- (i) first, by determining, in respect of the obligation, the amount of the relevant Reference Entity’s principal payment obligations and subject to the Determination Agent’s determination to include (rather than exclude) accrued but unpaid interest, the relevant Reference Entity’s accrued but unpaid interest payment obligations, which in the case of a Guarantee (or in respect of a Monoline Insurer Reference Entity, a Qualifying Policy), will be the lower of (a) the Outstanding Principal Balance (if the Determination Agent so determines, including accrued but unpaid interest) of the Underlying Obligation (or Insured Instrument, as applicable) (determined as if references to the relevant Reference Entity were references to the Underlying Obligor (or Insured Obligor, as applicable)) and (b) the amount of the Fixed Cap (if any);
- (ii) second, by subtracting an amount equal to: (a) Unwind Costs (if “Credit Unwind Costs” is specified as being applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement), the Delivery Expenses and Interest Suspension Shortfall Amount, in each case, if any (rounded down to the nearest integral authorised denomination of the relevant obligations); plus (b) all or any portion of such amount which, pursuant to the terms of the obligation, (A) is subject to any Prohibited Action, or (B) may otherwise be reduced as a result of the effluxion of time or the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event or circumstance (other than by way of (I) payment or (II) a Permitted Contingency) (the amount determined in paragraph (i) above less any amounts subtracted in accordance with this paragraph (ii)), the “Non-Contingent Amount” (provided that, in respect of a Monoline Insurer Reference Entity, any provisions of an Insured Instrument limiting recourse in respect of such Insured Instrument to the proceeds of specified assets (including proceeds subject to a priority of payments) or reducing the amount of any Instrument Payments owing under such Insured Instrument, shall be disregarded for the purposes of this paragraph (ii), provided that such provisions are not applicable to the Qualifying Policy by the terms thereof and the Qualifying Policy continues to guarantee or insure, as applicable, the Instrument Payments that would have been required to be made absent any such limitation or reduction); and
- (iii) third, by determining the Quantum of the Claim, which shall then constitute the Outstanding Principal Balance, in each case, determined:

- (a) unless otherwise specified, in accordance with the terms of the obligation in effect on (I) the Delivery Date or (II) the Valuation Date, as applicable; and
- (b) with respect to the Quantum of the Claim only, in accordance with any applicable laws (insofar as such laws reduce or discount the size of the claim to reflect the original issue price or accrued value of the obligation).

- (C) If “2019 NTCE Supplement to the 2014 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions (July 15, 2019)” and “Fallback Discounting” apply, then notwithstanding the above, if (I) the Outstanding Principal Balance of an obligation is not reduced or discounted under paragraph (iii)(b) above, (II) that obligation is either a Bond that has an issue price less than 95 per cent. of the principal redemption amount or a Loan where the amount advanced is less than 95 per cent. of the principal repayment amount and, (III) such Bond or Loan does not include provisions relating to the accretion over time of the amount which would be payable on an early redemption or repayment of such Bond or Loan that are customary for the applicable type of Bond or Loan as the case may be, then the Outstanding Principal Balance of such Bond or Loan shall be the lesser of (x) the Non-Contingent Amount; and (y) an amount determined by straight line interpolation between the issue price of the Bond or the amount advanced under the Loan and the principal redemption amount or principal repayment amount, as applicable.
- (D) For the purposes of determining whether the issue price of a Bond or the amount advanced under a Loan is less than 95 per cent. of the principal redemption amount or principal repayment amount (as applicable) or, where applicable, for applying straight line interpolation:
 - (I) where such Bond or Loan was issued as a result of an exchange offer, the issue price or amount advanced of the new Bond or Loan resulting from the exchange shall be deemed to be equal to the aggregate Outstanding Principal Balance of the original obligation(s) that were tendered or exchanged (the “Original Obligation(s)”) at the time of such exchange (determined without regard to market or trading value of the Original Obligation(s)); and
 - (II) in the case of a Bond or Loan that is fungible with a prior debt obligation previously issued by the relevant Reference Entity, such Bond or Loan shall be treated as having the same issue price or amount advanced as the prior debt obligation.

In circumstances where a holder would have received more than one obligation in exchange for the Original Obligation(s), the Determination Agent will determine the allocation of the aggregate Outstanding Principal Balance of the Original Obligation(s) amongst each of the resulting obligations for the purpose of determining the issue price or amount advanced of the relevant Bond or Loan. Such allocation will take into account the interest rate, maturity, level of subordination and other terms of the obligations that resulted from the exchange and shall be made by the Determination Agent in accordance with the methodology (if any) determined by the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee.

In respect of a Monoline Insurer Reference Entity, any provisions of an Insured Instrument limiting recourse in respect of such Insured Instrument to the proceeds of specified assets (including proceeds subject to a priority of payments) or reducing the amount of any Instrument Payments owing under such Insured Instrument, shall be disregarded for the purposes of paragraph (b) above, provided that such provisions are not applicable to the Qualifying Policy by the terms thereof and the Qualifying Policy continues to guarantee or insure, as applicable, the Instrument Payments that would have been required to be made absent any such limitation or reduction.

Different Fixed Coupon Amounts may apply in respect of different Interest Periods and/or Interest Payment Dates, as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

5.5 Calculation of Interest

If "Fixed Coupon Amount" is specified as not applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the amount of interest payable in respect of each Exchangeable Note in respect of any period (for the avoidance of doubt including an Interest Period) shall be an amount per Calculation Amount calculated by applying the Rate of Interest to the Calculation Amount, multiplying the product by the applicable Day Count Fraction and rounding the resulting figure to the nearest sub-unit of the Specified Currency (half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards). For this purpose, a "sub-unit" means, in the case of any currency other than euro, the lowest amount of such currency that is available as legal tender in the country of such currency and, in the case of euro, means one cent.

6. Exchange of the Exchangeable Notes

This Exchangeable Note Condition 6 (Exchange of the Exchangeable Notes) shall apply if "Exchange Right" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

6.1 Exchange Period and Exchange Price

- (a) The Issuer grants to each Noteholder the right (the "Exchange Right") exercisable at any time during the Exchange Period, subject, if applicable, to any Exchange Condition having been satisfied, to require the Exchangeable Note(s) held by it to be redeemed in accordance with the provisions of Exchangeable Note Condition 6.2 (Procedure for Exercise of Exchange Rights).
- (b) For the purposes of these Exchangeable Note Conditions, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

"Exchange Condition" means any condition specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

"Exchange Period" means each of the period(s) specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement provided that, if during any Exchange Period the Issuer has given notice to Noteholders of its intention to redeem the Exchangeable Notes as provided in Exchangeable Note Condition 9 (Nationalisation, Change in Law and/or Delisting) and Exchangeable Note Condition 10.2 (Settlement of options contracts), the Exchange Period shall expire on the Relevant Announcement Date.

- (c) The Exchange Rights may not be exercised in respect of an Exchangeable Note which has been declared immediately due and repayable pursuant to Exchangeable Note Condition 14 (Events of Default) or in respect of which a Noteholder has exercised its option under Exchangeable Note Condition 26.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities).

6.2 Procedure for Exercise of Exchange Rights

Exchange Rights may be exercised by a Noteholder during any Exchange Period and subject to any Exchange Condition specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement having been satisfied, by delivering to the Specified Office of any Exchange Agent (with a copy to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as applicable), during its usual business hours, by a duly completed and signed notice of exchange (an "Exchange Notice") in the form (for the time being current) obtainable from the Exchange Agent, together with any Individual Note Certificate (if any) which has been issued in respect of the Exchangeable Notes. The date on which such Exchange Notice and Individual Note Certificate are delivered as aforesaid is referred to as the "Exchange Notice Delivery Date", and, in order for the Exchange Rights to be validly exercised, the Exchange Notice Delivery Date must fall on or before the last day of the Exchange Period.

If such delivery is made after the end of normal business hours or on a day which is not a business day in the place of the Specified Office of the Exchange Agent, the Exchange Notice Delivery Date shall be deemed for all purposes of these Exchangeable Note Conditions to have been made on the next following such business day. For the purposes of this paragraph, "business day" means a day other than a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday on which banks are generally open for business.

Exchange Rights shall be exercised subject in each case to any applicable fiscal or other laws or regulations applicable in the jurisdiction in which the Specified Office of the Exchange Agent is located to whom the relevant Exchange Notice is delivered.

Any determination as to whether an Exchange Notice has been duly completed and properly delivered shall be made by the Exchange Agent and shall, save in the case of manifest error, be conclusive and binding on the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Exchange Agent, the Paying Agents and the relevant Noteholder.

An Exchange Notice, once delivered, shall be irrevocable.

A Noteholder must pay all taxes, if any, imposed on it and arising by reference to any disposal or deemed disposal of an Exchangeable Note or interest therein in connection with the exercise of Exchange Rights by it.

6.3 Redemption of the exchanged Exchangeable Note(s) by the Issuer

Upon the valid exercise of the Exchange Right by a Noteholder, the Issuer will redeem the relevant Exchangeable Note(s) at the Cash Amount calculated in accordance with Exchangeable Note Condition 6.4 (Cash Amount).

6.4 Cash Amount

- (a) Upon any valid exercise of Exchange Rights by a Noteholder with respect to one or more Exchangeable Notes, the Issuer shall redeem each Exchangeable Note, in respect of which the Exchange Right has been exercised, at its Cash Amount on the Settlement Date, subject to the provisions of Exchangeable Note Condition 6.4(b). The Issuer will pay the Cash Amount in respect of each Exchangeable Note in respect of which the Exchange Right has been exercised in accordance with Exchangeable Note Condition 12 (Payments).

In these Exchangeable Note Conditions:

"Averaging Date" means, in respect of a Cash Amount Calculation Period, each of the Scheduled Trading Days comprised in such Cash Amount Calculation Period;

"Cash Amount" means, in respect of all Averaging Dates relating to the relevant Exchange Date and each Specified Denomination in the Specified Currency of Exchangeable Notes in respect of which the relevant Noteholder shall have exercised Exchange Rights, the sum (rounded to two decimal places, with 0.005 being rounded upwards) of the Daily Cash Amounts, where "Daily Cash Amount" or "DCA" means an amount in the Specified Currency calculated by the Calculation Agent for each Averaging Date relating to such Exchange Date in respect of each such Specified Denomination of the Exchangeable Notes in the Specified Currency, in accordance with the following formula:

$$DCA = \frac{1}{N} \times (NV + \text{Max}(0; ER_n \times P_n - NV))$$

where:

- Max = followed by a series of amounts (or values or calculations) inside brackets, means whichever is the greater (or equal greatest) of the amounts (or values or calculations) separated by a semi-colon inside those brackets
- N = The number of Averaging Dates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
- P_n = the Share Price on such Averaging Date;
- NV = Nominal Value; and
- ER_n = the Exchange Ratio prevailing on such Averaging Date.

"Cash Amount Calculation Period" means, in relation to the Exchange Date, the period of N (as defined above) consecutive Scheduled Trading Days commencing on the Specified Cash Amount Averaging Commencement Date.

"Specified Cash Amount Averaging Commencement Date" means the date falling number of Scheduled Trading Day(s) immediately following the Exchange Date as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

- (b) If following the valid exercise by a Noteholder of its Exchange Right and (i) if "Early Redemption" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, prior to the Settlement Date an event occurs as a result of which the Exchangeable Notes, subject to the Exchange Notice, would otherwise fall to be redeemed in accordance with Exchangeable Note Condition 9 (Nationalisation, Change in Law and/or Delisting) or Exchangeable Note Condition 10.2 (Settlement of options contracts) had the Noteholder not exercised its Exchange Right, the Issuer shall redeem the Exchangeable Notes at the Early Redemption Amount (and not the Cash Amount) on the Early Redemption Date; or (ii) if "Extraordinary Event Payment Feature" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, and an Extraordinary Event occurs prior to the Settlement Date, Condition 11 (Extraordinary Event Payment Feature) shall apply (for the avoidance of doubt, if "Early Redemption" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then "Extraordinary Event Payment Feature" shall be specified as not applicable, and vice versa).

7. Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares

7.1 Adjustment of Exchange Price and/or the Shares

(a) Relevant Options Exchange Determination

Where "Relevant Options Exchange Determination" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Calculation Agent will adjust the Exchange Price and/or the Shares as follows:

(i) Options contracts traded on a Relevant Options Exchange:

If options contracts in respect of the Shares are traded on a Relevant Options Exchange and the Relevant Options Exchange adjusts such options contracts following or as a result of any corporate actions, the Calculation Agent shall, to the extent required and with effect as of the same date, adjust, as relevant:

- (A) the Exchange Price of the Exchangeable Notes, in circumstances where the exercise prices of options contracts in respect of the Shares are adjusted by the Relevant Options Exchange; and/or
- (B) the Shares, in circumstances where any securities or package of securities are being substituted for the Shares as the securities underlying options contracts in respect of the Shares, to reflect the adjustments effected by the Relevant Options Exchange (for the avoidance of doubt the Exchange Price, or, as the case may be, the Shares, shall be adjusted using, but not recalculating, such adjustment ratio or similar or other adjustment as was published by the Relevant Options Exchange), provided that:

- (A) in relation to Ordinary Cash Dividends, the Calculation Agent shall make the adjustments as set out in Exchangeable Note Condition 7.1(c) instead of any corresponding or other adjustments in respect of such Ordinary Cash Dividends under the applicable Relevant Options Exchange Corporate Actions Procedures, if any;
- (B) subject to the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event (if "Extraordinary Event Payment Feature" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement), in relation to any Nationalisation, Delisting or (if the Issuer has exercised its right to redeem the Exchangeable Notes pursuant to Exchangeable Note Condition 9 (Nationalisation, Change in Law and/or Delisting)) Change in Law, the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed in accordance with Exchangeable Note Condition 9 (Nationalisation, Change in Law and/or Delisting) instead of any corresponding or other adjustment in respect of such Nationalisation, Delisting or Change in Law under the applicable Relevant Options Exchange Corporate Actions Procedures, if any; and
- (C) subject to the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event (if "Extraordinary Event Payment Feature" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement), in relation to any event as a result of which options contracts in respect of the Shares are settled in the circumstances the subject of Exchangeable Note Condition 10.2 (Settlement of options contracts), the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed subject to and in accordance with such Exchangeable Note Condition 10.2 (Settlement of options contracts) and no adjustment (if any) under the applicable Relevant Options Exchange Corporate Actions Procedures will be made.

Any adjustment made pursuant to this paragraph shall become effective on the same date as any corresponding adjustments made by the Relevant Options Exchange (other than an adjustment pursuant to Exchangeable Note Condition 7.1(c), which shall become effective as provided in Exchangeable Note Condition 7.2).

(ii) Options contracts traded on an Alternative Options Exchange:

If no options contracts in respect of the Shares are traded on a Relevant Options Exchange but are traded on any other exchange or quotation system which serves as the principal place of trading for options contracts and futures contracts in respect of the Shares (such other exchange or quotation system as aforesaid, being, only in circumstances where no options contracts in respect of the Shares are traded on a Relevant Options Exchange but options contracts are traded on such other exchange or quotation system as aforesaid, the "Alternative Options Exchange"), the Calculation Agent shall, to the extent required, adjust the Exchange Price and/or, as the case may be, the Shares to reflect the adjustments effected in respect of any options contracts relating to the Shares by the Alternative Options Exchange, provided that:

- (A) in relation to Ordinary Cash Dividends, the Calculation Agent shall make the adjustments as set out in Exchangeable Note Condition 7.1(c) instead of any corresponding or other adjustments in respect of such Ordinary Cash Dividends under the standard corporate actions procedures of the Alternative Options Exchange in effect at the relevant time, if any;
- (B) subject to the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event (if "Extraordinary Event Payment Feature" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement), in relation to any Nationalisation, Delisting or (to the extent the Issuer has exercised its right to redeem the Exchangeable Notes pursuant to Exchangeable Note Condition 9 (Nationalisation, Change in Law and/or Delisting)) Change in Law, the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed in accordance with Exchangeable Note Condition 9 (Nationalisation, Change in Law and/or Delisting) instead of any corresponding or other adjustment in respect of such Nationalisation, Delisting or Change in Law under the standard corporate actions procedures of the Alternative Options Exchange in effect at the relevant time, if any; and
- (C) subject to the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event (if "Extraordinary Event Payment Feature" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement), in relation to any event as a result of which options contracts in respect of the Shares are settled in the circumstances the subject of Exchangeable Note Condition 10.2 (Settlement of options contracts), the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed subject to and in accordance with such Exchangeable Note Condition 10.2 (Settlement of options contracts) and no adjustment (if any) under the standard corporate actions procedures of the Alternative Options Exchange in effect at the relevant time will be made.

Any adjustment made pursuant to this paragraph shall become effective on the same date as any corresponding adjustments made by the Alternative Options Exchange (other than an adjustment pursuant to Exchangeable Note Condition 7.1(c) which shall become effective as provided in Exchangeable Note Condition 7.2).

(iii) Options contracts traded neither on a Relevant Options Exchange nor on an Alternative Options Exchange:

If no options contracts in respect of the Shares are traded on a Relevant Options Exchange or an Alternative Options Exchange, and any event which would have triggered an adjustment under the Relevant Options Exchange Corporate Actions Procedures last published occurs, the Calculation Agent will determine which adjustment, if any, should be made to the Exchange Price, and/or, as the case may be, the Shares, with reference to the rules and any precedents (if any) set by the Relevant Options Exchange to account for the effect of such event that in the determination of the Calculation Agent, would have given rise to an adjustment by the Relevant Options Exchange if such options contracts were so traded, provided that:

- (A) in relation to Ordinary Cash Dividends, the Calculation Agent shall make the adjustments as set out in Exchangeable Note Condition 7.1(c) instead of any corresponding or other adjustments in respect of such Ordinary Cash Dividends under the applicable Relevant Options Exchange Corporate Actions Procedures, if any;
- (B) subject to the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event (if "Extraordinary Event Payment Feature" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement), in relation to any Nationalisation, Delisting or (if the Issuer has exercised its right to redeem the Exchangeable Notes pursuant to Exchangeable Note Condition 9 (Nationalisation, Change in Law and/or Delisting)) Change in Law, the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed in accordance with Exchangeable Note Condition 9 (Nationalisation, Change in Law and/or Delisting) instead of any corresponding or other adjustment in respect of such Nationalisation, Delisting or Change in Law under the Relevant Options Exchange Corporate Actions Procedures, if any; and
- (C) subject to the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event (if "Extraordinary Event Payment Feature" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement), in relation to any event as a result of which options contracts in respect of the Shares are settled in the circumstances the subject of Exchangeable Note Condition 10.2 (Settlement of options contracts), the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed subject to and in accordance with such Exchangeable Note Condition 10.2 (Settlement of options contracts) and no adjustment (if any) under the applicable Relevant Options Exchange Corporate Actions Procedures will be made.

Any adjustment made pursuant to this paragraph shall become effective as determined by the Calculation Agent on the date such adjustment would have been effective under the Relevant Options Exchange Corporate Actions Procedures as aforesaid.

(b) Calculation Agent Determination

Where "Calculation Agent Determination" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Calculation Agent will adjust the Exchange Price and/or the Shares as follows:

- (i) If any of (A) options contracts in respect of the Shares are traded on a Relevant Options Exchange and the Relevant Options Exchange adjusts such options contracts following or as a result of any corporate actions, (B) no options contracts in respect of the Shares are traded on a Relevant Options Exchange but are traded on any other Alternative Options Exchange and the Alternative Options Exchange adjusts such options contracts following or as a result of any corporate actions or (C) no options contracts in respect of the Shares are traded on a Relevant Options Exchange or an Alternative Options Exchange and the Calculation Agent determines that any event which would have triggered an adjustment under the Relevant Options Exchange Corporate Actions Procedures last published occurs, then the Calculation Agent (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) will determine which adjustment, if any, should be made to the Exchange Price and/or the Shares to account for the relevant corporate actions, taking into account all of the circumstances and factors it considers to be relevant including (without limitation and as may be applicable) any adjustments and related actions taken by the Relevant Options Exchange, the Alternative Options Exchange or the rules and any precedents (if any) set by Relevant Options Exchange in relation to options contracts on the Shares, provided that:
 - (A) in relation to Ordinary Cash Dividends, the Calculation Agent shall make the adjustments as set out in Exchangeable Note Condition 7.1(c) instead of any corresponding or other adjustments in respect of such Ordinary Cash Dividends under Condition 7.1(b)(i), if any;
 - (B) subject to the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event (if "Extraordinary Event Payment Feature" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement), in relation to any Nationalisation, Delisting or (if the Issuer has exercised its right to redeem the Exchangeable Notes pursuant to Exchangeable Note Condition 9 (Nationalisation, Change in Law and/or Delisting)) Change in Law, the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed in accordance with Exchangeable Note Condition 9 (Nationalisation, Change in Law and/or Delisting) instead of any corresponding or other adjustment in respect of such Nationalisation, Delisting or Change in Law under Condition 7.1(b)(i), if any; and

- (C) subject to the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event (if "Extraordinary Event Payment Feature" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement), in relation to any event as a result of which options contracts in respect of the Shares are settled in the circumstances the subject of Exchangeable Note Condition 10.2 (Settlement of options contracts), the Exchangeable Notes will be redeemed subject to and in accordance with such Exchangeable Note Condition 10.2 (Settlement of options contracts) and no adjustment (if any) under Condition 7.1(b)(i) will be made.

Any adjustment to the Exchange Price and/or the Shares made pursuant to this Condition 7.1(b)(i) shall become effective on the date determined by the Calculation Agent (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner).

- (c) If, (A) an Ex-Date in respect of any Ordinary Cash Dividend (a "Relevant Dividend") falls in a Relevant Period or (B) no Ex-Date in respect of an Ordinary Cash Dividend falls in a Relevant Period, the Calculation Agent shall calculate the adjustment to the Exchange Price in accordance with the following formula (instead of any corresponding or other adjustment under the Relevant Options Exchange Corporate Actions Procedures or the procedures of an Alternative Options Exchange or other sources, as the case may be):

where:

- X_n = the adjusted Exchange Price on the Relevant Record Date;
- X_o = the Exchange Price on the Relevant Record Date;
- R = $(S_{prev} - D) / (S_{prev} - T)$, provided that (a) if $D = T$ (including if $D = T = S_{prev}$), no adjustment shall be required to be made to the Exchange Price, and (b) if $D \neq T$, then (x) if $D \geq S_{prev}$ (other than where $T \geq S_{prev}$), R shall be equal to 0.0001 and (y) if $T \geq S_{prev}$, R shall be such amount as determined by the Calculation Agent;
- S_{prev} = the Closing Price of a Share on the Relevant Record Date;
- D = (in the case of (A) above) the Fair Market Value of the Relevant Dividend paid on a per Share basis on the Relevant Record Date (or, in the case of an Ordinary Dividend falling within limb (ii) of the definition of Ordinary Cash Dividend, the Fair Market Value thereof as determined in accordance with such definition) and (in the case of (B) above) zero; and
- T = the applicable Dividend Threshold,

- (d) For the purposes of calculating the adjustment to the Exchange Price pursuant to the formula in Exchangeable Note Condition 7.1(c) above:
- (i) if no Ex-Date in respect of an Ordinary Cash Dividend falls in a Relevant Period or the Fair Market Value determined as aforesaid of the Relevant Dividend paid on a per Share basis is less than the applicable Dividend Threshold for such Relevant Period, the Exchange Price will be adjusted upwards;
- (ii) if the Fair Market Value determined as aforesaid of any such Relevant Dividend paid on a per Share basis (x) exceeds the applicable Dividend Threshold, the Exchange Price will be adjusted downwards; and (y) is equal to the relevant Dividend Threshold, no adjustment to the Exchange Price shall be required to be made.

- (e) For the purposes of adjustment to the Exchange Price pursuant to the formula in Exchangeable Note Condition 7.1(c) above, any adjustment to the Exchange Price shall take effect on the Relevant Adjustment Date (or, if later, on the first date on which the Fair Market Value of the Relevant Dividend as aforesaid can be determined).

"Relevant Adjustment Date" means each Ex-Date in respect of a Relevant Dividend or, if no Ex-Date in respect of an Ordinary Cash Dividend falls in a Relevant Period, the first Scheduled Trading Day following the end of such Relevant Period. If "Early Redemption" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement and upon the occurrence of a Nationalisation, a Delisting and/or a Change in Law, Exchangeable Note Condition 9 (Nationalisation, Change in Law and/or Delisting) shall apply.

10.4 Tax Redemption

If this Exchangeable Note Condition 10.4 (Tax Redemption) is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be applicable to a Series of Exchangeable Notes, the Exchangeable Notes may be redeemed in whole (but not in part), at the option of the Issuer at any time prior to maturity, upon the giving of a notice of redemption as described below, not less than 10 Business Days prior to the date on which the Exchangeable Notes are to be redeemed, if the Issuer determines in its reasonable discretion that, as a result of any change in or amendment to the laws, or any regulations or rulings promulgated under the laws, of the United States or of any political subdivision or taxing authority of or in the United States affecting taxation, or any change in official position regarding the application or interpretation of the laws, regulations or rulings referred to above, which change or amendment becomes effective on or after the date of the applicable Pricing Supplement in connection with the issuance of the Exchangeable Notes or any other date specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, it or the Guarantor is or will become obligated to pay Additional Amounts with respect to the Exchangeable Notes as described in Exchangeable Note Condition 13 (Taxation). The Issuer will give notice of any tax redemption in accordance with Exchangeable Note Condition 21 (Notices) as a result of which the Exchangeable Notes shall be redeemed early at their principal amount, together with any accrued but unpaid interest (if any) to the date of payment.

Prior to the Issuer giving notice of redemption under Exchangeable Note Condition 10.4 (Tax Redemption), it will deliver to the Fiscal Agent:

- (i) a certificate stating that it is entitled to effect the redemption and setting forth a statement of facts showing that the conditions precedent to its right to so redeem have occurred (the date on which that certificate is delivered to the Fiscal Agent is the "Redemption Determination Date"; and

- (ii) an opinion of independent legal counsel of recognised standing to that effect based on the statement of facts.

Notice of redemption will be given not less than 10 Business Days prior to the date fixed for redemption. The date and the applicable redemption price will be specified in the notice.

10.5 Purchase

The Issuer, the Guarantor or any of its Affiliates may at any time purchase Exchangeable Notes in the open market or otherwise and at any price.

10.6 Cancellation

All Exchangeable Notes so redeemed or in respect of which Exchange Rights are exercised shall, and all the Exchangeable Notes so purchased by MSFL or any of its Subsidiaries may, at the reasonable discretion of the relevant purchaser, be cancelled. All Exchangeable Notes so redeemed, and all Exchangeable Notes so purchased and cancelled, may not be reissued or resold.

10.7 Multiple Notices

If more than one notice of redemption is given pursuant to Exchangeable Note Condition 10.2 (Settlement of options contracts) or Exchangeable Note Condition 10.3 (Nationalisation, Delisting and/or Change in Law), the first of such notices to be given shall prevail.

Notwithstanding the immediately preceding paragraph, if a notice of redemption is provided in relation to the Early Redemption Amount pursuant to Exchangeable Note Condition 10.2 (Settlement of options contracts) or Exchangeable Note Condition 10.3 (Nationalisation, Delisting and/or Change in Law), then such notice shall prevail over any Exchange Notice regardless of the sequence in which any such notice and Exchange Notice are provided.

10.8 Compliance with securities laws

If any holder of any Regulation S/Rule 144A Exchangeable Note is determined not to be either (A) a QIB, or (B) a non-U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S), the Issuer shall have the right to (i) force such holder to sell its interest in such Exchangeable Note, or sell such interest on behalf of such holder, to (A) a QIB, or (B) in an offshore transaction in accordance with Regulation S to a non-U.S. person who, following such transaction, receives a beneficial interest in the relevant Regulation S/Rule 144A Global Note or (ii) terminate and cancel such Exchangeable Note. If any holder of any Regulation S Exchangeable Note is determined to be a U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S), the Issuer shall have the right to force such holder to sell its interest in such Exchangeable Note, or sell such interest on behalf of such holder, to a person who is not a U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S) who, following such transaction, receives a beneficial interest in the relevant Regulation S Global Note or (ii) terminate and cancel such Exchangeable Note. In the case of any termination and cancellation of an Exchangeable Note as described above no amount shall be payable to the relevant Noteholder and the Issuer shall have no further obligations in respect of the Exchangeable Note.

11. Extraordinary Event Payment Feature

If "Extraordinary Event Payment Feature" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, upon the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event, the Issuer shall, by providing notice of the occurrence of such Extraordinary Event in accordance with Exchangeable Note Condition 21 (Notices within five Business Days of the Relevant Announcement Date (or such lesser notice as may be required to comply with the Change in Law) which notice shall be irrevocable:

- (a) pay on the Extraordinary Event Amount Payment Date, in respect of each Specified Denomination of the Exchangeable Notes an amount in cash equal to the Extraordinary Event Amount;

- (b) notwithstanding Condition 10.1 (Final Redemption), pay on the Final Maturity Date in respect of each Specified Denomination of the Exchangeable Notes an amount in cash equal to the principal amount of the Exchangeable Notes (and, for the avoidance of doubt, no Noteholder will be entitled to any Cash Amount); and
- (c) continue to pay interest (if any) on the Exchangeable Notes on each Interest Payment Date up to (and including) the Final Maturity Date.

12. Payments

12.1 Principal

Payments of principal shall be made by cheque drawn in the currency in which the payment is due drawn on, or, upon application by a holder of a Registered Note to the Specified Office of the Fiscal Agent not later than the 15th day before the due date for any such payment, by transfer to an account denominated in that currency (or, if that currency is euro, any other account to which euro may be credited or transferred) and maintained by the payee with, a bank in the Principal Financial Centre of that currency (in the case of a Sterling cheque, a town clearing branch of a bank in the City of London) and (in the case of redemption) upon surrender (or, in the case of part payment only, endorsement) of the relevant Individual Note Certificates at the Specified Office of any Paying Agent.

12.2 Interest

Payments of interest shall be made by cheque drawn in the currency in which the payment is due drawn on, or, upon application by a holder of a Registered Note to the Specified Office of the Fiscal Agent not later than the 15th day before the due date for any such payment, by transfer to an account denominated in that currency (or, if that currency is euro, any other account to which euro may be credited or transferred) and maintained by the payee with, a bank in the Principal Financial Centre of that currency (in the case of a Sterling cheque, a town clearing branch of a bank in the City of London) and (in the case of interest payable on redemption) upon surrender (or, in the case of part payment only, endorsement) of the relevant Individual Note Certificates at the Specified Office of any Paying Agent.

12.3 Payments Subject to Fiscal Laws

All payments in respect of the Registered Notes are subject in all cases to (i) any applicable fiscal or other laws and regulations, but without prejudice to the provisions of Exchangeable Note Condition 13 (Taxation); and (ii) any withholding or deduction required pursuant to an agreement described in section 1471(b) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code") or otherwise imposed pursuant to sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, any regulations or agreements thereunder, any administrative guidance with respect thereto, any official interpretations thereof, or any law, regulations or administrative guidance implementing an intergovernmental approach thereto (in each case without prejudice to the provisions of Exchangeable Note Condition 13 (Taxation)). No commissions or expenses shall be charged to the Noteholders in respect of such payments.

12.4 Payments on Payment Business Days

Where payment is to be made by transfer to an account, payment instructions (for value the due date, or, if the due date is not a Payment Business Day, for value the next succeeding Payment Business Day) will be initiated and, where payment is to be made by cheque, the cheque will be mailed (i) (in the case of payments of principal and interest payable on redemption) on the later of the due date for payment and the day on which the relevant Individual Note Certificate is surrendered (or, in the case of part payment only, endorsed) at the Specified Office of a Paying Agent and (ii) (in the case of payments of interest payable other than on redemption) on the due date for payment. A holder of a Registered Note shall not be entitled to any interest or other payment in respect of any delay in payment resulting from (A) the due date for a payment not being a Payment Business Day or (B) a cheque mailed in accordance with this Exchangeable Note Condition 12 (Payments) arriving after the due date for payment or being lost in the mail.

12.5 Partial payments

If a Paying Agent makes a partial payment in respect of any Registered Note, the Issuer shall procure that the amount and date of such payment are noted on the Register and, in the case of partial payment upon presentation of an Individual Note Certificate, that a statement indicating the amount and the date of such payment is endorsed on the relevant Individual Note Certificate.

- 12.6 Record date: Each payment in respect of a Registered Note will be made to the person shown as the holder in the Register at the close of business in the place of the Registrar's Specified Office on such number of days before the due date for such payment as is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement (the "Record Date"). Where payment in respect of a Registered Note is to be made by cheque, the cheque will be mailed to the address shown as the address of the holder in the Register at the close of business on the relevant Record Date.

12.7 Unavailability of Currency

If the Specified Currency is not available to the Issuer for making payments of principal of, and premium, interest and/or additional amounts, if any, on any Registered Note (whether due to the imposition of exchange controls or other circumstances beyond the control of the Issuer, or if the Specified Currency is no longer used by the government of the country issuing that currency or by public institutions within the international banking community for the settlement of transactions) (in which case an "Unavailability of Currency Event" shall be deemed to have occurred in respect of such Exchangeable Notes), the Issuer may satisfy its obligations to Noteholders by making payments on the date of payment in U.S. Dollars on the basis of the prevailing exchange rate on the date of the payment or of the most recent practicable date, such rate being based on the highest bid quotation in The City of New York received by the Exchange Rate Agent at approximately 11:00 a.m., New York City time, on the second Business Day preceding the applicable payment date from three recognised foreign exchange dealers for the purchase by the quoting dealer:

- (a) of the Specified Currency for U.S. Dollars for settlement on the payment date;
- (b) in the aggregate amount of the Specified Currency payable to those holders or beneficial owners of Exchangeable Notes; and
- (c) at which the applicable dealer commits to execute a contract.

If those bid quotations are not available, the Exchange Rate Agent will determine the Market Exchange Rate at its reasonable discretion. All determinations by the Exchange Rate Agent will, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive for all purposes and binding on the Issuer, the Guarantor and the Noteholders. The Exchange Rate Agent will be Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc (the "Exchange Rate Agent"), unless otherwise noted in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If the Exchange Rate Agent is not an affiliate of Morgan Stanley, it may be one of the dealers providing quotations.

For the avoidance of doubt, any payment made in U.S. Dollars on the basis of the prevailing exchange rate where the required payment is in an unavailable Specified Currency will not constitute an Event of Default.

The foregoing provisions do not apply if a Specified Currency is unavailable because it has been replaced by the euro. If the euro has been substituted for a Specified Currency, the Issuer may (or will, if required by applicable law) without the consent of the holders of the affected Exchangeable Notes, pay the principal of, premium, if any, or interest, if any, on any Exchangeable Note denominated in the Specified Currency in euro instead of the Specified Currency, in conformity with legally applicable measures taken pursuant to, or by virtue of, the Treaty. Any payment made in U.S. Dollars or in euro as described above where the required payment is in an unavailable Specified Currency will not constitute an Event of Default.

13. Taxation

- 13.1 Additional Amounts: If (and only if) specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in respect of a Series of Exchangeable Notes, the Issuer or Guarantor, if applicable, will, subject to certain exceptions and limitations set forth below, pay additional amounts (the "Additional Amounts") to any Noteholder who is a U.S. Alien as may be necessary in order that every net payment of the principal of and interest on the Exchangeable Note after withholding for or on account of any tax, assessment or governmental charge imposed upon or as a result of that payment by the United States or any political subdivision or taxing authority thereof or therein, will not be less than the amount provided for in the Exchangeable Note to be then due and payable under the Exchangeable Notes. For the avoidance of doubt, if not so provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement, Additional Amounts as provided in this Exchangeable Note Condition 13.1 (Additional Amounts) shall not be payable.

The Issuer or Guarantor, if applicable, will not, however, be required to make any payment of Additional Amounts to any Noteholder for or on account of:

- (a) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge that would not have been so imposed but for:
 - (i) the existence of any present or former connection between the holder or beneficial owner, or between a fiduciary, settlor, beneficiary, member or shareholder of the holder or beneficial owner, if the holder or beneficial owner is an estate, a trust, a partnership or a corporation, and the United States and its possessions, including, without limitation, the holder or beneficial owner, or such fiduciary, settlor, beneficiary, member or shareholder, being or having been a citizen or resident of the United States or being or having been engaged in the conduct of a trade or business or present in the United States or having, or having had, a permanent establishment in the United States; or
 - (ii) the presentation by the Exchangeable Noteholder for payment on a date more than 15 days after the date on which payment became due and payable or the date on which payment thereof is duly provided for, whichever occurs later;
- (b) any estate, inheritance, gift, sales, transfer, capital gains, corporation, income or personal property tax or any similar tax, assessment or governmental charge;
- (c) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed by reason of the holder's or beneficial owner's past or present status as a "personal holding company", "controlled foreign corporation" or "passive foreign investment company" (in either case for U.S. federal income tax purposes) with respect to the United States or as a corporation that accumulates earnings to avoid U.S. federal income tax or as a private foundation or other tax exempt organisation;
- (d) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge that is payable otherwise than by withholding from payments on or in respect of any Exchangeable Note;
- (e) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge that would not have been imposed but for the failure to comply with certification, information or other reporting requirements concerning the nationality, residence or identity of the holder or beneficial owner of that Exchangeable Note, if compliance is required by statute or by regulation of the United States or of any political subdivision or taxing authority thereof or therein as a precondition to relief or exemption from the tax, assessment or other governmental charge;
- (f) any withholding tax imposed under sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code or any agreement with the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") pursuant to these Code sections, any applicable U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder or published administrative guidance implementing such sections and any analogous provisions of non-U.S. laws (including withholding resulting from any inter-governmental agreement or an individual agreement with a taxing authority in connection with such sections of the Code, regulations, guidance or laws);
- (g) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed by reason of Section 871(m) of the Code, and any applicable U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder or published administrative guidance implementing such section;
- (h) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed by reason of the holder's or beneficial owner's past or present status as the actual or constructive owner of 10 per cent. or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote of Morgan Stanley or as a direct or indirect subsidiary of Morgan Stanley;
- (i) any tax, assessment or other governmental charge imposed by reason of the holder of any Exchangeable Note or beneficial owner not qualifying for the portfolio interest exemption or for an exemption with respect to coupon payments under the "other income" provision of a Qualifying Treaty; or
- (j) any combination of the items listed above.

In addition, the Issuer or Guarantor, if applicable, will not be required to make any payment of Additional Amounts with respect to any Exchangeable Note presented for payment by or on behalf of a holder or beneficial owner who would have been able to avoid such withholding or deduction by presenting the relevant Exchangeable Note to another paying agent in a Member State of the European Union.

Nor will Additional Amounts be paid with respect to any payment on an Exchangeable Note to a U.S. Alien who is a fiduciary or partnership or other than the sole beneficial owner of that payment to the extent that payment would be required by the laws of the United States (or any political subdivision thereof) to be included in the income, for tax purposes, of a beneficiary or settlor with respect to the fiduciary or a member of that partnership or a beneficial owner who would not have been entitled to the Additional Amounts had that beneficiary, settlor, member or beneficial owner been the Noteholder.

The term "U.S. Alien" means any person who, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, is a foreign corporation, a non-resident alien individual, a non-resident alien fiduciary of a foreign estate or trust, or a foreign partnership one or more of the members of which is a foreign corporation, a non-resident alien individual or a non-resident alien fiduciary of a foreign estate or trust.

13.2 Withholding Taxes

Except as otherwise provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement, all payments of principal and interest by MSFL or the Guarantor shall be made free and clear of, and without withholding or deduction for, any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatsoever nature imposed, levied, collected withheld or assessed by any jurisdiction, including but not limited to the United Kingdom, The Netherlands, Jersey, Germany, or the United States of America, in each case, including any political subdivision or any authority thereof or therein having power to tax, unless such withholding or deduction is required by law. None of MSFL or the Guarantor shall be required to make any additional payments on account of any such withholding or deductions, except as provided for in Exchangeable Note Condition 13.1 (Additional Amounts) above.

13.3 Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax

If "Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be applicable to any Series of Exchangeable Notes, then upon the occurrence of an Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax, the Issuer may (a) in its reasonable discretion, with immediate effect amend the Exchangeable Note Conditions by adjusting downward any amount payable and/or any other value or term of the Exchangeable Note Conditions to account for the economic impact of the Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax on the Issuer and its Affiliates in relation to the Exchangeable Notes, and (b) to the extent that at any time thereafter the Issuer determines (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) that it (including its Affiliates) has incurred additional loss as a result of the Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax that has not been accounted for through the adjustment made pursuant to sub-paragraph (a) (such amount, "Additional Increased Tax"), it may reduce the amount otherwise payable on the Exchangeable Notes on the next payment date (and any payment date thereafter) by an amount up to the Additional Increased Tax amount. Any such adjustments shall be notified to Noteholders as soon as reasonably practicable. If an event or circumstance which would otherwise constitute a Change in Law or Increased Cost of Hedging (where applicable) also constitutes an Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax, it will be treated as an Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax.

14. Events of Default

14.1 If any of the following events (each, an "Event of Default") occurs and is continuing:

- (a) Non-payment: failure to pay any amount of principal, interest or Cash Amount or any other amount in respect of the Exchangeable Notes within thirty days of the due date for payment thereof or failure to pay any amount of interest in respect of the Exchangeable Notes within thirty days of the due date for payment thereof; or
- (b) Insolvency, etc.: the Issuer becomes insolvent or is unable to pay its debts as they fall due;
 - (ii) an administrator or liquidator of the Issuer or the whole or a substantial part of the undertaking, assets and revenues of the Issuer is appointed (otherwise than for the purposes of or pursuant to an amalgamation, reorganisation or restructuring whilst solvent);

- (iii) the Issuer takes any action for a composition with or for the benefit of its creditors generally; or
- (iv) an order is made or an effective resolution is passed for the winding up, liquidation or dissolution of the Issuer (otherwise than for the purposes of or pursuant to an amalgamation, reorganisation or restructuring whilst solvent), and such order or effective resolution has remained in force and has not been rescinded, revoked or set aside for sixty days after the date on which such order is made or effective resolution is passed,

then Noteholders of not less than 25 per cent. in aggregate principal amount of the Exchangeable Notes may, by written notice addressed to the Issuer and delivered to the Issuer or to the Specified Office of the Fiscal Agent, declare the Exchangeable Notes to be immediately due and payable, whereupon they shall become so due and payable at the Replacement Amount (as defined below) of such Exchangeable Note (or in accordance with any other provisions specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement), together with any accrued but unpaid interest (if any) to the date of payment, without further action or formality.

For the purpose of this Exchangeable Note Condition 14 (Events of Default), "Replacement Amount" means an amount determined by the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, as at such day as is selected by the Calculation Agent in its sole and absolute discretion (provided that such day is not more than 15 days before the date fixed for redemption of the Exchangeable Notes), to be the amount that a Qualified Financial Institution would charge either to assume all of the Issuer's payment and other obligations with respect to such Exchangeable Notes as if no such Event of Default had occurred or to undertake obligations that would have the effect of preserving the economic equivalent of any payment by the Issuer to the Noteholder with respect to the Exchangeable Notes PROVIDED THAT if the Calculation Agent has not determined a Replacement Amount by the date falling 30 days after the date fixed for redemption, holders of not less than 25 per cent. in aggregate principal amount of the Exchangeable Notes may (at the expense of the Issuer) appoint an independent adviser with appropriate expertise (an "Independent Adviser"), acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, to calculate the Replacement Amount as aforesaid.

Notice of any such declaration shall be given to the Noteholders promptly (in any event not more than 10 Business Days after such declaration is made).

Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorise any Noteholder to exercise any remedy against the Issuer or the Guarantor solely as a result of, or because it is related directly or indirectly to, the insolvency of the Guarantor or the commencement of any proceedings relative to the Guarantor under Title 11 of the United States Code, or the appointment of a receiver for the Guarantor under Title II of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010 or the commencement of any other applicable federal or state bankruptcy, insolvency, resolution or other similar law, or solely as a result of, or because it is related directly or indirectly to, a receiver, assignee or trustee in bankruptcy or reorganization, liquidator, sequestrator or similar official having been appointed for or having taken possession of the Guarantor or its property, or solely as a result of, or because it is related directly or indirectly to, the institution of any other comparable judicial or regulatory proceedings relative to the Guarantor, or to the creditors or property of the Guarantor. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Noteholders are authorised to exercise any remedy against the Issuer as a result of an Event of Default described in Exchangeable Note Condition 14.1(b) (Insolvency, etc.).

14.2 Annulment of Acceleration and Waiver of Defaults

In some circumstances, if any or all Events of Default, other than the non-payment of the principal or the Cash Amount of the Exchangeable Notes of a Series that has become due as a result of an acceleration, have been cured, waived or otherwise remedied, then the holders of a majority in principal amount of such Series of Notes (voting as one class) may annul past declarations of acceleration of or waive past defaults of the Exchangeable Notes. However, any continuing default in payment of principal of or any premium or Cash Amount or interest on those Exchangeable Notes may not be waived.

15. Illegality

- 15.1 If this Exchangeable Note Condition 15 (Illegality) is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be applicable to a Series of Exchangeable Notes, the Issuer shall have the right to redeem the Exchangeable Notes early, if it shall have determined, that its performance thereunder, or, if applicable, the Guarantor's performance of its obligation under the Guarantee, shall have become or will be unlawful in whole or in part as a result of compliance in good faith by the Issuer, or, if applicable, the Guarantor, with any applicable present or future law, rule, regulation, judgment, order or directive of any governmental, administrative, legislative or judicial authority or power ("applicable law") (an "Illegality Event"); or
- 15.2 If this Exchangeable Note Condition 15 (Illegality) is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be applicable to a Series of Exchangeable Notes and, subject to the conditions set out above, the Issuer determines that the Exchangeable Notes shall be redeemed early in accordance with this Exchangeable Note Condition 15 (Illegality), the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the Noteholders informing them that either an Illegality Event has occurred, as a result of which the Exchangeable Notes shall be redeemed early on the date specified for redemption in such notice at their principal amount, together with any accrued but unpaid interest (if any) to the date of payment.
- 15.3 The Issuer shall also, as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances, notify the Fiscal Agent and the Calculation Agent of the occurrence of an Illegality Event.

16. Prescription

The Exchangeable Notes will become void unless presented for payment within a period of ten years (in the case of principal) and five years (in the case of interest) after the Relevant Date (as defined in Exchangeable Note Condition 2.1 (Definitions)) therefor.

Claims in respect of any other amounts payable in respect of the Exchangeable Notes shall be prescribed and become void unless made within ten years following the Relevant Date.

17. Replacement of Notes

If any Exchangeable Note or Individual Note Certificate is lost, stolen, mutilated, defaced or destroyed, it may be replaced at the Specified Office of the Registrar, during normal business hours (and, if the Exchangeable Notes are then admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation by any listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system which requires the appointment of a Paying Agent, Transfer Agent or Exchange Agent in any particular place, the Paying Agent, Transfer Agent or Exchange Agent having its Specified Office in the place required by such listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system), subject to all applicable laws and stock exchange requirements, upon payment by the claimant of the expenses incurred in connection with such replacement and on such terms as to evidence, security, indemnity and otherwise as the Issuer may reasonably require. Mutilated or defaced Notes or Individual Note Certificates must be surrendered before replacements will be issued.

18. Agents

- 18.1 In acting under the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement and in connection with the Exchangeable Notes, the Agents act solely as agents of the Issuer and do not assume any obligations towards or relationship of agency or trust for or with any of the Noteholders. All calculation and determination functions required of the relevant Agent may be delegated to such persons as the relevant Agent may decide and all notifications, opinions, determinations, certificates, calculations, quotations and decisions given, expressed, made or obtained for the purposes of the Exchangeable Notes by the Agents or the Issuer shall (in the absence of manifest error or wilful misconduct) be binding on the Issuer and the Noteholders and (subject as aforesaid) no liability to the Noteholders (or any of them) shall attach to the Agents or the Issuer in connection with the exercise or non-exercise by any of them of their powers, duties and discretions for such purposes. The Determination Agent and/or the Calculation Agent shall act as an expert and not as an agent for the Issuer or the Noteholders. All determinations, considerations and decisions made by the Determination Agent and/or the Calculation Agent shall, in the absence of manifest error, wilful default or bad faith, be final and conclusive and the Determination Agent and/or the Calculation Agent shall have no liability in relation to such determinations except in the case of its wilful default or bad faith.

- 18.2 The initial Agents and their initial Specified Office are listed below on the inside back cover of this Offering Circular. The initial Calculation Agent is the Fiscal Agent. The Issuer reserves the right at any time to vary or terminate the appointment of any Agent and to appoint a successor Fiscal Agent or Registrar or Calculation Agent or Exchange Agent and additional or successor paying agents; provided, however, that:
- (a) there shall at all times be a Fiscal Agent appointed in respect of the Notes;
 - (b) if a Calculation Agent is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Issuer shall at all times maintain a Calculation Agent;
 - (c) if and for so long as the Exchangeable Notes are admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation by any listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system which requires the appointment of a Paying Agent and/or a Transfer Agent and/or Exchange Agent in any particular place, the Issuer shall maintain a Paying Agent and/or a Transfer Agent and/or Exchange Agent having its Specified Office in the place required by such listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system; and
- 18.3 Notice of any change in any of the Paying Agents or Exchange Agent or in their Specified Offices shall promptly and in any event not more than 15 Business Days after such change has been confirmed, be given to the Noteholders in accordance with Exchangeable Note Condition 21 (Notices).

19. Meetings of Noteholders and Modification

19.1 Meetings of Noteholders

The Issue and Paying Agency Agreement contains provisions for convening meetings of Noteholders to consider matters relating to the Exchangeable Notes, including the sanctioning by Extraordinary Resolution of a modification of any provision of these Exchangeable Note Conditions and, in the case of the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement, the meaning of each of Noteholder and holder for such purposes. Such a meeting may be convened by the Issuer and shall be convened by it upon the request in writing of Noteholders holding not less than one tenth of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Exchangeable Notes. The quorum at any meeting convened to vote on an Extraordinary Resolution will be two or more Persons holding or representing one more than half of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Exchangeable Notes or, at any adjourned meeting, two or more Persons being or representing Noteholders whatever the principal amount of the Exchangeable Notes held or represented, provided, however, that in respect of Reserved Matters sanctioned by an Extraordinary Resolution passed at a meeting of Noteholders, two or more Persons holding or representing not less than three quarters or, at any adjourned meeting, one quarter of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Exchangeable Notes form a quorum.

The Issue and Paying Agency Agreement provides that (i) a resolution passed at a meeting duly convened and held in accordance with the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement by a majority consisting of not less than three quarters of the votes cast on such resolution, (ii) a resolution in writing signed by or on behalf of all holders of the Exchangeable Notes for the time being outstanding who are entitled to receive notice of a meeting in accordance with the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement or (iii) consent given by way of electronic consents through the Relevant Clearing System(s) (in a form satisfactory to the Registrar) by or on behalf of the holders of not less than three quarters in principal amount of the Exchangeable Notes for the time being outstanding, shall, in each case, be effective as an Extraordinary Resolution of the Noteholders. An Extraordinary Resolution passed by the Noteholders will be binding on all the Noteholders, whether or not they are present at any meeting, and whether or not they voted on the resolution.

19.2 Modification

- (a) The Exchangeable Notes, these Exchangeable Note Conditions, the Guarantee and the MSFL Deed of Covenant may be amended without the consent of the Noteholders where, in the reasonable opinion of the Issuer:
 - (i) the amendment is to correct a manifest error or to effect a modification which is of a formal, minor or technical nature;
 - (ii) the amendment is to cure any ambiguity or is to correct or supplement any defective provisions;

- (iii) the amendment is to correct an error or omission such that, in the absence of such correction, the relevant terms proposed to be corrected would not otherwise represent the intended terms on which the relevant Exchangeable Notes were sold and have since traded; or
 - (iv) the amendment is not materially prejudicial to the interest of the Noteholders.
- (b) The parties to the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement may agree to modify any provision thereof, but the Issuer shall not agree, without the consent of the Noteholders, to any such modification unless it is of a type contemplated in Exchangeable Note Condition 19.2(a) above.

19.3 Interests of Noteholders

In connection with the Exchangeable Note Conditions, the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent shall have regard to the interests of the Noteholders as a class. In particular, but without limitation, the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent shall not have regard to the consequences for individual Noteholders resulting from such individual Noteholders being for any purpose domiciled or resident in, or otherwise connected with, or subject to the jurisdiction of, any particular territory.

19.4 Severance

Should any of the provisions contained in these Exchangeable Note Conditions be or become invalid, the validity of the remaining provisions shall not be affected in any way.

20. Further Issues

The Issuer may from time to time, without the consent of the Noteholders, create and issue further notes having the same terms and conditions as the Notes in all respects (or in all respects except for the first payment of interest) so as to form a single series with the Exchangeable Notes.

21. Notices

21.1 Registered Notes

Notices to holders of Registered Notes in definitive form shall be sent to them by first class mail (or its equivalent) or (if posted to an overseas address) by airmail at their respective addresses on the Register. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given on the fourth day after the date of mailing. Notices to holders of Registered Notes in global form shall be sent to them by delivery of the relevant notice to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or any other Relevant Clearing System for communication by them to the holders of the Exchangeable Notes. In addition, subject as provided in Condition 21.2 and Condition 21.3 below (in each case as applicable), any such notices shall be published in a manner which complies with the rules of any stock exchange or other relevant authority on which the Registered Notes are for the time being listed or by which they have been admitted to trading including publication on the website of the relevant stock exchange or relevant authority if required by those rules.

21.2 Exchangeable Notes admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market

In relation to Exchangeable Notes admitted to the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market, notices to Noteholders will be published in accordance with the rules of Euronext Dublin.

21.3 Exchangeable Notes admitted to the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and trading on the Euro MTF market

In relation to Exchangeable Notes admitted to the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF market, notices will be valid if published in a daily newspaper of general circulation in Luxembourg and/or on the website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.luxse.com). Any such notice will be deemed to have been given on the date of the first publication or, where required to be published in more than one newspaper, on the date of the first publication in all required newspapers.

21.4 Notwithstanding any other provision in the Exchangeable Note Conditions, any failure by the Issuer, the Calculation Agent, the Determination Agent or any other party to provide Noteholders or any stock exchange on which the Exchangeable Notes are listed or admitted to trading with any notice due to be given to Noteholders or published on any such stock exchange in accordance with the Exchangeable Note Conditions shall not of itself affect the validity of the determination, adjustment, event or any other occurrence to which such notice relates.

21.5 If an adjustment is made, or any other action is taken, by the Determination Agent and/or the Calculation Agent under Exchangeable Note Condition 7 (Adjustment of Exchange Price and the Shares), the Determination Agent and/or the Calculation Agent shall notify the Issuer and the Fiscal Agent of such adjustment. The Fiscal Agent shall, on behalf of and on instruction of the Issuer, provide notice (which notice shall, for the avoidance of doubt, be in the form provided to it by or on behalf of the Issuer) to the Noteholders of the relevant adjustment within 15 Business Days of receipt of such notification from the Determination Agent and/or the Calculation Agent.

22. Losses

In no event shall the Issuer or the Agents have any liability for indirect, incidental, consequential or other damages (whether or not it may have been advised of the possibility of such damages) other than interest until the date of payment on sums not paid when due in respect of any Exchangeable Notes or assets not delivered when due. Noteholders are entitled to damages only and are not entitled to the remedy of specific performance in respect of any Exchangeable Note.

23. Currency Indemnity

23.1 If any sum due from the Issuer in respect of the Exchangeable Notes or any order or judgment given or made in relation thereto has to be converted from the currency (the "first currency") in which the same is payable under these Exchangeable Note Conditions or such order or judgment into another currency (the "second currency") for the purpose of (a) making or filing a claim or proof against the Issuer, (b) obtaining an order or judgment in any court or other tribunal or (c) enforcing any order or judgment given or made in relation to the Exchangeable Notes, the Issuer shall indemnify each Noteholder, on the written demand of such Noteholder addressed to the Issuer and delivered to the Issuer or to the Specified Office of the Fiscal Agent, against any loss suffered as a result of any discrepancy between (i) the rate of exchange used for such purpose to convert the sum in question from the first currency into the second currency and (ii) the rate or rates of exchange at which such Noteholder may in the ordinary course of business purchase the first currency with the second currency upon receipt of a sum paid to it in satisfaction, in whole or in part, of any such order, judgment, claim or proof.

23.2 This indemnity constitutes a separate and independent obligation of the Issuer and shall give rise to a separate and independent cause of action.

24. Rounding

For the purposes of any calculations referred to in these Exchangeable Note Conditions (unless otherwise specified in these Exchangeable Note Conditions or the applicable Pricing Supplement), (a) all percentages resulting from such calculations will be rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred thousandth of a percentage point (with 0.000005 per cent. rounded up to 0.00001 per cent.), (b) all U.S. Dollar amounts used in or resulting from such calculations will be rounded to the nearest cent (with one half cent rounded upward), (c) all Japanese Yen amounts used in or resulting from such calculations will be rounded downward to the next lower whole Japanese Yen amount and (d) all amounts denominated in any other currency used in or resulting from such calculations will be rounded to the nearest two decimal places in such currency (with 0.005 rounded up to 0.01).

25. Redenomination, Renominalisation and Reconventioning

25.1 Application

This Exchangeable Note Condition 25 (Redenomination, Renominalisation and Reconventioning) is applicable to the Exchangeable Notes only if it is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

25.2 Notice of redenomination

If the country of the Specified Currency becomes or, announces its intention to become, a Participating Member State, the Issuer may, without the consent of the Noteholders, on giving at least 15 Business Days' prior notice to the Noteholders and the Paying Agents, designate a date (the "Redenomination Date"), being an Interest Payment Date under the Exchangeable Notes falling on or after the date on which such country becomes a Participating Member State.

25.3 Redenomination

Notwithstanding the other provisions of these Exchangeable Note Conditions, with effect from the Redenomination Date, the Exchangeable Notes shall be deemed to be redenominated into euro in the denomination of euro 0.01 with a principal amount for each Exchangeable Note equal to the principal amount of that Exchangeable Note in the Specified Currency, converted into euro at the rate for conversion of such currency into euro established by the Council of the European Union pursuant to the Treaty (including compliance with rules relating to rounding in accordance with European Union regulations); provided, however, that, if the Issuer determines, with the agreement of the Fiscal Agent that the then market practice in respect of the redenomination into euro 0.01 of internationally offered securities is different from that specified above, such provisions shall be deemed to be amended so as to comply with such market practice and the Issuer shall promptly, and in any event within not more than 15 Business Days of the Issuer making such determination, notify the Noteholders, each listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system (if any) by which the Exchangeable Notes have been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation and the Paying Agents of such deemed amendments;

25.4 Interest

Following redenomination of the Exchangeable Notes pursuant to this Exchangeable Note Condition 25 (Redenomination, Renominalisation and Reconventioning), where Exchangeable Notes have been issued in definitive form, the amount of interest due in respect of such Exchangeable Notes will be calculated by reference to the aggregate principal amount of the Exchangeable Notes presented for payment by the relevant holder.

26. Substitution

26.1 Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities

Subject to the conditions set out in this Exchangeable Note Condition 26 (Substitution), but without the consent of Noteholders, the Issuer may, substitute Morgan Stanley or a subsidiary of Morgan Stanley in place of MSFL as principal debtor under the Exchangeable Notes, provided that, unless Morgan Stanley is the substitute issuer, any Exchangeable Notes in respect of which such a substitution is effected will be fully, unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed pursuant to a guarantee of Morgan Stanley as to the payment of Cash Amount, principal of, premium, interest and supplemental amounts, if any, and any Additional Amounts on those Exchangeable Notes when and as the same will become due and payable, whether at maturity or otherwise, and provided further that under the terms of the guarantee, Noteholders will not be required to exercise their remedies against the substitute prior to proceeding directly against Morgan Stanley (as guarantor);

26.2 Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities

If this Exchangeable Note Condition 26.2 (Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be applicable to a Series of Exchangeable Notes, subject to the conditions set out in this Exchangeable Note Condition 26 (Substitution), including the rights of Noteholders under Exchangeable Note Condition 26.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), but without the consent of Noteholders, the Issuer or the Guarantor may, in the event that the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be) has determined that any of the following events has occurred in respect of the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be): an insolvency, receivership or equivalent event under the jurisdiction of the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be); a divestment mandated for regulatory reasons; any action being required to satisfy any regulatory licensing requirements; or a change of control (each a "Substitution Event"), substitute for itself any entity which is not a Morgan Stanley Group entity, provided that such entity has a long term credit rating from at least one rating agency of standard application on the international capital markets (including but not limited to S&P, Moody's and Fitch) which is at least as high as the long term credit rating of the Issuer or Guarantor (as the case may be) being substituted immediately prior to the occurrence of the relevant Substitution Event. Notwithstanding the foregoing, for any Series of Exchangeable Notes in respect of which Morgan Stanley is the Issuer, Morgan Stanley may not be substituted as Issuer with any entity which is not a Morgan Stanley Group entity within one year of the Issue Date of such Exchangeable Notes.

26.3 Conditions to substitution

Substitution of an Issuer or Guarantor for another entity (the "Substitute") as provided in Exchangeable Note Condition 26.1 (Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities) or 26.2 (Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) above (as applicable) are subject to the following conditions:

- (a) the Substitute becoming party to the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement with any appropriate consequential amendments, as if it had been an original party to it in place of the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be);
- (b) the Substitute is validly existing under the laws under which it is established or incorporated, has capacity to assume all rights, obligations and liabilities under the Exchangeable Notes, receipts, coupons and Guarantee, as applicable, and has obtained all necessary corporate authorisations to assume all such rights, obligations and liabilities under the Exchangeable Notes or Guarantee (as applicable);
- (c) the Substitute has obtained all necessary governmental or regulatory approvals and consents for the performance by it of its obligations in connection with the Exchangeable Notes or Guarantee (as applicable) and that all such approvals and consents are in full force and effect and that the Substitute and the Exchangeable Notes comply with all applicable requirements of the Securities Act;
- (d) in the case of substitution of an Issuer or Guarantor pursuant to Exchangeable Note Condition 26.1 (Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities) above only:
 - (i) the Substitute and the Issuer having obtained (a) legal opinions from independent legal advisors of recognised standing in the country of incorporation of the Substitute and in England that the obligations of the Substitute, in the case of a substitution of an Issuer, under the Exchangeable Notes and the MSFL Deed of Covenant, or, in New York in the case of a substitution of the Guarantor under the Deed of Guarantee, are legal, valid and binding obligations of the Substitute and (b) a legal opinion from an independent legal advisor in New York, of recognised standing, that the Deed of Guarantee will apply to the Substitute mutatis mutandis as it applies to the Issuer prior to the substitution and will constitute legal, valid and binding obligations of the Guarantor, in respect of the Substitute, provided that no opinion as referred to in this paragraph (d) shall be required where the Substitute is the Guarantor;
 - (ii) if the relevant Exchangeable Notes are rated at the relevant time, the Substitute has obtained, prior to the substitution date, acknowledgement from the relevant rating agencies that the substitution will not result in whole or in part in a withdrawal, downgrading, placement in creditwatch or negative outlook of the Exchangeable Notes.
- (e) the Fiscal Agent has confirmed to the Issuer or Guarantor (as the case may be) that it has completed its relevant "know your customer" requirements on the proposed Substitute;
- (f) such substitution being permitted by the rules of any stock exchange on which the Exchangeable Notes are listed and each such stock exchange confirming that, following the proposed substitution of the Substitute, the Exchangeable Notes will continue to be listed on such stock exchange;
- (g) no payment in respect of the Exchangeable Notes, receipts and coupons is overdue at the relevant time;
- (h) at the time of any such substitution, the Substitute is in a position to fulfil all payment obligations arising from or in connection with the Exchangeable Notes in freely convertible and transferable lawful money without the necessity of any taxes or duties to be withheld at source, and to transfer all amounts which are required therefor to the Fiscal Agent without any restrictions;

- (i) if appropriate, the Substitute appointing a process agent as its agent in England to receive service of process on its behalf in relation to any legal action or proceedings arising out of or in connection with the Exchangeable Notes; and
- (j) the Exchangeable Notes shall continue to benefit from the Guarantee following substitution of the Issuer, pursuant to Exchangeable Note Condition 26.1 (Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities) and the terms of the Guarantee;

For the avoidance of doubt, nothing will preclude the substitution of the Issuer with the Guarantor.

26.4 Reference in the Exchangeable Note Conditions to the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be)

In the event of a substitution pursuant to this Exchangeable Note Condition 26 (Substitution), any reference in the Exchangeable Note Conditions to the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be) shall be construed as a reference to the entity substituted.

26.5 Notification to Noteholders of substitutions with Morgan Stanley Group entities

The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable and in any event not more than 15 Business Days after the date on which a substitution pursuant to Exchangeable Note Condition 26.1 (Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities) has taken place, notify Noteholders of such substitution in accordance with Exchangeable Note Condition 21 (Notices).

26.6 Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities

- (a) With respect to the right of substitution referred to in Exchangeable Note Condition 26.2, (Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) the Issuer shall provide 60 calendar days' notice of any substitution under such Exchangeable Note Condition to Noteholders in accordance with Exchangeable Note Condition 21 (Notices). Noteholders who object to the substitution will have the right to require the Issuer to redeem their Exchangeable Notes at a price determined in accordance with the provisions of this Exchangeable Note Condition 26.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), by providing notice of their intention to exercise such right in the manner set out in this Exchangeable Note Condition 26.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) (the "Right to Redemption").
- (b) The redemption of any Exchangeable Notes in respect of which the Right to Redemption has been exercised by Noteholders shall take place 10 Business Days prior to the relevant substitution becoming effective (the "Substitution Redemption Date"). The Issuer shall redeem any Exchangeable Notes in respect of which the Right to Redemption has been exercised at a price equal to (i) in the case of Exchangeable Notes the terms of which provide for the repayment in full of principal at maturity, the Replacement Value of such Notes or (ii) in every other case, the fair market value of such Exchangeable Notes on the day on which the relevant Right to Redemption Notice is deposited, in accordance with the provisions of this Exchangeable Note Condition 26.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, together with interest (if any) accrued to such date (to the extent that such interest is not otherwise taken into account in determining the fair market value of such Exchangeable Notes).

For the purpose of this Condition 26.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), "Replacement Value" means an amount determined by the Determination Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, as at the day on which the relevant Right to Redemption Notice is deposited in accordance with the provisions of this Condition 26.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) to be the amount that a Qualified Financial Institution would charge to assume all of the Issuer's payment and other obligations with respect to the Exchangeable Notes as if the relevant Substitution Event described in Condition 26.2 (Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) and the substitution described in this Condition 26 (Substitution) had not occurred or to undertake obligations that would have the effect of preserving the economic equivalent of any payment by the Issuer to the Noteholder with respect to the Exchangeable Notes.

- (c) In order to exercise the option contained in this Exchangeable Note Condition 26.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) the holder of an Exchangeable Note must, not less than 15 Business Days before the date on which the substitution is due to take place, deposit such Exchangeable Note (together with all unmatured coupons relating thereto) with the Registrar, and a duly completed Right to Redemption Notice in the form obtainable from any Paying Agent. The Paying Agent with which an Exchangeable Note is so deposited shall deliver a duly completed Right to Redemption Receipt to the depositing Noteholder. No Exchangeable Note, once deposited with a duly completed Right to Redemption Notice in accordance with this Exchangeable Note Condition 26.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), may be withdrawn; provided, however, that if, prior to the relevant Substitution Redemption Date, any such Exchangeable Note becomes due and payable or, upon due presentation of any such Note on the relevant Substitution Redemption Date, payment of the redemption moneys is improperly withheld or refused, the relevant Paying Agent shall mail notification thereof to the depositing Noteholder at such address as may have been given by such Noteholder in the relevant Right to Redemption Notice and shall hold such Exchangeable Note at its Specified Office for collection by the depositing Noteholder against surrender of the relevant Right to Redemption Receipt. For so long as any outstanding Exchangeable Note is held by a Paying Agent in accordance with this Exchangeable Note Condition 26.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), the depositor of such Exchangeable Note and not such Paying Agent shall be deemed to be the holder of such Exchangeable Note for all purposes.

- (d) Any payments made to Noteholders in accordance with this Exchangeable Note Condition 26.6 (Right to Redemption in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) shall be made in accordance with the provisions of Exchangeable Note Condition 12 (Payments).

26.7 Tax Consequences of substitution

If the Issuer substitutes an entity in place of the Issuer as principal debtor under the Exchangeable Notes, the tax consequences (including the withholding tax consequences) of holding the Exchangeable Notes may change. Except as provided in Exchangeable Note Condition 13.1 (Additional Amounts), if withholding is required on the Exchangeable Notes, no additional amounts will be required to be paid.

27. Representations and Acknowledgements by Noteholders

- 27.1 Each Noteholder shall be deemed to represent and acknowledge to the Issuer on acquiring any Exchangeable Notes that:
 - (a) neither the Issuer nor any Affiliate or any of their agents is acting as a fiduciary for it or provides investment, tax, accounting, legal or other advice in respect of the Exchangeable Notes and that such Noteholder and its advisors are not relying on any communication (written or oral and including, without limitation, opinions of third party advisors) of the Issuer or any Affiliate as (i) legal, regulatory, tax, business, investment, financial, accounting or other advice, (ii) a recommendation to invest in any Exchangeable Notes or (iii) an assurance or guarantee as to the expected results of an investment in the Exchangeable Notes (it being understood that information and explanations related to the terms and conditions of the Exchangeable Notes shall not be considered to be any such advice, recommendation, assurance or guarantee and should be independently confirmed by the recipient and its advisors prior to making any such investment);
 - (b) such Noteholder (i) has consulted with its own legal, regulatory, tax, business, investments, financial and accounting advisors to the extent that it has deemed necessary, and has made its own investment, hedging, and trading decisions based upon its own judgment and upon any advice from such advisors as it has deemed necessary and not upon any view expressed by the Issuer or any Affiliate or any of their agents and (ii) is acquiring the Exchangeable Notes with a full understanding of the terms, conditions and risks thereof and it is capable of and willing to assume those risks; and
 - (c) the Issuer and/or any Affiliates may have banking or other commercial relationships with issuers of any securities to which the Exchangeable Notes relate and may engage in proprietary trading in any securities, indices, futures contracts, commodities, fund interests or other property to which the Exchangeable Notes relate or options, futures, derivatives or other instruments relating thereto (including such trading as the Issuer and/or any Affiliate deem appropriate in their reasonable discretion to hedge the market risk on the Exchangeable Notes and other transactions between the Issuer and/or any Affiliates and any third parties), and that such trading (i) may affect the price or level thereof and consequently the amounts payable under the Exchangeable Notes and (ii) may be effected at any time, including on or near any Averaging Date (as applicable).

28. Governing Law and Jurisdiction

28.1 Governing Law

The Exchangeable Notes and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with them shall be governed by and construed in accordance with English law.

28.2 Jurisdiction

Each of MSFL and the Guarantor agrees for the benefit of the Noteholders that the courts of England shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine any suit, action or proceedings, and to settle any disputes, which may arise out of or in connection with the Exchangeable Notes (respectively, "Proceedings" and "Disputes") and, for such purposes, irrevocably submits to the jurisdiction of such courts.

28.3 Appropriate Forum

Each of MSFL and the Guarantor irrevocably waives any objection which it might now or hereafter have to the courts of England being nominated as the forum to hear and determine any Proceedings and to settle any Disputes, and agrees not to claim that any such court is not a convenient or appropriate forum.

28.4 Process Agent

Each of MSFL and the Guarantor agrees that the process by which any Proceedings in England are begun may be served on it by being delivered to (i) in the case of the Guarantor, Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc, 25 Cabot Square, Canary Wharf, London E14 4QA or, if different, its registered office for the time being and (ii) in the case of MSFL, Morgan Stanley (UK) Limited, 25 Cabot Square, Canary Wharf, London E14 4QA or, if different, its registered office for the time being or (iii) at any address of the Issuer in Great Britain at which process may be served on it in accordance with Part 34 of the UK Companies Act 2006. If such Person is not or ceases to be effectively appointed to accept service of process on behalf of the Issuer or the Guarantor, the Issuer or the Guarantor (as applicable) shall, on the written demand of any Noteholder addressed to the Issuer or the Guarantor (as applicable) and delivered to the Issuer, the Guarantor (as applicable) or to the Specified Office of the Fiscal Agent, appoint another Person in England to accept service of process on its behalf and, failing such appointment within 15 days, any Noteholder shall be entitled to appoint such a Person by written notice addressed to the Issuer and delivered to the Issuer or to the Specified Office of the Fiscal Agent. Nothing in this Exchangeable Note Condition shall affect the right of any Noteholder to serve process in any other manner permitted by law.

29. Rights of the Issuer, Determination Agent and the Calculation Agent are Cumulative

Each of the Issuer, the Determination Agent and the Calculation Agent may have rights exercisable under different provisions of these Exchangeable Note Conditions arising from the occurrence of the same event. In such circumstances, the rights of the Issuer or the Determination Agent or the Calculation Agent, as the case may be, shall be cumulative and the Issuer or the Determination Agent or the Calculation Agent shall be entitled to exercise its rights under whichever provision (or provisions) of these Exchangeable Note Conditions that may apply following the occurrence of the relevant event, as it may select in its discretion. The exercise by the Issuer or the Determination Agent or the Calculation Agent of a right under one provision shall not preclude the exercise by the Issuer or the Determination Agent or the Calculation Agent of a right under another provision.

30. Rights of Third Parties

No person shall have any right to enforce any term or condition of the Exchangeable Notes under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The net proceeds of each issue of Notes will be used by the relevant Issuer either (i) for general corporate purposes and/or, in connection with hedging its obligations under the Notes, or (ii) for any other particular identified use of proceeds, all as stated in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

In respect of each issue of Notes by MSBV, at least 95% of the proceeds will be invested (uitzetten) within the group of which it forms part. MSBV will not issue Sustainable Bonds under this Offering Circular.

MSFL intends to lend the net proceeds from its issuances of the Notes to Morgan Stanley. Morgan Stanley intends to use the proceeds from such loans (i) for general corporate purposes, or (ii) if the Notes constitute Sustainable Bonds, to finance or refinance, in whole or in part, Eligible Projects as described below.

If the Notes constitute Sustainable Bonds, an amount equal to the gross proceeds raised by way of Sustainable Bonds issued pursuant to the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework dated January 2025 (the "Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework") will be allocated to the financing or refinancing, in whole or in part, of new or existing green or social loans, investments and expenditures ("Eligible Projects"), that Morgan Stanley or any of its wholly owned subsidiaries, considers consistent with the eligibility criteria in the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework, and which together form the "Eligible Portfolio". Under this Offering Circular, Sustainable Bonds may only be issued by Morgan Stanley or by MSFL.

"Sustainable Bonds" include green bonds ("Green Bonds"), social bonds ("Social Bonds") and sustainability bonds ("Sustainability Bonds"), in accordance with the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework. Such Notes are not issued as European Green Bonds in accordance with Regulation 2023/2631 (the "EuGB Regulation").

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Notes are "Green Bonds", an amount equal to the gross proceeds raised will be allocated to green Eligible Projects ("Green Eligible Projects") within the Eligible Portfolio.

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Notes are "Social Bonds", an amount equal to the gross proceeds raised will be allocated to social Eligible Projects ("Social Eligible Projects") within the Eligible Portfolio.

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Notes are "Sustainability Bonds", an amount equal to the gross proceeds raised will be allocated to Green Eligible Projects and Social Eligible Projects within the Eligible Portfolio.

To qualify for the Eligible Portfolio, a Green Eligible Project must meet the eligibility criteria for at least one of the following project categories: Renewable Energy, Energy Storage, Green Buildings, Clean Transportation and/or Sustainable Water & Wastewater Management, all as further described in the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework and in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

To qualify for the Eligible Portfolio, a Social Eligible Project must meet the eligibility criteria for at least one of the following project categories: Affordable Housing and Access to Education, all as further described in the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework and the applicable Pricing Supplement.

In the case of insufficient Eligible Projects in the Eligible Portfolio, Morgan Stanley will hold the balance of the unallocated amount in cash, cash equivalents and/or other high quality liquid assets in a segregated account established for tracking purposes until the amount and proceeds therefrom can be allocated to the Eligible Portfolio.

The Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework further describes, in addition to the eligibility criteria, the management of proceeds, the reporting and the external reviews (second party opinion and external assurance) applicable for the relevant Sustainable Bonds.

On an annual basis until the outstanding Green, Social, and Sustainable Bonds have matured, Morgan Stanley will publicly disclose on its website at www.morganstanley.com or in its ESG report:

- The total amount of sustainable instruments outstanding pursuant to the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework;

- The reported amounts of the assets in the Eligible Portfolio determined in accordance with U.S. GAAP;
- The amount of unallocated proceeds, if any; and
- The breakdown of the Eligible Portfolio by Eligible Category.

The Issuer will apply processes for project evaluation and selection, management of proceeds and reporting which are aligned to the Green Bond Principles ("GBP") 2021, the Social Bond Principles ("SBP") 2023 and the Sustainability Bond Guidelines ("SBG") 2021 (collectively, the "Principles"), as administered by the International Capital Market Association. The Principles are voluntary process guidelines designed to encourage transparency and disclosure, and to promote integrity in the development of the green bonds, social bonds, and sustainability bonds markets by clarifying the approach for the issuance of these bonds. Alignment with these Principles means that the Issuer intends to follow the guidelines outlined in the four core components of the GBP, SBP, and SBG, namely: the use of proceeds, the process for project evaluation and selection, the management of proceeds, and reporting.

Morgan Stanley has appointed an independent second-party opinion provider to review the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework and attest to the alignment to the Principles. A second party opinion (the "Second Party Opinion") on the alignment of the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework to the appropriate standards, as well as the Morgan Stanley Sustainable Issuance Framework, is available on Morgan Stanley's website (<https://www.morganstanley.com/about-us/sustainability-reports-research>).

THE NOTES DESCRIBED HEREIN AND THE SECURITIES TO BE DELIVERED ON REDEMPTION OF THE NOTES (IF ANY) HAVE NOT BEEN AND WILL NOT BE REGISTERED UNDER THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE "SECURITIES ACT"), OR THE SECURITIES LAWS OF ANY STATE OR OTHER JURISDICTION OF THE UNITED STATES. THE ISSUER IS NOT REGISTERED AND WILL NOT REGISTER UNDER THE U.S. INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT OF 1940, AS AMENDED. TRADING IN THE NOTES HAS NOT BEEN APPROVED BY THE U.S. COMMODITY FUTURES TRADING COMMISSION UNDER THE U.S. COMMODITY EXCHANGE ACT OF 1936, AS AMENDED.

THE NOTES DESCRIBED HEREIN, ANY INTEREST THEREIN [, ANY GUARANTEE IN RESPECT THEREOF] AND THE SECURITIES TO BE DELIVERED ON REDEMPTION OF THE NOTES (IF ANY) MAY NOT BE OFFERED, SOLD, PLEDGED, ASSIGNED, DELIVERED OR OTHERWISE TRANSFERRED OR REDEEMED AT ANY TIME, DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY, WITHIN THE UNITED STATES OR TO, OR FOR THE ACCOUNT OR BENEFIT OF, U.S. PERSONS (AS DEFINED IN REGULATION S UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT). HEDGING TRANSACTIONS INVOLVING

ANY "EQUITY SECURITIES" OF "DOMESTIC ISSUERS" (AS SUCH TERMS ARE DEFINED IN THE SECURITIES ACT AND REGULATIONS THEREUNDER) MAY ONLY BE CONDUCTED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE SECURITIES ACT. SEE "SUBSCRIPTION AND SALE" AND "TRANSFER RESTRICTIONS" IN THE ACCOMPANYING OFFERING CIRCULAR DATED 25 JUNE 2026. IN PURCHASING THE NOTES, A PURCHASER WILL BE DEEMED TO REPRESENT AND WARRANT THAT IT IS NOT (I) LOCATED IN THE UNITED STATES, (II) A U.S. PERSON[, (III) SUBJECT TO U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX ON A NET BASIS (A "U.S. TAXPAYER")]¹⁰, OR (IV) PURCHASING ON BEHALF OF, OR FOR THE ACCOUNT OR BENEFIT OF, ANY PERSON LOCATED WITHIN THE UNITED STATES[, /OR] U.S. PERSON [OR U.S. TAXPAYER].

Status

The Notes constitute direct and general obligations of Morgan Stanley which rank pari passu among themselves.

Prescription

Under the law of the state of New York, claims for payment under the Notes are time-barred after six years from the time of breach.

United States Taxation

This discussion is limited to the U.S. federal tax issues addressed below. Additional issues may exist that are not addressed in this discussion and that could affect the federal tax treatment of an investment in the Notes. Investors should seek their own advice based upon their particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.

An investor should review carefully the section entitled "United States Federal Taxation" in the Offering Circular.

¹¹[Withholding on "Other Income" Coupon Payments]

The following discussion applies to Notes issued by Morgan Stanley that pay periodic coupons and provide for a payment at maturity or upon early settlement (other than the stated coupon) that is determined by reference to the performance of a Relevant Underlying. The U.S. federal tax treatment of the Notes is unclear due to the absence of statutory, judicial or administrative authorities that directly address the Notes or similar securities, and no ruling is being requested from the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") with respect to the Notes. Significant aspects of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Notes are uncertain, and no assurance can be given that the IRS or a court will agree with the tax treatment described herein. Accordingly, investors should consult their tax adviser regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Notes (including possible alternative treatment thereof).

A non-U.S. investor should expect that a withholding agent will treat any coupon payments as subject to U.S. federal withholding tax at a rate of 30 per cent., unless the non-U.S. investor establishes an exemption under the "other income" provision of a Qualifying Treaty (as defined below) or, to the extent that any portion of a coupon payment is treated as interest for U.S. federal income tax purposes, an exemption under the "portfolio interest exemption" rules as described below.

An income tax treaty between a non-U.S. jurisdiction and the United States is a "Qualifying Treaty" if it provides for a 0 per cent. rate of tax on "other income" earned by a resident of the non-U.S. jurisdiction from sources within the United States. Accordingly, if a non-U.S. investor is a resident of a non-U.S. jurisdiction that qualifies for benefits under such a Qualifying Treaty, it should generally be eligible for an exemption under the "other income" provision referred to above if the non-U.S. investor complies with the certification requirement described in the section entitled "United States Federal Taxation—Notes—Other Income Coupons" in the Offering Circular. However, because most income tax treaties contain complex eligibility rules and limitations, a non-U.S. investor should consult its tax advisor about its eligibility for this exemption. To demonstrate eligibility for the "other income" exemption to the Issuer or an applicable withholding agent, a non-U.S. investor generally will be required to provide a properly completed Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E certifying that it is not a U.S. person and that it is eligible for the benefits of the "other income" article of a Qualifying Treaty (or, if the non-U.S. investor holds its Notes through certain intermediaries, it may be permitted to provide alternative documentation in lieu of the appropriate Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E to establish that it is not a U.S. person and that it is eligible for the benefits of the "other income" article of a Qualifying Treaty) as discussed in the section entitled "United States Federal Taxation—Notes—Other Income Coupons" in the Offering Circular.

Notwithstanding the discussion above, because the U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Notes is unclear, any coupon payments on such Notes could alternatively be treated in whole or part as payments of interest. Nonetheless, even if the coupon payments are treated in whole or in part as interest and thus not eligible for the "other income" exemption described above, under current law and administrative practice a non-U.S. investor may qualify for the "portfolio interest exemption" with respect to the coupon payments if the non-U.S. investor has timely provided certifications to establish that it is not a U.S. person and certain other conditions are met, as discussed in the section entitled "United States Federal Taxation—Notes—Notes Treated as Indebtedness" in the Offering Circular.

As described in "United States Federal Taxation" in the Offering Circular, U.S. withholding may also be imposed in other circumstances, such as under FATCA, the U.S. backup withholding rules or Section 871(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code").

If withholding is so required, the relevant Issuer will not be required to pay any additional amounts with respect to the amounts so withheld.

None of the Issuer, Guarantor and Dealer, nor any of their respective Affiliates are qualified to give legal, tax or accounting advice to its clients and does not purport to do so in this document. Clients are urged to seek the advice of their own professional advisors about the consequences of the proposals contained herein.

Each Noteholder should seek advice, based on its particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor, regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Notes, including possible alternative treatments and any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, local or non-U.S. taxing jurisdiction.]

Include other information concerning the underlying required by the rules of Euronext Dublin.)

[To be inserted if an Index is a decrement Index: The [Insert name of the relevant Index/Indices] ([the][each a] "Decrement Index") [is][are each] a 'decrement' index. This means [each] such Decrement Index represents the performance of a strategy tracking a given total return index from which a pre-determined amount (a "synthetic dividend") is deducted periodically. [In respect of [Insert name of relevant Index/Indices].] [T] [t] he synthetic dividend is expressed as [a fixed percentage ([●]%)]/[an index point ([●] index points)] (specify per decrement index). Depending on the level of dividends paid by the relevant companies, a decrement index may perform differently in comparison to other market indices that include dividend adjustments due to the different methodologies adopted.

A "price return" index is calculated on the basis that dividends paid on the components are not reinvested. A standard "total return" index is calculated on the basis that dividends paid on the components are reinvested, thereby increasing the value of the index compared to the price return version. Due to the fixed amount of synthetic dividend being subtracted from [the][each] Decrement Index, such Decrement Index will underperform an otherwise equivalent total return index where dividends are invested. In case the synthetic dividend is larger than the realised level of dividends paid by the relevant companies, the decrement index will underperform an otherwise equivalent price return index.

[Insert this additional language in respect of a Decrement Index which tracks the performance of a single component security: As [Insert name of the relevant Index/Indices] (insert relevant decrement index/indices) tracks the performance of a single component security, [each] such Decrement Index (after deduction of the pre-determined synthetic dividend) will underperform a direct investment in such component security (i.e. because such direct investment would benefit from dividends paid by the component security without any deduction of the synthetic dividend).]The Issuer [intends to provide post-issuance information [specify what information will be reported and where it can be obtained]] [does not intend to provide post-issuance information with regard to the underlying].

[United States Taxation]

⁵⁵[This discussion is limited to the U.S. federal tax issues addressed below. Additional issues may exist that are not addressed in this discussion and that could affect the federal tax treatment of an investment in the Notes. Investors should seek their own advice based upon their particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.]

Investors should review carefully the section entitled "United States Federal Taxation" in the Offering Circular.]

⁵⁶[Withholding on "Other Income" Coupon Payments]

The following discussion applies to Notes issued by Morgan Stanley, MSFL or MSFII that pay periodic coupons and provide for a payment at maturity or upon early settlement (other than the stated coupon) that is determined by reference to the performance of a Relevant Underlying and thus may be lower or higher than their issue price. The U.S. federal tax treatment of the Notes is unclear due to the absence of statutory, judicial or administrative authorities that directly address the Notes or similar securities, and no ruling is being requested from the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") with respect to the Notes. Significant aspects of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Notes are uncertain, and no assurance can be given that the IRS or a court will agree with the tax treatment described herein. Accordingly, investors should consult their tax adviser regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Notes (including possible alternative treatment thereof).

A non-U.S. investor should expect that a withholding agent will treat any coupon payments as subject to U.S. federal withholding tax at a rate of 30 per cent., unless the non-U.S. investor establishes an exemption under the "other income" provision of a Qualifying Treaty (as defined below) or, to the extent that any portion of a coupon payment is treated as interest for U.S. federal income tax purposes, an exemption under the "portfolio interest exemption" rules as described below.

An income tax treaty between a non-U.S. jurisdiction and the United States is a "Qualifying Treaty" if it provides for a 0 per cent. rate of tax on "other income" earned by a resident of the non-U.S. jurisdiction from sources within the United States. Accordingly, if a non-U.S. investor is a resident of a non-U.S. jurisdiction that qualifies for benefits under such a Qualifying Treaty, it should generally be eligible for an exemption under the "other income" provision referred to above if the non-U.S. investor complies with the certification requirement described in the section entitled "United States Federal Taxation—Notes—Other Income Coupons" in the Offering Circular. However, because most income tax treaties contain complex eligibility rules and limitations, a non-U.S. investor should consult its tax advisor about its eligibility for this exemption. To demonstrate eligibility for the "other income" exemption to the Issuer or an applicable withholding agent, a non-U.S. investor generally will be required to provide a properly completed IRS Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E certifying that it is not a U.S. person and that it is eligible for the benefits of the "other income" article of a Qualifying Treaty (or, if the non-U.S. investor holds

⁵³ MSBV, MSFL and MSIP may offer and sell Regulation S Notes or Regulation S/Rule 144A Notes. Morgan Stanley, MSFII and MSESE may only offer and sell Regulation S Notes.

⁵⁵ Insert for coupon-paying Notes issued by MS, MSFL or MSFII.

its Notes through certain intermediaries, it may be permitted to provide alternative documentation in lieu of the appropriate Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E to establish that it is not a U.S. person and that it is eligible for the benefits of the "other income" article of a Qualifying Treaty) as discussed in the section entitled "United States Federal Taxation—Notes—Other Income Coupons" in the Offering Circular.

Any withholding rate described above may be increased under future legislation, regulation or administrative guidance.

Notwithstanding the discussion above, because the U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Notes is unclear, any coupon payments on such Notes could alternatively be treated in whole or part as payments of interest. Nonetheless, even if the coupon payments are treated in whole or in part as interest and thus not eligible for the "other income" exemption described above, under current law and administrative practice a non-U.S. investor may qualify for the "portfolio interest exemption" with respect to the coupon payments if the non-U.S. investor has timely provided certifications to establish that it is not a U.S. person and certain other conditions are met, as discussed in the section entitled "United States Federal Taxation—Notes—Notes Treated as Indebtedness" in the Offering Circular.

