that Commodity Index as at the relevant determination date as determined by the Determination Agent in accordance with the formula for and method of calculating that Commodity Index last in effect prior to the relevant Commodity Index Adjustment Event, but using only those Components that comprised that Commodity Index immediately prior to the relevant Commodity Index Adjustment Event (other than those futures contracts that have ceased to be listed on any relevant exchange).
- (d) Redemption for Commodity Index Adjustment Event: If:
 - (i) a Commodity Index Cancellation occurs and the Pricing Supplement does not specify that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable;

- (ii) a Commodity Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of a Commodity Index, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable but does not specify an Alternative Pre-nominated Index;
- (iii) a Commodity Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of a Commodity Index, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and specifies an Alternative Pre-nominated Index but the Determination Agent is unable to determine the Adjustment Payment;
- (iv) a Commodity Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of a Commodity Index, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and specifies an Alternative Pre-nominated Index and the Determination Agent determines that the Adjustment Payment would be an amount that the Noteholder would (but for Condition 12.7(b)(i)(B)(cc)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Note; or
- (v) a Commodity Index Modification or a Commodity Index Disruption occurs and it (a) would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (b) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, in each case for the Determination Agent to calculate the Relevant Price in accordance with Condition 12.7(c) (Commodity Index Modification and Commodity Index Disruption), then the Issuer may, at any time thereafter and in its reasonable discretion, determine that the Notes shall be redeemed as of any later date. If the Issuer so determines that the Notes shall be redeemed, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the Noteholders to redeem the Notes and upon redemption the Issuer will pay an amount in respect of each Note equal to the Early Redemption Amount.

The Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the redemption, settlement or payment terms of the relevant Notes and/or any other adjustment, which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such change or adjustment in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.

- (e) Notification of Commodity Index Adjustment Event: The Determination Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Issuer, the Fiscal Agent and the Noteholders of the occurrence of a Commodity Index Adjustment Event and of any action taken as a consequence, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.

12.8 Additional Disruption Events

Following the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the relevant Notes shall continue or be redeemed early.

- (a) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the redemption, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Notes and/or any other adjustment which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such change or adjustment in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall be redeemed early, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to redeem the Notes and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of an amount in respect of each Note equal to the Early Redemption Amount.
- (c) For the purposes hereof:

"Additional Disruption Event" means, with respect to any Series of Notes, a Change in Law, Hedging Disruption, Increased Cost of Hedging, and any further event or events as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

12.9 Definitions applicable to Commodity-Linked Notes

In relation to Commodity-Linked Notes, the following expressions have the meanings set out below:

"Adjustment Payment" means, in respect of any Note, the payment (if any) determined by the Determination Agent as is required in order to reduce or eliminate, to the extent reasonably practicable, any transfer of economic value to or from the Issuer as a result of the replacement of the Commodity Index by the Alternative Pre-nominated Index;

"Basket" means a basket composed of each Commodity specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (A) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (B) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Issuer determines that (x) it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of Hedge Positions or (y) it will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations with respect to the Notes (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position);

"Commodity" means each commodity specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Commodity Business Day" means:

- (a) in the case where the Commodity Reference Price is a price announced or published by an Exchange, a day that is (or, but for the occurrence of a Commodity Disruption Event, would have been) a day on that Exchange is open for trading during its regular trading session, notwithstanding any such Exchange closing prior to its scheduled closing time; and
- (b) in the case where the Commodity Reference Price is not a price announced or published by an Exchange, a day in respect of which the relevant Price Source published (or, but for the occurrence of a Commodity Disruption Event, would have published) a price;

"Commodity Index" means an index comprising commodities specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Commodity Index Adjustment Event" means, in respect of a Commodity Index, a Commodity Index Cancellation, a Commodity Index Disruption or a Commodity Index Modification;

"Commodity Reference Price" means the commodity reference price(s) specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Component" means in relation to a Commodity Index, any commodity or Futures Contract the price of which is included in such Commodity Index;

"Delivery Date" means the relevant date or month for delivery of the underlying Commodity (which must be a date or month reported or capable of being determined from information reported in or by the relevant Price Source) specified as such in, or determined in accordance with the provisions in, the applicable Pricing Supplement. In relation to any underlying Commodity which is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be a "Non Metal" and each Pricing Date, the relevant Delivery Date shall be the month of expiration of the first Futures Contract to expire following such Pricing Date. In relation to any underlying Commodity which is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be a "Base Metal" or a "Precious Metal" and each Pricing Date, the Delivery Date shall be such Pricing Date;

"DJ UBS Commodity Index" means the Dow Jones UBS Commodity Index and any other Commodity Index, in each case which is calculated and sponsored by Dow Jones Inc, or any successor to such sponsor;

"DJ UBSCI Manual" means the manual or handbook in respect of a DJ UBS Commodity Index published by the sponsor of the relevant Commodity Index and in effect from time to time;

"Exchange" means each exchange or principal trading market specified as such in relation to a Commodity in the applicable Pricing Supplement or in the applicable Commodity Reference Price;

"Futures Contract" means either (a) the contract for future delivery in respect of the relevant Delivery Date relating to the relevant Commodity referred to in the relevant Commodity Reference Price or (b) each futures contract underlying or included in a Commodity Index;

"Hedge Positions" means any purchase, sale, entry into or maintenance of one or more (i) positions or contracts in securities, commodities, options, futures, derivatives or foreign exchange, (ii) stock loan transactions or (iii) other instruments or arrangements (howsoever described) by a party in order to hedge, individually or on a portfolio basis, the Notes;

"Hedging Disruption" means that the Issuer is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to (A) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations under the Notes, or (B) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transactions or asset(s);

"Increased Cost of Hedging" means that the Issuer would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (A) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations with respect to the Notes or (B) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s) provided that any such materially increased amount that is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Issuer shall not be deemed an Increased Cost of Hedging;

"Index Methodology" means the manual or handbook in respect of an S&P Commodity Index published by the sponsor of the relevant Commodity Index and in effect from time to time;

"Price Source" means the publication (or such other origin of reference, including an Exchange) containing (or reporting) the Specified Price (or prices from which the Specified Price is calculated) specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Pricing Date" means, subject as provided in this Condition 12 (Provisions relating to Commodity-Linked Notes) each date specified as such (or determined pursuant to a method specified for such purpose) in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Relevant Commodity Benchmark" means:

- (a) the Commodity Reference Price (or, if applicable, the index, benchmark or other price source that is referred to in the Commodity Reference Price);
- (b) the Commodity Index; and
- (c) any other index, benchmark or price source specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

To the extent that a Fallback Reference Price is used, such Fallback Reference Price shall be a "Relevant Benchmark" from the day on which it is used;

"Relevant Price" on any day means in respect of a unit of measure of the Commodity to which a Commodity-Linked Note relates, the price, expressed as a price per unit, determined by the Determination Agent as provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement with respect to such day for the applicable Commodity Reference Price;

"S&P Commodity Index" means the S&P GSCI Commodity Index and any other Commodity Index, in each case which is calculated and sponsored by Standard & Poor's, or any successor to such sponsor; and

"Specified Price" means any of the following prices of a Commodity or Commodities or levels of a Commodity Index (which must be a price reported or capable of being determined from information reported in or by the relevant Price Source), as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement (and, if applicable, as of the time so specified) (a) the high price (b) the low price (c) the average of the high price and the low price (d) the closing price (e) the opening price (f) the bid price (g) the asked price (h) the average of the bid price and the asked price (i) the settlement price (j) the official settlement price (which shall be the Specified Price for any Commodity Index, and for any Commodity specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as a "Non Metal") (k) the official price (l) the morning fixing (m) the afternoon fixing (which shall be the Specified Price in respect of any Commodity specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as a "Precious Metal") (n) the spot price or (o) any other price specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. The Specified Price for any Commodity specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as a "Precious Metal" shall be the official cash bid price.

13. Provisions relating to Currency-Linked Notes

This Condition 13 (Provisions relating to Currency-Linked Notes) is applicable in respect of any Series of Notes ("Currency-Linked Notes") where "Currency-Linked Interest Note Provisions" and/or "Currency-Linked Redemption Provisions" are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

13.1 Valuation Date

"Valuation Date" means, in respect of any Series of Currency-Linked Notes, the date(s) specified as such or otherwise determined as provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement provided that where the Valuation Date is not a Currency Business Day then the Valuation Date shall be the first preceding day that is a Currency Business Day, unless (i) an Unscheduled Holiday occurs and Condition 13.3 (EM Unscheduled Holiday) applies; (ii) an event giving rise to EM Valuation Postponement occurs and Condition 13.5(a)(iii) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Postponement) applies; (iii) an event giving rise to EM Valuation Fallback Postponement occurs and Condition 13.5(a)(iv) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Fallback Postponement) applies; or (iv) otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and subject to Condition 13.2 (Averaging), Condition 13.3 (EM Unscheduled Holiday), Condition 13.5(a)(iii) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Postponement), and Condition 13.5(a)(iv) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Fallback Postponement) (as applicable), the Valuation Date will be the date falling two Currency Business Days prior to the Maturity Date.

Where any Valuation Date is postponed pursuant to Condition 13.3 (EM Unscheduled Holiday), Condition 13.5(a)(iii) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Postponement) or Condition 13.5(a)(iv) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Fallback Postponement) (as applicable), the Interest Payment Date or the Maturity Date to which the Valuation Date relates shall be the later of (a) the scheduled Interest Payment Date or Maturity Date (as the case may be) and (b) the date that falls two Currency Business Days after the Valuation Date (or such other date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement).

13.2 Averaging

If Averaging Dates are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then notwithstanding any other provisions of these Conditions, the following provisions will apply to the determination of the Settlement Rate in relation to a Valuation Date:

- (a) "Averaging Date" means, in respect of a Valuation Date, each date specified as such or otherwise determined as provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that if any such date is not a Currency Business Day, such date shall be the first preceding day that is a Currency Business Day, unless (i) an Unscheduled Holiday occurs and Condition 13.3 (EM Unscheduled Holiday) applies; (ii) an event giving rise to EM Valuation Postponement occurs and Condition 13.5(a)(iii) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Postponement) applies; (iii) an event giving rise to EM Valuation Fallback Postponement occurs and Condition 13.5(a)(iv) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Fallback Postponement) applies; or (iv) otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

- (b) For purposes of determining the Settlement Rate in relation to a Valuation Date, the Settlement Rate will be the arithmetic mean of the Spot Rates on each Averaging Date (or, if different, the day on which rates for each Averaging Date would, in the ordinary course, be published or announced by the relevant price source).
- (c) Unless (i) an Unscheduled Holiday occurs and Condition 13.3 (EM Unscheduled Holiday) applies; (ii) an event giving rise to EM Valuation Postponement occurs and Condition 13.5(a)(iii) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Postponement) applies; (iii) an event giving rise to EM Valuation Fallback Postponement occurs and Condition 13.5(a)(iv) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Fallback Postponement) applies; or (iv) otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the case where it becomes impossible to obtain the Spot Rate on an Averaging Date (or, if different, the day on which rates for that Averaging Date would, in the ordinary course, be published or announced by the relevant price source), such Averaging Date will be deemed not to be a relevant Averaging Date for purposes of determining the relevant Settlement Rate. If through the operation of this Condition 13.2(c) (Averaging), there would not be an Averaging Date with respect to the relevant Valuation Date, the provisions of Condition 13.5 (Currency Disruption Fallbacks) shall apply for purposes of determining the relevant Spot Rate on the final Averaging Date with respect to that Valuation Date as if such Averaging Date were a Valuation Date on which a Price Source Disruption had occurred.

Where any Averaging Date in respect of a Valuation Date is postponed pursuant to Condition 13.3 (EM Unscheduled Holiday), Condition 13.5(a)(iii) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Postponement) or Condition 13.5(a)(iv) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Fallback Postponement) (as applicable), the Interest Payment Date or the Maturity Date to which the Averaging Date and the Valuation Date relates shall be the later of (a) the scheduled Interest Payment Date or Maturity Date (as the case may be) and (b) the date that falls two Currency Business Days after the final Averaging Date in respect of such Valuation Date (or such other date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement).

13.3 EM Unscheduled Holiday

If "EM Unscheduled Holiday" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that a Valuation Date or an Averaging Date is an Unscheduled Holiday in respect of a Settlement Rate, then the Valuation Date or Averaging Date, as the case may be, in respect of such Settlement Rate shall be the first succeeding Currency Business Day which is not an Unscheduled Holiday, unless the Determination Agent determines that such first Currency Business Day has not occurred on or before the Maximum Days of Unscheduled Holiday Postponement immediately following such scheduled Valuation Date or Averaging Date. In that case:

- (A) the next day after that period that would be a Currency Business Day but for the occurrence of an Unscheduled Holiday shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date or the Averaging Date, as the case may be (such day, the "Adjusted Valuation Date" or the "Adjusted Averaging Date", as applicable); and
- (B) the Determination Agent shall determine the Settlement Rate in respect of such Adjusted Valuation Date or Adjusted Averaging Date, as the case may be, in accordance with the first applicable Currency Disruption Fallback (applied in accordance with its terms) that provides the Settlement Rate.

If this Condition 13.3 (EM Unscheduled Holiday) applies, the provisions of Condition 13.4(a)(ii)(B) (Currency Disruption Events – Additional Price Source Disruption) shall not apply notwithstanding that "Additional Price Source Disruption" may be specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

13.4 Currency Disruption Events

- (a) If so specified in the Pricing Supplement relating to any Series of Notes, the following shall constitute "Currency Disruption Events" for the purposes of such Series:

- (i) "Price Source Disruption", which means it becomes impossible, as determined by the Determination Agent, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, to determine the Settlement Rate on any Averaging Date or Valuation Date (or, if different, the day on which rates for that Valuation Date would, in the ordinary course, be published or announced by the Reference Source);
- (ii) "Additional Price Source Disruption", which means in relation to the determination of the Settlement Rate on any Averaging Date or Valuation Date:
 - (A) the relevant exchange rate is not displayed on the Reference Source for such Averaging Date or Valuation Date;
 - (B) such Averaging Date or Valuation Date is an Unscheduled Holiday; or
 - (C) the Determination Agent determines in good faith that the exchange rate so displayed on the Reference Source is manifestly incorrect;
- (iii) "Price Materiality Event", which means the Primary Rate differs from the Secondary Rate by at least the Price Materiality Percentage;
- (iv) "Dual Exchange Rate", which means that the Settlement Rate splits into dual or multiple exchange rates;
- (v) "General Inconvertibility", which means in respect of a Currency Pair, the occurrence of any event that generally makes it impossible for the Issuer or the Determination Agent on its behalf to convert the Event Currency into the Non-Event Currency in the Event Currency Jurisdiction through customary legal channels;
- (vi) "General Non-Transferability", which means the occurrence of any event in or affecting any relevant jurisdiction that generally makes it impossible for the Issuer to deliver (A) the Non-Event Currency from accounts inside the Event Currency Jurisdiction to accounts outside the Event Currency Jurisdiction or (B) the Event Currency between accounts inside the Event Currency Jurisdiction or to a party that is a non-resident of the Event Currency Jurisdiction;
- (vii) "Illiquidity", which means it becomes impossible for the Issuer or the Determination Agent on its behalf to obtain a firm quote of the Settlement Rate for the Minimum Amount (either in one transaction or a commercially reasonable number of transactions that, when taken together, total the Minimum Amount) on the Valuation Date (or, if different, the day on which rates for that Valuation Date would, in the ordinary course, be published or announced by the relevant price source) or by such other date (the "Illiquidity Valuation Date") as is specified for such purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If an Illiquidity Valuation Date is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and an Illiquidity Currency Disruption Event occurs on such date, then the Illiquidity Valuation Date will be deemed to be the Valuation Date;
- (viii) "Governmental Authority Default", which means with respect to any security or indebtedness for borrowed money of, or guaranteed by, any Governmental Authority, the occurrence of a default, event of default or other similar condition or event (however described) including, but not limited to, (A) the failure of timely payment in full of any principal, interest or other amounts due (without giving effect to any applicable grace periods) in respect of any such security, indebtedness for borrowed money or guarantee, (B) a declared moratorium, standstill, waiver, deferral, repudiation or rescheduling of any principal, interest or other amounts due in respect of any such security, indebtedness for borrowed money or guarantee or (C) the amendment or modification of the terms and conditions of payment of any principal, interest or other amounts due in respect of any such security, indebtedness for borrowed money or guarantee without the consent of all holders of such obligation. The determination of the existence or occurrence of any default, event of default or other similar condition or event shall be made without regard to any lack or alleged lack of authority or capacity of such Governmental Authority to issue or enter into such security, indebtedness for borrowed money or guarantee;
- (ix) "Nationalization", which means any expropriation, confiscation, requisition, nationalization or other action by any Governmental Authority which deprives the Issuer (or any of its Affiliates), of all or substantially all of its assets in the Event Currency Jurisdiction;

- (x) "Material Change in Circumstance", which means the occurrence of any event (other than those events specified as Currency Disruption Events in this Condition 13.4 (Currency Disruption Events)) in the Event Currency Jurisdiction beyond the control of the Issuer which makes it impossible for the Issuer to fulfil its obligations under the Notes; and
 - (xi) any other (if any) currency disruption event specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
- (b) If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that any Currency Disruption Event shall be applicable to such Series, then, where the Determination Agent determines, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, that such Currency Disruption Event occurs or has occurred and is continuing in respect of such Series:
- (i) in the case of Price Source Disruption, on any Averaging Date or Valuation Date in respect of such Series (or, if different, the day on which rates for that Valuation Date would, in the ordinary course, be published or announced by the relevant price source); and
 - (ii) in the case of any other Currency Disruption Event, on any Averaging Date, Valuation Date or such other day as may be specified for this purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement,
- then the Settlement Rate for such Series will be determined in accordance with the terms of the Currency Disruption Fallback first applicable pursuant to Condition 13.5 (Currency Disruption Fallbacks), which shall be subject to Condition 13.4(c) below.
- (c)
- (i) If the Series of Notes is a single Currency-Linked Note, the provisions of Conditions 13.4(a) and (b) above shall apply.
 - (ii) If the Series of Notes is a Currency Basket-Linked Note, and the Determination Agent determines that a Currency Disruption Event has occurred on any Averaging Date, Valuation Date or Relevant Date in respect of any Settlement Rate (which for the purposes of Conditions 13.4 (Currency Disruption Events) and 13.5 (Currency Disruption Fallbacks) shall mean the Settlement Rate in respect of each Currency Pair), then:
 - (A) for each Settlement Rate for which the Determination Agent determines that a Currency Disruption Event has not occurred, the Settlement Rate shall be determined in accordance with the Conditions; and
 - (B) for each Settlement Rate for which the Determination Agent determines that a Currency Disruption Event has occurred, the Determination Agent shall determine the Settlement Rate in accordance with the applicable Currency Disruption Fallback in accordance with Condition 13.5 (Currency Disruption Fallbacks) and the applicable Pricing Supplement.

13.5 Currency Disruption Fallbacks

- (a) If so specified in the Pricing Supplement relating to any Series of Notes, the following shall constitute "Currency Disruption Fallbacks" for the purposes of such Series, and the applicable Pricing Supplement shall specify which Currency Disruption Fallback(s) shall apply to such Series, to which Currency Disruption Event each such Currency Disruption Fallback shall apply and, where more than one Currency Disruption Fallback may apply to a Currency Disruption Event, the order in which such Currency Disruption Fallback(s) shall apply to such Currency Disruption Event.
- (i) "Determination Agent Determination of Settlement Rate" means that the Determination Agent will determine, in its reasonable discretion, the Settlement Rate (or a method for determining the Settlement Rate), taking into consideration all available information that it deems relevant including (but not limited to), in the case of Currency Basket-Linked Notes, the relevant rate for each unaffected Currency Pair which was determined on the relevant Valuation Date;
 - (ii) "Fallback Reference Price" means that the Determination Agent will determine, in its reasonable discretion, the Settlement Rate for such Series on the relevant Valuation Date (or, if different, the day on which rates for that Valuation Date would, in the ordinary course, be published or announced) pursuant to Currency Reference Dealers, or pursuant to such other methodology or price sources as may be specified as the Fallback Reference Price in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

- (iii) "EM Valuation Postponement" means that if the Determination Agent determines that a Valuation Date, an Adjusted Valuation Date, an Averaging Date or an Adjusted Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of the Settlement Rate (which term shall include, where the applicable Pricing Supplement provides that the prior applicable Currency Disruption Fallback is "Fallback Reference Price", the Settlement Rate determined using the applicable Fallback Reference Price), then the Valuation Date, Adjusted Valuation Date, Averaging Date or Adjusted Averaging Date, as the case may be, shall be the first succeeding Currency Business Day which is not a Disrupted Day, unless the Determination Agent determines that no such Currency Business Day has occurred on or before the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Postponement immediately following such scheduled Valuation Date, Adjusted Valuation Date, Averaging Date or Adjusted Averaging Date, as the case may be. In that case:
 - (A) the next Currency Business Day after the EM Valuation Longstop Date shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date, Adjusted Valuation Date, Averaging Date or Adjusted Averaging Date, as the case may be, (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day); and
 - (B) the next Currency Disruption Fallback specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement shall apply;
- (iv) "EM Valuation Fallback Postponement" means that if the Determination Agent determines that the Settlement Rate (which term shall include, where the applicable Pricing Supplement provides that the prior applicable Currency Disruption Fallback is "Fallback Reference Price", the Settlement Rate determined using the applicable Fallback Reference Price) is not available (a) on the first Currency Business Day following the end of the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Postponement (where a Currency Disruption Event has occurred or exists in respect of the Settlement Rate throughout the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Postponement); or (b) the Adjusted Valuation Date or Adjusted Averaging Date, as the case may be, then the Valuation Date or the Averaging Date, as the case may be, shall be the first succeeding Currency Business Day which is not a Disrupted Day, unless the Determination Agent determines that no such Currency Business Day has occurred on or before the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Fallback Postponement immediately following such first Currency Business Day following the end of the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Postponement, or the Adjusted Valuation Date or Adjusted Averaging Date, as the case may be. In that case:
 - (A) the next Currency Business Day after the EM Valuation Fallback Longstop Date shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date or the Averaging Date, as the case may be, (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day); and
 - (B) the next Currency Disruption Fallback specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement shall apply;
- (v) "Cumulative Events" means that the total number of consecutive calendar days during which a Valuation Date or an Averaging Date, as the case may be, is deferred due to (i) an Unscheduled Holiday in circumstances where Condition 13.3 (EM Unscheduled Holiday) applies; (ii) EM Valuation Postponement; or (iii) EM Valuation Fallback Postponement (or a combination of (i) (ii) and (iii)), shall not exceed the Maximum Days of Cumulative Postponement in the aggregate.

Accordingly, if by the operation of the above paragraph, a Valuation Date or an Averaging Date, as the case may be, is postponed by the number of calendar days equal to the Maximum Days of Cumulative Postponement, then such Valuation Date or Averaging Date, as the case may be, shall be the Cumulative Postponement Longstop Date. If such Cumulative Postponement Longstop Date is a Disrupted Day, then the Determination Agent shall determine the Settlement Rate in respect of such Cumulative Postponement Longstop Date in accordance with the next applicable Currency Disruption Fallback; and

- (vi) any other provisions specified as Currency Disruption Fallbacks in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
- (b) Where more than one Currency Disruption Event occurs or exists or is deemed to occur or exist, then, unless the applicable Pricing Supplement has specified which Currency Disruption Fallback shall apply in such circumstances, the Determination Agent shall determine, in its reasonable discretion, which Currency Disruption Fallback shall apply.

13.6 Administrator/Benchmark Events

- (a) If the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable and an Administrator/Benchmark Event and an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occur;
 - (i) the Currency Disruption Fallbacks specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to apply with respect to Administrator/Benchmark Event will apply, or if none are specified, the Currency Disruption Fallbacks specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to apply shall be deemed to apply in accordance with Condition 13.5 (Currency Disruption Fallbacks) provided that if the Relevant FX Benchmark is not the Settlement Rate then references to the "Settlement Rate" in the applicable Currency Disruption Fallbacks and related definitions and provisions of these Conditions shall be deemed to be references to the Relevant FX Benchmark;
 - (ii) if it (i) is or would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (ii) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, for the Issuer or the Determination Agent to perform the actions prescribed in an applicable Currency Disruption Fallback (or it would be unlawful or would contravene those licensing requirements were a determination to be made at such time), the next applicable Currency Disruption Fallback will apply; and
 - (iii) if the Issuer determines that the last applicable Currency Disruption Fallback does not provide a Settlement Rate (including due to the applicability of paragraph (ii) above in relation to the last applicable Currency Disruption Fallback), then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to redeem the Notes and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment in respect of each Note of an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount.
- (b) The Determination Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Issuer, the Fiscal Agent and the Noteholders of the occurrence of an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date and of any action taken as a consequence, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.

13.7 Change to a Relevant FX Benchmark

If the definition, methodology or formula for a Relevant FX Benchmark, or other means of calculating the Relevant FX Benchmark, is changed (irrespective of the materiality of any such change or changes), then, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, references to that Relevant FX Benchmark shall be to the Relevant FX Benchmark as changed.

13.8 Additional Disruption Events

- (a) Following the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the relevant Notes shall continue or be redeemed early.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the redemption, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Notes and/or any other adjustment which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such adjustment in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such adjustment.
- (c) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall be redeemed early, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to redeem the Notes and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of an amount in respect of each Note equal to the Early Redemption Amount as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

- (d) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Fiscal Agent and the Determination Agent of the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event.
- (e) For the purposes hereof:

"Additional Disruption Event" means, if specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, with respect to any Series of Notes, a Change in Law, Hedging Disruption, Increased Cost of Hedging and any further event or events as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

13.9 Definitions applicable to Currency-Linked Notes

In relation to Currency-Linked Notes, the following expressions have the meanings set out below:

"Additional Currency Financial Centre(s)" means the city or cities specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Base Currency" means the currency specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (A) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (B) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Issuer determines that (x) it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of Hedge Positions or (y) it will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations with respect to the Notes (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position);

"Cumulative Postponement Longstop Date" means, in respect of any postponement by a number of days equal to the Maximum Days of Cumulative Postponement, the last day of such postponement;

"Currency Business Day" means, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement:

- (a) for the purposes of the definition of "Valuation Date" in Condition 13.1 (Valuation Date), in respect of any Series of Currency-Linked Notes: (i) a day on which commercial banks are (or but for the occurrence of a Currency Disruption Event, would have been) open for business (including dealings in foreign exchange in accordance with the market practice of the foreign exchange market) in the Principal Financial Centre(s) of the Reference Currency and, if so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement for this paragraph (a), in any Additional Currency Financial Centre or (ii) where the currency to be valued is euro, a day that is a TARGET Settlement Day and a Business Day;
- (b) for any other purpose, in respect of any Series of Currency-Linked Notes: (i) a day on which commercial banks are open for general business (including dealings in foreign exchange in accordance with the market practice of the foreign exchange market) in the Principal Financial Centre(s) of the Reference Currency and, if so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement for this paragraph (b), in any Additional Currency Financial Centre and (ii) where one of the Currency Pair is euro, a day that is a TARGET Settlement Day;

"Currency Pair" means the Reference Currency and the Base Currency;

"Currency Reference Dealers" means that the Settlement Rate or the Spot Rate for a Rate Calculation Date will be determined on the basis of quotations provided by Reference Dealers on that Rate Calculation Date of that day's Specified Rate, expressed as the amount of Reference Currency per one unit of Base Currency for settlement on the Maturity Date (or other relevant date for payment under the Notes). The Determination Agent will request each of the Reference Dealers to provide a firm quotation of its Specified Rate for a transaction where the amount of Reference Currency equals the Specified Amount. If four quotations are provided, the rate for a Rate Calculation Date will be the arithmetic mean of the Specified Rates, without regard to the Specified Rates having the highest and lowest value. If exactly three quotations are provided, the rate for a Rate Calculation Date will be the Specified Rate provided by the Reference Dealer that remains after disregarding the Specified Rates having the highest and lowest values. For this purpose, if more than one quotation has the same highest value or lowest value, then the Specified Rate of one of such quotations shall be disregarded. If exactly two quotations are provided, the rate for a Rate Calculation Date will be the arithmetic mean of the Specified Rates. If only one quotation is provided, the rate for a Rate Calculation Date will be the Specified Rate quoted by that Reference Dealer. The quotations used to determine the Spot Rate for a Rate Calculation Date will be determined in each case at the Specified Time on that Rate Calculation Date, or, if no such time is specified, the time chosen by the Determination Agent;

"Disrupted Day" means any day on which a Currency Disruption Event occurs or has occurred and is continuing;

"EM Valuation Fallback Longstop Date" means, in respect of any postponement by a number of days equal to the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Fallback Postponement, the last day of such postponement;

"EM Valuation Longstop Date" means, in respect of any postponement by a number of days equal to the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Postponement, the last day of such postponement;

"Event Currency" means the Reference Currency, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Event Currency Jurisdiction" means the country for which the Event Currency is the lawful currency;

"Governmental Authority" means any de facto or de jure government (or any agency or instrumentality thereof), court, tribunal, administrative or other governmental authority or any other entity (private or public) charged with the regulation of the financial markets (including the central bank) of a relevant jurisdiction;

"Hedge Positions" means any purchase, sale, entry into or maintenance of one or more (i) positions or contracts in securities, commodities, options, futures, derivatives or foreign exchange, (ii) stock loan transactions or (iii) other instruments or arrangements (howsoever described) by a party in order to hedge, individually or on a portfolio basis, the Notes;

"Hedging Disruption" means that the Issuer is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to (A) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations under the Notes, or (B) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transactions or asset(s);

"Increased Cost of Hedging" means that the Issuer would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (A) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations with respect to the Notes or (B) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s) provided that any such materially increased amount that is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Issuer shall not be deemed an Increased Cost of Hedging;

"Maximum Days of Cumulative Postponement" means the number of days specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Maximum Days of EM Valuation Fallback Postponement" means the number of days specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Maximum Days of EM Valuation Postponement" means the number of days specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Maximum Days of Unscheduled Holiday Postponement" means the number of days specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Minimum Amount" means, for the purposes of an Illiquidity Currency Disruption Event, the amount specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if such an amount is not specified, the Specified Amount;

"Non-Event Currency" means, in respect of a Currency Pair, the currency that is not the Event Currency;

"Price Materiality Percentage" means the percentage specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Primary Rate" means the rate specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Rate Calculation Date" means any Valuation Date or Averaging Date (as defined in Conditions 13.1 (Valuation Date) and 13.2 (Averaging), respectively);

"Reference Currency" means the currency specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Reference Dealers" means the reference dealers specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Reference Source" means the source (such as a Reuters screen page, Bloomberg page or website) specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement or any successor;

"Relevant FX Benchmark" means, in respect of any Notes:

- (i) the Settlement Rate;
- (ii) the Primary Rate and the Secondary Rate; and
- (iii) any other index, benchmark, rate or price source which is referenced in the Notes and which is a measure constituting an index (or combination of indices) under any law or regulation applicable to the Notes and identified as a "Relevant FX Benchmark" in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

To the extent that a Fallback Reference Price is used, it shall be a "Relevant FX Benchmark" from the day on which it is used.

"Secondary Rate" means the rate specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Settlement Rate" means the rate as determined by the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, in accordance with the applicable Pricing Supplement and, where applicable shall be determined in accordance with Condition 13.2 (Averaging);

"Specified Amount" means the amount of Reference Currency specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Specified Rate" means any of the following rates, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement: (i) the Reference Currency bid exchange rate, (ii) the Reference Currency offer exchange rate, (iii) the average of the Reference Currency bid and offer exchange rates, (iv) the Base Currency bid exchange rate, (v) the Base Currency offer exchange rate, (vi) the average of the Base Currency bid and offer exchange rates, (vii) the official fixing rate or (viii) any other exchange rate specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If no such rate is specified, the Specified Rate will be deemed to be the average of the Reference Currency bid and offer rate;

"Specified Time" means, in respect of any series of Notes and the determination of the Spot Rate, the time specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement or if no such time is specified the time chosen by the Determination Agent;

"Spot Rate" means for any Valuation Date, the relevant currency exchange rate, expressed as the amount of Reference Currency per one unit of Base Currency, determined as the currency exchange rate at the time at which such rate is to be determined for foreign exchange transactions in the Currency Pair for value on the Maturity Date (or other relevant date for payment under the Notes), as determined in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner by the Determination Agent; and

"Unscheduled Holiday" means that a day is not a Currency Business Day and that the market was not aware of such fact (by means of a public announcement or by reference to other publicly available information) until a time later than 9:00 a.m. local time in the Principal Financial Centre(s) of the Reference Currency two Currency Business Days prior to such day.

14. Provisions relating to Inflation-Linked Notes

This Condition 14 (Provisions relating to Inflation-Linked Notes) is applicable in respect of any Series of Notes ("Inflation-Linked Notes") where "Inflation-Linked Interest Note Provisions" and/or "Inflation-Linked Redemption Provisions" are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

14.1 Delay of Publication

If any level of an Index for a Reference Month which is relevant to the calculation of a payment under the Notes (a "Relevant Level") has not been published or announced by the Inflation Determination Date, the Determination Agent shall determine a Substitute Index Level (in place of such Relevant Level) by using the following methodology:

- (i) If applicable, the Determination Agent will take the same action to determine the Substitute Index Level in respect of the relevant Inflation Determination Date as that taken by the calculation agent pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Related Bond;
- (ii) If (i) above does not result in a Substitute Index Level in respect of such Inflation Determination Date for any reason, then the Calculation Agent shall determine the Substitute Index Level in a commercially reasonable manner in its reasonable discretion.

If a Relevant Level is published or announced at any time after the Inflation Determination Date, such Relevant Level will not be used in any calculations. The Substitute Index Level so determined pursuant to this Condition 14.1 (Delay of Publication), will be the definitive level for that Reference Month.

14.2 Cessation of Publication

If a level for the Index has not been published or announced for two consecutive months or the Index Sponsor announces that it will no longer continue to publish or announce the Index then the Determination Agent shall determine a Successor Index (in lieu of any previously applicable Index) for the purposes of the Notes by using the following methodology:

- (a) If at any time a Successor Index has been designated by the calculation agent of the Related Bond pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Related Bond, such Successor Index shall be designated a "Successor Index" for the purposes of all subsequent Specified Interest Payment Dates or other relevant payment date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to the Notes, notwithstanding that any other Successor Index may previously have been determined under Conditions 14.2(b), 14.2(c) or 14.2(d) (Cessation of Publication) below; or
- (b) If a Successor Index has not been determined under Condition 14.2(a) above and a notice has been given or an announcement has been made by the Index Sponsor, specifying that the Index will be superseded by a replacement index specified by the Index Sponsor, and the Determination Agent determines that such replacement index is calculated using the same or substantially similar formula or method of calculation as used in the calculation of the previously applicable Index, such replacement index shall be the Index for purposes of the Notes from the date that such replacement index comes into effect; or
- (c) If a Successor Index has not been determined under Condition 14.2(a) or 14.2(b) above, the Determination Agent shall ask five leading independent dealers to state what the replacement Index for the Index should be. If between four and five responses are received, and of those four or five responses, three or more leading independent dealers state the same Index, this Index will be deemed the "Successor Index". If three responses are received, and two or more leading independent dealers state the same Index, this Index will be deemed the "Successor Index". If fewer than three responses are received, the Determination Agent will proceed to Condition 14.2(d) below;
- (d) If no Successor Index has been determined under Condition 14.2(a), 14.2(b) or 14.2(c) (Cessation of Publication) by the next Inflation Determination Date, the Determination Agent will determine an appropriate alternative index, and such index will be deemed a "Successor Index"; or

- (e) If the Determination Agent determines that there is no appropriate alternative index, the Issuer shall give not less than five Inflation Business Days' notice to redeem the Notes and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment in respect of each Note of an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount.

14.3 Rebasing of the Index

If the Determination Agent determines that an Index has been or will be rebased at any time, the Index as so rebased (the "Rebased Index") will be used for purposes of determining the level of such Index from the date of such rebasing; provided, however, that the Determination Agent shall make such adjustments as are made by the calculation agent of the Related Bond pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Related Bond, if any, to the levels of the Rebased Index so that the Rebased Index levels reflect the same rate of inflation as the Index before it was rebased. If there is no Related Bond, the Determination Agent shall make adjustments to the levels of the Rebased Index so that the Rebased Index levels reflect the same rate of inflation as the Index before it was rebased. Any such rebasing shall not affect any prior payments made under the Notes.

14.4 Material Modification Prior to Payment Date

If, on or prior to the Inflation Determination Date, an Index Sponsor announces that it will make a material change to an Index then the Determination Agent shall make any such adjustments to the Index consistent with adjustments made to the Related Bond, or, if there is no Related Bond, only those adjustments necessary for the modified Index to continue as the Index.

14.5 Manifest Error in Publication

If, within thirty days of publication and prior to the redemption of the Notes or payments in respect of any relevant Specified Interest Payment Date or other relevant payment date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to the Notes, the Determination Agent determines that the Index Sponsor has corrected the level of the Index to remedy a manifest error in its original publication, the Determination Agent will notify the holders of the Notes in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices) of (a) that correction, (b) the adjusted amount that is then payable under the Notes as a result of that correction and (c) take such other action as it may deem necessary to give effect to such correction, provided that any amount payable pursuant to sub-paragraph (b) above shall be paid (with no interest accruing thereon) (i) in connection with an Index Sponsor's correction to remedy a manifest error in the level of an Index for a Reference Month for which the Specified Interest Payment Date or other relevant payment date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to the Notes has occurred, within 15 Inflation Business Days after notice of such amount payable by the Determination Agent, (ii) in connection with an Index Sponsor's correction to remedy a manifest error in the level of an Index for a Reference Month for which the Specified Interest Payment Date or other relevant payment date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to the Notes has not occurred, as an adjustment to the payment obligation on the next Specified Interest Payment Date or (iii) if there is no further Specified Interest Payment Date or other relevant payment date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to the Notes, within 15 Inflation Business Days after notice of such amount payable by the Determination Agent.

14.6 Additional Disruption Events

- (a) Following the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the relevant Notes shall continue or be redeemed early.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the redemption, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Notes and/or any other adjustment which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such adjustment in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such adjustment.
- (c) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall be redeemed early, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Inflation Business Days' notice to redeem the Notes and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of an amount in respect of each Note equal to the Early Redemption Amount.

- (d) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Fiscal Agent and the Determination Agent of the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event.

- (e) For the purposes hereof:

"Additional Disruption Event" means, if specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, with respect to any Series of Notes, a Change in Law, Hedging Disruption, Increased Cost of Hedging, and any further event or events as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

14.7 Definitions Applicable to Inflation-Linked Notes

In relation to Inflation-Linked Notes, the following expressions have the meanings set out below:

"Affected Payment Date" means each Specified Interest Payment Date or other relevant payment date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to the Notes in respect of which an Index has not been published or announced;

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (a) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (b) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Issuer determines that (i) it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of Hedge Positions or (ii) it will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations with respect to the Notes (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position);

"Daily Inflation Rate" means, in respect of an Inflation Valuation Date, the daily interpolated level of the Index for the relevant Inflation Valuation Date, determined as follows:

$$MIL_t + (MIL_{t1} - MIL_t) \times \frac{D-1}{N}$$

where:

"MIL_t" means the Index level for the Reference Month that is the number of months immediately preceding the relevant Inflation Valuation Date as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If the number of months is not specified, 3 months shall apply.

"MIL_{t1}" means the Index level for the Reference Month that is the number of months immediately preceding the relevant Inflation Valuation Date as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If the number of months is not specified, 2 months shall apply.

"D" means, in respect of an Inflation Valuation Date, the number of the calendar day of such Inflation Valuation Date, as determined by the Determination Agent.

"N" means, in respect of an Inflation Valuation Date, the total number of calendar days of the month in which such Inflation Valuation Date falls, as determined by the Determination Date.

"Fallback Bond" means a bond selected by the Determination Agent and issued by the government of the country to whose level of inflation the Index relates and which pays a coupon or redemption amount which is calculated by reference to the Index, with a maturity date which falls on (a) the same date as the Maturity Date, (b) the next longest maturity after the Maturity Date, or (c) the next shortest maturity before the Maturity Date if no bond defined in (a) and (b) is selected by the Determination Agent. If the Index relates to the level of inflation across the European Monetary Union, the Determination Agent will select an inflation-linked bond that is a debt obligation of one of the governments (but not any government agency) of France, Italy, Germany or Spain and which pays a coupon or redemption amount which is calculated by reference to the level of inflation in the European Monetary Union. In each case, the Determination Agent will select the Fallback Bond from those inflation-linked bonds issued on or before the Issue Date of the Notes and, if there is more than one inflation-linked bond maturing on the same date, the Fallback Bond shall be selected by the Determination Agent from those bonds. If the

Fallback Bond redeems the Determination Agent will select a new Fallback Bond on the same basis, but selected from all eligible bonds in issue at the time the original Fallback Bond redeems (including any bond for which the redeemed bond is exchanged);

"Hedge Positions" means any purchase, sale, entry into or maintenance of one or more (a) positions or contracts in securities, commodities, options, futures, derivatives or foreign exchange, (b) stock loan transactions or (c) other instruments or arrangements (howsoever described) by a party in order to hedge, individually or on a portfolio basis, the Notes;

"Hedging Disruption" means that the Issuer is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to (a) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations under the Notes, or (b) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transactions or asset(s);

"Increased Cost of Hedging" means that the Issuer would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (a) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations with respect to the Notes or (b) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s) provided that any such materially increased amount that is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Issuer shall not be deemed an Increased Cost of Hedging;

"Index" means any index specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Index Sponsor" means, in respect of an Index, the entity specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if no entity is specified, the entity that publishes or announces (directly or through an agent) the level of the relevant Index;

"Inflation Business Days" means, the business days specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if such business days are not specified, if the Index is measuring the rate of inflation in (a) the United States, any day, other than a Saturday or Sunday that is also a day that is neither a legal holiday nor a day on which banking institutions are authorised or required by law or regulation to close in New York, (b) France, Spain, Germany or the European Monetary Union, any TARGET Settlement Days or (c) the United Kingdom, any day, other than a Saturday or Sunday that is also a day that is neither a legal holiday nor a day on which banking institutions are authorised or required by law or regulation to close in London.

"Inflation Determination Date" means the date that is 5 Inflation Business Days prior to an Inflation Valuation Date;

"Inflation Valuation Date" means, as applicable, (a) each Specified Interest Payment Date, (b) the Maturity Date (unadjusted), (c) any date fixed for early redemption of the Notes, or (d) other relevant payment date on which a payment due under the Notes is to be determined by reference to the relevant Index;

"Reference Month" means the calendar month for which the level of the relevant Index was reported, regardless of when this information is published or announced. If the period for which the Index level was reported is a period other than a month, the Reference Month will be the period for which the Index level was reported;

"Related Bond" means the bond specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or if no bond is so specified, the Fallback Bond. If the Related Bond is "Fallback Bond", then for any Related Bond determination under these Conditions, the Determination Agent shall use the Fallback Bond (as that is defined in this Condition 14.8 (Definitions Applicable to Inflation-Linked Notes) herein). If no bond is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the Related Bond and "Fallback Bond: Not Applicable" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement there will be no Related Bond. If a bond is selected as the Related Bond in the applicable Pricing Supplement, and that bond redeems or matures before the relevant Maturity Date, unless "Fallback Bond: Not Applicable" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Determination Agent shall use the Fallback Bond for any Related Bond determination;

"Substitute Index Level" means an Index level, determined by the Determination Agent pursuant to the provisions of Condition 14.1 (Delay of Publication), in respect of an Affected Payment Date; and

"Successor Index" has the meaning specified in Condition 14.2 (Cessation of Publication).

15. Provisions relating to Property-Linked Notes

This Condition 15 (Provisions relating to Property-Linked Notes) is applicable in respect of any Series of Notes ("Property-Linked Notes") where "Property-Linked Interest Note Provisions" and/or "Property-Linked Redemption Provisions" are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

15.1 Rebasing of the Property Index

If the Determination Agent determines that an Index has been or will be Rebased at any time (the Property Index as so Rebased, the "Rebased Property Index"), the Rebased Property Index will be used for the purposes of determining the level of the Property Index from the date of such Rebasing, provided however, that the Determination Agent shall adjust the terms of the Notes so that the use of the Rebased Property Index reflects what would have been the performance of the Index had the Rebasing not occurred save that any such Rebasing shall not affect any prior payments under the Notes.

15.2 Error in Publication

If the Determination Agent determines that an Error in Publication has occurred with respect to the Property Index, the Determination Agent may (a) use the corrected level of the Property Index to make any relevant calculations and/or (b) make any necessary adjustments to the relevant Property Index Level and such other terms of the Notes as it in its reasonable discretion determines to be appropriate to account for such Error in Publication.

For these purposes:

An "Error in Publication" will occur if the Property Index Sponsor announces that an error has occurred with respect to the Property Index Level as published on any Publication Date; the Property Index Level for such Publication Date is corrected to remedy such error; and the correction is published by the Index Sponsor at any time prior to the next following Scheduled Publication Date or if earlier any relevant determination date. An Error in Publication will not include a routine revision in the level of the Index in a regularly scheduled republication of the Index.

15.3 Determination Agent Unable to Perform Actions

If it (a) is or would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (b) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, for the Determination Agent to perform the actions prescribed in Condition 15.2 (Error in Publication), then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to redeem the Notes and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment in respect of each Note of an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount.

15.4 Notification of Inability to Perform Actions

The Determination Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Issuer, the Fiscal Agent and the Noteholders of the occurrence of the event described in Condition 15.3 (Determination Agent Unable to Perform Actions) and of any action taken as a consequence, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.

15.5 Property Index Cancellation or Administrator/Benchmark Event Date

If, for a Property Index and with respect to a Property Index Level, on or prior to the Maturity Date or Early Redemption Date, either (1) the Property Index Sponsor permanently cancels the Property Index and no Replacement Property Index exists (a "Property Index Cancellation") or (2) the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and an Administrator/Benchmark Event and an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of such Property Index, then:

- (i) If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and if an Alternative Pre-nominated Index has been specified in relation to such Property Index in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then:
 - (A) the Determination Agent shall attempt to determine an Adjustment Payment;
 - (B) if the Determination Agent determines an Adjustment Payment,
 - (aa) it shall notify the Issuer of the Adjustment Payment and if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Noteholder would (but for Condition 15.5(i)(B)(cc)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Note, request the Issuer to notify the Determination Agent whether it intends to redeem the Notes pursuant to Condition 15.8 (Property Index Adjustment Event). If the Issuer does not intend to redeem the Notes pursuant to Condition 15.8 (Property Index Adjustment Event) then the following provisions of this Condition 15.5(i) (Property Index Cancellation or Administrator/Benchmark Event Date) shall apply;
 - (bb) the terms of the Notes shall be amended so that references to the Property Index are replaced by references to the Alternative Pre-nominated Index;
 - (cc) the Conditions shall be adjusted to implement the Adjustment Payment as follows:
 - (a) if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Issuer is required to pay in respect of each Note, the Determination Agent shall adjust the Conditions to provide for the payment of the Adjustment Payment on the immediately succeeding Interest Payment Date or if there is no such immediately succeeding Interest Payment Date, on the Maturity Date or other date when the Notes are redeemed in full; or
 - (b) if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Noteholder would (but for this Condition 15.5(i)(B)(cc)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Note, the Determination Agent shall adjust the Conditions to provide for the reduction of the amounts due by the Issuer until the aggregate amount of such reductions is equal to the Adjustment Payment, (subject, in the determination of the Determination Agent, to any minimum redemption amount of the Notes which the Determination Agent determines is required pursuant to any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law) and the rules of each listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system by which the Notes have then been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation);
 - (dd) the Determination Agent shall make such other adjustments to the Conditions as it determines necessary or appropriate in order to account for the effect of the replacement of the Property Index with the Alternative Pre-nominated Index and/or to preserve as nearly as practicable the economic equivalence of the Notes before and after the replacement of the Property Index with the Alternative Pre-nominated Index; and
 - (ee) the Determination Agent shall notify the Issuer, the Fiscal Agent and the Noteholders of any replacement of the Property Index by the Alternative Pre-nominated Index, the Adjustment Payment and any other adjustments to the Conditions, giving summary details of the adjustment(s), provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing; or
 - (C) If the Determination Agent is unable to determine an Adjustment Payment, then a Property Index Disruption Event shall be deemed to have occurred and Condition 15.8 (Property Index Adjustment Event) shall apply; or

- (ii) If the applicable Pricing Supplement does not specify that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable or, if the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable but does not specify an Alternative Pre-nominated Index in relation to the Relevant Property Index Benchmark, then a Property Index Disruption Event shall be deemed to have occurred and Condition 15.8 (Property Index Adjustment Event) shall apply.

15.6 Delay in Publication

If the Property Index Level has not been announced by the Scheduled Publication Date or if earlier any relevant determination date, the following will apply:

- (a) if the Property Index Sponsor publishes a provisional Property Index Level prior to the next Scheduled Publication Date or if earlier any relevant determination date, such provisional level of the Property Index for that Measurement Period shall apply for the purposes of the Notes; or
- (b) if the Property Index Sponsor fails to publish the Property Index Level prior to the next occurring Scheduled Publication Date or if earlier any relevant determination date, in circumstances other than those described in Condition 15.5 (Property Index Cancellation or Administrator/Benchmark Event Date), a Property Index Disruption Event shall be deemed to have occurred and Condition 15.8 (Property Index Adjustment Event) shall apply.

15.7 Methodology Adjustment

If the Property Index Sponsor announces that it has changed the methodology in calculating a Property Index and:

- (a) continues publication of a property index based on the original methodology (the "Replacement Property Index"), such Replacement Property Index shall apply in lieu of the original Property Index in relation to the Notes; or
- (b) discontinues publication of the Property Index based on the original Computational Methodology, a Property Index Disruption Event shall be deemed to have occurred and the procedure set out in Condition 15.8 (Property Index Adjustment Event) shall apply.

15.8 Property Index Adjustment Event

If:

- (i) a Property Index Cancellation occurs and the Pricing Supplement does not specify that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable;
- (ii) a Property Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of a Property Index, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable but does not specify an Alternative Pre-nominated Index;
- (iii) a Property Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of a Property Index, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and specifies an Alternative Pre-nominated Index but the Determination Agent is unable to determine the Adjustment Payment;
- (iv) a Property Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of a Property Index, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and specifies an Alternative Pre-nominated Index and the Determination Agent determines that the Adjustment Payment would be an amount that the Noteholder would (but for Condition 15.5(i)(B)(cc)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Note; or
- (v) a Property Index Disruption Event occurs, then the Issuer shall, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the relevant Notes shall continue or be redeemed early. If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, to preserve the economic value of the Notes. If the Issuer determines that the Notes shall be redeemed early, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the holders (in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices)) to redeem each Note at an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount.

The Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the redemption, settlement or payment terms of the relevant Notes and/or any other adjustment, which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such change or adjustment in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.

15.9 Notification of Property Index Adjustment Event

The Determination Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Issuer, the Fiscal Agent and the Noteholders of the occurrence of a Property Index Adjustment Event and of any action taken as a consequence, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.

15.10 Additional Disruption Events

- (a) Following the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the relevant Notes shall continue or be redeemed early.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the redemption, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Notes and/or any other adjustment which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine.
- (c) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall be redeemed early, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to redeem the Notes and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of an amount in respect of each Note equal to the Early Redemption Amount.
- (d) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Fiscal Agent and the Determination Agent of the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event.
- (e) For the purposes hereof:

"Additional Disruption Event" means, if specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, with respect to any Series of Notes, a Change in Law, Hedging Disruption, Increased Cost of Hedging, and any further event or events as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

15.11 Definitions Applicable to Property-Linked Notes

In relation to Property-Linked Notes, the following expressions have the meanings set out below:

"Adjustment Payment" means, in respect of any Note, the payment (if any) determined by the Determination Agent as is required in order to reduce or eliminate, to the extent reasonably practicable, any transfer of economic value to or from the Issuer as a result of the replacement of the Property Index by the Alternative Pre-nominated Index;

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (a) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (b) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Issuer determines that (i) it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of Hedge Positions or (ii) it will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations with respect to the Notes (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position);

"Data Pool" means the pool of properties underlying a Property Index.

"Hedge Positions" means any purchase, sale, entry into or maintenance of one or more (a) positions or contracts in securities, commodities, options, futures, derivatives or foreign exchange, (b) stock loan transactions or (c) other instruments or arrangements (howsoever described) by a party in order to hedge, individually or on a portfolio basis, the Notes;

"Hedging Disruption" means that the Issuer is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to (a) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations under the Notes, or (b) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transactions or asset(s);

"Increased Cost of Hedging" means that the Issuer would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (a) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations with respect to the Notes or (b) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s) provided that any such materially increased amount that is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Issuer shall not be deemed an Increased Cost of Hedging;

"Property Index" means any index specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Property Index Adjustment Event" means, in respect of a Property Index, any of the events listed in Condition 15.8 (Property Index Adjustment Event);

"Property Index Disruption Event" means, in respect of a Property Index, either of the events described in Condition 15.6(b) (Delay in Publication) or Condition 15.7(b) (Methodology Adjustment);

"Property Index Level" means the final level of the relevant Property Index for a specified period or a specified date (as set out in the Pricing Supplement), as published by the Property Index Sponsor (or otherwise determined as set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement);

"Publication Date" means, in respect of an Index, each date on which such Property Index is published by the Property Index Sponsor;

"Rebasing" means the revaluation of a Property Index by the Property Index Sponsor by the application of a new Reference Price, without amendment to the formula for or the method of calculating the Index, and "Rebased" will be construed accordingly;

"Reference Price" means the historic value of the Data Pool used by the Property Index Sponsor as the benchmark for a Property Index; and

"Relevant Property Index Benchmark" means the Property Index;

"Scheduled Publication Date" means the date on which the Property Index Level is scheduled to be published.

16. Provisions relating to Fund-Linked Notes

This Condition 16 (Provisions relating to Fund-Linked Notes) is applicable in respect of any Series of Notes ("Fund-Linked Notes") where "Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions" and/or "Fund-Linked Redemption Provisions" are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

16.1 Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption:

- (a) If a Reference Date is not a Fund Business Day for any Fund Interest, the relevant Reference Date shall be the next succeeding Fund Business Day or, if either "Common Fund Business Days and Common Disrupted Days" or "Common Fund Business Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the next succeeding Common Fund Business Day.

- (b) The Determination Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Issuer of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day on any day that, but for the occurrence or continuance of a Disrupted Day, would have been a Reference Date.
- (c) If any Reference Date is a Disrupted Day, then:
 - (i) in the case of Single Fund Notes, the relevant Reference Date shall be the next succeeding Fund Business Day that is not in the determination of the Determination Agent a Disrupted Day, unless no Fund Business Day that is not a Disrupted Day has occurred prior to the last Fund Business Day of the Cut-off Period following the Scheduled Reference Date. In that case, (i) the last Fund Business Day of such Cut-off Period shall be deemed to be the Reference Date, notwithstanding the fact that such Fund Business Day is a Disrupted Day, and (ii) the Determination Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for the Fund Interest as of the Valuation Time on that deemed Reference Date; or
 - (ii) in the case of Fund Basket Notes:
 - (A) where "Individual Fund Business Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then:
 - (1) the Reference Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Reference Date for such Basket Component; and
 - (2) the Reference Date for any Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day (each an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the first Fund Business Day following the relevant Scheduled Reference Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component, unless no Fund Business Day that is not a Disrupted Day has occurred prior to the last Fund Business Day of the Cut-off Period following the Scheduled Reference Date. In that case, (i) the last Fund Business Day of such Cut-off Period shall be deemed to be the Reference Date, notwithstanding the fact that such Fund Business Day is a Disrupted Day, and (ii) the Determination Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for that Affected Basket Component as of the Valuation Time on that deemed Reference Date;
 - (B) where "Common Fund Business Days and Common Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then if the Determination Agent determines that any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, the Reference Date for each Basket Component shall be the first Common Fund Business Day following the relevant Scheduled Reference Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, unless no Common Fund Business Day that is not a Disrupted Day has occurred prior to the last Fund Business Day of the Cut-off Period following the Scheduled Reference Date. In that case, (i) the last Fund Business Day of such Cut-off Period shall be deemed to be the Reference Date, notwithstanding the fact that such Fund Business Day is a Disrupted Day, and (ii) the Determination Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for each Basket Component as of the Valuation Time on that deemed Reference Date;
 - (C) where "Common Fund Business Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then:

- (1) the Reference Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Reference Date for such Basket Component; and
 - (2) the Reference Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day (each an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the first Fund Business Day following the relevant Scheduled Reference Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component, unless no Fund Business Day for such Basket Component that is not a Disrupted Day has occurred prior to the last Fund Business Day of the Cut-off Period following the Scheduled Reference Date. In that case, (i) the last Fund Business Day of such Cut-off Period shall be deemed to be the Reference Date, notwithstanding the fact that such Fund Business Day is a Disrupted Day, and (ii) the Determination Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for that Affected Basket Component as of the Valuation Time on that deemed Reference Date;
- (d) If Averaging Dates are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement with respect to a Reference Date then, notwithstanding any other provisions of the Conditions, the following provisions will apply to the valuation of the relevant Fund Interest or Basket of Funds in relation to the relevant Reference Date:
 - (i) If, in respect of Single Fund Notes, any Averaging Date in respect of a Reference Date is a Disrupted Day, then the Averaging Date shall be the first succeeding Valid Date. If the first succeeding Valid Date has not occurred prior to the Cut-off Period following the original date that, but for the occurrence of another Averaging Date or Disrupted Day, would have been the final Averaging Date in respect of the relevant Scheduled Reference Date, then (1) the last day of such Cut-off Period shall be deemed the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether such day is already an Averaging Date), and (2) the Determination Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for the Fund Interest as of the Valuation Time on that deemed Averaging Date; and
 - (ii) If, in the case of Fund Basket Notes, a Scheduled Averaging Date in respect of a Reference Date is determined by the Determination Agent to be a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then:
 - (A) where "Individual Fund Business Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
 - (1) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (2) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the first succeeding Valid Date in relation to such Affected Basket Component. If the first succeeding Valid Date has not occurred prior to the Cut-off Period following the original date that, but for the occurrence of another Averaging Date or Disrupted Day, would have been the final Averaging Date in respect of the relevant Scheduled Reference Date, then (1) the last day of such Cut-off Period shall be deemed the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether such day is already an Averaging Date notwithstanding the fact that such day may not be a Valid Date), and (2) the Determination Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for that Affected Basket Component as of the Valuation Time on that deemed Averaging Date;
 - (B) where "Common Fund Business Days and Common Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then the Averaging Date for each Basket Component shall be the first succeeding Common Valid Date. If the first succeeding Common Valid Date has not occurred prior to the Cut-off Period following the original date that, but for the occurrence of another Averaging Date or Disrupted

Day, would have been the final Averaging Date in respect of the relevant Scheduled Reference Date, then (1) the last day of such Cut-off Period shall be deemed the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether such day is already an Averaging Date and notwithstanding the fact that such day may not be a Common Valid Date), and (2) the Determination Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for each Basket Component as of the Valuation Time on that deemed Averaging Date; and

- (C) where "Common Fund Business Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
- (1) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (2) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the first succeeding Valid Date in relation to such Affected Basket Component. If the first succeeding Valid Date has not occurred prior to the Cut-off Period following the original date that, but for the occurrence of another Averaging Date or Disrupted Day, would have been the final Averaging Date in respect of the relevant Scheduled Reference Date, then (1) the last day of such Cut-off Period shall be deemed the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether such day is already an Averaging Date and notwithstanding the fact that such day may not be a Valid Date), and (2) the Determination Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for that Affected Basket Component as of the Valuation Time on that deemed Averaging Date.

16.2 Potential Adjustment Events

Following the declaration by any Fund or Fund Service Provider of the terms of any Potential Adjustment Event, the Determination Agent will determine whether such Potential Adjustment Event has a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Fund Interest or amount of Fund Interest and, if so, will (a) make the corresponding adjustment(s), if any, to any one or more of the Redemption Amount and/or any such other amounts payable under the Notes, the Reference Price and, in any case, any other variable relevant to the calculation, valuation, payment or other terms of Notes as the Determination Agent determines appropriate to account for that diluting or concentrative effect (provided that no adjustments will be made to account solely for changes in volatility, expected dividends or liquidity relative to the relevant Fund Interest) and (b) determine the effective date(s) of the adjustment(s).

16.3 Corrections

Unless occurring after the day falling three Business Days prior to a due date for any payment or delivery under the Notes calculated by reference to the value of, or proceeds received from, any Fund Interest, if the Determination Agent determines that a Fund or a Fund Administrator adjusts any relevant value of the Fund Interest, including the Reference Price or the Redemption Proceeds that would have been paid to a Hypothetical Investor redeeming the relevant number of Fund Interests that are subject to valuation used for determining amounts and/or assets due under the Notes, then the Determination Agent shall make such adjustments to the terms of the Notes as it determines necessary and practicable to reflect that the relevant value of the Fund Interest to be used shall be the value of, or proceeds received from, the relevant Fund Interest as so adjusted.

16.4 Fund Events

- (a) If at any time the Determination Agent, acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, determines that a Fund Event has occurred and/or is continuing then the Determination Agent shall provide written notice thereof to the Issuer (a "Fund Event Notice"). The Determination Agent shall not have any obligation to monitor the occurrence of a Fund Event nor shall it have any obligation to make a determination that a Fund Event has occurred or is continuing.

- (b) The Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine:
- (i) where Fund Event Unscheduled Redemption is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, whether the relevant Notes shall be redeemed other than on the scheduled Maturity Date. If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall be so redeemed, then the Issuer shall redeem each Note at an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount, on such date as the Issuer may notify to Noteholders in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices), provided that not less than five Business Days' notice of such date, where other than the scheduled Maturity Date, is given to Noteholders;
 - (ii) whether to substitute any Affected Fund Interest with the Successor Fund Interest relating to such Affected Fund Interest; and/or
 - (iii) whether to make such adjustment to account for such Fund Event as it considers appropriate which may include, without limitation:
 - (A) making an adjustment to the calculation of the Redemption Amount and/or any such other amounts due under the Notes (which may include calculating a valuation (which may be zero) for the Affected Fund Interest and/or adjusting the weighting of the Affected Fund Interest in a Basket of Funds and/or deferring any relevant Determination Date until the circumstances giving rise to the relevant Fund Event are no longer continuing), all in the determination of the Determination Agent, acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, and/or
 - (B) adjustments to any amount due in respect of the Notes to reflect (I) the Removal Value of the Affected Fund Interest instead of the Relevant Price of the Affected Fund Interest and (II) an amount determined by the Determination Agent in respect of interest (compounded on a daily basis) on the Removal Value of such Affected Fund Interest accrued at an overnight rate relating to the Specified Currency selected by the Determination Agent during the period from (and including) the date on which the replacement of the Affected Fund Interest is effective to (but excluding) the Maturity Date.

Where it is required to determine a valuation of the Affected Fund Interest for the purposes of this Condition 16.4(b) (Fund Events) by reference to the Reference Price of the Affected Fund Interest, the Determination Agent shall determine the mechanics for calculating such valuation of the Affected Fund Interest (which valuation may be zero) by reference to such sources as it considers appropriate including, but not limited to, the value it may obtain from a third party on arms' length terms for the transfer to it of any hedging arrangements relating to the Notes in so far as they relate to such Affected Fund Interest. Any payments under the Notes determined by reference to the value of the Affected Fund Interest shall be suspended until payment of the Early Redemption Amount or, as the case may be, determination of the valuation of the Affected Fund Interest. The date of payment of the Early Redemption Amount (or the proportion thereof relating to the valuation of the Affected Fund Interest) or other relevant amount determined by reference to the Affected Fund Interest may fall on such commercially reasonable date after the scheduled Maturity Date as the Determination Agent considers necessary or appropriate to enable it to determine the relevant valuation subject to any Final Cut-off Date and provided that, if the Determination Agent is not able to determine such a value by reference to a Reference Price for an applicable deferred Determination Date or for such a transfer of any hedging arrangements to a third party by the scheduled Maturity Date or, if later, any Final Cut-off Date, it may deem the valuation to be zero.

The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such adjustment in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such adjustment.

- (iv) For the purposes of this Condition 16.4(b) (Fund Events):
 - (A) "Successor Fund Interest" means, in respect of any Affected Fund Interest, one or more funds that, in the determination of the Determination Agent have characteristics, investment objectives and policies similar to those in effect for the Affected Fund Interest immediately prior to the occurrence of the relevant event

- (B) the Affected Fund Interest shall be replaced by a number of units of the Successor Fund Interest with a combined value (as determined by the Determination Agent) equal to the relevant Removal Value of the applicable number of units of the Affected Fund Interest. Such replacement shall be effected, from time to time whenever the Removal Value changes, on the date, as determined by the Determination Agent, on which the Fund issuing the Successor Fund Interest would admit a Hypothetical Investor who, on the Fund Business Day next following the date on which any Removal Value not previously applied toward any Successor Fund Interest would be received by such Hypothetical Investor redeeming out of the relevant amount of Affected Fund Interest, had submitted a valid order to purchase such amount of the Successor Fund Interest; and
- (C) if necessary, the Determination Agent will adjust any relevant terms, including, but not limited to adjustments to account for changes in the Fund Interest Currency, the Frequency of Fund Interest Valuations, volatility, investment strategy or liquidity relevant to such Fund Interests or the Notes.

16.5 Notice of Fund Event

Notice of the consequences of a Fund Event shall be given to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices). Such notice shall (a) identify the Affected Fund Interest (if applicable) and the relevant Fund Event and contain a summary of the facts constituting such event, (b) if applicable, identify the Successor Fund Interest and specify the effective date of such substitution, (c) if applicable, specify adjustments made or expected to be made by the Determination Agent and (d) if applicable, specify the date on which the Notes are to be redeemed.

16.6 Definitions applicable to Fund-Linked Notes

In relation to Fund-Linked Notes, the following expressions shall have the meanings set out below:

"Affected Fund Interest" means, at any time, any Fund Interest in respect of which the Determination Agent has determined that a Fund Event has occurred;

"Affiliate" means, in relation to any person, any entity controlled, directly or indirectly, by the person, any entity that controls, directly or indirectly, the person or any entity directly or indirectly under common control with the person (for such purposes, "control" of any entity or person means ownership of a majority of the voting power of the entity or person);

"Averaging Date" means, in respect of each Reference Date, either:

- (a) in the case of (a) a Single Fund Note; or (b) a Fund Basket Note, where the applicable Pricing Supplement provides that "Individual Fund Business Days and Individual Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, each date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or, if such date is not a Fund Business Day, the next following Fund Business Day for such Fund or Basket Component (as the case may be); or
- (b) in the case of a Fund Basket Note, where the applicable Pricing Supplement provides that "Common Fund Business Days and Common Disrupted Days" or "Common Fund Business Days and Individual Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, each date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or if any such date is not a Common Fund Business Day, the next following Common Fund Business Day for such Basket of Funds, provided that if any such day is a Disrupted Day, the Averaging Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Condition 16.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption);

"Basket Component" means, in relation to a particular Series of Fund Basket Notes, each Fund Interest comprised in the relevant Basket of Funds;

"Basket of Funds" means a basket composed of such Fund Interests in such Funds specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in the relative proportions or number of units of each Fund Interest specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, subject to the provisions of Condition 16.4 (Fund Events);

"Common Fund Business Day" means, in respect of a Fund Basket Note, each day which is a Fund Business Day for all the Basket Components;

"Common Valid Date" means, in respect of a Fund Basket Note, a Fund Business Day that is not a Disrupted Day for any Basket Component and on which another Averaging Date in respect of the relevant Reference Date does not or is deemed not to occur;

"Cut-off Period" means, in respect of any date, the period specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or if no such period is specified, a period of the shorter of (a) eight Fund Business Days or, in the case of a Fund Basket Note, eight Common Fund Business Days; and (b) three months; provided that if a "Final Cut-off Date" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then any Cut-off Period that would otherwise end after such Final Cut-off Date shall end on such Final Cut-off Date;

"Determination Date" means, in relation to any determination, each date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that if any such date is (i) not a Fund Business Day and/or (ii) a Disrupted Day, the relevant Determination Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Condition 16.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption);

"Disrupted Day" means any day on which a Disruption Event has occurred or is continuing;

"Disruption Event" means any of the following events as determined by the Determination Agent:

- (a) in respect of any Fund Interest, the failure of (i) a Scheduled Fund Valuation Date to be a Fund Valuation Date or any continued postponement or suspension of such Fund Valuation Date; and/or (ii) there to be a Fund Reporting Date and/or Reported Net Asset Value relating to the relevant Fund Valuation Date;
- (b) in respect of any Fund Interest (i) there is a failure by the Fund to pay the full amount (whether expressed as a percentage or otherwise) of the Redemption Proceeds in the Fund Interest Currency with respect to the relevant amount of such Fund Interest scheduled to have been paid on or by such day according to the Fund Documents (without giving effect to any gating, deferral, suspension or other provisions permitting the Fund to delay or refuse redemption of such Fund Interests) or (ii) a Hypothetical Investor which had submitted a valid redemption notice in respect of such Fund Interest (in the case of a Single Fund Note) or each Fund Interest comprised in the Basket of Funds (in the case of a Fund Basket Note) on the last date permitted pursuant to the relevant Fund Documents would, in the reasonable opinion of the Determination Agent, not have received in full the Redemption Proceeds in respect of such redemption(s) on or before the date which is three Business Days prior to a related scheduled date for payment under the Notes;
- (c) the inability (including by reason of illegality) of, or the impracticability for, a Hedging Party to (i) unwind or dispose of any transaction it has entered into, or any asset it holds, in either case for the purpose of hedging its exposure to price variations of the Fund Interest (in the case of Single Fund Notes) or the Basket of Funds (in the case of Fund Basket Notes) inherent in its obligations, in the case of the Issuer, under the Notes or, in the case of an Affiliate, under any transaction pursuant to which it hedges the Issuer's exposure to the Fund Interest (in the case of Single Fund Notes) or the Basket of Funds (in the case of the Fund Basket Notes) under the Notes when scheduled or at all (including any change to the notice period for redemptions, transfers or subscriptions of a Fund Interest under the Fund Documents, any gating, side-pocketing or other arrangement affecting such a Hedging Party), or (ii) realise, recover or remit to any person the proceeds of any such transaction or asset; and/or
- (d) any closure other than for ordinary public holidays and/or any restriction or suspension in trading of foreign exchange markets or money markets in a relevant Fund Interest Currency or Specified Currency that, in the opinion of the Determination Agent, would have a material effect on the ability market participants to effect transactions in such markets, provided that if any event would otherwise be both a Disruption Event and Fund Event, such event shall be treated solely as a Fund Event;

"Exchange" means, in respect of a Fund Interest, the principal exchange or quotation system for such Fund Interest, as determined by the Determination Agent, any successor to such Exchange or quotation system or any substitute exchange or quotation system to which the Fund Interest has temporarily relocated;

"Extraordinary Dividend" means an amount per relevant Fund Interest specified or otherwise determined by the Determination Agent;

"Final Cut-off Date" means the date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Frequency of Fund Interest Valuation" means, in respect of a Fund Interest, the frequency of occurrence of a Fund Business Day for such Fund Interest as determined by reference to the Fund Documents in effect on the Trade Date;

"Fund" means, in respect of any Fund Interest, the issuer of, or other legal arrangement (including, if applicable, any relevant class or series) giving rise to, the relevant Fund Interest as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Fund Administrator" means, in respect of any Fund and the related Fund Interest, any fund administrator, manager, trustee or similar person responsible for the administration of such Fund and the determination and reporting of any official price or value of such Fund according to the Fund Documents or any successor acceptable to the Determination Agent;

"Fund Advisor" means any person appointed in the role of discretionary investment manager or non-discretionary investment advisor (including a non-discretionary investment advisor to a discretionary investment manager or to another non-discretionary investment advisor) for such Fund and/or a Fund Administrator and/or any other person(s) designated in the Fund Documents as responsible for the oversight of the Fund, or any successor to any such person acceptable to the Determination Agent;

"Fund Business Day" means, in respect of any Fund Interest and the related Fund, either (a) where the Reference Price for such Fund Interest is "Reported Net Asset Value", each of a Scheduled Fund Valuation Date and any day on which the Fund or the primary Fund Administrator acting on behalf of the Fund is scheduled to effect subscription and redemption requests or (b) where the Reference Price for such Fund Interest is "Redemption Proceeds", a Scheduled Redemption Valuation Date;

"Fund Documents" means, in respect of any Fund and the related Fund Interest, the constitutive and governing documents, subscription agreements and other agreements of the related Fund specifying the terms and conditions relating to such Fund Interest (including, without limitation, the prospectus, information memorandum or other offering document issued by such Fund in connection with such Fund Interest), in each case and unless where otherwise specified, as amended and/or supplemented from time to time;

"Fund Event" means in the determination of the Determination Agent, the occurrence or announcement by the Fund or a Fund Service Provider at any time of any of the following events unless any such event is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as a Non-Applicable Fund Event:

- (a) Nationalisation: in respect of a Fund Interest and the related Fund, all the Fund Interests or all or substantially all the assets of the Fund are nationalised, expropriated or are otherwise required to be transferred to any governmental agency, authority, entity or instrumentality thereof;
- (b) Fund Insolvency Event: in respect of a Fund Interest and the related Fund (i) the Fund and/or any Fund Service Provider (A) is dissolved or has a resolution passed for its dissolution, winding-up, official liquidation (other than pursuant to a consolidation, amalgamation or merger); (B) makes a general assignment or arrangement with or for the benefit of its creditors; (C)(1) institutes or has instituted against it, by a regulator, supervisor or any similar official with primary insolvency, rehabilitative or regulatory jurisdiction over it in the jurisdiction of its incorporation or organisation or the jurisdiction of its head or home office, a proceeding seeking a judgment of insolvency or bankruptcy or any other relief under any bankruptcy or insolvency law or other similar law affecting creditors' rights, or a petition is presented for its winding-up or liquidation by it or such regulator, supervisor or similar official, or (2) has instituted against it a proceeding seeking a judgment of insolvency or bankruptcy or any other relief under any bankruptcy or insolvency law or other similar law affecting creditors' rights, or a petition is presented for its winding-up or liquidation, and such proceeding or petition is instituted or presented by a person or entity not described in (1) above and either (x) results in a judgment of insolvency or bankruptcy or the entry of an order for relief or the making of an order for its winding-up or liquidation or (y) is not dismissed, discharged, stayed or restrained in each case within 15 days of the institution or presentation thereof; (D) seeks or becomes subject to the appointment of an administrator, provisional liquidator, conservator, receiver, trustee, custodian or other similar official for it or for all or substantially all its assets; (E) has a secured party take possession of all or substantially all its assets or has a distress, execution, attachment, sequestration or other legal process levied, enforced or sued on or against all or substantially all its assets and such secured party maintains possession, or any such process is not dismissed, discharged, stayed or restrained, in each case within 15 days thereafter; or (F) causes or is subject to any event with respect to it which, under the applicable laws of any jurisdiction, has an analogous effect to any of the events specified in (A) through (E) above; or (without prejudice to the foregoing) (ii) by reason of the voluntary or involuntary liquidation, bankruptcy, insolvency, dissolution or winding-up of or any analogous proceeding affecting a Fund, (A) all the Fund Interests of that Fund are required to be transferred to a trustee, liquidator or other similar official or (B) holders of the Fund Interests of that Fund become legally prohibited from transferring them;

- (c) NAV Trigger/Restriction Event: in respect of any Fund Interest, (A) the Reported Fund Interest Value as of the last Fund Valuation Date of any month has decreased by a percentage equal to, or greater than, fifty per cent. of the Reported Fund Interest Value as of the Fund Valuation Date of the same month in the immediately preceding calendar year (or, if the first year of operation of the relevant Fund Interest, as of its highest Reported Fund Interest Value on the last Fund Valuation Date of any month during such first year); or (B) the related Fund has violated any leverage restriction that is applicable to, or affecting, such Fund or its assets by operation of any law, any order or judgment of any court or other agency of government applicable to it or any of its assets, the Fund Documents or any contractual restriction binding on or affecting the Fund or any of its assets;
- (d) Fund Advisor Event: in respect of any Fund Interest, as determined by the Determination Agent, (a) that at any time after the Trade Date, the total value of the assets managed by the relevant Fund Adviser (including in relation to the Fund) is equal to or less than 50,000,000 U.S. Dollars (or its equivalent) or (b) that over any period of twelve months, the total value of the assets managed by the relevant Fund Adviser (including in relation to the Fund) has decreased by fifty per cent. (whether due to redemptions or decrease in the value of such assets or otherwise) (c) any material breach by the Fund Adviser (or any of its Affiliates) of any Relevant Hedging Transaction between it and a Hedging Party;
- (e) Changes to Fund or Fund Service Providers: in respect of any Fund Interest and the related Fund: (i) any change in the organisation of the Fund or of any Fund Service Provider without the prior written consent of the Determination Agent including, without limitation, a change of control of, or a change of the main shareholders, managing directors or individual(s) designated as fund manager(s) in the Fund Documents as at the Trade Date (if any) of a Fund Service Provider, (ii) any Fund Service Provider ceasing to act in the relevant capacity in relation to the Fund unless immediately replaced in such capacity by a successor acceptable to the Determination Agent or (iii) any delegation or transfer by the Fund Adviser of any of its powers, duties or obligations under the Fund Documents to a third party without the prior written consent of the Determination Agent;
- (f) Fund Modification: in respect of any Fund Interest, any change, modification or termination of the related Fund Documents or of any rights attaching to the related Fund Interests (including without limitation any change or modification affecting management policy, the Fund Interest Currency, the Frequency of Fund Interest Valuation, the terms relating to subscription, transfer and/or redemption of such Fund Interest including any change to the form or schedule of payment or notice period) from those prevailing on the Trade Date (in the case of Single Fund Notes) or the date on which any Fund Interest issued by such Fund was first included in the Basket of Funds (in the case of Fund Basket Notes) and which could reasonably be expected to affect the value of such Fund Interest or the rights or remedies of any holders thereof;

- (g) Strategy Breach: in respect of any Fund Interest, as determined by the Determination Agent, any breach of or non-compliance with any investment objective, investment restrictions or other strategy or investment guidelines or requirements, subscription and redemption provisions (including, without limitation, the days treated as Fund Business Days) or valuation provisions (including, without limitation, the method of determining the net asset value of the relevant Fund Interest), in each case as set out in the Fund Documents as in effect on the Trade Date or, if later, the date on which such Fund Interest was first included in the Basket of Funds (in the case of Fund Basket Notes) that is reasonably likely to affect the value of such Fund Interest or the rights or remedies of any holders thereof;
- (h) Breach by Fund Service Provider: in respect of any Fund Interest, the breach by any relevant Fund Service Provider of any obligation (including, without limitation, non-compliance with any investment guidelines relating to such Fund Interest), representation or warranties concerning the relevant Fund (including, without limitation, pursuant to any agreement with the Fund), which breach, if capable of remedy, has not been remedied within ten (10) calendar days of its occurrence;
- (i) Regulatory Event: (A) in respect of any Fund Interest, (1) any change in the legal, tax, accounting, or regulatory treatments of the relevant Fund or its Fund Advisor that is reasonably likely to have an adverse impact on the value of such Fund Interest or on any investor therein (as determined by the Determination Agent) or (2) the related Fund or any of its Fund Service Providers becoming subject to any investigation, proceeding, arbitration, litigation or official action by any relevant governmental, legal or regulatory authority involving the alleged violation of, or non-compliance with, applicable law or regulation in relation to any activities relating to or resulting from the operation of: (i) such Fund, or (ii) another fund where (in the opinion of the Determination Agent) such circumstances in respect of such other fund may have an adverse effect on the relevant Fund or (B) any event which would have the effect of: (i) imposing on the Issuer and/or any Affiliate or adversely modifying any reserve, funding arrangement, special deposit, or similar requirement that would be applicable to the Issuer and/or such Affiliate in relation to the Notes or any related hedging arrangement or (ii) changing the amount or cost of regulatory capital that would have to be maintained by the Issuer and/or any Affiliate in relation to the Notes or any related hedging arrangement, including, without limitation, any requirement under applicable law, regulation or other rule or requirement from time to time applicable to the Issuer and/or any Affiliate that requires any information-provision or other transparency requirements in respect of a Fund Interest, whether to keep constant the cost of regulatory capital that would have to be maintained by any such person in relation to the Notes or otherwise comply therewith, and the relevant Fund Service Provider fails to provide sufficient information in respect of a Fund Interest for any such person to satisfy such relevant obligations or (C) in respect of any Fund Interest and the related Fund (i) the withdrawal, cancellation, suspension or revocation of any registration, licence or approval of such Fund Interest or the related Fund by any governmental, legal or regulatory entity with authority over such Fund Interest or Fund; (ii) the withdrawal, suspension, cancellation or modification of any licence, consent, permit, authorisation or clearance required for the Fund or any one or more of its significant Fund Service Providers to carry out their activities as they are or should be carried out in compliance with applicable law or regulation; and/or (iii) the failure of such Fund Interest and/or the related Fund to comply with any applicable requirements from time to time applied by any relevant listing authority, stock exchange, quotation system and/or regulator that allow it to be used to determine amounts due under the Notes (or, in the case of (C)(i), (ii) or (iii), any official announcement indicating that any such circumstances may occur);
- (j) Reporting Disruption: in respect of any Fund Interest, (A) the occurrence of any event affecting such Fund Interest that, in the determination of the Determination Agent, would make it impossible or impracticable for the Determination Agent to determine the value of such Fund Interest and the Determination Agent does not expect such event to cease in the foreseeable future; (B) any failure of the related Fund to deliver, or cause to be delivered, or recipients in general to receive (1) information that such Fund has agreed to deliver, or cause to be delivered to the Determination Agent, the Issuer and/or any Hedging Party, as applicable, or (2) information that has been previously delivered to the Determination Agent, the Issuer and/or any Hedging Party, as applicable, in accordance with such Fund's, or its authorised representative's, normal practice and that the Determination Agent deems necessary for it or the Issuer, as applicable, to monitor such Fund's compliance with any investment guidelines, asset allocation methodologies or any other similar policies relating to such Fund Interest; (C) the related Fund ceases, for any reason whatsoever (either directly or through any Fund Service Provider acting on its behalf for this purpose) to provide, publish or make available its net asset value on any Fund Reporting Date; or (D) a Fund Service Provider informs the Determination Agent, the Issuer and/or any Hedging Party that any Reported Net Asset Value of such Fund Interest should not be relied on (whether by reason of it being only a provisional or estimated net asset value or for any other reason) and/or, in the opinion of the Determination Agent, any Reported Net Asset Value is inaccurate (which, for the avoidance of doubt, includes without limitation circumstances where any net asset value reported by a Fund Service Provider to the Issuer, any Hedging Party and/or investors in Fund Interest generally differs from any net asset value published on any one or more publishing service), in each case which the Determination Agent considers to be material to the Notes;

- (k) Compulsory Redemption or Assignment: in respect of any Fund Interest, (i) the repurchase or redemption by the Fund of all or some of the Fund Interests otherwise than at the request of a holder of Fund Interests; or (ii) any event or circumstance (whether or not in accordance with the constitutive documents and investment guidelines of the Fund) which would mandatorily oblige a holder of Fund Interests to redeem, sell, assign or otherwise dispose of any Fund Interests and which the Determination Agent determines could affect a Hypothetical Investor;
- (l) Closure to Subscriptions; Dealing Restrictions: in respect of any Fund Interest, (A) the closure of the related Fund to new subscriptions of Fund Interests, or (B) the imposition of any dealing restrictions (including, without limitation, material amendments to relevant documentation, delay (partial or otherwise), suspension or termination (partial or otherwise) of subscription, redemption or settlement) relating to the Fund or transactions in Fund Interests by any Fund Service Provider, any Affiliate or agent of any Fund Service Provider, or any intermediary platform through which the Issuer or its Affiliates may contract (via a trading agreement or otherwise) in order to carry out transactions in Fund Interests;
- (m) Disposals: Material Change: Merger: in respect of any Fund Interest, (A) a disposal to any person(s) of all, or a material part, of the assets of (x) the related Fund, or (y) any significant Fund Service Provider, or (B) a material change in the business of the Fund or any significant Fund Service Provider, or (C) the merger, amalgamation or consolidation of the related Fund and/or such Fund Interest with (x) any other sub-fund or compartment of the Fund or (y) any other collective investment undertaking (or sub-fund or compartment of such other collective investment undertaking, including another fund), or (D) a reclassification or change of such Fund Interest which results in a transfer of or an irrevocable commitment to transfer all such Fund Interests outstanding to another entity or person, or (E) a takeover offer, tender offer, exchange offer, solicitation, proposal or other event by any entity or person to purchase or otherwise obtain 100 per cent. of the outstanding Fund Interests of the relevant Fund, which results in a transfer of or an irrevocable commitment to transfer all such Fund Interests (other than those Fund Interests owned or controlled by such other entity or person);
- (n) Hedging Disruption: any of the following:
 - (i) the Determination Agent reasonably determines that the Issuer or any Affiliate (a "Hedging Party") is unable (including without limitation by reason of illegality), or that it is impracticable for a Hedging Party, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to (A) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) (each a "Relevant Hedging Transaction") such Hedging Party deems necessary or appropriate to hedge its exposure to price variations of the Fund Interest (in the case of Single Fund Notes) or the Basket of Funds (in the case of Fund Basket Notes) inherent in its obligations, in the case of the Issuer, under the Notes or, in the case of an Affiliate, under any transaction pursuant to which it hedges the Issuer's exposure to the Fund Interest (in the case of Single Fund Notes) or the Basket of Funds (in the case of Fund Basket Notes) under the Notes, or (B) realise, recover or remit to any person the proceeds of such transaction or asset; and/or

- (ii) the Determination Agent reasonably determines that it has become illegal for any Hedging Party to hold, acquire or dispose of Fund Interests relating to the Notes; and/or
- (iii) the Determination Agent reasonably determines that the Issuer would incur an increased cost in respect of the Relevant Hedging Transactions related to the performance of its obligation under the Notes (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position); and/or
- (iv) the Determination Agent reasonably determines that any Hedging Party would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (A) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any Relevant Hedging Transaction, or (B) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such Relevant Hedging Transaction; unless any such materially increased amount is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Hedging Party,
- (v) and such determinations by the Determination Agent may include, but are not limited to, the following: (A) any increased illiquidity in the market for the Fund Interest (in the case of Single Fund Notes) or the Basket of Funds (in the case of Fund Basket Notes) (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date); or (B) a change in any applicable law (including, without limitation, any tax law) or the promulgation of, or change in, the interpretation of any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law (including any action taken by a taxing authority); or (C) the general unavailability of market participants who will so enter into a Relevant Hedging Transaction on commercially reasonable terms;
- (o) Fraud: in respect of any Fund Interest and the related Fund, the Fund is the object of a material fraud which may, in the determination of the Determination Agent, have an adverse effect on the Fund or the value of Fund Interests; or any act or omission of a Fund Service Provider constitutes fraud (including, but not limited to, theft, misappropriation, mispricing of holdings or concealment of trades), bad faith, wilful misconduct or negligence, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion;
- (p) Force Majeure Event: in respect of any Fund Interest and the related Fund, any Fund Service Provider fails to perform any of its obligations pursuant to the Fund Documents to the extent that such performance is prevented, hindered or delayed by a Force Majeure Event, where "Force Majeure Event" means any event due to any cause beyond the reasonable control of the applicable Fund Service Provider, such as unavailability of communications system, failure of or interruptions in power supply or network computer systems, sabotage, fire, flood, explosion, acts of God, civil commotion, riots, insurrection or war;
- (q) Value Limitation: the value of any Fund Interest held by the Issuer and its Affiliates is greater than 10 per cent. of the aggregate net asset value of the relevant Fund (whether or not all of such holding results from hedging transactions entered into in connection with the Notes) and including, where the excess holding results from a reduction in the aggregate net asset value of the relevant Fund;
- (r) Delisting: in respect of a Fund Interest, where there is or was intended to be an Exchange in respect of such Fund Interest that (A) such Exchange announces that pursuant to the rules of such Exchange, such Fund Interests cease (or will cease) being listed or publicly quoted on the Exchange for any reason and are not immediately re listed or re quoted on an exchange or quotation system located in the same country as the Exchange (or, where the Exchange is within the European Union, in any Member State of the European Union), or (B) such Fund Interests are never so listed or quoted as intended and disclosed in the Fund Documents as at the Trade Date;
- (s) Fund Accounting Event: in respect of a Fund Interest and the related Fund, any (i) change in the currency in which the Fund Interest's accounts are denominated; or (ii) material adverse change in the accounting treatment of the Fund which does or could affect a Hypothetical Investor and/or a Hedging Party and/or any actual or potential requirement to consolidate its accounts with any such entity;

- (t) Fees or Charges Event: in respect of a Fund (i) any charge of a transaction fee for subscription or redemption of Fund Interests; (ii) any imposition of any taxes or similar charges for subscription or redemption of Fund Interests (whether by the Fund or a Fund Adviser in respect of holders of Fund Interests generally or otherwise occurring in respect of any Hedging Party) and/or (iii) any material change in the applicable fee arrangement between a Fund Adviser and a Hedging Party (as compared with that arrangement as of the Trade Date), including the increase to the existing level of, or introduction of any new, fees, commissions or other expenses payable to any person, in each case as determined by the Determination Agent;
- (u) Legal Action: in respect of a Fund, litigation, dispute or legal proceedings against such Fund, or its investment adviser or any Fund Service Provider of such Fund that has a material adverse effect on the functioning, operations, inflows or outflows of such Fund;
- (v) Cross-contamination: in respect of a Fund, the occurrence of a cross-contamination or other failure to segregate effectively assets between different classes, series or sub-funds of such Fund; and/or
- (w) Additional Fund Event: any other event(s) specified as Fund Events in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Fund Event Notice" has the meaning given to that term in Condition 16.4 (Fund Events);

"Fund Interest" means, in respect of a Fund, a share, unit or other interest in respect of such Fund, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Fund Interest Currency" means, in respect of a Fund Interest, the currency in which such Fund Interest is denominated on the Trade Date as set out in the Fund Documents;

"Fund Reporting Date" means, in respect of a Fund Interest and a Fund Valuation Date, the date on which the Reported Fund Interest Value of such Fund Interest as determined as of such Fund Valuation Date is reported (as provided in the definition of Reported Fund Interest Value);

"Fund Service Provider" means, in respect of a Fund, any person who is appointed to provide services, directly or indirectly, to that Fund, whether or not specified in the Fund Documents or any successor acceptable to the Determination Agent, including without limitation any Fund Adviser, Fund Administrator, operator, management company, depository, custodian, sub-custodian, prime broker, administrator, trustee, registrar and transfer agent or domiciliary agent;

"Fund Valuation Date" means, in respect of a Fund Interest, the date as of which the related Fund (or its Fund Service Provider that generally determines such value) determines the value of such Fund Interest or, if the related Fund only reports its aggregate net asset value, the date as of which such Fund determines its aggregate net asset value;

"Hedging Party" has the meaning given in the definition of "Fund Event" above;

"Hypothetical Investor" means, in respect of a Fund Interest, a hypothetical investor in such Fund Interest deemed to have (a) the benefits and obligations, as provided under the Fund Documents, of an investor holding, as of the Trade Date, an interest in the relevant Fund in an amount equal to the relevant number or relevant amount of such Fund Interest; (b) in the case of any deemed redemption of such Fund Interest, to have submitted to the relevant Fund on the relevant Redemption Notice Date, a duly completed notice requesting redemption of the relevant number of such Fund Interests; and (c) in the case of any deemed investment in such Fund Interest, to have submitted, on the Trade Date, a duly completed notice to the relevant Fund, requesting subscription to the relevant number of Fund Interests;

"Observation Date" means each date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that if any such date is (i) not a Fund Business Day and/or (ii) a Disrupted Day, the relevant Observation Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Condition 16.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption);

"Potential Adjustment Event" means, in respect of any Fund Interest, any of the following events in the determination of the Determination Agent:

- (a) a subdivision, consolidation or reclassification of the relevant amount of Fund Interest, or a free distribution or dividend of any such Fund Interest to existing holders by way of bonus, capitalisation or similar issue;
- (b) a distribution, issue or dividend to existing holders of the relevant Fund Interest of (A) an additional amount of such Fund Interest, or (B) other share capital or securities granting the right to payment of dividends and/or the proceeds of liquidation of the Fund equally or proportionately with such payments to holders of such Fund Interest, or (C) share capital or other securities of another issuer acquired or owned (directly or indirectly) by the Fund as a result of a spin-off or other similar transaction, or (D) any other type of securities, rights or warrants or other assets, in any case for payment (cash or other consideration) at less than the prevailing market price as determined by the Determination Agent;
- (c) an Extraordinary Dividend;
- (d) a repurchase by the Fund of relevant Fund Interests whether the consideration for such repurchase is cash, securities or otherwise, other than in respect of a redemption of Fund Interests initiated by an investor in such Fund Interests; or
- (e) any other event that may have a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Fund Interests;

"Redemption Notice Date" means, in respect of a Fund Interest and a Reference Date or Averaging Date, the date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if no date is so specified, the last date on which a Hypothetical Investor in such Fund Interest would be permitted, pursuant to the Fund Documents of the related Fund, to submit a redemption notice that would be timely for a redemption as of the Scheduled Redemption Valuation Date for which the Scheduled Redemption Payment Date falls on or immediately prior to such Reference Date or Averaging Date;

"Redemption Proceeds" means, in respect of the relevant amount of any Fund Interest, the redemption proceeds that in the determination of the Determination Agent would be paid by the related Fund to a Hypothetical Investor who, as of the relevant Redemption Valuation Date, redeems such amount of Fund Interest (for the avoidance of doubt after deduction of any tax, levy, charge, assessment or fee of any nature that, in the determination of the Determination Agent, would (or would be very likely to) be withheld or deducted from such amount); provided that (a) any such proceeds that would be paid in property other than cash shall be deemed to have a value of zero and (b) if the Hypothetical Investor would be entitled to elect payment of such redemption proceeds to be made either in the form of cash or other property, then the Hypothetical Investor shall be deemed to have elected cash payment;

"Redemption Valuation Date" means, in respect of a Fund Interest and any Scheduled Redemption Valuation Date, the date as of which the related Fund (or its Fund Service Provider that generally determines such value) determines the net asset value of such Fund Interest for purposes of calculating the redemption proceeds to be paid to a Hypothetical Investor that has submitted a valid notice for redemption on or before the related Redemption Notice Date;

"Reference Date" means, for the purposes of Condition 16.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption), each Valuation Date, Observation Date, Strike Date or Determination Date (as applicable) specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or otherwise, any date construed to be a Reference Date in accordance with the Conditions;

"Reference Price" means, in respect of a Fund Interest and the Valuation Time on any Valuation Date or Averaging Date, either (a) where "Reported Net Asset Value" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement for such Fund Interest, the Reported Net Asset Value of such Fund Interest for the related Fund Valuation Date falling on such Reference Date or Averaging Date, as the case may be; or (b) where "Redemption Proceeds" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement for such Fund Interest, an amount equal to the Redemption Proceeds relating to such Fund Interest that in the determination of the Determination Agent would be received by a Hypothetical Investor in such Fund Interest in respect of a redemption of Fund Interests to be effected as of the Scheduled Redemption Valuation Date relating to such Reference Date or Averaging Date, as the case may be;

"Removal Value" means, in respect of an Affected Fund Interest, the value calculated by the Determination Agent in the same manner as would be used in determining the Reference Price of Fund Interests in the related Fund, but assuming where the Reference Price is Redemption Proceeds that a valid notice requesting redemption of Fund Interests in such Fund has been submitted to such Fund on the Fund Business Day next following delivery of the relevant Fund Event Notice and, where the Removal Value is required to be converted into the Specified Currency or the currency of the Successor Fund Interest it shall be so converted by the Determination Agent at such time and by reference to such sources as it deems appropriate;

"Reported Net Asset Value" means, in respect of any Fund Interest and a Fund Reporting Date relating to such Fund Interest, the official net asset value per Fund Interest as of the related Fund Valuation Date or, if the related Fund reports only its aggregate net asset value, the portion of such Fund's aggregate net asset value relating to a Fund Interest as of the related Fund Valuation Date, in each case as reported on the Fund Reporting Date relating to such Fund Valuation Date by the Fund Service Provider that generally reports such value on behalf of the Fund to its investors or a publishing service;

"Scheduled Averaging Date" means an original date (following any adjustment (if applicable) pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) in the definition of "Averaging Date") that, but for such day being a Disrupted Day, would have been an Averaging Date;

"Scheduled Fund Valuation Date" means, in respect of a Fund Interest, the date as of which the related Fund (or its Fund Service Provider that generally determines such value) is scheduled, according to its Fund Documents (without giving effect to any gating, deferral, suspension or other provisions permitting the Fund to delay or refuse redemption of Fund Interests), to determine the value of such Fund Interest or, if the related Fund only reports its aggregate net asset value, the date as of which such Fund determines its aggregate net asset value;

"Scheduled Redemption Payment Date" means, in respect of a Fund Interest and any Scheduled Redemption Valuation Date, the date by which the related Fund is scheduled to have paid, according to its Fund Documents, all or a specified portion of the Redemption Proceeds to an investor that has submitted a timely and valid notice requesting redemption of such Fund Interest as of such Scheduled Redemption Valuation Date;

"Scheduled Redemption Valuation Date" means, in respect of a Fund Interest, the date as of which the related Fund (or its Fund Service Provider that generally determines such value) is scheduled, according to its Fund Documents (without giving effect to any gating, deferral, suspension or other provisions permitting the Fund to delay or refuse redemption of Fund Interests), to determine the net asset value of such Fund Interest for the purposes of calculating the redemption proceeds to be paid to an investor that has submitted a valid and timely notice for redemption of Fund Interests based on the value determined as of such date; the Scheduled Redemption Valuation Date relating to any Reference Date or Averaging Date, as the case may be, shall be the date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if no such date is specified, the Scheduled Redemption Valuation Date for which the Scheduled Redemption Payment Date falls on or immediately prior to such Reference Date or Averaging Date, as the case may be;

"Scheduled Reference Date" means, for the purposes of Condition 16.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption), any original date that, but for the occurrence of an event causing a Disrupted Day, would have been a Reference Date;

"Strike Date" means such date as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that if any such date is (i) not a Fund Business Day and/or (ii) a Disrupted Day, the relevant Strike Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Condition 16.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption);

"Valid Date" means a Fund Business Day that is not a Disrupted Day and on which another Averaging Date in respect of the relevant Reference Date does not or is not deemed to occur;

"Valuation Date" means each date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that if any such date is (i) not a Fund Business Day and/or (ii) a Disrupted Day, the relevant Valuation Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Condition 16.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption); and

"Valuation Time" means the time on or in respect of the Reference Date or Averaging Date at which the applicable Reference Price is scheduled to be determined in accordance with the Fund Documents.

17. Provisions relating to Futures Contract-Linked Notes

This Condition 17 (Provisions relating to Futures Contract-Linked Notes) is applicable only in relation to Notes specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being Single Futures Contract-Linked Notes or Futures Contract Basket-Linked Notes.

17.1 Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption

- (a) If a Reference Date is not a Scheduled Trading Day, the relevant Reference Date shall be the next succeeding Scheduled Trading Day or, if either "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" or "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the next succeeding Common Scheduled Trading Day.
- (b) Subject to Condition 17.1(d) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) below, if any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day, then:
 - (i) in the case of a Single Futures Contract-Linked Note, the relevant Reference Date shall be the earlier of (i) the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not in the determination of the Determination Agent a Disrupted Day and (ii) the Reference Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding that such Scheduled Trading Day is a Disrupted Day).
 - (ii) in the case of a Futures Contract Basket-Linked Note:
 - (A) where "Individual Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then:
 - (1) the Reference Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Reference Date for such Basket Component; and
 - (2) the Reference Date for any Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day (each an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (A) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the relevant Scheduled Reference Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component; and (B) the Reference Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component (notwithstanding that such day may not be a Scheduled Trading Day).
 - (B) where "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then the Reference Date for each Basket Component shall be the earlier of (i) the first Common Scheduled Trading Day following the relevant Scheduled Reference Date that is not a Disrupted Day with respect to any Basket Component; and (ii) the Reference Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding that such day may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day).
 - (C) where "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then:

- (1) the Reference Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Reference Date for such Basket Component; and
 - (2) the Reference Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day (each an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (A) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the relevant Scheduled Reference Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component; and (B) the Reference Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component (notwithstanding that such day may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day or a Scheduled Trading Day).
- (iii) in the case of any Single Futures Contract-Linked Note or Futures Contract Basket-Linked Note (as the case may be), where a Reference Date falls on the relevant Reference Cut-Off Date pursuant to Condition 17.1(b)(ii), then:
 - (A) if such Reference Cut-Off Date is not a Disrupted Day for such Single Futures Contract-Linked Note or Futures Contract Basket-Linked Note (as the case may be), the Determination Agent shall determine the value of such Futures Contract as at the Determination Time on such Reference Cut-Off Date; or
 - (B) if such Reference Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day, in respect of Single Futures Contract-Linked Notes and Futures Contract Basket-Linked Notes, the Determination Agent shall determine, in its reasonable discretion, its good faith estimate of the value for such Futures Contract as of the Determination Time on such Reference Cut-Off Date.
- (c) Subject to Condition 17.1(d) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) below, if Averaging Dates are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable, then, notwithstanding any other provisions of these Conditions (other than Condition 17.1(d) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption)), the following provisions will apply to the valuation of the relevant Futures Contract in relation to the relevant Reference Date:
 - (i) If, in respect of a Single Futures Contract-Linked Note, a Scheduled Averaging Date is determined by the Determination Agent to be a Disrupted Day, then if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is:
 - (A) "Omission", then such date will be deemed not to be a relevant Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date for the purposes of determining the relevant level, price, value or amount provided that, if through the operation of this provision no Averaging Date would occur with respect to the relevant Reference Date, then Condition 17.1(b) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) will apply for purposes of determining the relevant level, price, value or amount on the final Averaging Date in respect of that Reference Date as if such final Averaging Date were a Reference Date that was a Disrupted Day;
 - (B) "Postponement", then Condition 17.1(b) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) above will apply for the purposes of determining the relevant level, price, value or amount on that date as if such date were a Reference Date that was a Disrupted Day irrespective of whether, pursuant to such determination, that deferred Averaging Date would fall on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date for the relevant Notes; or
 - (C) "Modified Postponement", then the Averaging Date shall be the earlier of (I) the first Valid Date following the Scheduled Averaging Date and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date.
 - (ii) If, in respect of a Futures Contract Basket-Linked Note, a Scheduled Averaging Date in respect of a Reference Date is determined by the Determination Agent to be a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then:

- (A) where "Individual Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
- (1) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Omission":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) such date shall not be an Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date for any Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component"), provided that if through the operation of this provision there would not be any Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date for the Affected Basket Component, then the sole Averaging Date for such Affected Basket Component shall be the earlier of (I) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the final Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component;
 - (2) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Postponement":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (I) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component. Any day (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the Averaging Cut-Off Date) determined to be an Averaging Date as a result of the operation of this Condition 17.1 shall be an Averaging Date, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date; or
 - (3) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Modified Postponement":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (I) the first Valid Date following the Scheduled Averaging Date in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date;
- (B) where "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement:

- (1) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Omission", such date will be deemed not to be a relevant Averaging Date in respect of any Basket Component for the purposes of determining the relevant level, price, value or amount provided that, if through the operation of this provision there would be no Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date, then the sole Averaging Date for each Basket Component shall be the earlier of (A) the first Common Scheduled Trading Day following the Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day for any Basket Component and (B) the Averaging Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding the fact that such Averaging Cut-Off Date may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day);
 - (2) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Postponement", then the Averaging Date for each Basket Component shall be the earlier of (A) the first Common Scheduled Trading Day following the Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component and (B) the Averaging Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding the fact that such Averaging Cut-Off Date may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day). Any day (including 17.1(b)(iii), for the avoidance of doubt, the Averaging Cut-Off Date) determined to be an Averaging Date as a result of the operation of this Condition 17.1(c)(ii)(B)(2) shall be an Averaging Date, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date; or
 - (3) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Modified Postponement", then the Averaging Date for each Basket Component shall be the earlier of (I) the first Common Valid Date following the Scheduled Averaging Date and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding the fact that such Averaging Cut-Off Date may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day), irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date;
- (C) where "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
- (1) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Omission":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) such date shall not be an Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date for any Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component"), provided that if through the operation of this provision there would not be any Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date for the Affected Basket Component, then the sole Averaging Date for such Affected Basket Component shall be the earlier of (I) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the final Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component (notwithstanding the fact that such day may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day);
 - (2) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Postponement":

- (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (I) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component (notwithstanding the fact that such day not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day). Any day (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the Averaging Cut-Off Date) determined to be an Averaging Date as a result of the operation of this Condition 17.1(c)(ii)(C)(2)(b) shall be an Averaging Date, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date; or
- (3) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Modified Postponement":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (I) the first Valid Date (that is a Scheduled Trading Day) following the Scheduled Averaging Date in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date;
- (iii) If, in respect of any Single Futures Contract-Linked Note or Futures Contract Basket-Linked Note (as the case may be), an Averaging Date falls on the relevant Averaging Cut-Off Date pursuant to Condition 17.1(c)(ii) above:
 - (A) if such Averaging Cut-Off Date is not a Disrupted Day for such Single Futures Contract-Linked Note or Futures Contract Basket-Linked Note (as the case may be), the Determination Agent shall determine the value of such Futures Contract as at the Determination Time on such Averaging Cut-Off Date; or
 - (B) if such Averaging Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of Single Futures Contract-Linked Note or Futures Contract Basket-Linked Note (as the case may be), the Determination Agent shall determine, in its reasonable discretion, its good faith estimate of the value for such Futures Contract as of the Determination Time on such Averaging Cut-Off Date.
- (iv) If any Averaging Dates in relation to a Reference Date occur after that Reference Date as a result of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day, then (i) the relevant Interest Payment Date, Maturity Date or (ii) the occurrence of a Futures Contract Adjustment Event or an Additional Disruption Event shall be determined by reference to the last such Averaging Date as though it were that Reference Date.
- (d) If in respect of a Futures Contract and a Reference Date, a Scheduled Reference Date or Scheduled Averaging Date is specified to be the "Expiry Date" in the applicable Pricing Supplement and due to the Scheduled Reference Date or Scheduled Averaging Date (as the case may be) being a Disrupted Day (or for any other reason), the final settlement price has been announced and published on or prior to the Scheduled Reference Date or Scheduled Averaging Date (as the case may be), then the Reference Date or Averaging Date (as the case may be) for such Futures Contract shall fall on the Expiry Date and the provisions of Conditions 17.1(b) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) and (c) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) above shall not apply to such Futures Contract and Scheduled Reference Date or Scheduled Averaging Date (as the case may be).

- (e) If an event or circumstance that would otherwise constitute or give rise to a Disrupted Day also constitutes a Futures Contract Adjustment Event, the Determination Agent shall determine whether such event or circumstance shall be treated as a Disrupted Day or a Futures Contract Adjustment Event.

17.2 Administrator/Benchmark Event or Disappearance of Futures Contract or Settlement Price:

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and, on or prior to any Reference Date, (i) an Administrator/Benchmark Event and an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs or (ii) a Disappearance of Futures Contract or Settlement Price occurs, in each case in respect of a relevant Futures Contract, then:

- (a) If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and if an Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract has been specified in relation to such Futures Contract in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then:
 - (i) the Determination Agent shall attempt to determine an Adjustment Payment;
 - (ii) if the Determination Agent determines an Adjustment Payment,
 - (A) it shall notify the Issuer of the Adjustment Payment and if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Noteholder would (but for Condition 17.2(a)(ii)(C)(2)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Note, request the Issuer to notify the Determination Agent whether it intends to redeem the Notes pursuant to Condition 17.4(b) (Redemption). If the Issuer does not intend to redeem the Notes pursuant to Condition 17.4(b) (Redemption) then the following provisions of this Condition 17.2(a) (Administrator/Benchmark Event or Disappearance of Futures Contract or Settlement Price) shall apply;
 - (B) the terms of the Notes shall be amended so that references to the Futures Contract are replaced by references to the Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract;
 - (C) the Conditions shall be adjusted to implement the Adjustment Payment as follows:
 - (1) if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Issuer is required to pay in respect of each Note, the Determination Agent shall adjust the Conditions to provide for the payment of the Adjustment Payment on the immediately succeeding Interest Payment Date or if there is no such immediately succeeding Interest Payment Date, on the Maturity Date or other date when the Notes are redeemed in full; or
 - (2) if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Noteholder would (but for this Condition 17.2(a)(ii)(C)(2)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Note, the Determination Agent shall adjust the Conditions to provide for the reduction of the amounts due by the Issuer until the aggregate amount of such reductions is equal to the Adjustment Payment, (subject, in the determination of the Determination Agent, to any minimum redemption amount of the Notes which the Determination Agent determines is required pursuant to any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law) and the rules of each listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system by which the Notes have then been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation);

- (D) the Determination Agent shall make such other adjustments to the Conditions as it determines necessary or appropriate in order to account for the effect of the replacement of the Futures Contract with the Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract and/or to preserve as nearly as practicable the economic equivalence of the Notes before and after the replacement of the Futures Contract with the Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract; and
 - (E) the Determination Agent shall notify the Issuer, the Fiscal Agent and the Noteholders of any the replacement of the Futures Contract by the Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract, the Adjustment Payment and any other adjustments to the Conditions, giving summary details of the adjustment(s), provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.
- (iii) If the Determination Agent is unable to determine an Adjustment Payment then Condition 17.4(b) (Redemption) shall apply.
 - (b) If the applicable Pricing Supplement does not specify that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable or, if the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable but does not specify an Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract in relation to the relevant Futures Contract, then Condition 17.4(b) (Redemption) shall apply.
 - (c) If it (i) is or would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (ii) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, in each case for the Issuer, the Determination Agent or the Calculation Agent to perform the actions prescribed in this Condition 17.2 (Administrator/Benchmark Event or Disappearance of Futures Contract or Settlement Price) (or it would be unlawful or would contravene those licensing requirements were a determination to be made at such time), then Condition 17.4(b) (Redemption) shall apply.

17.3 Futures Contract Adjustment Events:

If so specified in the Pricing Supplement relating to any Series of Futures Contract-Linked Notes, the following shall constitute "Futures Contract Adjustment Events" for the purposes of such Series:

- (a) "Price Source Disruption", which means (i) the failure of the Futures Contract Sponsor to announce or publish the Settlement Price (or the information necessary for determining the Settlement Price) or (ii) the failure by the relevant Exchange to publish the Settlement Price;
- (b) "Trading Restriction", which means the material suspension of, or the material limitation imposed on, trading in (i) the Futures Contract on the Exchange or (ii) any relevant Futures Contract Underlier(s).
- (c) "Disappearance or Non-commencement of Futures Contract or Settlement Price", which means (i) the permanent discontinuation of the Futures Contract or of trading in the relevant Futures Contract on the relevant Exchange or (ii) the disappearance or permanent discontinuance or unavailability of a Settlement Price or (iii) trading in the relevant Futures Contract never commenced and, in any such case, no Successor Futures Contract exists provided that the scheduled expiry of a Futures Contract in accordance with the relevant contract specifications shall not constitute the Disappearance or Non-commencement of Futures Contract or Settlement Price;
- (d) "Material Change in Formula", which means the occurrence since the Trade Date of a material change or modification in the formula for or method of calculating the settlement price or other price of the relevant Futures Contract;
- (e) "Material Change in Content", which means the occurrence since the Trade Date of a material change or modification in the content, composition or constitution of the relevant Futures Contract;
- (f) "Tax Disruption", which means the imposition of, change in or removal of an excise, severance, sales, use, value added, transfer, stamp, documentary, recording or similar tax on, or measured by reference to, the relevant Futures Contract (other than a tax on, or measured by reference to, overall gross or net income) by any government or taxation authority after the Trade Date, if the direct effect of such imposition, change or removal is to raise or lower the relevant level, price, value or amount on the day that would otherwise be a Reference Date from what it would have been without that imposition, change or removal.

- (g) "Change of Exchange", which means that the Futures Contract is no longer negotiated on the Exchange and/or under a market-standard format as of the Trade Date but is negotiated on an exchange and/or under a format that is not acceptable to the Determination Agent.
- (h) "Illiquidity Event", which means that in the determination of the Determination Agent, the liquidity of the Futures Contract has decreased significantly since the Trade Date, such decrease of liquidity being likely to have a material impact on any hedging arrangements of the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates in connection with the Notes.

17.4 Adjustments for Futures Contract Adjustment Events:

(a) Adjustment:

If a Futures Contract Adjustment Event which is a Price Source Disruption, a Trading Disruption, a Material Change in Formula, a Material Change in Content, a Tax Disruption, a Change of Exchange or an Illiquidity Event occurs, the Determination Agent shall determine if such Futures Contract Adjustment Event has a material effect on the Notes and, if so, subject to Condition 17.4(b) (Redemption), shall:

- (i) make such adjustments to the Conditions and/or the applicable Pricing Supplement as the Determination Agent determines necessary or appropriate to account for the effect of such Futures Contract Adjustment Event and determine the effective date of each such adjustment; and/or
- (ii) substitute such Futures Contract with a new Futures Contract selected by the Determination Agent (which shall be a replacement futures contract using, in the determination of the Determination Agent, the same or a substantially similar formula and method of calculation as used in the calculation of the Futures Contract or a replacement futures contract selected by the Determination Agent in accordance with any other criteria specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement) and make such adjustments (if any) to the Conditions and/or the applicable Pricing Supplement as it deems necessary or appropriate in relation to such substitution. Such new futures contract shall be deemed to be a Futures Contract in place of the Futures Contract the subject of the Futures Contract Adjustment Event.

If the Determination Agent determines that no calculation, adjustment and/or substitution can reasonably be made pursuant to the above, Condition 17.4(b) (Redemption) shall apply.

(b) Redemption:

If either:

- (i) a Futures Contract Adjustment Event which is a Disappearance of Futures Contract or Settlement Price occurs or an Administrator/Benchmark Event and an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs and:
 - (A) the Pricing Supplement does not specify that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable;
 - (B) the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable but does not specify an Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract;
 - (C) the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and specifies an Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract but the Determination Agent is unable to determine the Adjustment Payment;
 - (D) the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and specifies an Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract and the Determination Agent determines that the Adjustment Payment would be an amount that the Noteholder would (but for Condition 17.2(a)(ii)(C)(2)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Note; or

- (E) it (a) would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (b) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, in each case for the Determination Agent to calculate the relevant level, price, value or amount in accordance with Condition 17.4(a) (Adjustment); or
- (ii) any Futures Contract Adjustment Event (other than a Disappearance of Futures Contract or Settlement Price) occurs and the Determination Agent determines that no calculation, adjustment and/or substitution can reasonably be made pursuant to Condition 17.4(a) (Adjustment), then the Issuer may, at any time thereafter and in its reasonable discretion, determine that the Notes shall be redeemed as of any later date. If the Issuer so determines that the Notes shall be redeemed, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the Noteholders to redeem the Notes and upon redemption the Issuer will pay in respect of each Note an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount.

The Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the redemption, settlement or payment terms of the relevant Notes and/or any other adjustment, which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such change or adjustment in accordance with Condition 38.8 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.

17.5 Correction of Futures Contract Prices:

If any settlement price announced by the Futures Contract Sponsor or published by the Exchange and which is utilised by the Determination Agent for any calculation or determination (the "Original Determination") under the Notes is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Value") is published by the Futures Contract Sponsor by such time (the "Correction Cut Off Time") as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if none is so specified, at least 3 Business Days prior to the relevant Interest Payment Date, Maturity Date or any early redemption date of the Futures Contract-Linked Notes), then the Determination Agent will notify the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent of the Corrected Value as soon as reasonably practicable and shall determine the relevant value (the "Replacement Determination") using the Corrected Value. If the result of the Replacement Determination is different from the result of the Original Determination, to the extent that it determines to be necessary and practicable, the Determination Agent may adjust any relevant terms accordingly.

In the event there is any discrepancy between any settlement price published or announced by the Futures Contract Sponsor and the Exchange any which is used by the Determination Agent for any calculation or determination under the Notes and that is not otherwise corrected pursuant to this Condition 17.5 (Correction of Futures Contract Prices), the settlement price selected by the Determination Agent acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner shall prevail for the relevant day.

17.6 Additional Disruption Events:

- (a) Following the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the relevant Notes shall continue or shall be redeemed early.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to the formula for the Final Redemption Amount, any Interest Amount and/or the relevant level, price, value or amount set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the number of Futures Contracts to which each Note relates, the number of Futures Contracts comprised in a Basket of Futures Contracts, the amount, the number of or type of shares, futures contracts or other securities which may be delivered under such Notes and, in any case, any other variable relevant to the redemption, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Notes and/or any other adjustment (including without limitation, in relation to Futures Contract Basket-Linked Notes, the cancellation of terms applicable in respect of any Futures Contracts affected by the relevant Additional Disruption Event), to account for the economic effect on the Notes of such Additional Disruption Event, which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine.

- (c) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall be redeemed early, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to redeem the Notes and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment in respect of each Note of an amount equal to Early Redemption Amount.
- (d) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Fiscal Agent and the Determination Agent of the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event.
- (e) For the purposes hereof:

"Additional Disruption Event" means, with respect to any Series of Futures Contract Linked Notes, any or all of (i) a Change in Law, (ii) Hedging Disruption, (iii) Increased Cost of Hedging, (iv) Loss of Stock Borrow, (v) Increased Regulatory Capital and/or (vi) Insolvency Filing as have been specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as an applicable Additional Disruption Event with respect to such Notes.

17.7 Definitions applicable to Futures Contract-Linked Notes:

In relation to Futures Contract-Linked Notes, the following expressions have the meanings set out below:

"Adjustment Payment" means, in respect of any Note, the payment (if any) determined by the Determination Agent as is required in order to reduce or eliminate, to the extent reasonably practicable, any transfer of economic value to or from the Issuer as a result of the replacement of a Futures Contract by the Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract. The Determination Agent may determine that the Adjustment Payment is zero;

"Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract" means, in respect of a Futures Contract, the first of the indices, benchmarks or other price sources specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as an "Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract" that is not subject to an Administrator/Benchmark Event;

"Averaging Cut-Off Date" means, in the case where Notes relate to a Futures Contract or Basket of Futures Contracts and in respect of a Scheduled Averaging Date for the purposes of Condition 17.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) the date falling the Specified Number of Scheduled Trading Days or the Specified Number of Common Scheduled Trading Days (as the case may be) following the Scheduled Averaging Date, or if no such number is specified:

- (a) if "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" in respect of a Basket of Futures Contracts is specified to be applicable in the Pricing Supplement, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day following such Scheduled Averaging Date; or
- (b) in any other case, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day following such Scheduled Averaging Date;

"Averaging Date" means, in respect of each Reference Date, either:

- (a) in the case of (i) a Single Futures Contract-Linked Note or (ii) a Futures Contract Basket-Linked Note where the applicable Pricing Supplement provides that "Individual Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, each date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or, if such date is not a Scheduled Trading Day, the next following Scheduled Trading Day for such (or the relevant) Futures Contract or Basket Component (as the case may be); or
- (b) in the case of a Futures Contract Basket-Linked Note, where the applicable Pricing Supplement provides that either "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" or "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" shall be applicable, each date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or if any such date is not a Common Scheduled Trading Day, the next following Common Scheduled Trading Day for such Basket of Futures Contracts, provided that if any such day is a Disrupted Day, the Averaging Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Condition 17.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption);

"Basket" means in relation to any Futures Contract Basket-Linked Notes, the Futures Contracts specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as comprising the Basket, in each case in the relative proportions specified in such Pricing Supplement;

"Basket Component" means, in relation to a particular Series of Futures Contract Basket-Linked Notes, each Futures Contract comprised in the relevant Basket of Futures Contracts;

"Basket of Futures Contracts" means, in relation to a particular Series, a basket comprising the Futures Contracts specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in the relative proportions specified in such Pricing Supplement;

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (A) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (B) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Issuer determines that (x) it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of any relevant Futures Contracts, or (y) it will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations with respect to the Notes (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position);

"Common Scheduled Trading Day" means, in respect of a Futures Contract Basket-Linked Note, each day which is a Scheduled Trading Day for all the Basket Components;

"Common Valid Date" means, in respect of a Futures Contract Basket-Linked Note, a Common Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day for any Basket Component and on which another Averaging Date does not or is deemed not to occur;

"Determination Date" means, in relation to any determination, each date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that if any such date is (i) not a Scheduled Trading Day and/or (ii) a Disrupted Day, the relevant Determination Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Condition 17.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption);

"Determination Time" means, in respect of a Futures Contract, the time at which the Settlement Price is announced or published (or, in the case of a Disrupted Day, scheduled to be announced or published in accordance with the terms of such Futures Contract);

"Disrupted Day" means any Scheduled Trading Day on which a Market Disruption Event has occurred or is continuing;

"Exchange" means, in respect of a Futures Contract relating to Single Futures Contract-Linked Notes or Futures Contract Basket-Linked Notes, each exchange or quotation system specified as such for such Futures Contract in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if none is specified, the principal exchange or quotation system for trading in such Futures Contract, as determined by the Determination Agent, and (without prejudice to a Futures Contract Adjustment Event that is a Change of Exchange) any successor to such exchange or quotation system or any substitute exchange or quotation system to which trading in the Futures Contract has temporarily relocated, provided that the Determination Agent has determined that there is comparable liquidity relative to such Futures Contract on such temporary substitute exchange or quotation system as on the original Exchange;

"Exchange Disruption" means the Exchange fails to open for trading during any regular trading session that the Determination Agent considers material to the determination of the applicable Settlement Price for the relevant Futures Contract or any other event occurs that disrupts or impairs (as determined by the Determination Agent) the ability of market participants in general (i) to effect transactions in, comply with clearing obligations or obtain market values for, the Futures Contract on the Exchange, or (ii) to effect transactions in, comply with clearing obligations or obtain market values for, the Futures Contract Underlier(s), and in each case the Determination Agent determines that such event is material in relation to the Notes;

"Expiry Date" means, in respect of a Futures Contract and each day that is a Reference Date or an Averaging Date, the expiry date of such Futures Contract on which the Futures Contract Sponsor announces, and the Exchange publishes, the "final settlement price" of such Futures Contract;

"Failure to Announce or Publish" means (a) the failure by the relevant Futures Contract Sponsor to announce or publish the Settlement Price; or (b) the failure by the relevant Exchange to publish the Settlement Price provided that, if either of (a) or (b) occurs and the Determination Agent determines that the failure of the other announcement or publication to occur is not material for the purposes of the Notes, then such circumstances shall not constitute a Failure to Announce or Publish;

"Futures Contract" means any futures contract specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as a Futures Contract;

"Futures Contract Sponsor" means, in respect of a Futures Contract, the corporation or other entity which (a) is responsible for setting and reviewing the contract specifications, rules and procedures and methods of calculations and adjustments, if any, related to such Futures Contract; and (b) announces (directly or through an agent) the settlement price of such Futures Contract on a regular basis;

"Futures Contract Underlier(s)" means, in respect of a Futures Contract, each index, rate, asset or reference item underlying such Futures Contract as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Hedging Disruption" means that the Issuer is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to (A) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations under the Notes, or (B) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transactions or asset(s);

"Increased Cost of Hedging" means that the Issuer would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (A) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations with respect to the Notes or (B) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s) provided that any such materially increased amount that is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Issuer shall not be deemed an Increased Cost of Hedging;

"Increased Regulatory Capital" means there would be a material increase (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) in the amount or cost of regulatory capital that would have to be maintained by the Issuer any/or any Affiliate in relation to the Notes and/or any related hedging arrangements, as determined by the Determination Agent;

"Market Disruption Event" means in respect of a Futures Contract, the occurrence or existence of (i) a Failure to Announce or Publish, (ii) a Trading Disruption, or (iii) an Exchange Disruption;

"Observation Date" means each date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that if any such date is (i) not a Scheduled Trading Day and/or (ii) a Disrupted Day, the relevant Observation Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Condition 17.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption);

"Reference Cut-Off Date" means, in the case where Notes relate to a Futures Contract or a Basket of Futures Contracts and in respect of a Scheduled Reference Date for the purposes of Condition 17.1(b) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption), the date falling the Specified Number of Scheduled Trading Days or the Specified Number of Common Scheduled Trading Days (as the case may be) following the Scheduled Reference Date, or if no such number is specified:

- (a) if "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" in respect of a Basket of Futures Contracts is specified to be applicable in the Pricing Supplement, the eighth Common Scheduled Trading Day following such Scheduled Reference Date; or
- (b) in any other case, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day, or, in respect of a Basket of Futures Contract, the eighth Scheduled Trading Day for the Affected Basket Component, following such Scheduled Reference Date;

"Reference Date" means, for the purposes of Condition 17.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption), each Valuation Date, Observation Date, Strike Date or Determination Date (as applicable) specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or otherwise, any date construed to be a Reference Date in accordance with the Conditions;

"Relevant Futures Contract Benchmark" means the Futures Contract or the Futures Contract Underlier;

"Scheduled Averaging Date" means an original date (following any adjustment (if applicable) pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of the definition of "Averaging Date") that, but for such day being a Disrupted Day, would have been a Reference Date;

"Scheduled Closing Time" means in respect of an Exchange and a Scheduled Trading Day, the scheduled weekday closing time of such Exchange on such Scheduled Trading Day, without regard to after hours or any other trading outside of regular trading session hours;

"Scheduled Reference Date" means, for the purposes of Condition 17.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption), any original date that, but for the occurrence of an event causing a Disrupted Day, would have been a Reference Date;

"Scheduled Trading Day" means any day on which each Exchange is scheduled to be open for trading for their respective regular trading sessions notwithstanding that any such Exchange may close prior to its Scheduled Closing Time;

"Settlement Price" means, in respect of a Futures Contract and any day, the official "daily settlement price" or "final settlement price" on such day (in each case, however defined in the contract specifications of such Futures Contract or the relevant Exchange);

"Specified Number of Scheduled Trading Days" means the number specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Specified Number of Common Scheduled Trading Days" means the number specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Strike Date" means each date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that if any such date is (i) not a Scheduled Trading Day and/or (ii) a Disrupted Day, the relevant Strike Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Condition 17.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption);

"Successor Futures Contract" means, in respect of a Futures Contract, a successor futures contract using, in the determination of the Determination Agent, the same or a substantially similar formula for or method of calculation as used in the calculation of such Futures Contract;

"Trading Disruption" means any suspension of or limitation imposed on trading by the Exchange or otherwise and whether by reason of movements in price exceeding limits permitted by the Exchange or otherwise relating to the Futures Contract on the Exchange, which the Determination Agent determines to be material in relation to the Notes;

"Valid Date" means a Scheduled Trading Day that is not a Disrupted Day and on which another Averaging Date in respect of the Reference Date does not, or is not deemed to, occur; and

"Valuation Date" means each date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that if any such date is (i) not a Scheduled Trading Day and/or (ii) a Disrupted Day, the relevant Valuation Date shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Condition 17.1 (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption).

18. Provisions relating to Credit Linked Notes

In respect of any Notes ("Credit Linked Notes") for which the Credit Linked Interest Note Provisions and/or Credit Linked Redemption Provisions are specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Conditions shall be supplemented and modified by the terms and conditions set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

19. Provisions relating to Bond-Linked Notes

This Condition 19 (Provisions relating to Bond-Linked Notes) is applicable in respect of any Series of Notes ("Bond-Linked Notes") where "Bond-Linked Redemption Provisions" are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

19.1 Conversion

- (a) Following the occurrence of any Conversion, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the Notes will continue (and, if so, the Determination Agent will determine, in its reasonable discretion, any adjustments to be made) or be redeemed.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as it, in its reasonable discretion considers appropriate, including but not limited to, the Strike Price, the formula for the Redemption Amount set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, and, in any case, any other variable relevant to the redemption, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Notes and/or any other adjustment and determine, in its reasonable discretion, the effective date(s) of such adjustment.
- (c) If the Issuer determines that the Notes shall be redeemed, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the Noteholders to redeem the Notes and upon redemption the Issuer will pay an amount in respect of each Note equal to the Early Redemption Amount.
- (d) For the purposes hereof:

"Conversion" means, as determined by the Determination Agent, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, in respect of any relevant Underlying Securities any irreversible conversion by the Underlying Security Issuer, of such Underlying Securities into other securities, any other financial instrument or cash or any notice of early redemption or repayment in whole or in part prior to its scheduled maturity date other than a notice in respect of any scheduled amortisation.

19.2 Correction to published prices

For the purposes of determining the Spot Price for any day, if applicable, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement for the purposes of calculating the Redemption Amount or any other amount in respect of a Bond-Linked Note, if the price published or announced on a given day and used or to be used by the Determination Agent to determine a Spot Price (the "Original Determination") is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Value") is published or announced by the person responsible for that publication or announcement by such time as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if none is so specified, within thirty days of the original publication or announcement), then the Determination Agent will notify the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent of the Corrected Value as soon as reasonably practicable and shall determine the relevant value (the "Replacement Determination") using the Corrected Value. If the result of the Replacement Determination is different from the result of the Original Determination, to the extent that it determines to be necessary and practicable, the Determination Agent may, acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, adjust any relevant terms accordingly. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such change or adjustment in accordance with Condition 36.9 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.

- (a) Following the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the relevant Notes shall continue or be redeemed.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the redemption, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Notes and/or any other adjustment which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine.

- (c) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall be redeemed, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the Noteholders to redeem the Notes and upon redemption the Issuer will pay an amount in respect of each Note equal to the Early Redemption Amount.
- (d) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Fiscal Agent and the Determination Agent of the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event.
- (e) For the purposes hereof:

"Additional Disruption Event" means with respect to any Series of Notes (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement) a Change in Law, Hedging Disruption, Increased Cost of Hedging, Price Source Disruption and any further event or events as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as an Additional Disruption Event with respect to such Notes.

19.4 In relation to Bond-Linked Notes, the following expressions have the meanings set out below:

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (a) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (b) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Issuer determines that (i) it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of Hedge Positions or (ii) it will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations with respect to the Notes (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position);

"Disrupted Day" means any day on which a Disruption Event has occurred or is continuing, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion;

"Disruption Event" means any closure of markets in trading of the Underlying Securities other than for ordinary public holidays and/or any restriction or suspension in trading of the Underlying Securities that, in the opinion of the Determination Agent, would have a material effect on the ability of market participants to effect transactions in such markets;

"Early Redemption Amount" means, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an amount which the Determination Agent, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, determines is the fair market value to the Noteholder of a Note with terms that would preserve the economic equivalent of any payment (assuming satisfaction of each applicable condition precedent) to which the Noteholder would have been entitled under the Note but for the occurrence of the Conversion, less the proportion attributable to that Note of the reasonable cost to the Issuer and/or any Affiliate of, or the loss realised by the Issuer and/or any Affiliate on, unwinding any related hedging arrangements, all as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion.

"Exchange" means each securities exchange or trading market specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement (including any successor to that securities exchange or trading market) for so long as the Underlying Securities are listed or otherwise included in that securities exchange or trading market. If the specified Exchange ceases to list or otherwise include the Underlying Securities and the Underlying Securities are listed or otherwise included in any other securities exchange or trading market, the Determination Agent will, in its reasonable discretion, select an alternative securities exchange or trading market;

"Exchange Business Day" means, in respect of any Bond-Linked Note, any day that is a trading day on the Exchange (or on each Exchange if more than one is specified) other than a day on which trading on the Exchange is scheduled to close prior to its regular weekday closing time;

"Hedge Positions" means any purchase, sale, entry into or maintenance of one or more (a) positions or contracts in securities, commodities, options, futures, derivatives or foreign exchange, (b) stock loan transactions or (c) other instruments or arrangements (howsoever described) by a party in order to hedge, individually or on a portfolio basis, the Notes;

"Hedging Disruption" means that the Issuer is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to (a) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations under the Notes, or (b) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transactions or asset(s);

"Increased Cost of Hedging" means that the Issuer would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (a) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations with respect to the Notes or (b) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s) provided that any such materially increased amount that is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Issuer shall not be deemed an Increased Cost of Hedging;

"Price Source" is as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Price Source Disruption" means (A) the failure of the Price Source to announce or publish any relevant price in respect of the relevant Underlying Securities and/or (B) the temporary or permanent discontinuance or unavailability of the Price Source;

"Reference Cut-Off Date" means in the case of Bond-Linked Notes and any Scheduled Valuation Date, the date falling the Specified Number of Scheduled Trading Days following such Scheduled Valuation Date, or if no such number is specified, the date falling five Scheduled Trading Days following such Scheduled Valuation Date;

"Scheduled Trading Day" means in the case of Bond-Linked Notes, the day(s) specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

"Scheduled Valuation Date" means any original date that, but for the occurrence of an event causing a Disrupted Day, would have been a Valuation Date;

"Spot Price" means, in respect of any Bond-Linked Note, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement:

- (a) if the Strike Price is stated as an amount in the relevant currency, the price for the Underlying Securities, stated as an amount in the relevant currency, equal in amount to the nominal amount specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement of the relevant Underlying Securities to which one Note, as applicable relates; and
- (b) if the Strike Price is stated as a percentage of the nominal value of the Underlying Securities, the price of the Underlying Securities stated as a percentage of their nominal value, in each case, as of the Valuation Time on any relevant Valuation Date, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, which may without limitation and in its discretion be by reference to a Price Source;

"Valuation Date" means in the case of Bond-Linked Notes, the day(s) specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that if any such date is (a) not a Scheduled Trading Day and/or (b) a Disrupted Day, the relevant Valuation Date shall be the earlier of (i) first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not in the determination of the Determination Agent a Disrupted Day and (ii) the Reference Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding that such Scheduled Trading Day is a Disrupted Day); and

"Valuation Time" means in the case of Bond-Linked Notes, the time specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

20. Provisions relating to ETN-Linked Notes

In respect of any Notes ("ETN-Linked Notes") for which the ETN-Linked Interest Note Provisions and/or ETN-Linked Redemption Provisions are specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Conditions shall be supplemented and modified by the terms and conditions set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

21. Provisions relating to Rate-Linked Notes

This Condition 21 (Provisions relating to Rate-Linked Notes) is applicable in respect of any Series of Notes ("Rate-Linked Notes") where "Rate-Linked Interest Note Provisions" and/or "Rate-Linked Redemption Provisions" are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

21.1 Screen Rate Determination

Subject to the provisions of Condition 21.3 (CMS Underlying Rate Determination), Condition 21.4 (Provisions specific to SOFR as Underlying Rate), Condition 21.5 (Provisions specific to SONIA as Underlying Rate), Condition 21.6 (Provisions specific to €STR as Underlying Rate), Condition 21.7 (Provisions specific to SARON as Underlying Rate), Condition 21.8 (Provisions specific to TONA as Underlying Rate) Condition 21.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use), where such provisions are specified to apply in the applicable Pricing Supplement, Condition 21.10 (Underlying CMS Underlying Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event) or Condition 21.11 (General Fallback Arrangements), if Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate(s) is/are to be determined, the Underlying Rate(s) applicable to the Notes in respect of each Underlying Rate Determination Date or Averaging Date (as applicable) will be determined by the Determination Agent on the following basis:

- (a) if the Underlying Rate is a composite quotation or customarily supplied by one entity, the Determination Agent will determine the Underlying Rate which appears on the Relevant Screen Page as of the Relevant Time on the relevant Underlying Rate Determination Date;
- (b) in any other case, the Determination Agent will determine the arithmetic mean of the Underlying Rates which appear on the Relevant Screen Page as of the Relevant Time on the relevant Underlying Rate Determination Date;
- (c) if, in the case of Condition 21.1(a) above, such rate does not appear on that page or, in the case of Condition 21.1(b) above, fewer than two such rates appear on that page or if, in either case, the Relevant Screen Page is unavailable, the Determination Agent will:
 - (i) request the principal Relevant Financial Centre office of each of the Reference Banks to provide a quotation of the Underlying Rate at approximately the Relevant Time on the Underlying Rate Determination Date to prime banks in the Relevant Financial Centre interbank market in an amount that is representative for a single transaction in that market at that time; and
 - (ii) determine the arithmetic mean of such quotations; and
- (d) if fewer than two such quotations are provided as requested, the Determination Agent will determine the arithmetic mean of the rates (being the nearest to the Underlying Rate, as determined by the Determination Agent) quoted by major banks in the Principal Financial Centre of the Specified Currency, selected by the Determination Agent, at approximately 11.00 a.m. (local time in the Principal Financial Centre of the Specified Currency) on the first day of the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) for loans in the Specified Currency to leading European banks for a period equal to the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) and in an amount that is representative for a single transaction in that market at that time, and the Underlying Rate in respect of such Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be the rate or (as the case may be) the arithmetic mean so determined, provided, however, that if the Determination Agent is unable to determine a rate or (as the case may be) an arithmetic mean in accordance with the above provisions in relation to any Interest Reference Period, the Underlying Rate applicable to the Notes during such Interest Reference Period will be the rate or (as the case may be) the arithmetic mean last determined in relation to the Notes in respect of a preceding Interest Reference Period.

Subject to the provisions of Condition 21.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use), where such provisions are specified to apply in the applicable Pricing Supplement, Condition 21.10 (Underlying CMS Underlying Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event) or Condition 21.11

(General Fallback Arrangements), if ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate(s) is/are to be determined, the Underlying Rate applicable to the Notes for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) will be the relevant ISDA Rate where "ISDA Rate" in relation to any Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) means a rate equal to the Floating Rate (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) that would be determined by the Determination Agent under an interest rate swap transaction if the Determination Agent were acting as Calculation Agent for that interest rate swap transaction under the terms of an agreement incorporating the ISDA Definitions and under which:

- (i) the Floating Rate Option (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (ii) except in the case of Overnight Floating Rate Options (as defined in the ISDA Definitions), the Designated Maturity (as defined in the ISDA Definitions), if applicable, is a period specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (iii) the relevant Fixing Day (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is the date as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (iv) the relevant Fixing Time (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is the time as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (v) the relevant Reset Date (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (vi) if an Overnight Floating Rate Option (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement and:
 - (A) an Overnight Rate Compounding Method (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
 - (1) OIS Compounding is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, Daily Capped Rate and/or Daily Floored Rate are applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, the Daily Capped Rate and the Daily Floored Rate are the rates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; or
 - (2) Compounding with Lookback is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, (a) Lookback is the number of Applicable Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions and (b) Daily Capped Rate and/or Daily Floored Rate are applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, the Daily Capped Rate and the Daily Floored Rate are the rates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
 - (3) Compounding with Observation Period Shift is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, Set-in-Advance is applicable if specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, (a) Set-in-Advance is applicable if specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, (b) Observation Period Shift is the number of Observation Period Shift Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions, (c) Observation Period Shift Additional Business Days are the days, if any, specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement and (d) Daily Capped Rate and/or Daily Floored Rate are applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, the Daily Capped Rate and the Daily Floored Rate are the rates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

- (4) Compounding with Lockout is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, (a) Lockout is the number of Lockout Period Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions, (b) Lockout Period Business Days are the days specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions and (c) Daily Capped Rate and/or Daily Floored Rate are applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, the Daily Capped Rate and the Daily Floored Rate are the rates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; or
 - (5) unless an Overnight Rate Compounding Method in subparagraphs (1) to (4) above is applicable, in respect of an Overnight Floating Rate Option in the Floating Rate Matrix (as defined in the ISDA Definitions), any other method of compounding an overnight rate that is set out in the column entitled "Category/Style" in the Floating Rate Matrix is applicable; or
- (B) an Overnight Rate Averaging Method (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
 - (1) Overnight Averaging is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, Daily Capped Rate and/or Daily Floored Rate are applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, the Daily Capped Rate and the Daily Floored Rate are the rates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
 - (2) Averaging with Lookback is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, (a) Lookback is the number of Applicable Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions and (b) Daily Capped Rate and/or Daily Floored Rate are applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, the Daily Capped Rate and the Daily Floored Rate are the rates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
 - (3) Averaging with Observation Period Shift is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, Set-in-Advance is applicable if specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, (a) Set-in-Advance is applicable if specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, (b) Observation Period Shift is the number of Observation Period Shift Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions, (c) Observation Period Shift Additional Business Days are the days, if any, specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement and (d) Daily Capped Rate and/or Daily Floored Rate are applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, the Daily Capped Rate and the Daily Floored Rate are the rates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
 - (4) Averaging with Lockout is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, (a) Lockout is the number of Lockout Period Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions, (b) Lockout Period Business Days are the days specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA

Definitions and (c) Daily Capped Rate and/or Daily Floored Rate are applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, the Daily Capped Rate and the Daily Floored Rate are the rates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

- (5) unless an Overnight Rate Averaging Method in sub-paragraphs (1) to (4) above is applicable, in respect of an Overnight Floating Rate Option in the Floating Rate Matrix, any other method of averaging an overnight rate that is set out in the column entitled "Category/Style" in the Floating Rate Matrix is applicable; and
- (vii) if an Index Floating Rate Option (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement and an Index Method is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
 - (A) Standard Index Method is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
 - (B) Compounded Index Method is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; or
 - (C) Compounded Index Method with Observation Period Shift is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and, if so, (a) Set-in-Advance is applicable if specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, (b) Observation Period Shift is the number of Observation Period Shift Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if not so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the ISDA Definitions and (c) Observation Period Shift Additional Business Days are the days, if any, specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (viii) in connection with the Index Method, references in the ISDA Definitions to: (1) numbers, financial centers or other items specified in the Confirmation shall be deemed to be references to the numbers, financial centers or other items specified for such purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement; (2) "Business Day in the financial centres, if any, specified for such purpose in the Confirmation" shall be deemed to be references to Business Day; (3) "Calculation Period" shall be deemed to be references to the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable); (4) "Floating Rate Day Count Fraction" shall be deemed to be references to Day Count Fraction; (5) "Period End Date" shall be deemed to be references to the last day of the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable); (6) "Termination Date" shall be deemed to be references to the last day of the final Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable); and (7) "Effective Date" shall be deemed to be references to the first day of the initial Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable); or
- (ix) Delayed Payment is applicable if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and the relevant delay is the number of Business Days specified in respect of Delayed Payment in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (x) Period End Date/ Termination Date adjustment for Unscheduled Holiday will apply if specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement to be applicable;
- (xi) Non-Representative (as defined in the 2021 ISDA Definitions) will apply if specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement to be applicable;
- (xii) Successor Benchmark and Successor Benchmark Effective Date (as defined in the 2021 ISDA Definitions) will be as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (xiii) if any fallbacks would otherwise be required to be determined in accordance with Section 8.6 (Generic Fallback Provisions) of the ISDA Definitions, such fallbacks shall not be so determined, but shall instead be determined in accordance with Condition 21.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use), where such provision is specified to apply in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or Condition 21.11 (General Fallback Arrangements) and the ISDA Definitions shall be construed accordingly;

- (xiv) Sections 1.2.2 (Calculation Agent Standard) and 1.2.4 (Determinations by Calculation Agent) of the ISDA Definitions are deemed to be deleted;
- (xv) Section 6.10 (Linear Interpolation) of the ISDA Definitions is deemed to be deleted unless "2021 ISDA Definitions Linear Interpolation" is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement; and
- (xvi) in any circumstance where the ISDA Definitions provide for anything to be determined by agreement between the parties or a discretion is given thereunder to the Calculation Agent to make any determination, the Determination Agent will make such determination or exercise such discretion.

Notwithstanding any other Conditions where the Floating Rate Option is "EUR-CNO TEC10", and unless "TEC10 Adjustment" is specified as "Not Applicable" in the applicable Final Terms, if in respect of any Interest Period the Determination Agent determines that the 10-year constant maturity French treasury rate (known as CNO TEC10) published by the Bank of France no longer represents the actual yield to maturity of a notional Obligations assimilables du Trésor ("OAT") with a maturity of exactly 10 years (based on executable prices available to the Determination Agent for OATs with a maturity most closely matching a 10-year maturity) (which event may occur in connection with or following any default or potential default of the Republic of France or unexpected volatility or illiquidity in markets in trading of OATs), then the ISDA Rate in respect of such Interest Period for the purposes of the Conditions shall be deemed to be the yield to maturity of a notional OAT with a maturity of exactly 10 years, as determined by the Determination Agent acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner by reference to bid prices for OATs with a maturity most closely matching a 10-year maturity and having regard to such pricing sources, methods and models (which may include, without limitation, any available firm or indicative prices for such OATs or internal valuation or recovery models) as the Determination Agent considers appropriate.

- 21.3 CMS Underlying Rate Determination: Subject to the provisions of Condition 21.10 (Underlying CMS Underlying Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event), if CMS Underlying Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate(s) is/are to be determined, the Underlying Rate(s) applicable to the Notes for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) will be the relevant CMS Underlying Rate determined in accordance with paragraph (a) or (b) below, as applicable.

(a) Single CMS Underlying Rate

If the CMS Underlying Rate is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be "Single CMS Underlying Rate", the CMS Underlying Rate in respect of an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) or any relevant day will be equal to the CMS Underlying Rate for such Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) or such relevant day multiplied by the Underlying Rate Participation Rate (if any is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to such CMS Underlying Rate).

(b) Spread CMS Underlying Rate

If the CMS Underlying Rate is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be "Spread CMS Underlying Rate", the CMS Underlying Rate in respect of an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) or any relevant day will be equal to the difference between (1) CMS Underlying Rate 1 for such Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) or such relevant day multiplied by Underlying Rate Participation Rate 1 (if any is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to such CMS Underlying Rate 1), minus (2) CMS Underlying Rate 2 for such Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) or such relevant day multiplied by Underlying Rate Participation Rate 2 (if any is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to such CMS Underlying Rate 2).

(c) Determination of CMS Underlying Rate

The CMS Underlying Rate in respect of an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) or any relevant day (as applicable) will be the Specified Swap Rate for swap transactions in the Reference Currency with a maturity of the Designated Maturity (expressed as a percentage rate per annum) (the "Relevant Swap Rate") which appears on the Relevant Screen Page as at the Relevant Time on the Underlying Rate Determination Date in respect of such Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) or such relevant day, all as determined by the Determination Agent. If the Relevant Swap Rate does not appear on the Relevant Screen Page at the Relevant Time, the CMS Underlying Rate in respect of an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) or a relevant day (as applicable) will be determined by the Determination Agent in accordance with the first applicable Fallback Rate Determination that provides a CMS Underlying Rate, and if the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies:

- (i) "Fallback Screen Page" to be applicable, the Determination Agent will, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determine an alternative or successor page or publication to the Relevant Screen Page for the Relevant Swap Rate;
- (ii) "Mid-Market Quotations" to be applicable, the Determination Agent will determine the CMS Underlying Rate on the basis of the arithmetic mean of the Mid-Market Quotations provided by the Reference Banks at approximately the Relevant Time on the Underlying Rate Determination Date in respect of such Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) or such day by requesting the principal Relevant Financial Centre office of each of the Reference Banks to provide Mid-Market Quotations. If at least five Mid-Market Quotations are provided, the Determination Agent will determine the arithmetic mean of such Mid-Market Quotations provided by discarding the highest of such Mid-Market Quotations (or in event of equality, one of the highest) and lowest of such Mid-Market Quotations (or in event of equality, one of the lowest). If four Mid-Market Quotations are provided, the Determination Agent will determine the arithmetic mean of such Mid-Market Quotations provided. If less than four Mid-Market Quotations are provided, the next Fallback Rate Determination specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement will apply, or if none is specified, Determination Agent Fallback will apply. All calculations of the arithmetic mean of the relevant number of Mid-Market Quotations provided pursuant to this paragraph will be rounded to the nearest one thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.0005 being rounded upwards; and
- (iii) "Determination Agent Fallback" to be applicable, the Determination Agent will, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determine the CMS Underlying Rate by using available and relevant public information and having regard to comparable benchmarks available.

If any Fallback Rate Determination(s) are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then only that or those (as the case may be) Fallback Rate Determinations shall apply and if two or more Fallback Rate Determinations are specified, those Fallback Rate Determinations shall apply in the order as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, such that if the Determination Agent determines that the CMS Underlying Rate cannot be determined by applying a Fallback Rate Determination, then the next Fallback Rate Determination specified shall apply.

21.4 Provisions specific to SOFR as Underlying Rate

- (i) If Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate(s) is/are to be determined and SOFR is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as the Underlying Rate, the Underlying Rate(s) for an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) will be the relevant SOFR Benchmark, subject to a minimum of zero per cent.
- (ii) The "SOFR Benchmark" will be determined based on SOFR Compound with Lookback, SOFR Compound with Observation Period Shift, SOFR Compound with Payment Delay or SOFR Index Average, as follows:

- (1) if SOFR Compound with Lookback ("SOFR Compound with Lookback") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SOFR Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SOFR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left[\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{SOFR_{i-xUSBD} \times n_i}{360} \right) - 1 \right] \times \frac{360}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"d₀", for any Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant U.S. Government Securities Business Days in chronological order from, and including, the first U.S. Government Securities Business Day in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"Lookback Days" means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"n_i" for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following U.S. Government Securities Business Day ("i+1");

"SOFR_i", for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), is equal to SOFR in respect of that day; and

"SOFR_{i-xUSBD}", for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), is equal to SOFR in respect of the U.S. Government Securities Business Days falling a number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days prior to that day "i" equal to the number of Lookback Days;

- (2) if SOFR Compound with Observation Period Shift ("SOFR Compound with Observation Period Shift") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SOFR Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SOFR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left[\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{SOFR_i \times n_i}{360} \right) - 1 \right] \times \frac{360}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Observation Period;

"d₀", for any Observation Period, means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days in the relevant Observation Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant U.S. Government Securities Business Days in chronological order from, and including, the first U.S. Government Securities Business Day in the relevant Observation Period;

"n_i" for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following U.S. Government Securities Business Day ("i+1");

"Observation Period" means, in respect of each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the period from, and including, the date falling a number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the first day of such Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) to, but excluding, the date falling a number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the last day of the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"Observation Shift Days" means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; and

"SOFR_i", for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, is equal to SOFR in respect of that day;

- (3) if SOFR Compound with Payment Delay ("SOFR Compound with Payment Delay") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SOFR Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SOFR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001)

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"d₀", for any Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant U.S. Government Securities Business Days in chronological order from, and including, the first U.S. Government Securities Business Day in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"n_i" for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following U.S. Government Securities Business Day ("i+1"); and

"SOFR_i", for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), is equal to SOFR in respect of that day.

Where "SOFR Compound with Payment Delay" applies, for the purposes of calculating the SOFR Benchmark with respect to the final Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the level of SOFR for each U.S. Government Securities Business Day in the period from (and including) the SOFR Rate Cut-Off Date to (but excluding) the Maturity Date or the redemption date, as applicable, shall be the level of SOFR in respect of such SOFR Rate Cut-Off Date;

- (4) if SOFR Index Average ("SOFR Index Average") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SOFR Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of the SOFR Index calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d_c" means the number of calendar days from, and including, the SOFR Index_{Start} to, but excluding, the SOFR Index_{End};

"SOFR Index Determination Time" means approximately 5:00 p.m. (New York City time);

"SOFR Index" means, in respect of any U.S. Government Securities Business Day, the SOFR Index value as published by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York in relation to such U.S. Government Securities Business Day, as such value appears at the SOFR Index Determination Time on such U.S. Government Securities Business Day on the Federal Reserve Bank of New York's Website, and appearing on the Relevant Screen Page;

"SOFR Index_{End}" means the SOFR Index value on the date that is the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement preceding the last day of the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) (or in the final Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the Maturity Date or redemption date); and

"SOFR Index_{Start}" means the SOFR Index value on the date that is the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement preceding the first date of the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

If the values for SOFR Index_{Start} or SOFR Index_{End} are not published on or by the relevant Underlying Rate Determination Date and a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have not occurred, the "SOFR Index Average" shall be calculated on such Underlying Rate Determination Date with respect to the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), in accordance with the formula set out in sub-paragraph (2) above of this Condition 21.4(ii) (Provisions specific to SOFR as Underlying Rate) and for such purpose, "Observation Shift Days" shall be the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified for such purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If a Benchmark Transition Event and its related SOFR Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred, the provisions set forth in paragraph (iii) below shall apply.

- (iii) Effect of Benchmark Transition Event

- (A) Benchmark Replacement. If the Issuer or its designee determines that a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred in respect of any determination of the Benchmark on any date, the Benchmark Replacement will replace the then-current Benchmark for all purposes relating to the Notes in respect of such determination on such date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

- (B) Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes. In connection with the implementation of a Benchmark Replacement, the Issuer or its designee will have the right to make Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes from time to time.

Decisions and Determinations. Any determination, decision or election that may be made by the Issuer or its designee pursuant to this Condition 21.4(iii) (Effect of Benchmark Transition Event), including any determination with respect to a tenor, rate or adjustment or of the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event, circumstance or date and any decision to take or refrain from taking any action or any selection, will be conclusive and binding absent manifest error, will be made in the Issuer's or its designee's sole discretion, and, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the documentation relating to the Notes, shall become effective without consent from the holders of the Notes or any other party.

21.5 Provisions specific to SONIA as Underlying Rate

- (i) If Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate(s) is/are to be determined and SONIA is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as the Underlying Rate, the Underlying Rate(s) for an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) will be the relevant SONIA Benchmark, subject to a minimum of zero per cent.
- (ii) The "SONIA Benchmark" will be determined based on SONIA Compound with Lookback, SONIA Compound with Observation Period Shift, SONIA Compound with Payment Delay or SONIA Index Average, as follows:
- (1) if SONIA Compound with Lookback ("SONIA Compound with Lookback") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SONIA Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SONIA Interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{SONIA}_{i-\text{PLBD}} \times n_i}{365} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{365}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"d₀" for any Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of London Banking Days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant London Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first London Banking Day in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"Lookback Days" means the number of London Banking Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"n_i" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following London Banking Day ("i+1"); and

"SONIA_{i-pLBD}" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), is equal to SONIA in respect of the London Banking Day falling a number of London Banking Days prior to that day "i" equal to the number of Lookback Days;

- (2) if SONIA Compound with Observation Period Shift ("SONIA Compound with Observation Period Shift") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SONIA Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SONIA Interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{SONIA}_i \times n_i}{365} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{365}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Observation Period;

"d₀" for any Observation Period, means the number of London Banking Days in the relevant Observation Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant London Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first London Banking Day in the relevant Observation Period;

"n_i" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following London Banking Day ("i+1");

"Observation Period" means, in respect of each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the period from, and including, the date falling a number of London Banking Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the first day of the Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) to, but excluding, the date falling a number of London Banking Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the last day of the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"Observation Shift Days" means the number of London Banking Days specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement; and

"SONIA_i" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, is equal to SONIA in respect of that day "i";

- (3) if SONIA Compound with Payment Delay ("SONIA Compound with Payment Delay") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SONIA Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SONIA Interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"d₀" for any Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of London Banking Days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant London Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first London Banking Day in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"n_i" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following London Banking Day ("i+1"); and

"SONIA_i" for any London Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), is equal to SONIA in respect of that day "i".