As described in "United States Federal Taxation" in the Offering Circular, U.S. withholding may also be imposed in other circumstances, such as under FATCA, the U.S. backup withholding rules or Section 871(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code").

If withholding is so required, the relevant Issuer will not be required to pay any additional amounts with respect to the amounts so withheld.

None of the Issuer, Guarantor and Dealer, nor any of their respective Affiliates are qualified to give legal, tax or accounting advice to its clients and does not purport to do so in this document. Clients are urged to seek the advice of their own professional advisors about the consequences of the proposals contained herein.

Each Noteholder should seek advice, based on its particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor, regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Notes, including possible alternative treatments and any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, local or non-U.S. taxing jurisdiction.]

(Include details of where past and future performance and volatility of the index/equity/commodity/currency/fund/formula/other variable can be obtained. Where the underlying is an index, include the name of the index and a description if composed by the Issuer and if the index is not composed by the Issuer, include details of where the information about the index can be obtained, including for these purposes where the index is published. Where the underlying is not an index, include equivalent information, including the NAV source in relation to any fund. Include other information concerning the underlying required by the rules of Euronext Dublin, or the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, including in respect of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and an underlying that is a fund which is neither listed nor admitted to trading on any exchange, information on where the prospectus of the fund is available for inspection.)

[To be inserted if an Index is a decrement Index: The [Insert name of the relevant Index/Indices] ([the][each a] "Decrement Index") [is][are each] a 'decrement' index. This means [each] such Decrement Index represents the performance of a strategy tracking a given total return index from which a pre-determined amount (a "synthetic dividend") is deducted periodically. [In respect of [Insert name of relevant Index/Indices].] [T] [t]he synthetic dividend is expressed as [a fixed percentage ([●]%)][an index point ([●] index points)] (specify per decrement index) Depending on the level of dividends paid by the relevant companies, a decrement index may perform differently in comparison to other market indices that include dividend adjustments due to the different methodologies adopted.

A "price return" index is calculated on the basis that dividends paid on the components are not reinvested. A standard "total return" index is calculated on the basis that dividends paid on the components are reinvested, thereby increasing the value of the index compared to the price return version. Due to the fixed amount of synthetic dividend being subtracted from [the][each] Decrement Index, such Decrement Index will underperform an otherwise equivalent total return index where dividends are invested. In case the synthetic dividend is larger than the realised level of dividends paid by the relevant companies, the decrement index will underperform an otherwise equivalent price return index.

[Insert this additional language in respect of a Decrement Index which tracks the performance of a single component security: As [Insert name of the relevant Index/Indices] (insert relevant decrement index/indices) tracks the performance of a single component security, [each] such Decrement Index (after deduction of the pre-determined synthetic dividend) will underperform a direct investment in such component security (i.e. because such direct investment would benefit from dividends paid by the component security without any deduction of the synthetic dividend).]

United States Taxation

⁹⁷This discussion is limited to the U.S. federal tax issues addressed below. Additional issues may exist that are not addressed in this discussion and that could affect the federal tax treatment of an investment in the Notes. Investors should seek their own advice based upon their particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.

An investor should review carefully the section entitled "United States Federal Taxation" in the Offering Circular.

⁹⁸[Withholding on "Other Income" Coupon Payments]

The following discussion applies to Notes issued by Morgan Stanley, MSFL or MSFII that pay periodic coupons and provide for a payment at maturity or upon early settlement (other than the stated coupon) that is determined by reference to the performance of a Relevant Underlying and thus may be lower or higher than their issue price. The U.S. federal tax treatment of the Notes is unclear due to the absence of statutory, judicial or administrative authorities that directly address the Notes or similar securities, and no ruling is being requested from the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") with respect to the Notes. Significant aspects of the U.S. federal income tax

⁹⁵ MSBV, MSFL and MSIP may offer and sell Regulation S Notes or Regulation S/Rule 144A Notes. Morgan Stanley, MSFII and MSESE may only offer and sell Regulation S Notes.

⁹⁷ Insert for coupon-paying Notes issued by MS, MSFL or MSFII.

consequences of an investment in the Notes are uncertain, and no assurance can be given that the IRS or a court will agree with the tax treatment described herein. Accordingly, investors should consult their tax adviser regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Notes (including possible alternative treatment thereof).

A non-U.S. investor should expect that a withholding agent will treat any coupon payments as subject to U.S. federal withholding tax at a rate of 30 per cent., unless the non-U.S. investor establishes an exemption under the "other income" provision of a Qualifying Treaty (as defined below) or, to the extent that any portion of a coupon payment is treated as interest for U.S. federal income tax purposes, an exemption under the "portfolio interest exemption" rules as described below.

An income tax treaty between a non-U.S. jurisdiction and the United States is a "Qualifying Treaty" if it provides for a 0 per cent. rate of tax on "other income" earned by a resident of the non-U.S. jurisdiction from sources within the United States. Accordingly, if a non-U.S. investor is a resident of a non-U.S. jurisdiction that qualifies for benefits under such a Qualifying Treaty, it should generally be eligible for an exemption under the "other income" provision referred to above if the non-U.S. investor complies with the certification requirement described in the section entitled "United States Federal Taxation—Notes—Other Income Coupons" in the Offering Circular. However, because most income tax treaties contain complex eligibility rules and limitations, a non-U.S. investor should consult its tax advisor about its eligibility for this exemption. To demonstrate eligibility for the "other income" exemption to the Issuer or an applicable withholding agent, a non-U.S. investor generally will be required to provide a properly completed Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E certifying that it is not a U.S. person and that it is eligible for the benefits of the "other income" article of a Qualifying Treaty (or, if the non-U.S. investor holds its Notes through certain intermediaries, it may be permitted to provide alternative documentation in lieu of the appropriate Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E to establish that it is not a U.S. person and that it is eligible for the benefits of the "other income" article of a Qualifying Treaty) as discussed in the section entitled "United States Federal Taxation—Notes—Other Income Coupons" in the Offering Circular.

Any withholding rate described above may be increased under future legislation, regulation or administrative guidance.

Notwithstanding the discussion above, because the U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Notes is unclear, any coupon payments on such Notes could alternatively be treated in whole or part as payments of interest. Nonetheless, even if the coupon payments are treated in whole or in part as interest and thus not eligible for the "other income" exemption described above, under current law and administrative practice a non-U.S. investor may qualify for the "portfolio interest exemption" with respect to the coupon payments if the non-U.S. investor has timely provided certifications to establish that it is not a U.S. person and certain other conditions are met, as discussed in the section entitled "United States Federal Taxation—Notes—Notes Treated as Indebtedness" in the Offering Circular.

As described in "United States Federal Taxation" in the Offering Circular, U.S. withholding may also be imposed in other circumstances, such as under FATCA, the U.S. backup withholding rules or Section 871(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code").

If withholding is so required, the relevant Issuer will not be required to pay any additional amounts with respect to the amounts so withheld.

None of the Issuer, Guarantor and Dealer, nor any of their respective Affiliates are qualified to give legal, tax or accounting advice to its clients and does not purport to do so in this document. Clients are urged to seek the advice of their own professional advisors about the consequences of the proposals contained herein.

Each Noteholder should seek advice, based on its particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor, regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Notes, including possible alternative treatments and any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, local or non-U.S. taxing jurisdiction.]

[Not Applicable] / [The Issuer has determined that the Notes should not be subject to withholding under Section 871(m) of the Code[, and hereby instructs its agents and withholding agents that no withholding is required, unless such agent or withholding agent knows or has reason to know otherwise].] / [The Issuer has determined that the Notes should not be subject to withholding under Section 871(m) of the Code because the Relevant Underlying is a "qualified index" under the applicable U.S. Treasury Regulations[, and hereby instructs its agents and withholding agents that no withholding is required, unless such agent or withholding agent knows or has reason to know otherwise].] / [The Notes are U.S. equity linked instruments subject to U.S. withholding under Section 871(m) of the Code.] [The Issuer will treat the Notes as delta one instruments subject to U.S. withholding under Section 871(m) of the Code. The Issuer intends to withhold throughout the Notes' tenor U.S. federal income tax at a rate of 30% with respect to all "dividend equivalent" payments related to the Notes. The Issuer will not be able to associate dividend equivalent payments with valid documentation from an investor (such as an Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") Form W-8) that establishes the investor's eligibility for treaty benefits, if any. The Issuer will report the payments to all investors on a pooled basis and will not issue individual IRS Forms 1042-S. Accordingly, the Issuer will withhold the tax applicable under Section 871(m) of the Code at the U.S. statutory rate of 30% without regard to any reduced treaty rate, if any. Investors will not be entitled to receive additional amounts with respect to the amounts withheld by the Issuer. If a beneficial owner of a Note is entitled to a reduced rate of tax under an applicable income tax treaty, this will result in over-withholding. Investors should consult their tax

- advisers regarding the consequences of withholding under Section 871(m) of the Code, including their ability to obtain refunds from the IRS in the case of over-withholding.]⁹⁹ [For further information please [call [●]] / [visit our website at [●]] / [write to [●]].]

10.	PROHIBITION TO OFFER TO RETAIL INVESTORS IN SWITZERLAND:	[Applicable]/[Not Applicable]
11.	PROHIBITION OF SALES TO CONSUMERS IN BELGIUM	[Applicable]/[Not Applicable]
12.	REPORTING BY THE ISSUER TO THE U.S. INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE	Under Notice 2015-74 issued by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service ("IRS"), certain transactions that reference a basket of underlying assets were identified as "transactions of interest" subject to reporting requirements pursuant to the "reportable transactions" rules set forth in Section 6011 of the Code. Proposed Treasury regulations issued in 2024 would, if finalised as drafted, identify substantively the same transactions as reportable "listed transactions". Very generally, the IRS notice addressed, and the proposed regulations would apply to, an instrument that makes payments based on the performance of a basket of referenced assets (such as securities, commodities or foreign currency) and the investor or its designee has the discretion to change the assets that comprise the basket, or change the trading algorithm that determines the assets. The IRS notice and the proposed regulations are not intended to apply where the investor is a non-U.S. person whose income or gain from the investment is not effectively connected with the investor's U.S. trade or business. However, the Issuer does not expect to be able to reliably associate investments in the Securities with valid documentation from an investor (such as an IRS Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E) that would establish the investor's non-U.S. status for U.S. tax purposes. Therefore, although the circumstances that require disclosure pursuant to the proposed regulations are not always clear, if the proposed regulations are finalised as drafted, the Issuer may be required to report the issuance of the Securities to the IRS. Once the proposed regulations are finalised, reporting may be required even with respect to certain Program Securities issued prior to the date of finalisation.

[United States Taxation³¹

This discussion is limited to the U.S. federal tax issues addressed below. Additional issues may exist that are not addressed in this discussion and that could affect the federal tax treatment of an investment in the Notes. Investors should seek their own advice based upon their particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.

All investors should review carefully the section entitled "United States Federal Taxation" in the Offering Circular.

[Withholding on Credit Linked Notes³²

The following discussion is relevant to Credit Linked Notes issued by MSFL that pay fixed, periodic coupons and that have a maximum redemption amount equal to the principal amount of such Notes. There is no direct legal authority as to the proper treatment of the Notes for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and, therefore, significant aspects of the tax treatment of the Notes are uncertain. We intend to treat a Note for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a unit consisting of (i) a put right written by you to us that, if exercised, requires you to pay to us an amount equal to the deposit (described in (ii), below), in exchange for a cash amount equal to the amount (excluding accrued but unpaid interest) required to be paid to you upon redemption of the Notes and (ii) a deposit with us of a fixed amount of cash to secure your obligation under the put right. Based on this treatment, a portion of any periodic payment on the Notes will be treated as interest on the deposit, and the remainder will be attributable to the premium on the put right. Alternative U.S. federal income tax treatments of the Notes are possible, and if the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") were successful in asserting such an alternative tax treatment for the Notes the timing and the character of income on the Notes might differ significantly from the tax treatment described herein. We do not plan to request a ruling from the IRS regarding the tax treatment of the Notes, and the IRS or a court may not agree with the tax treatment described herein.

In addition, the U.S. Treasury Department and the IRS have requested comments on various issues regarding the U.S. federal income tax treatment of "prepaid forward contracts" and similar financial instruments and have indicated that such transactions may be the subject of future regulations or other guidance. Furthermore, members of Congress have proposed legislative changes to the tax treatment of derivative contracts. Any legislation, Treasury regulations or other guidance promulgated after consideration of these issues could materially and adversely affect the tax consequences of an investment in the Notes, possibly with retroactive effect.

Assuming the above treatment of the Notes is respected and except as otherwise discussed in "United States Federal Taxation—FATCA" and "United States Federal Taxation—Backup Withholding and Information Reporting," in the accompanying Offering Circular, we currently do not expect payments on the Notes to be subject to U.S. federal withholding tax, provided the conditions (including the certification requirements necessary to establish an exemption from withholding) discussed in "United States Federal Taxation—Notes—Notes Treated as Indebtedness" in the accompanying Offering Circular are met. However, in the event of a change of law or any formal or informal guidance by the IRS, the U.S. Treasury Department or Congress, we may decide to withhold on payments made with respect to the Notes to Non-U.S. holders. In that case, (regardless of whether a holder furnished an appropriate form), payments on the Notes will be made net of applicable withholding taxes, and we will not be required to pay any additional amounts with respect to amounts withheld.

Non-U.S. holders should read the section of the accompanying Offering Circular entitled "United States Federal Taxation."

None of the Issuer, Guarantor and Dealer, nor any of their respective Affiliates are qualified to give legal, tax or accounting advice to its clients and does not purport to do so in this document. Clients are urged to seek the advice of their own professional advisors about the consequences of the proposals contained herein.

Each Noteholder should seek advice, based on its particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor, regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Notes, including possible alternative treatments, and any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, local or non-U.S. taxing jurisdiction.]

[United States Taxation]

[U.S. investors should review in particular the section entitled "United States Federal Taxation– United States Federal Taxation of Program Securities Offered Under Rule 144A to U.S. Holders–Exchangeable Notes Treated as Debt Instruments" in the Offering Circular.] ¹⁵⁶

[By purchasing the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes you agree to treat them as "contingent payment debt instruments" for U.S. federal income tax purposes. As described in the above-mentioned section of the Offering Circular, regardless of their method of accounting for U.S. federal income tax purposes, U.S. taxable investors will be required to accrue interest income on the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes each year based on a "comparable yield" and a "projected payment schedule" (subject to certain adjustments). Upon a taxable disposition of a Cash Settled Exchangeable Note, a U.S. taxable investor will treat any gain recognised as interest income, and any loss as ordinary loss to the extent of previous interest inclusions and the balance as a capital loss (the deductibility of which is subject to limitations). The comparable yield and the projected payment schedule are not to be provided for any purpose other than to determine a U.S. taxable investor's accruals and adjustments thereto in respect of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes. The comparable yield and the projected payment schedule will not constitute a projection or representation by MSFL regarding the actual amounts that will be paid on the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes. You can obtain the comparable yield and the projected payment schedule by contacting Morgan Stanley at [●].¹⁵⁷

[Non-U.S. investors should be aware that they will be required to provide U.S. tax certifications (generally on Internal Revenue Service Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E, as applicable) that establish an exemption from U.S. withholding on interest payments. In certain circumstances, withholding may also apply under Section 871(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, even if tax certifications are provided. If any withholding is required, no additional amounts will be payable with respect to the amounts so withheld.] ¹⁵⁸

None of the Issuer, Guarantor or Dealer, or any of their respective Affiliates is providing any legal, tax or accounting advice to investors and does not purport to do so in this document. Investors should seek tax advice from independent tax advisors, based on their particular circumstances, regarding the tax consequences of an investment in the Exchangeable Notes.¹⁵⁹

FORM OF NOTES

Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII and MSESE may issue Notes in registered form ("Registered Notes"). In addition MSBV, MSI plc and MSESE may issue Notes designated as "Finnish Notes" or "Swedish Notes" and MSBV and MSI plc may issue Notes designated as "Norwegian Notes" or "Danish Notes" in each case in dematerialised and uncertificated book-entry form with a Nordic central securities depository ("Nordic Notes"). MSBV, MSI plc and MSESE may also issue Notes in uncertificated registered form in accordance with the Uncertificated Securities Regulations 2001 (as amended, modified or re-enacted) (The "Regulations") and such other regulations made under sections 783, 784(3), 785 and 788 of the UK Companies Act 2006 as are applicable to the Euroclear Registrar ("Uncertificated Notes").

Registered Notes

Registered Notes will be in the form of either individual Note Certificates in registered form ("Individual Note Certificates") or a global Note in registered form (a "Global Note Certificate"), in each case as specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement. Each Global Note Certificate will either be: (a) in the case of a Registered Note which is not to be held under the New Safekeeping Structure (defined below), registered in the name of a common depository (or its nominee) for the Relevant Clearing System and the relevant Global Note Certificate will be deposited on or about the issue date with the common depository and will be exchangeable in accordance with its terms; or (b) in the case of a Registered Note to be held under the new safekeeping structure ("New Safekeeping Structure" or "NSS"), be registered in the name of a common safekeeper (or its nominee) for the Relevant Clearing System and the relevant Global Note Certificate will be deposited on or about the issue date with the common safekeeper for the Relevant Clearing System and will be exchangeable for Individual Note Certificates in accordance with its terms.

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies the form of Notes as being "Individual Note Certificates", then the Notes will at all times be in the form of Individual Note Certificates issued to each Noteholder in respect of their respective holdings.

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies the form of Notes as being "Global Registered Note exchangeable for Individual Note Certificates", then the Notes will initially be in the form of a Global Registered Note which will be exchangeable in whole, but not in part, for Individual Note Certificates:

- (a) on the expiry of such period of notice as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; or
- (b) at any time, if so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; or
- (c) if the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies "in the limited circumstances described in the Global Registered Note", then if (a) the Relevant Clearing System is closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reason of legal holidays) or announces an intention permanently to cease business or (b) any of the circumstances described in "Description of the New York Law Notes – Events of Default" in the case of the New York Law Notes, or in the case of the English Law Notes, Condition 31 (Events of Default), or in the case of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes, Condition 13 (Events of Default) occurs.

Whenever the Global Registered Note is to be exchanged for Individual Note Certificates, the Issuer shall procure that Individual Note Certificates will be issued in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of the Global Registered Note within five business days of the delivery, by or on behalf of the holder of the Global Registered Note to the Registrar of such information as is required to complete and deliver such Individual Note Certificates (including, without limitation, the names and addresses of the persons in whose names the Individual Note Certificates are to be registered and the principal amount of each such person's holding) against the surrender of the Global Registered Note at the specified office of the Registrar.

Such exchange will be effected in accordance with the provisions of the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement and the regulations concerning the transfer and registration of Notes scheduled thereto and, in particular, shall be effected without charge to any holder, but against such indemnity as the Registrar may require in respect of any tax or other duty of whatsoever nature which may be levied or imposed in connection with such exchange.

Terms and Conditions applicable to the Registered Notes

The terms and conditions applicable to any Individual Note Certificate that is a New York Law Note will be set forth in such Individual Note Certificate. The terms and conditions applicable to any Individual Note Certificate that is an English Law Note or a Cash Settled Exchangeable Note will be endorsed on that Individual Note Certificate and will consist of the terms and conditions set out under "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes" or "Terms and Conditions of the Cash Settled Exchangeable Notes" above and the provisions of the applicable Pricing Supplement which supplement, modify and/or replace those terms and conditions. The terms and conditions applicable to any Global Registered Note that represents an English Law Note or a Cash Settled Exchangeable Note will differ from those terms and conditions which would apply to the Note were it in individual form to the extent described under "Summary of Provisions relating to the English Law Notes (Excluding CMU Notes) while in Global Form" or "Summary of Provisions relating to the English Law Notes (CMU Notes) while in Global Form", as applicable, below.

Nordic Notes

Notes issued by MSBV, MSI plc or MSESE and designated as "Finnish Notes" or "Swedish Notes" in the applicable Pricing Supplement and Notes issued by MSBV or MSI plc and designated as "Norwegian Notes" or "Danish Notes" in the applicable Pricing Supplement will be issued in uncertificated and dematerialised book-entry form in accordance with the Finnish or, as applicable, Norwegian or, as applicable, Danish or, as applicable, Swedish legislation and all other applicable local laws, regulations and operating procedures applicable to and/or issued by the Finnish or, as applicable, Norwegian, or as applicable, Danish or, as applicable, Swedish central securities depository from time to time (the "NCS D Rules") designated as registrar for the Nordic Notes in the applicable Pricing Supplement (the "NCS D"). No physical global or definitive Notes or certificates will be issued in respect of Nordic Notes. Payments of principal, interest (if any) or any other amounts on any Nordic Note will be made through the relevant NCS D in accordance with the NCS D Rules. The Euroclear Registrar will make all payments in respect of Uncertificated Notes.

SUMMARY OF PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE ENGLISH LAW NOTES (EXCLUDING CMU NOTES) WHILE IN GLOBAL FORM

Clearing System Accountholders

In relation to any Registered Notes (or any Tranche thereof) represented by a Global Registered Note and subject as provided in the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement, references in the "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes" to "Noteholder" are references to the person in whose name such Global Registered Note is for the time being registered in the Register which, for so long as the Global Registered Note is held by or on behalf of a depositary or a common depositary for the Relevant Clearing System, will be that depositary or common depositary or a nominee for that depositary or common depositary.

Each of the persons shown in the records of the Relevant Clearing System as being entitled to an interest in a Global Registered Note (each an "Accountholder") must look solely to the Relevant Clearing System for such Accountholder's share of each payment made by the relevant Issuer to the holder of such Global Registered Note and in relation to all other rights arising under such Global Registered Note, including any right to exchange any exchangeable Notes or any right to require the relevant Issuer to repurchase such Notes. The respective rules and procedures of the Relevant Clearing System from time to time will determine the extent to which, and the manner in which, Accountholders may exercise any rights arising under the Global Registered Note and the timing requirements for meeting any deadlines for the exercise of those rights. For so long as the relevant Notes are represented by a Global Registered Note, Accountholders shall have no claim directly against the relevant Issuer in respect of payments due under the Notes and such obligations of the relevant Issuer will be discharged by payment to the holder of such Global Registered Note.

Exchange of Global Registered Notes

Whenever a Global Registered Note is to be exchanged for Individual Note Certificates, the Issuer shall procure that Individual Note Certificates will be issued in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of the Global Registered Note within five business days of the delivery, by or on behalf of the holder of the Global Registered Note to the Registrar of such information as is required to complete and deliver such Individual Note Certificates (including, without limitation, the names and addresses of the persons in whose names the Individual Note Certificates are to be registered and the principal amount of each such person's holding) against the surrender of the Global Registered Note at the specified office of the Registrar. Such exchange will be effected in accordance with the provisions of the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement and the regulations concerning the transfer and registration of Notes scheduled thereto and, in particular, shall be effected without charge to any holder, but against such indemnity as the Registrar may require in respect of any tax or other duty of whatsoever nature which may be levied or imposed in connection with such exchange.

If:

- (a) Individual Note Certificates have not been delivered by 5.00 p.m. (London time) on the thirtieth day after they are due to be issued and delivered in accordance with the terms of the Global Registered Note; or
- (b) any of the Notes represented by a Global Registered Note (or any part of it) has become due and payable in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes or the date for final redemption of the Notes has occurred and, in either case, payment in full of the amount of principal falling due with all accrued interest thereon has not been made to the holder of the Global Registered Note in accordance with the terms of the Global Registered Note on the due date for payment, then at 5.00 p.m. (London time) on such thirtieth day (in the case of (a) above) or at 5.00 p.m. (London time) on such due date (in the case of (b) above) each Accountholder shall acquire the right under the Morgan Stanley Deed of Covenant, the MSI plc Deed of Covenant, the MSBV Deed of Covenant, the MSFL Deed of Covenant, the MSFII Deed of Covenant and the MSESE Deed of Covenant (the "Deeds of Covenant"), as the case may be, or any Additional Deed of Covenant to enforce against the Issuer, the Issuer's obligations to the Noteholder in respect of the Notes represented by the Global Registered Note, including the obligation of the Issuer to make all payments and deliveries when due at any time in respect of such Notes as if such Notes had been duly presented and (where required by the Conditions) surrendered on the due date in accordance with the Conditions. Each Accountholder shall acquire such right without prejudice to any other rights which the Noteholder may have under the Global Registered Note and the Deeds of Covenant. Notwithstanding the rights that each Accountholder may acquire under the Deeds of Covenant, payment or delivery to the Noteholder in respect of any Notes represented by the Global Registered Note shall constitute a discharge of the Issuer's obligations to the extent of any such payment or delivery and nothing in the Deed of Covenant shall oblige the Issuer to make any payment or delivery under the Notes to or to the order of any person other than the Noteholder.

Conditions Applicable to Global Registered Notes

Each Global Registered Note will contain provisions which modify the terms and conditions set out in "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes" as they apply to the Global Registered Note. The following is a summary of certain of those provisions:

Payments

All payments in respect of the Global Registered Note which, according to the "Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes", require presentation and/or surrender of an Individual Note Certificate will be made against presentation and (in the case of payment of principal in full with all interest accrued thereon) surrender of the Global Registered Note at the Specified Office or to the order of any paying agent and will be effective to satisfy and discharge the corresponding liabilities of the relevant Issuer in respect of the Notes.

Exercise of Put Option

In order to exercise the Noteholder's put option set out in Condition 26.9 (Redemption at the Option of Noteholders) of the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes, the holder of a Global Registered Note must, within the period specified therein for the deposit of the relevant Note and put notice, give written notice of such exercise to the Fiscal Agent and/or such other person as is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement specifying the principal amount of Notes in respect of which such option is being exercised. Any such notice will be irrevocable and may not be withdrawn.

Partial Exercise of Call Option

In connection with an exercise of the option contained in Condition 26.5 (Redemption at the Option of the Issuer) of the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes in relation to some but not all of the Notes or Global Registered Note may be redeemed in part in the principal amount specified by the relevant Issuer in accordance with the provisions set out therein and the Notes to be redeemed will not be selected as provided in the Conditions but in accordance with the rules and procedures of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg (to be reflected in the records of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg as either a pool factor or a reduction in principal amount, at their discretion).

Notices

Notwithstanding Condition 38 (Notices) of the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes while all the Notes are represented by a Global Registered Note deposited with a common depositary for the Relevant Clearing System, notices to Noteholders may be given by delivery of the relevant notice to the Relevant Clearing System and, in any case, such notices shall be deemed to have been given to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 38 (Notices) of the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes, on the date of delivery to the Relevant Clearing System. In addition, for so long as the Notes are listed on any stock exchange or are admitted to trading by another relevant authority, any notice to Noteholders shall be published in accordance with the rules and regulations of each such stock exchange or other relevant authority. Notwithstanding any other provision in the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes, any failure by the Issuer, the Calculation Agent, the Determination Agent or any other party to provide Noteholders or any stock exchange on which the Notes are listed or admitted to trading with any notice due to be given to Noteholders or published on any such stock exchange, in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes shall not of itself affect the validity of the determination, adjustment, event or any other occurrence to which such notice relates.

Redenomination

Following redenomination of the Notes, where Notes have been issued in definitive form, the amount of interest due in respect of such Notes will be calculated by reference to the aggregate principal amount of the Notes presented for payment by the relevant holder.

Registered Notes

Notwithstanding Condition 27 (Payments – Registered Notes) of the Terms and Conditions of the English Law Notes, each payment in respect of any Global Registered Note shall be made to the person shown in the Register as the holder of the Notes represented by such Global Registered Note at the close of business (in the relevant clearing system) on the Clearing System Business Day before the due date for such payment (the "Record Date") where the "Clearing System Business Day" means a day on which each clearing system for which the Global Registered Note is being held is open for business.

Payments in respect of a Note by Morgan Stanley, MSFL and MSFII may be subject to U.S. withholding tax if the beneficial owner of the Note does not meet the criteria for being exempt from this withholding tax. These criteria include the requirement that the beneficial owner (or a financial institution holding the Note on behalf of the beneficial owner) comply with certain tax identification and certification rules, generally by furnishing the appropriate U.S. Internal Revenue Service Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E on which the beneficial owner certifies under penalties of perjury (i) that it is not a U.S. person, (ii) in the case of an entity, that it is exempt from FATCA withholding, and (iii) in the case of certain coupon-paying Notes, that it is eligible for a certain exemption under an applicable tax treaty, as described below under "United States Federal Taxation". U.S. withholding may also apply with respect to certain Notes linked to U.S. equities or certain indices. Any current withholding rate (or an exemption from withholding) may change under future legislation, regulation or administrative guidance.

If withholding is so required, unless specified otherwise in an applicable Pricing Supplement none of the Issuers or any intermediary will be required to pay any additional amounts with respect to the amounts so withheld.

SUMMARY OF PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE ENGLISH LAW NOTES (CMU NOTES) WHILE IN GLOBAL FORM

Central Moneymarkets Unit ("CMU") system

General

The CMU is a central depository service provided by the CMU of the HKMA for the safe custody and electronic trading between the CMU Members of capital markets instruments (the "CMU Instruments") which are specified in the CMU Manual as capable of being held within the CMU.

The CMU is only available to CMU Instruments issued by a CMU Member or by a person for whom a CMU Member acts as agent for the purposes of lodging instruments issued by such persons. Membership of the CMU is open to all members of the Hong Kong Capital Markets Association, Securities and Futures Commission, Insurance Authority or Mandatory Provident Fund Schemes Authority. For further details on the full range of the CMU's custodial services, please refer to the CMU Manual.

The CMU has an income distribution service which is a service offered by the CMU to facilitate the distribution of interest, coupon or redemption proceeds (collectively, the "income proceeds") by CMU Members who are paying agents to the legal title holders of CMU Instruments via the CMU system. Furthermore, the CMU has a corporate action platform which allows an issuer (or its agent) to make an announcement/notification of a corporate action and noteholders to submit the relevant certification.

Compared to clearing services provided by Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, the standard custody and clearing service provided by the CMU is limited. In particular (and unlike the European Clearing Systems), the HKMA does not as part of this service provide any facilities for the dissemination to the relevant CMU Members of payments (of interest or principal) under, or notices pursuant to the notice provisions of, the CMU Instruments. Instead, the HKMA advises the lodging CMU Member (or a designated paying agent) of the identities of the CMU Members to whose accounts payments in respect of the relevant CMU Instruments are credited, whereupon the lodging CMU Member (or the designated paying agent) will make the necessary payments of interest or principal or send notices directly to the relevant CMU Members. Similarly, the HKMA will not obtain certificates of non-US beneficial ownership from CMU Members or provide any such certificates on behalf of CMU Members. The CMU Lodging and Paying Agent will collect such certificates from the relevant CMU Members identified from an instrument position report obtained by request from the HKMA for this purpose.

An investor holding an interest through an account with either Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, in any Notes held in the CMU will hold that interest through the respective accounts which Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, each have with the CMU.

Book-Entry Ownership

The Issuer will apply to the HKMA to have the CMU Notes represented by a Global Registered Note accepted for clearance through the CMU. Each Global Registered Note will have a CMU Instrument Number.

Initial Issue of CMU Notes

A Global Registered Note will be delivered on or prior to the original issue date of the Tranche to a subcustodian for the HKMA as operator of the CMU.

Upon registration of the CMU Notes in the name of HKMA and delivery of the related Global Registered Note to the sub-custodian for the HKMA as operator of the CMU, the CMU will credit each subscriber with a nominal amount of CMU Notes equal to the nominal amount thereof for which it has subscribed and paid.

Relationship of Accountholders with the CMU

If a Global Registered Note is lodged with a sub-custodian for or registered with the CMU, the person(s) for whose account(s) interests in such Global Registered Note are credited as being held in the CMU in accordance with the CMU Rules at the close of business on the applicable Record Date shall be the only person(s) directed or deemed by the CMU as entitled to receive payments in respect of CMU Notes represented by such Global Registered Note and the Issuer will be discharged by payment to, or to the order of, such person(s) for whose account(s) interests in such Global Registered Note are credited as being held in the CMU at the close of business on the applicable Record Date in respect of each amount so paid. Each of the persons shown in the records of the CMU, as the beneficial holder of a particular nominal amount of CMU Notes represented by such Global Registered Note must look solely to the CMU for his share of each payment so made by the Issuer in respect of such Global Registered Note.

The following is the text of the terms and conditions which, as supplemented, modified and/or replaced by the applicable Pricing Supplement, and if "Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Securities" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the supplemental terms and conditions set out in the Annex hereto entitled "Terms and Conditions of the Warrants and Certificates: Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Securities", which as completed by the applicable Pricing Supplement, will be endorsed on each Security issued in individual registered form issued under the Program specified as being governed by English law. The Swedish and Finnish Securities issued by MSESE shall be the subject of such issuing and paying agent agreement (the "MSESE SEB Issuing and Paying Agent Agreement") as may be entered into in relation thereto between MSESE and Skandinaviska Enskilda Banken AB (publ) as Swedish agent and Finnish agent as amended from time to time. The payment obligations of MSBV and MSFL in respect of Warrants and Certificates issued by each of MSBV and MSFL (respectively) under the Program and which are issued under the Securities Agency Agreement are (unless, in respect of MSBV only, otherwise stated in the applicable Pricing Supplement) guaranteed by Morgan Stanley (the "Guarantor") under the terms of a guarantee dated as of 25 June 2026 (as supplemented and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time, the "Guarantee").

MSI plc, MSFL, MSBV and MSESE may issue Warrants and Certificates. Morgan Stanley may issue Certificates only.

In relation to a Series of Warrants or Certificates, the expression "Warrants" and the term "Certificates" shall, unless the context otherwise requires, include any further Warrants or, as the case may be, Certificates issued pursuant to Condition 34 (Further Issues) of these Conditions and forming a single series with such Series. The Securityholders (as defined below) are entitled to the benefit of, and are bound by and are deemed to have notice of, all the provisions of the Securities Agency Agreement, these Conditions and the Pricing Supplement (as defined below) relating to the relevant Warrants or Certificates.

Each Series of Warrants and each Series of Certificates issued under the Program as Relevant Securities (as defined in the Conditions) may comprise one or more tranches ("Tranches" and each, a "Tranche") of Warrants or, as the case may be, Certificates. Each Tranche will be the subject of a pricing supplement supplemental hereto (each, "Pricing Supplement"), which specifies among other matters, whether the supplemental terms and conditions set out in the Annex hereto entitled "Annex to the Terms and Conditions of the Warrants and Certificates: Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Securities" are applicable in relation to such Series of Securities and a copy of which may, in the case of a Tranche in relation to which application has been made for admission to (i) the Official List of Euronext Dublin and trading on its Global Exchange Market, and/or (ii) the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to trading on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's Euro MTF Market, be obtained free of charge from the specified office of the Principal Securities Agent. Any purported transfer or pledge of such Securities that is in breach, at the time made, of any transfer restrictions or other restrictions or conditions set forth in this Offering Circular or the Pricing Supplement may be void ab initio. If, at any time, MSBV determines in good faith that (i) a holder of such Securities is in breach, at the time given, of any of the transfer restrictions or other restrictions or conditions set forth in this Offering Circular or the Pricing Supplement, (ii) a transfer or attempted or purported transfer of any such Securities was consummated in reliance on an incorrect purchaser certificate from the transferee or purported transferee, (iii) a transferee failed to deliver to MSBV a purchaser certificate satisfactory in form to it, (iv) the holder of such Securities was in breach of any representation, warranty or agreement contained in the purchaser certificate or (v) the holder of such Securities pledges or attempts or purports to pledge such Securities, MSBV may, in its discretion, consider the acquisition by such person or such pledge void and of no force and effect, and such acquisition or pledge will not, at the discretion of MSBV, operate to transfer any rights to the transferee notwithstanding any instructions to the contrary to MSBV or any other intermediary. In addition, MSBV may require such acquirer or beneficial owner to sell the Securities to a non-U.S. person or QIB/QP. In connection with the foregoing, MSBV may receive a list of participants holding positions in the Securities from one or more book-entry depositaries. For the purposes of the foregoing, references to holders and purchasers of Securities include beneficial owners and purchasers of beneficial interests in such Securities.

- (f) Registration and Delivery: Within five business days of the surrender of an Individual Registered Security in accordance with Condition 3.2(d) (Transfers) above, the Securities Registrar will register the transfer in question and deliver a new Individual Registered Security of a like number or nominal amount to the Registered Securities transferred to each relevant holder at its Specified Office or (as the case may be) the Specified Office of any Securities Transfer Agent or (at the request and risk of any such relevant holder) by uninsured first class mail (airmail if overseas) to the address specified for the purpose by such relevant holder. The regulations may be changed by the Issuer with the prior written approval of the Securities Registrar. A copy of the current regulations will be mailed (free of charge) by the Securities Registrar to any holder of Registered Securities who requests in writing a copy of such regulations. The relevant Issuer shall have the right to refuse to honour the transfer of any Securities to a person who is a U.S. Person (as defined in Regulation S) or is in the United States unless such Securities were issued to, in the case of MSFL or MSIP Securities, a QIB, or, in the case of MSBV Securities, a QIP/QP, pursuant to the exemption from registration pursuant to Rule 144A, as detailed herein.

6.7 Deemed Exercise

If "Deemed Exercise" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be applicable in relation to a Series of Warrants or Certificates, where an Exercise Notice has not been duly completed and delivered by the Latest Exercise Time on the Expiration Date in respect of any Warrants or Certificates of such Series, each such Warrant or Certificate shall be deemed to have been exercised at that time on such date and/or upon such other terms as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, subject in each case to prior termination as provided for in Conditions 9.3 (Adjustments affecting Shares and ETF Interests) to 24 (Provisions relating to all Warrants and Certificates) (as applicable), 27 (Events of Default) and 28 (Illegality and Regulatory Event).

6.8 Payment and delivery – Registered Securities

- (a) In respect of Registered Securities which have been exercised in full and which are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being Cash Settlement Securities, or in respect of which the Issuer has elected Cash Settlement in accordance with Condition 5.7 (Optional Cash Settlement) payments in respect of any amounts in respect of a Registered Security shall be made only following surrender of the relevant Individual Registered Security at the Specified Office of the Securities Registrar outside the United States by cheque drawn in the currency in which the payment is due on, or, upon application of a holder of a Registered Security, by transfer to the account specified by the relevant Securityholder in the Exercise Notice denominated in that currency (or, if that currency is euro, any other account to which euro may be credited or transferred) and maintained by the payee with, a bank in the principal financial centre of that currency not later than the Business Day that is not later than fifteen days prior to the due date for payment.
- (b) In respect of Registered Securities which have been exercised and which are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being Physical Settlement Securities, or in respect of which the Issuer has elected Physical Settlement in accordance with Condition 5.6 (Optional Physical Settlement), subject, in the case of Full Physical Settlement Securities, to transfer of the Strike Price (plus any applicable Taxes and, in the case of Bond-Linked Securities, any accrued interest, as specified in Condition 5.5(a) (Full Physical Settlement Securities) above) from the relevant account of the Securityholder to the relevant account of the Principal Securities Agent (in favour of the Issuer) as aforesaid, the Issuer shall, on the Physical Settlement Date deliver or procure the delivery of the relevant number of Underlying Securities in respect of each Registered Security for credit to the account specified in the relevant Exercise Notice. The Issuer shall be entitled, if it so elects, to divide any Underlying Securities to be transferred into such number of lots of such size as it desires to facilitate its delivery obligations.

- (c) Exercise of the Registered Securities and payments and deliveries by the Issuer and the Securities Agents will be subject in all cases to all applicable fiscal and other laws, regulations and practices in force at the relevant time (including, without limitation, any relevant exchange control laws or regulations) and none of the Issuer or any Securities Agent shall incur any liability whatsoever if it is unable to effect the transactions contemplated, after using all reasonable efforts, as a result of any such laws, regulations and practices.

A holder of a Registered Security shall not be entitled to any interest or other payment in respect of any delay in payment resulting from (A) the due date for a payment not being a Business Day or (B) a cheque mailed in accordance with this Condition 6 (Exercise) arriving after the due date for payment or being lost in the mail.
- (e) Each payment or delivery in respect of a Registered Security will be made to the person shown as the holder in the Register at the close of business in the place of the Securities Registrar's Specified Office on the fifteenth day before the due date for such payment (the "Record Date"). Where the payment in respect of a Registered Security is to be made by cheque, the cheque will be mailed to the address of the holder in the Register at the close of business on the relevant Record Date.
- (f) Notwithstanding the foregoing, in respect of CNY Securities, no payment in CNY will be made by cheque and all payments to Securityholders will be made solely (i) for so long as the CNY Securities are represented by a Global Registered Security held with the common depositary for Clearstream Banking société anonyme and Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V. or any alternative clearing system, by transfer to a CNY bank account maintained outside the PRC, or (ii) for so long as the Securities are in definitive form, by transfer to a CNY bank account maintained outside the PRC, in each case in accordance with prevailing rules and regulations.

6.9 Effect of Exercise Notice

- (a) For so long as any outstanding Warrant or Certificate is held by a Securities Agent, Securities Registrar or Securities Transfer Agent in accordance with this Condition 6 (Exercise), the depositor of the relevant Individual Registered Security and not such Securities Agent, Securities Registrar or Securities Transfer Agent (as applicable) shall be deemed to be the Securityholder for all purposes.
- (b) Delivery of an Exercise Notice shall constitute an irrevocable election and undertaking by the Securityholder to exercise the Warrants or Certificates specified therein, provided that, in the case of a Registered Security, the person exercising and delivering such Exercise Notice is the person then appearing in the Register as the holder of the relevant Registered Security. If the person exercising and delivering the Exercise Notice is not the person so appearing, such Exercise Notice shall for all purposes become void and shall be deemed not to have been so delivered.
- (c) After the delivery of an Exercise Notice (other than an Exercise Notice which shall become void pursuant to Condition 6.1(b) (Exercise Notice)) by a Securityholder, such Securityholder shall not be permitted to transfer either legal or beneficial ownership of the Warrants or Certificates exercised thereby. Notwithstanding this, if any Securityholder does so transfer or attempt to transfer such Warrants or Certificates, the Securityholder will be liable to the Issuer for any losses, costs and expenses suffered or incurred by the Issuer including those suffered or incurred as a consequence of it having terminated any related hedging operations in reliance on the relevant Exercise Notice and subsequently: (i) entering into replacement hedging operations in respect of such Warrants or Certificates; or (ii) paying any amount on the subsequent exercise of such Warrants or Certificates without having entered into any replacement hedging operations.

6.10 Minimum Number of Warrants and Certificates Exercisable

The Warrants and Certificates are exercisable in the minimum number (the "Minimum Exercise Number") specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if a "Permitted Multiple" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, higher integral multiples of the Minimum Exercise Number) on any particular occasion or such lesser Minimum Exercise Number or other Permitted Multiple as the Issuer may from time to time notify to the Securityholders in accordance with Condition 29 (Notices).

6.11 Exercise and Settlement of Nordic Securities

Nordic Securities may only be exercised by delivery of a duly completed Exercise Notice to the relevant Nordic Issuing and Paying Agent in respect of the relevant Tranche of Nordic Securities and these Conditions shall be construed accordingly. The relevant Nordic Issuing and Paying Agent (or such other person designated by the then applicable NCSD Rules as responsible for such actions) shall perform the verification and debiting of the relevant securities accounts referred to in Condition 6.5 (Verification of Securityholder) and Condition 6.8 (Payment and delivery – Registered Securities) (or, as the case may be under the then applicable NCSD Rules, request and/or effect the transfer by the holder of the relevant Nordic Securities to an account blocked for further transfers until such debiting may occur) and notify the Principal Securities Agent in accordance with Condition 6.6 (Notification to the relevant Securities Agent or Securities Registrar). Cash Settlement and, to the extent applicable, settlement in respect of Physical Settlement Securities, will occur in accordance with the NCSD Rules and payments will be effected to the holder recorded as such on the record date (as specified in the then applicable NCSD Rules) or such other business day falling closer to the due date as may then be stipulated in said NCSD Rules (such date being the "Record Date" for the purposes of the Nordic Securities). Claims for any amount payable in respect of the Nordic Securities shall become void unless made within a period of ten years after the relevant due date.

7. Issuer Call Option

7.1 Discretionary Call Option: Subject to Condition 7.2 (Issuer Call Option - Non-discretionary Call Option) or Condition 7.3 (Model-based Redemption), if the Call Option is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable, the Warrants or Certificates may be terminated at the option of the Issuer in whole or, if so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in part on any Optional Settlement Date at the relevant Optional Settlement Amount on the Issuer's giving not less than the Minimum Call Notice Number of Day(s) nor more than the Maximum Call Notice Number of Day(s) notice to the Securityholders (which notice shall be irrevocable and shall oblige the Issuer to terminate the Warrants or Certificates specified in such notice on the relevant Optional Settlement Date at the Optional Settlement Amount).

7.2 Non-discretionary Call Option: Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Condition 7 (Issuer Call Option - Discretionary Call Option), if Non-discretionary Call Option is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable, the Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated by the Issuer in whole, but not in part, on any Optional Settlement Date at the relevant Optional Settlement Amount if, and only if, the output of a risk neutral valuation model on a Business Day that is at least five (5) but no greater than eight (8) Business Days prior to such Optional Settlement Date, as selected by the Determination Agent (the "Optional Settlement Determination Date"), taking as input: (i) prevailing reference market levels, volatilities and correlations, as applicable and in each case as of the Optional Settlement Determination Date and (ii) the Issuer's credit spreads as of the Trade Date(s) indicates, in the determination of the Determination Agent, that terminating the Warrants or Certificates on such Optional Settlement Date would be economically more rational for the Issuer than not terminating the Warrants or Certificates on such Optional Settlement Date. If the Issuer is required to terminate the Warrants or Certificates on any Optional Settlement Date in accordance with this Condition 7.2 (Non-discretionary Call Option), the Issuer will give the Securityholders not less than five (5) Business Days' prior notice.

7.3 Model-based Redemption. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Condition 7.1 (Discretionary Call Option), if Model-based Redemption is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable, the Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated by the Issuer in whole, but not in part, on any Model-based Redemption Date (Call) at the relevant Model-based Redemption Amount (Call), if and only if the output of the proprietary valuation model described below (the "Valuation Model") indicates, in the Determination Agent's reasonable opinion, that it would be economically more rational for the Issuer to terminate the Warrants or Certificates (as applicable) than not, as specified in Condition 7.3.2 (Model-based Redemption).

The Model-based Redemption Amount (Call) will be specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement and will be at least equal to Par, unless otherwise specified in the Pricing Supplement. The termination of the Warrants or Certificates will be without prejudice to the rights of Securityholders to receive any other payment accrued at the Model-based Redemption Date (Call) based on the terms of the Warrants or Certificates.

7.3.1 Valuation Model

The Valuation Model is a Morgan Stanley Group proprietary valuation model. The inputs of the Valuation Model are market data relevant for determining the amount payable by the Issuer under the terms of the Warrants or Certificates, in particular:

- (a) reference market levels and volatilities for the relevant underlying assets, including forward looking predictions of their curves;
- (b) valuations of the correlation of the underlying assets; and
- (c) any relevant currency exchange rate.

The Valuation Model also utilises, as a fixed parameter, the credit spread of the Issuer (and the Guarantor, if applicable) taken at the Trade Date. The model is a quantitative model and is subject to internal approvals, controls and verifications to ensure it performs the relevant calculations systematically. No discretionary amendments can be made to the methodology of the Valuation Model.

On any given day, the Valuation Model calculates the financial opportunity cost for the Issuer to redeem the Warrants or Certificates on the relevant Model-based Redemption Date (Call).

7.3.2 Model-based Redemption

The Warrants or Certificates will be terminated, in whole but not in part, on a Model-based Redemption Date (Call) if the output of the Valuation Model determined by the Determination Agent at any time on a day that is no earlier than three (3) Business Days before and no later than a Model-based Redemption Determination Cut-off Date (Call) (any such date a "Model-based Redemption Determination Date (Call)") indicates, in the Determination Agent's reasonable opinion, that terminating the Warrants or Securities would be economically more rational for the Issuer than not terminating the Warrants or Securities. If so, the Issuer will notify Securityholders on the "Model-based Redemption Notice Date (Call)" which will not be less than five (5) Business Days' prior to the Model-based Redemption Date (Call) and Securityholders will be entitled to receive the Model-based Redemption Amount (Call).

An early termination of the Warrants or Certificates will not automatically occur based solely on the performance of the underlying assets.

7.3.3 Use of discretion

The Determination Agent maintains discretion, which shall be exercised in good faith, in the interpretation of the outputs of the Valuation Model and on the date and time when such outputs are observed (provided that such date and time shall be no earlier than three (3) Business Days before and no later than a Model-based Redemption Determination Cut-off Date (Call)), and therefore maintains discretion with respect to the final decision to terminate the Warrants or Certificates (as applicable).

9.1 Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption:

- (a) If Reference Date is not a Scheduled Trading Day, the relevant Reference Date shall be the next succeeding Scheduled Trading Day or, if either "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" or "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the next succeeding Common Scheduled Trading Day.
- (b) If any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day, then:
 - (i) in the case of a Single Index Security, Single Share Security or Single ETF Security, the relevant Reference Date shall be the earlier of (i) the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not in the determination of the Determination Agent a Disrupted Day and (ii) the Reference Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding that such Scheduled Trading Day is a Disrupted Day).

 - (A) where "Individual Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then:
 - (1) the Reference Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Reference Date for such Basket Component; and

 - (C) in respect of a Share Basket Security, the arithmetic mean of the amounts for the Basket of Shares determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion as provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement as of the relevant Determination Time(s) on each Averaging Date or, if no means for determining the Settlement Price are so provided, the arithmetic mean of the amounts for the Basket calculated on each Averaging Date as the sum of the values calculated for the Shares of each Share Issuer as the product of (1) the Relevant Price of such Share and (2) the number of such Shares comprised in the Basket;

- (ii) If, in respect of a Single Index Security, a Single Share Security or a Single ETF Security, a Scheduled Averaging Date is determined by the Determination Agent to be a Disrupted Day, then if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is:
 - (A) "Omission", then such date will be deemed not to be a relevant Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date for the purposes of determining the relevant Settlement Price provided that, if through the operation of this provision no Averaging Date would occur with respect to the relevant Reference Date, then Condition 9.1(b) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) will apply for purposes of determining the relevant level, price or amount on the final Averaging Date in respect of that Reference Date as if such final Averaging Date were a Reference Date that was a Disrupted Day;
 - (B) "Postponement", then Condition 9.1(b) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) will apply for the purposes of determining the relevant level, price or amount on that date as if such date were a Reference Date that was a Disrupted Day irrespective of whether, pursuant to such determination, that deferred Averaging Date would fall on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date for the relevant Warrants or Certificates; or
 - (C) "Modified Postponement", then the Averaging Date shall be the earlier of (I) the first Valid Date following the Scheduled Averaging Date and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date.

Any day (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the Averaging Cut-Off Date) determined to be an Averaging Date as a result of the operation of this Condition 9.1(c)(iii)(A)(2)(b) shall be an Averaging Date, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date; or
- (3) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Modified Postponement":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (I) the first Valid Date following the Scheduled Averaging Date in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date;
- (B) where "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
 - (1) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Omission", such date will be deemed not to be a relevant Averaging Date in respect of any Basket Component for the purposes of determining the relevant Settlement Price provided that, if through the operation of this provision there would be no Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date, then the sole Averaging Date for each Basket Component shall be the earlier of (A) the first Common Scheduled Trading Day following the Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day for any Basket Component and (B) the Averaging Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding the fact that such Averaging Cut-Off Date may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day);
 - (2) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Postponement", then the Averaging Date shall be the earlier of (A) the first Common Scheduled Trading Day following the Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component and (B) the Averaging Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding the fact that such Averaging Cut-Off Date may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day). Any day (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the Averaging Cut-Off Date) determined to be an Averaging Date as a result of the operation of this Condition 9.1(c)(iii)(B)(2) shall be an

Averaging Date, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date; or

- (3) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Modified Postponement", then the Averaging Date for each Basket Component shall be the earlier of (I) the first Common Valid Date following the Scheduled Averaging Date and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding the fact that such Averaging Cut-Off Date may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day), irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date;
- (C) where "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
 - (1) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Omission":

 - (2) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Postponement":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (I) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component (notwithstanding the fact that such day not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day). Any day (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the Averaging Cut-Off Date) determined to be an Averaging Date as a result of the operation of this Condition 9.1(c)(iii)(C)(2)(b) shall be an Averaging Date, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date; or
 - (3) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Modified Postponement":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and

- (b) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (I) the first Valid Date (that is a Scheduled Trading Day) following the Scheduled Averaging Date in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date;
- (iv) If, in respect of any Single Index Security, Single Share Security, Single ETF Security, Index Basket Security, Share Basket Security or ETF Basket Security or Hybrid Equity Basket Security (as the case may be), an Averaging Date falls on the relevant Averaging Cut-Off Date pursuant to Condition 9.1(b)(ii):
 - (A) if such Averaging Cut-Off Date is not a Disrupted Day for the relevant Index, Share or ETF Interest (as the case may be), the Determination Agent shall determine the level of such Index or the value of such Share or ETF Interest (as the case may be) as at the Determination Time on such Averaging Cut-Off Date; or
 - (B) if such Averaging Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day:
 - (1) in respect of the relevant Index, the Determination Agent shall determine, in its reasonable discretion, the level of such Index as of the Determination Time on such date in accordance with the formula for and method of calculating such Index last in effect prior to the occurrence of the first Disrupted Day using (x) in except in respect of a Proprietary Index, the Exchange traded or quoted price as of the Determination Time on such Averaging Cut-Off Date of each security comprised in that Index (or, if an event giving rise to a Disrupted Day has occurred in respect of the relevant security on such Averaging Cut-Off Date, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant security as of the Determination Time on such Averaging Cut-Off Date) and (y) in respect of a Proprietary Index, such levels or values as the Determination Agent determines to be appropriate as of the Determination Time on or in respect of that Averaging Cut-Off Date in respect of each Component comprised in such Proprietary Index in respect of such Averaging Cut-off Date; and
 - (2) in respect of the relevant Share or ETF Interest (as the case may be), the Determination Agent shall determine, in its reasonable discretion, its good faith estimate of the value for such Share or ETF Interest (as the case may be) as of the Determination Time on such Averaging Cut-Off Date.
- (v) If any Averaging Dates in relation to a Reference Date occur after that Reference Date as a result of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day, then (i) the relevant Exercise Date or, as the case may be, the relevant Physical Settlement Date or (ii) the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event, an Extraordinary ETF Event, an Index Adjustment Event, a Potential Adjustment Event or an Additional Disruption Event shall be determined by reference to the last such Averaging Date as though it were that Reference Date.

9.2 Adjustments to Indices

This Condition 9.2 (Adjustments to Indices) is applicable only in relation to Warrants or Certificates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being Single Index Securities or Index Basket Securities.

- (a) Successor Index: If a relevant Index is (i) not calculated and announced by the Index Sponsor, but is calculated and announced by a successor sponsor acceptable to the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion or (ii) replaced by a Successor Index using, in the determination of the Determination Agent (such determination to be at the Determination Agent's reasonable discretion), the same or a substantially similar formula for and method of calculation as used in the calculation of that Index, then in each case that index (the "Successor Index") will be deemed to be the Index or as being Hybrid Equity Basket Securities where one or more of the Basket Components is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be an Index.

(b) Index Cancellation or Administrator/Benchmark Event Date:

If on or prior to any Reference Date or Averaging Date either (1) the Index Sponsor permanently cancels the Index and no Successor Index exists (an "Index Cancellation") or (2) the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and an Administrator/Benchmark Event and an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of such Index, then:

(i) If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and if an Alternative Pre-nominated Index has been specified in relation to such Index in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then:

(A) the Determination Agent shall attempt to determine an Adjustment Payment;

(B) if the Determination Agent determines an Adjustment Payment,

(aa) it shall notify the Issuer of the Adjustment Payment and if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Securityholder would (but for Condition 9.2(b)(i)(B)(cc)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Note, request the Issuer to notify the Determination Agent whether it intends to terminate the Warrants or Certificates pursuant to Condition 9.2(d) (Termination for Index Adjustment Event). If the Issuer does not intend to terminate the Warrants or Certificates pursuant to Condition 9.2(d) (Termination for Index Adjustment Event) then the following provisions of this Condition 9.2(b)(i) (Index Cancellation or Administrator/Benchmark Event Date) shall apply;

(bb) the terms of the Warrants or Certificates shall be amended so that references to the Index are replaced by references to the Alternative Pre-nominated Index;

(cc) the Conditions shall be adjusted to implement the Adjustment Payment as follows:

(a) if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Issuer is required to pay in respect of each Security, the Determination Agent shall adjust the Conditions to provide for the payment of the Adjustment Payment on the date when the Warrants or Certificates are settled in full; or

(b) if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Securityholder would (but for this Condition 9.2(b)(i)(B)(cc)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Security, the Determination Agent shall adjust the Conditions to provide for the reduction of the amounts due by the Issuer until the aggregate amount of such reductions is equal to the Adjustment Payment, (subject, in the determination of the Determination Agent, to any minimum settlement amount of the Warrants or Certificates which the Determination Agent determines is required pursuant to any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law) and the rules of each listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system by which the Warrants or Certificates have then been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation);

(dd) the Determination Agent shall make such other adjustments to the Conditions as it determines necessary or appropriate in order to account for the effect of the replacement of the Index with the Alternative Pre-nominated Index and/or to preserve as nearly as practicable the economic equivalence of the Warrants or Certificates before and after the replacement of the Index with the Alternative Pre-nominated Index; and

- (ee) the Determination Agent shall notify the Issuer, the Principal Securities Agent and the Securityholders of any replacement of the Index by the Alternative Pre-nominated Index, the Adjustment Payment and any other adjustments to the Conditions, giving summary details of the adjustment(s), provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.
- (C) If the Determination Agent is unable to determine an Adjustment Payment, then Condition 9.2(d) (Termination for Index Adjustment Event) shall apply.
- (ii) If the applicable Pricing Supplement does not specify that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable or, if the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable but does not specify an Alternative Pre-nominated Index in relation to the Relevant Equity Index Benchmark, then Condition 9.2(d) (Termination for Index Adjustment Event) shall apply.
- (c) Index Modification and Index Disruption:

If (i) on or prior to any Reference Date or Averaging Date, a relevant Index Sponsor announces that it will make a material change in the formula for or the method of calculating that Index or in any other way materially modifies that Index (other than a modification prescribed in that formula or method to maintain that Index in the event of changes in constituents and capitalisation and other routine events) (an "Index Modification") or (ii) on any Reference Date or Averaging Date, the Index Sponsor fails to calculate and announce a relevant Index (provided that the Determination Agent may, in its reasonable discretion, determine that, in respect of a Multi-Exchange Index or a Proprietary Index, such failure to calculate and announce such Index shall instead be a Disrupted Day in respect of such Index) (an "Index Disruption") then the Determination Agent shall determine if such Index Modification or Index Disruption has a material effect on the Warrants or Certificates and, if so, subject to Condition 9.2(d) (Termination for Index Adjustment Event), shall calculate in its reasonable discretion the relevant Settlement Price or Relevant Price, as applicable, using, in lieu of a published level for that Index, the level for that Index as at that Reference Date or, as the case may be, that Averaging Date as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion in accordance with the formula for and method of calculating that Index last in effect prior to that change, failure or cancellation, but using only those securities that comprised that Index immediately prior to that Index Adjustment Event.
- (d) Termination for Index Adjustment Event:

If:

 - (i) an Index Cancellation occurs and the Pricing Supplement does not specify that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable;
 - (ii) an Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable but does not specify an Alternative Pre-nominated Index;
 - (iii) an Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and specifies an Alternative Pre-nominated Index but the Determination Agent is unable to determine the Adjustment Payment;
 - (iv) an Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and specifies an Alternative Pre-nominated Index and the Determination Agent determines that the Adjustment

Payment would be an amount that the Securityholder would (but for Condition 9.2(b)(i)(B)(cc)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Security; or

- (v) an Index Modification or an Index Disruption occurs and it (a) would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (b) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, in each case for the Determination Agent to calculate the relevant Settlement Price or Relevant Price, as applicable, in accordance with Condition 9.2(c) (Index Modification and Index Disruption), then the Issuer may, at any time thereafter and in its reasonable discretion, determine that the Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated as of any later date. If the Issuer so determines that the Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated, then the Warrants and Certificates shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive the Shares or ETF Interests or payment of the Cash Settlement Amount pursuant to such exercise shall cease) as of such later date and the Issuer will pay an amount in respect of each Warrant or Certificate which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.

The Issuer's obligations under the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the exercise, settlement or payment terms of the relevant Warrants or Certificates and/or any other adjustment, which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine. The Principal Securities Agent shall provide notice to the Securityholders of any such change or adjustment in accordance with Condition 29.7 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.

- (e) Correction of Index Levels: If the level of an Index published by the Index Sponsor and which is utilised by the Determination Agent for any calculation or determination (the "Original Determination") under the Securities is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Value") is published by the Index Sponsor by such time as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if none is so specified, within one Settlement Cycle after the original publication and prior to the relevant payment date), then the Determination Agent will notify the Issuer and the Principal Securities Agent of the Corrected Value as soon as reasonably practicable and shall determine the relevant value (the "Replacement Determination") using the Corrected Value. If the result of the Replacement Determination is different from the result of the Original Determination, to the extent that it determines to be necessary and practicable, the Determination Agent may adjust any relevant terms accordingly.
- (f) Additional Disruption Events: If Additional Disruption Events are specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then, if an Additional Disruption Event occurs in respect of an Index or Indices:
 - (i) the Determination Agent will determine, in its reasonable discretion the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any one or more of the Conditions relating to the calculation of Cash Settlement Amount and/or any other amounts applicable to the Securities set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement and/or remove and/or substitute the affected Index, to account for the Additional Disruption Event and determine the effective date of that adjustment; or
 - (ii) by giving notice to Securityholders in accordance with Condition 29 (Notices), the Issuer, in its reasonable discretion, may redeem all, but not some only, of the Securities, each Security being redeemed at the Early Settlement Amount.

Upon the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer shall give notice, as soon as practicable, to the Securityholders in accordance with Condition 29 (Notices) stating the occurrence of the Additional Disruption Event, as the case may be, giving details thereof and the action to be taken.

- (g) Notice: Upon the occurrence of an Index Adjustment Event, the Determination Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Securityholders in accordance with Condition 29 (Notices) giving details of the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto.

9.3 Adjustments affecting Shares and ETF Interests

This Condition 9.3 (Adjustments affecting Shares and ETF Interests) is applicable only in relation to Single Share Securities, Single ETF Securities, Share Basket Securities, ETF Basket Securities or as being Hybrid Equity Basket Securities where one or more of the Basket Components is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be an Index.

- (a) Adjustments for Potential Adjustment Events: Following the declaration by the Share Issuer, the relevant ETF or an ETF Service Provider of the terms of a Potential Adjustment Event, the Determination Agent will determine whether such Potential Adjustment Event has a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Shares or ETF Interests and, if so, will (i) make such adjustment as it in its reasonable discretion considers appropriate, if any, to the Strike Price, to the formula for the Cash Settlement Amount and/or the Settlement Price set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the number of Shares or ETF Interests to which each Warrant or Certificate relates, the number of Shares or ETF Interests comprised in a Basket, the amount, the number of or type of shares, fund interests or other securities which may be delivered in respect of such Warrants or Certificates and/or any other adjustment and, in any case, any other variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, payment or other terms of the relevant Warrants or Certificates as the Determination Agent determines, in its reasonable discretion, to be appropriate to account for that diluting or concentrative effect and (ii) determine, in its reasonable discretion, the effective date(s) of such adjustment(s). The Determination Agent may (but need not) determine the appropriate adjustment(s) by reference to the adjustment(s) in respect of such Potential Adjustment Event made by an options exchange or futures exchange to options or futures on the relevant Shares or ETF Interests, as the case may be, traded on such options exchange or futures exchange. The Principal Securities Agent shall provide notice to the Securityholders of any such change or adjustment in accordance with Condition 29.7 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.
- (b) Correction of Share and ETF Interest Prices: If any price published on the Exchange and which is utilised by the Determination Agent for any calculation or determination (the "Original Determination") under the Warrants or Certificates is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Value") is published by the Exchange by such time as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if none is so specified, within one Settlement Cycle after the original publication and prior to the Expiration Date), then the Determination Agent will notify the Issuer and the Principal Securities Agent of the Corrected Value as soon as reasonably practicable and shall determine the relevant value (the "Replacement Determination") using the Corrected Value. If the result of the Replacement Determination is different from the result of the Original Determination, to the extent that it determines to be necessary and practicable, the Determination Agent may adjust any relevant terms accordingly. The Principal Securities Agent shall provide notice to the Securityholders of any such change or adjustment in accordance with Condition 29.7 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.

9.4 Extraordinary Events

This Condition 9.4 (Extraordinary Events) is applicable only in relation to Warrants or Certificates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being Single Share Securities, Single ETF Securities, Share Basket Securities or ETF Basket Securities or as being Hybrid Equity Basket Securities where one or more of the Basket Components is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be a Share or an ETF Interest.

(a) Merger Event or Tender Offer:

- (i) Following the occurrence of any Merger Event or Tender Offer, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue or shall be redeemed early.
- (ii) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue, the Determination Agent may:
 - (A) substitute any Affected Share/ETF Interest with the Successor Share/ETF Interest relating to such Affected Share/ETF Interest, provided that if no Successor Share/ETF Interest has been identified within 10 Business Days of the Extraordinary Event Notice Date (as defined below), then sub-paragraph (B) below shall apply; and/or
 - (B) make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to the Strike Price, to the formula for the Cash Settlement Amount and/or the Settlement Price set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the number of Shares or ETF Interests to which each Warrant or Certificate relates, the number of Shares or ETF Interests comprised in a Basket, the amount, the number of or type of shares or other securities which may be delivered under such Warrants or Certificates and, in any case, any other variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Warrants or Certificates and/or any other adjustment (including, without limitation, in relation to Share Basket Warrants or Certificates, ETF Basket Warrants or Certificates or Hybrid Equity Basket Warrants or Certificates, the cancellation of terms applicable in respect of the Shares or ETF Interests affected by the relevant Merger Event or Tender Offer), which may, but need not, be determined by reference to the adjustment(s) made in respect of such Merger Event or Tender Offer by an options exchange or futures exchange to options or futures on the relevant Shares or ETF Interests, as the case may be, traded on such options exchange or futures exchange, which adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine.

The Principal Securities Agent shall provide notice to the Securityholders of (a) any Successor Share/ETF Interest identified in accordance with sub-paragraph (A) above and (b) any change or adjustment made in accordance with sub-paragraph (B) above, in each case in accordance with Condition 29.7 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, if applicable, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.

- (iii) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated then the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall cease to be exercisable as of the Merger Date (in the case of a Merger Event) or Tender Offer Date (in the case of a Tender Offer) (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised but remain unsettled, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive Underlying Securities or the Cash Settlement Amount, as the case may be, pursuant to such exercise shall cease) and the Issuer's obligations under the Warrants or Certificates shall be satisfied in full upon payment of an amount in respect of each Warrant or Certificate equal to the Early Settlement Amount.
- (iv) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Principal Securities Agent of the Determination Agent's determination of the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event that is a Merger Event or Tender Offer (the date of such notice, the "Extraordinary Event Notice Date").
- (v) For the purposes hereof:

"Affected Share/ETF Interest" means, at any time, any Share or ETF Interest, as applicable, in respect of which the Determination Agent has determined that a Merger Event or Tender Offer has occurred.

"Merger Date" means the closing date of a Merger Event or, where a closing date cannot be determined under the local law applicable to such Merger Event, such other date as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion;

"Merger Event" means, in respect of any relevant Shares or ETF Interests, as determined by the Determination Agent, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, any: (i) reclassification or change of such Shares or ETF Interests that results in a transfer of or an irrevocable commitment to transfer all of such Shares or ETF Interests outstanding to another entity or person, (ii) consolidation, amalgamation, merger or binding share exchange of the Share Issuer or ETF with or into another entity or person (other than a consolidation, amalgamation, merger or binding share exchange in which such Share Issuer or ETF is the continuing entity and which does not result in a reclassification or change of all such Shares or ETF Interests outstanding), (iii) takeover offer, tender offer, exchange offer, solicitation, proposal or other event by any entity or person to purchase or otherwise obtain 100 per cent. of the outstanding Shares or ETF Interests of the Share Issuer or ETF that results in a transfer of or an irrevocable commitment to transfer all such Shares or ETF Interests (other than such Shares or ETF Interests owned or controlled by such other entity or person), or (iv) consolidation, amalgamation, merger or binding share exchange of the Share Issuer or its subsidiaries or ETF or its sub funds with or into another entity in which the Share Issuer or ETF is the continuing entity and which does not result in a reclassification or change of all such Shares or ETF Interests outstanding but results in the outstanding Shares or ETF Interests (other than Shares or ETF Interests owned or controlled by such other entity) immediately prior to such event collectively representing less than 50 per cent. of the outstanding Shares or ETF Interests immediately following such event (a "Reverse Merger"), in each case if the Merger Date is on or before, (A) in respect of Physical Settlement Securities, the later to occur of the Exercise Date and the Physical Settlement Date or, (B) in any other case, the final Reference Date.

"Successor Share/ETF Interest" means, in respect of an Affected Share/ETF Interest, (1) if specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, any Eligible Share or Eligible ETF Interest, as applicable; (2) if no Eligible Share or Eligible ETF Interest, as applicable, is specified, the successor Share or ETF Interest, as applicable, as determined by the Determination Agent, using commercially reasonable efforts, taking into account any factors which the Determination Agent determines to be relevant, including (but not limited to) the existence of any other Share or ETF Interest, as applicable, that is linked to or is a constituent of the same underlying index or asset as the Affected Share/ETF Interest, liquidity of the proposed successor Share or ETF Interest, as applicable, the prevailing market conditions at the time the Determination Agent makes its determination, the circumstances of the relevant Extraordinary Event, and the Issuer's hedging arrangements in respect of the relevant Warrants or Certificates; or (3) if the Determination Agent determines that it is unable to determine a suitable successor Share or ETF Interest, as applicable, the Determination Agent may determine that, where the Affected Share/ETF Interest is linked to the relevant underlying index (the "Related Underlying Index"), such Related Underlying Index (to the extent relevant) shall be the Successor Share/ETF Interest and the provisions applicable to Single Index Securities or Index Basket Securities (as the case may be) will apply to the relevant Warrants or Certificates with such adjustments as the Determination Agent determines to be appropriate.

"Tender Offer" means, in respect of any Shares or ETF Interests, as determined by the Determination Agent, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, a takeover offer, tender offer, exchange offer, solicitation, proposal or other event by any entity or person that results in such entity or person purchasing, or otherwise obtaining or having the right to obtain, by conversion or other means, greater than 10 per cent. and less than 100 per cent. of the outstanding voting shares of the Share Issuer or ETF, as determined by the Determination Agent, based upon the making of filings with governmental or self-regulatory agencies or such other information as the Determination Agent deems relevant.

"Tender Offer Date" means, in respect of a Tender Offer, the date on which voting shares in the amount of the applicable percentage threshold are actually purchased or otherwise obtained, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion.

- (b) Nationalisation, Insolvency and Delisting:

- (i) If in the determination of the Determination Agent, acting in a commercially reasonable manner:
- (A) all the Shares or ETF Interests or all or substantially all the assets of a Share Issuer, ETF or ETF Service Provider are nationalised, expropriated or are otherwise required to be transferred to any governmental agency, authority, entity or instrumentality thereof ("Nationalisation"); or
 - (B) by reason of the voluntary or involuntary liquidation, bankruptcy, insolvency, dissolution or winding up of, or any analogous proceeding affecting, a Share Issuer, ETF or ETF Service Provider, (1) all the Shares or ETF Interests of that Share Issuer, ETF or ETF Service Provider are required to be transferred to a trustee, liquidator or other similar official or (2) holders of the Shares or ETF Interests of that Share Issuer, ETF or ETF Service provider become legally prohibited from transferring them ("Insolvency"); or
 - (C) the Exchange announces that pursuant to the rules of such Exchange, the Shares or ETF Interests cease (or will cease) to be listed, traded or publicly quoted on the Exchange for any reason (other than a Merger Event or Tender Offer) and are not immediately re listed, re traded or re quoted on an exchange or quotation system located in the same country as the Exchange (or, where the Exchange is within the European Union, in any Member State of the European Union) ("Delisting"),
- then the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the Warrants or Certificates shall continue.
- (ii) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue, the Determination Agent may:
- (A) substitute any Affected Share/ETF Interest with the Successor Share/ETF Interest relating to such Affected Share/ETF Interest, provided that if no Successor Share/ETF Interest has been identified within 10 Business Days of the Extraordinary Event Notice Date, then sub-paragraph (B) below shall apply; and/or
 - (B) make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to the Strike Price to the formula for the Cash Settlement Amount and/or the Settlement Price set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the number of Shares or ETF Interests to which each Warrant or Certificate relates, the number of Shares or ETF Interests comprised in a Basket, the amount, the number of or type of shares or other securities which may be delivered under such Warrants or Certificates and, in any case, any other variable relevant to the settlement or payment terms of the relevant Warrants or Certificates and/or any other adjustment (including without limitation, in relation to Share Basket Securities, ETF Basket Securities or Hybrid Equity Basket Securities, the removal from the Basket of the Shares or ETF Interests affected by the relevant Nationalisation, Insolvency or Delisting with effect from the day selected by the Determination Agent, and the adjustment of the such terms of the Warrants or Certificates as the Determination Agent considers to be appropriate as a result of such removal), which may, but need not, be determined by reference to the adjustment(s) made in respect of such Nationalisation, Insolvency or Delisting by an options exchange or futures exchange to options or futures on the relevant Shares or ETF Interests, as the case may be, traded on such options exchange or futures exchange, which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine.

The Principal Securities Agent shall provide notice to the Securityholders of (a) any Successor Share/ETF Interest identified in accordance with sub-paragraph (A) above and (b) any adjustment made in accordance with sub-paragraph (B) above, in each case in accordance with Condition 29.7 (Notices), giving summary details of the adjustment, if applicable, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such adjustment.

- (iii) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Principal Securities Agent of the Determination Agent's determination of the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event.
- (iv) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated, then the Warrants or Certificates shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive the Shares or ETF Interests or the payment of the Cash Settlement Amount pursuant to such exercise shall cease) as of such later date and the Issuer will pay an amount in respect of each Warrant or Certificate which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.
- (v) For the purposes hereof:

"Affected Share/ETF Interest" means, at any time, any Share or ETF Interest, as applicable, in respect of which the Determination Agent has determined that a Nationalisation, Insolvency or Delisting has occurred.

"Successor Share/ETF Interest" has the meaning given to it in Condition 9.4(a)(v).

9.5 Extraordinary ETF Events

This Condition 9.5 (Extraordinary ETF Events) is applicable only in relation to Single ETF Securities or ETF Basket Securities or Hybrid Equity Basket Securities where one or more of the Basket Components is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be an ETF Interest.

- (a) Following the occurrence of any Extraordinary ETF Event, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue or shall be redeemed early. The Determination Agent shall not have any obligation to monitor the occurrence of an Extraordinary ETF Event nor shall it have any obligation to make a determination that an Extraordinary ETF Event has occurred and is continuing.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue, the Determination Agent may:
 - (i) substitute any Affected ETF Interest with the Successor ETF Interest relating to such Affected ETF interest, provided that if no Successor ETF Interest has been identified in the manner set forth below within 10 Business Days of the Extraordinary ETF Event Notice Date (as defined below), then sub-paragraph (ii) below shall apply; and/or
 - (ii) make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to the Strike Price to the formula for the Cash Settlement Amount and/or the Settlement Price set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the number of ETF Interests to which each Warrant or Certificate relates, the number of ETF Interests comprised in a Basket, the amount, the number of or type of shares or other securities which may be delivered under such Warrants or Certificates and, in any case, any other variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Warrants or Certificates and/or any other adjustment (including, without limitation, in relation to ETF Basket Securities or Hybrid Equity Basket Securities (as the case may be), the cancellation of terms applicable in respect of ETF Interests affected by the relevant Extraordinary ETF Event) (including, without limitation, in relation to ETF Basket Securities or Hybrid Equity Basket Securities, the removal from the Basket of ETF Interests affected by the relevant Extraordinary ETF Event with effect from the day selected by the Determination Agent) to account for the economic effect on the Warrants or Certificates of such Extraordinary ETF Event, which may, but need not, be determined by reference to the adjustment(s) made in respect of such Extraordinary ETF Event by an options exchange or futures exchange to options or futures on the relevant ETF Interest traded on such options exchange or futures exchange, which adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine.

The Principal Securities Agent shall provide notice to the Securityholders of (a) any Successor ETF Interest identified in accordance with sub-paragraph (i) above, as soon as reasonably practicable after the date on which such Successor ETF Interest is identified, if applicable, and (b) any adjustment made in accordance with sub-paragraph (ii) above, in each case in accordance with Condition 29.7 (Notices), giving summary details of the adjustment, if applicable, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such adjustment.

- (c) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated, then the Warrants or Certificates shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive the ETF Interests or the payment of the Cash Settlement Amount pursuant to such exercise shall cease) as of such later date and the Issuer will pay an amount in respect of each Warrant or Certificate which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.
- (d) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Principal Securities Agent of the Determination Agent's determination of the occurrence of an Extraordinary ETF Event (the date of such notice, the "Extraordinary ETF Event Notice Date").
- (e) For the purposes hereof:

"Extraordinary ETF Event" shall mean, with respect to an ETF or ETF Service Provider (as the case may be), the occurrence of any of the following events, as determined by the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion:

- (i) there exists any litigation against the ETF or an ETF Service Provider which in the reasonable discretion of the Determination Agent could materially affect the value of the ETF Interests or on the rights or remedies of any investor therein;

Any such reimbursement shall be effected in such manner as the Issuer shall agree with the Principal Securities Agent and shall be notified to the relevant Securityholder(s) by facsimile or telex to the number specified in the relevant Exercise Notice.

10.2 Commodity Disruption Events

- (a) If so specified in the Pricing Supplement relating to any Series of Commodity-Linked Securities, the following shall constitute "Commodity Disruption Events" for the purposes of such Series:
- (i) "Price Source Disruption", which means (A) the failure of the Price Source to announce or publish the Specified Price (or the information necessary for determining the Specified Price) for the relevant Commodity Reference Price, (B) the temporary or permanent discontinuance or unavailability of the Price Source, (C) if the Commodity Reference Price is "Commodity Reference Dealers", the failure to obtain at least three quotations from the relevant Reference Dealers or (D) if Price Materiality Percentage is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Specified Price for the relevant Commodity Reference Price differs from the Specified Price determined in accordance with the Commodity Reference Price "Commodity-Reference Dealers" by such Price Materiality Percentage;
 - (ii) "Trading Disruption", which means the material suspension of, or the material limitation imposed on, trading in the Futures Contract or the Commodity on the Exchange or in any additional futures contract, options contract or commodity on any Exchange as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. The determination of whether a suspension of or limitation on trading is material shall be made by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion;
 - (iii) "Disappearance of Commodity Reference Price", which means (A) the permanent discontinuation of trading in the relevant Futures Contract on the relevant Exchange, (B) the disappearance of, or of trading in, the relevant Commodity, or (C) the disappearance or permanent discontinuance or unavailability of a Commodity Reference Price, notwithstanding the availability of the related Price Source or the status of trading in the relevant Futures Contract or the relevant Commodity;
 - (iv) "Material Change in Content", which means the occurrence since the Trade Date of a material change in the content, composition or constitution of the relevant Commodity or relevant Futures Contract;
 - (v) "Material Change in Formula", which means the occurrence since the Trade Date of a material change in the formula for or method of calculating the relevant Commodity Reference Price;
 - (vi) "Tax Disruption", which means the imposition of, change in or removal of an excise, severance, sales, use, value-added, transfer, stamp, documentary, recording or similar tax on, or measured by reference to, the relevant Commodity (other than a tax on, or measured by reference to, overall gross or net income) by any government or taxation authority after the Trade Date, if the direct effect of such imposition, change or removal is to raise or lower the Relevant Price on the day that would otherwise be a Pricing Date from what it would have been without that imposition, change or removal; and
 - (vii) any other (if any) Commodity Disruption Event specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
- (b) If the applicable Pricing Supplement for a Series of Commodity-Linked Securities specifies that any Commodity Disruption Event shall be applicable to such Series, then, where the Determination Agent determines, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, that such Commodity Disruption Event has occurred and is continuing in respect of such Series on the Pricing Date in respect of such Series (or, if different, the day on which prices for that Pricing Date would, in the ordinary course, be published or announced by the Price Source), or on any other day as may be specified for this purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then the Relevant Price will be determined, or the Warrants or Certificates of such Series shall be settled following exercise, as the case may be, in accordance with the terms of the Commodity Disruption Fallback applicable pursuant to Condition 10.3 (Commodity Disruption Fallbacks).

10.3 Commodity Disruption Fallbacks

Where one or more Commodity Disruption Event occurs or exists, then unless the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that any other Commodity Disruption Fallback shall apply in respect of any such Commodity Disruption Event, "Determination Agent Determination" shall apply.

"Determination Agent Determination" means that the Determination Agent will determine, in its reasonable discretion, the Relevant Price (or a method for determining the Relevant Price), taking into consideration the latest available quotation for the relevant Commodity Reference Price and any other information that it deems relevant.

10.4 Administrator/Benchmark Events

If the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable and an Administrator/Benchmark Event and an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occur in respect of any Relevant Commodity Benchmark (other than a Commodity Index):

- (a) the Commodity Disruption Fallbacks specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to apply with respect to an Administrator/Benchmark Event will apply, or if none is so specified, or if none is so specified, Determination Agent Determination (as such term is defined in Condition 10.3 (Commodity Disruption Fallbacks)) shall be deemed to apply;
- (b) if it (i) is or would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (ii) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, in each case for the Issuer, the Determination Agent or the Calculation Agent to perform the actions prescribed in an applicable Commodity Disruption Fallback (or it would be unlawful or would contravene those licensing requirements were a determination to be made at such time), the next applicable Commodity Disruption Fallback will apply;
- (c) if the Determination Agent determines that the last applicable Commodity Disruption Fallback does not provide the Relevant Underlying Value (including due to the applicability of paragraph (b) above in relation to the last applicable Commodity Disruption Fallback), then the Issuer shall terminate the relevant Warrants or Certificates, which shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive payment of the Cash Settlement Amount pursuant to such exercise shall cease) and the Issuer will pay an amount in respect of each Warrant or Certificate which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.

The Issuer's obligations under the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount; and

- (d) the Determination Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Issuer, the Principal Securities Agent and the Securityholders of the occurrence of an Administrator/Benchmark Event and an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date and of any action taken as a consequence, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.

10.5 Common Pricing

With respect to Warrants or Certificates relating to a Basket of Commodities, if "Common Pricing" has been selected in the applicable Pricing Supplement as:

- (a) "Applicable", then no date will be a Pricing Date unless such date is a day on which all referenced Commodity Reference Prices (for which such date would otherwise be a Pricing Date) are scheduled to be published or announced, as determined as of the time of issue of the Warrants or Certificates.

- (b) "Inapplicable", then if the Determination Agent determines that a Commodity Disruption Event has occurred or exists on the Pricing Date in respect of any Commodity in the Basket (the "Affected Commodity"), the Relevant Price of each Commodity within the basket which is not affected by the occurrence of a Commodity Disruption Event shall be determined on its scheduled Pricing Date and the Relevant Price for the Affected Commodity shall be determined in accordance with the first applicable Commodity Disruption Fallback that provides a Commodity Reference Price.

10.6 Commodity Index Disruption Events

- (a) The following shall constitute "Commodity Index Disruption Events" for the purposes of any Series of Warrants or Certificates with respect to a Commodity Index:
 - (i) a temporary or permanent failure by the applicable exchange or other price source to announce or publish the final settlement price for the relevant Commodity Index; or
 - (ii) the occurrence in respect of any Component of the relevant Commodity Index of a Commodity Disruption Event (as defined in Condition 10.2(a) (Commodity Disruption Events)).
- (b) Where the Determination Agent determines, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, that a Commodity Index Disruption Event has occurred and is continuing in respect of a Series on the Pricing Date in respect of such Series (or, if different, the day on which prices for that Pricing Date would, in the ordinary course, be published or announced by the Price Source), or on any other day as may be specified for this purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then (unless Condition 10.6(c) (Physical Hedging Fallback) applies) the following provisions shall apply:
 - (i) with respect to each Component which is not affected by the Commodity Index Disruption Event, the Relevant Price will be determined by the Determination Agent based on the closing prices of each such Component on the applicable Pricing Date;
 - (ii) with respect to each Component which is affected by the Commodity Index Disruption Event, the Relevant Price will be determined by the Determination Agent (in the case of any Dow Jones-UBS Commodity Index) as set out in the DJ UBSCI Manual or (in the case of any S&P Commodity Index) as set out in the Index Methodology, and in respect of any other Commodity Index as set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in each case based on the closing prices of each such Component on the first day following the applicable Pricing Date on which no Commodity Index Disruption Event occurs with respect to such Component;
 - (iii) subject to (iv) below, the Determination Agent shall determine the Relevant Price by reference to the closing prices determined in (i) and (ii) above using the then-current method for calculating the relevant Commodity Index; and
 - (iv) where a Commodity Index Disruption Event with respect to one or more Components continues to exist (measured from and including the first day following the applicable determination date) for five consecutive Trading Days, the Determination Agent shall determine the Relevant Price acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. In calculating the Relevant Price as set out in this paragraph (iv), the Determination Agent shall use the formula for calculating the relevant Commodity Index last in effect prior to the Commodity Index Disruption Event. For the purposes of this paragraph (iv), "Trading Day" shall mean a day when the exchanges for all Components included in the relevant Commodity Index are scheduled to be open for trading.
- (c) Physical Hedging Fallback: Where the Determination Agent determines that a Commodity Index Disruption Event has occurred and is continuing in respect of a Series on the Pricing Date in respect of such Series and "Physical Hedging Fallback" is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then the following provisions shall apply:
 - (i) with respect to each Component included in the Commodity Index which is not affected by the Commodity Index Disruption Event, the Relevant Price will be based on the closing prices of each such Component on the applicable determination date;

- (ii) with respect to each Component included in the Commodity Index which is affected by the Commodity Index Disruption Event, the Relevant Price will be based on the closing price of each such Component on the first day following the applicable determination date on which no Commodity Index Disruption Event occurs with respect to such Component;
 - (iii) subject to (iv) below, the Determination Agent shall determine the Relevant Price by reference to the closing prices determined in Condition 10.5(a) (Common Pricing) and 10.5(b) (Common Pricing) above using the then-current method for calculating the Relevant Price; and
 - (iv) where a Commodity Index Disruption Event with respect to one or more Components included in the Commodity Index continues to exist (measured from and including the first day following the applicable determination date) for five consecutive Trading Days, the Determination Agent shall determine the Relevant Price in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. For the purposes of this paragraph (iv), "Trading Day" shall mean a day when the exchanges for all Components included in the relevant Commodity Index are scheduled to be open for trading with respect to each Component included in the Commodity Index which is not affected by the Commodity Index Disruption Event, the Relevant Price will be based on the closing prices of each such Component on the applicable determination date.
- (d) If it (a) is or would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (b) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, for the Determination Agent to perform the actions prescribed in either Condition 10.6(b) (Commodity Index Disruption Events) or (c) (Physical Hedging Fallback) (as applicable) then the Issuer shall terminate the relevant Warrants or Certificates, which shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive payment of the Cash Settlement Amount pursuant to such exercise shall cease) and the Issuer will pay an amount in respect of each Warrant or Certificate which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.
- (e) The Determination Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Issuer, the Principal Securities Agent and the Securityholders of the occurrence of a Commodity Index Disruption Event and of any action taken as a consequence, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.

10.7 Adjustments to Commodity Index

- (a) If a Commodity Index with respect to a Commodity Reference Price is permanently cancelled or is not calculated and announced by the sponsor of such Commodity Index or any of its affiliates (together the "Sponsor") but (i) is calculated and announced by a successor sponsor (the "Successor Sponsor") acceptable to the Determination Agent, or (ii) replaced by a Successor Index (the "Successor Index") using, in the determination of the Determination Agent, the same or a substantially similar formula for and method of calculation as used in the calculation of such Commodity Index, then the Commodity Reference Price will be determined by reference to the Index so calculated and announced by that Successor Sponsor or that Successor Index, as the case may be.