Where "SONIA Compound with Payment Delay" applies, for the purposes of calculating the SONIA Benchmark with respect to the final Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the level of SONIA for each London Banking Day in the period from (and including) the SONIA Rate Cut-Off Date to (but excluding) the Maturity Date or the redemption date, as applicable, shall be the level of SONIA in respect of such SONIA Rate Cut-Off Date;

- (4) if SONIA Index Average ("SONIA Index Average") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SONIA Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of the SONIA Index calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\frac{SONIA\ Index_{End}}{SONIA\ Index_{Start}} - 1 \right) \times \left(\frac{365}{d} \right)$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days from, and including, the SONIA Index_{Start} to, but excluding, the SONIA Index_{End};

"Relevant Number" means the number specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if no such number is specified, five);

"SONIA Index" means in respect of any London Banking Day, the SONIA Compounded Index in relation to such London Banking Day as provided by the Bank of England (or any successor) to authorised distributors and as then published on the Relevant Screen Page, or if the Relevant Screen Page is unavailable, as otherwise published by such authorised distributors, in each case on such London Banking Day;

If the value of either or both of SONIA Index_{Start} or SONIA Index_{End} is not published or displayed on the Relevant Screen Page by the administrator of the SONIA Index or other information service by 5.00 p.m. (London time) (or, if later, by the time falling one hour after the customary or scheduled time for publication thereof in accordance with the then-prevailing operational procedures of the administrator of the SONIA Index or of such other information service, as the case may be) on the relevant Underlying Rate Determination Date, the SONIA Benchmark for the applicable Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) for which the SONIA Index is not available shall be determined as set out under subparagraph (2) above of this Condition 21.5(ii) (Provisions specific to SONIA as Underlying Rate) as if SONIA Compound with Observation Period Shift were specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, and for these purposes: the Observation Shift Days in respect of the applicable Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) for which the SONIA Index is not available shall be deemed to be equal to the Relevant Number of London Banking Days plus one (or such other number of London Banking Days as is specified for this purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement, as if such alternative elections had been made in the applicable Pricing Supplement);

"SONIA Index_{End}" means, in respect of an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the SONIA Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of London Banking Days preceding the relevant payment date relating to such Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable); and

"SONIA Index_{Start}" means, in respect of an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the SONIA Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of London Banking Days preceding the first date of the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable).

For the purposes of this Condition 21.5 (Provisions specific to SONIA as Underlying Rate), if SONIA in respect of any London Banking Day (the "Relevant London Banking Day") is not published on the Relevant Screen Page or by an authorised distributor, and is not otherwise provided by the administrator of SONIA, by either (A) the immediately following London Banking Day (or any amended publication day for SONIA as specified by the administrator of SONIA in the SONIA benchmark methodology) or (B) such other date and time on which SONIA for the Relevant London Banking Day is required for the purpose of any determination pursuant to the Conditions and, in either case, none of the events triggering the fallbacks specified in Condition 21.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) or 21.11 (General Fallback Arrangements) (as applicable) have occurred, SONIA for the Relevant London Banking Day shall be deemed to be the rate equal to SONIA for the most recent London Banking Day in respect of which SONIA was so published or provided.

21.6 Provisions specific to €STR as Underlying Rate

- (i) If Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which an Underlying Rate is to be determined and €STR is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as the Underlying Rate, the Underlying Rate for an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) will be the relevant €STR Benchmark, subject to a minimum of zero per cent.
- (ii) The "€STR Benchmark" will be determined based on €STR Compound with Lookback, €STR Compound with Observation Period Shift, €STR Compound with Payment Delay or €STR Index Average, as follows:
 - (1) if €STR Compound with Lookback ("€STR Compound with Lookback") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the €STR Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound €STR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{€STR}_{i-\text{pTBD}} \times n_i}{360} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{360}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"d₀" for any Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of TARGET Settlement Days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"€STR_{i-pTBD}" for any TARGET Settlement Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), is equal to €STR in respect of the TARGET Settlement Day falling a number of TARGET Settlement Days prior to that day "i" equal to the number of Lookback Days;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant TARGET Settlement Day in chronological order from, and including, the first TARGET Settlement Day in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"Lookback Days" means the number of TARGET Settlement Days specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement; and

"n_i" for any TARGET Settlement Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following TARGET Settlement Day ("i+1");

- (2) if €STR Compound with Observation Period Shift ("€STR Compound with Observation Period Shift") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the €STR Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound €STR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{€STR}_i \times n_i}{360} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{360}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Observation Period;

"d₀" for any Observation Period, means the number of TARGET Settlement Days in the relevant Observation Period;

"€STR_i" for any TARGET Settlement Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, is equal to €STR in respect of that day "i";

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant TARGET Settlement Day in chronological order from, and including, the first TARGET Settlement Day in the relevant Observation Period;

"n_i" for any TARGET Settlement Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following TARGET Settlement Day ("i+1");

"Observation Period" means, in respect of each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the period from, and including, the date falling a number of TARGET Settlement Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the first day of such Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) to, but excluding, the date falling a number of TARGET

Settlement Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the last day of such Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable); and

"Observation Shift Days" means the number of TARGET Settlement Days specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement;

- (3) if €STR Compound with Payment Delay ("€STR Compound with Payment Delay") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the €STR Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound €STR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{€STR}_i \times n_i}{360} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{360}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"d₀" for any Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of TARGET Settlement Days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"€STR_i" for any TARGET Settlement Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), is equal to €STR in respect of that day "i";

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant TARGET Settlement Day in chronological order from, and including, the first TARGET Settlement Day in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"n_i" for any TARGET Settlement Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following TARGET Settlement Day ("i+1"); and

Where "€STR Compound with Payment Delay" applies, for the purposes of calculating €STR with respect to the final Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the level of €STR for each TARGET Settlement Day in the period from (and including) the €STR Rate Cut-Off Date to (but excluding) the Maturity Date or the redemption date, as applicable, shall be the level of €STR in respect of such €STR Rate Cut-Off Date;

- (4) if €STR Index Average ("€STR Index Average") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the €STR Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of the €STR Index calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

"d" means the number of calendar days from, and including, the €STR Index_{Start} to, but excluding, the €STR Index_{End}.

"€STR Index" means, in respect of any TARGET Settlement Day, the Compounded €STR Index in relation to such TARGET Settlement Day as published by the ECB on the ECB's Website on such TARGET Settlement Day and appearing on the Relevant Screen Page.

If the value of either or both of €STR Index_{Start} or €STR Index_{End} is not published or displayed on the ECB's Website or the Relevant Screen Page by the administrator of the €STR Index or other information service by 5.00 p.m. (Central European Time) (or, if later, by the time falling one hour after the customary or scheduled time for publication thereof in accordance with the then-prevailing operational procedures of the administrator of €STR Index or of such other information service, as the case may be) on the relevant Underlying Rate Determination Date, the €STR Benchmark for the applicable Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) for which the €STR Index is not available shall be determined as set out under subparagraph (2) of this Condition 21.6(ii) (Provisions specific to €STR as Underlying Rate) above as if €STR Compound with Observation Period Shift were specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, and for these purposes: the Observation Shift Days in respect of the applicable Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) for which the €STR Index is not available shall be deemed to be equal to the Relevant Number of TARGET Settlement Days plus one (or such other number of TARGET Settlement Days as is specified for this purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement, as if such alternative elections had been made in the applicable Pricing Supplement).

"€STR Index_{End}" means, in respect of an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the €STR Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of TARGET Settlement Days specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement preceding the relevant payment date relating to such Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable).

"€STR Index_{Start}" means, in respect of an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the €STR Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of TARGET Settlement Days preceding the first date of the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable).

"Relevant Number" means the number specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if no such number is specified, five).

For the purposes of this Condition 21.6 (Provisions specific to €STR as Underlying Rate), if €STR in respect of any TARGET Settlement Day (the "Relevant TARGET Settlement Day") is not published on the Relevant Screen Page or by an authorised distributor, and is not otherwise provided by the administrator of €STR, by either (A) the immediately following TARGET Settlement Day (or any amended publication day for €STR as specified by the administrator of €STR in the €STR benchmark methodology) or (B) such other date and time on which €STR for the Relevant TARGET Settlement Day is required for the purpose of any determination pursuant to the Conditions and, in either case, none of the events triggering the fallbacks specified in Condition 21.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) or 21.11 (General Fallback Arrangements) (as applicable) have occurred, €STR for the Relevant TARGET Settlement Day shall be deemed to be the rate equal to €STR for the most recent TARGET Settlement Day in respect of which €STR was so published or provided.

21.7 Provisions specific to SARON as Underlying Rate

- (i) If Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which an Underlying Rate is to be determined and SARON is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as the Underlying Rate, the Underlying Rate for an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) will be the relevant SARON Benchmark, subject to a minimum of zero per cent.

- (ii) The "SARON Benchmark" will be determined based on SARON Compound with Lookback, SARON Compound with Observation Period Shift, SARON Compound with Payment Delay or SAION Index Average, as follows:

- (1) if SARON Compound with Lookback ("SARON Compound with Lookback") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SARON Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SARON interest investment in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{SARON}_{i-\text{xZBD}} \times n_i}{360} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{360}{d}$$

Where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"d₀" for any Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of Zurich Banking Days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant Zurich Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first Zurich Banking Day in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"Lookback Days" means the number of Zurich Banking Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"n_i" for any Zurich Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following Zurich Banking Day ("i+1"); and

"SARON_{i-xZBD}" for any Zurich Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), is equal to SARON in respect of the Zurich Banking Day falling a number of Zurich Banking Days prior to that day "i" equal to the number of Lookback Days;

- (2) if SARON Compound with Observation Period Shift ("SARON Compound with Observation Period Shift") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SARON Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SARON interest investment in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{SARON}_i \times n_i}{360} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{360}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Observation Period;

"d₀" for any Observation Period, means the number of Zurich Banking Days in the relevant Observation Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant Zurich Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first Zurich Banking Day in the relevant Observation Period;

"n_i" for any Zurich Banking Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following Zurich Banking Day ("i+1");

"Observation Period" means, in respect of each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the period from, and including, the date falling a number of Zurich Banking Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the first day of such Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) to, but excluding, the date falling a number of Zurich Banking Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the last day of the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"Observation Shift Days" means the number of Zurich Banking Days specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement; and

"SARON_i" for any Zurich Banking Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, is equal to SARON in respect of that day "i";

- (3) if SARON Compound with Payment Delay ("SARON Compound with Payment Delay") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SARON Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SARON interest investment in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{SARON}_i \times n_i}{360} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{360}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"d₀" for any Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of Zurich Banking Days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant Zurich Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first Zurich Banking Day in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"n_i" for any Zurich Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following Zurich Banking Day ("i+1"); and

"SARON_i" for any Zurich Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), is equal to SARON in respect of that day "i".

Where "SARON Compound with Payment Delay" applies, for the purposes of calculating SARON with respect to the final Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the level of SARON for each Zurich Banking Day in the period from (and including) the SARON Rate Cut-Off Date to (but excluding) the Maturity Date or the redemption date, as applicable, shall be the level of SARON in respect of such SARON Rate Cut-Off Date;

- (4) if SAION Index Average ("SAION Index Average") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SARON Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of the SAION Index calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days from, and including, the SAION Index_{Start} to, but excluding, the SAION Index_{End};

"Relevant Number" means the number specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if no such number is specified, five);

"SAION Index" means, in respect of any Zurich Banking Day, the SAION Index in relation to such Zurich Banking Day as provided by SIX Swiss Exchange AG (or any successor administrator) to authorised distributors and as then published on the Relevant Screen Page, or if the Relevant Screen Page is unavailable, as otherwise published by such administrator or authorised distributors, in each case on such Zurich Banking Day.

If the value of either or both of SAION Index_{Start} or SAION Index_{End} is not published or displayed by the administrator of the SARON or other information service by 6.00 p.m. (Zurich time) (or, if later, by the time falling one hour after the customary or scheduled time for publication thereof in accordance with the then-prevailing operational procedures of the administrator of the SAION Index or of such other information service, as the case may be) on the relevant Underlying Rate Determination Date, the SARON Benchmark for the applicable Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) for which the SAION Index is not available shall be determined as set out under sub-paragraph (2) of this Condition 21.7(ii) (Provisions specific to SARON as Underlying Rate) as if SARON Compound with Observation Period Shift were specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, and for these purposes the Observation Shift Days in respect of the applicable Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) for which the SAION Index is not available shall be deemed to be equal to the Relevant Number of Zurich Banking Days plus one (or such other number of Zurich Business Days specified for this purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement), as if such alternative elections had been made in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"SAION Index_{End}" means, with respect to an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the SAION Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of Zurich Banking Days preceding the relevant payment date relating to such Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable); and

"SAION Index_{Start}" means, with respect to an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the SAION Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of Zurich Banking Days preceding the first date of the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable).

For the purposes of this Condition 21.7 (Provisions specific to SARON as Underlying Rate), if SARON in respect of any Zurich Banking Day (the "Relevant Zurich Banking Day") is not published on the Relevant Screen Page or by an authorised distributor, and is not otherwise provided by the administrator of SARON, by either (A) that Zurich Banking Day (or any amended publication day for SARON as specified by the administrator of SARON in the SARON benchmark methodology) or (B) such other date and time on which SARON for the Relevant Zurich Banking Day is required for the purpose of any determination pursuant to the Conditions and, in either case, none of the events triggering the fallbacks specified in Condition 21.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) or 21.11 (General Fallback Arrangements) (as applicable) have occurred, SARON for the Relevant Zurich Banking Day shall be deemed to be the rate equal to SARON for the most recent Zurich Banking Day in respect of which SARON was so published or provided.

21.8 Provisions specific to TONA as Underlying Rate

- (i) If Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which an Underlying Rate is to be determined and TONA is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the Underlying Rate, the Underlying Rate for an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) will be the relevant TONA Benchmark, subject to a minimum of zero per cent.
- (ii) The "TONA Benchmark" will be determined based on TONA Compound with Lookback, TONA Compound with Observation Period Shift, TONA Compound with Payment Delay or TONA Index Average, as follows:
 - (1) if TONA Compound with Lookback ("TONA Compound with Lookback") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the TONA Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound TONA Interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{TONA}_{i-\text{pTBD}} \times n_i}{365} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{365}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"d₀" for any Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of Tokyo Banking Days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant Tokyo Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first Tokyo Banking Day in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"Lookback Days" means the number of Tokyo Banking Days specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement;

"n_i" for any Tokyo Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following Tokyo Banking Day ("i+1"); and

"TONA_{i-pTBD}" for any Tokyo Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), is equal to TONA in respect of the Tokyo Banking Day falling a number of Tokyo Banking Days prior to that day "i" equal to the number of Lookback Days;

- (2) if TONA Compound with Observation Period Shift ("TONA Compound with Observation Period Shift") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the TONA Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound TONA Interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{TONA}_i \times n_i}{365} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{365}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Observation Period;

"d₀" for any Observation Period, means the number of Tokyo Banking Days in the relevant Observation Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant Tokyo Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first Tokyo Banking Day in the relevant Observation Period;

"n_i" for any Tokyo Banking Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following Tokyo Banking Day ("i+1");

"Observation Period" means, in respect of each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the period from, and including, the date falling a number of Tokyo Banking Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the first day of such Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) to, but excluding, the date falling a number of Tokyo Banking Days equal to the Observation Shift Days preceding the last day of the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"Observation Shift Days" means the number of Tokyo Banking Days specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement; and

"TONA_i" for any Tokyo Banking Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, is equal to TONA in respect of that day "i";

- (3) if TONA Compound with Payment Delay ("TONA Compound with Payment Delay") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the TONA Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound TONA Interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

$$\left(\prod_{i=1}^{d_0} \left(1 + \frac{\text{TONA}_i \times n_i}{365} \right) - 1 \right) \times \frac{365}{d}$$

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"d₀" for any Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of Tokyo Banking Days in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant Tokyo Banking Day in chronological order from, and including, the first Tokyo Banking Day in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"n_i" for any Tokyo Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following Tokyo Banking Day ("i+1"); and

"TONA_i" for any Tokyo Banking Day "i" in the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), is equal to TONA in respect of that day "i".

Where "TONA Compound with Payment Delay" applies, for the purposes of calculating TONA with respect to the final Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the level of TONA for each Tokyo Banking Day in the period from (and including) the TONA Rate Cut-Off Date to (but excluding) the Maturity Date or the redemption date, as applicable, shall be the level of TONA in respect of such TONA Rate Cut-Off Date;

- (4) if TONA Index Average ("TONA Index Average") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the TONA Benchmark for each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) shall be equal to the rate of return of the TONA Index calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days from, and including, the TONA Index_{Start} to, but excluding, the TONA Index_{End};

"Relevant Number" means the number specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if no such number is specified, five);

"TONA Index" means, in respect of any Tokyo Banking Day, the TONA Index in relation to such Tokyo Banking Day as provided by QUICK Corp (or any successor administrator) and published on the Relevant Screen Page, or if the Relevant Screen Page is unavailable, as otherwise published by QUICK Corp. (or successor administrator), in each case on such Tokyo Banking Day;

If the value of either or both of TONA Index_{Start} or TONA Index_{End} is not published or displayed on the Relevant Screen Page by the administrator of the TONA Index or other information service by 5.00 p.m. (Tokyo time) (or, if later, by the time falling one hour after the customary or scheduled time for publication thereof in accordance with the then-prevailing operational procedures of the administrator of the TONA Index or of such other information service, as the case may be) on the relevant Underlying Rate Determination Date, the TONA Benchmark for the applicable Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) for which the TONA Index is not available shall be determined as set out under sub-paragraph (2) of this Condition 21.8(ii) (Provisions specific to TONA as Underlying Rate) as if TONA Compound with Observation Period Shift were specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, and for these purposes: the Observation Shift Days in respect of the applicable Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) for which the TONA Index is not available shall be deemed to be equal to the Relevant Number of Tokyo Banking Days plus one (or such other number of Tokyo Banking Days as is specified for this purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement, as if such alternative elections had been made in the applicable Pricing Supplement);

"TONA Index_{End}" means, with respect to an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the TONA Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of Tokyo Banking Days preceding the relevant payment date relating to such Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable); and

"TONA Index_{Start}" means, with respect to an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the TONA Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of Tokyo Banking Days preceding the first date of the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable).

For the purposes of this Condition 21.8 (Provisions specific to TONA as Underlying Rate), if TONA in respect of any Tokyo Banking Day (the "Relevant Tokyo Banking Day") is not published on the Relevant Screen Page or by an authorised distributor, and is not otherwise provided by the administrator of TONA, by either (A) the immediately following Tokyo Banking Day (or any amended publication day for TONA as specified by the administrator of TONA in the TONA benchmark methodology) or (B) such other date and time on which TONA for the Relevant Tokyo Banking Day is required for the purpose of any determination pursuant to the Conditions and, in either case, none of the events triggering the fallbacks specified in Condition 21.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) or 21.11 (General Fallback Arrangements) (as applicable) have occurred, TONA for the Relevant Tokyo Banking Day shall be deemed to be the rate equal to TONA for the most recent Tokyo Banking Day in respect of which TONA was so published or provided.

21.9 Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use

If (i) Condition 21.10 (Underlying CMS Underlying Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event) does not apply, (ii) the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the provisions of this Condition 21.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) are applicable and (iii) unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate is to be determined, after application of any ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks specified in the relevant Floating Rate Option (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) to apply following the occurrence of any of the following events and the application of such ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks fails to provide a means of determining the relevant Floating Rate (as defined in the ISDA Definitions), then, notwithstanding the terms set forth elsewhere in these Conditions, if the Determination Agent determines that any of the following events has occurred:

- (a) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark announcing that it has ceased or will cease to provide the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark; or
- (b) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark, the central bank for the currency of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark, which states that the administrator of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark has ceased or will cease to provide the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark; or

- (c) unless otherwise specified in the Pricing Supplement, an Administrator/Benchmark Event occurs in relation to a Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark, then the Determination Agent may use, as a substitute for the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark, and for each future Underlying Rate Determination Date (or other rate fixing date), the alternative rates benchmark determined in accordance with the following provisions:

- (i) if an alternative reference rate, index or benchmark is specified in the Pricing Supplement for this purpose (an "Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate"), such Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate; or
- (ii) if an Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate is not specified in the Pricing Supplement, the alternative reference rate, index or benchmark selected by the central bank, reserve bank, monetary authority or any similar institution (including any committee or working group thereof) in the jurisdiction of the applicable index currency that is consistent with accepted market practice (the rate determined under sub-paragraph (i) above or this sub-paragraph (ii), the "Alternative Rate").

The Determination Agent may, after consultation with the Issuer, determine any adjustments to the Alternative Rate (which may include the addition of an adjustment spread, which may be positive or negative, in order to reduce or eliminate, to the extent reasonably practicable, any transfer of economic value to or from the Issuer as a result of the replacement of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark with the Alternative Rate), as well as the applicable Business Day Convention, Underlying Rate Determination Dates (or any other rate fixing dates) and related provisions and definitions of the Notes, in each case that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such Alternative Rate for debt obligations such as the Notes.

If the Determination Agent determines, after consultation with the Issuer, that no such Alternative Rate exists on the relevant date, it may, after consultation with the Issuer, determine an alternative rate to be used as a substitute for the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark (which shall be the "Alternative Rate" for the purposes of these provisions), the Business Day Convention, the Underlying Rate Determination Dates (or any other rate fixing dates) and related provisions and definitions in respect of the Notes, in each case, that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such Alternative Rate for debt obligations such as the Notes.

The Issuer will then provide a notice, in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices), to Noteholders to inform them of the occurrence of any of the events listed in Conditions 21.9(a) to 21.9(c) (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) above, the Alternative Rate and any adjustment determinations which will apply to the Notes. The notice shall also confirm the effective date of the Alternative Rate and any adjustments.

Notwithstanding anything else in this Condition 21.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use), if the Determination Agent determines that the selection of a particular index, benchmark or other price as an "Alternative Rate" (taking into account any necessary adjustments that would need to be made in accordance with this Condition 21.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use)) (1) is or would be unlawful under any applicable law or regulation; or (2) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements; or (3) would result in the Determination Agent, the Issuer or the Calculation Agent being considered to be administering a benchmark, index or other price source whose production, publication, methodology or governance would subject the Determination Agent, the Issuer or the Calculation Agent to material additional regulatory obligations which it is unwilling to undertake, then the Determination Agent shall not select such index, benchmark or price source as the Alternative Rate.

If the Determination Agent is unable to identify an Alternative Rate and determine the necessary adjustments to the terms of the Notes, then the Issuer may, in its reasonable discretion, determine that the Notes shall be redeemed as of any later date. If the Issuer so determines that the Notes shall be redeemed, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the Noteholders to redeem the Notes and upon redemption the Issuer will pay in respect of each Note an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount.

The Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

In the case where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate is to be determined, and the application of any ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks specified in the relevant Floating Rate Option results in a replacement of, modification to, or change in the method of calculating, the Floating Rate (or the index, benchmark or other price source that is referred to in the Floating Rate Option), the Determination Agent may, after consultation with the Issuer, determine any adjustments to the Floating Rate (including any adjustment spread) as well as the applicable Business Day Convention, Underlying Rate Determination Dates (or any other rate fixing dates) and related provisions and definitions of the Notes, in each case that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such replacement or modified Floating Rate for debt obligations such as the Notes. The Issuer will provide a notice, in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices), to Noteholders to inform them of any adjustment determinations which will apply to the Notes. The notice shall also confirm the effective date of any adjustments.

21.10 Underlying CMS Underlying Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event

This Condition 21.10 (Underlying CMS Underlying Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event) applies where (i) the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark is a CMS Underlying Rate and (ii) the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the provisions of this Condition 21.10 (Underlying CMS Underlying Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event) are applicable.

- (a) Index Cessation. If, as of an Underlying Rate Determination Date or any other relevant day on which a CMS Underlying Rate is to be determined, an Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to the applicable tenor of the then-current CMS Underlying Rate has occurred, then the CMS Underlying Rate in respect of such Underlying Rate Determination Date or other relevant day (as applicable) and each subsequent Underlying Rate Determination Date or other relevant day (as applicable) shall be the sum of (i) the Benchmark Replacement; and (ii) any adjustment spread (which may be a positive or negative value or zero), in each case determined on that Interest Determination Date or other relevant day (as applicable) by the Determination Agent acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Following the occurrence of an Index Cessation Effective Date in respect of one or more Index Cessation Events, the determination of the Benchmark Replacement and any adjustment spread will be a one-time process and will apply to each following Underlying Rate Determination Date or other relevant day (as applicable).
- (b) Early Redemption. If the implementation of any Benchmark Replacement or Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes results in a calculation of the CMS Underlying Rate that is not consistent with market practice as determined by the Determination Agent, the Issuer may, in its reasonable discretion, determine that the Notes shall be redeemed as of any later date. If the Issuer so determines that the Notes shall be redeemed, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the Noteholders to redeem the Notes and upon redemption the Issuer will pay in respect of each Note an amount equal to:
 - (i) if "Early Redemption Amount (CMS Underlying Rate) – Fixed Redemption" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an amount per Calculation Amount (expressed as a percentage) as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
 - (ii) if "Early Redemption Amount (CMS Underlying Rate) – Fixed Redemption Less Costs" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an amount per Calculation Amount (expressed as a percentage) as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement less the reasonable cost to and/or the loss realised by, the Issuer and/or any Affiliate on unwinding any related hedging arrangements, in each case as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion;
 - (iii) if "Early Redemption Amount (CMS Underlying Rate) – Fair Market Value Less Costs" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an amount equal to the fair market value of such Note, on such day as is selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion (provided that such day is not more than 15 days before the date fixed for redemption of the Note), less the proportion attributable to that Note of the reasonable cost to the Issuer and/or any Affiliate of, or the loss realised by the Issuer and/or any Affiliate on unwinding any related hedging arrangements, in each case as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion; or

- (iv) if "Early Redemption Amount (CMS Underlying Rate) - Fair Market Value" is specified in the Pricing Supplement, the fair market value of such Note, on such day as is selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion (provided that such day is not more than 15 days before the date fixed for redemption of the Note), as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion.

The Issuer's obligation under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

- (c) Decisions and Determinations. Any determination, decision, selection or election that may be made by the Issuer, the Determination Agent or their respective designees, pursuant to this Condition 21.10 (Underlying CMS Underlying Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event), including any determination with respect to a tenor, rate, spread or adjustment or of the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event, circumstance or date and any decision to take or refrain from taking any action or any determination, decision, selection or election:

- (i) will be conclusive and binding absent manifest error;
- (ii) will be made in such person's sole discretion; and
- (iii) notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the documentation relating to the Notes, shall become effective without consent from the holders of the Notes or any other party.
- (d) For the purposes of this Condition 21.10 (Underlying CMS Underlying Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event), the following terms shall bear the following meanings:

"Benchmark Replacement" means the first alternative benchmark set forth in the order below that can be determined by the Determination Agent as of the Underlying Rate Determination Date or other relevant day on which a CMS Underlying Rate is to be determined, in each case next succeeding the relevant Index Cessation Effective Date (or, if the Index Cessation Effective Date occurs on the Underlying Rate Determination Date or other relevant day, that Underlying Rate Determination Date or other relevant day (as applicable)):

- (i) if an alternative reference rate, index or benchmark is specified in the Pricing Supplement for this purpose (an "Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate"), such Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate;
- (ii) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected or recommended by the relevant governmental body or agency with jurisdiction over the then-current CMS Underlying Rate or the administrator thereof as the replacement for the then-current CMS Underlying Rate for the applicable index maturity; or
- (iii) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected by the Determination Agent as the replacement for the then-current CMS Underlying Rate for the applicable index maturity giving due consideration to any industry-accepted rate of interest as a replacement for the then-current CMS Underlying Rate for floating rate notes denominated in the Index Currency at such time, including any alternate rate of interest recommended by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. or any successor thereto.

In connection with the implementation of a Benchmark Replacement, the Determination Agent or its designee will have the right to make Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes from time to time.

"Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes" means, with respect to any Benchmark Replacement, any changes (including changes to the definition of "Interest Reference Period", "Redemption Reference Period", the timing and frequency of determining rates and making payments of interest, and other administrative matters) that the Determination Agent or its designee determines may be appropriate to reflect the adoption of such Benchmark Replacement in a manner substantially consistent with market practice (or, if the Determination Agent or its designee determines that adoption of any portion of such market practice is not administratively feasible or if the Determination Agent or its designee determines that no market practice for use of the Benchmark Replacement exists, in such other manner as the Determination Agent or its designee determines is reasonably necessary).

"CMS Underlying Rate" means, initially, the CMS Underlying Rate specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; provided that if an Index Cessation Effective Date has occurred with respect to such rate or the then-current CMS Underlying Rate, then "CMS Underlying Rate" means the applicable Benchmark Replacement. For the avoidance of doubt, such Benchmark Replacement will replace the then-current CMS Underlying Rate for all purposes relating to the Notes.

"Index Cessation Effective Date" means, in respect of the then-current CMS Underlying Rate and one or more Index Cessation Events, the first date on which the CMS Underlying Rate would ordinarily have been published or provided and is no longer published or provided. If the CMS Underlying Rate ceases to be provided on an Underlying Rate Determination Date or other relevant day, but it was provided at the time at which it is to be observed pursuant to these Conditions, then the Index Cessation Effective Date will be the next day on which the rate would ordinarily have been published or provided.

"Index Cessation Event" means, in respect of the then-current CMS Underlying Rate:

- (i) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator of the CMS Underlying Rate announcing that it has ceased or will cease to provide the CMS Underlying Rate permanently or indefinitely; provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator or provider, as applicable, that will continue to provide the CMS Underlying Rate;
- (ii) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of the CMS Underlying Rate, the central bank for the currency of the CMS Underlying Rate, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator for the CMS Underlying Rate, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator for the CMS Underlying Rate or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator for the CMS Underlying Rate, which states that the administrator of the CMS Underlying Rate has ceased or will cease to provide the CMS Underlying Rate permanently or indefinitely; provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator or provider that will continue to provide the CMS Underlying Rate; or
- (iii) unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an Administrator/Benchmark Event (as defined in Condition 2 (Interpretation)) occurs with respect to the CMS Underlying Rate (with the CMS Underlying Rate being the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark for the purpose of the definition of "Administrator/Benchmark Event").

"Index Currency" means the currency in respect of which the relevant CMS Underlying Rate is calculated or expressed, as determined by the Determination Agent.

- (e) Application to multiple CMS Underlying Rates: If either:
 - (i) the CMS Underlying Rate is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be "Spread CMS Rate"; or
 - (ii) the Notes otherwise reference more than one CMS Underlying Rate, the foregoing provisions of this Condition 21.10 (Underlying CMS Underlying Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event) shall apply separately for each CMS Underlying Rate so referenced (including each of CMS Underlying Rate 1 and CMS Underlying Rate 2 in the case where the CMS Underlying Rate is a "Spread CMS Underlying Rate") and for the purpose of construing such provisions, each of CMS Underlying Rate 1 and CMS Underlying Rate 2 shall be the "CMS Underlying Rate". However, if an Index Cessation Effective Date has occurred in respect of one or more CMS Underlying Rate(s) (the "Impacted CMS Underlying Rate(s)") but not all of the CMS Underlying Rate(s) referenced by the Notes (the "Non-Impacted CMS Underlying Rate(s)"), the Issuer or its designee may elect to treat each of the Non-Impacted CMS Underlying Rate(s) as if an Index Cessation Effective Date had occurred in respect of such Non-Impacted CMS Underlying Rate and apply the foregoing provisions accordingly.

21.11 General Fallback Arrangements

- (a) The following provisions of this Condition 21.11 (General Fallback Arrangements) shall apply where:
 - (i) the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark is EURIBOR, SONIA, €STR, SARON or TONA;
 - (ii) such Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark has been permanently discontinued;
 - (iii) the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the provisions of Condition 21.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) do not apply; and
 - (iv) unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate is to be determined, application of any ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks specified in the relevant Floating Rate Option (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) following the permanent discontinuation of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark fails to provide a means of determining the relevant Floating Rate (as defined in the ISDA Definitions).
- (b) If this Condition 21.11 (General Fallback Arrangements) applies then notwithstanding the terms set forth elsewhere in these Conditions, the Determination Agent will use, as a substitute for such Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark and for each future Underlying Rate Determination Date, the alternative reference rate or index selected by the central bank, reserve bank, monetary authority or any similar institution (including any committee or working group thereof) in the jurisdiction of the applicable index currency that is consistent with accepted market practice (the "Alternative Rate"). The Determination Agent will, after consultation with the Issuer, make such adjustments to the Alternative Rate, as well as the applicable Business Day Convention, Underlying Rate Determination Dates and related provisions and definitions of the Notes, in each case that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such Alternative Rate for debt obligations such as the Notes. However, in the case of EURIBOR only, if the Determination Agent determines, after consultation with the Issuer, that no such Alternative Rate exists on the relevant date, it shall make a determination, after consultation with the Issuer, of an alternative rate as a substitute for EURIBOR, for debt obligations such as the Notes, the Business Day Convention and the Underlying Rate Determination Dates in respect of the Notes, that is consistent with accepted market practice.
- (c) In the case where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate is to be determined, and the application of any ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks specified in the relevant Floating Rate Option results in a replacement of, modification to, or change in the method of calculating, the Floating Rate (or the index, benchmark or other price source that is referred to in the Floating Rate Option), the Determination Agent may, after consultation with the Issuer, determine any adjustments to the Floating Rate (including any adjustment spread) as well as the applicable Business Day Convention, Underlying Rate Determination Dates (or any other rate fixing dates) and related provisions and definitions of the Notes, in each case that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such replacement or modified Floating Rate for debt obligations such as the Notes. The Issuer will provide a notice, in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices), to Noteholders to inform them of any adjustment determinations which will apply to the Notes. The notice shall also confirm the effective date of any adjustments.

- (a) Following the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the relevant Notes shall continue or be redeemed early.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the redemption, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Notes and/or any other adjustment which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Noteholders of any such adjustment in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices), giving summary details of the adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such adjustment.

- (c) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Notes shall be redeemed early, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to redeem the Notes and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of an amount in respect of each Note equal to the Early Redemption Amount as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
- (d) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Fiscal Agent and the Determination Agent of the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event.
- (e) For the purposes hereof:

"Additional Disruption Event" means, if specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, with respect to any Series of Notes, a Change in Law, Hedging Disruption, Increased Cost of Hedging and any further event or events as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

21.13 Definitions applicable to Rate-Linked Notes

Capitalised terms used but not otherwise defined in this Condition 21 (Provisions relating to Rate-Linked Notes) shall have the meanings given to them in Condition 2.1 (Definitions).

"Averaging Date" means, in respect of an Underlying Rate and an Underlying Rate Determination Date, each date specified as such or otherwise determined as provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that if any such date is not an Underlying Rate Business Day, such date shall be the next following day that is an Underlying Rate Business Day;

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (a) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (b) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Issuer determines that (i) it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of Hedge Positions or (ii) it will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations with respect to the Notes (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position);

"CMS Underlying Rate" means the rate specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"CMS Underlying Rate" means the rate determined in accordance with the Condition 21.3 (CMS Underlying Rate Determination);

"CMS Underlying Rate 1" means the rate specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement and the terms "Relevant Swap Rate", "Reference Currency", "Designated Maturity", "Relevant Screen Page", "Relevant Time" and "Underlying Rate Determination Date" and any other relevant term will each be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement under the heading "CMS Underlying Rate 1";

"CMS Underlying Rate 2" means the rate specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement and the terms "Relevant Swap Rate", "Reference Currency", "Designated Maturity", "Relevant Screen Page", "Relevant Time" and "Underlying Rate Determination Date" and any other relevant term will each be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement under the heading "CMS Underlying Rate 2";

"Determination Agent Fallback" has the meaning given in 19.3 (CMS Underlying Rate Determination);

"Fallback Rate Determination" means, in respect of a CMS Underlying Rate, any of the following as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as an alternative basis for determining the CMS Underlying Rate: (i) Fallback Screen Page, (ii) Mid-Market Quotations, and (iii) Determination Agent Fallback;

"Fallback Screen Page" has the meaning given in 19.3 (CMS Underlying Rate Determination);

"Hedge Positions" means any purchase, sale, entry into or maintenance of one or more (i) positions or contracts in securities, commodities, options, futures, derivatives or foreign exchange, (ii) stock loan transactions or (iii) other instruments or arrangements (howsoever described) by a party in order to hedge, individually or on a portfolio basis, the Notes;

"Hedging Disruption" means that the Issuer is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to (A) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations under the Notes, or (B) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transactions or asset(s);

"Increased Cost of Hedging" means that the Issuer would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (A) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations with respect to the Notes or (B) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s) provided that any such materially increased amount that is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Issuer shall not be deemed an Increased Cost of Hedging;

"Interest Reference Period" means, in respect of an Underlying Rate Determination Date or an Averaging Date, the period specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Mid-Market Quotations" means, in relation to the determination of any CMS Underlying Rate, the bid and offered rates for the Specified Fixed Leg, calculated on the Fixed Leg Day Count Basis, of a fixed-for-floating Reference Currency interest rate swap transaction with a term equal to the Designated Maturity commencing on the first day of the relevant Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) or on any relevant day and in a Representative Amount with an acknowledged dealer of good credit in the swap market, where the floating leg, in each case calculated on the Floating Leg Day Count Basis, is equivalent to floating leg Floating Rate Option (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) with a designated maturity determined by the Determination Agent by reference to standard market practice and/or the ISDA Definitions;

"Redemption Reference Period" means, in respect of an Underlying Rate Determination Date or an Averaging Date, the period specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Reference Banks" has the meaning given in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if none are specified, four major banks selected by the Determination Agent in the market that is most closely connected with the Underlying Rate. Where the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies "CMS Underlying Rate Determination" to be applicable, "Underlying Rate" shall be construed to include a CMS Underlying Rate. If more than one Underlying Rate is specified, "Underlying Rate" shall be construed to refer to each rate defined or specified as such, or determined, in respect of the relevant period or day as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark" means, in respect of any Notes:

- (a) each Underlying Rate (or, if applicable, the index, benchmark or other price source that is referred to in the Underlying Rate);
- (b) each Floating Rate Option (or, if applicable, the index, benchmark or other price source that is referred to in the Floating Rate Option); or
- (c) any other index, benchmark or other price source specified as a "Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark" in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Underlying Rate" has the meaning given in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Underlying Rate Business Day" means, in respect of an Underlying Rate, a day (other than a Saturday or Sunday) on which commercial banks are open for general business (including dealings in foreign exchange) in each Underlying Rate Jurisdiction in respect of such Underlying Rate;

"Underlying Rate Determination Date" has the meaning given in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that, if any of SOFR Compound with Payment Delay, SONIA Compound with Payment Delay, €STR Compound with Payment Delay, SARON Compound with Payment Delay or TONA Compound with Payment Delay applies, the Underlying Rate Determination Date with respect to the final Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable) for SOFR, SONIA, €STR, SARON or TONA (as the case may be) will be the SOFR Rate Cut-Off Date, the SONIA Rate Cut-Off Date, the €STR Rate Cut-Off Date, the SARON Rate Cut-Off Date or the TONA Rate Cut-Off Date, respectively and provided further that if any such date is not an Underlying Rate Business Day, the relevant Underlying Rate Determination Date shall be the next succeeding Underlying Rate Business Day

"Underlying Rate Jurisdiction" means, in respect of an Underlying Rate, the jurisdiction(s) specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Underlying Rate Participation Rate" means, in respect of any Underlying Rate (each a "Relevant Underlying Rate") for a relevant day and/or an Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), the amount or percentage rate specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement in respect of such Relevant Underlying Rate for such day and/or such Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable), or, if a Rate Table is set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, each amount or percentage rate specified in the Rate Table in the column headed "Underlying Rate Participation Rate" in the row corresponding to such day, provided that, if the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies Underlying Rate Participation Rate to be not applicable, it shall be deemed to be equal to one. Where the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies more than one Underlying Rate Participation Rate for different Relevant Underlying Rates, the Underlying Rate Participation Rate will be construed to apply to each Relevant Underlying Rate for each relevant day and/or each Interest Reference Period or Redemption Reference Period (as applicable);

"Underlying Rate Participation Rate 1" means the rate specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Underlying Rate Participation Rate 2" means the rate specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

22. Provisions relating to Preference Share-Linked Notes

This Condition 22 (Provisions relating to Preference Share-Linked Notes) is applicable in respect of any Series of Notes ("Preference Share-Linked Notes") where "Preference Share-Linked Interest Provisions" and/or "Preference Share-Linked Redemption Provisions" are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

22.1 Rate of Interest

If the Preference Share-Linked Notes bear interest, the rate or amount of interest payable shall be determined in the manner specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

22.2 Redemption of Preference Share-Linked Notes

Unless previously redeemed or purchased and cancelled, each Preference Share-Linked Note will be redeemed by the Issuer on the Maturity Date by payment of the Final Redemption Amount specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

22.3 Early Redemption for Taxation Reasons

If the Preference Share-Linked Notes are redeemed pursuant to this Condition 22.3 (Early Redemption for Taxation Reasons) or 22.4 (Call Option) (as applicable), each Preference Share-Linked Note shall be redeemed at the Early Preference Share Redemption Note Amount.

22.4 Call Option

If Call Option is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable the provisions of Condition 26.9 (Redemption at the Option of Noteholders) shall apply to the Preference Share-Linked Notes as if the words "in whole or, if so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in part" in the second and third lines were replaced with the words "in whole (but not in part)".

22.5 Early Redemption of Preference Share-Linked Notes

Upon the occurrence of an Early Redemption Event, the Issuer shall, as soon as reasonably practicable following the occurrence of such Early Redemption Event, give notice to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices) and will redeem all (but not some only) of the Preference Share-Linked Notes on the 10th Business Day following the date on which it is determined that an Early Redemption

Event has occurred, each Preference Share-Linked Note to be redeemed by payment of the Early Preference Share Redemption Note Amount.

22.6 Extraordinary Events

If in the determination of the Determination Agent an Extraordinary Event occurs the Issuer shall, as soon as reasonably practicable following the occurrence of such Extraordinary Event give notice to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices) and redeem all, but not some only, of the Preference Share-Linked Notes, each Preference Share-Linked Note being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount on the 10th Business Day immediately following the date on which such determination is made by the Determination Agent.

22.7 Additional Disruption Events

If in the determination of the Determination Agent an Additional Disruption Event occurs the Issuer shall, as soon as reasonably practicable following the occurrence of such Additional Disruption Event give notice to Noteholders in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices) and redeem all, but not some only, of the Preference Share-Linked Notes, each Preference Share-Linked Note being redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount on the 10th Business Day immediately following the date on which such determination is made by the Determination Agent.

22.8 Payments – General Provisions

Condition 27.9 (Unavailability of Currency) shall not apply to the Preference Share-Linked Notes.

22.9 Definitions applicable to Preference Share-Linked Notes

"Additional Disruption Event" means, with respect to any Series of Preference Share-Linked Notes, such of Change in Law, Hedging Disruption, Insolvency Filing and/or Increased Cost of Hedging as are applicable as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (A) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (B) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Issuer determines that (x) it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of any Preference Share or (y) it will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations in relation to the Preference Share-Linked Notes (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position).

"Early Preference Share Redemption Note Amount" means, in respect of each Preference Share-Linked Note, an amount in the Specified Currency per Calculation Amount calculated by the Determination Agent equal to:

$$\text{Calculation Amount} \times \frac{\text{Preference Share Value}_{\text{early}}}{\text{Preference Share Value}_{\text{initial}}}$$

"Early Redemption Event" means that the Issuer or any of its affiliates has received notice from the Preference Share Issuer that the Preference Shares are to be redeemed early.

"Early Redemption Valuation Date" means the second Business Day immediately preceding the date for early redemption of the Preference Share-Linked Notes.

"Extraordinary Event" means a Merger Event, a Nationalisation, a Tender Offer and/or an Insolvency or such other event specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

"Final Valuation Date" means the date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if any date(s) for valuation of or any determination of the underlying asset or reference basis (or any part thereof) for the Preference Shares falling on or about such day is to be delayed in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Preference Shares by reason of a disruption or adjustment event, the Final Valuation Date shall be such delayed valuation or determination date(s), all as determined by the Determination Agent.

"Hedging Disruption" means that the Issuer is unable, after using commercially reasonable efforts, to (A) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the equity or other price risk of the Issuer issuing and performing its obligations with respect to the Preference Share-Linked Notes, or (B) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s).

"Increased Cost of Hedging" means that the Issuer would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (A) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations with respect to the Preference Shares or (B) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s), provided that any such materially increased amount that is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Issuer shall not be deemed an Increased Cost of Hedging.

"Initial Valuation Date" means the Issue Date or, if the date for valuation of or any determination of the underlying asset or reference basis (or any part thereof) for the Preference Shares falling on or about such day is to be delayed in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Preference Shares by reason of a disruption or adjustment event, the Initial Valuation Date shall be such delayed valuation or determination date(s), all as determined by the Determination Agent.

"Insolvency" means that by reason of the voluntary or involuntary liquidation, bankruptcy, insolvency, dissolution or winding up of or any analogous proceeding affecting Preference Share Issuer (A) all the Preference Shares are required to be transferred to a trustee, liquidator or other similar official or (B) holders of the Preference Shares become legally prohibited from transferring them.

"Insolvency Filing" means that Preference Share Issuer institutes or has instituted against it by a regulator, supervisor or any similar official with primary insolvency, rehabilitative or regulatory jurisdiction over it in the jurisdiction of its incorporation or organisation or the jurisdiction of its head or home office, or it consents to a proceeding seeking a judgment of insolvency or bankruptcy or any other relief under any bankruptcy or insolvency law or other similar law affecting creditors' rights, or a petition is presented for its winding up or liquidation by it or such regulator, supervisor or similar official or it consents to such a petition, provided that proceedings instituted or petitions presented by creditors and not consented to by Preference Share Issuer shall not be deemed an Insolvency Filing.

"Merger Date" means the closing date of a Merger Event or, where a closing date cannot be determined under the local law applicable to such Merger Event, such other date as determined by the Determination Agent.

"Merger Event" means any (A) reclassification or change of the Preference Shares that results in a transfer of or an irrevocable commitment to transfer all of such Preference Shares outstanding to another entity or person, (B) consolidation, amalgamation, merger or binding share exchange of Preference Share Issuer with or into another entity or person (other than a consolidation, amalgamation, merger or binding share exchange in which Preference Share Issuer is the continuing entity and which does not result in a reclassification or change of all of such Preference Shares outstanding), (C) takeover offer, tender offer, exchange offer, solicitation, proposal or other event by any entity or person to purchase or otherwise obtain 100 per cent. of the outstanding Preference Shares that results in a transfer of or an irrevocable commitment to transfer all such Preference Shares (other than such Preference Shares owned or controlled by such other entity or person), or (D) consolidation, amalgamation, merger or binding share exchange of Preference Share Issuer with or into another entity in which Preference Share Issuer is the continuing entity and which does not result in a reclassification or change of all such Preference Shares outstanding but results in the outstanding Preference Shares (other than Preference Shares owned or controlled by such other entity) immediately prior to such event collectively representing less than 50 per cent. of the outstanding Preference Shares immediately following such event, in each case if the Merger Date is on or before the Maturity Date.

"Nationalisation" means that all the Preference Shares or all or substantially all the assets of Preference Share Issuer are nationalised, expropriated or are otherwise required to be transferred to any governmental agency, authority, entity or instrumentality thereof.

"Preference Share Issuer" means the company specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or, if no such company is specified, means, in respect of any Preference Shares, the issuer of, or other legal arrangement (including, if applicable, any relevant class or series) giving rise to the relevant Preference Share.

"Preference Share Value" means, in respect of any day, the fair market value of the Preference Share at the Valuation Time on such day, as determined by the Determination Agent.

"Preference Share Value_{early}" means the Preference Share Value on the Early Redemption Valuation Date.

"Preference Share Value_{final}" shall have the meaning given in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

"Preference Share Value_{initial}" means the Preference Share Value on the Strike Date.

"Preference Shares" means the preference shares specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

"Tender Offer" means a takeover offer, tender offer, exchange offer, solicitation, proposal or other event by any entity or person that results in such entity or person purchasing, or otherwise obtaining or having the right to obtain, by conversion or other means, greater than 10 per cent. and less than 100 per cent. of the outstanding voting shares of Preference Share Issuer as determined by the Determination Agent, based upon the making of filings with governmental or self-regulatory agencies or such other information as the Determination Agent deems relevant.

"Valuation Date" means the date specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if any date(s) for valuation of or any determination of the underlying asset or reference basis (or any part thereof) for the Preference Shares falling on or about such day is to be delayed in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Preference Shares by reason of a disruption or adjustment event, the Valuation Date shall be such delayed valuation or determination date(s), all as determined by the Determination Agent.

"Valuation Time" has the meaning given to it in the applicable Pricing Supplement or if not set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, immediately following the time at which the final preference share redemption amount in respect of the Preference Shares is determined.

22.10 Calculations and Determinations

The Determination Agent will make the calculations and determinations as described in this Condition 22.10 (Calculations and Determinations) in such a manner as the Determination Agent determines is appropriate acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner (having regard in each case to the criteria stipulated in the Conditions and the hedging arrangements in respect of the Preference Share-Linked Notes).

Notwithstanding that certain calculations, determinations and adjustments in this Condition 22.10 (Calculations and Determinations) may be expressed to be on a certain date, the Determination Agent may make such calculations, determinations and adjustments in respect of that date on a date after that date determined by it in its reasonable discretion.

Pursuant to this Condition 22.10 (Calculations and Determinations) the Determination Agent has a number of discretions. These are necessary since in certain circumstances it is not reasonably practicable or otherwise not appropriate for certain valuations to be carried out in relation to relevant reference assets and in these circumstances the Determination Agent also may exercise certain discretions.

The provisions of the second paragraph of this Condition 22.10 (Calculations and Determinations) will not apply to the calculation of the Final Redemption Amount or Early Redemption Amount.

22.11 Rounding

Condition 41 (Rounding) shall not apply to the Preference Share-Linked Notes.

23. Provisions relating to Autocallable Early Redemption Notes

In respect of any Series of Notes for which the Autocallable Early Redemption provisions are specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Conditions shall be supplemented and modified by the terms and conditions set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that an Autocallable Early Redemption Event has occurred in respect of an Autocallable Early Redemption Observation Date or such other relevant date or during such relevant period as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Notes will be redeemed at the Autocallable Early Redemption Amount per Note on the relevant Autocallable Early Redemption Date.

If "Autocall Override" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, notwithstanding anything else in the Conditions, in the event that an Autocallable Early Redemption Event occurs, the provisions of this Condition 23 (Provisions relating to Autocallable Early Redemption Notes) shall prevail over the provisions of Condition 26.1 (Redemption and Purchase – Scheduled Redemption) such that (a) the Notes will be redeemed at the Autocallable Early Redemption Amount per Note on the relevant Autocallable Early Redemption Date as provided in this Condition 23 (Provisions relating to Autocallable Early Redemption Notes) and (b) the Final Redemption Amount will not be paid on the Maturity Date and no redemption by delivery of the Physical Delivery Amount on the Physical Settlement Date will occur (as applicable).

24. Inconvertibility Events

(A) If, in respect of any Series of Notes, the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that "Inconvertibility Event Provisions A" are applicable, this sub-Condition (A) of this Condition 24 (Inconvertibility Events) shall apply in respect of such Notes.

If, at any time during the term of such Series, the Determination Agent determines, acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, that an Inconvertibility Event has occurred, it will inform the Issuer of such event. Following the determination of an Inconvertibility Event, the Issuer may, at its reasonable discretion, elect any of the following (or take no action):

- (a) If "Converted Payment" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement: to continue making any payments due under such Notes until the Maturity Date, in which case, any amount due under such Notes shall be converted from the Relevant Currency into the Inconvertibility Specified Currency at the Fallback FX Spot Rate determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion; or
- (b) If "Early Redemption" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement: to early terminate the Notes on a specified date notified by the Issuer to the holder (such date, the "Inconvertibility Early Redemption Date"), in which case the Notes shall early redeem at the Inconvertibility Early Redemption Amount on such Inconvertibility Early Redemption Date. The Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount; or
- (c) If "Suspended Payment" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement: to suspend the payment until as many Business Days after the Inconvertibility Event has ceased as specified in the notice, provided that the Issuer may, at any time from and including the Trade Date to and including the Maturity Date, subsequent to the despatch of a notice electing one of the selected options other than "Early Redemption", dispatch a second notice electing "Early Redemption", provided that such option was also specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in which case the Notes will be redeemed in accordance with the terms of "Early Redemption" above and the date specified in such notice will be the Inconvertibility Early Redemption Date.

The Issuer shall notify the holders of any such determination of an Inconvertibility Event and any action it elects to take in accordance with the foregoing, provided that failure to deliver such notice or the failure of the recipient to receive such notice will not affect the validity of the determination or the Issuer's election or its ability to make payments according to the option it selected.

- (d) For the purpose of this sub-Condition (A) of this Condition 24 (Inconvertibility Events):

"Fallback FX Spot Rate" has the meaning given in the applicable Pricing Supplement (which, in the case of Currency-Linked Notes, may be the rate determined by the application of the application of any applicable Currency Disruption Fallback pursuant to Condition 13.5 (Provisions relating to Currency-Linked Notes – Currency Disruption Fallbacks)).

"Inconvertibility Early Redemption Amount" means, in respect of any Note, any of:

- (i) an amount as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (ii) if "Early Redemption Amount Less Costs" is specified in the Pricing Supplement, an amount equal to (i), the Early Redemption Amount (as defined in Condition 2.1 (Definitions)), (ii) converted from the Relevant Currency into the Inconvertibility Specified Currency at the exchange rate (expressed as a number of the Relevant Currency per one unit of the Inconvertibility Specified Currency) determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion for settlement on or about the relevant payment date and (iii) less the reasonable cost to and/or the loss realised by, the Issuer and/or any Affiliate in respect of break funding costs for the Issuer term financing associated with such early redemption of the Note, in each case as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion;
- (iii) if "Early Redemption Amount" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount (as defined in Condition 2.1 (Definitions)) converted from the Relevant Currency into the Inconvertibility Specified Currency at the exchange rate (expressed as a number of the Relevant Currency per one unit of the Inconvertibility Specified Currency) determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion for settlement on or about the relevant payment date, as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion;
- (iv) if "Fair Market Value Less Costs (Inconvertibility)" is specified in the Pricing Supplement, an amount, in the Inconvertibility Specified Currency, equal to the fair market value of such Note, on such day as is selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion (provided that such day is not more than 15 days before the Inconvertibility Early Redemption Date), less the proportion attributable to that Note of the reasonable cost to the Issuer and/or any Affiliate of, or the loss realised by the Issuer and/or any Affiliate on, unwinding any related hedging arrangements or in respect of break funding costs for the Issuer's term financing associated with such early redemption of the Note, in each case as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion; or
- (v) if "Fair Market Value (Inconvertibility)" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an amount, in the Inconvertibility Specified Currency, equal to the fair market value of such Notes, on such day as is selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion (provided that such day is not more than 15 days before the Inconvertibility Early Redemption Date), as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion.

An "Inconvertibility Event" shall be deemed to have occurred if from (and including) the Trade Date to (and including) the Maturity Date, any event or circumstance occurs that generally makes it, in the reasonable discretion of the Determination Agent, impossible, unlawful or impracticable for the Issuer, the Determination Agent or any of its affiliates for any reason beyond its or their reasonable control:

- (a) to convert the Relevant Currency into the Inconvertibility Specified Currency or the Inconvertibility Specified Currency into the Relevant Currency (whether directly or through a cross exchange rate) through customary legal channels; or
- (b) to determine the rate of conversion of the Inconvertibility Specified Currency into the Relevant Currency or the Relevant Currency into the Inconvertibility Specified Currency; or

- (c) to transfer, or make a payment in, or delivery of, the Relevant Currency from or to, outside, or inside, of the Relevant Jurisdiction, in each case under (a), (b) or (c), in an amount up to the Aggregate Nominal Amount or the relevant Interest Amount; or
- (d) to determine a rate at which any Relevant Currency can be lawfully exchanged for U.S. Dollars; or
- (e) to convert any Relevant Currency into U.S. Dollars; or
- (f) to exchange or repatriate any funds outside of any jurisdiction in which any Relevant Underlying(s) or its or their components, is issued; or
- (g) for the Issuer or any of its affiliates to hold, purchase, sell or otherwise deal in any Notes, or any other property in order for the Issuer or any of its affiliates to perform any related hedging arrangement, or for the purposes of the Issuer or the Issuer's obligations in respect of any Notes.

"Inconvertibility Specified Currency" means the currency specified in the Pricing Supplement and, if none is indicated, the Specified Currency.

"Relevant Currency" means the currency as specified in the Pricing Supplement, and, if none is specified, the currency in which any of the securities which comprise the Relevant Underlying(s) is denominated, or the currency of the Relevant Underlying, or any of the Relevant Underlyings, or the currency in which any of their underlying components is denominated, or any other currency or currencies as specified in the Pricing Supplement.

"Relevant Jurisdiction" means the jurisdiction as specified in the Pricing Supplement.

"Relevant Underlying" means, in relation to the Notes, any of the Share, Index, ETF Interest, Commodity, Commodity Index, ETN, Fund or other item underlying such Notes (and "Relevant Underlyings" means all of them).

(B) If, in respect of any Series of Notes, the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that "Inconvertibility Event Provisions B" are applicable, this sub-Condition (B) of this Condition 24 (Inconvertibility Events) shall apply in respect of such Notes.

- (a) If, at any time during the term of such Series, the Determination Agent determines, acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, that an Inconvertibility Event has occurred, it will inform the Issuer of such event. Following the determination of an Inconvertibility Event, the Issuer shall suspend payment (and any valuation(s) in respect of any Relevant Underlying(s) required to be performed under the applicable Conditions in order to determine the relevant payment amount to be made under the Notes until the day that is two Business Days (or such other number of Business Days notified by the Issuer to holders) after the Inconvertibility Event has ceased to exist, provided that, if "Converted Payment" is specified to apply in the Inconvertibility Event Notice (as defined below), the Issuer shall continue making any payments due under such Notes until the Maturity Date, in which case, any amount due under such Notes shall be converted from the Relevant Currency into the Inconvertibility Specified Currency at the Fallback FX Spot Rate determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion.

Nothing in the foregoing paragraph shall prevent the Issuer from early terminating the Notes on the date specified in the Inconvertibility Event Notice (such date, the "Inconvertibility Early Redemption Date"), in which case the Notes shall early redeem at the Inconvertibility Early Redemption Amount specified in the Inconvertibility Event Notice on such Inconvertibility Early Redemption Date. The Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

The Issuer shall notify the holders of any such determination of an Inconvertibility Event at any time following the occurrence of an Inconvertibility Event (such notice, the "Inconvertibility Event Notice"), provided that failure to deliver the Inconvertibility Event Notice or the failure of the recipient to receive the Inconvertibility Event Notice will not affect the validity of the determination.

- (b) For the purpose of this sub-Condition (B) of this Condition 24 (Inconvertibility Events):

"Fallback FX Spot Rate" has the meaning given in the Inconvertibility Event Notice.

"Inconvertibility Early Redemption Amount" means, in respect of any Note, any of:

- (i) an amount as specified in the Inconvertibility Event Notice;
- (ii) if "Early Redemption Amount Less Costs" is specified in the Inconvertibility Event Notice, an amount equal to (i), the Early Redemption Amount (as defined in Condition 2.1 (Definitions)), (ii) converted from the Relevant Currency into the Inconvertibility Specified Currency at the exchange rate (expressed as a number of the Relevant Currency per one unit of the Inconvertibility Specified Currency) determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion for settlement on or about the relevant payment date and (iii) less the reasonable cost to and/or the loss realised by, the Issuer and/or any Affiliate in respect of break funding costs for the Issuer term financing associated with such early redemption of the Note, in each case as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion;
- (iii) if "Early Redemption Amount" is specified in the Inconvertibility Event Notice, an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount (as defined in Condition 2.1 (Definitions)) converted from the Relevant Currency into the Inconvertibility Specified Currency at the exchange rate (expressed as a number of the Relevant Currency per one unit of the Inconvertibility Specified Currency) determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion for settlement on or about the relevant payment date, as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion;
- (iv) if "Fair Market Value Less Costs (Inconvertibility)" is specified in the Inconvertibility Event Notice, an amount, in the Inconvertibility Specified Currency, equal to the fair market value of such Note, on such day as is selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion (provided that such day is not more than 15 days before the Inconvertibility Early Redemption Date), less the proportion attributable to that Note of the reasonable cost to the Issuer and/or any Affiliate of, or the loss realised by the Issuer and/or any Affiliate on, unwinding any related hedging arrangements or in respect of break funding costs for the Issuer's term financing associated with such early redemption of the Note, in each case as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion; or
- (v) if "Fair Market Value (Inconvertibility)" is specified in the Inconvertibility Event Notice, an amount, in the Inconvertibility Specified Currency, equal to the fair market value of such Notes, on such day as is selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion (provided that such day is not more than 15 days before the Inconvertibility Early Redemption Date), as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion.

An "Inconvertibility Event" shall be deemed to have occurred if from (and including) the Trade Date to (and including) the Maturity Date, any event or circumstance occurs that generally makes it, in the reasonable discretion of the Determination Agent, impossible, unlawful or impracticable for the Issuer, the Determination Agent or any of its affiliates for any reason beyond its or their reasonable control:

- (a) to convert the Relevant Currency into the Inconvertibility Specified Currency or the Inconvertibility Specified Currency into the Relevant Currency (whether directly or through a cross exchange rate) through customary legal channels; or
- (b) to determine the rate of conversion of the Inconvertibility Specified Currency into the Relevant Currency or the Relevant Currency into the Inconvertibility Specified Currency; or
- (c) to transfer, or make a payment in, or delivery of, the Relevant Currency from or to, outside, or inside, of the Relevant Jurisdiction, in each case under (a), (b) or (c), in an amount up to the Aggregate Nominal Amount or the relevant Interest Amount; or

- (d) to determine a rate at which any Relevant Currency can be lawfully exchanged for U.S. Dollars; or
- (e) to convert any Relevant Currency into U.S. Dollars; or
- (f) to exchange or repatriate any funds outside of any jurisdiction in which any Relevant Underlying(s) or its or their components, is issued; or
- (g) for the Issuer or any of its affiliates to hold, purchase, sell or otherwise deal in any Notes, or any other property in order for the Issuer or any of its affiliates to perform any related hedging arrangement, or for the purposes of the Issuer or the Issuer's obligations in respect of any Notes.

"Inconvertibility Specified Currency" means the currency specified in the Inconvertibility Event Notice and, if none is indicated, the Specified Currency.

"Relevant Currency" means the currency as specified in the Inconvertibility Event Notice, and, if none is specified, the currency in which any of the securities which comprise the Relevant Underlying(s) is denominated, or the currency of the Relevant Underlying, or any of the Relevant Underlyings, or the currency in which any of their underlying components is denominated, or any other currency or currencies as specified in the Inconvertibility Event Notice.

"Relevant Jurisdiction" means the jurisdiction as specified in the Inconvertibility Event Notice.

"Relevant Underlying" means, in relation to the Notes, any of the Share, Index, ETF Interest, Commodity, Commodity Index, ETN, Fund or other item underlying such Notes (and "Relevant Underlyings" means all of them).

25. CNY Disruption Events

- (a) In the event that a CNY Disruption Event, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, occurs on or prior to any date on which a payment is scheduled to be made under a CNY Note (including, but not limited to, an Interest Payment Date or the Maturity Date) and such CNY Disruption Event is continuing on such date (any such CNY Note so affected, an "Affected CNY Note"), the following terms will apply:
 - (i) first, payments under the Affected CNY Note shall be postponed to two Hong Kong Business Days after the date on which the CNY Disruption Event ceases to exist, unless that CNY Disruption Event continues to exist for 14 consecutive calendar days from the original date that, but for the occurrence of the CNY Disruption Event, would have been the date for such payments (which payment date may be, but is not limited to, an Interest Payment Date or the Maturity Date). In that case, the provisions of sub-paragraph (ii) below will apply on the day immediately following the lapse of such 14 calendar day period; and
 - (ii) second, the relevant payment obligations under the Affected CNY Note shall be replaced by an obligation to pay an amount equal to the amount that would be due in CNY under the Affected CNY Note converted into an amount in USD as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion. All the payments hereunder shall be made in USD on the relevant Non-Deliverable Substitute Settlement Date. For the avoidance of doubt, this sub-paragraph (ii) shall only apply to any payment which is scheduled to occur on a date (which may be, but is not limited to, the Maturity Date or an Interest Payment Date) that is affected by the CNY Disruption Event and shall not affect any payments falling due on any other dates.
- (b) Notwithstanding paragraph (a) above, the Issuer may early terminate the Notes on a specified date notified by the Issuer to the holders (such date, the "CNY Disruption Early Redemption Date"), in which case the Notes shall early redeem at the CNY Disruption Early Redemption Amount on such CNY Disruption Early Redemption Date. The Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.
- (c) For the purpose of this Condition 25 (CNY Disruption Events):

"CNY Disruption Early Redemption Amount" means, in respect of any Note, any of:

- (i) an amount in USD as specified in the relevant notice to holders;
- (ii) if "Early Redemption Amount Less Costs" is specified in the relevant notice to holders, an amount equal to (i) the amount that would be due in CNY under the Note converted into an amount in USD as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, less (ii) less the reasonable cost to and/or the loss realised by, the Issuer and/or any Affiliate in respect of break funding costs for the Issuer term financing associated with such early redemption of the Note, in each case as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion;
- (iii) if "Early Redemption Amount" is specified in the relevant notice to holders, an amount equal to the amount that would be due in CNY under the Note converted into an amount in USD as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion;
- (iv) if "Fair Market Value Less Costs (CNY Disruption)" is specified in the relevant notice to holders, an amount in USD equal to the fair market value of such Note, on such day as is selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion (provided that such day is not more than 15 days before the CNY Disruption Early Redemption Date), less the proportion attributable to that Note of the reasonable cost to the Issuer and/or any Affiliate of, or the loss realised by the Issuer and/or any Affiliate on, unwinding any related hedging arrangements or in respect of break funding costs for the Issuer's term financing associated with such early redemption of the Note, in each case as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion; or
- (v) if "Fair Market Value (CNY Disruption)" is specified in the relevant notice to holders, an amount in USD equal to the fair market value of such Notes, on such day as is selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion (provided that such day is not more than 15 days before the CNY Disruption Early Redemption Date), as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion.

"CNY Disruption Event" means any of CNY Illiquidity, CNY Inconvertibility or CNY Non-Transferability.

"CNY Illiquidity" means, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, the occurrence of any event that makes it impossible (where it had previously been possible) for the Issuer to obtain a firm quote of an offer price in respect of an amount in CNY equal to the then aggregate outstanding principal amount of the relevant Affected CNY Notes, any interest or any other amount to be paid under such Notes (the "Relevant Disrupted Amount"), during the term of such Notes, either in one transaction or a commercially reasonable number of transactions that, when taken together, is no less than such Relevant Disrupted Amount, in the general CNY exchange market in each Offshore CNY Center in order to perform its obligations under the Affected CNY Notes.

"CNY Inconvertibility" means, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, the occurrence of any event that makes it impossible (where it had previously been possible) for the Issuer to convert an amount of CNY no less than the Relevant Disrupted Amount into or from USD in the general CNY exchange market in each Offshore CNY Center.

"CNY Non-Transferability" means, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, the occurrence in each Offshore CNY Center of any event that makes it impossible (where it had previously been possible) for the Issuer to transfer CNY (A) between accounts inside the Offshore CNY Center, (B) from an account inside the Offshore CNY Center to an account outside such Offshore CNY Center and outside mainland China, or (C) from an account outside an Offshore CNY Center and outside mainland China to an account inside the Offshore CNY Center. For the purpose of CNY Non-Transferability and Hong Kong as an Offshore CNY Center only, a segregated Chinese Renminbi fiduciary cash account with the People's Bank of China and operated by Bank of China (Hong Kong) Limited shall be deemed to be an account inside Hong Kong.

"Hong Kong Business Day" means any day, other than a Saturday or Sunday, that is neither a legal holiday nor a day on which banking institutions are authorised or required by law or regulation to close in Hong Kong.

"Non-Deliverable Substitute Settlement Date" means, subject to adjustment in accordance with the provisions of Condition 25(a)(i) (CNY Disruption Events) and/or any Business Day Convention applicable to the terms of an Affected CNY Note, the day determined by the Determination Agent which shall be as soon as practicable following the date on which the relevant payment was scheduled to be made in respect of such Affected CNY Note, and which shall be in no event later than two (2) Hong Kong Business Days after the date on which the amount payable in USD in respect of such Affected CNY Note is determined by the Determination Agent pursuant to Condition 25(a)(i) (CNY Disruption Events).

"Offshore CNY Center" means Hong Kong, or such other CNY Center as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

For the avoidance of doubt, references to "general CNY exchange market in each Offshore CNY Center" in the definitions of CNY Illiquidity and CNY Inconvertibility refers to purchase, sale, lending or borrowing of CNY for general purpose (including, but not limited to, funding), and therefore any purchase or sale of CNY where such CNY is required by relevant laws or regulations for settlement of any cross-border trade transaction with an entity in mainland China, or any purchase or sale of CNY for personal customers residing in each such Offshore CNY Center, would not be purchase or sale made in such general CNY exchange market.

26. Redemption and Purchase

26.1 Scheduled Redemption

Save in the case of Notes that are Credit Linked Notes or ETN-Linked Notes, unless previously redeemed, or purchased and cancelled, and unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, (i) Cash Settlement Notes will be redeemed at their Final Redemption Amount on the Maturity Date, subject as provided in Condition 27 (Payments – Registered Notes), and (ii) Physical Settlement Notes shall be redeemed by delivery of the Physical Delivery Amount on the Physical Settlement Date, subject as provided in Condition 29 (Physical Settlement). Notes that are Credit Linked Notes shall be redeemed as set out in Condition 18 (Provisions relating to Credit Linked Notes), subject to any additional or alternative redemption/ payment provisions or modification contemplated in respect of such Notes specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. Notes that are ETN-Linked Notes shall be redeemed as set out in Condition 20 (Provisions relating to ETN-Linked Notes), subject to any additional or alternative redemption/payment provisions or modification contemplated in respect of such Notes specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

26.2 Tax Redemption – Morgan Stanley Notes, MSFL Notes and MSFII Notes

Notes issued by Morgan Stanley, MSFL and MSFII may be redeemed in whole (but not in part), at the option of the relevant Issuer at any time prior to maturity, upon the giving of a notice of redemption as described below, not less than 10 Business Days prior to the date on which the Notes are to be redeemed, if the relevant Issuer determines in its reasonable discretion that, as a result of any change in or amendment to the laws, or any regulations or rulings promulgated under the laws, of the United States or of any political subdivision or taxing authority of or in the United States affecting taxation, or any change in official position regarding the application or interpretation of the laws, regulations or rulings referred to above, which change or amendment becomes effective on or after the date of the applicable Pricing Supplement in connection with the issuance of the Notes or any other date specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, it or the Guarantor (if applicable) is or will become obligated to pay Additional Amounts with respect to the Notes as described in Condition 30 (Taxation). The early redemption amount will be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. The Issuer will give notice of any tax redemption in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices).

26.3 Tax Redemption – MSI plc Notes, MSBV Notes, MSFII Notes and MSESE Notes

MSI plc, MSBV Notes, MSFII Notes and MSESE Notes may be redeemed in whole (but not in part), at the option of the relevant Issuer at any time prior to maturity, upon the giving of a notice of redemption as described below, not less than 10 Business Days prior to the date on which the Notes are to be redeemed, if the Issuer determines, in its reasonable discretion, that it or the Guarantor is or will become required by law to make any withholding or deduction with respect to the Notes. The early redemption amount will be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. The Issuer will give notice of any tax redemption in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices).

26.4 Prior to the relevant Issuer giving notice of redemption under Condition 26.2 (Tax Redemption – Morgan Stanley Notes, MSFL Notes and MSFII Notes) or 26.3 (Tax Redemption – MSI plc Notes, MSBV Notes, MSFII Notes and MSESE Notes), it will deliver to the Fiscal Agent:

- (a) a certificate stating that it is entitled to effect the redemption and setting forth a statement of facts showing that the conditions precedent to its right to so redeem have occurred (the date on which that certificate is delivered to the Fiscal Agent is the "Redemption Determination Date"); and
- (b) an opinion of independent legal counsel of recognised standing to that effect based on the statement of facts.

Notice of redemption will be given not less than 10 Business Days prior to the date fixed for redemption. The date and the applicable redemption price will be specified in the notice.

26.5 Redemption at the Option of the Issuer

Subject to Condition 26.6 (Redemption at the Non-Discretionary Option of the Issuer), if Call Option is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable, the Notes may be redeemed at the option of the Issuer in whole or, if so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in part on any Optional Redemption Date (Call) at the relevant Optional Redemption Amount (Call) on the Issuer's giving not less than the Minimum Call Notice Number of Day(s) nor more than the Maximum Call Notice Number of Day(s) notice to the Noteholders and, in the case of Uncertificated Notes, not less than 45 days' notice to the Euroclear Registrar (which notice shall be irrevocable and shall oblige the Issuer to redeem the Notes specified in such notice on the relevant Optional Redemption Date (Call) at the Optional Redemption Amount (Call) plus accrued but unpaid interest (if any) to such date).

26.6 Redemption at the Non-Discretionary Option of the Issuer

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Condition 26.5 (Redemption at the Option of the Issuer), if Non-discretionary Call Option is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable, the Notes shall be redeemed by the Issuer in whole, but not in part, on any Optional Redemption Date (Call) at the relevant Optional Redemption Amount (Call) if, and only if, the output of a risk neutral valuation model on a Business Day that is at least five (5) but no greater than eight (8) Business Days prior to such Optional Redemption Date, as selected by the Determination Agent (the "Optional Redemption Determination Date"), taking as input: (i) prevailing reference market levels, volatilities and correlations, as applicable and in each case as of the Optional Redemption Determination Date and (ii) the Issuer's credit spreads as of the Trade Date(s) indicates, in the determination of the Determination Agent, that redeeming the Notes on such Optional Redemption Date would be economically more rational for the Issuer than not redeeming the Notes on such Optional Redemption Date. If the Issuer is required to redeem the Notes on any Optional Redemption Date in accordance with this Condition 26.6 (Redemption at the Non-Discretionary Option of the Issuer), the Issuer will give the Noteholders not less than five (5) Business Days' prior notice.

26.7 Model-based Redemption

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Condition 26.5 (Redemption at the Option of the Issuer), if Model-based Redemption is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable, the Notes shall be redeemed by the Issuer in whole, but not in part, on any Model-based Redemption Date (Call) at the relevant Model-based Redemption Amount (Call), if and only if the output of the proprietary valuation model described below (the "Valuation Model") indicates, in the Determination Agent's reasonable opinion, that it would be economically more rational for the Issuer to redeem the Notes than not, as specified in Condition 26.7.2 (Model-based Redemption).

The Model-based Redemption Amount (Call) will be specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement and will be at least equal to Par, unless otherwise specified in the Pricing Supplement. The redemption of the Notes will be without prejudice to the rights of Noteholders to receive any other payment accrued at the Model-based Redemption Date (Call) based on the terms of the Notes.

26.7.1 Valuation Model

The Valuation Model is a Morgan Stanley Group proprietary valuation model. The inputs of the Valuation Model are market data relevant for determining the amount payable by the Issuer under the terms of the Notes, in particular:

- reference market levels and volatilities for the relevant underlying assets, including forward looking predictions of their curves;
- valuations of the correlation of the underlying assets; and
- any relevant currency exchange rate.

The Valuation Model also utilises, as a fixed parameter, the credit spread of the Issuer (and the Guarantor, if applicable) taken at the Trade Date. The model is a quantitative model and is subject to internal approvals, controls and verifications to ensure it performs the relevant calculations systematically. No discretionary amendments can be made to the methodology of the Valuation Model.

On any given day, the Valuation Model calculates the financial opportunity cost for the Issuer to redeem the Notes on the relevant Model-based Redemption Date (Call).

26.7.2 Model-based Redemption

The Notes will be redeemed, in whole but not in part, on a Model-based Redemption Date (Call) if the output of the Valuation Model determined by the Determination Agent at any time on a day that is no earlier than three (3) Business Days before and no later than a Model-based Redemption Determination Cut-off Date (Call) (any such date a "Model-based Redemption Determination Date (Call)") indicates, in the Determination Agent's reasonable opinion, that redeeming the Notes would be economically more rational for the Issuer than not redeeming the Notes. If so, the Issuer will notify Noteholders on the "Model-based Redemption Notice Date (Call)") which will not be less than five (5) Business Days' prior to the Model-based Redemption Date (Call) and Noteholders will be entitled to receive the Model-based Redemption Amount (Call).

An early redemption of the Notes will not automatically occur based solely on the performance of the underlying assets.

26.7.3 Use of discretion

The Determination Agent maintains discretion, which shall be exercised in good faith, in the interpretation of the outputs of the Valuation Model and on the date and time when such outputs are observed (provided that such date and time shall be no earlier than three (3) Business Days before and no later than a Model-based Redemption Determination Cut-off Date (Call)), and therefore maintains discretion with respect to the final decision to redeem the Notes.

26.8 Partial Redemption

- (a) if the Notes are to be redeemed in part only on any date in accordance with Condition 26.5 (Redemption at the Option of the Issuer), the Notes to be redeemed shall be selected by the drawing of lots in such place as the Fiscal Agent approves and in such manner as the Fiscal Agent considers appropriate, acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, subject to compliance with applicable law and the rules of each listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system by which the Notes have then been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation, and the notice to Noteholders referred to in Condition 26.5 (Redemption at the Option of the Issuer) shall specify the serial numbers of the Notes so to be redeemed; and
- (b) in respect of a partial redemption of Nordic Notes, the notice to Noteholders referred to in Condition 26.5 (Redemption at the Option of the Issuer) shall also specify the Nordic Notes or amounts of the Nordic

Notes to be redeemed and the Record Date in respect of the relevant Nordic Notes and the procedures for partial redemption laid down in the then applicable NCSD Rules will be observed.

26.9 Redemption at the Option of Noteholders

If the Put Option is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable, the Issuer shall, at the option of the holder of any Note redeem such Note on the Optional Redemption Date (Put) specified in the relevant Put Option Notice at the relevant Optional Redemption Amount (Put), together with interest (if any) accrued to such date.

In order to exercise the option contained in this Condition 26.9 (Redemption at the Option of Noteholders) the holder of a Note must, not less than the Minimum Put Notice Number of Day(s) nor more than the Maximum Put Notice Number of Day(s) before the relevant Optional Redemption Date (Put), deposit such Note with the Registrar, and a duly completed Put Option Notice in the form obtainable from any Paying Agent. The Paying Agent with which a Note is so deposited shall deliver a duly completed Put Option Receipt to the depositing Noteholder. In respect of Nordic Notes, the Put Notice shall not take effect against the Issuer before the date on which the relevant Nordic Notes have been transferred to the account designated by the relevant Nordic Issuing and Paying Agent and blocked for further transfer by the relevant Nordic Issuing and Paying Agent. No Note, once deposited with a duly completed Put Option Notice in accordance with this Condition 26.9 (Redemption at the Option of Noteholders), may be withdrawn; provided, however, that if, prior to the relevant Optional Redemption Date (Put), any such Note becomes immediately due and payable or, upon due presentation of any such Note on the relevant Optional Redemption Date (Put), payment of the redemption moneys is improperly withheld or refused, the relevant Paying Agent shall mail notification thereof to the depositing Noteholder at such address as may have been given by such Noteholder in the relevant Put Option Notice and shall hold such Note at its Specified Office for collection by the depositing Noteholder against surrender of the relevant Put Option Receipt. For so long as any outstanding Note is held by a Paying Agent in accordance with this Condition 26.9 (Redemption at the Option of Noteholders), the depositor of such Note and not such Paying Agent shall be deemed to be the holder of such Note for all purposes.

26.10 Early Redemption of Zero Coupon Notes

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Redemption Amount payable on redemption of a Zero Coupon Note at any time before the Maturity Date shall be an amount equal to (a) the product of the Calculation Amount of such Note and (b) the percentage produced by:

- (a) if Compounded Zero Coupon is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the following formula:

$$\text{Reference Price} \times (1 + \text{Accrual Yield})^n$$

- (b) if Linear Zero Coupon is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the following formula:

$$\text{Reference Price} + \text{Reference Price} \times n \times \text{Accrual Yield}$$

Where "n" means the number of years from (and including) the Issue Date (or such other date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the "Accrued Value Commencement Date") to (but excluding) the date fixed for redemption or (as the case may be) the date upon which the Note becomes due and payable and the calculation shall be made on the basis of such Day Count Fraction as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if none is so specified, a Day Count Fraction of 30/360.

26.11 Purchase

Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII, MSESE or any of their respective Affiliates may at any time purchase Notes in the open market or otherwise and at any price.

26.12 Cancellation

All Notes so redeemed shall, and all Notes so purchased by Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII, MSESE or any of their respective Subsidiaries may, at the reasonable discretion of the relevant purchaser, be cancelled. All Notes so redeemed, and all Notes so purchased and cancelled, may not be reissued or resold.

26.13 Compliance with securities laws

If any holder of any Regulation S/Rule 144A Note is determined not to be either (A) a QIB, or in the case of a Regulation S/Rule 144A Note issued by MSBV, a QIB/QP or (B) a non-U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S), the Issuer shall have the right to (i) force such holder to sell its interest in such Note, or sell such interest on behalf of such holder, to (A) a QIB, or in the case of a Regulation S/Rule 144A Note issued by MSBV, a QIB/QP pursuant to Rule 144A or (B) in an offshore transaction in accordance with Regulation S to a non-U.S. person who, following such transaction, receives a beneficial interest in the relevant Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Note or (ii) terminate and cancel such Note. If any holder of any Regulation S Note is determined to be a U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S), the Issuer shall have the right to force such holder to sell its interest in such Note, or sell such interest on behalf of such holder, to a person who is not a U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S) who, following such transaction, receives a beneficial interest in the relevant Regulation S Global Note or (ii) terminate and cancel such Note. In the case of any termination and cancellation of a Note as described above no amount shall be payable to the relevant Noteholder and the Issuer shall have no further obligations in respect of the Note.

27. Payments – Registered Notes

This Condition 27 (Payments – Registered Notes) is only applicable to Registered Notes.

27.1 Principal

Subject to Condition 27.3 (Payments of Principal and Interest in CNY), payments of principal shall be made by cheque drawn in the currency in which the payment is due drawn on, or, upon application by a holder of a Registered Note to the Specified Office of the Fiscal Agent not later than the 15th day before the due date for any such payment, by transfer to an account denominated in that currency (or, if that currency is euro, any other account to which euro may be credited or transferred) and maintained by the payee with, a bank in the Principal Financial Centre of that currency (in the case of a Sterling cheque, a town clearing branch of a bank in the City of London) and (in the case of redemption) upon surrender (or, in the case of part payment only, endorsement) of the relevant Individual Note Certificates at the Specified Office of any Paying Agent.

27.2 Interest

Subject to Condition 27.3 (Payments of Principal and Interest in CNY), payments of interest shall be made by cheque drawn in the currency in which the payment is due drawn on, or, upon application by a holder of a Registered Note to the Specified Office of the Fiscal Agent not later than the 15th day before the due date for any such payment, by transfer to an account denominated in that currency (or, if that currency is euro, any other account to which euro may be credited or transferred) and maintained by the payee with, a bank in the Principal Financial Centre of that currency (in the case of a Sterling cheque, a town clearing branch of a bank in the City of London) and (in the case of interest payable on redemption) upon surrender (or, in the case of part payment only, endorsement) of the relevant Individual Note Certificates at the Specified Office of any Paying Agent.

27.3 Payments of Principal and Interest in CNY

Notwithstanding Conditions 27.1 (Principal) and 27.2 (Interest), in respect of CNY Notes, no payment of principal or interest in CNY will be made by cheque and all payments to Noteholders will be made solely (i) for so long as the CNY Notes are represented by a Global Registered Note held with the common depositary for Clearstream Banking société anonyme and Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V. or any alternative clearing system, by transfer to a CNY bank account maintained outside the PRC, or (ii) for so long as the Notes are in definitive form, by transfer to a CNY bank account maintained outside the PRC, in each case in accordance with prevailing rules and regulations.

27.4 Payments Subject to Fiscal Laws

All payments in respect of the Registered Notes are subject in all cases to (i) any applicable fiscal or other laws and regulations, but without prejudice to the provisions of Condition 30 (Taxation); and (ii) any withholding or deduction required pursuant to an agreement described in section 1471(b) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code") or otherwise imposed pursuant to sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, any regulations or agreements thereunder, any official interpretations thereof, or any law implementing an intergovernmental approach thereto (in each case without prejudice to the provisions of Condition 30 (Taxation)). No commissions or expenses shall be charged to the Noteholders in respect of such payments.

27.5 Payments on Payment Business Days

Where payment is to be made by transfer to an account, payment instructions (for value the due date, or, if the due date is not a Payment Business Day, for value the next succeeding Payment Business Day) will be initiated and, where payment is to be made by cheque, the cheque will be mailed (i) (in the case of payments of principal and interest payable on redemption) on the later of the due date for payment and the day on which the relevant Individual Note Certificate is surrendered (or, in the case of part payment only, endorsed) at the Specified Office of a Paying Agent and (ii) (in the case of payments of interest payable other than on redemption) on the due date for payment. A holder of a Registered Note shall not be entitled to any interest or other payment in respect of any delay in payment resulting from (A) the due date for a payment not being a Payment Business Day or (B) a cheque mailed in accordance with this Condition 27 (Payments – Registered Notes) arriving after the due date for payment or being lost in the mail.

27.6 Partial payments

If a Paying Agent makes a partial payment in respect of any Registered Note, the Issuer shall procure that the amount and date of such payment are noted on the Register and, in the case of partial payment upon presentation of an Individual Note Certificate, that a statement indicating the amount and the date of such payment is endorsed on the relevant Individual Note Certificate.

27.7 Record date: Each payment in respect of a Registered Note will be made to the person shown as the holder in the Register at the close of business in the place of the Registrar's Specified Office on such number of days before the due date for such payment as is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement (the "Record Date"). Where payment in respect of a Registered Note is to be made by cheque, the cheque will be mailed to the address shown as the address of the holder in the Register at the close of business on the relevant Record Date.

27.8 Payments of Principal and Interest in respect of Nordic Notes

Payments of principal, interest and/or any other amount payable under these Conditions in respect of Nordic Notes shall be made to the Noteholders recorded as such on the record date (as specified in the then applicable NCSD Rules) or such other business day falling closer to the due date as may then be stipulated in said Rules. Such day shall be the Record Date in respect of the Nordic Notes.

27.9 Unavailability of Currency

If the Specified Currency is not available to the Issuer for making payments of principal of, and premium, interest and/or additional amounts, if any, on any Registered Note (whether due to the imposition of exchange controls or other circumstances beyond the control of the Issuer, or if the Specified Currency is no longer used by the government of the country issuing that currency or by public institutions within the international banking community for the settlement of transactions) (in which case an "Unavailability of Currency Event" shall be deemed to have occurred in respect of such Notes), the Issuer may satisfy its obligations to Noteholders by making payments on the date of payment in U.S. Dollars on the basis of the prevailing exchange rate on the date of the payment or of the most recent practicable date, such rate being based on the highest bid quotation in The City of New York received by the Exchange Rate Agent at approximately 11:00 a.m., New York City time, on the second Business Day preceding the applicable payment date from three recognised foreign exchange dealers for the purchase by the quoting dealer:

- (a) of the Specified Currency for U.S. Dollars for settlement on the payment date;
- (b) in the aggregate amount of the Specified Currency payable to those holders or beneficial owners of Notes; and
- (c) at which the applicable dealer commits to execute a contract.

If those bid quotations are not available, the Exchange Rate Agent will determine the Market Exchange Rate at its reasonable discretion. All determinations by the Exchange Rate Agent will, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive for all purposes and binding on the Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) and the Noteholders. The Exchange Rate Agent will be Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc, unless otherwise noted in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If the Exchange Rate Agent is not an affiliate of Morgan Stanley, it may be one of the dealers providing quotations.

For the avoidance of doubt, any payment made in U.S. Dollars on the basis of the prevailing exchange rate where the required payment is in an unavailable Specified Currency will not constitute an Event of Default.

The foregoing provisions do not apply to CNY Notes or if a Specified Currency is unavailable because it has been replaced by the euro. If the euro has been substituted for a Specified Currency, the Issuer may (or will, if required by applicable law) without the consent of the holders of the affected Notes, pay the principal of, premium, if any, or interest, if any, on any Note denominated in the Specified Currency in euro instead of the Specified Currency, in conformity with legally applicable measures taken pursuant to, or by virtue of, the Treaty. Any payment made in U.S. Dollars or in euro as described above where the required payment is in an unavailable Specified Currency will not constitute an Event of Default.

27.10 Payments in respect of CMU Notes

Payments of principal and interest in respect of CMU Notes will be made in accordance with the CMU Rules at the relevant time to the CMU for their distribution, on the order of the holder of the CMU Notes, to the person(s) for whose account(s) interests in the relevant CMU Note are credited as being held with the CMU at the close of business on the applicable Record Date and payment made in accordance thereof shall discharge the obligations of the Issuer in respect of that payment. Save in the case of final payment, no presentation of the relevant Global Registered Note shall be required for such purpose.

28. Payments – Uncertificated Notes

This Condition 28 (Payments – Uncertificated Notes) is only applicable to Uncertificated Notes.

28.1 Principal

Subject as provided below, the Euroclear Registrar shall pay or cause to be paid payments of principal in respect of Uncertificated Notes to the relevant Noteholder's cash account, such payment to be made in accordance with the rules of the Operator.

28.2 Interest

Payments of interest (if any) in respect of Uncertificated Notes will be discharged by payment (as shown in the records of the Operator) to the cash account of the relevant Noteholder.

28.3 General

Each of the persons shown in the Operator register of eligible debt securities as the holder of a particular principal amount of Uncertificated Notes must look solely to the settlement bank or institution at which such person's cash account is held for such person's share of each such payment so made by or on behalf of the Issuer.

28.4 Payments Subject to Fiscal Laws

All payments in respect of the Uncertificated Notes are subject in all cases to (i) any applicable fiscal or other laws and regulations, but without prejudice to the provisions of Condition 30 (Taxation); and (ii) any withholding or deduction required pursuant to an agreement described in section 1471(b) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code") or otherwise imposed pursuant to sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, any regulations or agreements thereunder, any official interpretations thereof, or any law implementing an intergovernmental approach thereto (in each case without prejudice to the provisions of Condition 30 (Taxation)). No commissions or expenses shall be charged to the Noteholders in respect of such payments.

28.5 Payments on Payment Business Days

Payment instructions (for value the due date, or, if the due date is not a Payment Business Day, for value the next succeeding Payment Business Day) will be initiated on the due date for payment. A holder of an Uncertificated Note shall not be entitled to any interest or other payment in respect of any delay in payment resulting from the due date for a payment not being a Payment Business Day.

29. Physical Settlement

29.1 Delivery Notice

- (a) Each Noteholder in respect of Physical Settlement Notes, shall, on or before the scheduled date for redemption thereof (or such earlier date as the Issuer shall notify to the Fiscal Agent and/or Euroclear Registrar and the Noteholders is, in its determination, necessary for the Issuer, the Fiscal Agent and/or the Relevant Clearing System(s) and/or the Euroclear Registrar to perform their respective obligations hereunder) send to the Relevant Clearing System(s) (in accordance with the relevant operating procedures) or, in the case of Uncertificated Notes, the Euroclear Registrar, and the Fiscal Agent an irrevocable notice (the "Delivery Notice") in the form from time to time approved by the Issuer, which must:
- (i) specify the name and address of the Noteholder;
 - (ii) specify the number of Notes in respect of which he is the Noteholder;
 - (iii) except in the case of Uncertificated Notes, specify the number of the Noteholder's account at the Relevant Clearing System(s) to be debited with such Notes;
 - (iv) except in the case of Uncertificated Notes, irrevocably instruct and authorise the Relevant Clearing System(s) (A) to debit the Noteholder's account with such Notes on the Physical Settlement Date and (B) that no further transfers of the Notes specified in the Delivery Notice may be made;
 - (v) contain a representation and warranty from the Noteholder to the effect that the Notes to which the Delivery Notice relates are free from all liens, charges, encumbrances and other third party rights;
 - (vi) specify the number and account name of the account at the Clearing System(s) to be credited with the Physical Delivery Amount if Physical Settlement is applicable;
 - (vii) contain an irrevocable undertaking to pay the Redemption Expenses and (to the extent payable but unpaid) Taxes (if any) which, in each case, are determined by the Issuer to be payable and an irrevocable instruction to the Relevant Clearing System(s) to debit on or after the Physical Settlement Date the cash or other account of the Noteholder with the Relevant Clearing System(s) specified in the Delivery Notice with such Redemption Expenses and Taxes;
 - (viii) authorise the production of the Delivery Notice in any applicable administrative or legal proceedings;
 - (ix) in the case of Uncertificated Notes, specify the cash memorandum account of the Noteholder as shown in the records of the Operator from which the Redemption Expenses and Taxes in respect of such Notes will be paid to the Euroclear Registrar's account with the Operator against delivery of the Physical Delivery Amount and irrevocably agree to deliver such instructions to the Operator as may be requested by the Euroclear Registrar to give effect to the delivery and payments described above; and
 - (x) certify that the Notes are not being redeemed by or on behalf of a U.S. Person or a person within the United States and the Notes are not beneficially owned by a U.S. Person or a person within the United States (terms used in this Condition 29.1(a)(x) have the meanings in Regulation S).
- (b) A Delivery Notice, once delivered to the Relevant Clearing System(s) or the Euroclear Registrar shall be irrevocable and may not be withdrawn without the consent in writing of the Issuer. A Noteholder may not transfer any Note which is the subject of a Delivery Notice following delivery of such Delivery

Notice to the Relevant Clearing System(s) or the Euroclear Registrar, as the case may be. A Delivery Notice shall only be valid to the extent that the Relevant Clearing System(s) or the Euroclear Registrar, as the case may be, has not received conflicting prior instructions in respect of the Notes which are the subject of the Delivery Notice.

- (c) Failure to properly complete and deliver a Delivery Notice may result in such notice being treated as null and void. Any determination as to whether such notice has been properly completed and delivered as provided shall be made by the Relevant Clearing System(s) or the Euroclear Registrar, as the case may be, after consultation with the Fiscal Agent and shall be conclusive and binding on the Issuer and the Noteholder.
- (d) The Fiscal Agent shall promptly, on the Business Day following receipt of such notice, send a copy of the Delivery Notice to the Issuer or such person as the Issuer may previously have specified.

29.2 Delivery Obligation

- (a) Subject to the other provisions of this Condition 29.2 (Delivery Obligation), the Issuer shall discharge its obligation to deliver the Physical Delivery Amount in respect of any Notes by delivering, or procuring the delivery of, the relevant Underlying Securities on the Physical Settlement Date to the Clearing System for credit to the account with the Clearing System specified in the Delivery Notice of the relevant Noteholder.
- (b) The number of Underlying Securities to be delivered to or for the account of each Noteholder on redemption of any Physical Settlement Notes shall be as determined in accordance with the applicable Pricing Supplement. The Issuer may pay a residual cash amount to each Noteholder representing any fractions of Underlying Securities comprising the Physical Delivery Amount.
- (c) After delivery to or for the account of a Noteholder of the relevant Physical Delivery Amount and for such period of time as the transferor or its agent or nominee shall continue to be registered in any clearing system as the owner of the Underlying Securities comprised in such Physical Delivery Amount (the "Intervening Period"), none of such transferor or any agent or nominee for the Issuer or such transferor shall (i) be under any obligation to deliver to such Noteholder or any other person any letter, certificate, notice, circular, dividend or any other document or payment whatsoever received by the Issuer or such transferor, agent or nominee in its capacity as holder of such Underlying Securities, (ii) be under any obligation to exercise any rights (including voting rights) attaching to such Underlying Securities during the Intervening Period, or (iii) be under any liability to such Noteholder or any other person in respect of any loss or damage which the Noteholder or any other person may sustain or suffer as a result, whether directly or indirectly, of the Issuer or such transferor, agent or nominee being registered in the Clearing System during such Intervening Period as legal owner of such Underlying Securities.
- (d) Any amounts in respect of dividends and interest on the Underlying Securities comprising the Physical Delivery Amount to be delivered will be payable to the party that would receive such amounts according to market practice for a sale of such Underlying Securities executed on the Exchange Business Day following the Determination Date in respect of the Notes. Any such amounts will be paid to or for credit to the account specified by the Noteholder in the relevant Delivery Notice. No right to dividends or interest on the Underlying Securities will accrue to Noteholders prior to the Determination Date.

29.3 Settlement Disruption of Physical Settlement

- (a) This Condition 29.3 (Settlement Disruption of Physical Settlement) shall apply only where Physical Settlement is applicable.
- (b) The Determination Agent shall determine, acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, whether or not at any time a Settlement Disruption Event has occurred in respect of Underlying Securities comprised in the Physical Delivery Amount (the "Affected Securities") and where it determines such an event has occurred and so has prevented delivery of such Affected Securities on the original day that but for such Settlement Disruption Event would have been the Physical Settlement Date, then the Issuer may determine, in its reasonable discretion, either (a) to pay such amount as in the opinion of the Determination Agent is appropriate in the circumstances by way of compensation for the non-delivery of such Affected Securities, in which event the entitlements of the respective Noteholders to receive such Affected Securities on redemption shall cease and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount or (b) that the Physical Settlement Date will be postponed to the first succeeding day on which delivery of such Affected Securities can take place through the Clearing System unless a Settlement Disruption Event prevents settlement on each of the 10 Clearing System Business Days immediately following the original date that, but for the Settlement Disruption Event, would have been the Physical Settlement Date (a "Delayed Settlement Disruption Event"). In the case of a Delayed Settlement Disruption Event, the Issuer may determine, in its reasonable discretion, (a) to pay such amount as in the opinion of the Determination Agent is appropriate in the circumstances by way of compensation for the non-delivery of such Affected Securities, in which event the entitlements of the respective Noteholders to receive such Affected Securities on redemption shall cease and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount; (b) if such Affected Securities can be delivered in any other commercially reasonable manner, that the Physical Settlement Date will be postponed to the first day on which settlement of a sale of such Affected Securities executed on that 10th Clearing System Business Day customarily would take place using such other commercially reasonable manner of delivery (which other manner of delivery will be deemed the Clearing System for the purposes of delivery of such Affected Securities); or (c) if such Affected Shares cannot be delivered in any other commercially reasonable manner, that the Physical Settlement Date will be postponed until delivery can be effected through the Clearing System or in any other commercially reasonable manner.

- (c) For the purposes hereof "Settlement Disruption Event" means, as determined by the Determination Agent acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, an event which is beyond the control of the Issuer or the transferor of any relevant Underlying Securities and as a result of which the Clearing System cannot receive or clear the transfer of such Underlying Securities.

29.4 Delivery Disruption of Physical Settlement

- (a) This Condition 29.4 (Delivery Disruption of Physical Settlement) shall apply only where Physical Settlement is applicable.
- (b) If the Determination Agent determines, acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, that a Delivery Disruption Event has occurred, the Determination Agent shall notify the Issuer who shall promptly, and in any event not more than 15 Business Days after the Issuer has received such notification from the Determination Agent, notify the Noteholders, and the Issuer will then deliver, or procure the delivery of, on the Physical Settlement Date such number of Underlying Securities comprised in the Physical Delivery Amount (if any) as it can deliver, or procure the delivery of, on that date and pay such amount as in the opinion of the Determination Agent is appropriate in the circumstances by way of compensation for the non-delivery of the remainder of the Underlying Securities comprised in the Physical Delivery Amount (assuming satisfaction of each applicable condition precedent) to which the Noteholders would have been entitled under the Notes but for the occurrence of such Delivery Disruption Event, in which event the entitlements of the respective Noteholders to receive Underlying Securities on redemption shall cease and the Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon delivery of such number of Underlying Securities and payment of such amount.
- (c) Where this Condition 29.4 (Delivery Disruption of Physical Settlement) falls to be applied, insofar as the Determination Agent determines to be practical, acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, the same shall be applied as between the Noteholders on a pro rata basis, but subject to such rounding down (whether of the amount of a payment or of a number of Underlying Securities to be delivered) and also to such other adjustments as the Determination Agent, acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, determines to be appropriate to give practical effect to such provisions.
- (d) For the purposes hereof "Delivery Disruption Event" means, as determined by the Determination Agent, acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, the failure or inability, due to illiquidity in the market for the Underlying Securities comprised in the Physical Delivery Amount, by or of the Issuer to deliver, or procure the delivery of, on the Physical Settlement Date all the Underlying Securities comprised in the Physical Delivery Amount to be delivered on that date.

29.5 Additional Definitions

For the purposes of this Condition 29 (Physical Settlement):

"Clearing System" means, in respect of an Underlying Security relating to a Physical Settlement Note, the clearing system specified as such for such security in the applicable Pricing Supplement or any successor to such clearing system as determined by the Determination Agent. If the Pricing Supplement do not specify a clearing system, the Clearing System will be the principal domestic system customarily used for settling trades in the relevant Underlying Securities. If the Clearing System ceases to settle trades in such Underlying Securities, the Determination Agent will, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, select another method of delivery;

"Clearing System Business Day" means, in respect of a Clearing System, any day on which such Clearing System is (or, but for the occurrence of a Settlement Disruption Event, would have been) open for the acceptance and execution of settlement instructions;

"Physical Delivery Amount" means in respect of any Series of Physical Settlement Notes, the Underlying Securities to be delivered by the Issuer to Noteholders on redemption of each Note, as provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Physical Settlement Date" means, in relation to Underlying Securities to be delivered, subject to Condition 29.3 (Settlement Disruption of Physical Settlement), in respect of any Notes, the date following the Maturity Date or any other applicable redemption date, as the case may be, which is the first day on which settlement of a sale of such Underlying Securities executed on that Maturity Date or other redemption date, as the case may be, customarily would take place through the Applicable Clearing System, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

30. Taxation

30.1 Additional Amounts: If specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in respect of a Series of Notes, the relevant Issuer or Guarantor, if applicable, will, subject to certain exceptions and limitations set forth below, pay those additional amounts (the "Additional Amounts") to any Noteholder who is a U.S. Alien as may be necessary in order that every net payment of the principal of and interest on the Note and any other amounts payable by or on behalf of the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor on the Note after withholding for or on account of any tax, assessment or governmental charge imposed upon or as a result of that payment by the United States or any political subdivision or taxing authority thereof or therein, will not be less than the amount provided for in the Note to be then due and payable under the Notes. For the avoidance of doubt, if not so provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement, Additional Amounts as provided in this Condition 30.1 (Additional Amounts) shall not be payable.

The relevant Issuer or Guarantor, if applicable, will not, however, be required to make any payment of Additional Amounts to any Noteholder for or on account of:

- (a) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge that would not have been so imposed but for:
 - (i) the existence of any present or former connection between the holder or beneficial owner, or between a fiduciary, settlor, beneficiary, member or shareholder of the holder or beneficial owner, if the holder or beneficial owner is an estate, a trust, a partnership or a corporation, and the United States and its possessions, including, without limitation, the holder or beneficial owner, or such fiduciary, settlor, beneficiary, member or shareholder, being or having been a citizen or resident of the United States or being or having been engaged in the conduct of a trade or business or present in the United States or having, or having had, a permanent establishment in the United States; or
 - (ii) the presentation by the Noteholder for payment on a date more than 15 days after the date on which payment became due and payable or the date on which payment thereof is duly provided for, whichever occurs later;
- (b) any estate, inheritance, gift, sales, transfer, capital gains, corporation, income or personal property tax or any similar tax, assessment or governmental charge;
- (c) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed by reason of the holder's or beneficial owner's past or present status as a personal holding company or controlled foreign corporation or passive foreign investment company with respect to the United States or as a corporation that accumulates earnings to avoid U.S. federal income tax or as a private foundation or other tax exempt organisation;

- (d) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge that is payable otherwise than by withholding from payments on or in respect of any Note;
- (e) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge that would not have been imposed but for the failure to comply with certification, information or other reporting requirements concerning the nationality, residence or identity of the holder or beneficial owner of that Note, if compliance is required by statute or by regulation of the United States or of any political subdivision or taxing authority thereof or therein as a precondition to relief or exemption from the tax, assessment or other governmental charge;
- (f) any withholding tax imposed under sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code or any agreement with the IRS pursuant to these Code sections, any applicable U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder or published administrative guidance implementing such sections and any analogous provisions of non-U.S. laws (including withholding resulting from any inter-governmental agreement or an individual agreement with a taxing authority in connection with such sections of the Code, regulations, guidance or laws);
- (g) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed by reason of Section 871(m) of the Code, and any applicable U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder or published administrative guidance implementing such section;
- (h) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed by reason of the holder's or beneficial owner's past or present status as the actual or constructive owner of 10 per cent. or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote of Morgan Stanley or as a direct or indirect subsidiary of Morgan Stanley;
- (i) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed by reason of the holder of any Note and/or Coupon or beneficial owner not qualifying for the portfolio interest exemption or for an exemption with respect to coupon payments under the "other income" provision of a Qualifying Treaty; or
- (j) any combination of the items listed above.

In addition, the relevant Issuer or Guarantor, if applicable, will not be required to make any payment of Additional Amounts with respect to any Note presented for payment by or on behalf of a holder or beneficial owner who would have been able to avoid such withholding or deduction by presenting the relevant Note to another paying agent in a Member State of the European Union.

Nor will Additional Amounts be paid with respect to any payment on a Note to a U.S. Alien who is a fiduciary or partnership or other than the sole beneficial owner of that payment to the extent that payment would be required by the laws of the United States (or any political subdivision thereof) to be included in the income, for tax purposes, of a beneficiary or settlor with respect to the fiduciary or a member of that partnership or a beneficial owner who would not have been entitled to the Additional Amounts had that beneficiary, settlor, member or beneficial owner been the Noteholder.

The term "U.S. Alien" means any person who, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, is a foreign corporation, a nonresident alien individual, a nonresident alien fiduciary of a foreign estate or trust, or a foreign partnership one or more of the members of which is a foreign corporation, a nonresident alien individual or a nonresident alien fiduciary of a foreign estate or trust.

30.2 Withholding Taxes

Except as otherwise provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement, all payments of principal and interest by Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII, MSESE or the Guarantor shall be made free and clear of, and without withholding or deduction for, any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatsoever nature imposed, levied, collected withheld or assessed by the United Kingdom, The Netherlands, Jersey, Germany, the United States of America or any other jurisdiction, in each case, including any political subdivision or any authority thereof or therein having power to tax, unless such withholding or deduction is required by law. None of Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSFL, MSBV, MSFII, MSESE or the Guarantor shall be required to make any additional payments on account of any such withholding or deductions, except as provided for in Condition 30.1 (Additional Amounts) above.

30.3 Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax

If "Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be applicable to any Series of Notes, then upon the occurrence of an Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax, the Issuer may (a) in its reasonable discretion, with immediate effect amend the Conditions of the Notes by adjusting downward any amount payable and/or any other value or term of the Conditions to account for the economic impact of the Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax on the Issuer and its Affiliates in relation to the Notes, and (b) to the extent that at any time thereafter the Issuer determines (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) that it (including its Affiliates) has incurred additional loss as a result of the Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax that has not been accounted for through the adjustment made pursuant to sub-paragraph (a) (such amount, "Additional Increased Tax"), it may reduce the amount otherwise payable on the Notes on the next payment date (and any payment date thereafter) by an amount up to the Additional Increased Tax amount. Any such adjustments shall be notified to Noteholders as soon as reasonably practicable. If an event or circumstance which would otherwise constitute a Change in Law or Increased Cost of Hedging (where applicable) also constitutes an Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax, it will be treated as an Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax.

30.4 Tax arrangement with the Withholding Tax Administration Agent in respect of CMU Notes issued by MSFL

For so long as a Tranche of CMU Notes issued by MSFL is represented by a Global Registered Note and lodged with a sub-custodian for or registered with the CMU, the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent will, in respect of each Relevant Payment Date, obtain from the CMU a list of person(s) shown in the records of the CMU for whose account(s) interest(s) in such Global Registered Note are credited as being held with the CMU at the close of business on each Record Date corresponding to that Relevant Payment Date (the "Record Date List"). Each holder of such CMU Note or an interest therein shall upon request provide to the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent with the Holder Tax Identification Information and Holder FATCA Information.

Each holder of such CMU Note or an interest therein, by acceptance of such Note or such interest in such CMU Note, will be deemed to have agreed to provide the CMU Lodging and Payment Agent and the Withholding Tax Administration Agent with the Holder Tax Identification Information and Holder FATCA Information. In addition, each holder of such CMU Note will be required or deemed to understand and acknowledge that the CMU Lodging and Paying Agent has the right, under the Conditions, to withhold interest payable with respect to such CMU Note (without any corresponding gross-up) with respect to any beneficial owner of an interest in such CMU Note that fails to comply with the foregoing requirements, at the highest rate applicable to such payment regardless of any exemption from, or reduction in, such withholding otherwise available under relevant laws. Neither MSFL nor the Guarantor shall have any obligation to pay any additional amounts to compensate any Noteholder for such withholding or deduction.

The withholding or deduction of Tax will be made based solely on the Record Date List and none of MSFL, the Guarantor, any Agent or any other person shall have any obligation to verify or confirm that there is no change to the Record Date List in respect of a Relevant Payment Date after the relevant Record Date

31. Events of Default

31.1 If any of the following events (each, an "Event of Default") occurs and is continuing:

- (a) Non-payment: failure to pay any amount of principal in respect of the Notes within thirty days of the due date for payment thereof or failure to pay any amount of interest in respect of the Notes within thirty days of the due date for payment thereof; or
- (b) Insolvency, etc.:
 - (i) the Issuer becomes insolvent or is unable to pay its debts as they fall due;
 - (ii) an administrator or liquidator of the Issuer or the whole or a substantial part of the undertaking, assets and revenues of the Issuer is appointed (otherwise than for the purposes of or pursuant to an amalgamation, reorganisation or restructuring whilst solvent);

- (iii) the Issuer takes any action for a composition with or for the benefit of its creditors generally; or
- (iv) an order is made or an effective resolution is passed for the winding up, liquidation or dissolution of the Issuer (otherwise than for the purposes of or pursuant to an amalgamation, reorganisation or restructuring whilst solvent), and such order or effective resolution has remained in force and has not been rescinded, revoked or set aside for sixty days after the date on which such order is made or effective resolution is passed, then Noteholders of not less than 25 per cent. in aggregate principal amount of the Notes may, by written notice addressed to the Issuer and delivered to the Issuer or to the Specified Office of the Fiscal Agent, declare the Notes to be immediately (or, in the case of Nordic Notes, on such later date on which the relevant Nordic Notes have been transferred to the account designated by the relevant Nordic Issuing and Paying Agent and blocked for further transfer by such Agent) due and payable, whereupon they shall become so due and payable at their Early Redemption Amount (or in accordance with any other provisions specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement) without further action or formality. Notice of any such declaration shall be given to the Noteholders promptly (in any event not more than 10 Business Days after such declaration is made).

In the case of MSBV Notes, MSFL Notes and MSFII Notes, nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorise any Noteholder to exercise any remedy against the applicable Issuer or the Guarantor solely as a result of, or because it is related directly or indirectly to, the insolvency of the Guarantor or the commencement of any proceedings relative to the Guarantor under Title 11 of the United States Code, or the appointment of a receiver for the Guarantor under Title II of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010 or the commencement of any other applicable federal or state bankruptcy, insolvency, resolution or other similar law, or solely as a result of, or because it is related directly or indirectly to, a receiver, assignee or trustee in bankruptcy or reorganization, liquidator, sequestrator or similar official having been appointed for or having taken possession of the Guarantor or its property, or solely as a result of, or because it is related directly or indirectly to, the institution of any other comparable judicial or regulatory proceedings relative to the Guarantor, or to the creditors or property of the Guarantor. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Noteholders are authorised to exercise any remedy against the relevant Issuer as a result of an Event of Default described in Condition 31.1(b) (Insolvency, etc.).

31.2 Annulment of Acceleration and Waiver of Defaults

In some circumstances, if any or all Events of Default, other than the non-payment of the principal of the Notes of a Series that has become due as a result of an acceleration, have been cured, waived or otherwise remedied, then the holders of a majority in principal amount of such Series of Notes (voting as one class) may annul past declarations of acceleration of or waive past defaults of the Notes. However, any continuing default in payment of principal of or any premium or interest on those Notes may not be waived.

32. Illegality and Regulatory Event

32.1 If this Condition 32 (Illegality and Regulatory Event) is specified in the Pricing Supplement to be applicable to a Series of Notes, the Issuer shall have the right to redeem the Notes early (at the amount specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement), if it shall have determined, that:

- (a) its performance thereunder, or, if applicable, the Guarantor's performance of its obligation under the Guarantee, shall have become or will be unlawful in whole or in part as a result of compliance in good faith by the Issuer, or, if applicable, the Guarantor, with any applicable present or future law, rule, regulation, judgment, order or directive of any governmental, administrative, legislative or judicial authority or power ("applicable law") (an "Illegality Event"); or
- (b) in respect of Notes issued by MSBV only, a Regulatory Event has occurred.

32.2 If this Condition 32 (Illegality and Regulatory Event) is specified in the Pricing Supplement to be applicable to a Series of Notes and, subject to the conditions set out in Condition 32.1 (Illegality and Regulatory Event) above, the Issuer determines that the Notes shall be redeemed early in accordance with Condition 32.1 (Illegality and Regulatory Event), the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the Noteholders informing them that either an Illegality Event or, in respect of Notes issued by MSBV only, a Regulatory Event, as applicable, has occurred, as a result of which the Notes shall be redeemed early on the date specified for redemption in such notice. In such circumstances the Issuer will, if and to the extent permitted by applicable law, pay to each Noteholder in respect of each Note held by such Noteholder an amount determined by the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, as representing either: (i) the fair market value of such Note immediately prior to such redemption (ignoring such Illegality Event or Regulatory Event) less the cost to the Issuer (or its Affiliates) of, or the loss realised by the Issuer (or its Affiliates) on, unwinding any related underlying hedging arrangements, the amount of such cost or loss being as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, if "Early Redemption Amount (Illegality and Regulatory Event) - Fair Market Value Less Costs" is specified in the Pricing Supplement; (ii) the fair market value of such Note immediately prior to such redemption (ignoring such Illegality Event or Regulatory Event), if "Early Redemption Amount (Illegality and Regulatory Event) – Fair Market Value" is specified in the Pricing Supplement; or (iii) the Calculation Amount of such Note, if "Early Redemption Amount (Illegality and Regulatory Event) - Par" is specified in the Pricing Supplement. The Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment in respect of each Note of the amount determined by the Determination Agent to be payable in accordance with the provisions above, based on the elections made in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

- 32.3 The Issuer shall also, as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances, notify the Fiscal Agent and the Determination Agent of the occurrence of an Illegality Event or, in respect of Notes issued by MSBV only, a Regulatory Event, as applicable.

33. Prescription

33.1 Prescription in respect of Registered Notes

Claims for principal and interest on redemption in respect of Registered Notes shall become void unless the relevant Individual Note Certificates are surrendered for payment within 10 years of the appropriate Relevant Date.

33.2 Prescription in respect of Nordic Notes

Claims for principal in respect of the Swedish Notes shall become void unless made within a period of 10 years after the appropriate Relevant Date. Claims for interest in respect of the Swedish Notes shall become void unless made within a period of five years after the appropriate Relevant Date. Claims for principal and/or interest in respect of Finnish Notes shall become void unless made within a period of three years after the appropriate Relevant Date. Claims for principal in respect of Norwegian Notes shall become void unless made within a period of 10 years after the appropriate Relevant Date. Claims for interest in respect of the Norwegian Notes shall become void unless made within a period of three years after the appropriate Relevant Date. Claims for principal in respect of Danish Notes shall become void unless made within a period of 10 years after the appropriate Relevant Date. Claims for interest in respect of the Danish Notes shall become void unless made within a period of 3 years after the appropriate Relevant Date.

33.3 Prescription in Respect of Uncertificated Notes

Claims for principal and interest in respect of Uncertificated Notes shall become void unless made within a period of 10 years after the appropriate Relevant Date.

34. Replacement of Notes

If any Note or Individual Note Certificate is lost, stolen, mutilated, defaced or destroyed, it may be replaced at the Specified Office of the Registrar, during normal business hours (and, if the Notes are then admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation by any listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system which requires the appointment of a Paying Agent or Transfer Agent in any particular place, the Paying Agent or Transfer Agent having its Specified Office in the place required by such listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system), subject to all applicable laws and stock exchange requirements, upon payment by the claimant of the expenses incurred in connection with such replacement and on such terms as to evidence, security, indemnity and otherwise as the Issuer may reasonably require. Mutilated or defaced Notes or Individual Note Certificates must be surrendered before replacements will be issued.

35. Agents

- 35.1 In acting under the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement and in connection with the Notes, the Agents act solely as agents of the Issuer and do not assume any obligations towards or relationship of agency or trust for or with any of the Noteholders. All calculation and determination functions required of the relevant Agent may be delegated to such persons as the relevant Agent may decide and all notifications, opinions, determinations, certificates, calculations, quotations and decisions given, expressed, made or obtained for the purposes of the Notes by the Agents or the Issuer shall (in the absence of manifest error or wilful misconduct) be binding on the Issuer and the Noteholders and (subject as aforesaid) no liability to the Noteholders (or any of them) shall attach to the Agents or the Issuer in connection with the exercise or non-exercise by any of them of their powers, duties and discretions for such purposes. The Determination Agent shall act as an expert and not as an agent for the Issuer or the Noteholders. All determinations, considerations and decisions made by the Determination Agent shall, in the absence of manifest error, wilful default or bad faith, be final and conclusive and the Determination Agent shall have no liability in relation to such determinations except in the case of its wilful default or bad faith.
- 35.2 In acting under the Euroclear Agreement, the Euroclear Registrar acts solely as agent of the Issuer and does not assume any obligations towards or relationship of agency or trust for or with any of the Noteholders.
- 35.3 The initial Agents and the Euroclear Registrar and their initial Specified Office are listed below on the inside back cover of this Offering Circular. The initial Calculation Agent is the Fiscal Agent. The Issuer reserves the right at any time to vary or terminate the appointment of any Agent and the Euroclear Registrar and to appoint a successor Fiscal Agent or Registrar or Calculation Agent or Euroclear Registrar and additional or successor paying agents; provided, however, that:
- (a) there shall at all times be a Fiscal Agent and in the case of Uncertificated Notes, Euroclear Registrar appointed in respect of the Notes;
 - (b) if a Calculation Agent is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Issuer shall at all times maintain a Calculation Agent;
 - (c) if and for so long as the Notes are admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation by any listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system which requires the appointment of a Paying Agent and/or a Transfer Agent in any particular place, the Issuer shall maintain a Paying Agent and/or a Transfer Agent having its Specified Office in the place required by such listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system; and
 - (d) so long as there is any Tranche of Nordic Notes outstanding, there will at all times be an NCSD duly authorised as a central securities depository under the relevant NCSD Rules and a Nordic Issuing and Paying Agent in respect of the relevant Tranche of Nordic Notes.
 - (e) so long as there is any Tranche of CMU Notes outstanding, there will be at all times a CMU Lodging and Paying Agent.
- 35.4 Notice of any change in any of the Paying Agents or in their Specified Offices shall promptly and in any event not more than 15 Business Days after such change has been confirmed, be given to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices).

36. Meetings of Noteholders and Modification

36.1 Meetings of Noteholders

The Issue and Paying Agency Agreement (or in the case of Uncertificated Notes, the Euroclear Agreement) contains provisions for convening meetings of Noteholders to consider matters relating to the Notes, including the sanctioning by Extraordinary Resolution of a modification of any provision of these Conditions and, in the case of the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement, the meaning of each of Noteholder and holder for such purposes. Such a meeting may be convened by the Issuer and shall be convened by it upon the request in writing of Noteholders holding not less than one tenth of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Notes. The quorum at any meeting convened to vote on an Extraordinary Resolution will be two or more Persons holding or representing one more than half of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Notes or, at any adjourned meeting, two or more Persons being or representing Noteholders whatever the principal amount of the Notes held or represented, provided, however, that in respect of Reserved Matters sanctioned by an Extraordinary Resolution passed at a meeting of Noteholders, two or more Persons holding or representing not less than three quarters or, at any adjourned meeting, one quarter of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Notes form a quorum.

The Issue and Paying Agency Agreement provides that (i) a resolution passed at a meeting duly convened and held in accordance with the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement by a majority consisting of not less than three quarters of the votes cast on such resolution, (ii) a resolution in writing signed by or on behalf of all holders of the Notes for the time being outstanding who are entitled to receive notice of a meeting in accordance with the Issue and Agency Agreement or (iii) consent given by way of electronic consents through the Relevant Clearing System(s) (in a form satisfactory to the Registrar) by or on behalf of the holders of not less than three quarters in principal amount of the Notes for the time being outstanding, shall, in each case, be effective as an Extraordinary Resolution of the Noteholders. An Extraordinary Resolution passed by the Noteholders will be binding on all the Noteholders, whether or not they are present at any meeting, and whether or not they voted on the resolution.

36.2 Modification

- (a) The Notes, these Conditions, the Guarantee and the Deeds of Covenant may be amended without the consent of the Noteholders where, in the reasonable opinion of the Issuer:
 - (i) the amendment is to correct a manifest error or to effect a modification which is of a formal, minor or technical nature;
 - (ii) the amendment is to cure any ambiguity or is to correct or supplement any defective provisions;
 - (iii) the amendment is to correct an error or omission such that, in the absence of such correction, the relevant terms proposed to be corrected would not otherwise represent the intended terms on which the relevant Notes were sold and have since traded; or
 - (iv) the amendment is not materially prejudicial to the interest of the Noteholders.
- (b) The parties to the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement, the Euroclear Agreement, the SEB Issuing and Paying Agent Agreement and the MSESE SEB Issuing and Paying Agent Agreement may agree to modify any provision thereof, but the Issuer shall not agree, without the consent of the Noteholders, to any such modification unless it is of a type contemplated in Condition 36.2(a) above.

36.3 Interests of Noteholders

In connection with the Conditions, the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent shall have regard to the interests of the Noteholders as a class. In particular, but without limitation, the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent shall not have regard to the consequences for individual Noteholders resulting from such individual Noteholders being for any purpose domiciled or resident in, or otherwise connected with, or subject to the jurisdiction of, any particular territory.

36.4 Severance

Should any of the provisions contained in these Conditions be or become invalid, the validity of the remaining provisions shall not be affected in any way.

37. Further Issues

Any of the Issuers may from time to time, without the consent of the Noteholders, create and issue further notes having the same terms and conditions as the Notes in all respects (or in all respects except for the first payment of interest) so as to form a single series with the Notes.

38. Notices

38.1 Registered Notes

Notices to holders of Registered Notes in definitive form shall be sent to them by first class mail (or its equivalent) or (if posted to an overseas address) by airmail at their respective addresses on the Register. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given on the fourth day after the date of mailing. Notices to holders of Registered Notes in global form shall be sent to them by delivery of the relevant notice to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or any other Relevant Clearing System for communication by them to the holders of the Notes. In addition, subject as provided in Condition 38.3, Condition 38.4 and Condition 38.5 below (in each case as applicable), any such notices shall be published in a manner which complies with the rules of any stock exchange or other relevant authority on which the Registered Notes are for the time being listed or by which they have been admitted to trading including publication on the website of the relevant stock exchange or relevant authority if required by those rules.

38.2 Nordic Notes

All notices to holders of Finnish or Swedish Notes shall be valid if so published or mailed to their registered addresses appearing on the relevant NCSD Register. All notices to holders of Norwegian Notes shall be valid if mailed by the Norwegian CSD in accordance with the relevant NCSD Rules. All notices to holders of Danish Notes shall be valid if mailed by the Danish CSD in accordance with the relevant NCSD Rules. In addition, subject as provided in Condition 38.3, Condition 38.4 and Condition 38.5 below (in each case as applicable), any such notices shall be published in a manner which complies with the rules of any stock exchange or other relevant authority on which the Nordic Notes are for the time being listed or by which they have been admitted to trading including publication on the website of the relevant stock exchange or relevant authority if required by those rules.

38.3 Notes admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market

In relation to Notes admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market, notices to Noteholders will be published in accordance with the rules of Euronext Dublin.

38.4 Notes admitted to the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and trading on the Euro MTF market

In relation to Notes admitted to the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF market, notices will be valid if published in a daily newspaper of general circulation in Luxembourg and/or on the website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.luxse.com). Any such notice will be deemed to have been given on the date of the first publication or, where required to be published in more than one newspaper, on the date of the first publication in all required newspapers.

38.5 Notes listed and traded on SIX Swiss Exchange

In relation to Notes admitted to listing and trading on the SIX Swiss Exchange, notices regarding the Notes and the Issuer and the Guarantor (if any) will be valid if published on the website of the SIX Swiss Exchange (<https://www.ser-ag.com/en/resources/notifications-market-participants/official-notices.html#/>). Any such notice will be deemed to have been given on the date of the publication.

38.6 Uncertificated Notes

Notices to holders of Uncertificated Notes shall be sent to the address of the Noteholder appearing in the Record on the second Business Day immediately prior to despatch of such notice, by first class post or, if such address is not in the United Kingdom, by airmail post (any such notice to be delivered or sent at the risk of the relevant Noteholder). In addition, subject as provided in Condition 38.3, Condition 38.4 and Condition 38.5 above (in each case as applicable), any such notices shall be published in a manner which complies with the rules of any stock exchange or other relevant authority on which the Uncertificated Notes are for the time being listed or by which they have been admitted to trading including publication on the website of the relevant stock exchange or relevant authority if required by those rules.

38.7 Unlisted Notes

Notices to Noteholders of non-listed Notes may be published, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in newspapers, on a website or otherwise.

38.8 Notwithstanding any other provision in the Conditions, any failure by the Issuer, the Calculation Agent, the Determination Agent or any other party to provide Noteholders or any stock exchange on which the Notes are listed or admitted to trading with any notice due to be given to Noteholders or published on any such stock exchange in accordance with the Conditions shall not of itself affect the validity of the determination, adjustment, event or any other occurrence to which such notice relates.

38.9 If an adjustment is made, or any other action is taken, by the Determination Agent under any one or more of the following Conditions: 11.2(d), 11.2(e), 11.3(a), 11.3(b), 11.4(a)(ii), 11.4(b)(ii), 11.5(b), 11.6(b), 11.7(c), 11.8(c), 12.1, 12.7(d), 12.8(a), 13.8(b), 14.6(b), 15.8, 16.4(b), 16.5, 17.4(b) or 21.12(b), the Determination Agent shall notify the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent of such adjustment. The Fiscal Agent shall, on behalf of and on instruction of the Issuer, provide notice (which notice shall, for the avoidance of doubt, be in the form provided to it by or on behalf of the Issuer) to the Noteholders of the relevant adjustment within 15 Business Days of receipt of such notification from the Determination Agent.

38.10 CMU Notes

In relation to notices to holders of CMU Notes, rather than by mailing to the addresses on the Register as required by the Conditions, any such notice shall be deemed to have been given to the holders of CMU Notes on the day on which such notice is delivered to the CMU. In addition, subject as provided in Condition 38.3, Condition 38.4 and Condition 38.5 above (in each case as applicable), any such notices shall be published in a manner which complies with the rules of any stock exchange or other relevant authority on which the CMU Notes are for the time being listed or by which they have been admitted to trading including publication on the website of the relevant stock exchange or relevant authority if required by those rules.

39. Losses

In no event shall the Issuer or the Agents have any liability for indirect, incidental, consequential or other damages (whether or not it may have been advised of the possibility of such damages) other than interest until the date of payment on sums not paid when due in respect of any Notes or assets not delivered when due. Noteholders are entitled to damages only and are not entitled to the remedy of specific performance in respect of any Note.

40. Currency Indemnity

40.1 If any sum due from the Issuer in respect of the Notes or any order or judgment given or made in relation thereto has to be converted from the currency (the "first currency") in which the same is payable under these Conditions or such order or judgment into another currency (the "second currency") for the purpose of (a) making or filing a claim or proof against the Issuer, (b) obtaining an order or judgment in any court or other tribunal or (c) enforcing any order or judgment given or made in relation to the Notes, the Issuer shall indemnify each Noteholder, on the written demand of such Noteholder addressed to the Issuer and delivered to the Issuer or to the Specified Office of the Fiscal Agent, against any loss suffered as a result of any discrepancy between (i) the rate of exchange used for such purpose to convert the sum in question from the first currency into the second currency and (ii) the rate or rates of exchange at which such Noteholder may in the ordinary course of business purchase the first currency with the second currency upon receipt of a sum paid to it in satisfaction, in whole or in part, of any such order, judgment, claim or proof.

40.2 This indemnity constitutes a separate and independent obligation of the Issuer and shall give rise to a separate and independent cause of action.

41. Rounding

For the purposes of any calculations referred to in these Conditions (unless otherwise specified in these Conditions or the applicable Pricing Supplement), (a) all percentages resulting from such calculations will be rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred thousandth of a percentage point (with 0.000005 per cent. rounded up to 0.00001 per cent.), (b) all U.S. Dollar amounts used in or resulting from such calculations will be rounded to the nearest cent (with one half cent rounded upward), (c) all Japanese Yen amounts used in or resulting from such calculations will be rounded downward to the next lower whole Japanese Yen amount and (d) all amounts denominated in any other currency used in or resulting from such calculations will be rounded to the nearest two decimal places in such currency (with 0.005 rounded up to 0.01).

42. Redenomination, Renominalisation and Reconventioning

42.1 Application

This Condition 42 (Redenomination, Renominalisation and Reconventioning) is applicable to the Notes only if it is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

42.2 Notice of redenomination

If the country of the Specified Currency becomes or, announces its intention to become, a Participating Member State, the Issuer may, without the consent of the Noteholders, on giving at least 15 Business Days' prior notice to the Noteholders and the Paying Agents (or, in the case of the Uncertificated Notes, the Euroclear Registrar), designate a date (the "Redenomination Date"), being an Interest Payment Date under the Notes falling on or after the date on which such country becomes a Participating Member State.

42.3 Redenomination

Notwithstanding the other provisions of these Conditions, with effect from the Redenomination Date, the Notes shall be deemed to be redenominated into euro in the denomination of euro 0.01 with a principal amount for each Note equal to the principal amount of that Note in the Specified Currency, converted into euro at the rate for conversion of such currency into euro established by the Council of the European Union pursuant to the Treaty (including compliance with rules relating to rounding in accordance with European Union regulations); provided, however, that, if the Issuer determines, with the agreement of the Fiscal Agent that the then market practice in respect of the redenomination into euro 0.01 of internationally offered securities is different from that specified above, such provisions shall be deemed to be amended so as to comply with such market practice and the Issuer shall promptly, and in any event within not more than 15 Business Days of the Issuer making such determination, notify the Noteholders, each listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system (if any) by which the Notes have been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation and the Paying Agents of such deemed amendments;

42.4 Interest

Following redenomination of the Notes pursuant to this Condition 42 (Redenomination, Renominalisation and Reconventioning), where Notes have been issued in definitive form, the amount of interest due in respect of such Notes will be calculated by reference to the aggregate principal amount of the Notes presented for payment by the relevant holder.

42.5 Interest Determination Date

If the Floating Rate Note Provisions are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable and Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Rate(s) of Interest is/are to be determined, with effect from the Redenomination Date the Interest Determination Date shall be deemed to be the second TARGET Settlement Day before the first day of the relevant Interest Period.

43. Substitution

43.1 Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities

Subject to the conditions set out in this Condition 43 (Substitution), but without the consent of Noteholders, each Issuer may, where the Issuer is:

- (a) Morgan Stanley, substitute a subsidiary of Morgan Stanley in place of Morgan Stanley as principal debtor under the Notes, provided that any Notes in respect of which such a substitution is effected will be fully, unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed pursuant to a guarantee of Morgan Stanley as to the payment of principal of, premium, interest and supplemental amounts, if any, and any Additional Amounts on those Notes when and as the same will become due and payable, whether at maturity or otherwise, and provided further that under the terms of the guarantee, Noteholders will not be required to exercise their remedies against the substitute prior to proceeding directly against Morgan Stanley (as guarantor);

- (b) MSI plc, substitute Morgan Stanley or a subsidiary of Morgan Stanley in place of MSI plc as principal debtor under the Notes, provided that, unless Morgan Stanley is the substitute issuer, any Notes in respect of which such a substitution is effected will be fully, unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed pursuant to a guarantee of MSI plc as to the payment of principal of, premium, interest and supplemental amounts, if any, and any Additional Amounts on those Notes when and as the same will become due and payable, whether at maturity or otherwise, and provided further that under the terms of the guarantee, Noteholders will not be required to exercise their remedies against the substitute prior to proceeding directly against MSI plc (as guarantor);
- (c) MSBV, substitute Morgan Stanley or a subsidiary of Morgan Stanley in place of MSBV as principal debtor under the Notes, provided that, unless Morgan Stanley is the substitute issuer, any Notes in respect of which such a substitution is effected will be fully, unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed pursuant to a guarantee of Morgan Stanley as to the payment of principal of, premium, interest and supplemental amounts, if any, and any Additional Amounts on those Notes when and as the same will become due and payable, whether at maturity or otherwise, and provided further that under the terms of the guarantee, Noteholders will not be required to exercise their remedies against the substitute prior to proceeding directly against Morgan Stanley (as guarantor);
- (d) MSFL, substitute Morgan Stanley or a subsidiary of Morgan Stanley in place of MSFL as principal debtor under the Notes, provided that, unless Morgan Stanley is the substitute issuer, any Notes in respect of which such a substitution is effected will be fully, unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed pursuant to a guarantee of Morgan Stanley as to the payment of principal of, premium, interest and supplemental amounts, if any, and any Additional Amounts on those Notes when and as the same will become due and payable, whether at maturity or otherwise, and provided further that under the terms of the guarantee, Noteholders will not be required to exercise their remedies against the substitute prior to proceeding directly against Morgan Stanley (as guarantor);
- (e) MSFII, substitute Morgan Stanley or a subsidiary of Morgan Stanley in place of MSFII as principal debtor under the Notes, provided that, unless Morgan Stanley is the substitute issuer, any Notes in respect of which such a substitution is effected will be fully, unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed pursuant to a guarantee of Morgan Stanley as to the payment of principal of, premium, interest and supplemental amounts, if any, and any Additional Amounts on those Notes when and as the same will become due and payable, whether at maturity or otherwise, and provided further that under the terms of the guarantee, Noteholders will not be required to exercise their remedies against the substitute prior to proceeding directly against Morgan Stanley (as guarantor); or
- (f) MSESE, substitute Morgan Stanley or a subsidiary of Morgan Stanley in place of MSESE as principal debtor under the Notes, provided that, unless Morgan Stanley is the substitute issuer, any Notes in respect of which such a substitution is effected will be fully, unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed pursuant to a guarantee of MSESE as to the payment of principal of, premium, interest and supplemental amounts, if any, and any Additional Amounts on those Notes when and as the same will become due and payable, whether at maturity or otherwise, and provided further that under the terms of the guarantee, Noteholders will not be required to exercise their remedies against the substitute prior to proceeding directly against MSESE (as guarantor).

43.2 Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities

If this Condition 43.2 (Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) is specified in the Pricing Supplement to be applicable to a Series of Notes, subject to the conditions set out in this Condition 43 (Substitution), including the rights of Noteholders under Condition 43.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), but without the consent of Noteholders, the Issuer or the Guarantor (in the case of MSBV, MSFL or MSFII Notes) may, in the event that the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be) has determined that any of the following events has occurred in respect of the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be): an insolvency, receivership or equivalent event under the jurisdiction of the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be); a divestment mandated for regulatory reasons; any action being required to satisfy any regulatory licensing requirements; or a change of control (each a "Substitution Event"), substitute for itself any entity which is not a Morgan Stanley Group entity, provided that such entity has a long term credit rating from at least one rating agency of standard application on the international capital markets (including but not limited to S&P, Moody's and Fitch) which is at least as high as the long term credit rating of the relevant Issuer or Guarantor (as the case may be) being substituted immediately prior to the occurrence of the relevant Substitution Event. Notwithstanding the foregoing, for any Series of Notes in respect of which Morgan Stanley is the Issuer, Morgan Stanley may not be substituted as Issuer with any entity which is not a Morgan Stanley Group entity within one year of the Issue Date of such Notes.

43.3 Conditions to substitution

Substitution of an Issuer or Guarantor for another entity (the "Substitute") as provided in Condition 43.1 (Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities) or 43.2 (Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) above (as applicable) are subject to the following conditions:

- (a) the Substitute becoming party to the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement with any appropriate consequential amendments, as if it had been an original party to it in place of the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be);
- (b) the Substitute is validly existing under the laws under which it is established or incorporated, has capacity to assume all rights, obligations and liabilities under the Notes, receipts, coupons and Guarantee, as applicable, and has obtained all necessary corporate authorisations to assume all such rights, obligations and liabilities under the Notes or Guarantee (as applicable);
- (c) the Substitute has obtained all necessary governmental or regulatory approvals and consents for the performance by it of its obligations in connection with the Notes or Guarantee (as applicable) and that all such approvals and consents are in full force and effect and that the Substitute and the Notes comply with all applicable requirements of the Securities Act;
- (d) in the case of substitution of an Issuer or Guarantor pursuant to Condition 43.1 (Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities) above only:
 - (i) the Substitute and the relevant Issuer having obtained (a) legal opinions from independent legal advisors of recognised standing in the country of incorporation of the Substitute and in England that the obligations of the Substitute, in the case of a substitution of an Issuer, under the Notes and the relevant Deed of Covenant, or, in New York in the case of a substitution of the Guarantor under the Deed of Guarantee, are legal, valid and binding obligations of the Substitute and (b) in the case of the substitution of the Issuer which is MSBV, MSFL or MSFII (or any substitute thereof), a legal opinion from an independent legal advisor in New York, of recognised standing, that the Deed of Guarantee will apply to the Substitute mutatis mutandis as it applies to the Issuer prior to the substitution and will constitute legal, valid and binding obligations of the Guarantor, in respect of the Substitute, provided that no opinion as referred to in this paragraph (d) shall be required where the Substitute is the Guarantor with respect to MSBV Notes, MSFL Notes or MSFII Notes; and
 - (ii) if the relevant Notes are rated at the relevant time, the Substitute has obtained, prior to the substitution date, acknowledgement from the relevant rating agencies that the substitution will not result in whole or in part in a withdrawal, downgrading, placement in creditwatch or negative outlook of the Notes;
- (e) the Fiscal Agent has confirmed to the relevant Issuer or Guarantor (as the case may be) that it has completed its relevant "know your customer" requirements on the proposed Substitute;
- (f) such substitution being permitted by the rules of any stock exchange on which the Notes are listed and each such stock exchange confirming that, following the proposed substitution of the Substitute, the Notes will continue to be listed on such stock exchange;

- (g) no payment in respect of the Notes, receipts and coupons is overdue at the relevant time;
- (h) at the time of any such substitution, the Substitute is in a position to fulfil all payment obligations arising from or in connection with the Notes in freely convertible and transferable lawful money without the necessity of any taxes or duties to be withheld at source, and to transfer all amounts which are required therefor to the Fiscal Agent without any restrictions;
- (i) if appropriate, the Substitute appointing a process agent as its agent in England to receive service of process on its behalf in relation to any legal action or proceedings arising out of or in connection with the Notes;
- (j) in respect of Notes which benefit from the Guarantee, such Notes shall continue to benefit from the Guarantee following substitution of the Issuer, pursuant to Condition 43.1 (Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities) and the terms of the Guarantee; and
- (k) in respect of Nordic Notes, the relevant NCSD has given its consent to the substitution.

For the avoidance of doubt, nothing will preclude the substitution of the Issuer with the Guarantor.

43.4 Reference in the Conditions to the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be)

In the event of a substitution pursuant to this Condition 43 (Substitution), any reference in the Conditions to the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be) shall be construed as a reference to the entity substituted.

43.5 Notification to Noteholders of substitutions with Morgan Stanley Group entities

The relevant Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable and in any event not more than 15 Business Days after the date on which a substitution pursuant to Condition 43.1 (Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities) has taken place, notify Noteholders of such substitution in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices).

43.6 Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities

- (a) With respect to the right of substitution referred to in Condition 43.2, (Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) the Issuer shall provide 60 calendar days' notice of any substitution under such Condition to Noteholders in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices). Noteholders who object to the substitution will have the right to require the Issuer to redeem their Notes at a price determined in accordance with the provisions of this Condition 43.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), by providing notice of their intention to exercise such right in the manner set out in this Condition 43.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) (the "Right to Redemption").
- (b) The redemption of any Notes in respect of which the Right to Redemption has been exercised by Noteholders shall take place 10 Business Days prior to the relevant substitution becoming effective (the "Substitution Redemption Date"). The Issuer shall redeem any Notes in respect of which the Right to Redemption has been exercised at a price equal to (i) in the case of Notes the terms of which provide for the repayment in full of principal at maturity, the Replacement Value of such Notes or (ii) in every other case, the fair market value of such Notes on the day on which the relevant Right to Redemption Notice is deposited, in accordance with the provisions of this Condition 43.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, together with interest (if any) accrued to such date (to the extent that such interest is not otherwise taken into account in determining the fair market value of such Notes).

For the purpose of this Condition 43.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), "Replacement Value" means an amount determined by the Determination Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, as at the day on which the relevant Right to Redemption Notice is deposited in accordance with the provisions of this Condition 43.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) to be the amount that a Qualified Financial Institution would charge to assume all of the Issuer's payment and other obligations with respect to the Notes as if the relevant Substitution Event described in Condition 43.2 (Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) and the substitution described in this Condition 43 (Substitution) had not occurred or to undertake obligations that would have the effect of preserving the economic equivalent of any payment by the Issuer to the Noteholder with respect to the Notes.

- (c) In order to exercise the option contained in this Condition 43.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) the holder of a Note (other than an Uncertificated Note) must, not less than 15 Business Days before the date on which the substitution is due to take place (the "Substitution Date"), deposit such Note (together with all unmatured Coupons relating thereto) with the Registrar, and a duly completed Right to Redemption Notice in the form obtainable from any Paying Agent. The Paying Agent with which a Note is so deposited shall deliver a duly completed Right to Redemption Receipt to the depositing Noteholder. In respect of Nordic Notes, the Right to Redemption Notice shall not take effect against the Issuer before the date on which the relevant Nordic Notes have been transferred to the account designated by the Nordic Issuing and Paying Agent and blocked for further transfer by the relevant Nordic Issuing and Paying Agent. No Note, once deposited with a duly completed Right to Redemption Notice in accordance with this Condition 43.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), may be withdrawn; provided, however, that if, prior to the relevant Substitution Redemption Date, any such Note becomes due and payable or, upon due presentation of any such Note on the relevant Substitution Redemption Date, payment of the redemption moneys is improperly withheld or refused, the relevant Paying Agent shall mail notification thereof to the depositing Noteholder at such address as may have been given by such Noteholder in the relevant Right to Redemption Notice and shall hold such Note at its Specified Office for collection by the depositing Noteholder against surrender of the relevant Right to Redemption Receipt. For so long as any outstanding Note is held by a Paying Agent in accordance with this Condition 43.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), the depositor of such Note and not such Paying Agent shall be deemed to be the holder of such Note for all purposes.
- (d) In order to exercise the option contained in this Condition 43.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) the holder of an Uncertificated Note must, not less than 15 Business Days before the relevant Substitution Date, deposit with the Euroclear Registrar a duly completed Right to Redemption Notice in the form obtainable from the Euroclear Registrar. The Euroclear Registrar with which a Right to Redemption Notice is so deposited shall deliver a duly completed Right to Redemption Receipt to the depositing Noteholder. Once deposited a duly completed Right to Redemption Notice may not be withdrawn; provided, however, that if, prior to the relevant Substitution Redemption Date, the related Note becomes due and payable or, upon the relevant Substitution Redemption Date, payment of the redemption moneys is improperly withheld or refused, the Euroclear Registrar shall mail notification thereof to the depositing Noteholder at such address as may have been given by such Noteholder in the relevant Right to Redemption Notice and the relevant depositing Noteholder and not the Euroclear Registrar shall be deemed to be the holder of such Note for all purposes in such case.
- (e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, in respect of any Series of Notes for which Morgan Stanley is the Issuer, Noteholders shall only have the right to submit a Right to Redemption Notice from the date which is one calendar year after the Issue Date of such Notes.
- (f) Any payments made to Noteholders in accordance with this Condition 43.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) shall be made in accordance with the provisions of Condition 27 (Payments – Registered Notes) or Condition 28 (Payments – Uncertificated Notes), as applicable.

43.7 Tax Consequences of substitution

If the Issuer substitutes an entity in place of the Issuer as principal debtor under the Notes, the tax consequences (including the withholding tax consequences) of holding the Notes may change. Except as provided in Condition 30.1 (Additional Amounts), if withholding is required on the Notes, no additional amounts will be required to be paid.

44. Representations and Acknowledgements by Noteholders

- 44.1 Each Noteholder shall be deemed to represent and acknowledge to the Issuer on acquiring any Notes that:

- (a) neither the Issuer nor any Affiliate or any of their agents is acting as a fiduciary for it or provides investment, tax, accounting, legal or other advice in respect of the Notes and that such Noteholder and its advisors are not relying on any communication (written or oral and including, without limitation, opinions of third party advisors) of the Issuer or any Affiliate as (i) legal, regulatory, tax, business, investment, financial, accounting or other advice, (ii) a recommendation to invest in any Notes or (iii) an assurance or guarantee as to the expected results of an investment in the Notes (it being understood that information and explanations related to the terms and conditions of the Notes shall not be considered to be any such advice, recommendation, assurance or guarantee and should be independently confirmed by the recipient and its advisors prior to making any such investment);
 - (b) such Noteholder (i) has consulted with its own legal, regulatory, tax, business, investments, financial and accounting advisors to the extent that it has deemed necessary, and has made its own investment, hedging, and trading decisions based upon its own judgment and upon any advice from such advisors as it has deemed necessary and not upon any view expressed by the Issuer or any Affiliate or any of their agents and (ii) is acquiring the Notes with a full understanding of the terms, conditions and risks thereof and it is capable of and willing to assume those risks; and
 - (c) the Issuer and/or any Affiliates may have banking or other commercial relationships with issuers of any securities to which the Notes relate and may engage in proprietary trading in any securities, indices, futures contracts, commodities, fund interests or other property to which the Notes relate or options, futures, derivatives or other instruments relating thereto (including such trading as the Issuer and/or any Affiliate deem appropriate in their reasonable discretion to hedge the market risk on the Notes and other transactions between the Issuer and/or any Affiliates and any third parties), and that such trading (i) may affect the price or level thereof and consequently the amounts payable under the Notes and (ii) may be effected at any time, including on or near any Valuation Date, Reference Date or Averaging Date (as applicable).
- 44.2 If "(China Connect)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, each Noteholder in respect of the relevant Series of Notes shall be deemed to represent, acknowledge and undertake to the relevant Issuer on acquiring any Note (and such acknowledgements, representations and undertakings are deemed to be repeated on the Issue Date) that:
- (a) without prejudice to the generality of any applicable law, the Noteholder expressly consents to the disclosure by the Issuer or its Affiliates to the relevant authorities in the jurisdiction of the incorporation or organisation of the issuer of the relevant Shares (a "Relevant Jurisdiction"), the jurisdiction in which the Exchange is located (the "Local Jurisdiction"), a jurisdiction in which the SEHK is located (a "CCS Jurisdiction") or any jurisdiction of tax residence of the issuer of the Shares (a "Tax Residence Jurisdiction"), information relating to the Notes, including the name of the Noteholder in order for the Issuer or any of its Affiliates to comply with laws and regulations of the Relevant Jurisdiction, the Local Jurisdiction, the CCS Jurisdiction or Tax Residence Jurisdiction that are applicable to the Issuer or its Affiliate in connection with their dealings in the underlying;
 - (b) the Noteholder represents that, (A) in the case of an individual, either (x) it is not a person who is a citizen of or resident or domiciled in the PRC, or (y) it is a citizen of the PRC who is a resident of or is domiciled in a jurisdiction outside the PRC, or (B) in the case of an entity, either (x) it is not incorporated or registered under the laws of PRC or (y) it will purchase and hold the Program Securities pursuant to any program approved by, or approval of or registration with, any competent PRC regulator, or in such other manner as may be permitted in accordance with the laws and regulations of the PRC; and
 - (c) the Noteholder will use funds lawfully owned by it and located outside PRC to purchase the Notes unless it will purchase the Notes pursuant to any program approved by, or approval of or registration with, any competent PRC regulator.
- 44.3 If "QFII" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, each Noteholder in respect of the relevant Series of Notes shall be deemed to represent, acknowledge and undertake to the relevant Issuer on acquiring any Note (and such acknowledgements, representations and undertakings are deemed to be repeated on the Issue Date) that:

- (a) Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc or its Affiliates may be required to satisfy a Regulatory Request and each such Noteholder consents to any such disclosure;
- (b) the beneficial owner of the Notes is not (1) a PRC Citizen resident in the PRC (excluding Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan), (2) a PRC Citizen resident outside the PRC who is not a permanent resident of another country or permanent resident of Hong Kong, Macau or Taiwan unless otherwise permitted by the laws, administrative regulations and rules of the PRC, or (3) a Legal Person Registered in the PRC (as defined below) (except a Legal Person Registered in the PRC whose purchase of the Program Securities has been conducted pursuant to a program approved by, or approval of or registration with, any competent PRC regulator, or in such other manner as may be permitted in accordance with the laws and regulations of the PRC), (each a "Domestic Investor");
- (c) in the case where the beneficial owner of the Notes is a trustee for a trust, interests in the trust are not majority-owned by, and the management decision over the trust is not controlled by, one or more Domestic Investor(s). For the avoidance of doubt, in the case only where a trust's investments are being managed on a discretionary basis by an investment manager, such investment manager shall not be deemed to control such entity for the purposes of this representation by reason only of it being able to control the decision-making in relation to the entity's financial, investment and/or operating policies, provided that the foregoing representation does not apply to trusts or companies organized as investment schemes for public offering;
- (d) to the best of its knowledge, all amounts paid or to be paid by the beneficial owner of the Notes under the Notes did not and will not involve moneys financed by or sourced from any Domestic Investor in contravention of the laws and regulations of the PRC; and
- (e) the beneficial owner of the Notes is investing in such Notes as principal and not as agent of any person or entity.

Where:

"Legal Person Registered in the PRC" means an entity incorporated or organized in the PRC (excluding Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan).

"PRC" means, for the purpose of the Offering Circular, the People's Republic of China (excluding Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan).

"PRC Citizen" means any person holding a resident identification card of the PRC (excluding Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan).

"trust" includes a trust fund or any similar arrangement where the legal title to the trust assets are held by a trustee or legal representative but the beneficial interests in the trust assets are held by beneficiaries; and "trustee" shall be construed accordingly.

45. Acknowledgement of Bail-in

THIS CONDITION 45 ONLY APPLIES TO MSESE NOTES

45.1 Agreement and acknowledgement with respect to the exercise of the Bail-In Power in respect of MSESE Notes:

- (A) Notwithstanding any other term of these Conditions or any other agreements, arrangements, or understanding between the Issuer and the Noteholders, each Noteholder acknowledges and accepts that amounts due under MSESE Notes may be subject to the exercise of the Bail-in Power by the Relevant Resolution Authority and acknowledges and accepts to be bound by any Bail-in Action and the effects thereof (including any variation, modification and/or amendment to the Conditions may be necessary to give effect to any such Bail-in Action), which may include, without limitation:
 - (1) reduction, in full or in part, of the amounts due under the MSESE Notes;

- (2) the cancellation of the MSESE Notes;
 - (3) the amendment or alteration of the term of the MSESE Notes or amendment of any amounts payable on the MSESE Notes, or the date on which any such amounts become payable, including by suspending payment for a temporary period; and/or
 - (4) a conversion of all, or a portion of, the amounts due under the MSESE Notes into shares or other instruments of ownership, in which case each Noteholder acknowledges and accepts that any such shares or other instruments of ownership may be issued to or conferred upon it as a result of the Bail-in Action.
- (B) Each Noteholder acknowledges and accepts that this provision is exhaustive on the matters described herein to the exclusion of any other agreements, arrangements or understanding between the Issuer and the Noteholders relating to the subject matter of this Condition 45 (Acknowledgement of Bail-in) and that no further notice shall be required in to order to give effect to the matters described herein.
- (C) The acknowledgements and acceptances contained in (A) and (B) above will not apply if:
- (1) the Relevant Resolution Authority determines that the liabilities arising under the MSESE Notes may be subject to the exercise of the Bail-in Power pursuant to the law of the third country governing such liabilities or a binding agreement concluded with such third country and in either case the Bail-in Regulations have been amended to reflect such determination; and/or
 - (2) the Bail-in Regulations have been repealed or amended in such a way as to remove the requirement for the acknowledgements and acceptances contained in (A) and (B) above.

45.2 For the purposes of this Condition 45 (Acknowledgement of Bail-in):

- (A) "Bail-in Action" means the exercise of any Bail-in Power by the Relevant Resolution Authority in respect of all amounts due under the MSESE Notes.
- (B) "Bail-in Power" means any write-down or conversion power existing from time to time (including, without limitation, any power to amend or alter the maturity of eligible liabilities of an institution under resolution or amend the amount of interest payable under such eligible liabilities or the date on which interest becomes payable, including by suspending payment for a temporary period) under, and exercised in compliance with any laws, regulations, rules or requirements in effect in Germany (together, the "Bail-in Regulations"):
 - (1) relating to the transposition of the BRRD as amended from time to time, including but not limited to, the German Act on Recovery and Resolution of Institutions and Financial Groups (Recovery and Resolution Act) (Gesetz zur Sanierung und Abwicklung von Instituten und Finanzgruppen (Sanierungs- und Abwicklungsgesetz – SAG)) as amended from time to time ("SAG"), and the instruments, rules and standards created thereunder,
 - (2) constituting or relating to the SRM Regulation as amended from time to time, and
 - (3) any other laws, regulations, rules or requirements arising under German law, and the instruments, rules, and standards created thereunder, in each case, pursuant to which the obligations of a regulated entity (or other affiliate of a regulated entity) can be reduced (including to zero), cancelled, modified or converted into shares, other securities, or other obligations of such regulated entity or any other person.