(b) Commodity Index Cancellation or Administrator/Benchmark Event Date

If, for a Commodity Index with respect to a Commodity Reference Price, on or prior to the settlement date or early settlement date of the Warrants or Certificates, either (1) the Sponsor permanently cancels the Commodity Index and no Successor Index exists (a "Commodity Index Cancellation") or (2) the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and an Administrator/Benchmark Event and an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of such Commodity Index, then:

- (i) If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and if an Alternative Pre-nominated Index has been specified in relation to such Commodity Index in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then:
 - (A) the Determination Agent shall attempt to determine an Adjustment Payment;
 - (B) if the Determination Agent determines an Adjustment Payment,

- (aa) it shall notify the Issuer of the Adjustment Payment and if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Securityholder would (but for Condition 10.7(b)(i)(B)(cc)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Security, request the Issuer to notify the Determination Agent whether it intends to terminate the Warrants or Certificates pursuant to Condition 10.7(d) (Termination for Commodity Index Adjustment Event). If the Issuer does not intend to terminate the Warrants or Certificates pursuant to Condition 10.7(d) (Termination for Commodity Index Adjustment Event) then the following provisions of this Condition 10.7(b)(i) (Commodity Index Cancellation or Administrator/Benchmark Event Date) shall apply;
 - (bb) the terms of the Warrants or Certificates shall be amended so that references to the Commodity Index are replaced by references to the Alternative Pre-nominated Index;
 - (cc) the Conditions shall be adjusted to implement the Adjustment Payment as follows:
 - (a) if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Issuer is required to pay in respect of each Security, the Determination Agent shall adjust the Conditions to provide for the payment of the Adjustment Payment on the date when the Warrants or Certificates are settled in full; or
 - (b) if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Securityholder would (but for this Condition 10.7(b)(i)(B)(cc)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Security, the Determination Agent shall adjust the Conditions to provide for the reduction of the amounts due by the Issuer until the aggregate amount of such reductions is equal to the Adjustment Payment, (subject, in the determination of the Determination Agent, to any minimum settlement amount of the Warrants or Certificates which the Determination Agent determines is required pursuant to any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law) and the rules of each listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system by which the Warrants or Certificates have then been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation);
 - (dd) the Determination Agent shall make such other adjustments to the Conditions as it determines necessary or appropriate in order to account for the effect of the replacement of the Commodity Index with the Alternative Pre-nominated Index and/or to preserve as nearly as practicable the economic equivalence of the Warrants or Certificates before and after the replacement of the Commodity Index with the Alternative Pre-nominated Index; and
 - (ee) the Determination Agent shall notify the Issuer, the Principal Securities Agent and the Securityholders of any replacement of the Commodity Index by the Alternative Pre-nominated Index, the Adjustment Payment and any other adjustments to the Conditions, giving summary details of the adjustment(s), provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.
- (C) If the Determination Agent is unable to determine an Adjustment Payment, then Condition 10.7(d) (Termination for Commodity Index Adjustment Event) shall apply.
- (ii) If the applicable Pricing Supplement does not specify that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable or, if the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable but does not specify an Alternative Pre-nominated Index in relation to the Relevant Commodity Benchmark, then Condition 10.7(d) (Termination for Commodity Index Adjustment Event) shall apply.

(c) Commodity Index Modification and Commodity Index Disruption:

If, for a Commodity Index with respect to a Commodity Reference Price, on or prior to the settlement date or early settlement date of the Warrants or Certificates, (i) the Sponsor makes a material change in the formula for or the method of calculating such Commodity Index or in any other way materially modifies such Commodity Index (other than a modification prescribed in that formula or method to maintain the Commodity Index in the event of changes in constituent commodities and weightings and other routine events) (a "Commodity Index Modification") or, (ii) the Sponsor fails to calculate and announce the Commodity Index for a continuous period of three Trading Days and the Determination Agent determines that there is no Successor Sponsor or Successor Index (a "Commodity Index Disruption"), then the Determination Agent may at its option (in the case of (i)) and shall (in the case of (ii)) calculate the Relevant Price using in lieu of the published level for that Commodity Index (if any), the level for that Commodity Index as at the relevant determination date as determined by the Determination Agent in accordance with the formula for and method of calculating that Commodity Index last in effect prior to the relevant Commodity Index Adjustment Event, but using only those Components that comprised that Commodity Index immediately prior to the relevant Commodity Index Adjustment Event (other than those futures contracts that have ceased to be listed on any relevant exchange).

(d) Termination for Commodity Index Adjustment Event:

If:

- (i) a Commodity Index Cancellation occurs and the Pricing Supplement does not specify that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable;
- (ii) a Commodity Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of a Commodity Index, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable but does not specify an Alternative Pre-nominated Index;
- (iii) a Commodity Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of a Commodity Index, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and specifies an Alternative Pre-nominated Index but the Determination Agent is unable to determine the Adjustment Payment;
- (iv) a Commodity Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of a Commodity Index, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and specifies an Alternative Pre-nominated Index and the Determination Agent determines that the Adjustment Payment would be an amount that the Securityholder would (but for Condition 10.7(b)(i)(B)(cc)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Security; or
- (v) a Commodity Index Modification or a Commodity Index Disruption occurs and it (a) would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (b) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, in each case for the Determination Agent to calculate the Relevant Price in accordance with Condition 12.7(c) (Commodity Index Modification and Commodity Index Disruption),

then the Issuer may, at any time thereafter and in its reasonable discretion, determine that the Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated as of any later date. If the Issuer so determines that the Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated, then the Warrants and Certificates shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive payment of the Cash Settlement Amount pursuant to such exercise shall cease) as of such later date and the Issuer will pay an amount in respect of each Warrant or Certificate which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.

The Issuer's obligations under the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the exercise, settlement or payment terms of the relevant Warrants or Certificates and/or any other adjustment, which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine. The Principal Securities Agent shall provide notice to the Securityholders of any such change or adjustment in accordance with Condition 29.7 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.

- (e) The Determination Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Issuer, the Principal Securities Agent and the Securityholders of the occurrence of a Commodity Index Adjustment Event and of any action taken as a consequence, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.

10.8 Additional Disruption Events

- (a) Following the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the relevant Warrants and Certificates shall continue or be redeemed early.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the redemption, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Warrants or Certificates and/or any other adjustment which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine.
- (c) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated, then the Warrants or Certificates shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive the payment of the Cash Settlement Amount pursuant to such exercise shall cease) as of such later date and the Issuer will pay an amount in respect of each Warrant or Certificate which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.
- (d) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Principal Securities Agent and the Determination Agent of the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event.
- (e) For the purposes hereof:

"Additional Disruption Event" means, with respect to any Series of Warrants or Certificates (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement) a Change in Law, Hedging Disruption, Increased Cost of Hedging and any further event or events as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as an Additional Disruption Event with respect to such Warrants or Certificates.

11.1 Valuation Date

"Valuation Date" means, in respect of any Series of Currency-Linked Securities, the date(s) specified as such or otherwise determined as provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement provided that where the Valuation Date is not a Currency Business Day then the Valuation Date shall be the first preceding day that is a Currency Business Day, unless (i) an Unscheduled Holiday occurs and Condition 11.3 (EM Unscheduled Holiday) applies; (ii) an event giving rise to EM Valuation Postponement occurs and

- (a) "Averaging Date" means, in respect of a Valuation Date, each date specified as such or otherwise determined as provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that if any such date is not a Currency Business Day, such date shall be the first preceding day that is a Currency Business Day, unless (i) an Unscheduled Holiday occurs and Condition 11.3 (EM Unscheduled Holiday) applies; (ii) an event giving rise to EM Valuation Postponement occurs and Condition 11.5(a)(iii) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Postponement) applies; (iii) an event giving rise to EM Valuation Fallback Postponement occurs and Condition 11.5(a)(iv) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Fallback Postponement) applies; or (iv) otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
- (b) For purposes of determining the Settlement Rate in relation to a Valuation Date, the Settlement Rate will be the arithmetic mean of the Spot Rates on each Averaging Date (or, if different, the day on which rates for each Averaging Date would, in the ordinary course, be published or announced by the relevant price source).
- (c) Unless (i) an Unscheduled Holiday occurs and Condition 11.3 (EM Unscheduled Holiday) applies; (ii) an event giving rise to EM Valuation Postponement occurs and Condition 11.5(a)(iii) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Postponement) applies; (iii) an event giving rise to EM Valuation Fallback Postponement occurs and Condition 11.5(a)(iv) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Fallback Postponement) applies; or (iv) otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in the case where it becomes impossible to obtain the Spot Rate on an Averaging Date (or, if different, the day on which rates for that Averaging Date would, in the ordinary course, be published or announced by the relevant price source), such Averaging Date will be deemed not to be a relevant Averaging Date for purposes of determining the relevant Settlement Rate. If through the operation of this Condition 11.2(c) (Averaging), there would not be an Averaging Date with respect to the relevant Valuation Date, the provisions of Condition 11.5 (Currency Disruption Fallbacks) shall apply for purposes of determining the relevant Spot Rate on the final Averaging Date with respect to that Valuation Date as if such Averaging Date were a Valuation Date on which a Price Source Disruption had occurred.

Where any Averaging Date in respect of a Valuation Date is postponed pursuant to Condition 11.3 (EM Unscheduled Holiday), Condition 11.5(a)(iii) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Postponement) or Condition 11.5(a)(iv) (Currency Disruption Fallbacks – EM Valuation Fallback Postponement) (as applicable), the Exercise Date to which the Averaging Date and the Valuation Date relates shall be the later of (a) the scheduled Exercise Date and (b) the date that falls two Currency Business Days after the final Averaging Date in respect of such Valuation Date (or such other date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement).

11.3 EM Unscheduled Holiday

If "EM Unscheduled Holiday" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that a Valuation Date or an Averaging Date is an Unscheduled Holiday in respect of a Settlement Rate, then the Valuation Date or Averaging Date, as the case may be, in respect of such Settlement Rate shall be the first succeeding Currency Business Day which is not an Unscheduled Holiday, unless the Determination Agent determines that such first Currency Business Day has not occurred on or before the Maximum Days of Unscheduled Holiday Postponement immediately following such scheduled Valuation Date or Averaging Date. In that case:

- (A) the next day after that period that would be a Currency Business Day but for the occurrence of an Unscheduled Holiday shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date or the Averaging Date, as the case may be (such day, the "Adjusted Valuation Date" or the "Adjusted Averaging Date", as applicable); and
- (B) the Determination Agent shall determine the Settlement Rate in respect of such Adjusted Valuation Date or Adjusted Averaging Date, as the case may be, in accordance with the first applicable Currency Disruption Fallback (applied in accordance with its terms) that provides the Settlement Rate.

If this Condition 11.3 (EM Unscheduled Holiday) applies, the provisions of Condition 11.4(a)(ii)(B) (Currency Disruption Events – Additional Price Source Disruption) shall not apply notwithstanding that "Additional Price Source Disruption" may be specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

11.4 Currency Disruption Events

- (a) If so specified in the Pricing Supplement relating to any Series of Warrants or Certificates, the following shall constitute "Currency Disruption Events" for the purposes of such Series:
 - (i) "Price Source Disruption", which means it becomes impossible, as determined by the Determination Agent, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, to determine the Settlement Rate on any Averaging Date or Valuation Date (or, if different, the day on which rates for that Valuation Date would, in the ordinary course, be published or announced by the Reference Source);
 - (ii) "Additional Price Source Disruption", which means in relation to the determination of the Settlement Rate on any Averaging Date or Valuation Date:
 - (A) the relevant exchange rate is not displayed on the Reference Source for such Averaging Date or Valuation Date;
 - (B) such Averaging Date or Valuation Date is an Unscheduled Holiday; or
 - (C) the Determination Agent determines in good faith that the exchange rate so displayed on the Reference Source is manifestly incorrect;
 - (iii) "Price Materiality Event", which means the Primary Rate differs from the Secondary Rate by at least the Price Materiality Percentage;
 - (iv) "Dual Exchange Rate", which means that the Settlement Rate splits into dual or multiple exchange rates;
 - (v) "General Inconvertibility", which means in respect of a Currency Pair, the occurrence of any event that generally makes it impossible for the Issuer or the Determination Agent on its behalf to convert the Event Currency into the Non-Event Currency in the Event Currency Jurisdiction through customary legal channels;
 - (vi) "General Non-Transferability", which means the occurrence of any event in or affecting any relevant jurisdiction that generally makes it impossible for the Issuer to deliver (A) the Non-Event Currency from accounts inside the Event Currency Jurisdiction to accounts outside the Event Currency Jurisdiction or (B) the Event Currency between accounts inside the Event Currency Jurisdiction or to a party that is a non-resident of the Event Currency Jurisdiction;

- (vii) "Illiquidity", which means it becomes impossible for the Issuer or the Determination Agent on its behalf to obtain a firm quote of the Settlement Rate for the Minimum Amount (either in one transaction or a commercially reasonable number of transactions that, when taken together, total the Minimum Amount) on any Averaging Date or Valuation Date (or, if different, the day on which rates for that Valuation Date would, in the ordinary course, be published or announced by the relevant price source) or by such other date (the "Illiquidity Valuation Date") as is specified for such purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If an Illiquidity Valuation Date is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement and an Illiquidity Currency Disruption Event occurs on such date, then the Illiquidity Valuation Date will be deemed to be the Valuation Date;
 - (viii) "Governmental Authority Default", which means with respect to any security or indebtedness for borrowed money of, or guaranteed by, any Governmental Authority, the occurrence of a default, event of default or other similar condition or event (however described) including, but not limited to, (A) the failure of timely payment in full of any principal, interest or other amounts due (without giving effect to any applicable grace periods) in respect of any such security, indebtedness for borrowed money or guarantee, (B) a declared moratorium, standstill, waiver, deferral, repudiation or rescheduling of any principal, interest or other amounts due in respect of any such security, indebtedness for borrowed money or guarantee or (C) the amendment or modification of the terms and conditions of payment of any principal, interest or other amounts due in respect of any such security, indebtedness for borrowed money or guarantee without the consent of all holders of such obligation. The determination of the existence or occurrence of any default, event of default or other similar condition or event shall be made without regard to any lack or alleged lack of authority or capacity of such Governmental Authority to issue or enter into such security, indebtedness for borrowed money or guarantee;
 - (ix) "Nationalization", which means any expropriation, confiscation, requisition, nationalization or other action by any Governmental Authority which deprives the Issuer (or any of its Affiliates), of all or substantially all of its assets in the Event Currency Jurisdiction;
 - (x) "Material Change in Circumstance", which means the occurrence of any event (other than those events specified as Currency Disruption Events in this Condition 11.4 (Currency Disruption Events)) in the Event Currency Jurisdiction beyond the control of the Issuer which makes it impossible for the Issuer to fulfil its obligations under the Notes; and
 - (xi) any other (if any) currency disruption event specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
- (b) If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that any Currency Disruption Event shall be applicable to such Series, then, where the Determination Agent determines, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, that such Currency Disruption Event occurs or has occurred and is continuing in respect of such Series:
- (i) in the case of Price Source Disruption, on any Averaging Date or Valuation Date in respect of such Series (or, if different, the day on which rates for that Valuation Date would, in the ordinary course, be published or announced by the relevant price source); and
 - (ii) in the case of any other Currency Disruption Event, on any Averaging Date, Valuation Date or such other day as may be specified for this purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement,
- then the Settlement Rate for such Series will be determined, or the Warrants or Certificates of such Series shall be settled following exercise, as the case may be, in accordance with the terms of the Currency Disruption Fallback first applicable pursuant to Condition 11.5 (Currency Disruption Fallbacks), which shall be subject to Condition 11.4(c) below.
- (c)
 - (i) If the Series of Warrants or Certificates are Currency Securities linked to a single Currency Pair, the provisions of Conditions 11.4(a) and (b) (Currency Disruption Events) above shall apply.
 - (ii) If the Series of Warrants or Certificates are Currency Securities linked to a Basket, and the Determination Agent determines that a Currency Disruption Event has occurred on any

Averaging Date, Valuation Date or Relevant Date in respect of any Settlement Rate (which for the purposes of Conditions 11.4 (Currency Disruption Events) and 11.5 (Currency Disruption Fallbacks) shall mean the Settlement Rate in respect of each Currency Pair), then:

- (A) for each Settlement Rate for which the Determination Agent determines that a Currency Disruption Event has not occurred, the Settlement Rate shall be determined in accordance with the Conditions; and
- (B) for each Settlement Rate for which the Determination Agent determines that a Currency Disruption Event has occurred, the Determination Agent shall determine the Settlement Rate in accordance with the applicable Currency Disruption Fallback in accordance with Condition 11.5 (Currency Disruption Fallbacks) and the applicable Pricing Supplement.

11.5 Currency Disruption Fallbacks

- (a) If so specified in the Pricing Supplement relating to any Series of Warrants or Certificates, the following shall constitute "Currency Disruption Fallbacks" for the purposes of such Series, and the applicable Pricing Supplement shall specify which Currency Disruption Fallback(s) shall apply to such Series, to which Currency Disruption Event each such Currency Disruption Fallback shall apply and, where more than one Currency Disruption Fallback may apply to a Currency Disruption Event, the order in which such Currency Disruption Fallback(s) shall apply to such Currency Disruption Event:
 - (i) "Determination Agent Determination of Settlement Rate" means that the Determination Agent will determine, in its reasonable discretion, the Settlement Rate (or a method for determining the Settlement Rate), taking into consideration all available information that it deems relevant including (but not limited to), in the case of Currency Securities linked to a Basket, the relevant rate for each unaffected Currency Pair which was determined on the relevant Valuation Date;
 - (ii) "Fallback Reference Price" means that the Determination Agent will determine, in its reasonable discretion, the Settlement Rate for such Series on the relevant Valuation Date (or, if different, the day on which rates for that Valuation Date would, in the ordinary course, be published or announced) pursuant to Currency Reference Dealers or pursuant to such other methodology or price sources as may be specified as the Fallback Reference Price in the applicable Pricing Supplement; and
 - (iii) "EM Valuation Postponement" means that if the Determination Agent determines that a Valuation Date, an Adjusted Valuation Date, an Averaging Date or an Adjusted Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of the Settlement Rate (which term shall include, where the applicable Pricing Supplement provides that the prior applicable Currency Disruption Fallback is "Fallback Reference Price", the Settlement Rate determined using the applicable Fallback Reference Price), then the Valuation Date, Adjusted Valuation Date, Averaging Date or Adjusted Averaging Date, as the case may be, shall be the first succeeding Currency Business Day which is not a Disrupted Day, unless the Determination Agent determines that no such Currency Business Day has occurred on or before the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Postponement immediately following such scheduled Valuation Date, Adjusted Valuation Date, Averaging Date or Adjusted Averaging Date, as the case may be. In that case:
 - (A) the next Currency Business Day after the EM Valuation Longstop Date shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date, Adjusted Valuation Date, Averaging Date or Adjusted Averaging Date, as the case may be, (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day); and
 - (B) the next Currency Disruption Fallback specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement shall apply;
 - (iv) "EM Valuation Fallback Postponement" means that if the Determination Agent determines that the Settlement Rate (which term shall include, where the applicable Pricing Supplement provides that the prior applicable Currency Disruption Fallback is "Fallback Reference Price", the Settlement Rate determined using the applicable Fallback Reference Price) is not available
 - (a) on the first Currency Business Day following the end of the Maximum Days of EM

Valuation Postponement (where a Currency Disruption Event has occurred or exists in respect of the Settlement Rate throughout the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Postponement); or (b) the Adjusted Valuation Date or Adjusted Averaging Date, as the case may be, then the Valuation Date or the Averaging Date, as the case may be, shall be the first succeeding Currency Business Day which is not a Disrupted Day, unless the Determination Agent determines that no such Currency Business Day has occurred on or before the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Fallback Postponement immediately following such first Currency Business Day following the end of the Maximum Days of EM Valuation Postponement, or the Adjusted Valuation Date or Adjusted Averaging Date, as the case may be. In that case:

- (A) the next Currency Business Day after the EM Valuation Fallback Longstop Date shall be deemed to be the Valuation Date or the Averaging Date, as the case may be, (notwithstanding the fact that such day may be a Disrupted Day); and
- (B) the next Currency Disruption Fallback specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement shall apply;
- (v) "Cumulative Events" means that the total number of consecutive calendar days during which a Valuation Date or an Averaging Date, as the case may be, is deferred due to (i) an Unscheduled Holiday in circumstances where Condition 11.3 (EM Unscheduled Holiday) applies; (ii) EM Valuation Postponement; or (iii) EM Valuation Fallback Postponement (or a combination of (i) (ii) and (iii)), shall not exceed the Maximum Days of Cumulative Postponement in the aggregate.

Accordingly, if by the operation of the above paragraph, a Valuation Date or an Averaging Date, as the case may be, is postponed by the number of calendar days equal to the Maximum Days of Cumulative Postponement, then such Valuation Date or Averaging Date, as the case may be, shall be the Cumulative Postponement Longstop Date. If such Cumulative Postponement Longstop Date is a Disrupted Day, then the Determination Agent shall determine the Settlement Rate in respect of such Cumulative Postponement Longstop Date in accordance with the next applicable Currency Disruption Fallback; and

- (vi) any other provisions specified as Currency Disruption Fallbacks in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
- (b) Where more than one Currency Disruption Event occurs or exists or is deemed to occur or exist, then, unless the applicable Pricing Supplement has specified which Currency Disruption Fallback shall apply in such circumstances, the Determination Agent shall determine, in its reasonable discretion, which Currency Disruption Fallback shall apply.

11.6 Administrator/Benchmark Events

- (a) If an Administrator/Benchmark Event and an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occur:
 - (i) the Currency Disruption Fallbacks specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to apply with respect to Administrator/Benchmark Event will apply in the order specified, or if none are specified, the Currency Disruption Fallbacks specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to apply shall be deemed to apply in accordance with Condition 11.5 (Currency Disruption Fallbacks) provided that if the Relevant FX Benchmark is not the Settlement Rate then references to the "Settlement Rate" in the applicable Currency Disruption Fallbacks and related definitions and provisions of these Conditions shall be deemed to be references to the Relevant FX Benchmark;
 - (ii) if it (i) is or would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (ii) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, for the Issuer or the Determination Agent to perform the actions prescribed in an applicable Currency Disruption Fallback (or it would be unlawful or would contravene those licensing requirements were a determination to be made at such time), the next applicable Currency Disruption Fallback will apply; and
 - (iii) if the Issuer determines that the last applicable Currency Disruption Fallback does not provide a Settlement Rate (including due to the applicability of sub-paragraph (ii) above in relation to the last applicable Currency Disruption Fallback), then the Issuer shall terminate the relevant

Warrants or Certificates, which shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive the Reference Currency or payment of the Cash Settlement Amount pursuant to such exercise shall cease) and the Issuer will pay an amount in respect of each Warrant or Certificate which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.

The Issuer's obligations under the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount; and

- (b) The Determination Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Issuer, the Principal Securities Agent and the Securityholders of the occurrence of an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date and of any action taken as a consequence, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.

11.7 Change to a Relevant FX Benchmark

If the definition, methodology or formula for a Relevant FX Benchmark, or other means of calculating the Relevant FX Benchmark, is changed (irrespective of the materiality of any such change or changes), then, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, references to that Relevant FX Benchmark shall be to the Relevant FX Benchmark as changed.

11.8 Additional Disruption Events

- (a) Following the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the relevant Warrants and Certificates shall continue or be redeemed early.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the redemption, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Warrants or Certificates and/or any other adjustment which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine.
- (c) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated, then the Warrants or Certificates shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive the Reference Currency or the payment of the Cash Settlement Amount pursuant to such exercise shall cease) as of such later date and the Issuer will pay an amount in respect of each Warrant or Certificate which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.
- (d) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Principal Securities Agent and the Determination Agent of the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event.
- (e) For the purposes hereof:

"Additional Disruption Event" means with respect to any Series of Warrants or Certificates (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement) a Change in Law, Hedging Disruption, Increased Cost of Hedging and any further event or events as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as an Additional Disruption Event with respect to such Warrants or Certificates.

The Determination Agent will request each of the Reference Dealers to provide a firm quotation of its Specified Rate for a transaction where the amount of Reference Currency equals the Specified Amount. If four quotations are provided, the rate for a Rate Calculation Date will be the arithmetic mean of the Specified Rates, without regard to the Specified Rates having the highest and lowest value. If exactly three quotations are provided, the rate for a Rate Calculation Date will be the Specified Rate provided by the Reference Dealer that remains after disregarding the Specified Rates having the highest and lowest values. 12. Provisions relating to Inflation-Linked Securities

This Condition 12 (Provisions relating to Inflation-Linked Securities) is applicable in respect of any Series of Warrants or Certificates ("Inflation-Linked Securities") where "Inflation-Linked Settlement Provisions" are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

12.1 Delay of Publication

If any level of an Index for a Reference Month which is relevant to the calculation of a payment under the Warrants or Certificates (a "Relevant Level") has not been published or announced by the day that is five Business Days prior to the next Exercise Date under the Warrants or Certificates, the Determination Agent shall determine a Substitute Index Level (in place of such Relevant Level) in a commercially reasonable manner in its reasonable discretion. If a Relevant Level is published or announced at any time after the day that is five Business Days prior to the next Exercise Date or other relevant exercise date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, such Relevant Level will not be used in any calculations. The Substitute Index Level so determined pursuant to this Condition 12.1 (Delay of Publication), will be the definitive level for that Reference Month.

12.2 Cessation of Publication:

If a level for the Index has not been published or announced for two consecutive months or the Index Sponsor announces that it will no longer continue to publish or announce the Index then the Determination Agent shall determine a Successor Index (in lieu of any previously applicable Index) for the purposes of the Warrants or Certificates by using the following methodology:

- (a) If at any time a Successor Index has been designated by the calculation agent of the Related Bond pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Related Bond, such Successor Index shall be designated a "Successor Index" for the purposes of all subsequent Exercise Dates or other relevant exercise dates as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to the Warrants or Certificates, notwithstanding that any other Successor Index may previously have been determined under Conditions 12.2(b), 12.2(c) or 12.2(d) below; or
- (b) If a Successor Index has not been determined under Condition 12.2(a) above and a notice has been given or an announcement has been made by the Index Sponsor, specifying that the Index will be superseded by a replacement index specified by the Index Sponsor, and the Determination Agent determines that such replacement index is calculated using the same or substantially similar formula or method of calculation as used in the calculation of the previously applicable Index, such replacement index shall be the Index for purposes of the Warrants or Certificates from the date that such replacement index comes into effect; or
- (c) If a Successor Index has not been determined under Condition 12.2(a) or 12.2(b) above, the Determination Agent shall ask five leading independent dealers to state what the replacement Index for the Index should be. If between four and five responses are received, and of those four or five responses, three or more leading independent dealers state the same Index, this Index will be deemed the "Successor Index". If three responses are received, and two or more leading independent dealers state the same Index, this Index will be deemed the "Successor Index". If fewer than three responses are received, the Determination Agent will proceed to Condition 12.2(d) below;
- (d) If no Successor Inflation Index has been determined under Condition 12.2(a), 12.2(b) or 12.2(c) above by the fifth Business Day prior to the next Affected Payment Date, the Determination Agent will determine an appropriate alternative index for such Affected Payment Date, and such index will be deemed a "Successor Inflation Index"; or
- (e) If the Determination Agent determines that there is no appropriate alternative index, the Issuer shall terminate the relevant Warrants or Certificates, which shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive payment of the Cash Settlement Amount pursuant to such exercise shall cease) and the Issuer will pay an amount in respect of each Warrant or Certificate which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.

The Issuer's obligations under the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

12.3 Rebasing of the Index

If the Determination Agent determines that an Index has been or will be rebased at any time, the Index as so rebased (the "Rebased Index") will be used for purposes of determining the level of such Index from the date of such rebasing; provided, however, that the Determination Agent shall make such adjustments as are made by the calculation agent of the Related Bond pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Related Bond, if any, to the levels of the Rebased Index so that the Rebased Index levels reflect the same rate of inflation as the Index before it was rebased. If there is no Related Bond, the Determination Agent shall make adjustments to the levels of the Rebased Index so that the Rebased Index levels reflect the same rate of inflation as the Index before it was rebased. Any such rebasing shall not affect any prior payments made under the Warrants or Certificates.

12.4 Material Modification Prior to Payment Date

If, on or prior to the day that is five Business Days before an Exercise Date or other relevant payment date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an Index Sponsor announces that it will make a material change to an Index then the Determination Agent shall make any such adjustments to the Index consistent with adjustments made to the Related Bond, or, if there is no Related Bond, only those adjustments necessary for the modified Index to continue as the Index.

12.5 Manifest Error in Publication

If, within thirty days of publication and prior to the Expiration Date or payments in respect of any relevant Exercise Date or other relevant payment date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Determination Agent determines that the Index Sponsor has corrected the level of the Index to remedy a manifest error in its original publication, the Determination Agent will notify the holders of the Warrants or Certificates in accordance with Condition 29 (Notices) of (i) that correction, (ii) the adjusted amount that is then payable under the Warrant or Certificates as a result of that correction and (iii) take such other action as it may deem necessary to give effect to such correction, provided that any amount payable pursuant to sub-paragraph (ii) above shall be paid (with no interest accruing thereon) (a) in connection with an Index Sponsor's correction to remedy a manifest error in the level of an Index for a Reference Month for which the Specified Interest Payment Date, or other relevant payment date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement has occurred, within 15 Business Days after notice of such amount payable by the Determination Agent, (b) in connection with an Index Sponsor's correction to remedy a manifest error in the level of an Index for a Reference Month for which the Specified Interest Payment Date, or other relevant payment date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, has not occurred, as an adjustment to the payment obligation on the next Specified Interest Payment Date, or other relevant exercise date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or (c) if there are no further Specified Interest Payment Dates, or other relevant exercise dates as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, within 15 Business Days after notice of such amount payable by the Determination Agent.

12.6 Additional Disruption Events

- (a) Following the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the relevant Warrants and Certificates shall continue or be redeemed early.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the redemption, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Warrants or Certificates and/or any other adjustment which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine.
- (c) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated, then the Warrants or Certificates shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive payment of the Cash Settlement Amount pursuant to such exercise shall cease) as of such later date and the Issuer will pay an amount which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.
- (d) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Principal Securities Agent and the Determination Agent of the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event.
- (e) For the purposes hereof:

In relation to Inflation-Linked Securities the following expressions have the meanings set out below:

"Affected Exercise Date" means each Exercise Date, or other relevant exercise date as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, in respect of which an Index has not been published or announced;

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (a) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (b) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Issuer determines that (i) it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of Hedge Positions or (ii) it will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations with respect to the Warrants or Certificates (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position);

"Fallback Bond" means a bond selected by the Determination Agent and issued by the government of the country to whose level of inflation the Index relates and which pays a coupon or redemption amount which is calculated by reference to the Index, with a maturity date which falls on (a) the same date as the Settlement Election Date, (b) the next longest maturity after the Settlement Election Date or (c) the next shortest maturity before the Settlement Election Date if no bond is defined in (a) and (b) is selected by the Determination Agent. If the Index relates to the level of inflation across the European Monetary Union, the Determination Agent will select an inflation-linked bond that is a debt obligation of one of the governments (but not any government agency) of France, Italy, Germany or Spain and which pays a coupon or redemption amount which is calculated by reference to the level of inflation in the European Monetary Union. In each case, the Determination Agent will select the Fallback Bond from those inflation-linked bonds issued on or before the Settlement Date and, if there is more than one inflation-linked bond maturing on the same date, the Fallback Bond shall be selected by the Determination Agent from those bonds. If the Fallback Bond redeems the Determination Agent will select a new Fallback Bond on the same basis, but selected from all eligible bonds in issue at the time the original Fallback Bond redeems (including any bond for which the redeemed bond is exchanged);

"Hedge Positions" means any purchase, sale, entry into or maintenance of one or more (a) positions or contracts in securities, commodities, options, futures, derivatives or foreign exchange, (b) stock loan transactions or (c) other instruments or arrangements (howsoever described) by a party in order to hedge, individually or on a portfolio basis, the Warrants or Certificates;

"Increased Cost of Hedging" means that the Issuer would incur a materially increased (as compared with circumstances existing on the Trade Date) amount of tax, duty, expense or fee (other than brokerage commissions) to (a) acquire, establish, re-establish, substitute, maintain, unwind or dispose of any transaction(s) or asset(s) it deems necessary to hedge the risk of entering into and performing its obligations with respect to the Warrants or Certificates or (b) realise, recover or remit the proceeds of any such transaction(s) or asset(s) provided that any such materially increased amount that is incurred solely due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the Issuer shall not be deemed an Increased Cost of Hedging;

"Index" means any index specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement;

"Index Sponsor" means, in respect of an Index, the entity specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement or, if no entity is specified, the entity that publishes or announces (directly or through an agent) the level of the relevant Index;

"Reference Month" means the calendar month for which the level of the relevant Index was reported, regardless of when this information is published or announced. If the period for which the Index level was reported is a period other than a month, the Reference Month will be the period for which the Index level was reported;

"Related Bond" means the bond specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, or if no bond is so specified, the Fallback Bond. If the Related Bond is "Fallback Bond", then for any Related Bond determination under these Conditions, the Determination Agent shall use the Fallback Bond (as that is defined in this Condition 12.7 (Definitions Applicable to Inflation-Linked Securities) herein). If no bond is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the Related Bond and "Fallback Bond: Not Applicable" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement there will be no Related Bond. If a bond is selected as the Related Bond in the applicable Pricing Supplement, and that bond redeems or matures before the relevant Expiration Date, unless "Fallback Bond: Not Applicable" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Determination Agent shall use the Fallback Bond for any Related Bond determination;

"Substitute Index Level" means an Index level, determined by the Determination Agent pursuant to the provisions of Condition 12.1 (Delay of Publication), in respect of an Affected Exercise Date; and

"Successor Index" has the meaning specified in Condition 12.2 (Cessation of Publication).

13. Provisions relating to Futures Contract-Linked Securities

This Condition 13 (Provisions relating to Futures Contract-Linked Securities) is applicable in respect of any Series of Warrants or Certificates ("Futures Contract-Linked Securities") where "Futures Contract-Linked Settlement Provisions" are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

13.1 Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption

- (a) If a Reference Date is not a Scheduled Trading Day, the relevant Reference Date shall be the next succeeding Scheduled Trading Day or, if either "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" or "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the next succeeding Common Scheduled Trading Day.
- (b) Subject to Condition 13.1(d) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) below, if any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day, then:
 - (i) in the case of a Single Futures Contract Security, the relevant Reference Date shall be the earlier of (i) the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that is not in the determination of the Determination Agent a Disrupted Day and (ii) the Reference Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding that such Scheduled Trading Day is a Disrupted Day).
 - (ii) in the case of a Futures Contract Basket Security:
 - (A) where "Individual Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then:
 - (1) the Reference Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Reference Date for such Basket Component; and
 - (2) the Reference Date for any Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day (each an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (A) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the relevant Scheduled Reference Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component; and (B) the Reference Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component (notwithstanding that such day may not be a Scheduled Trading Day).
 - (B) where "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then the Reference Date for each Basket Component shall be the earlier of (i) the first Common Scheduled Trading Day following the relevant Scheduled Reference Date that is not a Disrupted Day with respect to any Basket Component; and (ii) the Reference Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding that such day may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day).
 - (C) where "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then:

- (1) the Reference Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Reference Date for such Basket Component; and
 - (2) the Reference Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day (each an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (A) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the relevant Scheduled Reference Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component; and (B) the Reference Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component (notwithstanding that such day may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day or a Scheduled Trading Day).
- (iii) in the case of any Single Futures Contract Security or Futures Contract Basket Security (as the case may be), where a Reference Date falls on the relevant Reference Cut-Off Date pursuant to Condition 13.1(c)(ii) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption), then:
 - (A) if such Reference Cut-Off Date is not a Disrupted Day for such Single Futures Contract Security or Futures Contract Basket Security (as the case may be), the Determination Agent shall determine the value of such Futures Contract as at the Determination Time on such Reference Cut-Off Date; or
 - (B) if such Reference Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day, in respect of Single Futures Contract Security and Futures Contract Basket Security, the Determination Agent shall determine, in its reasonable discretion, its good faith estimate of the value for such Futures Contract as of the Determination Time on such Reference Cut-Off Date.
- (c) Subject to Condition 13.1(d) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) below, if Averaging Dates are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable, then, notwithstanding any other provisions of these Conditions (other than Condition 13.1(d)) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) below, the following provisions will apply to the valuation of the relevant Futures Contract in relation to the relevant Reference Date:
 - (i) If, in respect of a Single Futures Contract Security, a Scheduled Averaging Date is determined by the Determination Agent to be a Disrupted Day, then if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is:
 - (A) "Omission", then such date will be deemed not to be a relevant Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date for the purposes of determining the relevant level, price, value or amount provided that, if through the operation of this provision no Averaging Date would occur with respect to the relevant Reference Date, then Condition 13.1(b) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) will apply for purposes of determining the relevant level, price, value or amount on the final Averaging Date in respect of that Reference Date as if such final Averaging Date were a Reference Date that was a Disrupted Day;
 - (B) "Postponement", then Condition 13.1(b) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) above will apply for the purposes of determining the relevant level, price, value or amount on that date as if such date were a Reference Date that was a Disrupted Day irrespective of whether, pursuant to such determination, that deferred Averaging Date would fall on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date for the relevant Warrants or Certificates; or
 - (C) "Modified Postponement", then the Averaging Date shall be the earlier of (I) the first Valid Date following the Scheduled Averaging Date and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date.
 - (ii) If, in respect of a Futures Contract Basket Security, a Scheduled Averaging Date in respect of a Reference Date is determined by the Determination Agent to be a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then:

- (A) where "Individual Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
- (1) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Omission":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) such date shall not be an Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date for any Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component"), provided that if through the operation of this provision there would not be any Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date for the Affected Basket Component, then the sole Averaging Date for such Affected Basket Component shall be the earlier of (I) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the final Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component;
 - (2) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Postponement":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (I) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component. Any day (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the Averaging Cut-Off Date) determined to be an Averaging Date as a result of the operation of this Condition 13.1(c)(ii)(A)(2)(b) shall be an Averaging Date, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date; or
 - (3) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Modified Postponement":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (I) the first Valid Date following the Scheduled Averaging Date in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date;
- (B) where "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Common Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement:

- (1) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Omission", such date will be deemed not to be a relevant Averaging Date in respect of any Basket Component for the purposes of determining the relevant level, price, value or amount provided that, if through the operation of this provision there would be no Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date, then the sole Averaging Date for each Basket Component shall be the earlier of (A) the first Common Scheduled Trading Day following the Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day for any Basket Component and (B) the Averaging Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding the fact that such Averaging Cut-Off Date may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day);
 - (2) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Postponement", then the Averaging Date shall be the earlier of (A) the first Common Scheduled Trading Day following the Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component and (B) the Averaging Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding the fact that such Averaging Cut-Off Date may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day). Any day (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the Averaging Cut-Off Date) determined to be an Averaging Date as a result of the operation of this Condition 13.1(c)(ii)(B)(2) shall be an Averaging Date, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date; or
 - (3) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Modified Postponement", then the Averaging Date for each Basket Component shall be the earlier of (I) the first Common Valid Date following the Scheduled Averaging Date and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date (notwithstanding the fact that such Averaging Cut-Off Date may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day), irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date;
- (C) where "Common Scheduled Trading Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
- (1) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Omission":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) such date shall not be an Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date for any Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component"), provided that if through the operation of this provision there would not be any Averaging Date in respect of such Reference Date for the Affected Basket Component, then the sole Averaging Date for such Affected Basket Component shall be the earlier of (I) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the final Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component (notwithstanding the fact that such day may not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day);
 - (2) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Postponement":

- (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (I) the first Scheduled Trading Day following the Scheduled Averaging Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component (notwithstanding the fact that such day not be a Common Scheduled Trading Day). Any day (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the Averaging Cut-Off Date) determined to be an Averaging Date as a result of the operation of this Condition 13.1(c)(ii)(C)(2)(b) shall be an Averaging Date, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date; or
- (3) if, in relation to "Averaging Date Disruption", the consequence specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement is "Modified Postponement":
 - (a) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (b) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the earlier of (I) the first Valid Date (that is a Scheduled Trading Day) following the Scheduled Averaging Date in respect of such Affected Basket Component and (II) the Averaging Cut-Off Date for such Affected Basket Component, irrespective of whether it falls on a day that already is or is deemed to be an Averaging Date;
- (iii) If, in respect of any Single Futures Contract Security or Futures Contract Basket Security (as the case may be), an Averaging Date falls on the relevant Averaging Cut-Off Date pursuant to Condition 13.1(c)(ii) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption):
 - (A) if such Averaging Cut-Off Date is not a Disrupted Day for such Single Futures Contract Security or Futures Contract Basket Security (as the case may be), the Determination Agent shall determine the value of such Futures Contract as at the Determination Time on such Averaging Cut-Off Date; or
 - (B) if such Averaging Cut-Off Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of Single Futures Contract Security or Futures Contract Basket Security (as the case may be), the Determination Agent shall determine, in its reasonable discretion, its good faith estimate of the value for such Futures Contract as of the Determination Time on such Averaging Cut-Off Date.
- (iv) If any Averaging Dates in relation to a Reference Date occur after that Reference Date as a result of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day, then (i) the relevant Interest Payment Date, Exercise Date or (ii) the occurrence of a Futures Contract Adjustment Event or an Additional Disruption Event shall be determined by reference to the last such Averaging Date as though it were that Reference Date.
- (d) If in respect of a Futures Contract and a Reference Date, a Scheduled Reference Date or Scheduled Averaging Date is specified to be the "Expiry Date" in the applicable Pricing Supplement and due to the Scheduled Reference Date or Scheduled Averaging Date (as the case may be) being a Disrupted Day (or for any other reason), the final settlement price has been announced and published on or prior to the Scheduled Reference Date or Scheduled Averaging Date (as the case may be), then the Reference Date or Averaging Date (as the case may be) for such Futures Contract shall fall on the Expiry Date and the provisions of Conditions 13.1(b) and (c) (Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption) above shall not apply to such Futures Contract and Scheduled Reference Date or Scheduled Averaging Date (as the case may be).

- (e) If an event or circumstance that would otherwise constitute or give rise to a Disrupted Day also constitutes a Futures Contract Adjustment Event, the Determination Agent shall determine whether such event or circumstance shall be treated as a Disrupted Day or a Futures Contract Adjustment Event.

13.2 Administrator/Benchmark Event or Disappearance of Futures Contract or Settlement Price:

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and, on or prior to any Reference Date, (i) an Administrator/Benchmark Event and an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs or (ii) a Disappearance of Futures Contract or Settlement Price occurs, in each case in respect of a relevant Futures Contract, then:

- (a) If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and if an Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract has been specified in relation to such Futures Contract in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then:

- (i) the Determination Agent shall attempt to determine an Adjustment Payment;
- (ii) if the Determination Agent determines an Adjustment Payment,

- (A) it shall notify the Issuer of the Adjustment Payment and if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Securityholder would (but for Condition 13.2(a)(ii)(C)(2)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Security, request the Issuer to notify the Determination Agent whether it intends to terminate the Warrants or Certificates pursuant to Condition 13.4(b) (Termination). If the Issuer does not intend to terminate the Warrants or Certificates pursuant to Condition 13.4(b) (Termination) then the following provisions of this Condition 13.2(a) (Administrator/Benchmark Event or Disappearance of Futures Contract or Settlement Price) shall apply;

- (B) the terms of the Warrants or Certificates shall be amended so that references to the Futures Contract are replaced by references to the Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract;

- (C) the Conditions shall be adjusted to implement the Adjustment Payment as follows:

- (1) if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Issuer is required to pay in respect of each Security, the Determination Agent shall adjust the Conditions to provide for the payment of the Adjustment Payment on the immediately succeeding Interest Payment Date or if there is no such immediately succeeding Interest Payment Date, on the Exercise Date or other date when the Warrants or Certificates are settled in full; or

- (2) if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Securityholder would (but for this Condition 13.2(a)(ii)(C)(2)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Security, the Determination Agent shall adjust the Conditions to provide for the reduction of the amounts due by the Issuer until the aggregate amount of such reductions is equal to the Adjustment Payment, (subject, in the determination of the Determination Agent, to any minimum settlement amount of the Warrants or Certificates which the Determination Agent determines is required pursuant to any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law) and the rules of each listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system by which the Warrants or Certificates have then been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation);

- (D) the Determination Agent shall make such other adjustments to the Conditions as it determines necessary or appropriate in order to account for the effect of the replacement of the Futures Contract with the Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract and/or to preserve as nearly as practicable the economic equivalence of the Warrants or Certificates before and after the replacement of the Futures Contract with the Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract; and
 - (E) the Determination Agent shall notify the Issuer, the Principal Securities Agent and the Securityholders of any the replacement of the Futures Contract by the Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract, the Adjustment Payment and any other adjustments to the Conditions, giving summary details of the adjustment(s), provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.
- (iii) If the Determination Agent is unable to determine an Adjustment Payment then Condition 13.4(b) (Termination) shall apply.
 - (b) If the applicable Pricing Supplement does not specify that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable or, if the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable but does not specify an Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract in relation to the relevant Futures Contract, then Condition 13.4(b) (Termination) shall apply.
 - (c) If it (i) is or would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (ii) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, in each case for the Issuer, the Determination Agent or the Calculation Agent to perform the actions prescribed in this Condition 13.2 (Administrator/Benchmark Event or Disappearance of Futures Contract or Settlement Price) (or it would be unlawful or would contravene those licensing requirements were a determination to be made at such time), then Condition 13.4(b) (Termination) shall apply.

13.3 Futures Contract Adjustment Events

If so specified in the Pricing Supplement relating to any Series of Futures Contract Securities, the following shall constitute "Futures Contract Adjustment Events" for the purposes of such Series:

- (a) "Price Source Disruption", which means (i) the failure of the Futures Contract Sponsor to announce or publish the Settlement Price (or the information necessary for determining the Settlement Price) or (ii) the failure by the relevant Exchange to publish the Settlement Price;
- (b) "Trading Restriction", which means the material suspension of, or the material limitation imposed on, trading in (i) the Futures Contract on the Exchange or (ii) any relevant Futures Contract Underlier(s).
- (c) "Disappearance or Non-commencement of Futures Contract or Settlement Price", which means (i) the permanent discontinuation of the Futures Contract or of trading in the relevant Futures Contract on the relevant Exchange or (ii) the disappearance or permanent discontinuance or unavailability of a Settlement Price or (iii) trading in the relevant Futures Contract never commenced and, in any such case, no Successor Futures Contract exists provided that the scheduled expiry of a Futures Contract in accordance with the relevant contract specifications shall not constitute the Disappearance or Non-commencement of Futures Contract or Settlement Price;
- (d) "Material Change in Formula", which means the occurrence since the Trade Date of a material change or modification in the formula for or method of calculating the settlement price or other price of the relevant Futures Contract;
- (e) "Material Change in Content", which means the occurrence since the Trade Date of a material change or modification in the content, composition or constitution of the relevant Futures Contract;
- (f) "Tax Disruption", which means the imposition of, change in or removal of an excise, severance, sales, use, value added, transfer, stamp, documentary, recording or similar tax on, or measured by reference to, the relevant Futures Contract (other than a tax on, or measured by reference to, overall gross or net income) by any government or taxation authority after the Trade Date, if the direct effect of such imposition, change or removal is to raise or lower the relevant level, price, value or amount on the day that would otherwise be a Reference Date from what it would have been without that imposition, change or removal.

- (g) "Change of Exchange", which means that the Futures Contract is no longer negotiated on the Exchange and/or under a market-standard format as of the Trade Date but is negotiated on an exchange and/or under a format that is not acceptable to the Determination Agent.
- (h) "Illiquidity Event", which means that in the determination of the Determination Agent, the liquidity of the Futures Contract has decreased significantly since the Trade Date, such decrease of liquidity being likely to have a material impact on any hedging arrangements of the Issuer and/or any of its Affiliates in connection with the Warrants or Certificates.

13.4 Adjustments for Futures Contract Adjustment Events:

(a) Adjustment:

If a Futures Contract Adjustment Event which is a Price Source Disruption, a Trading Disruption, a Material Change in Formula, a Material Change in Content, a Tax Disruption, a Change of Exchange or an Illiquidity Event occurs, the Determination Agent shall determine if such Futures Contract Adjustment Event has a material effect on the Warrants or Certificates and, if so, subject to Condition 13.4(b) (Termination), shall:

- (i) make such adjustments to the Conditions and/or the applicable Pricing Supplement as the Determination Agent determines necessary or appropriate to account for the effect of such Futures Contract Adjustment Event and determine the effective date of each such adjustment; and/or
- (ii) substitute such Futures Contract with a new Futures Contract selected by the Determination Agent (which shall be a replacement futures contract using, in the determination of the Determination Agent, the same or a substantially similar formula and method of calculation as used in the calculation of the Futures Contract or a replacement futures contract selected by the Determination Agent in accordance with any other criteria specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement) and make such adjustments (if any) to the Conditions and/or the applicable Pricing Supplement as it deems necessary or appropriate in relation to such substitution. Such new futures contract shall be deemed to be a Futures Contract in place of the Futures Contract the subject of the Futures Contract Adjustment Event.

If the Determination Agent determines that no calculation, adjustment and/or substitution can reasonably be made pursuant to the above, Condition 13.4(b) (Termination) shall apply.

(b) Termination:

If either:

- (i) a Futures Contract Adjustment Event which is a Disappearance of Futures Contract or Settlement Price occurs or an Administrator/Benchmark Event and an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs and:
 - (A) the Pricing Supplement does not specify that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable;
 - (B) the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable but does not specify an Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract;
 - (C) the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and specifies an Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract but the Determination Agent is unable to determine the Adjustment Payment;

- (D) the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and specifies an Alternative Pre-nominated Futures Contract and the Determination Agent determines that the Adjustment Payment would be an amount that the Securityholder would (but for Condition 13.2(a)(ii)(C)(2)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Security; or
- (E) it (a) would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (b) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, in each case for the Determination Agent to calculate the relevant level, price, value or amount in accordance with Condition 13.4(a) (Adjustment); or
- (ii) any Futures Contract Adjustment Event (other than a Disappearance of Futures Contract or Settlement Price) occurs and the Determination Agent determines that no calculation, adjustment and/or substitution can reasonably be made pursuant to Condition 13.4(a) (Adjustment),

then the Issuer may, at any time thereafter and in its reasonable discretion, determine that the Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated as of any later date. If the Issuer so determines that the Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated, then the Warrants or Certificates shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive the Underlying Securities or payment of the Cash Settlement Amount, as the case may be, pursuant to such exercise shall cease) as of such later date and the Issuer will pay an amount which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.

The Issuer's obligations under the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the redemption, settlement or payment terms of the relevant Warrants or Certificates and/or any other adjustment, which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine. The Principal Securities Agent shall provide notice to the Securityholders of any such change or adjustment in accordance with Condition 29.7 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.

13.5 Correction of Futures Contract Prices:

If any settlement price announced by the Futures Contract Sponsor or published by the Exchange and which is utilised by the Determination Agent for any calculation or determination (the "Original Determination") under the Securities is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Value") is published by the Futures Contract Sponsor by such time (the "Correction Cut Off Time") as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if none is so specified, at least 3 Business Days prior to the relevant Reference Date, Expiration Date or any early termination date of the Futures Contract Securities or Futures Contract Basket Securities (as applicable)), then the Determination Agent will notify the Issuer and the Principal Securities Agent of the Corrected Value as soon as reasonably practicable and shall determine the relevant value (the "Replacement Determination") using the Corrected Value. If the result of the Replacement Determination is different from the result of the Original Determination, to the extent that it determines to be necessary and practicable, the Determination Agent may adjust any relevant terms accordingly.

In the event there is any discrepancy between any settlement price published or announced by the Futures Contract Sponsor and the Exchange any which is used by the Determination Agent for any calculation or determination under the Warrants or Certificates and that is not otherwise corrected pursuant to this Condition 13.5 (Correction of Futures Contract Prices), the settlement price selected by the Determination Agent acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner shall prevail for the relevant day.

13.6 Additional Disruption Events

- (a) Following the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue or shall be terminated early.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to the formula for the Cash Settlement Amount, any Interest Amount and/or the relevant level, price, value or amount set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the number of Futures Contracts to which each Warrant or Certificate relates, the number of Futures Contracts comprised in a Basket of Futures Contracts, the amount, the number of or type of shares, futures contracts or other securities which may be delivered under such Warrants or Certificates and, in any case, any other variable relevant to the termination, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Warrants or Certificates and/or any other adjustment (including without limitation, in relation to Futures Contract Basket Securities, the cancellation of terms applicable in respect of any Futures Contracts affected by the relevant Additional Disruption Event), to account for the economic effect on the Warrants or Certificates of such Additional Disruption Event, which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine.
- (c) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated, then the Warrants or Certificates shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive the Underlying Securities or payment of the Cash Settlement Amount, as the case may be, pursuant to such exercise shall cease) as of such later date and the Issuer will pay an amount which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.

14.1 Rebasing of the Property Index

If the Determination Agent determines that an Index has been or will be Rebased at any time (the Property Index as so Rebased, the "Rebased Property Index"), the Rebased Property Index will be used for the purposes of determining the level of the Property Index from the date of such Rebasing, provided however, that the Determination Agent shall adjust the terms of the Warrants or Certificates so that the use of the Rebased Property Index reflects what would have been the performance of the Index had the Rebasing not occurred save that any such Rebasing shall not affect any prior payments under the Warrants or Certificates.

14.2 Error in Publication

If the Determination Agent determines that an Error in Publication has occurred with respect to the Property Index, the Determination Agent may (a) use the corrected level of the Property Index to make any relevant calculations and/or (b) make any necessary adjustments to the relevant Property Index Level and such other terms of the Warrants or Certificates as it in its reasonable discretion determines to be appropriate to account for such Error in Publication.

For these purposes:

An "Error in Publication" will occur if the Property Index Sponsor announces that an error has occurred with respect to the Property Index Level as published on any Publication Date; the Property Index Level for such Publication Date is corrected to remedy such error; and the correction is published by the Index Sponsor at any time prior to the next following Scheduled Publication Date or if earlier any relevant determination date. An Error in Publication will not include a routine revision in the level of the Index in a regularly scheduled republication of the Index.

14.3 Determination Agent Unable to Perform Actions

If it (a) is or would be unlawful at any time under any applicable law or regulation or (b) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements, for the Determination Agent to perform the actions prescribed in Condition 14.2 (Error in Publication), then the Issuer shall terminate the relevant Warrants or Certificates, which shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive payment of the Cash Settlement Amount pursuant to such exercise shall cease) and the Issuer will pay an amount in respect of each Warrant or Certificate which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.

The Issuer's obligations under the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

14.4 Notification of Inability to Perform Actions

The Determination Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Issuer, the Principal Securities Agent and the Securityholders of the occurrence of the event described in Condition 14.3 (Determination Agent Unable to Perform Actions) and of any action taken as a consequence, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.

14.5 Property Index Cancellation or Administrator/Benchmark Event Date

If, for a Property Index and with respect to a Property Index Level, on or prior to the settlement date or early settlement date of the Warrants or Certificates, either (1) the Property Index Sponsor permanently cancels the Property Index and no Replacement Property Index exists (a "Property Index Cancellation") or (2) the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and an Administrator/Benchmark Event and an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of such Property Index, then:

- (i) If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and if an Alternative Pre-nominated Index has been specified in relation to such Property Index in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then:
 - (A) the Determination Agent shall attempt to determine an Adjustment Payment;
 - (B) if the Determination Agent determines an Adjustment Payment,
 - (aa) it shall notify the Issuer of the Adjustment Payment and if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Securityholder would (but for Condition 14.5(i)(B)(cc)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Security, request the Issuer to notify the Determination Agent whether it intends to terminate the Warrants or Certificates pursuant to Condition 14.8 (Property Index Adjustment Event). If the Issuer does not intend to terminate the Warrants or Certificates pursuant to Condition 14.8 (Property Index Adjustment Event) then the following provisions of this Condition 14.5(i) (Property Index Cancellation or Administrator/Benchmark Event Date) shall apply;
 - (bb) the terms of the Warrants or Certificates shall be amended so that references to the Property Index are replaced by references to the Alternative Pre-nominated Index;
 - (cc) the Conditions shall be adjusted to implement the Adjustment Payment as follows:
 - (a) if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Issuer is required to pay in respect of each Security, the Determination Agent shall adjust the Conditions to provide for the payment of the Adjustment Payment on the date on which the Warrants or Certificates are settled in full; or
 - (b) if the Adjustment Payment is an amount that the Securityholder would (but for this Condition 14.5(i)(B)(cc)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Security, the Determination Agent shall adjust the Conditions to provide for the reduction of the amounts due by the Issuer until the aggregate amount of such reductions is equal to the Adjustment Payment, (subject, in the determination of the Determination Agent, to any minimum settlement amount of the Warrants or Certificates which the Determination Agent determines is required pursuant to any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law) and the rules of each listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system by which the Warrants or Certificates have then been admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation);
 - (dd) the Determination Agent shall make such other adjustments to the Conditions as it determines necessary or appropriate in order to account for the effect of the replacement of the Property Index with the Alternative Pre-nominated Index and/or to preserve as nearly as practicable the economic equivalence of the Warrants or Certificates before and after the replacement of the Property Index with the Alternative Pre-nominated Index; and

- (ee) the Determination Agent shall notify the Issuer, the Principal Securities Agent and the Securityholders of any replacement of the Property Index by the Alternative Pre-nominated Index, the Adjustment Payment and any other adjustments to the Conditions, giving summary details of the adjustment(s), provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.
- (C) If the Determination Agent is unable to determine an Adjustment Payment, then a Property Index Disruption Event shall be deemed to have occurred and Condition 14.8 (Property Index Adjustment Event) shall apply.
- (ii) If the applicable Pricing Supplement does not specify that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable or, if the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable but does not specify an Alternative Pre-nominated Index in relation to the Relevant Property Index Benchmark, then a Property Index Disruption Event shall be deemed to have occurred and Condition 14.8 (Property Index Adjustment Event) shall apply.

14.6 Delay in Publication

If the Property Index Level has not been announced by the Scheduled Publication Date or if earlier any relevant determination date, the following will apply:

- (a) if the Property Index Sponsor publishes a provisional Property Index Level prior to the next Scheduled Publication Date or if earlier any relevant determination date, such provisional level of the Property Index for that Measurement Period shall apply for the purposes of the Warrants or Certificates; or
- (b) if the Property Index Sponsor fails to publish the Property Index Level prior to the next occurring Scheduled Publication Date or if earlier any relevant determination date, in circumstances other than those described in Condition 14.5 (Property Index Cancellation or Administrator/Benchmark Event Date), a Property Index Disruption Event shall be deemed to have occurred and Condition 14.8 (Property Index Adjustment Event) shall apply.

14.7 Methodology Adjustment

If the Property Index Sponsor announces that it has changed the methodology in calculating a Property Index and:

- (a) continues publication of a property index based on the original methodology (the "Replacement Property Index"), such Replacement Property Index shall apply in lieu of the original Property Index in relation to the Warrants or Certificates; or
- (b) discontinues publication of the Property Index based on the original Computational Methodology, a Property Index Disruption Event shall be deemed to have occurred and the procedure set out in Condition 14.8 (Property Index Adjustment Event) shall apply.

14.8 Property Index Adjustment Event

If:

- (i) a Property Index Cancellation occurs and the Pricing Supplement does not specify that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable;
- (ii) a Property Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of a Property Index, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable but does not specify an Alternative Pre-nominated Index;
- (iii) a Property Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of a Property Index, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and specifies an Alternative Pre-nominated Index but the Determination Agent is unable to determine the Adjustment Payment;

- (iv) a Property Index Cancellation or an Administrator/Benchmark Event Date occurs in respect of a Property Index, the Pricing Supplement specifies that the Benchmark Trigger Provisions are applicable and specifies an Alternative Pre-nominated Index and the Determination Agent determines that the Adjustment Payment would be an amount that the Securityholder would (but for Condition 14.5(i)(B)(cc)(b)) be required to pay to the Issuer in respect of each Security; or
- (v) a Property Index Disruption Event occurs,

then the Issuer shall, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue or be terminated early. If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, to preserve the economic value of the Warrants or Certificates. If the Issuer determines that the Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated early, then the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive payment of the Cash Settlement Amount pursuant to such exercise shall cease) and the Issuer will pay an amount in respect of each Warrant or Certificate which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.

The Issuer's obligations under the Notes shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the exercise, settlement or payment terms of the relevant Warrants or Certificates and/or any other adjustment, which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine. The Principal Securities Agent shall provide notice to the Securityholders of any such change or adjustment in accordance with Condition 29.7 (Notices), giving summary details of the relevant change or adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such change or adjustment.

14.9 Notification of Property Index Adjustment Event

The Determination Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Issuer, the Principal Securities Agent and the Securityholders of the occurrence of a Property Index Adjustment Event and of any action taken as a consequence, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the foregoing.

14.10 Additional Disruption Events

- (a) Following the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the relevant Warrants and Certificates shall continue or be redeemed early.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the redemption, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Warrants or Certificates and/or any other adjustment which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine.
- (c) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated, then the Warrants or Certificates shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive payment of the Cash Settlement Amount pursuant to such exercise shall cease) as of such later date and the Issuer will pay an amount which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.
- (d) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Principal Securities Agent and the Determination Agent of the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event.
- (e) For the purposes hereof:

"Additional Disruption Event" means, if specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, with respect to any Series of Warrants or Certificates, a Change in Law, Hedging Disruption, Increased Cost of Hedging and any further event or events as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as an Additional Disruption Event with respect to such Warrants or Certificates.

This Condition 15 (Provisions relating to Fund-Linked Securities) is applicable in respect of any Series of Warrants or Certificates ("Fund-Linked Securities") where "Fund-Linked Settlement Provisions" are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable.

15.1 Reference Dates, Averaging Dates and Market Disruption:

- (a) If a Reference Date is not a Fund Business Day, the relevant Reference Date shall be the next succeeding Fund Business Day or, if either "Common Fund Business Days and Common Disrupted Days" or "Common Fund Business Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the next succeeding Common Fund Business Day.
- (b) The Determination Agent shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Issuer of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day on any day that, but for the occurrence or continuance of a Disrupted Day, would have been a Reference Date.
- (c) If any Reference Date is a Disrupted Day, then:
 - (i) in the case of Single Fund Securities, the relevant Reference Date shall be the next succeeding Fund Business Day that is not in the determination of the Determination Agent a Disrupted Day, unless no Fund Business Day that is not a Disrupted Day has occurred prior to the last Fund Business Day of the Cut-off Period following the Scheduled Reference Date. In that case, (i) the last Fund Business Day of such Cut-off Period shall be deemed to be the Reference Date, notwithstanding the fact that such Fund Business Day is a Disrupted Day, and (ii) the Determination Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for the Fund Interest as of the Valuation Time on that deemed Reference Date; or
 - (ii) in the case of Fund Basket Securities:
 - (A) where "Individual Fund Business Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then:
 - (1) the Reference Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Reference Date for such Basket Component; and
 - (2) the Reference Date for any Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day (each an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the first Fund Business Day following the relevant Scheduled Reference Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component, unless no Fund Business Day that is not a Disrupted Day has occurred prior to the last Fund Business Day of the Cut-off Period following the Scheduled Reference Date. In that case, (i) the last Fund Business Day of such Cut-off Period shall be deemed to be the Reference Date, notwithstanding the fact that such Fund Business Day is a Disrupted Day, and (ii) the Determination Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for that Affected Basket Component as of the Valuation Time on that deemed Reference Date;
 - (B) where "Common Fund Business Days and Common Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then if the Determination Agent determines that any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, the Reference Date for each Basket Component shall be the first Common Fund Business Day following the relevant Scheduled Reference Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, unless no Common Fund Business Day that is not a Disrupted Day has occurred prior to the last Fund Business Day of the Cut-off Period following the Scheduled Reference Date. In that case, (i) the last Fund Business Day of such Cut-off Period shall be deemed to be the Reference Date, notwithstanding the fact that such Fund Business Day is a Disrupted Day, and (ii) the Determination Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for each Basket Component as of the Valuation Time on that deemed Reference Date;

(C) where "Common Fund Business Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if the Determination Agent determines that any Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then:

- (1) the Reference Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Reference Date for such Basket Component; and
- (2) the Reference Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Reference Date is a Disrupted Day (each an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the first Fund Business Day following the relevant Scheduled Reference Date that is not a Disrupted Day in respect of such Affected Basket Component, unless no Fund Business Day for such Basket Component that is not a Disrupted Day has occurred prior to the last Fund Business Day of the Cut-off Period following the Scheduled Reference Date. In that case, (i) the last Fund Business Day of such Cut-off Period shall be deemed to be the Reference Date, notwithstanding the fact that such Fund Business Day is a Disrupted Day, and (ii) the Determination Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for that Affected Basket Component as of the Valuation Time on that deemed Reference Date;

(d) If Averaging Dates are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement with respect to a Reference Date then, notwithstanding any other provisions of the Conditions, the following provisions will apply to the valuation of the relevant Fund Interest or Basket of Funds in relation to the relevant Reference Date:

(i) If, in respect of Single Fund Securities, any Averaging Date in respect of a Reference Date is a Disrupted Day, then the Averaging Date shall be the first succeeding Valid Date. If the first succeeding Valid Date has not occurred prior to the Cut-off Period following the original date that, but for the occurrence of another Averaging Date or Disrupted Day, would have been the final Averaging Date in respect of the relevant Scheduled Reference Date, then (1) the last day of such Cut-off Period shall be deemed the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether such day is already an Averaging Date), and (2) the Determination Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for the Fund Interest as of the Valuation Time on that deemed Averaging Date; and

(ii) If, in the case of Fund Basket Securities, a Scheduled Averaging Date in respect of a Reference Date is determined by the Determination Agent to be a Disrupted Day in respect of any Basket Component, then:

(A) where "Individual Fund Business Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement:

- (1) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
- (2) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the first succeeding Valid Date

in relation to such Affected Basket Component. If the first succeeding Valid Date has not occurred prior to the Cut-off Period following the original date that, but for the occurrence of another Averaging Date or Disrupted Day, would have been the final Averaging Date in respect of the relevant Scheduled Reference Date, then (1) the last day of such Cut-off Period shall be deemed the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether such day is already an Averaging Date notwithstanding the fact that such day may not be a Valid Date), and (2) the Determination Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for that Affected Basket Component as of the Valuation Time on that deemed Averaging Date;

- (B) where "Common Fund Business Days and Common Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then the Averaging Date for each Basket Component shall be the first succeeding Common Valid Date. If the first succeeding Common Valid Date has not occurred prior to the Cut-off Period following the original date that, but for the occurrence of another Averaging Date or Disrupted Day, would have been the final Averaging Date in respect of the relevant Scheduled Reference Date, then (1) the last day of such Cut-off Period shall be deemed the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether such day is already an Averaging Date and notwithstanding the fact that such day may not be a Common Valid Date), and (2) the Determination Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for each Basket Component as of the Valuation Time on that deemed Averaging Date;
- (C) where "Common Fund Business Days and Individual Disrupted Days" is specified to be applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement:
 - (1) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is not a Disrupted Day shall be the Scheduled Averaging Date; and
 - (2) the Averaging Date for each Basket Component in respect of which the Scheduled Averaging Date is a Disrupted Day (each such Basket Component, an "Affected Basket Component") shall be the first succeeding Valid Date in relation to such Affected Basket Component. If the first succeeding Valid Date has not occurred prior to the Cut-off Period following the original date that, but for the occurrence of another Averaging Date or Disrupted Day, would have been the final Averaging Date in respect of the relevant Scheduled Reference Date, then (1) the last day of such Cut-off Period shall be deemed the Averaging Date (irrespective of whether such day is already an Averaging Date and notwithstanding the fact that such day may not be a Valid Date), and (2) the Determination Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value for that Affected Basket Component as of the Valuation Time on that deemed Averaging Date;

15.2 Potential Adjustment Events

Following the declaration by any Fund or Fund Service Provider of the terms of any Potential Adjustment Event, the Determination Agent will determine whether such Potential Adjustment Event has a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the relevant Fund Interest or amount of Fund Interest and, if so, will (a) make the corresponding adjustment(s), if any, to any one or more of the Cash Settlement Amount and/or any such other amounts payable under the Warrants or Certificates, the Reference Price and, in any case, any other variable relevant to the calculation, valuation, payment or other terms of Warrants or Certificates as the Determination Agent determines appropriate to account for that diluting or concentrative effect (provided that no adjustments will be made to account solely for changes in volatility, expected dividends or liquidity relative to the relevant Fund Interest) and (b) determine the effective date(s) of the adjustment(s).

15.3 Corrections

Unless occurring after the day falling three Business Days prior to a due date for any payment or delivery under the Warrants or Certificates calculated by reference to the value of, or proceeds received from, any

Fund Interest, if the Determination Agent determines that a Fund or a Fund Administrator adjusts any relevant value of the Fund Interest, including the Reference Price or the Redemption Proceeds that would have been paid to a Hypothetical Investor redeeming the relevant number of Fund Interests that are subject to valuation used for determining amounts and/or assets due under the Warrants or Certificates, then the Determination Agent shall make such adjustments to the terms of the Warrants or Certificates as it determines necessary and practicable to reflect that the relevant value of the Fund Interest to be used shall be the value of, or proceeds received from, the relevant Fund Interest as so adjusted.

15.4 Fund Events

- (a) If at any time the Determination Agent acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner determines that a Fund Event has occurred and/or is continuing then the Determination Agent shall provide written notice thereof to the Issuer (a "Fund Event Notice"). The Determination Agent shall not have any obligation to monitor the occurrence of a Fund Event nor shall it have any obligation to make a determination that a Fund Event has occurred or is continuing.
- (b) The Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine:
 - (i) where Fund Event Unscheduled Termination is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, whether the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated other than on the scheduled Expiration Date. If the Issuer determines that the Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated, then the Warrants or Certificates shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive payment of the Cash Settlement Amount pursuant to such exercise shall cease) as of such other date and the Issuer will pay an amount which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount;
 - (ii) whether to substitute any Affected Fund Interest with the Successor Fund Interest relating to such Affected Fund Interest; and/or
 - (iii) whether to make such adjustment to account for such Fund Event as it considers appropriate which may include, without limitation:
 - (A) making an adjustment to the calculation of the Cash Settlement Amount and/or any such other amounts due under the Warrants or Certificates (which may include calculating a valuation (which may be zero) for the Affected Fund Interest and/or adjusting the weighting of the Affected Fund Interest in a Basket of Funds and/or deferring any relevant Determination Date until the circumstances giving rise to the relevant Fund Event are no longer continuing), all in the determination of the Determination Agent, acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner, and/or
 - (B) adjustments to any amount due in respect of the Warrants or Certificates to reflect (I) the Removal Value of the Affected Fund Interest instead of the Relevant Price of the Affected Fund Interest and (II) an amount determined by the Determination Agent in respect of interest (compounded on a daily basis) on the Removal Value of such Affected Fund Interest accrued at an overnight rate relating to the Settlement Currency selected by the Determination Agent during the period from (and including) the date on which the replacement of the Affected Fund Interest is effective to (but excluding) the Expiration Date.

Where it is required to determine a valuation of the Affected Fund Interest for the purposes of this Condition 15.4(b) (Fund Events) by reference to the Reference Price of the Affected Fund Interest, the Determination Agent shall determine the mechanics for calculating such valuation of the Affected Fund Interest (which valuation may be zero) by reference to such sources as it considers appropriate including, but not limited to, the value it may obtain from a third party on arms' length terms for the transfer to it of any hedging arrangements relating to the Warrants or Certificates in so far as they relate to such Affected Fund Interest. Any payments under the Warrants or Certificates determined by reference to the value of the Affected Fund Interest shall be suspended until payment of the Early Settlement Amount or, as the case may be, determination of the valuation of the Affected Fund Interest. The date of payment of the Early Settlement Amount (or the proportion thereof relating to the valuation of the Affected Fund Interest) or other relevant amount determined by reference to the Affected Fund Interest may fall on such commercially reasonable date after the scheduled Cash Settlement Payment Date as the Determination Agent considers necessary or appropriate to enable it to determine the relevant valuation subject to any Final Cut-off Date and provided that, if the Determination Agent is not able to determine such a value by reference to a Reference Price for an applicable deferred Determination Date or for such a transfer of any hedging arrangements to a third party by the scheduled Cash Settlement Payment Date or, if later, any Final Cut-off Date, it may deem the valuation to be zero.

The Principal Securities Agent shall provide notice to the Securityholders of any such adjustment in accordance with Condition 29.7 (Notices), giving summary details of the adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such adjustment.

(iv) For the purposes of this Condition 15.4(b) (Fund Events):

- (A) "Successor Fund Interest" means, in respect of any Affected Fund Interest, one or more funds that, in the determination of the Determination Agent, have characteristics, investment objectives and policies similar to those in effect for the Affected Fund Interest immediately prior to the occurrence of the relevant event.
- (B) the Affected Fund Interest shall be replaced by a number of units of the Successor Fund Interest with a combined value (as determined by the Determination Agent) equal to the relevant Removal Value of the applicable number of units of the Affected Fund Interest. Such replacement shall be effected, from time to time whenever the Removal Value changes, on the date, as determined by the Determination Agent, on which the Fund issuing the Successor Fund Interest would admit a Hypothetical Investor who, on the Fund Business Day next following the date on which any Removal Value not previously applied toward any Successor Fund Interest would be received by such Hypothetical Investor redeeming out of the relevant amount of Affected Fund Interest, had submitted a valid order to purchase such amount of the Successor Fund Interest; and
- (C) if necessary, the Determination Agent will adjust any relevant terms, including, but not limited to adjustments to account for changes in the Fund Interest Currency, the Frequency of Fund Interest Valuations, volatility, investment strategy or liquidity relevant to such Fund Interests or the Warrants or Certificates.

15.5 Notice of Fund Event

Notice of the consequences of a Fund Event shall be given to the Securityholders in accordance with Condition 29.7 (Notices). Such notice shall (a) identify the Affected Fund Interest (if applicable) and the relevant Fund Event and contain a summary of the facts constituting such event, (b) if applicable, identify the Successor Fund Interest and specify the effective date of such substitution, (c) if applicable, specify adjustments made or expected to be made by the Determination Agent and (d) if applicable, specify the date on which the Warrants or Certificates are to be redeemed.

Subject to the provisions of Condition 18.3 (CMS Underlying Rate Determination), Condition 18.4 (Provisions specific to SOFR as Underlying Rate), Condition 18.5 (Provisions specific to SONIA as Underlying Rate), Condition 18.6 (Provisions specific to €STR as Underlying Rate), Condition 18.7 (Provisions specific to SARON as Underlying Rate), Condition 18.8 (Provisions specific to TONA as Underlying Rate) Condition 18.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use), where such provisions are specified to apply in the applicable Pricing Supplement, Condition 18.10 (Underlying CMS Reference Rate – Effect of Index Cessation Event) or Condition 18.11 (General Fallback Arrangements), if Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate(s) is/are to be determined, the Underlying Rate(s) applicable to the Warrants or Certificates in respect of each Underlying Rate Determination Date or Averaging Date (as applicable) will be determined by the Determination Agent on the following basis:

- (a) if the Underlying Rate is a composite quotation or customarily supplied by one entity, the Determination Agent will determine the Underlying Rate which appears on the Relevant Screen Page as of the Relevant Time on the relevant Underlying Rate Determination Date;
- (b) in any other case, the Determination Agent will determine the arithmetic mean of the Underlying Rates which appear on the Relevant Screen Page as of the Relevant Time on the relevant Underlying Rate Determination Date;
- (c) if, in the case of Condition 18.1(a) above, such rate does not appear on that page or, in the case of Condition 18.1(b) above, fewer than two such rates appear on that page or if, in either case, the Relevant Screen Page is unavailable, the Determination Agent will:

- (i) request the principal Relevant Financial Centre office of each of the Reference Banks to provide a quotation of the Underlying Rate at approximately the Relevant Time on the Underlying Rate Determination Date to prime banks in the Relevant Financial Centre interbank market in an amount that is representative for a single transaction in that market at that time; and
- (ii) determine the arithmetic mean of such quotations; and
- (d) if fewer than two such quotations are provided as requested, the Determination Agent will determine the arithmetic mean of the rates (being the nearest to the Underlying Rate, as determined by the Determination Agent) quoted by major banks in the Principal Financial Centre of the Specified Currency, selected by the Determination Agent, at approximately 11.00 a.m. (local time in the Principal Financial Centre of the Specified Currency) on the first day of the relevant Reference Period for loans in the Specified Currency to leading European banks for a period equal to the relevant Reference Period and in an amount that is representative for a single transaction in that market at that time, and the Underlying Rate in respect of such Reference Period shall be the rate or (as the case may be) the arithmetic mean so determined, provided, however, that if the Determination Agent is unable to determine a rate or (as the case may be) an arithmetic mean in accordance with the above provisions in relation to any Reference Period, the Underlying Rate applicable to the Warrants or Certificates during such Reference Period will be the rate or (as the case may be) the arithmetic mean last determined in relation to the Warrants or Certificates in respect of a preceding Reference Period.

Notwithstanding any other Conditions where the Floating Rate Option is "EUR-CNO TEC10", and unless "TEC10 Adjustment" is specified as "Not Applicable" in the applicable Pricing Supplement, if in respect of any Interest Period the Determination Agent determines that the 10-year constant maturity French treasury rate (known as CNO TEC10) published by the Bank of France no longer represents the actual yield to maturity of a notional Obligations assimilables du Trésor ("OAT") with a maturity of exactly 10 years (based on executable prices available to the Determination Agent for OATs with a maturity most closely matching a 10-year maturity) (which event may occur in connection with or following any default or potential default of the Republic of France or unexpected volatility or illiquidity in markets in trading of OATs), then the ISDA Rate in respect of such Interest Period for the purposes of the Conditions shall be deemed to be the yield to maturity of a notional OAT with a maturity of exactly 10 years, as determined by the Determination Agent acting in good faith and a commercially reasonable manner by reference to bid prices for OATs with a maturity most closely matching a 10-year maturity and having regard to such pricing sources, methods and models (which may include, without limitation, any available firm or indicative prices for such OATs or internal valuation or recovery models) as the Determination Agent considers appropriate.

- 18.3 CMS Underlying Rate Determination: Subject to the provisions of Condition 18.10 (Underlying CMS Reference Rate – Effect of Index Cessation Event), if CMS Underlying Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate(s) is/are to be determined, the Underlying Rate(s) applicable to the Warrants or Certificates for each Reference Period will be the relevant CMS Underlying Rate determined in accordance with paragraphs (a) or (b) below, as applicable.

(a) Single CMS Underlying Rate

If the CMS Underlying Rate is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be "Single CMS Underlying Rate", the CMS Underlying Rate in respect of a Reference Period or any relevant day will be equal to the CMS Underlying Rate for such Reference Period or such relevant day multiplied by the Underlying Rate Participation Rate (if any is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to such CMS Underlying Rate).

(b) Spread CMS Underlying Rate

If the CMS Underlying Rate is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be "Spread CMS Underlying Rate", the CMS Underlying Rate in respect of a Reference Period or any relevant day will be equal to the difference between (1) CMS Underlying Rate 1 for such Reference Period or such relevant day multiplied by Underlying Rate Participation Rate 1 (if any is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to such CMS Underlying Rate 1), minus (2) CMS Underlying Rate 2 for such Reference Period or such relevant day multiplied by Underlying Rate Participation Rate 2 (if any is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to such CMS Underlying Rate 2).

(c) Determination of CMS Underlying Rate

The CMS Underlying Rate in respect of a Reference Period or any relevant day (as applicable) will be the Specified Swap Rate for swap transactions in the Reference Currency with a maturity of the Designated Maturity (expressed as a percentage rate per annum) (the "Relevant Swap Rate") which appears on the Relevant Screen Page as at the Relevant Time on the Underlying Rate Determination Date in respect of such Reference Period or such relevant day, all as determined by the Determination Agent. If the Relevant Swap Rate does not appear on the Relevant Screen Page at the Relevant Time, the CMS Underlying Rate in respect of a Reference Period or a relevant day (as applicable) will be determined by the Determination Agent in accordance with the first applicable Fallback Rate Determination that provides a CMS Underlying Rate, and if the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies:

- (i) "Fallback Screen Page" to be applicable, the Determination Agent will, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determine an alternative or successor page or publication to the Relevant Screen Page for the Relevant Swap Rate;
- (ii) "Mid-Market Quotations" to be applicable, the Determination Agent will determine the CMS Underlying Rate on the basis of the arithmetic mean of the Mid-Market Quotations provided by the Reference Banks at approximately the Relevant Time on the Underlying Rate Determination Date in respect of such Reference Period or such day by requesting the principal Relevant Financial Centre office of each of the Reference Banks to provide Mid-Market Quotations. If at least five Mid-Market Quotations are provided, the Determination Agent will determine the arithmetic mean of such Mid-Market Quotations provided by discarding the highest of such Mid-Market Quotations (or in event of equality, one of the highest) and lowest of such Mid-Market Quotations (or in event of equality, one of the lowest). If four Mid-Market Quotations are provided, the Determination Agent will determine the arithmetic mean of such Mid-Market Quotations provided. If less than four Mid-Market Quotations are provided, the next Fallback Rate Determination specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement will apply, or if none is specified, Determination Agent Fallback will apply. All calculations of the arithmetic mean of the relevant number of Mid-Market Quotations provided pursuant to this paragraph will be rounded to the nearest one thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.0005 being rounded upwards; and
- (iii) "Determination Agent Fallback" to be applicable, the Determination Agent will, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determine the CMS Underlying Rate by using available and relevant public information and having regard to comparable benchmarks available.

If any Fallback Rate Determination(s) are specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, then only that or those (as the case may be) Fallback Rate Determinations shall apply and if two or more Fallback Rate Determinations are specified, those Fallback Rate Determinations shall apply in the order as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, such that if the Determination Agent determines that the CMS Underlying Rate cannot be determined by applying a Fallback Rate Determination, then the next Fallback Rate Determination specified shall apply.

18.4 Provisions specific to SOFR as Underlying Rate

- (i) If Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate(s) is/are to be determined and SOFR is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as the Underlying Rate, the Underlying Rate(s) for a Reference Period will be the relevant SOFR Benchmark, subject to a minimum of zero per cent.
- (ii) The "SOFR Benchmark" will be determined based on SOFR Compound with Lookback, SOFR Compound with Observation Period Shift, SOFR Compound with Payment Delay or SOFR Index Average, as follows:
 - (1) if SOFR Compound with Lookback ("SOFR Compound with Lookback") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SOFR Benchmark for each Reference Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SOFR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

- (2) if SOFR Compound with Observation Period Shift ("SOFR Compound with Observation Period Shift") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SOFR Benchmark for each Reference Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SOFR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Observation Period;

"Observation Shift Days" means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; and

"SOFR_i", for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Observation Period, is equal to SOFR in respect of that day;

- (3) if SOFR Compound with Payment Delay ("SOFR Compound with Payment Delay") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SOFR Benchmark for each Reference Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SOFR interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001)

where:

"d" means the number of calendar days in the relevant Reference Period;

"d₀", for any Reference Period, means the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days in the relevant Reference Period;

"i" is a series of whole numbers from one to d₀, each representing the relevant U.S. Government Securities Business Days in chronological order from, and including, the first U.S. Government Securities Business Day in the relevant Reference Period;

"n_i" for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day "i" in the relevant Reference Period, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such day "i" up to, but excluding, the following U.S. Government Securities Business Day ("i+1"); and

Where "SOFR Compound with Payment Delay" applies, for the purposes of calculating the SOFR Benchmark with respect to the final Reference Period, the level of SOFR for each U.S. Government Securities Business Day in the period from (and including) the SOFR Rate Cut-Off Date to (but excluding) the Expiration Date or the termination date, as applicable, shall be the level of SOFR in respect of such SOFR Rate Cut-Off Date;

- (4) if SOFR Index Average ("SOFR Index Average") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SOFR Benchmark for each Reference Period shall be equal to the rate of return of the SOFR Index calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

where:

If the values for SOFR Index_{Start} or SOFR Index_{End} are not published on or by the relevant Underlying Rate Determination Date and a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have not occurred, the "SOFR Index Average" shall be calculated on such Underlying Rate Determination Date with respect to the relevant Reference Period, in accordance with the formula set out in subparagraph (2) above of this Condition 18.4(ii) (Provisions specific to SOFR as Underlying Rate) and for such purpose, "Observation Shift Days" shall be the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days specified for such purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement. If a Benchmark Transition Event and its related SOFR Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred, the provisions set forth in paragraph (iii) below shall apply.

(iii) Effect of Benchmark Transition Event

- (A) Benchmark Replacement. If the Issuer or its designee determines that a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred in respect of any determination of the Benchmark on any date, the Benchmark Replacement will replace the then-current Benchmark for all purposes relating to the Warrants or Certificates in respect of such determination on such date and all determinations on all subsequent dates.

18.5 Provisions specific to SONIA as Underlying Rate

- (i) If Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate(s) is/are to be determined and SONIA is specified in the relevant Pricing Supplement as the Underlying Rate, the Underlying Rate(s) for a Reference Period will be the relevant SONIA Benchmark, subject to a minimum of zero per cent.
- (ii) The "SONIA Benchmark" will be determined based on SONIA Compound with Lookback, SONIA Compound with Observation Period Shift, SONIA Compound with Payment Delay or SONIA Index Average, as follows:
 - (1) if SONIA Compound with Lookback ("SONIA Compound with Lookback") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the SONIA Benchmark for each Reference Period shall be equal to the rate of return of a daily compound SONIA Interest investment calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

Where "TONA Compound with Payment Delay" applies, for the purposes of calculating TONA with respect to the final Reference Period, the level of TONA for each Tokyo Banking Day in the period from (and including) the TONA Rate Cut-Off Date to (but excluding) the Expiration Date or the termination date, as applicable, shall be the level of TONA in respect of such TONA Rate Cut-Off Date;

- (4) if TONA Index Average ("TONA Index Average") is specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, the TONA Benchmark for each Reference Period shall be equal to the rate of return of the TONA Index calculated in accordance with the following formula (with the resulting percentage rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards to 0.00001):

"d" means the number of calendar days from, and including, the TONA Index_{Start} to, but excluding, the TONA Index_{End};

"Relevant Number" means the number specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement (or, if no such number is specified, five);

"TONA Index" means, in respect of any Tokyo Banking Day, the TONA Index in relation to such Tokyo Banking Day as provided by QUICK Corp (or any successor administrator) and published on the Relevant Screen Page, or if the Relevant Screen Page is unavailable, as otherwise published by QUICK Corp. (or successor administrator), in each case on such Tokyo Banking Day;

If the value of either or both of TONA Index_{Start} or TONA Index_{End} is not published or displayed on the Relevant Screen Page by the administrator of the TONA Index or other information service by 5.00 p.m. (Tokyo time) (or, if later, by the time falling one hour after the customary or scheduled time for publication thereof in accordance with the then-prevailing operational procedures of the administrator of the TONA Index or of such other information service, as the case may be) on the relevant Underlying Rate Determination Date, the TONA Benchmark for the applicable Reference Period for which the TONA Index is not available shall be determined as set out under sub-paragraph (2) of this Condition 18.8(ii) (Provisions specific to TONA as Underlying Rate) as if TONA Compound with Observation Period Shift were specified as applicable in the relevant Pricing Supplement, and for these purposes: the Observation Shift Days in respect of the applicable Reference Period for which the TONA Index is not available shall be deemed to be equal to the Relevant Number of Tokyo Banking Days plus one (or such other number of Tokyo Banking Days as is specified for this purpose in the applicable Pricing Supplement, as if such alternative elections had been made in the applicable Pricing Supplement);

"TONA Index_{End}" means, with respect to a Reference Period, the TONA Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of Tokyo Banking Days preceding the relevant payment date relating to such Reference Period; and

"TONA Index_{Start}" means, with respect to a Reference Period, the TONA Index value on the date that is the Relevant Number of Tokyo Banking Days preceding the first date of the relevant Reference Period.

For the purposes of this Condition 18.8 (Provisions specific to TONA as Underlying Rate), if TONA in respect of any Tokyo Banking Day (the "Relevant Tokyo Banking Day") is not published on the Relevant Screen Page or by an authorised distributor, and is not otherwise provided by the administrator of TONA, by either (A) the immediately following Tokyo Banking Day (or any amended publication day for TONA as specified by the administrator of TONA in the TONA benchmark methodology) or (B) such other date and time on which TONA for the Relevant Tokyo Banking Day is required for the purpose of any determination pursuant to the Conditions and, in either case, none of the events triggering the fallbacks specified in Conditions 18.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) or 18.11 (General Fallback Arrangements) (as applicable) have occurred, TONA for the Relevant Tokyo Banking Day shall be deemed to be the rate equal to TONA for the most recent Tokyo Banking Day in respect of which TONA was so published or provided.

18.9 Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use

If (i) Condition 18.10 (Underlying CMS Reference Rate – Effect of Index Cessation Event) does not apply, (ii) the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the provisions of this Condition 18.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) are applicable and (iii) unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate is to be determined, after application of any ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks specified in the relevant Floating Rate Option (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) to apply following the occurrence of any of the following events and the application of such ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks fails to provide a means of determining the relevant Floating Rate (as defined in the ISDA Definitions), then, notwithstanding the terms set forth elsewhere in these Conditions, if the Determination Agent determines that any of the following events has occurred:

- (a) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark announcing that it has ceased or will cease to provide the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark; or
- (b) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark, the central bank for the currency of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark, which states that the administrator of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark has ceased or will cease to provide the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark; or
- (c) unless otherwise specified in the Pricing Supplement, an Administrator/Benchmark Event occurs in relation to a Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark, then the Determination Agent may use, as a substitute for the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark, and for each future Underlying Rate Determination Date (or other rate fixing date), the alternative rates benchmark determined in accordance with the following provisions:

- (i) if an alternative reference rate, index or benchmark is specified in the Pricing Supplement for this purpose (an "Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate"), such Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate; or
- (ii) if an Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate is not specified in the Pricing Supplement, the alternative reference rate, index or benchmark selected by the central bank, reserve bank, monetary authority or any similar institution (including any committee or working group thereof) in the jurisdiction of the applicable index currency that is consistent with accepted market practice (the rate determined under sub-paragraph (i) above or this sub-paragraph (ii), the "Alternative Rate").

The Determination Agent may, after consultation with the Issuer, determine any adjustments to the Alternative Rate (which may include the addition of an adjustment spread, which may be positive or negative, in order to reduce or eliminate, to the extent reasonably practicable, any transfer of economic value to or from the Issuer as a result of the replacement of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark with the Alternative Rate), as well as the applicable Business Day Convention, Underlying Rate Determination Dates (or any other rate fixing dates) and related provisions and definitions of the Warrants or Certificates, in each case that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such Alternative Rate for instruments such as the Warrants or Certificates.

If the Determination Agent determines, after consultation with the Issuer, that no such Alternative Rate exists on the relevant date, it may, after consultation with the Issuer, determine an alternative rate to be used as a substitute for the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark (which shall be the "Alternative Rate" for the purposes of these provisions), the Business Day Convention, the Underlying Rate Determination Dates (or any other rate fixing dates) and related provisions and definitions in respect of the Warrants or Certificates, in each case, that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such Alternative Rate for instruments such as the Warrants or Certificates.

The Issuer will then provide a notice, in accordance with Condition 29 (Notices), to Securityholders to inform them of the occurrence of any of the events listed in Conditions 18.9(a) to 18.9(c) (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) above, the Alternative Rate and any adjustment determinations which will apply to the Warrants or Certificates. The notice shall also confirm the effective date of the Alternative Rate and any adjustments.

Notwithstanding anything else in this Condition 18.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use), if the Determination Agent determines that the selection of a particular index, benchmark or other price as an "Alternative Rate" (taking into account any necessary adjustments that would need to be made in accordance with this Condition 18.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use)) (1) is or would be unlawful under any applicable law or regulation; or (2) would contravene any applicable licensing requirements; or (3) would result in the Determination Agent, the Issuer or the Calculation Agent being considered to be administering a benchmark, index or other price source whose production, publication, methodology or governance would subject the Determination Agent, the Issuer or the Calculation Agent to material additional regulatory obligations which it is unwilling to undertake, then the Determination Agent shall not select such index, benchmark or price source as the Alternative Rate.

If the Determination Agent is unable to identify an Alternative Rate and determine the necessary adjustments to the terms of the Warrants or Certificates, then the Issuer may, in its reasonable discretion, determine that the Warrants or Certificates shall be settled as of any later date. If the Issuer so determines that the Warrants or Certificates shall be settled, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the Securityholders to settle the Warrants or Certificates and upon settlement the Issuer will pay in respect of each Warrant or Certificate an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.

The Issuer's obligations under the Warrants or Certificates shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

In the case where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate is to be determined, and the application of any ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks specified in the relevant Floating Rate Option results in a replacement of, modification to, or change in the method of calculating, the Floating Rate (or the index, benchmark or other price source that is referred to in the Floating Rate Option), the Determination Agent may, after consultation with the Issuer, determine any adjustments to the Floating Rate (including any adjustment spread) as well as the applicable Business Day Convention, Underlying Rate Determination Dates (or any other rate fixing dates) and related provisions and definitions of the Warrants or Certificates, in each case that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such replacement or modified Floating Rate for instruments such as the Warrants or Certificates. The Issuer will provide a notice, in accordance with Condition 29 (Notices), to Securityholders to inform them of any adjustment determinations which will apply to the Warrants or Certificates. The notice shall also confirm the effective date of any adjustments.

18.10 Underlying CMS Reference Rate – Effect of Index Cessation Event

This Condition 18.10 (Underlying CMS Reference Rate – Effect of Index Cessation Event) applies where (i) the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark is a CMS Underlying Rate and (ii) the applicable Pricing

Supplement specifies that the provisions of this Condition 18.10 (Underlying CMS Reference Rate – Effect of Index Cessation Event) are applicable.

- (a) Index Cessation. If, as of an Underlying Rate Determination Date or any other relevant day on which a CMS Underlying Rate is to be determined, an Index Cessation Effective Date with respect to the applicable tenor of the then-current CMS Reference Rate has occurred, then the CMS Reference Rate in respect of such Underlying Rate Determination Date or other relevant day (as applicable) and each subsequent Underlying Rate Determination Date or other relevant day (as applicable) shall be the sum of (i) the Benchmark Replacement; and (ii) any adjustment spread (which may be a positive or negative value or zero), in each case determined on that Underlying Rate Determination Date or other relevant day (as applicable) by the Determination Agent acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Following the occurrence of an Index Cessation Effective Date in respect of one or more Index Cessation Events, the determination of the Benchmark Replacement and any adjustment spread will be a one-time process and will apply to each following Underlying Rate Determination Date or other relevant day (as applicable).
- (b) Early Settlement. If the implementation of any Benchmark Replacement or Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes results in a calculation of the CMS Underlying Rate that is not consistent with market practice as determined by the Determination Agent, the Issuer may, in its reasonable discretion, determine that the Warrants or Certificates shall be settled as of any later date. If the Issuer so determines that the Warrants or Certificates shall be settled, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the Securityholders to settle the Warrants or Certificates and upon settlement the Issuer will pay in respect of each Warrant or Certificate an amount equal to:
 - (i) if "Early Settlement Amount (CMS Underlying Rate) – Fixed Settlement" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an amount per Warrant or Certificate (expressed as a percentage) as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement;
 - (ii) if "Early Settlement Amount (CMS Underlying Rate) – Fixed Settlement Less Costs" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an amount per Warrant or Certificate (expressed as a percentage) as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement less the reasonable cost to and/or the loss realised by, the Issuer and/or any Affiliate on unwinding any related hedging arrangements, in each case as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion;
 - (iii) if "Early Settlement Amount (CMS Underlying Rate) – Fair Market Value Less Costs" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an amount equal to the fair market value of such Warrant or Certificate, on such day as is selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion (provided that such day is not more than 15 days before the date fixed for settlement of the Warrant or Certificate), less the proportion attributable to that Warrant or Certificate of the reasonable cost to the Issuer and/or any Affiliate of, or the loss realised by the Issuer and/or any Affiliate on unwinding any related hedging arrangements, in each case as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion; or
 - (iv) if "Early Settlement Amount (CMS Underlying Rate) – Fair Market Value" is specified in the Pricing Supplement, the fair market value of such Warrant or Certificate, on such day as is selected by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion (provided that such day is not more than 15 days before the date fixed for settlement of the Warrant or Certificate), as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion.

The Issuer's obligation under the Warrants or Certificates shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.

- (c) Decisions and Determinations. Any determination, decision, selection or election that may be made by the Issuer, the Determination Agent or their respective designees, pursuant to this Condition 18.10 (Underlying CMS Reference Rate – Effect of Index Cessation Event), including any determination with respect to a tenor, rate, spread or adjustment or of the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event, circumstance or date and any decision to take or refrain from taking any action or any determination, decision, selection or election:

- (i) will be conclusive and binding absent manifest error;
- (ii) will be made in such person's sole discretion; and
- (iii) notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the documentation relating to the Warrants or Certificates, shall become effective without consent from the holders of the Warrants or Certificates or any other party.
- (d) For the purposes of this Condition 18.10 (Underlying CMS Reference Rate – Effect of Index Cessation Event), the following terms shall bear the following meanings:

"Benchmark Replacement" means the first alternative benchmark set forth in the order below that can be determined by the Determination Agent as of the Underlying Rate Determination Date or other relevant day on which a CMS Underlying Rate is to be determined, in each case next succeeding the relevant Index Cessation Effective Date (or, if the Index Cessation Effective Date occurs on the Underlying Rate Determination Date or other relevant day, that Underlying Rate Determination Date or other relevant day (as applicable)):

- (i) if an alternative reference rate, index or benchmark is specified in the Pricing Supplement for this purpose (an "Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate"), such Alternative Pre-nominated Reference Rate;
- (ii) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected or recommended by the relevant governmental body or agency with jurisdiction over the then-current CMS Underlying Rate or the administrator thereof as the replacement for the then-current CMS Underlying Rate for the applicable index maturity; or
- (iii) the alternate rate of interest that has been selected by the Determination Agent as the replacement for the then-current CMS Underlying Rate for the applicable index maturity giving due consideration to any industry-accepted rate of interest as a replacement for the then-current CMS Underlying Rate for floating rate notes denominated in the Index Currency at such time, including any alternate rate of interest recommended by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. or any successor thereto.

In connection with the implementation of a Benchmark Replacement, the Determination Agent or its designee will have the right to make Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes from time to time.

"Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes" means, with respect to any Benchmark Replacement, any changes (including changes to the definition of "Reference Period", the timing and frequency of determining rates and making payments of interest, and other administrative matters) that the Determination Agent or its designee determines may be appropriate to reflect the adoption of such Benchmark Replacement in a manner substantially consistent with market practice (or, if the Determination Agent or its designee determines that adoption of any portion of such market practice is not administratively feasible or if the Determination Agent or its designee determines that no market practice for use of the Benchmark Replacement exists, in such other manner as the Determination Agent or its designee determines is reasonably necessary).

"CMS Underlying Rate" means, initially, the CMS Underlying Rate specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; provided that if an Index Cessation Effective Date has occurred with respect to such rate or the then-current CMS Underlying Rate, then "CMS Underlying Rate" means the applicable Benchmark Replacement. For the avoidance of doubt, such Benchmark Replacement will replace the then-current CMS Underlying Rate for all purposes relating to the Warrants or Certificates.

"Index Cessation Effective Date" means, in respect of the then-current CMS Underlying Rate and one or more Index Cessation Events, the first date on which the CMS Underlying Rate would ordinarily have been published or provided and is no longer published or provided. If the CMS Underlying Rate ceases to be provided on an Underlying Rate Determination Date or other relevant day, but it was provided at the time at which it is to be observed pursuant to these Conditions, then the Index Cessation Effective Date will be the next day on which the rate would ordinarily have been published or provided.

"Index Cessation Event" means, in respect of the then-current CMS Underlying Rate:

- (i) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator of the CMS Underlying Rate announcing that it has ceased or will cease to provide the CMS Underlying Rate permanently or indefinitely; provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator or provider, as applicable, that will continue to provide the CMS Underlying Rate;
- (ii) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of the CMS Underlying Rate, the central bank for the currency of the CMS Underlying Rate, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator for the CMS Underlying Rate, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator for the CMS Underlying Rate or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator for the CMS Underlying Rate, which states that the administrator of the CMS Underlying Rate has ceased or will cease to provide the CMS Underlying Rate permanently or indefinitely; provided that, at the time of the statement or publication, there is no successor administrator or provider that will continue to provide the CMS Underlying Rate; or
- (iii) unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, an Administrator/Benchmark Event (as defined in Condition 2 (Interpretation)) occurs with respect to the CMS Underlying Rate (with the CMS Underlying Rate being the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark for the purpose of the definition of "Administrator/Benchmark Event").

"Index Currency" means the currency in respect of which the relevant CMS Underlying Rate is calculated or expressed, as determined by the Determination Agent.

- (e) Application to multiple CMS Underlying Rates: If either:
 - (i) the CMS Underlying Rate is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be "Spread CMS Rate"; or
 - (ii) the Warrants or Certificates otherwise reference more than one CMS Underlying Rate, the foregoing provisions of this Condition 18.10 (Underlying CMS Reference Rate – Effect of Index Cessation Event) shall apply separately for each CMS Underlying Rate so referenced (including each of CMS Underlying Rate 1 and CMS Underlying Rate 2 in the case where the CMS Underlying Rate is a "Spread CMS Underlying Rate") and for the purpose of construing such provisions, each of CMS Underlying Rate 1 and CMS Underlying Rate 2 shall be the "CMS Reference Rate". However, if an Index Cessation Effective Date has occurred in respect of one or more CMS Underlying Rate(s) (the "Impacted CMS Underlying Rate(s)") but not all of the CMS Underlying Rate(s) referenced by the Warrants or Certificates (the "Non-Impacted CMS Underlying Rate(s)"), the Issuer or its designee may elect to treat each of the Non-Impacted CMS Underlying Rate(s) as if an Index Cessation Effective Date had occurred in respect of such Non-Impacted CMS Underlying Rate and apply the foregoing provisions accordingly.

18.11 General Fallback Arrangements

- (a) The following provisions of this Condition 18.11 (General Fallback Arrangements) shall apply where:
 - (i) the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark is EURIBOR, SONIA, €STR, SARON or TONA;
 - (ii) such Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark has been permanently discontinued;
 - (iii) the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that the provisions of Condition 18.9 (Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark Discontinuance or Prohibition on Use) do not apply; and unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate is to be determined, application of any ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks specified in the relevant Floating Rate Option (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) following the permanent discontinuation of the Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark fails to provide a means of determining the relevant Floating Rate (as defined in the ISDA Definitions).

- (b) If this Condition 18.11 (General Fallback Arrangements) applies then notwithstanding the terms set forth elsewhere in these Conditions, the Determination Agent will use, as a substitute for such Relevant Underlying Rates Benchmark and for each future Underlying Rate Determination Date, the alternative reference rate or index selected by the central bank, reserve bank, monetary authority or any similar institution (including any committee or working group thereof) in the jurisdiction of the applicable index currency that is consistent with accepted market practice (the "Alternative Rate"). The Determination Agent will, after consultation with the Issuer, make such adjustments to the Alternative Rate, as well as the applicable Business Day Convention, Underlying Rate Determination Dates and related provisions and definitions of the Warrants or Certificates, in each case that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such Alternative Rate for instruments such as the Warrants or Certificates. However, in the case of EURIBOR only, if the Determination Agent determines, after consultation with the Issuer, that no such Alternative Rate exists on the relevant date, it shall make a determination, after consultation with the Issuer, of an alternative rate as a substitute for EURIBOR, for instruments such as the Warrants or Certificates, as well as the Business Day Convention and the Underlying Rate Determination Dates in respect of the Warrants or Certificates, that is consistent with accepted market practice.
- (c) In the case where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Underlying Rate is to be determined, and the application of any ISDA Bespoke Fallbacks specified in the relevant Floating Rate Option results in a replacement of, modification to, or change in the method of calculating, the Floating Rate (or the index, benchmark or other price source that is referred to in the Floating Rate Option), the Determination Agent may, after consultation with the Issuer, determine any adjustments to the Floating Rate (including any adjustment spread) as well as the applicable Business Day Convention, Underlying Rate Determination Dates (or any other rate fixing dates) and related provisions and definitions of the Warrants or Certificates, in each case that are consistent with accepted market practice for the use of such replacement or modified Floating Rate for instruments such as the Warrants or Certificates. The Issuer will provide a notice, in accordance with Condition 29 (Notices), to Securityholders to inform them of any adjustment determinations which will apply to the Warrants or Certificates. The notice shall also confirm the effective date of any adjustments.

18.12 Additional Disruption Events

- (a) Following the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event, the Issuer will, in its reasonable discretion, determine whether or not the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue or be terminated early.
- (b) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall continue, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment as the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate, if any, to any variable relevant to the termination, settlement, or payment terms of the relevant Warrants or Certificates and/or any other adjustment which change or adjustment shall be effective on such date as the Determination Agent shall determine. The Fiscal Agent shall provide notice to the Securityholders of any such adjustment in accordance with Condition 29.9 (Notices), giving summary details of the adjustment, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such adjustment.
- (c) If the Issuer determines that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated early, then the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to settle the Warrants or Certificates and the Issuer's obligations under the Warrants or Certificates shall be satisfied in full upon payment of an amount in respect of each Note equal to the Early Settlement Amount as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.
- (d) The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances notify the Fiscal Agent and the Determination Agent of the occurrence of an Additional Disruption Event.
- (e) For the purposes hereof:

"Additional Disruption Event" means, if specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement, with respect to any Series of Warrants or Certificates, a Change in Law, Hedging Disruption, Increased Cost of Hedging and any further event or events as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

18.13 Definitions applicable to Rate-Linked Securities

Capitalised terms used but not otherwise defined in this Condition 18 (Provisions relating to Rate-Linked Securities) shall have the meanings given to them in Condition 2 (Interpretation).

"Averaging Date" means, in respect of an Underlying Rate and an Underlying Rate Determination Date, each date specified as such or otherwise determined as provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that if any such date is not an Underlying Rate Business Day, such date shall be the next following day that is an Underlying Rate Business Day;

"Benchmark" means the Secured Overnight Financing Rate with the applicable period of maturity (which shall be daily); provided that if a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred with respect to the Secured Overnight Financing Rate with the applicable period of maturity (which shall be daily), or the then-current Benchmark, then "Benchmark" means the applicable Benchmark Replacement;

"Benchmark Transition Event" means the occurrence of one or more of the following events with respect to the then-current Benchmark:

- (a) a public statement or publication of information by or on behalf of the administrator of the Benchmark announcing that such administrator has ceased or will cease to provide the Benchmark, permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Benchmark;
- (b) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of the Benchmark, the central bank for the currency of the Benchmark, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator for the Benchmark, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator for the Benchmark or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator for the Benchmark, which states that the administrator of the Benchmark has ceased or will cease to provide the Benchmark permanently or indefinitely, provided that, at the time of such statement or publication, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide the Benchmark; or
- (c) a public statement or publication of information by the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of the Benchmark announcing that the Benchmark is no longer representative;

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (A) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (B) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Issuer determines that (x) it has become illegal to hold, acquire or dispose of Hedge Positions or (y) it will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations with respect to the Warrants or Certificates (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on its tax position);

"CMS Underlying Rate" means the rate determined in accordance with the Condition 18.3 (CMS Underlying Rate Determination);

"CMS Underlying Rate 1" means the rate specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement and the terms "Relevant Swap Rate", "Reference Currency", "Designated Maturity", "Relevant Screen Page", "Relevant Time" and "Underlying Rate Determination Date" and any other relevant term will each be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement under the heading "CMS Underlying Rate 1";

"CMS Underlying Rate 2" means the rate specified as such in the applicable Pricing Supplement and the terms "Relevant Swap Rate", "Reference Currency", "Designated Maturity", "Relevant Screen Page", "Relevant Time" and "Underlying Rate Determination Date" and any other relevant term will each be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement under the heading "CMS Underlying Rate 2";

"Day Count Fraction" means, in respect of the calculation of an amount for any period of time (the "Calculation Period"), such day count fraction as may be specified in these Conditions or the applicable Pricing Supplement and:

- (a) if "1/1" is so specified, means 1;
- (b) if "30/360" or "30/360 (ICMA)", is so specified, means the number of days in the relevant period (calculated on the basis of a year of 360 days consisting of 12 months of 30 days each and, in the case of an incomplete month, the actual number of days elapsed) divided by 360;
- (c) if "30/360 (ISDA)", "360/360" or "Bond Basis" is so specified, the number of days in the Calculation Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

$$\text{Day Count Fraction} = \frac{[360 \times (Y_2 - Y_1)] + [30 \times (M_2 - M_1)] + (D_2 - D_1)}{360}$$

where:

"Y₁" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Calculation Period falls;

"Y₂" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day included in the Calculation Period falls;

"M₁" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Calculation Period falls;

"M₂" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day included in the Calculation Period falls;

"D₁" is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Calculation Period, unless such number would be 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

"D₂" is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Calculation Period, unless such number would be 31 and D₁ is greater than 29, in which case D₂ will be 30;

- (d) if "30E/360" or "Eurobond Basis" is so specified, the number of days in the Calculation Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

$$\text{Day Count Fraction} = \frac{[360 \times (Y_2 - Y_1)] + [30 \times (M_2 - M_1)] + (D_2 - D_1)}{360}$$

where:

"Y₁" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Calculation Period falls;

"Y₂" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day included in the Calculation Period falls;

"M₁" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Calculation Period falls;

"M₂" is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day included in the Calculation Period falls;

"D₁" is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Calculation Period, unless such number would be 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

"D₂" is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Calculation Period, unless such number would be 31, in which case D₂ will be 30;

- (e) if "30E/360 (ISDA)" is so specified, the number of days in the Calculation Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

$$\text{Day Count Fraction} = \frac{[360 \times (Y_2 - Y_1)] + [30 \times (M_2 - M_1)] + (D_2 - D_1)}{360}$$

where:

"Y₁" is the year, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Calculation Period falls;

"D₁" is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Calculation Period, unless (i) that day is the last day of February or (ii) such number would be 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

"D₂" is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Calculation Period, unless (i) that day is the last day of February but not the Expiration Date or (ii) such number would be 31, in which case D₂ will be 30;

- (f) if "Actual/360" is so specified, means the actual number of days in the Calculation Period divided by 360;

This Condition 20 (Provisions relating to Physical Settlement Securities) is applicable only in relation to Warrants or Certificates specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement as being Physical Settlement Securities.

20.1 Settlement Disruption

- (a) The Determination Agent shall determine, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, whether or not at any time a Settlement Disruption Event has occurred and where it determines such an event has occurred and so has prevented delivery of Underlying Securities on the original day that but for such Settlement Disruption Event would have been the Physical Settlement Date, then the Issuer may determine, in its reasonable discretion, either (a) to pay an amount, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, which shall seek to preserve for the Securityholder the economic equivalent of the delivery of the Underlying Securities to which the Securityholder would have been entitled under the relevant Warrant or Certificate but for the occurrence of such Delivery Disruption Event, in which event the entitlements of the respective Securityholders to receive such Underlying Securities shall cease and the Issuer's obligations under the Warrants or Certificates shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount; or (b) that the Physical Settlement Date will be postponed to the first succeeding day on which delivery of such Underlying Securities can take place through the relevant Clearing System unless a Settlement Disruption Event prevents settlement on each of the 10 relevant Clearing System Business Days immediately following the original date or during such other period specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement that, but for the Settlement Disruption Event, would have been the Physical Settlement Date (a "Delayed Settlement Disruption Event"). In the case of a Delayed Settlement Disruption Event, the Issuer may determine, in its reasonable discretion, (a) to pay an amount, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, which shall seek to preserve for the Securityholder the economic equivalent of the delivery of such Underlying Securities, in which event the entitlements of the respective Securityholders to receive such Underlying Securities shall cease and the Issuer's obligations under the Warrants or Certificates shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount; (b) if the Underlying Securities are bonds or other debt securities, to use reasonable efforts to deliver such Underlying Securities promptly thereafter in a commercially reasonable manner outside the relevant Clearing System or exchange on a delivery versus payment basis; or (c) in all other cases: (i) if such Underlying Securities can be delivered in any other commercially reasonable manner, that the Physical Settlement Date will be postponed to the first day on which settlement of a sale of Underlying Securities executed on that 10th relevant Clearing System Business Day, or during such other period specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, customarily would take place using such other commercially reasonable manner of delivery (which other manner of delivery will be deemed the relevant Clearing System for the purpose of delivery of the relevant Underlying Securities), or (ii) if such Underlying Securities cannot be delivered in any other commercially reasonable manner, that the Physical Settlement Date will be postponed until delivery can be effected through the relevant Clearing System or in any other commercially reasonable manner, as determined by the Determination Agent.
- (b) For the avoidance of doubt, where a Settlement Disruption Event affects some but not all of the Underlying Securities comprised in a Basket, the Physical Settlement Date for Underlying Securities not affected by the Settlement Disruption Event will be the first day on which settlement of a sale of such Underlying Securities executed on that Exercise Date customarily would take place through the relevant Clearing System. In the event that a Settlement Disruption Event will result in the delivery on a Physical Settlement Date of some but not all of the Underlying Securities comprised in a Basket, the Determination Agent shall determine in its reasonable discretion the appropriate pro rata portion of the Strike Price (if any) to be paid by the relevant party in respect of that partial settlement.
- (c) For the purposes hereof "Settlement Disruption Event" in relation to an Underlying Security means an event beyond the control of the Issuer as a result of which or following which the relevant Clearing System cannot clear the transfer or otherwise prevents the settlement of such Underlying Security.

 - (i) determine, in its reasonable discretion, that the obligation to deliver the relevant Underlying Securities will be terminated and the Issuer will pay an amount which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount; or

- (ii) deliver on the Physical Settlement Date such number of Underlying Securities (if any) as it can deliver on that date and pay an amount, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, which shall seek to preserve for the Securityholder the economic equivalent of the delivery of the remainder of Underlying Securities (assuming satisfaction of each applicable condition precedent) to which the Securityholder would have been entitled under the relevant Warrant or Certificate after that date but for the occurrence of such Delivery Disruption Event, in which event the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive Underlying Securities pursuant to such exercise shall cease and the Issuer's obligations under the Warrants or Certificates shall be satisfied in full upon delivery of such number of Underlying Securities and payment of such amount.
- (b) For the purposes hereof, "Delivery Disruption Event" means the failure by the Issuer or the Principal Securities Agent to deliver on the relevant Physical Settlement Date the requisite number of relevant Underlying Securities under the relevant Warrant or Certificate which is due to illiquidity in the market for such Underlying Securities.

23. CNY Disruption Events

- (a) In the event that a CNY Disruption Event, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, occurs on or prior to any date on which a payment is scheduled to be made under a CNY Security and such CNY Disruption Event is continuing on such date (any such CNY Security so affected, an "Affected CNY Security"), the following terms will apply:
 - (i) first, payments under the Affected CNY Security shall be postponed to two Hong Kong Business Days after the date on which the CNY Disruption Event ceases to exist, unless that CNY Disruption Event continues to exist for 14 consecutive calendar days from the original date that, but for the occurrence of the CNY Disruption Event, would have been the date for such payments. In that case, the provisions of sub-paragraph (ii) below will apply on the day immediately following the lapse of such 14 calendar day period; and
 - (ii) second, the relevant payment obligations under the Affected CNY Security shall be replaced by an obligation to pay an amount equal to the amount that would be due in CNY under the Affected CNY Security converted into an amount in USD as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion. All the payments hereunder shall be made in USD on the relevant Non-Deliverable Substitute Settlement Date. For the avoidance of doubt, this sub-paragraph (ii) shall only apply to any payment which is scheduled to occur on a date that is affected by the CNY Disruption Event and shall not affect any payments falling due on any other dates.

- (b) Notwithstanding paragraph (a) above, the Issuer may early terminate the Warrants or Certificates on a specified date notified by the Issuer to the holders (such date, the "CNY Disruption Early Settlement Date"), in which case the Warrants or Certificates shall early redeem at the CNY Disruption Early Settlement Amount on such CNY Disruption Early Settlement Date. The Issuer's obligations under the Warrants or Certificates shall be satisfied in full upon payment of such amount.
- (c) For the purpose of this Condition 23 (CNY Disruption Events):

"CNY Disruption Early Settlement Amount" means any of:

- (i) an amount in USD as specified in the relevant notice to holders; or
- (ii) if "CNY Disruption Early Settlement Amount" is specified in the relevant notice to holders, an amount equal to (i) the amount that would be due in CNY under the Warrant or Certificate converted into an amount in USD as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, less (ii) the reasonable cost to and/or the loss realised by, the Issuer and/or any Affiliate in respect of break funding costs for the Issuer term financing associated with such early settlement of the Warrants or Certificates, in each case as calculated by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion.

"CNY Disruption Event" means any of CNY Illiquidity, CNY Inconvertibility or CNY Non-Transferability.

"CNY Illiquidity" means, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, the occurrence of any event that makes it impossible (where it had previously been possible) for the Issuer to obtain a firm quote of an offer price in respect of an amount in CNY equal to the then current aggregate nominal amount of the relevant Affected CNY Securities, any interest or any other amount to be paid under such Securities (the "Relevant Disrupted Amount"), during the term of such Securities, either in one transaction or a commercially reasonable number of transactions that, when taken together, is no less than such Relevant Disrupted Amount, in the general CNY exchange market in each Offshore CNY Center in order to perform its obligations under the Affected CNY Securities.

"CNY Inconvertibility" means, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, the occurrence of any event that makes it impossible (where it had previously been possible) for the Issuer to convert an amount of CNY no less than the Relevant Disrupted Amount into or from USD in the general CNY exchange market in each Offshore CNY Center.

"CNY Non-Transferability" means, as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, the occurrence in each Offshore CNY Center of any event that makes it impossible (where it had previously been possible) for the Issuer to transfer CNY (A) between accounts inside the Offshore CNY Center, (B) from an account inside the Offshore CNY Center to an account outside such Offshore CNY Center and outside mainland China, or (C) from an account outside an Offshore CNY Center and outside mainland China to an account inside the Offshore CNY Center. For the purpose of CNY Non-Transferability and Hong Kong as an Offshore CNY Center only, a segregated Chinese Renminbi fiduciary cash account with the People's Bank of China and operated by Bank of China (Hong Kong) Limited shall be deemed to be an account inside Hong Kong.

"Hong Kong Business Day" means any day, other than a Saturday or Sunday, that is neither a legal holiday nor a day on which banking institutions are authorised or required by law or regulation to close in Hong Kong.

"Non-Deliverable Substitute Settlement Date" means, subject to adjustment in accordance with the provisions of Condition 23(a)(i) (CNY Disruption Events) and/or any Business Day Convention applicable to the terms of an Affected CNY Security, the day determined by the Determination Agent which shall be as soon as practicable following the date on which a payment was scheduled to be made in respect of such Affected CNY Security and in respect of which a CNY Disruption Event has occurred and is continuing, and in no event later than two (2) Hong Kong Business Days after the date on which the amount payable in USD in respect of such Affected CNY Security is determined by the Determination Agent pursuant to Condition 23(a)(ii) (CNY Disruption Events).

"Offshore CNY Center" means Hong Kong, or such other CNY Center as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

For the avoidance of doubt, references to "general CNY exchange market in each Offshore CNY Center" in the definitions of CNY Illiquidity and CNY Inconvertibility refers to purchase, sale, lending or borrowing of CNY for general purpose (including, but not limited to, funding), and therefore any purchase or sale of CNY where such CNY is required by relevant laws or regulations for settlement of any cross-border trade transaction with an entity in mainland China, or any purchase or sale of CNY for personal customers residing in each such Offshore CNY Center, would not be purchase or sale made in such general CNY exchange market.

24. Provisions relating to all Warrants and Certificates

24.1 Performance Disruption

- (a) If the Determination Agent determines, acting in a commercially reasonable manner, that Performance Disruption has occurred, then the Issuer may determine, in its reasonable discretion, that the relevant Warrants or Certificates shall be terminated on the date specified in a notice to the Securityholders and the Issuer will pay an amount which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.
- (b) For the purposes hereof, "Performance Disruption" means, in relation to any Warrant or Certificate, the occurrence or existence on any day of any event, circumstance or cause beyond the control of the Issuer that has had or reasonably could be expected to have a material adverse effect upon (i) its ability to perform its obligations under, or hedge its positions with respect to, the relevant Warrant or Certificate; (ii) the ability of any hedging counterparty of the Issuer to perform its obligations under any hedging transaction entered into by the Issuer to hedge all or any of its liabilities in respect of the Warrants or Certificates or any of them; or (iii) the availability of hedging transactions in the market.

24.2 Effects of European Economic and Monetary Union

- (a) Following the occurrence of an EMU Event, the Determination Agent may make such adjustment (and determine the effective date of such adjustment) as it, in its reasonable discretion, determines appropriate, if any, to the Strike Price (if any), the formula for the Cash Settlement Amount, the Settlement Price, the Settlement Rate, the Relevant Price, the Spot Rate, the number of Underlying Securities to which each Warrant or Certificate relates, the number of Underlying Securities comprised in a Basket, the amount, the number of or type of shares, bonds, other securities or other property which may be delivered in respect of such Warrants or Certificates and/or any other adjustment and, in any case, any other variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, payment or other terms of the relevant Warrants or Certificates which in the reasonable discretion of the Determination Agent have been or may be affected by such EMU Event.
- (b) Following the occurrence of an EMU Event, without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, the Issuer shall be entitled to: (i) make such conversions between amounts denominated in the national currency units (the "National Currency Units") of the member states of the European Union that have adopted the single currency in accordance with the EC Treaty and the euro, and the euro and the National Currency Units, in each case, in accordance with the conversion rates and rounding rules established by the Council of the European Union pursuant to the EC Treaty as it, in its reasonable discretion, considers appropriate; (ii) make all payments in respect of the Warrants or Certificates reasonably in euro as though references in the Warrants or Certificates to the relevant National Currency Units were to euro and (iii) make such adjustments as it, in its reasonable discretion considers necessary to the Strike Price (if any), the formula for the Cash Settlement Amount, Settlement Rate, Settlement Price, Relevant Price, Spot Rate and any other amount as it determines, in its reasonable discretion, to be appropriate.
- (c) None of the Issuer, the Principal Securities Agent or the Determination Agent will be liable to any Securityholder or other person for any commissions, costs, losses or expenses in relation to or resulting from any currency conversion or rounding effected in connection therewith.

- (d) For the purposes hereof, "EMU Event" means the occurrence of any of the following, as determined by the Determination Agent, acting in a commercially reasonable manner:
- (i) the withdrawal from legal tender of any currency that, before the introduction of the euro, was lawful currency in one of the member states;
 - (ii) the redenomination of any Share into euro;
 - (iii) any change in the currency of denomination of any Index;
 - (iv) any change in the currency in which some or all the securities or other property contained in any Index is denominated;
 - (v) the disappearance or replacement of a relevant rate option or other price source for the national currency of any member state, or the failure of the agreed sponsor (or successor sponsor) to publish or display a relevant rate, index, price, page or screen; or

If any holder of any Regulation S Security is determined to be a U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S and the CEA), the Issuer shall have the right to force such holder to sell its interest in such Security, or sell such interest on behalf of such holder, to a person who is not a U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S) who, following such transaction, receives a beneficial interest in the relevant Regulation S Global Security or (ii) terminate and cancel such Security. In the case of any termination and cancellation of a Security as described above no amount shall be payable to the relevant Securityholder and the Issuer shall have no further obligations in respect of the Security.

25. Securities Agents, Securities Registrar, Securities Transfer Agents and Determination Agent

25.1 Appointment of Agents

The Issuer reserves the right at any time to vary or terminate the appointment of any Securities Agent, Securities Registrar, Securities Transfer Agent or the Determination Agent and to appoint substitute or additional Securities Agents, a substitute Securities Registrar, a substitute or additional Securities Transfer Agent or a substitute or additional Determination Agent, provided that (a) so long as any Warrant or Certificate is outstanding, it will maintain a Principal Securities Agent, (b) so long as any Registered Security is outstanding, it will maintain a Securities Registrar and a Securities Transfer Agent and (c) so long as the Warrants or Certificates are admitted to listing, trading and/or quotation by any listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system, there will be a Securities Agent with a specified office in such place as may be required by the rules of such listing agent, stock exchange and/or quotation system. Notice of any termination of appointment and of any change in the specified office of a Securities Agent, Securities Registrar, Securities Transfer Agent or a Determination Agent and of any appointment of a Securities Agent, Securities Registrar, Securities Transfer Agent or a Determination Agent will be given to Securityholders in accordance with Condition 29 (Notices) and so long as there is any Tranche of Nordic Securities outstanding, there will at all times be a NCSD duly authorised as a central securities depository under the Finnish or, as appropriate, Swedish legislation and a Nordic Issuing and Paying Agent in respect of the relevant Tranche of Nordic Securities.

25.2 Role of Agents

- (a) In acting under the Securities Agency Agreement, each Securities Agent, the Securities Registrar, each Securities Transfer Agent and each Determination Agent acts solely as agent of the Issuer and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Securityholders. All calculation and determination functions required of the Determination Agent or the Principal Securities Agent under these Conditions may be delegated to any such person as the Determination Agent or the Principal Securities Agent, as the case may be, in its reasonable discretion, may decide. The Determination Agent shall act as an expert and not as an agent for the Issuer or the Securityholders. All determinations, considerations and decisions made by the Determination Agent shall, in the absence of manifest error, wilful default or bad faith, be final and conclusive and the Determination Agent shall have no liability in relation to such determinations except in the case of its wilful default or bad faith.

- (b) None of the Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable), the Principal Securities Agent or the Determination Agent shall have any responsibility for any errors or omissions in the calculation and dissemination of any variables used in any calculation made pursuant to these Conditions or in the determination of any Cash Settlement Amount or of any entitlement to a delivery of any Underlying Securities arising from such errors or omissions.

25.3 Notifications

All notifications, opinions, determinations, certificates, calculations, quotations and decisions given, expressed, made or obtained for the purposes of the Warrants or Certificates by the Principal Securities Agent, the Securities Registrar, any Securities Transfer Agent, the Determination Agent or the Issuer shall (in the absence of manifest error or wilful misconduct) be binding on the Issuer and the Securityholders and (subject as aforesaid) no liability to the Securityholders (or any of them) shall attach to the Principal Securities Agent, the Securities Registrar, any Securities Transfer Agent, the Determination Agent or the Issuer in connection with the exercise or non-exercise by any of them of their powers, duties and discretions for such purposes.

26. Taxes

- 26.1 A Securityholder subscribing, purchasing or exercising a Warrant or Certificate shall pay all Taxes and securities transfer taxes and any other charges, if any payable in connection with the subscription, issue, purchase or exercise of such Warrant or Certificate and the payment of the Cash Settlement Amount and/or the delivery of any Underlying Securities as a result of such exercise. The Issuer shall have the right, but not the duty, to withhold or deduct from any amounts otherwise payable to a Securityholder such amount as is necessary for the payment of any such Taxes, duties or charges or for effecting reimbursement in accordance with Condition 26.2 (Taxes) below.
- 26.2 In any case where the Issuer is obliged to pay any such tax, duty or charge referred to in Condition 26.1 (Taxes) above, the relevant Securityholder shall promptly reimburse the Issuer therefor.
- 26.3 The Issuer shall not be liable for or otherwise be obliged to pay any tax, duty, withholding or other payment which may arise as a result of the ownership, issue, transfer or exercise of any Warrants or Certificates.
- 26.4 If "Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax" is specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement to be applicable to any Series of Warrants or Certificates, then upon the occurrence of an Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax, the Issuer may (i) in its reasonable discretion, with immediate effect amend the Conditions of the Warrants or Certificates by adjusting downward any amount payable and/or any other value or term of the Conditions to account for the economic impact of the Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax on the Issuer and its Affiliates in relation to the Warrants or Certificates, and (ii) to the extent that at any time thereafter the Issuer determines (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) that it (including its Affiliates) has incurred additional loss as a result of the Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax that has not been accounted for through the adjustment made pursuant to sub-paragraph (i) (such amount, "Additional Increased Tax"), it may reduce the amount otherwise payable on the Warrants or Certificates on the next payment date (and any payment date thereafter) by an amount up to the Additional Increased Tax amount. Any such adjustments shall be notified to Securityholders as soon as reasonably practicable. If an event or circumstance which would otherwise constitute a Change in Law or Increased Cost of Hedging (where applicable) also constitutes an Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax, it will be treated as an Implementation of Financial Transaction Tax.

27. Events of Default

27.1 If any of the following events (each, an "Event of Default") occurs and is continuing:

- (a) Non-payment: in the case of Morgan Stanley Securities, MSI plc Securities and MSESE Securities, the applicable Issuer or, in the case of MSBV Securities or MSFL Securities, either the applicable Issuer or the Guarantor fails to pay any amount due in respect of the Warrants or Certificates within thirty days of the due date for payment thereof; or
- (b) Insolvency, etc.:
 - (i) the Issuer becomes insolvent or is unable to pay its debts as they fall due;
 - (ii) an administrator or liquidator of the Issuer or the whole or a substantial part of the undertaking, assets and revenues of the Issuer is appointed (otherwise than for the purposes of or pursuant to an amalgamation, reorganisation or restructuring whilst solvent);
 - (iii) the Issuer takes any action for a composition with or for the benefit of its creditors generally; or
 - (iv) an order is made or an effective resolution is passed for the winding up, liquidation or dissolution of the Issuer (otherwise than for the purposes of or pursuant to an amalgamation, reorganisation or restructuring whilst solvent), and such order or effective resolution has remained in force and has not been rescinded, revoked or set aside for sixty days after the date on which such order is made or effective resolution is passed,

then Securityholders of not less than 25 per cent. in aggregate principal amount of the Securities may, by written notice addressed to the Issuer and delivered to the Issuer or to the Specified Office of the Principal Securities Agent, declare the Securities to be immediately (or, in the case of Nordic Securities, on such later date on which the relevant Nordic Securities have been transferred to the account designated by the relevant Nordic Issuing and Paying Agent and blocked for further transfer by such Agent) terminated whereupon the Warrants or Certificates shall cease to be exercisable (or, in the case of any Warrants or Certificates which have been exercised, the entitlements of the respective exercising Securityholders to receive the payment of the Cash Settlement Amount pursuant to such exercise shall cease) as of such later date and the Issuer will pay an amount which the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, determines is an amount equal to the Early Settlement Amount.

In the case of MSBV Securities and MSFL Securities, nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorise any Securityholder to exercise any remedy against the applicable Issuer or the Guarantor solely as a result of, or because it is related directly or indirectly to, the insolvency of the Guarantor or the commencement of any proceedings relative to the Guarantor under Title 11 of the United States Code, or the appointment of a receiver for the Guarantor under Title II of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010 or the commencement of any other applicable federal or state bankruptcy, insolvency, resolution or other similar law, or solely as a result of, or because it is related directly or indirectly to, a receiver, assignee or trustee in bankruptcy or reorganization, liquidator, sequestrated or similar official having been appointed for or having taken possession of the Guarantor or its property, or solely as a result of, or because it is related directly or indirectly to, the institution of any other comparable judicial or regulatory proceedings relative to the Guarantor, or to the creditors or property of the Guarantor. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Securityholders are authorised to exercise any remedy against the applicable Issuer as a result of an Event of Default described in this Condition 27.1(b) (Insolvency, etc.).

27.2 Annulment of Acceleration and Waiver of Defaults. In some circumstances, if any or all Events of Default have been cured, waived or otherwise remedied, then the holders of a majority in aggregate nominal amount or number of Warrants or Certificates of such Series (voting as one class) may waive past defaults of the Warrants or Certificates. However, any continuing default in payment on those Securities may not be waived.

28. Illegality and Regulatory Event

28.1 The Issuer may terminate the Securities early (by payment of the amount specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement), if it has determined, in its reasonable discretion, that:

- (a) its performance thereunder, or, if applicable, the Guarantor's performance of its obligation under the Guarantee, shall have become or will be unlawful in whole or in part as a result of compliance in good faith by the Issuer, or, if applicable, the Guarantor, with any applicable present or future law, rule, regulation, judgment, order or directive of any governmental, administrative, legislative or judicial authority or power ("applicable law") (an "Illegality Event"); or
- (b) in respect of Securities issued by MSBV only, a Regulatory Event has occurred.

28.2 Subject to the conditions set out in Condition 28 (Illegality and Regulatory Event) above, if the Issuer determines that the Securities shall be terminated early in accordance with this Condition 28 (Illegality and Regulatory Event), the Issuer shall give not less than five Business Days' notice to the Securityholders informing them that either an Illegality Event or, in respect of Securities issued by MSBV only, a Regulatory Event, as applicable, has occurred, as a result of which the Securities shall be terminated early on the date specified for termination in such notice. In such circumstances the Issuer will, if and to the extent permitted by applicable law, pay to each Securityholder in respect of each Security held by such Securityholder an amount determined by the Determination Agent, in its reasonable discretion, as representing either: (i) the fair market value of such Security immediately prior to such termination (ignoring such Illegality Event or Regulatory Event) less the cost to the Issuer (or its Affiliates) of, or the loss realised by the Issuer (or its Affiliates) on, unwinding any related underlying hedging arrangements, the amount of such cost or loss being as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion, if "Early Settlement Amount (Illegality and Regulatory Event) - Fair Market Value Less Costs" is specified in the Pricing Supplement or (ii) the fair market value of such Security immediately prior to such termination (ignoring such Illegality Event or Regulatory Event), if "Early Settlement Amount (Illegality and Regulatory Event) - Fair Market Value" is specified in the Pricing Supplement. The Issuer's obligations under the Securities shall be satisfied in full upon payment in respect of each Security of the amount determined by the Determination Agent to be payable in accordance with the provisions above, based on the elections made in the applicable Pricing Supplement. Payment will be made to the relevant Clearing System in such manner as shall be notified to the Securityholders in accordance with Condition 29 (Notices).

28.3 The Issuer shall also, as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances, notify the Principal Securities Agent and the Determination Agent of the occurrence of an Illegality Event or, in respect of Securities issued by MSBV only, a Regulatory Event, as applicable.

33. Severance, Meetings of Securityholders and Modification of Conditions

33.1 Meetings of Securityholders

The Securities Agency Agreement contains provisions for convening meetings of Securityholders to consider matters relating to the Securities, including the sanctioning by Extraordinary Resolution of a modification of any provision of these Conditions and the meaning of each of Securityholder and holder for such purposes. Such a meeting may be convened by the Issuer and shall be convened by it upon the request in writing of Securityholders holding not less than one tenth of the amount or number of the outstanding Warrants or Certificates. The quorum at any meeting convened to vote on an Extraordinary Resolution will be two or more Persons holding or representing one more than half of the aggregate amount or number, as applicable, of the outstanding Warrants or Certificates or, at any adjourned meeting, two or more Persons being or representing Securityholders whatever the amount or number of the Warrants or Certificates held or represented, provided, however, that in respect of Reserved Matters sanctioned by an Extraordinary Resolution passed at a meeting of Securityholders, two or more Persons holding or representing not less than three quarters or, at any adjourned meeting, one quarter of the aggregate amount or number, as applicable of the outstanding Warrants or Certificates form a quorum.

The Securities Agency Agreement provides that (i) a resolution passed at a meeting duly convened and held in accordance with the Securities Agency Agreement by a majority consisting of not less than three quarters of the votes cast on such resolution, (ii) a resolution in writing signed by or on behalf of all holders of the Securities for the time being outstanding who are entitled to receive notice of a meeting in accordance with the Securities Agency Agreement or (iii) consent given by way of electronic consents through the Relevant Clearing System(s) (in a form satisfactory to the Registrar) by or on behalf of the holders of not less than three quarters in aggregate amount or number of the Notes for the time being outstanding, shall, in each case, be effective as an Extraordinary Resolution of the Securityholders. An Extraordinary Resolution passed by the Securityholders will be binding on all the Securityholders, whether or not they are present at any meeting, and whether or not they voted on the resolution.

33.2 Severance

Should any of the provisions contained in these Conditions be or become invalid, the validity of the remaining provisions shall not be affected in any way.

33.3 Modification

- (a) The Issuer may modify the Conditions of Warrants and Certificates, the Guarantee and the Deeds of Covenant without the consent of the Securityholders where, in the reasonable opinion of the Issuer:
- (i) the modification is to correct a manifest error or to effect a modification which is of a formal, minor or technical nature;
 - (ii) the amendment is to cure any ambiguity or is to correct or supplement any defective provisions;
 - (iii) the amendment is to correct an error or omission such that, in the absence of such correction, the relevant terms proposed to be corrected would not otherwise represent the intended terms on which the relevant Notes were sold and have since traded; or
 - (iv) the modification is not materially prejudicial to the interest of the Securityholders.
- (b) The parties to the Securities Agency Agreement may agree to modify any provision thereof, but the Issuer shall not agree, without the consent of the Securityholders, to any such modification unless it is of a type contemplated in Condition 33.3(a) above.

34. Further Issues

The Issuer is at liberty from time to time, without the consent of the Securityholders, create and issue further Warrants or Certificates of any particular Series so as to form a single series with the Warrants or Certificates of such Series, but upon such terms as to issue price and otherwise as the Issuer may determine in its reasonable discretion.

34.1 Purchase of Warrants and Certificates by Issuer or Affiliate

The Issuer or an Affiliate may at any time and from time to time purchase Warrants or Certificates at any price in the open market or otherwise. Such Warrants or Certificates may, at the option of the Issuer or, as the case may be, the relevant Affiliate, be held, resold, reissued or cancelled or otherwise dealt with. Subject to the conditions set out in this Condition 35 (Substitution), including the rights of Securityholders under Condition 35.6 (Right to Termination in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), but without the consent of Securityholders, the Issuer or the Guarantor (if applicable) may, in the event that the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be) has determined that any of the following events has occurred in respect of the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be): an insolvency, receivership, resolution or equivalent event under a relevant jurisdiction; a divestment mandated for regulatory reasons; any action being required to satisfy licensing requirements; or a change of control, substitute for itself any entity which is not a Morgan Stanley Group entity, provided that such entity has a long term credit rating from at least one rating agency of standard application on the international capital markets (including but not limited to S&P, Moody's and Fitch) which is at least as high as the Issuer or Guarantor (as the case may be) being substituted. Notwithstanding the foregoing, for any Series of Securities in respect of which Morgan Stanley is the Issuer, Morgan Stanley may not be substituted as Issuer with any entity which is not a Morgan Stanley Group entity within one year of the Issue Date of such Securities.

35.3 Conditions to substitution

Substitution of the Issuer or Guarantor for another entity (the "Substitute") as provided in Condition 35.1 (Substitution of Issuer with Morgan Stanley Group entities) or 35.2 (Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) above (as applicable) are subject to the following conditions:

- (i) the Substitute and the Issuer having obtained (a) legal opinions from independent legal advisors of recognised standing in the country of incorporation of the Substitute and in England that the obligations of the Substitute, in the case of a substitution of the Issuer, under the Securities and the relevant Deed of Covenant, or, in New York in the case of a substitution of the Guarantor under the Deed of Guarantee, are legal, valid and binding obligations of the Substitute and (b) in the case of the substitution of the Issuer which is MSBV or MSFL (or any substitute thereof), a legal opinion from an independent legal advisor in New York, that the Deed of Guarantee will apply to the Substitute mutatis mutandis as it applies to the Issuer prior to the substitution and will constitute legal, valid and binding obligations of the Guarantor, in respect of the Substitute (provided that no opinion as referred to in this paragraph (d) shall be required where the Substitute is the Guarantor with respect to MSBV Securities or MSFL Securities); and
- (ii) if the relevant Securities are rated at the relevant time, the Substitute has obtained, prior to the substitution date, a written confirmation from the relevant rating agencies that the substitution will not result in whole or in part in a withdrawal, downgrading, placement in creditwatch or negative outlook of the Securities;

- (j) if appropriate, the Substitute appointing a process agent as its agent in England to receive service of process on its behalf in relation to any legal action or proceedings arising out of or in connection with the Securities; and
- (k) in respect of Nordic Securities, the relevant NCSD has given its consent to the substitution.

35.4 Reference in the Conditions to the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be)

In the event of a substitution pursuant to this Condition 35 (Substitution), any reference in the Conditions to the Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be) shall be construed as a reference to the entity substituted.

35.5 Notification to Securityholders

The Issuer or the Guarantor (as the case may be) shall as soon as reasonably practicable notify Securityholders of the substitution in accordance with Condition 29 (Notices).

35.6 Right to Termination in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities

- (a) With respect to the right of substitution referred to in Condition 35.2 (Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), the Issuer shall provide 60 calendar days' notice of any substitution under such Condition to Securityholders in accordance with Condition 29 (Notices). Securityholders who object to the substitution will have the right to require the Issuer to redeem their Securities at a price determined in accordance with the provisions of this Condition 35.6 (Right to Termination in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), by providing notice of their intention to exercise such right in the manner set out in this Condition 35.6 (Right to Termination in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) (the "Right to Termination").

- (b) The termination of any Securities in respect of which the Right to Termination has been exercised by Securityholders shall take place one Business Day prior to the relevant substitution becoming effective (the "Substitution Termination Date"). The Issuer shall terminate any Securities in respect of which the Right to Termination has been exercised at a price equal to (i) in the case of Securities the terms of which provide for the repayment in full of principal at maturity, the Replacement Value of such Securities or (ii) in every other case, the fair market value of such Securities on the day on which the relevant Right to Termination Notice is deposited, in accordance with the provisions of this Condition 35.6 (Right to Termination in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), as determined by the Determination Agent in its reasonable discretion.

For the purpose of this Condition 35.6 (Right to Termination in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), "Replacement Value" means an amount determined by the Determination Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, as at the day on which the relevant Right to Termination Notice is deposited in accordance with the provisions of this Condition 35.6 (Right to Termination in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) to be the amount that a Qualified Financial Institution would charge to assume all of the Issuer's payment and other obligations with respect to the Notes as if the relevant event described in Condition 35.2 (Substitution of Issuer or Guarantor with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) and the substitution described in this Condition 35 (Substitution) had not occurred or to undertake obligations that would have the effect of preserving the economic equivalent of any payment by the Issuer to the Securityholder with respect to the Securities.

- (c) In order to exercise the option contained in this Condition 35.6 (Right to Termination in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) the holder of a Security (other than a Nordic Security) must, not less than 10 Business Days before the date on which the substitution is due to take place (the "Substitution Date"), deposit such Security with the Registrar, and a duly completed Right to Termination Notice in the form obtainable from any Paying Agent. The Paying Agent with which a Security is so deposited shall deliver a duly completed Right to Termination Receipt to the depositing Securityholder. In respect of Nordic Securities, the Right to Termination Notice shall not take effect against the Issuer before the date on which the relevant Nordic Securities have been transferred to the account designated by the Nordic Issuing and Paying Agent and blocked for further transfer by the relevant Nordic Issuing and Paying Agent. No Security, once deposited with a duly completed Right to Termination Notice in accordance with this Condition 35.6 (Right to Termination in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), may be withdrawn; provided, however, that if, prior to the relevant Substitution Termination Date, any such Security becomes immediately due and payable or, upon due presentation of any such Security on the relevant Substitution Termination Date, payment of the termination moneys is improperly withheld or refused, the relevant Paying Agent shall mail notification thereof to the depositing Securityholder at such address as may have been given by such Securityholder in the relevant Right to Termination Notice and shall hold such Security at its Specified Office for collection by the depositing Securityholder against surrender of the relevant Right to Termination Receipt. For so long as any outstanding Security is held by a Paying Agent in accordance with this Condition 35.6 (Right to Termination in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities), the depositor of such Security and not such Paying Agent shall be deemed to be the holder of such Security for all purposes.
- (d) In order to exercise the option contained in this Condition 35.6 (Right to Termination in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) the holder of a Nordic Security must, not less than 10 Business Days before the relevant Substitution Date, deposit with the Euroclear Registrar a duly completed Right to Termination Notice in the form obtainable from the Euroclear Registrar. The Euroclear Registrar with which a Right to Termination Notice is so deposited shall deliver a duly completed Right to Termination Receipt to the depositing Securityholder. Once deposited a duly completed Right to Termination Notice may not be withdrawn; provided, however, that if, prior to the relevant Substitution Termination Date, the related Security becomes immediately due and payable or, upon the relevant Substitution Termination Date, payment of the termination moneys is improperly withheld or refused, the Euroclear Registrar shall mail notification thereof to the depositing Securityholder at such address as may have been given by such Securityholder in the relevant Right to Termination Notice and the relevant depositing Securityholder and not the Euroclear Registrar shall be deemed to be the holder of such Security for all purposes in such case.

- (e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, in respect of any Series of Securities for which Morgan Stanley is the Issuer, Securityholders shall only have the right to submit a Right to Termination Notice from the date which is one calendar year after the Issue Date of such Securities.
- (f) Any payments made to Securityholders in accordance with this Condition 35.6 (Right to Termination in respect of substitutions with non-Morgan Stanley Group entities) shall be made in accordance with the provisions of Condition 6.8 (Payment and delivery – Registered Securities) or Condition 6.11 (Exercise and Settlement of Nordic Securities), as applicable.

35.7 Tax Consequences of substitution

If the Issuer substitutes an entity in place of the Issuer as principal debtor under the Securities, the tax consequences (including the withholding tax consequences) of holding the Securities may change. If withholding is required on the Securities the Issuer will not be required to pay any additional amounts.

36. Rights of the Issuer and Determination Agent are Cumulative

Each of the Issuer and the Determination Agent may have rights exercisable under different provisions of these Conditions arising from the occurrence of the same event. In such circumstances, the rights of the Issuer or the Determination Agent, as the case may be, shall be cumulative and the Issuer or the Determination Agent shall be entitled to exercise its rights under whichever provision (or provisions) of these Conditions that may apply following the occurrence of the relevant event, as it may select in its discretion. The exercise by the Issuer or the Determination Agent of a right under one provision shall not preclude the exercise by the Issuer or the Determination Agent of a right under another provision.

37. Rights of Third Parties

No person shall have any right to enforce any term or condition of the Warrants or Certificates under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999.

38. Representations and Acknowledgements by Securityholders

- 38.1 Each Securityholder shall be deemed to represent and acknowledge to the Issuer on acquiring any Warrants or Certificates that:

- (a) neither the Issuer nor any Affiliate or any of their agents is acting as a fiduciary for it or provides investment, tax, accounting, legal or other advice in respect of the Warrants or Certificates and that such Securityholder and its advisors are not relying on any communication (written or oral and including, without limitation, opinions of third party advisors) of the Issuer or any Affiliate as (i) legal, regulatory, tax, business, investment, financial, accounting or other advice, (ii) a recommendation to invest in any Warrants or Certificates or (iii) an assurance or guarantee as to the expected results of an investment in the Warrants or Certificates (it being understood that information and explanations related to the terms and conditions of the Warrants or Certificates shall not be considered to be any such advice, recommendation, assurance or guarantee and should be independently confirmed by the recipient and its advisors prior to making any such investment);
- (b) such Securityholder (i) has consulted with its own legal, regulatory, tax, business, investments, financial and accounting advisors to the extent that it has deemed necessary, and has made its own investment, hedging, and trading decisions based upon its own judgment and upon any advice from such advisors as it has deemed necessary and not upon any view expressed by the Issuer or any Affiliate or any of their agents and (ii) is acquiring Warrants or Certificates with a full understanding of the terms, conditions and risks thereof and it is capable of and willing to assume those risks; and
- (c) the Issuer and/or any Affiliates may have banking or other commercial relationships with issuers of any securities to which the Warrants or Certificates relate and may engage in proprietary trading in any securities, indices, futures contracts, commodities or other property to which the Warrants or Certificates relate or options, futures, derivatives or other instruments relating thereto (including such trading as the Issuer and/or any Affiliate deem appropriate in their reasonable discretion to hedge the market risk on the Warrants or Certificates and other transactions between the Issuer and/or any Affiliates and any third parties), and that such trading (i) may affect the price or level thereof and consequently the amounts payable under the Warrants or Certificates and (ii) may be effected at any time, including on or near any Valuation or Averaging Date.

38.2 If "(China Connect)" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, each Securityholder in respect of the relevant Series of Warrants or Certificates shall be deemed to represent, acknowledge and undertake to the relevant Issuer on acquiring any Warrant or Certificate (and such acknowledgements, representations and undertakings are deemed to be repeated on the Issue Date) that:

- (a) without prejudice to the generality of any applicable law, the Securityholder expressly consents to the disclosure by the Issuer or its Affiliates to the relevant authorities in the jurisdiction of the incorporation or organisation of the issuer of the Shares (a "Relevant Jurisdiction"), the jurisdiction in which the Exchange is located (the "Local Jurisdiction"), a jurisdiction in which the SEHK is located (a "CCS Jurisdiction") or any jurisdiction of tax residence of the issuer of the Shares (a "Tax Residence Jurisdiction"), information relating to the Warrants or Certificates, including the name of the Securityholder in order for the Issuer or any of its Affiliates to comply with laws and regulations of the Relevant Jurisdiction, the Local Jurisdiction, the CCS Jurisdiction or Tax Residence Jurisdiction that are applicable to the Issuer or its Affiliate in connection with their dealings in the underlying;
- (b) the Securityholder represents that, (A) in the case of an individual, either (x) it is not a person who is a citizen of or resident or domiciled in the PRC, or (y) it is a citizen of the PRC who is a resident of or is domiciled in a jurisdiction outside the PRC, or (B) in the case of an entity, either (x) it is not incorporated or registered under the laws of PRC or (y) it will purchase and hold the Program Securities pursuant to any program approved by, or approval of or registration with, any competent PRC regulator, or in such other manner as may be permitted in accordance with the laws and regulations of the PRC; and
- (c) the Securityholder will use funds lawfully owned by it and located outside PRC to purchase the Warrants or Certificates unless it will purchase the Warrants or Certificates pursuant to any program approved by, or approval of or registration with, any competent PRC regulator.

38.3 If "QFII" is specified next to the name of the Exchange in the applicable Pricing Supplement, each Securityholder in respect of the relevant Series of Warrants or Certificates shall be deemed to represent, acknowledge and undertake to the relevant Issuer on acquiring any Warrant or Certificate (and such acknowledgements, representations and undertakings are deemed to be repeated on the Issue Date) that:

- (b) the beneficial owner of the Warrants or Certificates is not (1) a PRC Citizen resident in the PRC (excluding Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan), (2) a PRC Citizen resident outside the PRC who is not a permanent resident of another country or permanent resident of Hong Kong, Macau or Taiwan, unless otherwise permitted by the laws, administrative regulations and rules of the PRC, or (3) a Legal Person Registered in the PRC (as defined below) (except a Legal Person Registered in the PRC whose purchase of the Program Securities has been conducted pursuant to a program approved by, or approval of or registration with, any competent PRC regulator, or in such other manner as may be permitted in accordance with the laws and regulations of the PRC), (each a "Domestic Investor");
- (c) in the case where the beneficial owner of the Warrants or Certificates is a trustee for a trust, interests in the trust are not majority-owned by, and the management decision over the trust is not controlled by, one or more Domestic Investor(s). For the avoidance of doubt, in the case only where a trust's investments are being managed on a discretionary basis by an investment manager, such investment manager shall not be deemed to control such entity for the purposes of this representation by reason only of it being able to control the decision-making in relation to the entity's financial, investment and/or operating policies, provided that the foregoing representation does not apply to trusts or companies organized as investment schemes for public offering;

- (d) to the best of its knowledge, all amounts paid or to be paid by the beneficial owner of the Warrants or Certificates under the Warrants or Certificates did not and will not involve moneys financed by or sourced from any Domestic Investor in contravention of the laws and regulations of the PRC; and

"25.4 Calculations and Determinations:

The Determination Agent will make the calculations and determinations as described in this Condition 25.4 (Calculations and Determinations) in such a manner as the Determination Agent determines is appropriate acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner (having regard in each case to the criteria stipulated in the Conditions).

Notwithstanding that certain calculations, determinations and adjustments in this Condition 25.4 (Calculations and Determinations) may be expressed to be on a certain date, the Determination Agent may make such calculations, determinations and adjustments in respect of that date on a date after that date determined by it in its reasonable discretion provided that shall not apply to the calculation of the Final Redemption Amount or Early Redemption Amount.

Pursuant to this Condition 25.4 (Calculations and Determinations) the Determination Agent has a number of discretions. These are necessary since in certain circumstances it is not reasonably practicable or otherwise not appropriate for certain valuations to be carried out in relation to relevant reference assets and in these circumstances the Determination Agent also may exercise certain discretions.

Where the Conditions provide that the Issuer or the Determination Agent may make determinations, modifications or adjustments in or at its discretion (or any similar wording) that relate to the essential characteristics (interpreted as set out below) of the Warrants or Certificates, the Issuer or the Determination Agent will make such determinations, modifications or adjustments acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner and in such a manner that such determinations, modifications or adjustments do not create a significant imbalance (interpreted as set out below) between the rights and obligations of the Issuer compared to the Securityholders to the detriment of the Securityholders.

Notwithstanding anything else in the Conditions (but excluding any modification of the Conditions pursuant to Condition 33 (Severance, Meetings of Securityholders and Modification of Conditions)), the Issuer or the Determination Agent, as the case may be, may only modify or adjust the terms of the Warrants or Certificates in accordance with the Conditions (other than modifications or adjustments that do not relate to essential characteristics of the Notes) or terminate the Warrants or Certificates prior to their Expiration Date in accordance with the Conditions, where such modification, adjustment or redemption is effected in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Belgian Code of Economic Law (Wetboek van economisch recht/Code de droit economique) dated 28 February 2013 (as amended and/or supplemented from time to time, the "CEL"), especially those pertaining to unfair contract terms.

The Issuer and the Determination Agent will comply with the provisions of the CEL applicable to the Warrants or Certificates especially those pertaining to unfair contract terms, in the application of the Conditions of the Warrants or Certificates. In such case, and notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Conditions but without prejudice to the penultimate paragraph of this Condition 25.4 (Calculations and Determinations) below, any provisions of the Conditions which are deemed unfair in whole or in part pursuant to the CEL shall not apply to the extent deemed unfair.

The Securityholders may not be charged any costs for the modification or adjustment of the Conditions and for the early settlement of the Warrants or Certificates before their Expiration Date.

For the purposes of these Belgian Supplemental Condition (Securities) and, where applicable, the Conditions, the questions (a) whether a determination, modification or adjustment referred to in this Condition 25.4 (Calculations and Determinations) relates to the essential characteristics of the Warrants or Certificates, (b) whether the manner of making a determination, modification or adjustment creates a significant imbalance between the rights and obligations of the Issuer compared to the Securityholders to the detriment of the Securityholders, (c) whether a modification, adjustment or redemption referred to in this Condition 25.4 (Calculations and Determinations) is effected in compliance with the provisions of the CEL, especially those pertaining to unfair terms, (d) whether any provisions of the Conditions are deemed unfair in whole or in part and whether the Issuer or the Determination Agent has complied with provisions of the CEL especially those pertaining to unfair contract terms, in the application of the Conditions of the Warrants or Certificates will be made in accordance with applicable Belgian law, in particular the CEL. Save as provided in the preceding sentence all other provisions of these Belgian Supplemental Condition (Securities) and the Conditions and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in relation to them shall be governed by and construed in accordance with English law. If any part(s) of the Conditions or of any determination, modification or adjustment referred to in this Condition 25.4

(Calculations and Determinations) are found to be (i) inapplicable, (ii) prohibited, (iii) unfair or (iv) otherwise non-compliant with Belgian law, including the CEL, in any applicable judicial proceeding for reasons referred to in this Condition 25.4 (Calculations and Determinations) (each an "Invalid Provision"), then each part of such Invalid Provision which is found to be (i) inapplicable, (ii) prohibited, (iii) unfair or (iv) otherwise non-compliant with Belgian law shall be deemed to be removed and all remaining part(s) of the provisions of the Conditions or the relevant determination, modification or adjustment following such removal shall remain operative and binding on the Issuer and the Securityholders.

To the extent permitted by applicable law, all calculations made by the Issuer or the Determination Agent under the Conditions shall, in the absence of manifest error, be final, conclusive and binding on Securityholders. Neither the Issuer nor the Determination Agent assumes any obligation or relationship of agency or trust or of a fiduciary nature for or with any Securityholder."

Where the underlying is neither an index nor a commodity, include equivalent information.])

A "price return" index is calculated on the basis that dividends paid on the components are not reinvested. A standard "total return" index is calculated on the basis that dividends paid on the components are reinvested, thereby increasing the value of the index compared to the price return version. Due to the fixed amount of synthetic dividend being subtracted from [the][each] Decrement Index, such Decrement Index will underperform an otherwise equivalent total return index where dividends are invested. In case the synthetic dividend is larger than the realised level of dividends paid by the relevant companies, the decrement index will underperform an otherwise equivalent price return index.

[Insert this additional language in respect of a Decrement Index which tracks the performance of a single component security: As [Insert name of the relevant Index/Indices] (insert relevant decrement index/indices) tracks the performance of a single component security, [each] such Decrement Index (after deduction of the pre-determined synthetic dividend) will underperform a direct investment in such component security (i.e. because such direct investment would benefit from dividends paid by the component security without any deduction of the synthetic dividend).]

FORM OF WARRANTS AND CERTIFICATES

Morgan Stanley may issue Certificates, and MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL and MSESE may issue Warrants and Certificates, in registered form ("Registered Warrants" and "Registered Certificates", together, the "Registered Securities"). Registered Warrants and Registered Certificates may be in either individual certificate form or in global registered form. In addition, MSBV, MSI plc and MSESE may issue Warrants and Certificates designated as "Finnish Warrants" or "Finnish Certificates" or "Swedish Warrants" or "Swedish Certificates" and MSBV and MSI plc may issue Warrants and Certificates designated as "Norwegian Warrants" or "Norwegian Certificates" or "Danish Warrants" or "Danish Certificates" in each case in dematerialised and uncertificated book-entry form with a Nordic central securities depository ("Nordic Securities").

Registered Securities

Registered Securities will be in global registered form ("Global Registered Securities") or individual registered form ("Individual Registered Securities"), in each case as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement. Each Global Registered Security will be registered in the name of a common depository (or its nominee) for the Relevant Clearing System and will be deposited on or about the issue date with the common depository and will be exchangeable for Individual Registered Securities in accordance with its terms.

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies the form of Warrants or Certificates as being "Individual Registered Securities", then the Registered Securities will at all times be in the form of Individual Registered Securities issued to each Securityholder in respect of their respective holdings.

If the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies the form of Warrants or Certificates as being "Global Registered Securities exchangeable for Individual Registered Securities", then the Registered Securities will initially be in the form of a Global Registered Security which will be exchangeable in whole, but not in part, for Individual Registered Securities:

- (a) on the expiry of such period of notice as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; or
- (b) at any time, if so specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement; or
- (c) if the applicable Pricing Supplement specifies "in the limited circumstances described in the Global Registered Security", then (i) if the Relevant Clearing System is closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reason of legal holidays) or announces an intention permanently to cease business or (ii) an Event of Default occurs with respect to any Warrant or Certificate in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of the Warrants and Certificates.

Whenever a Global Registered Security is to be exchanged for Individual Registered Securities, the Issuer shall procure that Individual Registered Securities will be issued in an aggregate nominal amount or number of Registered Securities equal to the nominal amount or number of Registered Securities represented by the Global Registered Security within five business days of the delivery, by or on behalf of the holder of the Global Registered Security to the Securities Registrar of such information as is required to complete and deliver such Individual Registered Securities (including, without limitation, the names and addresses of the persons in whose names the Individual Registered Securities are to be registered and the quantity of each such person's holding) against the surrender of the Global Registered Security at the specified office of the Securities Registrar such Individual Registered Securities will be issued within five business days of the delivery to the Registrar of the information and any required certification described in the preceding paragraph against the surrender of the relevant Global Registered Security at the Specified Office of the Registrar.

Such exchange will be effected in accordance with the provisions of the Securities Agency Agreement and the regulations concerning the transfer and registration of Registered Securities scheduled thereto and, in particular, shall be effected without charge to any holder, but against such indemnity as the Securities Registrar may require in respect of any tax or other duty of whatsoever nature which may be levied or imposed in connection with such exchange.

Terms and Conditions applicable to the Registered Securities

The terms and conditions applicable to any Individual Registered Security will be endorsed on that Individual Registered Security and will consist of the terms and conditions set out under "Terms and Conditions of the Warrants and Certificates" above and the provisions of the applicable Pricing Supplement which supplement, modify and/or replace those terms and conditions.

The terms and conditions applicable to any Global Registered Security will differ from those terms and conditions which would apply to the Registered Security were it in individual form to the extent described under "Summary of Provisions relating to the Warrants and Certificates while in Global Form" below.

Nordic Warrants and Certificates

Warrants and Certificates issued by MSBV, MSI plc or MSESE and designated as "Finnish Warrants", "Finnish Certificates" or "Swedish Warrants" or "Swedish Certificates" in the applicable Pricing Supplement and Warrants and Certificates issued by MSBV or MSI plc and designated as "Norwegian Warrants" or "Norwegian Certificates" or "Danish Warrants" or "Danish Certificates" in the applicable Pricing Supplement will be issued in uncertificated and dematerialised book-entry form in accordance with the Finnish or, as appropriate, Norwegian or, as appropriate, Danish or, as appropriate, Swedish legislation and all other applicable local laws, regulations and operating procedures applicable to and/or issued by the Finnish or, as appropriate, Swedish central securities depository from time to time (the "NCSD Rules") designated as registrar for the Nordic Warrants and Certificates in the applicable Pricing Supplement (the "NCSD"). No physical global or definitive Warrants or Certificates will be issued in respect of Nordic Warrants and Certificates. Payments of principal, interest (if any) or any other amounts on any Nordic Warrant or Certificate will be made through the NCSD in accordance with the NCSD Rules. For the avoidance of doubt, with respect to Norwegian Warrants and Norwegian Certificates, the registration and transfer of the Norwegian Warrants or the Norwegian Certificates, as applicable, in the Norwegian CSD for the registration of financial instruments shall be governed by, and shall be construed in accordance with, Norwegian law.

SUMMARY OF PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE WARRANTS AND CERTIFICATES WHILE IN GLOBAL FORM

Clearing System Accountholders

In relation to any Registered Warrants and Registered Certificates (together, the "Registered Securities") (or any Tranche thereof) represented by a Global Registered Security and subject as provided in the Securities Agency Agreement, references in the "Terms and Conditions of the Warrants and Certificates" to "Securityholder" are references to the person in whose name such Global Registered Security is for the time being registered which, for so long as the Global Registered Security is held by or on behalf of a depositary or common depositary for the Relevant Clearing System, will be that depositary or common depositary.

Each of the persons shown in the records of the Relevant Clearing System as being entitled to an interest in a Global Registered Security (each an "Accountholder") must look solely to the Relevant Clearing System (as the case may be) for such Accountholder's share of each payment made by the Issuer to the holder of such Global Registered Security and in relation to all other rights arising under such Global Registered Security, including any right to exchange any exchangeable Warrants or Certificates or any right to require the Issuer to repurchase such Warrants or Certificates. The respective rules and procedures of the Relevant Clearing System from time to time will determine the extent to which, and the manner in which, Accountholders may exercise any rights arising under the Global Registered Security and the timing requirements for meeting any deadlines for the exercise of those rights. For so long as the relevant Warrants or Certificates are represented by a Global Registered Security, Accountholders shall have no claim directly against the Issuer in respect of payments due under the Warrants or Certificates and such obligations of the Issuer will be discharged by payment to the holder of the Global Registered Security, as the case may be, in respect of each amount so paid.

So long as the Relevant Clearing System or its nominee is the holder of a Global Registered Security, the Relevant Clearing System or such nominee, as the case may be, will be considered the sole owner of the Securities represented by such Global Registered Security for all purposes under the Securities Agency Agreement and such Warrants or Certificates, except to the extent that in accordance with the Relevant Clearing System's published rules and procedures any ownership rights may be exercised by its participants or beneficial owners through participants.

Exchange of Global Registered Securities

Whenever a Global Registered Security is to be exchanged for Individual Registered Securities, the Issuer shall procure that the relevant quantity of Individual Registered Securities will be issued within five business days of the delivery, by or on behalf of the holder of the Global Registered Security to the Registrar of such information as is required to complete and deliver such Individual Registered Securities (including, without limitation, the names and addresses of the persons in whose names the Individual Registered Securities are to be registered and the quantity of each such person's holding) against the surrender of the Global Registered Security at the specified office of the Securities Registrar. Such exchange will be effected in accordance with the provisions of the Securities Agency Agreement and the regulations concerning the transfer and registration of Registered Securities scheduled thereto and, in particular, shall be effected without charge to any holder, but against such indemnity as the Securities Registrar may require in respect of any tax or other duty of whatsoever nature which may be levied or imposed in connection with such exchange.

If:

- (a) Individual Registered Securities have not been delivered by 5.00 p.m. (London time) on the thirtieth day after they are due to be issued and delivered in accordance with the terms of the Global Registered Security; or
- (b) any of the Warrants and Certificates represented by a Global Registered Security (or any part of it) has become due and payable in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of the Warrants and Certificates, payment or delivery (as applicable) in full has not been made to the holder of the Global Registered Security in accordance with the terms of the Global Registered Security on the due date for payment or delivery (as applicable), then 5.00 p.m. (London time) on such thirtieth day (in the case of (a) above) or at 5.00 p.m. (London time) on such due date (in the case of (b) above), each person shown in the records of the Relevant Clearing System as being entitled to interest in the Warrants or the Certificates (each an "Accountholder"), shall acquire rights under the Deeds of Covenant to enforce against the Issuer, the Issuer's obligations to the Securityholder in respect of the Warrants and Certificates represented by the Global Registered Security, including the obligation of the Issuer to make all payments and deliveries when due at any time in respect of such Warrants or Certificates as if such Warrants or Certificates had been duly presented and (where required by the Conditions) surrendered on the due date in accordance with the Conditions. Each Accountholder shall acquire such right without prejudice to any other rights which the Securityholder may have under the Global Registered Security and the Deeds of Covenant. Notwithstanding the rights that each Accountholder may acquire under the Deeds of Covenant, payment to the Securityholder in respect of any Warrants or Certificates represented by the Global Registered Security shall constitute a discharge of the Issuer's obligations to the extent of any such payment or delivery and nothing in the Deed of Covenant shall oblige the Issuer to make any payment or delivery under the Warrants or Certificates to or to the order of any person other than the Securityholder.

Conditions Applicable to Global Registered Securities

Each Global Registered Security will contain provisions which modify the terms and conditions set out in "Terms and Conditions of the Warrants and Certificates" as they apply to the Global Registered Security. The following is a summary of certain of those provisions:

Transfers of interests in the Warrants and Certificates: Any transfers of the interest of an Accountholder in any Warrants or Certificates that are represented by a Global Registered Security must be effected through the relevant Accountholder's account with Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or any other relevant clearing system (each a "Clearing System" or "Relevant Clearing System") and in accordance with the rules of the relevant Clearing System.

Exercise procedures: Subject to Condition

Condition 5.9 (Warrants and Certificates void on expiry) of the "Terms and Conditions of the Warrants and Certificates" and to prior termination of the Warrants and Certificates as provided in the Conditions, Warrants and Certificates may be exercised by an Accountholder (at his own expense) at such time and on such day(s) as provided in Condition 5.1 (American Style Securities), 5.2 (European Style Securities) or 5.3 (Bermudan Style Securities) of the "Terms and Conditions of the Warrants and Certificates" by delivery of a duly completed and signed Exercise Notice to (i) the Relevant Clearing System and (ii) the relevant Securities Agent or Securities Registrar, with a copy to the Determination Agent. Any such exercise shall be subject to the rules and procedures of the relevant Clearing System and any Exercise Notice will be irrevocable and may not be withdrawn by the Accountholder. The holder of the Global Registered Security (upon the exercise of the Warrant or Certificate in full) must, within the period specified therein for the deposit of the relevant Warrant or Certificate, deposit such Global Registered Security with the Securities Registrar.

Subject to Condition 5.9 (Warrants and Certificates void on expiry) of the "Terms and Conditions of the Warrants and Certificates", any Exercise Notice delivered after the Latest Exercise Time on any day shall: (a) in the case of Bermudan Style Securities and European Style Securities, be void and (b) in the case of American Style Securities, be deemed to have been delivered on the next following day on which such Securities are exercisable (unless no such day occurs on or prior to the Expiration Date, in which case that Exercise Notice shall be void).

Exercise dates and times: Exercise of Warrants and Certificates represented by a Global Registered Security may only be effected on a day on which the relevant Clearing System is open for business in addition to any other relevant day as provided in the Conditions. Such Registered Security must be exercised as provided in the "Terms and Conditions of the Warrants and Certificate" (as modified as set out below) by 10 a.m. in the place where the Relevant Clearing System through which the relevant Registered Securities are exercised (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement).

Form of Exercise Notice: Each Exercise Notice shall be in the form (for the time being current) available from each Securities Agent or the Securities Registrar and must:

- (a) specify the name, address, telephone, facsimile and telex details of the Accountholder in respect of the Registered Securities being exercised;
- (b) specify the number of Registered Securities of the relevant Series being exercised by the Accountholder (which must not be less than the Minimum Exercise Number);
- (c) specify the number of the Accountholder's account at the relevant Clearing System to be debited with the Registered Securities being exercised and irrevocably instruct, or, as the case may be, confirm that the Accountholder has irrevocably instructed, the relevant Clearing System to debit the Accountholder's account with the Registered Securities being exercised and credit the same to the account of the Principal Securities Agent (for the account of the Issuer);

- (d) where applicable, specify the number of the Accountholder's account at the relevant Clearing System to be credited with the Cash Settlement Amount or the relevant Underlying Securities (as applicable) for the Registered Securities being exercised;
- (e) include an irrevocable undertaking to pay any applicable Taxes due by reason of exercise of and an authority to the Issuer and the relevant Clearing System to deduct an amount in respect thereof from any Cash Settlement Amount due to such Accountholder or otherwise (on, or at any time after, the Cash Settlement Payment Date) and to debit a specified account of the Accountholder at the relevant Clearing System with an amount or amounts in respect thereof;
- (f) in the case of Full Physical Settlement Securities, include an irrevocable instruction to the relevant Clearing System to debit the specified account of the Accountholder with an amount equal to the aggregate Strike Price in respect of the Registered Securities being exercised (and in the case of Bond-Linked Securities, any accrued interest, as specified in Condition 5.5(a) (Full Physical Settlement Securities)) on the Strike Price Payment Date and to credit such amount to the account of the Principal Securities Agent (for the account of the relevant Issuer); and
- (g) authorise the production of such certification in any applicable administrative or legal proceedings.

Verification of Accountholder: To exercise any Registered Securities, the relevant Accountholder must duly complete an Exercise Notice. The relevant Clearing System shall, in accordance with its normal operating procedures, verify that each person exercising Registered Securities is the Accountholder thereof according to the records of such Clearing System and that such Accountholder has an account at the relevant Clearing System which contains Registered Securities in an amount being exercised and funds equal to any applicable Taxes in respect of the Registered Securities being exercised.

If, in the determination of the relevant Clearing System, the relevant Securities Agent or the Securities Registrar:

- (a) the Exercise Notice is not complete or not in proper form;
- (b) the person submitting an Exercise Notice is not validly entitled to exercise the relevant Registered Securities or not validly entitled to deliver such Exercise Notice; or
- (c) sufficient Registered Securities and sufficient funds equal to any applicable Taxes are not available in the specified account(s) with the relevant Clearing System on the Exercise Date, that Exercise Notice will be treated as void and a new duly completed Exercise Notice must be submitted if exercise of the Accountholder's Registered Securities is still desired.

Any determination by the relevant Clearing System, the relevant Securities Agent or the Securities Registrar as to any of the matters set out above shall, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive and binding upon the Issuer, the Accountholder and the beneficial owner of the Registered Securities exercised.

Notification to the relevant Securities Agent or the Securities Registrar: Subject to the verification set out above, the relevant Clearing System will:

- (a) confirm to the Securities Registrar (copied to the Issuer and the Determination Agent) the number of Registered Securities being exercised and the number of the account to be credited with the Cash Settlement Amount; and
- (b) promptly notify the common depositary of receipt of the Exercise Notice and the number of the Registered Securities to be exercised.

Upon exercise of less than all of the Registered Securities represented by the Global Registered Security, the Securities Registrar will note such exercise in the Register relating to such Global Registered Security and the aggregate nominal amount or number of Registered Securities so exercised as represented by the Global Registered Security shall be cancelled pro tanto.

Debit of Accountholder's Account: The relevant Clearing System will on or before the Cash Settlement Payment Date debit the relevant account of the Accountholder and credit the relevant account of the Principal Securities Agent (in favour of the Issuer) with: (i) the Registered Securities being exercised, (ii) any applicable Taxes (if any) in respect of the Registered Securities being exercised and (iii) any other amounts as may be specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

If any of the items set out in the paragraph above are not so credited to the relevant account of the Principal Securities Agent (in favour of the Issuer), then the Issuer shall be under no obligation to make any payment of any nature to the relevant Accountholder in respect of the Registered Securities being exercised, and the Exercise Notice delivered in respect of such Registered Securities shall thereafter be void for all purposes.

Effect of Exercise Notice: Delivery of an Exercise Notice shall constitute an irrevocable election and undertaking by the Accountholder to exercise the Registered Securities specified therein, provided that the person exercising and delivering such Exercise Notice is the person then appearing in the records of the relevant Clearing System as the holder of the relevant Registered Securities. If the person exercising and delivering the Exercise Notice is not the person so appearing, such Exercise Notice shall for all purposes become void and shall be deemed not to have been so delivered.

After the delivery of an Exercise Notice (other than an Exercise Notice which shall become void) by an Accountholder, such Accountholder shall not be permitted to transfer either legal or beneficial ownership of the Registered Securities exercised thereby. Notwithstanding this, if any Accountholder does so transfer or attempt to transfer such Registered Securities, the Accountholder will be liable to the Issuer for any losses, costs and expenses suffered or incurred by the Issuer including those suffered or incurred as a consequence of it having terminated any related hedging operations in reliance on the relevant Exercise Notice and subsequently: (i) entering into replacement hedging operations in respect of such Securities; or (ii) paying any amount on the subsequent exercise of such Registered Securities without having entered into any replacement hedging operations.

Payments: All payments in respect of a Global Registered Security which, in accordance with the "Terms and Conditions of the Warrants and Certificates", require presentation and/or surrender of an Individual Registered Security will be made against presentation and (in the case of payment in full) and/or surrender of the Global Registered Security at the Specified Office of the Principal Securities Agent and will be effective to satisfy and discharge the corresponding liabilities of the Issuer in respect of the Warrants and Certificates. On each occasion on which a payment is made in respect of a Global Registered Security, the Issuer shall procure that the same is entered pro rata in the records of the Relevant Clearing System. Any payments shall be made in accordance with the rules and procedures of the relevant Clearing System and the Issuer. the Securities Agents, the Securities Registrar and the Securities Transfer Agent, shall not be liable, under any circumstance, for any acts or defaults of any Clearing System in the performance of the Clearing System's duties in relation to the Warrants and the Certificates.

Payment Record Date: Each payment in respect of a Global Registered Security will be made to the person shown as the holder in the Register at the close of business (in the relevant clearing system) on the Clearing System Business Day before the due date for such payment (the "Record Date") where "Clearing System Business Day" means a day on which each relevant Clearing System for which the Global Registered Security is being held is open for business.

Notices: Notwithstanding Condition 29 (Notices) of the "Terms and Conditions of the Warrants and Certificates", while all the Registered Securities are represented by a Global Registered Security and the Global Registered Security is deposited with a Clearing System, notices to Accountholders may be given by delivery of the relevant notice to the Relevant Clearing System and, in any case, such notices shall be deemed to have been given to the Accountholders in accordance with Condition 29 (Notices) of the "Terms and Conditions of the Warrants and Certificates", as applicable, on the date of delivery to the Relevant Clearing System.

BENEFIT PLAN INVESTORS

The Program Securities may not be acquired or held by, or acquired with the assets of, any employee benefit plan subject to Title I of the United States Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), or any individual retirement account or plan subject to section 4975 of the Code or any entity whose underlying assets include "plan assets" within the meaning of section 3(42) of ERISA by reason of any such employee benefit plan's, account's or plan's investment therein.

The Global Registered Notes and Global Registered Securities will bear a legend to the following effect:

THE INVESTOR SHALL BE DEEMED TO REPRESENT BY ITS ACQUISITION AND HOLDING OF AN INTEREST HEREIN THAT IT IS NOT ACQUIRING THE NOTE WITH THE ASSETS OF ANY EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLAN SUBJECT TO TITLE I OF THE UNITED STATES EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT INCOME SECURITY ACT OF 1974, AS AMENDED ("ERISA"), ANY INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNT OR PLAN SUBJECT TO SECTION 4975 OF THE UNITED STATES INTERNAL REVENUE CODE OF 1986, AS AMENDED, OR ANY ENTITY WHOSE UNDERLYING ASSETS INCLUDE "PLAN ASSETS" WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 3(42) OF ERISA BY REASON OF ANY SUCH EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLAN'S, ACCOUNT'S OR PLAN'S INVESTMENT THEREIN.

UNITED STATES FEDERAL TAXATION

This discussion is limited to the U.S. federal tax issues addressed below. Additional issues may exist that are not addressed in this discussion and that could affect the U.S. federal tax treatment of the transaction or the holders. Investors should seek their own advice based upon their particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.

Due to the absence of statutory, judicial or administrative authorities that directly address the treatment of instruments that are similar to the Program Securities, no assurance can be given that the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") or a court will agree with the treatment described herein. Accordingly, prospective investors should consult their tax advisors regarding all aspects of the U.S. federal tax consequences of an investment in the Program Securities (including possible alternative treatments). Moreover, prospective investors should consult their tax advisors regarding the tax consequences to them in the event that, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, a Program Security is deemed to be terminated and reissued (e.g., as a result of a substitution of an Issuer) or partly disposed of (e.g., if the IRS successfully asserts that an investor is the owner of any property underlying certain actively-managed indices).

This summary does not address the U.S. federal income tax consequences of every type of Program Security that may be issued under the Program. The applicable Issue Terms may include an additional or alternative discussion regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences with respect to any particular Program Security.

United States Federal Taxation of Program Securities Offered to Non-U.S. Holders

The following are certain of the U.S. federal income and estate tax consequences of ownership and disposition of certain Program Securities offered to Non-U.S. Holders (as defined below). This summary is based on the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), administrative pronouncements, judicial decisions and final, temporary and proposed Treasury regulations, all as of the date hereof, changes to any of which subsequent to the date of this Offering Circular may affect the tax consequences described herein. As used herein, the term "Non-U.S. Holder" means a person that for U.S. federal income tax purposes is a beneficial owner of a Program Security and is:

- an individual who is classified as a nonresident alien;
- a foreign corporation; or
- a foreign estate or trust.

The term "Non-U.S. Holder" does not include any of the following persons:

- an individual present in the United States for 183 days or more in the taxable year of disposition;
- certain former citizens or residents of the United States;
- a person for whom income or gain in respect of the Program Securities is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States; or
- a person who has a "tax home" (as defined in section 911(d)(3) of the Code) or an office or other fixed place of business in the United States.

Special rules may also apply to corporations (or the shareholders thereof) that for U.S. federal income tax purposes are treated as personal holding companies, controlled foreign corporations, or passive foreign investment companies.

Such holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of a Program Security.

If an entity that is classified as a partnership holds a Program Security, the tax treatment of a partner generally will depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Partners of partnerships holding Program Securities should consult their tax advisors regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of owning and disposing of a Program Security.

This discussion does not address the consequences of the ownership or disposition of any Relevant Underlying received upon settlement of any Program Security, nor does it address the consequences of the ownership or disposition of any Program Security in the event such Program Security is physically settled.