A reference to "regulated entity" is, with respect to the SAG, to any German CRR-credit institution, CRR-investment firm (as such terms are defined in Section 1 SAG) and related group companies and, with respect to the SRM Regulation, to any entity referred to in Article 2 of the SRM Regulation.

- (C) "BRRD" means Directive 2014/59/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council on 15 July 2014 establishing a framework for the recovery and resolution of credit institutions and investment firms.
- (D) "Relevant Resolution Authority" means any resolution authority authorized to exercise a Bail-in Power pursuant to the Bail-in Regulations from time to time.
- (E) "SRM Regulation" means Regulation (EU) No 806/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15 July 2014 establishing uniform rules and a uniform procedure for the resolution of credit institutions and certain investment firms in the framework of a Single Resolution Mechanism and a Single Resolution Fund and amending Regulation (EU) No 1093/2010.

46. Governing Law and Jurisdiction

46.1 Governing Law

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Notes and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with them shall be governed by and construed in accordance with English law.

46.2 Jurisdiction

Each of Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII and MSESE agrees for the benefit of the Noteholders that the courts of England shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine any suit, action or proceedings, and to settle any disputes, which may arise out of or in connection with the Notes (respectively, "Proceedings" and "Disputes") and, for such purposes, irrevocably submits to the jurisdiction of such courts.

46.3 Appropriate Forum

Each of Morgan Stanley, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII and MSESE irrevocably waives any objection which it might now or hereafter have to the courts of England being nominated as the forum to hear and determine any Proceedings and to settle any Disputes, and agrees not to claim that any such court is not a convenient or appropriate forum.

46.4 Process Agent

Each of Morgan Stanley, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII and MSESE agrees that the process by which any Proceedings in England are begun may be served on it by being delivered to (i) in the case of Morgan Stanley, MSBV, MSFII and MSESE, Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc, 25 Cabot Square, Canary Wharf, London E14 4QA or, if different, its registered office for the time being and (ii) in the case of MSFL, Morgan Stanley (UK) Limited, 25 Cabot Square, Canary Wharf, London E14 4QA or, if different, its registered office for the time being or (iii) at any address of the Issuer in Great Britain at which process may be served on it in accordance with Part 34 of the UK Companies Act 2006. If such Person is not or ceases to be effectively appointed to accept service of process on behalf of any Issuer, such Issuer shall, on the written demand of any Noteholder addressed to the Issuer and delivered to the Issuer or to the Specified Office of the Fiscal Agent, appoint another Person in England to accept service of process on its behalf and, failing such appointment within 15 days, any Noteholder shall be entitled to appoint such a Person by written notice addressed to the Issuer and delivered to the Issuer or to the Specified Office of the Fiscal Agent. Nothing in this Condition shall affect the right of any Noteholder to serve process in any other manner permitted by law.

47. Rights of the Issuer and Determination Agent are Cumulative

Each of the Issuer and the Determination Agent may have rights exercisable under different provisions of these Conditions arising from the occurrence of the same event. In such circumstances, the rights of the Issuer or the Determination Agent, as the case may be, shall be cumulative and the Issuer or the Determination Agent shall be entitled to exercise its rights under whichever provision (or provisions) of these Conditions that may apply following the occurrence of the relevant event, as it may select in its discretion. The exercise by the Issuer or the Determination Agent of a right under one provision shall not preclude the exercise by the Issuer or the Determination Agent of a right under another provision.

48. Rights of Third Parties

No person shall have any right to enforce any term or condition of the Notes under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999.

ANNEX TO THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE ENGLISH LAW NOTES:
SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS FOR BELGIAN NOTES

If "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the terms and conditions set out in this section "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes" (the "Belgian Supplemental Conditions (Notes)") shall apply. In the event of any inconsistency between these Belgian Supplemental Conditions (Notes) and the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes, these Belgian Supplemental Conditions (Notes) shall prevail for the purposes of the English Law Notes. Capitalised terms not defined herein shall have the meanings given to them in the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes, unless specified otherwise.

1. Amendments in respect of early redemption amounts

- 1.1 Following the occurrence of an Early Redemption Event which is a Force Majeure Event, any provisions within the relevant Conditions relating to the amount to be paid by the Issuer on such early redemption shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced with the following:

"Upon redemption, the Issuer shall, if and to the extent permitted by applicable law and regulation, pay in respect of each Note an amount equal to the fair market value of such Note on such date as is selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion (provided that such day is not more than 15 days before the date fixed for redemption of the Note), as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion."

- 1.2 Following the occurrence of an Early Redemption Event which is not a Force Majeure Event:

- (A) if Minimum Redemption Amount is specified as not applicable in the Pricing Supplement, any provisions within the relevant Conditions relating to the amount to be paid by the Issuer on such early redemption shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced with the following:

"Upon redemption, the Issuer shall pay in respect of each Note an amount equal to the sum of (i) the fair market value of such Note on such date as is selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion (provided that such day is not more than 15 days before the date fixed for redemption of the Note) as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, and (ii) the Issuer Costs Reimbursement Amount of such Note."; or

- (B) if Minimum Redemption Amount is specified as applicable in the Pricing Supplement, any provisions within the relevant Conditions relating to the notice that must be provided by the Issuer to the Noteholders in respect of such event, the timing of any early redemption, and the amount to be paid by the Issuer on such early redemption shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced with the following:

"The Issuer shall give notice (the "Put Monetisation Notice") as soon as reasonably practicable to the Noteholders stating that the Notes shall be redeemed on the Maturity Date and that the Issuer will pay in respect of each Note an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount (Monetisation) on the Maturity Date, unless the Noteholder exercises its option to redeem some or all of the Notes on the Early Redemption Date (Put) at the relevant Early Redemption Amount (Put) by delivering an Early Redemption (Put) Option Notice, provided that such Early Redemption (Put) Option Notice is delivered by the Early Redemption (Put) Option Cut-Off Date. The Put Monetisation Notice shall state (i) brief details of the Early Redemption Event, (ii) the value of the Early Redemption Amount (Monetisation) and the Early Redemption Amount (Put) and (iii) a description of the procedure for a Noteholder to exercise its option (including the form of Early Redemption (Put) Option Notice), the Early Redemption (Put) Option Cut-Off Date and the manner in which payment will be made.

If the Issuer has given a Put Monetisation Notice, the holder of a Note may exercise its option to receive payment of the Early Redemption Amount (Put) on the Early Redemption Date (Put) in respect of some or all of the Notes.

In order to exercise its option, the holder of a Note (other than an Uncertificated Note) must before the relevant Early Redemption (Put) Option Cut-Off Date deposit the Individual Note Certificate with a Paying Agent, and a duly completed Early Redemption (Put) Option Notice. The Paying Agent with which an Individual Note Certificate is so deposited shall deliver a duly completed Early Redemption (Put) Option Receipt to the depositing Noteholder. No Individual Note Certificate, once deposited with a duly completed Early Redemption (Put) Option Notice, may be withdrawn; provided, however, that if, prior to the relevant Early Redemption Date (Put), any such Note becomes immediately due and payable or, upon due presentation of any such Note on the relevant Early Redemption Date (Put), payment of the redemption moneys is improperly withheld or refused, the relevant Paying Agent shall mail notification thereof to the depositing Noteholder at such address as may have been given by such Noteholder in the relevant Early Redemption (Put) Option Notice and shall hold such Individual Note Certificate at its Specified Office for collection by the depositing Noteholder against surrender of the relevant Early Redemption (Put) Option Receipt.

In order to exercise its option, the holder of an Uncertificated Note must before the relevant Early Redemption (Put) Option Cut-Off Date deposit with the Euroclear Registrar a duly completed Early Redemption (Put) Option Notice. The Euroclear Registrar with which an Early Redemption (Put) Option Notice is so deposited shall deliver a duly completed Early Redemption (Put) Option Receipt to the depositing Noteholder. Once deposited a duly completed Early Redemption (Put) Option Notice may not be withdrawn; provided, however, that if, prior to the relevant Early Redemption Date (Put), the related Note becomes immediately due and payable or, upon the relevant Early Redemption Date (Put), payment of the redemption moneys is improperly withheld or refused, the Euroclear Registrar shall mail notification thereof to the depositing Noteholder at such address as may have been given by such Noteholder in the relevant Early Redemption (Put) Option Notice and the relevant depositing Noteholder and not the Euroclear Registrar shall be deemed to be the holder of such Note for all purposes in such case.

In relation to any Note in respect of which the Noteholder does not deliver an Early Redemption (Put) Option Notice to the Paying Agent or Euroclear Registrar, as applicable, by the Early Redemption (Put) Option Cut-Off Date, the Issuer shall on the Maturity Date pay the Early Redemption Amount (Monetisation) to the Noteholder. In relation to any Note in respect of which the Noteholder does deliver an Early Redemption (Put) Option Notice to the Paying Agent or Euroclear Registrar, as applicable, by the Early Redemption (Put) Option Cut-Off Date, the Issuer shall on the Early Redemption Date (Put) pay the Early Redemption Amount (Put) to the Noteholder.

The Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amounts.

The Noteholders will not be charged any costs by or on behalf of the Issuer solely in respect of the early redemption of the Notes."

1.3 The following definitions shall apply to this paragraph 1:

"Early Redemption Amount (Monetisation)" means, in respect of each Note, the amount determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion in accordance with the following formula:

$$\text{Minimum Redemption Amount} + (\text{Derivative Value} + \text{ICRA}) \times (1 + r)^n$$

where:

"Derivative Component" means, in respect of a Note, the option component or embedded derivative(s) in respect of the Note which provides exposure to the Relevant Underlying, the terms of which are fixed on the Trade Date of the Notes (as determined by the Determination Agent) in order to enable the Issuer to issue such Note at the relevant price and on the relevant terms;

"Derivative Value" means, in respect of a Note, the greater of zero and the value (if any) of the Derivative Component in respect of such Note (for the avoidance of doubt, taking into account any accrued unpaid interest), as calculated by the Determination Agent on the date the Issuer gives the Put Monetisation Notice by reference to such factor(s) as it determines appropriate at the relevant time and which may include the following, without limitation:

- (a) any relevant quotations or other relevant market data in the relevant market(s) which may include relevant rates, prices, yields, yield curves, volatilities, spreads, correlations and any options or other derivative pricing model; and

- (b) information of the type described in (i) above from internal sources of the Issuer or any of its affiliates if that information is of a type used by the Issuer in its regular course of business for the valuation of similar derivatives;

"ICRA" means the Issuer Costs Reimbursement Amount;

"Minimum Redemption Amount" means, in respect of each Note, the amount equal to the minimum level of the Final Redemption Amount of such Note payable on the Maturity Date;

"n" means the remaining term of the Notes expressed in years (or fractions thereof), calculated from (but excluding) the date the Issuer gives the Put Monetisation Notice to (and including) the Maturity Date, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion; and

"r" means the annualised interest rate that the Issuer (or, in the case of any Notes guaranteed by the Guarantor, the Guarantor) offers on the date that the Issuer gives the Put Monetisation Notice for a debt security with a maturity date that is the Maturity Date of the Notes, taking into account the credit risk of the Issuer (and, if applicable, the Guarantor), as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion;

"Early Redemption Amount (Put)" means, in respect of each Note, an amount equal to the sum of (i) the fair market value of such Note, on such day as is selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion (provided that such day is not more than 15 days before the date fixed for redemption of the Note), as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion and (ii) the Issuer Costs Reimbursement Amount of such Note;

"Early Redemption Date (Put)" means the date specified as such in Put Monetisation Notice;

"Early Redemption Event" means, in respect of a Series of Notes, the occurrence of an event permitting the Issuer to redeem the Notes in accordance with Condition 7.18 (Relevant Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use), Condition 7.19 (CMS Reference Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event), Condition 11.2(d) (Redemption for Index Adjustment Event), Condition 11.2(f) (Additional Disruption Events), Condition 11.4(a) (Merger Event or Tender Offer), Condition 11.4(b) (Nationalisation, Insolvency and Delisting), Condition 11.5(c) (Extraordinary ETF Events), Condition 11.6(c) (Additional Disruption Events), Condition 11.7(c) (Partial Lookthrough Depositary Receipt Provisions), Condition 11.8(c) (Full Lookthrough Depositary Receipt Provisions), Condition 12.4(c) (Administrator/Benchmark Events), Condition 12.6(d) (Commodity Index Disruption Events), Condition 12.7(d) (Redemption for Commodity Index Adjustment Event), Condition 12.8(b) (Additional Disruption Events), Condition 13.6(a)(iii) (Administrator/Benchmark Events), Condition 13.8(c) (Additional Disruption Events), Condition 14.2(e) (Cessation of Publication), Condition 14.6(c) (Additional Disruption Events), Condition 15.3 (Determination Agent Unable to Perform Actions), Condition 15.8 (Property Index Adjustment Event), Condition 15.10 (Additional Disruption Events), Condition 16.4(b)(i) (Fund Events), Condition 17.4(b) (Redemption), Condition 17.6(c) (Additional Disruption Events), Condition 21.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use), Condition 21.10 (Underlying CMS Underlying Rate - Effect of Index Cessation Event), Condition 21.12(c) (Additional Disruption Events), Condition 22.3 (Early Redemption for Taxation Reasons), Condition 22.5 (Early Redemption of Preference Share-Linked Notes), Condition 22.6 (Extraordinary Events), Condition 22.7 (Additional Disruption Events), Condition 24(A)(b) (Inconvertibility Events), Condition 24(B)(a) (Inconvertibility Events), Condition 25(b) (CNY Disruption Events), Condition 26.2 (Tax Redemption –), Condition 26.3 (Tax Redemption –), and Condition 32.2 (Illegality and Regulatory Event);

"Early Redemption (Put) Option Cut-Off Date" means the date specified as such in the Put Monetisation Notice;

"Early Redemption (Put) Option Notice" means a notice which must be delivered to a Paying Agent by any Noteholder wanting to exercise a right to redeem a Note at the option of the Noteholder;

"Early Redemption (Put) Option Receipt" means: (i) a receipt issued by a Paying Agent to a depositing Noteholder upon deposit of an Individual Note Certificate with such Paying Agent; or (ii) by the Euroclear Registrar to a depositing Noteholder upon deposit of an Early Redemption (Put) Option Notice, by any Noteholder wanting to exercise a right to redeem a Note at the option of the Noteholder;

"Force Majeure Event" means any event or circumstance which definitively prevents the performance of the Issuer's (or the Determination Agent's) obligations under the Notes and for which the Issuer (or the Determination Agent) is not accountable including, without limitation, any unavailability of communications system, failure of or interruptions in power supply or network computer systems, sabotage, fire, flood, explosion, acts of God, civil commotion, riots, insurrection, war or illegality;

"Issuer Costs Reimbursement Amount" means, in respect of each Note, an amount equal to the product of:

- (i) the total costs of the Issuer (including, without limitation, structuring costs) paid by the original Noteholder as part of the Issue Price of the Note, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion; and
- (ii) the quotient of:
 - (A) the number of calendar days falling in the period commencing on, but excluding, the date on which the Issuer gives the relevant notice to be given by the Issuer pursuant to paragraph 1.2(A) or 1.2(B) and ending on, and including the Maturity Date of the Notes; and
 - (B) the number of calendar days falling in the period commencing on, but excluding, the Issue Date of the Notes and ending on, and including, the Maturity Date of the Notes.

2. Amendments in respect of "Additional Disruption Events"

- 2.1 The definition of "Additional Disruption Event" set out in Condition 11.6 (Additional Disruption Events) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced with the following:

"Additional Disruption Event" means with respect to any Series of Notes (i) if specified as an Additional Disruption Event in the relevant Pricing Supplement, a Change in Law, (ii) if "(China Connect)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, each of China Connect Service Termination and China Connect Share Disqualification (in each case, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement), (iii) if "(China Connect – ChiNext Shares)" and/or "(China Connect – STAR Shares)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, each of China Connect Service Termination, China Connect Share Disqualification and ChiNext and STAR Event (in each case, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement) and (iv) if "QFII" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, each of Change in QFII Status and Regulatory Request ADE (in each case, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement).

- 2.2 The definitions of Condition 12.8 (Additional Disruption Events), Condition 13.8 (Additional Disruption Events), Condition 14.6 (Additional Disruption Events), Condition 15.10 (Additional Disruption Events), Condition 17.6 (Additional Disruption Events) and Condition 21.12 (Additional Disruption Events) shall each be deemed to be deleted and replaced by the following:

"Additional Disruption Event" means, with respect to a Series of Notes, if specified as an Additional Disruption Event in the relevant Pricing Supplement, a Change in Law."

- 2.3 The definition of "Disruption Event" for the purposes of Condition 16.6 (Definitions applicable to Fund-Linked Notes) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced by the following:

"Disruption Event" means any of the following events as determined by the Determination Agent:

- (i) in respect of any Fund Interest, the failure of (i) a Scheduled Fund Valuation Date to be a Fund Valuation Date or any continued postponement or suspension of such Fund Valuation Date; and/or (ii) there to be a Fund Reporting Date and/or Reported Net Asset Value relating to the relevant Fund Valuation Date;
- (ii) in respect of any Fund Interest (i) there is a failure by the Fund to pay the full amount (whether expressed as a percentage or otherwise) of the Redemption Proceeds in the Fund Interest Currency with respect to the relevant amount of such Fund Interest scheduled to have been paid on or by such day according to the Fund Documents (without giving effect to any gating, deferral, suspension or other provisions permitting the Fund to delay or refuse redemption of such Fund Interests) or (ii) a Hypothetical Investor which had submitted a valid redemption notice in respect of such Fund Interest (in the case of a Single Fund Note) or each Fund Interest comprised in the Basket of Funds (in the case of a Fund Basket Note) on the last date permitted pursuant to the relevant Fund Documents would, in the reasonable opinion of the Determination Agent, not have received in full the Redemption Proceeds in respect of such redemption(s) on or before the date which is three Business Days prior to a related scheduled date for payment under the Notes; and/or

- (iii) any closure other than for ordinary public holidays and/or any restriction or suspension in trading of foreign exchange markets or money markets in a relevant Fund Interest Currency or Specified Currency that, in the opinion of the Determination Agent, would have a material effect on the ability market participants to effect transactions in such markets, provided that if any event would otherwise be both a Disruption Event and Fund Event, such event shall be treated solely as a Fund Event."

- 2.4 The definition of "Additional Disruption Events" set out in Condition 22.9 (Definitions applicable to Preference Share-Linked Notes) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced by the following:

"Additional Disruption Event" means, with respect to any Series of Preference Share-Linked Notes, if specified as Additional Disruption Events in the relevant Pricing Supplement, a Change in Law and/or an Insolvency Filing."

3. Amendments in respect of "Change in QFII Status"

- 3.1 The definition of "Change in QFII Status" set out in Condition 11.9 (Definitions applicable to Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Notes) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced by the following:

"Change in QFII Status" means that, on or after the Trade Date, due to any change in Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc's status or investment scope as a Qualified Foreign Institutional Investor ("QFII") under PRC law, the Issuer determines, in its sole and absolute discretion that (i) it has or will become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of any relevant Share, Underlying Share or Component comprised in a relevant Index which is a share (as applicable) or of any financial instrument or contract providing exposure to any such Share, Underlying Share or Component (as applicable) or (ii) it becomes unlawful for it to perform its obligations with respect to the Notes.

4. Amendments in respect of "Change in Law"

- 4.1 The definitions of "Change in Law" set out in Condition 11.9 (Definitions applicable to Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Notes), Condition 12.9 (Definitions applicable to Commodity-Linked Notes), Condition 13.9 (Definitions applicable to Currency-Linked Notes), Condition 14.8 (Definitions Applicable to Inflation-Linked Notes), Condition 15.11 (Definitions Applicable to Property-Linked Notes), Condition 17.7 (Definitions applicable to Futures Contract-Linked Notes;) and Condition 21.13 (Definitions applicable to Rate-Linked Notes) shall each be deemed to be amended by: (i) adding the words "excluding with respect to the Issuer's or any of its Affiliates' hedging arrangements with respect to the Notes" at the end of sub-paragraph (x) thereof; and (ii) deleting the words "(y) it will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations with respect to the Notes (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position)" and replacing them with the words "(y) it will significantly alter the economics of the relevant Notes that existed on the relevant Trade Date".
- 4.2 The definition of "Change in Law" set out in Condition 22.9 (Definitions applicable to Preference Share-Linked Notes) shall be deemed to be amended by (i) adding the words "excluding with respect to the Issuer's or any of its Affiliate's hedging arrangements with respect to the Notes" at the end of sub-paragraph (x) thereof; and (ii) deleting the words "(y) it will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations with respect to the Preference Share-Linked Notes (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position)" and replacing them with the words "(y) it will significantly alter the economics of the relevant Notes that existed on the relevant Trade Date".

5. Amendments to the definition of Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax Event in Condition 2.1 (Definitions)

The definition of "Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax Event" in Condition 2.1 (Definitions) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced by the following:

"Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax Event" means that, on or after the Trade Date of any Notes, due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including without limitation any law or regulation implementing a system of financial transaction taxes in any jurisdiction, including the European Union relating to any tax, payable in respect of the transfer of, or issue or modification or redemption of, any financial instruments), the Issuer determines (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) that either it or any of its Affiliates would incur or has incurred a materially increased amount of tax, transfer tax, duty, stamp duty, stamp duty reserve tax, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to enter into, modify or unwind the Notes or any part thereof, or perform its obligations under such Notes, including for the avoidance of doubt any obligation or exercise of any right to deliver Shares or any other asset, provided that the Issuer has determined that the nature of the adoption of or any change in law or regulation is such that it is applicable to investors generally when carrying out similar trading or hedging activities in the relevant jurisdiction."

6. Amendments to the definition of Regulatory Event in Condition 2.1 (Definitions)

The definition of "Regulatory Event" in Condition 2.1 (Definitions) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced by the following:

"Regulatory Event" means that, at any time on or after the Trade Date, as a result of:

- (i) an implementation or adoption of, or change in, any applicable law, regulation, interpretation, action or response of a regulatory authority;
- (ii) the promulgation of, or any interpretation by any court, tribunal, government or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction (a "Relevant Authority") of, any relevant law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority); or
- (iii) the public or private statement or action by, or response of, any Relevant Authority or any official or representative of any Relevant Authority acting in an official capacity, there is a reasonable likelihood of it becoming:

- (A) unlawful or impossible, for the Issuer and/or the Guarantor to maintain the Notes and/or to maintain other instruments issued under the Program and/or to perform its obligations under the Notes; and/or
- (B) necessary for the Issuer and/or the Guarantor to obtain a licence, authorisation or other approval for the continuation or maintenance of the business relating to or supporting the Notes."

7. Amendments to the definition of "Successor Share/ETF Interest" in Condition 11.4(a) (Merger Event or Tender Offer)

The definition of "Successor Share/ETF Interest" in Condition 11.4(a) (Merger Event or Tender Offer) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced by the following:

"Successor Share/ETF Interest" means, in respect of an Affected Share/ETF Interest, (1) if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, any Eligible Share or Eligible ETF Interest, as applicable; (2) if no Eligible Share or Eligible ETF Interest, as applicable, is specified, the successor Share or ETF Interest, as applicable, as determined by the Determination Agent, using commercially reasonable efforts, taking into account any factors which the Determination Agent determines to be relevant, including (but not limited to) the existence of any other Share or ETF Interest, as applicable, that is linked to or is a constituent of the same underlying index or asset as the Affected Share/ETF Interest, liquidity of the proposed successor Share or ETF Interest, as applicable, the prevailing market conditions at the time the Determination Agent makes its determination and the circumstances of the relevant Extraordinary Event; or (3) if the Determination Agent determines that it is unable to determine a suitable successor Share or ETF Interest, as applicable, the Determination Agent may determine that, where the Affected Share/ETF

Interest is linked to the relevant underlying index (the "Related Underlying Index"), such Related Underlying Index (to the extent relevant) shall be the Successor Share/ETF Interest and the provisions applicable to Index-Linked Notes will apply to the relevant Notes with such adjustments as the Determination Agent determines to be appropriate."

8. Amendments to the definition of Extraordinary ETF Event in Condition 11.5 (Extraordinary ETF Events)

Sub-paragraph (viii) in the definition of "Extraordinary ETF Event" in Condition 11.5(e) (Extraordinary ETF Events) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced by the following:

"(viii) (A) any relevant activities of or in relation to the ETF or any ETF Service Provider are or become unlawful, illegal or otherwise prohibited in whole or in part as a result of compliance with any present or future law, regulation, judgment, order or directive of any governmental, administrative, legislative or judicial authority or power, or in the interpretation thereof, in any applicable jurisdiction (including, but not limited to, any cancellation, suspension or revocation of the registration or approval of the ETF by any governmental, legal or regulatory entity with authority over the ETF), (B) a relevant authorisation or licence is revoked, lapses or is under review by a competent authority in respect of the ETF or the ETF Service Provider or new conditions are imposed, or existing conditions varied, with respect to any such authorisation or licence, (C) the ETF is required by a competent authority to redeem any ETF Interests and/or (D) any change in the legal, tax, accounting or regulatory treatment of the ETF or any ETF Service Provider that is reasonably likely to have an adverse impact on the value of the ETF Interests or other activities or undertakings of the ETF or on the rights or remedies of any investor therein; or"

9. Amendments to Condition 11.5 (Extraordinary ETF Events)

The final paragraph of Condition 11.5 (Extraordinary ETF Events) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced by the following:

"Successor ETF Interest" means, in respect of an Affected ETF Interest, (1) if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, any Eligible ETF Interest; (2) if no Eligible ETF Interest is specified, the successor ETF Interest as determined by the Determination Agent, using commercially reasonable efforts, taking into account any factors which the Determination Agent determines to be relevant, including (but not limited to) the existence of other ETFs that are linked to the same underlying index or asset as the Affected ETF Interest, liquidity of the proposed successor ETF Interest, the prevailing market conditions at the time the Determination Agent makes its determination; or (3) if the Determination Agent determines that it is unable to determine a suitable successor ETF Interest, the Determination Agent may determine that the relevant Notes, where the Affected ETF Interest will be linked to the relevant underlying index (the "Related Underlying Index") and such Related Underlying Index shall be the Successor ETF Interest and the provisions applicable to Single Index Notes or Index Basket Notes (as the case may be) will apply to the relevant Notes with such adjustments as the Determination Agent determines to be appropriate."

10. Adjustments to the Notes to account for the occurrence of a Fund Event pursuant to Condition 16.4 (Fund Events)

For the purposes of any adjustments that the Issuer may make pursuant to Condition 16.4 (Fund Events) to account for the occurrence of a Fund Event, notwithstanding any term to the contrary, including the penultimate paragraph of Condition 16.4(b)(iii), the Issuer shall not be permitted to take into account the value it may obtain for the transfer of any hedging arrangements in relation to the Notes. The Issuer, may, however, take into account for the purposes of such adjustments the value a third party on arms' length terms would be willing to pay for the relevant Affected Fund Interest (or the portion of a hypothetical derivative contract in so far as it relates to the relevant Affected Fund Interest and does not take into account the creditworthiness of any party thereto).

11. Amendments to Condition 16.6 (Definitions applicable to Fund-Linked Notes)

11.1 The definition of "Fund Events" shall be deemed to be amended by:

11.2 deleting sub-paragraph (c) of paragraph (d) (Fund Adviser Event), paragraphs (n) (Hedging Disruption) and (q) (Value Limitation);

11.3 deleting sub-paragraph (i) (Regulatory Event) and replacing it with the following:

- "(i) Regulatory Event: (A) in respect of any Fund Interest, (1) any change in the legal, tax, accounting, or regulatory treatments of the relevant Fund or its Fund Adviser that is reasonably likely to have an adverse impact on the value of such Fund Interest or on any investor therein (as determined by the Determination Agent) or (2) the related Fund or any of its Fund Service Providers becoming subject to any investigation, proceeding arbitration, litigation or official action by any relevant governmental, legal or regulatory authority involving the alleged violation of, or non-compliance with, applicable law or regulation in relation to any activities relating to or resulting from the operation: (i) of such Fund, or (ii) another fund where (in the opinion of the Determination Agent) such circumstances in respect of such other fund may have an adverse effect on the relevant Fund, (B) any event which would have the effect of changing the amount or cost of regulatory capital that would have to be maintained by the Issuer and/or any Affiliate in relation to the Notes as a result of a change in law or regulation or as a result of any requirement under applicable law, regulation or other rule or requirement from time to time applicable to the Issuer and/or any Affiliate that requires any information-provision or other transparency requirements in respect of a Fund Interest, whether to keep constant the cost of regulatory capital that would have to be maintained by any such person in relation to the Notes or otherwise comply therewith, and the relevant Fund Service Provider fails to provide sufficient information in respect of a Fund Interest for any such person to satisfy such relevant obligations or (C) in respect of any Fund Interest and the related Fund (i) the withdrawal, cancellation, suspension or revocation of any registration, licence or approval of such Fund Interest or the related Fund by any governmental, legal or regulatory entity with authority over such Fund Interest or Fund; (ii) the withdrawal, suspension, cancellation or modification of any licence, consent, permit, authorisation or clearance required for the Fund or any one or more of its significant Fund Service Providers to carry out their activities as they are or should be carried out in compliance with applicable law or regulation; and/or (iii) the failure of such Fund Interest and/or the related Fund to comply with any applicable requirements from time to time applied by any relevant listing authority, stock exchange, quotation system and/or regulator that allow it to be used to determine amounts due under the Notes (or, in the case of (C)(i), (ii) or (iii), any official announcement indicating that any such circumstances may occur);

11.4 deleting sub-paragraph (j) (Reporting Disruption) and replacing it with the following:

- "(j) Reporting Disruption: in respect of any Fund Interest, (A) the occurrence of any event affecting such Fund Interest that, in the determination of the Determination Agent, would make it impossible for the Determination Agent to determine the value of such Fund Interest and the Determination Agent does not expect such event to cease in the foreseeable future; (B) any failure of the related Fund to deliver, or cause to be delivered, or recipients in general to receive (1) information that such Fund has agreed to deliver, or cause to be delivered to the Determination Agent and/or the Issuer and/or any of the Issuer's Affiliates, as applicable, or (2) information that has been previously delivered to the Determination Agent and/or the Issuer and/or any of the Issuer's Affiliates, as applicable, in accordance with such Fund's, or its authorised representative's, normal practice and that the Determination Agent deems necessary for it or the Issuer, as applicable, to monitor such Fund's compliance with any investment guidelines, asset allocation methodologies or any other similar policies relating to such Fund Interest; (C) the related Fund ceases, for any reason whatsoever (either directly or through any Fund Service Provider acting on its behalf for this purpose) to provide, publish or make available its net asset value on any Fund Reporting Date; or (D) a Fund Service Provider informs the Determination Agent and/or the Issuer and/or any of the Issuer's Affiliates that any Reported Net Asset Value of such Fund Interest should not be relied on (whether by reason of it being only a provisional or estimated net asset value or for any other reason) and/or, in the opinion of the Determination Agent, any Reported Net Asset Value is inaccurate (which, for the avoidance of doubt, includes without limitation circumstances where any net asset value reported by a Fund Service Provider to the Issuer and/or any of the Issuer's Affiliates and/or investors in Fund Interest generally differs from any net asset value published on any one or more publishing service), in each case which the Determination Agent considers to be material to the Notes;"

11.5 deleting sub-paragraph (s) (Fund Accounting Event) and replacing it with the following:

"(s) Fund Accounting Event: in respect of a Fund Interest and the related Fund, any (i) change in the currency in which the Fund Interest's accounts are denominated; or (ii) material adverse change in the accounting treatment of the Fund which does or could affect a Hypothetical Investor and/or any of the Issuer's Affiliates (provided that such event significantly alters the economics of the Notes existing on the Trade Date as determined by the Determination Agent) and/or any actual or potential requirement to consolidate its accounts with any such entity;" and 11.6 deleting sub-paragraph (t) (Fees or Charges Event) and replacing it with the following:

"(t) Fees or Charges Event: in respect of a Fund (i) any material charge of a transaction fee for subscription or redemption of Fund Interests and/or (ii) any imposition of any taxes or similar charges for subscription or redemption of Fund Interests (whether by the Fund or a Fund Adviser in respect of holders of Fund Interests generally other than any charge or fee in existence on the Trade Date), including the increase to the existing level of, or introduction of any new, fees, commissions or other expenses payable to any person, which in each case significantly alters the economics of the Notes existing on the Trade Date as determined by the Determination Agent."

12. Amendments to the definition of Illiquidity Event in sub-paragraph (h) of Condition 17.3 (Futures Contract Adjustment Events)

The definition of Illiquidity Event in sub-paragraph (h) of Condition 17.3 (Futures Contract Adjustment Events) shall be deemed to be deleted in its entirety and references in the Conditions to "Illiquidity Event" shall not be applicable.

13. Amendments to Condition 22.10 (Calculations and Determinations)

13.1 Condition 22.10 (Calculations and Determinations) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced by the following:

"22.10 Calculations and Determinations: The Determination Agent will make the calculations and determinations as described in this Condition 22.10 (Calculations and Determinations) in such a manner as the Determination Agent determines is appropriate acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner (having regard in each case to the criteria stipulated in the Conditions).

Notwithstanding that certain calculations, determinations and adjustments in this Condition 22.10 (Calculations and Determinations) may be expressed to be on a certain date, the Determination Agent may make such calculations, determinations and adjustments in respect of that date on a date after that date determined by it in its reasonable discretion provided that shall not apply to the calculation of the Final Redemption Amount or Early Redemption Amount.

Pursuant to this Condition 22.10 (Calculations and Determinations) the Determination Agent has a number of discretions. These are necessary since in certain circumstances it is not reasonably practicable or otherwise not appropriate for certain valuations to be carried out in relation to relevant reference assets and in these circumstances the Determination Agent also may exercise certain discretions.

Where the Conditions provide that the Issuer or the Determination Agent may make determinations, modifications or adjustments in or at its discretion (or any similar wording) that relate to the essential characteristics (interpreted as set out below) of the Notes, the Issuer or the Determination Agent will make such determinations, modifications or adjustments acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner and in such a manner that such determinations, modifications or adjustments do not create a significant imbalance (interpreted as set out below) between the rights and obligations of the Issuer compared to the Noteholders to the detriment of the Noteholders.

Notwithstanding anything else in the Conditions (but excluding any modification of the Conditions pursuant to Condition 26), the Issuer or the Determination Agent, as the case may be, may only modify or adjust the terms of the Notes in accordance with the Conditions (other than modifications or adjustments that do not relate to essential characteristics of the Notes) or redeem the Notes prior to their Maturity Date in accordance with the Conditions, where such modification, adjustment or redemption is effected in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Belgian Code of Economic Law (Wetboek van economisch recht/Code de droit économique) dated 28 February 2013 (as amended and/or supplemented from time to time, the "CEL"), especially those pertaining to unfair contract terms.

The Issuer and the Determination Agent will comply with the provisions of the CEL applicable to the Notes especially those pertaining to unfair contract terms, in the application of the Conditions of the Notes. In such case, and notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Conditions but without prejudice to the penultimate paragraph of this Condition 22.10 below, any provisions of the Conditions which are deemed unfair in whole or in part pursuant to the CEL shall not apply to the extent deemed unfair.

The Noteholders may not be charged any costs for the modification or adjustment of the Conditions and for the early redemption of the Notes before their Maturity Date.

For the purposes of these Belgian Supplemental Condition (Notes) and, where applicable, the Conditions, the questions (a) whether a determination, modification or adjustment referred to in this Condition 22.10 relates to the essential characteristics of the Notes, (b) whether the manner of making a determination, modification or adjustment creates a significant imbalance between the rights and obligations of the Issuer compared to the Noteholders to the detriment of the Noteholders, (c) whether a modification, adjustment or redemption referred to in this Condition 22.10 is effected in compliance with the provisions of the CEL, especially those pertaining to unfair terms, (d) whether any provisions of the Conditions are deemed unfair in whole or in part and whether the Issuer or the Determination Agent has complied with provisions of the CEL especially those pertaining to unfair contract terms, in the application of the Conditions of the Notes will be made in accordance with applicable Belgian law, in particular the CEL. Save as provided in the preceding sentence all other provisions of these Belgian Supplemental Condition (Notes) and the Conditions and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in relation to them shall be governed by and construed in accordance with English law. If any part(s) of the Conditions or of any determination, modification or adjustment referred to in this Condition 22.10 are found to be (i) inapplicable, (ii) prohibited, (iii) unfair or (iv) otherwise non-compliant with Belgian law, including the CEL, in any applicable judicial proceeding for reasons referred to in this Condition 22.10 (each an "Invalid Provision"), then each part of such Invalid Provision which is found to be (i) inapplicable, (ii) prohibited, (iii) unfair or (iv) otherwise non-compliant with Belgian law shall be deemed to be removed and all remaining part(s) of the provisions of the Conditions or the relevant determination, modification or adjustment following such removal shall remain operative and binding on the Issuer and the Noteholders.

To the extent permitted by applicable law, all calculations made by the Issuer or the Determination Agent under the Conditions shall, in the absence of manifest error, be final, conclusive and binding on Noteholders. Neither the Issuer nor the Determination Agent assumes any obligation or relationship of agency or trust or of a fiduciary nature for or with any Noteholder."

14. Amendments to the definition of Inconvertibility Event in Condition 24(A) (Inconvertibility Events) and Condition 24(B) (Inconvertibility Events)

The definition of Inconvertibility Event in Condition 24(A) (Inconvertibility Events) and Condition 24(B) (Inconvertibility Events) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced with the following:

"An "Inconvertibility Event" shall be deemed to have occurred if from (and including) the Trade Date to (and including) the Maturity Date, any event or circumstance occurs that generally makes it, in the reasonable discretion of the Determination Agent, impossible or unlawful for the Issuer, the Determination Agent or any of its Affiliates for any reason beyond their reasonable control:

- (i) to convert the Relevant Currency into the Inconvertibility Specified Currency or the Inconvertibility Specified Currency into the Relevant Currency (whether directly or through a cross exchange rate) through customary legal channels; or

- (ii) to determine the rate of conversion of the Inconvertibility Specified Currency into the Relevant Currency or the Relevant Currency into the Inconvertibility Specified Currency or
- (iii) to transfer, or make a payment in, or delivery of, the Relevant Currency from or to, outside, or inside, of the Relevant Jurisdiction, in each case under (i), (ii) or (iii), in an amount up to the total amount of payment due to be made by the Issuer under the Notes; or
- (iv) to determine a rate at which any Relevant Currency can be lawfully exchanged for U.S. Dollars; or
- (v) to convert any Relevant Currency into U.S. Dollars; or
- (vi) to exchange or repatriate any funds outside of any jurisdiction in which any of the Relevant Underlying, or each Basket Component, is issued; or
- (vii) for the Issuer or any of its Affiliates to hold, purchase, sell or otherwise deal in any Notes, or any other property for the purposes of the Issuer or the Issuer's obligations in respect of any Notes;"

15. Amendments to Condition 43 (Substitution)

- 15.1 Condition 43.1(b) (Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced by the following:

"(b) MSI plc, substitute Morgan Stanley or a subsidiary of Morgan Stanley in place of MSI plc as principal debtor under the Notes, provided that, unless MSI plc is subject to a legal restructuring (including, without limitation, a voluntary or involuntary liquidation, bankruptcy, insolvency, dissolution or winding-up of or any analogous proceedings affecting MSI plc), any Notes in respect of which such a substitution is effected will be fully, unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed pursuant to a guarantee of MSI plc as to the payment of principal of, premium, interest and supplemental amounts, if any, and any Additional Amounts on those Notes when and as the same will become due and payable, whether at maturity or otherwise, and provided further that under the terms of the guarantee, Noteholders will not be required to exercise their remedies against the substitute prior to proceeding directly against MSI plc (as guarantor);"

- 15.2 Condition 43.1(c) (Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced by the following:

"(c) MSBV, substitute Morgan Stanley or a subsidiary of Morgan Stanley in place of MSBV as principal debtor under the Notes, provided that, unless MSBV is subject to a legal restructuring (including, without limitation, a voluntary or involuntary liquidation, bankruptcy, insolvency, dissolution or winding-up of or any analogous proceedings affecting MSBV), any Notes in respect of which such a substitution is effected will be fully, unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed pursuant to a guarantee of MSBV as to the payment of principal of, premium, interest and supplemental amounts, if any, and any Additional Amounts on those Notes when and as the same will become due and payable, whether at maturity or otherwise, and provided further that under the terms of the guarantee, Noteholders will not be required to exercise their remedies against the substitute prior to proceeding directly against MSBV (as guarantor); or"

- 15.3 Condition 43.1(d) (Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced by the following:

"(d) MSFL, substitute Morgan Stanley or a subsidiary of Morgan Stanley in place of MSFL as principal debtor under the Notes, provided that, unless MSFL is subject to a legal restructuring (including, without limitation, a voluntary or involuntary liquidation, bankruptcy, insolvency, dissolution or winding-up of or any analogous proceedings affecting MSFL), any Notes in respect of which such a substitution is effected will be fully, unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed pursuant to a guarantee of MSFL as to the payment of principal of, premium, interest and supplemental amounts, if any, and any Additional Amounts on those Notes when and as the same will become due and payable, whether at maturity or otherwise, and provided further that under the terms of the guarantee, Noteholders will not be required to exercise their remedies against the substitute prior to proceeding directly against MSFL (as guarantor)."

- 15.4 Condition 43.1(e) (Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced by the following:

"(e) MSFII, substitute Morgan Stanley or a subsidiary of Morgan Stanley in place of MSFII as principal debtor under the Notes, provided that, unless MSFII is subject to a legal restructuring (including, without limitation, a voluntary or involuntary liquidation, bankruptcy, insolvency, dissolution or winding-up of or any analogous proceedings affecting MSFII), any Notes in respect of which such a substitution is effected will be fully, unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed pursuant to a guarantee of MSFII as to the payment of principal of, premium, interest and supplemental amounts, if any, and any Additional Amounts on those Notes when and as the same will become due and payable, whether at maturity or otherwise, and provided further that under the terms of the guarantee, Noteholders will not be required to exercise their remedies against the substitute prior to proceeding directly against MSFII (as guarantor)."

- 15.5 Condition 43.1(f) (Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced by the following:

"(f) MSESE, substitute Morgan Stanley or a subsidiary of Morgan Stanley in place of MSESE as principal debtor under the Notes, provided that, unless MSESE is subject to a legal restructuring (including, without limitation, a voluntary or involuntary liquidation, bankruptcy, insolvency, dissolution or winding-up of or any analogous proceedings affecting MSESE), any Notes in respect of which such a substitution is effected will be fully, unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed pursuant to a guarantee of MSESE as to the payment of principal of, premium, interest and supplemental amounts, if any, and any Additional Amounts on those Notes when and as the same will become due and payable, whether at maturity or otherwise, and provided further that under the terms of the guarantee, Noteholders will not be required to exercise their remedies against the substitute prior to proceeding directly against MSESE (as guarantor)."

- 15.6 Condition 43.2 (Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) and Condition 43.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) shall be deemed to be deleted.

- 15.7 Condition 43.3 (Conditions to substitution) shall be deemed to be deleted and replaced by the following:

"41.3 Conditions to substitution

Substitution of an Issuer or Guarantor for another entity (the "Substitute") as provided in Condition 42.1 (Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities) or 42.2 (Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) above (as applicable) are subject to the following conditions:

- (a) the Substitute becoming party to the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement with any appropriate consequential amendments, as if it had been an original party to it in place of the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be);
- (b) the Substitute is validly existing under the laws under which it is established or incorporated, has capacity to assume all rights, obligations and liabilities under the Notes, receipts, coupons and Guarantee, as applicable, and has obtained all necessary corporate authorisations to assume all such rights, obligations and liabilities under the Notes or Guarantee (as applicable);
- (c) the Substitute has obtained all necessary governmental or regulatory approvals and consents for the performance by it of its obligations in connection with the Notes or Guarantee (as applicable) and that all such approvals and consents are in full force and effect and that the Substitute and the Notes comply with all applicable requirements of the Securities Act;
- (d) the Fiscal Agent has confirmed to the relevant Issuer or Guarantor (as the case may be) that it has completed its relevant "know your customer" requirements on the proposed Substitute;

- (e) such substitution being permitted by the rules of any stock exchange on which the Notes are listed and each such stock exchange confirming that, following the proposed substitution of the Substitute, the Notes will continue to be listed on such stock exchange;
- (f) no payment in respect of the Notes, receipts and coupons is overdue at the relevant time;
- (g) at the time of any such substitution, the Substitute is in a position to fulfil all payment obligations arising from or in connection with the Notes in freely convertible and transferable lawful money without the necessity of any taxes or duties to be withheld at source, and to transfer all amounts which are required therefor to the Fiscal Agent without any restrictions;
- (h) if appropriate, the Substitute appointing a process agent as its agent in England to receive service of process on its behalf in relation to any legal action or proceedings arising out of or in connection with the Notes;
- (i) in respect of Notes which benefit from the Guarantee, such Notes shall continue to benefit from the Guarantee following substitution of the Issuer and/or the Guarantor (as the case may be), pursuant to this Condition 43.1 (Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with Morgan Stanley Group entities);
- (j) the Substitute having a long term credit rating from at least one rating agency of standard application on the international capital markets (including but not limited to S&P, Moody's and Fitch) which is at least as high as the long term credit rating of the relevant Issuer or Guarantor (as the case may be) being substituted immediately prior to the occurrence of the relevant substitution;
- (k) the Substitute providing an indemnity in favour of the Noteholders in relation to any additional tax or duties or losses suffered by Noteholders due to a different tax or regulatory regime of the Substitute from that of the Issuer and in any case which arise and become payable solely as a result of the substitution of the Issuer for the Substitute; and
- (l) on the date of each substitution there being no Event of Default in existence and no event having occurred which remains in existence on such date which, in the absence of the relevant grace period, would otherwise constitute an Event of Default in relation to the Notes."

15.8 The second sentence of Condition 43.7 (Tax Consequences of substitution) shall be deemed to be deleted (it being understood that if the substitution causes a withholding to be required on the Notes this will be addressed by the indemnity referred to in Condition 42.3).

16. Amendments to the definition of Administrator/Benchmark Event in Condition 2.1 (Definitions)

The words "or any related hedging arrangements" shall be deemed to be deleted from each of paragraph (a) and paragraph (b) of the definition of "Administrator/Benchmark Event" set out in Condition 2.1 (Definitions).

ANNEX TO THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE ENGLISH LAW NOTES: CREDIT LINKED NOTES ANNEX

This Annex shall apply if "Supplementary Provisions for Credit Linked Notes" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

RISK FACTORS

Credit risk of the Reference Entity

The Credit Linked Notes are linked to the credit of one or more Reference Entities (including any Successors). Payments under the Credit Linked Notes are dependent upon, among other things, the credit performance of the Reference Entities and the occurrence of an Event Determination Date in relation to a Credit Event which has occurred with respect to a Reference Entity. An investor's exposure to the Reference Entities will be to the full extent of their principal and interest (subject to whether "Capital Not At Risk" is specified as Applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement) or, in the case of Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes, to the extent that the aggregate losses exceed the "attachment point". Although holders will not be a direct investor in obligations of the Reference Entities by virtue of holding the Credit Linked Notes, upon the occurrence of any specified Credit Event with respect to any specified Reference Entity, holders may still suffer significant losses at a time when losses may be suffered by a direct investor in obligations of such Reference Entity. In addition, even if losses are suffered by both a holder of Credit Linked Notes and a direct investor in obligations of the relevant Reference Entity, the holding of a Credit Linked Note may not reflect the impact of investing in an obligation of a Reference Entity, and losses in relation to the Credit Linked Notes could be considerably greater than would be suffered by a direct investor in the obligations of a Reference Entity and/or could arise for reasons unrelated to such Reference Entity. In addition, the terms of the deliverable obligations of the relevant Reference Entities may not be standard, and holders of that debt may therefore incur additional losses that are not reflected in the relevant Credit Linked Notes. This is of greater impact in the case where the Reference Entity is a sovereign. There are no common set of rules or practices that govern the manner in which a sovereign government, faced with deterioration in its fiscal position or the performance of its economy, may attempt to reach resolution with holders of its debt obligations. Due to, amongst other factors, the role of governments and international organisations as creditors, the ability of a sovereign to enact legislation that may affect holders of its debt obligations, and the role played by other governments, including those of the jurisdictions in which private creditors are located, the development of events is inherently unpredictable. As a result, specified Credit Events may not encompass all the circumstances in which holders of a sovereign Reference Entity's obligations may suffer credit-related losses. Investors should also note that not all Credit Events require an actual default with respect to the relevant Reference Entity's obligations. Thus, holders of Credit Linked Notes could bear losses based on deterioration in the credit of the Reference Entity even before the occurrence of an actual default.

Payment Risk

The payments in respect of the Credit Linked Notes are linked (amongst other things) to the performance and creditworthiness of the Reference Entity. The occurrence of a Credit Event is likely to result in a corresponding decrease in the amount payable or deliverable on redemption and may be reduced to zero (subject to whether "Capital Not At Risk" is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement and, in the case of Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes, the aggregate losses exceeding the "attachment point"). The amount payable on early redemption of the Credit Linked Notes may also take into account factors including, without limitation, the prevailing interest rates and credit spreads. Only sophisticated investors who are experienced in financial matters, familiar with the credit linked instruments (including Credit Linked Notes and the Obligations of the Reference Entity upon which payments in respect of the Credit Linked Notes are dependent) and who can bear any losses associated therewith should consider purchasing the Credit Linked Notes.

Legal risks

Investors should note that a Credit Event may still occur even where (i) the Reference Entity/underlying obligor lacks capacity to enter into any obligation, (ii) there is any actual or alleged unenforceability, illegality, impossibility or invalidity with respect to any obligation or (iii) the Credit Event results from (a) any applicable law, order, regulation, decree or notice or change in, the interpretation by any court, tribunal, regulatory authority or similar administrative or judicial body or (b) the imposition of, or any change in, any exchange controls, capital restrictions or any other similar restrictions imposed by any monetary or other authority. Investors should note that such legal risks are borne by the investors and the occurrence of a Credit Event that arises directly or indirectly as a result of these matters will not prevent the occurrence of an Event Determination Date from occurring under the Credit Linked Notes and which may result in interest amounts (in full or in part) ceasing to accrue or be payable and/or in the early redemption of the Credit Linked Notes (in full or in part).

Jurisdictional differences and assessment of a Reference Entity

There can be limited publicly available information about certain Reference Entities particularly where the laws in the jurisdiction of the Reference Entity do not subject the Reference Entity to reporting requirements. Furthermore, certain Reference Entities are subject to accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards that may differ from those applicable in other jurisdictions, and the relevant ways in which the legal regime of a Reference Entity operates can result in differences in outcomes across various jurisdictions. The differences highlighted herein may make it more difficult to make an accurate assessment of the creditworthiness of certain Reference Entities, and these differences may have a significant effect on the recovery on an underlying debt obligation in the event of bankruptcy or reorganisation of a Reference Entity. For example, once a bankruptcy or insolvency proceeding has commenced under the laws of certain jurisdictions, it may not be permissible to trade or accelerate the debt of the relevant issuer.

In making any assessment with respect to the creditworthiness of any Reference Entity generally, investors should also take into account, amongst other factors, (i) the name of the Reference Entity given that there can be confusion among market participants with respect to similarly named entities within a corporate group or failure to monitor any recent name changes or Successors identified with respect to a particular Reference Entity, (ii) the obligor on any referenced obligation and its capacity, to the extent relevant for any Credit Linked Note, (iii) the characteristics of any obligation referenced such as whether it is senior or subordinated, senior non preferred, freely transferrable, secured or unsecured, a bond, loan or a payment obligation not related to borrowed money which may either meet or fail to meet certain requirements specified in the Credit Linked Note relevant to either the occurrence of a Credit Event or redemption following a Credit Event and (iv) where there are multiple Reference Entities, whether each Reference Entity is weighted equally or whether some Reference Entities have greater weightings than others, given a Reference Entity's weighting with respect to the relevant Credit Linked Notes determines the portion of the principal amount of the Credit Linked Notes that is attributable to that Reference Entity. Each of the above factors are important and should be taken into consideration when making a decision whether to invest in the Credit Linked Notes, as they may affect the creditworthiness of the Reference Entity in question and/or the value of, and return on, such Credit Linked Notes.

Reference Entity – No obligation to consider investors

A Reference Entity has no obligation to consider any investor's interest (as a holder of the Credit Linked Notes) as to any corporate (including, for example, merger, demerger or the repayment or transfer of indebtedness) or sovereign actions that might be undertaken and such actions could affect the value of the Credit Linked Notes and impact on the terms and conditions of such Credit Linked Notes. A Reference Entity may have an incentive to structure a transaction to produce a particular result for example, in order to induce holders of its debt obligations to take certain actions. In some cases, a Reference Entity may repay its outstanding liabilities or assign them to a different entity in a manner that does not give rise to the determination of a Successor to the Reference Entity. In such cases, with respect to that Reference Entity, there may no longer be any deliverable obligations (a circumstance commonly referred to as an "orphaning"), which may result in there being no appropriate Valuation Obligations for Cash Redemption to be effected or Deliverable Obligations for an Auction to be determined with respect to the relevant Reference Entity or Physical Redemption to be effected. Such actions may adversely affect the value of, and return on the Credit Linked Notes and in addition, the views of market participants may differ as to how certain terms should be interpreted in the context of such actions, or such terms may operate in a manner contrary to the expectations of investors.

Exposure to Credit Events and successions prior to the Trade Date or Issue Date

The Credit Event Backstop Date represents the first day of the credit protection period for a Series of Credit Linked Notes, and therefore, the first day on which investors will be exposed to the credit risk in respect of the relevant Reference Entity. Unless otherwise specified in the terms of the Credit Linked Notes, the default position under the Credit Linked Conditions is for the Credit Event Backstop Date to be determined on a rolling basis by reference to a look-back period of 60 calendar days from the Credit Event Resolution Request Date or the effective date of delivery of the Credit Event Notice and related Notice of Publicly Available Information, as applicable. Investors should accordingly note that such Credit Event Backstop Date may fall prior to the Trade Date or Issue Date, such that a Credit Event occurring prior to the Trade Date or Issue Date may result in a Credit Event being triggered under such Credit Linked Notes. Investors should also note that this will not be the case where the terms of the Credit Linked Notes expressly specify the Credit Event Backstop Date as the Trade Date or the Issue Date.

Credit Linked Notes may also be exposed to Successor determinations in respect of events occurring prior to the Trade Date or Issue Date as the Credit Linked Notes have a similar backstop date (referred to as "Successor Backstop Date”), which is a look-back period of 90 calendar days prior to the date of a request to convene the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee to determine one or more Successors to the Reference Entity (or, if applicable, the effective date of a notice to the investor describing the relevant succession). In both cases, investors may be exposed to Credit Events or succession events that occurred significantly earlier than the Trade Date or issuance of the Credit Linked Notes. Where on or after 1 January 2014, an entity assumes all of the obligations (including at least one relevant obligation) of a Reference Entity which is not a sovereign, in circumstances where a Reference Entity has ceased to exist, or is in the process of being dissolved and has not issued or incurred any borrowed money obligation at any time since the legally effective date of the assumption (such entity, a “Universal Successor”), the look-back period of 90 calendar days will not apply.

Investors should conduct their own review of any recent developments with respect to any Reference Entity(ies) by consulting publicly available information. If, prior to the Trade Date or Issue Date, a request to convene a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee (for the relevant region) to determine whether a Credit Event or Successor determination has occurred with respect to a Reference Entity has been made, details of such request will be published by the relevant CDS Information Publisher and may currently be found at <https://www.cdsdeterminationscommittees.org/>. Investors should note that details of a Credit Event or successor event occurring prior to the Trade Date or Issue Date may not always be available at the time of trading or issuance – in particular, if a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee has not yet been convened to determine such matter as of the Trade Date or Issue Date, investors should note that one may still be convened after the Trade Date or Issue Date (in respect of an event that has occurred before the Trade Date or Issue Date, due to application of the look-back period of up to 60 calendar days (in the case of a Credit Event, by operation of the Credit Event Backstop Date) or 90 calendar days (in the case of the determination of a Successor, by operation of the Successor Backstop Date) or any time (in the case of the determination of a Universal Successor, where applicable) before the date of a request to convene such Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee to make the relevant determinations). Equally, Credit Events and successions may occur but where issues are not raised within the requisite time period to the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee to qualify for a Credit Event or a qualifying succession, the events will not impact the relevant Credit Linked Notes, subject to any further actions undertaken by the Determination Agent (where applicable and for example, delivery of a Credit Event Notice).

Historical performance may not predict future performance

Investors should note that the historical performance of a Reference Entity or similar entities is not indicative of its future performance and, accordingly, if contrary to historical performance, a Credit Event occurs, the Credit Linked Note may early redeem.

Investors should note that the historical performance of a Reference Entity or similar entities is not indicative of its future performance and, accordingly, if contrary to historical performance, a Credit Event occurs, the Credit Linked Note may early redeem.

Successor Reference Entities

Pursuant to the Credit Linked Conditions, a Reference Entity may be subject to replacement by one or more successors. In the event of multiple successors, each investor in the Credit Linked Notes will be subject to the credit risk of each successor and the creditworthiness of such successors may have an impact on the value of, and return on, the Credit Linked Notes.

The Determination Agent will be responsible for determining, as soon as reasonably practicable after delivery of a Successor Notice (describing a succession), the sovereign or entity, if any, that qualifies as the successor (provided that there has been no announcement that the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee has already determined that there is no successor). The Credit Linked Conditions provide that if a Reference Entity has more than one successor, the terms of the Credit Linked Notes will be amended without consent of the investors, to reflect that the relevant Reference Entity has been succeeded by more than one successor and for the purposes of calculation, the affected outstanding nominal amount (or outstanding accreted nominal amount, if applicable) representing such Reference Entity will be divided equally among the successors.

Where an Event Determination Date occurs in respect of a successor (in the event of multiple successors), then the Credit Linked Notes redeem in part pursuant to the Credit Linked Conditions, notwithstanding that such Credit Linked Notes may be Single Name Credit Linked Notes. In respect of Credit Linked Notes which are not Zero Coupon Notes, following the occurrence of such Credit Event, the Credit Linked Notes shall remain outstanding in a reduced nominal amount and interest will accrue on such amount, subject to the adjustments determined by the Determination Agent in its discretion, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, to reflect the economic effects of the identification of more than one successor, considered in the aggregate.

Investors should note that the Credit Linked Note may reference substantially different credit risks following the determination of one or more successors. These credit risks could potentially be greater or lesser than the credit risk of the original Reference Entity. Investors should also be aware that the determination of a successor will not necessarily result in the assumption of that obligation by the successor either at all or in the same proportion as the allocation of the notional amount of the original Credit Linked Note. Such changes to the Credit Linked Notes could adversely impact the value of the Credit Linked Notes.

Concentrated credit risk where Reference Entities are concentrated in the same sectors or regions

The credit risk to investors in Credit Linked Notes which are credit linked to multiple Reference Entities may be increased, amongst other things, as a result of the concentration of Reference Entities in a particular industry sector or geographic area, or the exposure of the Reference Entities to similar financial or other risks as other Reference Entities.

Although investors in Single Name Credit Linked Notes will have exposure to a single Reference Entity, investors should note that the risk factors set out above will equally apply to such Credit Linked Notes where multiple successors are identified in accordance with the Credit Linked Conditions.

Volatility

The Credit Linked Notes are complex financial instruments and are linked to the credit of the Reference Entity(ies). Changes in the market value of the Credit Linked Notes could be greater than the change in the market value of the obligations issued by the underlying Reference Entity(ies), and the market value of the Credit Linked Notes is subject to credit, liquidity and interest rate risk and will be affected by, amongst other things, (i) the actual or perceived creditworthiness and credit ratings of each Reference Entity and any guarantors or other supporters of its relevant obligations, (ii) expected rates of recovery on obligations of the Reference Entity, (iii) actions of a Reference Entity and its principal creditors, (iv) the nature of each Reference Entity's outstanding indebtedness, including its maturity and subordination structure and any guarantees or other support that the Reference Entity has provided to other entities, (v) the contractually specified credit-related events with respect to a Reference Entity that may trigger settlement of the Credit Linked Notes, (vi) optionality that a party may have, such as the ability to select the obligations of a Reference Entity that will be delivered or valued or to decide whether or not to trigger settlement, (vii) correlation among the credit spreads and/or default probabilities of the components of a basket or index, if applicable, (viii) market liquidity, (ix) the time remaining to the maturity or (x) economic, financial, political and regulatory or judicial events or conditions that affect a Reference Entity or its outstanding obligations, or the market for Credit Linked Notes or related financial markets, including credit spreads in the market. Such volatility could impact on the market value of the Credit Linked Notes (whether indicative or actionable) which may vary over time and may be significantly less than the Original Aggregate Nominal Amount (or if applicable, the Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount) of the Credit Linked Notes as at the Issue Date in certain circumstances, and may even be zero.

Market liquidity

Various factors may affect the market liquidity for the Credit Linked Notes. Future regulation of Credit Linked Notes could limit market liquidity, as well as a Reference Entity's inclusion or exclusion from a standardised index, with exclusion from an index generally expected to result in diminished market liquidity.

In the case of Untranched Index Credit Linked Notes and Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes, certain tenors of the relevant credit index referenced by such Credit Linked Notes may be more liquid than others. The market liquidity of Untranching Index Credit Linked Notes and Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes may also vary significantly between the current series of the relevant credit index referenced by such Credit Linked Notes and prior series. The market liquidity of instruments based on a bespoke portfolio of Reference Entities, such as Linear Basket Credit Linked Notes, will generally be less than that of instruments linked to standardised indices and terms. The market liquidity of a single-name Reference Entity instruments, such as Single Name Credit Linked Notes, may be affected by the Reference Entity's inclusion or exclusion from a standardised credit index, with exclusion from a credit index generally expected to result in diminished market liquidity.

In addition, Credit Linked Notes with terms that differ from trading conventions may have substantially less market liquidity and price transparency. Consequently, market liquidity could vary during the term of a Credit Linked Note and will affect the value of such Credit Linked Note. There is no assurance that the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer, the Determination Agent or one or more of their affiliates will be able to provide prices with respect to the Credit Linked Notes or that a secondary market can develop with respect to the Credit Linked Notes.

Risks relating to the impact of the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees on the Credit Linked Notes

The Credit Linked Notes will be subject to the announcements, determinations and resolutions of the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees and the Determination Agent will make all necessary amendments to the terms of the Credit Linked Notes to give effect to a determination of the Credit Derivatives Determination Committee. The Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees are regional committees and each committee comprises certain significant participants in the credit derivatives market for a particular region. There are currently 5 regional Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees covering the Americas, Asia excluding Japan, Australia-New Zealand, EMEA (Europe), and Japan. Each regional Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee considers matters which generally relate to Reference Entities which are traded under transaction types for their region. The Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees may make announcements, determinations and resolutions which may have an adverse impact on the value of, and return (both quantum and timing of payments of interest and principal) on, Credit Linked Notes (including, without limitation, the determination of the occurrence of a Credit Event).

Investors should also be aware that there are certain instances where a Determination Agent's determination (including its determination of the occurrence of a Credit Event) may be overridden by a later determination of the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee that is inconsistent with such earlier Determination Agent determination, as further set out in the Credit Linked Conditions. Any such reversal may adversely impact the value of the Credit Linked Notes.

Investors have no role in respect of the composition of the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees

The DC Rules (which may be amended by a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee) provide that eligible market participants may raise questions to the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees which have the power to make binding decisions on critical issues such as, without limitation, whether a Credit Event has occurred, whether there is a Successor to a Reference Entity, which obligations of a Reference Entity are deliverable, whether or not an auction will be held and on matters of contractual interpretation relevant to the credit derivatives market generally. The Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees make determinations that are relevant to the majority of the credit derivatives market and to promote transparency and consistency.

The Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer, the Determination Agent or one or more of their affiliates has no duty to any investor to refer specific questions to the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees.

Noteholders will have no role in the composition of the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees. Separate criteria apply to the selection of dealer and non-dealer institutions to serve on the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees ("DC Member"), and investors will have no role in establishing such criteria. In addition, the composition of the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees will change from time to time as the term of a member institution may expire or a member institution may be required to be replaced. The process is governed by the DC Rules and investors will have no control over the process for selecting institutions to participate on the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees.

To the extent provided for in the Credit Linked Notes, the determinations of the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees will be final and binding with respect to specific matters set out in the terms and conditions of the Credit Linked Notes, where relevant. See the risk factor titled "Risks relating to the impact of the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees on the Credit Linked Notes" for further detail.

No notification of Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees resolutions

Notices of issues submitted to the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees, meetings convened to deliberate such questions and the results of binding votes of the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees will be published by the relevant CDS Information Publisher. Neither the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer, the Determination Agent nor any one or more of their affiliates shall be obliged to inform investors of such updates as published from time to time. Investors should carefully monitor the matters under consideration by the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees and their determinations - notwithstanding that an investor may be unaware of information relating to determinations of a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee as published by the relevant CDS Information Publisher, such determinations may affect the Credit Linked Notes (including redemption and suspension or reduction of interest payments).

Impact of a Credit Event on principal and interest

Following a Credit Event which is a Governmental Intervention or certain Restructuring Credit Events, an Asset Package Credit Event may occur and the amount of principal payable may be determined based on the value of a package of assets which a relevant obligation of a Reference Entity has been converted into or exchanged for (which may be worth significantly less than the principal amount of such original obligation of such Reference Entity or, where such original obligation has been expropriated for no compensation, may be zero). Prospective investors in such Credit Linked Notes should be aware that depending on the terms thereof (i) they may receive no or a limited amount of interest, (ii) payment of principal or interest or delivery of any specified assets may occur at a different time than expected and (iii) they may lose all or a substantial portion of their investment.

The occurrence of a Credit Event in relation to any Reference Entity from time to time may result in either full or partial redemption of the Credit Linked Notes on the relevant Credit Event Redemption Date which will depend on whether "Credit Recovery on Maturity" or "Credit Recovery Following Credit Event" applies. Any recovery (which could be zero and, in the case of Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes, to the extent that such recovery falls within the tranche to which the Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes are exposed) will be payable to the investor but the investor will be exposed to all losses (in the case of Tranching Credit Linked Notes, to the extent that such losses fall within the tranche to which the Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes are exposed), which will reduce its principal redemptions. Where "Physical Redemption" is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the occurrence of a Credit Event may result in the redemption of the Credit Linked Notes based on the delivery of certain direct or indirect obligations of the affected Reference Entity, which may have a market value which is substantially less than their nominal amount.

Unless "Interest Accrual on Maturity" applies in the relevant Pricing Supplement, investors should note that following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, interest will cease to accrue on a specified portion of the relevant Credit Linked Notes (i) if "No Interest Accrual on Default" applies in the relevant Pricing Supplement, from the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date (or where there is no Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date, the Interest Commencement Date) or (ii) if "Interest Accrual on Default" applies in the relevant Pricing Supplement, on the first day immediately following the Relevant Event Determination Date.

The Issuer may also suspend interest in certain circumstances where (a) an Applicable DC Credit Event Question has been submitted in respect of which a DC Resolution has not been published or the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee has not resolved whether it will convene a meeting to Resolve the Applicable DC Credit Event Question or (b) where the Determination Agent has determined that a Credit Event could occur but no Credit Event Notice has been provided to the Issuer and/or the Noteholders. In such circumstances, investors should note that the Issuer would suspend the maximum amount of interest payable assuming (i) the Credit Event had occurred, (ii) the relevant Credit Event will not be an M(M)R Restructuring and (iii) where "Fixed Recovery Redemption" is applicable, taking into account, where the amount to be withheld requires calculation of any recovery amount, the Fixed Recovery Percentage. Such suspension of interest shall be effected even though no Relevant Event Determination Date has actually occurred.

Investors should be aware that payment of any interest wrongly suspended will be repayable in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Credit Linked Notes and where insufficient interest has been suspended (the absolute value of such interest shortfall constituting the Interest Suspension Shortfall Amount), such Interest Suspension Shortfall Amount shall be claimed by the Issuer from any future amount(s) payable or assets Delivered upon the redemption or, where applicable, write down in full of the relevant Credit Linked Notes (whether at maturity or upon early redemption). The Issuer, however, will have no further claims against any investors for any Interest Suspension Shortfall Amount which cannot be deducted in full or in part (on account of the relevant redemption amount being insufficient or subject to "Capital Not At Risk" being specified as applicable).

Interest (if applicable) shall continue to be suspended until the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee makes the relevant announcements or the Determination Agent determines that no Relevant Event Determination Date can occur. In such circumstances, investors should note that they may not receive any interest for multiple Interest Periods.

Interest will otherwise continue to accrue as usual on any remaining portion of the Credit Linked Note unaffected by the Relevant Credit Event. If "Interest Accrual on Maturity" and "Credit Recovery on Maturity" are applicable, interest will continue to accrue on the Credit Linked Notes in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Credit Linked Notes, notwithstanding the occurrence of a Credit Event and the corresponding Relevant Event Determination Date.

Investors will have no recourse against any of the institutions serving (which could include the Issuer, the Dealer, the Determination Agent or the Calculation Agent) on the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees

DC Members (which could include the Issuer, the Dealer, the Calculation Agent, the Determination Agent or one or more of their affiliates) do not owe any duty to Noteholders to refer specific questions to the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees. Noteholders will be prevented from pursuing legal claims with respect to actions taken by such DC Member in its capacity as such under the DC Rules. DC Members have no duty to investigate, supplement or verify the accuracy of information on which a determination is based. In addition, the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees are not obligated to follow previous determinations or to apply principles of interpretation such as those that might guide a court in interpreting contractual provisions. Therefore, investors should be aware that a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee could reach a conflicting determination for a similar set of facts, which may impact the Credit Linked Notes in a manner that was not originally contemplated by investors.

Requirement for publicly available information

The Credit Linked Notes may specify that only publicly available information regarding a relevant event may be used to trigger or modify the transaction. In cases where the applicable Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee determines a Credit Event has occurred based on publicly available information, such decision will also apply to the Credit Linked Notes. However, there may be instances where the respective Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee has not considered any request for the convening of its committee to consider whether or not a Credit Event has occurred in respect of a Reference Entity. In such instance, the Determination Agent, may, in its sole and absolute discretion, evaluate the validity of any publicly available information with due regard to whether such information has been made public without the violation of any law, agreement, understanding or other restriction regarding the confidentiality of such information. Also, the Credit Linked Conditions contain standards as to what constitutes publicly available information. If a Credit Event or a succession occurs, amongst other events, but the requisite public information about the event is not available within the applicable time periods, then the event will not apply in respect of the Credit Linked Notes.

Investors should note that in certain circumstances it may be difficult to verify the occurrences of certain Credit Events as a party in possession of such information which may evidence such Credit Event may be contractually prohibited from disclosing information to another party by virtue of any credit agreement or other agreement with the Reference Entity, any underlying obligor, any affiliate of the Reference Entity or of the underlying Obligor or such party may be bound by or subject to a confidentiality obligation or agreement whereby the required information for verification may not be capable of disclosure without breaching such confidentiality undertakings. Furthermore, the Issuer and/or Determination Agent or any of their respective affiliates may be in possession of information in relation to the Reference Entity or an obligation thereof that is or may be material in the context of the Credit Linked Notes and may or may not be publicly available to Noteholders. Furthermore, the Issuer and/or the Determination Agent or any of their affiliates could publish research with respect to the Reference Entity. There is no obligation on the Issuer and/or the Determination Agent or any of their respective affiliates to disclose to Noteholders any such information. Accordingly, there may be circumstances when a Credit Event may not be capable of trigger under the Credit Linked Notes due to lack of publicly available information.

In addition, there can be no assurance that all events occurring prior to the Trade Date and Issue Date, including events that would affect the accuracy or completeness of the public filings of the Reference Entity or the value of the underliers, will have been publicly disclosed. Subsequent disclosure of any such events or the disclosure of or failure to disclose material future events concerning an issuer could adversely affect the value of the Credit Linked Notes, its usefulness for any investor's intended purpose, and the timing or amount of payments or deliveries.

Risks associated with Auction Redemption following a Credit Event

If "Auction Redemption" is applicable with respect to the Credit Linked Notes, then the amounts payable under the Credit Linked Notes will be determined on the basis of the final price determined pursuant to the auction procedure set out in the relevant Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms (then available at <https://www.cdsdeterminationscommittees.org/> (or any successor website)). In respect of specified obligations of the relevant Reference Entity, provided that the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee determines that an applicable auction will be held, an auction final price determination date will occur. Credit losses determined pursuant to a market auction process may be greater or less than the losses which would have been determined in the absence of the auction. In particular, the auction process may be affected by technical factors or operational errors, which would not otherwise apply or may be the subject of actual or attempted manipulation. The administrator(s) specified in the auction settlement terms conduct auctions. Investors are subject to the risk that where a final price is determined in accordance with an auction, this may result in a lower recovery value than an obligation of the Reference Entity would have had if such final price had been determined pursuant to alternative methods. In addition, the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee may amend the form of auction settlement terms for a particular auction. The DC Rules provide for certain amendments by resolution of a convened Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee. Other amendments may be made subject to a public comment period; however, the DC Rules permit the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee to forego a public comment period by supermajority action. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms for a particular auction will be on similar terms to the form of auction settlement terms or the terms of previous auctions.

Where the only relevant Credit Event is a restructuring, several concurrent but separate auctions may occur with respect to the Reference Entity and such Credit Event. The auction settlement amount may be based on the price of one or more obligations of the Reference Entity having a final maturity date different from the restructured obligation.

Although auctions can generally be expected to be held for Reference Entities that are widely traded in the credit markets, there can be no assurance that an auction will be held for future Credit Events or that, if held, the auction will result in the determination of an auction final price. If an auction is not held or fails to result in the determination of an auction final price (as might occur if an auction is cancelled by the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee due, for example, to an inability to obtain the requisite number of initial bids) and if “Auction Redemption” is applicable with respect to the Credit Linked Notes, then the “Fallback Redemption Method” (which, if applicable, is cash redemption) shall apply. In such circumstances of cash redemption, the final price will be determined pursuant to the valuation method specified in the Credit Linked Notes and Noteholders should have regard to the risk factor below entitled “Risks associated with Cash Redemption following a Credit Event”.

Investors should carefully assess and understand the elections specified in relation to the relevant Credit Linked Notes and the circumstances and/or events as described above, which may affect the value of, and return on, such Credit Linked Notes.

Risks associated with Cash Redemption following a Credit Event

If “Cash Redemption” applies to the Credit Linked Notes, then following the occurrence of a Credit Event, the Determination Agent will be required to seek quotations in respect of selected obligations of the Reference Entity in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Credit Linked Notes. Investors should be aware that such obligations may no longer exist and no qualifying substitute obligations may have been identified, such quotations may not be available, or the level of such quotations may be substantially reduced as a result of illiquidity in the relevant markets or as a result of factors other than the credit risk of the Reference Entity (for example, liquidity constraints affecting market dealers). Moreover, the market value of a Reference Entity’s obligations may be highly volatile in the period following a Credit Event. Accordingly, any quotations so obtained may be significantly lower than the value of the relevant obligation which would be determined by reference to (for example) the present value of related cash flows or the value that a party could obtain if it controlled the disposition of the obligations. Furthermore, the price of the selected obligations of the Reference Entity may be deemed to be zero in the event that no such quotations are available. Further, valuation of the selected obligations will be determined at a particular determination date and as such the recovery price which would be adopted in any loss amount or incurred loss amount that would be suffered by an investor following the occurrence of a Credit Event will reflect the value of relevant obligations at a given date. As such, the exposure to loss suffered by an investor or any principal write-down may be more than that ultimately realised by a holder of debt obligations of the Reference Entity, whether by means of enforcement of rights following a default or receipt of distributions following an insolvency or otherwise.

Further, where quotations are sought on an asset package, such asset package may contain assets which are hard to value and for which a valuation methodology may not be readily available or suitable, which may reduce the value of quotations or the availability of quotations that may otherwise have been obtained. Accordingly, investors should note that any quotations so obtained may be significantly lower than the value of the relevant obligation (or asset package) which would be determined by reference to (for example) the present value of related cash flows or the value that a party could obtain if it controlled the disposition of the obligations.

Risks relating to Physical Redemption following a Credit Event

Where “Physical Redemption” applies to Credit Linked Notes, the Issuer must select obligations of the Reference Entity that satisfy specified criteria and deliver those obligations to the investor in an amount determined in accordance with the terms of the Credit Linked Notes. Investors should be aware that physical redemption may not be possible to accomplish under some circumstances, including where the Issuer is unable to procure the specified or selected deliverable obligation(s) due to market dislocations or prior redemptions or refinancings by the Reference Entity, failure to receive necessary transfer consents (such as from a borrower or agent) or delays in receiving such consents, or court orders prohibiting transfers of an obligation. In such event, the terms of the Credit Linked Notes may provide the Issuer with alternative methods of settlement or permit partial cash settlement subject to certain conditions or specify other fallback consequences which may include redemption by way of payment of a cash amount. Further, where “Physical Redemption” applies and if all or any part of the Physical Redemption Assets that would be required to be Delivered to a Noteholder is not a whole integral multiple of the smallest unit of transfer for any such Physical Redemption Assets at the relevant time of Delivery, as determined by the Determination Agent, the Issuer will only Deliver the portion of the Physical Redemption Assets specified by the Issuer which is as large a size as possible but less than the full Physical Redemption Assets, after consideration of such smallest unit or units of transfer and application of rounding. The value of the undelivered obligations will be deemed to be zero and the Issuer’s obligations to an investor in respect of such portion shall be fully and effectively discharged in such circumstances.

Investors should understand the terms of the obligation and applicable securities laws as these may restrict their ability to take delivery of Deliverable Obligations. Investors should also note that delivery expenses will be taken into account in determining the Outstanding Principal Balance or Due and Payable Amount of the relevant Deliverable Obligations to be Delivered.

Outstanding Principal Balance

The outstanding principal balance of a deliverable obligation is determined by calculating (i) the amount of all principal payment obligations of a Reference Entity in respect of such obligation and subject to the Determination Agent’s determination to include (rather than exclude) accrued but unpaid interest, the relevant Reference Entity’s accrued but unpaid interest payment obligations, minus (ii) any unwind costs (if “Credit Unwind Costs” is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement), any delivery expenses, any interest suspension shortfall amounts and any portion of such principal payment obligations that are subject to a contingency (other than certain permitted contingencies) or prohibited action (the amount determined in sub-paragraph (i) above less any amounts subtracted in accordance with sub-paragraph (ii) above, being the “Non-Contingent Amount”) and thereafter determining the lowest amount of the claim that could be validly asserted against a Reference Entity in respect of such Non-Contingent Amount if the obligation was redeemed or accelerated.

The quantum of the claim will be normally determined in accordance with any applicable law that reduce or discount the size of the claim to reflect the original issue price or accrued value of the obligation. Where the “2019 NTCE Supplement to the 2014 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions (July 15, 2019)” and “Fallback Discounting” both apply and if certain other conditions are met (being (a) the Outstanding Principal Balance of an obligation is not reduced or discounted in accordance with applicable law and (b) the issue price of a Bond or the amount advanced under a Loan is less than 95 per cent. of the principal redemption amount or principal repayment amount (as applicable), and in respect of such Bond or Loan, there are no provisions relating to the accretion over time of the amount which would be payable on an early redemption or repayment of such Bond or Loan that are customary for such Bond or Loan, as applicable), the Outstanding Principal Balance would instead be the lesser of (i) the Non-Contingent Amount and (ii) an amount determined by straight line interpolation between (A) the issue price of the Bond or the amount advanced under the Loan and (B) the principal redemption amount or principal repayment amount, as applicable. In such circumstances, prospective investors should note that upon Delivery by the Issuer of impacted Deliverable Obligations the amount received by the investor would potentially be further reduced which could result in an anticipated par claim being treated as less than par.

Delivery of Loans

Where physical redemption applies and to the extent investors would be required to receive loans as deliverable obligations under a Credit Linked Note, investors should be familiar with the documentation and settlement practices of the relevant secondary loan trading markets and applicable laws and regulations (including the legal consequences of furnishing or receiving non-public information regarding a Reference Entity).

Provisions of the Reference Entity's credit agreements may affect a party's ability to deliver or receive loans, the economic consequences of doing so and whether loans meet deliverability criteria. Accordingly, investors should review such agreements carefully, including the provisions governing assignments, any collateral allocation mechanisms i.e., a mandatory exchange of obligations for other obligations under a credit agreement, not all of which may be deliverable and provisions that may require or entitle a lender to advance funds.

Payment/Delivery Failure Event – failure to deliver

Investors should note that a Payment/Delivery Failure Event will occur where certain relevant definitive Credit Linked Notes and/or the Physical Redemption Election Notice are not delivered or there is a failure by the Noteholder to duly execute, deliver and/or accept a transfer certificate or other transfer document on or before any Delivery Date and/or specify a date for transfer of the relevant Deliverable Obligation that is on or before any Delivery Date. In such case, investors should note that the obligations of the Issuer to procure Delivery of the Physical Redemption Assets and make any payment shall cease until such time, such event is cured whereupon deferred delivery shall apply or if "Fallback Cash Redemption" is specified to apply in the relevant Issue Terms, fallback cash settlement shall apply. Investors will not be entitled to any payment, whether of interest or otherwise, in the event of such deferred delivery or payment.

Fixed Recovery Redemption may be subject to a fixed recovery price

If "Fixed Recovery Redemption" applies to Credit Linked Notes and the Credit Event Redemption Amount or Cash Loss Amount of the Credit Linked Notes is calculated by reference to a fixed recovery price of the obligations of a Reference Entity(ies), the occurrence of a Credit Event may result in the recovery being materially lower than the prevailing price of the relevant obligations of the relevant Reference Entity.

Investors should note that redemption could occur with a Fixed Recovery Percentage set at zero per cent. (if the relevant Pricing Supplement specifies zero as the relevant percentage).

If the Fixed Recovery Percentage is zero, following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer's obligation in respect of the Applicable Proportion of the relevant Note shall be fully and effectively discharged. Investors should be aware that where the Fixed Recovery Percentage is zero, the loss amount in respect of the Affected Reference Entity will be 100 per cent. and, accordingly, no redemption amounts (in the case of Tranching Credit Linked Notes, to the extent that such losses fall within the tranche to which the Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes are exposed) will be payable or assets deliverable to the Noteholders. Investors will therefore bear the loss of their principal.

"Cheapest-to-Deliver" risk

In the case of "Cash Redemption" or "Physical Redemption", since the Determination Agent and/or the Issuer (as applicable, in accordance with the Credit Linked Conditions) has discretion to choose the portfolio of obligations to be delivered or valued following a Credit Event in respect of a Reference Entity, it is likely that the portfolio of obligations selected will be obligations of the Reference Entity with the lowest anticipated market value that are permitted to be selected pursuant to the terms of the Credit Linked Notes. This could result in a lower recovery value and hence greater losses for an investor. Obligations of differing maturities, currencies or payment priority (either contractual or under applicable insolvency law), among other characteristics, may diverge considerably in market value.

Similar considerations apply where "Auction Redemption" applies given that the representative transaction that is priced in an auction generally allows a choice of deliverable obligations from a final list established by the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee whereby participating bidders provide two way prices.

Payments of the Credit Linked Notes may be deferred or suspended

Investors should note that in certain circumstances, for example where (i) the final Credit Event Redemption Date (or the Final Physical Redemption Cut-Off Date in relation to any Physical Redemption, as applicable) will only occur after the Scheduled Maturity Date, (ii) where the Determination Agent determines on or prior to the Scheduled Maturity Date that a potential Credit Event may occur (including Potential Failure to Pay if "Grace Period Extension" is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement or Potential Repudiation/Moratorium if "Repudiation/Moratorium" is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement), (iii) where a DC Credit Event Question has been submitted and a Credit Event Resolution Request Date may occur after the Scheduled Maturity Date but during the Notice Delivery Period which may result in a Relevant Event Determination Date occurring or (iv) a Credit Event Notice may be delivered after the Scheduled Maturity Date within an effective delivery period which may result in a Relevant Event Determination Date occurring. In such circumstances, payment of the redemption amount of the Credit Linked Notes and/or interest on the Credit Linked Notes may be deferred for a material period in whole or part without compensation to an investor. In such circumstances, the Issuer is not obliged to take any action with respect to redemption in relation to the relevant Credit Linked Notes and no additional interest shall be payable to an investor in connection with such tolling or suspension of payments, including any final redemption amount.

If, following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date (but prior to the relevant Credit Event Redemption Date, Delivery Date or Valuation Date, as applicable), there is an Applicable DC Credit Event Meeting Announcement, all redemption timing requirements will toll and remain suspended until the date of the Applicable DC Credit Event Announcement or Applicable DC Credit Event Question Dismissal, as applicable. Once the relevant DC Credit Event Announcement or DC Credit Event Question Dismissal has occurred, the relevant timing requirements that pertain to settlement that have previously tolled or been suspended shall resume on the Business Day following such public announcement by the relevant CDS Information Publisher, with the Issuer having the benefit of the full day notwithstanding when the tolling or suspension began.

Payment/Delivery Failure Event – failure to pay

Investors should note that where it is impossible, impracticable or illegal for the Issuer to pay (due to an event beyond the control of the Issuer) or for a Noteholder to accept payment of (due to an event beyond the control of such Noteholder), required to be paid by the Issuer on the date intended for such payment, the obligation of the Issuer to pay the relevant amount scheduled to be paid will be postponed until such time that the event no longer exists or is cured but where the event continues to exist on the Payment Failure Cut-Off Date, no such payment will be made by the Issuer and the Issuer's obligations to the investor will be deemed to be fully discharged as of that date. Any postponement or deemed discharge of payment will not constitute an Event of Default and will not entitle the relevant investors to any additional interest or other payment as a result thereof.

Determination of Event Determination Dates and Credit Event Redemption Dates post Scheduled Maturity Date

Investors should note that an Event Determination Date which would give rise to a redemption could occur (i) as a result of notices being provided during the prescribed notice delivery period (being the period from, and including, the Trade Date to, and including, the 14th calendar day after the Extension Date (which may fall after the Scheduled Maturity Date in the case of a Potential Failure to Pay (and "Grace Period Extension" is applicable) or a Potential Repudiation/Moratorium)) or post dismissal additional period (which may occur after the Scheduled Maturity Date, being the period from and including the date of the Applicable DC Credit Event Question Dismissal to the 14th calendar day thereafter) or (ii) in some cases, as a result of a DC Credit Event Announcement following a Credit Event Resolution Request Date occurring on or prior to the last day of the notice delivery period (which may fall after the Scheduled Maturity Date), as a result of requests submitted after the Scheduled Maturity Date by market participants to the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee for the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee to be convened to deliberate an issue.

The Scheduled Maturity Date of the Credit Linked Note may also be extended where the last relevant Credit Event Redemption Date, Final Physical Redemption Cut-Off Date (with respect to physical redemption) or a Payment Failure Cut-Off Date occurs after the Scheduled Maturity Date (including any final Partial Cash Redemption Date or final Fallback Cash Redemption Date, as applicable). In each of these circumstances, the scheduled maturity date of the Credit Linked Notes will be extended and investors should note that the final redemption amounts, if any would be payable on a date later than the Scheduled Maturity Date and no additional interest shall be payable to an investor in connection with such tolling or suspension of payments, including any final redemption amount.

Adjustments and amendments

Investors should note that the Credit Linked Notes may be subject to amendments without consent of the investors, where an Event Determination Date is deemed (i) to have occurred on a date that is different from the date that was originally determined to be the Event Determination Date; (ii) not to have occurred or (iii) to have occurred prior to a preceding Interest Payment Date.

Certain DC resolutions may reverse prior DC resolutions (including DC resolutions relating to Successors or Substitute Reference Obligations) or the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date that has resulted in the occurrence of an Auction Final Price Determination Date, a Physical Redemption Date, redemption of the Credit Linked Notes in full, a Valuation Date or a Delivery Date, as applicable and depending on the circumstances, may have the effect of reversing the economic impact for the Credit Linked Notes. Investors should be aware that in these circumstances, the Determination Agent will, in its sole and absolute discretion, make all necessary amendments or undertake all necessary actions to give effect to such reversal (including determining the adjustment payment, if any, that is payable to investors, and the date the adjustment payment is payable) and no accruals of interest, if any, shall be taken into account when calculating any such adjustment payment and when making such adjustments, no further consent of the Noteholder shall be required.

Further, investors should note that the Determination Agent may from time to time, without obtaining the consent of the Noteholders, amend provisions of the Credit Linked Conditions and the applicable Pricing Supplement in any manner which the Determination Agent determines (acting in a commercially reasonable manner) is necessary or desirable (i) to incorporate and/or reflect (a) further or alternative documents or protocols from time to time published by ISDA with respect to the documentation or redemption of Credit Linked Notes and/or (b) the operation or application of determinations by the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees and/or (ii) to account for market practice to be reflected in the terms of the Credit Linked Notes. Any such amendment may affect the value of, and return on, the Credit Linked Notes.

Potential conflicts of interest

The Calculation Agent, the Determination Agent and one or more of their affiliates is a leading dealer in the credit derivatives market. If “Auction Redemption” is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement and is applicable under the Credit Linked Notes, and an auction is held in respect of a Reference Entity for which a Credit Event has occurred, there is a high probability that the Calculation Agent, the Determination Agent or one of their affiliates would act as a participating bidder in any such auction. In such capacity, it may take certain actions which may influence the final price determined pursuant to the auction, including, without limitation, (i) submitting bids, offers and physical settlement requests (either on its or their own behalf or on behalf of customers) with respect to the relevant deliverable obligations and (ii) providing rates of conversion to determine the applicable currency conversion rates to be used to convert any obligations that are not denominated in the auction currency into such currency for the purposes of the auction. In deciding whether to take any such action, or whether to act as a participating bidder in any auction, the Calculation Agent, the Determination Agent or one or more of their affiliates (as applicable) shall be under no obligation to consider the interests of any investors and the effects of their participation may have a material adverse effect on the value of a Credit Linked Note.

None of the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer or any of their respective affiliates is currently a voting member on any Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee. However, prospective investors should note that they may subsequently become a voting member and will also be a party to transactions that rely on determinations of the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee. The Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer and/or their respective affiliates may take actions that influence the decisions of the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee. Such actions may be adverse to the interests of the Noteholders while benefiting the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer and/or any of their respective affiliates. In taking any action relating to the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee or performing any duty under the DC Rules, neither the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer nor any of their respective affiliates has any obligation to consider the interests of the Noteholders and may act regardless of any conflict of interest due to its responsibilities under the Credit Linked Notes.

Prospective investors should also be aware the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee will be able to make a broad range of determinations in accordance with the DC Rules that may be relevant to the Credit Linked Notes and materially affect the Noteholders. The Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee will be able to make determinations without action or knowledge by the Noteholders.

The Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer and/or the Determination Agent and/or their respective affiliates may also have an interest in data sources that publish credit indices and may participate, together with other dealers, in the process or advisory committees by which the credit index sponsor determines the composition of any credit index which is a Reference Index for Untranchured Index Credit Linked Notes or Tranchured Index Credit Linked Notes, as applicable, and makes certain other determinations with respect to the credit index, including the removal of Reference Entities or reference obligations from that credit index or to determine changes in the composition of credit indices. By virtue of such participation in each of the circumstances described above, none of the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer, the Determination Agent nor any of their respective affiliates has any obligation to consider the interests of the Noteholders and may act regardless of any conflict of interest due to its responsibilities under the Credit Linked Notes.

The Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer, the Determination Agent or the Calculation Agent may have dealings and information in relation to Reference Entities

The Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer, the Determination Agent and/or the Calculation Agent and/or their respective affiliates may, now or in the future, deal in obligations of the Reference Entities, make equity investments in a Reference Entity, engage in business with a Reference Entity, its affiliates and its competitors or any other person or entity having obligations relating to a Reference Entity, including making loans to, or otherwise extend credit to, and generally engage in any kind of commercial or investment banking or other business, including asset management or other advisory services, including merger and acquisition or bankruptcy-related advisory services. The Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer, the Determination Agent, the Calculation Agent and/or their respective affiliates may also participate in loan restructurings or recapitalisations that may affect the Credit Linked Note and any reference obligations. In such circumstances, the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer, the Determination Agent and/or the Calculation Agent and/or their respective affiliates may act with respect to such dealings, business and advisory freely and without accountability to any investor in the same manner as if the Credit Linked Notes did not exist, and any such action might have an adverse effect on any investor (including, without limitation, any action that might give rise to a Credit Event).

The Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer, the Determination Agent and/or the Calculation Agent and/or their respective affiliates may be, whether by virtue of the types of relationships described above or otherwise, at any time, in possession of information in relation to any Reference Entity (or any obligations thereof) which is or may be material in the context of the Credit Linked Notes and which is or may not be known to the general public or Noteholders. The Credit Linked Notes do not create any obligation to disclose to Noteholders any such relationship or information (whether or not confidential), notwithstanding that any such relationship or information may have an adverse impact on the value of, and return on, the Credit Linked Notes.

The Credit Linked Notes do not represent an interest in obligations of Reference Entities

The Credit Linked Notes do not represent or convey any interest in any obligations of Reference Entities or any direct or indirect obligation of any Reference Entity to an investor. The Issuer is not an agent of any investor for any purpose and an investor will not have rights equivalent to those of a holder of debt obligations of a Reference Entity, such as voting rights or rights to receive consent fees or other distributions from a Reference Entity. For example, if a restructuring occurs with respect to a Reference Entity, the investor, unlike a holder of a Reference Entity's obligations, will have no right to challenge or participate in any element of the restructuring. If the Issuer is the owner of one or more obligations of a Reference Entity, it may exercise its voting or control rights or otherwise act in its capacity as holder of such obligations without regard to the interests of an investor, and such actions could adversely affect the Credit Linked Notes held by an investor. Consequently, the investor's purchase of the Credit Linked Notes may be riskier than a direct investment in the obligations of a Reference Entity. The purchase of a Credit Linked Note differs from an offering of new obligations by a Reference Entity in that none of the subscription moneys paid with respect to the Credit Linked Note will go to a Reference Entity. The Issuer in addition does not grant any security interest over any such obligations of the Reference Entity.

Operational risks and notices

The Credit Linked Notes may require that certain notices be given in order to exercise rights, realise value or protect and preserve interests under the Credit Linked Notes, including but not limited to notices to investors by the Issuer of the occurrence of a Credit Event or that describes a succession together with supporting information, the choice of obligations to be delivered or valued, certain potential Credit Events and the exercise of the right to utilise parallel auctions in the case of certain restructuring Credit Events and in the case of Physical Redemption, the provision of a Physical Redemption Election Notice by an investor.

Investors should have arrangements for delivering and receiving such notices and monitoring the actions of the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees, and be prepared to take the necessary or appropriate steps when it receives such notices or learn of such actions where an investor needs to take action pursuant to such notice. Failure to take the relevant steps or actions within the requisite time periods could adversely affect an investor's interests under a Credit Linked Note.

Investors should note that in some cases, determinations of a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee may substitute for a required notice, modify the effect of a previously delivered notice or alter the period during which a notice may be delivered which may impact on timings of notices provided by the Issuer.

Investors should further note that where any notice is required to be delivered by the Issuer to investors, such notices shall be deemed to have been delivered to investors upon delivery of such notice to the Fiscal Agent by the Issuer. The failure of the Fiscal Agent to deliver any such notice to Noteholders shall not affect however (i) the effectiveness of any notice delivered by the Determination Agent to the Issuer and/or the Issuer to the Fiscal Agent (ii) the effectiveness of any determinations made by any of them or (iii) the right of the Issuer to redeem (whether in whole or in part) the Credit Linked Notes or to write down any aggregate principal notional of the Credit Linked Notes pursuant to and in accordance with the relevant Credit Linked Conditions.

Where the relevant notice is to be provided by the Issuer, the Determination Agent or the Fiscal Agent, investors should note that a failure by any of such parties to deliver the relevant notices or any decision by any of them not to deliver a Credit Event Notice to the investor shall not constitute an Event of Default under the relevant Credit Linked Notes.

Discretionary powers of the Determination Agent

Subject to the effect of certain DC Resolutions as further set out in the Credit Linked Conditions, the determination by the Determination Agent of a Credit Event or any other calculation or determination in respect of the Credit Linked Notes or of any state of affairs, circumstance, event or other matter, or the formation of any opinion or the exercise of any discretion required or permitted to be determined, formed or exercised by the Determination Agent shall (in the absence of manifest error) be final and binding on all persons (including the Issuer, the Fiscal Agent and any Noteholder). In performing its duties pursuant to the Credit Linked Notes and making any determinations expressed to be made by it, the Determination Agent may either act in its sole and absolute discretion or act in a commercially reasonable manner (as the case may be). Where the Determination Agent acts in its sole and absolute discretion, it is under no obligation to act in the interests of any investor, nor will it be liable to account for any profit or other benefit which may accrue to it as a result of such determinations. Any determinations made or actions taken by the Determination Agent may have a negative effect on the value of, and return on, the Notes.

Interpretation of terms

The terms of the Credit Linked Notes are subject to interpretation and further evolution. In some instances, the views of market participants may differ as to how the terms of specific credit provisions should be interpreted in the context of specific events, entities and obligations in comparison to that of a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee or Determination Agent where applicable. Accordingly, the consequences resulting from the interpretation of various terms could vary in the context of the Credit Linked Notes and result in unexpected losses, redemption, write-down, reduction in interest and other economic impact for an investor.

Foreign exchange risks

Investors should note that in certain circumstances, a currency conversion may be required to effect certain determinations, calculations in relation to any payment or delivery obligation with respect to the Credit Linked Notes. Delivery of an underlying obligation denominated in a currency that is different from the settlement currency of the Credit Linked Notes will have effects similar to a currency conversion. Investors should note that with respect to any auction in connection with Auction Redemption, the relevant exchange rates to be applied with respect to the auction, where relevant will be set by the auction administrators prior to any auction final price determination date. In such circumstances, the Credit Linked Notes will have foreign exchange rate risk, which may have an adverse impact on the value of, and return on, the Credit Linked Notes.

Risks relating to Linear Basket Credit Linked Notes

With respect to Linear Basket Credit Linked Notes, investors should note that they could be exposed to significant losses which may result from changes in the market's perception of the credit quality of the underlying Reference Entities. The market's perception of the credit quality of the underlying Reference Entities may be highly volatile and may change very rapidly following the availability of new information. Investors should refer to the risk factors entitled "Credit risk of the Reference Entity", "Jurisdictional differences and assessment of a Reference Entity", "Reference Entity – No obligation to consider investors", "Historical performance may not predict future performance", and "Concentrated credit risk where Reference Entities are concentrated in the same sectors or regions". Investors should carefully review the list of Reference Entities that constitute the Linear Basket Credit Linked Notes and evaluate whether such exposure meets its stated objectives and is representative of the market to which exposure is required.

Investors should note that an investment in relation to a bespoke portfolio of Reference Entities may have significantly less liquidity than there is for an investment in an Untranch Index Credit Linked Note or a Tranch Index Credit Linked Note which is based on a standardised credit index and accordingly there may be no, or a limited, secondary market in such Credit Linked Notes.

Risks relating to Untranch Index Credit Linked Notes and Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes

Investors could be exposed to significant losses which may result from changes in the market's perception of the credit quality of the underlying Reference Entities within the relevant credit index specified as the Reference Index in respect of the Credit Linked Notes. The Reference Entities included in a Reference Index will typically have certain specified characteristics in common, such as type of obligor (e.g., corporate, municipal or sovereign); geographic region (e.g., North America, Europe, Asia or emerging markets); and/or credit rating category (e.g., investment grade or high yield). These characteristics may be relevant to the probability of a Credit Event occurring under the Untranch Index Credit Linked Notes or Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes, as applicable, as Credit Events may be more likely for Reference Entities with certain of these characteristics than for others. The market's perception of the credit quality of the underlying Reference Entities may be highly volatile and may change very rapidly following the availability of new information. The market for credit indices has been subject to significant distortions from time to time in the past as a result of the actions of one or a small number of market participants that may take large positions in a credit index. These distortions have in the past led, and may in the future lead, to a high degree of volatility, as well as a wide and potentially unsustainable divergence between the market price of credit default swaps referencing credit indices and the price that would be expected based on the market price of credit default swaps on the underlying Reference Entities. The Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer, the Determination Agent or one or more of their respective affiliates' trading activities may represent a significant portion of the market for a particular credit index and, the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer, the Determination Agent or one or more of their respective affiliates may be a contributor to such volatility and distortions. Accordingly, investors should note that they could be exposed to the volatility with respect to the Reference Index which could have an impact on the market value of the Untranch Index Credit Linked Notes or Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes, as applicable, over time.

Given that the risks of a credit index will vary depending on the characteristics of the underlying Reference Entities, investors should carefully review the list of Reference Entities that constitute the Reference Index referenced in the applicable Pricing Supplement and evaluate whether such exposure meets its stated objectives and is representative of the market to which exposure is required. In addition, investors should understand that the Reference Entities in a credit index of investment grade Reference Entities may be investment grade rated only at inception of the credit index or relevant series of the credit index, and that such Reference Entities may be downgraded thereafter.

Investors should also note that there is no guarantee that there will be a liquid market for any particular credit index. A credit index sponsor may publish a new series of an underlying credit index from time to time (for example, every six months). Market liquidity is often concentrated in the most recent series and may decline for a given credit index when a new series of the credit index is published.

Investors should note that the credit index sponsor may calculate the published spread or price for a credit index based on a poll of dealers. The Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer, the Determination Agent or one or more of their affiliates may be one of the dealers polled by the credit index sponsor and, if so, the actions of the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer, the Determination Agent or one or more of their respective affiliates in such circumstances could affect the published spread or price. In addition, the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer, the Determination Agent or one or more of their respective affiliates may participate, together with other dealers, in the process or advisory committees by which the credit index sponsor determines the composition of a credit index and makes certain other determinations with respect to the credit index, including the removal of Reference Entities or reference obligations from such credit index. In taking any such actions, the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer, the Determination Agent or one or more of their respective affiliates has no obligation to consider the interests of any investor under Untranch Index Credit Linked Notes or Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes, as applicable, for which such credit index is the Reference Index. Investors should therefore be aware that any such action by the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Dealer, the Determination Agent or one or more of their respective affiliates could affect such Reference Index and therefore also adversely affect the market value of the Untranch Index Credit Linked Notes or Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes, as applicable. See also "Potential conflicts of interest" above.

In addition, investors are exposed to losses arising from Credit Events in relation to Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes only to the extent that aggregate losses exceed the "attachment point" but remain less than the "exhaustion point" of the tranche. The likelihood that an investor will be exposed to losses is therefore greater for more subordinated tranches (i.e. those with a lower attachment point in relation to tranche portfolio size).

In addition, Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes (other than the most senior tranches) are leveraged instruments because investors may incur losses on an accelerated basis relative to aggregate losses on the portfolio. Investors will not owe any payment for losses unless and until aggregate losses on the portfolio exceed the attachment point, but investors will be exposed to losses equal to the entire notional amount of the Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes if aggregate losses on the portfolio reach the exhaustion point. Therefore, the smaller the tranche size relative to the implied notional amount of the entire portfolio, the greater the degree of leverage. For any given portfolio of Reference Entities, the lower the attachment point and the greater the leverage, the greater the risk for the investor where acting as though it were a protection seller. However, this does not mean that the most senior tranches present low risks for protection sellers.

The value of such Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes will be influenced by the valuation factors described above in the risk factor entitled "Volatility" described above but in addition, the value of such Credit Linked Notes will be influenced by expectations about "default correlation," among other model-dependent factors. Default correlation refers to the likelihood of any given number of Reference Entities experiencing a Credit Event over any given time period. Changes in default correlation affect tranches of different seniority differently. In general, from the perspective of an investor acting as though it were a protection seller, holding all other factors constant: (i) a decrease in default correlation will decrease the value of the most junior tranche (i.e., the tranche with the lowest attachment point), because it will represent an increase in the expected probability of losses on that tranche; (ii) an increase in default correlation will decrease the value of the most senior tranche (i.e., the tranche with the highest attachment point), because it will represent an increase in the expected probability of losses on that tranche; and (iii) any increase or decrease in default correlation may either increase or decrease the value of mezzanine tranches (i.e., tranches between the most junior and most senior tranches), depending on a complex interplay of various factors.

The degree of default correlation among the Reference Entities in a given portfolio may be influenced by numerous factors, including whether the Reference Entities operate in similar industries or geographic regions and whether the Reference Entities have similar levels of leverage (i.e., debt relative to equity). Default correlation tends to increase during economic downturns and decrease during periods of economic growth. Accordingly, although the most senior tranches are generally less risky to a protection seller than the most junior tranches, in certain circumstances (including during an economic downturn), the most senior tranches will tend to lose value from the perspective of the protection seller at a faster rate than the most junior tranches. In circumstances where Reference Entities in a portfolio are widely affected, a protection seller under a senior tranche may incur losses equal to the entire notional amount, in which case the senior tranche will prove to have been no less risky than junior tranches. Default correlation may change significantly, and in some cases abruptly, with changes in market conditions.

Default correlation is difficult to estimate, and different market participants may calculate it in different ways and may change the ways in which they calculate it over time which may be adverse to an investor in a Tranch Index Credit Linked Note. Accordingly, the valuation of such Credit Linked Notes is subject to "model risk" (i.e., the risk that a valuation model does not accurately depict the value of a tranche or the relationship between tranche values) which may result in significant losses where certain strategies based on modelled relations between the values of tranches break down.

The terms and conditions of the Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes may provide for changes in the constituents of the credit index Index, as applicable, upon the occurrence of certain events, such as the determination of a Successor. These changes may affect the level of default correlation among the Reference Entities in the portfolio and, therefore, the value of such Credit Linked Notes.

Risks relating to Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes

Credit Recovery on Maturity in respect of Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes

Where "Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes" and "Credit Recovery on Maturity" apply, as the Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount is an amount which increases following each Period End Date, then the Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount in respect of a Relevant Event Determination Date which occurs significantly earlier than the Scheduled Maturity Date, will be significantly lower than the Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount that would have accrued by the Scheduled Maturity Date. In these circumstances, the Final Auction Redemption Amount, Final Cash Redemption Amount or Final Physical Redemption Assets (as applicable) which is calculated, in part, by reference to the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount (which is ultimately linked to the Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount or (in the case of Basket Credit Linked Notes) the Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount for each Reference Entity, in each case as at the Period End Date on or immediately before the first Relevant Event Determination Date, as applicable, in respect of such Reference Entity) payable on the Scheduled Maturity Date will be significantly less than the amount payable if the Final Auction Redemption Amount, Final Cash Redemption Amount or Final Physical Redemption Assets (as applicable) had been calculated based on the Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount or Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount for each Reference Entity, as applicable, as at the Scheduled Maturity Date.

Credit Event Redemption Amount in respect of Non-accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes

Where the Credit Linked Notes are Zero Coupon Notes but “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” does not apply, then if a Relevant Event Determination occurs prior to the Scheduled Maturity Date, the Credit Event Redemption Amount will be calculated by reference to the Outstanding Nominal Amount (in the case of a Single Name Credit Linked Note) or Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount in respect of the relevant Reference Entity (in the case of a Basket Credit Linked Note), without any accretion, and such amount shall be lower than the Credit Event Redemption Amount had “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” applied to the Credit Linked Notes.

Characterisation as Securitisation

Prospective investors should note that, if and to the extent that any Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes were to be considered a "securitisation" within the meaning of the EU Securitisation Regulation and/or the UK Securitisation Regulation, the Issuer is of the view that, the exemption referred to in Article 6(6) of the EU Securitisation Regulation and the UK Securitisation Regulation applies in respect of the Credit Linked Notes on the basis that the Credit Linked Notes are based on a clear, transparent and accessible index.

For these purposes:

"EU Securitisation Regulation" means Regulation 2017/2402/EU and any implemented or delegated regulation, technical standards and guidance related thereto, as each may be amended, replaced or supplemented from time to time and including any additional similar regulation or successors thereof.

"UK Securitisation Regulation" means Regulation 2017/2402/EU as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 and regulations made thereunder and (i) any technical standards thereunder as may be effective from time to time and (ii) any guidance relating thereto as may from time to time be published by the United Kingdom Financial Conduct Authority and/or the Prudential Regulation Authority of the Bank of England (or, in each case, any successor thereto).

CREDIT LINKED CONDITIONS

If "Supplementary Provisions for Credit Linked Notes" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes shall be supplemented and modified by the following Credit Linked Conditions. In the event of any inconsistency between the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes and such Credit Linked Conditions, such Credit Linked Conditions shall prevail and the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes shall be amended accordingly. Capitalised terms not defined herein shall have the meanings given to them in the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes, unless specified otherwise.

1. Redemption of Credit Linked Notes:

1.1 Introduction

A Credit Linked Note refers to a Single Name Credit Linked Note, a Basket Credit Linked Note or a Tranching Index Credit Linked Note.

- (i) Single Name Credit Linked Notes are Credit Linked Notes pursuant to which the Issuer purchases credit protection from Noteholders in respect of any one Reference Entity and, accordingly, Noteholders are exposed to the credit risk of such Reference Entity only (subject to the Successor provisions set out in Credit Linked Condition 19 (Successor Provisions)).
- (ii) Basket Credit Linked Notes are Linear Basket Credit Linked Notes or Untranching Index Credit Linked Notes.

Basket Credit Linked Notes are Credit Linked Notes pursuant to which the Issuer purchases credit protection from Noteholders in respect of a basket of two or more Reference Entities and, accordingly, Noteholders are exposed to the credit risk of each such Reference Entity in proportion to its weighting in the basket (subject to the Successor provisions set out in Credit Linked Condition 19 (Successor Provisions)).

- (a) If the Basket Credit Linked Notes are Linear Basket Credit Linked Notes, the Reference Entities in the basket as of the Issue Date will be specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement.
 - (b) If the Basket Credit Linked Notes are Untranching Index Credit Linked Notes, the Reference Entities in the basket as of the Issue Date will be the entities comprised in the credit index specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement.
- (iii) Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes are Credit Linked Notes pursuant to which the Issuer purchases credit protection from Noteholders in respect of a specified tranche of Reference Entities comprising the credit index specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement and, accordingly, Noteholders are exposed to the credit risk of each such Reference Entity in proportion to its weighting in the basket (subject to the Successor provisions set out in Credit Linked Condition 19 (Successor Provisions)).

1.2 Interpretation

- (i) For the purposes of Basket Credit Linked Notes, all references to the "Reference Entity" in the Conditions and the Credit Linked Conditions will be construed to refer to the Reference Entity in respect of which the relevant determination falls to be made at any relevant time and all related provisions and determinations will be construed accordingly.
- (ii) For the purposes of Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes, all references to the "Reference Entity" in the Conditions and the Credit Linked Conditions will be construed to refer to the Reference Entity in respect of which the relevant determination falls to be made at any relevant time and all related provisions and determinations will be construed accordingly.

1.3 Redemption on the Scheduled Maturity Date where no Relevant Credit Event has occurred

Unless the Credit Linked Notes have been previously redeemed in full or purchased and cancelled by the Issuer, provided that a Relevant Event Determination Date has not occurred and subject to Credit Linked Condition 10 (Scheduled Maturity Date Extension), each outstanding Credit Linked Note shall be redeemed on the Scheduled Maturity Date at the Maturity Redemption Amount.

1.4 Redemption following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event

Unless previously redeemed in full or purchased and cancelled, if a Relevant Credit Event and a corresponding Relevant Event Determination Date has occurred, the Issuer will redeem such Credit Linked Notes (in whole or in part) in accordance with, as applicable, Credit Linked Condition 4 (Single Name Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events), Credit Linked Condition 5 (Basket Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events) or Credit Linked Condition 6 (Tranched Index Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events), each subject to Credit Linked Conditions 11 (M(M)R Restructuring), 18 (Effect of DC Resolutions and Event Determination Dates) and 19 (Successor Provisions).

Upon discharge by the Issuer of its payment or delivery obligations on the relevant Credit Event Redemption Date (or, if the Issuer does not have any payment or delivery obligations, upon the occurrence of the relevant Credit Event Redemption Date) pursuant to Credit Linked Conditions 12 (Auction Redemption Terms), 13 (Cash Redemption Terms), 14 (Physical Redemption Terms) or 15 (Fixed Recovery Redemption Terms), as applicable, or otherwise provided herein, the Issuer's obligations in respect of such portion of each Credit Linked Note affected by the Relevant Credit Event shall be discharged in full.

As a result of one or more Credit Events, Noteholders may receive less than the principal amount of a Credit Linked Note (and such amount may be zero). Any shortfall shall be borne by the Noteholders and no liability shall attach to the Issuer.

1.5 Early redemption other than following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event

If the Credit Linked Notes are redeemed early:

- (i) pursuant to Conditions 26.2 (Tax Redemption – Morgan Stanley Notes, MSFL Notes and MSFII Notes), 26.3 (Tax Redemption – MSI plc Notes, MSBV Notes, MSFII Notes and MSESE Notes), 26.5 (Redemption at the Option of the Issuer), 26.6 (as amended by Credit Linked Condition 1.6 (Redemption at the Non-Discretionary Option of the Issuer)), 26.8 (Partial Redemption), 26.9 (Redemption at the Option of Noteholders), 26.10 (Early Redemption of Zero Coupon Notes), 31 (Events of Default), 32 (Illegality and Regulatory Event) or any other provisions resulting in early redemption of the Notes under the Conditions;
- (ii) following, if applicable, a Merger Event pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 16 (Redemption upon Merger Event) (which, in the case of Basket Credit Linked Notes or Tranched Index Credit Linked Notes, redemption may be in part); or
- (iii) in respect of Single Name Credit Linked Notes and Linear Basket Credit Linked Notes, following, if applicable, the redemption in whole of the Reference Obligation pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 21.3 (Reference Obligation Only Redemption) (which, in the case of Linear Basket Credit Linked Notes, redemption may be in part), each outstanding Credit Linked Note shall be redeemed (in whole or in part, as applicable) by payment of its Early Redemption Amount, Optional Redemption Amount (Call), Optional Redemption Amount (Put) or other early redemption amounts specified in the Conditions, as applicable, on the Optional Redemption Date (Call), Optional Redemption Date (Put) or Substitution Event Date or other early redemption date specified in the Conditions, as applicable, in each case, in accordance with the applicable Condition or Credit Linked Condition.

Where the Credit Linked Notes are also Zero Coupon Notes, the Redemption Amount (if such Zero Coupon Notes are redeemed before the Scheduled Maturity Date) is determined in accordance with Condition 26.10 (Early Redemption of Zero Coupon Notes) unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

Notwithstanding anything contained in these Credit Linked Conditions, if a Relevant Credit Event occurs immediately after an event triggering early redemption of the Credit Linked Notes (as described above but excluding for these purposes any redemption under Condition 26.5 (Redemption at the Option of the Issuer), 26.6 (Redemption at the Non-Discretionary Option of the Issuer) or 26.8 (Partial Redemption), 26.9 (Redemption at the Option of Noteholders)), the occurrence of the Relevant Credit Event will be disregarded (to the extent that the relevant Credit Linked Notes have not already been redeemed in full and cancelled) and the Early Redemption Amount or other early redemption amounts specified in the Conditions, as applicable, payable to Noteholders will be determined on the basis of the event triggering early redemption of the Credit Linked Notes only (and not pursuant to the terms relating to redemption for the Relevant Credit Event).

1.6 Redemption at the Non-Discretionary Option of the Issuer

Condition 26.6 (Redemption at the Non-Discretionary Option of the Issuer) shall be replaced in its entirety by this Credit Linked Condition 1.6.

If “Non-discretionary Call Option” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement and provided that no Relevant Event Determination Date has occurred, the Credit Linked Notes shall be redeemed by the Issuer in whole, but not in part, on any Optional Redemption Date (Call) at the relevant Optional Redemption Amount (Call) if, and only if, the output of a risk neutral valuation model on a Business Day that is at least 27 but no greater than 30 Business Days prior to such Optional Redemption Date, as selected by the Determination Agent (the “Optional Redemption Determination Date”), taking as input: (i) prevailing reference market levels, volatilities and correlations, as applicable and in each case, as of the Optional Redemption Determination Date and (ii) the Issuer’s credit spreads as of the Trade Date(s) indicates, in the determination of the Determination Agent, that redeeming the Credit Linked Notes on such Optional Redemption Date (Call) would be economically more rational for the Issuer than not redeeming the Credit Linked Notes on such Optional Redemption Date (Call). If the Issuer is required to redeem the Credit Linked Notes on any Optional Redemption Date (Call) in accordance with this Credit Linked Condition 1.6, the Issuer will give the Noteholders not less than 5 Business Days’ prior notice.

Notwithstanding Credit Linked Condition 4.5 (Redemption following a Credit Event) or 5.5 (Redemption following a Credit Event), as applicable, if a potential Credit Event occurs or is outstanding as of the Optional Redemption Date (Call) then the Credit Linked Notes shall not redeem on such Optional Redemption Date (Call) and any notice given by the Issuer in accordance with this Credit Linked Condition 1.6 shall be deemed withdrawn.

2. Interest or premium on Single Name Credit Linked Notes and Basket Credit Linked Notes

This Credit Linked Condition 2 only applies in respect of Single Name Credit Linked Notes and Basket Credit Linked Notes and where “Interest on Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

Credit Linked Conditions 2.1 to 2.5 below shall not apply in respect of Non Credit Linked Interest Notes.

2.1 Accrual of Interest where a Relevant Event Determination Date has not occurred

Subject to Credit Linked Condition 2.3 (Suspension of Interest following an Applicable DC Credit Event Question or a potential Credit Event), and provided that (i) the Credit Linked Notes have not been previously redeemed in full or purchased and cancelled, (ii) a Relevant Event Determination Date has not occurred and (iii) the Credit Linked Notes are not Zero Coupon Notes, interest (if any) shall accrue on the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount of the Credit Linked Notes in accordance with Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) in respect of Fixed Rate Notes or Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions) in respect of Floating Rate Notes or Other Underlying Interest Linked Notes, as applicable (each as amended) to (but excluding) the Scheduled Maturity Date, subject to, as applicable, Credit Linked Condition 4 (Single Name Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events) or Credit Linked Condition 5 (Basket Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events).

Subject as provided in Credit Linked Condition 2.7 (Accrual of Interest where the Redemption Amount, Credit Event Redemption Amount, Partial Cash Redemption Amount, Fallback Cash Redemption Amount or Asset Package Cash Redemption Amount is improperly withheld or refused) below, no interest shall accrue on any Credit Linked Note on or after the Scheduled Maturity Date.

2.2 Suspension of Accrual of Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) or 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions), as applicable, following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event and a corresponding Relevant Event Determination Date, the payment of interest (if any) in respect of the Applicable Proportion of each relevant Credit Linked Note on the relevant Interest Payment Date, as determined in accordance with and subject to, as applicable, Credit Linked Condition 4 (Single Name Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events) or Credit Linked Condition 5 (Basket Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events), will be suspended from (and including):

- (i) If “No Interest Accrual on Default” applies in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date (or, if no Interest Payment Date has occurred, the Interest Commencement Date); or
- (ii) if “Interest Accrual on Default” applies in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the first Business Day immediately following the Relevant Event Determination Date.

In such case, interest shall accrue on the Applicable Proportion of each relevant Credit Linked Note:

- (a) from (and including) the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date, or (where there is no Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date), the Interest Commencement Date;
- (b) to (and including) the Relevant Event Determination Date.

Subject as provided in Credit Linked Condition 2.7 (Accrual of Interest where the Redemption Amount, Credit Event Redemption Amount, Partial Cash Redemption Amount, Fallback Cash Redemption Amount or Asset Package Cash Redemption Amount is improperly withheld or refused) below, no interest shall accrue on any Credit Linked Note on or after the Scheduled Maturity Date.

2.3 Suspension of Interest following an Applicable DC Credit Event Question or a potential Credit Event

Subject to Credit Linked Conditions 2.4 (Payment of Suspended Interest following announcement by the relevant CDS Information Publisher or determination by the Determination Agent), 2.5 (Payment of Suspended Interest and reduction of future Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event) and 10 (Scheduled Maturity Date Extension), if, on or prior to an Interest Payment Date, the Determination Agent determines that, in its sole and absolute discretion:

- (i) an Applicable DC Credit Event Question has been submitted in respect of which a DC Resolution (including, but not limited to, a DC Credit Event Announcement, a DC No Credit Event Announcement or a DC Credit Event Question Dismissal) has not been published or the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee has not resolved whether it will convene a meeting to Resolve the Applicable DC Credit Event Question; or
- (ii) a Relevant Credit Event and corresponding Relevant Event Determination Date could occur but no Credit Event Notice has been provided to the Issuer and/or the Noteholders (including, without limitation, a Potential Failure to Pay or a Potential Repudiation/Moratorium), the payment of any interest in respect of the Applicable Proportion will be suspended as of the Interest Payment Date on or immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date, or, where there is no Interest Payment Date, immediately preceding such Relevant Event Determination Date, the Interest Commencement Date, notwithstanding that a Relevant Event Determination Date has not then occurred.

The Issuer shall endeavour to give notice to the Noteholders in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices) as soon as reasonably practicable if any payment of interest on their Notes is suspended pursuant to this Credit Linked Condition 2.3.

For the purposes of this Credit Linked Condition 2.3, the Applicable Proportion of each relevant Credit Linked Note shall be calculated by the Determination Agent (a) on the assumption that (x) a Relevant Credit Event would result in a Relevant Event Determination Date, (y) the Relevant Credit Event will not be an M(M)R Restructuring and (z) where “Fixed Recovery Redemption” is applicable and any Auction Final Price, Final Price or amount of Physical Redemption Assets, as applicable, is required to determine the portion of the Credit Linked Notes subject to interest suspension, the Fixed Recovery Percentage will apply and (b) in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 4 (Single Name Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events) or Credit Linked Condition 5 (Basket Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events).

Except for such portion of interest that is suspended in respect of each Credit Linked Note, payment of any interest on the remaining portion of the relevant Credit Linked Note (which is unaffected by the Relevant Credit Event), if applicable, will be payable to Noteholders as usual on the relevant Interest Payment Date.

2.4 Payment of Suspended Interest following announcement by the relevant CDS Information Publisher or determination by the Determination Agent

If:

- (i) in connection with an Applicable DC Credit Event Question:
 - (a) an Applicable DC No Credit Event Announcement occurs; or
 - (b) an Applicable DC Credit Event Question Dismissal occurs or the relevant CDS Information Publisher announces that the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee will not be convening to Resolve the relevant Applicable DC Credit Event Question; or
- (ii) the Determination Agent determines that a Relevant Event Determination Date can no longer occur, as applicable, payment of the suspended interest will be made on the fifth Business Day following (A) in the case of Credit Linked Condition 2.4(i), the relevant announcement by the relevant CDS Information Publisher or date of the Applicable DC Credit Event Question Dismissal, as applicable or (B) in the case of Credit Linked Condition 2.4(ii), the date on which the Determination Agent determines that a Relevant Event Determination Date can no longer occur (taking into consideration, without limitation, any Notice Delivery Period and any Standard Exercise Cut-off Date or Non-Standard Exercise Cut-Off Date, as applicable).

For the avoidance of doubt, interest shall continue to be suspended until a relevant announcement by the relevant CDS Information Publisher (as described above) occurs or the Determination Agent determines that no Relevant Event Determination Date can occur. In such circumstances, Noteholders may not receive any interest for multiple Interest Periods and no liability shall attach to the Issuer for any such non-payment of interest.

2.5 Payment of Suspended Interest and reduction of future Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event

If, a Relevant Event Determination Date occurs:

- (i) where the Determination Agent determines that the amount of interest suspended pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 2.3 (Suspension of Interest following an Applicable DC Credit Event Question or a potential Credit Event) is greater than the amount of interest that should have been suspended (taking into consideration the Applicable Proportion of the relevant Credit Linked Note affected by the Relevant Credit Event), the Issuer shall pay an amount equal to:
 - (a) the interest amount actually suspended; minus
 - (b) the interest amount that should have been suspended, on the fifth Business Day following the date of such determination by the Determination Agent; or

- (ii) where the Determination Agent, in its sole and absolute discretion, determines that the amount of interest suspended pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 2.3 (Suspension of Interest following an Applicable DC Credit Event Question or a potential Credit Event) is less than the amount of interest that should have been suspended (taking into consideration the Applicable Proportion of the relevant Credit Linked Note affected by the Relevant Credit Event), the Issuer shall deduct the absolute value of (x) the interest amount actually suspended minus (y) the interest amount that should have been suspended (the absolute value of such amount, the “Interest Suspension Shortfall Amount”) from future payments of Interest Amounts until the Interest Suspension Shortfall Amount is reduced to zero, provided that if there is an outstanding Interest Suspension Shortfall Amount at the time that the Credit Linked Notes are being redeemed or written down in full (whether at maturity or upon early redemption), such interest shall be deducted from any amount payable to Noteholders at such time, or where “Physical Redemption” applies, Delivery of the relevant assets shall take into account any reduction as is required to be effected.

For the avoidance of doubt, where the Interest Suspension Shortfall Amount cannot be deducted in full or in part (on account of the relevant redemption amount being insufficient or subject to “Capital Protection” being specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement), the Issuer shall have no further claims against the Noteholders for any amounts not deducted.

2.6 Determination of the nominal amount for Zero Coupon Notes following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event

This Credit Linked Condition 2.6 applies only in relation to Credit Linked Notes which are Zero Coupon Notes.

- (i) In respect of Single Name Credit Linked Notes and following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event, the Determination Agent shall determine the following:
- (a) if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount as at the Relevant Event Determination Date; or
 - (b) if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being not applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount as at the Relevant Event Determination Date.
- (ii) In respect of Basket Credit Linked Notes and following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event, the Determination Agent shall determine the following:
- (a) if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount and the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount as at the Relevant Event Determination Date; or
 - (b) if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being not applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount and the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount as at the Relevant Event Determination Date.

2.7 Accrual of Interest where the Redemption Amount, Credit Event Redemption Amount, Partial Cash Redemption Amount, Fallback Cash Redemption Amount or Asset Package Cash Redemption Amount is improperly withheld or refused

If, upon due presentation of a Credit Linked Note, payment of such Credit Linked Note’s Redemption Amount, Credit Event Redemption Amount, pro-rata portion of the Partial Cash Redemption Amount, pro-rata portion of the Fallback Cash Redemption Amount or pro-rata portion of the Asset Package Cash Redemption Amount (as applicable) is improperly withheld or refused (such amount, the “Unpaid Amount”), then:

- (i) if the Credit Linked Notes are not Zero Coupon Notes, interest (if any) will continue to accrue on such Credit Linked Note in accordance with the second sentence of (a) Condition 5.3

(Accrual of Interest) in respect of Fixed Rate Notes or (b) Condition 7.2 (Accrual of Interest) in respect of Floating Rate Notes, each as amended; or

- (ii) if the Credit Linked Notes are Zero Coupon Notes, then notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Condition 8.2 (Late payment on Zero Coupon Notes), interest will accrue daily on the Unpaid Amount in respect of such Credit Linked Note at the daily rate for deposits in the currency in which such Unpaid Amount is due to be made (such rate to be determined by the Determination Agent and such interest to be compounded daily) from, and including, the due date for payment or delivery of the Unpaid Amount (before, as well as after judgment) to, but excluding, the earlier of:
 - (a) the date on which all sums due in respect of such Credit Linked Note up to that day are received by or on behalf of the relevant Noteholder; and
 - (b) the 15th Business Day after the Fiscal Agent has notified the relevant Noteholder that it has received all sums due in respect of such Credit Linked Note up to such 15th Business Day (except to the extent that there is any subsequent default in payment), provided, in each case, that where “Credit Recovery on Maturity” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, then no interest shall accrue pursuant to this Credit Linked Condition 2.7 on such Credit Linked Note following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event.

3. Interest or premium on Trunched Index Credit Linked Notes

This Credit Linked Condition 3 only applies in respect of Trunched Index Credit Linked Notes and where “Interest on Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

Credit Linked Conditions 3.1 to 3.5 below shall not apply in respect of Maturity Interest Accrual Credit Linked Notes.

3.1 Accrual of Interest where a Relevant Event Determination Date has not occurred

Subject to Credit Linked Condition 3.3 (Suspension of Interest following an Applicable DC Credit Event Question, a potential Credit Event or an Unsettled Credit Event), and provided that (i) the Credit Linked Notes have not been previously redeemed in full or purchased and cancelled and (ii) a Relevant Event Determination Date has not occurred, interest (if any) shall accrue on the Outstanding Aggregate Tranche Nominal Amount of the Credit Linked Notes in accordance with Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) in respect of Fixed Rate Notes or Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions) in respect of Floating Rate Notes or Other Underlying Interest Linked Notes, as applicable (each as amended) to (but excluding) the Scheduled Maturity Date, subject to Credit Linked Condition 6 (Trunched Index Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events).

Subject as provided in Credit Linked Condition 2.7 (Accrual of Interest where the Redemption Amount, Credit Event Redemption Amount, Partial Cash Redemption Amount, Fallback Cash Redemption Amount or Asset Package Cash Redemption Amount is improperly withheld or refused) below, no interest shall accrue on any Credit Linked Note on or after the Scheduled Maturity Date.

3.2 Suspension of Accrual of Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) or 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions), as applicable, following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event and a corresponding Relevant Event Determination Date, the payment of interest (if any) in respect of the Applicable Proportion of each relevant Credit Linked Note on the relevant Interest Payment Date, as determined in accordance with and subject to Credit Linked Condition 6 (Trunched Index Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events), will be suspended from (and including):

- (i) If “No Interest Accrual on Default” applies in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date (or, if no Interest Payment Date has occurred, the Interest Commencement Date); or
- (ii) if “Interest Accrual on Default” applies in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the first Business Day immediately following the Relevant Event Determination Date.

In such case, interest shall accrue on the Applicable Proportion of each relevant Credit Linked Note:

- (a) from (and including) the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date, or (where there is no Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date), the Interest Commencement Date;
- (b) to (and including) the Relevant Event Determination Date.

Subject as provided in Credit Linked Condition 2.7 (Accrual of Interest where the Redemption Amount, Credit Event Redemption Amount, Partial Cash Redemption Amount, Fallback Cash Redemption Amount or Asset Package Cash Redemption Amount is improperly withheld or refused) below, no interest shall accrue on any Credit Linked Note on or after the Scheduled Maturity Date.

3.3 Suspension of Interest following an Applicable DC Credit Event Question, a potential Credit Event or an Unsettled Credit Event

Subject to Credit Linked Conditions 3.4 (Payment of Suspended Interest following announcement by the relevant CDS Information Publisher or determination by the Determination Agent), 3.5 (Payment of Suspended Interest and reduction of future Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event or determination of Loss Amount) and 10 (Scheduled Maturity Date Extension), if, on or prior to an Interest Payment Date, the Determination Agent determines that, in its sole and absolute discretion:

- (i)
 - (a) an Applicable DC Credit Event Question has been submitted in respect of which a DC Resolution (including, but not limited to, a DC Credit Event Announcement, a DC No Credit Event Announcement or a DC Credit Event Question Dismissal) has not been published or the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee has not resolved whether it will convene a meeting to Resolve the Applicable DC Credit Event Question;
 - (b) a Relevant Credit Event and corresponding Relevant Event Determination Date could occur but no Credit Event Notice has been provided to the Issuer and/or the Noteholders (including, without limitation, a Potential Failure to Pay or a Potential Repudiation/Moratorium); or
 - (c) an Unsettled Credit Event has occurred and is outstanding with respect to a Reference Entity; and
- (ii) the relevant Potential Incurred Loss Amount is greater than zero,

the payment of any interest in respect of the Applicable Proportion will be suspended as of the Interest Payment Date on or immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date, or, where there is no Interest Payment Date, immediately preceding such Relevant Event Determination Date, the Interest Commencement Date, notwithstanding that a Relevant Event Determination Date has not then occurred.

The Issuer shall endeavour to give notice to the Noteholders in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices) as soon as reasonably practicable if any payment of interest on their Notes is suspended pursuant to this Credit Linked Condition 3.3.

For the purposes of this Credit Linked Condition 3.3, the Applicable Proportion of each relevant Credit Linked Note shall be calculated by the Determination Agent (a) on the assumption that (x) a Relevant Credit Event would result in a Relevant Event Determination Date, (y) the Relevant Credit Event will not be an M(M)R Restructuring and (z) where “Fixed Recovery Redemption” is applicable and any Auction Final Price or Final Price, as applicable, is required to determine the portion of the Credit Linked Notes subject to interest suspension, the Fixed Recovery Percentage will apply and (b) in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 6 (Tranched Index Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events).

Except for such portion of interest that is suspended in respect of each Credit Linked Note, payment of any interest on the remaining portion of the relevant Credit Linked Note (which is unaffected by the Relevant Credit Event), if applicable, will be payable to Noteholders as usual on the relevant Interest Payment Date.

3.4 Payment of Suspended Interest following announcement by the relevant CDS Information Publisher or determination by the Determination Agent

If:

- (i) in connection with an Applicable DC Credit Event Question:
 - (a) an Applicable DC No Credit Event Announcement occurs; or
 - (b) an Applicable DC Credit Event Question Dismissal occurs or the relevant CDS Information Publisher announces that the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee will not be convening to Resolve the relevant Applicable DC Credit Event Question; or
- (ii) the Determination Agent determines that a Relevant Event Determination Date can no longer occur,

as applicable, payment of the suspended interest will be made on the fifth Business Day following (A) in the case of Credit Linked Condition 3.4(i), the relevant announcement by the relevant CDS Information Publisher or date of the Applicable DC Credit Event Question Dismissal, as applicable or (B) in the case of Credit Linked Condition 3.4(ii), the date on which the Determination Agent determines that a Relevant Event Determination Date can no longer occur (taking into consideration, without limitation, any Notice Delivery Period and any Standard Exercise Cut-off Date or Non-Standard Exercise Cut-Off Date, as applicable).

For the avoidance of doubt, interest shall continue to be suspended until a relevant announcement by the relevant CDS Information Publisher (as described above) occurs or the Determination Agent determines that no Relevant Event Determination Date can occur. In such circumstances, Noteholders may not receive any interest for multiple Interest Periods and no liability shall attach to the Issuer for any such non-payment of interest.

3.5 Payment of Suspended Interest and reduction of future Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event or determination of Loss Amount

If a Relevant Event Determination Date occurs or, as applicable, when the Loss Amount in respect of an Unsettled Credit Event is determined:

- (i) where the Determination Agent determines that the amount of interest suspended pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 3.3 (Suspension of Interest following an Applicable DC Credit Event Question, a potential Credit Event or an Unsettled Credit Event) is greater than the amount of interest that should have been suspended (taking into consideration the Applicable Proportion of the relevant Credit Linked Note affected by the Relevant Credit Event), the Issuer shall pay an amount equal to:
 - (a) the interest amount actually suspended; minus
 - (b) the interest amount that should have been suspended, on the fifth Business Day following the date of such determination by the Determination Agent; or

- (ii) where the Determination Agent, in its sole and absolute discretion, determines that the amount of interest suspended pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 3.3 (Suspension of Interest following an Applicable DC Credit Event Question, a potential Credit Event or an Unsettled Credit Event) is less than the amount of interest that should have been suspended (taking into consideration the Applicable Proportion of the relevant Credit Linked Note affected by the Relevant Credit Event), the Issuer shall deduct the absolute value of (x) the interest amount actually suspended minus (y) the interest amount that should have been suspended (the absolute value of such amount, the “Interest Suspension Shortfall Amount”) from future payments of Interest Amounts until the Interest Suspension Shortfall Amount is reduced to zero, provided that if there is an outstanding Interest Suspension Shortfall Amount at the time that the Credit Linked Notes are being redeemed or written down in full (whether at maturity or upon early redemption), such interest shall be deducted from any amount payable to Noteholders at such time.

For the avoidance of doubt, where the Interest Suspension Shortfall Amount cannot be deducted in full or in part, the Issuer shall have no further claims against the Noteholders for any amounts not deducted.

3.6 Accrual of Interest where the Redemption Amount is improperly withheld or refused

If, upon due presentation of a Credit Linked Note, payment of such Credit Linked Note’s Redemption Amount is improperly withheld or refused (such amount, the “Unpaid Amount”), then interest (if any) will continue to accrue on such Credit Linked Note in accordance with the second sentence of (a) Condition 5.3 (Accrual of Interest) in respect of Fixed Rate Notes or (b) Condition 7.2 (Accrual of Interest) in respect of Floating Rate Notes, each as amended, provided that no interest shall accrue pursuant to this Credit Linked Condition 3.6 on any Applicable Proportion of such Credit Linked Note on which interest has been suspended and ceased to accrue pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 3.2 (Suspension of Accrual of Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event) and Credit Linked Condition 6 (Tranched Index Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events).

4. Single Name Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events

4.1 Multiple Relevant Credit Events

There may be more than one Relevant Credit Event and related Relevant Event Determination Date with respect to Single Name Credit Linked Notes in accordance with Credit Linked Conditions 11 (M(M)R Restructuring) and 19 (Successor Provisions).

4.2 Applicable Proportion

The Applicable Proportion of a Single Name Credit Linked Note will be equal to the product of:

- (i) the Outstanding Nominal Amount of such Single Name Credit Linked Note or, if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Accreted Nominal Amount of such Single Name Credit Linked Note; and
- (ii) where:
 - (a) the Relevant Credit Event is not an M(M)R Restructuring or no successor event has occurred, 100 per cent.; or
 - (b) where the Relevant Credit Event is an M(M)R Restructuring, an amount (expressed as a percentage) equal to (x) the Exercise Amount specified in the relevant Credit Event Notice relating to the relevant Reference Entity and Credit Event, divided by (y) the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount of the Single Name Credit Linked Notes or, if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount; or
 - (c) where the Relevant Credit Event is not an M(M)R Restructuring and partial redemption occurs pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 19 (Successor Provisions), an amount (expressed as a percentage) equal to (x) the Single Name Partial Nominal Amount, divided by (y) the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount of the Single Name Credit Linked Notes or, if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount.

4.3 Impact of Credit Event on Accrual of Interest

- (i) Where either (x) “No Interest Accrual on Default” or (y) “Interest Accrual on Default” are specified as being applicable, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) or Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions), as applicable (each as amended), following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date:
 - (a) interest will cease to accrue on the Applicable Proportion of each Single Name Credit Linked Note in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 2.2 (Suspension of Accrual of Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event); and
 - (b) interest will continue to accrue as usual on any remaining portion of each Single Name Credit Linked Note unaffected by the Relevant Credit Event in accordance with Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) in respect of Fixed Rate Notes or Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions) in respect of Floating Rate Notes or Other Underlying Interest Linked Notes, as applicable (each as amended) to (but excluding in the case of (x) and (y) and including in the case of (z)) the earliest to occur of (x) the Scheduled Maturity Date, (y) the Optional Redemption Date (Call), Optional Redemption Date (Put), the Substitution Event Date or other early redemption date specified in the Conditions, as applicable, which results in the Single Name Credit Linked Notes being redeemed in full, and (z) the Relevant Event Determination Date corresponding to the relevant Credit Event Redemption Date which results in the Single Name Credit Linked Notes being redeemed in full.
- (ii) Where the Single Name Credit Linked Notes are Non Credit Linked Interest Notes, notwithstanding the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, interest will continue to accrue on each Single Name Credit Linked Note in accordance with Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) in respect of Fixed Rate Notes or Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions) in respect of Floating Rate Notes or Other Underlying Interest Linked Notes, as applicable (each as amended).
- (iii) Further, if the Scheduled Maturity Date is defined in the relevant Pricing Supplement by reference to an Interest Payment Date, then the Scheduled Maturity Date shall be the date which would have been such Interest Payment Date notwithstanding that, due to the occurrence of a Credit Event, interest has ceased to accrue in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 2.2 (Suspension of Accrual of Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event).

4.4 Payment of Accrued Interest

- (i) Where the Single Name Credit Linked Notes are Non Credit Linked Interest Notes, any interest accrued on the Single Name Credit Linked Notes in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 4.3(ii) (Impact of Credit Event on Accrual of Interest) shall be payable in accordance with Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) in respect of Fixed Rate Notes or Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions) in respect of Floating Rate Notes or Other Underlying Interest Linked Notes, as applicable (each as amended) with interest in respect of the final Interest Period being paid on the Scheduled Maturity Date.

- (ii) Where “No Interest Accrual on Default” applies, no interest accrues on the Single Name Credit Linked Notes in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 2.2 (Suspension of Accrual of Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event) from (and including) the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date (or if there is no Interest Payment Date, the Interest Commencement Date) to (and including) the Relevant Event Determination Date and interest in respect of the final Interest Period will be payable on the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date (or, if earlier, the Scheduled Maturity Date).
- (iii) Where “Interest Accrual on Default” applies, any interest accrued on the Single Name Credit Linked Notes in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 2.2 (Suspension of Accrual of Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event) from (and including) the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date (or if there is no Interest Payment Date, the Interest Commencement Date) to (and including) the Relevant Event Determination Date shall be payable on:
 - (a) if “Credit Recovery following Credit Event” applies, the relevant Credit Event Redemption Date; or
 - (b) if “Credit Recovery on Maturity” applies, the Interest Payment Date immediately following the Relevant Event Determination Date, provided that if such date falls later than the date on which the Credit Linked Notes are redeemed in full, such earlier date on which the Credit Linked Notes are redeemed in full.

4.5 Redemption following a Credit Event

Without prejudice and subject to the application of Conditions 26 (Redemption and Purchase), 31 (Events of Default), 32 (Illegality and Regulatory Event) or any other early redemption provisions in the Conditions (the provisions of which shall prevail over this Credit Linked Condition 4.5 (Redemption following a Credit Event)) irrespective of whether the Credit Linked Notes have been redeemed in full (or purchased and cancelled) following such early redemption event, provided that any such early redemption events occur prior to the occurrence of the Relevant Event Determination Date, following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer will redeem the Applicable Proportion of each Single Name Credit Linked Note in accordance with the “Auction Redemption” Credit Event Redemption Method, the “Cash Redemption” Credit Event Redemption Method, the “Physical Redemption” Credit Event Redemption Method or the “Fixed Recovery Redemption” Credit Event Redemption Method, as specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

(i) Auction Redemption

Auction Redemption shall apply where “Auction Redemption” is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

(a) Credit Recovery following Credit Event

If each of (A) “Credit Recovery following Credit Event” and (B) Auction Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem the Applicable Proportion of each Single Name Credit Linked Note on the Auction Redemption Date at the Auction Redemption Amount in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 12 (Auction Redemption Terms).

The outstanding portion of such Single Name Credit Linked Note (if any) as at the Scheduled Maturity Date shall, subject to Credit Linked Condition 10 (Scheduled Maturity Date Extension), be redeemed at the Outstanding Redemption Amount on the Scheduled Maturity Date.

(b) Credit Recovery on Maturity

If each of (A) “Credit Recovery on Maturity” and (B) Auction Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem each Single Name Credit Linked Note on the Final Auction Redemption Date at the Final Auction Redemption Amount in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 12 (Auction Redemption Terms).

(ii) Cash Redemption

Cash Redemption shall apply where (x) “Cash Redemption” is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement, or (y) Cash Redemption is applicable as the Fallback Redemption Method and Credit Linked Condition 12 (Auction Redemption Terms) requires the Issuer to redeem the Single Name Credit Linked Notes as if Cash Redemption had been specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method. Where Credit Linked Condition 14 (Physical Redemption Terms) applies and Cash Redemption is applicable as the Fallback Redemption Method, the fallback cash redemption terms in Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms) shall apply.

(a) Credit Recovery following Credit Event

If each of (A) “Credit Recovery following Credit Event” and (B) Cash Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem the Applicable Proportion of each Single Name Credit Linked Note on the Cash Redemption Date at the Cash Redemption Amount in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 13 (Cash Redemption Terms).

The outstanding portion of such Single Name Credit Linked Note (if any) as at the Scheduled Maturity Date shall, subject to Credit Linked Condition 10 (Scheduled Maturity Date Extension), be redeemed at the Outstanding Redemption Amount on the Scheduled Maturity Date.

(b) Credit Recovery on Maturity

If each of (A) “Credit Recovery on Maturity” and (B) Cash Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem each Single Name Credit Linked Note on the Final Cash Redemption Date at the Final Cash Redemption Amount in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 13 (Cash Redemption Terms).

(iii) Physical Redemption

Physical Redemption shall apply where (I) “Physical Redemption” is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement, (II) the Physical Redemption Conditions have been satisfied, (III) the Determination Agent has not made a Non-Delivery Determination, (IV) Morgan Stanley Finance LLC is not the Issuer and (V) if the Deliverable Obligation is a loan, the Single Noteholder is an institutional investor.

(a) Credit Recovery following Credit Event

If each of (A) “Credit Recovery following Credit Event” and (B) Physical Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem the Applicable Proportion of each Single Name Credit Linked Note by Delivery to the Noteholder of the Physical Redemption Assets by the relevant Physical Redemption Date and payment to the Noteholder of any Partial Cash Redemption Amount, any Fallback Cash Redemption Amount and/or any Asset Package Cash Redemption Amount (where applicable) in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 14 (Physical Redemption Terms).

The outstanding portion of such Single Name Credit Linked Note (if any) as at the Scheduled Maturity Date shall, subject to Credit Linked Condition 10 (Scheduled Maturity Date Extension), be redeemed at the Outstanding Redemption Amount on the Scheduled Maturity Date.

(b) Credit Recovery on Maturity

If each of (A) “Credit Recovery on Maturity” and (B) Physical Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem each Single Name Credit Linked Note by Delivery to the Noteholder of the Final Physical Redemption Assets by the Final Physical Redemption Date and payment to the Noteholder of any Partial Cash Redemption Amount, any Fallback Cash Redemption Amount and/or any Asset Package Cash Redemption Amount (where applicable) in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 14 (Physical Redemption Terms).

(iv) Fixed Recovery Redemption

Fixed Recovery Redemption shall apply where it is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

If Fixed Recovery Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem the Applicable Proportion of each Single Name Credit Linked Note on the Cash Redemption Date at the Cash Redemption Amount (if “Credit Recovery following Credit Event” applies) or the Final Cash Redemption Date at the Final Cash Redemption Amount (if “Credit Recovery on Maturity” applies) in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 15 (Fixed Recovery Redemption Terms).

Where “Credit Recovery following Credit Event” applies, the outstanding portion of such Single Name Credit Linked Note (if any) as at the Scheduled Maturity Date shall, subject to Credit Linked Condition 10 (Scheduled Maturity Date Extension), be redeemed at the Outstanding Redemption Amount on the Scheduled Maturity Date.

5. Basket Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events

5.1 Multiple Relevant Credit Events

A Relevant Credit Event and related Relevant Event Determination Date may occur with respect to each Reference Entity in the basket and accordingly there may be more than one Relevant Credit Event and related Relevant Event Determination Date with respect to Basket Credit Linked Notes, provided that subject to the following paragraph, a Relevant Event Determination Date shall occur only once in respect of each such Reference Entity.

There may be more than one Relevant Credit Event and related Relevant Event Determination Date in respect of any such Reference Entity in accordance with Credit Linked Conditions 11 (M(M)R Restructuring) and 19 (Successor Provisions).

5.2 Applicable Proportion

The Applicable Proportion of a Basket Credit Linked Note will be equal to such Basket Credit Linked Note's pro rata share of the product of:

- (i) the Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount in respect of the relevant Reference Entity or, if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount in respect of such Reference Entity; and
- (ii) where:
 - (a) the Relevant Credit Event is not an M(M)R Restructuring, 100 per cent.; or
 - (b) where the Relevant Credit Event is an M(M)R Restructuring, an amount (expressed as a percentage) equal to (x) the Exercise Amount specified or deemed specified in the relevant Credit Event Notice relating to the relevant Reference Entity and Credit Event, divided by (y) the Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount in respect of such Reference Entity or, if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount.

5.3 Impact of Credit Event on Accrual of Interest

- (i) Where either (x) “No Interest Accrual on Default” or (y) “Interest Accrual on Default” are specified as being applicable, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) or Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions), as applicable (each as amended), following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date:
 - (a) interest will cease to accrue on the Applicable Proportion of each Basket Credit Linked Note in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 2.2 (Suspension of Accrual of Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event); and
 - (b) interest will continue to accrue as usual on any remaining portion of each Basket Credit Linked Note unaffected by the Relevant Credit Event in accordance with Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) in respect of Fixed Rate Notes or Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions) in respect of Floating Rate Notes or Other Underlying Interest Linked Notes, as applicable (each as amended) to (but excluding in the case of (x) and (y) and including in the case of (z)) the earliest to occur of (x) the Scheduled Maturity Date, (y) the Optional Redemption Date (Call), Optional Redemption Date (Put), the Substitution Event Date or other early redemption date specified in the Conditions, as applicable, which results in the Basket Credit Linked Notes being redeemed in full, and (z) the Relevant Event Determination Date corresponding to the relevant Credit Event Redemption Date which results in the Basket Credit Linked Notes being redeemed in full.
- (ii) Where the Basket Credit Linked Notes are Non Credit Linked Interest Notes, notwithstanding the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, interest will continue to accrue on each Basket Credit Linked Note in accordance with Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) in respect of Fixed Rate Notes or Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions) in respect of Floating Rate Notes or Other Underlying Interest Linked Notes, as applicable (each as amended).
- (iii) Further, if the Scheduled Maturity Date is defined in the relevant Pricing Supplement by reference to an Interest Payment Date, then the Scheduled Maturity Date shall be the date which would have been such Interest Payment Date notwithstanding that, due to the occurrence of a Credit Event, interest has ceased to accrue in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 2.2 (Suspension of Accrual of Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event).

5.4 Payment of Accrued Interest

- (i) Where the Basket Credit Linked Notes are Non-Credit Linked Interest Notes, any interest accrued on the Basket Credit Linked Notes in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 5.3(ii) (Impact of Credit Event on Accrual of Interest) shall be payable in accordance with Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) in respect of Fixed Rate Notes or Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions) in respect of Floating Rate Notes or Other Underlying Interest Linked Notes, as applicable (each as amended) with interest in respect of the final Interest Period being paid on the Scheduled Maturity Date.
- (ii) Where “No Interest Accrual on Default” applies, no interest accrues on the Applicable Proportion of the Basket Credit Linked Note in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 2.2 (Suspension of Accrual of Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event) from (and including) the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date (or if there is no Interest Payment Date, the Interest Commencement Date) to (and including) the Relevant Event Determination Date and interest in respect of the final Interest Period in relation to interest on such Applicable Proportion will be payable on the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date (or, if earlier, the Scheduled Maturity Date).

- (iii) Where “Interest Accrual on Default” applies, any interest accrued on the Applicable Proportion of the Basket Credit Linked Note in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 2.2 (Suspension of Accrual of Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event) from (and including) the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date (or if there is no Interest Payment Date, the Interest Commencement Date) to (and including) the Relevant Event Determination Date shall be payable on:
 - (a) if “Credit Recovery following Credit Event” applies, the relevant Credit Event Redemption Date; or
 - (b) if “Credit Recovery on Maturity” applies, the Interest Payment Date immediately following the Relevant Event Determination Date, provided that if such date falls later than the date on which the Credit Linked Notes are redeemed in full, such earlier date on which the Credit Linked Notes are redeemed in full.

5.5 Redemption following a Credit Event

Without prejudice and subject to the application of Conditions 26 (Redemption and Purchase), 31 (Events of Default), 32 (Illegality and Regulatory Event) or any other early redemption provisions in the Conditions (the provisions of which shall prevail over this Credit Linked Condition 5.5 (Redemption following a Credit Event)) irrespective of whether the Credit Linked Notes have been redeemed in full (or purchased and cancelled) following such early redemption event, provided that any such early redemption events occur prior to the occurrence of the Relevant Event Determination Date), following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer will redeem the Applicable Proportion of each Basket Credit Linked Note in accordance with the “Auction Redemption” Credit Event Redemption Method, the “Cash Redemption” Credit Event Redemption Method, the “Physical Redemption” Credit Event Redemption Method or the “Fixed Recovery Redemption” Credit Event Redemption Method, as specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

(i) Auction Redemption

Auction Redemption shall apply where “Auction Redemption” is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

(a) Credit Recovery following Credit Event

If each of (A) “Credit Recovery following Credit Event” and (B) Auction Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem the Applicable Proportion of each Basket Credit Linked Note on the Auction Redemption Date at the Auction Redemption Amount in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 12 (Auction Redemption Terms).

The outstanding portion of such Basket Credit Linked Note (if any) as at the Scheduled Maturity Date shall, subject to Credit Linked Condition 10 (Scheduled Maturity Date Extension), be redeemed at the Final Auction Redemption Amount on the Scheduled Maturity Date.

(b) Credit Recovery on Maturity

If each of (A) “Credit Recovery on Maturity” and (B) Auction Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem each Basket Credit Linked Note on the Final Auction Redemption Date at the Final Auction Redemption Amount in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 12 (Auction Redemption Terms).

(ii) Cash Redemption

Cash Redemption shall apply where (x) “Cash Redemption” is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement, or (y) Cash Redemption is applicable as the Fallback Redemption Method and Credit Linked Condition 12 (Auction Redemption Terms) requires the Issuer to redeem the Basket Credit Linked Notes as if Cash Redemption had been specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method. Where Credit Linked Condition 14 (Physical Redemption Terms) applies and Cash Redemption is applicable as the Fallback Redemption Method, the fallback cash redemption terms in Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms) shall apply.

(a) Credit Recovery following Credit Event

If each of (A) “Credit Recovery following Credit Event” and (B) Cash Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem the Applicable Proportion of each Basket Credit Linked Note on the Cash Redemption Date at the Cash Redemption Amount in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 13 (Cash Redemption Terms).

The outstanding portion of such Basket Credit Linked Note (if any) as at the Scheduled Maturity Date shall, subject to Credit Linked Condition 10 (Scheduled Maturity Date Extension), be redeemed at the Final Cash Redemption Amount on the Scheduled Maturity Date.

(b) Credit Recovery on Maturity

If each of (A) “Credit Recovery on Maturity” and (B) Cash Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem each Basket Credit Linked Note on the Final Cash Redemption Date at the Final Cash Redemption Amount in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 13 (Cash Redemption Terms).

(iii) Physical Redemption

Physical Redemption shall apply where (I) “Physical Redemption” is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement, (II) the Physical Redemption Conditions have been satisfied, (III) the Determination Agent has not made a Non-Delivery Determination, (IV) Morgan Stanley Finance LLC is not the Issuer and (V) if the Deliverable Obligation is a loan, the Single Noteholder is an institutional investor.