Notes

Notes Treated as Indebtedness

The following discussion under "—Notes Treated as Indebtedness" applies to Notes treated as indebtedness of the relevant Issuer for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The Issuers intend to treat Notes as indebtedness for U.S. federal income tax purposes if the principal amount payable in cash at maturity or upon early settlement (i) equals or exceeds the issue price (i.e., the first price at which a substantial amount of the Notes of the relevant series is sold to the public) or (ii) is not less than 90% of the issue price. The applicable Pricing Supplement may indicate an Issuer's treatment of Notes not described in the preceding sentence. There can be no assurance that the IRS or a court will agree with the relevant Issuer's intended treatment. In the case of a Note issued by Morgan Stanley, MSFL or MSFII, interest will be U.S.-source income. Except as otherwise discussed below in "—Section 897 of the Code," "—Dividend Equivalent Amounts," "—FATCA" and "—Backup Withholding and Information Reporting," or otherwise indicated in an applicable Pricing Supplement, a Non-U.S. Holder generally will not be subject to U.S. federal income or withholding tax on payments of principal, or interest (including original issue discount, if any) on a Note treated as indebtedness, or on proceeds from the sale or other disposition of a Note, provided that, in the case of a Note issued by Morgan Stanley, MSFL or MSFII, for U.S. federal income tax purposes:

- the Non-U.S. Holder does not own (directly or by attribution) ten per cent. or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of Morgan Stanley entitled to vote;
- the Non-U.S. Holder is not a bank holding the Notes in the context of an extension of credit made pursuant to a loan agreement entered into in the ordinary course of its trade or business;
- the Non-U.S. Holder is not a controlled foreign corporation related, directly or indirectly, to Morgan Stanley through stock ownership;
- the Non-U.S. Holder (and any holder through which the Notes are held) has complied with all U.S. tax identification and certification requirements;
- in the case of Exchangeable Notes (or any Note that provides for payments determined by reference to the value of property held by the Issuer or a person related to the Issuer), the Exchangeable Note is exchangeable only into (or the Note makes payments by reference to) securities that are actively traded, a basket of securities that are actively traded or an index or indices of securities that are actively traded; and
- in the case of an Exchangeable Note, the Relevant Underlying is not Morgan Stanley or any person related thereto.

The certification requirements referred to in the preceding paragraph will be fulfilled if the beneficial owner of the Notes (or a financial institution holding a Note on behalf of the beneficial owner) furnishes an IRS Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E (or with respect to certain holders, other appropriate forms), on which, among other things, the beneficial owner certifies under penalties of perjury that it is not a United States person, as defined in the Code.

If the IRS successfully challenges the treatment of the Notes as indebtedness, coupon payments on Notes issued by Morgan Stanley, MSFL or MSFII will be subject to U.S. federal income withholding tax at a rate of 30 per cent., unless the relevant Non-U.S. Holder can establish an exemption (for example, under an applicable Qualifying Treaty as described in "—Other Income Coupons" below). Unless provided otherwise in an applicable Pricing Supplement, no additional amounts will be payable with respect to any such withholding.

Certain Linked Notes not Treated as Indebtedness

The U.S. federal income tax consequences to a Non-U.S. Holder of the ownership and disposition of Notes that have principal or interest determined by reference to commodity prices, securities of entities not affiliated with the relevant Issuer, baskets of securities or indices, exchange traded funds or other funds, currencies or the credit of entities not affiliated with the relevant Issuer, and that are not treated as indebtedness of the Issuer for U.S.

federal income tax purposes, may vary depending upon the exact terms of the Notes and related factors. However, the Issuers intend to treat Notes that pay coupons periodically at an unconditional fixed rate and provide for a payment at maturity or early settlement (other than the stated coupon) that is determined by reference to the performance of a Relevant Underlying and thus may be lower than, but cannot exceed, their issue price, as a unit consisting of (i) a put right written by a Non-U.S. Holder to the Issuer that, upon the occurrence of certain events, requires such Non-U.S. Holder to pay to the Issuer an amount equal to the deposit (as described in sub-paragraph (ii)), in exchange for a cash amount based on the value of the Relevant Underlying, and (ii) a deposit with the Issuer of a fixed amount of cash to secure such Non-U.S. Holder's obligation under the put right. Based on this treatment, a portion of the periodic payments on the Notes will be treated as interest on the deposit, and the remainder will be attributable to the premium on the put right. Except as otherwise discussed below in "—Section 897 of the Code", "—Dividend Equivalent Amounts", "—FATCA" and "—Backup Withholding and Information Reporting," or otherwise indicated in an applicable Pricing Supplement, the Issuers do not expect payments on Notes that are treated by the Issuer as a put right and a deposit, as described above, to be subject to any U.S. federal withholding tax, provided that, if the Notes are treated in whole or in part as indebtedness (including the deposit described above) issued by Morgan Stanley, MSFL or MSFII for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the conditions (including the certification requirements) described above under "—Notes Treated as Indebtedness" are met. Notwithstanding the Issuers' intended treatment of the Notes described in the preceding two sentences, the IRS or a court could disagree with such treatment, in which event such Notes may be subject to rules that differ from the general rules described above.

Other Income Coupons

The following discussion under "—Other Income Coupons" applies to Notes issued by Morgan Stanley, MSFL or MSFII that pay periodic coupons and are not described above in "—Notes Treated as Indebtedness" or in "—Certain Linked Notes not Treated as Indebtedness". The U.S. federal tax treatment of such Notes is unclear due to the absence of statutory, judicial or administrative authorities that directly address such Notes or similar securities, and no ruling is being requested from the IRS with respect to such Notes. Significant aspects of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in such Notes are uncertain, and no assurance can be given that the IRS or a court will agree with the tax treatment described herein. Accordingly, investors should consult their tax advisors regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in such Notes (including possible alternative treatments thereof).

A Non-U.S. Holder should expect that a withholding agent will treat any coupon payments made by or on behalf of Morgan Stanley, MSFL or MSFII as U.S.-source income subject to U.S. federal withholding tax at a rate of 30 per cent., unless the Non-U.S. Holder establishes an exemption under the "other income" provision of a Qualifying Treaty (as defined below) or, to the extent that any portion of a coupon payment is treated as interest for U.S. federal income tax purposes, an exemption under the "portfolio interest exemption" rules as described below.

An income tax treaty between a non-U.S. jurisdiction and the United States is a "Qualifying Treaty" if it provides for a 0 per cent. rate of tax on "other income" earned by a resident of the non-U.S. jurisdiction from sources within the United States. For example, under current law, the United States' tax treaties with Japan, Germany and the United Kingdom are Qualifying Treaties. Accordingly, if the Non-U.S. Holder is a resident of a non-U.S. jurisdiction that qualifies for benefits under such a Qualifying Treaty, the Non-U.S. Holder should generally be eligible for an exemption under the "other income" provision referred to above if such Non-U.S. Holder complies with the certification requirement described below. However, because most income tax treaties contain complex eligibility rules and limitations, a Non-U.S. Holder should consult its tax advisors about its eligibility for this exemption.

To demonstrate its eligibility for the "other income" exemption to the Issuer or an applicable withholding agent, a Non-U.S. Holder generally will be required to provide a properly completed appropriate IRS Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E certifying that it is not a U.S. person and that it is eligible for the benefits of a Qualifying Treaty (or, if the Non-U.S. Holder holds its Notes through certain qualified intermediaries, it may be permitted to provide alternative documentation in lieu of the appropriate IRS Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E to establish that it is not a U.S. person and that it is eligible for the benefits of a Qualifying Treaty). A Non-U.S. Holder providing a properly completed appropriate IRS Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E as discussed in this paragraph may provide its foreign taxpayer identifying number issued by its country of residence in lieu of its U.S. taxpayer identifying number.

Notwithstanding the discussion above, because the U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Notes is unclear, any coupon payments on such Notes could alternatively be treated in whole or part as payments of interest. Nonetheless, even if the coupon payments are treated in whole or in part as interest and thus not eligible for the "other income" exemption described above, under current law and administrative practice a Non-U.S. Holder generally will qualify for the "portfolio interest exemption" with respect to the coupon payments, provided that the conditions for the exemption set forth in "—Notes Treated as Indebtedness" above (including the certification requirement) are met. Non-U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding their eligibility for any applicable exemption from withholding in light of their particular circumstances.

Future Withholding

It is possible that any future law, Treasury regulations or other guidance could materially and adversely affect the withholding tax consequences of ownership and disposition of the Notes, possibly with retroactive effect. In the event of a change of law or any formal or informal guidance by the IRS, the U.S. Treasury Department or Congress, the Issuer or a withholding agent may decide to withhold on a portion or the entire amount of payments made with respect to the Notes to Non-U.S. Holders and, unless provided otherwise in an applicable Pricing Supplement, no additional amounts will be payable with respect to any such withholding. Prospective investors should consult their tax advisors regarding all aspects of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Notes.

Warrants and Certificates

Except as otherwise discussed in "—Section 897 of the Code", "—Dividend Equivalent Amounts", "—FATCA" and "—Backup Withholding and Information Reporting," or otherwise indicated in an applicable Pricing Supplement, a Non-U.S. Holder generally will not be subject to United States federal income or withholding tax on payments on a Warrant or Certificate, or on proceeds from the sale or other disposition of a Warrant or Certificate.

The U.S. federal income tax consequences to a Non-U.S. Holder of the ownership and disposition of Warrants and Certificates may vary depending upon the exact terms of the Warrants and Certificates and related factors. Warrants and Certificates may be subject to rules that differ from the general rules discussed above. In these instances, an applicable Pricing Supplement will disclose such special rules.

Section 897 of the Code

The Issuers will not attempt to determine whether any issuer of any shares (including shares referenced by an index or basket) to which a Program Security relates (such shares hereafter referred to as "Underlying Shares") is treated as a "U.S. real property holding corporation" ("USRPHC") within the meaning of section 897 of the Code. If any issuer of Underlying Shares were so treated, certain adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences might apply upon the sale, exchange or other disposition of a Program Security (including potential U.S. withholding tax, notwithstanding the discussions above). Holders should refer to information filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission or other governmental authorities by the issuers of the Underlying Shares and consult their tax advisors regarding the possible consequences to such holders if any such issuer is or becomes a USRPHC.

Dividend Equivalent Amounts

Section 871(m) of the Code and Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder ("Section 871(m)") impose a withholding tax of 30 per cent. (or lower treaty rate applicable to dividends) on certain "dividend equivalents" paid or deemed paid to Non-U.S. Holders with respect to certain financial instruments linked to U.S. equities or indices that include U.S. equities. Subject to the discussion below concerning Program Securities issued before 1 January 2027, a Program Security linked to U.S. equities or indices that include U.S. equities (a "U.S. equity linked Program Security") will generally be subject to the Section 871(m) withholding regime if at issuance it (i) has a "delta" of 0.80 or higher with respect to the underlying U.S. equity or (ii) substantially replicates the economic performance of the underlying U.S. equity, as determined by a "substantial equivalence" test that, among other factors, takes into account the initial number of shares of the underlying U.S. equity needed to hedge the transaction fully. The tests described above are set forth in the Treasury regulations, and the applicable test will depend on the terms of the relevant U.S. equity linked Program Security. Under these rules, withholding may apply even where the relevant U.S. equity linked Program Security does not provide for any payment that is explicitly linked to a dividend. The Treasury regulations provide for certain exceptions to the withholding requirements, in particular for instruments linked to certain broad-based indices (a "qualified index") that meet standards set forth in the Treasury regulations, as well as certain securities that track a qualified index.

Pursuant to an IRS notice, Section 871(m) will not apply to Program Securities issued before 1 January 2027 that do not have a "delta" of one with respect to any U.S. equity. If the terms of a U.S. equity linked Program Security are significantly modified (including in the event that the Issuer substitutes another entity in place of the Issuer as principal debtor under the Program Security) and if such modification or substitution results in a deemed exchange of the Program Security for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the U.S. equity linked Program Security will generally be treated as reissued for this purpose at the time of the significant modification. Under Treasury regulations, certain "benchmark" rate replacements will not give rise to deemed exchanges for U.S. federal income tax purposes, provided that certain conditions set forth in the Treasury regulations are met.

The calculations of "delta" are generally made at the "calculation date," which is the earlier of (i) the time of pricing of the Program Security, i.e., when all material terms have been agreed on, and (ii) the issuance of the Program Security. However, if the time of pricing is more than 14 calendar days before the issuance of the Program Security, the calculation date is the date of the issuance of the Program Security. In those circumstances, information regarding the Issuer's final determinations for purposes of Section 871(m) may be available only after the issuance of the Program Security. As a result, a Non-U.S. Holder should acquire such a Program Security only if it is willing to accept the risk that the Program Security is treated as subject to withholding.

The amount of a "dividend equivalent" is equal to, for a "simple" contract, the product of (a) the per-share dividend amount, (b) the number of shares of the underlying U.S. equity referenced in the U.S. equity linked Program Security and (c) the delta, and, for a "complex" contract, the product of (a) the per-share dividend amount and (b) the initial hedge.

The dividend equivalent amount will be determined on the earlier of (a) the record date of the dividend and (b) the day prior to the ex-dividend date. The dividend equivalent amount will include the amount of any actual or, under certain circumstances, estimated dividend. If a Program Security is subject to withholding in respect of dividend equivalents, withholding will, depending on the applicable withholding agent's circumstances, generally be required either (i) on the underlying dividend payment date or (ii) when cash payments are made on the relevant U.S. equity linked Program Security or upon the date of maturity, lapse or other disposition thereof by the Non-U.S. Holder.

Unless provided otherwise in an applicable Pricing Supplement, if withholding under Section 871(m) is required with respect to any Program Securities held through a Relevant Clearing System or other intermediary, the Issuer may withhold U.S. federal income tax with respect to dividend equivalents a rate of 30% without regard to any reduced treaty rate, because the Issuer may not be able to associate the dividend equivalent payments with a valid tax certificate (such as an IRS Form W-8) that establishes eligibility for treaty benefits. If a beneficial owner of such Program Securities is entitled to a reduced rate of tax under an applicable income tax treaty, this will result in over-withholding. In that case, it is possible that the beneficial owner may be able to claim a refund for any excess amounts withheld by filing a U.S. tax return. However, the holder and beneficial owner may not be able to receive the necessary information to make a refund claim. Investors should consult their tax advisors regarding the consequences of any withholding (including over-withholding) under Section 871(m).

The relevant Issuer will determine whether a U.S. equity linked Program Security is subject to withholding under Section 871(m). If the Issuer has determined, as specified in the Pricing Supplement, that a U.S. equity linked Program Security should not be subject to withholding under Section 871(m), the Issuer will be deemed to instruct its agents and withholding agents that no such withholding is required, unless such agent or withholding agent knows or has reason to know otherwise. If withholding is required, the relevant Issuer will not be required to pay any additional amounts with respect to the amounts so withheld.

An Issuer's determination is not binding on the IRS, and the IRS may disagree with this determination. Section 871(m) is complex and its application may depend on the Non-U.S. Holder's particular circumstances. For example, the application of Section 871(m) may be affected if a Non-U.S. Holder enters into another transaction in connection with the acquisition of a U.S. equity linked Program Security. Accordingly, Non-U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the potential application of Section 871(m) to the Program Securities in their particular circumstances.

FATCA

U.S. tax rules commonly referred to as "FATCA" generally impose a withholding tax of 30 per cent. on payments to certain non-U.S. entities (including financial intermediaries) with respect to certain financial instruments, unless various U.S. information reporting and due diligence requirements have been satisfied. An intergovernmental agreement between the United States and the non-U.S. entity's jurisdiction may modify these requirements. FATCA generally applies to certain financial instruments that are treated as paying U.S.-source interest or dividends or other U.S.-source "fixed or determinable annual or periodical" income ("FDAP income").

Withholding (if applicable) applies to any payment of amounts treated as U.S.-source interest or dividend equivalents (as discussed above under "—Dividend Equivalent Amounts") on the Program Securities. The FATCA rules impose withholding also on any payment of gross proceeds of the disposition (including upon retirement) of Program Securities treated as providing for U.S.-source interest or dividends. However, under proposed Treasury regulations (the preamble to which specifies that taxpayers are permitted to rely on them pending finalization), no withholding will apply to payments of gross proceeds (other than amounts treated as interest or other FDAP income). Although, under current law, payments of non-U.S. source income are not subject to withholding under FATCA, there is no assurance that future Treasury regulations will not impose such withholding with respect to certain "foreign passthru payments" (a term not yet defined in the Treasury regulations). The application of FATCA to Warrants and Certificates will be addressed in the applicable Pricing Supplement, where warranted. If withholding under current or future law applies to the Program Securities, the relevant Issuer will not be required to pay any additional amounts with respect to amounts withheld under FATCA. Non-U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the potential application of FATCA to the Program Securities.

Backup Withholding and Information Reporting

Information returns may be filed with the IRS in connection with payments on the Program Securities as well as in connection with the proceeds from a sale, exchange or other disposition. A Non-U.S. Holder may be subject to backup withholding in respect of amounts paid to the Non-U.S. Holder, unless such Non-U.S. Holder complies with applicable certification procedures to establish that it is not a United States person for U.S. federal income tax purposes or otherwise establishes an exemption. Compliance with the certification procedures described above under "—Notes Treated as Indebtedness" will satisfy the certification requirements necessary to avoid backup withholding. The amount of any backup withholding from a payment to a Non-U.S. Holder will be allowed as a credit against the Non-U.S. Holder's U.S. federal income tax liability and may entitle the Non-U.S. Holder to a refund, provided that the required information is timely furnished to the IRS.

Estate Tax

Individual Non-U.S. Holders and entities the property of which is potentially includible in such an individual's gross estate for U.S. federal estate tax purposes (for example, a trust funded by such an individual and with respect to which the individual has retained certain interests or powers), should note that, absent an applicable treaty exemption, a Program Security that is treated as indebtedness for U.S. federal estate tax purposes will be treated as U.S. situs property subject to U.S. federal estate tax if payments on the Program Security, if received by the decedent at the time of death, would have been subject to U.S. federal withholding tax (even if the IRS Form W-8BEN or W-8BEN-E certification requirement described above were satisfied and not taking into account an elimination of such U.S. federal withholding tax due to the application of an income tax treaty or withholding under FATCA).

Absent an applicable treaty benefit, a Program Security that is not treated as indebtedness for U.S. federal estate tax purposes may be treated as U.S. situs property subject to U.S. federal estate tax. Non-U.S. Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the U.S. federal estate tax consequences of an investment in the Program Securities and the availability of benefits provided by an applicable estate tax treaty, if any.

United States Federal Taxation of Program Securities Offered Under Rule 144A to U.S. Holders

The following describes certain U.S. federal income tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of certain Program Securities offered pursuant to Rule 144A to U.S. Holders (as defined below).

This summary is based on the Code, administrative pronouncements, judicial decisions and final, temporary and proposed Treasury regulations, all as of the date hereof, changes to any of which subsequent to the date of this Offering Circular may affect the tax consequences described herein. The rules governing the U.S. federal income taxation of the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities are complex and depend on a taxpayer's particular circumstances. Accordingly, this summary is not a comprehensive description of all of the tax considerations that may be relevant to any particular investor in a Regulation S/Rule 144A Security.

Moreover, this summary deals only with holders that purchase Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities at their initial offering at the applicable issue price and in whose hands the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities are, and the stock or other property underlying the Regulation S/Rule 144A Security would be, capital assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In addition, this discussion assumes that the Warrants are treated as options for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and that when issued they are not significantly "in-the-money." This discussion further assumes that there will be no substitution of another entity in place of the Issuer as principal obligor in respect of the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities. Any such substitution may result in a deemed taxable exchange for U.S. Holders, depending on the facts at the time of the substitution. Furthermore, this discussion assumes that no non-U.S. tax will be imposed with respect to the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences if any non-U.S. tax is imposed with respect to the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities. Moreover, this discussion does not address the consequences of the ownership or disposition of any Relevant Underlying received upon settlement of any Regulation S/Rule 144A Security, nor does it address the consequences of the ownership or disposition of any Regulation S/Rule 144A Security in the event such Regulation S/Rule 144A Security is physically settled.

The Issuers will not attempt to determine whether any issuer of the Relevant Underlying may be a passive foreign investment company ("PFIC") within the meaning of Section 1297 of the Code. If any issuer of the Relevant Underlying (including a component of a Relevant Underlying that is a basket or index) were so treated, certain adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences could apply to a U.S. Holder upon the sale, exchange or retirement of a Regulation S/Rule 144A Security. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the tax consequences if any such issuer of the Relevant Underlying is a PFIC.

This summary also does not discuss the U.S. federal income tax treatment of an investor that is subject to special rules, such as:

- a dealer or trader in securities that uses a mark-to-market method of tax accounting;
- a financial institution;
- an insurance company;
- a tax-exempt organization;
- an entity that is treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a partnership or other pass-through entity;
- an investor that purchases a Regulation S/Rule 144A Security and holds any other position (whether long or short, direct or indirect) in any asset underlying such Regulation S/Rule 144A Security;
- an investor that enters into a Regulation S/Rule 144A Security as part of a hedge, "straddle" or integrated transaction;
- an investor whose functional currency for U.S. federal income tax purposes is not the U.S. dollar;
- an investor that holds the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities in connection with a trade or business outside the United States;
- an investor that is required to conform the timing of its income inclusions to its financial statements under the special tax accounting rules set forth in Section 451(b) of the Code; or
- a regulated investment company or a real estate investment trust.

Further, this summary does not address any minimum tax consequences, the Medicare tax on investment income or the tax implications for U.S. expatriates and former long-term residents of the United States.

If an entity that is classified as a partnership holds a Regulation S/Rule 144A Security, the tax treatment of a partner generally will depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Partners of partnerships holding Program Securities should consult their tax advisors regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of owning and disposing of a Regulation S/Rule 144A Security.

This summary does not address the U.S. federal income tax consequences of every type of Regulation S/Rule 144A Security which may be issued under the Program and is subject to any additional discussion regarding U.S. federal taxation contained in the applicable Issue Terms. Accordingly, U.S. Holders should also consult the applicable Issue Terms for any additional discussion of U.S. federal taxation with respect to the specific Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities offered thereunder.

For purposes of this discussion, a "U.S. Holder" means a person that for U.S. federal income tax purposes is a beneficial owner of a Regulation S/Rule 144A Security and:

- (i) a citizen or individual resident of the United States, as defined in Section 7701(b) of the Code;
- (ii) a corporation, including any entity treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes, created or organized in or under the laws of the United States, any State thereof or the District of Columbia; or
- (iii) an estate or trust, the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income tax without regard to its source.

Program Securities not Treated as Indebtedness

This discussion pertains only to Program Securities (i) that pay a single payment at maturity or upon early settlement based on the performance of the Relevant Underlying (and thus may be more or less than the Notes' issue price) without any coupons and (ii) where the Relevant Underlying is a single stock or a stock index that is not actively managed.

Warrants

Premium. Premium paid by a U.S. Holder for a Warrant will generally be treated as a non-deductible capital expenditure. As described in the following two sections, the amount of such premium will be taken into account upon the exercise, sale, transfer, cash settlement, or lapse of the Warrant.

Sale, Transfer, Cash Settlement, or Lapse of Warrants. A U.S. Holder of a Warrant will generally recognize capital gain or loss upon the sale, transfer, cash settlement or lapse of the Warrant in an amount equal to the difference between (i) the amount realized by the investor from such sale, transfer, settlement, or lapse, if any, and (ii) the amount of the premium that the investor paid for the Warrant. Such capital gain or loss will be long-term capital gain or loss if the Warrant was held for more than one year. Certain exceptions to such treatment are noted below, and, if appropriate, may be addressed in the applicable Issue Terms.

Mark-to-Market Rules. Under Section 1256 of the Code, special mark-to-market and character rules may apply in the case of certain options that are listed on a "qualified board or exchange" for purposes of Section 1256. Section 1256 includes exemptions for certain listed options (e.g., options that are linked to a single stock or certain narrow-based indices). U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the possible application of these rules to Warrants.

Certificates and Notes

Classification of the Certificates and Notes

Although there is uncertainty regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Certificates or Notes due to the lack of governing authority, except as noted in the applicable Issue Terms, Certificates or Notes that are Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities and are not described in "—Exchangeable Notes Treated as Debt Instruments" below are intended to be treated as "open transactions" for U.S. federal income tax purposes. No ruling is being requested from the IRS with respect to the Certificates or Notes, and the treatment of the Certificates and Notes described below is not binding on the IRS or a court. Therefore, significant aspects of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Certificates or Notes are uncertain. The following consequences apply to a Certificate or Note if its treatment as an open transaction is respected.

Treatment Prior to Settlement or Disposition. Subject to the discussions below under "Possible Alternative Tax Treatments," a U.S. Holder should not be required to recognize taxable income during the term of a Regulation S/Rule 144A Security prior to its settlement or disposition.

Cash Settlement, Sale, or Other Disposition of the Certificates or Notes. Upon the cash settlement, sale or other disposition of a Certificate or Note, a U.S. Holder will recognize taxable gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount realized (generally, the amount of cash received) and the U.S. Holder's tax basis in the Certificate or Note. In general, a U.S. Holder's tax basis in a Certificate or Note will equal the amount the U.S. Holder paid to acquire the Certificate or Note. Subject to the discussion above regarding the PFIC rules and the discussion below under "—Constructive Ownership," any such gain or loss generally will be long-term capital gain or loss if the Certificates or Notes were held for more than one year at the time of settlement, sale or other disposition, and short-term capital gain or loss otherwise.

Constructive Ownership. Some or all of the net long-term capital gain arising from certain "constructive ownership" transactions may be characterised as ordinary income, in which case an interest charge would be imposed on any such ordinary income. These rules may apply to the Certificates or Notes if the underlying property directly or indirectly includes shares of issuers treated as PFICs or of certain pass-through entities (such as partnerships, real estate investment trusts and regulated investment companies (including most ETFs)). U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the possible application of these rules to any Regulation S/Rule 144A Security.

Foreign Currency Rules. Payments of premium, exercise price, sale proceeds, and cash settlement amounts in respect of Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities that are denominated in a currency other than the U.S. dollar will be subject to special U.S. tax rules regarding foreign currency transactions. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors concerning the application of these rules in their particular circumstances.

Possible Alternative Tax Treatments

Due to the absence of authorities that directly address the proper tax treatment of the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities, the IRS could seek to treat the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities under alternative characterisations, some of which are briefly described below.

Contingent Payment Debt Instruments. The IRS could seek to treat Certificates or Notes as debt for U.S. federal income tax purposes. If any Certificates or Notes with a term of more than one year (after taking into account the last possible date that the Certificates or Notes could be outstanding under their terms) were treated as debt, such Certificates or Notes would potentially be treated as contingent payment debt instruments and the tax consequences to a U.S. Holder would be determined under Treasury regulations governing such instruments (the "Contingent Payment Regulations"). The Contingent Payment Regulations are complex, but very generally would require a U.S. Holder to accrue original issue discount on the Certificates or Notes every year at a "comparable yield" for the issuer of the instrument, determined at the time of issuance. In addition, the Contingent Payment Regulations require that a projected payment schedule, which results in such a "comparable yield," be determined by the Issuer, and that adjustments to income accruals be made to account for differences between the actual and projected amounts of the contingent payments on the contingent payment debt instruments. To the extent that the actual contingent payments for a taxable year exceed the projected amounts of such payments for that year, the U.S. Holder of a contingent payment debt instrument will recognize ordinary interest income for that taxable year in excess of the cash the U.S. Holder receives and such excess would increase the U.S. Holder's tax basis in the debt instrument. In addition, any gain realized on the settlement, sale, redemption or other disposition would be treated as ordinary income. Any loss realized on such settlement, sale, redemption or other disposition will be treated as an ordinary loss to the extent that the U.S. Holder's original issue discount inclusions with respect to the obligation exceed prior reversals of such inclusions required by the adjustment mechanism described above. Any loss realized in excess of such amount generally will be treated as a capital loss. This treatment is further described below under "—Exchangeable Notes Treated as Debt Instruments".

Interest in the Underlying Property. Depending on the terms of particular Certificates or Notes, a U.S. Holder could be treated as owning the property underlying those Certificates or Notes for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In that event, certain adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences might apply. For example, in the case of securities linked to an index, the U.S. Holder might be required to recognize appropriate amounts of capital gain on the disposition of any shares included in the underlying index each time that the index is rebalanced. In addition, the U.S. Holder might be subject to tax on dividends on shares included in the index in an amount equal to the gross dividends paid by companies whose shares are included in the index. Furthermore, any current expenses (including any withholding taxes) in respect of shares included in the index would be treated as if incurred directly by the U.S. Holder, and the deductibility of such expenses (or creditability of such withholding taxes) could be subject to limitations. Moreover, adverse consequences would apply if any of the index components is stock of a PFIC.

Future Regulations or Other Guidance. The U.S. Treasury Department and the IRS have requested comments on various issues regarding the U.S. federal income tax treatment of "prepaid forward contracts" and similar financial instruments and have indicated that such transactions may be the subject of future regulations or other guidance. Furthermore, members of Congress have proposed legislative changes to the tax treatment of derivative contracts. Any legislation, Treasury regulations or other guidance promulgated after consideration of these issues could materially and adversely affect the tax consequences of an investment in the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities, possibly with retroactive effect. U.S. Holders are urged to consult their tax advisors concerning the significance, and the potential impact, of the considerations above. The Issuers intend to treat the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities for U.S. federal income tax purposes in accordance with the treatment described in this Offering Circular or the applicable Issue Terms unless and until such time as the U.S. Treasury Department and IRS determine that some alternative treatment is more appropriate.

Exchangeable Notes Treated as Debt Instruments

The following discussion applies to cash-settled Exchangeable Notes issued by MSFL that are purchased by a U.S. Holder in the initial offering at their issue price (i.e., the first price at which a substantial amount of the Exchangeable Notes of the relevant series is sold to the public), are held by the U.S. Holder as capital assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and pay principal amount in cash at maturity or upon early settlement in an amount that is not less than 90% of the issue price. The applicable Pricing Supplement will indicate an Issuer's treatment of Notes not described in the preceding sentence.

Unless specified otherwise in an applicable Pricing Supplement, MSFL intends to treat the Exchangeable Notes as indebtedness for U.S. federal income tax purposes. There can be no assurance that the IRS or a court will agree with MSFL's intended treatment, in which case the U.S. federal income tax consequences of owning the Exchangeable Notes will be materially different from those described below. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the treatment of the Exchangeable Notes for U.S. federal income tax purposes and any alternative characterization. The remainder of this discussion assumes that MSFL's treatment of the Exchangeable Notes as debt instruments for U.S. federal income tax purposes will be respected.

Exchangeable Notes Treated as Short-term Notes

The following discussion applies to Exchangeable Notes with a term of one year or less (from but excluding the issue date to and including the last possible date that the Exchangeable Notes could be outstanding pursuant to their terms) ("short-term notes").

The treatment of Exchangeable Notes with scheduled payments that may be postponed under certain circumstances is not entirely clear. As a result, the IRS or a court may not respect MSFL's treatment of a particular issuance of Exchangeable Notes as short-term notes, or conversely may determine that an issuance of Exchangeable Notes should have been treated as short-term notes. In either case, the consequences of ownership and disposition of the affected Exchangeable Notes could be significantly different from those resulting from MSFL's intended treatment.

Generally, a short-term note is treated as issued at a discount equal to the sum of all payments required to be made on the short-term note minus its issue price. A U.S. Holder who uses a cash method of accounting for U.S. federal income tax purposes (a "cash-method holder") generally will not be required to recognize income with respect to a short-term note prior to maturity, other than with respect to the receipt of interest payments, if any, or pursuant to a taxable disposition of the short-term note. A U.S. Holder who uses an accrual method of accounting for U.S. federal income tax purposes (an "accrual-method holder"), or a cash-method holder who elects to accrue income on the short-term note currently, will be subject to rules that generally require accrual of discount on short-term notes over the term of the short-term notes, which would be calculated on a straight-line basis unless the U.S. Holder elects a constant-yield method of accrual based on daily compounding. Because the amount payable on an Exchangeable Note at maturity is subject to contingency, it is not clear whether or how any accrual should be determined prior to the time at which the relevant payment is calculated. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the amount and timing of any accruals on short-term notes.

Upon a taxable disposition of a short-term note, a U.S. Holder will generally recognize gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount realized on the taxable disposition and the U.S. Holder's tax basis in the short-term note. A U.S. Holder's tax basis in the short-term note should equal its cost, increased, if the U.S. Holder accrues income on the short-term note currently, by any previously accrued but unpaid discount. The amount of any resulting loss generally will be treated as a short-term capital loss, the deductibility of which is subject to limitations. Additionally, if a U.S. Holder recognizes a loss above certain thresholds, the U.S. Holder may be required to file a disclosure statement with the IRS with respect to "reportable transactions." U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding this reporting obligation. The excess of the amount received at maturity over a U.S. Holder's tax basis in the short-term note generally should be treated as ordinary income. Any gain recognized by a U.S. Holder on the taxable disposition of a short-term note prior to maturity should generally be ordinary income to the extent of accrued and unpaid discount on the short-term note, which is calculated on a straight-line basis unless the U.S. Holder elects to calculate such accrual on a constant-yield basis. However, if a U.S. Holder sells a short-term note prior to the time the amount payable at maturity has been fixed, it is not clear whether any gain the U.S. Holder recognizes in respect of such contingent payment should be treated as ordinary income, short-term capital gain, or a combination of ordinary income and short-term capital gain. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the treatment of a taxable disposition of short-term notes providing for contingent payments.

If a U.S. Holder is a cash-method taxpayer, unless the U.S. Holder makes an election to accrue income currently on a short-term note, the U.S. Holder will generally be required to defer deductions for interest paid on indebtedness incurred to purchase or carry the short-term note in an amount not exceeding the accrued discount that the U.S. Holder has not included in income. As discussed above, it is unclear whether or how accrual of discount should be determined prior to the time at which the amount payable at maturity is calculated.

If a U.S. Holder makes the election to accrue income on a short-term note currently, that election will apply to all short-term debt instruments acquired by the U.S. Holder on or after the first day of the first taxable year to which that election applies. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding these rules.

Payments with respect to short-term notes that are denominated in a currency other than the U.S. dollar will be subject to special U.S. tax rules. For example, if a short-term note is denominated in a foreign currency, gain or loss recognized on a disposition of the short-term note (that is not already treated as ordinary income under the rules described above) may be treated as ordinary income or loss to the extent attributable to fluctuations in currency exchange rates. The rules applicable to foreign currency debt instruments are complex and their application may depend on a U.S. Holder's particular situation. For example, various elections are available under these rules, and whether a U.S. Holder should make any of these elections may depend on the U.S. Holder's circumstances. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of a short-term note that is denominated in foreign currency, including the exchange rates at which amounts accrued or received with respect to the short-term notes should be translated to U.S. dollars.

Exchangeable Notes Treated as Foreign Currency Contingent Payment Debt Instruments

The following discussion applies to Exchangeable Notes the payments on which are denominated in, or determined by reference to, foreign currency. Unless provided otherwise in an applicable Pricing Supplement, MSFL intends to treat such Notes as foreign currency contingent payment debt instruments for U.S. federal income tax purposes ("foreign currency CPDIs") subject to special rules under Treasury regulations that govern the tax treatment of such debt securities (the "foreign currency contingent debt regulations").

Pursuant to the foreign currency contingent debt regulations, a U.S. Holder will be required to accrue interest income on the foreign currency CPDIs on a constant yield basis, based on a comparable yield, as described below, regardless of the U.S. Holder's method of tax accounting. All determinations and computations required under the foreign currency contingent debt regulations (including our determination of the "comparable yield" and "projected payment schedule" for the foreign currency CPDIs) will be made in the denomination currency of the foreign currency CPDIs. The foreign currency contingent payment debt regulations provide that the denomination currency of foreign currency CPDIs that have principal or interest payments denominated in, or determined by reference to, more than one currency is the currency with the greatest value determined by comparing the value of the noncontingent and projected payments denominated in, or determined by reference to, each currency on the issue date, discounted to present value and, if necessary, translated into U.S. dollars at the spot rate on the issue date.

The foreign currency contingent debt regulations provide that a U.S. Holder must accrue into income original issue discount ("OID") for U.S. federal income tax purposes for each accrual period prior to and including the maturity date of a foreign currency CPDI. The amount of OID that a U.S. Holder must accrue for each accrual period is determined in the denomination currency by applying the "noncontingent bond method" to the foreign currency CPDI in the denomination currency and equals the product of:

- the adjusted issue price (as defined below) of the foreign currency CPDI in the denomination currency as of the beginning of the accrual period;
- the comparable yield (as defined below) of the foreign currency CPDI, adjusted for the length of the accrual period; and
- a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days during the accrual period that the U.S. Holder held the foreign currency CPDI and the denominator of which is the number of days in the accrual period.

The "adjusted issue price" of a foreign currency CPDI is its issue price, increased by any interest income previously accrued, determined without regard to any adjustments to interest accruals described below, and decreased by the projected amount of any payments previously made pursuant to the projected payment schedule described below (without regard to the actual amount paid), each determined in the denomination currency.

The term "comparable yield" as used in the foreign currency contingent debt regulations is determined in the denomination currency and is equal to the greater of (i) the annual yield MSFL would pay, as of the issue date, on a fixed-rate, nonconvertible debt instrument in the denomination currency with no contingent payments, but with terms and conditions otherwise comparable to those of the foreign currency CPDIs, and (ii) a rate of interest that is analogous to the applicable federal rate that would be used if the U.S. dollar were the denomination currency.

The foreign currency contingent debt regulations require that MSFL provide, solely for U.S. federal income tax purposes, a schedule of the projected amounts of payments in the denomination currency (the "projected payment schedule") on a foreign currency CPDI. This schedule must produce a yield to maturity that equals the comparable yield. MSFL will determine the comparable yield and related projected payment schedule for each issuance of foreign currency CPDIs and will provide them, or information on how to obtain them, in the applicable Pricing Supplement. Although it is not clear how the comparable yield should be determined for foreign currency CPDIs that may be redeemed before maturity, MSFL intends to determine the comparable yield for such foreign currency CPDIs based on the stated maturity date.

For U.S. federal income tax purposes, a U.S. Holder is required under the foreign currency contingent debt regulations to use the comparable yield and the projected payment schedule established by MSFL in determining interest accruals and adjustments thereto in respect of a foreign currency CPDI, unless such U.S. Holder timely discloses and justifies the use of a different comparable yield and projected payment schedule to the IRS.

The comparable yield and the projected payment schedule will not be provided for any purpose other than to determine a U.S. Holder's interest accruals and adjustments thereto in respect of the foreign currency CPDIs for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The comparable yield and the projected payment schedule will not constitute a projection or representation by MSFL regarding the actual amounts that will be paid on the foreign currency CPDIs.

Translation of Amounts Determined Under Noncontingent Bond Method. The accruals of interest computed with respect to a foreign currency CPDI in the denomination currency (adjusted by certain net positive or negative adjustments as described below) must be translated into U.S. dollars. The U.S. dollar value of the accrued income will be determined by translating the income at an average rate of exchange for the accrual period or, with respect to an accrual period that spans two taxable years, at an average rate for the partial period within the taxable year. A U.S. Holder may elect to translate interest income for an interest accrual period into U.S. dollars at the spot rate on the last day of the interest accrual period (or, in the case of a partial accrual period, the spot rate on the last day of the taxable year). If a U.S. Holder makes this election, the U.S. Holder must apply it consistently to all debt instruments from year to year and cannot change the election without the consent of the IRS.

Adjustments to Interest Accruals. If, during any taxable year, a U.S. Holder receives actual payments with respect to a foreign currency CPDI that, in the aggregate, exceed the total amount of projected payments for that taxable year, as determined in the denomination currency, the U.S. Holder will incur a "net positive adjustment" under the foreign currency contingent debt regulations equal to the amount of such excess. The U.S. Holder will treat a net positive adjustment as additional interest income in that taxable year, translated into U.S. dollars at the spot rate on the last day of the taxable year in which the adjustment is taken into account or, if earlier, the date of a sale, exchange or retirement of the foreign currency CPDI.

If a U.S. Holder receives in a taxable year actual payments with respect to a foreign currency CPDI that, in the aggregate, are less than the amount of projected payments for that taxable year, as determined in the denomination currency, the U.S. Holder will incur a "net negative adjustment" under the foreign currency contingent debt regulations equal to the amount of such deficit. This net negative adjustment:

- (i) will first reduce the U.S. Holder's interest income on the foreign currency CPDI that otherwise would accrue in the denomination currency for that taxable year;
- (ii) to the extent of any excess after applying (i), will give rise to an ordinary loss to the extent of the U.S. Holder's accrued but unpaid interest on the foreign currency CPDI in prior taxable years (translated into U.S. dollars at the spot rate used to translate interest in the relevant prior taxable year); and
- (iii) to the extent of any excess after applying (i) and (ii), will be treated as a net negative adjustment carryforward that will be applied to reduce interest accruals in subsequent years and the amount realized in the year of a taxable disposition of the foreign currency CPDI (in the denomination currency).

With respect to non-corporate U.S. Holder's, a net negative adjustment is not treated as a miscellaneous itemized deduction (which for non-corporate U.S. Holder's would be non-deductible).

Taxable Disposition. Upon a taxable disposition of a foreign currency CPDI, a U.S. Holder generally will recognize taxable income or loss equal to the difference between the amount received and the U.S. Holder's tax basis in the CPDI. As discussed above, to the extent that a U.S. Holder has any net negative adjustment carryforward, the U.S. Holder may use such net negative adjustment to reduce the amount realized in the denomination currency upon a taxable disposition of the foreign currency CPDI.

A U.S. Holder's tax basis in a foreign currency CPDI generally will be equal to the U.S. dollar cost as of the day the U.S. Holder purchased the foreign currency CPDI, increased by the U.S. dollar value of the U.S. Holder's total interest accruals with respect to the foreign currency CPDI (determined without regard to any adjustments to interest accruals as described above), translated as described above, and decreased by the amount of any projected payments that previously have been scheduled to be made in respect of the foreign currency CPDI (translated into U.S. dollars).

The amount realized by a U.S. Holder upon a taxable disposition of a foreign currency CPDI is generally equal to the U.S. dollar value of cash received by the U.S. Holder, reduced by the amount of any net negative adjustment carryforward (translated into U.S. dollars). Any gain, other than foreign currency gain (as discussed below), will be treated as ordinary interest income. Any loss, other than foreign currency loss (as discussed below), will be treated as an ordinary loss to the extent of the excess of the U.S. Holder's total interest accruals over the total net negative adjustments previously taken into account as ordinary losses in respect of the foreign currency CPDI, and thereafter as a capital loss (which will be long-term capital loss if the foreign currency CPDI has been held for more than one year). The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations. If a U.S. Holder recognizes an ordinary loss upon a taxable disposition of a foreign currency CPDI and such loss is above certain thresholds, the U.S. Holder may be required to file a disclosure statement with the IRS with respect to "reportable transactions." U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding this reporting obligation.

For purposes of determining the amount realized at maturity of a foreign currency CPDI, a U.S. Holder will be deemed to receive the projected amount of any contingent payment due on that date, reduced by the amount of any net negative adjustment carryforward. The projected amount is translated into U.S. dollars by translating the portion attributable to principal into U.S. dollars at the spot rate on the issue date and translating the portion attributable to accrued interest into U.S. dollars at the rates at which such amounts of interest were translated when accrued. To the extent that the actual amount a U.S. Holder receives at the maturity of a foreign currency CPDI is greater or less than the projected amount, the U.S. Holder will incur a net positive adjustment or a net negative adjustment, which will be treated as described above under "—Adjustments to Interest Accruals." To the extent that there is any net negative adjustment carryforward as described above under "—Adjustments to Interest Accruals," it will reduce the amount realized on the foreign currency CPDI (translated into U.S. dollars at the spot rate on the issue date of the foreign currency CPDI).

Foreign Currency Gain or Loss. A U.S. Holder may recognize foreign currency gain or loss with respect to a foreign currency CPDI when the U.S. Holder receives payments on a foreign currency CPDI. The amount of foreign currency gain or loss attributable to payments of interest previously accrued on the foreign currency CPDI is determined by translating the amount of interest received into U.S. dollars at the spot rate on the date of receipt and subtracting from such amount the amount determined by translating the interest received into U.S. dollars at the rate at which such interest was accrued as described above. The amount of foreign currency gain or loss attributable to payments of principal is determined by translating the amount of principal received into U.S. dollars at the spot rate on the date of receipt and subtracting from such amount the amount determined by translating the principal received into U.S. dollars at the spot rate on the date the foreign currency CPDI was issued or, if later, acquired. For purposes of determining the amount of foreign currency gain or loss, the amount received (i) shall first be attributed to any net positive adjustment on the foreign currency CPDI that has not previously been taken into account and (ii) then attributed to accrued but unpaid interest remaining after reduction by any net negative adjustment and (iii) shall, to the extent of any remaining amount, be attributed to the principal.

Upon a taxable disposition of a foreign currency CPDI, a U.S. Holder would also recognize foreign currency gain or loss. Payments received upon such taxable disposition shall first be applied against the principal of the foreign currency CPDI and then against accrued but unpaid interest (and treated, in each case, as described in the preceding paragraph).

The total amount of foreign currency gain or loss on a foreign currency CPDI is equal to the sum of the foreign currency gains or losses on principal and interest, calculated as described above. Any such foreign currency gain or loss will be treated as ordinary income or loss. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding these rules. If a U.S. Holder recognizes an ordinary loss upon a sale or other disposition of a foreign currency CPDI and such loss is above certain thresholds, the U.S. Holder may be required to file a disclosure statement with the IRS with respect to “reportable transactions.” U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding this reporting obligation.

Special Rules for Contingent Payments that Fix Early. Special rules will apply if one or more contingent payments on a foreign currency CPDI become fixed (for example, upon the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event). If one or more (but not all) contingent payments on a foreign currency CPDI (determined in the denomination currency) become fixed more than six months prior to the date each such payment is due, a U.S. Holder will be required to make a positive or negative adjustment, as appropriate, equal to the difference between the present value of the amounts that are fixed and the present value of the projected amounts of the contingent payments as provided in the projected payment schedule (determined in the denomination currency), using the comparable yield as the discount rate in each case. If all remaining scheduled contingent payments on a foreign currency CPDI become fixed substantially contemporaneously, a U.S. Holder will be required to make adjustments to account for the difference between the amounts treated as fixed and the projected payments in a reasonable manner over the remaining term of the foreign currency CPDI. For purposes of the preceding sentence, a payment (including an amount payable at maturity) will be treated as fixed if (and when) all remaining contingencies with respect to it are remote or incidental within the meaning of the applicable Treasury regulations. A U.S. Holder’s tax basis in the foreign currency CPDI and the character of any gain or loss on the sale of the foreign currency CPDI will also be affected. Furthermore, if all the payments on a foreign currency CPDI become fixed prior to the original issue date, the foreign currency CPDI might be treated as a debt instrument that is not a foreign currency contingent payment debt instrument for U.S. federal income tax purposes. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors concerning the application of these special rules.

Foreign Currency CPDIs Purchased for Amounts Different from their Adjusted Issue Price. If a U.S. Holder purchases a foreign currency CPDI for an amount that is different from its adjusted issue price, the U.S. Holder will be required to account for this difference, generally by allocating it reasonably among projected payments on the foreign currency CPDI or daily portions of interest that the U.S. Holder is required to accrue with respect to the foreign currency CPDI and treating these allocations as adjustments to the U.S. Holder’s income when the payment is made or the interest accrues. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding these rules.

USD Exchangeable Notes Treated as Contingent Payment Debt Instruments

The following discussion applies to Exchangeable Notes denominated in U.S. dollars. Unless provided otherwise in an applicable Pricing Supplement, MSFL intends to treat such Notes as contingent payment debt instruments for U.S. federal income tax purposes (“CPDIs”) that will be subject to special rules that govern the tax treatment of CPDIs under applicable Treasury regulations (the “contingent debt regulations”).

Pursuant to the contingent debt regulations, a U.S. Holder will be required to accrue interest income on the CPDIs on a constant yield basis, based on a comparable yield, as described below, regardless of the U.S. Holder’s method of tax accounting. Accordingly, depending on the terms of the CPDIs, a U.S. Holder may be required to include interest in income each year in excess of any stated interest payments actually received in that year.

The contingent debt regulations provide that a U.S. Holder must accrue into income for U.S. federal income tax purposes for each accrual period prior to and including the maturity date of a CPDI an amount that equals the product of:

- the adjusted issue price (as defined below) of the CPDI as of the beginning of the accrual period;
- the comparable yield (as defined below) of the CPDI, adjusted for the length of the accrual period; and
- a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days during the accrual period that the U.S. Holder held the CPDI and the denominator of which is the number of days in the accrual period.

The “adjusted issue price” of a CPDI is its issue price, increased by any interest income previously accrued, determined without regard to any adjustments to interest accruals described below, and decreased by the projected amount of any payments previously made pursuant to the projected payment schedule described below (without regard to the actual amount paid).

The term “comparable yield” as used in the contingent debt regulations is the greater of (i) the annual yield MSFL would pay, as of the issue date, on a fixed-rate, nonconvertible debt instrument with no contingent payments, but with terms and conditions otherwise comparable to those of the CPDIs, and (ii) the applicable federal rate.

The contingent debt regulations require that MSFL provides solely for U.S. federal income tax purposes, a schedule of the projected amounts of payments (the “projected payment schedule”) on a CPDI. This schedule must produce a yield to maturity that equals the comparable yield. MSFL will determine the comparable yield and related projected payment schedule for each issuance of CPDIs and will provide them, or information on how to obtain them, in the applicable Pricing Supplement. Although it is not clear how the comparable yield should be determined for CPDIs that may be redeemed before maturity, MSFL intends to determine the comparable yield for such CPDIs based on the stated maturity date.

For U.S. federal income tax purposes, a U.S. Holder is required under the contingent debt regulations to use the comparable yield and the projected payment schedule established by MSFL in determining interest accruals and adjustments thereto in respect of a CPDI, unless the U.S. Holder timely discloses and justifies the use of a different comparable yield and projected payment schedule to the IRS.

The comparable yield and the projected payment schedule will not be provided for any purpose other than to determine a U.S. Holder’s interest accruals and adjustments thereto in respect of the CPDIs for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The comparable yield and the projected payment schedule will not constitute a projection or representation by MSFL regarding the actual amounts that will be paid on the CPDIs.

Adjustments to Interest Accruals. If, during any taxable year, a U.S. Holder receives actual payments with respect to a CPDI that, in the aggregate, exceed the total amount of projected payments for that taxable year, the U.S. Holder will incur a “net positive adjustment” under the contingent debt regulations equal to the amount of such excess. The U.S. Holder will treat a net positive adjustment as additional interest income in that taxable year.

If a U.S. Holder receives in a taxable year actual payments with respect to a CPDI that, in the aggregate, are less than the amount of projected payments for that taxable year, the U.S. Holder will incur a “net negative adjustment” under the contingent debt regulations equal to the amount of such deficit. This net negative adjustment:

- (i) will first reduce the U.S. Holder’s interest income on the CPDI for that taxable year;
- (ii) to the extent of any excess after applying (i), will give rise to an ordinary loss to the extent of the U.S. Holder’s accrued but unpaid interest on the CPDI in prior taxable years, reduced to the extent such interest was offset by prior net negative adjustments; and
- (iii) to the extent of any excess after applying (i) and (ii), will be treated as a net negative adjustment carryforward that will be applied to reduce interest accruals in subsequent years and the amount realized in the year of a taxable disposition of the CPDI (in the denomination currency).

With respect to non-corporate U.S. Holders, a net negative adjustment is not treated as a miscellaneous itemized deduction (which for non-corporate U.S. Holders would be non-deductible).

Taxable Disposition. Upon a taxable disposition of a CPDI, a U.S. Holder generally will recognize taxable income or loss equal to the difference between the amount received and the U.S. Holder’s tax basis in the CPDI. As discussed above, to the extent that a U.S. Holder has any net negative adjustment carryforward, the U.S. Holder may use such net negative adjustment to reduce the amount realized upon a taxable disposition of the CPDI.

For purposes of determining the amount realized on the scheduled retirement of a CPDI, a U.S. Holder will be treated as receiving the projected amount of any contingent payment due at maturity. As previously discussed, to the extent that actual payments with respect to the CPDIs during the year of the scheduled retirement are greater or less than the projected payments for such year, a U.S. Holder will incur a net positive or negative adjustment, resulting in additional ordinary income or loss, as the case may be.

A U.S. Holder’s tax basis in a CPDI generally will be equal to the U.S. Holder’s original purchase price for the CPDI, increased by the U.S. Holder’s total interest accruals (determined without regard to any adjustments to interest accruals as described above) and decreased by the amount of any projected payments that previously have been scheduled to be made in respect of the CPDI (without regard to the actual amount paid).

Gain recognized by a U.S. Holder upon a taxable disposition of a CPDI generally will be treated as ordinary interest income. Any loss will be ordinary loss to the extent of the excess of the U.S. Holder’s total interest accruals over the total net negative adjustments previously taken into account as ordinary losses in respect of the CPDI, and thereafter as capital loss (which will be long-term capital loss if the CPDI has been held for more than one year). The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations. If a U.S. Holder recognizes an ordinary loss upon a taxable disposition of a CPDI and such loss is above certain thresholds, the U.S. Holder may be required to file a disclosure statement with the IRS with respect to “reportable transactions.” U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding this reporting obligation.

Special Rules for Contingent Payments that Fix Early. Special rules will apply if one or more contingent payments on a CPDI become fixed (for example, upon the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event). If one or more (but not all) contingent payments on a CPDI become fixed more than six months prior to the date each such payment is due, a U.S. Holder will be required to make a positive or negative adjustment, as appropriate, equal to the difference between the present value of the amounts that are fixed and the present value of the projected amounts of the contingent payments as provided in the projected payment schedule, using the comparable yield as the discount rate in each case. If all remaining scheduled contingent payments on a CPDI become fixed substantially contemporaneously, a U.S. Holder will be required to make adjustments to account for the difference between the amounts treated as fixed and the projected payments in a reasonable manner over the remaining term of the CPDI. For purposes of the preceding sentence, a payment (including an amount payable at maturity) will be treated as fixed if (and when) all remaining contingencies with respect to it are remote or incidental within the meaning of the applicable Treasury regulations. A U.S. Holder’s tax basis in the CPDI and the character of any gain or loss on the sale of the CPDI will also be affected. Furthermore, if all the payments on a CPDI become fixed prior to the original issue date, the CPDI might be treated as a debt instrument that is not a contingent payment debt instrument for U.S. federal income tax purposes. U.S. Holder’s should consult their tax advisors concerning the application of these special rules.

CPDIs Purchased for Amounts Different from their Adjusted Issue Price. If a U.S. Holder purchases a CPDI for an amount that is different from its adjusted issue price, the U.S. Holder will be required to account for this difference, generally by allocating it reasonably among projected payments on the CPDI or daily portions of interest that the U.S. Holder is required to accrue with respect to the CPDI and treating these allocations as adjustments to the U.S. Holder’s income when the payment is made or the interest accrues. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding these rules.

Backup Withholding and Information Reporting

Information returns may be filed with the IRS in connection with payments on the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities as well as in connection with the proceeds from a sale, exchange or other disposition. Backup withholding may apply in respect of these payments unless the U.S. Holder provides proof of an applicable exemption or a correct taxpayer identification number and otherwise complies with applicable requirements of the backup withholding rules. The amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules are not an additional tax and may be refunded or credited against the U.S. Holder’s U.S. federal income tax liability, provided that the required information is timely furnished to the IRS. If backup withholding is required, none of the Issuers, Guarantor or any other person will be required to pay any additional amounts with respect to amounts so withheld.

Belgian Supplemental Conditions

If “Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Notes” or “Supplementary Provisions for Belgian Securities” is specified as applicable in the applicable Pricing Supplement and if an Early Redemption Event or Early Settlement Event (as applicable) occurs and an Early Settlement Amount (Monetisation) is paid on the Maturity Date or the Expiration Date (as applicable), the Securities will likely be treated as debt instruments for U.S. federal income tax purposes after the Early Redemption Date (Put). In that case, subject to the discussions in “—FATCA” and “—Backup Withholding and Information Reporting” above, a Non-U.S. Holder should not be subject to U.S. withholding tax on payments on the Maturity Date or the Expiration Date (as applicable) provided that, in the case of Securities issued by Morgan Stanley, MSFL or MSFII, the conditions described in “—Notes Treated as Indebtedness” above are met or the Non-U.S. Holder establishes any other exemption from U.S. withholding including under an applicable tax treaty.

Other Program Securities

Under current U.S. federal income tax law, the U.S. federal income tax treatment of program securities not described above is uncertain and will depend on the terms of the relevant program securities. U.S. Holders should review the applicable supplement and consult their tax advisors.

UNITED KINGDOM TAXATION

The following disclosure applies only in respect of Program Securities issued by Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII or MSESE and not in respect of Program Securities issued by an Additional Issuer or any substitute issuer, and references in this section on United Kingdom taxation to "Notes", "Certificates" and "Warrants" and references to "Noteholders," "Certificateholders" and "Warrantholders" should be construed accordingly.

The following is a summary of the United Kingdom withholding taxation treatment at the date hereof in relation to payments in respect of the Program Securities and is not intended to be exhaustive. The comments do not deal with other United Kingdom tax aspects of acquiring, holding, disposing of, exercising or abandoning Program Securities. Transactions involving Program Securities, including the issue and subscription of Program Securities, any purchase or disposal, redemption, exercise or settlement of Program Securities, may have United Kingdom tax consequences for potential purchasers (including but not limited to, transfer taxes and possible withholding or deduction for or on account of United Kingdom tax from payments made in respect of the Program Securities). The tax consequences may depend, amongst other things, on the status of the potential investor and the terms and conditions of a particular Program Security as specified in the Pricing Supplement. It is based on current United Kingdom law and published practice of HM Revenue and Customs ("HMRC"), which may be subject to change, sometimes with retrospective effect. The comments relate only to the position of persons who are absolute beneficial owners of the Program Securities. Prospective Securityholders and Noteholders should be aware that the particular terms of issue of any series of Program Securities as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement may affect the tax treatment of that and other series of Program Securities. This summary assumes that there will be no substitution of any Issuer and do not address the consequences of any such substitution or further issue (notwithstanding that such substitution may be permitted by the terms and conditions of the Program Securities).

The following is a general guide and should be treated with appropriate caution. It is not intended as tax advice and it does not purport to describe all of the tax considerations that may be relevant to a prospective purchaser. Prospective Securityholders and Noteholders who are in any doubt as to their tax position should consult their professional advisors about tax implications of purchasing and holding a Program Security, any transaction involving a Program Security, and any transaction involved in the exercise and settlement of a Program Security.

Securityholders and Noteholders who may be liable to taxation in jurisdictions other than the United Kingdom are particularly advised to consult their professional advisors as to whether they are so liable (and if so under the laws of which jurisdictions), since the following comments relate only to certain United Kingdom withholding taxation aspects of payments in respect of the Program Securities. In particular, Securityholders and Noteholders should be aware that they may be liable to taxation under the laws of other jurisdictions (particularly in any jurisdiction where a Noteholder is resident or otherwise subject to taxation) in relation to payments in respect of the Program Securities even if such payments may be made without withholding or deduction for or on account of taxation under the laws of the United Kingdom.

1. UK Withholding Taxes on the Program Securities

General

United Kingdom withholding taxes can apply to a number of different types of payments. Those which could be relevant to securities such as the Program Securities include: interest, annual payments and manufactured payments. As a general matter, an Issuer that is not resident in the United Kingdom may make payments under the Program Securities without any deduction of or withholding on account United Kingdom income tax if the payments do not have a United Kingdom source and they are not made by the Issuer in the course of a trade carried on in the United Kingdom through a branch or agency

Notes - UK Withholding Tax on Interest Payments by the Issuers

Interest on Notes issued for a term of less than one year (and which are not issued with the intention, or under arrangements the effect of which is to render the Notes capable of forming part of a borrowing with a total term of one year or more) may be paid by the relevant Issuer without withholding or deduction for or on account of United Kingdom income tax.

Interest on Notes issued for a term of one year or more (or under arrangements the intention or effect of which is to render the Notes capable of forming part of a borrowing with a total term of one year or more) may be paid by the relevant Issuer without withholding or deduction for or on account of United Kingdom income tax except in circumstances where such interest has a United Kingdom source. The location of the source of a payment is a complex matter. It is necessary to have regard to case law and HMRC practice which indicates that, in determining the source of interest all relevant factors must be taken into account. HMRC has indicated that the most important factors in determining the source of a payment are the place where the Issuer does business; the place where its assets are located, the substantive origin of the funds out of which the interest is paid; the competent jurisdiction for legal action; the proper law of the contract; the place where any guarantor does business and location of any security for the debt. However, HMRC has also indicated that, depending on the circumstances, there may be other relevant factors and this list is not exhaustive.

Interest which has a United Kingdom source ("UK interest") may be paid by the relevant Issuer without withholding or deduction for or on account of United Kingdom income tax if the Notes in respect of which the UK interest is paid constitute "quoted Eurobonds". Notes which carry a right to interest will constitute "quoted Eurobonds" provided they are and continue to be listed on a "recognised stock exchange" within the meaning of section 1005 Income Tax Act 2007 or are admitted to trading on a multilateral trading facility operated by a UK or European Economic Area-regulated recognised stock exchange within the meaning of sections 987 and 1005 Income Tax Act 2007. Notes will be regarded as "listed on a recognised stock exchange" for this purpose if they are admitted to trading on an exchange designated as a recognised stock exchange by HMRC and either they are included in the United Kingdom's official list (within the meaning of Part 6 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000) or they are admitted to trading and officially listed in a country outside the United Kingdom in which there is a recognised stock exchange in accordance with provisions corresponding to those generally applicable in European Economic Area States.

As Euronext Dublin and the Luxembourg Stock Exchange are recognised stock exchanges the Notes will, accordingly, constitute "quoted Eurobonds" provided they are and continue to be "listed on" (within the definition in the previous paragraph) those exchanges. The Notes will satisfy this requirement if they are and continue to be officially listed in Ireland or Luxembourg in accordance with provisions corresponding to those generally applicable in European Economic Area States and are admitted to trading on the Global Exchange Market of Euronext Dublin or the Euro MTF market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange as applicable.

In all other cases, UK interest on the Notes may fall to be paid under deduction of United Kingdom income tax at the basic rate (currently 20 per cent.) subject to such relief as may be available following a direction from HMRC pursuant to the provisions of any applicable double taxation treaty or to any other exemption which may apply. From April 2027, provisions in the Finance Act 2026 provide that the rate of withholding will be equal to a new savings basic rate of income tax of 22%.

Program Securities – annual payments

If a periodic payment on a Program Security were not "interest", and not repayment of principal, then such payment could constitute an "annual payment". Whether or not any periodic payment were to constitute an "annual payment" for these purposes will depend upon, amongst other things, the terms and conditions of the Program Securities and the basis upon which it is calculated. However, if in relation to a Program Security the Issuer is only required to make a single payment to its holders following redemption or exercise, and there are no amounts due by way of interest or other periodic payment on that Program Security, payments should not generally constitute "annual payments".

Payments on a Program Security which constitute "annual payments" that do not have a United Kingdom source may be made without deduction or withholding on account of United Kingdom income tax.

An amount must generally be withheld from "annual payments" on Program Securities that have a United Kingdom source on account of United Kingdom income tax at the basic rate (currently 20%), subject to such relief as may be available following a direction from HMRC pursuant to the provisions of any applicable double taxation treaty or to any other exemption which may apply.

Manufactured Payments

Payments on the Program Securities should not constitute "manufactured payments" subject to any deduction of or withholding on account of United Kingdom income tax unless:

- (i) the Program Securities will or may settle by way of physical delivery;
- (ii) the assets which will or may be delivered are shares issued by a "company UK REIT" or the "principal company" of a "group UK REIT" (all bearing the same meaning as in section 918 of the Income Tax Act 2007) or securities (other than shares) issued by the United Kingdom government, a local or other public authority in the United Kingdom or any other United Kingdom resident body; and
- (iii) the payments are representative of dividends on those shares, or interest paid on those securities (as the case may be).

Payments on a Program Security which do constitute "manufactured payments" may in any event be made without deduction of or withholding on account of United Kingdom income tax unless the Issuer is resident in the United Kingdom or makes those payments in the course of a trade carried on in the United Kingdom through a branch or agency.

If such a "manufactured payment" were paid by an Issuer in the course of a trade carried on in the United Kingdom through a branch or agency or by an Issuer that is resident in the United Kingdom, then the Issuer may be required to make a deduction of or withholding on account of United Kingdom income tax from such payment on account of United Kingdom income tax at the basic rate, subject to such relief as may be available following a direction from HMRC pursuant to the provisions of any applicable double taxation treaty or to any other exemption which may apply. From April 2027, provisions in the Finance Act 2026 provide that the rate of withholding will be equal to a new property basic rate of income tax of 22%.

2. Payments under Deed of Covenant

Any payments made under the Deed of Covenant by the relevant Issuer may not qualify for any of the exemptions from UK withholding tax described above.

3. Payments by Guarantor

The United Kingdom withholding tax treatment of payments by the Guarantor under the terms of the Guarantee in respect of payments under the Program Securities is uncertain. If the Guarantor makes any payments and such payments have a United Kingdom source, such payments may be subject to United Kingdom withholding tax at the applicable rate subject to such relief as may be available under the provisions of any applicable double taxation treaty or to any other exemption which may apply. Whether such payments made by the Guarantor have a United Kingdom source is a complex matter and is likely to be determined by reference to similar factors to those set out in paragraph 1 above. Such payments by the Guarantor may not be eligible for the exemptions described in paragraph 1 above.

4. Other Rules relating to United Kingdom Withholding Tax

Where Program Securities are to be, or may fall to be, redeemed at a premium, as opposed to being issued at a discount, then any such element of premium may constitute a payment of interest that would be subject to United Kingdom withholding tax and reporting requirements as outlined above.

Where interest has been paid under deduction of United Kingdom income tax, Securityholders and Noteholders who are not resident in the United Kingdom may be able to recover all or part of the tax deducted if there is an appropriate provision in any applicable double taxation treaty.

The references to "interest" above mean "interest" as understood in United Kingdom tax law. The statements above do not take any account of any different definitions of "interest" or "principal" which may prevail under any other law or which may be created by the terms and conditions of the Program Securities or any related documentation.

NETHERLANDS TAXATION

The following disclosure applies only in respect of Program Securities issued by MSBV and not in respect of Program Securities issued by Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSFL or an Additional Issuer or any substitute issuer. References in this section on Netherlands taxation to "Program Securities" refer only to Program Securities issued by MSBV and references to holders of Program Securities should be construed accordingly.

The following summary of certain Dutch taxation matters is based on the laws and practice in force as of the date of this Offering Circular and is subject to any changes in law and the interpretation and application thereof, which changes could be made with retroactive effect. The following summary does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all the tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to acquire, hold or dispose of Program Securities, and does not purport to deal with the tax consequences applicable to all categories of investors, some of which may be subject to special rules.

For the purpose of this summary, the term "entity" means a corporation as well as any other person that is taxable as a corporation for Dutch corporate tax purposes.

Where this summary refers to a holder of a Program Security, an individual holding a Program Security or an entity holding a Program Security, such reference is restricted to an individual or entity holding legal title to as well as an economic interest in such Program Security.

Where the summary refers to "The Netherlands" or "Dutch" it refers only to the European part of the Kingdom of the Netherlands.

This summary does not address the tax consequences of any holder of Program Securities who is a resident of any non-European part of the Kingdom of the Netherlands.

This summary does also not address the Netherlands tax consequences for a holder of Program Securities that is an entity considered to be affiliated (gelieerd) to MSBV within the meaning of the Dutch Withholding Tax Act 2021 (Wet bronbelasting 2021). Generally, a holder of Program Securities is regarded as 'affiliated' for these purposes if, whether individually or as part of a qualifying unity (kwalificerende eenheid): (i) the holder of Program Securities (or a direct or indirect participant in such holder of Program Securities) holds a qualifying interest in MSBV, (ii) MSBV holds a qualifying interest in the holder of Program Securities (or a direct or indirect participant in such holder of Program Securities), or (iii) a third party holds a qualifying interest in both MSBV and the holder of Program Securities (or a direct or indirect participant in such holder of Program Securities). A qualifying interest is an interest that allows the holder, or the qualifying unity of which it forms part, to exercise influence over the other party's decisions in such a way that it is able to determine the activities of the other party. A party is in any case considered to hold a qualifying interest in another party if it, (directly or indirectly,) holds more than 50% of the voting rights in such other party. A qualifying unity is defined as entities that have been established and/or are acting jointly with the primary purpose, or one of the primary purposes, to avoid the imposition of tax on one or more of such entities, for example where the controlling interest (to be) held is divided into various non-controlling interests with the primary purpose, or one of the primary purposes, to avoid the aforementioned tax.

This summary does not address the Netherlands tax consequences for a holder of Program Securities in respect of the Dutch Minimum Taxation Act 2024 (Wet minimumbelasting 2024) (which is the Dutch implementation of Council Directive (EU) 2022/2523 of 14 December 2022 on ensuring a global minimum level of taxation for multinational enterprise groups and large-scale domestic groups in the EU).

Investors should consult their professional advisors on the tax consequences of their acquiring, holding and disposing of Program Securities.

Withholding Tax

All payments under the Program Securities may be made free of withholding or deduction of any taxes of whatever nature imposed, levied, withheld or assessed by the Netherlands or any political subdivision or taxing authority thereof or therein, provided that (i) the Program Securities have a maturity – legally or de facto - of not more than 50 years, and (ii) the Program Securities will not represent, be linked to (the performance of) or be convertible (in part or in whole) into, (rights to purchase) (a) shares, (b) profit certificates (winstbewijzen), and/or (c) debt instruments having a maturity – legally or de facto – of more than 50 years, issued by MSBV, the Guarantor or any other entity related to MSBV and/or the Guarantor.

Taxes on Income and Capital Gains

A holder of Program Securities will not be subject to any Netherlands taxes on income or capital gains in respect of Program Securities, including such tax on any payment under the Program Securities or in respect of any gain realised on the disposal, deemed disposal or exchange of Program Securities, provided that:

- (a) such holder is neither a resident nor deemed to be a resident of the Netherlands; and
- (b) such income or gain is not attributable to an enterprise or part thereof which is either effectively managed in The Netherlands or carried on through a permanent establishment (vaste inrichting) or a permanent representative (vaste vertegenwoordiger) in The Netherlands; and
- (c) the holder is not entitled to a share in profits of an enterprise that is effectively managed in the Netherlands, and to which enterprise the income or capital gain is attributable, other than by way of securities; and
- (d) if such holder is an individual, neither such holder nor any of his spouse, his partner, a person deemed to be his partner, or other persons sharing such person's house or household, or certain other of such persons' relatives (including foster children), whether directly and/or indirectly as (deemed) settlor, grantor or similar originator (the "Settlor") or upon the death of the Settlor, his/her beneficiaries (the "Beneficiaries") in proportion to their entitlement to the estate of the Settlor of a trust, foundation or similar arrangement (the "Trust") (a) has indirectly the disposition of the proceeds of Program Securities in the Netherlands, nor (b) has a substantial interest in MSBV, the Guarantor and/or any other entity that legally or de facto, directly or indirectly, has control of the proceeds of Program Securities in the Netherlands. For purposes of this paragraph (d), a substantial interest is generally not present if a holder does not hold, alone or together with his spouse, his partner, a person deemed to be his partner, or other persons sharing such person's house or household, or certain other of such person's relatives (including foster children), or a Trust of which he or any of the aforementioned persons is a Settlor or a Beneficiary, whether directly or indirectly, (a) the ownership of, certain other rights, such as usufruct, over, or rights to acquire shares (whether or not already issued) representing five per cent. or more of the total issued and outstanding capital (or of the issued and outstanding capital of any class of shares) of a company, (b) the ownership of, or certain other rights, such as usufruct, over profit sharing certificates (winstbewijzen), or membership rights in a co-operative association, entitling the holder to five per cent. or more of the annual profits or of the liquidation distributions of a company or co-operative association, or (c) membership rights representing five per cent. or more of the voting rights in a co-operative association's general meeting; and
- (e) if such holder is a company, such holder does not have a substantial interest in MSBV or if such holder does have such a substantial interest, it is not held with the avoidance of Netherlands income tax as (one of) the main purpose(s) or there is not an artificial arrangement or series of arrangements. For the purpose of this paragraph (e), a substantial interest is generally not present if a holder does not hold, whether directly or indirectly, (a) the ownership of, certain other rights, such as usufruct, over, or rights to acquire shares (whether or not already issued) representing five per cent. or more of the total issued and outstanding capital (or of the issued and outstanding capital of any class of shares) of MSBV, or (b) the ownership of, or certain other rights, such as usufruct, over profit sharing certificates (winstbewijzen), entitling the holder to five per cent. or more of the annual profits or of the liquidation distributions of MSBV; and
- (f) if such holder is an individual, such income or capital gains do not form "benefits from miscellaneous activities in the Netherlands" (resultaat uit overige werkzaamheden in Nederland), which would for instance be the case if the activities in the Netherlands with respect to the Program Securities exceed "normal active asset management" (normaal, actief vermogensbeheer) or if income and gains are derived from the holding, whether directly or indirectly, of (a combination of) shares, debt claims or other rights (together, a "lucrative interest") that the holder thereof has acquired under such circumstances that such income and gains are intended to be remuneration for work or services performed by such holder (or a related person) in the Netherlands, whether within or outside an employment relation, where such lucrative interest provides the holder thereof, economically speaking, with certain benefits that have a relation to the relevant work or services.

A holder of Program Securities will not be subject to taxation in the Netherlands by reason only of the execution, delivery and/or enforcement of the documents relating to an issue of Program Securities or the performance by MSBV of its obligations thereunder or under the Program Securities.

Gift, Estate and Inheritance Taxes

No gift, estate or inheritance taxes will arise in the Netherlands with respect to an acquisition or deemed acquisition of Program Securities by way of a gift by, or on the death of, a holder of Program Securities who is neither resident nor deemed to be resident in the Netherlands, unless in the case of a gift of Program Securities by an individual who at the date of the gift was neither resident nor deemed to be resident in the Netherlands, such individual dies within 180 days after the date of the gift, while being resident or deemed to be resident in the Netherlands.

For purposes of Netherlands gift and inheritance tax, a gift that is made under a condition precedent is deemed to be made at the moment such condition precedent is satisfied. If the condition precedent is fulfilled after the death of the donor, the gift is deemed to be made upon the death of the donor.

For purposes of Netherlands gift and inheritance tax, an individual who holds the Netherlands nationality will be deemed to be resident in the Netherlands if he has been resident in the Netherlands at any time during the ten years preceding the date of the gift or his death.

For purposes of Netherlands gift tax, an individual not holding the Netherlands nationality will be deemed to be resident in the Netherlands if he has been resident in the Netherlands at any time during the twelve months preceding the date of the gift.

For gift and inheritance tax purposes, (i) a gift by a third party such as a trustee, foundation or similar entity or arrangement, will be construed as a gift by the Settlor, and (ii) upon the death of the Settlor, as a rule, his/her Beneficiaries, will be deemed to have inherited directly from the Settlor. Subsequently, the Beneficiaries will be deemed the settlor, grantor or similar originator of the Trust for the purposes of the Netherlands gift and inheritance tax in case of subsequent gifts or inheritances.

Turnover Tax

No Netherlands turnover tax will arise in respect of any payment in consideration for the issue of Program Securities, with respect to any payment by MSBV of principal, interest or premium (if any) on the Program Securities.

Other Taxes and Duties

No Netherlands capital tax, registration tax, customs duty, transfer tax, stamp duty or any other similar documentary tax or duty, other than court fees, will be payable in the Netherlands in respect of or in connection with the execution, delivery and/or enforcement by legal proceedings (including the enforcement of any foreign judgment in the Courts of the Netherlands) of the documents relating to the issue of Program Securities or the performance by MSBV of its obligations thereunder or under the Program Securities.

AUSTRIAN TAXATION

This section on taxation contains a brief summary of the Issuer's understanding with regard to certain important principles which may be of significance in connection with the purchase, holding or sale of the Program Securities in the Republic of Austria. This summary does not purport to exhaustively describe all possible tax aspects and does not deal with specific situations which may be of relevance for certain potential investors. The following comments are rather of a general nature and included herein solely for information purposes. These comments are not intended to be, nor should they be construed to be, legal or tax advice. This summary furthermore only refers to investors which are subject to unlimited (corporate) income tax liability in Austria. It is based on the currently valid tax legislation, case law and regulations of the tax authorities, as well as their respective interpretation, all of which may be amended from time to time. Such amendments may possibly also be effected with retroactive effect and may negatively impact on the tax consequences described. Potential purchasers should be aware that the tax authorities generally have a critical attitude towards structured financial products that may result in a beneficial tax treatment. It is recommended that potential purchasers of the Program Securities consult with their legal and tax advisors as to the tax consequences of the purchase, holding or sale of the Program Securities. Tax risks resulting from the Program Securities (in particular from a potential qualification as a foreign investment fund within the meaning of sec. 188 of the Austrian Investment Funds Act (Investmentfondsgesetz)) shall in any case be borne by the purchaser. For the purposes of the following it is assumed that the Program Securities qualify as bonds (Forderungswertpapiere) thereby securitising the investor's debt claim and are legally and factually publicly offered to an indefinite number of persons. In addition, the following information is based on the assumption that the Issuer neither has its seat nor its place of management in Austria.

The Issuer assumes no responsibility with respect to taxes withheld at source.

General remarks

Individuals having a permanent domicile (Wohnsitz) and/or their habitual abode (gewöhnlicher Aufenthalt), both as defined in sec. 26 of the Austrian Federal Fiscal Procedures Act (Bundesabgabenordnung), in Austria are subject to income tax (Einkommensteuer) in Austria on their worldwide income (unlimited income tax liability; unbeschränkte Einkommensteuerpflicht). Individuals having neither a permanent domicile nor their habitual abode in Austria are subject to income tax only on income from certain Austrian sources (limited income tax liability; beschränkte Einkommensteuerpflicht).

Corporations having their place of effective management (Ort der Geschäftsleitung) and/or their legal seat (Sitz), both as defined in sec. 27 of the Austrian Federal Fiscal Procedures Act, in Austria are subject to corporate income tax (Körperschaftsteuer) in Austria on their worldwide income (unlimited corporate income tax liability; unbeschränkte Körperschaftsteuerpflicht). Corporations having neither their place of effective management nor their legal seat in Austria are subject to corporate income tax only on income from certain Austrian sources (limited corporate income tax liability; beschränkte Körperschaftsteuerpflicht).

Both in case of unlimited and limited (corporate) income tax liability Austria's right to tax may be restricted by double taxation treaties.

Income taxation of the Program Securities

Pursuant to sec. 27(1) of the Austrian Income Tax Act, the term investment income (Einkünfte aus Kapitalvermögen) comprises:

- income from the letting of capital (Einkünfte aus der Überlassung von Kapital) pursuant to sec. 27(2) of the Austrian Income Tax Act, including dividends and interest;
- income from realised increases in value (Einkünfte aus realisierten Wertsteigerungen) pursuant to sec. 27(3) of the Austrian Income Tax Act, including gains from the sale, alienation, redemption and other realisation of assets that lead to income from the letting of capital, including income from zero coupon bonds and also accrued interest (Stückzinsen)
- income from derivatives (Einkünfte aus Derivat) pursuant to sec. 27(4) of the Austrian Income Tax Act, including cash settlements, option premiums received and income from the sale, the settlement or other realisation event of forward contracts like options, futures and swaps and other derivatives such as index certificates; and

- income from cryptocurrencies (Einkünfte aus Kryptowährungen) pursuant to sec. 27(4a) of the Austrian Income Tax Act that includes current income (laufende Einkünfte) as well as income from realised increases in value (Einkünfte aus realisierten Wertsteigerungen) from cryptocurrencies pursuant to sec. 27b of the Austrian Income Tax Act.

According to the interpretation of the Austrian Ministry of Finance, sec. 27(4) of the Austrian Income Tax Act comprises all kinds of certificates, including for example index certificates, alpha certificates or so-called sport certificates (Income Tax Act Guidelines 2000, Einkommensteuerrichtlinien 2000. "EStR 2000", para. 6173). The underlying may be shares, indices, commodities, currencies, bonds, metals, etc. In case of certificates, income from derivatives results from the difference between the acquisition costs and the sales prices or redemption value or settlement amount (all of the latter depending on the development in value of the underlying). Indexed bonds (indexierte Anleihen) or bonds with index-linked yield (Anleihen mit indexorientierter Verzinsung) are not deemed to be derivatives for purposes of sec. 27(4) of the Austrian Income Tax Act. Interest resulting from these bonds is treated as income from the letting of capital pursuant to sec. 27(2) of the Austrian Income Tax Act; the sale or redemption of these bonds is deemed to lead to income from increases in value pursuant to sec. 27(3) of the Austrian Income Tax Act (EStR 2000, para. 6195 et seq.).

In case the Issuer may choose whether to redeem a bond either by handing out cash or by way of transferring (own or third party) shares (so-called cash or share bonds), interest paid on these bonds is deemed to be income from the letting of capital pursuant to sec. 27(2) of the Austrian Income Tax Act. The exercise of the option by the Issuer is not deemed to be an exchange of bonds for stock and does therefore not result in a sale of the bond with a subsequent acquisition of the shares (EStR 2000, para. 6183 et seq.). Income from the sale or redemption of cash or share bonds constitutes income from realised increases in value pursuant to sec. 27(3) of the Austrian Income Tax Act.

Income from securitised or non-securitised options/warrants (Optionen, Optionsscheine) is treated as income from derivatives. This includes income from cash settlements, option premiums, the sale of the derivative or any other event resulting in a settlement or set-off of positions. The mere exercise of options or the delivery of the underlying does generally not trigger a taxable event under sec. 27(4) of the Austrian Income Tax Act but may result in increased acquisition costs, reduced sale proceeds or reduced interest. Any underlying received is deemed to be acquired upon the option's exercise (for a consideration) (EStR 2000, para. 6174 et seq.). In this case a realisation event that may – depending on the respective underlying – lead to the taxation of hidden reserves does commonly not take place before the subsequent sale of the underlying.

The withdrawal of the Program Securities from a bank deposit (Depotentnahme) would generally be considered as a sale. In case certain notification requirements are met, no taxation is triggered. Furthermore, circumstances leading to a restriction of Austria's taxation right regarding the Program Securities vis-à-vis other countries, e.g. a relocation from Austria (Wegzug) are in general deemed to constitute a sale (cf. sec. 27(6)(1) of the Austrian Income Tax Act). In case of relocation of an individual to a Member State of the European Union or Member States of the European Economic Area, a deferral of taxation may be available.

Individuals holding the Program Securities as non-business assets

Individuals subject to unlimited income tax liability in Austria holding the Program Securities as a non-business asset (Privatvermögen) are subject to income tax on all resulting investment income pursuant to sec. 27(1) of the Austrian Income Tax Act.

The mere exercise of options or the delivery of the underlying in case of derivatives in the sense of sec. 27(4) of the Austrian Income Tax Act does generally not (yet) trigger taxation pursuant to sec. 27(4) of the Austrian Income Tax Act, but may result in increased acquisition costs, reduced capital gains, or reduced interest of the underlying (for the option holder).

In case of investment income with an Austrian nexus (inländische Einkünfte aus Kapitalvermögen), basically meaning income paid by an Austrian paying agent (auszahlende Stelle) or an Austrian custodian agent (depotführende Stelle), the income is subject to a withholding tax of 27.5%; no additional income tax is levied over and above the amount of tax withheld (final taxation pursuant to sec. 97(1) of the Austrian Income Tax Act). Pursuant to the interpretation of the Austrian Ministry of Finance, the special tax rate of 27.5% only applies to income from derivatives pursuant to sec. 27(4) of the Austrian Income Tax Act, if the derivatives are securitised and are offered in a public placement or if the Austrian custodian or paying agent voluntarily withholds 27.5% tax pursuant to sec. 27a(2)(7) of the Austrian Income Tax Act (EStR 2000, para. 6225a). In case of investment income without an Austrian nexus, the income must be included in the annual income tax return of the individual holding the Program Securities and is subject to a flat income tax rate of 27.5%. In both cases upon application the option exists to tax all income subject to income tax at the flat rate of 27.5% at the regular personal progressive income tax rate, which may be lower than the flat rate of 27.5%, depending on the individual circumstances (option to regular taxation pursuant to sec. 27a(5) of the Austrian Income Tax Act). Whether the exercise of such option is beneficial for the individual holding the Program Securities must be clarified with the personal tax adviser.

Expenses and costs which are directly connected to income from the Program Securities subject to the special income tax rate of 27.5% are not deductible (sec. 20(2)(2) of the Austrian Income Tax Act). The acquisition costs of the Program Securities shall not include ancillary acquisition costs (sec. 27a(4)(2) of the Austrian Income Tax Act).

Sec. 27(8) of the Austrian Income Tax Act, inter alia, provides for the following restrictions on the set-off of losses: negative income from realised increases in value and from derivatives (inter alia, if being in the form of securities) may be neither set off vis-à-vis interest and other claims against credit institutions which are subject to income tax at the flat rate of 25% nor against certain income pursuant to sec. 27(5)(7) of the Austrian Income Tax Act. Income subject to income tax at the flat rate of 25% or 27.5% may not be set-off against investment income subject to the progressive income tax rate; negative investment income not already set-off against positive investment income may not be set-off against other types of income. Restrictions concerning the set-off of losses of investment income equally apply in case of an exercise of the option to regular taxation.

Individuals holding the Program Securities as business assets

Individuals subject to unlimited income tax liability in Austria holding the Program Securities as a business asset (Betriebsvermögen) are subject to income tax on all resulting investment income pursuant to sec. 27(1) of the Austrian Income Tax Act.

In case of investment income with an Austrian nexus the income is subject to a withholding tax of 27.5%. While this withholding tax has the effect of final taxation for income from the letting of capital, income from realised increases in value and income from derivatives if in the form of securities must be included in the annual income tax return of the individual holding the Program Securities (nevertheless the flat income tax rate of 27.5% applies). Reference is made to the Austrian Ministry of Finance's view as regards the application of the special tax rate of 27.5% for income from derivatives in the sense of sec. 27(4) of the Austrian Income Tax Act (EStR 2000, para. 789). In case of investment income without an Austrian nexus, the income must always be included in the annual income tax return of the individual holding the Program Securities (the flat income tax rate of 27.5% applies). In both cases upon application the option exists to tax all income subject to income tax at the flat rate of 27.5% at the regular personal progressive income tax rate, which may be lower than the flat rate of 27.5%, depending on the individual circumstances (option to regular taxation pursuant to sec. 27a(5) of the Austrian Income Tax Act). Whether the exercise of such option is beneficial for the individual holding the Program Securities must be clarified with the personal tax adviser.

Expenses and costs which are directly connected to income from the Program Securities which is subject to the special income tax rate of 27.5% are not deductible (sec. 20(2)(2) of the Austrian Income Tax Act). The acquisition costs of Program Securities held as business assets may also include ancillary costs incurred upon the acquisition (sec. 27a(4)(2) of the Austrian Income Tax Act).

Pursuant to sec. 6(2)(c) of the Austrian Income Tax Act, depreciations to the lower fair market value and losses from the sale, redemption and other realisation of financial assets, derivatives and cryptocurrencies in the sense of sec. 27(3) to (4a) of the Austrian Income Tax Act, which are subject to special tax rates of 25% or 27.5%, are primarily to be set off against income from realised increases in value of such financial assets, derivatives and cryptocurrencies and with appreciations in value of such assets within the same business unit (Wirtschaftsgüter desselben Betriebes); only 55% of the remaining negative difference may be set off against other types of income (and carried forward).

Corporations and Private Foundations

Corporations subject to unlimited corporate income tax liability in Austria are subject to corporate income tax on income in the sense of sec. 27(1) of the Austrian Income Tax Act from the Program Securities at a rate of 23%.

In case of income in the sense of sec. 27(1) of the Austrian Income Tax Act with an Austrian nexus the income is generally subject to a withholding tax of 27.5%, which may be reduced to 23% in case a corporation is the beneficial recipient of such income. Such withholding tax can be credited against the corporate income tax liability. However, no withholding tax is levied pursuant to sec. 94(5) and (12) of the Austrian Income Tax Act if certain conditions are met. Losses from the sale of the Program Securities can be set off against other income (and carried forward under general conditions).

Expenses and costs which are directly connected to income from the Program Securities are generally tax deductible. The acquisition costs of Program Securities may also include ancillary costs incurred upon the acquisition.

Private foundations (Privatstiftungen) pursuant to the Austrian Private Foundations Act (Privatstiftungsgesetz) fulfilling the prerequisites contained in sec. 13(3) of the Austrian Corporate Income Tax Act and holding the Program Securities as a non-business asset are subject to interim taxation at a rate of 23% for calendar years 2024 and 2025 and 27.5% for calendar years from 2026 onwards on interest income, income from realised increases in value, income from derivatives (inter alia, if the latter are in the form of securities; or in case of non-securitised derivatives if the custodian or paying agent voluntarily withholds the tax at source pursuant to sec. 27a(2)(7) of the Austrian Income Tax Act) (sec. 13(3)(1) in connection with sec. 22(2) of the Austrian Corporate Income Tax Act). Interim tax does not fall due insofar as distributions subject to withholding tax are made to beneficiaries in the same tax period. In case of investment income with an Austrian nexus (as described above) the income is generally subject to a withholding tax of 27.5%, which may be reduced to 23% in case a corporation is the beneficial recipient of such income. Such withholding tax can be credited against the tax falling due. Under the conditions set forth in sec. 94(12) of the Austrian Income Tax Act, no withholding tax is levied.