(a) Credit Recovery following Credit Event

If each of (A) “Credit Recovery following Credit Event” and (B) Physical Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem the Applicable Proportion of each Basket Credit Linked Note by Delivery to the Noteholder of the Physical Redemption Assets by the relevant Physical Redemption Date and payment to the Noteholder of any Partial Cash Redemption Amount, any Fallback Cash Redemption Amount and/or any Asset Package Cash Redemption Amount (where applicable) in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 14 (Physical Redemption Terms).

The outstanding portion of such Basket Credit Linked Note (if any) as at the Scheduled Maturity Date shall, subject to Credit Linked Condition 10 (Scheduled Maturity Date Extension), be redeemed at the Final Physical Redemption Assets on the Scheduled Maturity Date.

(b) Credit Recovery on Maturity

If each of (A) “Credit Recovery on Maturity” and (B) Physical Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem each Basket Credit Linked Note by Delivery to the Noteholder of the Final Physical Redemption Assets by the Final Physical Redemption Date and payment to the Noteholder of any Partial Cash Redemption Amount, any Fallback Cash Redemption Amount and/or any Asset Package Cash Redemption Amount (where applicable) in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 14 (Physical Redemption Terms).

(iv) Fixed Recovery Redemption

Fixed Recovery Redemption shall apply where it is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

If Fixed Recovery Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem the Applicable Proportion of each Basket Credit Linked Note on the Cash Redemption Date at the Cash Redemption Amount (if “Credit Recovery following Credit Event” applies) or the Final Cash Redemption Date at the Final Cash Redemption Amount (if “Credit Recovery on Maturity” applies) in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 15 (Fixed Recovery Redemption Terms).

Where “Credit Recovery following Credit Event” applies, the outstanding portion of such Basket Credit Linked Note (if any) as at the Scheduled Maturity Date shall, subject to Credit Linked Condition 10 (Scheduled Maturity Date Extension), be redeemed at the Final Cash Redemption Amount on the Scheduled Maturity Date.

6. Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events6.1 Multiple Relevant Credit Events

A Relevant Credit Event and related Relevant Event Determination Date may occur with respect to each Reference Entity in the basket and accordingly there may be more than one Relevant Credit Event and related Relevant Event Determination Date with respect to Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes, provided that subject to the following paragraph, a Relevant Event Determination Date shall occur only once in respect of each such Reference Entity.

There may be more than one Relevant Credit Event and related Relevant Event Determination Date in respect of any such Reference Entity in accordance with Credit Linked Conditions 11 (M(M)R Restructuring) and 19 (Successor Provisions).

6.2 Applicable Proportion

The Applicable Proportion of a Tranching Index Credit Linked Note in respect of an Affected Reference Entity and a Relevant Event Determination Date will be equal to such Tranching Index Credit Linked Note's pro rata share of the relevant Nominal Writedown Amount in respect of such Affected Reference Entity and Relevant Event Determination Date.

6.3 Impact of Credit Event on Accrual of Interest

(i) Where either (x) “No Interest Accrual on Default” or (y) “Interest Accrual on Default” are specified as being applicable, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) or Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions)), as applicable (each as amended), following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date:

- (a) interest will cease to accrue on the Applicable Proportion of each Tranching Index Credit Linked Note in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 3.2 (Suspension of Accrual of Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event); and
- (b) interest will continue to accrue as usual on any remaining portion of each Tranching Index Credit Linked Note unaffected by the Relevant Credit Event in accordance with Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) in respect of Fixed Rate Notes or Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions) in respect of Floating Rate Notes or Other Underlying Interest Linked Notes, as applicable (each as amended) to (but excluding) the earliest to occur of (x) the Scheduled Maturity Date and (y) the Optional Redemption Date (Call), Optional Redemption Date (Put), the Substitution Event Date or other early redemption date specified in the Conditions, as applicable, which results in the Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes being redeemed in full.

- (ii) Where the Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes are Non Credit Linked Interest Notes, notwithstanding the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, interest will continue to accrue on each Tranch Index Credit Linked Note in accordance with Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) in respect of Fixed Rate Notes or Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions) in respect of Floating Rate Notes or Other Underlying Interest Linked Notes, as applicable (each as amended).
- (iii) Further, if the Scheduled Maturity Date is defined in the relevant Pricing Supplement by reference to an Interest Payment Date, then the Scheduled Maturity Date shall be the date which would have been such Interest Payment Date notwithstanding that, due to the occurrence of a Credit Event, interest has ceased to accrue in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 3.2 (Suspension of Accrual of Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event).

6.4 Payment of Accrued Interest

- (i) Where the Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes are Non Credit Linked Interest Notes, any interest accrued on the Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 6.3(ii) (Impact of Credit Event on Accrual of Interest) shall be payable in accordance with Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) in respect of Fixed Rate Notes or Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions) in respect of Floating Rate Notes or Other Underlying Interest Linked Notes, as applicable (each as amended) with interest in respect of the final Interest Period being paid on the Scheduled Maturity Date.
- (ii) Where “No Interest Accrual on Default” applies, no interest accrues on the Applicable Proportion of the Tranch Index Credit Linked Note in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 3.2 (Suspension of Accrual of Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event) from (and including) the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date (or if there is no Interest Payment Date, the Interest Commencement Date) to (and including) the Relevant Event Determination Date and interest in respect of the final Interest Period in relation to interest on such Applicable Proportion (which, for the avoidance of doubt, is the last Interest Period before interest ceases to accrue thereon as aforesaid) will be payable on the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date (or, if earlier, the Scheduled Maturity Date).
- (iii) Where “Interest Accrual on Default” applies, any interest accrued on the Applicable Proportion of the Tranch Index Credit Linked Note in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 3.2 (Suspension of Accrual of Interest following the occurrence of a Relevant Credit Event) from (and including) the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the Relevant Event Determination Date (or if there is no Interest Payment Date, the Interest Commencement Date) to (and including) the Relevant Event Determination Date shall be payable on the Interest Payment Date immediately following the Relevant Event Determination Date, provided that if such date falls later than the date on which the Credit Linked Notes are redeemed in full, such earlier date on which the Credit Linked Notes are redeemed in full.

6.5 Redemption following a Credit Event

Without prejudice and subject to the application of Conditions 26 (Redemption and Purchase), 31 (Events of Default), 32 (Illegality and Regulatory Event) or any other early redemption provisions in the Conditions (the provisions of which shall prevail over this Credit Linked Condition 6.5 (Redemption following a Credit Event) irrespective of whether the Credit Linked Notes have been redeemed in full (or purchased and cancelled) following such early redemption event, provided that any such early redemption events occur prior to the occurrence of the Relevant Event Determination Date), following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer will redeem each Tranch Index Credit Linked Note in accordance with the “Auction Redemption” Credit Event Redemption Method, the “Cash Redemption” Credit Event Redemption Method or the “Fixed Recovery Redemption” Credit Event Redemption Method, as specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

(i) Auction Redemption

Auction Redemption shall apply where “Auction Redemption” is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

If Auction Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem each Tranch Index Credit Linked Note on the Final Auction Redemption Date at the Final Auction Redemption Amount in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 12 (Auction Redemption Terms).

(ii) Cash Redemption

Cash Redemption shall apply where (x) “Cash Redemption” is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement, or (y) Cash Redemption is applicable as the Fallback Redemption Method and Credit Linked Condition 12 (Auction Redemption Terms) requires the Issuer to redeem the Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes as if Cash Redemption had been specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method.

If Cash Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem each Tranch Index Credit Linked Note on the Final Cash Redemption Date at the Final Cash Redemption Amount in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 13 (Cash Redemption Terms).

(iii) Fixed Recovery Redemption

Fixed Recovery Redemption shall apply where it is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

If Fixed Recovery Redemption applies, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Issuer shall redeem each Tranch Index Credit Linked Note on the Final Cash Redemption Date at the Final Cash Redemption Amount in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 15 (Fixed Recovery Redemption Terms).

7. Credit Event Notice and Notice of Publicly Available Information

7.1 If a Credit Event Notice and, if “Notice of Publicly Available Information” is specified to be applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, an effective Notice of Publicly Available Information is required to be delivered for an effective Notice Delivery Date and related Event Determination Date to occur, and accordingly, the Determination Agent shall deliver the Credit Event Notice and, if applicable, a Notice of Publicly Available Information to the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent. The Fiscal Agent shall, upon receipt of such notice(s), make such notice(s) available to the Noteholders in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices).

7.2 If a Credit Event Notice and where applicable, a Notice of Publicly Available Information is not required to be delivered in order for an Event Determination Date to occur, the Determination Agent shall give written notice not less than five Business Days prior to the date for redemption, as applicable, of the Credit Linked Notes (or a portion thereof) containing the same information required to be included in a Credit Event Notice and if applicable, a Notice of Publicly Available Information to the Issuer. The Fiscal Agent shall, upon receipt of such notice(s), make such notice(s) available to the Noteholders in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices).

7.3 Subject to Credit Linked Condition 18 (Effect of DC Resolutions and Event Determination Dates), the Determination Agent’s determination of a Credit Event and any other calculation or determination in respect of the Credit Linked Notes, will, in the absence of manifest error, be final, conclusive and binding on all persons (including, without limitation, the Issuer, the Fiscal Agent and each Noteholder).

7.4 None of the Issuer, the Determination Agent, the Fiscal Agent or one or more of their respective affiliates will have any liability whatsoever for the failure of the Determination Agent for any reason to determine that a Credit Event has occurred or with respect to the Determination Agent or the Issuer’s timing as to when to deliver a Credit Event Notice and where applicable, a Notice of Publicly Available Information nor will they have any duty or responsibility to investigate or check whether any Credit Event has, or may have, occurred or may be continuing.

8. Relevant Time

8.1 Event timing

Subject to Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices) and Credit Linked Condition 8.2 (Payment timing), in order to determine the day on which an event occurs for the purposes of these Credit Linked Conditions, the demarcation of days shall be made by reference to Greenwich Mean Time (or Tokyo time if the Determination Agent determines that Tokyo time is the market convention with respect to the relevant Reference Entity), irrespective of the time zone in which such event occurred. Any event occurring at midnight shall be deemed to have occurred immediately prior to midnight.

8.2 Payment timing

Notwithstanding the definition of “Credit Event Notice” and Credit Linked Condition 8.1 (Event timing), if a payment is not made by the relevant Reference Entity on its due date or, as the case may be, on the final day of the relevant Grace Period, then such failure to make a payment shall be deemed to have occurred on such day prior to midnight Greenwich Mean Time (or Tokyo time if the Determination Agent determines that Tokyo time is the market convention with respect to the relevant Reference Entity), irrespective of the time zone of its place of payment.

9. Event Determination Date – Adjustment Payment and Ordering of Events

9.1 Occurrence of Event Determination Date

Without prejudice to Credit Linked Conditions 18.1 (Binding nature) and 18.5 (Overriding nature), if, following the determination of an Event Determination Date, such Event Determination Date is deemed by the Determination Agent and/or the Issuer (x) to have occurred on a date that is different from the date that was originally determined to be the Event Determination Date, (y) not to have occurred, or (z) to have occurred prior to a preceding Interest Payment Date, then:

- (i) in respect of the event specified at (y) above only, where the Credit Linked Notes have not already been redeemed or written down in full, the redemption of the Credit Linked Notes shall be cancelled and the Credit Linked Notes shall continue in accordance with their terms as if the relevant Event Determination Date had not occurred; and
- (ii) in respect of any of the events specified at (x), (y) or (z) above, the Determination Agent will, in its sole and absolute discretion, determine (a) the adjustment payment, if any, that is payable to Noteholders to reflect any change that may be necessary to the amount previously calculated and/or paid in respect of the relevant Series; and (b) the date on which such adjustment payment is payable, if any and thereafter notify the Issuer of such adjustments. For the avoidance of doubt, no accruals of interest shall be taken into account when calculating any such adjustment payment, and in the case of (z) above, subject to Credit Linked Condition 2 (Interest or premium on Single Name Credit Linked Notes and Basket Credit Linked Notes) or Credit Linked Condition 3 (Interest or premium on Tranche Index Credit Linked Notes), as applicable.

The Issuer shall endeavour to give notice to the Noteholders in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices) of the occurrence of any of the foregoing events as soon as practicable thereafter without the consent of Noteholders being required to make the above adjustments.

9.2 Ordering of Event Determination Date following multiple Credit Events

If an Event Determination Date occurs in respect of more than one Reference Entity, if applicable, on the same day, the occurrence of the Event Determination Date will be determined chronologically in the order that either of the following events occurred with respect to such Reference Entity/ies:

- (i) the Credit Event Resolution Request Date (provided that if a Credit Event Resolution Request Date occurs in respect of more than one such Reference Entity on the same day, the first Reference Entity in respect of which the relevant CDS Information Publisher announces that the relevant DC Credit Event Question was effective and the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee was in possession of the relevant Publicly Available Information with respect to such DC Credit Event Question will be deemed to have satisfied this condition first) (a “DC-determined EDD”); or

- (ii) the delivery of the Credit Event Notice (provided that if any of the relevant Credit Event Notices are delivered at the same time, in a sequential order determined by the Determination Agent) (a “Notice-determined EDD”), provided that:

- (a) if a Notice-determined EDD is amended by the occurrence of a DC-determined EDD, the DC-determined EDD will govern;
- (b) if both (x) one or more DC-determined EDDs and (y) one or more Notice-determined EDDs occur on the same day, any such DC-determined EDD shall be deemed to have occurred prior to any such Notice-determined EDD, notwithstanding the exact time of the occurrence of such events on such day; and
- (c) if an M(M)R Restructuring has occurred and a Credit Event Notice is delivered following a DC Credit Event Announcement, the Relevant Credit Event and related Relevant Event Determination Date shall be construed as having occurred under Credit Linked Condition 9.1(i) (Occurrence of Event Determination Date) instead of Credit Linked Condition 9.2(ii) (Ordering of Event Determination Date following multiple Credit Events).

10. Scheduled Maturity Date Extension

Where the Determination Agent determines on or prior to the Scheduled Maturity Date, in its sole and absolute discretion, that:

- (i) one or more Reference Entities:
 - (a) may be subject to a Credit Event;
 - (b) is or may be subject to a Potential Failure to Pay, if “Grace Period Extension” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement; or
 - (c) is or may be subject to a Potential Repudiation/Moratorium, if “Repudiation/Moratorium” is specified as being an applicable Credit Event in the relevant Pricing Supplement;
- (ii) a Credit Event Notice may be delivered after the Scheduled Maturity Date within an effective delivery period which may result in a Relevant Event Determination Date occurring;
- (iii) a Credit Event Resolution Request Date may occur after the Scheduled Maturity Date but during the Notice Delivery Period which may result in a Relevant Event Determination Date occurring;
- (iv) the final Credit Event Redemption Date in relation to any Relevant Credit Event or the Final Physical Redemption Cut-Off Date in relation to any Physical Redemption, as applicable, will only occur after the Scheduled Maturity Date (including any final Partial Cash Redemption Date or final Fallback Cash Redemption Date, as applicable); or
- (v) a Payment Failure Cut-Off Date in relation to a Payment/Delivery Failure Event may occur after the Scheduled Maturity Date, and, in the case of Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes, that the aggregate Potential Incurred Loss Amount is greater than zero, it shall notify the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent. The Fiscal Agent (acting on behalf of the Issuer) shall then notify the Noteholders and the Credit Linked Notes then outstanding shall not be redeemed on the Scheduled Maturity Date but shall instead be redeemed on the Extended Maturity Date.

If any amount is payable on the Scheduled Maturity Date of a Credit Linked Note (including any interest payment) to which the provisions of this Credit Linked Condition 10 apply, such amount shall fall due on the Extended Maturity Date and shall be payable without any interest or other sum payable in respect of the postponement of the payment of such amount.

11. M(M)R Restructuring

For the avoidance of doubt, for the purposes of this Credit Linked Condition 11, the definitions of “Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount” and “Outstanding Aggregated Accreted Nominal Amount” (in the case of Single Name Credit Linked Notes) and “Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount” and “Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount” (in the case of Basket Credit Linked Notes or Tranched Index Credit Linked Notes) shall be construed in accordance with the provisions set out in Credit Linked Condition 19 (Successor Provisions) where apportionment of calculation amounts as a result of multiple successors being identified is to be applied.

11.1 Credit Event Notice after an M(M)R Restructuring

Upon the occurrence of an M(M)R Restructuring, the Determination Agent may deliver multiple Credit Event Notices with respect to such M(M)R Restructuring to the Issuer (who shall forward such notice(s) to the Fiscal Agent for onward delivery to the Noteholders), each such Credit Event Notice specifying the amount of (i) in the case of Single Name Credit Linked Notes, the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount (or, if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount as at the date of the Credit Event Notice) of the Credit Linked Notes; or (ii) in the case of Basket Credit Linked Notes or Tranched Index Credit Linked Notes, the Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount (or, if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount as at the date of the Credit Event Notice) in respect of the Affected Reference Entity, in each case to which such Credit Event Notice applies as determined by the Determination Agent in its sole discretion which may be less than (as applicable) the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount or Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount of such Credit Linked Notes or the Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount or Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount in respect of such Affected Reference Entity, (such amounts specified in the Credit Event Notice, the “Exercise Amount”), provided that if the Credit Event Notice does not specify an Exercise Amount, then (as applicable) the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount or Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount of the Credit Linked Notes or the Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount or Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount in respect of the Affected Reference Entity immediately prior to the delivery of such Credit Event Notice as determined by the Determination Agent will be deemed to have been specified as the Exercise Amount.

Accordingly, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in these Credit Linked Conditions, where an M(M)R Restructuring has occurred and a Credit Event Notice has been delivered for an Exercise Amount that is less than (i) in the case of Single Name Credit Linked Notes, the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount (or, if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount) of the Credit Linked Notes; or (ii) in the case of Basket Credit Linked Notes, the Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount (or, if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount) in respect of the Affected Reference Entity in respect of the Affected Reference Entity, in each case as at the date immediately prior to the delivery of such Credit Event Notice, the provisions of these Credit Linked Conditions shall be deemed to apply to a principal amount of the Credit Linked Notes (in the case of Single Name Credit Linked Notes) or an amount of the relevant Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount (or Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount, as applicable) (in the case of Basket Credit Linked Notes or Tranched Index Credit Linked Notes) equal to the Exercise Amount only and all the relevant provisions shall be construed accordingly.

11.2 Redemption of Credit Linked Notes following partial exercise

If a Credit Event Notice has been delivered in respect of an M(M)R Restructuring that specifies an Exercise Amount that is less than (a) in the case of Single Name Credit Linked Notes, the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount (or, if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount) of the Credit Linked Notes; or (b) in the case of Basket Credit Linked Notes or Tranche Index Credit Linked Notes, the Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount (or, if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount) in respect of the Affected Reference Entity, then:

- (i) the relevant provisions of Credit Linked Condition 4 (Single Name Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events), Credit Linked Condition 5 (Basket Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events) and Credit Linked Condition 6 (Tranche Index Credit Linked Notes and Credit Events), as applicable, relating to the redemption of Credit Linked Notes shall apply to the Exercise Amount, including for the purposes of calculating the relevant Credit Event Redemption Amount, the relevant Loss Amount or the Physical Redemption Assets to be Delivered to Noteholders, as applicable. In such circumstances, the Determination Agent may adjust such provisions of the Credit Linked Conditions and/or relevant Pricing Supplement as it determines appropriate to take account of this Credit Linked Condition 11, including the basis of the calculation of any Credit Event Redemption Amount, Loss Amount or the Physical Redemption Assets to be Delivered to Noteholders;
- (ii) following any payment of a relevant Credit Event Redemption Amount, determination of any relevant Loss Amount or Delivery of the Physical Redemption Assets to Noteholders, as applicable, or any other determination made in respect of any Exercise Amount, the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount of the Credit Linked Notes or the Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount for the relevant Affected Reference Entity, as applicable, shall (in all cases without double counting) be reduced by an amount equal to the Exercise Amount (or, if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount or Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount, as applicable, shall also be reduced accordingly). The Credit Linked Notes shall remain outstanding and in the case of Single Name Credit Linked Notes this shall be in an amount equal to the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount (or, if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount). Except in the case of Zero Coupon Notes or Non Credit Linked Interest Notes (to which Credit Linked Condition 4.3(ii) (Impact of Credit Event on Accrual of Interest), Credit Linked Condition 5.3(ii) (Impact of Credit Event on Accrual of Interest) or Credit Linked Condition 6.3(ii) (Impact of Credit Event on Accrual of Interest), as applicable, shall continue to apply), interest (if applicable) shall accrue on the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount as provided for in Condition 5 (Fixed Rate Note Provisions) in respect of Fixed Rate Notes or Condition 7 (Floating Rate Note, Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked, Commodity-Linked, Currency-Linked, Inflation-Linked, Futures Contract-Linked, Property-Linked, Rate-Linked and Fund-Linked Interest Note Provisions) in respect of Floating Rate Notes or Other Underlying Interest Linked Notes, as applicable (each as amended), and the Determination Agent may thereafter deliver one or more further Credit Event Notices in respect of the relevant Affected Reference Entity and (as applicable) the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount, Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount, Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount or Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount, to which the Credit Linked Conditions shall continue to apply; and
- (iii) the Determination Agent may adjust the provisions of these Credit Linked Conditions and/or the relevant Pricing Supplement in such manner as it may determine to be appropriate to account for such event.

11.3 Subsequent Credit Events

For the avoidance of doubt (in the case of a Single Name Credit Linked Note subject to multiple successor determinations), the fact that a Restructuring Credit Event has occurred in respect of a Reference Entity shall not preclude delivery of a Credit Event Notice in respect of any other Reference Entity.

11.4 Endorsement of Global Note Certificate to reflect partial redemption

If the provisions of this Credit Linked Condition 11 apply in respect of the Credit Linked Notes, on any redemption of part of each such Credit Linked Note, the relevant Credit Linked Note or, if the Credit Linked Notes are represented by a global note certificate (in registered form), such global note certificate, shall be endorsed to reflect such part redemption on the relevant Credit Event Redemption Date.

11.5 Exercise Amount

The Exercise Amount in connection with a Credit Event Notice describing an M(M)R Restructuring must be (i) an amount that is at least 1,000,000 units of the Settlement Currency (or, if Yen, 100,000,000 units) and an integral multiple thereof; or (ii) (a) in the case of Single Name Credit Linked Notes, the entire Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount of the Credit Linked Notes or if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, an amount in the Settlement Currency equal to the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount; or (b) in the case of Basket Credit Linked Notes, the entire Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount in respect of the Affected Reference Entity or if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, an amount in the Settlement Currency equal to the Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount in respect of the Affected Reference Entity.

The Exercise Amount must be an amount not greater than (as applicable) such Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount, Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount, Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount or Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount.

The Exercise Amount shall be determined in the sole discretion of the Determination Agent.

12. Auction Redemption Terms

12.1 Fallback Redemption

Subject to Credit Linked Condition 18.4 (Redemption Suspension), if the Determination Agent determines with respect to a Credit Event and any relevant Applicable DC Credit Event Question, Applicable Resolution and/or Applicable Auction, that:

- (i) an Auction Cancellation Date has occurred;
- (ii) a No Auction Announcement Date has occurred (and, in circumstances where such No Auction Announcement Date occurs pursuant to this Credit Linked Condition 12.1 or paragraphs (ii) or (iii)(b) under the definition of “No Auction Announcement Date”, the Determination Agent has not exercised the Movement Option);
- (iii) a DC Credit Event Question Dismissal occurs; or
- (iv) a Relevant Event Determination Date was determined pursuant to the definition of “Standard Event Determination Date” or pursuant to paragraph (i) of the definition of “Non-Standard Event Determination Date”, and no Credit Event Resolution Request Date has occurred on or prior to the date falling three Business Days after such Relevant Event Determination Date, or
- (v) a Relevant Event Determination Date was determined pursuant to paragraph (ii)(b)(B)(II)(y) of the definition of “Non-Standard Event Determination Date”, then the Fallback Redemption Method shall apply and the Issuer shall redeem each Credit Linked Note in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 13 (Cash Redemption Terms).

12.2 Movement Option

If the Determination Agent determines in respect of an M(M)R Restructuring that a No Auction Announcement Date has occurred pursuant to paragraph (b) or (c)(ii) of the definition of “No Auction Announcement Date”, the Determination Agent may elect in its sole and absolute discretion (with such discretion to be exercised as if the Determination Agent were the “Buyer” under a credit derivative transaction referencing the Reference Entity) to deliver a Notice to Exercise Movement Option to the Issuer (who will then send a subsequent notice to the Fiscal Agent for onward delivery to the Noteholders) at any time on or prior to the Movement Option Cut-off Date.

If a Notice to Exercise Movement Option is so delivered, then the relevant Auction Redemption Amount or Loss Amount, as applicable, shall be calculated on the basis of the Auction Final Price determined by reference to the relevant Parallel Auction identified by the Determination Agent in the Notice to Exercise Movement Option. If a Notice to Exercise Movement Option is delivered by the Determination Agent, all references in these Credit Linked Conditions to “Applicable Auction”, “Applicable Auction Settlement Terms”, “Auction Cancellation Date” and “Auction Final Price Determination Date” shall be deemed to be references to the “Parallel Auction”, “Parallel Auction Settlement Terms” and “Parallel Auction Cancellation Date” and the terms of these Credit Linked Conditions shall be construed accordingly.

If a Notice to Exercise Movement Option is not delivered, the Fallback Redemption Method shall apply and the Issuer shall redeem each Credit Linked Note in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 13 (Cash Redemption Terms).

12.3 Auction Final Price of the Asset Package

If an Asset Package Credit Event has occurred and the Auction Final Price for the Applicable Auction reflects the entire relevant Asset Package in respect of the Prior Deliverable Obligation(s) or Package Observable Bond(s), as applicable (including any cash forming part of the Asset Package and the Asset Market Value of any Non-Financial Instrument or Non-Transferable Instrument), the Auction Redemption Amount, Loss Amount and Final Auction Redemption Amount (as applicable), shall be determined using such Auction Final Price.

If an Asset Package Credit Event has occurred and the Auction Final Price for the Applicable Auction does not reflect the entire relevant Asset Package in respect of the Prior Deliverable Obligations or Package Observable Bond(s), as applicable (including any cash forming part of the Asset Package and the Asset Market Value of any Non-Financial Instrument or Non-Transferable Instrument), the Determination Agent shall make such adjustments as it deems necessary to preserve the economic effect of the Credit Linked Notes.

12.4 Delivery of Auction Redemption Amount Notice

Following the Auction Final Price Determination Date and regardless of whether “Credit Recovery on Maturity” or “Credit Recovery following Credit Event” applies in the case of Single Name Credit Linked Notes or Basket Credit Linked Notes, the Determination Agent shall deliver the Auction Redemption Amount Notice to the Issuer and the Issuer shall deliver the Auction Redemption Amount Notice to the Fiscal Agent no later than five Business Days following the Auction Final Price Determination Date. The Fiscal Agent shall then, as soon as reasonably practicable, deliver the Auction Redemption Amount Notice to the Noteholders in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices).

13. Cash Redemption Terms

13.1 Determination of Final Price

Subject to Credit Linked Condition 18.4 (Redemption Suspension), on the Valuation Date, the Determination Agent shall determine (i) the Final Price using the Valuation Obligation to be valued and, (ii) based on the then current market practice in the market of the Valuation Obligation, whether the Outstanding Principal Balance of the Valuation Obligation shall include or exclude accrued but unpaid interest and, if applicable, the amount thereof.

13.2 Delivery of Cash Redemption Amount Notice

The Determination Agent shall (regardless of whether “Credit Recovery on Maturity” or “Credit Recovery following Credit Event” applies), as soon as reasonably practicable, after obtaining all Quotations for a Valuation Date and determining the Final Price (such date of determination, the “Final Price Determination Date”), provide the Issuer with a Cash Redemption Amount Notice. The Issuer shall deliver the Cash Redemption Amount Notice to the Fiscal Agent no later than five Business Days following the Final Price Determination Date. The Fiscal Agent shall then, as soon as reasonably practicable, deliver the Cash Redemption Amount Notice to the Noteholders in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices).

If an Asset Package Credit Event has occurred, (i) valuation of a Prior Deliverable Obligation or Package Observable Bond may be satisfied by valuation of the related Asset Package and such Asset Package shall be treated as having the same currency and Outstanding Principal Balance as that of the Prior Deliverable Obligation or Package Observable Bond, as applicable, to which it corresponds immediately prior to the Asset Package Credit Event and (ii) if the Asset Package is zero, a Quotation shall be deemed to have been obtained for the Outstanding Principal Balance of the Prior Deliverable Obligation or Package Observable Bond, as applicable, equal to zero.

14. Physical Redemption Terms

14.1 Delivery of Physical Redemption Assets

- (i) Subject to Credit Linked Condition 18.4 (Redemption Suspension) and notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Condition 26 (Redemption and Purchase), and unless previously redeemed in full or purchased and cancelled, if Physical Redemption applies pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 4.5(iii) (Physical Redemption) or Credit Linked Condition 5.5(iii) (Physical Redemption), as applicable, the Applicable Proportion of each Credit Linked Note, shall, subject to and in accordance with this Credit Linked Condition 14, be redeemed by, in respect of the Single Noteholder: (a) Delivery by the Issuer or an Affiliate on behalf of the Issuer (at the risk of the Single Noteholder) of the Physical Redemption Assets specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, on or prior to the Physical Redemption Date in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 14.2 (Physical Redemption Assets), and (b) payment of the Partial Cash Redemption Amount or Fallback Cash Redemption Amount (if applicable) in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms) or any Asset Package Cash Redemption Amount (where applicable) in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 14.10(iii) (Asset Package Delivery), pursuant to which the Issuer's obligations in respect of the redemption of the Applicable Proportion of each Credit Linked Note shall be fully and effectively discharged.
- (ii) In respect of Credit Linked Notes that are only partially redeemed, the remaining portion of each Credit Linked Note which is not so redeemed shall be redeemed on the later of (a) the later to occur of (A) the Scheduled Maturity Date and (B) the Extended Maturity Date, as applicable, at the Final Physical Redemption Assets, and (b) where the Credit Linked Notes early redeem in full, the Optional Redemption Date (Call), Optional Redemption Date (Put) or Substitution Event Date or other early redemption date pursuant to the Conditions, as applicable.
- (iii) In order for the Credit Linked Notes to be redeemed in accordance with this Credit Linked Condition 14:
 - (a) Upon the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent receiving a Credit Event Notice from the Determination Agent, the Fiscal Agent shall forward the relevant Credit Event Notice to the Single Noteholder in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices) as soon as practicable and, in any case, prior to the relevant Physical Redemption Date.
 - (b) Upon receiving the Credit Event Notice, the Single Noteholder may deliver a Valid Physical Redemption Election Notice to the Issuer, the Determination Agent and the Fiscal Agent, by no later than the fifth Business Day following a Relevant Event Determination Date, such notice containing the following details:
 - (A) specifying the Series number of the Credit Linked Notes which is the subject of the Physical Redemption Election Notice;
 - (B) including such details as are required for the transfer or assignment of the Physical Redemption Assets which may include, without limitation, the name, address and/or details of the Single Noteholder's account at Clearstream, Luxembourg or Euroclear, as applicable (the "Relevant Clearing System"), to be credited with such Physical Redemption Assets and/or any bank, broker or agent of the Single Noteholder to whom documents evidencing the transfer of Physical Redemption Assets to be delivered;

- (C) including such details as are required for the redemption of the Credit Linked Notes which may include, without limitation, (I) details of the Single Noteholder's account at Clearstream, Luxembourg or Euroclear and (II) an instruction to Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg to block such Single Noteholder's account until Delivery (or payment, if applicable) is completed;
 - (D) specifying the name and details of the account to which the Partial Cash Redemption Amount, Fallback Cash Redemption Amount or Asset Package Cash Redemption Amount (in each case, if any) is to be credited;
 - (E) containing an acknowledgment that an amount equal to each Credit Linked Note's pro rata share of all Unwind Costs (if "Credit Unwind Costs" is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement), Delivery Expenses or Interest Suspension Shortfall Amount (in each case, if any) shall be deducted from the Outstanding Principal Balance or Due and Payable Amount;
 - (F) certifying, either (I) in respect of Credit Linked Notes represented by a Regulation S Global Note, that the beneficial owner of each such Credit Linked Note is not a U.S. Person, the Note is not being redeemed within the United States or on behalf of a U.S. Person and no cash, notes or other property have been or will be delivered within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. Person in connection with any redemption thereof; or (II) in respect of Credit Linked Notes represented by a Rule 144A Global Note, that the beneficial owner of each such Credit Linked Note is a QIB;
 - (G) authorising the production of such certification in any applicable administrative or legal proceedings, as provided in the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement;
 - (H) if the Credit Linked Notes are in definitive form, including the definitive Credit Linked Notes; and
 - (I) providing a Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg screenshot of the Single Noteholder's holdings.
- (iv) An executive director or managing director of the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent shall confirm to the Single Noteholder and notify the Determination Agent that such Physical Redemption Election Notice is a Valid Physical Redemption Election Notice, as soon as possible, and, in any case, prior to the relevant Physical Redemption Date. Following such notification, the Determination Agent shall provide a Notice of Physical Settlement to the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent for onward delivery to the Single Noteholder in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices) as soon as practicable and, in any case, prior to the relevant Physical Redemption Date.
- (v) The Determination Agent may, at any time, by delivery to the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent of a NOPS Amendment Notice, give notice that the Issuer is replacing, in whole or in part, the Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or a prior NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable. Upon receipt, the Fiscal Agent shall deliver such notice to the Noteholder in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices).
- (vi) No Physical Redemption Election Notice may be withdrawn after receipt thereof by the Relevant Clearing System, the Issuer, the Determination Agent or the Fiscal Agent, as the case may be, except with the Issuer's written consent. After delivery of a Valid Physical Redemption Election Notice (a) such Single Noteholder shall be the only person entitled to delivery of its portion of the Physical Redemption Assets, and as such (b) the Single Noteholder may not transfer the Credit Linked Notes which are the subject of such notice.
- (vii) Failure to properly complete and deliver a Physical Redemption Election Notice may result in such notice being treated as null and void and deemed to not have been provided. Any determination as to whether such notice has been properly completed and delivered as provided in these Credit Linked Conditions shall be made by the Determination Agent, the Issuer or the Fiscal Agent, on the Issuer's behalf, and shall be conclusive and binding on the Single Noteholder.

If no Valid Physical Redemption Notice has been delivered by the fifth Business Day following a Relevant Event Determination Date, Cash Redemption shall be deemed to apply instead pursuant to the fallback cash redemption terms in Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms).

- (viii) Delivery of the Physical Redemption Assets and payment of the Partial Cash Redemption Amount or Fallback Cash Redemption Amount (in each case, if any) in respect of the Single Noteholder shall be made by the Issuer in accordance with the details specified in the applicable Valid Physical Redemption Election Notice.

14.2 Physical Redemption Assets

- (i) Subject to this Credit Linked Condition 14.2, the Issuer may only Deliver or procure Delivery of the Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable.
- (ii) Until the date on which the Physical Redemption Assets have been fully Delivered, the Issuer or any other person (including the Issuer's Affiliates) will continue to be the legal holder of the Deliverable Obligations comprising the Physical Redemption Assets. None of the Issuer nor any such other person will (a) be under any obligation to deliver or procure delivery to the Single Noteholder or any other person any letter, certificate, notice, circular or any other document or payment whatsoever received by the Issuer or that other person in its capacity as legal holder of such Deliverable Obligations, (b) be under any obligation to exercise or procure exercise of any or all rights (including voting rights) attaching to such Deliverable Obligations comprising the Physical Redemption Assets, (c) be under any liability to such Single Noteholder or any other person in respect of any loss or damage which such Single Noteholder or other person may sustain or suffer as a result, whether directly or indirectly, of the Issuer or any other person being the legal holder of such Deliverable Obligations comprising the Physical Redemption Assets, or (d) have any liability whatsoever to the Single Noteholder or any other person if, as a result of a Payment/Delivery Failure Event or pursuant to any of Credit Linked Conditions 14.3 (Election to deliver alternative amount of Deliverable Obligations/Hedge Disruption Obligation) to 14.8 (Alternative Procedures Relating to Loans not Delivered) (both inclusive) or Credit Linked Condition 14.10(v) (Asset Package Delivery), it is unable to effect Delivery of any Deliverable Obligations comprising the Physical Redemption Assets and the obligations hereunder shall be satisfied by partial cash settlement or fallback cash redemption (if applicable) or shall cease, and be deemed to be fully discharged in accordance with the Credit Linked Conditions.
- (iii) If the Determination Agent determines that all or any part of the Physical Redemption Assets that would be required to be Delivered to the Single Noteholder is not a whole integral multiple of the smallest unit of transfer for any such Physical Redemption Assets at the relevant time of Delivery, the Issuer will Deliver and such Single Noteholder will only be entitled to receive such portion of the Physical Redemption Assets specified by the Issuer which is as large a size as possible (as determined by the Determination Agent, after consideration of such smallest unit or units of transfer and application of rounding to such amount, whether upwards or downwards to the nearest unit of transfer, in its sole discretion). Any portion of the Physical Redemption Assets not so delivered shall be deemed to have a value of zero and the Issuer's obligations to the Single Noteholder in respect of such portion shall be fully and effectively discharged.

14.3 Election to deliver alternative amount of Deliverable Obligations/Hedge Disruption Obligation

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Credit Linked Condition 14.1 (Delivery of Physical Redemption Assets), the Issuer may elect to Deliver to the Single Noteholder Deliverable Obligations with an Outstanding Principal Balance or a Due and Payable Amount, as applicable (or the equivalent Currency Amount of any such amount), that is (x) greater than, or (y) less than, that which the Single Noteholder would otherwise have been entitled to receive by way of Physical Redemption Assets.

If:

- (i) the Issuer exercises its election pursuant to this Credit Linked Condition 14.3; or
- (ii) the Determination Agent determines that the Deliverable Obligations set out in the Notice of Physical Settlement or NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, cannot be Delivered due to an event (including, without limitation, any delay in settlement of any Applicable Auction) which results in the Issuer and/or its Affiliates not receiving the relevant Deliverable Obligations under its Hedge Positions (such obligations which cannot be Delivered, a “Hedge Disruption Obligation”), the Issuer may attempt to continue to Deliver without prejudice to the provisions set out in Credit Linked Condition 14.1 (Delivery of Physical Redemption Assets) and the Determination Agent may (but is not obliged to) after taking into account costs to the Issuer, including the trading price of any alternative Deliverable Obligation, provide notice to the Issuer (which shall be forwarded to the Fiscal Agent for onward delivery to the Single Noteholder) that alternative Deliverable Obligation(s) will be delivered in lieu of any other Deliverable Obligation specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, satisfying on the Physical Redemption Date and the Delivery Date, each of the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics, if any, specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement and otherwise satisfying the requirements to constitute a Deliverable Obligation (and such instrument shall be deemed specified in the NOPS Amendment Notice which will be effective notwithstanding the fact that it is deemed specified after the Physical Redemption Date).

If no Delivery has been completed on or prior to the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date, Cash Redemption shall be deemed to apply instead pursuant to the fallback cash redemption terms in Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms) with respect to the Deliverable Obligations that cannot be Delivered and the Issuer shall pay to the Single Noteholder each Credit Linked Note’s pro rata share of the Fallback Cash Redemption Amount on the Fallback Cash Redemption Date. For such purpose, the Deliverable Obligations that cannot be Delivered (including the Hedge Disruption Obligations) shall constitute an “Undelivered Deliverable Obligation” for the purposes of the application of Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms).

14.4 Partial Cash Redemption due to Impossibility or Illegality

If, the Determination Agent, prior to the Delivery of the Deliverable Obligations in accordance with this Credit Linked Condition 14.1 (Delivery of Physical Redemption Assets) determines, in its sole discretion acting in good faith (such determination, a “Non-Delivery Determination”), that:

- (i) due to an event beyond the control of the Issuer, it is impossible or illegal for the Issuer to Deliver or procure an Affiliate to Deliver, or due to an event beyond the control of the Issuer it is impossible or illegal for the Single Noteholder to accept Delivery of, any of the Deliverable Obligations (other than a Prior Deliverable Obligation or a Package Observable Bond if an Asset Package Credit Event has occurred) specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or any NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, on the Physical Redemption Date (including, without limitation, failure of the relevant clearance system or due to any law, regulation or court order, but excluding market conditions or the failure to obtain any requisite consent with respect to the Delivery of Loans);
- (ii) it is not practicable for the Issuer to Deliver or procure that an Affiliate Delivers any of the Deliverable Obligations (other than a Prior Deliverable Obligation or a Package Observable Bond if an Asset Package Credit Event has occurred) specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or any NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, on the Physical Redemption Date, whether by reason of denomination of the relevant Deliverable Obligation, any transfer restriction on the relevant Deliverable Obligation or the nature or status of the Single Noteholder or any other reason;
- (iii) no obligations of the Reference Entity fall within the definition of “Deliverable Obligation” and are capable of being Delivered; or

- (iv) the Issuer and an Affiliate is otherwise unable to acquire or source all or some of the Deliverable Obligations necessary to give effect to physical redemption pursuant to this Credit Linked Condition 14, then on or before such date:

- (a) the Issuer shall Deliver (or procure that an Affiliate Delivers) and the Single Noteholder shall take Delivery of any of the Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, for which it is possible and legal to take Delivery; and
- (b) the Determination Agent shall provide a description in reasonable detail of the facts giving rise to such Non-Delivery Determination and, as soon as practicable thereafter, the Issuer shall Deliver (or procure that an Affiliate Delivers) and the Single Noteholder shall take Delivery of the Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or NOPS Amendment Notice as applicable which were not delivered on the Delivery Date.

The date on which the Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, which were not Delivered and are subsequently Delivered shall be the date on which the Issuer is deemed to have completed Delivery of the Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, relating to the Relevant Credit Event.

If following the occurrence of any such circumstances set out in Credit Linked Conditions 14.4(i) to (iv) (Partial Cash Redemption due to Impossibility or Illegality), the amount of Deliverable Obligations that are to be Delivered as specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or any NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, are not delivered to the Single Noteholder on or prior to the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date, then Cash Redemption in accordance with the partial cash redemption terms in Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms) shall apply with respect to the Deliverable Obligations that cannot be Delivered (the “Undeliverable Obligations”).

14.5 Partial Cash Redemption of Consent Required Loans

If:

- (i) the Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or NOPS Amendment Notice include Consent Required Loans that, due to the non-receipt of any requisite consents, are not, on the Physical Redemption Date, capable of being assigned or novated to the Single Noteholder, and such consents are not obtained or deemed given by the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date; and
- (ii) “Direct Loan Participation” is not specified as a Deliverable Obligation Characteristic in the relevant Pricing Supplement, or “Direct Loan Participation” is specified as a Deliverable Obligation Characteristic in the relevant Pricing Supplement and the relevant participation is not effected on or before the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date,

Cash Redemption pursuant to the partial cash redemption terms in Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms) shall be deemed to apply to the Credit Linked Notes with respect to the Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, that consist of Consent Required Loans for which consents are not obtained or deemed given (the “Undeliverable Loan Obligations”).

14.6 Partial Cash Redemption of Assignable Loans

If:

- (i) the Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or NOPS Amendment Notice include Assignable Loans that, due to the non-receipt of any requisite consents, are not, on the Physical Redemption Date, capable of being assigned or novated to the Single

Noteholder, and such consents are not obtained or deemed given by the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date; and

- (ii) “Direct Loan Participation” is not specified as a Deliverable Obligation Characteristic in the relevant Pricing Supplement, or “Direct Loan Participation” is specified as a Deliverable Obligation Characteristic in the relevant Pricing Supplement and the relevant participation is not effected on or before the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date,

Cash Redemption pursuant to the partial cash redemption terms in Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms) shall be deemed to apply to the Credit Linked Notes with respect to the Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or last NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, that consist of Assignable Loans for which consents are not obtained or deemed given (the “Unassignable Obligations”).

14.7 Partial Cash Redemption of Participations

If the Deliverable Obligations include Direct Loan Participations and the relevant participation is not effected on or before the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date, Cash Redemption pursuant to the partial cash redemption terms in Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms) shall be deemed to apply to the Credit Linked Notes with respect to the Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or any NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable that consist of Direct Loan Participations in respect of which the relevant participation is not effected (the “Undeliverable Participations”).

14.8 Alternative Procedures Relating to Loans not Delivered

- (i) If the Issuer has not Delivered or procured that an Affiliate has Delivered any Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or any NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, that are Loans (other than any Loan which (a) is a Prior Deliverable Obligation which the Issuer has notified the Fiscal Agent it intends to Deliver an Asset Package in lieu thereof, or (b) forms part of an Asset Package which the Issuer has notified the Fiscal Agent it intends to Deliver) on or prior to the date that is five Business Days after the relevant Physical Redemption Date (the “Loan Alternative Procedure Start Date”), Credit Linked Condition 14.8(ii) (Alternative Procedures Relating to Loans not Delivered) shall apply unless (A) “Reference Obligation Only” has been specified as the Deliverable Obligation Category in the relevant Pricing Supplement, (B) in the case of a Consent Required Loan, “Partial Cash Redemption of Consent Required Loans” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement (in which case Credit Linked Condition 14.5 (Partial Cash Redemption of Consent Required Loans) shall apply), (C) in the case of an Assignable Loan, “Partial Cash Redemption of Assignable Loans” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement (in which case Credit Linked Condition 14.6 (Partial Cash Redemption of Assignable Loans) shall apply), (D) in the case of a Direct Loan Participation, “Partial Cash Redemption of Participation” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement (in which case Credit Linked Condition 14.7 (Partial Cash Redemption of Participations) shall apply) or (E) in any case, such failure to Deliver is due to an event described in Credit Linked Condition 14.4 (Partial Cash Redemption due to Impossibility or Illegality) (in which case Credit Linked Condition 14.4 (Partial Cash Redemption due to Impossibility or Illegality) shall apply).
- (ii) If the Issuer has failed to obtain the requisite consents to Deliver a Loan specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or any NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, at any time after the 15th Business Day following the Loan Alternative Procedure Start Date, the Issuer may (but is not obliged to) Deliver (or procure Delivery of), in lieu of all or part of such Loan and after taking into account costs to the Issuer, including the trading price of any alternative Deliverable Obligation, any, subject to Credit Linked Condition 20.1 (Restructuring Maturity Limitation) and 20.2 (Modified Restructuring Maturity Limitation), Bond that is Transferable and Not Bearer or any Assignable Loan, and having on both the Physical Redemption Date and the Delivery Date each of the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics (other than Consent Required Loan or Direct Loan Participation), if any, specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement and otherwise satisfying the requirements to constitute a Deliverable Obligation (and such instrument shall be deemed specified in the NOPS Amendment Notice which will be effective notwithstanding the fact that it is deemed specified after the Physical Redemption Date). In the event that the Deliverable Obligations or other Deliverable Obligations to be delivered in lieu of all or part of such Loan are not Delivered on or prior to the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date, Cash Redemption shall be deemed to apply instead pursuant to the fallback cash redemption terms in Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms) with respect to the Loans specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, or alternative Deliverable Obligation, as determined by the Determination Agent and the Issuer shall pay the Single Noteholder each Credit Linked Note's pro rata share of the Fallback Cash Redemption Amount on the Fallback Cash Redemption Date. For such purpose, the Deliverable Obligations not Delivered shall constitute "Undelivered Deliverable Obligations" for the purposes of the application of Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms).

14.9 Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms

The following terms apply for the purposes of the partial cash redemption terms referred to in Credit Linked Conditions 14.4 (Partial Cash Redemption due to Impossibility or Illegality) to 14.8 (Alternative Procedures Relating to Loans not Delivered) and for the purposes of the fallback cash redemption terms referred to in Credit Linked Condition 14.1(vii) (Delivery of Physical Redemption Assets) and Credit Linked Condition 17.2 (Payment/Delivery Failure Event – failure to deliver):

- (i) (a) If Cash Redemption is deemed to apply pursuant to this Credit Linked Condition, the Issuer shall pay in respect of the portion of the Physical Redemption Assets corresponding to the applicable Undeliverable Obligation, Undeliverable Loan Obligation, Undeliverable Participation or Unassignable Obligation (each an "Undeliverable Deliverable Obligation") the Partial Cash Redemption Amount on the Partial Cash Redemption Date (each as determined in accordance with this Credit Linked Condition 14.9), and (b) in respect of (A) the Physical Redemption Assets which cannot be delivered as described in Credit Linked Conditions 17.2 (Payment/Delivery Failure Event – failure to deliver), 14.3 (Election to deliver alternative amount of Deliverable Obligations/Hedge Disruption Obligation), 14.8 (Alternative Procedures Relating to Loans not Delivered), 14.10(iii) (Asset Package Delivery) or 14.10(v) (Asset Package Delivery) or (B) all the Physical Redemption Assets, if no Valid Physical Redemption Notice has been delivered by the fifth Business Day following a Relevant Event Determination Date as described in Credit Linked Condition 14.1(vii) (Delivery of Physical Redemption Assets) (each, an "Undelivered Deliverable Obligation"), the Issuer shall pay in respect of the portion of the Physical Redemption Assets corresponding to the applicable Undeliverable Deliverable Obligations, the Fallback Cash Redemption Amount on the Fallback Cash Redemption Date (each as determined in accordance with this Credit Linked Condition 14.9);
- (ii) "Partial Cash Redemption Amount" means an aggregate amount calculated by the Determination Agent in respect of all Undeliverable Deliverable Obligations, representing in respect of each Undeliverable Deliverable Obligation, an amount equal to the greater of (a) (A) the Outstanding Principal Balance, the Due and Payable Amount or the Currency Amount, as applicable, of such Undeliverable Deliverable Obligation (or in the case of an Asset Package, of the Prior Deliverable Obligation or Package Observable Bond), as the case may be, multiplied by (B) the Final Price with respect to such Undeliverable Deliverable Obligation, as determined by the Determination Agent (in its discretion, acting in a commercially reasonable manner), minus (C) if "Credit Unwind Costs" is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, Unwind Costs, if any (but excluding any Unwind Costs already taken into account in calculating the principal amount of the relevant Physical Redemption Assets to deliver) and (b) zero;
- (iii) "Partial Cash Redemption Date" and "Fallback Cash Redemption Date" means the date as selected by the Determination Agent up to and including the date falling 10 Business Days following the Final Price Determination Date;
- (iv) "Fallback Cash Redemption Amount" has the same meaning as set out in "Partial Cash Redemption Amount", provided that each reference therein to "Undeliverable Deliverable Obligation" shall be deemed to be a reference to "Undelivered Deliverable Obligation";

- (v) “Reference Obligation” means, in respect of the determination of the Partial Cash Redemption Amount, each Undeliverable Deliverable Obligation and in respect of the determination of the Fallback Cash Redemption Amount, each Undelivered Deliverable Obligation;
 - (vi) “Valuation Date” means the date that is two Business Days after the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date;
 - (vii) “Valuation Method” means the highest Quotation obtained by the Determination Agent (or in accordance with paragraph (ii) of the definition of “Quotation” in Credit Linked Condition 26 (Definitions)) with respect to any Valuation Date or, if fewer than two Full Quotations are obtained or a Weighted Average Quotation applies, in which case, Market Value;
 - (viii) “Quotation Method” means a method of quotation where only bid quotations shall be requested from Quotation Dealers;
 - (ix) “Quotation Amount” means, with respect to each type or issue of Undeliverable Deliverable Obligation or Undelivered Deliverable Obligation, an amount equal to the Outstanding Principal Balance or Due and Payable Amount (or, in either case, its equivalent in the relevant Obligation Currency which shall be converted by the Determination Agent in a commercially reasonable manner by reference to exchange rates in effect at the time that the relevant Quotation is being obtained), as applicable, of such Undeliverable Deliverable Obligation or Undelivered Deliverable Obligation, as applicable, as the case may be. The Determination Agent may in its discretion, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, round up or down the Quotation Amount for the purposes of seeking a Quotation;
 - (x) “Valuation Time” means the time specified as such in the relevant Pricing Supplement, or if no such time is specified, the time specified by the Determination Agent, which shall be as close as reasonably practicable to 11:00 a.m. in the principal trading market for transactions in the Undeliverable Deliverable Obligation or Undelivered Deliverable Obligation, as applicable, unless the Determination Agent determines that the principal trading market for transactions in the Undeliverable Deliverable Obligation or Undelivered Deliverable Obligation, as applicable, would be closed at such time or such transactions are not being conducted in sufficient volume (as determined by the Determination Agent in its discretion, acting in a commercially reasonable manner) at such time, in which event the Valuation Time shall be such other time as may be specified by the Determination Agent that such principal market is open;
 - (xi) “Market Value” means, with respect to an Undeliverable Deliverable Obligation or an Undelivered Deliverable Obligation, as applicable, on a Valuation Date, (a) if more than three Full Quotations are obtained the arithmetic mean of such Full Quotations, disregarding the Full Quotations having the same highest and lowest values (and, if more than one such Full Quotations have the same highest and lowest value, then one of such highest or lowest Full Quotations shall be disregarded); (b) if exactly three Full Quotations are obtained, the Full Quotation remaining after disregarding the highest and lowest Full Quotations (and, if more than one such Full Quotations have the same highest or lowest value, then one of such highest or lowest Full Quotations shall be disregarded); (c) if exactly two Full Quotations are obtained, the arithmetic mean of such Full Quotations; (d) if fewer than two Full Quotations are obtained and a Weighted Average Quotation is obtained then, subject to paragraph (b) of the definition of “Quotation” in Credit Linked Condition 14.9(xii) (Quotation), an amount that the Determination Agent shall determine on the next Business Day on which two or more Full Quotations or a Weighted Average Quotation are obtained; and (e) if fewer than two Full Quotations are obtained and no Weighted Average Quotation is obtained on the same Business Day on or prior to the tenth Business Day following the Valuation Date, the Market Value shall be any Full Quotation obtained from a Quotation Dealer at the Valuation Time on such tenth Business Day or, if no Full Quotation or Weighted Average Quotation is obtained, the Market Value shall be determined as provided in paragraphs (b) to (c) of the definition of “Quotation” in Credit Linked Condition 14.9(xii) (Quotation);
 - (xii) “Quotation” means each Full Quotation and the Weighted Average Quotation obtained and expressed as a percentage of either (x) if the Reference Obligation is not an Asset Package, the Reference Obligation’s Outstanding Principal Balance or Due and Payable Amount, as applicable, or (y) if the Reference Obligation is an Asset Package, the Outstanding Principal

Balance or Due and Payable Amount, as applicable, of the Prior Deliverable Obligation or Package Observable Bond to which the Asset Package relates, in each case, with respect to a Valuation Date in the manner that follows:

- (a) The Determination Agent shall attempt to obtain Full Quotations with respect to each Valuation Date from five or more Quotation Dealers. If the Determination Agent is unable to obtain two or more such Full Quotations on the Valuation Date, then on the next following Business Day (and, if necessary, on each Business Day thereafter until the tenth Business Day following the relevant Valuation Date) the Determination Agent shall attempt to obtain Full Quotations from five or more Quotation Dealers and, if two or more Full Quotations are not available, a Weighted Average Quotation.
- (b) If the Determination Agent is unable to obtain two or more Full Quotations or a Weighted Average Quotation on the same Business Day on or prior to the tenth Business Day following the Valuation Date, the Quotations shall be deemed to be any Full Quotation obtained from a Quotation Dealer at the Valuation Time on such tenth Business Day, or, if no Full Quotation is obtained, the Quotations shall be deemed to be zero.
- (c) The Determination Agent shall determine based on the then current market practice in the market of the relevant Undeliverable Obligation, Undeliverable Loan Obligation, Undeliverable Participation, Unassignable Obligation or Undelivered Deliverable Obligation, whether such Quotations shall include or exclude accrued but unpaid interest.

14.10 Asset Package Delivery

- (i) If an Asset Package Credit Event occurs then “Asset Package Delivery” will apply unless (a) such Asset Package Credit Event occurs prior to the Credit Event Backstop Date determined in respect of the Credit Event specified in the Credit Event Notice or DC Credit Event Announcement applicable to an Event Determination Date, (b) if the Reference Entity is a Sovereign, no Package Observable Bond exists immediately prior to such Asset Package Credit Event, or (c) the Reference Entity is a Sovereign and “2014 Sovereign No Asset Package Delivery Supplement to the 2014 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions (September 15, 2014)” is specified as “Applicable” in the relevant Pricing Supplement (even if such a Package Observable Bond has been published by ISDA).
- (ii) If Asset Package Delivery applies, (a) Delivery of a Prior Deliverable Obligation or a Package Observable Bond forming part of the Physical Redemption Assets which is specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, may be satisfied by Delivery of the related Asset Package, and such Asset Package shall be treated as having the same currency, Outstanding Principal Balance or Due and Payable Amount, as applicable, as the Prior Deliverable Obligation or Package Observable Bond to which it corresponds had immediately prior to the Asset Package Credit Event, (b) the definition of “Deliver” shall be deemed to apply to each Asset in the Asset Package, provided that if any such Asset is not a Bond, it shall be treated as if it were a Loan for this purpose, (c) if the Asset Package is zero, the Outstanding Amount of the Prior Deliverable Obligation or Package Observable Bond shall be deemed to have been Delivered in full three Business Days following the date on which the Issuer has notified the Fiscal Agent of the detailed description of the Asset Package that it intends to Deliver in accordance with the definition of “Notice of Physical Settlement”, (d) the Issuer may satisfy its obligation to make Delivery of the Prior Deliverable Obligation or Package Observable Bond in part by Delivery of each Asset in the Asset Package in the correct proportion and (e) if the relevant Asset is a Non-Transferable Instrument or Non-Financial Instrument, the Asset shall be deemed to be an amount of cash equal to the Asset Market Value, converted if necessary into the currency of denomination of the Credit Linked Notes at the prevailing market rate of exchange determined by the Determination Agent in its sole and absolute discretion.
- (iii) Notwithstanding the preceding paragraphs of this Credit Linked Condition 14.10 (Asset Package Delivery), the Issuer may elect in lieu of delivering all or any part of the Asset Package (such assets, the “Non-Deliverable Asset Package”) as Physical Redemption Assets to pay to the Single Noteholder the Asset Market Value of the Non-Deliverable Asset Package, converted if necessary, into the currency of denomination of the Credit Linked Notes at the prevailing market rate of exchange determined by the Determination Agent in its sole and absolute discretion (such cash payment the “Asset Package Cash Redemption Amount”). Payment of the Asset Package Cash Redemption Amount shall be made on or before the tenth Business Day following determination of the Asset Market Value of the Non-Deliverable Asset Package and such date of payment shall be deemed to be the Physical Redemption Date.

- (iv) In determining the Asset Market Value, the Determination Agent may also deem Cash Redemption to apply pursuant to the fallback cash redemption terms in Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms) with respect to the Asset Package and the Issuer shall pay the Single Noteholder each Credit Linked Note’s pro rata amount of the Fallback Cash Redemption Amount on the Fallback Cash Redemption Date in satisfaction of its payment obligation with respect to the Asset Package Cash Redemption Amount. For such purpose, the related Asset Package shall constitute an “Undelivered Deliverable Obligation” for the purposes of the application of Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms) and the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date shall be the date the Determination Agent deems Cash Redemption to apply.
- (v) If the Issuer has not satisfied its obligation to make Delivery of the Prior Deliverable Obligation or Package Observable Bond in part by Delivery of each Asset in the Asset Package in the correct proportion on or prior to the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date, the Issuer may (but is not obliged to) instead Deliver (or procure Delivery of), after taking into account costs to the Issuer, including the trading price of any alternative Deliverable Obligation, any other Deliverable Obligation selected the Issuer and having on both the Physical Redemption Date and the Delivery Date each of the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics, if any, specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement and otherwise satisfying the requirements to constitute a Deliverable Obligation (and such Deliverable Obligation shall be deemed specified in a NOPS Amendment Notice which will be effective notwithstanding the fact that it is deemed specified after the Physical Redemption Date). If Delivery of the Asset Package or any other Deliverable Obligation in lieu of the same is not completed on or prior to the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date, Cash Redemption shall be deemed to apply instead pursuant to the fallback cash redemption terms in Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms) with respect to the Asset Package which has not been Delivered and the Issuer shall pay the Single Noteholder their Credit Linked Note’s pro rata share of the Fallback Cash Redemption Amount on the Fallback Cash Redemption Date.
- (vi) For such purpose, the entire Asset Package shall constitute an “Undelivered Deliverable Obligation” for the purposes of the application of Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms) and the Issuer shall pay the Single Noteholder the Fallback Cash Redemption Amount on the Fallback Cash Redemption Date.

15. Fixed Recovery Redemption Terms

15.1 Redemption Amount

Subject to Credit Linked Condition 18 (Effect of DC Resolutions and Event Determination Dates), unless previously redeemed in full or purchased and cancelled, if Fixed Recovery Redemption is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement, then following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the Applicable Proportion of each Credit Linked Note shall be redeemed or be written down in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 13 (Cash Redemption Terms), provided that:

- (i) the Final Price shall be deemed to be determined at the Fixed Recovery Percentage (specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement with respect to an Affected Reference Entity and the related Relevant Event Determination Date) and the Cash Redemption Amount or the Final Cash Redemption Amount, as applicable, shall be determined using such Fixed Recovery Percentage, as further set out in the definitions of “Cash Redemption Amount” and “Final Cash Redemption Amount” in Credit Linked Condition 26 (Definitions);

- (ii) the “Final Price Determination Date” shall be the date on which the Final Price is deemed to be determined at the Fixed Recovery Percentage; and
- (iii) Single Valuation Date will be deemed to have been specified as the applicable Valuation Date on which the Cash Redemption Amount or the Final Cash Redemption Amount, as applicable, shall be determined.

15.2 Fixed Recovery Percentage of zero

If the Fixed Recovery Percentage is zero, following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date, the occurrence of the relevant Cash Redemption Date or Final Cash Redemption Date, as applicable, shall fully and effectively discharge the Issuer’s obligation to redeem the Applicable Proportion of the relevant Note.

For the avoidance of doubt, in such circumstance, the loss amount in respect of an Affected Reference Entity will be deemed to be 100 per cent. and, accordingly, no amounts will be payable or assets deliverable to the Noteholders. The Noteholders will bear the loss of their principal with respect to such proportion of the Credit Linked Notes impacted by the Credit Event and no liability shall attach to the Issuer.

16. Redemption upon Merger Event

If “Redemption following Merger Event” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, in the event that the Issuer and/or the Determination Agent determines, in its discretion and acting in a commercially reasonable manner, that a Merger Event has occurred in respect of a Reference Entity (such Reference Entity a “Merger Reference Entity”), the Issuer may (but shall not be obliged to) redeem each Credit Linked Note, in the case of Basket Credit Linked Notes or Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes such redemption being in part by a portion equal to the Partial Amount, on an early redemption date to be notified to the Noteholders (such date, the “Merger Event Early Redemption Date”) at an amount equal to its pro rata share of the fair market value of the Credit Linked Notes or, as applicable, such portion thereof (such fair market value assessed as at the 2nd Business Day prior to the Merger Event Early Redemption Date), with such notice to be delivered not less than 15 nor more than 60 calendar days prior to the Merger Event Early Redemption Date in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices) (provided that if nothing is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, “Redemption following Merger Event” shall apply). The Determination Agent shall determine such early redemption amount acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, by reference to factors that the Determination Agent considers relevant, including without limitation, (i) the then prevailing interest rates, (ii) the value of each embedded derivative and (iii) the reasonable costs to the Issuer and/or its Affiliates of unwinding any related hedging arrangement.

17. Payment/Delivery Failure Event

17.1 Payment/Delivery Failure Event – failure to pay

If an event constituting a Payment/Delivery Failure Event under paragraph (i) of such definition has occurred and exists, subject to Credit Linked Condition 17.3 (No additional interest) below, the obligation of the Issuer to pay the relevant amount will be postponed until such time that the Payment/Delivery Failure Event no longer exists or is cured. Where such postponement applies, the Issuer shall give notice of such postponement to the Noteholders (“Payment Failure Event Notice”) as soon as reasonably practicable in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices).

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in these Credit Linked Conditions, if the Issuer determines (in its discretion, acting in a commercially reasonable manner) that such Payment/Delivery Failure Event continues to exist for such number of Business Days specified in the Pricing Supplement or, if no number of Business Days is specified in the Pricing Supplement, 90 Business Days following the later to occur of (i) any scheduled payment date or the (ii) Scheduled Maturity Date or Extended Maturity Date, as applicable (the “Payment Failure Cut-Off Date”) in respect of an amount required to be paid in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 17.3 (No additional interest), no such payment will be made by the Issuer and the Issuer’s obligations to the Noteholder hereunder will be deemed to be fully discharged as of that date.

17.2 Payment/Delivery Failure Event – failure to deliver

If an event constituting a Payment/Delivery Failure Event under paragraph (ii) of such definition has occurred, the obligations of the Issuer to procure Delivery of the Physical Redemption Assets to such Noteholder shall, subject to Credit Linked Conditions 14.1 (Delivery of Physical Redemption Assets) and 18.4 (Redemption Suspension) cease and if “Fallback Cash Redemption” is specified to apply in the relevant Pricing Supplement, Cash Redemption shall be deemed to apply instead pursuant to the fallback cash redemption terms in Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms) with respect to the Physical Redemption Assets that cannot be Delivered on or prior to the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date and the Issuer shall pay each Noteholder each Credit Linked Note’s pro rata share of the Fallback Cash Redemption Amount on the Fallback Cash Redemption Date. For such purpose, the Physical Redemption Assets shall constitute an “Undelivered Deliverable Obligations” for the purposes of application of Credit Linked Condition 14.9 (Partial Cash Redemption Terms and Fallback Cash Redemption Terms).

If “Fallback Cash Redemption” is not specified to apply in the relevant Pricing Supplement and if such Payment/Delivery Failure Event continues to exist on the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date, the Issuer shall have no further liability or obligation whatsoever in respect of such Credit Linked Note and no obligation to deliver the Physical Redemption Assets on or after the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date. However, if the Payment/Delivery Failure Event ceases to exist or is cured prior to the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date, the obligation of the Issuer to Deliver the Physical Redemption Assets will be postponed to a date determined by the Issuer to be no later than 10 Business Days following the Latest Permissible Physical Settlement Date (the “Final Physical Redemption Cut-Off Date”).

17.3 No additional interest

Without prejudice to Credit Linked Condition 2.7 (Accrual of Interest where the Redemption Amount, Credit Event Redemption Amount, Partial Cash Redemption Amount, Fallback Cash Redemption Amount or Asset Package Cash Redemption Amount is improperly withheld or refused) or Credit Linked Condition 3.6 (Accrual of Interest where the Redemption Amount is improperly withheld or refused), as applicable, any postponement or deemed discharge of payment pursuant to this Credit Linked Condition 17 will not constitute a default hereunder (including for the purpose of the definition of “Events of Default”) and will not entitle the relevant Noteholder to any additional interest or other payment as a result thereof.

18. Effect of DC Resolutions and Event Determination Dates

18.1 Binding nature

Any DC Resolution of the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee will be binding with respect to the relevant Credit Linked Notes in accordance with these Credit Linked Conditions. The Determination Agent shall, within a reasonable time period, make all necessary amendments to the Conditions of the Credit Linked Notes and undertake all necessary actions to give effect to the adoption of the DC Resolution with respect to the relevant Credit Linked Notes. For the avoidance of doubt, any DC Resolution to not consider a matter shall not preclude the Determination Agent from making a determination on such matter.

18.2 Event Determination Dates

(i) Determinations by the Determination Agent

A Relevant Event Determination Date which is determined by the Determination Agent to apply to the Credit Linked Notes will be binding with respect to the relevant Credit Linked Notes.

(ii) Reversal of DC Credit Event Announcement

If a prior DC Resolution or the occurrence of an Event Determination Date is subsequently reversed prior to the relevant Auction Final Price Determination Date, a Physical Redemption Date, redemption of the Credit Linked Notes in full, a Valuation Date or a Delivery Date, a Credit Event shall be deemed not to have occurred with respect to the relevant Reference Entity for the purposes of these Credit Linked Conditions.

The Determination Agent shall, within a reasonable time period and in its sole and absolute discretion, make all necessary amendments to the Conditions of the Credit Linked Notes or undertake all necessary actions to give effect to such reversal with respect to the relevant Credit Linked Notes (including determining any adjustment payment, if any, and the date such adjustment payment is payable) and no accruals of interest, if any, shall be taken into account when calculating any such adjustment payment and when making such adjustments, no further consent of the Noteholders shall be required.

(iii) Multiple successor determinations

For the avoidance of doubt, where multiple successors have been determined in respect of a Reference Entity in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 19 (Successor Provisions), an Event Determination Date may occur in respect of each successor Reference Entity.

18.3 Determinations in respect of Successors and Substitute Reference Obligations

If a DC Resolution relating to Successors or Substitute Reference Obligations is subsequently reversed after the identification of a Successor or a Substitute Reference Obligation by the Determination Agent, such prior DC Resolution shall be disregarded for the purposes of these Credit Linked Conditions.

The Determination Agent shall, within a reasonable time period and in its sole and absolute discretion, make all necessary amendments to the Conditions of the Credit Linked Notes or undertake all necessary actions to give effect to such reversal with respect to the relevant Credit Linked Notes (including determining any adjustment payment, if any, and the date such adjustment payment is payable) and no accruals of interest, if any, shall be taken into account when calculating any such adjustment payment and when making such adjustments, no further consent of the Noteholders shall be required.

18.4 Redemption Suspension

If, following the occurrence of a Relevant Event Determination Date but prior to the relevant Credit Event Redemption Date, Delivery Date or, to the extent applicable, a Valuation Date in respect of a Reference Entity, there is an Applicable DC Credit Event Meeting Announcement, all timing requirements in these Credit Linked Conditions that pertain to redemption shall toll and remain suspended until the date of the Applicable DC Credit Event Announcement or Applicable DC Credit Event Question Dismissal, as applicable. During such suspension period, the Issuer is not obliged to take any action in connection with the settlement of such Credit Event or the redemption, if any, of the Credit Linked Notes. Once the relevant DC Credit Event Announcement or DC Credit Event Question Dismissal has occurred, the relevant timing requirements that pertain to redemption that have previously tolled or been suspended shall resume on the Business Day following such public announcement by the DC Secretary with the Issuer having the benefit of the full day notwithstanding when the tolling or suspension began. The Issuer shall deliver, or cause the Fiscal Agent to deliver, a notice (a “Redemption Suspension Notice”) in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices) to the Noteholders giving notice of any suspension of timing requirements pursuant to this Credit Linked Condition 18.

18.5 Overriding nature

If, following a determination by the Determination Agent (including its determination of the occurrence of a Credit Event), a later DC Resolution is made by the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee that is inconsistent with such earlier Determination Agent determination by the earlier of:

- (i) (a) the first Valuation Date (where “Cash Redemption” is being specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement or is applicable as the Fallback Redemption Method), (b) the Auction Final Price Determination Date (where “Auction Redemption” is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement) or (c) deadline for delivery of the Physical Redemption Election Notice (where “Physical Redemption” is being specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement);
- (ii) the Credit Event Redemption Date;
- (iii) the Scheduled Maturity Date or if Scheduled Maturity Date Extension applies pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 10 (Scheduled Maturity Date Extension), Extended Maturity Date; and

(iv) the 90th day following written notice of such determination by the Determination Agent, then, in each case, such determination of the Determination Agent is deemed amended on and from the date of the DC Resolution, to that of the DC Resolution.

The Determination Agent shall, within a reasonable time period, make all necessary amendments to the Conditions of the Credit Linked Notes or undertake all necessary actions to give effect to the adoption of the DC Resolution with respect to the relevant Credit Linked Notes.

19. Successor Provisions

19.1 Eligible Successors

An entity may only be a Successor if:

- (i) either (a) the related Succession Date occurs on or after the Successor Backstop Date, or (b) such entity is a Universal Successor in respect of which the Succession Date occurred on or after 1 January 2014;
- (ii) the Reference Entity had at least one Relevant Obligation outstanding immediately prior to the Succession Date and such entity succeeds to all or part of at least one Relevant Obligation of the Reference Entity;
- (iii) where the Reference Entity is a Sovereign, such entity succeeded to the Relevant Obligations by way of a Sovereign Succession Event; and
- (iv) in respect of Untranched Index Credit Linked Notes or Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes, such entity is identified by the relevant Reference Index Sponsor on or following the Trade Date, where the relevant CDS Information Publisher has not publicly announced on or following the Trade Date that the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee has Resolved, in respect of a Successor Resolution Request Date, a Successor in accordance with the DC Rules.

19.2 Successor Determinations

The Determination Agent will be responsible for determining, as soon as reasonably practicable after delivery of a Successor Notice and with effect from the Succession Date, any Successor or Successors in accordance with the definition of “Successor”, provided that the Determination Agent will not make such determination if, at the time of the determination, the DC Secretary has publicly announced that the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee has Resolved that there is no Successor based on the relevant succession to Relevant Obligations.

The Determination Agent will make all calculations and determinations required to be made under this definition on the basis of Eligible Information and will notify the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent of any such calculation or determination as soon as practicable. In calculating the percentages used to determine whether an entity qualifies as a Successor under this Credit Linked Condition 19.2, if there is a Steps Plan, the Determination Agent shall consider all related successions in respect of such Steps Plan in aggregate as if forming part of a single succession.

Notwithstanding the above, the Determination Agent may, but is not obliged to, rely on the determination of any Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee as to whether any Successor has been identified.

19.3 Substitute Reference Obligations following a Successor Event

Where any one or more Successors have not assumed a Non-Standard Reference Obligation, a Substitute Reference Obligation will be determined, where the Determination Agent deems appropriate, in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 21.2 (Substitute Reference Obligation).

19.4 Transaction Types of Successor Reference Entities

If the Transaction Type applicable to a Successor differs from the Transaction Type of the Reference Entity in respect of which the Successor has been identified, notwithstanding such difference, the Transaction Type of the Reference Entity in respect of which the Successor has been identified shall, with effect from the Succession Date, continue to apply to the Successor.

19.5 Succession in respect of multiple Reference Entities simultaneously

If two or more Reference Entities are subject to one or more successions simultaneously or the order of such succession cannot be determined from Eligible Information, then each such Reference Entity shall be deemed to have been subject to a separate succession, with all such successions occurring in the order determined by the Determination Agent.

19.6 Single Successor

Where the Determination Agent determines that there is a single Successor in respect of a Reference Entity, such Successor shall, with effect from the Succession Date, be a Reference Entity for the purpose of the Notes (and, for the avoidance of doubt, the Reference Entity in respect of which the Successor has been identified shall cease to be a Reference Entity with effect from the Succession Date unless it has also been identified as a Successor).

19.7 Joint Potential Successors

If two or more entities (each, a “Joint Potential Successor”) jointly succeed to a Relevant Obligation (the “Joint Relevant Obligation”) either directly or as a provider of a Relevant Guarantee (or, in respect of a Monoline Insurer Reference Entity, a Qualifying Policy), then (i) if the Joint Relevant Obligation was a direct obligation of the relevant Reference Entity, it shall be treated as having been succeeded to by the Joint Potential Successor (or Joint Potential Successors, in equal parts) which succeeded to such Joint Relevant Obligation as direct obligor or obligors, or (ii) if the Joint Relevant Obligation was a Relevant Guarantee (or, in respect of a Monoline Insurer Reference Entity, a Qualifying Policy), it shall be treated as having been succeeded to by the Joint Potential Successor (or Joint Potential Successors, in equal parts) which succeeded to such Joint Relevant Obligation as guarantor or guarantors (or, in respect of a Monoline Insurer Reference Entity, as provider of a Qualifying Policy), if any, or otherwise by each Joint Potential Successor in equal parts.

19.8 Multiple Successors

(i) Single Name Credit Linked Notes

Where the Credit Linked Notes are Single Name Credit Linked Notes and following a succession and related Succession Date in respect of a Reference Entity (such Reference Entity affected by a succession being a “Single Name Succession Reference Entity”), more than one Successor has been identified by the Determination Agent, (x) the Credit Linked Notes will be amended without the consent of the Noteholders to reflect the following terms (such amendments to be notified by the Fiscal Agent (acting on behalf of the Issuer) to the Noteholders in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices)) and (y) to the extent applicable, the Determination Agent shall apportion any outstanding nominal amount (or outstanding accreted nominal amount, if applicable) or any other relevant calculation amounts equally in relation to each Successor:

- (a) the Single Name Succession Reference Entity will no longer be a Reference Entity unless it is also a Successor;
- (b) each Successor will be a Reference Entity (each, a “Single Name Successor Entity”) and, accordingly, more than one Relevant Event Determination Date (and, accordingly, more than one Relevant Credit Event) may occur in respect of the Credit Linked Notes but, subject to Credit Linked Condition 11 (M(M)R Restructuring), once only in relation to each Successor;
- (c) where a Relevant Credit Event and related Relevant Event Determination Date occurs in respect of a Single Name Successor Entity:
 - (A) the Credit Linked Notes will not redeem in whole, but instead the relevant provisions of these Credit Linked Conditions shall be deemed to apply to the nominal amount (or, if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the accreted nominal amount as determined by the Determination Agent) represented by such Single Name Successor Entity only after the apportionment described above (the “Single Name Partial Nominal Amount”);

- (B) the Credit Linked Notes shall, thereafter, be redeemed in part in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 4.5(i) (Auction Redemption), 4.5(ii) (Cash Redemption), 4.5(iii) (Physical Redemption) or 4.5(iv) (Fixed Recovery Redemption), as applicable (such redeemed part being equal to a Noteholder’s pro rata share of the Single Name Partial Nominal Amount (provided that if “Credit Recovery on Maturity” applies such partial redemption shall occur only on the Final Cash Redemption Date, Final Physical Redemption Date or Final Auction Redemption Date, as applicable)); and
- (C) the Credit Linked Conditions and/or the Pricing Supplement shall be construed accordingly (including, for the avoidance of doubt, any interpretation in respect of an M(M)R Restructuring).