Set off of losses by an Austrian custodian agent

Pursuant to sec. 93(6) of the Austrian Income Tax Act, the Austrian custodian agent is obliged to automatically set-off negative investment income against positive investment income, taking into account all of a taxpayer's bank deposits with the same custodian agent. If negative and at the same time or later in the same calendar year positive income is earned, then the negative income is to be set-off against the positive income. If positive and later in the same calendar year negative income is earned, then withholding tax on the positive income is to be credited, with such tax credit being limited to 27.5% of the negative income. In certain cases, the set-off is not permissible. The custodian agent has to issue a tax certificate (Steuerreporting) to the recipient of investment income upon request, which includes, inter alia, the amount of positive and negative investment income, the amount of negative income which has been set-off with positive income, as well as the losses available for offsetting within the tax assessment (sec. 96(5) Austrian Income Tax Act).

Risk of qualification as units in a non-Austrian investment fund

Further, subject to certain conditions, the Program Securities may be re-qualified as units of a foreign investment fund in the meaning of sec 188 of the Austrian Investment Funds Act. The term "foreign investment fund" comprises (i) undertakings for collective investment in transferable securities ("UCITS") the state of origin of which is not Austria, (ii) alternative investment funds ("AIF") pursuant to the Austrian Act on Alternative Investment Fund Managers (Alternative Investmentfonds Manager-Gesetz, "AIFMG") the state of origin of which is not Austria (except real estate AIFs), and (iii) undertakings subject to a foreign jurisdiction, irrespective of the legal form they are organized in, the assets of which are invested according to the principle of risk-spreading on the basis either of a statute, of the undertaking's articles or of customary exercise, if one of the following conditions is fulfilled: (a) the undertaking is factually, directly or indirectly, not subject to a corporate income tax in its state of residence that is comparable to Austrian corporate income tax; (b) the profits of the undertaking are in its state of residence subject to corporate income tax that is comparable to Austrian corporate income tax, at a rate of less than 13%; or (c) the undertaking is subject to a comprehensive personal or material tax exemption in its state of residence. In order to assess whether the undertaking invests according to the principle of risk-spreading, an economic approach applies (substance over form). The Austrian tax authorities consider it as an indication that no foreign investment fund is given if the lack of an investment strategy precludes the qualification of an investment structure as an AIF because the competent regulatory authority qualifies the strategy as an entrepreneurial strategy. According to the view of the Austrian tax authorities, an investment fund is in particular assumed if the issuer has an obligation to the investor how to invest the funds received or if it can influence the value of the underlying assets.

Uncertainties exist as to the precondition under which a foreign issuer must qualify as an AIF manager; regarding the definition of an AIF, the guidelines issued by the Austrian Financial Market Authority are applicable.

Prospective investors are, therefore, advised to consult their tax advisors to obtain further information about the interpretation of the law and the application of the law by the tax authorities in this regard.

In case of a qualification as a foreign investment fund, the tax consequences would substantially differ from those described above, since a special (modified) tax transparency regime would in such case be applied for Austrian tax purposes. Pursuant to such principle, generally both distributions as well as at least a certain part of the retained income could be subject to Austrian (corporate) income tax.

Non-Austrian resident Individuals and corporations

Individuals and corporations subject to limited (corporate) income tax liability in Austria are taxable on income from the Program Securities if they have a permanent establishment in Austria and the Program Securities are attributable to such permanent establishment (sec. 98(1)(3) of the Austrian Income Tax Act, sec. 21(1)(1) of the Austrian Corporate Income Tax Act). In addition, individuals subject to limited income tax liability in Austria are also taxable on interest in the sense of sec. 27(2)(2) of the Austrian Income Tax Act and accrued interest (including from zero coupon bonds) in the sense of sec. 27(6)(5) of the Austrian Income Tax Act from the Program if the (accrued) interest has an Austrian nexus and if withholding tax is levied on such (accrued) interest. This does not apply to individuals being resident in a state with which automatic exchange of information exists. Interest with an Austrian nexus is interest from a debtor, which has its place of management or its legal seat in Austria or is an Austrian branch of a non-Austrian credit institution; accrued interest with an Austrian nexus is accrued interest from securities issued by an Austrian issuer (sec. 98(1)(5)(b) of the Austrian Income Tax Act). Relief from Austrian income tax might be available under applicable double tax treaties.

Austrian inheritance and gift tax

Austria does not levy an inheritance and gift tax anymore.

However, it should be noted that certain gratuitous transfers of assets to (Austrian or foreign) private law foundations and comparable legal estates (privatrechtliche Stiftungen und damit vergleichbare Vermögensmassen) are subject to foundation transfer tax (Stiftungseingangssteuer) pursuant to the Austrian Foundation Transfer Tax Act (Stiftungseingangssteuergesetz). Such tax is triggered if the transferor and/or the transferee at the time of transfer have a domicile, their habitual abode, their legal seat or their place of effective management in Austria. Certain exemptions apply in case of a transfer mortis causa of financial assets within the meaning of sec. 27(3) and (4) of the Austrian Income Tax Act (except for participations in Austrian and non-Austrian corporations) if income from such financial assets is subject to income tax at the flat tax rate of 25% or 27.5%. The tax basis is the fair market value of the assets transferred minus any debts, calculated at the time of transfer. The tax rate is currently in general 3.5%, with a higher rate of 25% applying in special cases.

In addition, a special notification obligation exists for gifts of money, receivables, shares in corporations, participations in partnerships, businesses, movable tangible assets and intangibles. The notification obligation applies if the donor and/or the donee have a domicile, their habitual abode, their legal seat or their place of effective management in Austria. Not all gifts are covered by the notification obligation: In case of gifts to certain related parties, a threshold of EUR 50,000 per year applies; in all other cases, a notification is obligatory if the value of gifts made exceeds an amount of EUR 15,000 during a period of five years. Furthermore, gratuitous transfers to foundations falling under the Austrian Foundation Transfer Tax Act described above are also exempt from the notification obligation. Intentional violation of the notification obligation may lead to the levying of fines of up to 10% of the fair market value of the assets transferred.

Further, it should be noted that the withdrawal of financial assets and derivatives in the sense of sec. 27(3) and (4) of the Austrian Income Tax Act is considered a sale pursuant to sec. 27(6)(2) of the Austrian Income Tax Act. Also gratuitous transfers of the Program Securities can trigger income tax on the level of the transferor (see above).

BELGIAN TAXATION

The following summary describes the principal Belgian tax considerations with respect to the holding of Program Securities obtained by an investor in Belgium. This information is of a general nature and does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all Belgian tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to acquire, to hold or to dispose of the Program Securities. This summary is based on Belgian tax legislation, treaties, rules, and administrative interpretations and similar documentation, in force as of the date of the publication of this Offering Circular, without prejudice to any amendments introduced at a later date, even if implemented with retroactive effect. This summary does not describe the tax consequences for a holder of Program Securities that are redeemable in exchange for, or convertible into assets, or the exercise, settlement or redemption of such Program Securities or any tax consequences after the moment of exercise, settlement or redemption.

Each prospective holder of Program Securities should consult a professional adviser with respect to the tax consequences of an investment in the Program Securities, taking into account the influence of each regional, local or national law.

Belgian Withholding Tax – Notes

Under Belgian tax law, "interest" income includes: (i) periodic interest income, (ii) any amount paid by the Issuer in excess of the issue price (whether or not on the maturity date), and (iii) if the Notes qualify as "fixed income securities" (in the meaning of article 2, §1, 8° of the Belgian Income Tax Code 1992), in the case of a realisation of the Notes between two interest payment dates, the interest accrued during the holding period (i.e. the period during which the investor held the relevant Program Security). "Fixed income securities" include Notes where there is a causal link between the amount of interest income and the holding period of the Notes, on the basis of which it is possible to calculate the amount of pro rata interest income at the moment of the sale of the Notes during their lifetime. Further, on 25 January 2013, the Belgian tax authorities issued a circular letter on the tax treatment of income from structured products the return of which is linked to an underlying value (share basket, index, etc.) and the terms and conditions of which include one or more of the following features: (a) a (conditional) minimum return; (b) capital not at risk; (c) a periodic coupon payment; and (d) determination of income at an intermediary stage using a "ratchet" system. The circular letter takes the position that such structured products qualify as "fixed income securities" and sets out a (somewhat unclear) formula to calculate the pro rata of accrued interest. It is debatable whether the general statements made in the circular letter are in line with Belgian tax legislation.

Payments of interest on the Notes made through a paying agent in Belgium will in principle be subject to a 30 per cent. withholding tax in Belgium (calculated on the interest received after deduction of any non-Belgian withholding taxes) subject to such reductions or exemptions as may be available under Belgian domestic or treaty law.

Belgian Withholding Tax – Certificates

Payments under the Certificates will in principle be subject to a 30 per cent. withholding tax in Belgium (calculated on the interest received after deduction of any non-Belgian withholding taxes), provided these payments are considered as interest payments for Belgian income tax purposes (as defined in the section entitled "Belgian Withholding Tax – Notes") and if made through a paying agent in Belgium, subject to such reductions or exemptions as may be available under Belgian domestic or treaty law.

Belgian Withholding Tax – Warrants

Payments under the Warrants would not be subject to Belgian interest withholding tax, unless such payments would qualify as income from movable property and capital - and more particularly as interest - for Belgian income tax purposes and would be made through a paying agent in Belgium.

Income from movable property and capital is defined in the Belgian Income Tax Code 1992 as "any revenue of movable property employed in any way whatsoever". In order to qualify as such income, the revenue must find its legal cause in the use or employment ("aanwending" / "affectation") of movable property. Interest is one of the categories of income from movable property and capital. Interest is defined as "interest, premiums, and any other revenue from loans, including collateral transactions with regard to financial instruments, from deposits and from any other receivable" and is further described above in the section entitled "Belgian Withholding Tax – Notes".

Belgian Income Tax rules applicable to natural persons resident in Belgium

For Belgian resident individuals, i.e., natural persons who are subject to Belgian personal income tax ("Personenbelasting" / "Impôt des personnes physiques"), the 30 per cent. Belgian withholding tax constitutes the final income tax. This means that they do not have to declare any interest obtained on the Program Securities in their personal income tax return, provided withholding tax was levied on these interest payments. Nevertheless, Belgian resident individuals may elect to declare any interest received on Program Securities in their personal income tax return. Also, if no Belgian withholding tax has been withheld (e.g. because the interest is paid outside Belgium without the intervention of a Belgian paying agent or because it concerns the pro rata of accrued interest in the case of a sale of the Program Securities), any interest received (after deduction of any non-Belgian withholding tax) must be declared in the personal income tax return. Interest income which is declared in this way will in principle be taxed at a flat rate of 30 per cent. (or at the relevant progressive personal income tax rate(s), taking into account the taxpayer's other declared income, if this results in lower taxation) and no local surcharges will be due. The Belgian withholding tax levied may be credited against the personal income tax liability.

Capital gains realised upon the sale of the Program Securities are subject to a 10 per cent. tax on capital gains to the extent that those capital gains are realised within the framework of the normal management of their private estate, unless such capital gains qualify as movable income within the meaning of Article 96/2, 6° of the Belgian Income Tax Code 1992. Capital gains qualifying as interest (as defined above in the section entitled "Belgian Withholding Tax – Notes") therefore should not be subject to this 10 per cent. tax on capital gains. Certain exemptions are available, including an annual exemption up to EUR 4,855, which may be increased by up to EUR 480 for each year in which the exemption is not (fully) utilized, up to a maximum of EUR 2,426 (amounts to be indexed).

Capital losses realised on the disposal of the Program Securities would be deductible from capital gains realised in the same taxable year, by the same taxpayer and within the same 'category' of taxable capital gains on financial assets.

In principle, such capital gains will be levied by means of a withholding mechanism applied at the level of Belgian financial intermediaries involved in the payment following the disposal of the Program Securities. Where withholding tax is applied in this way, it fully discharges the individual's personal income tax liability in respect of those capital gains, and the individual is not required to report them in their personal income tax return. It should be noted, however, that the financial intermediary will not apply any exemptions or set off any available capital losses when deducting the withholding tax.

Belgian tax resident individuals may, however, elect to apply an opt-out mechanism, in which case the relevant financial intermediary will no longer be obliged to deduct withholding tax. Where an individual has elected to opt out, or where no withholding tax has otherwise been deducted, the individual is required to report the capital gains on the Program Securities in their personal income tax return. In addition, Belgian tax resident individuals may elect to declare the capital gains in their personal income tax return even where withholding tax has been applied by the financial intermediary, in order to claim certain available exemptions or the set-off of capital losses.

The withholding and opt-out mechanisms described above will be introduced gradually throughout 2026.

Other tax rules apply to Belgian resident individuals holding the Program Securities not as a private investment but in the framework of their professional activity or when the transactions with respect to the Program Securities fall outside the scope of the normal management of their own private estate or to the extent that the capital gains qualify as interest (as defined above in the section entitled "Belgian Withholding Tax – Notes").

Belgian Income Tax rules applicable to Belgian resident corporations

Interest derived by Belgian corporate investors (i.e. corporations subject to Belgian corporate income tax ("Vennootschapsbelasting" / "Impôt des sociétés")) on the Program Securities and capital gains realised on the disposal or settlement of the Program Securities will in principle be subject to Belgian corporate income tax at the rate of 25 per cent. Subject to certain conditions, small companies (as defined by article 1:24, §1 to §6 of the Belgian Companies and Associations Code) are taxable at the reduced corporate income tax rate of 20 per cent. for the first EUR 100,000 of their taxable base.

If non-Belgian withholding tax has been levied on the interest, a foreign tax credit may be applied against the Belgian tax due. The foreign tax credit is determined by reference to a fraction where the numerator is equal to the rate of the foreign tax with a maximum of 15 and the denominator is equal to 100 minus the amount of the numerator (with a number of additional limitations). The rate of the foreign tax credit could be impacted by applicable double taxation agreements concluded by Belgium. Capital losses on the Program Securities are in principle tax deductible.

For Belgian corporate investors, interest payments on the Program Securities (except for Program Securities which are zero coupon notes or which provide for the capitalisation of interest) made through a paying agent in Belgium may under certain specific circumstances be exempt from withholding tax, provided a special attestation is delivered. The Belgian withholding tax that has been levied is creditable against the Belgian corporate income tax and refundable in accordance with the applicable legal provisions.

Other tax rules apply to investment companies within the meaning of Article 185bis of the Belgian Income Tax Code 1992.

Belgian Income Tax rules applicable to organisations for financing pensions

Interest derived on the Program Securities and capital gains realised on the Program Securities will not be subject to Belgian corporate income tax in the hands of Belgian Organisations for Financing Pensions ("OFPs"). Capital losses incurred by OFPs on the Program Securities will not be tax deductible. Subject to certain conditions, any Belgian withholding tax that has been levied is creditable and refundable in accordance with the applicable legal provisions.

Belgian Income Tax rules applicable to other Belgian legal entities

Legal entities that are Belgian residents for tax purposes, i.e. that are subject to Belgian tax on legal entities ("rechtspersonenbelasting" / "impôt des personnes morales"), are subject to the following tax treatment in Belgium with respect to the Program Securities.

Payments of interest (as defined in the section entitled "Belgian Withholding Tax – Notes") on the Program Securities made through a paying agent in Belgium will in principle be subject to a 30 per cent. withholding tax in Belgium and no further tax on legal entities will be due on the interest. However, if no Belgian withholding tax has been withheld (e.g. because the interest is paid outside Belgium without the intervention of a Belgian paying agent or because it concerns the pro rata of accrued interest in the case of a sale of the Program Securities), the legal entity itself is liable to declare the interest to the Belgian tax administration and to pay the 30 per cent. withholding tax to the Belgian treasury.

Capital gains realised on the Program Securities (which do not qualify as interest) are subject to a 10 per cent. tax on capital gains, unless such non-corporate legal entity qualifies as an exempt entity within the meaning of Article 14533, §1 of the Belgian Income Tax Code 1992. Certain exemptions are available, including an annual exemption up to EUR 4,855, which may be increased by up to EUR 480 for each year in which the exemption is not (fully) utilized, up to a maximum of EUR 2,426 (amounts to be indexed).

Capital losses realised on the disposal of the Program Securities are deductible from capital gains realised in the same taxable year, by the same taxpayer and within the same 'category' of taxable capital gains on financial assets.

Belgian resident legal entities are themselves responsible for the deduction and payment of any withholding tax on such capital gains.

Belgian Income Tax rules applicable to non-residents of Belgium

The interest income (as defined in the section entitled "Belgian Withholding Tax – Notes") on the Program Securities paid to a Belgian non-resident outside of Belgium, i.e. without the intervention of a paying agent in Belgium, is not subject to Belgian withholding tax. Interest income on the Program Securities paid through a Belgian paying agent will in principle be subject to a 30 per cent. Belgian withholding tax, unless the holder is resident in a country with which Belgium has concluded a double taxation agreement and delivers the requested attestation. Non-resident holders that have not allocated the Program Securities to business activities in Belgium can also obtain an exemption of Belgian withholding tax on interest if the interest is paid through a Belgian credit institution, a Belgian stock market company or a Belgian clearing or settlement institution and provided that the non-resident (i) is the owner or usufruct holder of the Program Securities, (ii) has not allocated the Program Securities to business activities in Belgium and (iii) delivers an attestation confirming his non-resident status and the fulfilment of conditions (i) and (ii).

Non-resident holders using the Program Securities to exercise a professional activity in Belgium through a permanent establishment are subject to the same tax rules as the Belgian resident corporations (see section "Belgian Income Tax rules applicable to Belgian Income Tax rules applicable to Belgian resident corporations").

Non-resident holders who do not allocate the Program Securities to a professional activity in Belgium are not subject to Belgian income tax, save, as the case may be, in the form of withholding tax.

Belgian tax on stock exchange transactions

A tax on stock exchange transactions ("taks op de beursverrichtingen" / "taxe sur les opérations de bourse") will be levied on the purchase and sale of the Program Securities on a secondary market through a professional intermediary in Belgium. The tax is generally due at a rate 0.12 per cent. for transactions in debt instruments and at a rate of 0.35 per cent. for transactions in other securities which are not capitalisation shares, with a maximum amount per transaction and per party of €1,300 for debt instruments and €1,600 for other securities which are not capitalisation shares. The tax is due separately from each of the seller/transferor and the purchaser/transferee and is collected by the professional intermediary.

Pursuant to the Law of 25 December 2016 on access to the activity of investment services and on the legal status and supervision of portfolio management and investment advice companies, the scope of application of the tax on stock exchange transactions has been extended as of 1 January 2017 to secondary market transactions of which the order is directly or indirectly made to a professional intermediary established outside of Belgium by (i) a private individual with habitual residence in Belgium or (ii) a legal entity for the account of its seat or establishment in Belgium (both referred to as a "Belgian Investor"). In such case, the tax on stock exchange transactions is due by the ordering private individual or legal entity (who will be responsible for the filing of a stock exchange tax return and for the timely payment of the amount of stock exchange tax due) unless that individual or entity can demonstrate that the tax on stock exchange transactions due has already been paid by the professional intermediary established outside Belgium. In the latter case, the foreign professional intermediary also has to provide each client (which gives such intermediary an order) with a qualifying order statement (borderel/bordereau), at the latest on the business day after the day on which the relevant transaction was realised. The qualifying order statements must be numbered in series and duplicates must be retained by the financial intermediary. A duplicate can be replaced by a qualifying agent day-to-day listing, numbered in series. Alternatively, professional intermediaries established outside Belgium have the possibility to appoint a stock exchange tax representative in Belgium, subject to certain conditions and formalities (a "Stock Exchange Tax Representative"). Such Stock Exchange Tax Representative will then be liable toward the Belgian Treasury for the tax on stock exchange transactions on behalf of clients that fall within one of the aforementioned categories (provided that these clients do not qualify as exempt persons for stock exchange tax purposes – see below) and to comply with the reporting obligations and the obligations relating to the order statement (borderel/bordereau) in that respect. If such a Stock Exchange Tax Representative would have paid the tax on stock exchange transactions due, the Belgian Investor will, as per the above, no longer be the statutory debtor of the tax on stock exchange transactions.

However, the tax on stock exchange transactions will not be payable by exempt persons acting for their own account, including investors who are Belgian non-residents provided they deliver an attestation to the financial intermediary in Belgium confirming their non-resident status, and certain Belgian institutional investors as defined in Articles 126¹ 2° of the Code of various duties and taxes ("Wetboek diverse rechten en taksen" / "Code des droits et taxes divers").

Belgian annual tax on securities accounts

An annual tax on securities accounts ("jaarlijkse taks op de effectenrekeningen" / "taxe annuelle sur les comptes-titres"), is levied on securities accounts with an average value, over a period of twelve consecutive months starting on 1 October and ending on 30 September of the subsequent year, higher than EUR 1 million.

The tax is equal to 0.30 per cent. of the average value of the securities accounts during a reference period. The reference period normally runs from 1 October to 30 September of the subsequent year. The taxable base is determined based on four reference dates: 31 December, 31 March, 30 June and 30 September. The amount of the tax is limited to 10 per cent. of the difference between the taxable base and the threshold of EUR 1 million.

The tax targets securities accounts held by resident individuals, companies and legal entities, irrespective as to whether these accounts are held with a financial intermediary which is established or located in Belgium or abroad. The tax also applies to securities accounts held by non-resident individuals, companies and legal entities with a financial intermediary established or located in Belgium. Belgian establishments from non-residents are however treated as Belgian residents for purposes of the annual tax on securities accounts so that both Belgian and foreign securities accounts fall within the scope of this tax. Note that pursuant to certain double tax treaties, Belgium has no right to tax capital. Hence, to the extent the annual tax on securities accounts is viewed as a tax on capital within the meaning of these double tax treaties, treaty protection may, subject to certain conditions, be claimed.

Each securities account is assessed separately. When multiple holders hold a securities account, each holder is jointly and severally liable for the payment of the tax and each holder may fulfil the declaration requirements for all holders.

There are various exemptions, such as securities accounts held by specific types of regulated entities for their own account.

A financial intermediary is defined as (i) the National Bank of Belgium, the European Central Bank and foreign central banks performing similar functions, (ii) a central securities depository included in Article 198/1, §6, 12° of the Belgian Income Tax Code 1992, (iii) a credit institution or a stockbroking firm as defined by Article 1, §3 of the Law of 25 April 2014 on the status and supervision of credit institutions and investment companies (currently defined by, respectively, Article 1, §3 of the Belgian law of 25 April 2014 on the status and supervision of credit institutions and Article 2 of the Belgian law of 20 July 2022 on the status and supervision of stockbroking firms and containing various provisions) and (iv) the investment companies as defined by Article 3, §1 of the Law of 25 October 2016 on access to the activity of investment services and on the legal status and supervision of portfolio management and investment advice companies, which are, pursuant to national law, admitted to hold financial instruments for the account of customers.

The annual tax on securities accounts is in principle due by the financial intermediary established or located in Belgium. Otherwise, the annual tax on securities accounts needs to be declared and is due by the holder of the securities accounts itself, unless the holder provides evidence that the annual tax on securities accounts has already been withheld, declared and paid by an intermediary which is not established or located in Belgium. In that respect, intermediaries located or established outside of Belgium could appoint an annual tax on securities accounts representative in Belgium. Such a representative is then liable towards the Belgian Treasury (Thesaurie/Trésorerie) for the annual tax on securities accounts due and for complying with certain reporting obligations in that respect. If the holder of the securities accounts itself is liable for reporting obligations (e.g. when a Belgian resident holds a securities account abroad with an average value higher than EUR 1 million), the deadline for filing the tax return for the annual tax on securities is 15 July of the year following the end of the reference period. In the latter case, the annual tax on securities accounts must be paid by the taxpayer on 31 August of the year following the year on which the tax was calculated, at the latest.

The law also provides for a general anti-abuse provision.

Investors should be aware that, as of 29 July 2025, two rebuttable presumptions of abuse apply to certain transactions involving securities accounts with a value exceeding EUR 1 million prior to the transaction. Both (i) the conversion of dematerialised financial instruments into registered instruments, and (ii) the transfer of (part of) financial instruments to another securities account held (alone or jointly) by the same person, will in principle not be opposable to the Belgian tax administration unless the taxpayer can demonstrate that such conversion or transfer was principally justified by motives other than tax avoidance.

Prospective holders of Program Securities are strongly advised to seek their own professional advice in relation to the annual tax on securities account.

Exchange of information

The exchange of information is governed by the Common Reporting Standard ("CRS"). As of 13 March 2025, the total of jurisdictions that have signed the multilateral competent authority agreement on the automatic exchange of financial account information ("MCAA"), amounted to 126. The MCAA is a multilateral framework agreement to automatically exchange financial and personal information, with the subsequent bilateral exchanges coming into effect between those signatories that file the subsequent notifications.

Council Directive 2011/16/EU on administrative cooperation in the field of taxation, as amended by the Directive on Administrative Cooperation (2014/107/EU) of 9 December 2014 ("DAC2"), implemented the exchange of information based on the CRS within the EU. The CRS has been transposed in Belgium by the Law of 16 December 2015.

Under CRS, financial institutions resident in a CRS country are required to report, according to a due diligence standard, financial information with respect to reportable accounts, which includes interest, dividends, account balance or value, income from certain insurance products, sales proceeds from financial assets and other income generated with respect to assets held in the account or payments made with respect to the account. Reportable accounts include accounts held by individuals and entities (which includes trusts and foundations) with fiscal residence in another CRS country. The standard includes a requirement to look through passive entities to report on the relevant controlling persons.

BULGARIAN TAXATION

The following is a general description of certain tax considerations related to the Program Securities. It does not purport to be a complete analysis of all tax considerations relating to the Program Securities. Prospective investors in the Program Securities should consult their tax advisers as to the consequences under the tax laws of the country of which they are resident for tax purposes of acquiring, holding and disposing of the Program Securities and receiving payments under the Program Securities.

This summary is based upon the law as in effect on the date of this Prospectus and is subject to any change in law that may take effect after such date.

1. Bulgarian Tax Residence of the Holders of Program Securities

From a Bulgarian tax perspective the mere acquisition, holding or disposal of the Program Securities would not qualify a foreign corporate or individual holder as a Bulgarian tax resident.

In order to qualify for tax purposes under Bulgarian law as a Bulgarian tax resident a corporate investor should either (i) be incorporated in the Republic of Bulgaria under the applicable Bulgarian laws or (ii) be an entity established under Council Regulation (EC) №2157/2001 or (iii) be a cooperative society established under Council Regulation (EC) 1435/2003, in case its registered office is within Bulgaria and it is entered in a Bulgarian register.

An individual investor will qualify as a Bulgarian tax resident, without regard to its citizenship, in the event that he or she (i) has a permanent address in the Republic of Bulgaria; (ii) resides in the Republic of Bulgaria for more than 183 days during each twelve month period, (iii) has been sent abroad by the Bulgarian state, its authorities or organisations or by Bulgarian enterprises, or (iv) has a centre of vital interest in the Republic of Bulgaria.

2. Tax Treatment of Income under Program Securities for Legal Entities

2.1 Principal and Interest

Payment of principal on the Program Securities to a legal entity is not subject to taxation in Bulgaria.

Interest on the Program Securities received by a legal entity, which is a Bulgarian tax resident, or which is a non-Bulgarian tax resident but acting through a permanent establishment in Bulgaria, is included in the corporate income taxable base of the recipient and is subject to corporate income tax in Bulgaria at the rate of 10 per cent.

Interest on Program Securities (only to the extent paid by a Bulgarian resident Issuer), when admitted to trading on a Regulated Market (as defined in MiFID II and national law), received by a legal entity, which is a non-Bulgarian tax resident (unless acting through a permanent establishment), irrespective of the place where it is established for tax purposes, is exempt from taxation in Bulgaria.

2.2 Dividends

Dividends payable under any Program Securities to Bulgarian tax resident legal entities would not be recognized as taxable income, where paid by an EU/EEA-based non-resident company (including by a Bulgarian company). In all other cases such dividends would be included in the overall general business income of the resident legal entities, subject to tax at the general tax rate of 10 per cent.

Dividends payable under any Program Securities (only to the extent paid by a Bulgarian resident Issuer) to non-Bulgarian tax resident legal entities would be exempt from Bulgarian taxation when paid to EU/EEA-resident legal entities. Dividends payable under any Program Securities (only to the extent paid by a Bulgarian resident Issuer) to other non-resident legal entities would be subject to withholding tax of 5 per cent, unless any treaty relief is applied.

2.3 Capital Gains

Capital gains from the sale or exchange of Program Securities received by a legal entity, which is a Bulgarian tax resident, or which is a non-Bulgarian tax resident acting through a permanent establishment in Bulgaria, is included in the corporate income taxable base of the recipient and is subject to corporate income tax in Bulgaria at the rate of 10 per cent. If the capital gains derive from the sale or exchange of Program Securities, admitted to trading on a Regulated Market (as defined in MiFID II and national law), they would not represent taxable income for corporate income tax purposes.

Capital gains from the sale or exchange of Program Securities (only to the extent related to a Bulgarian resident Issuer) realised by a legal entity, which is a non-Bulgarian tax resident (unless acting through a permanent establishment), irrespective of the place where it is established for tax purposes, are subject to a one-time withholding tax in Bulgaria at the rate of 10 per cent (unless treaty relief applies). Such tax on (Bulgaria-sourced) capital gains is payable by the recipient of the income. The tax is levied on the positive difference between the sale price and the documented acquisition price. The tax on capital gains is to be reported in a tax return and paid by such non-resident legal entity before the end of the month following the quarter in which the respective income is actually received.

3. Tax Treatment of Income under Program Securities for Individuals

3.1 Principal and Interest

Payment of principal on the Program Securities to individuals is not subject to taxation in Bulgaria.

As regards individual investors from Bulgaria, the interest income from the Program Securities (Notes, to the extent issued by EU/EEA-regulated Issuer), irrespective of whether the Program Securities are traded on a Regulated Market or not, received by a Bulgarian tax resident is tax exempt in Bulgaria.

Interest income under the Program Securities payable to non-resident individuals would not be subject to any Bulgarian taxation, to the extent the Issuers are not Bulgarian companies.

3.2 Dividends

Dividends payable under Program Securities to Bulgarian tax resident individuals by non-resident companies or by Bulgarian resident companies would be subject to Bulgarian final personal income tax of 5 per cent (unless any treaty relief has been applied).

Dividends payable under Program Securities (only to the extent paid by a Bulgarian resident Issuer) to non-resident individuals would be subject to 5 per cent withholding tax, unless any treaty relief available is applied.

3.3 Capital Gains

The capital gains income of Bulgarian tax resident individuals, which is derived from transfer of the Program Securities, is subject to personal income tax at 10 per cent, as part of their overall annual personal income. No such taxation would apply for income from transfer of Program Securities traded on a regulated market.

In the case of non-resident individuals, the income realised from transactions with the Program Securities would be subject to Bulgarian withholding taxation of 10 per cent only to the extent related to a Bulgarian resident Issuer. No such taxation would apply for income from transfer of Program Securities traded on a regulated market and paid to EU/EEA resident individuals.

3.4 Special Treatment of Sole Proprietors

An individual who is a Bulgarian tax resident and, with regards to the Program Securities, is acting as sole proprietor for the purposes of Bulgaria's Commercial Act (sole proprietors are subject to registration with the Commercial Register, but the treatment applies even if unregistered), is subject to taxation for any interest or capital gains as a legal entity at the rate of 15 per cent.

4. Bilateral Treaties for Avoidance of Double Taxation

As at the date of this Prospectus, Bulgaria is party to some 70 bilateral treaties on the avoidance of double taxation. In cases where Bulgarian law imposes tax on interest received, or dividends, or capital gains realised in relation to the Program Securities (see sections 2 and 3 above), these treaties may provide different forms of tax relief. The application of any treaty relief in Bulgaria in respect of Bulgarian-sourced income exceeding EUR 255,645.94 for the calendar year is subject to obtaining tax clearance from Bulgaria's National Revenue Agency under a special procedure that requires the filing of standard forms and tax residence certificates following receipt of the relevant income and before the deadline for payment of tax. The clearance statement should be issued within a 60-day term, where the expiry of such term without any refusal is deemed a tacit approval of treaty relief application. If the income does not exceed EUR 255,645.94 for the relevant calendar year, the grounds for the application of the treaties must be certified to the payer of the income. Treaty benefits may also be claimed in the course of a tax refund procedure in case the final tax was already withheld by the payer.

Prospective investors in the Program Securities should consult their own tax advisers with regard to the applicability and effect of such treaties, and to treaty clearance procedures.

5. Other Taxation

5.1 Inheritance and Gift Tax

Under Bulgarian tax law, in the case where an individual holder of Program Securities is a Bulgarian citizen, the Program Securities should be included in his taxable inheritance estate. If the holder is not a Bulgarian citizen, no Bulgarian inheritance tax could apply on the transfer of the Program Securities upon death of holder of Program Securities.

Bulgarian gift tax of up to 5 per cent may be due on a gift or donation of Program Securities, if the gift is made or received by a Bulgarian tax resident.

5.2 VAT, Stamp Duty or other Transfer Tax

No Bulgarian VAT, stamp duty, registration, transfer, financial tax or similar tax is payable in connection with the acquisition, ownership, sale or disposition of the Program Securities by Bulgarian or non-Bulgarian resident investors in the Program Securities.

DANISH TAXATION

The following is a summary description of the taxation in Denmark of Notes, Warrants or Certificates according to the Danish tax laws in force at the date of this Offering Circular and is subject to any changes in law and the interpretation and application thereof, which changes could be made with retroactive effect. The following summary does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all the tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to acquire, hold or dispose of Notes, Warrants or Certificates and does not purport to deal with the tax consequences applicable to all categories of investors, some of which (such as professional dealers in securities) may be subject to special rules. Potential investors are under all circumstances strongly recommended to contact their own tax advisor to clarify the individual consequences of their investment, holding and disposal of Notes, Warrants or Certificates. The Issuer makes no representations regarding the tax consequences of purchase, holding or disposal of the Notes, Warrants or Certificates.

Taxation of Notes

Taxation at source

Under existing Danish tax laws no general withholding tax or coupon tax will apply to payments of interest or principal or other amounts due on the Notes, other than in certain cases on payments in respect of controlled debt in relation to the Issuer as referred to in The Danish Corporation Tax Act (in Danish "Selskabsskatteloven") of 13 March 2025 (as amended). This will not have any impact on Noteholders who are not in a relationship whereby they control, or are controlled by, the Issuer, or where the Noteholders and the Issuer are not controlled by the same group of shareholders.

Moreover, Danish withholding tax on payments of interest or principal or other amounts due on the Notes will not apply where the payment does not have a Danish source.

Resident Noteholders

Private individuals, including persons who are engaged in financial trade, companies and similar enterprises resident in Denmark for tax purposes or receiving interest on the Notes through their permanent establishment in Denmark are liable to pay tax on such interest.

Capital gains are taxable to individuals and corporate entities in accordance with the Danish Act on Taxation of Gains and Losses on Claims and Debt (in Danish "Kursgevinstloven") of 19 September 2025 (as amended) (the "Act"). Gains and losses on Notes held by corporate entities are generally taxed in accordance with a mark-to-market principle (in Danish "lagerprincippet"), i.e. on an unrealised basis. Gains and losses on Notes held by individuals are generally taxed on a realised basis and if the annual gains or losses on all debt claims, debt denominated in foreign currency and investment certificates in bond-based investment funds do not exceed DKK 2,000, the gains or losses will be exempt from taxation. The net gains held by individuals are generally taxed as capital income at a rate of up to 42 per cent.

A variety of features regarding interest and principal may apply to the Notes. The applicable taxation of capital gains to corporate entities or individuals will depend on the features applicable to the Notes in question.

Structured notes can be designed in many ways and with many different underlying assets or in a way that the yield will depend on various index or currency flows. When structured notes are issued the following tax rules apply to the Notes.

Gains and losses on structured notes are generally treated as gains and losses on financial instruments in accordance with section 29(3) of the Act. However, there are exceptions – for example, notes which are adjusted in relation to developments in the consumer prices index (as computed by Statistics Denmark (Danmarks Statistik)), the net consumer-price index or a similar index within the European Union or any of its member states. The gains and losses are calculated irrespective of the rules applying to the underlying asset.

Gains and losses on structured notes issued to both corporate entities and individuals are predominantly treated as taxable income in accordance with a mark-to-market principle (in Danish "lagerprincippet"), i.e. on an unrealised basis.

Corporate entities are generally able to deduct losses on structured notes, but individuals may only deduct losses on structured notes against gains on other financial instruments. However, in both cases, certain restrictions or exceptions apply.

Pension funds and other entities governed by the Danish Act on Taxation of Pension Investments Returns (in Danish "Pensionsafkastbeskatningsloven") of 6 January 2023 are, irrespective of realisation, taxed on the annual increase or decrease on the Notes according to a mark-to-market principle (in Danish "lagerprincippet") as specifically laid down in the act. The net returns are taxed at a flat rate of 15.3 per cent.

Non-Resident Noteholders

Under existing Danish tax laws, payments of interest or principal amounts to any non-resident Noteholders are not subject to taxation in Denmark, other than in certain cases on payments in respect of controlled debt in relation to the Issuer as referred to under "Taxation at source" above. Thus, no Danish withholding tax will be payable with respect to such payments and any capital gain realised upon the sale, exchange or retirement of a Note will not be subject to taxation in Denmark, other than in certain cases on payments in respect of controlled debt in relation to the Issuer as referred to under "Taxation at source" above.

This tax treatment applies solely to Noteholders who are not subject to full tax liability in Denmark or included in a Danish joint taxation scheme and do not carry on business in Denmark through a permanent establishment.

Taxation of Warrants and Certificates

Warrants and Certificates can be issued with a large number of different underlying financial instruments (Equity and Proprietary Index-Linked Securities, Currency-Linked Securities, Commodity-Linked Securities, Bond-Linked Securities, Inflation-Linked Securities, Property-Linked Securities, Fund-Linked Securities) or other assets as the underlying reference.

The taxation of the Warrants and Certificates will depend on the underlying financial instrument or asset. Most of the underlying financial instruments listed in the Offering Circular are of a kind that will lead to a similar taxation of the Warrants and Certificates as for holding of Structured Notes, as described above. If the underlying financial instrument is covered by the Danish Act on Capital Gains Tax on Shares (in Danish "Aktieavancebeskatningsloven") of 27 August 2025 (as amended), the holder of Warrants and Certificates may be deemed a shareholder in the issuer of the underlying financial asset for Danish tax purposes and be taxed in the following manner.

Sale or other disposals of shares are considered a realisation for Danish tax purposes. Redemption generally qualifies as a dividend payment, unless the tax authorities grant a permission to treat it as a sale.

For Danish resident individuals, capital gains will be subject to taxation as share income at a rate of 27 per cent on annual share income up to DKK 79,400 and 42 per cent of share income exceeding DKK 67,500. The stated amount limits are applicable for 2026 and are, in general, adjusted annually. The amount limits are doubled for married couples co-habiting at the end of the income year.

The extent to which losses on shares is deductible for individuals depends on whether or not the share is listed on a regulated market or not.

Dividend payments to Danish resident individuals are also treated as share income, and taxation occurs at the same rates as described above.

For companies fully liable to Danish tax, capital gains may be subject to tax at a rate of 22 per cent depending on the company's shareholding and the status of the underlying shares. If a company owns more than 10 per cent of the shares, no capital gains taxation will be triggered. Losses are generally deductible if the sale of the shares is liable to tax.

Non-resident individuals and companies not fully liable to tax in Denmark are not liable to tax on capital gains on shares in Denmark unless the capital gains can be attributed to a permanent establishment in Denmark.

Dividends paid by a Danish company to non-resident individuals is subject to a withholding tax at a rate of 27 per cent. The effective rate of taxation may be lower if the individual is resident in an EU member state or a country with which Denmark has concluded a double tax treaty or an information exchange treaty. The excess tax must be reclaimed from the Danish tax authorities.

Non-resident companies may be liable to tax on dividends paid by a Danish company depending on the shareholding in the dividend paying company, the status of the underlying shares and the shareholder's individual circumstances. The effective rate of taxation may be lower due to the shareholder being resident in a country with which Denmark has concluded a double tax treaty or an information exchange agreement or the like. The excess tax must be reclaimed from the Danish tax authorities.

GERMAN TAXATION

The following is a general discussion of certain German tax consequences of the acquisition, ownership and disposal of the Program Securities. As each Tranche of the Program Securities may be subject to a different tax treatment due to the specific terms of each Tranche, the following section shall only be regarded as generic overview with regard to the possible tax treatment in Germany. It does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to purchase the Program Securities, and, in particular, does not consider any specific facts or circumstances that may apply to a particular purchaser. This summary is based on the laws of Germany currently in force and as applied on the date of this Offering Circular, which are subject to change, possibly with retroactive or retrospective effect.

Prospective purchasers of Program Securities are advised to consult their own tax advisors as to the tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of Program Securities, including the effect of any state or local taxes, under the tax laws of Germany and each country of which they are residents.

To the extent the following information describes the taxation in the case of a disposal of the Program Securities, such description applies accordingly to cases of a call, exercise, assignment or redemption of the Program Securities as well as a transfer of Program Securities into a corporation by way of a hidden contribution (verdeckte Einlage in eine Kapitalgesellschaft).

German tax residents

German tax residents are persons (individuals and corporate entities) who are tax resident in Germany (in particular, persons having a residence, habitual abode, seat or place of management in Germany).

Program Securities held as private assets

If Program Securities are held by an investor as private assets (Privatvermögen), payments of interest qualify as taxable savings income (Einkünfte aus Kapitalvermögen) pursuant to section 20 para 1 no 7 German Income Tax Act (Einkommensteuergesetz, "ITA"). Capital gains / capital losses realised upon disposal of the Program Securities (in particular being Notes and Certificates), computed as the difference between the acquisition costs and the sales proceeds reduced by expenses directly and factually related to the sale, qualify as (negative) savings income pursuant to section 20 para 2 sentence 1 no 7 ITA. If such disposal results in a loss, such loss can only be offset against other taxable savings income. If the investor does not have enough other taxable savings income in the respective assessment period, the losses can be carried forward; a loss carry back is not possible.

Program Securities providing for a physical delivery of, e.g., bonds or shares, may qualify as convertible, exchangeable or similar instruments, subject to the relevant Terms and Conditions of such Program Securities. In such a case, the sales proceeds from the Program Securities and the acquisition costs of the received securities may be deemed to be equal to the initial acquisition costs of the Program Securities (section 20 para 4a sentence 3 ITA) so that no taxable capital gains would be realised due to the conversion. However, capital gains realised upon an on-sale of the received securities would qualify as taxable income. Losses from the disposal of shares or stock received may be subject to further limitations.

Savings income is, in general, subject to German income tax at a special (flat) tax rate of 26.375% (including solidarity surcharge (Solidaritätszuschlag)) plus, if applicable, church tax (Kirchensteuer).

With regard to savings income, the savers lump sum amount (Sparer-Pauschbetrag) in the amount of EUR 1,000 (respectively EUR 2,000 in the case of jointly assessed investors) will be deducted; a deduction of the actual income-related expenses is, in general, excluded.

The solidarity surcharge shall only be levied for wage tax and income tax purposes if the individual income tax of the individual investor exceeds the threshold of EUR 20,350 (EUR 40,700 for jointly assessed investors) in the assessment period 2026. The solidarity surcharge shall however continue to be applicable for withholding tax, flat tax and corporate income tax purposes. If in case of flat tax, the income tax burden for an individual investor is lower than the flat tax of 25%, the individual investor can apply for its capital investment income being assessed at its individual progressive rates (see above) in which case solidarity surcharge would be refunded.

Program Securities held as business assets

If Program Securities are held by an investor (individuals and corporate entities) as business assets (Betriebsvermögen), interest payments and capital gains from the disposal of the Program Securities are subject to corporate income tax (in the case of an incorporated investor) at a tax rate of 15% or income tax at an individual progressive tax rate of up to 45%, as the case may be (each plus 5.5% solidarity surcharge thereon). In addition, trade tax may apply, the rate of which depends on the municipality in which the business is located (rates basically vary between 7% and approx. 20%). Please note that a draft law (Neunte Gesetz zur Änderung des Steuerberatungsgesetzes) is currently in the legislative process that is expected to increase the minimum trade tax rate to 9.8%. Further, in the case of individuals, church tax may be levied. Losses realised on the sale or redemption of the Program Securities may be offset in particular against items of positive income under the general tax rules or deducted as part of losses carried back or forward, although the minimum taxation rules (section 10d ITA) must be observed. In the case of a loss, such loss may be subject to ring-fencing rules and, if so, may only be offset against other derivative income. In case the income of the investor is determined based on accrual accounting, interest and capital gains may be taxable before actual payments are received.

German withholding tax (Kapitalertragsteuer)

With regard to savings income (Kapitalerträge), e.g. interest or capital gains, German withholding tax will be levied at a flat withholding tax rate of 26.375% (including solidarity surcharge) if, inter alia, the Program Securities are registered in a foreign registry, have been issued in a global note in terms of section 9a of the German Securities Deposit Act (Depotgesetz) or qualify as partial debentures (Teilschuldverschreibungen) and are held in a custodial account maintained with a German credit or financial services institution (inländisches Kredit oder Finanzdienstleistungsinstitut) or by a German branch of a foreign credit or financial services institution, or by a German securities institution (Wertpapierinstitut) (a "German Disbursing Agent"). If the Program Securities are not held in a custodial account, German withholding tax will nevertheless be levied if the Program Securities are issued in definitive form and the savings earnings are paid by a German Disbursing Agent against presentation of the Program Securities (so-called over-the-counter transaction – Tafelgeschäft).

If the Program Securities are not registered in a foreign registry, have not been issued in a global note in terms of section 9a of the German Securities Deposit Act (Depotgesetz) and do not qualify as partial debentures (Teilschuldverschreibungen) within the meaning above, German withholding tax will be levied, if the Program Securities are issued by Morgan Stanley SE as issuer. In this case, Morgan Stanley SE as German resident credit institution would be obliged to levy a flat withholding tax rate of 26.375% (including solidarity surcharge) on savings income under the relevant Program Securities.

Whether a German Disbursing Agent, if any, or Morgan Stanley SE as issuer would be required to make German withholding tax deductions with respect to savings income under a Program Security would need to be reviewed for each Program Security.

For German resident private individuals who are subject to church tax an electronic information system for church withholding tax purposes applies in relation to income derived from capital investments, with the effect that church tax will be collected by the German Disbursing Agent by way of withholding unless the private investor has filed a blocking notice (Sperrvermerk) with the German Federal Central Tax Office (Bundeszentralamt für Steuern) in which case the private individual will be assessed to church tax and the private individual has to include the savings income in his tax return.

The tax base is, in principle, equal to the taxable gross income as set out above (i.e. prior to withholding). However, in the case of capital gains, the tax deduction is calculated on the basis of the capital gain only if the Program Securities have been kept in a custodial account with such German Disbursing Agent since the time of issuance and acquisition, respectively; if that is not the case, the investor may prove the acquisition costs to the German Disbursing Agent only in a specific form required by law. Otherwise, the tax deduction is calculated on the basis of 30% of the proceeds from the disposal of the Program Securities.

In general, no withholding tax will be levied if an investor holding the Program Securities as private assets has filed a withholding tax exemption certificate (Freistellungsauftrag) with the German Disbursing Agent, but only to the extent the interest income and other taxable savings income do not exceed the savers lump sum amount shown on the filed withholding tax exemption certificate. Similarly, no withholding tax will be deducted if an investor has submitted to the German Disbursing Agent a certificate of non-assessment (Nichtveranlagungs-Bescheinigung) issued by the relevant local tax office.

In the case of individuals holding the Program Securities as private assets, if German withholding tax is levied, such withholding tax will, in general, become definitive and replace the investor's income taxation (flat withholding tax - Abgeltungsteuer); in such a case, the filing of a tax return for savings income is not required. If no or not sufficient tax is withheld, then the investor is obliged to file a tax return and the savings income will then be taxed within the assessment procedure. However, the special tax rate for savings income applies, in principle, also in the assessment procedure. Further, an investor may alternatively request that all savings income of a given year is taxed at his/her individual income tax rate (if lower than the withholding tax rate) based on an assessment to tax with any amount overwithheld being refunded. Such application can only be filed consistently for all savings income within the assessment period. In case of jointly assessed individual investors the application can only be filed for savings income of both investors.

If the Program Securities form part of a trade or business, the withholding tax will not settle the income tax liability.

Investors holding the Program Securities as business assets can in principle not file a withholding tax exemption certificate with the German Disbursing Agent. Instead, no withholding tax will be levied on capital gains from the redemption, sale or assignment of the Program Securities if, for example, (i) the Program Securities are held by a company satisfying the requirements of section 43 para 2 sentence 3 no 1 ITA or (ii) the proceeds from the Program Securities qualify as income of a domestic business and the investor notifies this to the German Disbursing Agent by use of the officially required form. The investor is obliged to report income and related expenses in the (annual) tax return, and the balance will be taxed at the investor's applicable tax rate. Withholding tax levied, if any, will be credited against the personal or corporate income tax of the investor. If the tax withheld exceeds the respective (corporate) income tax amount, the difference will be refunded within the tax assessment procedure.

Non-residents

In general, an investor holding the Program Securities that is not tax resident in Germany is subject to German taxation on payments of consideration or taxation on gains from the disposition of Program Securities and potentially withholding tax only under certain circumstances, e.g. (i) if the Program Securities are held as business assets of a permanent establishment, including a permanent representative, maintained in Germany by the investor or (ii) the income from the Program Securities qualifies for other reasons as taxable German-source income (such as income from the letting and leasing of certain property located in Germany) or (iii) the savings earnings are paid by a German Disbursing Agent against presentation of the Program Securities (so-called over-the-counter transaction, Tafelgeschäfte). In such a case, a tax regime similar to that explained above for German tax residents will apply. If the Program Securities are not registered in a foreign registry, have not been issued in a global note in terms of section 9a of the German Securities Deposit Act (Depotgesetz) and do not qualify as partial debentures (Teilschuldverschreibungen) and the Program Securities are issued by Morgan Stanley SE as issuer, Morgan Stanley SE should be entitled to refrain from making a withholding tax deduction (see under German withholding tax above with respect to the principal obligation of Morgan Stanley SE to levy withholding tax in relation to Program Securities issued by it, which are not registered in a foreign registry, have not been issued in a global note in terms of section 9a of the German Securities Deposit Act (Depotgesetz) and do not qualify as partial debentures (Teilschuldverschreibungen) in accordance with the view of the German tax authorities, if the Program Securities are held by a Noteholder or Securityholder, respectively that is not tax resident in Germany (and not tax resident in a non-cooperative country or territory within the meaning of the German Act Combating Tax Avoidance and Unfair Tax Competition (Gesetz zur Abwehr von Steuervermeidung und unfäi rem Steuerwettbewerb)), which has been properly verified to Morgan Stanley SE, and the savings income under the relevant Program Security is not otherwise subject to German non-resident taxation. Whether savings income under a Program Security constitutes German source income, which is subject to German non-resident taxation, needs to be reviewed for each Program Security individually.

Substitution of the Issuer

If the Issuer exercises the right to substitute the debtor of the Program Securities, the substitution might, for German tax purposes, be treated as an exchange of the Program Securities for new program securities issued by the new issuer and subject to similar taxation rules like the Program Securities. In particular, such a substitution could result in the recognition of a taxable gain or loss for any investor of a Program Security.

Inheritance and Gift Tax

No inheritance or gift taxes with respect to the Program Securities will arise under the laws of Germany if, in the case of inheritance tax, neither the decedent nor the beneficiary or, in the case of gift tax, neither the donor nor the donee is a resident of Germany and the Program Securities are not attributable to a German trade or business for which a permanent establishment is maintained, or a permanent representative has been appointed, in Germany. Exceptions from this rule apply to certain German expatriates.

The few existing double taxation treaties regarding inheritance and gift tax may lead to different results. Special rules apply to certain German citizens that are residing in a foreign country and German expatriates.

Other Taxes

No stamp, issue, registration or similar taxes or duties will be payable in Germany in connection with the issuance, delivery or execution of the Program Securities. Currently, net assets tax (Vermögensteuer) is not levied in Germany. In principle, it is intended to introduce a financial transaction tax. However, it is unclear if and in what form such tax will be actually introduced.

No gross-up for German withholding tax (Kapitalertragsteuer)

Purchasers of the Program Securities should note that in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Program Securities, unless specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, the Issuer, in principle, will neither assume any liability for German withholding taxes (Kapitalertragsteuer) withheld from payments under the Program Securities (unless, with respect to Morgan Stanley SE as Issuer, it is required by law to make withholding tax deductions from the payment of savings income under the Program Securities in accordance with the considerations above), nor make any additional payments in regard of these taxes, i.e. no gross-up will apply in case a withholding tax is imposed.

ITALIAN TAXATION

The following is a summary of certain limited Italian tax consequences of the purchase, the ownership and the disposal of the Program Securities. The statements herein are based on the laws in force in Italy as at the date of this Offering Circular and are subject to any changes in law occurring after such date, which changes could be made on a retroactive basis. The Issuers will not update this summary to reflect changes in law and/or practice. If any such change should occur, the information in this summary could become obsolete.

The following summary does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all the Italian tax considerations which may be relevant to a decision to subscribe for, purchase, own or dispose of the Program Securities and does not purport to deal with the Italian tax consequences applicable to all categories of investors, some of which may be subject to special rules. The following general description assumes that the Issuer is not a tax resident nor deemed to be a tax resident of Italy and that it has no permanent establishment within the Italian territory to which the Program Securities are effectively connected.

Prospective investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors concerning the overall tax consequences of their interest in the Program Securities. Moreover, this summary does not analyse the tax treatment of Program Securities redeemable by physical settlement nor of Program Securities that have cryptocurrencies as their underlying asset or that are denominated in cryptocurrencies.

In any case, Italian legal or tax concepts may not be identical to the concepts described by the same English term as they exist under terms of different jurisdictions and any legal or tax concept expressed by using the relevant Italian term shall prevail over the corresponding concept expressed in English terms.

Law No. 111 of 9 August 2023, published in the Official Gazette No. 189 of 14 August 2023 ("Law 111"), delegates power to the Italian Government to enact, within thirty-six months from its publication, one or more legislative decrees implementing the reform of the Italian tax system (the "Tax Reform"). According to Law 111, the Tax Reform will significantly change the taxation of financial incomes and capital gains and introduce various amendments in the Italian tax system at different levels. The precise nature, extent, and impact of these amendments cannot be quantified or foreseen with certainty at this stage.

Tax treatment of the Program Securities

The Program Securities may be subject to different tax regimes depending on whether:

- (a) they represent derivative financial instruments or bundles of derivative financial instruments, not entailing a "use of capital" (impiego di capitale), through which the Noteholders and/or the Securityholders purchase indirectly the economics of underlying financial instruments or indexes (please see section 1 below); or
- (b) they represent a debt instrument implying a "use of capital" (impiego di capitale), through which the Noteholders and/or the Securityholders transfer to the Issuer a certain amount of capital, for the economic exploitation of the same, subject to the right to obtain a (partial or entire) reimbursement of such amount at maturity. In particular, Program Securities representing debt instruments implying a "use of capital" could be divided in: Program Securities without capital at risk (please see section 2 below) and Program Securities with capital at risk, so called "atypical securities" (please see section 2.2 below).

1. Program Securities representing derivative financial instruments or bundles of derivative financial instruments

With regard to certain innovative or structured financial instruments, there is currently limited guidance as to the tax treatment of such financial instruments. Accordingly, it cannot be excluded that the Italian tax authorities will change their current view, as specified below, or courts will adopt a view different from that outlined below.

1.1 Italian resident Noteholders and/or Securityholders

Taxation of income from derivatives

Should the Program Securities qualify as derivative instruments for the purposes of Italian tax law, the following consequences should apply to an Italian resident Noteholder and/or Securityholder, other than acting in the course of an entrepreneurial activity, pursuant to Article 67(1) (c-quater) and or

(c-quinquies) of Italian Presidential Decree No. 917 of 22 December 1986, as subsequently amended ("Decree No. 917") and according to, inter alia, the Italian tax authorities' Resolution no. 72/E of 12 July 2010.

Where the Italian resident Noteholder and/or Securityholder is (i) an individual not engaged in an entrepreneurial activity to which the Program Securities are effectively connected, (ii) a non-commercial partnership; (iii) a non-commercial private or public institution; or (iv) an investor exempt from Italian corporate income taxation, income realised on any sale or transfer for consideration or exercise or redemption of the Program Securities is subject to a 26 per cent. substitute tax ("imposta sostitutiva"). In this respect, the above Italian resident recipients may opt for one of the following three taxation regimes: (regime della dichiarazione, regime del risparmio amministrato, regime del risparmio gestito, in this respect please see section 2.1.2 below). This option may result in certain impacts that the investors should consider with their tax advisers. In particular, provided that the relevant conditions are met, the depository is responsible for accounting for imposta sostitutiva and is required to pay the relevant amount to the Italian tax authorities on behalf of the taxpayer, deducting a corresponding amount from the proceeds to be credited to the Noteholder and/or Securityholder or using funds provided by the Noteholder and/or Securityholder for this purpose. Subject to certain limitations and requirements (including a minimum holding period), Italian resident individuals holding the Program Securities not in connection with an entrepreneurial activity may be exempt from any income taxation, including the imposta sostitutiva on capital gains relating to the Program Securities if the Program Securities are included in a long-term savings account (piano di risparmio a lungo termine) that meets the requirements set forth by Italian law as amended and supplemented from time to time.

The imposta sostitutiva does not apply also to the following Italian resident taxpayers:

(A) Corporate Investors

Any capital gain obtained from the sale or redemption of the Program Securities will not be subject to imposta sostitutiva, but would be treated as part of the taxable income subject to the general Italian corporate tax regime (corporate income tax, "IRES", is currently applicable at 24 per cent. with a 3.5 per cent. surcharge for banks and financial intermediaries) and, in certain circumstances, depending on the tax "status" of the Noteholder and/or Securityholder, also as part of the net value of production for purposes of regional tax on productive activities ("IRAP").

(B) Real estate investment funds and real estate SICAFs

Any capital gains realized by a Noteholder and/or Securityholder which is an Italian resident real estate investment fund established pursuant to Article 37 of Legislative Decree No. 58 of 24 February 1998, as amended and supplemented and to Article 14-bis of Law No. 86 of 25 January 1994 ("Real Estate Fund") or an Italian real estate closed-ended investment company ("Real Estate SICAF"), to which the provisions of Law Decree No. 351 of 25 September, 2001, Law Decree No. 78 of 31 May 2010, converted into Law No. 122 of 30 July 2010 and Legislative Decree No. 44 of 4 March 2014, all as amended and supplemented, apply are subject neither to imposta sostitutiva nor to any other income tax in the hands of the Real Estate Fund or the Real Estate SICAF. The income of the Real Estate Fund or of the Real Estate SICAF may be subject to tax, in the hands of the unitholder/shareholder, depending on the status and percentage of participation.

(C) Investment funds

Any capital gains realised by a Noteholder and/or a Securityholder which is an Italian resident open-ended or closed-ended collective investment fund (subject to the tax regime provided by Law No. 77 of 23 March 1983) ("Investment Fund"), or an Italian open-ended investment company (società di investimento a capitale variabile – "SICAV") or an Italian closed-ended investment company, other than a real estate investment company (società di investimento a capitale fisso "SICAF") will neither be subject to imposta sostitutiva nor to any income tax in the hands of the Investment Fund or of the SICAV and SICAF. The proceeds distributed by the Investment Fund or the SICAV/SICAF or received by certain categories of unitholders upon redemption or disposal of the units will be taxed in the hands of the investors who subscribe the quotas of the Investment Fund or the shares of the SICAV/SICAF on a cash basis.

(D) Pension funds

Any capital gains realised by a Noteholder and/or Securityholder which is an Italian pension fund (subject to the regime provided for by Article 17 of the Legislative Decree No. 252 of 5 December 2005, as subsequently amended and supplemented, "Decree No. 252") will be included in the result of the relevant portfolio accrued at the end of the tax period, to be subject to a 20 per cent. annual substitute tax (the "Pension Fund Tax"). Subject to certain limitations and requirements (including a minimum holding period), capital gains may be excluded from the taxable base of the 20 per cent. ad hoc Pension Fund Tax, if the Program Securities are included in a long-term savings account (piano di risparmio a lungo termine) that meets the requirements set forth by Italian law as amended and supplemented from time to time.

1.2 Non-Italian resident Noteholders or Securityholders

Capital gains realised by non-Italian resident Noteholders and/or Securityholders without a permanent establishment in Italy to which the Program Securities are effectively connected from the sale or redemption of the Program Securities are not subject to Italian taxation, provided that the Program Securities (i) are transferred on regulated markets, or (ii) if not transferred on regulated markets, are held outside Italy. In such a case, in order to benefit from this exemption from Italian taxation on capital gains, non-Italian resident Noteholders and/or Securityholders who hold the Program Securities with an Italian authorized financial intermediary (or permanent establishments in Italy of foreign intermediaries) and elect to be subject to the Asset Management Regime or are subject to the Administrative Savings Regime, as below defined, may be required to file in due time to the Italian authorized financial intermediary an appropriate statement (autocertificazione) that they are not resident in Italy for tax purposes.

Moreover, even if the Program Securities are held in Italy, no Italian imposta sostitutiva applies if the non-Italian resident investor is resident for tax purposes in a state or territory which allows an adequate exchange of information with the Italian tax authorities and listed in the Italian Ministerial Decree dated 4 September, 1996 as amended and supplemented from time to time (the "White List"). According to Article 11, par. 4, let. c) of Legislative Decree No. 239 of 1 April 1996 ("Decree No. 239") the White List should be updated every six months period.

Please note that, from January 1, 2027, the provisions included in the Decree No. 239 (Articles 1-9 and 11) will be incorporated, with no changes with respect to what is relevant in this context, into the consolidated law on payments and collection, referred to in the Italian Legislative Decree No. 33 of 24 March 2025 (Articles 62-71).

The same exemption applies where the beneficial owners of the Program Securities are (i) international entities or organizations established in accordance with international agreements ratified by Italy; (ii) certain foreign institutional investors established in countries included in the White List, even if they do not have the status of taxpayers in their own country of residence; or (iii) Central Banks or entities which manage, inter alia, the official reserves of a foreign State. Under these circumstances, if non-Italian residents without a permanent establishment in Italy to which the Program Securities are effectively connected elect for the Asset Management Regime or are subject to the Administrative Savings Regime, as below defined, exemption from Italian capital gains tax will apply upon condition that they provide in time with the authorised financial intermediary an appropriate self-declaration (autocertificazione) stating that they meet the requirement indicated above. Additional statements may be required for non-Italian resident Securityholders who are institutional investors.

Non-Italian resident individuals or entities without a permanent establishment in Italy to which the Program Securities are connected that may benefit from a double taxation treaty with the Republic of Italy providing that capital gains realised upon the sale or redemption of Program Securities are to be taxed only in the country of tax residence of the seller/beneficial owner of the income, will not be subject to the substitute tax in the Republic of Italy on any capital gains realised upon the sale or redemption of Program Securities. In such a case, in order to benefit from this treaty exemption from Italian taxation on capital gains, non-Italian resident Noteholders and/or Securityholders who hold the Program Securities with an Italian authorised financial intermediary and elect to be subject to the Asset Management Regime or are subject to the Administrative Savings Regime, as below defined, may be required to produce in due time to the Italian authorised financial intermediary appropriate documents which include, inter alia, a statement from the competent tax authorities of the country of residence.

Please note that for a non-Italian resident, the Administrative Savings Regime (as below defined) shall automatically apply, unless this regime is expressly waived, where the Program Securities are deposited in custody or administration with an Italian resident authorised financial intermediary or permanent establishment in the Republic of Italy of a foreign intermediary.

2. Program Securities representing debt instruments implying a "use of capital" without capital at risk

2.1 Italian resident Noteholders and Securityholders

2.1.1 Taxation of interest

Decree No. 239 governs the tax treatment of interest, premiums and other income (including the difference between the redemption amount and the issue price) (hereinafter collectively referred to as "Interest") from Program Securities issued, inter alia, by non-Italian resident entities. The provisions of Decree No. 239 only apply to those Program Securities which qualify as obbligazioni or titoli similari alle obbligazioni pursuant to Article 44, paragraph 2, letter c) of Decree No. 917. In accordance with Article 44, paragraph 2, letter c) of Decree No. 917, for securities to qualify as obbligazioni (bonds) or titoli similari alle obbligazioni (securities similar to bonds), they must (i) incorporate an unconditional obligation to pay at maturity an amount not less than that indicated therein, and (ii) attribute to the holders no direct or indirect right to control or participate to the management of the relevant Issuer or of the business in relation to which they are issued.

Where the Italian resident Noteholder and/or Securityholder is (i) an individual not engaged in an entrepreneurial activity to which the Program Securities are effectively connected; (ii) a non-commercial partnership; (iii) a non-commercial private or public institution; or (iv) an investor exempt from Italian corporate income taxation, Interest payments relating to the Program Securities are subject to a substitute tax, (referred to as imposta sostitutiva) levied at the rate of 26 per cent. (either when Interest is paid or when payment thereof is obtained by the holder on a sale of the Program Securities). Such investors are qualified as "net recipients" (unless they have entrusted the management of their financial assets, including the Program Securities, to an authorised intermediary and have opted for the Asset Management Regime, as defined below).

Where the resident holders of the Program Securities described above under (i) and (iii) above are engaged in an entrepreneurial activity to which the Program Securities are effectively connected, the imposta sostitutiva applies as a provisional income tax. Interest will be included in the relevant beneficial owner's Italian income tax return and will be subject to Italian ordinary income taxation and the imposta sostitutiva may be recovered as a deduction from Italian income tax due.

Subject to certain conditions, Interest in respect of Program Securities that qualify as obbligazioni or titoli similari alle obbligazioni, received by Italian resident individuals holding the aforesaid Program Securities not in connection with an entrepreneurial activity may be exempt from taxation, including the 26 per cent. imposta sostitutiva, if such Program Securities are included in a long-term savings account (piano individuale di risparmio a lungo termine) that meets the requirements set forth by Italian law as amended and supplemented from time to time.

Pursuant to Decree No. 239, the 26 per cent. imposta sostitutiva is applied by banks, SIMs, fiduciary companies, società di gestione del risparmio ("SGRs") stock brokers and other qualified entities identified by a decree of the Ministry of Finance ("Intermediaries" and each an "Intermediary") resident in Italy, or by permanent establishments in Italy of a non-Italian resident Intermediary, or an entity or a company not resident in Italy, acting through a system of centralised administration of securities and directly connected with the Italian tax authorities having appointed an Italian representative for the purposes of Decree No. 239, that intervene, in any way, in the collection of Interest or, also as transferees, in transfers or disposals of the Program Securities. For the purpose of the application of the imposta sostitutiva, a transfer of securities includes any assignment or other act, either with or without consideration, which results in a change of the ownership of the relevant securities or in a change of the Intermediary with which the securities are deposited.

Where the Program Securities are not deposited with an authorised Italian Intermediary (or with a permanent establishment in Italy of a foreign Intermediary), the imposta sostitutiva is applied and withheld by any Italian Intermediary paying Interest to the Noteholder and/or Securityholder.

Italian resident individuals, non-commercial partnerships or entities holding Program Securities not in connection with entrepreneurial activity who have opted for the Asset Management Regime (as defined below) are subject to the 26 per cent. annual imposta sostitutiva on the increase in value of the managed assets accrued at the end of each tax year (which increase would include Interest accrued on the Program Securities). The 26 per cent. annual imposta sostitutiva is applied on behalf of the taxpayer by the managing authorised Intermediary.

The imposta sostitutiva does not apply also to the following Italian resident persons, to the extent that the Program Securities are deposited in a timely manner, directly or indirectly, with an Intermediary:

(A) Corporate Investors

Interest on the Program Securities received by (i) an Italian resident company or similar commercial entity; or (ii) an Italian permanent establishment of foreign entities to which the Program Securities are effectively connected; will not be subject to the imposta sostitutiva, but will be included in the taxable base for the purposes of IRES and – under certain circumstances – of IRAP, as described in section 1 above.

(B) Real estate investment funds and real estate SICAFs

Where a Noteholder and/ or Securityholder is an Italian resident Real Estate Fund or an Italian Real Estate SICAF, to which the provisions of Law Decree No. 351 of 25 September, 2001, Law Decree No. 78 of 31 May 2010, converted into Law No. 122 of 30 July 2010, and Legislative Decree No. 44 of 4 March 2014, all as amended, apply, Interest accrued on the Program Securities are subject neither to the imposta sostitutiva nor to any other income tax in the hands of the Real Estate Fund or Real Estate SICAF provided that the Program Securities are timely deposited with an Intermediary. The income of the Italian Real Estate Fund or Real Estate SICAF may be subject to tax in the hands of the unitholder/shareholder, depending on status and percentage of participation.

(C) Investment funds

If a Noteholder and/or Securityholder is resident in Italy and is an Investment Fund, a SICAV and a SICAF Interest, accrued on the Program Securities during the holding period and either (i) the Investment Fund, the SICAV and the SICAF or (ii) its manager is subject to the supervision of a regulatory authority and the Program Securities are deposited with an Intermediary, will not be subject to the imposta sostitutiva nor to any other income tax of the Investment Fund, the SICAV or the SICAF. The proceeds distributed by the Investment Fund or the SICAV/SICAF or received by certain categories of unitholders upon redemption or disposal of the units will be taxed in the hands of the investors who subscribe the quotas of the Investment Fund or the shares of the SICAV/SICAF on a cash basis.

(D) Pension funds

Where an Italian resident Noteholder and/or Securityholder which is an Italian pension fund (subject to the regime provided for by Article 17 of Decree No. 252) and the Program Securities are deposited with an Intermediary, Interest relating to the Program Securities and accrued during the holding period will not be subject to the imposta sostitutiva, but must be included in the result of the relevant portfolio accrued at the end of the tax period, to be subject to the 20 per cent. ad hoc Pension Fund Tax. Subject to certain limitations and requirements (including a minimum holding period), Interest in respect to the Program Securities may be excluded from the taxable base of the 20 per cent. ad hoc Pension Fund Tax, if Program Securities that qualify as obbligazioni or titoli similari alle obbligazioni are included in a long-term savings account (piano individuale di risparmio a lungo termine) that meets the requirements set forth by Italian law as amended and supplemented from time to time.

2.1.2 Taxation of Capital Gains

A 26 per cent., imposta sostitutiva is applicable on capital gains realised on the disposal of Program Securities by Noteholders and/or Securityholder included among the following categories of Italian residents: (i) individuals not engaged in an entrepreneurial activity to which the Program Securities are effectively connected; (ii) non-commercial partnerships; (iii) non-commercial private or public institutions; and (iv) investors exempt from Italian corporate income taxation.

In respect of the application of the imposta sostitutiva, such taxpayers may opt for one of the three regimes described below.

- (a) Under the "regime della dichiarazione" provided for by Article 5 of Decree No. 461 of 21 November 1997 ("Decree No. 461") (the "Tax Declaration Regime"), which is the standard regime for Italian resident individuals not engaged in an entrepreneurial activity to which the Program Securities are effectively connected, the 26 per cent. imposta sostitutiva will be chargeable, on a cumulative basis, on all capital gains, net of any incurred capital loss, realised by the Italian resident individual holding the Program Securities not in connection with an entrepreneurial activity pursuant to all disposals of the Program Securities carried out during any given tax year. Italian resident individuals holding the Program Securities not in connection with an entrepreneurial activity must indicate the overall capital gains realised in any tax year, net of any relevant incurred capital loss in the annual tax return and the imposta sostitutiva must be paid on such gains together with any balance income tax due for such year. Capital losses in excess of capital gains may be carried forward against capital gains realised in any of the four succeeding tax years;
- (b) as an alternative to the tax declaration regime, Noteholders and/or Securityholders as listed above may elect to pay under the "risparmio amministrato" regime provided for by Art. 6 of Decree No. 461 (the "Administrative Savings Regime") the imposta sostitutiva separately on capital gains realised on each sale or redemption of the Program Securities. Such separate taxation of capital gains is allowed subject to (i) the Program Securities being deposited with Italian banks, "società di intermediazione mobiliare" ("SIMs") or certain authorised financial intermediaries and (ii) an express election for the Administrative Savings Regime being timely made in writing by the relevant Noteholder and/or Securityholder. The depository is responsible for accounting for imposta sostitutiva in respect of capital gains realised on each sale or redemption of the Program Securities (as well as in respect of capital gains realised upon the revocation of its mandate), net of any incurred capital loss, and is required to pay the relevant amount to the Italian tax authorities on behalf of the taxpayer, deducting a corresponding amount from the proceeds to be credited to the Noteholder and/or Securityholder or using funds provided by the Noteholder and/or Securityholder for this purpose. Under the Administrative Savings Regime, where a sale or redemption of the Program Securities results in a capital loss, such loss may be deducted from capital gains subsequently realised, within the same securities management, in the same tax year or in the following tax years up to the fourth. Under the risparmio amministrato regime, the Noteholder and/or Securityholder is not required to declare the capital gains in the annual tax return;
- (c) any payments received and any capital gains accrued by the Noteholder and/or Securityholder as listed above who have entrusted the management of their financial assets, including the Program Securities, to an authorised intermediary and have opted for the so-called "risparmio gestito" regime provided for by Art. 7 of Decree No. 461 (the "Asset Management Regime") will be included in the computation of the annual increase in value of the managed assets accrued, even if not realised, at year end, subject to a 26 per cent. substitute tax, to be paid by the managing authorised intermediary. Under the Asset Management Regime, any depreciation of the managed assets accrued at year end may be carried forward against increase in value of the managed assets accrued in any of the four succeeding tax years. Under the Asset Management Regime, the Noteholder and/or Securityholder is not required to declare the capital gains realised in the annual tax return.

Subject to certain limitations and requirements (including a minimum holding period), Italian resident individuals holding the Program Securities not in connection with an entrepreneurial activity may be exempt from Italian capital gain taxes, including the 26 per cent. imposta sostitutiva, on capital gains realised upon sale or redemption of the Program Securities if the Program Securities are included in a long-term savings account (piano di risparmio a lungo termine) that meets the requirements set forth by Italian law as amended and supplemented from time to time.

The imposta sostitutiva does not apply also to the following Italian-resident taxpayers:

(A) Corporate Investors

Any capital gains obtained from the sale or redemption of the Program Securities will not be subject to imposta sostitutiva but would be treated as part of the IRES taxable income (and, in certain circumstances, depending on the status of the Noteholder and/or Securityholder, also as part of the net value of the production for IRAP purposes) if realised by (i) an Italian company or a similar commercial entity; or (ii) an Italian permanent establishment of foreign entities to which the Program Securities are connected.

(B) Real estate investment funds and real estate SICAFs

Any capital gains realized by a Noteholder and/or Securityholder which is an Italian Real Estate Fund or an Italian Real Estate SICAF to which the provisions of Law Decree No. 351 of 25 September 2001, Law Decree No. 78 of 31 May 2010, converted into Law No. 122 of 30 July 2010, and Legislative Decree No. 44 of 4 March 2014, all as amended, apply are subject neither to imposta sostitutiva nor to any other income tax in the hands of the Real Estate Fund or the Real Estate SICAF. The income of the Italian Real Estate Fund or Real Estate SICAF may be subject to tax in the hands of the unitholder, depending on status and percentage of participation.

(C) Investment funds

Any capital gains realised by a Noteholder and/or Securityholder which is an Italian Investment Fund, a SICAV or a SICAF will neither be subject to imposta sostitutiva nor to any income tax in the hands of the Investment Fund or of the SICAV and SICAF. The proceeds distributed by the Investment Fund or the SICAV/SICAF or received by certain categories of unitholders upon redemption or disposal of the units will be taxed in the hands of the investors who subscribe the quotas of the Investment Funds or the shares of the SICAV/SICAF on a cash basis.

(D) Pension funds

Any capital gains realised by a Noteholder and/or Securityholder which is an Italian pension fund (subject to the regime provided for by Article 17 of Decree No. 252) will be included in the result of the relevant portfolio accrued at the end of the tax period, to be subject to the 20 per cent. Pension Fund Tax.

Subject to certain conditions (including minimum holding period requirement) and limitations, capital gains realised through the transfer for consideration or redemption of the Program Securities may be excluded from the taxable base of the Pension Funds, if the Program Securities are included in a long-term individual savings plan (piano individuale di risparmio a lungo termine) that meets the requirements set forth by Italian law as amended and supplemented from time to time.

Non-Italian resident Noteholders and Securityholders

No Italian imposta sostitutiva is applied on payments to a non-Italian resident Noteholder and/or Securityholder of Interest relating to the Program Securities provided that, if the Program Securities are held in Italy, the non-Italian resident Noteholder and/or Securityholder declares itself to be a non-Italian resident according to Italian tax regulations.

The capital gains regime is similar to that described above section 1.2 "Program Securities representing derivative financial instruments or bundles of derivative financial instruments – Non-Italian resident Noteholders or Securityholders" above.

2.2 Fungible issues

Pursuant to Article 11(2) of Decree No. 239, where the Issuer issues a new tranche of Notes or Securities forming part of a single series with a previous tranche of Notes or Securities falling within the category of bonds or bond-like securities, for the purposes of calculating the amount of interest subject to imposta sostitutiva (if any), the issue price of the new tranche of Notes or Securities will be deemed to be the same as the issue price of the original tranche of Notes or Securities. This rule applies where (a) the new tranche of Notes or Securities is issued within 12 months from the issue date of the previous tranche of Notes or Securities and (b) the difference between the issue price of the new tranche of Notes or Securities and that of the original tranche of Notes or Securities does not exceed 1 per cent. of the nominal value of the Notes or Securities multiplied by the number of years of the duration of the Notes or Securities. There is no authority guidance directly regarding the applicability of such regime also to securities issued by non-Italian resident Issuer. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the Italian tax authorities may assert such tax treatment on the new tranche of Securities.

3. Program Securities with capital at risk qualifying as atypical securities

3.1 Italian resident Noteholders and/or Securityholders

3.1.1 Taxation of Interest

In the case Program of Securities representing debt instruments implying a "use of capital" do not guarantee the total reimbursement of the principal amount, under Italian tax law they should qualify as "atypical securities" pursuant to Law Decree No. 512 of 30 September 1983, as amended from time to time, and payments in respect of such Program Securities received by Italian resident individual Noteholders and/or Securityholders would be subject to the following regime:

- (a) if the Program Securities are placed (collocati) in Italy, payments made to individual investors holding the Program Securities not in connection with an entrepreneurial activity will be subject to a 26 per cent. final withholding tax. This withholding tax is levied by the entrusted Italian resident bank or financial intermediary, if any, that is involved in the collection of payments on the Program Securities, in the repurchase or in the transfer of the Program Securities;
- (b) if the Program Securities are not placed (collocati) in Italy or in any case where payments on the Program Securities are not received through an entrusted Italian resident bank or financial intermediary (that is involved in the collection of payments on the Program Securities, in the repurchase or in the transfer thereof) and no withholding tax is levied, the individual beneficial owners will be required to declare the payments in their income tax return and subject them to a final substitute tax at a rate of 26 per cent. The Italian individual Noteholder and/or Securityholder may elect instead to pay ordinary IRPEF at the progressive rates applicable to them in respect of the payments.

The 26 per cent. withholding tax does not apply to payments made to an Italian resident Noteholder and/or Securityholder which is: (i) an Italian resident or a similar Italian resident commercial entity; and (ii) the Italian permanent establishment of foreign entities to which the Program Securities are effectively connected. In particular, in such cases, payments must be included in the relevant Noteholder's and/or Securityholder's annual income tax return to be therefore subject to IRES and, in certain circumstances, depending on the status of the Noteholder, also to IRAP.

Subject to certain limitations and requirements (including a minimum holding period), Italian resident individuals not acting in connection with an entrepreneurial activity may be exempt from any income taxation, including the withholding tax on Interest relating to the Program Securities not falling within the category of bonds (obbligazioni) or securities similar to bonds (titoli similari alle obbligazioni) and qualify as titoli atipici ("atypical securities") pursuant to Article 5 of Law Decree No. 512 of 30 September 1983, if Program Securities are included in a long-term individual savings account (piano individuale di risparmio a lungo termine) that meets the requirements set forth by Italian law as amended and supplemented from time to time.

3.1.2 Capital gains tax

Italian resident Noteholders or Securityholders

The relevant capital gains regime applies under similar rules to those described above under section 2.1.2 "Program Securities representing debt instruments implying a "use of capital" without capital at risk - Italian resident Noteholders and Securityholders" above.

Non-Italian resident Noteholders or Securityholders

No withholding tax is applied on payments to a non-Italian resident Noteholder and/or Securityholder of Interest relating to the Program Securities provided that, if the Program Securities are placed (collocati) in Italy, the non-Italian resident Noteholder and/or Securityholder declares itself to be a non-Italian resident according to Italian tax regulations.

The capital gains regime is similar to that described above under section 1.2 "Program Securities representing derivative financial instruments or bundles of derivative financial instruments – Non-Italian resident Noteholders or Securityholders" above.

4. Inheritance and gift tax

Pursuant to Law Decree No. 262 of 3 October 2006, converted into Law No. 286 of 24 November 2006, as subsequently amended (and, starting from 1 January 2027, Legislative Decree No. 123 of 1 August 2025), transfers of any valuable assets (including the Program Securities) as a result of death or inter vivos gift (or other transfers for no consideration) and the creation of liens on such assets for a specific purpose (vincoli di destinazione) are taxed as follows:

- (a) four per cent. if the transfer is made to spouses and direct descendants or ancestors; in this case, the transfer is subject to tax on that part of the value that exceeds EUR 1,000,000 (per beneficiary);
- (b) six per cent. if the transfer is made to brothers and sisters; in this case, the transfer is subject to the tax on that part of the value that exceeds EUR 100,000 (per beneficiary);
- (c) six per cent. if the transfer is made to relatives up to the fourth degree (parenti fino al quarto grado), to persons related by direct affinity as well as to persons related by collateral affinity up to the third degree (affini in linea retta nonché affini in linea collaterale fino al terzo grado); and
- (d) eight per cent, on the entire value of the inheritance or the gift.

If the transfer is made in favour of persons with severe disabilities, pursuant to Law No. 104 of 5 February 1992, the tax applies at the rate mentioned above in (i), (ii) and (iii) on that part of the value that exceeds EUR 1,500,000.

The mortis causa transfer of financial instruments (including the Program Securities) included in a long-term savings account (piano individuale di risparmio a lungo termine) that meets the requirements set forth by Italian law as amended and supplemented from time to time are exempt from inheritance and gift taxes.

5. Stamp Duty

Pursuant to Article 13 paragraph 2-bis and 2-ter of the first part of the tariff attached to Presidential Decree No. 642 of 26 October 1972, as amended and supplemented (starting from 1 January 2027, Annex III of Legislative Decree No. 123 of 1 August 2025), a proportional stamp duty applies on an annual basis to the periodic reporting communications sent by financial intermediaries to their clients and relating to securities and financial instruments. The stamp duty applies at a rate of 0.20 per cent.; this stamp duty is determined on the basis of the market value or – if no market value is available – the nominal value or redemption amount of the securities held. The stamp duty cannot exceed the amount of Euro 14,000 if the recipient of the periodic reporting communications is an entity (i.e., not an individual).

The statement is considered to be sent at least once a year, even for instruments for which is not mandatory nor the deposit nor the release or the drafting of the statement. In case of reporting periods of less than 12 months, the stamp duty is payable pro-rata.

Based on the wording of the law and the implementing decree issued by the Italian Ministry of Economy on 24 May 2012, the stamp duty applies to any investor who is a client (as defined in the regulations issued by the Bank of Italy on 20 June 2012, as amended and supplemented from time to time) of an entity that exercises in any form a banking, financial or insurance activity within the Italian territory.

The stamp duty applies both to Italian resident and non-Italian resident investors, to the extent that the Program Securities are held with an Italian-based financial intermediary (and not directly held by the investor outside Italy), in which case Italian wealth tax (see below under "Wealth tax on securities deposited abroad") applies to Italian resident Noteholders only.

6. Wealth Tax on securities deposited abroad (IVAFE)

Pursuant to Law Decree No. 201 of 6 December 2011, converted into Law No. 214 of 22 December 2011 as subsequently amended and supplemented, Italian resident individuals, non-profit entities and certain partnerships including società semplici or similar partnerships in accordance with Article 5 of Decree No. 917 holding the Program Securities abroad, without the involvement of an Italian-based financial intermediary, are required to pay in its own annual tax returns a wealth tax ("IVAFE") at a rate of 0.20 per cent. For each year (0.40 per cent., as of 2024, in case of financial assets held in States or territories with privileged tax regime identified by the Ministerial Decree of the Ministry of Economy and Finance of 4 May 1999). The maximum amount due is set at Euro 14,000 for Noteholders/Securityholders other than individuals.

This tax is calculated on an annual basis on the market value of the securities at the end of the relevant year or – if no market value is available – the nominal value or the redemption value of such financial assets held abroad. Taxpayers are entitled to an Italian tax credit equivalent to the amount of any wealth tax paid in the State where the financial assets are held (up to an amount equal to the IVAFE due). The financial assets held abroad are excluded from the scope of the wealth tax, if such financial assets are administered by Italian financial intermediaries pursuant to an administration agreement.

7. Italian Financial Transaction Tax (FTT) depending on the features of the Program Securities

Pursuant to Law No. 228 of 24 December 2012, an Italian financial transaction tax ("FTT") applies to (a) transfer of shares and other participating securities issued by Italian resident companies or of financial instruments representing the mentioned shares and/or participating securities (irrespective of whether issued by Italian resident issuers or not) (the "Relevant Securities"), (b) transactions on financial derivatives (i) the main underlying assets of which are the Relevant Securities, or (ii) whose value depends mainly on one or more Relevant Securities, as well as to (c) any transaction on certain securities (i) which allow to mainly purchase or sell one or more Relevant Securities or (ii) implying a cash payment determined with main reference to one or more Relevant Securities.

Certain Program Securities could be included in the scope of application of the FTT if they meet the requirements set out above. On the other hand, Program Securities falling within the category of bonds (obbligazioni) or debentures similar to bonds (titoli similari alle obbligazioni) are not included in the scope of the FTT.

The FTT on derivative instruments is levied at a fixed amount that varies depending on the nature of the relevant instrument and the notional value of the transaction, and ranges between Euro 0.01875 and Euro 200 per transaction. The amount of FTT payable is reduced to 1/5 of the standard rate in case the transaction is performed on regulated markets or multilateral trading facilities of certain EU and EEA member States. The FTT on derivatives is due by each of the parties to the transactions. FTT exemptions and exclusions are provided for certain transactions and entities.

The FTT is levied and paid by the subject (generally a financial intermediary) that is involved, in any way, in the execution of the transaction. Intermediaries which are not resident in Italy but are liable to apply the FTT can appoint an Italian tax representative for the purposes of the FTT. If no intermediary is involved in the execution of the transaction, the FTT must be paid by the relevant taxpayers.

Investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors also on the possible impact of the FTT.

8. Tax monitoring obligations

Pursuant to Italian Law Decree No. 167 of 28 June 1990, as amended by Law No. 97 of 6 August 2013 and by Law No. 50 of 28 March 2014, individuals, non-profit entities and certain partnerships (in particular, società semplici or similar partnerships in accordance with Article 5 of Decree No. 917) resident in Italy are required to report in their yearly income tax declaration, for tax monitoring purposes, the amount of Program Securities held abroad during each tax year.

The requirement applies also where the persons above, being not the direct holder of the financial instruments, are the beneficial owner of the instrument for anti-money laundering purposes. The above reporting is not required to be complied with respect to Program Securities deposited for management or administration with qualified Italian intermediaries and with respect to contracts entered into through their intervention, provided that the financial flows and income derived from the Program Securities are subject to tax by the same intermediaries.

9. EU Directive on Administrative Cooperation in the field of Taxation

On 9 July 2015, the Italian Parliament adopted Law No. 114 delegating the Italian Government to implement in Italy certain EU Council Directives, including Council Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the field of Taxation (as amended by Council Directive 2014/107/EU). Such Directive is aimed at broadening the scope of the operational mechanism of intra-EU automatic exchange of information in order to fight cross-border tax fraud and evasion. The Italian government implemented the above-mentioned Council Directive 2014/107/EU in the Ministerial Decree issued by the Ministry of Finance on 28 December 2015, as amended by the Ministerial Decree of 17 January 2017. Following the Ministerial Decree quoted, the Italian tax authorities may communicate to other EU Member States information about interest and other categories of financial income of Italian source, including income from the Notes.

Furthermore, the Italian Government implemented the later changes to the Council Directive 2011/16/EU, including the changes introduced by the Council Directive 2376/2015/EU on the mandatory automatic exchange of information on advance cross-border rulings and advance pricing arrangements, through the issue of the Legislative Decree 15 March 2017, no. 32, and by the Council Directive 2016/2258/EU as regards access to anti-money-laundering information by tax authorities, through the issue of the Legislative Decree 18 May 2018, no. 60. As a consequence of the OECD project on "Base erosion and Profit Shifting" (BEPS), the EU DAC 6 Directive ("DAC 6") has been adopted on 25 May 2018 by the EU Council, amending Council Directive 2011/16/EU as regards mandatory automatic exchange of information in the field of taxation in relation to reportable cross-border arrangements. According to DAC 6, intermediaries and, in some circumstances, taxpayers are required to notify the competent tax authorities of each Member States any cross-border arrangements that have at least one of the so-called "hallmarks" designed by the EU legislator as "markers" of potential risk of international tax evasion or avoidance or circumvention of disclosure requirements on financial accounts (CRS).

On 26 August 2020, the Legislative Decree No. 100, 30 July 2020 (the "DAC 6 Decree"), implementing the said Directive, with disclosure obligations for intermediaries and taxpayers, was published. Italian Ministry of Finance issued a Ministerial Decree on 20 November 2020, clarifying certain criteria set by the Italian law that trigger the reporting obligations. Furthermore, on 10 February 2021 the Italian tax authorities issued Circular Letter No. 2/E and on 13 May 2022, Circular Letter No. 12/E in order to provide certain other clarifications regarding the application of the DAC6 Decree.