In respect of Credit Linked Notes which are not Zero Coupon Notes, following the occurrence of such Relevant Credit Event, such Credit Linked Notes shall remain outstanding in an amount equal to the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount of the Credit Linked Notes and interest shall accrue on the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount of the Credit Linked Notes only (in accordance with these Credit Linked Conditions, adjusted in such manner as the Determination Agent in its discretion, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, determines to be appropriate to reflect the economic effects of the identification of more than one Successor, considered in the aggregate).

For the avoidance of doubt, any Credit Linked Notes in respect of the Series which are not subject to Credit Linked Condition 10 (Scheduled Maturity Date Extension) or do not relate to a Single Name Successor Entity for which a Relevant Credit Event and related Relevant Event Determination Date occurs will be redeemed on the Scheduled Maturity Date;

- (d) if some but not all of the Credit Linked Notes are early redeeming in accordance with Conditions 26 (Redemption and Purchase), 31 (Events of Default), 32 (Illegality and Regulatory Event) or any other early redemption provision in the Conditions, the relevant provisions of these Credit Linked Conditions shall continue to apply to the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount (or if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, an amount equal to the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount) of the Credit Linked Notes; and
- (e) the provisions of this Credit Linked Condition 19.8 shall apply in respect of any identification by the Determination Agent of further Successors.

(ii) Basket Credit Linked Notes and Tranched Index Credit Linked Notes

Where the Credit Linked Notes are Basket Credit Linked Notes or Tranched Index Credit Linked Notes and following a succession and related Succession Date in respect of a Reference Entity (such Reference Entity a “Basket Succession Reference Entity”), more than one Successor has been identified by the Determination Agent, (x) the Credit Linked Notes will be amended without the consent of the Noteholders to reflect the following terms (such amendments to be notified by the Fiscal Agent (acting on behalf of the Issuer) to the Noteholders in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices)) and (y) to the extent applicable and subject as provided below, the Determination Agent shall apportion the Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount (or Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount, if applicable), Reference Entity Nominal Amount (or Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount, if applicable), Reference Entity Weighting or any other relevant calculation amounts equally in relation to each Basket Succession Reference Entity:

- (a) the Basket Succession Reference Entity will no longer be a Reference Entity unless it is also a Successor;
- (b) each Successor will be a Reference Entity and the number of Reference Entities will be increased by the number of Successors;
- (c) if a Successor is already a Reference Entity at the time the provisions for determining Successors are applied, such Successor shall be deemed to be a separate Reference Entity hereunder and a Relevant Event Determination Date, and the related reduction to the Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount (or Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount, if applicable) as a result thereof, may occur separately for each such Reference Entity; and
- (d) the provisions of this Credit Linked Condition 19.8 shall apply in respect of any identification by the Determination Agent of further Successors.

19.9 Exchange Offer

In the case of an exchange offer, the determination required pursuant to paragraph (i) of the definition of “Successor” shall be made on the basis of the outstanding principal balance of Relevant Obligations exchanged and not on the basis of the outstanding principal balance of the Exchange Bonds or Loans.

20. Deliverable Obligations

20.1 Restructuring Maturity Limitation

If (i) “Physical Redemption” is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method and “Mod R” applies and (ii) “Restructuring” is the only Credit Event specified in a Credit Event Notice delivered by the Determination Agent, then unless the Deliverable Obligation is a Prior Deliverable Obligation and Asset Package Delivery applies due to a Governmental Intervention, a Deliverable Obligation may only be specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or any NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, if it (a) is a Fully Transferable Obligation and (b) has a final maturity date not later than the Restructuring Maturity Limitation Date, in each case, as of the Delivery Date. In respect of a Monoline Insurer Reference Entity and with respect to an Insured Instrument in the form of a pass-through certificate or similar funded beneficial interest, the term “final maturity date”, as such term is used in this paragraph shall mean the specified date by which the Qualifying Policy guarantees or insures, as applicable, that the ultimate distribution of the Certificate Balance will occur.

20.2 Modified Restructuring Maturity Limitation

- (i) If (a) “Physical Redemption” is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method and “Mod Mod R” applies and (b) Restructuring is the only Credit Event specified in a Credit Event Notice delivered by Issuer, then unless the Deliverable Obligation is a Prior Deliverable Obligation and Asset Package Delivery applies due to a Governmental Intervention, a Deliverable Obligation may only be specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or any NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, if it (x) is a Conditionally Transferable Obligation and (y) has a final maturity date not later than the applicable Modified Restructuring Maturity Limitation Date in each case, as of the Delivery Date. Notwithstanding the foregoing, for the purposes of this Credit Linked Condition 20.2, in the case of a Restructured Bond or Loan with a final maturity date on or prior to the 10-year Limitation Date, the final maturity date of such Bond or Loan shall be deemed to be the earlier of such final maturity date or the final maturity date of such Bond or Loan immediately prior to the relevant Restructuring. In respect of a Monoline Insurer Reference Entity and with respect to an Insured Instrument in the form of a pass-through certificate or similar funded beneficial interest, the term “final maturity date”, as such term is used in this Credit Linked Condition 20.2(i) shall mean the specified date by which the Qualifying Policy guarantees or insures, as applicable, that the ultimate distribution of the Certificate Balance will occur.
- (ii) Where Credit Linked Condition 20.2(i) (Modified Restructuring Maturity Limitation) applies and a Deliverable Obligation specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement (or in any NOPS Amendment Notice, if applicable) is a Conditionally Transferable Obligation with respect to which consent is required to novate, assign or transfer, and the requisite consent is refused (whether or not a reason is given for such refusal and, where a reason is given for such refusal, regardless of that reason), or is not received by the Physical Redemption Date (in which case it shall be deemed to have been refused), the Determination Agent shall inform the Issuer. The Issuer shall promptly notify the Fiscal Agent (for onward notification to the Noteholder) of such refusal (or deemed refusal). If a Noteholder does not take Delivery on or prior to the Physical Redemption Date, then Credit Linked Condition 14.8 (Alternative Procedures Relating to Loans not Delivered) may be applied by the Issuer.

20.3 Determination of Final Maturity Date

For the purposes of making a determination under Credit Linked Condition 20.1 (Restructuring Maturity Limitation) or 20.2(i) (Modified Restructuring Maturity Limitation), the relevant final maturity date shall, subject to the definition of “Conditionally Transferable Obligation”, be determined on the basis of the terms of the Deliverable Obligation in effect at the time of making such determination and, in the case of a Deliverable Obligation that is due and payable, the final maturity date shall be deemed to be the date on which such determination is made.

20.4 Multiple Holder Obligation

- (i) Unless “Multiple Holder Obligation” is specified to be not applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, then none of the events described in paragraphs (i)(a) to (i)(e) of the definition of “Restructuring” shall constitute a Restructuring unless the Obligation is a Multiple Holder Obligation, where “Multiple Holder Obligation” means an Obligation that (a) at the time of the event which constitutes a Restructuring Credit Event is held by more than three holders that are not Affiliates of each other and (b) with respect to which a percentage of holders (determined pursuant to the terms of the Obligation as in effect on the date of such event) at least equal to sixty-six-and two-thirds is required to consent to the event which constitutes a Restructuring Credit Event (provided that paragraph (b) above shall be deemed to be satisfied where the Obligation is a Bond).
- (ii) In respect of a Monoline Insurer Reference Entity, for the purposes of this definition, the term Obligation shall be deemed to include Insured Instruments for which the Reference Entity is acting as provider of a Qualifying Policy.
- (iii) In respect of an LPN Reference Entity, Multiple Holder Obligation will be “Not Applicable” with respect to any Reference Obligation (and any Underlying Loan).

21. Reference Obligation

21.1 Standard Reference Obligation and Non-Standard Reference Obligation

- (i) In the case of Single Name Credit Linked Notes or Linear Basket Credit Linked Notes, “Reference Obligation” means the Standard Reference Obligation, if any, unless:
 - (a) “Standard Reference Obligation” is specified as not applicable, then the Reference Obligation for the relevant Reference Entity will be the Non-Standard Reference Obligation, if any, provided that, in respect of Senior Non-Preferred Notes (in the case of Single Name Credit Linked Notes) or a Senior Non-Preferred Reference Entity (in the case of Linear Basket Credit Linked Notes), irrespective of any Original Non-Standard Reference Obligation specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, if (i) a Senior Non-Preferred Level Standard Reference Obligation of the relevant Reference Entity is specified on the SRO List, such Standard Reference Obligation shall be deemed to constitute the Reference Obligation, or (ii) no such Senior Non-Preferred Level Standard Reference Obligation of the relevant Reference Entity is specified on the SRO List but such Standard Reference Obligation has previously been specified on the SRO List, there shall be deemed to be no Reference Obligation applicable to the Series (in the case of Single Name Credit Linked Notes) or relevant Reference Entity (in the case of Linear Basket Credit Linked Notes) and such previously specified Senior Non-Preferred Level Standard Reference Obligation of the relevant Reference Entity shall be deemed to constitute the Prior Reference Obligation; or

- (b) (i) there is no Standard Reference Obligation and (ii) a Non-Standard Reference Obligation is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, in which case the Reference Obligation will be (A) the Non-Standard Reference Obligation to but excluding the first date of publication of the Standard Reference Obligation and (B) the Standard Reference Obligation from such date onwards, provided that the Standard Reference Obligation that is published would have been eligible to be selected as a Substitute Reference Obligation, provided that, in respect of each LPN Reference Entity, the Reference Obligation means, as of the Trade Date, each of the obligations listed as a Reference Obligation of such LPN Reference Entity in the Pricing Supplement or set forth on the relevant LPN Reference Obligations List, as published by S&P Global Market Intelligence, a division of S&P Global Inc., or any successor thereto, which list is currently available at <https://www.spglobal.com/marketintelligence/en/mi/products/red-cds.html>, any Additional LPN, determined in accordance with the definition of “Additional LPN” as provided in these Credit Linked Conditions, and each Additional Obligation. Each Reference Obligation determined in accordance with the foregoing will be a Reference Obligation notwithstanding anything to the contrary in these Credit Linked Conditions, and in particular, notwithstanding that the obligation is not an obligation of such LPN Reference Entity, Standard Reference Obligation shall be “Not Applicable”. It is intended that there may be more than one Reference Obligation, as a result of which all applicable references in these Credit Linked Conditions to “the Reference Obligation” shall be construed as a reference to “a Reference Obligation”, and all other provisions of the Credit Linked Conditions shall be construed accordingly. The provisions in respect of “Substitute Reference Obligation” and “Substitution Event” in these Credit Linked Conditions shall not be applicable to LPN Reference Obligations.

- (ii) In the case of Single Name Credit Linked Notes or Linear Basket Credit Linked Notes, if the Standard Reference Obligation is removed from the SRO List, such obligation shall cease to be the Reference Obligation (other than for purposes of the “Not Subordinated” Obligation Characteristic or “Not Subordinated” Deliverable Obligation Characteristic) and:
 - (a) if the Determination Agent, in its sole discretion, designates an Obligation as the Reference Obligation, then such Obligation shall be the Reference Obligation; or
 - (b) if the Determination Agent elects, in its sole discretion, not to designate an Obligation as the Reference Obligation, then there shall be no Reference Obligation, in each case, until such removed obligation is subsequently replaced on the SRO List. Following such replacement on the SRO List, the new Standard Reference Obligation in respect of the Reference Entity shall constitute the Reference Obligation.

- (iii) In the case of Untranched Index Credit Linked Notes or Tranched Index Credit Linked Notes, “Reference Obligation” means the Original Non-Standard Reference Obligation to, but excluding, the first date on which both (a) and (b) below have occurred:
 - (a) either (i) the Original Non-Standard Reference Obligation is redeemed in whole or (ii) for any reason, other than due to the existence or occurrence of a Credit Event, the Original Non-Standard Reference Obligation is no longer an obligation of the Reference Entity (either directly or as provider of a guarantee); and
 - (b) a Standard Reference Obligation is published on the SRO List that would have been eligible to be selected as a Substitute Reference Obligation, and the Standard Reference Obligation from such date onwards.

In all cases, if at any time the Original Non-Standard Reference Obligation is the same as the Standard Reference Obligation, the Reference Obligation shall immediately become the Standard Reference Obligation.

If there is no Standard Reference Obligation and the Reference Index Sponsor publishes a replacement Reference Obligation for a Reference Entity, then such Reference Obligation will be the Reference Obligation for such Reference Entity.

In the event of any inconsistency between the Index Annex and the corresponding Reference Index published by the Reference Index Sponsor, the Index Annex shall govern.

21.2 Substitute Reference Obligation

- (i) If a Substitution Event has occurred with respect to a Non-Standard Reference Obligation, the Determination Agent may identify a Substitute Reference Obligation in accordance with Credit Linked Conditions 21.2(iii), (iv) and (v) (Substitute Reference Obligation) to replace such Non-Standard Reference Obligation; provided that the Determination Agent will not identify an Obligation as the Substitute Reference Obligation if, at the time of the determination, such Obligation has already been rejected as the Substitute Reference Obligation by the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee and such Obligation has not changed materially since the date of the relevant DC Resolution.
- (ii) If any of the events contained in paragraph (i) or (iii) of the definition of “Substitution Event” have occurred with respect to a Non-Standard Reference Obligation, such Non-Standard Reference Obligation will cease to be the Reference Obligation (other than for the purposes of the “Not Subordinated” Obligation Characteristic or “Not Subordinated” Deliverable Obligation Characteristic and Credit Linked Condition 21.2(iii)(b) (Substitute Reference Obligation)). If the event contained in paragraph (ii) of the definition of “Substitution Event” has occurred with respect to a Non-Standard Reference Obligation and no Substitute Reference Obligation is available, such Non-Standard Reference Obligation will continue to be a Reference Obligation until the Substitute Reference Obligation is identified or, if earlier, until any of the events set forth under paragraph (i) or (iii) of the definition of “Substitution Event” occur with respect to such Non-Standard Reference Obligation.
- (iii) The Substitute Reference Obligation shall be an Obligation that on the Substitution Date:
 - (a) is a Borrowed Money obligation of the relevant Reference Entity (either directly or as provider of a Guarantee (or, in respect of a Monoline Insurer Reference Entity, a Qualifying Policy));
 - (b) satisfies the Not Subordinated Deliverable Obligation Characteristic as of the date it was issued or incurred (without reflecting any change the priority of payment after such date) and on the Substitution Date; and
 - (c)
 - (A) if the Non-Standard Reference Obligation was a Conforming Reference Obligation when issued or incurred and immediately prior to the Substitution Event Date:
 - (I) is a Deliverable Obligation (other than a Loan) determined in accordance with paragraph (i) of the definition of “Deliverable Obligation”; or if no such obligation is available,
 - (II) is a Loan (other than a Private-side Loan) which constitutes a Deliverable Obligation determined in accordance with paragraph (i) of the definition of “Deliverable Obligation”;
 - (B) if the Non-Standard Reference Obligation was a Bond (or any other Borrowed Money obligation other than a Loan) which was a Non-Conforming Reference Obligation when issued or incurred and/or immediately prior to the Substitution Event Date:
 - (I) is a Non-Conforming Substitute Reference Obligation (other than a Loan); or if no such obligation is available,
 - (II) is a Deliverable Obligation (other than a Loan) determined in accordance with paragraph (i) of the definition of “Deliverable Obligation”; or if no such obligation is available,

- (III) is a Non-Conforming Substitute Reference Obligation which is a Loan (other than a Private-side Loan); or if no such Obligation is available,
 - (IV) is a Loan (other than a Private-side Loan) which constitutes a Deliverable Obligation determined in accordance with paragraph (i) of the definition of “Deliverable Obligation”; or
- (C) if the Non-Standard Reference Obligation was a Loan which was a Non-Conforming Reference Obligation when incurred and/or immediately prior to the Substitution Event Date:
 - (I) is a Non-Conforming Substitute Reference Obligation which is a Loan (other than a Private-side Loan); or if no such obligation is available,
 - (II) is a Non-Conforming Substitute Reference Obligation (other than a Loan); or if no such obligation is available,
 - (III) is a Deliverable Obligation (other than a Loan) determined in accordance with paragraph (i) of the definition of “Deliverable Obligation”; or if no such Obligation is available,
 - (IV) is a Loan (other than a Private-side Loan) which constitutes a Deliverable Obligation determined in accordance with paragraph (i) of the definition of “Deliverable Obligation”.
- (iv) If more than one potential Substitute Reference Obligation is identified pursuant to the process described in Credit Linked Condition 21.2(iii) (Substitute Reference Obligation), the Substitute Reference Obligation will be the potential Substitute Reference Obligation that most closely preserves the economic equivalent of the delivery and payment obligations of the Issuer under the relevant Series, as determined by the Determination Agent. The Determination Agent will (if a Substitute Reference Obligation has not been identified) notify the Fiscal Agent and the Issuer of a Substitute Reference Obligation as soon as reasonably practicable after it has been identified in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 21.2(iii) (Substitute Reference Obligation) and the Substitute Reference Obligation shall replace the Non-Standard Reference Obligation immediately upon such notification.
- (v) If a Substitution Event has occurred with respect to the Non-Standard Reference Obligation and the Determination Agent determines that no Substitute Reference Obligation is available for the Non-Standard Reference Obligation then or has yet to identify a suitable substitute, subject to Credit Linked Condition 21.2(i) (Substitute Reference Obligation) and notwithstanding the fact that the Non-Standard Reference Obligation may have ceased to be the Reference Obligation in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 21.2(ii) (Substitute Reference Obligation), the Determination Agent may continue to attempt to identify the Substitute Reference Obligation.

21.3 Reference Obligation Only Redemption

- (i) In the case of Single Name Credit Linked Notes, if the event set out in paragraph (i) of the definition of “Substitution Event” occurs with respect to the Reference Obligation for a Series of Credit Linked Notes which is a Reference Obligation Only Series, the Credit Linked Notes shall be redeemed in full at the Early Redemption Amount.
- (ii) In the case of Linear Basket Credit Linked Notes, if the event set out in paragraph (i) of the definition of “Substitution Event” occurs with respect to the Reference Obligation for a Reference Entity which is a Reference Obligation Only Reference Entity, the Credit Linked Notes shall be redeemed in in part by a portion equal to the Partial Amount at the Early Redemption Amount.
- (iii) In either such case, the Issuer shall deliver, or cause the Fiscal Agent to deliver, a notice in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices) to the Noteholders stating the occurrence of such Substitution Event and setting out the date on which the Credit Linked Notes will be redeemed in full or in part, as applicable, which shall be a date not earlier than the relevant Substitution Event Date.

- (iv) Notwithstanding the definition of “Substitute Reference Obligation” (a) no Substitute Reference Obligation shall be determined in respect of the Reference Obligation for a Reference Entity to which “Reference Obligation Only” applies and such Reference Obligation is the only Reference Obligation for such Reference Entity in the Obligation Category and the Deliverable Obligation Category, and (b) if the events set out in paragraph (ii) or (iii) of the definition of “Substitution Event” occur with respect to the Reference Obligation, such Reference Obligation shall continue to be the Reference Obligation and in such circumstance, there shall be no redemption of the Credit Linked Notes in full or in part.

21.4 DC Substitute Reference Obligation Resolution

Notwithstanding the provision of Credit Linked Condition 21.2 (Substitute Reference Obligation), the Determination Agent may, but shall not be obliged to, select as the Substitute Reference Obligation for a Series of Credit Linked Notes an Obligation of the relevant Reference Entity which is determined by DC Resolution to be the Substitute Reference Obligation to a Non-Standard Reference Obligation.

22. Determination Agent Determination

22.1 The Determination Agent is responsible for, amongst other things:

- (i) determining a Successor or Successors and making any other determinations required to be made under Credit Linked Condition 19 (Successor Provisions) including if there is a Steps Plan, making appropriate adjustments required to take account of any Obligations of the relevant Reference Entity which fall within the Obligation Category “Bond or Loan” that are issued, incurred, redeemed, repurchased or cancelled from (and including) the legally effective date of the first succession to and including the Succession Date;
- (ii) determining whether (a) the aggregate amounts due under any Reference Obligation have been materially reduced by redemption or otherwise (other than due to any scheduled redemption, amortisation or prepayments), (b) any Reference Obligation is an Underlying Obligation with a Qualifying Guarantee of a Reference Entity and, other than due to the existence or occurrence of a Credit Event, the Qualifying Guarantee is no longer a valid and binding Obligation of such Reference Entity enforceable in accordance with its terms, or (c) for any reason other than as described in paragraph (a) or (b) above and other than due to the existence or occurrence of a Credit Event, any Reference Obligation is no longer an Obligation of a Reference Entity;
- (iii) identifying and determining a Substitute Reference Obligation;
- (iv) in the event that multiple Credit Event Notices with respect to an M(M)R Restructuring are delivered pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 11 (M(M)R Restructuring), making any modifications required pursuant to that Credit Linked Condition;
- (v) following the occurrence of an M(M)R Restructuring, determining the Exercise Amount of Credit Linked Notes to which such M(M)R Restructuring applies;
- (vi) obtaining Quotations (and, if necessary, determining whether such Quotations shall include or exclude accrued but unpaid interest) and determining the Final Price in accordance with the applicable Valuation Method;
- (vii) converting the Quotation Amount into the relevant Obligation Currency;
- (viii) determining the Quotation Dealers (where none have been specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement) and substituting Quotation Dealers;
- (ix) determining the Currency Rate and Revised Currency Rate where, in each case, it is not available at the Next Currency Fixing Time;
- (x) determining the number of Business Days in each Physical Settlement Period;

- (xi) determining the Outstanding Principal Balance or Due and Payable Amount of the Deliverable Obligations to be included in the Physical Redemption Assets;
 - (xii) determining any adjustment payment pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 9 (Event Determination Date – Adjustment Payment and Ordering of Events);
 - (xiii) determining whether the Outstanding Principal Balance of the Valuation Obligation shall include or exclude accrued but unpaid interest pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 13.1 (Determination of Final Price);
 - (xiv) determining whether a Merger Event or Substitution Event Date has occurred;
 - (xv) determining the Asset Market Value of an Asset Package;
 - (xvi) determining whether a “Failure to Pay” has occurred where the “2019 NTCE Supplement to the 2014 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions (July 15, 2019)” and “Credit Deterioration Requirement” apply (for which purpose, the Determination Agent will take into account any guidance provided in the 2019 NTCE Supplement to the 2014 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions (July 15, 2019)); and
 - (xvii) interpreting any Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms (including any Transaction Auction Settlement Terms or Parallel Auction Settlement Terms).
- 22.2 The Determination Agent shall as soon as practicable after making any of the determinations specified in Credit Linked Conditions 22.1(i) to (xvii) (Determination Agent Determination) notify the Issuer of such determination.
- 22.3 If any of the matters set out in this Credit Linked Condition 22 are decided and/or determined by a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee, the Determination Agent may follow such decision or determination to the extent such decision and/or determination is applicable to any Credit Linked Notes. In certain circumstances, the Determination Agent shall be required to follow the decisions or determinations of a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee (including pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 18.1 (Binding nature)) or determinations made by the Determination Agent may be overridden by subsequent determinations made by a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee (including pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 18.5 (Overriding nature)).
- 22.4 The Determination Agent may from time to time, without obtaining the consent of the Noteholders, amend any provision of these Credit Linked Conditions and the applicable Pricing Supplement in any manner which the Determination Agent determines (acting in a commercially reasonable manner) is necessary or desirable (i) to incorporate and/or reflect (x) further or alternative documents or protocols from time to time published by ISDA with respect to the documentation or redemption of Credit Linked Notes and/or (y) the operation or application of determinations by the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees and/or (ii) to account for market practice to be reflected in the terms of the Credit Linked Notes. Any amendment made in accordance with this Credit Linked Condition 22 shall be notified to the Noteholders in accordance with Credit Linked Condition 23 (Notices).
- 23. Notices
- 23.1 Interpretation
- References in these Credit Linked Conditions to a notice being delivered in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices) shall include such Condition as amended by the terms of any global note certificate (in registered form) representing the Credit Linked Notes.
- 23.2 Notices required to be delivered
- The Determination Agent or Issuer (as applicable pursuant to these Credit Linked Conditions) shall deliver, or may cause the Fiscal Agent to deliver, amongst other things, notice to the Noteholders of the following, in accordance with this Credit Linked Condition 23, to the extent required to be delivered pursuant to the terms of the Credit Linked Notes:
- (i) a Credit Event Notice and, if applicable, a Notice of Publicly Available Information;

- (ii) a Notice of Physical Settlement and, if applicable, any NOPS Amendment Notice;
- (iii) a Successor Notice (provided that no Successor Notice shall be required following a determination by a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee or (in the case of Untranch Index Credit Linked Notes or Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes) the relevant Reference Index Sponsor, that a Successor has been identified);
- (iv) the designation of any Substitute Reference Obligation (provided that (a) no such notice shall be required following a determination by a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee of a Substitute Reference Obligation has occurred and (b) the failure of the Issuer to deliver a notice to the Noteholders pursuant to this Credit Linked Condition 23 shall not affect the effectiveness of any designation of such Substitute Reference Obligation by the Determination Agent (such designation to be in accordance with these Credit Linked Conditions));
- (v) a notice detailing the suspension of payment of interest pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 2 (Interest or premium on Single Name Credit Linked Notes and Basket Credit Linked Notes) or Credit Linked Condition 3 (Interest or premium on Tranch Index Credit Linked Notes), as applicable;
- (vi) a notice detailing any adjustment payments required to be made by the Issuer pursuant to Credit Linked Condition 9 (Event Determination Date – Adjustment Payment and Ordering of Events);
- (vii) following the determination of the Cash Redemption Amount or the Final Cash Redemption Amount, as applicable, with respect to any Credit Linked Notes subject to the provisions of Credit Linked Condition 13 (Cash Redemption Terms), the Cash Redemption Amount Notice;
- (viii) following the determination of the Auction Redemption Amount or the Final Auction Redemption Amount, as applicable, with respect to any Credit Linked Notes subject to the provisions of Credit Linked Condition 12 (Auction Redemption Terms), the Auction Redemption Amount Notice;
- (ix) a Notice to Exercise Movement Option;
- (x) a Repudiation/Moratorium Extension Notice;
- (xi) a Redemption Suspension Notice; and
- (xii) a Payment Failure Event Notice.

23.3 Effectiveness of Notices

- (i) Notwithstanding this Credit Linked Condition 23, any notice required to be delivered by the Issuer to Noteholders in accordance with these Credit Linked Conditions shall be deemed to have been delivered to Noteholders upon delivery of such notice to the Fiscal Agent by the Issuer (upon receipt of such notice from the Determination Agent, as applicable). The failure of the Fiscal Agent to deliver any such notice to Noteholders shall not affect (x) the effectiveness of any notice delivered by the Determination Agent to the Issuer and/or by the Issuer to the Fiscal Agent, (y) the effectiveness of any determinations made by any of them or (z) the right of the Issuer to redeem (in whole or in part) the Credit Linked Notes pursuant to and in accordance with the relevant Credit Linked Condition. In addition, the failure of the Determination Agent, the Issuer or the Fiscal Agent to deliver any notice or any decision by any of them to not deliver a Credit Event Notice shall not constitute an Event of Default under the Credit Linked Notes.
- (ii) Notwithstanding this Credit Linked Condition 23, a notice delivered by the Issuer to the Fiscal Agent on or prior to 3.00 p.m. (London time) on an Issuer Business Day will be effective on such Issuer Business Day. A notice delivered after 3.00 p.m. (London time) on an Issuer Business Day will be deemed effective on the next following Issuer Business Day, regardless of the form in which it is delivered.

- (iii) Other than as specified herein, clause 17 (Notices) of the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement shall apply to any relevant communications and notices delivered in accordance with these Credit Linked Conditions.

24. Interpretation of Obligation Characteristics and Deliverable Obligation Characteristics

- 24.1 If either of the Obligation Characteristics “Listed” or “Not Domestic Issuance” is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the relevant Pricing Supplement shall be construed as though the relevant Obligation Characteristic had been specified as an Obligation Characteristic only with respect to Bonds.
- 24.2 If (i) either of the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics “Listed”, “Not Domestic Issuance” or “Not Bearer” is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the relevant Pricing Supplement shall be construed as though such Deliverable Obligation Characteristic had been specified as a Deliverable Obligation Characteristic only with respect to Bonds; (ii) the Deliverable Obligation Characteristic “Transferable” is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, such Pricing Supplement shall be construed as though such Deliverable Obligation Characteristic had been specified as a Deliverable Obligation Characteristic only with respect to Deliverable Obligations that are not Loans; or (iii) any of the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics “Assignable Loan”, “Consent Required Loan” or “Direct Loan Participation” is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, such Pricing Supplement shall be construed as though such Deliverable Obligation Characteristic had been specified as a Deliverable Obligation Characteristic only with respect to Loans.
- 24.3 If more than one of “Assignable Loan”, “Consent Required Loan” and “Direct Loan Participation” are specified as Deliverable Obligation Characteristics in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Deliverable Obligations may include any Loan that satisfies any one of such Deliverable Obligation Characteristics specified and need not satisfy all such Deliverable Obligation Characteristics.
- 24.4 If an Obligation or a Deliverable Obligation is a Relevant Guarantee, the following will apply:
 - (i) For the purposes of the application of the Obligation Category or the Deliverable Obligation Category, the Relevant Guarantee shall be deemed to satisfy the same category or categories as those that describe the Underlying Obligation;
 - (ii) For the purposes of the application of the Obligation Characteristics or the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics, both the Relevant Guarantee and the Underlying Obligation must satisfy on the relevant date or dates each of the applicable Obligation Characteristics or Deliverable Obligation Characteristics, if any, specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement from the following list: “Not Subordinated”, “Specified Currency”, “Not Sovereign Lender”, “Not Domestic Currency” and “Not Domestic Law”;
 - (iii) For the purposes of the application of the Obligation Characteristics or the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics, only the Underlying Obligation must satisfy on the relevant date or dates each of the applicable Obligation Characteristics or the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics, if any, specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement from the following list: “Listed”, “Not Domestic Issuance”, “Assignable Loan”, “Consent Required Loan”, “Direct Loan Participation”, “Transferable”, “Maximum Maturity”, “Accelerated or Matured” and “Not Bearer”; and
 - (iv) For the purposes of the application of the Obligation Characteristics or the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics to an Underlying Obligation, references to the Reference Entity shall be deemed to refer to the Underlying Obligor.
- 24.5 For the purposes of the application of the Deliverable Obligation Characteristic “Maximum Maturity”, remaining maturity shall be determined on the basis of the terms of the Deliverable Obligation in effect at the time of making such determination and, in the case of a Deliverable Obligation that is due and payable, the remaining maturity shall be zero.
- 24.6 If “Financial Reference Entity Terms” and “Governmental Intervention” apply, if an obligation would otherwise satisfy a particular Obligation Characteristic or Deliverable Obligation Characteristic, the existence of any terms in the relevant obligation in effect at the time of making the determination which permit the Reference Entity’s obligations to be altered, discharged, released or suspended in circumstances which would constitute a Governmental Intervention, shall not cause such obligation to fail to satisfy such Obligation Characteristic or Deliverable Obligation Characteristic.

- 24.7 For the purposes of determining the applicability of Deliverable Obligation Characteristics and the requirements specified in Credit Linked Condition 20.1 (Restructuring Maturity Limitation) and 20.2(i) (Modified Restructuring Maturity Limitation) to a Prior Deliverable Obligation or a Package Observable Bond, any such determination shall be made by reference to the terms of the relevant obligation in effect immediately prior to the Asset Package Credit Event.
- 24.8 If “Subordinated European Insurance Terms” applies, if an obligation would otherwise satisfy the “Maximum Maturity” Deliverable Obligation Characteristic, the existence of any Solvency Capital Provisions in such obligation shall not cause it to fail to satisfy such Deliverable Obligation Characteristic.

25. No frustration

In the absence of other reasons, no Credit Linked Notes will be considered frustrated, or otherwise void or voidable (whether for mistake or otherwise) solely because:

- (i) any relevant Reference Entity does not exist on, or ceases to exist on or following, the Trade Date; and/or
- (ii) the Obligation(s), the Deliverable Obligation(s) or the Reference Obligation(s) do not exist on, or cease to exist on or following, the Trade Date.

26. Definitions

The following definitions which relate to the Credit Linked Notes should be read in conjunction with the Credit Linked Conditions. Where terms are used but not defined in these Credit Linked Conditions, they will have the meaning given to them in Condition 2.1 (Definitions).

“2019 NTCE Supplement to the 2014 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions (July 15, 2019)” means the 2019 Narrowly Tailored Credit Event Supplement to the 2014 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions (July 15, 2019).

“Additional LPN” means, in respect of an LPN Reference Entity, any bond issued in the form of an LPN by an LPN Issuer for the sole purpose of providing funds for the LPN Issuer to:

- (i) finance an Underlying Loan to the LPN Reference Entity; or
 - (ii) provide finance to the LPN Reference Entity by way of an Underlying Finance Instrument,
- provided that,
- (a) either:
 - (A) in the event that there is an Underlying Loan with respect to such LPN, such Underlying Loan satisfies the Obligation Characteristics specified in respect of the LPN Reference Entity; or
 - (B) in the event that there is an Underlying Finance Instrument with respect to such LPN, such Underlying Finance Instrument satisfies the following Obligation Characteristics: Not Subordinated, Not Domestic Law and Not Domestic Currency;
 - (b) the LPN satisfies the following Deliverable Obligation Characteristics: Transferable, Not Bearer, Specified Currency – Standard Specified Currencies, Not Domestic Law, Not Domestic Issuance; and
 - (c) the LPN Issuer has, as of the issue date of such obligation, granted a First Ranking Interest over or in respect of certain of its rights in relation to the relevant Underlying Loan or Underlying Finance Instrument (as applicable) for the benefit of the holders of the LPNs.

“Additional Obligation” means, in respect of an LPN Reference Entity, each of the obligations listed as an Additional Obligation of such Reference Entity in the Pricing Supplement or set forth on the relevant LPN Reference Obligations List, as published by S&P Global Market Intelligence, a division of S&P Global Inc., or any successor thereto, as of the Trade Date, which list is currently available at <https://www.spglobal.com/marketintelligence/en/mi/products/red-cds.html>.

“Affected Reference Entity” means a Reference Entity in respect of which a Relevant Credit Event has occurred.

“Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount” means, in respect of any day, (i) the amount set out in the relevant Pricing Supplement corresponding to the Period End Date falling on, or immediately prior to, such day; or (ii) if such day falls prior to the first Period End Date, the amount set out in the relevant Pricing Supplement corresponding to the Issue Date, in each case, as calculated by the Determination Agent.

“Aggregate Loss Amount” means, in respect of any day, the aggregate of all Loss Amounts calculated with respect to all Affected Reference Entities up to and including such day.

“Applicable Auction” means an Auction which the Determination Agent determines is relevant to a Relevant Credit Event with respect to a relevant Reference Entity where the Deliverable Obligations set out on the Final List or the Deliverable Obligation Terms meet the Deliverable Obligation Provisions of the Credit Linked Notes (for which purpose the Determination Agent may take into account without limitation (i) the applicable Credit Event, Transaction Type and Reference Entity, whether the Credit Derivatives Definitions applies to such auction, the seniority of the transactions covered by such auction, whether a representative credit derivative transaction in unfunded format having economically equivalent terms as the Credit Linked Notes and a scheduled termination date of the Credit Risk Cut-off Date would be covered (if Auction Redemption applied and an “Event Determination Date” were deemed to occur), if the Auction relates to an M(M)R Restructuring, whether the designated ranges of scheduled termination dates covered by the auction would cover such representative credit derivative transaction and any connected DC Resolution and/or statement associated with such announcement; and (ii) any Hedge Position the Issuer has entered or may enter into in connection with the Credit Linked Notes that may impact, amongst other things, any determinations or calculations under such Credit Linked Notes).

“Applicable Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms” means with respect to a relevant Reference Entity, a Credit Event and an Applicable Auction, the Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms (if any) which the Determination Agent determines is relevant to the Credit Linked Notes (for which purpose the Determination Agent may take into account without limitation (i) the applicable Credit Event, Transaction Type and Reference Entity, whether the Credit Derivatives Definitions applies to such auction, the seniority of the transactions covered by such auction, the Deliverable Obligations set out on the Final List, whether a representative credit derivative transaction in unfunded format having economically equivalent terms as the Credit Linked Notes and a scheduled termination date of the Credit Risk Cut-off Date would be covered (if Auction Redemption applied and an “Event Determination Date” were deemed to occur), whether the Deliverable Obligation Terms meet the Deliverable Obligation Provisions of the Credit Linked Notes and, if the Auction relates to an M(M)R Restructuring, whether the designated ranges of scheduled termination dates covered by the auction would cover such representative credit derivative transaction and any connected DC Resolution and/or statement associated with such auction settlement terms) and (ii) any Hedge Position that the Issuer has entered or may enter into in connection with the Notes that may impact, amongst other things, any determinations or calculations under such Credit Linked Notes. The Determination Agent shall, as soon as practicable after the relevant Applicable Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms are published, notify the Issuer that Applicable Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms have been published with respect to an Affected Reference Entity and a Relevant Credit Event. Copies of the Applicable Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms are made available by the DC Secretary at its website (www.isda.org) or any successor website).

“Applicable DC Credit Event Announcement” means a DC Credit Event Announcement which the Determination Agent determines is relevant to the Credit Linked Notes (for which purpose the Determination Agent may take into account (i) the applicable Credit Event, Transaction Type and Reference Entity, whether the announcement relates to interpretation under the Credit Derivatives Definitions, the seniority of the obligation resulting in a credit event, the date the credit event occurred, the reference obligations in question and any connected DC Resolution (including in respect of the determination of a Credit Event Resolution Request Date) and/or statement associated with such announcement and (ii) any Hedge Position that the Issuer has entered or may enter into in connection with the Credit Linked Notes).

“Applicable DC Credit Event Meeting Announcement” means a DC Credit Event Meeting Announcement which the Determination Agent determines is relevant to the Credit Linked Notes (for which purpose the Determination Agent may take into account without limitation (i) the applicable question submitted, the Transaction Type and Reference Entity, whether the announcement relates to interpretation under the Credit Derivatives Definitions, the obligations or seniority of the obligation(s) in question if relevant, the date the relevant event is stated to have occurred, the deliverable obligations and/or seniority of the deliverable obligations(s) in question, if relevant, the reference obligations in question and connected DC Resolution and/or statement associated with such announcement and (ii) any Hedge Position that the Issuer has entered or may enter into in connection with the Credit Linked Notes).

“Applicable DC Credit Event Question” means a DC Credit Event Question which the Determination Agent determines is relevant to the Credit Linked Notes (for which purpose the Determination Agent may take into account without limitation (i) the applicable question submitted, the Transaction Type and Reference Entity, whether the announcement relates to interpretation under the Credit Derivatives Definitions, the obligations or seniority of the obligation(s) in question if relevant, the date the relevant event is stated to have occurred, the reference obligations in question and any connected DC Resolution and/or statement associated with such announcement and (ii) any credit hedging transaction that the Issuer has entered or may enter into in connection with the Credit Linked Notes that may impact, amongst other things, any determinations or calculations under such Credit Linked Notes).

“Applicable DC Credit Event Question Dismissal” means a DC Credit Event Question Dismissal which the Determination Agent determines is relevant to the Credit Linked Notes (for which purpose the Determination Agent may take into account without limitation (i) the applicable question submitted, the Transaction Type and Reference Entity, whether the announcement relates to interpretation under the Credit Derivatives Definitions, the obligations or seniority of the obligation(s) in question if relevant, the date the relevant event is stated to have occurred, the reference obligations in question, the date of such question dismissal and any connected DC Resolution and/or statement associated with such announcement and (ii) any Hedge Position that the Issuer has entered or may enter into in connection with the Credit Linked Notes that may impact, amongst other things, any determinations or calculations under such Credit Linked Notes).

“Applicable DC No Credit Event Announcement” means a DC No Credit Event Announcement which the Determination Agent determines is relevant to the Credit Linked Notes (for which purpose the Determination Agent may take into account without limitation (i) applicable Credit Event, Transaction Type and Reference Entity, whether the announcement relates to interpretation under the Credit Derivatives Definitions, the seniority of the obligation resulting in a credit event, the date the credit event occurred, the reference obligations in question and any connected DC Resolutions and/or statements associated with such announcement and (ii) any Hedge Position that the Issuer has entered or may enter into in connection with the Credit Linked Notes that may impact, amongst other things, any determinations or calculations under such Credit Linked Notes).

“Applicable Proportion” has the meaning given to it:

- (i) in respect of a Relevant Credit Event and a Single Name Credit Linked Note, in Credit Linked Condition 4.2 (Applicable Proportion);
- (ii) in respect of a Reference Entity, Relevant Credit Event and a Basket Credit Linked Note, in Credit Linked Condition 5.2 (Applicable Proportion); or
- (iii) in respect of a Reference Entity, Relevant Credit Event and a Tranching Index Credit Linked Note, in Credit Linked Condition 6.2 (Applicable Proportion).

“Applicable Resolution” means a DC Resolution of a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee which the Determination Agent determines is relevant to the Credit Linked Notes (for which purpose the Determination Agent may take into account without limitation (i) the applicable question submitted, the Transaction Type and Reference Entity, whether the announcement relates to interpretation under the Credit Derivatives Definitions, the obligations or seniority of the obligation(s) in question if relevant, the date the relevant event is stated to have occurred, the reference obligations in question and any connected DC Resolution and/or statement associated with such announcement and (ii) any Hedge Position that the Issuer has entered or may enter into in connection with the Credit Linked Notes).

“Applicable Transaction Auction Settlement Terms” means, with respect to a relevant Reference Entity and a Credit Event, the relevant Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms which the Determination Agent determines constitute Applicable Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms.

“Argentine Reference Entity” means a Reference Entity to which the “2020 Additional Provisions for the Argentine Republic: Excluded Obligations and Excluded Deliverable Obligations (September 16, 2020)” apply.

“Asset” means each obligation, equity, amount of cash, security, fee (including any “early-bird” or other consent fee), right and/or other asset, whether tangible or otherwise and whether issued, incurred, paid or provided by the relevant Reference Entity or a third party (or any value which was realised or capable of being realised in circumstances where the right and/or other asset no longer exists).

“Asset Market Value” means the market value of an Asset, as the Determination Agent shall determine by reference to an appropriate specialist valuation or in accordance with the methodology determined by the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee.

“Asset Package” means, in respect of an Asset Package Credit Event, all of the Assets in the proportion received or retained by a Relevant Holder in connection with such relevant Asset Package Credit Event (which may include the Prior Deliverable Obligation or Package Observable Bond, as the case may be). If the Relevant Holder is offered a choice of Assets or a choice of combination of Assets, the Asset Package will be the Largest Asset Package. If the Relevant Holder is offered, receives and retains nothing, the Asset Package shall be deemed to be zero. An Asset Package shall be treated as having the same currency and Outstanding Principal Balance as that of the Prior Deliverable Obligation or Package Observable Bond, as applicable, to which it corresponds immediately prior to the Asset Package Credit Event.

“Asset Package Credit Event” means:

- (i) if “Financial Reference Entity Terms” and “Governmental Intervention” apply: (a) a Governmental Intervention; or (b) a Restructuring in respect of the Reference Obligation of the relevant Reference Entity, if “Restructuring” applies and such Restructuring does not constitute a Governmental Intervention; and
- (ii) if the relevant Reference Entity is a Sovereign and “Restructuring” applies, a Restructuring, in each case, whether or not such event is specified as the applicable Credit Event in the Credit Event Notice or the DC Credit Event Announcement.

“Attachment Point” is as specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

“Auction” means, with respect to a relevant Reference Entity and a Relevant Credit Event, unless otherwise specified in the Applicable Transaction Auction Settlement Terms, an auction pursuant to which an Auction Final Price is to be determined in accordance with the auction procedure set out in the relevant Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms.

“Auction Cancellation Date” means, with respect to an Auction, unless otherwise specified in the relevant Applicable Transaction Auction Settlement Terms, the date on which such Auction was deemed to have been cancelled as announced by the relevant CDS Information Publisher (and/or the administrators specified in the relevant Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms) on its website or such other date as determined and announced in accordance with the relevant Applicable Transaction Auction Settlement Terms.

“Auction Final Price” means, with respect to an Applicable Auction, unless otherwise specified in the relevant Applicable Transaction Auction Settlement Terms, the price (expressed as a percentage) in respect of the deliverable obligations which would constitute Reference Obligation(s) and/or Deliverable Obligation(s) under the Credit Linked Notes or if an Asset Package Credit Event has resulted in such Applicable Auction, in respect of the Asset Package which results from either a Prior Deliverable

Obligation or a Package Observable Bond under the Credit Linked Notes. The Auction Final Price with respect to a Reference Entity and a related Credit Event can be obtained at the auction administrator's website at <http://www.creditfixings.com/CreditEventAuctions/fixings.jsp> or any successor website.

“Auction Final Price Determination Date” means, with respect to an Applicable Auction, the day, if any, on which the Auction Final Price is determined or such other date as specified in the relevant Applicable Transaction Auction Settlement Terms.

“Auction Loss Amount” means an amount equal to the greater of (i) the product of (a) the relevant Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount and (b) 100% minus the Auction Final Price and (ii) zero, or as otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

“Auction Redemption Amount” means:

- (i) in respect of each Single Name Credit Linked Note, unless otherwise specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, an amount calculated by the Determination Agent equal to the greater of:
 - (a) zero or, where “Capital Not At Risk” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the product of:
 - (x) the Applicable Proportion (which, in respect of Credit Linked Notes where “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, shall be calculated as at the Relevant Event Determination Date); and
 - (y) the Protection Percentage; and
 - (b) an amount equal to:
 - (x) the product of:
 - (A) the Applicable Proportion (which, in respect of Credit Linked Notes where “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, shall be calculated as at the Relevant Event Determination Date); and
 - (B) the Auction Final Price; minus
 - (y) if “Credit Unwind Costs” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, each Credit Linked Note’s pro rata share of the Unwind Costs, if any; or
- (ii) in respect of each Basket Credit Linked Note, unless otherwise specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, an amount calculated by the Determination Agent equal to the greater of:
 - (a) zero or, where “Capital Not At Risk” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the product of:
 - (x) the Applicable Proportion (which, in respect of Credit Linked Notes where “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, shall be calculated as at the Relevant Event Determination Date); and
 - (y) the Protection Percentage; and
 - (b) an amount equal to:
 - (x) the product of:
 - (A) the Applicable Proportion (which, in respect of Credit Linked Notes where “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, shall be calculated as at the Relevant Event Determination Date);

and

(B) the Auction Final Price; minus

(y) if “Credit Unwind Costs” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, each Credit Linked Note’s pro rata share of the Unwind Costs, if any.

“Auction Redemption Amount Notice” means a notice in writing from the Determination Agent to the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent delivered as soon as reasonably practicable after the Relevant Event Determination Date, specifying the Auction Redemption Amount relating to any Relevant Credit Event (as applicable) and the relevant Final Auction Redemption Amount, or the Incurred Loss Amount relating to any Relevant Credit Event, as applicable, including the Auction Final Price and (as applicable) the Auction Loss Amount and if “Credit Unwind Costs” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Unwind Costs, if any.

“Auction Redemption Date” means the date falling 5 Business Days following the date on which the Issuer delivers the Auction Redemption Amount Notice to the Fiscal Agent, unless otherwise specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

“Bankruptcy” means the relevant Reference Entity:

- (i) is dissolved (other than pursuant to a consolidation, amalgamation or merger);
- (ii) becomes insolvent or is unable to pay its debts or fails or admits in writing in a judicial, regulatory or administrative proceeding or filing its inability generally to pay its debts as they become due;
- (iii) makes a general assignment, arrangement, scheme or composition with or for the benefit of its creditors generally, or such a general assignment, arrangement, scheme or composition becomes effective;
- (iv) institutes or has instituted against it a proceeding seeking a judgment of insolvency or bankruptcy or any other similar relief under any bankruptcy or insolvency law or other law affecting creditors’ rights, or a petition is presented for its winding-up or liquidation, and, in the case of any such proceeding or petition instituted or presented against it, such proceeding or petition:
 - (a) results in a judgment of insolvency or bankruptcy or the entry of an order for relief or the making of an order for its winding-up or liquidation; or
 - (b) is not dismissed, discharged, stayed or restrained in each case within thirty calendar days of the institution or presentation thereof;
- (v) has a resolution passed for its winding-up or liquidation (other than pursuant to a consolidation, amalgamation or merger);
- (vi) seeks or becomes subject to the appointment of an administrator, provisional liquidator, conservator, receiver, trustee, custodian or other similar official for it or for all or substantially all its assets;
- (vii) has a secured party take possession of all or substantially all its assets or has a distress, execution, attachment, sequestration or other legal process levied, enforced or sued on or against all or substantially all its assets and such secured party maintains possession, or any such process is not dismissed, discharged, stayed or restrained, in each case within thirty calendar days thereafter; or
- (viii) causes or is subject to any event with respect to it which, under the applicable laws of any jurisdiction, has an analogous effect to any of the events specified in paragraphs (i) to (vii) of this definition.

“Basket Credit Linked Notes” means Linear Basket Credit Linked Notes or Untranching Index Credit Linked Notes.

“Basket Succession Reference Entity” has the meaning given to that term in Credit Linked Condition 19.8 (Multiple Successors).

“Capital Ratio” means, in respect of a CoCo Reference Entity, the ratio of capital to risk weighted assets applicable to the Obligation, as described in the terms thereof in effect from time to time.

“Cash Loss Amount” means an amount equal to the greater of (i) the product of (a) the relevant Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount and (b) 100% minus (x) the Final Price or (y) if “Fixed Recovery Redemption” is applicable, the Fixed Recovery Percentage and (ii) zero, or as otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

“Cash Redemption Amount” means:

- (i) in respect of each Single Name Credit Linked Note, unless otherwise specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, an amount calculated by the Determination Agent equal to the greater of:
 - (a) zero or, where “Capital Not At Risk” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the product of:
 - (x) the Applicable Proportion (which, in respect of Credit Linked Notes where “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, shall be calculated as at the Relevant Event Determination Date); and
 - (y) the Protection Percentage; and
 - (b) an amount equal to:
 - (x) the product of:
 - (A) the Applicable Proportion (which, in respect of Credit Linked Notes where “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, shall be calculated as at the Relevant Event Determination Date); and
 - (B) (I) the Final Price or (II) where “Fixed Recovery Redemption” is applicable, the Fixed Recovery Percentage; minus
 - (y) if “Credit Unwind Costs” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, each Credit Linked Note’s pro rata share of the Unwind Costs, if any; or
- (ii) in respect of each Basket Credit Linked Note, unless otherwise specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, an amount calculated by the Determination Agent equal to the greater of:
 - (a) zero or, where “Capital Not At Risk” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the product of:
 - (x) the Applicable Proportion (which, in respect of Credit Linked Notes where “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, shall be calculated as at the Relevant Event Determination Date); and
 - (y) the Protection Percentage; and
 - (b) an amount equal to:
 - (x) the product of:

- (A) the Applicable Proportion (which, in respect of Credit Linked Notes where “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, shall be calculated as at the Relevant Event Determination Date); and
- (B) (I) the Final Price or (II) where “Fixed Recovery Redemption” is applicable, the Fixed Recovery Percentage; minus
- (y) if “Credit Unwind Costs” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, each Credit Linked Note’s pro rata share of the Unwind Costs, if any.

“Cash Redemption Amount Notice” means a notice in writing from the Determination Agent to the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent delivered as soon as reasonably practicable after the Relevant Event Determination Date, specifying the Cash Redemption Amount relating to any Relevant Credit Event (as applicable) and the relevant Final Cash Redemption Amount, or the Incurred Loss Amount relating to any Relevant Credit Event, as applicable, including the Final Price and (as applicable) the Cash Loss Amount and, if “Credit Unwind Costs” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, Unwind Costs (if any), together with (i) the Valuation Obligation(s) which were the subject of the Quotation, (ii) the Valuation Date, (iii) the Quotation Amount, (iv) each such Quotation that it received in connection with the calculation of the Final Price and (v) a written computation showing such calculation.

“Cash Redemption Date” means the date falling 5 Business Days following the date on which the Issuer delivers the Cash Redemption Amount Notice to the Fiscal Agent, unless otherwise specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

“CDS Information Publisher” means, in respect of any information, documentation, publication or announcement, as applicable, the entity responsible for such under the terms of market standard credit derivatives transactions.

“Certificate Balance” means, in respect of a Monoline Insurer Reference Entity and in the case of an Insured Instrument that is in the form of a pass-through certificate or similar funded beneficial interest, the unit principal balance, certificate balance or similar measure of unreimbursed principal investment.

“CoCo Provision” means, in respect of a CoCo Reference Entity and with respect to an Obligation, a provision which requires (i) a permanent or temporary reduction of the amount of principal payable at redemption or (ii) a conversion of principal into shares or another instrument, in each case, if the Capital Ratio is at or below the Trigger Percentage. For the avoidance of doubt, the operation of one or more CoCo Provisions shall not result in delivery of the Deliverable Obligation to Noteholders.

“CoCo Reference Entity” means a Reference Entity to which the “2014 CoCo Supplement to the 2014 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions (September 15, 2014)” applies.

“Conditionally Transferable Obligation” means a Deliverable Obligation that is either Transferable, in the case of Bonds, or capable of being assigned or novated to all Modified Eligible Transferees without the consent of any person being required, in the case of any Deliverable Obligation other than Bonds, in each case, as of the Delivery Date, provided, however, that a Deliverable Obligation other than Bonds will be a Conditionally Transferable Obligation notwithstanding that consent of the relevant Reference Entity or the guarantor, if any, of a Deliverable Obligation other than Bonds (or the consent of the relevant obligor if the relevant Reference Entity is guaranteeing such Deliverable Obligation) or any agent is required for such novation, assignment or transfer, so long as the terms of such Deliverable Obligation provide that such consent may not be unreasonably withheld or delayed. Any requirement that notification of novation, assignment or transfer of a Deliverable Obligation be provided to a trustee, administrative agent, clearing agent or paying agent for a Deliverable Obligation shall not be considered to be a requirement for consent for the purposes of this definition of “Conditionally Transferable Obligation”.

In respect of a Monoline Insurer Reference Entity, in the event that a Conditionally Transferable Obligation is a Qualifying Policy, the Insured Instrument must meet the requirements of this definition, and if the benefit of the Qualifying Policy is not transferred as part of any transfer of the Insured Instrument, the Qualifying Policy must be transferable at least to the same extent as the Insured Instrument. References in this definition to the guarantor and guaranteeing shall be deemed to include the insurer and insuring, respectively.

“Conforming Reference Obligation” means a Reference Obligation which is a Deliverable Obligation determined in accordance with paragraph (i) of the definition of “Deliverable Obligation”.

“Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms” means any Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms published by the relevant CDS Information Publisher from time to time and may be amended from time to time. The Determination Agent shall be authorised to construe any Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms (including any Transaction Auction Settlement Terms or Parallel Auction Settlement Terms) in such manner as it shall determine in its discretion, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, to be necessary in order to give effect to the meaning of any word or expression used herein which is defined by reference to such Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms.

“Credit Derivatives Definitions” means the 2014 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions, as published by ISDA, as amended and supplemented from time to time.

“Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee” means each committee established pursuant to the DC Rules for the purposes of reaching certain DC Resolutions.

“Credit Event” means the occurrence of one or more of the following Credit Events as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement: Bankruptcy, Failure to Pay, Obligation Acceleration, Obligation Default, Repudiation/Moratorium, Restructuring or Governmental Intervention. If an occurrence would otherwise constitute a Credit Event, such occurrence will constitute a Credit Event whether or not such occurrence arises directly or indirectly from, or is subject to a defence based upon:

- (i) any lack or alleged lack of authority or capacity of the relevant Reference Entity to enter into any Obligation or, as applicable, an Underlying Obligor to enter into any Underlying Obligation;
- (ii) any actual or alleged unenforceability, illegality, impossibility or invalidity with respect to any Obligation or, as applicable, any Underlying Obligation, however described;
- (iii) any applicable law, order, regulation, decree or notice, however described, or the promulgation of, or any change in, the interpretation by any court, tribunal, regulatory authority or similar administrative or judicial body with competent or apparent jurisdiction of any applicable law, order, regulation, decree or notice, however described; or
- (iv) the imposition of, or any change in, any exchange controls, capital restrictions or any other similar restrictions imposed by any monetary or other authority, however described.

In respect of a Monoline Insurer Reference Entity, for the purposes of this definition, references to the Underlying Obligation and the Underlying Obligor shall be deemed to include Insured Instruments and the Insured Obligor, respectively.

“Credit Event Backstop Date” means, unless otherwise specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement to be the Trade Date, the Issue Date or a number of days specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement prior to the Trade Date or the Issue Date:

- (i) for the purposes of any event that constitutes a Credit Event (or, with respect to a Repudiation/Moratorium, if applicable, the event described in paragraph (b) of the definition thereof), as determined by DC Resolution, the date that is 60 calendar days prior to the Credit Event Resolution Request Date; or
- (ii) otherwise, the date that is 60 calendar days prior to the earlier of (a) the “Notice Delivery Date”, if the Notice Delivery Date occurs during the Notice Delivery Period and (b) the Credit Event Resolution Request Date, if the Notice Delivery Date occurs during the Post Dismissal Additional Period.

The Credit Event Backstop Date shall not be subject to adjustment in accordance with any Business Day Convention.

“Credit Event Notice” means an irrevocable notice from the Determination Agent to the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent for onward delivery to the Noteholders, which the Determination Agent has the right (but not the obligation) to deliver, which:

- (i) identifies the Series of Credit Linked Notes to which the Credit Event Notice relates;
- (ii) states the Determination Agent’s intention for the Issuer to redeem the relevant Credit Linked Notes, as applicable, by the Applicable Proportion thereof, in accordance with the relevant Credit Event Redemption Method and the applicable Fallback Redemption Method; and
- (iii) describes a Credit Event that occurred on or after the Credit Event Backstop Date and on or prior to the Extension Date.

Any Credit Event Notice that describes a Credit Event that occurred after the Scheduled Maturity Date must relate to the relevant Potential Failure to Pay, in the case of a Grace Period Extension Date, or the relevant Potential Repudiation/Moratorium, in the case of a Repudiation/Moratorium Evaluation Date.

A Credit Event Notice that describes a Credit Event other than an M(M)R Restructuring must be in respect of:

- (i) in respect of Single Name Credit Linked Notes, (x) the full Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount of the relevant Credit Linked Notes or (y) if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the full Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount of the Credit Linked Notes, in the relevant Series, subject to Credit Linked Condition 19 (Successor Provisions);
- (ii) in respect of Basket Credit Linked Notes or Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes, (x) the full Outstanding Reference Entity Nominal Amount of the Affected Reference Entity or (y) if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the full Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount of the Affected Reference Entity, subject to Credit Linked Condition 19 (Successor Provisions).

A Credit Event Notice must contain a description in reasonable detail of the facts relevant to the determination that a Relevant Credit Event has occurred. The Relevant Credit Event that is the subject of the Credit Event Notice need not be continuing on the date the Credit Event Notice is effective.

“Credit Event Redemption Amount” means the Auction Redemption Amount or Cash Redemption Amount, as applicable.

“Credit Event Redemption Date” means:

- (i) if “Credit Recovery following Credit Event” applies, the Auction Redemption Date, the Cash Redemption Date or the Physical Redemption Date; or
- (ii) in the case of Tranching Index Credit Linked Notes or if “Credit Recovery on Maturity” applies, the Final Auction Redemption Date, the Final Cash Redemption Date or the Final Physical Redemption Date.

“Credit Event Redemption Loss Amount” means amount equal to:

- (i) if “Auction Redemption” is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement and the Fallback Redemption Method is not applicable, the Auction Loss Amount; or
- (ii) if either “Cash Redemption” is specified as the Credit Event Redemption Method in the relevant Pricing Supplement or the Fallback Redemption Method is applicable, the Cash Loss Amount.

“Credit Event Redemption Method” means Auction Redemption, Cash Redemption, Physical Redemption or Fixed Recovery Redemption, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

“Credit Event Resolution Request Date” means, with respect to a DC Credit Event Question, the date, as publicly announced by the relevant CDS Information Publisher or as set out in any DC Resolution, that the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee Resolves to be the date on which the DC Credit Event Question was effective and on which the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee was in possession of Publicly Available Information with respect to such DC Credit Event Question.

“Credit Linked Note” means a Single Name Credit Linked Note, a Basket Credit Linked Note or a Tranching Index Credit Linked Note.

“Credit Risk Cut-Off Date” means the Scheduled Maturity Date, unless specified otherwise in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

“CRR” means Article 63 of Regulation 575/2013 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 26 June 2013, as amended or replaced from time to time.

“Currency Amount” means, with respect to (i) a Deliverable Obligation specified in a Notice of Physical Settlement that is denominated in a currency other than the Settlement Currency, an amount converted to the Settlement Currency using a conversion rate determined by reference to the Currency Rate and (ii) a Replacement Deliverable Obligation specified in a NOPS Amendment Notice, an amount converted to the Settlement Currency (or, if applicable, back into the Settlement Currency) using a conversion rate determined by reference to the Currency Rate, if any, and each Revised Currency Rate used to convert each Replaced Deliverable Obligation Outstanding Amount specified in each NOPS Amendment Notice into the currency of denomination of the relevant Replacement Deliverable Obligation.

“Currency Rate” means with respect to (i) a Deliverable Obligation specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement, the rate of conversion between the Settlement Currency and the currency in which the Outstanding Amount of such Deliverable Obligation is denominated that is either (a) determined by reference to the Currency Rate Source as at the Next Currency Fixing Time or (b) if such rate is not available at such time, as the Determination Agent shall determine and (ii) a Replacement Deliverable Obligation specified in a NOPS Amendment Notice, the Revised Currency Rate.

“Currency Rate Source” means the mid-point rate of conversion published by WM/Reuters at 4:00 p.m. (London time), or any successor rate source approved by the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee.

“CUSIP” means, with respect to a security, the “CUSIP” identification number assigned to such security (if any).

“DC Announcement Coverage Cut-off Date” means, with respect to a DC Credit Event Announcement, the Auction Final Price Determination Date, the Auction Cancellation Date, or the date that is 14 calendar days following the No Auction Announcement Date, if any, as applicable.

“DC Credit Event Announcement” means, with respect to the relevant Reference Entity, a public announcement by the relevant CDS Information Publisher that the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee has Resolved that an event that constitutes a Credit Event has occurred on or after the Credit Event Backstop Date and on or prior to the Extension Date provided that if the Credit Event occurred after the Scheduled Maturity Date, the DC Credit Event Announcement must relate to the relevant Potential Failure to Pay, in the case of a Grace Period Extension Date, or the relevant Repudiation/Moratorium, in the case of a Repudiation/Moratorium Evaluation Date.

“DC Credit Event Meeting Announcement” means, with respect to the relevant Reference Entity, a public announcement by the relevant CDS Information Publisher that a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee will be convened to Resolve the matters described in a DC Credit Event Question.

“DC Credit Event Question” means a notice to the DC Secretary requesting that a Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee be convened to Resolve an issue in respect to a Reference Entity.

“DC Credit Event Question Dismissal” means, with respect to a relevant Reference Entity, a public announcement by the relevant CDS Information Publisher that the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee has Resolved not to determine the matters described in a DC Credit Event Question.

“DC-determined EDD” has the meaning given in Credit Linked Condition 9.2 (Ordering of Event Determination Date following multiple Credit Events).

“DC No Credit Event Announcement” means, with respect to the relevant Reference Entity, a public announcement by the relevant CDS Information Publisher that the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee has Resolved that an event that is the subject of a DC Credit Event Question does not constitute a Credit Event with respect to such Reference Entity.

“DC Resolution” means a resolution of the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee in accordance with the definition of “Resolve” below.

“DC Rules” means the Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee Rules, as published by the relevant CDS Information Publisher from time to time and as amended from time to time in accordance with the terms hereof.

“DC Secretary” means DC Administration Services, Inc. or such other entity designated as DC Secretary in accordance with the DC Rules.

“Default Requirement” means the amount specified as such in the relevant Pricing Supplement or its equivalent in the relevant Obligation Currency (or, if no such amount is specified, USD 10,000,000 or its equivalent in the relevant Obligation Currency) in either case, as of the occurrence of the Relevant Credit Event.

“Deliver” means to deliver, novate, transfer (including, in the case of a Guarantee, transfer of the benefit of the Guarantee), assign or sell, as appropriate, in the manner customary for the settlement of the applicable Deliverable Obligations (which shall include executing all necessary documentation and taking any other necessary actions):

- (i) in order to convey all right, title (or, with respect to Deliverable Obligations where any equitable title is customarily conveyed, all equitable title) and interest in the Deliverable Obligations specified in the Notice of Physical Settlement or any NOPS Amendment Notice, as applicable, to the relevant Noteholder; and
- (ii) free and clear of any and all liens, charges, claims or encumbrances (excluding any liens routinely imposed on all securities in a relevant clearing system, but including, without limitation, any counterclaim, defence (other than a counterclaim or defence based on the factors set forth in paragraphs (i) to (iv) of the definition of “Credit Event”) or right of set-off by or of the relevant Reference Entity or any applicable Underlying Obligor), provided that:

- (a) if a Deliverable Obligation is a Direct Loan Participation, “Deliver” means to create (or procure the creation of) a participation in favour of the relevant Noteholder; and
- (b) if a Deliverable Obligation is a Guarantee, “Deliver” means to Deliver both the Underlying Obligation and the Guarantee, provided further that if the Guarantee has a Fixed Cap, “Deliver” means to Deliver the Underlying Obligation, the Guarantee and all claims to any amounts which are subject to such Fixed Cap.

“Delivery” and “Delivered” will be construed accordingly.

In the case of a Loan, Delivery shall be effected using documentation substantially in the form of the documentation customarily used in the relevant market for Delivery of such Loan at that time provided further that each of the Issuer and each Noteholder agrees to comply with the provisions of any documentation (which shall be deemed to include any market advisory that the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee Resolves to approve for such purpose) that the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee Resolves constitutes documentation customarily used in the relevant market for Delivery of such Loan at that time, as such documentation may be amended to the extent the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee Resolves is appropriate, which is consistent with the delivery and payment obligations of the parties hereunder.

The Issuer and each Noteholder further agree that compliance by it with the provisions of any such documentation, shall be required for, and, without further action, constitute, Delivery for the purposes of this definition (to the extent that such documentation contains provisions describing how Delivery should be effected) and neither the Issuer nor any Noteholder shall be permitted to request that the other take, nor shall it be required to take, any action under Credit Linked Condition 14.2 (Physical Redemption Assets) unless otherwise contemplated by such documentation.

In respect of a Monoline Insurer Reference Entity, “Deliver” with respect to an obligation that is a Qualifying Policy means to Deliver both the Insured Instrument and the benefit of the Qualifying Policy (or a custodial receipt issued by an internationally recognised custodian representing an interest in such Insured Instrument and the related Qualifying Policy), and “Delivery” and “Delivered” will be construed accordingly. Further, for the purposes of this definition, references to the Underlying Obligation and the Underlying Obligor shall be deemed to include Insured Instruments and the Insured Obligor, respectively.

“Deliverable Obligation” means:

- (i) any obligation of the relevant Reference Entity (either directly or as provider of a Relevant Guarantee) or in respect of a Monoline Insurer Reference Entity, a Qualifying Policy, determined pursuant to the paragraph (a) (Method for determining Deliverable Obligations) below;
- (ii) the Reference Obligation of the relevant Reference Entity;
- (iii) solely in relation to a Restructuring Credit Event applicable to a relevant Reference Entity which is a Sovereign, and unless Asset Package Delivery is applicable, any Sovereign Restructured Deliverable Obligation; and
- (iv) if Asset Package Delivery is applicable, any Prior Deliverable Obligation (if, “Financial Reference Entity Terms” applies) or any Package Observable Bond (if the Reference Entity is a Sovereign), in each case, (x) unless it is an Excluded Deliverable Obligation and (y) provided that the obligation has an Outstanding Principal Balance or Due and Payable Amount that is greater than zero (determined for the purposes of paragraph (iv) of this definition, immediately prior to the relevant Asset Package Credit Event).

- (a) Method for determining Deliverable Obligations

For the purposes of this definition of “Deliverable Obligation”, a Deliverable Obligation shall be each Obligation of the relevant Reference Entity described by the Deliverable Obligation Category specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, and, subject to Credit Linked Condition 24 (Interpretation of Obligation Characteristics and Deliverable Obligation Characteristics), having each of the Deliverable Obligation Characteristics, if any, specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement, in each case, as of the Delivery Date (unless otherwise specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement). The following terms shall have the following meanings:

- (A) “Deliverable Obligation Category” means one of Payment, Borrowed Money, Reference Obligation Only, Bond, Loan, or Bond or Loan (each as defined in the definition of “Obligation” below, except that, for the purposes of determining Deliverable Obligations, the definition of “Reference Obligation Only” or shall be amended to state that no Deliverable Obligation Characteristics shall be applicable to Reference Obligation Only).
- (B) “Deliverable Obligation Characteristics” means any one or more of Not Subordinated, Specified Currency, Not Sovereign Lender, Not Domestic Currency, Not Domestic Law, Listed, Not Domestic Issuance, (each as defined in the definition of “Obligation” below), Assignable Loan, Consent Required Loan, Direct Loan Participation, Transferable, Maximum Maturity, Accelerated or Matured and Not Bearer. For the avoidance of doubt, in respect of a Limited Recourse Obligation, the Not Subordinated Deliverable Obligation Characteristic will be deemed to have been satisfied.

- (I) “Accelerated or Matured” means an obligation under which the principal amount owed, whether by reason of maturity, acceleration, termination or otherwise, is due and payable in full in accordance with the terms of such obligation, or would have been but for, and without regard to, any limitation imposed under any applicable insolvency laws;
- (II) “Assignable Loan” means a Loan that is capable of being assigned or novated to, at a minimum, commercial banks or financial institutions (irrespective of their jurisdiction of organisation) that are not then a lender or a member of the relevant lending syndicate, without the consent of the relevant Reference Entity or the guarantor, if any, of such Loan (or the consent of the applicable borrower if the relevant Reference Entity is guaranteeing such Loan) or any agent;
- (III) “Consent Required Loan” means a Loan that is capable of being assigned or novated with the consent of the Reference Entity or the guarantor, if any, of such Loan (or the consent of the relevant borrower if the relevant Reference Entity is guaranteeing such Loan) or any agent;

 - (a) the date falling five Business Days after the Notes Extension Date;
 - (b) the final Credit Event Redemption Date in relation to any unsettled Relevant Credit Events, or if later, any Final Physical Redemption Cut-Off Date (including any final Partial Cash Redemption Date or final Fallback Cash Redemption Date); or

- (c) the date falling five Business Days after the Payment Failure Cut-Off Date, if applicable; or
- (ii) where a Relevant Event Determination Date under Credit Linked Conditions 10(i), 10(ii) and 10(iii) (Scheduled Maturity Date Extension) occurs on or prior to the Notes Extension Date, the later to occur of:
 - (a) the final Credit Event Redemption Date in relation to any unsettled Relevant Credit Events, as applicable, or if later any Final Physical Redemption Cut-Off Date (including any final Partial Cash Redemption Date or final Fallback Cash Redemption Date); or
 - (b) the date falling five Business Days after the Payment Failure Cut-Off Date, if applicable, provided where the Determination Agent determines a Relevant Event Determination Date can no longer occur or the Credit Derivatives Determination Committee Resolves that a Relevant Event Determination Date has not occurred, the Extended Maturity Date shall be the date of such Determination Agent's determination or the date of such DC Resolution, respectively.

"Extension Date" means the latest of:

- (i) the Credit Risk Cut-off Date;
- (ii) the Grace Period Extension Date if (a) "Failure to Pay" and "Grace Period Extension" are specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement and (b) the Potential Failure to Pay with respect to the relevant Failure to Pay occurs on or prior to the Credit Risk Cut-Off Date; and
- (iii) the Repudiation/Moratorium Evaluation Date (if any) if "Repudiation/Moratorium" is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, as applicable.

"Failure to Pay" means, after the expiration of any applicable Grace Period (after the satisfaction of any conditions precedent to the commencement of such Grace Period), the failure by the relevant Reference Entity to make, when and where due, any payments in an aggregate amount of not less than the Payment Requirement under one or more Obligations, in accordance with the terms of such Obligations at the time of such failure.

If an occurrence that would constitute a Failure to Pay (i) is a result of a redenomination that occurs as a result of action taken by a Governmental Authority which is of general application in the jurisdiction of such Governmental Authority and (ii) a freely available market rate of conversion existed at the time of the redenomination, then such occurrence will be deemed not to constitute a Failure to Pay unless the redenomination itself constituted a reduction in the rate or amount of interest, principal or premium payable (as determined by reference to such freely available market rate of conversion) at the time of such redenomination.

If the "2019 NTCE Supplement to the 2014 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions (July 15, 2019)" and "Credit Deterioration Requirement" apply, then notwithstanding the foregoing, it shall not constitute a Failure to Pay if such failure does not directly or indirectly result either from, or result in, a deterioration in the creditworthiness or financial condition of the relevant Reference Entity. In such case, any determination as to whether a "Failure to Pay" has occurred is to be made by the Determination Agent, for which purpose, the Determination Agent will take into account any guidance provided in the "2019 NTCE Supplement to the 2014 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions (July 15, 2019)".

 - (x) such Credit Linked Note's pro rata share of an amount equal to:
 - (A) the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount (or if "Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes" is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount (provided that if a successor event occurs and more than one Successor has been identified, the Determination Agent shall, in its sole discretion, determine such Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount by taking into account the first Relevant Event Determination Date in respect of each Successor, if applicable)); plus
 - (B) the sum of all Cash Redemption Amounts determined in respect of all the relevant Credit Linked Notes for such Series (such amounts determined on the basis that "Capital Not At Risk" is not specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement); and
 - (y) where "Capital Not At Risk" is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, an amount equal to each Credit Linked Note's pro rata share of the product of:
 - (A) the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount (or if "Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes" is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount (provided that if a successor event occurs and more than one Successor has been identified, the Determination Agent shall, in its sole discretion, determine such Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount by taking into account the first Relevant Event Determination Date in respect of each Successor, if applicable)); and
 - (B) the Protection Percentage; or
- (ii) in respect of each relevant Basket Credit Linked Note, unless otherwise specified in the Pricing Supplement, an amount calculated by the Determination Agent equal to the greater of:
 - (a) zero; and
 - (b) an amount equal to:
 - (A) such Credit Linked Note's pro rata share of the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount (or if "Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes" is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount (provided that if a successor event occurs and more than one Successor has been identified, the Determination Agent shall, in its sole discretion, determine such Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount by taking into account the first Relevant Event Determination Date in respect of each Successor, if applicable)); plus

- (B) if “Credit Recovery on Maturity” applies, the sum, for each Affected Reference Entity, of the Cash Redemption Amounts determined in respect of such Affected Reference Entity; or
- (iii) in respect of each relevant Tranching Index Credit Linked Note, unless otherwise specified in the Pricing Supplement, an amount calculated by the Determination Agent equal to such Credit Linked Note’s pro rata share of the Outstanding Aggregate Tranche Nominal Amount.

“Final Physical Redemption Assets” means:

- (i) in respect of each relevant Single Name Credit Linked Note, unless otherwise specified in the Pricing Supplement, an amount calculated by the Determination Agent equal to the greater of:
 - (a) zero; and
 - (b) such Credit Linked Note’s pro rata share of an amount equal to:
 - (A) the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount (or if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount (provided that if a successor event occurs and more than one Successor has been identified, the Determination Agent shall, in its sole discretion, determine such Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount by taking into account the first Relevant Event Determination Date in respect of each Successor, if applicable)); plus
 - (B) the total amount of all Physical Redemption Assets determined in respect of the relevant Credit Linked Notes for such Series; or
- (ii) (y) in respect of each relevant Basket Credit Linked Note, unless otherwise specified in the Pricing Supplement, an amount calculated by the Determination Agent equal to the greater of:
 - (a) zero; and
 - (b) an amount equal to:
 - (A) such Credit Linked Note’s pro rata share of the Outstanding Aggregate Nominal Amount (or if “Accreting Recovery Zero Coupon Credit Linked Notes” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the Outstanding Aggregate Accreted Nominal Amount (provided that if a successor event occurs and more than one Successor has been identified, the Determination Agent shall, in its sole discretion, determine such Outstanding Reference Entity Accreted Nominal Amount by taking into account the first Relevant Event Determination Date in respect of each Successor, if applicable)); plus

- (B) if “Credit Recovery on Maturity” applies, the total, for each Affected Reference Entity, of the Physical Redemption Assets determined in respect of such Affected Reference Entity.

“Final Physical Redemption Date” means the later to occur of (i) the last Physical Redemption Date in respect of the Credit Linked Notes and (ii) the Scheduled Maturity Date or the Extended Maturity Date, as applicable.