JERSEY TAXATION

The following summary of the anticipated treatment of MFSII and holders of Program Securities (other than residents of Jersey) is based on Jersey taxation law and practice as they are understood to apply at the date of this Offering Memorandum and is subject to changes in such taxation law and practice. It does not constitute legal or tax advice and does not address all aspects of Jersey tax law and practice (including such tax law and practice as they apply to any land or building situate in Jersey). Prospective investors in the Program Securities should consult their professional advisers on the implications of acquiring, buying, selling or otherwise disposing of the Program Securities under the laws of any jurisdiction in which they may be liable to taxation.

Prospective investors in the Program Securities should also note that tax law and interpretation can change and that, in particular, the levels and basis of, and reliefs from, taxation may change and may alter the benefits of the investment in the MFSII.

Taxation of MFSII

Under Article 123C of the Income Tax (Jersey) Law 1961 and on the basis that MFSII is resident for tax purposes in Jersey and not "a company in the cannabis industry", a financial services company, a utility company or a large corporate retailer for the purposes of the Income Tax (Jersey) Law 1961, as amended, MFSII is subject to income tax in Jersey at a rate of zero per cent. Payments in respect of the Program Securities may be paid by MFSII without withholding or deduction for or on account of Jersey income tax and holders of Program Securities (other than residents of Jersey) will not be subject to any tax in Jersey in respect of the holding, sale or other disposition of such Program Securities.

If MFSII derives any income from the ownership or development and disposal of land in Jersey, such income will be subject to tax at the rate of 20 per cent. It is not expected that MFSII will derive any such income.

Holders of Program Securities

Dividends on Securities and redemption proceeds may be paid by MFSII to non-Jersey resident holders of Program Securities without withholding or deduction for or on account of Jersey income tax. Non-Jersey resident holders of Program Securities will not be subject to any tax in Jersey in respect of the holding, sale or other disposition of such Securities. Non-Jersey resident holders of Program Securities will be exempt from Jersey income tax on receipt of any distribution from MFSII. Holders of Program Securities who are resident in Jersey for tax purposes may be liable to pay income tax on distributions (including redemption proceeds) received from MFSII.

Goods and Services Tax

Jersey imposes a Goods and Services Tax ("GST") on the taxable supply of goods and services in or imported into Jersey. The current GST rate is 5 per cent. On the basis that MFSII has obtained International Services Entity status under the Goods and Services Tax (International Service Entities) (Jersey) Regulations 2007, as amended, MFSII is not:

- (a) required to register as a taxable person pursuant to the Goods and Services Tax (Jersey) Law 2007;
- (b) required to charge GST in Jersey in respect of any supply made by it; or
- (c) (subject to limited exceptions that are not expected to apply to MFSII) required to pay GST in Jersey in respect of any supply made to it.

The directors of MFSII intend to continue to conduct the business of MFSII such that no GST will be incurred or be payable by MFSII.

Stamp duty

In Jersey, prima facie no stamp duty is levied on the issue, acquisition, ownership, exchange, sale, transfer or other disposition of the Certificates between living persons. However, where there is a transfer of significant interest in a Jersey company holding a direct or indirect interest in Jersey land or property, the transfer will be subject to a form of stamp duty called Enveloped Property Transaction Tax. A significant interest is the ownership or control of more than 50% of the company. Stamp duty also applies if the articles of association of a Jersey company convey the right to occupy property in Jersey. Stamp duty is also payable on Jersey grants of probate and letters of administration, which will generally be required to transfer the Program Securities on the death of a holder of such Program Securities. In the case of a grant of probate or letters of administration, stamp duty is levied according to the size of the estate (wherever situate in respect of a holder of Program Securities domiciled in Jersey, or situate in Jersey in respect of a holder of Program Securities domiciled outside Jersey). Such duties are payable in respect of the net value of the estate (as at the date of death) rounded up to the nearest £10,000 at a rate of 0.5% of the first £100,000 and 0.75% per additional £10,000 or any fractional part thereof. Such stamp duty is capped at a maximum of £100,000 (for estates valued at £13,360,000 or above). The rules for joint holders and holdings through a nominee are different and advice relating to this form of holding should be obtained from a professional advisor.

Purchasers of Program Securities may be required to pay stamp taxes and other charges in accordance with the laws and practices of the country of purchase or other relevant jurisdiction.

Jersey does not otherwise levy taxes upon capital, inheritances, capital gains or gifts nor are there other estate duties.

FATCA

Under Sections 1471 through 1474 of the US Internal Revenue Code (commonly referred to as "FATCA") "Financial Institutions" are required to use enhanced due diligence procedures to identify US persons who have invested in either non-US financial accounts or non-US entities.

Pursuant to FATCA, certain payments of (or attributable to) US-source income, (including dividends and interest), and (from 1 January 2019) the gross proceeds of sales of property that give rise to US-source payments, are subject to a 30 per cent. withholding tax unless the Company agrees to certain reporting and withholding requirements ("FATCA Withholding").

The United States and Jersey have entered into an intergovernmental agreement ("US-Jersey IGA") to implement FATCA. Under the terms of the US-Jersey IGA, MFSII is obliged to comply with the provisions of FATCA as enacted by the Jersey legislation implementing the US-Jersey IGA (the "Jersey IGA Legislation"), rather than directly complying with the US Treasury regulations implementing FATCA. Under the terms of the US-Jersey IGA, Jersey resident entities that comply with the requirements of the Jersey IGA Legislation will be treated as compliant with FATCA and, as a result, will not be subject to FATCA Withholding on payments they receive and will not be required to withhold under FATCA on payments they make.

MFSII is considered a Jersey resident financial institution and therefore is required to comply with the requirements of the Jersey IGA Legislation. Under the Jersey IGA Legislation, MFSII is required to report to the Government of Jersey Comptroller of Taxes certain holdings by and payments made to certain US holders of Program Securities issued by MFSII, as well as to non-US financial institutions that are considered to be "Non-Participating Financial Institutions" for the purposes of the US-Jersey IGA. Under the terms of the US-Jersey IGA, such information will be onward reported by the Government of Jersey Comptroller of Taxes to the United States.

Additional intergovernmental agreements similar to the US-Jersey IGA have been entered into or are under discussion by other jurisdictions with the United States. Different rules than those described above may apply depending on whether a payee is resident in a jurisdiction that has entered into an intergovernmental agreement to implement FATCA.

In order to avoid MFSII being subject to withholding taxes, all investors (whether they are US citizens or not) must agree to provide MFSII at the time or times prescribed by the Jersey IGA Legislation and at such times reasonably requested by MFSII with such information and documentation (whether relating to themselves, their investors and/or beneficial owners) prescribed by the Jersey IGA Legislation and such additional documentation reasonably requested by MFSII as may be necessary for MFSII to comply with its obligations under the Jersey IGA Legislation.

The scope and application of FATCA Withholding and information reporting pursuant to the terms of FATCA and the US Jersey IGA is subject to review by the United States and Jersey and the rules may change. Holders of Program Securities should consult with their own tax advisors regarding the application of FATCA to their particular circumstances.

Common Reporting Standard

The OECD has developed a global standard for the automatic exchange of financial information between tax authorities (the "Common Reporting Standard" or "CRS"). The CRS has been implemented in the EU by way of the Revised Directive on Administrative Co-Operation (Council Directive 2014/107/EU). Jersey is a signatory to the CRS and commenced exchange of information with tax authorities of other signatory jurisdictions in September 2017.

Jersey legislation which implements the CRS in Jersey came into effect on 1 January 2016 (the "Jersey CRS Legislation").

In summary, the Jersey CRS Legislation requires "reporting financial institutions" in Jersey to identify, review and report on "financial accounts" maintained by them and which are held by residents for tax purposes (whether individuals or entities) of jurisdictions with which Jersey has agreed to exchange information. The reporting deadline for Jersey reporting financial institutions to report to the Government of Jersey Comptroller of Taxes is 30 June in the year following the calendar year to which the return relates.

Reports will be made to the Government of Jersey Comptroller of Taxes and then passed to the competent authority of the jurisdiction in which the account holder is resident. Although MFSII will attempt to satisfy any obligations imposed on it by the CRS, no assurance can be given that it will be able to satisfy such obligations. Implementation of the CRS may require MFSII to conduct additional due diligence and report upon accounts held with it by holders of Program Securities who are reportable persons in other participating jurisdictions. MFSII may require certain additional financial information from holders of Program Securities to comply with its due diligence and reporting obligations under the CRS.

Failure by MFSII to comply with the obligations under the CRS may result in penalties being imposed on MFSII and in such event, the target returns of MFSII may be materially affected. All prospective holders of Program Securities must agree to provide MFSII at the time or times prescribed by applicable law and at such times reasonably requested by MFSII such information and documentation (whether relating to themselves, their investors and/or beneficial owners) prescribed by applicable law and such additional documentation reasonably requested by MFSII as may be necessary for MFSII to comply with its obligations under CRS.

Prospective holders of Program Securities should, as with FATCA, consult their tax advisors with regard to the potential CRS tax reporting and certification requirements associated with an investment in MFSII. It is further recommended that holders of Program Securities who are entities consider themselves whether they have any obligations to notify their respective investors, certificateholders or account holders about the information that MFSII requests, and the potential disclosures that MFSII will be obliged to make in connection with those persons in complying with its obligations under CRS.

In order to avoid MFSII being subject to withholding taxes or penalties, all investors must agree to provide MFSII at times reasonably requested by MFSII with such information and documentation (whether relating to themselves, their investors and/or beneficial owners) reasonably requested by MFSII.

Pillar Two / GloBE

The Pillar Two Global Anti-Base Erosion ("GloBE") framework is a new set of international tax rules that require in-scope multinational enterprise ("MNE") groups to pay a minimum effective rate of 15% tax in every jurisdiction in which they operate. The rules apply to MNE groups with more than €750 million global annual revenue as determined by the consolidated financial statements of the ultimate parent entity, subject to certain exemptions.

Jersey has implemented a Pillar Two Income Inclusion Rule pursuant to the Multinational Taxation (Global Anti-Base Erosion – IIR Tax) (Jersey) Law 2025 and a Domestic Minimum Tax pursuant to the Multinational Corporate Income Tax (Jersey) Law 2025 (the "MCIT Law") which applies to accounting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2025. The new domestic tax measure, known as multinational corporate income tax ("MCIT"), and new income inclusion rule, sits alongside Jersey's existing 0/10 corporate income tax system, which remains unaltered.

The MCIT aligns with the OECD's GloBE Model Rules so that Jersey companies and Jersey branches of in-scope MNE groups now pay an effective rate of 15% on their taxable profits. The Jersey Government does not intend to enact an undertaxed profits rule at the current time.

There is a de minimis exclusion under the MCIT Law where a reporting entity of an in-scope MNE group can elect for an annual exemption if the group's average GloBE revenue of Jersey for the fiscal year is less than €10 million or the group's average GloBE income or loss for Jersey is less than € 1 million.

Corporate businesses that are below the threshold of €750 million global annual revenue are not impacted as they remain under Jersey's existing corporate income tax regime.

There are a limited number of exemptions from the application of the Multinational Taxation (Global Anti-Base Erosion – IIR Tax) (Jersey) Law 2025 (the "IIR Law") and the MCIT Law. Where the corporate business is (i) stateless (for the purposes of the IIR Law and the MCIT Law); or (ii) an "excluded entity" (as defined in the model rules published by the OECD on 20 December 2021 as "Tax Challenges Arising from the Digitalisation of the Economy – Global Anti-Base Erosion Model Rules (Pillar Two): Inclusive Framework on BEPS"), being a governmental entity, an international organisation, a non-profit organisation, a pension fund, an investment fund that is an ultimate parent entity or a real estate investment vehicle that is an ultimate parent entity; or (iii) not a "Jersey constituent entity" for the purposes of Article 7(1)(b) of the MCIT Law, on the basis of being an investment entity, an insurance entity or a securitisation entity, the business is unlikely to be in scope.

Jersey economic substance

In response to concerns raised in 2017 by the EU Code of Conduct Group on Business Taxation in relation to the need for relevant businesses to demonstrate economic substance in the jurisdiction in which they are resident for taxation purposes (including Jersey), Jersey has enacted the Taxation (Companies - Economic Substance) (Jersey) Law 2019 (the "Substance Law"). The Substance Law applies to financial periods of Jersey resident bodies corporate starting on or after 1 January 2019. The Substance Law is administered by the Jersey Comptroller of Revenue, who has produced guidance as to its application (in conjunction with the other crown dependencies).

The Substance Law applies to Jersey tax resident companies that carry on banking, insurance, fund management, financing and leasing, headquarters, shipping, and holding company or intellectual property activities and are in receipt of gross income arising from such activities in any relevant financial period. It imposes certain requirements including that such companies be directed and managed in Jersey, have core income-generating activities in Jersey and have an adequate level of employees, expenditures and premises in Jersey. MFSII will have to comply with the Substance Law to the extent it conducts any such relevant activity.

If you are in any doubt as to your tax position you should consult your professional tax adviser.

(a) Taxes on Income and Capital Gains

Notes:

(i) Individuals with tax residency in Spain subject to Personal Income Tax (Impuesto sobre la Renta de las Personas Físicas)

The taxation of income from the Notes under the Personal Income Tax is not expressly foreseen in the legislation. This leads to the need for applying the general principles under said tax, as well as to try to infer, from the Tax Authorities' doctrine, a line of interpretation in order to ascertain what the tax treatment should be.

Under this scenario, and following an interpretation of the general principles governing the Personal Income Tax, as well as the doctrine issued by the Spanish Tax Authorities on financial products, it can be said that, in principle, interest from the Notes obtained by individuals who have the status of taxpayers for the purposes of Spanish Personal Income Tax, and also income from the transfer, reimbursement, redemption, exchange or conversion of the Notes should, in general terms, be considered income from movable capital obtained due to the supply of funds to third parties upon the terms of Article 25.2 of Law 35/2006, of November 28, on the Personal Income Tax. Such income would be included in the savings tax base and, in cases of losses, their integration on the savings tax base and their offsetting will be subject to the rules foreseen in that respect in the Personal Income Tax legislation.

Income included in the savings taxable base are taxed at a flat rate of (i) 19 per cent (applicable to the first Euros 6,000), (ii) 21 per cent. (applicable to the following Euros 44,000), (iii) 23 per cent. (applicable to over the following Euros 150,000); (iv) 27 per cent. on the following up to Euros 100,000; and (v) at a rate of 30 per cent on any excess over Euros 300,000.

Income derived from the Notes will be subject to withholding tax currently at a rate of 19 per cent., in case there is any person or entity obliged to levy said withholding tax in accordance with the general rules of the levying of withholding taxes (i.e. in the event that an entity based in Spain is the custodian of the securities, or is in charge of the collection of the income from them in favour of the holders, or is in charge of the redemption of the securities, or receives from the holder the order to transfer the security, as the case may be). Amounts withheld may be credited against the final Personal Income Tax liability.

(ii) Legal Entities with tax residency in Spain subject to Corporate Income Tax (Impuesto sobre Sociedades)

The tax regime for Spanish-resident entities holders of Notes is included in the CIT Law and the Royal Decree 634/2015, of July 10, that approves the Corporate Income Tax Regulations, as amended ("Royal Decree 634/2015").

The taxable income derived from the payment of the interest generated by the Notes and also from the transfer, reimbursement, redemption, exchange or conversion of the Notes will be calculated in accordance with the accounting treatment of such income by the relevant entity. The tax adjustments to the accounting treatment which may be of application should be taken into account when calculating the taxable base. In principle, the general rate in force for 2026 is twenty-five per cent. (25 per cent.). Please note that, as of 1st January 2022, profits obtained by legal entities with tax residency in Spain will be taxed at a minimum effective tax rate of 15% of the taxable base in case that (i) the net turnover of the entity is 20 million euros or more or (ii) the entity is taxed under the consolidated tax regime.

Any income derived from the Notes could be subject to withholding tax of 19 per cent. on account of the Corporate Income Tax of the holder in case there is any person or entity obliged to levy said withholding tax in accordance with the general rules of the levying of withholding taxes (i.e. in the event that an entity based in Spain is the custodian of the securities, or is in charge of the collection of the income from them in favour of the holders, or is in charge of the redemption of the securities, or receives from the holder the order to transfer the security, as the case may be).

In any case, income derived from the Notes obtained by entities which are considered taxable persons for Corporate Income Tax purposes will not be subject to withholding tax on account of Corporate Income Tax, in accordance with the provisions of Article 61.s) of Royal Decree 634/2015, provided that the Notes were securities traded on an organised market of an OECD country.

(iii) Individuals and Legal Entities with no tax residency in Spain subject to Non-Resident Income Tax (Impuesto sobre la Renta de no Residentes)

Interest generated by the Notes or from the transfer, reimbursement, redemption, exchange or conversion of the Notes obtained by individuals and legal entities not resident for tax purposes in Spain will be taxed pursuant to the NRIT Law.

Income obtained through a permanent establishment

Income from the Notes obtained through a permanent establishment in Spain will be taxed in accordance with the rules of Chapter III of the NRIT Law, subject to the provisions of any relevant double tax treaties.

The aforementioned tax rules for taxable persons under Spanish Corporate Income Tax (entities resident for tax purposes in Spain) will apply for persons or legal entities not resident in Spain but acting through a permanent establishment in such territory.

Income obtained without a permanent establishment

Income realised by investors residing for tax purposes outside Spain and without a permanent establishment within the Spanish territory (individuals and legal entities) would not be considered, in general terms, as Spanish-source income and, therefore, would not be subject to taxation and withholding tax in Spain under the NRIT Law.

Warrants/Certificates:

(iv) Individuals with tax residency in Spain subject to Personal Income Tax (Impuesto sobre la Renta de las Personas Físicas)

According to what has been the traditional doctrine of the Spanish Tax Authorities, income from the Warrants/Certificates, under the Personal Income Tax, will be classified as capital gains or losses provided that, basically (i) the premium paid will not be taken into consideration in calculating the amounts corresponding to the payout on maturity date or during the life of the warrant/certificate (therefore, income from the warrants/certificates will only be linked to the evolution of the underlying assets), (ii) the warrant/certificate is not a financial asset that gives the holder an explicit and regular return and (iii) the amount of the premium paid is substantially lower than the amount that should have been paid if the underlying asset would have been purchased spot.

The transfer of Warrants/Certificates will qualify as a capital gain (or loss), calculated as the excess of the transfer price (after deduction of the expenses and commissions paid by the Warrant/Certificate holder inherent to the transfer) over the acquisition value (i.e. the original acquisition or purchase price of the Warrant/Certificate by the holder, increased by the costs paid by him/her inherent to said acquisition).

Upon the exercise or maturity of a Warrant/Certificate, the capital gain or loss will be calculated as the difference between (i) the settlement amount (after deduction of the expenses and commissions inherent paid by the Warrant/Certificate holder) and (ii) the acquisition value (as above defined).

Any of the above capital gains or losses would be included in the savings income taxable base. As above commented, income included in the savings taxable base is taxed at a flat rate of (i) 19 per cent (applicable to the first Euros 6,000), (ii) 21 per cent (applicable to the following Euros 44,000), (iii) 23 per cent. (applicable to over the following Euros 150,000); (iv) 27 per cent on the following up to Euros 100,000; and (v) at a rate of 30 per cent on any excess over Euros 300,000.

The capital gains derived from the transfer or the exercise of a Warrant/Certificate will not be subject to withholding tax on account of the Personal Income Tax.

(v) Legal Entities with tax residency in Spain subject to Corporate Income Tax (Impuesto sobre Sociedades)

In principle, the taxable income will be calculated by correcting, by application of the rules contained in CIT Law, the accounting result determined in accordance with the applicable accounting legislation. As a consequence, investors would be taxed depending on the specific accounting of the Warrants/Certificates.

As a general rule, gains or losses realised by the taxpayer subject to Corporate Income Tax either through the sale or the exercise of the warrant/certificate will be included in their taxable income under the general provisions of CIT Law. Nevertheless, taxable income could arise before the sale or the exercise of the Warrant/Certificate if its accounting implies the registration of profits prior to sale or exercise.

(vi) Individuals and Legal Entities with no tax residency in Spain subject to Non-Resident Income Tax (Impuesto sobre la Renta de no Residentes)

The income derived from the transfer or the exercise of a warrant/certificate obtained by individuals or legal entities taxpayers not resident for tax purposes in Spain will be taxed pursuant to the NRIT Law.

Income obtained through a permanent establishment

The income from the Warrants/Certificates obtained through a permanent establishment in Spain will be taxed in accordance with the rules of Chapter III of the NRIT Law, subject to the provisions of any relevant double tax treaties.

Such income will be taxed and will not be subject to withholding tax on account of the Non-Residents Income Tax upon the same terms set out above for taxable persons under Spanish Corporate Income Tax (entities resident for tax purposes in Spain).

Income obtained without a permanent establishment

Income realised by investors residing outside Spain and without a permanent establishment within the Spanish territory (individuals and legal entities) would not be considered as Spanish-source income and, therefore, would not be subject to taxation and withholding tax in Spain under the NRIT Law.

(b) Wealth Tax (Impuesto sobre el Patrimonio)

Only individual holders of Program Securities would be subject to the Net Wealth Tax. Legal entities are not taxable persons under the Spanish Net Wealth Tax.

(i) Individuals with tax residency in Spain

Under article 5 of the Net Wealth Tax Law, the relevant taxpayers will be those individuals who have their tax residence in Spain regardless of the place where their assets or rights are located or could be exercised and to the extent that their net wealth exceeds Euros 700,000 on the last day of the calendar year.

Consequently, the ownership of the Program Securities by individuals resident for tax purposes in Spain will be subject to taxation under the Net Wealth Tax at a progressive rate scale from 0.2 per cent. to 3.5 per cent.

However, it is necessary to take into account that the power to implement the Net Wealth Tax (including certain tax benefits) has been transferred to the Spanish regions. Therefore, an analysis must be made in each specific case to determine to what extent any regional legislation might be applicable, since there might be differences in respect of the final taxation under Net Wealth Tax depending on the region in which an investor resides which could even eliminate the taxation.

(ii) Individuals with no tax residency in Spain

Non-Spanish residents would not be subject to the Net Wealth Tax on the holding of the Program Securities, provided that the Program Securities are not located in Spain and the rights deriving from them cannot be exercised within the Spanish territory.

(c) Temporary Solidarity Tax On Large Fortunes (Impuesto Temporal de Solidaridad de las Grandes Fortunas)

Only individuals who are holders of Program Securities would be subject to Temporary Solidarity Tax On Large Fortunes. Legal entities are not taxable persons under Spanish Temporary Solidarity Tax On Large Fortunes.

With respect to its temporal scope, it was expected to be in force for two years (2022 and 2023), although a review clause was introduced, in order to evaluate its results at the end of its term and assess its maintenance or elimination. It has been extended indefinitely until the review of the patrimonial taxation takes place in the context of the amendment of the regional financing system.

(i) Individuals with Tax Residency in Spain

Individuals with tax residency in Spain are subject to Temporary Solidarity Tax On Large Fortunes to the extent that their net worth exceeds €3,000,000. There is a minimum exemption of €700,000, which applies as from €3,000,000 of net worth.

Therefore, they should take into account the value of the Program Securities which they hold at 31st December each year. The applicable rates range between 1.7 per cent. and 3.5 per cent (notwithstanding the 0 per cent rate applicable to the first €3,000,000 of taxable base, as described below).

The taxable base is currently taxed (i) at a rate of 0 per cent up to the first €3,000,000.00; (ii) at a rate of 1.7 per cent on the following €2,347,998.03; (iii) at a rate of 2.1 per cent on the following €5,347,998.03; and; (iv) at a rate of 3.5 per cent on any excess over €10,695,996.06 of taxable base.

(ii) Individuals with no Tax Residency in Spain

Non-Spanish residents would not be subject to the Temporary Solidarity Tax On Large Fortunes on the holding of the Program Securities, provided that the Program Securities are not located in Spain and the rights deriving from them cannot be exercised within the Spanish territory.

(d) Inheritance and Gift Tax (Impuesto sobre Sucesiones y Donaciones)

(i) Individuals with tax residency in Spain

Individuals resident in Spain for tax purposes who acquire ownership or other rights over any Program Securities by inheritance, gift or legacy will be subject to the Spanish Inheritance and Gift Tax in accordance with the applicable Spanish regional and State rules. The applicable effective tax rates range between 0% (full exemption) and 81.6%, depending on several factors. However, it is necessary to take into account that the Spanish Inheritance and Gift Tax (including certain tax benefits) have been transferred to the Spanish regions.

Therefore, an analysis must be made in each specific case to determine to what extent any regional legislation might be applicable, since there might be differences in respect of the final taxation under Spanish Inheritance and Gift Tax depending on the region in which an investor resides that could even eliminate the taxation.

(ii) Legal Entities with tax residency in Spain

Legal entities resident in Spain for tax purposes which acquire ownership or other rights over the Program Securities by inheritance, gift or legacy are not subject to the Spanish Inheritance and Gift Tax. Instead, income obtained will be subject to the Corporate Income Tax.

(iii) Individuals and Legal Entities with no tax residency in Spain

Non-Spanish tax resident individuals that acquire ownership or other rights over the Program Securities by inheritance, gift or legacy, will not be subject to the Spanish Inheritance and Gift Tax provided that the Program Securities are not located in Spain and the rights deriving from them cannot be exercised within the Spanish territory. No taxation would arise in Spain on the acquisition of the Program Securities by non-Spanish entities without a permanent establishment in the Spanish territory.

Non-Spanish tax resident entities with a permanent establishment within the Spanish territory which acquire the ownership or other rights over the Program Securities by inheritance, gift or legacy are not subject to the Spanish Inheritance and Gift Tax. Instead, income obtained will be subject to the Non-resident Income Tax, subject to the application of any relevant double taxation treaty.

(e) Value Added Tax, Transfer Tax and Stamp Duty

The issuance, acquisition and transfer of Program Securities is neither taxable under the Transfer Tax and Stamp Duty Tax, in accordance with the Consolidated Text of such tax promulgated by Royal Legislative Decree 1/1993, of 24 September, nor under the Value Added Tax, in accordance with Law 37/1992, of 28 December, regulating such tax.

(f) Disclosure obligations in connection with assets held abroad by Spanish resident natural and legal persons (Form 720)

According to Law 7/2012, of 29 October, Spanish resident natural or legal persons holding certain categories of assets abroad (including inter alia the Program Securities) may be potentially liable to report them to the Spanish tax authorities on a yearly basis (filing in respect of Securities held as of 31 December every year will be due by 31 March of the immediately following year) in certain circumstances.

Accordingly, any Spanish resident individual and corporate investors using a non-Spanish resident custodian to hold the Program Securities may be potentially liable to comply with such reporting obligations in respect of the Program Securities, if certain conditions are met. Failure to meet this new reporting obligation may trigger significant tax penalties and other tax implications. Please note that the European Court of Justice delivered a ruling on 27 January 2022 declaring illegal several aspects of the Spain's tax form 720, such as the non-expiration of the debt and the disproportionate sanctions. As a consequence of the above, Law 5/2022 of 9 March 2022 has eliminated the non-expiration of the tax debt rule and has amended the relevant sanctions, so that failure to make the necessary disclosure (including omission, falseness and inaccuracy of the information provided) may still be sanctioned, but the penalties to be imposed will be in accordance with the general regime established in the Spanish General Tax Law.

Notwithstanding the disclosure obligations set forth above, they shall be understood without prejudice to any additional disclosures requirements that may apply before the Spanish Ministry of Economy, Commerce and Company in connection with Spanish investments abroad, as provided in Law 19/2003, of July 4, on the legal regime governing capital movements and foreign economic transactions and on certain measures for the prevention of money laundering, as well as Royal Decree 571/2023, of July 4, relating to foreign investments.

FINNISH TAXATION

The following is a general description of certain Finnish tax considerations relating to the Program Securities. As each Tranche of the Program Securities may be subject to different tax treatment in Finland due to the specific terms and conditions of such Tranche, the following is only a generic overview of Finnish tax aspects that may be of relevance with respect to the possible tax treatment of Program Securities. The following description relates only to payments by the relevant Issuer or Guarantor to beneficial owners of the Program Securities and may not apply to certain classes of investors, such as tax exempt entities, entities deemed as controlled foreign companies, individuals holding their Program Securities as business assets and general or limited partnerships. It does not purport to be a complete analysis of all tax considerations relating to the Program Securities, whether in Finland or elsewhere. Prospective purchasers of Program Securities should consult their own tax advisors as to which countries' tax laws could be relevant to acquiring, holding and disposing of Program Securities and receiving payments of interest, principal and/or other amounts under the Program Securities and the consequences of such actions under the tax laws of those countries. This description is based upon the law as in effect and applied on the date of this Offering Circular, as well as on the current tax practice, and is subject to any changes in laws and their interpretation that may take effect after such date, including changes with retroactive effect.

For the purpose of the Finnish tax consequences described herein, it is assumed that the relevant Issuer or Guarantor is neither a resident nor deemed to be a resident of Finland for Finnish tax purposes and that the relevant Issuer or Guarantor is not deemed to have a permanent establishment in Finland for Finnish tax purposes.

General

The scope of taxation in Finland is defined by the tax liability position of a taxpayer. Finnish residents for taxation purposes are subject to taxation in Finland on their worldwide income. Persons that are not resident in Finland for taxation purposes and are not deemed to have a permanent establishment in Finland for Finnish tax purposes are subject to taxation in Finland solely in respect of their Finnish source income.

Generally, an individual is deemed to be a Finnish resident for taxation purposes if the individual continuously stays in Finland for more than six consecutive months or if the permanent home and abode of the individual is in Finland. A citizen of Finland who has moved abroad is regarded as resident for Finnish taxation purposes until three years have passed after the end of the year of emigration, even if the individual would not stay in Finland for six consecutive months and the permanent home and abode would not be located in Finland, if the individual cannot prove that he/she has not had any essential ties to Finland in the tax year in question.

Legal entities established under the laws of Finland are regarded as residents of Finland in accordance with domestic tax law. In addition, foreign entities with their place of effective management in Finland can be deemed as Finnish tax resident corporations.

Double tax treaties may restrict the authority of Finland to tax the foreign source income of an individual or entity deemed as resident of Finland pursuant to Finnish domestic tax law.

In the hands of individuals, earned income is taxed at progressive tax rates, while capital income up to EUR 30,000 per calendar year is taxed at a rate of 30 per cent and capital income exceeding EUR 30,000 per calendar year at a rate of 34 per cent. Corporate entities regarded as tax residents of Finland are subject to corporate income tax on their worldwide income. The current corporate income tax rate is 20 per cent.

This summary describes the Finnish taxation of certain types of income and is general by nature. The tax treatment applicable to an investor depends on the individual circumstances of such investor. Thus, prospective investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors concerning the overall tax consequences of their ownership of the Program Securities.

Taxation of Finnish Resident Individuals

Taxation of Capital Gains

Any income from the sale or other disposal of securities that is considered capital gains in the Finnish taxation as well as payment of accrued interest (Fi. jälkimarkkinahyvitys) is taxed as capital income in accordance with the Finnish Income Tax Act (Fi. Tuloverolaki (1535/1992)), as amended. The capital income tax rate is currently 30 per cent for capital income of up to EUR 30,000 per calendar year and 34 per cent for capital income exceeding EUR 30,000 per calendar year. However, capital gains are exempted from tax if the total amount of the consideration from the disposal of the person's disposed assets does not exceed EUR 1,000 in a tax year. Correspondingly, any loss arising from the sale or other disposal of securities that does not belong to the business activities of the individual is deductible from capital gains and generally also from other capital income arising in the same year or during the subsequent five years. Capital losses due to disposal will not, however, be tax deductible if the total amount of the acquisition costs of the assets sold by the individual does not exceed EUR 1,000 in a tax year.

Capital gains and losses are calculated as the difference between the consideration from the disposal and the aggregate of the actual acquisition cost and sales-related expenses. Generally, individuals may alternatively choose to apply the presumptive acquisition cost instead of the actual acquisition cost for the assets. The presumptive acquisition cost of 20 per cent is deducted from the consideration from the disposal but, if the shareholder has held the assets for at least ten years, the presumptive acquisition cost is 40 per cent of the consideration from the disposal. If the presumptive acquisition cost is applied instead of the actual acquisition cost, all expenses arising from acquiring the gains are deemed to be included in the presumptive acquisition cost and, therefore, cannot be deducted separately from the consideration from the disposal.

Income from the sale or exercise of listed Warrants is taxed as capital gain. According to a ruling by the Finnish Supreme Administrative Court, the income from the sale or exercise of non-listed cash-settled Warrants that are transferable securities and that, even if non-listed, have such qualities that they could be listed, is subject to taxation in Finland as a capital gain. As a starting point, the income from the sale or exercise of non-listed cash-settled Warrants that do not fulfil the criteria discussed in the above Supreme Administrative Court ruling, is taxable as other capital income of the Finnish resident individual investor, and not as a capital gain (see below for the taxation of other capital income).

According to the above-mentioned ruling, losses arising from the sale or exercise of non-listed cash-settled Warrants, in cases where the Warrants do not qualify for capital gains taxation as discussed above, are non-deductible altogether in the taxation of a Finnish resident individual investor.

According to case law and the Finnish Tax Administration's guidance, the above-discussed principles applicable to Warrants apply also with respect to Certificates.

Taxation of Other Capital Income and Withholding Obligations

Other capital income than income classified as capital gains (e.g. interest income, so called secondary market compensation, certain gains from non-interest bearing Notes and index compensation) paid to individuals and estates of a deceased person is subject to Finnish capital income tax in accordance with the Income Tax Act. The capital income tax rate is currently 30 per cent and 34 per cent of the capital income exceeding EUR 30,000 per calendar year (including also capital gains).

Assuming that the Issuer (or the Guarantor, as the case may be) is not a Finnish resident for tax purposes and is not deemed to have a permanent establishment in Finland for Finnish tax purposes, it is not under the obligation to perform withholding for any income tax payable in Finland in respect of payments made under the issued Securities. Instead, a paying agent or intermediary resident in Finland for tax purposes, when effecting a payment to an individual or estate of a deceased person resident in Finland, is generally under the obligation to withhold the income tax prepayment from any interest and secondary market compensation (but not from capital gains) paid to individuals and estates of a deceased person resident in Finland for tax purposes, where such payment is made through such paying agent or intermediary. However, if the paying agent or intermediary is considered as a substitute payer of the Issuer for Finnish tax purposes, such agent or intermediary is also obliged to withhold the tax prepayment for other capital income payments than interest payments or secondary market compensation. The current rate of tax prepayment is 30 per cent and the withholding shall be made in accordance with the Prepayment Act (Fi. Ennakkoperintälaki (1118/1996)), as amended. The Act on Source Tax on Interest Income (Fi. Laki korkotulon lähdeverosta (1341/1990)), as amended, is not applicable provided the Issuer does not have a branch in Finland.

Taxation of Finnish Corporate Entities

The following applies to Finnish corporate entities taxed in accordance with the Business Income Tax Act (Fi. Laki elinkeinotulon verottamisesta (360/1968)), as amended. Most Finnish corporate entities are taxed exclusively in accordance with the Business Income Tax Act.

Finnish corporations are subject to a national corporate income tax on their worldwide income. Corporate income is taxed according to a fixed tax rate which currently is 20 per cent. No tax prepayment is withheld from principal or interest payments made to corporate entities residing in Finland.

The capital gain (as well as the capital loss) is calculated by deducting the total sum of the actual acquisition cost and selling cost from the consideration from the disposal. Confirmed losses can generally be carried forward and deducted from the taxable income for ten years following the loss-making year, provided that no change in ownership triggering forfeiture of tax loss carry-forwards occur. Specific limitations apply to the deductibility of any capital losses incurred under the Income Tax Act prior to tax year 2020, as well as capital losses incurred from the transfer of assets belonging to the "other assets" asset class under the Business Income Tax Act, introduced as of tax year 2020.

Taxation of Non-Finnish Residents

Non-Finnish tax residents who do not conduct business through a permanent establishment in Finland, should not be subject to Finnish taxation either on principal or interest payments under the Program Securities or gains realized on the redemption, sale or other disposal of the Program Securities. If payment is made by a Finnish paying agent or intermediary, the recipient may be obliged to disclose their non-resident investor status to the payer.

No gross-up for Finnish withholding tax

Purchasers of the Program Securities should note that in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Securities the Issuer, in principle, will neither assume any liability for Finnish withholding taxes withheld from payments under the Program Securities, nor make any additional payments in regard of these taxes, i.e. no gross-up will apply in case a withholding tax is imposed.

Reporting and Compliance

A Finnish paying agent or intermediary is generally obliged to report to the Finnish Tax Administration any interest payments and comparable yield payments, secondary market compensations and index compensations paid to and received under the Program Securities by a Finnish tax resident individual or an estate of a deceased resident individual, or a non-resident recipient of such payment under the Program Securities, and any tax prepayment withheld from such payments. An intermediary as defined in the applicable Finnish tax regulations, also has an obligation to report to the Finnish Tax Administration any transactions in the Program Securities brokered or made by it, concerning both resident and non-resident holders of the Program Securities. A Finnish tax resident custodian, and the Finnish branch of a non-resident custodian, furthermore has an obligation to report to the Finnish Tax Administration the information necessary for the calculation of capital gains received by resident and non-resident holders of the Program Securities, to the extent the custodian has such information. Resident individuals and estates of a deceased person are required to review the tax information contained in their pre-completed annual tax return and, if necessary, correct or complete the information in the tax return.

Transfer Taxation and Value-Added Taxation

Redemption by way of a cash settlement or a transfer of the Program Securities should not be subject to Finnish transfer taxation or VAT. Investors should note that Finnish transfer tax considerations may arise in connection with Securities that are settled or redeemed by way of a delivery of Finnish shares or other instruments deemed as securities or real estate under the Finnish Transfer Tax Act (Fi. Varainsiirtoverolaki (931/1996)), as amended and that Finnish VAT considerations may arise in connection with securities that are settled or redeemed by way of a delivery of commodities.

SWEDISH TAXATION

There is no Swedish withholding tax at source (källskatt) applicable on payments made by the Issuer in respect of the Program Securities. Sweden operates a system of preliminary tax (preliminärskatt) to secure payment of taxes. In the context of the Program Securities a preliminary tax of 30 per cent. will be deducted from all payments of interest (including any compensation deemed to constitute interest for tax purposes) in respect of the Program Securities made to any individuals or estates that are resident in Sweden for tax purposes, provided the paying entity is subject to reporting obligations. A preliminary tax of 30 per cent. will also be deducted from any other payments in respect of the Program Securities not treated as capital gains, if such payments are paid out together with payments treated as interest. Depending on the relevant holder's overall tax liability for the relevant fiscal year, the preliminary tax may contribute towards or exceed the holder's overall tax liability with any balance subsequently to be paid by or to the relevant holder, as applicable.

NORWEGIAN TAXATION

The following is a summary of certain Norwegian tax consequences for holders of Notes, Warrants or Certificates who are resident in Norway for tax purposes.

The summary is based upon the laws of Norway as it is interpreted and practised as of the date of this Offering Circular. Such laws, rules and regulations may be subject to changes after this date, possibly on a retroactive basis. The summary does not address foreign tax laws.

Certain specific tax consequences may occur for certain categories of Norwegian holders of Notes, Warrants or Certificates, e.g. for Norwegian holders to which special tax regimes apply, if the Norwegian holder ceases to be tax resident in Norway, etc. The tax treatment of each holder may depend on the holder's specific situation and the specific instrument issued to the holder. The following comments are of a general nature and included herein solely for information purposes. They are not intended to be, nor should they be construed to be, legal or tax advice. The purpose of this summary is to provide a high-level and general overview of the main tax consequences that may arise under Norwegian law, and does not purport to be exhaustive in respect of all tax issues of relevance for Norwegian holders of Notes, Warrants or Certificates. Each investor should consult a tax advisor as to the tax consequences relating to their particular circumstances resulting from the holding and disposition of the Notes, Warrants or Certificates.

The Norwegian tax consequences depend inter alia on the classification of the securities for Norwegian tax purposes. The summary outlines certain limited aspects of Norwegian tax consequences for financial instruments which for Norwegian tax purposes are either classified as (i) debentures (debt securities) or as (ii) equity securities.

The summary below for Notes is based on the assumption that the Notes are considered as debt for tax purposes.

Taxation of Noteholders Resident in Norway

Taxation of return on the Notes prior to disposal

Any kind of return received on the Notes prior to the disposal is taxable as "ordinary income" subject to the flat rate of 22% (2026), or 25% for financial institutions covered by the Norwegian financial tax (No: finansskatt). Return on the Notes is taxed on accruals basis (i.e. regardless of when the return is actually paid).

Taxation upon disposal or redemption of the Notes

Redemption at the end of the term as well as prior disposal is treated as realisation of the Notes and will trigger a capital gain or loss. Capital gains will be taxable as "ordinary income", subject to the flat rate of 22% (2026), or 25% for financial institutions covered by the Norwegian financial tax (No: finansskatt). The tax liability applies irrespective of how long the Notes have been owned and the number of Notes that have been redeemed or realised. Losses will be deductible in the Noteholder's "ordinary income", taxed at the same tax rate.

Any capital gain or loss is computed as the difference between the amount received by the Noteholder on realisation and the cost price of the Notes. The cost price is equal to the price for which the Noteholder acquired the Notes. Costs incurred in connection with the acquisition and realisation of the Notes may be deducted from the Noteholder's taxable income in the year of the realisation.

Net wealth taxation

Limited liability companies and similar entities are generally not subject to net wealth taxation.

Individuals tax resident in Norway are subject to net wealth taxation in Norway. The value of the Notes at the end of each income year will be included in the computation of the Noteholder's taxable net wealth for municipal and state net wealth tax purposes. Listed bonds are valued at their quoted value on 1 January in the tax assessment year, while non-listed bonds are valued at their estimated market value on 1 January in the tax assessment year (i.e. the year subsequent to the relevant fiscal year). The marginal tax rate for net wealth tax is currently 1% (2026) for net wealth exceeding NOK 1,900,000 and up to NOK 21,500,000. Net wealth below a threshold of NOK 1,900,000 per person is not subject to net wealth tax. Net wealth exceeding NOK 21,500,000 is taxed at a marginal rate of 1.1% (2026).

Payments of interests from a Norwegian resident Issuer may trigger Norwegian withholding tax. Interest that is paid from an entity with full or limited tax liability to Norway, to a recipient that is tax resident outside of Norway, will be subject to 15% withholding tax to the extent the recipient is a related party to the payor and the recipient is tax resident in a low-tax jurisdiction. A 50% direct or indirect ownership or control would be sufficient to constitute a related party relation in this respect. A low-tax jurisdiction is defined as a jurisdiction that has an effective tax rate that is less than 2/3 of the effective Norwegian tax rate on similar income.

Withholding tax does not apply if the recipient is a limited liability company or similar entity genuinely established in a jurisdiction within the EEA which performs genuine economic activities in the relevant jurisdiction. In addition, withholding tax does not apply if the income is taxed in Norway as part of the recipient's business activities in Norway.

Norway's right to deduct withholding tax may be limited through applicable tax treaty.

Norway will nevertheless not levy withholding tax on payments on the Notes classified as interest for tax purposes, provided that the Issuer is neither resident in Norway for Norwegian tax purposes nor has any other taxable presence (e.g. a permanent establishment) in Norway.

VAT and transfer taxes

No VAT, stamp or similar duties are currently imposed in Norway on the transfer or issuance of Notes, Warrants or Certificates.

Inheritance tax

Norway does not impose inheritance or gift tax. However, the heir acquires the donor's tax input value based on principles of continuity. Thus, the heir will be taxable for any increase in value in the donor's ownership, at the time of the heir's realization.

Taxation of Warrants and Certificates for holders Resident in Norway

General information

Warrants and Certificates can be issued with a large number of different underlying financial instruments (e.g. Share Securities, Index Securities, Commodity Securities, Bond Securities) or other assets as underlying reference.

The taxation of the Warrants and Certificates will depend on the underlying financial instrument or asset. Most of the underlying financial instruments listed in the Offering Circular are of a kind that will lead to a similar taxation of the Warrants and Certificates as for holding Notes, as described above. However, where shares in a company with limited liability is the underlying financial instrument, the tax treatment will be subject to the following tax consequences (described on a high level below):

Personal investors

Sale, redemption or other disposals of Warrants and Certificates with shares as underlying instruments are considered a realisation for Norwegian tax purposes. A capital gain or loss generated by a Norwegian personal investor through a disposal of Warrants or Certificates are taxable or tax deductible in Norway. Such capital gain or loss is included in or deducted from the basis for computation of general income in the year of disposal. The general income is taxable at a rate of 22% (2026). The gain is subject to tax and the loss is tax deductible irrespective of the duration of the ownership and the number of Warrants or Certificates disposed of.

Gain or loss related to sale, redemption or other disposal of Warrants or Certificates is equal to the consideration received, less the purchase price (if any) and costs incurred in relation to the acquisition or realisation.

Corporate investors

Norwegian corporate investors' capital gain derived from Warrants and Certificates is generally subject to tax in Norway at the general income tax rate of 22% (2026).

Norwegian corporate investors may, however, be eligible for the Norwegian participation exemption method, to the extent the underlying objects of the Warrants and Certificates are shares in companies tax resident within the EEA, or indices which mainly derives its value from shares in companies tax resident within the EEA. To the extent the relevant jurisdictions are low-tax jurisdictions within the EEA, there is an additional condition that the relevant companies are genuinely established and conduct genuine economic activities in the relevant jurisdictions.

Provided that the requirements of the participation exemption method are fulfilled, capital gains upon redemption or realisation of the Warrants and Certificates are exempt from tax in Norway, and losses upon redemption or realisation of the Warrants and Certificates are not tax deductible in Norway.

Potential investors in the Certificates who are resident in Norway should note that the participation exemption rule described above does not apply to Certificates in the form of bonds that are convertible into shares as underlying instrument. Such Certificates should be treated as debt instruments as described above in the section entitled "Taxation of Noteholders Resident in Norway".

Net wealth taxation

Limited liability companies and similar entities are not subject to net wealth taxation.

Individuals tax resident in Norway are subject to net wealth taxation in Norway. The value of the Warrants and Certificates at the end of each income year will be included in the computation of the holder's taxable net wealth for municipal and state net wealth tax purposes. Listed Warrants and Certificates are valued at their quoted value on 1 January in the tax assessment year, while non-listed Warrants and Certificates are valued at their estimated market value on 1 January in the assessment year. The marginal tax rate for net wealth tax is currently 1% (2026) for net wealth exceeding NOK 1,900,000 and up to NOK 21,500,000. Net wealth below a threshold of NOK 1,900,000 per person is not subject to net wealth tax. Net wealth exceeding NOK 21,500,000 is taxed at a marginal rate of 1.1% (2026).

If an amount payable on a Warrant or Certificate is determined by reference to dividends that are paid or declared with respect to shares issued by a company resident in Norway, such payments could under certain circumstances be subject to withholding tax in Norway. The rate of Norwegian withholding tax is 25%, unless the recipient qualifies for a reduced rate according to an applicable tax treaty or qualifies for tax exemption pursuant to the Norwegian participation exemption method. Corporate investors' resident within the EEA are exempt from Norwegian withholding tax, on dividends provided such corporate investors are genuinely established and conduct genuine economic activities within the EEA.

The withholding obligation lies with the company distributing the dividends and the distributing company assumes this obligation. In accordance with the present administrative system in Norway, the Norwegian distributing company will normally withhold tax at the statutory rate or reduced rate according to an applicable tax treaty, based on the information registered with the Norwegian Securities Register (VPS) with regard to the tax residence of the shareholder. Strict rules concerning the documentation of the right to a reduced withholding tax applies.

VAT and transfer taxes

No VAT, stamp or similar duties are currently imposed in Norway on the transfer or issuance of Notes, Warrants or Certificates.

Inheritance tax

Norway does not impose inheritance or gift tax. However, the heir acquires the donor's tax input value based on principles of continuity. Thus, the heir will be taxable for any increase in value in the donor's ownership, at the time of the heir's realization.

IRISH TAXATION

The following disclosure applies only in respect of Program Securities issued by Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV and MSFL each in their capacity as Issuer. It does not deal with payments made by Morgan Stanley in its capacity as Guarantor pursuant to the Guarantee. References in this section on Irish taxation to "Notes", "Certificates" and "Warrants" (Certificates and Warrants being collectively, the "Securities") and references to "Noteholders," "Securityholders", "Certificateholders" and "Warrantholders" (if any) should be construed accordingly.

The following is a summary of the principal Irish withholding tax consequences at the date hereof in relation to payments of principal and interest in respect of the Program Securities. The comments do not deal with other Irish tax aspects of acquiring, holding, disposing or, abandoning Program Securities. Transactions involving Program Securities, including the issue and subscription of Program Securities, any purchase or disposal or settlement of Program Securities, may have Irish tax consequences for potential purchasers (including but not limited to, transfer taxes and possible withholding or deduction for or on account of Irish tax from payments made in respect of the Program Securities). The tax consequences may depend, amongst other things, on the status of the potential investor and the terms and conditions of a particular Program Security as specified in the Pricing Supplement. It is based on current law and practice of the Irish Revenue Commissioners, which may be subject to change, sometimes with retrospective effect. The comments relate only to the position of persons who are absolute beneficial owners of the Program Securities and who are not associated with the relevant Issuer (otherwise than by virtue of holding the Program Securities). Prospective Securityholders and Noteholders should be aware that the particular terms of issue of any series of Program Securities as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement may affect the tax treatment of that and other series of Program Securities. The following is a general guide and should be treated with appropriate caution. It is not intended as tax advice and it does not purport to describe all of the tax considerations that may be relevant to a prospective purchaser. Prospective Securityholders and Noteholders who are in any doubt as to their tax position should consult their professional advisors about tax implications of purchasing and holding a Program Security, any transaction involving a Program Security, and any transaction involved in the exercise and settlement of a Program Security. Securityholders and Noteholders who may be liable to taxation in jurisdictions other than Ireland are particularly advised to consult their professional advisors as to whether they are so liable (and if so under the laws of which jurisdictions), since the following comments relate only to certain Irish withholding tax aspects of payments in respect of the Program Securities. In particular, Securityholders and Noteholders should be aware that they may be liable to taxation under the laws of other jurisdictions in relation to payments in respect of the Program Securities even if such payments may be made without withholding or deduction for or on account of taxation under the laws of Ireland.

Withholding Tax

Tax at the standard rate of income tax (currently 20 per cent.) is required to be withheld from payments of Irish source interest. The Issuers will not be obliged to withhold Irish income tax from payments of interest on the Program Securities so long as such payments do not constitute Irish source interest. Interest paid on the Program Securities may be treated as having an Irish source if:

- (a) the relevant Issuer is resident in Ireland for tax purposes; or
- (b) the relevant Issuer has a branch or permanent establishment in Ireland, the assets or income of which are used to fund the payments on the Program Securities; or
- (c) the relevant Issuer is not resident in Ireland for tax purposes but the register for the Program Securities is maintained in Ireland or (if the Program Securities are in bearer form) the Program Securities are physically held in Ireland.

It is anticipated that, (i) the Issuers are not and will not be resident in Ireland for tax purposes; (ii) the Issuers do not and will not have a branch or permanent establishment in Ireland; and (iii) Program Securities will not be issued in bearer form and the Issuers will not maintain a register of any registered Program Securities in Ireland. For so long as this remains the case, interest payable on the Program Securities should not be regarded as Irish source interest.

If payments of interest on the Program Securities are found to constitute Irish source interest, the relevant Issuer will not be obliged to make a withholding or deduction for or on account of Irish income tax from a payment of interest on a Program Security so long as the interest paid on the relevant Program Security falls within one of the following categories and meets the relevant conditions:

Interest paid on a quoted Eurobond:

A quoted Eurobond is a security which is issued by a company (such as the Issuers), is listed on a recognised stock exchange (which is interpreted by the Irish Revenue Commissioners to mean an exchange which is recognised by the appropriate regulatory authorities in the country in which it is located and has substantially the same level of recognition in that country as the Irish Stock Exchange has in Ireland) and carries a right to interest. Provided that the Program Securities (i) carry an amount in respect of interest and (ii) are listed on a recognised stock exchange), interest paid on them can be paid free of withholding tax provided the person by or through whom the payment is made is not in Ireland, or if such person is in Ireland, either:

- (A) the Program Security is held in a clearing system recognised by the Irish Revenue Commissioners; (Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg are, amongst others, so recognised); or
- (B) the person who is the beneficial owner of the Program Security and who is beneficially entitled to the interest payable in respect of the Program Security is not resident in Ireland and has made a declaration to a relevant person (such as a paying agent located in Ireland) in the prescribed form.

Thus, if interest payable on the Program Securities is found to have an Irish source, so long as the Program Securities (i) are interest bearing, (ii) continue to be quoted on a recognised stock exchange and (iii) are held in a recognised clearing system, interest on the Program Securities can be paid by any paying agent acting on behalf of the Issuer without any withholding or deduction for or on account of Irish income tax. If the Program Securities continue to be quoted on a recognised stock exchange but cease to be held in a recognised clearing system, interest on the Program Securities may be paid without any withholding or deduction for or on account of Irish income tax provided such payment is made through a paying agent outside Ireland.

Short Interest:

Short interest is interest payable on a debt for a fixed period that is not intended to exceed, and, in fact, does not exceed, 364 days. The test is a commercial test applied to the commercial intent of each series of Program Securities. For example, if there is an arrangement or understanding (whether legally binding or not) for the relevant series of Program Securities to have a life of 365 days or more, the interest paid on the relevant Program Securities will not be short interest and, unless an exemption applies, a withholding will arise.

Encashment Tax

Irish tax will be required to be withheld at the rate of 25 per cent. from interest on any Program Security, where such interest is collected or realised by a bank or encashment agent in Ireland on behalf of any Noteholder or Securityholder. There is an exemption from encashment tax where the beneficial owner of the interest (i) is not resident in Ireland and has made a declaration to this effect in the prescribed form to the encashment agent or bank or (ii) is a company which is within the charge to Irish corporation tax in respect of the payment.

LUXEMBOURG TAXATION

The following is a general description of certain Luxembourg tax considerations relating to the Program Securities. It does not purport to be a complete analysis of all tax considerations relating to the Program Securities, whether in Luxembourg or elsewhere. Prospective purchasers of the Program Securities should consult their own tax advisors as to which countries' tax laws could be relevant to acquiring, holding and disposing of the Program Securities, payments of interest, principal and/or other amounts under the Program Securities and the consequences of such actions under the tax laws of Luxembourg. The following is based upon the law as in effect on the date of this Offering Circular. Prospective investors in the Program Securities should not apply any information set out below to other areas, including (but not limited to) the legality of transactions involving the Program Securities. Please be aware that the residence concept used under the respective headings below applies for Luxembourg income tax assessment purposes only. Also, please note that a reference to Luxembourg income tax generally encompasses corporate income tax (impôt sur le revenu des collectivités), municipal business tax (impôt commercial communal), a solidarity surcharge (contribution au fonds pour l'emploi) as well as personal income tax (impôt sur le revenu). Investors may further be subject to net wealth tax (impôt sur la fortune) as well as other duties, levies or taxes. Corporate income taxes, municipal business tax, as well as the solidarity surcharge invariably apply to most corporate taxpayers resident in Luxembourg for tax purposes. Individual taxpayers are generally subject to personal income tax and the solidarity surcharge. Under certain circumstances, where an individual taxpayer acts in the course of the management of a professional or business undertaking, municipal business tax may apply as well.

Any reference in the present section to a withholding tax or other taxes refers to Luxembourg tax law and/or concepts only. A holder of Program Securities may not become resident, or deemed to be resident, in Luxembourg by reason only of the holding of the Program Securities, or the execution, performance, delivery and/or enforcement of the Program Securities.

1. Luxembourg tax regime regarding Program Securities

Program Securities holders (the "Securities Holders") do not become resident of the Grand-Duchy of Luxembourg by merely subscribing, acquiring or holding Program Securities. However, non-resident Securities Holders may be taxed in Luxembourg if the Program Securities income is attributable to a permanent establishment, a permanent representative or a fixed place of business they have in the Grand-Duchy of Luxembourg.

1.1 Withholding tax

(i) Non-resident Securities Holders

Under Luxembourg general tax laws currently in force, there is no withholding tax on payments of principal, premium or interest made to non-resident Securities Holders, nor on accrued but unpaid interest in respect of the Program Securities which are not profit participating, nor is any withholding tax payable upon redemption or repurchase of the Program Securities held by non-resident Securities Holders.

(ii) Resident Securities Holders

Under Luxembourg general tax laws currently in force and subject to the law of 23 December 2005, as amended (the "RELIBI Law"), there is no withholding tax on payments of principal, premium or interest made to Luxembourg resident Securities Holders, nor on accrued but unpaid interest in respect of the Program Securities, nor is any Luxembourg withholding tax payable upon redemption or repurchase of the Program Securities held by Luxembourg resident Securities Holders.

Under the RELIBI Law, a 20% withholding tax is levied on payments of interest or similar income made or ascribed by Luxembourg paying agents to (or for the benefit of) Luxembourg resident individuals Security Holders. This withholding tax also applies on accrued interest received upon sale, disposal, redemption or repurchase of the Program Securities (if any). If applied, such withholding tax is in full discharge of income tax if the beneficial owner is an individual acting in the course of the management of his/her private wealth who does not hold the Program Securities as business assets.

Responsibility for the withholding of tax in application of the above-mentioned RELIBI Law is assumed by the Luxembourg paying agent within the meaning of the RELIBI Law.

1.2 Income Taxation

(i) Non-resident Securities Holders

A non-resident Securities Holder, not having a permanent establishment or permanent representative in Luxembourg to which or to whom such Program Securities are attributable, is not subject to Luxembourg income tax on interest accrued or received, redemption premiums or issue discounts, or any other income under the Program Securities. A gain realised by such non-resident Securities Holder on the sale or disposal, in any form whatsoever, of the Program Securities is further not subject to Luxembourg income tax.

A non-resident Securities Holder acting in the course of the management of professional or business undertaking, who has a permanent establishment or permanent representative in Luxembourg to which or to whom such Program Securities are attributable, is subject to Luxembourg income tax on interest accrued or received, redemption premiums or issue discounts, or other income under the Program Securities, and on any gains realised upon the sale or disposal, in any form whatsoever of the Program Securities.

(ii) Resident Securities Holders

Securities Holders which or who are resident of Luxembourg will not be liable for any Luxembourg income tax on repayment of principal.

Luxembourg resident corporate Securities Holders

A corporate Securities Holder must include any interest accrued or received, any redemption premium or issue discount, as well as any gain realized on the sale or disposal, in any form whatsoever, of the Program Securities, in its taxable income for Luxembourg income tax assessment purposes.

A Luxembourg Securities Holder that is governed by (i) the Luxembourg law of 11 May 2007 on family estate companies, as amended; (ii) the Luxembourg law of 17 December 2010 on undertakings for collective investment, as amended; (iii) the Luxembourg law of 13 February 2007 on specialised investment funds, as amended; or (iv) the Luxembourg law of 23 July 2016 on reserved alternative investment funds, and which does not fall under the special tax regime set out in article 48 thereof, will not be subject to any Luxembourg income tax in respect of interest accrued or received, any redemption premium or issue discount, nor on gains realised on the sale or disposal, in any form whatsoever, of the Program Securities.

Luxembourg resident individual Securities Holders

An individual Securities Holder, who acts in the course of the management of his private wealth and who is a resident of Luxembourg for tax purposes, is subject to Luxembourg income tax at progressive rates in respect of interest received, redemption premiums or issue discounts in respect of the Securities Holders, except if (i) withholding tax has been levied on such payments in accordance with the RELIBI Law, or (ii) the individual Securities Holder has opted for the application of a 20 % withholding tax in full discharge of income tax in accordance with the RELIBI Law, which applies if a payment of interest has been made or ascribed by a paying agent established in an EU Member State (other than Luxembourg), or in a Member State of the European Economic Area (other than an EU Member State).

Under Luxembourg domestic tax law, gains realised by an individual Securities Holder, who acts in the course of the management of his private wealth and who is a resident of Luxembourg for tax purposes, upon the sale or disposal, in any form whatsoever, of Program Securities are not subject to Luxembourg income tax, provided this sale or disposal took place more than six months after the acquisition of the Program Securities and the Program Securities do not constitute Zero Coupon Notes. However, any portion of such gain corresponding to accrued but unpaid interest income is subject to Luxembourg income tax, except if tax has been levied on such interest in accordance with the RELIBI Law.

An individual Securities Holder acting in the course of the management of professional or business undertaking must include any income under the Program Securities in its taxable basis, corresponding to accrued but unpaid interest in respect of the Program Securities in his/her taxable income. In that event, such 20% withholding tax levied will be credited against their final income tax liability.

Gains realised by an individual Securities Holder acting in the course of the management of a professional or business undertaking and who is resident of Luxembourg for tax purposes are subject to Luxembourg income taxes at the progressive ordinary rate. Also for individuals carrying on a business activity such gains should be subject to municipal business tax at a rate of 6.75% (for Luxembourg City).

(iii) Net wealth tax

A corporate Securities Holder, whether it is a resident of Luxembourg for tax purposes or, if not, it maintains a permanent establishment or a permanent representative in Luxembourg to which such Program Securities are attributable, is subject to Luxembourg net wealth tax on such Program Securities, except if the Securities Holder is governed by (i) the Luxembourg law of 11 May 2007 on family estate companies, as amended; (ii) the Luxembourg law of 17 December 2010 on undertakings for collective investment, as amended; (iii) the Luxembourg law of 13 February 2007 on specialised investment funds, as amended; or (iv) it is a securitisation company governed by the Luxembourg law of 22 March 2004 on securitisation, as amended; or (v) it is a capital company governed by the Luxembourg law of 15 June 2004 relating to the investment company in risk capital, as amended; or (vi) it is a professional pension institution in the form of variable capital companies (sociétés d'épargne-pension à capital variable - SEPCAVs) or an association (associations d'épargne-pension - ASSEPs) governed by the Luxembourg law of 13 July 2005 on institutions for occupational retirement provision in the form of pension savings companies with variable capital and pension savings associations, as amended; or (vii) it is a reserved alternative investment fund, subject to the Luxembourg law of 23 July 2016 on reserved alternative investment funds.¹⁸⁷

An individual Securities Holder, whether he/she is resident of Luxembourg or not, is not subject to Luxembourg net wealth tax on Program Securities.

(iv) Other taxes

In principle, neither the issuance nor the transfer, repurchase or redemption of the Program Securities will give rise to any Luxembourg registration tax or similar taxes. However, a fixed or ad valorem registration duty may be due upon the registration of the Program Securities in Luxembourg in the case where the Program Securities are physically attached to a public deed or to any other document subject to mandatory registration, as well as in the case of a registration of the Program Securities on a voluntary basis.

Under present Luxembourg tax law, in the case where a Securities Holder is a resident for tax purposes of Luxembourg at the time of his death, the Program Securities should be included in his taxable estate.

No estate or inheritance taxes are levied on the transfer of the Program Securities, upon death of a Securities Holder, in cases where the deceased was not a resident of Luxembourg for inheritance tax purposes.

Luxembourg gift tax may be due on a gift or donation of the Program Securities, if the gift is recorded in a Luxembourg notarial deed passed in front of a Luxembourg notary or recorded in Luxembourg or otherwise registered in Luxembourg.

Please however note that securitisation companies governed by the law of 22 March 2004 on securitisation, as amended, or capital companies governed by the law of 15 June 2004 on venture capital vehicles, as amended, or reserved alternative investment funds governed by the law of 23 July 2016, as amended, and which fall under the special tax regime set out under article 48 thereof may, under certain conditions, be subject to minimum net wealth tax.

SWISS TAXATION

The following discussion is a summary of certain material Swiss tax considerations relating to (i) Program Securities issued by any of the Issuers where the investor is tax resident in Switzerland or has a tax presence in Switzerland or (ii) Program Securities where the Paying Agent, custodian or securities dealer is located in Switzerland. The discussion is a summary based on legislation as of the date of this Offering Circular. It does not aim to be a comprehensive description of all the Swiss tax considerations that may be relevant for a decision to invest in Program Securities. The tax treatment for each investor depends on the particular situation. All investors are advised to consult with their professional tax advisors as to the respective Swiss tax consequences of the purchase, ownership, disposition, lapse, exercise or redemption of Program Securities (or options embedded therein) in light of their particular circumstances.

Swiss Withholding Tax

Payments under the Program Securities will not be subject to Swiss federal withholding tax, provided that the Issuer and the Guarantor (as the case may be) is at all times resident and managed outside Switzerland for Swiss tax purposes.

Income Taxation

Structured Notes

If a Program Security classifies as a structured security, i.e. as derivative financial instrument(s) with a bond-like prefunding component embedded therein, its income taxation depends on whether (i) the embedded bond component and the embedded derivative financial instrument(s) are reported separately from each other, or, if the Program Security is a standard product, alternatively the values of the embedded bond component and the embedded derivative financial instrument(s) can at any time be determined analytically by using standard valuation programmes, and (ii) the Program Security classifies as a structured product with or without a predominant one-time interest payment:

Non-transparent derivative financial instruments: If the embedded bond is not recorded separately from the embedded derivative financial instrument(s) and if the conditions for analytical determination of the values of the embedded bond and the embedded derivative financial instrument(s) set forth above do not apply, then the Program Security classifies as non-transparent structured note and any return over the initial investment classifies as a taxable interest payment. Non-transparent derivative financial instruments generally include a predominant one-time interest payment and are taxed in accordance with the principles set forth below under "Transparent derivative financial instruments with a predominant one-time interest payment".

Transparent derivative financial instruments without a predominant one-time interest payment: If the embedded bond is recorded separately from the embedded derivative financial instrument(s) or if the values of the embedded bond and the embedded derivative financial instrument(s) can be determined analytically as set forth above and if the yield-to-maturity predominantly derives from periodic interest payments and not from a one-time-interest-payment such as an original issue discount or a repayment premium (see below "Transparent derivative financial instruments with a predominant one-time interest payment"), then a person who is an individual resident in Switzerland holding such a Program Security as a private asset is required to include any periodic and one-time interest payments received on the Program Security, converted in each case into Swiss Francs at the exchange rate prevailing at the time of payment, in his or her personal income tax return for the relevant tax period and will be taxable on any net taxable income (including such amounts) for the relevant tax period. Option premium received, and a gain, including in respect of interest accrued, a loss, respectively, realised on the sale of such a Program Security is a tax-free private capital gain, a non-tax-deductible private capital loss, respectively.

Transparent derivative financial instruments with a predominant one-time interest payment: If the embedded bond is recorded separately from the embedded derivative financial instrument(s) or if the values of the embedded bond and the embedded derivative financial instrument(s) can be determined analytically as set forth above and if the yield-to-maturity predominantly derives from a one-time-interest-payment such as an original issue discount or a repayment premium and not from periodic interest payments, then a person who is an individual resident in Switzerland holding such a Program Security as a private asset, is required to include any periodic interest payments received on the Program Security and, in addition, any amount equal to the difference between the value of the Program Security at redemption or sale, as applicable, and its value at issuance or secondary market purchase, as applicable, and converted in each case into Swiss Francs at the exchange rate prevailing at the time of sale or redemption, issuance or purchase, respectively, in his or her personal income tax return for the relevant tax period and will be taxable on any net taxable income (including such amounts, i.e., including, inter alia, any gain in respect of interest accrued or foreign exchange rate) for the relevant tax period. Any compensation received by such a holder for the embedded derivative, i.e., option premium received, and any residual gain, and a loss, respectively, realised on the sale of such a Program Security is a tax-free private capital gain, a non-tax-deductible private capital loss, respectively. However, notwithstanding the foregoing, such a holder may offset any decrease in value realised by him or her within the same taxation period on sale or redemption of such a Program Security against any gain (including periodic interest payments) realised by him or her from other securities with a predominant one-time interest payment.

Bonds

Bonds without a predominant one-time interest payment: If a Program Security classifies as a pure bond without a predominant one-time interest payment (i.e., the yield-to-maturity of which predominantly derives from periodic interest payments and not from a one-time-interest-payment such as an original issue discount or a repayment premium), then a person who is an individual resident in Switzerland holding such a Program Security as a private asset is required to include any periodic and one-time interest payments received on such Program Security, converted into Swiss Francs at the exchange rate prevailing at the time of payment, in his or her personal income tax return for the relevant tax period and will be taxable on any net taxable income (including such amounts) for the relevant tax period. A gain, including, inter alia, in respect of interest accrued or foreign exchange rate, a loss, respectively, realised on the sale of such a Program Security is a tax-free private capital gain, a non-tax-deductible private capital loss, respectively.

Bonds with a predominant one-time interest payment: If a Program Security classifies as a pure bond with a predominant one-time interest payment (the yield-to-maturity of which predominantly derives from a one-time-interest-payment such as an original issue discount or a repayment premium and not from periodic interest payments), then a person who is an individual resident in Switzerland holding such a Program Security as a private asset, is required to include any periodic interest payments received on the Program Security and, in addition, any amount equal to the difference between the value of the Program Security at redemption or sale, as applicable, and its value at issuance or secondary market purchase, as applicable, and converted in each case into Swiss Francs at the exchange rate prevailing at the time of sale or redemption, issuance or purchase, respectively, in his or her personal income tax return for the relevant tax period and will be taxable on any net taxable income (including such amounts, i.e., including, inter alia, any gain in respect of interest accrued or foreign exchange rate) for the relevant tax period. Such a holder may offset any decrease in value realised by him or her within the same taxation period on sale or redemption of such a Program Security against any gain (including periodic interest payments) realised by him or her from other securities with a predominant one-time interest payment.

Pure Derivative Financial Instruments

A capital gain realised by an individual on the sale or redemption of a Program Security which classifies as a pure derivative financial instrument (such as pure call and put options, pure futures, static certificates replicating an index or a basket of at least five shares and with a fixed maturity or an annual redemption right and discount certificates with a maturity not exceeding twelve months) and which is held as part of the individual's private assets is a tax-free private capital gain. Conversely, a capital loss realised on the sale or redemption of such a Program Security cannot be set off against taxable income. Dividend equalisation payments on such a Program Security constitute taxable investment income.

Low Exercise Price Warrants

A fully pre-funded call option with a term of not more than one year classifies as pure derivative financial instrument (see taxation treatment above "Pure Derivative Financial Instruments"). If the term of a call option exceeds one year and the instrument underlying the call option is pre-financed by 50 per cent. or more at the time of issuance then the interest component embedded in such an instrument (i.e., issue discount) constitutes taxable interest income (see taxation treatment above "Structured Notes").

Fund-like Securities

A Program Security which is classified as a fund-like instrument will be considered a pass-through instrument for Swiss tax purposes if dividend and interest income (less attributable costs) from, and capital gains and losses (less costs attributable) realised on, the underlying investments, are reported and distributed separately. Under such conditions, an individual holding a fund-like Program Security as part of his or her private assets receives taxable income (which he or she must report annually) over such portion of distributions (in case the fund is distributing the income realised on the underlying investments) or earnings credits (in case the fund is reinvesting the income realised on the underlying investment) as derive from dividends and interest (less attributable costs) on the underlying instruments. Any distributions or credits deriving from capital gains realised on the underlying investments constitute a tax-free private capital gain, and any respective loss is a non-tax-deductible private capital loss. Any gain realised within a taxation period on the sale of a fund-like Program Security (including accrued dividends and interest) is exempt from income taxation as a private capital gain, and, conversely, any loss realised on such a Program Security is a non-tax-deductible capital loss.

Program Securities held as Assets of a Swiss Business

Corporate entities and individuals who hold Program Securities as part of a trade or business in Switzerland, in the case of residents abroad carried on through a permanent establishment or a fixed place of business in Switzerland, are required to recognise any payments on, and any capital gains or losses realised on the sale or redemption of, such Program Securities (irrespective of their classification) in their income statement for the respective taxation period and will be taxed on any net taxable earnings for such period.

The same taxation treatment also applies to Swiss-resident individuals who, for income tax purposes, are classified as "professional securities dealers" for reasons of, inter alia, frequent dealing and leveraged investments in securities.

Capital Gains

Program Securities held as Private Assets by Swiss resident Noteholders and Securityholders

A gain, a loss, respectively, realised by an individual resident in Switzerland for tax purposes upon the sale or other disposal of a Program Security held as part of his or her private assets is a tax-free private capital gain, or a non-tax deductible capital loss, respectively, unless such individual is classified, for income tax purposes, as a "professional securities dealer" for reasons of, inter alia, frequent dealing and leveraged investments in securities. If an individual is classified as "professional securities dealer" he or she will be taxed in accordance with the principles set forth above under "Income Taxation, Program Securities held as Assets of a Swiss Business". Concerning the bifurcation of a tax-exempt capital gain component, or a non-tax deductible capital loss component, respectively, from taxable income components of a Program Security see the bifurcation principles set forth above with regard to the different instruments under "Income Taxation, Program Securities held as Private Assets by Swiss resident Noteholders and Securityholders".

Program Securities held as Assets of a Swiss Business

Capital gains realised on Program Securities held as Assets of a Swiss Business are taxed in accordance with the taxation principles set forth above under "Income Taxation, Program Securities held as Assets of a Swiss Business".

Swiss Federal Stamp Taxes

The issuance of Program Securities on the Issue Date (primary market) is exempt from Swiss federal securities turnover tax (Umsatzabgabe), except that the issuance of Program Securities which are classified as fund-like instruments may be subject to Swiss federal securities turnover tax of up to 0.3 per cent. on the offering price, however, only if a Swiss securities dealer (as defined in the Swiss federal stamp tax act) is a party or an intermediary to the transaction and, additionally, if no exemption applies.

Dealings in Program Securities (secondary market) which classify as pure derivative financial instruments (such as pure call and put options, including low exercise price options with a maturity not exceeding twelve months, pure futures with a maximal pre-financing of 25 per cent., fully-funded Program Securities statically replicating an index or a basket of at least five shares and with a fixed maturity or an annual redemption right) are exempt from Swiss federal securities turnover tax. Dealings in other Program Securities may be subject to Swiss federal securities turnover tax of up to 0.3 per cent. on the consideration paid, however, only if a Swiss securities dealer (as defined in the Swiss federal stamp tax act) is a party or an intermediary to the transaction and, additionally, if no exemption applies.

The physical settlement of a security at exercise or redemption to the holder of the Program Security may be subject to Swiss federal securities turnover tax of 0.3 per cent. in case a security issued by an issuer outside

Switzerland is delivered and of 0.15 per cent. in case a security issued by a Swiss domestic issuer is delivered, however, in each case, only if a Swiss domestic securities dealer (as defined in the Swiss federal stamp tax act) is a party or an intermediary to the delivery and, additionally, if no exemption applies.

Net Worth and Capital Taxes

A holder of Program Securities who is an individual resident in Switzerland for tax purposes or is a non-Swiss resident holding Program Securities as part of a Swiss business operation or a Swiss permanent establishment is required to report Program Securities as part of private wealth or as part of Swiss business assets, as the case may be, and is subject to annual cantonal and/or communal private wealth tax on any net taxable wealth (including the Program Securities), in the case of a non-Swiss resident individual holding Program Securities as part of a Swiss business operation or a Swiss permanent establishment to the extent the aggregate taxable wealth is allocable to Switzerland. Incorporated holders of Program Securities are subject to cantonal and communal capital tax on net taxable equity, in the case of non-Swiss resident person holding Program Securities as part of a Swiss permanent establishment, to the extent the aggregate taxable equity is allocable to Switzerland. No net worth and capital taxes are levied at the federal level.

Non-Swiss resident Noteholders and Securityholders

A holder of a Program Security who is not resident in Switzerland and who during the taxation year has not engaged in a trade or business carried on through a permanent establishment or fixed place of business in Switzerland will, in respect of such Program Security, not be subject to income tax in Switzerland.

PORTUGUESE TAXATION

The following is a general summary of current law and practice in Portugal as in effect on the date of this Offering Circular in relation to certain current relevant aspects to Portuguese taxation of the Program Securities and is subject to changes in such laws, including changes that could have a retroactive effect. The following summary is intended as a general guide only and is not exhaustive. It is not intended to be, nor should it be considered to be, legal or tax advice to any holder of Program Securities. It does not take into account or discuss the tax laws of any country other than Portugal and relates only to the position of persons who are absolute beneficial owners of the Program Securities. Prospective investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors as to the Portuguese or other tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposal of Program Securities.

The reference to "interest", "other investment income" and "capital gains" in the paragraphs below means "interest", "other investment income" and "capital gains" as understood in Portuguese tax law. The statements below do not take any account of any different definitions of "interest", "other investment income" or "capital gains" which may prevail under any other law or which may be created by the "Terms and Conditions" of the Program Securities or any related documentation.

Income generated by the holding (distributions) and disposal of Notes should be generally subject to the Portuguese tax regime for debt securities ("obrigações"). Income generated by the exercise and disposal of Warrants should be generally subject to the Portuguese tax regime for warrants ("warrants autónomos"). Income generated by the exercise and disposal of Certificates should be generally subject to the Portuguese tax regime for certificates ("certificados que garantam ao titular o direito a receber um valor mínimo superior ao valor de subscrição" e "certificados que atribuem ao titular o direito a receber um valor de determinado activo subjacente").

For the purposes of this summary, we have assumed that Portuguese resident individuals earning income on the Program Securities do not earn such income as business or professional income.

Taxation of interest and other investment income

Interest and other investment income obtained by Portuguese resident individuals on the Notes as well as the remuneration received on the exercise of Certificates that entitle the security holder to receive from the Issuers a predetermined amount higher than the subscription value is subject to Personal Income Tax. If the payment of interest or other investment income on the Notes, as well as the remuneration received on the exercise of Certificates that entitle the security holder to receive a predetermined amount higher than the subscription value is made available to Portuguese resident individuals through a Portuguese resident entity or a Portuguese branch of a non-resident entity, withholding tax applies currently at 28%. This withholding tax is considered the final tax on this income unless the individual opts to include it in their taxable income ("aggregation"). In cases of aggregation, where income is subject to progressive rates up to 48% (if exceeding €86,634 – amount of the highest Personal Income Tax bracket in 2026), all income classified as "investment income" (irrespective of the source) must be aggregated and an additional income tax will be due on the part of the taxable income exceeding €80,000 as follows: (i) 2.5% on the part of the taxable income exceeding €80,000 up to €250,000¹⁸⁸ and (ii) 5% on the remaining part (if any) of the taxable income exceeding €250,000¹⁸⁸. In this case (aggregation of income), the tax withheld is deemed a payment on account of the final tax due. If the interest on the Notes or the remuneration received on the exercise of Certificates that entitle the security holder to receive from the Issuers a predetermined amount higher than the subscription value is not received through an entity located in Portugal the same is subject to an autonomous taxation currently of 28%, which is the final tax on that income unless the individual opts for aggregation, subjecting all investment income to tax at the progressive rates and to the additional taxes mentioned above.

Interest and other investment income paid or made available ("colocado à disposição") on the Notes as well as the remuneration on the exercise of Certificates that entitle the security holder to receive from the Issuers a predetermined amount higher than the subscription value, which are received by Portuguese resident individuals through entities that are a Portuguese resident entity or a Portuguese branch of a non-resident entity and which are due by non-resident entities without a permanent establishment in the Portuguese territory and that are domiciled in a country included in the "tax havens" list (approved by the Ministerial Order no. 150/2004 of 13 February, as amended from time to time) are subject to a final withholding tax at a rate of 35%. If the interest on the Notes and the remuneration on those Certificates is not received through an entity located in Portugal, it is not subject to Portuguese withholding tax, but an autonomous taxation currently of 35% will apply, which is the final tax on that income.

Interest, other investment income and the remuneration on the exercise of Certificates that entitle the security holder to receive from the Issuers a predetermined amount higher than the subscription value paid or made available ("colocado à disposição") to accounts in the name of one or more accountholders acting on behalf of undisclosed third parties is subject to a final withholding tax rate of 35%, unless the beneficial owner(s) of the income is disclosed, in which case the general rules will apply.

Taxation of capital gains

Capital gains obtained on the repayment and disposal of Notes, exercise or disposal of Warrants and transactions related to Certificates that entitle the security holder to receive the value of a certain underlying asset with the exception of the remuneration arising from Certificates that guarantee the holder the right to receive a minimum value in excess of the subscription value by an individual resident in Portugal for tax purposes, if such income is not earned as business or professional income, are subject to Personal Income Tax, whereby the positive difference between such gains and gains on other securities and losses in securities is subject to tax currently at 28%, which is the final tax on that income unless the individual elects to include it in his/her taxable income, subjecting said income to tax at progressive rates of up to 48%. Where the election for aggregation is made, all income qualifying as "capital gains" (irrespective of the source) has to be aggregated and an additional income tax will be due on the part of the taxable income exceeding €80,000 as follows: (i) 2.5% on the part of the taxable income exceeding €80,000 up to €250,000 and (ii) 5% on the remaining part (if any) of the taxable income exceeding €250,000.¹⁸⁹

Nevertheless, capital gains arising from the disposal of Program Securities are mandatorily subject to aggregation and, consequently, to the progressive Personal Income Tax rates in cases where the Program Securities disposed of were held for less than 365 days and the taxable income of the individual resident in Portugal is equal to or greater than the amount of the highest Personal Income Tax bracket (€86,634 in 2026).

Income derived from the disposal of Program Securities (admitted to trading) may be excluded from taxation under the following conditions: (i) 10% of the income, where it arises from assets held for more than 2 years and less than 5 years; (ii) 20% of the income, where it arises from assets held for a period equal to or greater than 5 years and less than 8 years; (iii) 30% of the income, where it arises from assets held for a period equal to or greater than 8 years.

Financial income and capital gains derived from the Program Securities by legal entities resident for tax purposes in Portugal, and by non-resident legal entities with a permanent establishment in Portugal to which the income or gains are attributable, are included in their taxable profits. These are subject to Corporate Income Tax at a rate of 19%,¹⁹⁰ or a reduced rate of 15%¹⁹¹ if the taxpayer qualifies as a Small MidCap company under Decree Law no. 372/2007, of 6 November (as amended from time to time) and subject to the de minimis rule of the European Union, applicable to taxable profits up to € 50,000 (the excess thereof will be subject to the standard rate of 19%). Additionally, a municipal surcharge ("derrama municipal") of up to 1.5% (as set by municipal bodies), may be levied on taxable profits. A state surcharge ("derrama estadual") also applies: 3% on the part of taxable profits between €1,500,000 and €7,500,000; 5% on the part of the taxable profits between €7,500,000 and €35,000,000; and 9% on the part of the taxable profits exceeding €35,000,000.¹⁹²

Gratuitous transfers

Gratuitous transfers of the Program Securities to Portuguese resident individuals are not subject to Portuguese Stamp Tax, as they fall outside the territorial scope of this tax (i.e., there is no connection with Portuguese territory since the debtor of the patrimonial or credit rights is domiciled, has its head office, place of effective management or permanent establishment outside the Portuguese territory). However, gratuitous transfers of the Program Securities (i.e., acquisition of the Notes by means of gift or inheritance) in favour of a Portuguese resident corporate entity or non-Portuguese resident corporate entity with a Portuguese permanent establishment, to which such transfer is attributable, are considered as patrimonial increases. Although these are not subject to Stamp Tax,

¹⁹⁰ By Law No. 64/2025 of 7 November, a progressive reduction of CIT rates to 17% by 2028 was approved. Accordingly, the CIT rate will be 19% for the tax period beginning in 2026, 18% in 2027, and 17% in 2028 and subsequent financials years. This rate is 13.3% in the Autonomous Region of Madeira and in the Autonomous Region of the Azores.

they are included in the corporate taxable income and taxed at a CIT rate of 19%,¹⁹³ or 15%¹⁹⁴ for taxpayers qualifying as Small MidCap companies under Decree Law no. 372/2007, of 6 November (as amended from time to time) and subject to the de minimis rule of the European Union, applicable to taxable profits up to €50,000 (the excess thereof will be subject to the standard rate of 19%). Additionally, a municipal surcharge ("derrama municipal") of up to 1.5% (as set by municipal bodies), may be levied on taxable profits. A state surcharge ("derrama estadual") also applies: 3% on the part of taxable profits between €1,500,000 and € 7,500,000; 5% on the part of the taxable profits between €7,500,000 up to € EUR 35,000,000; and 9% on the part of the profits exceeding €35,000,000¹⁹⁵.

Value Added Tax

The issuance, acquisition and transfer of Securities is not taxable under Value Added Tax.

Wealth and estate tax

There is neither wealth nor estate tax in Portugal within the context of Program Securities.

Financial Transaction Tax

There is no financial transaction tax in Portugal.

Non-resident holders (without permanent establishment in Portugal)

Payments made by the Issuer of interest, other investment income or principal on Program Securities issued by it (as long as it does not have a permanent establishment in Portugal) to an individual or legal entity non-resident in Portugal for tax purposes without a Portuguese permanent establishment to which income may be attributable are not subject to Portuguese tax.

Capital gains realised on Program Securities by a holder who is neither resident nor engaged in business through a permanent establishment in Portugal to which that gain is attributable are not subject to Portuguese tax.

FRENCH TAXATION

The following is an overview of certain tax consequences relating to the holding of the Program Securities. This overview is based on the laws and regulations in full force and effect in France as at the date of this Offering Circular, which may be subject to change in the future, potentially with retroactive effect. Investors should be aware that this overview is of a general nature and does not constitute legal or tax advice and should not be understood as such. Prospective investors are therefore advised to consult their own qualified advisers so as to determine, in the light of their individual situation, the tax consequences of the purchase, holding, redemption or disposal of the Program Securities.

Withholding taxes

The following has been prepared on the assumption that the Issuers are not resident of France for French tax purposes (whether actually or constructively) and do not have a branch, permanent establishment or place of business in France.

The withholding tax treatment of the Program Securities issued by the Issuers will depend on their nature and characterisation for French tax purposes.

Program Securities issued by the Issuers constituting debt instruments for French tax purposes

Payments with respect to Program Securities issued by the Issuers which are treated as debt instruments for French tax purposes should be made free of any compulsory withholding or deduction for or on account of any income tax imposed, levied, withheld, or assessed by France or any political subdivision or taxing authority thereof or therein.

However, if the paying agent (établissement payeur) is established in France, pursuant to Article 125 A I of the French Code général des impôts, subject to certain exceptions, interest and assimilated income received by individuals who are fiscally domiciled (domiciliés fiscalement) in France are subject to a 12.8% withholding tax, which is deductible from their personal income tax liability in respect of the year in which the payment has been made. Social contributions (CSG, CRDS and solidarity levy) are also levied by way of withholding at an aggregate rate of 18.6% on such interest and assimilated income received by individuals who are fiscally domiciled (domiciliés fiscalement) in France, subject to certain exceptions.

Payments with respect to Program Securities issued by the Issuers which are not treated as debt instruments for French tax purposes should be made free of any compulsory withholding or deduction for or on account of any income tax imposed, levied, withheld, or assessed by France or any political subdivision or taxing authority thereof or therein.

Transfer tax and other taxes

The following may be relevant in connection with Program Securities which may be settled or redeemed by way of physical delivery of (i) certain listed shares or certain assimilated securities issued by a company whose registered office is situated in France or (ii) securities representing such shares (or assimilated securities). In circumstances where the Program Securities are settled or redeemed by way of physical delivery of assets (other than certain listed French shares (or certain assimilated securities) or securities representing certain listed French shares (or certain assimilated securities), investors are urged to consult their advisor to assess the potential French tax consequences.

Pursuant to Article 235 ter ZD of the French Code général des impôts, a financial transaction tax (the "French FTT") is applicable, to any acquisition for consideration, resulting in a transfer of ownership, of (i) an equity security (titre de capital) within the meaning of Article L.212-1 A of the French Code monétaire et financier or an assimilated equity security (titre de capital assimilé) within the meaning of Article L.211-41 of the French Code monétaire et financier, admitted to trading on a recognised stock exchange when the said security is issued by a company whose registered office is situated in France and whose market capitalisation exceeds €1 billion on 1st December of the year preceding the year in which the imposition occurs (the "French Shares") or (ii) a security (titre) representing French Shares (irrespective of the location of the registered office of the issuer of such security). The rate of the French FTT is 0.4% of the acquisition value of the French Shares (or securities representing French Shares). There are a number of exemptions from the French FTT and investors should consult with their counsel to identify whether they can benefit from them.

If the French FTT applies to an acquisition of French Shares, this transaction is exempt from transfer taxes (droits de mutation à titre onéreux) which generally apply at a rate of 0.1% to the sale of shares issued by a company whose registered office is situated in France, provided that in case of shares listed on a recognised stock exchange, transfer taxes are due only if the transfer is evidenced by a written deed or agreement.

HONG KONG TAXATION

The following is a general description of certain Hong Kong tax considerations in relation to the CMU Notes. As each Tranche of the CMU Notes may be subject to different tax treatment in Hong Kong due to the specific terms and conditions of such Tranche, the following is only a generic overview of Hong Kong tax aspects that may be of relevance with respect to the possible tax treatment of CMU Notes. It does not purport to be a complete analysis of all tax considerations relating to the CMU Notes, whether in Hong Kong or elsewhere. Prospective purchasers of CMU Notes should consult their own tax advisors as to which countries' tax laws could be relevant to acquiring, holding and disposing of CMU Notes and receiving payments of interest, principal and/or other amounts under the CMU Notes and the consequences of such actions under the tax laws of those countries. This description is based upon the law as in effect and applied on the date of this Offering Circular, as well as on the current tax practice, and is subject to any changes in laws and their interpretation that may take effect after such date, including changes with retroactive effect.

Withholding tax

No withholding tax is payable in Hong Kong in respect of payments of principal or interest on the CMU Notes or in respect of any capital gains arising from the sale of the CMU Notes.

Profits Tax

Hong Kong profits tax is chargeable on every person carrying on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong in respect of profits arising in or derived from Hong Kong from such trade, profession or business (excluding profits arising from the sale of capital assets).

Interest on the CMU Notes may be deemed to be profits arising in or derived from Hong Kong from a trade, profession or business carried on in Hong Kong in the following circumstances:

- (i) interest on the CMU Notes is derived from Hong Kong and is received by or accrues to a corporation carrying on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong;
- (ii) interest on the CMU Notes is derived from Hong Kong and is received by or accrues to a person, other than a corporation, carrying on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong and is in respect of the funds of that trade, profession or business;
- (iii) interest on the CMU Notes is received by or accrues to a financial institution (as defined in the Inland Revenue Ordinance (Cap. 112) of Hong Kong (the "IRO") and arises through or from the carrying on by the financial institution of its business in Hong Kong; or
- (iv) interest on the CMU Notes is received by or accrues to a corporation, other than a financial institution, and arises through or from the carrying on in Hong Kong by the corporation of its intra-group financing business (within the meaning of section 16(3) of the IRO).

Sums received by or accrued to a financial institution by way of gains or profits arising through or from the carrying on by the financial institution of its business in Hong Kong from the sale, disposal or redemption of CMU Notes will be subject to Hong Kong profits tax. Sums received by or accrued to a corporation, other than a financial institution, by way of gains or profits arising through or from the carrying on in Hong Kong by the corporation of its intra-group financing business (within the meaning of section 16(3) of the IRO) from the sale, disposal or other redemption of CMU Notes will be subject to Hong Kong profits tax.

Sums derived from the sale, disposal or redemption of CMU Notes will be subject to Hong Kong profits tax where received by or accrued to a person, other than a financial institution, who carries on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong and the sum has a Hong Kong source unless otherwise exempted. The source of such sums will generally be determined by having regard to the manner in which the CMU Notes are acquired and disposed of.

In addition, the Inland Revenue (Amendment) (Taxation on Specified Foreign-sourced Income) Ordinance 2022 of Hong Kong (the "Amendment Ordinance") came into effect on 1 January 2023. Under the Amendment Ordinance, certain foreign-sourced interest on the CMU Notes accrued to an MNE entity (as defined in the Amendment Ordinance) carrying on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong is regarded as arising in or derived from Hong Kong and subject to Hong Kong profits tax when it is received in Hong Kong. The Amendment Ordinance also provides for relief against double taxation in respect of certain foreign-sourced income and transitional matters.

In certain circumstances, Hong Kong profits tax exemptions (such as concessionary tax rates) may be available. Investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors to ascertain the applicability of any exemptions to their individual position.

Stamp Duty – Registered Notes

No stamp duty is payable on the issue of CMU Notes. Stamp duty may be payable on any transfer of CMU Notes if the relevant transfer is required to be registered in Hong Kong. Stamp duty will, however, not be payable on any transfer of CMU Notes provided that either:

- (i) such CMU Notes are denominated in a currency other than the currency of Hong Kong and are not repayable in any circumstances in the currency of Hong Kong; or
- (ii) such CMU Notes constitute loan capital (as defined in the Stamp Duty Ordinance (Cap. 117) of Hong Kong).

With effect from 17 November 2023, if stamp duty applies to the transfer of CMU Notes required to be registered in Hong Kong and which are not otherwise exempt, it will be payable at the rate of 0.2 per cent. (of which 0.1 per cent. is payable by the seller and 0.1 per cent. is payable by the purchaser) normally by reference to the consideration or its value, whichever is higher. In addition, stamp duty is payable at the fixed rate of HK$5 on each instrument of transfer executed in relation to any transfer of the CMU Notes if the relevant transfer is required to be registered in Hong Kong.

HUNGARIAN TAXATION

The following is an overview of the potentially applicable Hungarian tax liabilities with regard to the investment in the Program Securities. The overview does not address tax considerations applicable to investors of the Program Securities that may be subject to special tax rules, including, among others, controlled foreign companies, non-business carrying entities, income tax-exempt entities or companies, enterprises subject to special, elected or obligatory tax regimes. The overview does not cover situations where (i) individuals hold the Program Securities in the context of business activities, (ii) the Program Securities are held as current assets (i.e. allocable to the inventory or otherwise held for trading purposes) or (iii) the Program Securities are received and handled by the private individual or corporate investor due to or under a special arrangement or relationship between the private individual or corporate investor and the Issuer or a third party.

This overview is based on the tax laws of Hungary as in effect and applied on the date of this Offering Circular, and is subject to changes in Hungarian law, including changes that could have a retroactive effect. The following overview is not exhaustive and does not take into account or discuss the tax laws of any country other than Hungary.

Note that the tax treatment of certain categories of the Program Securities is not in all respects established and may, therefore, be uncertain to some extent. In particular, there are no specific tax laws addressing the tax treatment of certificates in Hungary, nor is there any court practice specifically available in respect of certificates.

This overview is based on the Hungarian Personal Income Tax Act (Act CVXII of 1995, as amended) ("PIT Act") and the Hungarian Corporate Income Tax Act (Act LXXXI of 1996, as amended, as amended) ("CIT Act").

This overview addresses neither Hungarian inheritance nor gift tax consequences.

Non-Hungarian Tax Residents

(a) Private individual investors

Private individual investors, who are not tax resident in Hungary, shall not be liable to tax on their income from the Program Securities provided that the Issuer is not Hungarian tax resident or it is not obliged to pay the interest, qualifying as such under the PIT Act, through its Hungarian permanent establishment, branch office or commercial representative office.

(b) Corporate investors

A non-Hungarian tax resident corporate investor shall not be subject to tax in Hungary with respect to any income resulting from the acquisition, holding, redemption or sale of the Program Securities, provided that it does not have a permanent establishment in Hungary to which such transaction with the Program Securities can be related.

Hungarian Tax Residents

(a) Private individual investors

The income of a Hungarian tax resident private individual investor, arising from the acquisition, holding, redemption or sale of the Program Securities which qualify as debt securities is subject to personal income tax ("PIT") in Hungary as interest income at the rate of 15 per cent.

Income from securities which do not qualify as debt securities, however, in general, are publicly offered, listed and traded at arm's length price on a controlled market of any EEA member state or such country with which Hungary has concluded a double tax treaty, is subject to PIT in Hungary as income from controlled capital market transactions at the rate of 15 per cent. The profit and loss of such transactions during the tax year can be totalled and the PIT assessed accordingly. Losses of previous two tax years can be used to offset the taxable profit of the tax year, subject to certain conditions.

Pursuant to Act LII of 2018 on Social Contribution Tax (the "Social Contribution Tax Act"), other income as part of the individual's aggregated income realised by private individuals resident in Hungary for social security purposes is subject to 13 per cent. social contribution tax. Holders who qualify as a "foreigner" pursuant to Act CXXII of 2019 on persons entitled to social security benefits and on the coverage of these benefits and those who are insured for social security purposes in another EU member state or by an EU institution pursuant to Regulation(EC) No 883/2004 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 29 April 2004 on the coordination of social security systems are not subject to social contribution tax in respect of the above-mentioned payments. A non-Hungarian tax resident individual for personal income tax purposes does not necessarily qualify as a "foreigner" for social contribution tax purposes. Hungarian resident individual holders of Program Securities are subject to 13 per cent. social security tax on their interest income, in addition to the payable personal income tax.

(b) Tax allowance and exemption

Favourable tax treatment could be applied on income from long-term investments in Hungary under Section 67/B of the PIT Act. The tax allowance and tax exemption could be applied on the income under a long-term investment contract (in Hungarian, "tartós befektetési számla") ("LTIC") concluded between the private individual and an investment service provider or a credit institution. The LTIC itself is a separate agreement where the parties agree to observe the taxation rules laid down in the PIT Act in order the private individual to be eligible for the below tax allowance or exemption.

In accordance with the rules of the LTIC, the private individual shall conclude an LTIC with an investment service provider or a credit institution and place funds (of at least HUF 25,000) on the LTIC account. The calendar year of opening the LTIC account is regarded as the collection year and funds can only be placed until the 31st of December of such year. The placed funds can be used, in the collection year and the subsequent years, in general, to invest in debt securities and controlled capital market transactions.

The withdrawal of funds, including the yield from the investments, from the LTIC account after the end of the third year following the collection year shall be subject to 10% PIT. The withdrawal of funds, including the yield from the investment, from the LTIC account after the end of the fifth year following the collection year shall be exempt from PIT.

An agreement concluded with a foreign investment service provider/credit institution could also be regarded as an LTIC if (i) it is in compliance with the PIT Act, (ii) the parties apply the respective rules of the PIT Act on their rights and obligation and (iii) the private individual undertakes to (a) tie-up at least cash amounting min. HUF 25 000 (approx. EUR 70) on the account and (b) not to withdraw its investment for 3 or 5 consecutive years. In such case, the private individual shall report to the Hungarian tax authority that it has concluded such agreement with a foreign entity.

(c) Investors other than private individuals

The income of Hungarian tax resident corporate investors arising from the acquisition, holding, redemption or sale of the Program Securities is subject to corporate income tax in Hungary at the rate of 9 per cent. in accordance with the provisions of the CIT Act.

Impact of a Double Tax Treaty between Hungary and the Jurisdiction of the Issuer

Where the private individual or corporate investor is subject to tax in Hungary in relation to the Program Securities, the provisions of the double tax treaty in force between Hungary and the jurisdiction of the Issuer shall be observed. Such provisions may decrease the amount of or eliminate the payable tax in Hungary or the other country. In the case of absence of such double tax treaty, the Hungarian tax laws provide for, in general, a limited deduction of the tax paid abroad from the tax payable in Hungary.

Withholding tax

Under Hungarian tax law currently in force, no Hungarian withholding tax is applicable to interest paid on the Program Securities by the Issuer to non-Hungarian tax resident corporate investors.

Hungary applies withholding tax to non-Hungarian tax resident private individuals, however according to the PIT Act, their income from the Program Securities should not be subject to tax in Hungary.

CROATIA TAXATION

This summary provides a general overview of certain Croatian tax aspects related to the Program Securities issued under this Offering Circular. It is not intended to offer a complete or exhaustive analysis of all tax issues connected with the Program Securities, either within Croatia or in other jurisdictions. Prospective investors should seek advice from their own tax consultants regarding the tax regulations of all relevant jurisdictions, including Croatia, which may apply to the acquisition, holding, disposal, or receipt of interest, principal, or any other payments under the Program Securities, as well as the tax implications of these activities. For the purposes of this summary, the terms "Notes", "Certificates", "Warrants", and any other related instruments are collectively referred to as "Program Securities" or "Securities"

Taxation of Interest and Capital Gains – Private Investors

Under Croatian tax legislation, interest income received by individuals (natural persons) from the Program Securities is treated as capital income and is subject to personal income tax at a flat rate of 12%. This applies both to Croatian tax residents receiving interest income from foreign and domestic issuers and to non-residents receiving such income from sources within Croatia. The Croatian tax system is based on the principles of residency and source of income, but it should be noted that exceptions and deviations from general taxation rules prescribed by domestic legislation may exist. Thus, Croatia's right to tax may be limited by the application of international double taxation treaties, which prescribe different methods of taxing certain types of income or special categories of taxpayers. Therefore, when determining the tax base and the corresponding tax obligation, in addition to national regulations, relevant international treaties and special rules relating to specific income sources must be considered.

Interest income from Program Securities will generally be subject to this tax if the income is deemed to have a Croatian source. However, interest income from interest earned from investment in bonds, regardless of the issuer and type of bond and in debt securities and money market instruments issued by the Republic of Croatia and the units of local and regional self-government and is exempt from taxation.

The tax is typically withheld at source if the interest is paid by a Croatian entity. If no withholding occurs, the investor is obliged to declare and pay the tax through self-assessment by the end of February for income received in the previous calendar year.

Capital gains (as part of income from capital) earned by a natural person taxpayer, which arise from the disposal of Program Securities, are subject to taxation by capital income tax. Financial assets include transferable Program Securities and structured products, as well as shares in trading companies and in other forms of associations with similar characteristics, money market instruments, units in collective investment undertakings, derivatives, proportional parts of liquidation assets in case of liquidation of an investment fund, and other receipts from shares in cases of liquidation, termination, or withdrawal.

The tax base for capital gains is determined as the positive difference between the disposal value – either the agreed sale price or the market value in the case of non-transfer transactions – and the acquisition value. The FIFO (first-in, first-out) method is applied in this case. In special cases such as gifts, inheritance, or status changes, the acquisition date and value of the predecessor may be taken as the acquisition date and value. A tax rate of 12% applies to such capital income.

The tax obligation arises at the moment of transfer of ownership of the financial asset, whether it is a sale, exchange, gift, or other form of transfer. Some transactions are exempt from taxation. For example, capital gains are not taxable if the financial asset is disposed of after two years following the date of acquisition. In cases of gifts, inheritance, or transfers among close family members, the tax obligation does not arise at the moment of transfer. However, if the recipient disposes of such property within two years following the date the predecessor acquired it, it is considered capital income, and the acquisition date for tax purposes is the date when the previous owner acquired the asset.

Capital losses can only be used to offset capital gains realized within the same calendar year, up to the amount of the realized tax base. All related costs charged to the taxpayer are included in the capital loss, while excess losses cannot be carried forward to subsequent periods or used to reduce other types of income.

The obligation to calculate, report, and pay tax on capital gains lies with the natural person and must be fulfilled by the last day of February of the year following the year in which the gain was realized. If a financial asset is held with a domestic financial intermediary, such as a bank, investment firm, or portfolio manager, that intermediary may, by prior agreement, assume the obligation to report and pay tax on behalf of the taxpayer. The taxpayer may also authorize the Central Clearing Depository Company (SKDD) to calculate and report the tax obligation on their behalf, whereby intermediaries and taxpayers must provide SKDD with all relevant data for the previous calendar year by 15 January of the current year. SKDD calculates the tax and informs the taxpayer by 31 January, whereas the final payment must be made by the end of February.

If capital income is not reported or is reported at an amount lower than the market value, the Tax Administration is authorized to determine the tax obligation based on market prices.

Taxation of Interest and Capital Gains – Corporate Investors

Croatian resident legal entities are subject to corporate income tax on interest income received from the Securities, as well as on income derived from the sale of the Program Securities. Such income forms part of the general corporate income tax base and is taxed at a rate of 10% for entities with annual revenue below EUR 1 million, or 18% for those exceeding this threshold.

Non-resident corporate investors receiving interest from Croatian sources may be subject to withholding tax (WHT) at a standard rate of 15%, unless a double taxation treaty applies to reduce or eliminate this tax. For example, under certain treaties, the WHT rate may be reduced or even eliminated entirely, particularly if the recipient is a qualified resident of a treaty jurisdiction and the relevant formalities (e.g., tax residency certificate) are met.

Interest payments (also on Program Securities) are subject to WHT at a 15% rate, unless they relate to the following:

- (i) merchandise loans for the procurement of goods used for the taxpayer's performance of business activity,
- (ii) loans given by a foreign bank or other financial institution,
- (iii) possessors of bonds, both state and corporate, that are foreign legal persons.

The general rule is that WHT on dividends and profit shares is applied at the rate of 10%. Croatia applies WHT at 25% on all the above-mentioned types of fees and services, as well as on market research services, tax consulting services, business consulting services, or auditing services when paid to non-residents from EU non-cooperative jurisdictions.

An exception to the general rule applies to interest payments to related companies from other EU member states. Such payments may be made without withholding tax if prescribed conditions are met. These conditions are taken from Council Directive 2003/49/EC on a common system of taxation applicable to interest and royalty payments between related companies of different member states.

ROMANIAN TAXATION

The following text is a high-level summary of certain Romanian tax aspects and considerations relating to the Program Securities. This information is of a general nature and it does not purport to be a comprehensive analysis of all relevant tax aspects that has to be considered when deciding to invest in Program Securities. This summary is based on the provisions of the Romanian fiscal legislation in force as of 24 May 2026.

This summary does not describe any tax aspects resulting from the tax laws of any other state than Romania.

Investors are, under all circumstances, strongly advised to contact their own tax advisor to clarify the individual consequences of their investment, holding and disposal of the Program Securities.

The summary below assumes that the Issuer of the Program Securities is not tax resident in Romania and the Program Securities are not issued via a Romanian branch/permanent establishment of the Issuer.

Romanian Withholding Tax on Certain Payments

Interest income received by a non-resident person from a Romanian resident is subject to withholding tax.

Starting from the premise that the Issuer is not resident for tax purposes in Romania and it has no permanent establishment in Romania, the payments made by the Issuer in respect of interest, premiums, principal, dividends, capital gains in connection with Program Securities will not be deemed made from Romania.

Taxation Of Resident Individual Holders

Tax resident individuals in Romania or non-resident citizens who meet the conditions of tax residence under the Romanian legislation, respectively the criteria of residence provided in the tax Code, are subject to personal income tax in Romania on their world income. Therefore, individual Romanian holders would be subject to personal income tax due on their investment income resulting from holding, redeeming, selling or any other notes, warrants and certificates transaction. The tax rate applied to investment income varies depending on its nature. Generally, interest and premiums are taxed at a standard rate of 10%, while dividends are subject to 16% tax rate. For gains derived from the transfer of notes, warrants, certificates, and other derivative transactions, the applicable tax rate is either 3 percent and 6 percent, depending on the holding period:

- (a) in the case of notes, warrants and certificates:
 - (i) by applying a rate of 3% on each gain from the transfer of notes, warrants and certificates that were acquired and disposed of in a period longer than 365 days, inclusive, from the date of acquisition;
 - (ii) by applying a rate of 6% on each gain from the transfer of notes, warrants and certificates that were acquired and disposed of in a period less than 365 days from the date of acquisition;
- (b) in the case of operations with derivative financial instruments:
 - (i) by applying a rate of 3% on each gain from carrying out operations with derivative financial instruments held for a period greater than 365 days, inclusive, from the date of acquisition;
 - (ii) by applying a rate of 6% on each gain from carrying out operations with derivative financial instruments held for a period less than 365 days from the date of acquisition.

To determine the period in which they were held, it is considered that the notes, warrants and certificates and financial instruments are sold/redeemed in the same order in which they were acquired, respectively first in - first out, for each symbol.

For the purpose of calculating the gain, the fiscal value is determined by applying the weighted average cost method, including the costs related to the transfer/transaction, for each symbol, regardless of the holding period.

According to the provisions of the Fiscal Code, in Romania, the annual taxable net gain from the transfer of Program Securities, from any other operations with financial instruments, including derivative financial instruments, is determined by the taxpayer as the difference between the annual net gain and the reported losses from previous fiscal years from these operations. The annual net gain/loss from transfer of Program Securities will be determined by the single declaration regarding the income tax and the social contributions due by the natural persons. If the annual result is a net loss it could be recovered up to 70% of the annual net gains obtained in the following 5 consecutive years received by the individuals from the same income and from the same source-country. The loss carryover rule is: the carryover is made chronologically, depending on the age of the loss, in the next 5 consecutive years; the right to carry forward is personal and non-transferable; the carried forward loss, not compensated after the expiration of the 5 years, represents the final loss of the taxpayer.

The annual net losses coming from abroad are carried forward and compensated by the taxpayer with the incomes of the same nature and source, realized on each country and registered in the next 5 fiscal years. Losses incurred from the transfer of the Program Securities and from transactions involving derivative financial instruments, carried out through a Romanian paying agent, are neither carried forward nor offset, and represent definitive losses for the taxpayer.

The fiscal residents of the states with which Romania has concluded a Double Taxation Avoidance Convention are generally taxable for the interests obtained from Romania in the state of fiscal residence, but for each situation, the provisions of the conventions between states must be taken into account. Thus, according to these double taxation conventions, exemptions can be considered in the situation where the natural person has paid tax by withholding tax in a foreign country for the incomes obtained from the Program Securities.

The obligation to declare and pay tax in relation to any income and/or gains obtained from abroad by a Romanian tax resident individual stays with that individual. However, if the payments of the income and/or gains in relations to the Program Securities are effectively performed through a Romanian paying agent, it might be the case that (although this is debatable) the Romanian tax authorities require this agent to withheld at source the income tax due by the Romanian tax resident individual on certain categories of income, such as interest and dividends.

The resident individual holder is obliged to pay the contribution to the state health insurance fund as follows:

- if the incomes achieved are between 6 and 12 gross minimum wages per country, the calculation basis is at the level of 6 gross minimum wages per country, - the minimum gross salary per country starting with 1 January 2025 is RON 4,050. Starting with 1 July 2026 the minimum gross salary is RON 4,325
- if the incomes achieved are between 12 and 24 gross minimum wages per country, the calculation basis is at the level of 12 gross minimum wages per country,
- if the income earned is at least equal to 24 gross minimum wages per country, the calculation base is at the level of 24 gross minimum wages per country.

For 2025, the limit is RON 24,300 (the minimum gross salary in the country is RON 4,050). The amount of the social health insurance contribution is calculated at the minimum mentioned limits, applying the 10% quota to it.

The contribution to the state health insurance fund is also due even if the income and gains obtained from the Program Securities are lower than the threshold above, but the income and gains from the Program Securities cumulated with revenues obtained by the resident individual from other sources (except for income from salaries and assimilated to salaries, for example income from independent activities, income from other sources, income from intellectual property rights) exceed this threshold.

If the income and gains obtained from the Program Securities are lower than the thresholds above, and the resident individual does not obtain revenues from other sources (with the exception of salaries), the contribution is only optional.

Taxation Of Resident Entities Holders

Resident entities which are tax resident in Romania (i.e. if they are incorporated in Romania or if they have their effective place of management in Romania or if they are legal entities incorporated according to European legislation with registered office in Romania) will be subject to corporate income tax on their worldwide income, including any income and gains resulting from the holding, redemption, sale or any other transaction with the Program Securities. The applicable tax rate is 16 per cent. Starting with 1 January 2024 / amended fiscal year starting with 2024, the annual tax losses established by the corporate tax return are recovered from the taxable profits made, within the limit of 70% inclusive, in the next 5 consecutive years.

The taxable base for corporate tax purpose is computed as the difference between revenues and expenses registered by entities as per the accounting rules, adjusted with tax items. Therefore, the corporate tax consequences deriving from holding, redemption, sale or any other transaction with the Program Securities is dependent also on the accounting treatment applied to such Program Securities, especially as regards the recognition of the related revenues and expenses.

The Romanian fiscal legislation, exempt from corporate income tax, in certain conditions, the incomes derived from dividends and from evaluation/revaluation/sale of shares.

The Romanian fiscal legislation, states that the losses incurred by a company from selling receivables is deductible within the limit of 30%. In case of credit institutions, if receivables are partially covered by provisions or taken off from the balance sheet and then sold, 70% of the difference between the value of receivable and their selling price represents taxable income. This restriction does no longer apply to transfers of government notes, warrants and certificates, bonds and other debt instruments that give the holder a contractual right to collect cash, the expenses recorded from such transfers being deductible when calculating the tax result.

The entities with an annual turnover exceeding EUR 50,000,000 will be required to pay a minimum turnover tax of 0.5%, in cases where the corporate income tax due is lower than this minimum tax, in accordance with the applicable legal provisions.

Relief for withholding tax paid in a foreign country in relation with the Program Securities may be available, if Romania has in place a double tax treaty in place with the country where the tax was withheld. The relief is granted under the form of deduction from and within the limit of the corporate income tax due in Romania.

Please note that, starting with 1 January 2025, legal entities with an income lower than the RON equivalent of EUR 100,000 (the income limit is verified taking into account the income earned by the Romanian legal entity, cumulated with the income of companies related to it), and meeting the other conditions set forth by Romanian legislation, may opt to apply the micro-entity income tax of 1% depending on specific criteria. This tax is applied to income obtained (except for certain income specifically provided) without the possibility to deduct expenses.

Taxation Of Non-Residents

Non-resident (legal entities and/or individuals carrying on independent activities) will be subject to tax in Romania in respect of income derived from the Program Securities, in case they have a permanent establishment in Romania to which the Program Securities are attributable.

Stamp Duties, Transfer Taxes, Other Taxes

There are no stamp duties, transfer taxes or other taxes due in Romania in connection with acquisitions and transactions with the Program Securities, other than those mentioned above.

SLOVAKIA TAXATION

This summary covers general tax treatments which would be applicable for an individual investor or a corporate investor who was considered a Slovak tax resident and is presumably involved in acquiring, owning or disposing of the Program Securities as well as receiving any payment in any kind of capital gains on the Program Securities in the territory of Slovakia. This does not represent a comprehensive summary of all the tax-relevant aspects that may be important from the tax perspective of making an investor's decision to purchase, hold or sell the Program Securities. This is not to be provided any representation or guarantee regarding possible tax consequences of the purchase, holding or disposal of the Program Securities or any tax advice provided by the professional. This summary is based on assumption that the Issuer is not deemed to be tax resident in Slovakia and does not operate a branch which should be situated in Slovakia.

Withholding tax on payments made to investor

On the basis that the Issuer is not a resident in Slovakia for tax purposes and has no presence or permanent establishment in Slovakia, there is no Slovak withholding tax applicable on payments made by the Issuer in respect of the Program Securities to the investor. If the recipient of the payments related to the Program Securities is considered a Slovak tax resident, respective articles on interest, dividend payments or a disposal of the Program Securities of Double Tax Treaty concluded between country of Issuer and Slovakia if exists, should be applied. The withholding tax should be triggered only in case while the Issuer was a tax resident or non-residential legal entity with its permanent establishment situated in Slovakia, or in some cases where the Securities are held in custody account in Slovakia.

Private investor with tax residence in Slovakia

A private individual investor who is a tax resident in Slovakia, is subject to personal income tax which is applied to any income gained from the holding, redemption, sell or any other transaction related to the Program Securities including interest income or any kind of gain earned from the disposal of the Program Securities. In general, the applicable tax rate is 19%. However, the tax rate may progressively increase:

- (a) If a total annual income of the Slovak individual investor including income derived from the Program Securities exceeds EUR 43,983, the rate 25% is applied for the income exceeding this amount.
- (b) If a total annual income of the Slovak individual investor including income derived from the Securities exceeds EUR 60,349, the rate 30% is applied for the income exceeding this amount.
- (c) If a total annual income of the Slovak individual investor including income derived from the Securities exceeds EUR 75,010, the rate 35% is applied for the income exceeding this amount.

The private investor must file a personal income tax return for a particular calendar year when income was credited to investor's account, report his worldwide income subject to income tax and finally pay the tax liability which determined in the annual tax return. Income taxed by withholding tax in an Issuer's jurisdiction should be deducted from the total tax liability reported in the country of residence. Gains earned from the sale of Program Securities which were accepted for trading on the stock exchange in Slovakia or abroad will be exempt from income tax if the private investor holds the Program Securities for more than one year, whereas this exemption shall not apply to income from the transfer of Program Securities which were the business assets of the taxpayer. The gains should also be exempt from personal income tax if the Program Securities were included in a long-term investment portfolio managed by the trader on a capital market in compliance with the Act No. 566/2001 Coll. on Securities and Investment Services, as amended (the "Slovak Securities Act") and redeemed from the portfolio after at least 15 years. Furthermore, gains of up to EUR 500 per calendar year from the disposal of the Program Securities could be exempt, whereas this exemption shall not apply to income from the transfer of Program Securities which were the business assets of the taxpayer.

In addition to income tax, as a general rule, a private individual investor who is mandatorily health insured person in Slovakia has to pay health insurance contributions at a rate of 16% of the taxable income from the Program Securities.

Entrepreneur and Corporate investor with tax residence in Slovakia

Legal entities residing in Slovakia will be subject to corporate income tax on any income resulting from the holding, redemption, sell or any other transaction with the Program Securities. Such financial income or gain from the disposal of the Program Securities shall form part of the general corporate income tax basis determined by accounting performed in compliance with Slovak Accounting Principles which is additionally adjusted by non-taxable income or non-deductible expense. The applicable corporate income tax rate is 21% except the taxpayers with limited income up to EUR 100,000 for whom preferred tax rate in amount of 10% is applied. Taxpayers with income more than EUR 5,000,000 pay a tax rate in amount of 24%.

Non-residential investors in Slovakia

The capital gain earned from the holding or disposal of the Program Securities could be subject to withholding tax of 19% or alternatively 35% applicable for countries which are not discovered on a white-list of jurisdictions concluding a Double Tax Treaty or allowing AVI (Automatic Exchange of Information) with Slovakia or such gain is contributed to the permanent establishment of foreign investor situated in Slovakia.

Value added tax (VAT)

On the basis that the Issuer has no seat in Slovakia for VAT and has no establishment in the Slovak territory which presents material and personal capacity for being a taxable person in Slovakia, no Slovak VAT will be payable with respect to the Program Securities or with respect to payments on the Program Securities. In general, purchase or sell transactions regarding the Program Securities are not within the scope of VAT or deemed to be exempt from VAT as financial service depending on the fact that the transaction is carried out by the Issuer itself or any intermediating party.

Other tax duty in Slovakia

The acquisition, ownership, sell or disposal of the Program Securities by an investor in Slovakia does not trigger any stamp duty, or any registration obligation, transfer tax, gift tax or other similar tax burden.

CZECH TAXATION

The information set out below is a summarised description of certain material Czech tax consequences of the purchase, holding and disposition of Program Securities that may be relevant to holders of Programme Securities who are Czech tax residents, beneficially own income derived from such Program Securities, and who, if they are individuals, have held their Program Securities as private investment and not as part of their business assets (the "Czech Holders" or individually a "Czech Holder"). This summary does not purport to be a complete analysis of all Czech tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to purchase the Program Securities. It is confined solely to the tax laws of the Czech Republic as in effect on the date of this Offering Circular and their prevailing interpretations available on or before such date. All of the foregoing is subject to change, which could apply retroactively and could affect the continued validity of this summary. Due to the absence of statutory, judicial or administrative authorities providing direct guidance on the tax treatment of structured instruments such as the Program Securities, there is a significant degree of uncertainty regarding the tax implications of an investment in the Program Securities. Therefore, prospective Czech Holders of the Program Securities should consult their own tax advisors as to the consequences under the tax laws of the Czech Republic and the tax laws of any jurisdiction where the income from the Program Securities may be subject to taxation, in relation to the purchase, holding and disposition of the Program Securities, including receiving payments of interest, principal and/or other payments under the Program Securities. Such advice should consider the relevance of the tax considerations discussed herein to their individual situation.

General Considerations

Application of special bonds tax regime to the Program Securities

Czech income tax law provides for special rules governing the taxation of bonds. According to these rules, income from bonds (including similar debt securities issued under foreign law) is classified and taxed by reference to the Czech bonds regulations. However, these regulations do not recognize securities as bonds if the right to repayment of a specified amount linked to such securities is contingent, even partially, on the occurrence of a certain event. Therefore, except in cases where there is full capital protection – guaranteeing that an investor's initial investment will be returned upon redemption or maturity under all circumstances – it can be reasonably argued that this special tax regime does not encompass instruments with complex payoff structures, such as the Program Securities. This information assumes that the special bonds tax regime does not apply to the Program Securities.

Classification of Program Securities and income from them

This information assumes that, for Czech tax purposes, the Program Securities are treated as debt securities (other than bonds), and the income derived from them is categorized as interest income. Nevertheless, alternative treatments may also be applicable. Furthermore, even if the general characterization of the relevant Program Securities as debt is accepted, uncertainties may still exist regarding specific aspects of their tax treatment.

Czech interest income sourcing rules

Interest is considered as Czech source income only if it is paid by a Czech tax resident or by a Czech permanent establishment of a non-resident. Consequently, there may be uncertainty regarding whether the appointment of a paying agent or a similar entity in the Czech Republic could cause the interest to be deemed Czech source income, thereby subjecting it to withholding tax. However, it can be argued that the sourcing rules have not been designed to establish a paying-agent-based withholding tax system and that interest should be regarded as having a Czech source only if the Issuer is a tax resident in the Czech Republic or if it has a permanent establishment there, provided that there is an economic link between the Program Securities on which the interest is paid and that permanent establishment. This information assumes that the Issuer is neither resident in the Czech Republic for tax purposes nor has a permanent establishment there.

Czech income tax

Withholding tax on interest payable by the Issuers

All payments of interest in respect of the Program Securities can be made by the Issuers without any deduction or withholding for or on account of any taxes imposed or assessed in the Czech Republic.

Czech Holders – Individuals

The interest accruing on the Program Securities is subject to taxation in the Czech Republic when such interest is paid to the Czech Holders who are individuals.

The gross amount of interest income (including any tax withheld abroad and not reduced by any expenses) is treated as capital income. Such income is included in a general tax base of the Czech Holder which is subject to progressive personal income tax of 15 or 23 per cent., depending on the Czech Holder's income bracket (the higher rate applying on the tax base exceeding CZK 1,762,812 in 2026). However, the Czech Holders may decide to include the gross amount of interest into a separate tax base designated for taxation of certain foreign-sourced income in which case a flat personal income tax of 15% will apply.

Unless exempt from tax, capital gains realized by Czech Holders upon sale of the Program Securities are subject to progressive personal income tax of 15 or 23 per cent., depending on the Czech Holder's income bracket as described above. Any loss will generally be treated as non-deductible, except where such loss is compensated by taxable gains on the sales of other securities in the same year and the income from the sale of Program Securities is not tax-exempt.

Capital gains realized by a Czech Holder from the sale of the Program Securities are exempt from Czech personal income tax if:

- (a) the individual has held such Program Securities continuously for more than three years before their sale;
- (b) the total gross income (i.e. not a gain) from the sale of securities (including the Program Securities) in a given calendar year does not exceed CZK 100,000.

If the income from the sale of the Program Securities is tax exempt and such income exceeds CZK 5,000,000 then the Czech Holder must report such income to the tax authorities.

Czech Holders – Corporations (holders other than individuals)

Interest derived from the Program Securities is included in the general tax base of the Czech Holder, which is subject to corporate income tax at a flat rate of 21 per cent., in 2026. The Czech Holders are generally required to recognize the interest in its profit and loss statement on an accrual (as opposed to cash) basis.

Capital gains realized upon the sale of the Program Securities are included in the general tax base, which is subject to corporate income tax at the flat rate of 21 per cent., in 2026. No exemption from tax is available and losses are generally tax deductible.

A specific regime may apply to certain corporations (e.g., pension funds, investment funds).

Withholding obligations for the Czech Holders and elimination of double taxation

The Czech Holders, which include both individuals and corporations, may be subject to the obligation of withholding a tax security upon purchasing the Program Securities from holders who are tax resident outside the European Union or the European Economic Area. This withholding is calculated at a rate of 1% of the gross purchase price of the Program Securities and serves as a preliminary payment towards the Czech tax liability that the non-resident seller may have to self-assess and report on the income derived from the sale of the Program Securities. The Czech law position may be modified under any applicable tax treaty between the Czech Republic and the country of tax residence of the selling holder of the Program Securities.

The Czech tax law does not provide for any unilateral foreign-tax credit or a similar arrangement for tax on any foreign-sourced income from the Program Securities. Therefore, any double taxation relief must be sought by the Czech Holders solely according to an applicable tax treaty, if any.

Stamp, duty, transfer and other similar taxes

No Czech stamp duty, registration, transfer or similar taxes will be payable in connection with the acquisition, ownership, sale or disposal of the Program Securities by the Czech Holders

POLISH TAXATION

*The following is a summary of certain Polish tax considerations with respect to the holding of Notes, Certificates and Warrants (jointly as "Program Securities") issued by current Issuers by an investor resident in Poland. The summary does not cover tax consequences concerning exemptions available to specific taxpayers or specific taxable items. Prospective investors should be aware that the particular terms of issue of any series of Program Securities as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement may affect the tax treatment of that and other series of Program Securities. Income taxation of a Polish tax resident personal income taxpayer

Under Art. 3.1 of the Act on Personal Income tax Act dated 26 July 1991 (as amended, the PIT Act) natural persons, if they are residing in Poland, are subject to tax on their total income (revenue) regardless of the location of their sources of income (unlimited tax liability).

Under Art. 3.1a a person residing in Poland is a person who:

- has a centre of personal or economic interests in Poland (centre of vital interests) or
- stays in Poland for more than 183 days in a tax year, unless the relevant tax treaty provides otherwise (Article 3.1a of the PIT Act).

According to Art. 17 of the PIT Act, income from the Program Securities should be treated as money capital (kapitały pieniężne) source of income, which includes (i) interest (discount) from securities (Art. 17.1.3 of the PIT Act), (ii) redemption of notes generating periodical proceeds by the issuer (wykup przez emitenta obligacji, od których są należne świadczenia okresowe, the Redemption) (Art. 17.1.3a of the PIT Act) and (iii) disposal of securities for remuneration (Art. 17.1.6.a of the PIT Act).

Interest income and income from the Redemption

Under Art. 30a.7 of the PIT Act, interest income, including discount, from securities and income from the Redemption does not cumulate with general income taxed progressively, but under Art. 30a.1.2 of the PIT Act (with respect to interest and discount) and Art. 30a.1.2a (with respect to income from Redemption) is subject to tax at flat rate of 19 per cent.

Under Art. 24.24 of the PIT Act, the income from Redemption is calculated as a difference between the amount obtained from the redemption of notes together with proceeds for the last period before the repurchase of the securities and the expenditures incurred for acquisition of the notes on the primary or secondary market by the taxpayer or its testator. Amounts of interest paid by the taxpayer or the testator upon acquisition of the notes in the part in which such interest is free of tax do not constitute expenses for acquisition of the notes for the purposes of calculation of income from Redemption.

Under Art. 41.4 of the PIT Act, the payer of interest or proceeds from Redemption, other than an individual not acting within the scope of their business activity, is obliged to collect flat-rate income tax on any payment of interest or Redemption proceeds.

Under Art. 41.4d of the PIT Act, the entities keeping securities accounts for taxpayers, acting as tax remitters, should withhold the tax on interest (discount) and Redemption income if such interest has been earned in Poland and is related to securities recorded on these accounts, and the payment to the taxpayers made through these entities. These rules should also apply to the entities indicated in Art. 3.2 of the CIT Act (non-residents), to the extent they conduct their business activity through a foreign establishment located within the territory of Poland, if the account on which given Program Securities are recorded is connected with the activity of that establishment. Consequently, foreign entities that do not operate through a Polish permanent establishment, e.g. foreign investment firms, not acting through Polish permanent establishments, should not be obliged to withhold the tax.

There are no regulations defining in which cases income earned (revenue) by a Polish tax resident should be considered income (revenue) earned in Poland. However, we can expect those cases to be analogous to those of non-residents. Pursuant to Art. 3.2b of the PIT Act, income (revenues) earned in the Republic of Poland by non-residents shall include in particular income (revenues) from:

1. work performed in the Republic of Poland based on a service relationship, employment relationship, outwork system and co-operative employment relationship irrespective of the place where remuneration is paid;
2. activity performed in person in the Republic of Poland irrespective of the place where remuneration is paid;
3. economic activity pursued in the Republic of Poland, including through a foreign establishment located in the Republic of Poland;

4. immovable property located in the Republic of Poland or rights to such property, including from its disposal in whole or in part, or from disposal of any rights to such property;
5. securities and derivatives other than securities, admitted to public trading in the Republic of Poland as part of the regulated stock exchange market, including those obtained from the disposal of these securities or derivatives, or the exercise of rights resulting from them;
6. redemption, repurchase, buy-out and otherwise annihilation of participation titles in capital funds established on the basis of the provisions in force in the Republic of Poland and sale of these participation titles for a fee;
7. the transfer of ownership of shares in a company, of all rights and obligations in a partnership without legal personality, or participation in an investment fund, a collective investment undertaking or other legal entity and rights of similar character or from receivables being a consequence of holding those shares, rights and obligations, participation or rights- if at least 50% of the value of assets of this company, partnership, investment fund, collective investment undertaking or legal entity is constituted, directly or indirectly, by immovable properties located in the Republic of Poland, or rights to such immovable properties;
8. the transfer of ownership of shares, all rights and obligations, participation or similar rights in a real estate company (as defined in the PIT Act);
9. the receivables settled, including receivables put at disposal, paid out or deducted, by natural persons, legal persons, or organisational units without legal personality, having their place of residence, registered office, or management board in the Republic of Poland, irrespective of the place of concluding and performing the agreement; and the income (revenue) referred to in this point is considered to be the revenue listed in Art. 29.1 of the PIT Act, if they do not constitute income (revenue) referred to in points (i)-(vii) above; Art. 29.1 of the PIT Act lists, among others, interest income other than those mentioned in Art. 30a.1 of the PIT Act (which, in turn, refers to interest and discount on securities and from the Redemption); and
10. unrealised gains as referred to in the exit tax regulations covered by the PIT Act.

The above list is not exhaustive; therefore, the tax authorities may also consider that income (revenues) not listed above is sourced in Poland.

Given the above, each situation should be analysed to determine whether interest earned by a Polish tax resident individual from the Program Securities is considered to be income sourced in Poland and whether the entity operating the Program Securities account for the individual will withhold the tax. Since the issuer is not a Polish entity as a rule interest from the Program Securities should not be considered as earned in the territory of Poland, unless specific situation occurs (eg the Program Securities are admitted to public trading in Poland).

It should be expected that the issuer itself or operating the Program Securities account will not collect Polish withholding tax.

Under Art. 45.3b of the PIT Act, if the tax is not withheld, Polish tax resident individual is obliged to declare and settle the tax themselves in their annual tax return. Under Art. 45.1 of the PIT Act, the annual tax return should be submitted by 30 April of the following year.

Separate, specific rules apply to income from interest and from Redemption on Program Securities held on Polish omnibus accounts (within the meaning of the provisions of the Act on Trading in Financial Instruments, hereinafter Omnibus Accounts). Under Article 41.10 of the PIT Act, insofar as Program Securities registered in Omnibus Accounts are concerned, the entities operating Omnibus Accounts through which the amounts due are paid are liable to withhold the flat-rate income tax on interest income. The tax is charged on the day of placing the amounts due at the disposal of the Omnibus Account holder. This rule also applies to remitters who are payers of corporate income tax and are subject to limited tax liability in Poland, to the extent they conduct their business through a foreign establishment, and it is to that establishment's operations that the Program Securities account is linked.

Pursuant to Art. 30a.2a of the PIT Act, with respect to income (revenue) from interest and Redemption transferred to taxpayers holding rights attached to Program Securities registered in Omnibus Accounts whose identity has not been revealed to the tax remitter in accordance with the Act on Trading in Financial Instruments, a 19 per cent.

flat-rate tax is withheld by the tax remitter from the aggregate income (revenue) released for the benefit of all such taxpayers through the Omnibus Account holder. These rules should also apply to the entities indicated in Art. 3.2. of the CIT Act to the extent that they conduct business activity through a foreign establishment located within the territory of Poland, if the account on which given Program Securities are recorded is connected with the activity of that establishment. Consequently, foreign entities that do not operate through a Polish permanent establishment, e.g. foreign investment firms not acting through Polish permanent establishments, should not be obliged to withhold the tax.

Under Art. 45.3c of the PIT Act, taxpayers are obliged to disclose the amount of incomes (revenues) from interest (discount) and Redemption on Program Securities in the annual tax return if the Program Securities were registered in an Omnibus Account and the taxpayer's identity was not revealed to the tax remitter.

Under Art. 30a.9 of the PIT Act, withholding tax incurred outside Poland up to an amount equal to the tax paid abroad, but not higher than the tax calculated at 19 per cent. The relevant double tax treaties to which Poland is a party can provide other methods for avoiding the double taxation.

Income other than interest

Income other than interest or Redemption derived by a Polish tax resident individual from financial instruments held as non-business asset, including income from transfer of Program Securities against a consideration or exercise of rights arising from them (should they be derivative financial instruments) does not cumulate with general income taxed progressively, but is subject to flat rate tax at 19 per cent. The cost of acquiring securities is generally tax deductible when the corresponding revenue from disposal of Program Securities is earned.

In case any of the Program Securities are derivative financial instruments, the costs of acquiring such instruments are generally recognized when the rights arising from these instruments are exercised or until the rights arising from these instruments are exercised or the rights arising from these instruments are waived or they are sold for consideration (Art. 23.1.38a of the PIT Act).

Revenue from the disposal of Program Securities against a consideration is their value expressed in the price specified in the contract (Art. 17.2 and Art. 19.1 of the PIT Act). However, if the price, without justified economic reasons, significantly differs from the market value, the tax authority determines the revenue in the amount of the market value (Art. 19.4 of the PIT Act).

The Polish tax resident individual is obliged to declare and settle the tax due on the disposal of securities against consideration themselves from 15 February until 30 April of the year following the year in which the income was earned (Art. 45.1 of the PIT Act). No tax is withheld by the person making the payments.

In principle, if an individual holds the Program Securities as business assets in principle in accordance with art. 30b.4 of the PIT Act the income should be taxed, the same way as other business income taxed in accordance with Art. 30c or Art. 27 of the PIT Act. the income should be taxed the income should be subject to tax in the same way as other business income. This will either be tax, at 19 per cent. rate or the 12 per cent. to 32 per cent. progressive tax rate depending up on the individual's choice and the meeting of certain conditions, which should be settled by the individuals themselves.

Income taxation of a Polish tax resident corporate income taxpayer

Under Art. 3.1 of the Act on Corporate Income tax Act dated 15 February 1992 (as amended, the CIT Act) taxpayers, if they have their registered office or management board in Poland are subject to tax on their total income, regardless of where it is earned.

The taxpayer has a management board in Poland, inter alia, when current affairs of that taxpayer are conducted in an organized and continuous manner in Poland, based in particular on:

- a contract, decision, court ruling or other document regulating the establishment or functioning of that taxpayer, or
- powers of attorney granted, or
- Affiliations.

A Polish tax resident corporate income taxpayer should be subject to income tax regarding the Program Securities (both on any capital gains and on interest/discount) following the same principles as those which apply to any other income received from business activity within the same source of income. Interest is generally taxable on a cash basis, i.e. when it is received or capitalized and not when it has accrued.

In respect of capital gains revenue from the disposal of Program Securities against a consideration is their value expressed in the price specified in the contract. However, if the price, without justified economic reasons, significantly differs from the market value, the tax authority determines the revenue in the amount of the market value. As a rule, the cost of acquiring securities is generally tax deductible when the corresponding revenue from disposal of securities is earned. The Polish tax resident corporate income taxpayer itself (without the involvement of the tax remitter) is responsible for settling any income tax on interest/discount and on the disposal of Program Securities against a consideration within the relevant source of income.

In case any of the Program Securities are derivative financial instruments the date of obtaining revenue from the exercise of rights arising from such instruments is the moment of exercise of these rights (Art. 12.3f of the CIT Act). In respect of capital gains, the recognition of costs related to the acquisition of derivative financial instruments is available upon the rights arising from these instruments are exercised or the rights arising from these instruments are waived or they are sold against consideration (Art. 16.1.8b of the CIT Act)

Regarding the proper source of revenue, in principle, the income (revenue) from Program Securities, including their transfer against a consideration, is combined with revenues from capital gains (Art. 7b.1.6 of the CIT Act). In the case of derivative instruments used to secure income or costs not included in capital gains (Art. 7b.1.6.b in fine of the CIT Act) as well as the insurers, banks and certain other entities, this revenue is classified as revenues from other sources than capital gains (Art. 7b.2 of the CIT Act).

As a result the appropriate tax rate is the same as the tax rate applicable to business activity, ie 19 per cent. for a regular corporate income taxpayer or 9 per cent. for small and new taxpayers i.e. taxpayers with revenues in the tax year not exceeding EUR 2 million (Small Taxpayers) (with certain exceptions listed in Art. 19.1a-1e of the CIT Act), taking into consideration the appropriate source of income (the lower rate does not apply to incomes classified as capital incomes – Art. 7b of the CIT Act).

There are certain groups of taxpayers that will be subject to increased CIT rates from tax years beginning in 2026 onwards as presented below:

A.	Banks (domestic and foreign), tax groupings including a domestic bank (only in the part in which the income of this bank remains in the sum of the income of the companies that make up this grouping), credit institutions (as defined in CRR) • excluding cooperative banks	30%	26%	23%
B.	Cooperative banks, savings and credit unions	27%	23%	21%
C.	Entities from groups A. (excluding tax groupings). and B. being Small Taxpayers	17%	13%	11%

Entities from groups A-C should verify the CIT Act to check the applicable rate, as it provides for provisions addressing (i) cases when the tax year does not match the calendar year, (ii) simplified tax advances (iii) taxpayers under special restructuring proceedings (Art. 38aa -Art. 38ad of the CIT Act).

Although Polish corporate income taxpayers should not be subject to Polish withholding tax, such tax may be withheld, under specific rules applying to interest income on securities held in Omnibus Accounts, under Art. 26.2a of the CIT Act, for income (revenue) from interest transferred to taxpayers holding rights attached to securities registered in Omnibus Accounts whose identity has not been revealed to the tax remitter in accordance with the Act on Trading in Financial Instruments, a 20 per cent flat-rate tax is withheld by the tax remitter from the aggregate income (revenue) released for the benefit of all such taxpayers through the Omnibus Account holder. If such tax is withheld for a Polish tax resident corporate income taxpayer, to receive a refund of such tax, the entity should contact its tax advisor.

Any withholding tax incurred outside Poland up to an amount equal to the tax paid abroad, but not higher than the tax calculated according to the relevant domestic rate can be deducted from Polish income tax liability. The relevant conventions for the avoidance of double taxation to which Poland is a party can provide other methods for avoiding the double taxation.

Program Securities held by a non-Polish tax resident (natural person or corporation)

Under Art. 3.2a of the PIT Act, natural persons, if they do not reside in Poland, are liable to pay tax only on income (revenue) earned in Poland (limited obligation to pay tax).

Under Art. 3.2 of the CIT Act, in the case of taxpayers who do not have their registered office or management in Poland, only the income they earn in Poland is subject to tax obligation in Poland.

Non-Polish tax resident individuals and corporate income taxpayers are subject to Polish income tax only with respect to their income earned in Poland. Under Art. 3.3 of the CIT Act, income (revenues) earned in the Republic of Poland by non-residents shall include in particular income (revenues) from:

1. all types of activity pursued in the Republic of Poland, including through a foreign establishment located in the Republic of Poland;
2. immovable property located in the Republic of Poland or rights to such property, including from its disposal in whole or in part, or from the disposal of any rights to such property;
3. securities and derivatives other than securities, admitted to public trading in the Republic of Poland as part of the regulated stock exchange market, including those obtained from the disposal of these securities or derivatives, or the exercise of rights resulting from them;
4. the transfer of ownership of shares in a company, of all rights and obligations in a partnership without legal personality, or participation in an investment fund, a collective investment undertaking or other legal entity and rights of similar character or from receivables being a consequence of holding those shares, rights and obligations, participation or rights - if at least 50% of the value of assets of this company, partnership, investment fund, collective investment undertaking or legal entity is constituted, directly or indirectly, by immovable properties located in the Republic of Poland, or rights to such immovable properties;
5. the transfer of ownership of shares, all rights and obligations, participation or similar rights in a real estate company (as defined in the CIT Act);
6. the receivables settled, including receivables put at disposal, paid out or deducted, by natural persons, legal persons, or organisational units without legal personality, having their place of residence, registered office, or management board in the Republic of Poland, irrespective of the place of concluding or performing the agreement; and
7. unrealised gains referred to in Chapter 5a of the CIT Act covering exit tax regulations.

Similar provisions are included in Art. 3.2b of the PIT Act.

It should be noted that the list of incomes (revenues) gained in Poland, as provided in Art. 3.3. of the CIT Act and Art. 3.2b of the PIT Act is not exhaustive, therefore, other income (revenues) may also be considered as earned in Poland.

Given the above, each situation should be analysed to determine whether interest earned by a Polish tax resident from the Program Securities is considered to be income sourced in Poland. However, since the issuer is not a Polish entity, income from the Program Securities should not be considered as earned in Poland and no Polish withholding tax should apply, unless specific circumstances occur, e.g. the Program Securities are admitted to public trading in Poland.

Sale of Program Securities against consideration

Income from sale of Program Securities against consideration by a non-Polish tax resident (individual or a corporate income taxpayer) is (as earned in Poland) in principal, subject to the same rules of taxation (et al. rules for determining income, tax amount, tax payment deadlines) that apply to entities subject to unlimited tax liability (Polish tax residents) as presented in sections "Income other than interest" and "Income taxation of a Polish tax resident corporate income taxpayer". However, the majority of double tax treaties concluded by Poland provide for an exemption from income tax on capital gains, including income from the sale of securities obtained in Poland by a tax resident of a given country.

Exemption for interest obtained by non-Polish tax residents on Program Securities meeting special conditions and remittance exemption

Corporate income tax

Under Art. 17.1.50c of the CIT Act, tax-free income is income earned by a CIT taxpayer subject to limited tax liability in Poland in respect of interest or a discount on notes:

- (i) having a maturity of at least one year;
- (ii) admitted to trading on a regulated market or introduced into an alternative trading system within the meaning of the Act of 29 July 2005 on Trading in Financial Instruments, in the territory of Poland or in the territory of a state that is a party to a double tax convention concluded with Poland which regulates the taxation of income from dividends, interest and royalties;

unless the taxpayer is an Affiliated Entity of the issuer of such notes, and holds, directly or indirectly, together with other Affiliated Entities, more than 10 per cent of the nominal value of those notes (the Special Exemption).

Under Art. 26.1aa and 1ae of the CIT Act, remitters are not obliged to withhold tax on interest or discount in respect of the notes eligible for Special Exemption, provided that the issuer submits to the tax authority a declaration that it has acted with due diligence in informing Affiliated Entities (excluding entities whose Affiliations result solely from connections with the State Treasury (Skarb Państwa) or local government units or their associations), about the exemption conditions applying to those Affiliated Entities.

According to Art. 26.1af of the CIT Act, the declaration referred to above is submitted once in relation to a given notes issue, no later than the date of payment of interest or discount on these securities. At the payer's request, the issuer is obliged to confirm its submission (Art. 26.1ag of the CIT Act).

The declaration is submitted in electronic form corresponding to the logical structure available in the Public Information Bulletin on the website of the office serving the minister responsible for public finances (Art. 26.7j of the CIT Act).

Personal income tax

Under personal income tax, there are analogous provisions on tax exemption regarding interest and discount referred to above (Art. 21.1.130c of the PIT Act) and releasing tax remitters from the obligation to withhold tax on interest or discount (Art. 41.24-27 of the PIT Act), with the exception that the tax remitters being entities operating Program Securities accounts and Omnibus Accounts are obliged withhold tax with respect to income (revenue) obtained by Polish tax resident natural person from securities otherwise eligible for the relief (Art. 41.24 in fine of the PIT Act) (PIT Special Exemption). These remitters include entities being Polish tax residents as well as non-Polish tax residents conducting business activities through a foreign establishment located in the territory of the Republic of Poland, if the account on which the securities are recorded is related to the activities of this establishment (Art. 41.4d and 41.10 of the PIT Act). It must be noted that under Art. 30a.2a of the PIT Act, with respect to income (revenue) from interest or Redemption transferred to taxpayers holding rights attached to Program Securities registered in Omnibus Accounts whose identity has not been revealed to the tax remitter in accordance with the Act on Trading in Financial Instruments, a 19 per cent. flat-rate tax is withheld by the tax remitter from the aggregate income (revenue) released for the benefit of all such taxpayers through the Omnibus Account holder.

Therefore, if the entities operating Omnibus Accounts acting as tax remitters are not able to identify the natural person ie whether it is or not tax resident in Poland, they may withhold tax at full rate on income from securities that would otherwise be eligible for the PIT Special Exemption.

Failure to meet the conditions for the Special Exemption or PIT Special Exemption

In the absence of the Special Exemption or PIT Special Exemption referred to above, the following rules apply.

In the case of taxpayers subject to limited tax liability in Poland, the interest (discount) on the Program Securities earned in the Polish territory is taxed as a general rule at a flat rate of 20 per cent. in the case of corporate income taxpayers (Art. 21.1.1 of the CIT Act).. The applicable tax rate for the income from interest (discount) on Program Securities and on the Redemption is 19 per cent. in the case of natural persons (Art. 30a.1 of the PIT Act).

Under Art. 26.1 of the CIT Act, interest payers, other than individuals not acting within the scope of their business activity, should withhold this tax. When verifying the conditions for the application of a withholding tax rate, exemption or the conditions for the non-collection of tax resulting from special provisions or double tax treaties, the remitter must exercise due diligence. When assessing the exercise of due diligence, the nature and scale of activity conducted by the remitter as well as its Affiliation with the taxpayer must be taken into account. Similar provisions are provided in Art. 41.4-4aa of the PIT Act.

Under Art. 26.2c.1 and Art. 26.2a of the CIT Act, the entities operating securities accounts and Omnibus Accounts for taxpayers, acting as tax remitters, should withhold this interest income if such interest income (revenue) was earned in Poland and is connected with securities registered in said accounts, and the interest payment to the taxpayer is made through said entities. Although it is considered that foreign entities do not act as Polish tax remitters, according to the discussed provision, this obligation applies to non-residents to the extent they operate a permanent establishment in Poland and the account, on which securities are registered, is linked to the activity of this permanent establishment. Similar provisions concerning interest payments to individuals are provided in Art. 41.4d and 41.10 of the PIT Act.

The described rules of taxation may be modified by the relevant provisions of double tax treaties concluded by Poland, based on which a reduced tax rate or income tax exemption may apply to income (revenue) obtained from interest/discount or from Redemption (natural persons only) (Art. 21.2 of the CIT Act, Art. 30a.2 of the PIT Act). To benefit from the tax rate or income tax exemption under the tax treaty, the taxpayer should present a valid certificate of its tax residence. As a rule, the tax residence certificate is considered valid for twelve consecutive months from its date of issue (unless a specific date of its validity is included in its wording). Tax remitters may require additional documentation in order to be able to apply double tax treaty benefits described above, such as the confirmation of the recipient's beneficial owner status towards the payment.

Moreover, regardless of whether the particular tax treaty requires the recipient of the payment to be its beneficial owner, further to the approach presented by the tax authorities and confirmed by administrative courts verdicts, many tax treaties provide protection only for beneficial owners. Pursuant to Art. 4a.29 of the CIT Act and, respectively, Art. 5a.33d of the PIT Act, beneficial owner means an entity meeting all of the following conditions:

- (i) it receives the amount due for its own benefit, which includes deciding independently about its purpose, and bears the economic risk associated with the loss of that receivable or part of it;
- (ii) it is not an intermediary, representative, trustee, or another entity obliged to transfer the receivable in whole or in part to another entity; and
- (iii) it conducts actual business activity in the country of its registration (country of domiciliation in case of the PIT Act), if the receivables are obtained in connection with the conducted business activity, whereas when assessing whether the entity conducts actual business activity, the nature and scale of such activity in the scope of received receivables are taken into account.

The definition of the beneficial owner no longer refers to Art. 24a.18 of the CIT Act or Art. 30f. 20 of the PIT Act. However, those provisions include the following relevant factors that are likely to be considered by the tax authorities when determining if the given entity performs actual business activity:

- (i) the business activity carried out by the taxpayer is performed through an existing enterprise that actually performs activities constituting an economic activity; in particular, it possesses premises, qualified personnel and equipment used for performing business activity;
- (ii) the taxpayer does not create artificial arrangement without a connection with any business activity;
- (iii) the taxpayer's actual premises, its personnel or equipment correspond to the scope of its actual business activity;
- (iv) the agreements concluded by the taxpayer are realistic in economic terms, they have economic justification and they are not noticeably contrary to the general business interest of the taxpayer; and
- (v) the taxpayer carries out its business functions independently, using its own resources, including managers who are present in the country of taxpayer's tax residency.

The majority of double tax treaties concluded by Poland provide for an exemption from income tax on capital gains, including income from the sale of securities obtained in Poland by a tax resident of a given country. The interest treatment differs under particular double tax treaties, some of them providing for general exemption, limiting the exemption to certain categories of recipients or providing for a reduced rate of tax (which may also vary depending on the recipient).

Separate, specific rules apply to interest and amounts received under Redemption on securities held in Omnibus Accounts. In cases where Polish withholding tax should not apply on payments to non-Polish tax residents (natural persons or corporate income taxpayers), under specific rules applicable to interest income on securities held in Omnibus Accounts there is a risk that such tax would be withheld.

Under Art. 26.2a of the CIT Act, with respect to income (revenue) from interest transferred to taxpayers holding rights attached to securities registered in Omnibus Accounts whose identity has not been revealed to the tax remitter in accordance with the Act on Trading in Financial Instruments, a 20 per cent. flat-rate tax is withheld by the tax remitter from the aggregate income (revenue) released for the benefit of all such taxpayers through the Omnibus Account holder.

Under Art. 30a.2a of the PIT Act, with respect to income (revenue) from interest or from Redemption transferred to taxpayers holding rights attached to securities registered in Omnibus Accounts whose identity has not been revealed to the tax remitter in accordance with the Act on Trading in Financial Instruments, a 19 per cent flat-rate tax is withheld by the tax remitter from the aggregate income (revenue) released for the benefit of all such taxpayers through the Omnibus Account holder. If such tax is withheld for non-Polish tax resident taxpayers, to receive a refund of such tax, the entity should contact its tax advisor regarding a refund of such tax.

If a foreign tax resident corporate income taxpayer acts through a permanent establishment in Poland, tax remitters should not withhold the income tax on payments to such recipient, provided that such taxpayer delivers the tax remitter its certificate of tax residency along with a statement that the payments it receives are associated with the activity of its Polish permanent establishment (Art. 26.1d of the CIT Act). However, if it holds the securities on an Omnibus Account, please see the comments on Omnibus Accounts presented above, in the section on taxation of a Polish tax resident corporate income taxpayer.

Pay & Refund regime

Corporate income tax

Under Art. 26.2e of the CIT Act, if the total amount paid out between Affiliated Entities on account of the items listed in Art. 21.1.1 of the CIT Act (including interest on securities) and Art. 22.1 of the CIT Act to the same taxpayer exceeds PLN 2,000,000 in the tax year of the payer, payers are, as a general rule, required to withhold, on the day of payment, a flat-rate income tax at the basic rate (20 per cent. in the case of interest/discount on securities) from the excess over that amount, without being able not to withhold that tax on the basis of an appropriate double tax treaty, and also without taking into account exemptions or rates resulting from special regulations or double tax treaties (hereinafter the Pay & Refund).

Based on Art. 26.2ca of the CIT Act, the entities making payments through securities accounts or Omnibus Accounts are obliged to provide the entities maintaining these accounts, at least 7 days before the payment is made, with information about the existence of Affiliations between them and the taxpayer and about exceeding the amount of PLN 2,000,000. Entities providing this information are required to update it before making the payment in the event of a change in the circumstances covered by the information. In addition, in accordance with Art. 26.2ed of the CIT Act, in the circumstances referred to in section 2c, the excess amount and the existence of Affiliations will be determined by the entity keeping securities accounts or Omnibus Account. The entity keeping Program Securities accounts or Omnibus Accounts does not take into consideration the amounts of payments on which tax was collected in accordance with Art. 26.2a of the CIT Act.

Under Art. 26.2i and 26.2j of the CIT Act, if the payer's tax year is longer or shorter than 12 months, the amount to which the Pay & Refund applies is calculated by multiplying 1/12 of PLN 2,000,000 and the number of months that have begun in the tax year in which the payment was made; if the calculation of that amount is not possible by reference to the payer's tax year, the Pay & Refund shall apply accordingly to the payer's current financial year and, in its absence, with respect to the payer's other period with features specific to the financial year, not longer however than 23 consecutive months.

Under Art. 26.2k of the CIT Act, if the payment was made in a foreign currency, to determine whether the amount to which the Pay & Refund applies was exceeded, the amounts paid are converted into PLN at the average exchange rate published by the National Bank of Poland on the last business day preceding the payment day.

Under Art. 26.2l of the CIT Act, if it is not possible to determine the amount paid to the same taxpayer, it is presumed that it exceeded the amount from which the Pay & Refund applies.

Under Art. 26.7a of the CIT Act, the Pay & Refund does not apply if the payer has declared that:

- (i) it holds the documents required by the tax law for the application of the tax rate or tax exemption or non-taxation under special regulations or double tax treaties;
- (ii) after the verification of the conditions to apply an exemption or reduced withholding tax rate resulting from special regulations or double tax treaties, it is not aware of any grounds for the assumption that there are circumstances that exclude the possibility of applying the tax rate or tax exemption or non-taxation under special regulations or double tax treaties, in particular it is not aware of the existence of circumstances preventing the fulfilment of certain conditions referred to in other regulations, including the fact that the interest recipient is their beneficial owner and, if the interest is obtained in connection with the business activity conducted by the taxpayer, that in the country of tax residence the taxpayer carries on the actual business activity.

The above is to be declared by the head of the unit within the meaning of the Accounting Act or a designated member of such head being a collegiate body (e.g. the Issuer's management board). The declaration cannot be made by proxy. The declaration is to be made by in electronic form not later than on the last day of the second month following the month in which the threshold specified above was exceeded, however, the performance of this obligation after the payment is made does not release the payer from the obligation to exercise due diligence before the payment is made (Art. 26.7b and 26.7c of the CIT Act).

In the case of withholding tax being imposed as a result of the Pay & Refund, if double tax treaties or special regulations provide for a tax exemption or reduced tax rate, the taxpayer or tax remitter (if the taxpayer has paid tax with its own funds and has borne the economic burden of such tax, eg as a result of a gross-up clause) may apply for a refund of that tax by submitting the relevant documents and declarations. When recognizing that the refund is justified, the tax authorities shall carry it out within six months.

Pursuant to the Regulation of the Minister of Finance dated 28 December 2022 regarding the exclusion of the obligation to collect flat-rate corporate income tax (the Regulation), in respect of securities held on securities accounts or Omnibus Accounts, until 31 December 2026 the application of the Pay & Refund regime is excluded to interest payable to taxpayers having their registered office or management outside the territory of the Republic of Poland.

Personal Income Tax

Analogous provisions apply to personal income tax (applying to interest and amounts earned from Redemption), including Art. 41.12 of the PIT Act which provides for an analogous Pay & Refund regime, while the Regulation of the Minister of Finance of 28 December 2022 regarding the exclusion of the obligation to collect flat-rate personal income tax is the equivalent of the Regulation.

Solidarity levy on income from disposal of Program Securities for consideration generated by Polish or non-Polish tax-resident individuals

Under Art. 30h of the PIT Act, natural persons are obliged to pay a solidarity levy in the amount of 4 per cent. of the basis for calculating this levy.

The basis for calculating the solidarity levy is the amount in excess of PLN 1,000,000 of the sum of income subject to taxation under Art. 27 sec. 1, 9 and 9a, Art. 30b (including income from disposal of securities against a consideration when held as non-business assets), Art. 30c (including business profits subject to flat rate taxation) and Art. 30f of the PIT Act after their reduction by:

- (1) the amounts of contributions referred to in Art. 26. 1. 2 and 2a, and the contributions referred to in Art. 30c2.2;
- (2) the amounts referred to in Art. 30f. 5 of the PIT Act

– deducted from this income.

In calculating the base amount of the solidarity levy for a given calendar year, one should include the incomes and the incomes deductions as described above, as reported in:

- (a) the annual tax calculation referred to in Art. 34.7 of the PIT Act (the annual tax calculation prepared and sent by social allowance authorities to the taxpayers receiving income, in particular, from age and disability allowance) if such a reconciliation shows a payable tax; and
- (b) the tax returns referred to in Art. 45.1, 45.1a.1, 45.1a.2 and Art. 45.1aa of the PIT Act – for which the filing deadline falls within the period starting on the day following the lapse of the time period for filing of the solidarity levy amount statement in the year preceding that calendar year, to the last day for submission of the solidarity levy amount statement.

Natural persons are obliged to submit to the tax office a declaration on the amount of the solidarity tax by 30 April of the calendar year and pay the solidarity tax within this period.

Withholding taxation of certain payments made to tax havens

Based on Art. 26.1m of the CIT Act, if a tax remitter makes a payment on account of certain capital profits (e.g. revenues from financial instruments, including interest and capital gains) to a corporate entity resident for tax purposes in a tax haven, such tax remitter is obliged to withhold tax at 19 per cent. rate calculated from the amount being paid out.

The list of the tax havens is included in the Regulation of the Minister of Finance from 18 December 2024 on the list of countries and territories applying harmful tax competition in the field of corporate income tax

Tax on civil law transaction considerations

Neither issue of the Program Securities, redemption nor their exercise (should they be derivative financial instruments) should be subject to tax on civil law transactions (TCLT).

Under Art. 1.1.1.a of the Tax on Civil Law Transactions Act dated 9 September 2000 (as amended, the TCLT Act), agreements for the sale or exchange of assets or property rights are subject to TCLT. The Program Securities should be recognized as property rights for TCLT purposes.

Civil law transactions are taxable if their subjects are:

- assets located in Poland or property rights exercisable in Poland;
- assets located abroad or property rights exercisable abroad if the acquirer's place of residence or registered office is located in Poland and the civil law transaction was carried out in Poland.

Although this is not clearly addressed in the law, in principle the Program Securities should not be considered as rights exercisable in Poland, consequently, the tax would apply only if the purchaser was Polish and the transaction was concluded in Poland.

TCLT on the sale of securities is 1 per cent. and is payable by the purchaser within 14 days after the sale agreement is entered into. If the exchange agreement is concluded, the tax is payable jointly and severally by both parties to the agreement. If such agreement has been entered into in notarial form, the tax due should be withheld and remitted by the notary public. The tax base is the market value of securities. The market value is determined on the basis of the average prices used in the trade in property rights of the same type, from the day of performing this action, without deduction of debts and weights.

Under Art. 9.9 of the TCLT Act, a tax exemption applies to the sale of property rights being financial instruments (such as the Program Securities):

- to investment firms or foreign investment firms;
- with the intermediation of investment firms or foreign investment firms;
- through organized trading;
- outside organized trading by investment firms or foreign investment firms if the property rights were acquired by those firms through organized trading,; or
- to state-owned banks conducting brokerage activities,
- made through state-owned banks conducting brokerage activities, or
- made outside organized trading by state-owned banks conducting brokerage activities, if these rights were acquired by these banks as part of organized trading, within the meaning of the provisions of the Act on Trading in Financial Instruments.

Moreover, in accordance with Art. 1a.5 and 1a.7 in connection with Art. 2.4 of the TCLT Act, the TCLT exemption applies to sale or exchange agreements concerning securities:

- to the extent that they are taxed with VAT in Poland or in another EU Member State or EEA; or
- when at least one of the parties to the transaction is exempt from VAT in Poland or in another EU Member State or EEA on account of that particular transaction.

Remitter's liability

Under Art. 30 of the Tax Code dated 29 August 1997 (as amended), a tax remitter failing to fulfil its duty to calculate, withhold or pay tax to a relevant tax authority is liable for the tax that has not been withheld or that has been withheld but not paid, up to the value of all its assets. The tax remitter is not liable if the specific provisions provide otherwise or if tax has not been withheld due to the taxpayer's fault. In such a case, the relevant tax authority will issue a decision concerning the taxpayer's liability. According to Art. 30.5c of the Tax Code, the issuer is liable for the tax that has not been withheld if the statement made for the purposes of the Special Exemption is factually incorrect. This applies both in cases when the issuer acts as the tax remitter with respect to interest on Security or not, especially it is withheld by the entity which holds Program Securities accounts or Omnibus Accounts.

Inheritance and donation tax considerations

Under Art. 1.1 of the Act on Inheritance and Donation Tax dated 28 July 1983 (as amended) inheritance donation tax applies to the acquisition by natural persons of property located in or property rights exercised in Poland, by way of:

- (1) inheritance, ordinary legacy, further legacy, legacy per vindicationem, testamentary order;
- (2) donations, donor's order;

- (3) prescription;
- (4) free abolition of joint ownership reserved portion, if the entitled person has not obtained it in the form of a donation made by the testator or by way of inheritance or in the form of a record;
- (5) gratuitous: pension, usufruct and easement.

Acquisition of property located abroad or property rights exercised abroad (such as Program Securities) is subject to inheritance and donation tax if at the time of opening the inheritance or concluding the donation agreement, the purchaser was a Polish citizen or had a place of permanent residence in Poland (Art. 2 of the Act on Inheritance and Donation Tax).

The tax obligation rests with the purchaser of property or property rights (Art. 5 of the Act on Inheritance and Donation Tax). The tax base is generally the value of the acquired property and property rights after deduction of debts and encumbrances (net value), determined at the acquisition date according to market prices on the day the tax obligation arose (Art. 7.1 of the Act on Inheritance and Donation Tax).

The tax amount depends on the degree of kinship between the testator/donor and the heir/beneficiary. The tax is levied progressively from 3 per cent. to 20 per cent. of the tax base, depending on the tax group in which the recipient qualifies. There is a tax-free amount defined for each of these groups.

Unless the tax is collected by the tax remitter, taxpayers are obliged to submit with the competent tax authority, within one month from the date when the tax obligation arose, a tax return on the acquisition of property or property rights on the relevant form (Article 17a of the Act on Inheritance and Donation Tax). The tax is payable within 14 days from a date when a decision of the relevant head of the tax office assessing the amount of due tax is delivered to the taxpayer.

Program Securities acquired by the closest relatives (a spouse, descendants, ascendants, stepchildren, siblings, stepfather and stepmother) are tax-exempt subject to filing an appropriate information with the head of the relevant tax office in due time (Article 4a of the Act on Inheritance and Donation Tax). The exemption applies if, at the time of acquisition, the acquirer had Polish citizenship or citizenship of one of the Member States of the European Union or Member States of the European Free Trade Association (EFTA) - parties to the Agreement on the European Economic Area or had a place of residence in Poland or the territory of such a state (Article 4.4 of the Act on Inheritance and Donation Tax).

SUBSCRIPTION AND SALE

Each Issuer is offering the Program Securities on a continuing basis through Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc of 25 Cabot Square, Canary Wharf, London E14 4QA, which may act in whole or in part through an affiliate thereof, and Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC whose principal executive offices are at 1585 Broadway, New York, New York 10036, U.S.A., (the "Distribution Agents"), who have agreed to use reasonable efforts to solicit offers, directly or through an affiliate, to purchase the Program Securities. Each Issuer will have the sole right to accept offers to purchase Program Securities and may reject any offer in whole or in part. The Distribution Agents will have the right to reject any offer to purchase Program Securities solicited by it in whole or in part. Each Issuer may pay the Distribution Agents, in connection with sales of the Program Securities resulting from a solicitation the Distribution Agents made or an offer to purchase received by the Distribution Agents, a commission, which may be in the form of a discount from the purchase price if the Distribution Agents are purchasing the Program Securities for their own account.

Each Issuer may also sell Program Securities to a Distribution Agent as principal for its own account at a price to be agreed upon at the time of sale. The Distribution Agents may resell any Program Securities they purchase as principal at prevailing market prices, or at other prices, as the Distribution Agents determine.

The arrangements for the offer and sale of the Program Securities from time to time are set out in the Distribution Agreement dated on or about 25 June 2026 (as modified and/or amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time, the "Distribution Agreement") among Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII and the Distribution Agents (and any Additional Issuer that accedes to the Program). Pursuant to the Distribution Agreement, Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL, MSFII and the Distribution Agents have agreed (and any Additional Issuer that accedes to the Program shall agree) to indemnify each other against certain liabilities, or to contribute payments made in respect thereof. Morgan Stanley, MSI plc, MSBV, MSFL and MSFII have also agreed (and any Additional Issuer that accedes to the Program shall agree) to reimburse the Distribution Agents for certain expenses. The Distribution Agreement makes provision for the appointment of additional Distribution Agents who may agree to become bound by its terms (either in relation to the Program generally or in relation to a particular Series of Program Securities) in an accession letter provided by such additional Distribution Agent to the Issuers.

In order to facilitate the offering of the Program Securities, the Distribution Agents may engage in transactions that stabilise, maintain or otherwise affect the price of the Program Securities or any other securities the prices of which may be used to determine payments on those Program Securities. Specifically, the Distribution Agents may over allot in connection with any offering of the Program Securities, creating a short position in the Program Securities for their own accounts. In addition, to cover overallocments or to stabilise the price of the Program Securities or of any other securities, the Distribution Agents may bid for, and purchase, Program Securities or any other securities in the open market. Finally, in any offering of the Program Securities through a syndicate of underwriters, the underwriting syndicate may reclaim selling concessions allowed to an underwriter or a dealer for distributing the Program Securities in the offering if the syndicate repurchases previously distributed Program Securities in transactions to cover syndicate short positions, in stabilisation transactions or otherwise. Any of these activities may stabilise or maintain the market price of the Program Securities above independent market levels. The Distribution Agents are not required to engage in these activities and may end any of these activities at any time.

United States of America

The Program Securities, any interest therein and any Guarantee in respect thereof, and the securities to be delivered on exercise or redemption of the Program Securities (if any), have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act or with any securities regulatory authority of any state or other jurisdiction of the United States, and the Program Securities may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons, except in certain transactions exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act (and any applicable laws of any State of the United States or any other applicable jurisdiction) and under circumstances which will not require either the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor to register under the Investment Company Act. The Securities do not constitute, and have not been marketed as, contracts of sale of a commodity for future delivery (or options thereon) subject to the Commodity Exchange Act, and trading in the Securities has not been approved by the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission under the Commodity Exchange Act. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by Regulation S under the Securities Act ("Regulation S").

In addition, the Distribution Agents have represented and agreed, and each further Distribution Agent appointed under the Program will be required to represent and agree that, except as permitted by the Distribution Agreement, it will not offer, sell or deliver Program Securities as part of their distribution at any time within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (with the exception of the offer or resale of Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities as described below) and it will have sent to each distributor, dealer or person receiving a selling concession, fee or other remuneration that purchases Program Securities from it a confirmation or other notice setting out the restrictions on offers and sales of the Securities within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons. Terms used in the preceding sentence have the meanings given to them by Regulation S.

An offer or sale of Program Securities within the United States by any dealer (whether or not participating in the offering of such Program Securities) may violate the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

The Program Securities are being offered and sold outside the United States to non-U.S. persons in reliance on Regulation S. In addition, the Distribution Agreement provides that the Distribution Agents may directly or through their respective U.S. broker-dealer affiliates arrange for the offer and resale of Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities in the United States to QIBs, or in the case of Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities issued by MSBV, to QIB/QPs, in reliance on Rule 144A.

This Offering Circular has been prepared by the relevant Issuer and, if applicable, the Guarantor for use in connection with the offer and sale of the Securities outside the United States to non-U.S. persons, for the offer and resale of the Securities within the United States to QIBs, or in the case of Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities issued by MSBV, to QIB/QPs, (in the case of the Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities only). The relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (if applicable) and the Distribution Agents reserve the right to reject any offer to purchase Program Securities, in whole or in part, for any reason. This Offering Circular does not constitute an offer to any person in the United States or to any U.S. person other than a QIB, or in the case of Regulation S/Rule 144A Securities issued by MSBV, to a QIB/QP to whom an offer has been made directly by one of the Distribution Agents or an affiliate of one of the Distribution Agents. Distribution of this Offering Circular by any non-U.S. person outside the United States or by any QIB or, in the case of MSBV Program Securities, any QIB/QP in the United States to any U.S. person or to any person within the United States, other than any QIB or, in the case of MSBV Program Securities, any QIB/QP, and those persons, if any, retained to advise such non-U.S. person or QIBs or, in the case of MSBV Program Securities, QIB/QPs with respect thereto, is unauthorised and any disclosure of any of its contents, without the prior written consent of the relevant Issuer and, if applicable, the Guarantor, is prohibited. Each issuance of Index Basket Notes, Single Index Notes, Index Basket Securities and Single Index Securities may be subject to such additional U.S. selling restrictions as the Issuers and the relevant Distribution Agent may agree as to the terms of such issuance, which additional selling restrictions shall be set out in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

If the Program Securities are CMIC Linked Products then the Program Securities may not be offered, sold, pledged, assigned, delivered or otherwise transferred at any time, directly or indirectly to or for the account or benefit of U.S. Persons (meaning a United States citizen, permanent resident alien, entity organized under the laws of the United States or any jurisdiction within the United States (including foreign branches), or any person in the United States as defined in the Executive Order 13959, as amended from time to time including by the Executive Order 14032). For purposes of this paragraph, a CMIC Linked Product is a Program Security that is derivative of, or provides investment exposure to, any publicly traded security of an issuer identified on the Non-SDN Chinese Military-Industrial Complex Companies (NS-CMIC) List maintained by the Office of Foreign Assets Control of the United States Department of the Treasury.

European Economic Area

If the Pricing Supplement in respect of the Program Securities specifies the "Prohibition of Sales to EEA Retail Investors" as "Not Applicable", in relation to each Member State of the European Economic Area (each, a "Relevant State"), each Distribution Agent has represented and agreed, and each further Distribution Agent appointed under the Program will be required to represent and agree, in relation to each Tranche of Program Securities, that it has not made and will not make an offer of Program Securities which are the subject of the offering contemplated by this Offering Circular as completed by the Pricing Supplement in relation thereto to the public in that Relevant State except that it may make an offer of such Program Securities to the public in that Relevant State:

- (a) at any time to any legal entity which is a qualified investor as defined in the Prospectus Regulation; or

- (b) at any time to fewer than 150 natural or legal persons (other than qualified investors as defined in the Prospectus Regulation), subject to obtaining the prior consent of the relevant Distribution Agent or Distribution Agents nominated by the Issuer for any such offer; or
- (c) at any time in any other circumstances falling within Article 1(4) of the Prospectus Regulation, provided that no such offer of Program Securities referred to in (a) to (c) above shall require the relevant Issuer or any Distribution Agent to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Regulation, or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 23 of the Prospectus Regulation.

For the purposes of this provision, the expression:

- an "offer of Program Securities to the public" in relation to any Program Securities the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and the Program Securities to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe for the Program Securities;

FORM OF GUARANTEE FOR MORGAN STANLEY B.V., MORGAN STANLEY FINANCE LLC AND MORGAN STANLEY FINANCE II LTD

THIS GUARANTEE is made on 25 June 2026 by MORGAN STANLEY, a corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware (the "Guarantor" or "Morgan Stanley").

WHEREAS:

- (A) The Guarantor, Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc ("MSI plc"), Morgan Stanley B.V. ("MSBV"), Morgan Stanley Finance LLC ("MSFL"), Morgan Stanley Finance II Ltd ("MSFII") and Morgan Stanley Europe SE ("MSESE") have established a Regulation S / 144A Program (the "Program") for the Issuance of notes, Series A and B, and (in respect of MSFL only) cash settled exchangeable notes ("Notes"), warrants ("Warrants") and certificates ("Certificates", together with the Notes and Warrants, the "Program Securities").
- (B) Notes (other than Uncertificated Notes) may be issued under the issue and paying agency agreement dated on or about 25 June 2026 and as from time to time modified and/or restated (the "Issue and Paying Agency Agreement") between (amongst others) MSBV, MSI plc, MSFL, MSFII, MSESE, the Guarantor and The Bank of New York Mellon. "Uncertificated Notes" has the meaning given to it in the Euroclear Agreement (defined below). Nordic Notes (as defined herein) shall also have the benefit of an issuing and paying agency agreement dated 11 April 2016 (such agreement as amended on 12 March 2026 and as further amended, supplemented and/or restated from time to time) (the "SEB Issuing and Paying Agency Agreement") between (among others) MSI plc, MSBV and Skandinaviska Enskilda Banken AB (publ).
- (C) Uncertificated Notes may be issued under the Euroclear agreement dated on or about 25 June 2026 and as from time to time modified and/or restated (the "Euroclear Agreement") between MSBV, MSI plc, MSESE, the Guarantor and Computershare Investor Services (Guernsey) Limited.
- (D) Warrants and Certificates may be issued under the securities agency agreement dated on or about 25 June 2026 and as from time to time modified and/or restated (the "Securities Agency Agreement") between (amongst others) MSBV, MSI plc, MSFL, MSESE, the Guarantor and The Bank of New York Mellon. Nordic Securities (as defined herein) shall also have the benefit of the SEB Issuing and Paying Agency Agreement.
- (E) Notes (other than Uncertificated Notes) issued under the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement (including Nordic Notes which shall also have the benefit of the SEB Issuing and Paying Agency Agreement), Uncertificated Notes issued under the Euroclear Agreement and Warrants and Certificates issued under the Securities Agency Agreement (including Nordic Notes which shall also have the benefit of the SEB Issuing and Paying Agency Agreement) (together, "Relevant Securities"), will have the benefit of this Guarantee (subject as provided below). For the avoidance of doubt, Program Securities which are not Relevant Securities will not have the benefit of this Guarantee.

THE GUARANTOR HEREBY guarantees fully, unconditionally and irrevocably the payment obligations under (a) the terms of the Relevant Securities issued by MSBV, MSFL and MSFII on or after the date hereof and (b) the terms of the Relevant Securities issued by any other of its subsidiaries (other than MSI plc and MSESE) that accedes to the Program on or after the date hereof and in respect of whom the Guarantor is referred to as guarantor in the Accession Agreement under which such subsidiary accedes to the Program as issuer and/or in the applicable Issuance Document (as such term is defined in the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement in respect of Relevant Securities which are Notes (other than Uncertificated Notes), in the Euroclear Agreement in respect of Relevant Securities which are Uncertificated Notes and in the Securities Agency Agreement in respect of Relevant Securities which are Warrants or Certificates) unless, in each case, otherwise stated in the applicable Issuance Document with respect thereto (each an "Issuer") in respect of the Relevant Securities, provided that any such Relevant Securities issued on or after the date on which the Guarantor has granted a subsequent guarantee of Relevant Securities (in respect of which such Relevant Securities will have the benefit) shall not have the benefit of this Guarantee (save (i) in relation to any tranche of Relevant Securities which are expressed to be consolidated and form a single series with any tranche(s) of Relevant Securities which have the benefit of this Guarantee, and/or (ii) if expressly so provided in any such subsequent guarantee and/or applicable Issuance Document).

If the Relevant Securities are held (i) by (or by a nominee on behalf of) a common depository for Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V. ("Euroclear"), Clearstream Banking, société anonyme ("Clearstream"), (ii) by (or by a nominee or custodian on behalf of) the Depository Trust Company ("DTC") or (iii) by such other clearing system as specified in the applicable Issuance Document with respect to any series of Relevant Securities, the Guarantor covenants to each person who is for the time being shown in the records of the relevant clearing system or registrar (in the case of Relevant Securities in registered form) as the holder of a principal amount of the Relevant Securities (the "Accountholders") that it shall make such payments under this Guarantee and acknowledges that the Accountholders may take proceedings to enforce this Guarantee directly against the Guarantor. The holders of the Relevant Securities from time to time and the Accountholders are referred to herein as the Holders. References to Euroclear, Clearstream, DTC or any other clearing system shall include their respective successors and assigns.

The Guarantor hereby agrees that it shall not be necessary, as a condition to enforce this guarantee, that suit be first instituted against the applicable Issuer or that any rights or remedies against such Issuer be first exhausted. Rather, it is understood and agreed that the liability of the Guarantor hereunder shall be primary, direct, and in all respects, unconditional and absolute. In particular, the Guarantor hereby agrees that, in the event of a default in payment of the principal of, interest on, and all other amounts payable under any Relevant Security, whether at its stated maturity, by declaration of acceleration, call for redemption or otherwise, legal proceedings may be instituted by the Holder of such Relevant Security, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Guarantee, directly against the Guarantor to enforce this Guarantee without first proceeding against the Issuer. The obligations of the Guarantor under this Guarantee constitute direct, unconditional and unsecured obligations of the Guarantor and rank without preference among themselves and, subject as aforesaid, pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Guarantor, present and future, but, in the event of insolvency, only to the extent permitted by laws affecting creditors' rights.

The Guarantor shall be fully liable as if it were the principal debtor under the Relevant Securities whether any time has been granted to the applicable Issuer, whether the obligations of the Issuer under the Relevant Securities have ceased to exist pursuant to bankruptcy, corporate reorganization or other similar event, whether the applicable Issuer has been dissolved or liquidated or consolidated or has changed or lost its corporate identity and whether or not any other circumstances have occurred which might otherwise constitute a legal or equitable discharge of or defense to a guarantor.

If any moneys shall become payable by the Guarantor under this Guarantee, the Guarantor shall not, for so long as the same remain unpaid in respect of any amount paid by it under this Guarantee, exercise any right of subrogation in relation to the applicable Issuer or any other right or remedy which may accrue to it in respect of or as a result of any such payment.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Guarantee, the Guarantor, and by its acceptance of Relevant Securities, each Holder, hereby confirms that it is the intention of all such parties that this Guarantee shall not constitute a fraudulent conveyance under applicable fraudulent conveyance provisions of the United States Bankruptcy Code or any comparable provision of state law. To effectuate that intention, the Holders and the Guarantor hereby irrevocably agree that the obligations of the Guarantor under this Guarantee are limited to the maximum amount that would not render the Guarantor's obligations subject to avoidance under applicable fraudulent conveyance provisions of the United States Bankruptcy Code or any comparable provision of state law.

The Guarantee of the Guarantor of the Relevant Securities will terminate upon the merger of the Issuer with and into the Guarantor.

All payments pursuant to this Guarantee will be made without withholding or deduction for any taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatsoever nature imposed, levied collected, withheld or assessed by the United States of America, or any political subdivision or any authority thereof having power to tax unless such withholding or deduction is required by law. The Guarantor shall not be required to make any additional payments on account of such withholding or deduction (except with respect to any additional payments required to be made by any Issuer under the Program). If the Guarantor becomes subject at any time to any taxing jurisdiction other than the United States of America, references in the Guarantee to the United States shall be construed as references to such other jurisdiction.

This Guarantee shall be governed and construed in accordance with New York law, without regard to conflict of laws principles.

This Guarantee shall expire and is no longer effective once all amounts payable on or in respect of the Relevant Securities have been paid in full.

This Guarantee is not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation of the United States of America.
